County-Wide Drive To Collect Scrap Aluminum

Nation's Need Urgent, Say Officials

Floyd county is being organized for a house-to-house campaign for salvaging scrap aluminum, of which the government is in sore need at this time, Judge G. C. Tubbs announced this week.

The county judge and the commissioners' court comprise the general steering committee, and will announce committees to carry on the campaign in Floydada and Lockney shortly, possibly this week.

Mrs. A. H. Kreis is Home Demonstration chairman and will coordinate the efforts of Floyd county rural women in salvaging scrap aluminum.

Mayor Reed of Lockney and Mayor White of Floydada will be asked to take major roles in the plans for salvaging the precious metal which

In the absence of Mayor W. U. White on vacation, Mayor Pro Tem Conner Oden yesterday pledged the utmost possible aid for the aluminum collecting campaign on the part of the city and its citizens. Plans for a thorough campaign are being made, Mr. Oden said, and he announced that a bin for scrap aluminum would be erected down-town before Saturday.

the county finds itself in great need of. When the organization is complete it will undertake:

July 21 — make a preliminary house-to-house canvass in which every home in the whole country it is hoped, will be made aware of the campaign;

July 24-27 — Begin the intense house-to-house search for aluminum, in which every home is going to have an opportunity to take a part.

These two canvasses will be followed up to be sure that all the county's surplus aluminum is obtained and made available for defense purposes, principally for the construction of airplanes.

Collection to Be Guarded

Just how many thousand pounds of aluminum will be obtained in the drive in this county is a matter of conjecture said Judge Tubbs this week. However, there ought to be several thousand pounds and it will be shipped out on a definite schedule set up by the nation's Office of Production Management, headed by William S. Knudsen.

"Our instructions are to carefully guard the aluminum as it is collected," said Judge Tubbs. "And we will call upon the American Legion, (See SCRAP ALUMINUM, on back)

Bill Scott Learns About Deep Sea Fish On Coast

Evidence that Bill Scott, former Floydada resident, is learning the Gulf coast ways in a big way is in Floydada this week.

It is in the form of a three-inch scale at the Palace cafe, taken from a tarpon.

In a note that accompanied the scale Mr. Scott vowed and declared it was a deep sea fish he caught himself. It was one of several, the largest of which weighed 90 pounds.

The Scotts make their home at Corpus Christi but the successful fishing venture mentioned was made from Aransas Pass.

Transfers Must Be Made By August First

Scholastic transfers from one school district to another must be made before August 1, County Superintendent Clarence Guffee this week reiterated for the benefit of parents or guardians who have not yet made the transfer applications for the children under their care.

"Since everybody is extremely busy either in the harvest or in row crop work, many are likely to overlook this important matter," said the superintendent. "But any who plan to do so must take time in this month to get their transfer applications in the office of the county superintendent."

A large per centage of the school patrons who usually make transfers have not done so as yet, Mr. Guffee said, pointing out that neglect now will bring a lot of inconvenience and expense later on.

O'Daniel Favored When Final Count Shows Him Winner Over Congressman Johnson

The Winner. — The State Election board Monday morning canvassed the vote for U. S. senator and declared W. Lee O'Daniel, governor of Texas, elected over Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson of the 10th district. The official count gave the governor a majority of 1,311 over his nearest opponent.

Defense Moves Are Called For By Governor

With war coming closer every day to the shores of the United States, it was announced this week that Governor W. Lee O'Daniel had called upon every county in the state to join in plans for defense. The defense plans come under two heads:

(1) An observer corps of the Aircraft Warning service;

(2) Mobilization of police resources.

Judge G. C. Tubbs of Floyd county has announced that the plans for the observer corps of aircraft warning will be given into the hands of the American Legion and the Texas Defense unit;

And Sheriff Fred N. Clark will head the committee for defense police mobilization.

The plans were the subject of extensive communication from the office of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel and from Homer Harrison, Jr., of the State police, who point out the need for active preparation against possibilities.

Majority For Senate Put At 1,311 Votes By State Board

Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, political idol of millions of Texans, is in by 1,311 votes.

This was the official count of the Texas Election board Monday morning, showing Texas' chief executive the winner over Congressman Lyndon B. Johnson for the place made vacant in the United States senate by the death of Morris Sheppard, veteran chairman of the Military Affairs committee.

Twice chosen governor of the Lone Star state by big majorities, the man who introduced hill-billy music into Texas politics now enters a bigger sphere by a hair breadth win over the avowed yes-man of the Roosevelt administration, Lyndon B. Johnson, Congressman of the 10th district.

The vote was counted in tense atmosphere at Austin, with throngs jamming the office of the Secretary of State Wm. J. Lawson, and overflowing into the lobbies of Texas' huge capitol building.

The exact date for the resignation from the governorship was not indicated early this week. The governor said he had a few things he wanted to tend to before leaving Texas' capital city.

Coke R. Stevenson, lieutenant governor, will succeed to the office when the governor resigns. He was one of the first to congratulate Mr. O'Daniel after the official count was announced.

575,879 votes were cast in the special senatorial election in Texas on June 28, shared by candidates as follows:

Dies—80,653
Mann—140,807
Johnson—174,279
O'Daniel—175,590
All others—4,550.

Drum Majors Study Special Course In Chicago

Floriene Cates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buren Cates, of Floydada, and Betty Louise Smith, of Plainview, left last Saturday night for Chicago, Illinois, where they have enrolled this week in the Vandercook School of music for a special drum major course.

Both young ladies have won national honors, making them eligible for this special course, consisting of Advance twirling, Signal Drum marching, Methods of Teaching twirlers, ensemble two-baton routine, lighted baton routine, acrobatic and tap routine. Posture, rhythm, analysis, contest preparation and, dance routine for high school bands also is included in the course of study.

Next term will be Miss Cates second year as drum major under the direction of M. T. Camp, high school band director of Floydada. Miss Smith will do her third year as drum major at Plainview High school. After they have completed this advance course the young ladies will be eligible to lead any high school or college band in a charming and graceful manner. Floriense has worked hard, along with the band director to help make the Floydada band the best and also the most outstanding in this division.

Mr. and Mrs. Buren Cates will join them after the harvest is completed and will accompany them home from Chicago.

MISS KACKY DANIEL EMPLOYED WITH FEDERAL LAND BANK, HOUSTON

Miss Kacky Daniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Daniel, is here visiting her parents and little brother Don, before going to her new duties with the Federal Land Bank at Houston.

She came Wednesday from Silvertown where she has been employed in the AAA office at Silvertown this summer.

WILL VISIT SONS

Mesdames Clarence Foster and Chas Neil left Floydada Wednesday for Amarillo where they will board a bus for California. They were accompanied to Amarillo by members of their families.

Mrs. Foster will be with her son Bruce who, for the past four weeks has been ill following a sun stroke. He is a student of Santa Monica Tech. college. Charles Neil is employed with a railroad company out of Santa Monica.

They plan to return home the middle of August.

Weed Cutting Campaign Plans Made

To head off the possibility of a serious epidemic of disease and to relieve the incident extreme unsightliness, a weed cutting campaign is getting under way this week in Floydada.

L. W. Chapman is generalissimo of forces planning the movement and complete co-operation of the city, the Chamber of Commerce and civic organization of the community has been thrown behind the movement.

Inaugurated last week by committees of the Lions club the plan has progressed to the point that the war on weeds is certain to be carried a long way and its scope will be limited only by the extent of co-operation by the citizenship in general.

At least one mower will continue to work this week-end, and as much of the city will be covered as possible and quickly.

Townsite Cut Into Sections

To facilitate the work of contacting people in all parts of the city the townsite has been divided into four sections, with E. L. Norman district leader in the north-west part of town, W. E. Williams in the southwest, Rex Brown in the northeast, and Geo. B. Marshall in the southeast. These and their respective block-leaders have been indicated below. Using a mower for quicker work of exterminating the weeds the block leaders will be asked to see that their blocks are free from tin cans and other obstructions including wire that will prevent mowers from operating.

Their reports by block number will be made to the district leaders.

"We are going to ask residents of the city for nominal sums to cover costs of cutting their vacant property or other property where weeds are rank," said L. W. Chapman. "These sums will be received by any of the block or district captains and will be receipted for by myself. Also when we have finished doing the job we will give a public accounting."

John Stapleton, our club president, has given us a big job to do but which can be done if all will join in and help. He has been successful in borrowing one of the county mowers from the commissioners.

Lions club committees which have taken active part in planning under the general leadership of Mr. Chapman and of Club President Stapleton are the Civic Improvement committee, the Health and Welfare committee and the Community Betterment committee. Dr. G. V. Smith, head of the health and welfare committee, declared Tuesday that flying insects including flies and mosquitoes bred and harbored by the weeds and lake grass were prolific carriers of dysentery and typhoid germs. He also pointed to (See WEED CUTTING, back page)

Johnson Friends Gather Sunday At Reunion

Judge Otis Trulove of Amarillo and Elmer Sanson of Plainview were principal speakers Sunday at the Johnson County reunion held at Lockney. The meeting started at 11 a. m. with old time songs by the group. A basket lunch was served at noon. Mrs. Trulove gave a vocal number.

In the afternoon, committees were appointed to make for the fifth reunion that will be held in Lockney next year.

Association Asks All Possible Aid In Keeping Up Floydada Cemetery—Emergency Call

An emergency exists in keeping up Floydada cemetery according to a letter put out last week by the directors of the organization.

All financial aid possible is being asked. Letters put out to relatives of persons buried there and to businessmen of Floydada point out the situation. Mrs. Lola Cavanaugh, Edgar Jones and A. B. Clark are members of the board of directors and F. C. Harmon is secretary-treasurer.

"Several dollars have come in in response to the call," said F. C. Harmon, secretary-treasurer. "But the amount is entirely inadequate to the work that must be done."

Work has been started on a clean-up of the cemetery and according to the way the work is progressing now, persons who have subscribed needed funds should make a visit to the cemetery Sunday to see marked progress made. However, it is apparent other calls for help will have to be made soon unless the people get more interested in the appearance of the cemetery and sending in their contributions. Mr. Harmon pointed out.

Have Any Vouchers Of Floydada School District? Look Among Your Souvenirs For Old Ones

Floydada District Whittles Away At Its Floating And Bonded Debts

Do you have any old Floydada Independent School district vouchers among your souvenirs? If so, are they registered with the school secretary? And have you tried to cash them lately?

In 1933 and 1934 there were nearly $12,000 worth of these vouchers floating about and there are some outstanding now of which Secretary J. B. Houston is aware. However, there are over $100 worth of these vouchers which have drawn interest at 8 percent since they were issued in 1932, 1933 and 1934. Though called for payments they have not come in.

The school year 1931-32 was the bleakest, most money-less year in the history of Floydada schools, the records show. At one time there were thousands of dollars outstanding against tax payments which could not be made for that year. By dint of scrapping about this huge total has been cut to $491.66. Of this amount Floydada Lodge A. F. & A. M. holds $342.09 and others who are known hold $149.57. But there are others holding $88.10 vouchers in face value that have been mislaid, lost, stolen or otherwise disposed of. Secretary Houston has hunted them, issued calls for their payment, to no avail.

Other Vouchers Out, Too

Besides the 1931-32 vouchers that are lost the secretary reports $3 worth outstanding 1932-33 that have not been located and $13 worth in 1933-34. The years of 1934-35 and 1935-36 have been cleaned up, but in 1936-37 $56.87 out of $80.12 are outstanding and not accounted for. Between that school year and 1939-40 there are no lost vouchers and none outstanding but even as late as this week the last-named year has a $7 voucher the secretary wants to pay but can not locate.

Paying off the outstanding vouchers from previous years has been slow and exceedingly expensive. The district has paid as high as 70 per cent accumulated interest on some of them. The district has asked for no "adjustments" of any kind.

Current Debts Accumulate

This week Secretary Houston has his mind on meeting current liabilities for the school year 1940-41. Right now the outstandings are $5,275.66. Nearly all of this will be paid out of tuition and transportation funds due the district. But there are current teacher salaries to meet for July, August, September, October, November. "The best I can figure we'll be about $1,000 in the hole when December 1 arrives," (See FLOYDADA SCHOOLS, back)

Rita Blanca Lake To Open Officially Next Sunday

Judge G. C. Tubbs, Glad Snodgrass, J. M. Willson and several other Floydada citizens received a cordial invitation this week to attend the formal opening of Rita Blanca Lake Sunday. Rita Blanca Lake is one of the newest government lakes.

Wheat Harvest Nears Close For The Year

A considerable movement of small grain continues to move to elevators and granaries in Floyd county, but the peak of the cutting is past and ten days will see the finish of the 1941 harvest.

While the wheat man keeps his weather eye on the local showers and hopes he gets a few more days of grace the row crop man hopes the showers will break across his way to soften up the top of the ground and get his late crops off to a good start. The grain man is still having to skip spots in his field that are too wet under the matted, low-laying stalks. The row crop man is watching the moisture get away from his acres that are covered with big weeds or tickle grass.

That is not all of the harvest and crop picture of the week but that is a big part of it. In many fields the cotton and feed are planted and clean, growing off fine under the summer sun, alfalfa is doing good and the potato grower is beginning to harvest his crop.

Temperatures are running in the high 80's and the low 90's, with night temperatures in the 60's. Yesterday was the hottest day of the past week, thermometer showing 93 degrees in the afternoon. Three-hundredths of an inch of rain fell in Floydada Tuesday afternoon. Spotted showers have fallen in widely scattered areas.

Leslie Surginer, who has been in the accounting department at the Federal Land Bank, Houston, since 1933, has been named to an auditor in the Farm Credit Administration at Washington, D. C.

Leslie Surginer Named To Post At Washington, D. C.

Named Certified Public accountant three years ago after intensive study while carrying on his work in the land bank at Houston, Mr. Surginer has been doing some public accounting while on leave from the bank. Among other contracts was that this spring of auditing the Floyd county fiscal records for the year of 1940.

Feed And Seed Loans Ready Once More

Emergency Crop loans for the production of winter wheat and other small grains are now available to farmers in Floyd County, and applications for these loans are now being received at Emergency Crop Loan Office by Clyde F. Milam, field supervisor of the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan Section of the Farm Credit Administration.

These loans will be made, as in the past, only to farmers whose cash requirements are small and who cannot obtain a loan from any other source, including production credit associations, banks, or other private concerns or individuals.

As in former years, the money loaned will be limited to the applicant's necessary cash needs in preparing his land and seeding his 1941 grain crops.

Borrowers who obtain loans for the production of grain crops are required to give as security a first lien on the crop financed.

Classification Effective On September 1

Members of the Floyd County School board Saturday took a step toward making new school history in this county when they formally adopted the 12-grade system, and made it effective beginning September 1 next.

Their adoption of the 12-grade system was followed by the classification of all schools in the county on the new basis. It was a proposal of the State Board of Education and is widely favored in school circles of the state.

According to proponents of the new plan it has many advantages over the old, materially increasing the effectiveness of teaching in the basic grades. At the same time the new plan does not increase but has a tendency to decrease cost of teaching per pupil.

Following is the classification of the schools as formally set up by the board Saturday:

Marine Recruiting Officers Spend Two Days Here

Today is the last day Sergeant L. S. Waters and Sergeant Oscar Flippo of the Marine Recruiting Service will be in Floydada enlisting eligible men for the Marine Corps. They have been here since Wednesday morning.

Eligibility includes men from ages 17 to 30, single with no dependants, good moral character, and enough education to read and write. A man may enlist for four years in active reserve training or for the duration of the emergency. Men in reserve are eligible for some pay, promotions, and allowances as men in regular marine service. When the emergency is over, the reserve men may return to their homes.

If you are interested and wish to talk with Sergeant Waters or Flippo about the service, Sergeant Waters will be stationed at Slaton or Lamesa and Sergeant Flippo can be found at the post office in Lubbock next week.

Are the tall weeds about your place, the fresh water lakes and the lake weeds rearing some type of poisonous living lower organisms to plague you and your children? Is the germ of typhoid or of sleeping sickness or of infantile paralysis growing out in the lake you can't help or in the weeds you are permitting to grow on your premises? We can't answer our question but we do have it from unquestioned authority that that is where the habitat of such germs is. While you sleep amoebic organisms are developing. An amoeba is "any protozoan of a genus comprising several species of aquatic naked rhizopods common in fresh stagnant water." It perpetually changes its form by protruding portions of its body, and nourishes itself by enveloping minute organisms and fragments of food. We get wrong about the farm program occasionally but we hit 100 per cent on amoeba. To get to the point quickly amoeba-like organisms develop into various and sundry kind of wiggle tails which make up a thousand and one kind of mosquitoes and flies. Some have short hind legs, some long ones. Some bite cows, horses, human while standing on their heads, their legs extending out and upward. Some bite catch as catch can. They all want blood. Some prefer human, some want horseflesh, others are attracted by the tidbits around a cow's horn and some even like the peculiar taste of the blood that oozes out at the heels of a bovine animal. But they all transmit diseases from one to another of their victims. And thus we have it that one wiggle tail descendant carries typhoid, another encephalomyelitis, another diarrhoea, and some even carry trenchmouth and incipient beriberi or pyorrhea. Mix these with the amoeba that grow in such thickly settled communities as Floydada and you have all kinds of hazards to the welfare of the community. Better clean up. Otherwise take your chances with whatever is growing out in the alley, down by the lake.

It is difficult to think through any economic problem. As for instance the farm problem. Last week's development in Floyd county when signed and un-signed wheat program non-compilers found themselves faced with a disastrous tax situation that (apparently) was and is not in accord with the rules announced last fall when they planted. Things like this have occurred before and likely will occur again because all the possibilities cannot be foreseen.

However, the general idea (agreement in principle they call it) of a program to control the production of farm crops to keep from ruining the farm business is a good one. Theoretically it works out fine. In practice it does some injustices and keeps on doing them, but to a minority of the people engaged in farming. It gives the big complier an advantage over the little one, we are told. It leaves too much arbitrary power in the hands of a state committee and even in a county committee, it is claimed. And we'll agree, in a general way, to both of those claims. But all of the complicated machinery has been set up only after the man affected has had a chance to vote. If this vote is somewhat coerced it is a matter that goes back to human nature and we can't get away from that.

But this idea of a control committee which farmers are trying to apply is not new. It has been practiced in the grain trade for years and years, also in organized baseball and in motion pictures. Men with millions invested voluntarily submit to arbitration between themselves, decide the difference between going broke and not going broke, between making money and losing money. It is cheaper that way. And the farmers are finding out it works the same way in their business. And we conclude that some kind of an organization, where in the final analysis somebody has the last say, is a good one. To leave the matter up to survival of the fittest might leave the farming business prostrate. In fact, it certainly would.

However, there is this difference. Whereas the grain men, baseball men, motion picture men, put their organizations a self-sustaining basis the farmers have to lean on the government. And when, financially speaking, you lean on somebody you tactfully give that somebody the last say. Only when the farmers make their "program" self-sustaining they will have attained the ultimate goal. Until they do that there'll be complaints about injustices, about the committee, about the administrator, and wires to the congressman and the senator.

The nation has a pact with its registered-for-military-service young men that they will spend a year in training. The law passed by the Congress seemed plain to us all when it was enacted. Perhaps such an arrangement will work a hardship on the army, it develops at this late date. Boys who first went into the armed service in September, 1940, will be arranging to come home about September, 1941. It would be very bad public policy to undertake to handle the matter any other way at this time, is our opinion. If and when there is to be a change made, it should be after all the pros and cons of the country's need have been threshed out on the public forum and not when and if the president determines otherwise. That is the thought of the president, too, we gather from press dispatches. We need to have more than just a million and a half of our boys trained for the necessities of war and those who have been learning this year should be re-placed by those who need to know. The war department's idea to have them kept in camp for an indefinite period is wrong in view of the tacit understanding with the public when congress passed the conscription bill last year.

Selective Service boards over the country will be put in a bad light by the ruling of the national selective service authorities that all men 28 years old or over be cut out of draft lists. But the boards are under compulsion not to do so. The representatives of the people passed a law making the draft age 21 to 36 years inclusive. When it comes time for a 31-year-old or a 36-year-old to go to the camps, other things being equal, a local board has no other thing to do than to send that man to camp. It is the law, it was debated and passed in congress, approved by the president. But somebody comes along and says it wasn't wise they did such, and gives it out to the papers and the radio that nobody will be drafted above the age of 28. For thus over-riding authority the excuse is that "It is anticipated the Congress will pass a measure excluding all persons" above the age of 28.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Wilt Spikes

One flying high overhead would think the farmers of the plains had planted sheller bells on a gigantic scale. Lamb's quarter and careless weeds look like young untrimmed Chinese elms. It is hard to see a car coming on a side road. We cannot criticize our neighbors fields as the hedges are so high along the roadway, we cannot look over into the field. I suppose it is as good as seeing another country, as this one is so strange to our eyes long made familiar with dwarf growth. Anyway we will feel we have had a vacation, for is not a vacation seeing different lands and people and if you will notice the many license tags that do not show a Texas number, you will have the opportunity of seeing strangers.

Hearing a radio broadcast of baking powder makes me think that when I was a child, good cooks scorned to use baking powders in biscuits. Oh, if one had to use water for the bread, baking powders were permitted, but never in milk or sour dough bread.

Just as I thought the work was letting up, apples and pears fall, ripe, to the ground to be made into preserves and butter. Mother's young brother once called at the table, "I want the butter." He was passed the plum butter. "No, I want the native butter," He explained, and was passed the kind made from cream. Now you, reader of this column, know that it does not take much of anything to set me to reminiscing and now I will have to take the milk in one grandma's and go with the family to the cowpen. The cows are chewing their cuds, made from prairie grass and the calves are bawling in their pen. Bart and Little Reynolds are trotting away, released from their sweaty blankets and saddles, for they have had a long ride after the cows that ranged far, no fence to confine their wanderings. Felix and Eli get out the ropes and begin to slip the loop over the slobbering mouths of hungry calves, pulling them away by main force as they do not want to go to be tied to the posts of the corral. Grandma and Aunt Mirt and we older girls, grab a milk bucket and soon the pleasant sound of milk squirted on shiny tin is being repeated by the bullbat as he flies overhead and catches the late flying bugs. Grandma scoots as we turn the milk in one another's faces. Ole Dribblett and Reddy and Roany, Crump and Daisy and Buttercup. The cows are all named as are all the calves. Names that express meaning and description. The foam piles higher in the buckets. What a pleasant smell the fresh milk has. How the sound of laughter and joking fill the still air. Nellie and Omega, Nellie and Mary Lee, and Edna. Young girls without a thought of problems and cares to come. Milk-ting in the yellow rays of the setting sun. Protected by the love and care of grandma and grandpa. Happy children of the prairies.

The calves are turned out to supplement their supper with grass. The cows grunt as they slowly fall to the soft sandy ground of the cowlot. A star comes out, the wind freshens and the Star mill begins to turn. Clear water falls into the oak barrel. A light appears in the kitchen window, grandma strains the milk through a clean cloth. Aunt Mirt stirs the big black pot of mush and we are sent to milk trough for the cool milk and the butter with the print of wheat on its smooth yellow top. Soon we are sitting on either side on long home made benches grandma saying grace at his seat at the head, and grandma covering her flushed face with her checked apron. Pour on a whole lot of creamy milk. There will be plenty tomorrow. Dip your tin spoon deep into the depths of your big filled bowl. Nothing you will ever eat, be it the top of the land and dainties from all over the world will ever taste so good as mush and milk eaten on an oilcloth covered table at grandma's house. We sleepily pile from the table, full and satisfied. Grandma winds the clock catches Old Tom and puts him out. Shuck beds rattle from under their topping of feather beds. Sun bleached once brown domestic sheet smell faintly of good lye soap and sunshine. We sleep and dream only to wake up and find we are the grandma and the grandpa with the happy opportunity to make our own grandchildren to make our own memories for their grown up days.

Why do we all hate to see a vacant house? Somehow it is to be compared to a person with a mind that has gone. Weeds look into broken windows where once flowers peeped. The doors do not open to let in friends, no print of children's feet are on the floors. The vacant house appeals to us if begging for help. We long to see tricks piled high with household wares stop and unload. Hear children shriek and shout with glee over their new home. Listen as a husband and wife make plans to do this and that to make the place more livable and a home for their children.

Two funny jokes. A widow asked why she married a millionaire, an actor, a preacher and an undertaker, in that particular order, replied: "One for the money two for the show, three to make ready and four to go." She. My family can trace its ancestors back to the days of William the Conqueror.

He. "We think our family is old, too, but unluckily all our family was lost in the flood."

"If all that we say in a single day, with never a word left out, were printed each night in clear black and white, 'twould prove queer reading no doubt. "And then just suppose, ere our eyes we would close we must read the whole record through; then wouldn't we sigh and wouldn't we try a great deal less talking to do. "And I more than half think that many a kink would be smoother in life's tangled thread, if half that we say in a single day were forever unsaid.—Author unknown.

GODS SEASONS

Odetta Ruth Anderson

Spring: dew on grass like sapphires shine, Flowers know no boundary line. Across meadows and over the hills,

Summer: showers on the earths hot rocks and rills; Renewing His promise for all to behold, High in the heavens He spreads His rainbow.

Autumn: trees leaves turn brown with each new day Soon the first frost makes a silvery spray, Of limbs where the suns diamonds are aglow;

Winter: an ermine mantle o'er the earth is the snow A soft fleecy cover under which it may sleep resting, waxing fertile, so that men may reap.

A PRIVATE'S JOTTED THOUGHT

Listen good people and you shall hear,

Of 41, the memorable year. How England and France in their mortal strife

Caused such a change in our civilian life.

Where once in a land so happy and free; We signed our names, and became soldiers to be.

Torn from our homes and loved ones true.

To many who left; it was a sacrifice;

But to those who know, its worth the price

On we came from far and near To help the cause for one short year.

For this is our country; and the world will tell.

To those who threatens we'll give some hell.

We'll fight them here or fight them there

We'll fight them foul or fight them fair.

We'll help stout England and aid brave France.

We'll risk our lives and take the chance.

For America is ours; and to friends we're true.

And above all flags is the red and blue.

PRAIRIE HIGHWAY

(Gertrude Friend Scoggins)

On the wings of flight we skim along

A ribbon road on the shining plain.

Out to meet the rim of Earth, Thru a golden sea of grain.

Wind a wishing thru my tresses In your heart a steady song.

Swift as an arrow and ahead, Our Chariot rolls along.

With never a curve, and not a turn,

A road for me and you, A ribbon spool unwinding there,

Right straight into the Blue. Right by that house and wishing well.

Into the Arms of Fate, Thru a silver Cloud to Rainbow's End, Right up to Heaven's Gate.

Good County Roads Help McLennan

More Than 80 Per Cent Of Mileage All-Weather Roadway

(By H. C. Bradshaw, Farm Taxation economist)

More than 80 per cent of the county roads in McLennan County are all weather surfaced. This means that at any time of the day or year it also means that the farmer's transportation cost for each mile of travel is two or three cents less than it would be on dirt roads.

The 1,227 miles of surfaced roads in McLennan County includes seven miles of concrete, 290 miles of asphalt, and 930 miles of gravel. The use of gravel on this large mileage is explained by the fact that the county contains many gravel deposits which are conveniently located. Under these circumstances, gravel is the logical choice. The average cost per mile of road construction is $2,664. This figure is based on the construction of 400 miles and includes grading, draining, and the surfacing. The gravel alone cost $1,150.00 per mile by the time it was spread on the road.

Low Cost Bridges
The maximum service is provided the public by using the lowest cost materials and construction that will serve the need. The county buys the smallest piling, bridge timbers and the like that will carry the load. By using cressed lumber, bridges and culverts can be constructed more economically than if concrete or rock were used. The saving made by this procedure is used to gravel the road on both sides of the structure. Since the county has a large number of bridges and culverts, a good many miles of road have been gravelled through such savings. County Engineer Manton Hannah believes that low cost construction will serve the need, provided it is given adequate maintenance.

Road and bridge work in McLennan County is also organized on a minimum basis as regards equipment. The use of the smallest equipment that will do the job, without overloading, is the cheapest in the long run. Here again the provision of adequate maintenance is the factor that determines the outcome. A maintenance unit looking after 100 miles of road costs about $2,000.00 per year to operate in McLennan County. Accurate knowledge of costs such as these grow out of well kept records, and these records make it possible to plan for the future.

In McLennan County, the engineer is the technician. It is a part of his job to prepare specifications, to take bids on materials and equipment, and to inspect materials and equipment received. Experience has demonstrated that this method of handling purchases is not cumbersome or unwieldy and that it will save money. Incidentally, one use-

The Nation Needs Aluminum

The Nation is appealing to all its citizens for their active assistance for the first time since President Roosevelt's declaration of a full national emergency May 27, 1941.

The Nation needs aluminum for planes and other vital items in its defense program more rapidly than existing facilities can produce it. Additional facilities are being constructed as quickly as possible. In the meantime, the people of the nation can help by donating all used aluminumware than can be spared from their households without being replaced. No individual or group or corporation will make any profit out of this transaction. The entire proceeds of the sale will be used for civilian defense.

All aluminum will be used exclusively for national defense.

In these times of national emergency conservation of all vital national resources needed for defense purposes is essential. We must make available to our Government all material the defense program requires. There may be later appeals for help in other forms after this one, but a wholehearted popular response by the American people to this first general appeal from their Government cannot fail to impress the enemies of democracy.

William S. Knudsen,

Director General, Office of Production Management,

F. H. La Guardia,

Director, Office of Civilian Defense.

ful practice which is followed is to furnish each bidder with a detailed tabulation of the bids which have been received. This procedure assists in keeping the price in line as bids are taken through the year.

It is well to note, at this point, that the provision of a county engineer is not an expense, but is a real saving in McLennan County. A distribution, while approximately 71 per cent is for construction and 26 per cent is for maintenance purposes.

There is no conflict of authority between the engineer and the commissioners' court. The engineer is simply designated agent of the commissioners' court in carrying on the day-to-day activities of county road work. The presence of a good commissioner court to supervise the engineer and to pass on all matters of general policy has assisted the engineer greatly in rendering the maximum amount of service.

GOOD NEIGHBORS

It is urgent to get knitters started on the 38 sweaters, 6 men's and 32 women's sweaters, which are packaged with directions enclosed and just waiting on the shelves to be made into useful garments. The Red Cross will furnish knitting needles.

The woven Red Cross labels are in and workers are needed to sew these labels into the garments. The labels have the Red Cross and size number with Floyd County, Texas, written in indelible ink. The neat labels give the garment personality and Texas is written proudly that our more unfortunate neighbors may know hearts and hands are working for them in this country in one of the friendliest states.

Mrs. Lola C. Gallaway has made a quilt from scraps from dresses and hospital gowns. The quilting will be done by the Pastor's Helpers Class, Methodist Church.

Mrs. G. T. Assiter is now knitting on sweater number 30. Are you doing your part? There is no greater satisfaction than a job well done. Make your good deed for the day a good deed for the Red Cross.

The National Cotton Council reports that cotton piques will reach new heights of popularity this season.

LOOK GOOD—TASTE GOOD, TOO

A new type of naturally flavored preserved cherry, decorative as the true maraschino and definitely good to eat as well as to look at, has come from experiments by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the State Agricultural Experiment Station at Geneva, N. Y. It is described as a really edible preserved cherry suitable for garnishing drinks, ice cream, salads, and other foods, and tasty enough to encourage eating as well as looking.

Real "maraschino cherries" are now rare on the market. Most of the type are both artificially colored and artificially flavored and have to be labeled accordingly. The new product is naturally flavored with cherry sirup.

"Maraschino" derives from the Latin word for "bitter," applied to the cherries from which was distilled a liquor used in finishing other cherries brined to make them firm. Many dislike either the original bitter flavor or the chemical imitation.

The "cherry red" of the flavorless new cherries will come from a dye as in the real and imitation maraschinos. This is applied after the cherries have been brined and bleached to make them uniform as a basis for the dye. (If there were colorless cherries the bleaching could be omitted.)

As wars always do, the war in Europe has produced a number of terms already familiar. Permanent fixtures that M. Funk points out include the now well-known Blitzkrieg, meaning lightning warfare; Luftwaffe, the air force; Panzer, mechanized. As begin with nouns, we still begin them with capital letters, but when they become fully anglicized the capitals will be dropped. Among the British coinages during the past year are conchie, a conscientious objector; Quisling, from the Norwegian traitor of that name. A Portable radio there is known as a walkie-talkie.

You may not be a "swing fan" but if you wish to understand the language of your children, Mr. Funk warns that you must know that boogie-woogie is nothing more alarming than piano music with a fast rolling bass; that schmalz is sweet, sentimental music; that gutbucket is primitive, if heartfelt, jazz. A juke box, your child will explain, is a record playing nickelodeon — and this word no longer means a five-cent cinema, but an automatic phonograph that plays a record for five cents.

These are but a few of the hundreds of newly offered words. Which will survive the year 1941? You will have the last word.

MORE ICE CREAM

Here's good news for boys and girls—and even for members of the family who aren't boys and girls. The U. S. Department of Agriculture says that ice cream factories are making much more ice cream than they did only a few years ago. In fact, they are making more ice cream than ever before.

Not all of the figures are available on ice cream produced last year but year before last—in 1939—it added up to a grand total of more than 300,000,000 gallons. That was a good increase over the year before, and it was more than twice as much ice cream as was produced in the depression year of 1933. Even before the depression, the most ice cream produced in a single year was around 250,000,000 gallons in 1929.

Cadet Flyers At 'West Point Of The Air'

Texas, which led the country in the number of college flying cadet units organized last month, continues to stand high in the number of flying cadets graduating each five weeks from the "West Point of the Air." More than 30 cadets from the Lone Star state are included in the 300 to complete their basic training at Randolph Field on July 21.

High plains youth in the class graduating last week are Ervin L. Turner, Floydada, Marcus O. Owens, Lubbock, Harvey P. Robinson, Jayton, Elmer P. Sansom, Jr., Plainview.

the experience necessary to handle the 450-horsepower basic trainers at Randolph.

Having completed their basic training these embryo pilots go now to advanced schools where they will specialize in either single- or multi-engine equipment, preparatory to taking their place with the newly-created Air Force Combat Command. And in September these youngsters will win their wings and be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Corps Reserve.

Every five weeks finds new classes of American youths between the ages of 20 and 26 entering the 30-week course destined to become military pilots. Former students and graduates of colleges and universities are finding in the flying cadets an opportunity to capitalize on their specializations in our rapidly expanding air force.

Flying Cadet training has become even more attractive to high school graduates and college men with recent changes in the allowance and qualifications. In addition to $75 a month, plus uniforms and equipment, food, quarters, and medical and dental care, flying cadets now receive a $10,000 life insurance policy in effect during training, and upon graduation receive a uniform allowance of $150.

Under new regulations former college students who have not completed the required two years of college may, however, be exempted in the mental examination from subjects which they have completed in college.

As a second lieutenant on active duty with the Army Air Corps, the young officer receives $205 a month, plus quarters, or $245 a month.

Russian Wheat Country Biggest Prize Germans Could Win, Says L. F. Martin Of The Ukraine

"I would hate to see the Nazis get into Russia and sit down for about 40 years. They could whip the world by then."

This remark was made by L. F. Martin, of Ralls, who is here this week. Martin spent the period from 1929 to 1932 in the Russian wheat belt. Keiv, one of the objectives of the German drive this week, was the closest city to the farms where he was stationed as a supervisor.

"Russia has five times as much of everything as the United States, their wheat land is real wheat country and stretches out for hundreds of miles in the Ukraine," Martin said. "It is a rolling country but the swells in the land are three or four miles apart, leaving gently rising valleys about three miles wide. There are no fences and lands are often 40 miles long by three miles wide. In a general way it reminds me of the rolling Alberta, Canada, prairies."

Martin went to Russia under contract with the Amtorg Trading company, which had several hundred machines and wheat growing experts from all over the world supervising wheat raising on a vast scale. He learned to speak the language fairly well but did not learn to read or write in the Russian. For that reason he has not had any word from the Ukraine since he left in 1932.

Vast, Treeless Area
The wheat country around Keiv (Keef is approximately the way it is pronounced in Russian) is a vast, open country with no timber through the river which flows through Keiv is one of the biggest in the whole of Russia it has little or no timber, not as much, in fact as Blanco canyon, Martin said. There were no fences in the country and they farmed the land according to its natural contours.

Keiv when he was there was larger than Amarillo is now. The lay of the country presents no hazards to a blitzkrieg type of war such as the Germans have used in conquering the other countries Hitler has overrun, Martin said.

When he went to Russia he traveled through the Keil canal, thence through Sweden to Leningrad, Moscow and down to Keiv. It is a beautiful and fascinating country, and on to the southeast there are thousands of miles of country, of which Odessa is the principal city, resembling the Florida and California countries.

"If the Germans could get that country and get the Russians reconquered to it, they'd sure have a prize worth going after," Martin remarked.

Hollis McLain who has been on the U. S. Manhattan since June 1 has transferred to Philadelphia, Pa. When his family heard from him a few days ago he was in Charleston, S. C. where the boat had stopped for refueling.

Mrs. Roger Williams of Albuquerque, New Mexico has moved to Long Beach California to join her husband who has been there for several weeks. Mrs. Williams is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain.

Mrs. Mary Ann Sanders and daughter Mary Lou of Lubbock were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Claud Martin and son.

Mrs. James Roy, in school of nurse's training at Plainview visited Thursday and Friday with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grimes.

Miss Glensie Goins of Lubbock visited her parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Goins.

Suggestions Made On Compliance For Cotton Acres

It is permissible for Floyd county cotton producers to dispose of cotton acreage to comply with the supplementary cotton program to bring their acreage reduction in line with the reduction indicated on their intention sheets, Paul Snodgrass, chairman of the Floyd County AAA committee, has announced.

This is made possible, Snodgrass explained, by the recent amendment to the 1941 agricultural conservation program which provides that acreage will not be considered as planted to cotton if the cotton is disposed of before reaching the boiling stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

"Under no circumstances, however, may a cotton producer receive cotton stamps for reducing more acreage than he signed on his original intention sheet on the cotton stamp program," Snodgrass pointed out. "To make this ruling clearer," Snodgrass said, "assume, just for illustration to bring out my point, that a cotton producer has a 1941 cotton allotment of 50 acres, planted 50 acres in 1940, and to receive cotton stamps, indicated a reduction of 2 acres. This would permit 48 acres to be planted to cotton for this year. However, when the cotton acreage was measured, he showed 49 acres planted. He would be allowed to dispose of 1 acre to come within his intended 48 acres but he would not receive cotton stamps on more than 2 acres since this was the amount signed on his original intention sheet."

Under the original definition of cotton, the acreage of cotton disposed of below the acreage allotment would still be classified as acreage planted to cotton. The amendment also provides that if cotton is seeded but does not reach maturity, the smaller of (1) the acreage seeded to cotton, (2) 3 acres, or (3) 3 percent of the 1941 cotton allotment will be considered as having been planted to cotton. This provision was made, the AAA official pointed out, so that farms will not show zero acres of cotton as actually seeded. The new amendment also permits producers to dispose of cotton acreage to come within total soil-depleting acreages. By this method, deductions for overplanting total soil-depleting allotments will be avoided.

"Nothing, officer," apologized the driver. "It's me. I've got the hicoughs."

"FREEDOM A PRISONER"
Farmers as a group believe in peace. They believe in peace more strongly perhaps than any other group. War wrecks agriculture. The effects of war seem to come to roost out on the farm. And I think it can be said that, of all groups, farmers are the most passionately devoted to democracy and individual freedom. Once they are convinced that their freedom is in danger—really in danger—they will not rest until that danger is removed. With all the conviction that I possess let me tell farmers and other Americans that their freedom is in peril. So long as Hitler and Nazi rule Europe there can be no peace and freedom is a prisoner.—Claude R. Wickard, Secretary of Agriculture.

"Why do you want such a big kitchen sink?" asked the plumber. "Well," explained the man who was building a new house, "when my wife leaves in the summer, she's generally gone for a month."

Low Cotton Yield May Affect Next Year Insurance

In cases where a total or partial loss of a 1941 Floyd county cotton crop has occurred, it might be advisable for the grower to dispose of the acreage on which cotton will not be harvested, Paul Snodgrass, chairman of the county Triple A committee suggested this week.

Excessive rains, insects or abandonment because of weeds have made stands poor in many instances. In explaining his point Snodgrass said that a high acreage of cotton with a low lint yield per acre because of factors such as these, will, in all probability, affect cotton yields on individual farms under the 1942 agricultural conservation program probably will have a direct effect on cotton insurance since an extremely low yield might affect premium rates.

Producers should remember however, the AAA officials continued, that acreage will be considered as planted to cotton this year if the cotton is not disposed of before it reaches the boiling stage or within 10 days after notice of the seeded acreage is given, whichever is later.

This would not change the basis for cotton stamps to be issued on a farm since cotton stamps cannot be obtained on more acres than was shown on the original intention sheet.

RESEARCH IS GOLDEN
Many oranges, though ripe, lack full yellow color. Discovery of the ethylene gas method of treating these green-colored oranges, which leave the orange a beautiful, natural yellow, is cited by the U. S. Department of Agriculture as an illustration that scientific research pays—and pays and pays. The research that established this method cost about $4,000,000 and adds an estimated $4,000,000 to the market value of the Florida crop alone each year—and about the same to California growers, according to Dr. Henry C. Knight, Chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering. In a single year, this is a 2000-fold return on the cost of the research. When the job is done expense of the research stops, but the gains to producers or consumers go on year after year.

Mrs. Green: "My dear, I'm so excited! Henry is going in for anthropology. I always knew he would do something worth while."

Mrs. Black: "How did you find it out?"

Mrs. Green: "I found some tickets in his coat with the inscription 'Mudhorse 15 to 1', and when I asked about them, he explained that they were relics of a lost race."

Milk income is 11% larger than that from cattle; nearly twice hogs; over twice poultry and eggs; 2 1/2 times cotton; 3 1/2 times wheat; over 4 times corn and more than 8 times tobacco.

and a grandson of Poppy's Dreaming Sam the new sire is a star bull with a large family of proven producers in the line. The dam of his sire is Scarborough's Volunteer Pansy.

On his dam side the new bull is the son of Marie You'll Do Rose, and his granddam is Rose Marie's Sweetheart, which is a cow with one gold and two silver medals in the Triple A class and a record production of 772 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

The bull is from the Tierra Blanco herd at Canyon Mr. Hays said. He accompanied a committee of Floyd county dairymen who chose the bull. "This star bull we expected to raise the standard of dairy production in the immediate area where his service is available," said Mr. Hays. "While he will be available to dairymen all over the area, owners of cows in the immediate vicinity will have first call of course. Fee for the service of the bull guaranteed, will be $1.50, as low as Mr. Howard can hope to make the charge and still be on the safe side with his investment."

Hays believes that at least five more co-operative bull circles in Floyd county would pay off in better grades of milk animals, and the Federal Security administration has plans on foot for their organization if demanded by clients of his agency.

A farmer-student of West Texas State Teachers college. Hays has definite ideas on the breeding of better cattle, and since his clients are small farmers he is concentrating on the dairy bull is the best means of raising dairy cattle standards and financing the small farm home.

34,530 Texans Registered On July 1

National Lottery Today Determines Order Of Call

Total Selective Service registration in Texas on July 1 was 34,530. General J. Watt Page, State Director, announced Saturday following tabulation of reports received from the State's 351 local boards.

As in the first registration last fall, Harris County led with 2,759 registrants. Dallas County second with 2,415.

General Page said that 34,126 of the new registrants are young men who have reached the age of twenty-one since the first registration day on October 16, 1940.

General Page pointed out that the 21-years-olds who registered on July 1 will not be placed ahead or after the older registrants on their local boards, but they will be integrated proportionately. For example, he said, if there should happen to be ten new registrants in an area and 100 old registrants awaiting call, one new registrant would be placed after each group of 10 old registrants.

The order in which the new registrants will be integrated with the old ones will be determined by a national lottery to be held in Washington D. C. on July 17, General Page said.

Pastors Association Organized Saturday; Will Meet First Thursday In Each Month

Climaxing several months of expressed desire and a feeling of need, the Floydada Pastors Association was organized Saturday. The pastors present and the churches represented were R. T. Bredlove, Methodist; Rudolph A. Renfer, Cumberland Presbyterian; Mrs. Lucile Bohannon, Nazarene; Henry Lonis, Assembly of God; and L. W. Bridges, First Christian.

The Rev. L. W. Bridges was elected president. It was decided to combine the offices of vice-president, secretary and treasurer, to which the Rev. Rudolph A. Renfer was elected.

The purpose of the organization, as discussed by the pastors, is to promote a spirit of closer fellowship and cooperation in Christ among the pastors of the community. Through the efforts of the association, it is also anticipated that the religious and spiritual life of the community will more readily be fostered.

Among the first actions of the pastors was the hearty endorsement of two projects. The Pastors Association went on record as strongly in favor of the current civic move to rid the city of its excessive growth of weeds and the general clean-up program. The Pastors also endorsed the local cooperation of the National Defense effort in the gathering of scrap aluminum. Announcements are being made in the pulpits regarding these projects.

A committee was appointed to draw up a constitution for the ministerial group and to report at the next meeting. Regular meetings of the association is to be held on the afternoon of the first Thursday of each month. The Rev. Oscar Bruce Methodist circuit pastor, was appointed to bring a devotional program for the next meeting.

The Texas Home Defense unit, and other organization to help the sheriff and the city officials in seeing that the collection is not pilfered. This is the first call that has been made on Floyd county people for needed defense items and we will make every effort to see that it gets into the right hands.

Judge Tubbs said he felt sure the materials gathered in Floyd county would go to a smelter in St. Louis. However, that is a matter that will be determined by the Office of Production management, he said. It is pointed out in a joint statement from the Office of Production management and office of Civilian defense that no profit will be made from the transaction by anybody.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Amburn sr. left Wednesday for several days vacation. They will visit friends and relatives at Jacksboro, Mineral Wells, Graham and Olney.

said Mr. Houston. "Some of these days we will work out but meanwhile these old bills keep haunting us. Somebody holds the warrants and when they come in we are going to pay them if we can."

District's Bonded Debt
In addition to the district's now much reduced floating debt, the school board has had a weather eye on the bonded debt.

Of the 1926 issue amounting to $67,000 held wholly by the State Department of Education and bearing 5 per cent interest, the district will retire $3,000 right away together with $1,675 in interest. On this series the next due date for bonds will be March 1, 1944.

Of the 1910 issue issued for the East Ward school building 31 years ago—there are still $4,500 worth of bonds outstanding, due in 1950. The district is exercising an option to pay $500 per year on this account. All outstanding on this issue is drawing 5 per cent interest and is held by the State Department of Education, meaning among other things it cannot be refunded into indebtedness bearing a lower rate of interest.

The district's other $63,400 in bonded debt is privately owned. It is the refunding issue of 1940. Houston's records show. It draws four rates of interest—3, 3 1/4, 3 1/2 and 3 3/4 per cent. It begins maturing on March 1, 1942.

Tax Collection High

Percentage of tax collections in the district is high, contrary to any opinion you might hold or any reports you may have heard, Houston's records show. "When the people get the money they pay off" is his experience as related to a Hesperian reporter. This is demonstrated by the record of payments for delinquent years as follows:

For 1934 there was a total of $23,747 assessed. Of this amount $1,190 is now outstanding, a record of 95 per cent collected;

In 1935 the assessment rolls show $23,603 in taxes assessed of which $1,237 is now outstanding, a record of 94 1/2 per cent collection;
1936 shows 94 per cent collected with $1,499 outstanding unpaid of a total of $24,174 assessed;
1937 rolls have been 93 per cent paid with $1,689 outstanding out of a total of $23,988;
1938 drops to 90 and 1/2 per cent in total collections with $2,313 unpaid out of $27,021; and 1939, the last year represented in the tabulation, has a record of 89 per cent total payments. $2,888 is outstanding for that year in which the total assessment was $26,095.
