During the heavy rains of May and the first half of June the weeds got away from everybody. In Floydada as well as in other parts of the county. But while the farmer gets out and plows his weeds and cleans up his farm the town is still in the weeds even though most everybody has taken care of their own premises. A clean up, which the city and civic organizations started in early May was literally rained out. Clean up trucks and weed burning squads did not get to operate. For cleanliness, better appearance and for health's sake we need a campaign at once to eliminate weeds, to get alleys and unused premises clear of disease-breeding rubbish. The weeds call for a general burning and the rubbish which cannot be burned must be breeding millions of mosquitoes and flies.

The world at its worst needs Christianity at its best is the thought behind an active movement among the church people of the United States to look after the welfare of the souls of the millions of young men who are in training against the day when they will have to defend their country. Nearly every denomination and sect is making some type of preparation, some plan for affording their young men Christian influences during their stay in camps. While the movement is a belated one it nevertheless has some merit, much merit in fact. Making their plans jibe with those of the authorities in the army so as to be elastic enough to actually be of service to the young men is a problem which will be solved without doubt.

Church people, political and religious leaders who believe that all types of intoxicants should be banished from areas in which armed forces are being trained, are more out of accord with the army authorities in appearance than in fact. Whereas many people say make it illegal for liquor or any kind of intoxicant to be sold within a given area around the military places, the authorities believe this would only serve to make matters worse. They want the beer or whiskey, or whatever it may be, out where they can see it, inasmuch as their experience is that as long as there are men somewhere about is going to be liquor either legally or illegally. The army man and the social worker want the same results, but they would undertake the job in different ways.

The agriculture experts who study the natural enemies of farm crops say the grasshopper crop is going to be a good one this year. The nests have been found and checked in sufficient numbers of Floyd county to make it a certainty hoppers will do some damage may be more or less, and it may be worse in some spots than in others, they say. Right now is not the time to talk about it with farmers, however. There never was a time when the farmer had more things to do and less time to do them in. It would have to be a real grasshopper scare this week, the grasshoppers would have to be as big as the mosquitoes in fact, to take a farmer's mind off of harvesting and planting and killing weeds.

Of organizations for profit, for patriotism, for public welfare or private gain there is no end. Every controversial public matter always breeds a countless number of cleverly organized (not necessarily dishonest or shady) societies, institutes, leagues or what-nots, to tap the gullible public. In the United States the urge to "do something about it" oft times takes the form of an organization with a secretary, a suite of offices, filing cabinets, secretaries, private conference rooms and all the folderel that the faithful dues payers like to support. The labor situation in America has bred a dozen or more of this kind and The Hesperian has had literature, appeals for help, publicity from half of that number. One outfit frankly is out to make money by helping the employer of labor legally side-step the pitfalls, possibly evade by manipulation, the federal labor laws, stay solvent and stay out of the jail house. A broadside asks "What are your rights as an employer?" And then you are told some of the things that are being brewed up at Washington. And how to avoid this and squirm out of that. The least it will cost you to get full and complete information—to get the Institute to fire both barrels for you as it were—is $15 which you pay annually. The same racketeers who are hoodwinking the workingman may also have controlling interest in this employers' institute for all we know. What we started out to say is that The American, whether employe or employer, is a natural born joiner and dues payer. He usually joins first and finds out what he joined later. The professional organizer finds we are putty in his hands.

It is perhaps a peculiar complex that makes our mind turn to the losers instead of to the winners in a big political fight. Of the several estimable gentlemen who are running for the United States Senate this week there will be at least three sorely disappointed Saturday night. Of the twenty-odd who are candidates there are several running just to be in the pack, expecting nothing and only hoping the lightning might strike, or that their grandchildren will say of them one of these days, "Grandpa was a big man in Texas. He ran for the United States senate one time." But there are three who are going to lose, who have set their hearts on winning, have spent their money freely and have campaigned from one end of the state to the other. How would you like to be one of the losers Saturday midnight or for that matter a member of the family of one of the losers? The tumult and the shouting for the winner always, while the loser goes off to lick his wounds in private.

Of several varieties of wheat planted in Floyd county this year Tenmarq seems to have stood up better than any other under the pounding of the wettest season in the history of wheat growing on the plains. How this variety would have compared in yield, grade and hardness had conditions been average is another thing. In fact a thing the grower should think about seriously before he goes lock, stock and barrel for tenmarq or any other one variety. It will, perhaps, be a number of years before the very best variety for all conditions will be found. Meanwhile there is coming about a very considerable mixing of different varieties of wheat in the fields and a serious mixing of barley and rye with wheat. The latter is really a serious matter. It involves the necessity of getting out of the country to buy pure seed for one thing. About the worst thing for the wheat growing industry on the plains was the introduction of mixed grain plantings.

The Texas Safety association declares the Fourth of July will bring the biggest traffic jam in the history of Texas. Officers of this organization declare that a million and three-quarters of automobiles will travel an aggregate of one hundred thirty million miles. Thirty will be killed and three hundred and sixty injured in Texas in what the association terms the annual jamboree of carelessness.

The dairy industry in Texas continues to boom in May of this year it is reported the state produced 30.7 per cent more butter than in May a year ago, 27.2 per cent more ice cream and three per cent more cheese.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Spikes

There is not much time to think these hurried, crowded days and almost no night to sleep. Tractors are chugging trying to get in the late crop. Cows have to be milked before sunup and after sundown when it is too dark to be in the field. Wheat is standing ready for the combine, meals have to be prepared for hard-working hungry men. Somehow the garden work has to be added in, the first fruit and vegetables canned. I try in spite of all of this to keep my ears open to the singing of the mocking bird and to go around among the sweet blossoming flowers gathering bouquets for the house.

"Cherries are ripe, cherries are ripe, oh give the baby some." Yes, and do not forget that grandpa likes a cherry pie and that grandma wants hers with cream and sugar. Clear jars are being filled, making us think of red rubies seen behind a jeweler's window. Cherries are so easily grown and usually miss the late frosts. Do not forget to put out a tree or so this fall or next spring.

Isn't it fine that our minds and thoughts do not have to be tied to the handle of a hoe. We can go down the weedy rows, live in the past, visualize the future or study the problems of the present. The other day the sun shone down, hot on my bonneted head and although my hands still held the hoe, in memory there was a fishing pole in brown girl's hands. The day was still and hot. Not a tree on the creek of the sandy Yellowhouse to break the sun's rays. The little girl sitting so still watching the bright blue bottle fly lighting on the

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

(Thursday, June 23, 1927)

Rains of the past week have covered wide areas of the state and have flooded some portions of immediate territory, according to reports. Floydada received 47 of an inch rain Wednesday morning.

After July 1, the First National bank will become the depository for the city of Floydada for the ensuing year. The bank was designated following the consideration of bids by the city council in session last week.

Mrs. S. H. Horn, Campbell county winner in class I of the State Kitchen Improvement Contest has been awarded second place in this district, according to advices received here this week by Miss Blanche Bass, home demonstration agent and sponsor for the work. Miss Cecil Mitchell of Dallas and formerly of this city, has been selected as one of ten Texas students from S. M. U. and Kid Key college who will study voice in Europe next summer. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Mitchell of Plainview and a sister of Mrs. Robert McGuire.

Marriage license were issued to Elvis Gill and Miss Fay Hollums, June 16. They were married Sunday at the home of Rev. R. E. L. Muncy.

A. D. Cummings returned last Tuesday from Canyon after attending the first part of the summer session of the college.

Irvin Bishop of Long Beach, California arrived last Tuesday to spend several days here visiting relatives.

Buick sedan models purchased recently from the Callaway Motor company were W. A. Baker, E. C. King, W. H. Dooley and I. D. Gamble.

Leslie Slaughter, of Crosbyton, was a visitor in Floydada Sunday as a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fry. Born to Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Battey, a daughter June 20, named Charlene.

bobbing cork, was almost merged into the brown earth bank with her brown checked gingham dress and brown legs and feet. Sounds from the camp where mother was cooking dinner, and brothers and sisters too small to go by themselves to fish, came pleasantly to her ears under the blue ruffled bonnet. She smelled the frying meal-eat fish cooking over the mesquite coals, could almost see the sour dough biscuits puffing up in the Dutch skillet.

Sounds of swishing lines being thrown into the water, each holding a piece of frog or a wriggling grasshopper and now and then a wet shining cat fish or a flat sun perch suddenly leaving its watery home on the dry land; the bellowing of a distant Hereford, a purple shadow hurriedly passing over as an eagle soared the blue sky. The little girl drew her breath. She remembered mother and father telling about eagles carrying off children to their nests high out of reach of humans. What if little blue-eyed brother or brown eyed sister would be carried off? Father, sitting across the creek, reassured her. Father sat so still, fishing without a cork, catching large fish, never jerking swiftly at every bite, pulling big fish out slowly and calmly.

The little girl fidgeted, grass tickling her toes. She slipped on her shoes. She might have known, when she caught the first fish of all, that her luck was gone right then. And she had gotten her line crossed up with another. Sticking her mesquite pole into the soft bank, she rose and slipped up the salt-grass covered bank to hunt flowers. Grasshoppers whirled and jumped, long legged frogs slipped with a splash into the creek. Bobbing corks still floated before her eyes, the gurgling of the little falls made a sleepy sound. She found blue gentians, yellow primroses and candy tuft, wrapped them with wet grass, started to the camp, only to be called back by father whispering as she got near, "It is time to pull the line. I think there is a big fish on your hook."

I jerked with a lunge. Oh, it was only the hoe in my work worn hands. Father has vanished. Oh it makes me want to see him on earth once more! The days of yesterday had vanished also leaving me sad and happy, too. You know that feeling, I am sure.

They light my journey and what light they give!
In their light it is safe to walk. The weak

MY CHOICE

Odetta Ruth Anderson
The plains-land is my choice
Of all the lands that be,
So I lift exultant voice
And choose the wide prairie.
I've traveled eastward in the hills,
And up where the pines grow tall,
I've traveled o'er mountains, rocks and hills.
But the prairie's the best of all.
The air is pure, cool and sweet,
As it sings across the plain,
Grass and sky on the horizon meet,
And I'll never leave again.

To Memory of John P. Kerlin
He came in a covered wagon
Across the trackless plains,
To make the faint trail, clearer
For others when they came.
And now he's journeyed westward
Leaving a trail so bright,
To point to you the narrow way
And guide your steps aright.
He's traveled the long, long trail
Over the last divide,
To join a pioneer mother

Leading The Field

Lyndon Johnson

— For —

U. S. Senator

Lyndon Johnson now leads the field in the Senate race as shown by a well known and widely quoted vice poll. Other candidates admit his lead by their vicious and underhanded attack on his stand for Roosevelt and Unity. But their attack has failed and Lyndon Johnson is still the man they are all trying to beat.

What has caused this tremendous swing to Lyndon Johnson? The explanation is now clear:

Texas wants a Senator trained for the job, a Senator who has the friendship and confidence of our great President, Administration Leaders and Members of Congress. Texans now know that Lyndon Johnson is that man and that he can get the job done for Texas.

Texas wants Unity of Action and Unity of Purpose in this hour of peril. They know that Lyndon Johnson stands for Roosevelt and Unity and Action now. They know that his record of achievement for the Nation and for his district proves that his stand is sincere and can be fulfilled.

Join with Lyndon Johnson in a State-wide pledge of Unity and Loyalty to President Roosevelt. Let the world know that Texans stand united with all Americans in our fight to preserve our Democracy.

Use Cotton Stamps Wisely

Can Be Made To Stretch Further Over Budget By Planning In Advance

COLLEGE STATION, June 26.—Families of growers who will soon be receiving stamps for compliance with the supplementary cotton program can make their stamps stretch a little farther over the budget if they do some planning in advance. The best approach is for the family to sit down together and take an inventory of the cotton goods on hand, then list needs for cotton clothing and for household cottons. Mrs. Dora R. Barnes, clothing specialist, and Mrs. Bernice Clayton, specialist in home improvement, both of the A. and M. College Extension Service, say that when the inventory and the list are made, the stamp allotment should then be proportioned wisely between clothing and household needs.

Whether families are buying clothes or articles for the home, the specialists say these pointers will help spend cotton stamps wisely. Be sure to take your list when you go shopping. If you don't know the prices of things you need, get them. Don't hesitate to ask questions. Read carefully all the labels on the articles you buy.

Remember that good quality material generally means a saving since it lasts longer and stands hard wear better. Don't let a "bargain" lead you into buying something you don't really need.

If you buy goods at sales be sure to check the price and quality with values offered regularly and in other stores.

Tahoka Daisy Name For Domesticated Plains Flower

Lynn County News: — Margaret Turner, who writes "The Woman's Angle" column in the Lubbock Avalanche, last Sunday made mention of the colored photograph and a description of the Tahoka Daisy which appeared in the current issue of Better Homes and Gardens. After stating that Mrs. W. A. Myrick of Lubbock had named and introduced the flower, Miss Turner proceeds as follows:

Several years ago Mrs. Myrick on passing fields of the wild, purplish-blue daisies, decided they were too pretty to shed their color on the prairie alone and she gathered seed and sent them to a nurseryman. The rest of the story is that the nurseryman was delighted, he experimented with the seeds and now the Tahoka daisy is a popular flower for beds, edging and cutting and is being grown all over the United States. As the writer of the article in Better Homes and Gardens explained: "It is the answer to a prayer of a fellow who asks for blue flowers and fern like foliage produced all summer on a plant that can grow equally well in full sun or partial shade."

"This daisy is an original species. Its bloom is always a clear lavender-blue tinted with rose as the flower matures. A deep yellow center adds much to its beauty. The Tahoka daisy endures under hot and dry conditions. Bare spots in the garden caused by individual specimens drying up are rare. Seeds of the daisy germinate more uniformly when held in a refrigerator for about two weeks before planting. Sow indoors for a long season of bloom."

"This lovely little flower that so many of you have accepted as just another wild flower is making good and getting its little self written up in a national magazine under the title, 'Grow These and Brag.'"

WILSON WARNS OF HIDDEN HUNGERS

"I think we can all agree that no man, woman, or child in the United States should be allowed to starve," said M. L. Wilson of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in addressing the National Nutrition Conference for Defense. "That is the very least this vast and fruitful land should promise its sons and daughters. But having pledged ourselves to that proposition we find we are committed to a good deal more than might be imagined. We find that starvation can be hidden, subtle and slow, as well as desperate and dramatic. We find that science has uncovered starvation in places where it was not supposed to exist, in high and middle places as well as in the low."

"Call it malnutrition, call it under-nourishment, call it dietary deficiency or what you will — when men and women and children fail to eat the foods that give them full life and vigor, they are in fact starving. Here then is the challenge we must face: We are pledged to the proposition that no one in this great democracy shall starve, even with hidden hunger, and we are faced with the fact that 40 per cent of our people have poor and inadequate diets."

Crop Insurance—When wheat, insured by Federal Crop Insurance, is destroyed by an uncontrollable factor, such as floods shown above, or by hail, insects or drought, certificates of indemnity to wheat producers may be issued. 11,040 Texas wheat farmers have this kind of insurance.

State Polls Show Big Gain For Johnson, Croslin Points Out

"The outstanding feature of the Texas Senatorial race during the last week was the remarkable gain made by Lyndon Johnson, the 32 year old Congressman from Johnson City who has President Roosevelt's blessing in the race, and who has conducted as vigor a campaign as Texas' colorful political history has seen in many a year," declared Lloyd Croslin, Lubbock attorney and ardent supporter of the Johnson campaign this week. Continuing Mr. Croslin said: "Ranked by state polls as fourth in the race in the beginning he jumped to first place in the last weeks poll. Every poll taken during the race has shown tremendous gains made by his candidacy, and this week as the campaign approached a climax other candidates opened personal attacks on Lyndon Johnson in an effort to cut down the gains which all camps admitted he has made. "Johnson continued his whirlwind campaign, pitching the fight on 'Roosevelt and Unity' and his record of achievement and experience in the national congress."

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Hughes of Dallas is here in interest of harvesting their wheat crop. They plan to stay here several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Jackson spent the week-end in Littlefield with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jackson.

Drive In Stocking Feet, Suggests State Police

AUSTIN, June 24.—Take off your shoes and drive in your stocking feet.

That, said State Police Director Homer Garrison, Jr., today, will relieve the monotony of night driving. Cool air and the jar of pedal vibration on the feet will prevent dozing, which frequently results in serious crashes.

"It pays to have cold feet," Garrison said, "when you're bravely trying to stay awake. An open cowl will prevent one's getting too warm and comfortable."

Coffee will not help as much as a shockingly cold soft drink, he said, adding this final suggestion:

"If there's no one else along to suffer from it, you can break the monotonous purr of the motor and at the same time get in a little practice for operatic or oratorical ambitions by singing or talking loud."

STARCH BATH SOFTENS UNPLEASANT WINTER SKIN

Winter skin is a plague which few women escape. Your legs are rough and flaky; your body feels itchy-dry all over. Your case is not unusual, and is traceable in part to our rigorous climate and in part to our addiction to overhead rooms and our devotion to the bathtub.

Try a soothing protective body rub—one that smooths and softens, dries quickly, leaves no greasy film. There are new body lotions especially for the purpose; but before you invest in one, try your old reliable hand lotion. Apply it after your bath.

In extreme cases, the Journal of the American Medical Association recommends that you use soap only on face and hands, feet and body and make your bath with starch bran or oatmeal.

To avoid clogging drains, oatmeal should be tied in a gauze bag and boiled a few minutes. Then both bag and the water in which it was boiled are added to the water in the tub. Water should be tepid, not hot.

The starch bath is simpler, since it is necessary merely to stir the starch in the water. It makes a delightful, silky-feeling bath.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Hopkins and son of Stamford visited Sunday and Monday with Mr. Hopkins' sister, Mrs. Jack Henry and family.

Only one American college, Oberlin, admitted women a century ago.

Fashion Editor Names Fiction's Best-Dressed

Everyone is familiar with the annual newspaper listing of the best dressed women in the world. But what about the beautifully groomed women in fiction? How do they rate?

Carmel Snow, editor of Harper's Bazaar, has chosen six women she considers fashion "tops" in the world of literature. Included in Mrs. Snow's list are the inevitable selections—Rebecca in Daphne du Maurier's story of the same name and Scarlett O'Hara. Although the first Mrs. De Winter in the du Maurier book is never introduced to the reader, Mrs. Snow points out that her elegance is strikingly revealed in the scene where Mrs. Danvers shows Rebecca's wardrobe to the second wife. The sable wrap, the chinchilla — "she could wear anything, stand any color" — gold brocade, wine colored velvet. She even died dashing, says Mrs. Snow in slacks and a shirt.

Scarlett O'Hara in Gone with the Wind is another favorite of the well-known fashion editor. She likes particularly the dress described on the first page; the green flowered-muslin which "spread its twelve yards of billowing material over her hoops and exactly matched the flat-headed green morocco slippers." Other nominations made by Mrs. Snow are: Fleur Forsyte in Galsworthy's Forsyte Saga, Iris March in The Green Hat by Michael Arlen, Mary Agden in Gertrude Atherton's story Black Oxen, and Madame Ellen Olenska in The Age of Innocence by Edith Wharton.

Loan Survey Tex. Banks For 1940

Business Firms Used Less Than Half Their Credit July To December

Twenty-five per cent of the banks in Texas made more than 557,000 loans totaling $609,000,000 to business firms and individuals throughout the state during the second half of 1940, according to the semi-annual survey of bank lending activity made by the Research Council of the American Banking association.

The A. B. A. loan survey was participated in by 207 Texas banks, or 25 per cent of the 832 banks in the state.

These 207 banks reported that they made between July 1 and December 31, 1940:

388,067 new loans totaling	$288,382,707
167,092 renewals of loans totaling	315,012,133
2,084 new mortgage loans totaling	5,68,865
557,243	$609,084,705

The survey showed that business firms in the state used less than half of the "confirmed open lines of credit" maintained for their use on the books of banks. A total of 30 banks in the larger centers of the state reported that they carried on their books $77,540,450 in "open lines of credit" offered to and kept available for regular borrowers for use as needed by them. Of this amount $54,883,420 or 45 per cent was used.

The average number of new loans made per bank during the six-month period under review was 1,875 and the average size of loan was $743.

The average number of loans renewed per bank was 807 and the average renewal was for $1,885.

The average number of new mortgage loans made per bank was 10 and the average new mortgage made was for $2,730.

Cherry Canning Under Way Over Floyd County

By Edith Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent of Floyd County

Home demonstration club women have been busy the past week canning cherries. They have found the following recipe to be very satisfactory:

Pitted cherries may be pre-cooked by boiling for five minutes with sugar to taste. Fill containers boiling hot and process immediately in containers of all sizes for five minutes in boiling water.

Unpitted: Prick to prevent shrinkage. Pack in hot containers. Cover with syrup. Exhaust five minutes before sealing. Process quart and pint glass jars and number two and number three sanitary or enamel tin cans for 20 minutes in boiling water.

When Potatoes Blister Within the next two weeks most gardeners in the county will be digging and storing the Irish potato crop. If potatoes are to keep properly they must be mature before they are dug. To check the maturity, press the thumb against the potato. If the skin is tough and does not break and slip off easily the potato is mature.

Mr. Rosborough, Extension Horticulturist says, "In areas where excessive rainfall has occurred a short time before the harvest, water blisters (small elevated white spots) are likely to occur on the skin. Delay harvest until the blisters have dried."

Potatoes should be handled carefully and not bruised. A cool, well ventilated cellar is a satisfactory storage place for them.

Mann Visits Floyd In Campaign

Attorney General Touches On Current Issues In Speech Here

Attorney General Gerald C. Mann, candidate for the United States senate, who visited Floydada today morning in his campaign, had an early morning crowd mixed up of oldsters, farmers, merchants and numerous women and children, and a solid, stabilized provision for adequate old age assistance to eliminate inequities as between residents of different states, must be provided by the federal government.

This plan, he said, should take the place of a mixed pension system now in effect which gives to the aged in one state ample provision and in another state much less.

His talk was heard by some 500 persons who gathered at 9 o'clock and he spoke from the court house steps.

Speaking in the interest of his candidacy for the United States senate, Mann added: "Strikes in defense industries must be stopped. They imperil the freedom which has made it possible to strike. A defense strike is a blow at democracy."

Mann outlined the bill he proposes to introduce in the senate which will "deal effectively" with strikes in industries producing defense material. Under the bill, work stoppage is eliminated, but labor is insured fair wages and guaranteed the right to bargain collectively.

He declared that a public office and the influence and publicity that goes with it should not be capitalized on for the purpose of making money.

"I believe," Mann said, "that the private business of a public official is public business and for that reason I pledge that for so long as I am United States Senator from Texas, when I file my income tax return each year, I shall at the same time file with the Secretary of State at Austin a copy of those income tax returns, where they will become public records open to public inspection at all times.

"The lines of this campaign now have been definitely drawn," Mann continued. "The race has narrowed down to a contest between Gerald C. Mann and the Governor of Texas. If I more typify those things which you want in your United States Senator I hope that you will join hands with other friends of Gerald C. Mann in every town and county in the state in this campaign."

Mann advocates raising the base pay of the soldier from $21 to $40 per month, the increase to be placed in a federal savings account for the soldier until he is mustered out of the service.

links in our total national preparedness, the Attorney General said the needy aged must be cared for and the farmer and ranchman taken into consideration.

"There cannot be a sound national economy until the purchasing power of the farmer's dollar is put on a par with that of the other man," the speaker continued. "So long as our 'infant industries' which have grown into giants are protected, so must our farmers and ranchmen be protected. Too long have they been forced to buy on a protected market and sell on an unprotected market. Thirty-five years ago one bale of cotton would have bought a good wagon. Today it would take three bales. As United States Senator I shall favor continued federal aid to our farmers and ranchmen."

Mann has scheduled an average of eight speeches a day in the closing days of the campaign on a statewide tour patterned after the campaign of three years ago when his smashing victory for the attorney general wrote political history in Texas.

Government Loan Equities Will Be Protected

Commodity Credit Corporation Will Give Full Value, Hoots Declares

Farmers with cotton in the government loan will receive full payments for their equities if the government should take title to the cotton.

This was emphatically pointed out today by Aleyce A. Hoots, Floyd County AAA secretary, when he was advised by the United States Department of Agriculture that title will not be taken to loan cotton without prior public notice.

If the government should take title to loan cotton, the cotton producers would be paid any amounts by which (1) the redemption costs of their notes (which include principal, interest, and carrying charges on the pledge cotton) were exceeded by (2) a fair value for the cotton at the time, which would be determined by the Secretary of Agriculture on the basis of the then prevailing average market prices for cotton with reasonable allowances for differences in grades, staple lengths, and locations.

"Don't be misled by representations to the effect that the government will not give full value for cotton equities when and if it is necessary for the Commodity Credit Corporation to take title to the cotton," the AAA official warned.

The notes secured by 1938 crop cotton, the maturity date for which was extended to July 31, 1941, are not callable on demand. The notes secured by 1939 crop cotton matured on July 31, 1940. The notes secured by 1940 crop cotton do not mature until July 31, 1941, but they are callable for payment on demand at any time. It is possible that the government may find it desirable to take title on August 1, 1941, to any cotton remaining pledged to secure notes which are overdue at that time. In the event, however, that the government should take title to any of the stocks of loan cotton, at least ten days public notice of such action would be given by a press release.

THE labor unions have made their demands upon the railways of the United States — and through the railways upon the PUBLIC. These demands are vastly larger in proportion than any they have ever made. The economical and efficient operation of the railways is vital to the nation's defense effort. Therefore, the Western Railways present to the public the following facts:

The labor unions representing engineers, firemen, conductors, brakemen and switchmen are demanding a 30 per cent increase in wages, amounting to 190 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay are the highest in history.

Other unions representing a greater number of railway employees are demanding wage increases ranging as high as 95 per cent — averaging 47 per cent — and amounting to 580 million dollars a year — although their present rates of pay also are the highest in history.

Thus the wage increases being demanded by the labor unions amount to 770 million dollars a year, an average increase in excess of 41 per cent.

In addition, certain of these labor unions have demanded advances in their pay not included in the above figures, and more rules for the creation of unnecessary jobs.

The situation, then, is this: The total cost of complying with all the demands made would be approximately 900 million dollars a year!

The average weekly earnings of railway employees are now 15 per cent higher than in the peak year 1929, while the cost of living is 12 per cent less.

The demands of the railway labor unions are being made when the entire nation has just been asked to make a supreme effort for National Defense.

The railways cannot meet these demands without a great increase in the cost of transportation. They exceed by more than 700 million dollars the income that the railways had left after paying their annual expenses, taxes and charges in 1940.

The railways have a vitally important job before them. They need all their resources to continue adequately to serve you and contribute effectively toward the National Defense Program.
