Storage May Be No. 1 Grain Problem

G. L. Snodgrass President Of Pioneers Association

G. L. Snodgrass, one of the organizers of the Floyd County Pioneer's Re-Union Association, was elected president of it at the close of the annual re-union held last Wednesday. One of the association members whose residence in the county dates back to fifty years ago, he had been a faithful worker in the pioneer's organization for 15 years. His name was presented by Geo. L. Fawver.

Other officers elected were Irvin Bennett vice-president, Mrs. Maud Hollums secretary (re-elected), and the following directors: Olin S. Miller, Tom McLain, Glad Snodgrass, R. C. Scott, Roy L. Snodgrass, C. L. Anderson and Buck Sams.

The day's program opened with a mile-long parade at 10 o'clock, in which many pioneers and their friends vied for honors and in which 200 horses were ridden two abreast.

Spotlight place on the program was given an address by Major Luke G. Mathews, at home briefly for the occasion from Camp Bowie, Texas, where he left maneuvers to address the crowd of home folk. He spoke emphatically of the need for mental and moral preparation for the trial by fire through which the country, he declares, is destined to go. He decried politics of any kind at this time and told the audience of 2,000 or more they must help their sons learn modern warfare or see them possible victims of slaughter at the hands of a ruthless enemy.

The idea of having all pioneers who have attained the age of 50 and have resided in the county as many as 40 years be guests of the association at a pioneer dinner, was carried out in grand style. These old-timers sat around bountifully laden tables arranged on the court house lawn and were served the meal by members of the Floyd County Home Demonstration clubs. Bouquets of wild flowers from Floyd county prairies were arranged quite artistically. The idea originated with President A. T. Swepston.

Rev. R. E. L. Muncy, himself a pioneer of pioneers, said grace at the table and Glad Snodgrass gave the address of welcome. Corsages honoring the county's

Wild Duck Hatches On Plains Taking To Air This Week

Nobody in Floyd county is duck-ologist enough to say whether the duck population will be increased by the millions on account of the myriad hatches of little quack quacks on the plains this year. Perhaps they are just hatching off here instead of in some distant clime as in usual years.

Be that as it may, the domestic life of Mr. and Mrs. Mallard or Mr. and Mrs. Pintail, is a noisy and busy one, the residents all know. "Them dabbed ducks quacked all night" is a common expression these last few days in Floyd county, when a sleepy-eyed individual explains how it came about he was awake all night when he wanted to be resting for a busy day getting ready for the harvest.

The first hatches are beginning to get into the air this week. The ducklings, plummeting clumsily through the air, look like planes without rudders, or bird kites without tails.

Rank Grain Buffeted By Elements

Wind, rust, rain and army worms have continued to take toll in Floyd county and east plains wheat fields the past week.

The rankest, most nearly uniform crop the area has grown in many years is being buffeted about. Rust perhaps is making the heaviest inroads. Waters from wide-spreading surface lakes have taken bites out of practically every field. Wind and rain have downed a considerable percentage of the crop.

The only menace to his crop the farmer can fight back at is the army worm. Thousands of acres of prairie land have been poisoned the past ten days by hand and by air service plane. Where the spread of poison is good the worms are being stopped, but the cost is heavy.

First Barley Saturday What is believed to be the first barley harvested in the county was combined last Saturday by A. T. Swepston northeast of Floydada near Hiller. Reports are in that a few old style broadcast binders are running in grain that is too green for the combine to handle. This grain will have to go through the mill in the shock.

Saturday night 65-hundredths of an inch of rain fell at Floydada. It was heavier in practically every other portion of the county except possibly due west for a few miles. Extreme southwest and extreme north and northeast portions apparently were areas of hardest downpour. Another rain would add materially to several problems in connection with the harvest. It might and probably would knock down some of the crop that is unusually light-stemmed this year, it would definitely close more roads and wash out more culverts. It would increase the acreage of water-logged wheat and it would keep the harvesters out of the fields another several days.

One good piece of news is that hail damage has been lighter than in a number of years. Guesses at the probable yield vary widely. Some insist that the yield will be low to fair, others that it will run 20 bushels and some are claiming 35-bushel wheat.

The age of the wheat varies greatly in the county and the harvest will be completed in some areas closely adjacent to others that will harvest 10 days to two weeks later.

More Paving Allocated Highway 207

Announcement that $40,000 allocation for hard surfacing additional mileage on Highway 207-north has been made by the State Highway commission was made last week-end by District Engineer G. M. Garrett.

The new hard surface mileage, he said, will be made to reach South Plains and, depending on how much help can be obtained through WPA labor, possibly a little beyond that city.

At the same time he said that the contractor would be here soon to begin a leveling up course on the same highway south from Floydada to the Crosby county line. This last-named work will consist of an asphaltic course that was approved by the highway commission some weeks ago and contract recently let.

The allocation for the extension of the paving northward toward Silverton through South Plains has been asked for the past several months by the Commissioners court, who have been working with the highway engineer. Mr. Garrett said that plans could hardly be finished and a contract let for work to begin before about August 1. Meanwhile other WPA work which laborers in this county have been doing, and also the mid-summer harvest season will have passed so that the slackening of labor can be caught on the upswing to give the maximum help from this source. Labor is beginning to be scarce, however, and how much WPA help will be available August 1 is a matter of conjecture at this time.

Closing Briscoe Gap Another announcement of great interest especially in Briscoe county is that approval has been obtained on an allotment to hard surface the 16-mile unpaved gap between Silverton and Tulla. The gap (See More Paving back page)

Senate Ballot Lists Names Of Twenty-Nine Aspirants For Senator From Texas

Off Year Catches Many Voters Without 1941 Poll Tax Receipts

An off year in politics apparently has caught more than a thousand potential Floyd county voters short on a bull market for ballots, and as a result they stand wistfully on the side lines while some 2200 of their neighbors do the voting in Floyd county for United States senator from Texas on June 28.

This is revealed by a check-up on the poll lists for the county this week, which shows that 1930 polls have been paid and 18 poll tax exemptions issued. To this number of voters should be added about 15 per cent to take into account those who automatically are exempt from poll tax payment. A few of these exempt are youngsters who will cast their first votes but the great majority are persons who are above 60 years of age. The total vote in the county could run as high as 2,200 based on per centages of the 1940 Democratic primary.

To illustrate the big shortage in polls paid, Floydada Precinct No. 1 is shown as having 335 polls paid with three exemptions on the rolls of Assessor-Collector Geo. B. Marshall, and another large box, West Lockney No. 18, shows 247 polls paid with one exemption. Cedar, county's largest rural box, has an even hundred polls paid.

Other boxes in the county are in the approximate same proportion. Funeral rites for James Henry (Bob) Green, retired farmer-stockman, were held at 3 p. m. Friday at the First Methodist church. Rev. R. T. Breedlove, pastor assisted by Rev. Oscar Bruce officiated. He died at his home Thursday evening following an illness of six weeks.

Surviving relatives include his widow, four sons and four daughters. The children are Mrs. J. L. Henson, Spur; Mrs. W. H. Nelson, city; Mrs. Pat Simpson, Durango, Colorado; Mrs. B. J. Yonz, East Liverpool, Ohio; Herschel, city; Roy Green, Hale Center; J. B. and Sam M. Green of Tipton, California. Four brothers are Lindsey Green, St. Maries, Idaho; M. S. Green, Seagraves; P. J. Green, Lewisville, Texas; Wilford P. Green, Avenal, California.

The deceased was born December 6, 1862, in Burton county, Kansas. He came to Texas at the age of 14 years and to Floyd county in the spring of 1902 from Denton county.

The body lay in state at the church from 1 p. m. Friday until after the funeral services. Interment was made in the Floydada cemetery with Harmon Funeral home attendants in charge.

Martin Dry Goods Co. In New Location

Martin Dry Goods company Saturday opened up for business in their new location on the west side of the square, moving from the corner of California and Fifth where they had been located for the past 12 years.

Wheat Quotas Favored In Floyd County In Vote Held Saturday

Farmers of Floyd county favored Wheat Marketing Quotas in the election held last Saturday. Out of the 1389 eligible voters in the county, 674 cast votes. 537 of the total voted "Yes," which meant in favor of marketing quotas. 72 voted "No" showing that they opposed marketing quotas. 59 wheat farmers voted whose ballots could not be counted due to the fact that their seeded acres of wheat was less than 15 acres or their seeded acres of wheat times their normal yield was less than 200 bushels. Any farm on which the above provision is applicable is not subject to marketing quotas and, therefore, owners were not eligible to vote. Five of the ballots cast were mutilated until it was impossible to tell how the farmer wished to cast his vote.

Twenty-nine names—25 of them listed as Democrats, two as Republicans, one as Independent, and one as Communist, are on the list of candidates whose names will appear on the ballot in the special election June 28, as candidates for the United States senate.

The list was certified by Wm. J. Lawson, Secretary of State of Texas, to the local election board, of which Judge G. C. Tubbs, County Clerk A. B. Clark and Sheriff Fred Clark are the members.

The successful candidate, having a plurality of the votes cast in the election on June 28, will be certified as U. S. senator from Texas to fill the vacancy created by the death of Morris Sheppard, veteran head of the Senate Military Affairs committee in Washington. Senator Sheppard died in April and A. J. Houston, of South Texas, is filling the place vacated by appointment of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel. The certified list of candidates is as follows: Democratic: Joseph C. Bean, Dr. John R. Brinkley, E. A. Calvin, Arlon Barton, Cyclone Davis, Martin Dies, Guy B. Fisher, W. E. Gilliland, A. E. Harding, Commodore Bazil, Muse Hatfield, Robert Grammer Head, O. F. Heath, sr., Bubba Hicks, Lyndon B. Johnson, W. W. King, Gerald C. Mann, Sam Morris, Starl G. Newsome, jr., W. Lee O'Daniel, Floyd E. Ryan, Walter A. Schulz, C. L. Somerville, Joseph (Joe) Thompson, Edwin Waller, III, W. C. Welch, John C. Williams;

Republican: Politte Elvins, Enoch Fletcher; Independent: W. R. Jones; Communist: Homer Brooks.

Plains Air Plays Trick On Flyer Wednesday

Freak plains wind current played a scurvy trick on A. R. Montgomery, NR service plane flyer with the J. O. Dockery Air service here last Wednesday.

As a result he has been in Floydada Hospital and clinic with an aching void where two teeth were, and a chin bashed up. Otherwise only slight cuts and bruises.

The tricky air current caught Montgomery's plane seven miles east of Floydada over the W. O. Jones wheat field where he was scattering poison bait for army worms. A sharp left bank to swoop back over the wheat field was taken over a bit of a lake. A down current caught the plane as it whipped over dry land and the whole mess—plane, poison bait and aviator swooped 35 feet to the ground. A slight roll as the plane struck the ground kept Montgomery's injuries from being more serious. In the hospital he said he did not remember being in trouble, but he had cut off the ignition switch indicating an unconscious split second precaution.

Another one of six planes being operated out of commission Saturday when a cow loomed up before Herb Kindred, another plane operator. Raising a wing in the take-off he saved the cow but the left wing grazed her back and ruined the wing.

The mishap occurred in Briscoe county. The flyer was uninjured.

Federal Men Warn Grain Dealers

If the weather behaves and the farmers get into their fields soon to begin the harvest, storage for their grain may turn out to be the Number One problem.

Representatives of the federal grain board gave dealers of the area a good scare last week-end. The dealers had been expecting relief which they now fear they are not going to get—relief in the form of movement of stored grain from this area to milling areas further from home.

The situation appears to sum up in the statement that there will be plenty of railroad cars to haul the wheat but no place to put it. "It is the most acute situation we have ever faced, they tell us," said Calvin Steen of the Edwards Grain & Elevator, this week. He attended one of the sessions of grain men called Saturday to go over the situation with representatives of the Commodity Credit corporation, and railroad men. "Whether it turns out that way is to be seen, but it is intimated that before a wheat car will be spotted for a dealer he is going to have to be able to show where it is going to be unloaded," he said.

This would amount in practice to a situation of a shipper having to have a permit to ship his wheat, he said railroad men indicated.

Storage of barley and mixed small grains on the East Plains is going to be a serious matter, dealers and growers alike are agreed. There is not going to be any place in the elevators for them. The acreage is several thousand above any previous year and—weather permitting—a harvest—the yield will be as large as ever before in the county. Stockmen and growers are scrambling for farm and other types of local storage with the barley crop ready to harvest this week in many fields. Where storage is not found the feed is going to have to be dumped on the ground or go begging for a buyer.

Farm Storage on Wheat That farm storage for wheat must be adequately protected against insects and the weather is indicated by reports made by the federal man last week, in which it was pointed out that in many instances where storage on farms was made of high test No. 1 wheat and money drawn against it, the farmer instead of having 7 cents per bushel profit, delivered a wheat that was lower in quality than wheat he put in the bins last summer and is actually loser 5 cents to 8 cents per bushel on that account.

Evergreens Spoken For Quickly By County Farmstead Owners

Floyd county farmstead owners have snapped up the 6,000 evergreens made available for them through E. H. Kemp, district conservationist, last week.

With clearing weather the trees will go into the ground as wind-break plantings.

The evergreens have proven of unusual value in other western plains areas in ameliorating the effects of winds and aiding to hold the soil.

Somehow or other Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's senatorial campaign has not hit it off with the man on the street. Apparently he can or could have the governor's job all over again if he wanted it, third term or what not. In the governor's chair is where the folks want him, that's the slot they've niched out for him. They're not going to vote to fulfill his ambition to climb higher regardless of his protestations that all he wants to do is to give more and greater service to the people.

Somehow or other we get the impression the governor thinks that when he gets to Washington he is going to give the senate and the president a good talking to about some of the things he thinks ought to be done under the head of social service. What the governor forgets is that the people would like to see what we have already made into law be made into workable matter of fact routine. They believe the governor can make it work and that's what they want him to do. The march of time has gotten ahead of the governor and the folks now are thinking in terms of their sons and not in terms of their grandparents. The man who goes to the senate from Texas certainly must not be unaware of what is on the minds of thousands of mothers and fathers, and uppermost on their minds. Read your newspaper about the boys who are going to the army camps and reflect on how many people right in your own community have their hearts in Camp Bowie, Fort Bliss, in navy training places and at the many air fields, from Hawaii to Key West. That's the heart string to thrum to win the senate race. If the governor doesn't get on it quickly he will come in a poor third.

We are beginning to believe that Mr. Johnston, the excellent young statesman from down Austin-way, is making a mistake in bearing down too hard on the idea he has the blessings of the president in his campaign for senatorial honors in Texas. It is a part of human nature for voters to believe they can pick out a good man without any help from out-of-state, who will make a good senator and work with the president, making a good hand in these perilous times. Folks think they are as smart as anybody when they get to the polls. They think they elected Mr. Roosevelt to be president and that he is doing a good job of it. Now they'll pick themselves out another good man for senator. The art of finesse would have served Mr. Johnston very acceptably in this situation. If the president really wants Mr. Johnston for senator a very, very confidential, don't you tell anybody under any consideration grapevine could have been started to work. And why? Out of respect for the sovereign and highly patriotic voters of Texas! The president wouldn't think of trying to tell the sons of the Texas patriots how to vote! But other astute politicians in their day have missed the target in the same manner. Which is to say that if Mr. Johnston is named senator from Texas it will be in spite of and not because of the president's purportedly open support. Crown princes and yes men Texans do not want. An aspirant for the senate in this kind of time cannot afford to get himself jockeyed into that position. Or are we wrong about that, too?

If you have cattle or other livestock and you are permitting them to drink surface water keep in mind that a mixture of arsenic, a deadly poison, is being strewn over the county by the thousands of pounds. This poison may be washed into the surface lakes your live stock are using. When they begin dying you'll wonder why and that will be it. If you know what territory sheds water into your lake check to see if any poison was distributed on that watershed. If so, remember it takes a huge volume of water to weaken arsenic enough to keep it from poisoning a cow, a horse or a human for that matter. Heroic measures taken to rid wheat fields of worms may call for heroic efforts to keep the damage from hitting your farm in some other way. If you have a supply of clean, fresh water on your farm you won't do yourself any harm in seeing that your cattle quench their thirst there and not out in a pasture where poison is sure to have gone into the lake. That's a big order, probably more advice than a good many can take under the circumstances, because it may be impractical. Perhaps it wouldn't be a bad idea, though, to at least learn what is a proper antidote for arsenic poisoning and be all set to do the best you can when and if the symptoms become evident in your herd, big or little.

Probably the scourge of army worms in the wheat fields is just a part of the price the country is going to pay this summer and fall for the unusually warm winter we had. It takes cold to kill many insects in the egg and larvae stage. Cotton and forage feeds later on may be attacked.

A jam up good rodeo was that held in Floydada last week. It is the habit of newspapermen, especially country newspapermen, to hunt things to brag about that take place in their town or county. After discounting what we say somewhat on that account, you can still believe us when we say the rodeo was a good one with a few high class adjectives thrown in. One noticeable thing was the absence of the ropers and riders you took it for granted would be here. These fellows, on reflection, we know are in training for some kind of military service or they have migrated to some kind of a defense job. That is the reason it will be difficult to plan at this time for a rodeo next year. It takes young men to ride broncs and rope and bulldog. There are older men who can compete but they are not numerous. Where the young men who know how to compete will be a year hence and what they will be doing is hard to foretell. But we know which way the arrows point.

Undoubtedly the governor made a mistake in statecraft when he chose General Houston's son as interim senator. Much as the appointment must make the hearts of friends and relatives of Mr. Houston swell with pride, the general run of people think that Texas should have had a two-fisted man in Washington during the time helping Tom Connally. The governor could better have taken the job by appointment than to do the way he has done. Certainly the times are serious and really serious. America is making momentous decisions every day. It was not a time for the governor to pass out any honorariums. The fact that he gave the senator's seat to a man who has to take a physician along to watch his physical condition on the trip to Washington indicates the governor just doesn't grasp the situation. No reflection on the governor, except that he does not realize the worst storm in our country's history has hit and that a stalwart is needed right this minute in Washington instead of a man whose claim to fame is that his father led the Texas army at San Jacinto and served the Texas republic well. All of us have forefathers.

How many men will be available for WPA jobs is hard to estimate now for any given length of time ahead. The rolls are being combed for eligibles for military training. A young man who can make a WPA hand and is not too crippled up for army service is going to be in the army. He has experienced with considerable gratification, or mortification, whichever his bent, the kindly manner in which Uncle Sam has dealt out jobs and help in a hundred ways. Now, he'll get the opportunity to be one of the boys who help carry the load, to demonstrate he lives his country for the relatively lavish manner in which the nation cared for those unable to care for themselves, such as no other age or generation or nationality has ever yet known or even dreamed of.

Arrange for more taxes in your budget. If you think you have a few hundred dollars in the old sock when the year is over don't spend it until you have heard from Uncle Sam and from Old Man Texas. You love them both more than life and you have bet your last dollar on them. But both are money-greedy right now, for reasons of which you are aware. They are collecting and collecting every day and you are paying and paying. But don't forget that after all of that the folks have insisted on other payments, too. Walk right up and pay off, if you can, we'd say. And if you can't don't blame us for not reminding you! Mr. Jones (that's you and me) pays the freight. The traffic is heavy and will get heavier.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

Another inch rain and too wet to work outside. The second planting of cotton has been washed under. Weeds are running broadcast in the unplanted fields. The farmer wonders if rains will help him any better than drouths. Trees and shrubs are growing, but the little flowers and the garden are on a standstill. Wish the weeds were too. I have held a hoe in my hands so much the past week, the blisters have burst and hard places formed. It was some thing like football as I went down the weedy rows. On the four yard line and ten to go, the task seemed endless. Maybe if there had been a yelling audience watching me make the yards with such painful effort, I might have responded with a fervor equal to the sweating running football boys. But there was no one to spur me on with cheers, only the finished work behind and visions of appreciative folks at the table eating beans, tomatoes and onions.

Not having ever learned well enough to remember just when the moon was right to make soap, I just had to make mine Saturday. It is one of the most putting-it-off jobs on the farm. Not such a bad job after one starts, but oh the start. The moon was just right it seemed. For the soap came out fine, the scum and pot was just finished the last stirring when the rain came dashing.

Was very sorry to have missed the oldtimers picnic at Floydada. Too much rain and too much catching up to do all in a few days.

Did take time out to go to the Crosby county reunion. It was good to see and talk with the men and women I grew up with. Seems somehow the snow leaves our hair and the wrinkles our faces and we are young again. Mr. and Mrs. are handles not used on this day.

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Thursday, June 2, 1927)

Superintendent J. C. Wester, who has been connected with the Floydada Public schools for the past eight years, in partnership with his uncle S. H. Wester, of Plainview, Tuesday of this week purchased the Boothe Bakery and Confectionery from E. E. Boothe, proprietor of the bakery for the past eight years.

Saturday the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. K. Green and practically all of its contents were destroyed by fire, which originated in the garage and within thirty minutes had consumed the garage, the family car, the residence and household effects with a loss of approximately $7,500 of which $4,250 was covered by insurance. It was the first residence constructed in Floydada 37 years ago.

Tom Porter, of Floydada, pioneer in the stage car business in this section of the state, is back in the stage line business, having this week started the Red Ball lines again from Plainview to Vernon. Buick sedans were put in service on the line.

Ethyl gasoline, a product of the Continental Oil company, which has been advertised for months over the nation, is now in Floydada and Lockney. A. N. Bratton, local representative of the company said this week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Wood and daughter, Jessie Mae, in company with Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Gularin, returned the last of the week from Sterling City where they have been on a vacation trip.

W. Edd Brown last week purchased a new Buick Brougham sedan, through the Callaway Motor company, Buick dealers here.

Edd Muncy and Miss Artie Hough both of the Muncy community were united in marriage at the parsonage of Rev. McCauley, pastor of the First Baptist church at Lockney, last Thursday evening.

The American Legion netted $84 through their sale of poppies on the streets of Floydada Saturday. The money goes direct to the orphans home the commander said.

Maude Scott told of how her mother made trousers for her husband and the boys out of their tent, sewing with ravellings. And the tent was not khaki color, Maude laughed. Mrs. Della Ezell told of how her father read from the Good Book in their new house and thanked God for it. "The oldtimer was put to the test, the new comer has not been put to," Mrs. Ellis told the crowd. "He could do as well as we did."

John Mc drove two hundred miles as did Mary Lee and Aunt Mirtle to be at Emma another time. We found the community house at Emma so very clean and nice with white walls and white seats inside a white exterior. We thank the people who still live at Emma for their welcome. They are indeed worthy followers of the men and women who were so hospitable and kind in the early days.

Dave Benton of Ralls got into trouble by playing hookey and not coming to the Emma reunion. "I thought I just had to work," he said in his pleasant drawl. "So I went out to the farm. Bugged down two or three times, and all I could do was to feed the settin hens and go back home. I will be there next year."

These are two mosquito tales I heard the other day both told by respected citizens (names furnished on request) Mosquitoes were so bad one year in early days that they sat on the saddle horns and pecked the cowboys in the face, one man said. The other replied with "Down in the valley they got so bad one year they captured a man and was fixing to eat him up. One mosquito suggested they take him to the plains. No said another the mosquitoes out there would take him away from us."

The cowman used to set around and tell yarns or windies he called them. Now the writers call it telling tall tales. A northern man was once very upset because he heard some Texas men talking like this. "Corn grows tall in Texas. One day a boy was seen sixteen feet up a stalk. The next day they hunted him every where. Then the father went up to heaven, thought the corn might have grown through the skies. St. Peter told them he was not up there, that they had never been a Texan come that way. The northern man told another, those Texas men tell lies and then they laugh at them."

There was an ice age on these plains the geologist tells us when great hunks of ice went slipping and sliding, grinding rocks and leaving debris. I don't know much about this, but I do know we are living in an ice age here today. Refrigerators are busy freezing and men are busy delivering ice till no one is left without this cooling clear solid water. But there was an iceless age on these same plains, that is in summer. We managed by the help of the blizzards and blue northerners to have plenty in winter. The milk trough was our place to keep milk and butter and was pretty good only on days the wind did not blow. Not knowing much about ice cream, we did not miss it. Lemonade tasted fine made with fresh cold well water.

Our mother was very sick. The days were hot, she begged for ice, which she knew was impossible to get. The nearest was then at Canyon city. A cloud came up, hail began to fall. We gathered it up like it was more precious than diamonds, which it was to mother. Yes, God does answer prayer, we felt.

SMALL TOWN FOLKS

Small town folks get all the jokes Pinned neatly on the chin
"Hill-billy hicks" from "back in the sticks";
They say it with a cocky grin.
"The green tin horn," "dumbest folks born",
Live in a little ole town.
But:
We have no slums, panhandlers or bums.
No clanging loud street cars;
We don't lock our door; fear is a bore;
Our street lights are the stars,
Here we know peace and souls find release
For we live in a little ole town.
So:
It's the city folks who make up their jokes
The world gives us a frown,
But the joke's on the city, they have the pity
Of the people in a little ole town.

A SEED

A tiny little seed I hold
Secure within my hand,
A flowering plant is sealed inside.
To glorify the land.
No bigger than a pin point,
But a giant after growth.
A tiny germ of life it holds,
Awaiting to burst forth.
A wee, round sphere it is,
But leaves and flowers and fruits
Are locked secure within its heart,
Along with bark and roots.
Only a seed, and very small,
But made in such a fashion,
That mere man cannot fathom it—
The Mystery of Creation!
Gertrude Friend Scoggins.

WHISTLE OF A DEPARTING TRAIN

Is heard in the distance the whistle of a train.
'Tis a melancholy sound the breeze bring back;
We listen, and must from a sigh refrain
As the departing locomotive clings to its spiked track.
Conveying its human cargo safely away.
Where'er the wind may direct each one abroad;
O'er hills or plains the mighty engine must steady stay.
Sending back the melancholy farewell in memory to be stored.

The ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning.

Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here.

Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people.

But this is only a beginning.

Texas has many other raw materials, unexcelled by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market.

Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers, and greater prosperity for you and every other Texan.

Selma Lider And Rex Johnston Were Married Sunday Morning

Miss Selma Lider of Floydada and J. Rex Johnston of Ames, Iowa, were married in a quiet garden wedding, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Lider in the presence of about 100 close friends and relatives at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Rev. Ernest Shepard, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, performed the single ring ceremony. The couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar of seasonal garden flowers with natural shrubby background.

Pre-nuptial music by Tate Fry, tenor, uncle of the bride, of Norman, Oklahoma, Miss Muriel Fagan, violinist and Nell Swinson, pianist, included vocal solos, "At Dawning," (Cadmus); "I Love Thee," (Grieg); and violin and piano numbers, "Ava Maria" and "Thou Art So Like a Flower," (Shubert) and during the ceremony Liszt's "Liebestraum." The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Malcom Lider, of Wichita Falls, sister-in-law, was the bride's only attendant. She wore dusty blue silk marquisette over taffeta, with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Ralph Johnston, brother of the bridegroom served as best man.

Ushers were the bride's brothers, Malcom Lider of Wichita Falls and George Fry Lider of Floydada, and a cousin, Forest Fry of Dallas.

Bride Gowned In White

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, Geo. A. Lider, wore white silk marquisette over taffeta, with fitted tucked bodice with long pointed sleeves, and gathered full skirt, finger-tip veil with Juliet cap of taffeta. For "something old" the bride wore her paternal grandmother's gold bracelet, a wedding gift from her grandfather, for "something borrowed" she wore a cameo brooch of her aunt's, Mrs. Jno. F. Cooke of Uvalde, which originally belonged to the bride's maternal grandmother. Her bouquet was an old fashioned nosegay of gardenias and steffanotis.

Mrs. Geo. A. Lider, mother of the bride wore a sheer black dress with rose accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. M. B. Johnston, mother of the bridegroom wore beige with a corsage of white roses.

Reception Follows Wedding

An informal reception was held after the ceremony. The bride was assisted by her aunt, Mrs. W. L. Fry, in cutting the three-tiered wedding cake. The beautifully appointed table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of mock orange blossoms placed on a reflector and flanked by blue tapers in crystal holders. The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in all of the appointments. Assisting with the serving and the reception were the bride's cousins, Mrs. G. W. Foster, Brownfield, Mrs. Sam Henry, Jr., Hobbs, New Mexico, Mrs. Holt Waldrep, Lubbock.

R. V. Husky Writes Of Interesting Sights In N. Y.

R. V. Husky, of Kenedy, Texas, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Husky, is now in training at Signal Corps Replacement center, Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey. Recently he wrote his parents an interesting outing he had, part of the letter appearing in the Kenedy Advance.

In it he wrote as follows: "I left here about 1 p. m. Saturday on the bus for New York City. We went through Perth Amboy, Elizabeth, New Jersey, and under the Hudson river through the Lincoln tunnel. We got there about 2:30 p. m. A boy from Houston and I went together. We got off the bus at the Greyhound bus terminal and went to the YMCA and got a room with twin beds for 65c each. Then we ate lunch at Caruso's on 34th Street and then walked up the street to the Empire State building and went to the top on the 102nd floor. The view was wonderful and breathtaking. It was clear and we could see things clearly for dozens of miles around. Then we went up to Times Square and looked around and then over on Broadway, where we went to a burlesque show—it wasn't so very good—but different.

"Next we went to Jack Dempsey's cafe and then we saw Madison Square Garden. (Ringling Bros. Circus is there now). Then after we had supper we went down on the subway to Greenwich Village and looked over some of the night clubs there. It was all very interesting and I enjoyed it a lot. Sunday morning we got up rather early, had breakfast at the YMCA and then we walked up fifth avenue to St. Patrick's Cathedral, where we went to Catholic, and he wanted to go to mass there. Al Smith was in a pew about three rows ahead of us. This is a beautiful place and the pipe organ was wonderful.

"We proceeded from church just across 5th Avenue and began to look over Rockefeller Center and Radio City. This is another beautiful place and well worth seeing—just like going to the Subway. Later we rode on the subway downtown to the harbor and there we took a ferry boat to Staten Island. This took us right past the Statue of Liberty and also we got a wonderful view of Lower Manhattan and Brooklyn. When we went back to the city we walked up Broadway for about three hours, saw the old Trinity church at St. Paul's church and all the famous buildings around there.

"Then we went back uptown and went to a movie and at 8 p. m. caught a bus back to Fort Meade. We got back about 10 p. m. tired but happy. It was a wonderful outing and I enjoyed it a lot."

When a Child Needs a Laxative!
SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT is a tasty liquid that most children will welcome whenever they need a laxative. What's more important, it has the same main ingredient as BLACK-DRAUGHT, its older companion. Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief from the familiar symptoms which show a laxative is needed. Comes in two sizes: 25c-50c.

Where's the best place to choose your new car?
ON THE ROAD!

WELL MATCH the "showroom value" of the Ford with anyone... but if you want to know how great a car this is, take one out on the road!

TEST THE PERFORMANCE... IN ACTION. There never was another low price engine like this 90 horsepower Ford V-8. Take it out in the open—then step out on the traffic—challenge the toughest hills. Draw your own conclusions!

TEST THE VALUE... IN ACTION. Stop with the biggest hydraulic brakes anywhere near the price. Retire your toe on the pedal of a fine-car type of semi-centrifugal clutch. Flick through the gears with the easy, silent kind of finger-tip shift that high-priced cars use.

90 HORSEPOWER - V-8 SMOOTHNESS

TEST THE ROOM... IN ACTION. Measurements show this Ford greatest in its whole field in actual passenger space. A ride will show what this means. Bigness counts and here it is!

Selma Lider And Rex Johnston Were Married Sunday Morning

Miss Selma Lider of Floydada and J. Rex Johnston of Ames, Iowa, were married in a quiet garden wedding, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. A. Lider in the presence of about 100 close friends and relatives at 9 o'clock Sunday morning.

Rev. Ernest Shepard, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, performed the single ring ceremony. The couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar of seasonal garden flowers with natural shrubbery background.

Pre-nuptial music by Tate Fry, tenor, uncle of the bride of Norman, Oklahoma; Miss Muriel Pagan, violinist and Neil Swinson, pianist, included vocal solos, "At Dawning," (Cadmian); "I Love Thee," (Grieg); and violin and piano numbers, "Ava Maria" and "Thou Art So Like a Flower," (Shubert) and during the ceremony Listz's "Liebestraum." The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and recessional.

Mrs. Malcom Lider, of Wichita Falls, sister-in-law, was the bride's only attendant. She wore dusty blue silk marquisette over taffeta, with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Mrs. M. B. Johnston, mother of the bridegroom wore beige with a corsage of white roses.

R. V. Husky Writes Of Interesting Sights In N. Y.

R. V. Husky, of Kenedy, Texas, son of Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Husky, is now in training at Signal Corps Replacement center, Ft. Monmouth, New Jersey. Recently he wrote his parents an interesting outing he had, part of the letter appearing in the Kenedy Advance.

In it he wrote as follows: "I left here about 1 p. m. Saturday on the bus for New York City. We went through Perth Amboy, Elizabeth, New Jersey, and under the Hudson river through the Lincoln tunnel. We got there about 2:30 p. m. A boy from Houston and I went together. We got off the bus at the Greyhound bus terminal and went to the YMCA and got a room with twin beds for 65c each. Then we ate lunch at Caruso's on 34th Street and then walked up the street to the Empire State building and went to the top on the 102nd floor. The view was wonderful and breath-taking. It was clear and we could see things clearly for dozens of miles around. Then we went up to Times Square and looked around and then over on Broadway, where we went to a burlesque show—it wasn't so very good—but different.

"Next we went to Jack Dempsey's cafe and then we saw Madison Square Garden. (Rindling Bros. Circus is there now). Then after we had supper we went down on the subway to Greenwich Village and looked over some of the night clubs there. It was all very interesting and I enjoyed it a lot. Sunday morning we got up rather early, had breakfast at the YMCA and then we walked up fifth avenue to St. Patrick's Cathedral, where we went to church. The boy from Houston is Catholic, and he wanted to go to mass there. Al Smith was in a pew about three rows ahead of us. This is a beautiful place and the pipe organ was wonderful.

"We proceeded from church just across 5th Avenue and began to look over Rockefeller Center and Radio City. This is another beautiful place and well worth seeing—just like going to a World's Fair. Later we rode on the subway down to the harbor and there we took a ferry boat to Staten Island. This took us right past the statue of Liberty and also we got a wonderful view of Lower Manhattan and Brooklyn. When we went back to the city we walked up Broadway for about three hours, saw the old Trinity church at St. Paul's church and all the famous buildings around there.

"Then we went back uptown and went to a movie and at 8 p. m. caught a bus back to Fort Monmouth. We got back about 10 p. m. tired but happy. It was a wonderful outing and I enjoyed it a lot."

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT is a tasty liquid that most children will welcome whenever they need a laxative. What's more important, it has the same main ingredient as BLACK-DRAUGHT, its older companion. Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief from the familiar symptoms which show a laxative is needed. Comes in two sizes: 25c-50c.

When a Child Needs a Laxative!

SYRUP OF BLACK-DRAUGHT is a tasty liquid that most children will welcome whenever they need a laxative. What's more important, it has the same main ingredient as BLACK-DRAUGHT, its older companion. Perhaps that's why it usually gives a child such refreshing relief from the familiar symptoms which show a laxative is needed. Comes in two sizes: 25c-50c.

Fight On Army Worm In Wheat Fields

Fields Show Evidence Of Hoppers Too

Saturday night 122 farmers in Floyd county had treated 36,000 acres of army infested small grain with bran and arsenic, and with the fight continuing this week the land treated to stop the ravages of the worms had reached approximately 40,000 acres.

By hand along fences and in turn rows and throughout the fields by commercial plane the fight was still in progress yesterday.

For the first time Tuesday D. P. Bredthauer, county agriculture agent, was able to announce that the poison mixing plant located at the old Boothe elevator had a sufficient supply of bait and was able to keep up with the demands of farmers. It has been in operation day and night for two weeks with O. B. Olson in charge.

Bran and poison mixture is being furnished free by the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine and a nominal charge of 10 cents per 100 pound sack is made at the local station to cover incidental expenses. Even at this, however, the cost of spreading the bait with the greatly needed speed has approximated $1 per acre.

Great Caution Urged

"This poison bait is not fit for man nor beast. It is extremely poisonous and farm owners should use every precaution to apply according to directions and to handle the bait and the sack with caution. Distributed 20 to 30 pounds per acre for army worms and not more than 20 pounds per acre for grasshoppers the bait has been found to be quite effective," said Mr. Bredthauer.

Poison bait not used should be (1) returned to the station, or (2) burned and the ash buried, along with all empty sacks, is the precaution urged by the county agent.

Grasshoppers Are Next

In all likelihood the mixing plant in Floydada will be continued indefinitely and later it is possible other mixing stations will be opened to make insect poison, it was indicated this week. For grasshoppers are showing up in all portions of this and neighboring counties. The young hoppers are not in the fields yet but they are in turn rows and along fences in great numbers. Work on your turn rows not to exterminate the young hoppers which will have grown to considerable proportions by the time young cotton and feed are started.

"We are going into grasshoppers from army worms," said Mr. Bredthauer. "And the man who plants row crops should get ready for them by working on his turn rows and along his fences. The young grasshoppers already are in evidence in spots. They are spreading and getting bigger."

Mr. Bredthauer said the present battle against the army worm has been the toughest in his experience and he fears an equally serious outbreak of hoppers which only prompt measures can meet.

Volunteer And Excess Wheat Deadline Is June Tenth

Secretary Hoots Advised By State Triple A Office On Volunteer And Excess Acreage Rule

We were advised by the AAA state office the latter part of last week that the time for disposing of volunteer wheat and excess seeded wheat on farms eligible to comply could be extended to June 10 or date of maturity, whichever is earlier, by the county committee making such a request to the state office.

The county committee of Floyd county has made this request and are asking that you who have an excess acreage of volunteer or seeded wheat dispose of same immediately, as we have been informed very definitely that there will not be another extension of time.

Parity applications for the 1941 wheat crop are being signed in the county office and shipment of same made to the state office regularly. However, any farmer who has excess seeded wheat or volunteer wheat the parity application for that farm or any other farm can not be submitted to the state office until all farms have been cleared. Therefore, if you want to be among the first to receive your parity payment, it will be necessary that excess wheat be disposed of and the compliance form cleared through the county office before the application can be made.

Cases on Criminal Docket

Of the case on the criminal docket, Newton Hill Jones in Case No. 1907, was given a one-year penitentiary sentence on a charge of driving an automobile on the public highway while intoxicated; and in Case No. 1908 the defendant was given a two-year sentence for the theft of property over $50 in value. Hill is alleged to have stolen a car from Carrick Snodgrass in the spring. The car was recovered at Electra. A plea of guilty to both charges was entered.

In Case No. 1912, Price Brownlow, charged with driving a car while intoxicated, was assessed a penalty of 90 days in jail and a $500 fine, both penalties suspended. At the same time the defendant's license to drive an automobile was revoked for six months.

Geo. Gafford, case No. 1922, charge accomplice to burglary, drew a two-year suspended sentence on plea of guilty. In two companion cases B. K. Collins, Case No. 1923, and Troy Byrd, Case No. 1924, charged with the burglary of the Phillips Petroleum company's wholesale station here in March, each was given a four-year sentence. They pled guilty to charges filed.

Two other indictments were filed in connection with the burglary, these being transferred to county court for adjudication.

Five year suspended sentences were assessed against J. B. Moses, Case No. 1926, and Otho H. Forbes, Case No. 1925, when pleas of guilty were entered by them to charges by indictment of the theft of cattle. The young men, it is alleged, stole a calf belonging to Henry Martin of Floydada.

GIRLS MUST BEHAVE WHEN VISITING CAMPS

With so many eligible "dates" in training camps all over the country, many a pretty young miss will have to learn a new code of deportment if she wants to endear herself to the boys doing their part for Uncle Sam.

With this in mind Henrietta Ripberger has summed up several worthwhile hints which if followed will make you a welcome visitor to military posts.

Here they are:—
Don't show up with chevrons on your jacket, stripes on your sleeves, sailor collars with emblems. The boys have to look at braid and eagles all day long.

They want you in fluff, not in uniform.

Don't say you can't hoof it in the shoes you have on. Wear sports or spectator-sports shoes, or make up your mind to be a sport and suffer. The Service walks!

Don't try to get special privileges. Don't use influence or try to vamp the Sergeant. Your guy will suffer for it later on.

Don't expect the army to feed you. Learn to live on sodas and like it.

Don't yoo-hoo at the general even if he is your dad's best friend. Wait until the general yoo-hoos at you!

Don't be chummy with privates if you're out with a brass hat.

Don't run about like a child star bringing her parents together in a movie, coyly introducing privates to officers.

Don't make yourself conspicuous. You might be "posted," which means you're not allowed to come again.

Don't make it hard for your man to report for duty. Don't smuggle him anything to drink. Asked as to the effect of alcohol, an Annapolis man wrote, "The effect on a Midshipman is usually a complete change of residence and occupation."

Learn to smile when you say good-bye, and the Skirt Patrol will be back for you next time.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. V. Smith attended the graduation exercises of Nurses at Plainview Sunday afternoon when three Floyd county girls received diplomas. They were Miss Viva Lila Stanley, Mrs. James Boney and Miss Irene Reeves.

Co-op D. V. B. S. Commencement Sunday Night

Sunday evening the Cooperative Daily Vacation Bible school will conclude its two weeks session. The program, which is to be held at the First Methodist church will feature the activities of the Bible school. Parents of all children attending the school are invited to attend and bring guests and friends to witness "A Day in Vacation Bible School."

An unusual feature of the union service of the cooperating churches will be the presentation of new choruses and songs learned by the departments and school as a whole. The primary children will present graphic "flannelgraph" illustrations of scenes depicting the Shepherd's Psalm (xxiii). This new method is a thrilling example of what small children can really do.

During the evening the handwork accomplished in correlation with the daily lessons will be on display along with the extra curricular handwork of the girls and the woodwork of the boys. Recognition of special work will be made and prizes and certificates awarded.

Turkey Wreck Victim Buried Friday; Two Floyd Men Hurt

Party Enroute From Floydada Wednesday Night Crashed On S-Turn East Of Quitaque

Paul Herring, local automotive worker injured last Thursday morning in a wreck on the highway between Quitaque and Turkey in which one was killed, was dismissed from Floydada Hospital and clinic the first of this week, and is continuing recovery at his home.

Clinton Fyffe, also slightly hurt, resumed his work as bookkeeper at Oden Chevrolet company the latter part of last week.

Killed outright in the crash was Mrs. Treva Bob Lyles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Lyles, of Turkey. Miss Cora Tunnell, also of Turkey, sustained painful injuries and a fractured rib.

The crash occurred at an S-turn, and reports following investigation made by local authorities there and by the State Highway department indicated that the wreck was due to high speed on an unfamiliar road. Floyd County County Attorney John Stapleton who visited the scene and talked with officials said this week. It was indicated no evidence was found on which charges would be based.

The Quitaque Post, reporting the accident, said the car apparently turned over two or three times. Mrs. Lyles was thrown clear of the wreck, the car stopping upright on its wheels, crosswise of the road.

Joe O'Neal, of Silverton, picked up the victims of the accident and took them to Quitaque where the surviving injured were treated. The accident occurred between 2 and 3:30 Thursday morning while the young men were taking the young women to their homes after attending the rodeo and dance in Floydada Wednesday night.

Funeral rites for Mrs. Lyles were held at Turkey Friday where interment was made. Several Floydada friends of the victims of the accident and the Lyles family attended the funeral.

Billy Henry returned home last week where he has been attending school at Kerrville Institute at Kerrville, Texas. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Henry.

Destruction Proof Of New Oil

Continental Introduces New Germ-Processed Oil As Conoco Nth

Continental Oil company this week began merchandising through its nation-wide system of Mileage Merchants their new germ-Processed oil, which is introduced as Conoco Nth.

Simultaneously at all stations the new product, which is just a further refinement of their famous oil, began pouring into crank cases throughout the country, and strong claims are being made for it.

The first synthetic introduced into oils by Continental, known as Germ-Processing, is retained to stand on guard against wear in advance, giving the oil-plated surface of all moving parts.

The new synthetic, with the long name of Thiakene inhibitor, will be called Nth for short. It inhibits or checks the effect of foul leftovers created by the normal engine explosions, helping the engine to keep fit, a good way to save quarts, as pointed out in advertising released with the introduction of the new oil.

After many tests in the laboratory, the new oil was given its road test in Death Valley, California. Called the destruction test the crank cases of six cars were filled—one with Conoco Nth and five others with other well known, good oils. With crank cases sealed the cars were driven until six new engines were junk, all handled under identical conditions at a speed of 57 miles for each. Conoco Nth in this test made 13,398.8 miles before the engine was ruined, beating the nearest rival by 8,268 miles, according to the certified record of the referee, H. M. Jacklin, consulting engineer and professor of automotive engineering at Purdue university.

New Oil a Life-Giver. 5-quart fill—None Added—Lasted 13,398 Miles

More than Twice the mileage averaged by 5 other big-name oils in fiendish Destruction Test... Impartial... CERTIFIED THIRST killed gold-feverish Forty-Niners in Death Valley. You can stand there today on our Hemisphere's bottom, 279 feet below sea level. And some of the worst heat on U.S. Weather Bureau records will be drying you up.

... America's hotspot!... where 6 identical everyday cars scorched along, testing 6 different motor oils, till 6 new engines were junk. Every condition was the same for all. Qualified authorities eyed every move. Speed: 57 miles an hour for all. The Referee had bought 5 of the oils right off the market; millions know their names well. The other oil was decidedly new. And this new oil that authentically delivered more than twice the mileage averaged by the others is named

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL — Now on Sale here for Your Car

How could one fill of this popular-priced Conoco Nth oil keep lasting—without one added drop—for an official total of 13,398.8 miles? How could IMPARTIAL The 6 new cars were broken-in alike, after engines had been taken apart for the Referee, to check uniformity. All cars tuned alike. Same desert route for all. Handling evened up by alternating drivers. One 5-quart fill per car and no more... engines under lock.

CERTIFIED

I hereby certify that the Death Valley Test and related work were thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

H. M. Jacklin
Consulting Engineer, who during the Academic year is Professor of Automotive Engineering, Purdue University

Conoco Nth oil outlast them all by 5,683 miles or more, even outlasting one "rival" by 8,268 miles!... Certified.

New SYNTHETIC in Conoco Nth

You know of vitamin synthetics... man-made... replacing Nature's life-givers sacrificed in some modern food processing. Similarly, the latest refining methods steal life-giving elements from motor oils. But more than making up for that today—in popular-priced Conoco Nth oil—is Thiakene inhibitor... man-made. (Conoco Patent 2,218,132.) It inhibits or checks the effect of foul leftovers created by the normal engine explosions. Thus Conoco Nth stays more like its own good self... helps the engine keep fit—good way to save quarts.

A triumph matching Conoco OIL-PLATING

Another wondrous synthetic—long in use under the famed Germ Processed oil patent—still makes Nth oil give your engine OIL-PLATING... lubricant that can't all quickly drain down from inner parts. Instead, it's able to stay plated up... on guard against wear in advance, while you're using Conoco Nth oil. In addition you get the latest life-giving aid that foiled Death Valley... that eclipsed other oils tested... that made one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil last 13,398 miles. Certified.

That's like a mad extreme—beyond the utmost allowed by authorities on the subject. You'd never make your own car stand such proving-ground torture. But you want as wide a margin of engine protection and oil economy as your money will buy this Summer, and Conoco Nth has nailed up plain evidence. Ask today for Conoco Nth at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

R. E. A. Program Is Six Years Old May 11

The start of the seventh year of the Federal rural electrification program finds approximately 2 million American farm families enjoying central station electric service—nearly three times as many as had in 1935—the department of agriculture reported today. Since establishment of the Rural Electrification administration on May 11, 1935, REA-financed power lines alone have taken electricity to more than half a million farms. During the same period, private utilities, largely stimulated by the REA program, have connected about as many additional farms.

REA activities have been directed intensively toward measures to strengthen national defense. REA was instrumental in getting electricity to one of the largest army camps in the United States during the past year. Other army camps have been served less dramatically but no less beneficially. Electricity has been made available to hundreds of small factories and mines producing essential defense materials—ramrods, gunpowder, airplane carburetors, and cinnabar—to mention 4 of more than 100 kinds of industrial establishments on REA lines. Meanwhile, by connecting hundreds of thousands of additional farms and by advising farmers in the selection and operation of productive electrical equipment, the REA has helped to insure an adequate supply of food and fiber in the event of an all-out defense effort which would draw heavily on farm manpower.

Of immediate importance, rural electric power lines provide mechanical help and increased efficiency in producing foods on which emphasis has recently been placed. These foods include poultry and eggs, milk and its products, and pork. Electric lines make possible electrical chick brooders and henhouse lighting, reliable milk coolers, and electric pig brooders.

During its six years of operation, the REA has allotted $367,215,121 to 824 borrowers in 45 states and Alaska. These funds provide for construction of 354,090 miles of lines to serve 1,188,272 farm families and other rural consumers. By March 31, 1941, of these systems were actually operating 286,142 miles of line with 726,065 connected consumers. In this connection, the Department points out that the total number of electrified farms in the United States on December 31, 1934, as estimated by the Edison Electric Institute, was only 743,954.

Mr. Fields Ought To Be Lucky Now

Chicken thieves one night last week pulled aside the fence palings enough to reach through and take two laying hens from S. R. Fields' chicken house on South Main street.

Unresponsive to the fact that the thieves reduced his flock of layers from an unlucky 13 to a lucky 11, Mr. Fields doesn't feel happy about the matter. He'd like to see a scare thrown into whoever did it.

Mr. Fields made the rounds of the poultry houses the next morning but none of them had brought the contraband hens. He has decided the thieves wanted chicken on an inexpensive basis, but he wishes they hadn't taken two of his best layers.

aid America, and must have an all-out purchase of bonds and savings stamps.

"We are going to have a big bill to pay in order to protect this land we love so well—and it will be worth every cent in cost to know our country and those we love are safe," he said. "And when we stop to think that our government thought far enough ahead to make plans to borrow money from us that it could pay back with interest, we should swell with pride."

"The United States government could have just imposed higher taxes on us—money to be paid in and nothing received in return but protection. Protection would have been a lot, but instead, we are lending our money and will get it back with interest."

"When you buy one of these bonds you are buying confidence in your country, your family, your neighbor, and yourself. You are making money for yourself, and by lending it to your government, you are making it work for your country."

"We could think of no more fitting memorial for those who gave their lives in the last war than to ask that all Floyd county citizens do their bit now toward preparing defenses which we hope will protect us and save the lives of our nation's sons."

"So why not forget all alibis and why not stop this watch dog idea of letting George do it and walk right in today and do your share whether it be a stamp or bond."

Members of the Floyd county campaign committee, in addition to Chairman Snodgrass, are A. P. Barker, J. I. Hammonds, Lockney; A. H. Kreis, Bill Norman, Dougherty; Walter Woods, South Plains; J. V. Daniel, Walter Travis, Lee Rushing, John Gray, G. C. Collins, Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, R. M. Batey, Floydada.

More Paving—

Members of the commissioners court, including Commissioners H. J. Nelson and A. S. Cummings and Judge G. C. Tubbs in their hearing before the State Highway commission Friday afternoon on the Dougherty farm to market project were not given any definite commitment by the commission. However, they were told the project would be taken under advisement. "Members of the court feel like we are going to get the commission to give us this improvement on Highway 70," said County Judge G. C. Tubbs adding it as his belief the authorities might undertake hard surfacing on it sometime this year. The grade and drainage structure was completed by the county and WPA authorities last year.

First Teacher Wed 50 Years
The first school teacher in Floyd county—Mrs. Sylvanus Haworth—(nee Emma Lewis) who taught the school at Della Plain in the school year of 1888, and her husband, celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary last August, she said recently in a letter to Mrs. J. T. McLain. She intended to write a letter for the pioneers association reunion but overlooked the matter until it was too late for it to arrive here on May 28. The Lewis' left this country in 1890.

In her letter to the old friends here Mrs. Haworth told of the present whereabouts of Hulda Cox, the first teacher at Sand Hill, who is now Mrs. Ed Loder and resides at Greenleaf, Washington, some 20 miles distant from Star, Idaho, where the Haworth's make their home.

Absentees Send Greetings

Among the absentees from the meeting of the pioneers Wednesday and from whom messages were received were Claude V. Hall, of Commerce, Representative Tom W. Deen at Austin and Mrs. Henry Hollis, who is spending the summer at Warm Springs, Georgia. Mr. Hall promised to be here on Thursday, May 28, 1942. He was in the midst of final examinations at the time of the meeting this year, he said.

Representative Deen wired, "I wish I could be with you good people today in your re-union celebration of the fifty-first birthday of Floyd county. I know you will have a great time." Mrs. Hollis said she was not staying away from indifference but because of circumstances which keep her away from Texas for the spring and summer.

Praises H D Women

Appreciation of the fine part the Home Demonstration club women of Floyd county had in serving the noon-day meal for the pioneers last Wednesday was expressed by President A. T. Swebston of the pioneers association. "The club women did a good job and we appreciate the splendid way in which they served the meal," said Mr. Swebston. Two hundred and fifty plates were served to as many pioneers.

HOME FOR SUMMER

Miss Wilma McNeely of Austin returned home Saturday to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McNeely. She has been attending the Texas school for the deaf nine years and is sixteen years of age.

Miss McNeely is majoring in business administration and is one of the highest ranking students in the school. She plans to attend the school at beginning of next term.

Square Dances Get a Hand

The mounted square dance, which was a feature of three out of four of the rodeo programs, drew applause at every performance. Riding several thousand dollars worth of horse flesh, well-trained in the maneuvers of the dance, the performers made a pretty picture. Bud Leatherwood led the "dancers." Among those who rode horses in the dance were Irvin Bennett and daughter, Mary Beth, Mrs. Calvin Steen, Fred Cardinal, Mrs. Juanell Tinney, Thelma Wisdom, Johnny Lackey, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Smith, Tate Jones.

Rides An Educated Horse
Mrs. Juanell Tinney, Dougherty entry in the sponsors' contest, gave an interesting exhibition of training with her three-year-old educated horse at the last rodeo performance Thursday night, and drew applause from the crowd.

Roy L. Snodgrass was president of the organization which this year staged the rodeo and Ollie Cox, of the Double Heart ranch, Sweetwater, was arena manager and furnished the broncs, steers and bulls. W. E. Burleson, northeast Floyd county rancher, furnished the calves.

Outstanding judges served during the four performances. They were Rudolph Swenson, manager of the Pitchfork Land & Cattle company and H. H. Schweitzer, Matador boot maker.

Many West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma contestants who took part in last year's events are in the army now, and did not participate. However, time made in time events was very good and other contests were fully up to par.

Crowds were disappointing at the two final performances.

SHOWER THIS MORNING

A light shower of rain this morning about 9 o'clock followed four days of clear weather after Saturday night's downpour. Meager reports from over the county indicates the probability that only light showers fell elsewhere in the area.

At Lockney a similar light shower fell, probably enough to stop planting, which was under way on many farms beginning yesterday.

LOST AND FOUND SYSTEM MAKES CHILDREN NEAT

Do you find that children are forever leaving their belongings about the house? If you do, you know that this is especially true in summer because youngsters are around so much more.

To teach her children to correct this fault Jean Hersey started a unique system. Settling down on the sofa Mrs. Hersey found that she was quite apt to meet various nubby objects as she leaned back to relax—her boys' fire engines, or her daughter's roller skates, or make sure this didn't become a common habit Mrs. Hersey put up a convenient shelf and over it a sign saying "Lost and Found. You must work your belongings out."

Any possessions left where they shouldn't be are hastily put here by whoever discovers them. To retrieve an article Mrs. Hersey made the provision that the owner must do a job that benefits the household in general. "The tasks" she says, "are never too arduous, but the knowledge that they must be done inspires a higher standard of neatness than we ever had."

If the children want their toys back they must do such things as water the plants or wash and dry the dishes, and they are always accomplished cheerfully and with quite a bit of humor.
