Lockney Schools To Offer New Courses

Lockney Public schools will open the school year on Monday, September 1, and four new courses of study will be included in the high school curriculum, Superintendent H. P. Clemons has announced. These are bookkeeping, shorthand, speech and community civics.

The enrollment at the opening of the school year is expected to be approximately the same as on opening day last year—about 460. There was only one vacancy last week on the faculty and Superintendent Clemons anticipated the board would fill this place before the beginning of the school. This is an instructor in band-science.

With other schools in the county the school will be organized under the new 12-year program. Following is the list of faculty members: Mrs. Olga Applewhite, first and second grade; Mrs. Lula Shaw, third grade; Mrs. Ermine Ida Johnson, fourth grade; Mrs. Nora Sams Ayres, fifth grade; Mrs. Velah Reeves, sixth grade; O. B. Wilbanks, seventh grade and assistant coach; J. A. Jolly, eighth grade and elementary principal.

R. K. McCoy, vocational agriculture; Miss Lelia Alexander, home-making; Miss Eunice Coleman, English; Mrs. Willie M. Halthcock, English; Miss Meda Ruth Thomas, commerce; Wilson Head, social science and athletic coach; Sidney Reeves, principal of high school, H. P. Clemons, superintendent.

CCC Camp May Open By Sept. Fifteenth

Possibility that the Floyd County Soil Conservation service CCC camp may open ready for operations by September 15 was indicated in talk about town this week, although no official pronouncements are made. Machinery, equipment and facilities of the camp at Lanessa are being checked the week and it is expected to be checked in here and ready for the Soil Conservation service to give them work to do.

Edgar H. Kemp, district conservationist, yesterday said that while he had no notice of the date when the Civilian Conservation corps would be checked in here, he had been advised that the corps would be checked at Lanessa here. He suggested that farmers and ranchmen who have projects on file with him and are ready for the boys to begin work when they get here should advise him at once.

FAMILY REUNION
Mrs. J. H. Newberry and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robertson and family returned home Monday from Dallas, McKinney and Grand Prairie. Mrs. Newberry visited her sons at Grand Prairie. Mr. and Mrs. Robertson also attended a reunion of Mr. Robertson's family held at Seagoville. This was the first time the family had been together in 17 years.

MARRIAGE LICENSE
Marriage licenses were issued by County Clerk A. B. Clark to Vernon L. Jackson and Mary Wilson Hicks, August 22; Henry E. Graham and Madeline Golden, August 23; J. S. Hale, Jr., and Mary Katherine Daniel, August 25.

Chapman's statement followed the return of A. H. Kreis, chairman of the board of directors of the co-operative, and himself from Washington Saturday. They spent several days in the national capital and conferred with numerous officials of the Rural Electric administration including the deputy administrator himself. Their trip was authorized early in August by their board. The allotment sought, and which has had approval from a year engineering department for a year or more, will build lines to serve several communities in Floyd, Hale and Gray counties. The bottle neck of the situation is lack of materials available for construction.

August Brings Good Outlook For Cotton

The month of August, following an early-summer of ill fortune and mischance on east plains farms, has smiled on the high plains farmer. As a result his feed crop will be of the biggest proportions in many years and his late cotton crop is growing and fruiting in a manner that has begun to take the downward curves out of the grower's face.

Plenty of warm sunshine and plenty of moisture, plenty of farm help and machinery to clean out the crops and give them a chance, have turned the trick. And now the outlook for a prosperous winter on Floyd county farms is better than it has been in years. What with plenty of pasture for the decade's largest cattle and hog population and great quantities of grain and forage feeds as well as pasture for them a high market waits for the animals when they are ready to go to the consumer.

Too early to predict probable cotton yields in the area, it is one of the possibilities that this area's smallest cotton acreage in years will be at the same time one of its most profitable. Early cotton has fruited very satisfactorily for 30 days and the late cotton has put on a heavy crop in the past 10 days, reports indicate. Some worm infestation, but not a great deal, is a part of the news of the week. Cotton is not too rank but that plenty of sunshine is still pouring through the leaves to the ground.

Feed cutting on many farms began as early as last week. On grain land the volunteer crop is coming through fast and most farms next week will see the second plowing on stubble land begun.

THIRTY-SEVEN FIRST GRADERS ATTEND FREE CLINIC
An annual Summer Round-Up of first grade pupils were given privileges of a free clinic Monday afternoon at the Andrews Ward school when thirty-seven children were examined. The Round-Up was postponed from Thursday because of inclement weather conditions. Doctors D. H. Pitts, I. W. Hicks and Wilson Kimple gave the examinations. They were assisted by Mrs. B. F. McIntosh, Mrs. Richard Stovall, Mrs. Conner Oden, J. H. Myers and Superintendent Walter Travis. Mrs. G. L. Kirk chairman of the Round-Up was present.

The clinic is sponsored by the Parent Teachers Association with the aim of being of benefit throughout the year to the individual child. Each child is given a card with his physical rating. These cards are filed with the child's teacher who strives throughout the year to help correct the child's deficiencies, Mrs. Kirk said.

Suffers Fire Loss While Making Montana Fair
A spectacular fire on the grounds of the regional fair at Missoula, Montana, Thursday night of last week, cost E. Ted Borum, formerly of Floydada and son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Borum, a $250 picture-making machine.

The fire destroyed several automobiles, buildings and other paraphernalia in the grounds, practically ruining the fair. Borum wrote his parents.

Martins Crash Near Lueders Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. B. Martin and two children and Mrs. Roy Wicks, a niece of Mrs. Martin, narrowly escaped fatal injuries at 11 a. m. Saturday when the car in which they were riding overturned four times. Mrs. Wicks, the more seriously injured of the party is in a Stamford hospital with a broken back and leg. Doctors say she has a chance of recovery.

Mr. Martin sustained a broken arm, cracked ankle bone and broken rib. Mrs. Martin suffered cuts and severe bruises and sprained neck. Their son Marion has a broken arm. The daughter Wanda Mae was uninjured.

The party was enroute home after a visit with Mrs. Martin's mother Mrs. Mae Hardin at De Leon, Texas. Mr. and Mrs. Martin and children had been there visiting the past two weeks. Mrs. Wicks was accompanying them home with plans to work here. The accident was attributed to brakes that were wet and failed to hold. They had just passed through a short stretch where the highway was under water. As they rounded a curve the brakes failed to hold.

They were carried to a Stamford hospital where they remained until Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Jim McGuffee who live on the Martin farm in the Pleasant Valley community went to Stamford for the injured family. The accident happened 16 miles south of Lueders.

Florene Cates Spends Summer In Schools

Miss Florine Cates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Buren Cates, will return home Saturday after spending the summer in Chicago and Canyon where she attended classes in drum majoring.

Miss Cates will be a senior student at Floydada High school this year and will resume her work as drum major for the F. H. S. band. She has completed advance courses and teachers training in three schools for drum majors this summer.

She attended the Vandercook School of music in Chicago, Illinois in July where she was featured in a festival held in Pilgrim hall. She was one of the twelve out of forty-six national drum majors who were presented on the "Parade of Champions."

For the past four weeks, Miss Cates has been enrolled in a school for drum majors in Chicago and at Simmons university in Abilene. She has been assisting Mrs. Virginia Page Nutt who is head director of twirling and drum majoring in both schools.

Miss Cates has also had courses in professional dancing and has a letter of recommendation from Dixie Dice, well known dancing teacher of Amarillo, who praises her unusual ability in dancing.

MRS. MATHEWS TO VISIT HER DAUGHTER

VISITING HER MOTHER
Miss Johnny Christian, member of the Home Economics department faculty at Texas State Women's College at Denton is at home for a brief vacation visit with her mother, Mrs. J. D. Christian.

Opening of Floydada Public schools for the school year 1941-42 will take place Monday, the first day of school to be given over to organization and assignments.

At the high school, Superintendent Travis said, the day will be spent in the registration of freshmen and sophomores and such of the junior and senior classes as cannot register tomorrow. At Andrews Ward school general assembly in the gym will precede assignment to rooms. Formalities there will be presided over by Principal John H. Myers.

However, some of the advanced preparation for scholastic activities will be worked out this week. Tomorrow as many juniors and seniors as can will be given the opportunity to register so as to make more time and room for freshmen and sophomores Monday morning Superintendent Travis said.

Monday the free clinic, sponsored by the Parent-Teachers association, was held for Andrews ward beginners. A large percentage of the anticipated beginners were present for the clinic.

Miss Zelma Elliott, who comes here from Mobeetie to take a place in the Home Economics department to succeed Miss Lois Wrenn. Miss Elliott is a graduate of Texas Tech She is talented in music and will do some choral work in high school on an extracurricular basis.

Whirlwind Football Squad To Report Monday; Workouts Twice Daily Scheduled By Coach

Coach Odell Winter of Floydada High school this morning announced a schedule for football practice that calls for two workouts daily Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week.

Candidates for the team who report Monday will take up the grind Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock, when the first workout of the season will begin. The first workout will be a two-hour session and will be followed by another Tuesday afternoon. Working two hours in the early morning for the first three days will give the team muscle hardening and team activity that will be sorely needed when the Whirlwinds meet their first opponent on September 19.

"I have contacted most of the boys and they are pulling on the bits a bit, which means we are going to have a hustling squad this season," Coach Winter said. Joe Rushing and Carleton Fawver are co-captains and the material, both in backfield and in the line, will be fairly plentiful the coach thinks. What new material will show up and how much the regulars from last year will be handicapped by demands on their time from other sources is yet to be found out, however.

Slaton on September 19
The team's opening game opponent will be Slaton again this year, a home game for the Whirlwinds. Last year the Green and White ran roughshod over the Slaton lads. "Since the Slaton school opens a week later than ours and their boys will have all of the week before school-to condition and study, they will go into the first game several hours ahead of us in conditioning and team work, the coach pointed out.

Coach Winter did not know what to say of printed reports yesterday that Tulla high will have their September 26 game with Friona. "We have had a game scheduled with Tulla for that date since last season," Mr. Winter said. "If they have scheduled Friona we'll have an open date and will have to find some opposition for a game."

Mr. Winter with Assistant Coach W. V. Hale is attending the coach's school in Plainview this week, which they are enjoying. He said the game Friday night between East-West All-stars should be good.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Why should Americans buy Defense Bonds and Stamps now?

A. Among the reasons are: (1) It is the quickest way in which every citizen can both serve his country and conserve his earnings, and (2) the purchase of the Bonds and Stamps helps not only to finance National Defense but also to prevent high prices and increased cost of living.

Q. Can I pledge a Defense Bond as collateral for a bank loan?

A. No. Bonds are registered and not transferable. They are payable only to the persons named on the Bond.

Note.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for a mail-order form.

From all over Floyd county and neighboring counties come encouraging reports of good cotton crop prospects. In the Flomot area and around Quitaque the prospect is for the best crop in a number of years. And the same reports bring news of a big feed crop. In Crosby county the Review at Crosbyton says the cotton outlook has materially brightened in the past few weeks. Sixteen-cent cotton is in prospect, which also helps the rosy prospect in the minds of cotton growers, who have taken considerable punishment in this section the past few years, what with reduced acreages and, in many instances, low yields.

Perhaps a thirty day period in which row crops have done better than during the month of August has never occurred in Floyd or any neighboring county. Both feed and cotton have made wonderful growth, and the cotton has fruited very satisfactorily. For the most part the cotton has not made such a large weed to bring on the danger of heavy worm infestation in case of more rain. Plenty of hot sunshine, good rains have done wonders for a late crop, and as of this writing the prospect is flattering.

A plea in the name of Safety should be made by Floydada people for the widening of Highway 70 through the city limits. The hazards incident to the 20-foot ribbon of hard-surface through one of the community's most thickly populated areas are apparent every day. This hazard has been increased by the location of the Civilian Conservation corps at the north end of the stretch of road through the municipality. This in addition to the fact that the route cuts at right angles across four main arteries of local traffic and at right angles with traffic to two schools. Not only is Highway 70 crossed by scholastic traffic, representing all ages, but it is used by and traveled for short stretches by a large part of this traffic including school buses at least twice daily. If the department could be prevailed upon to increase the width of this stretch of road through the city to at least 28 feet, then round up the shoulders and make them safer, it would lower the hazard greatly. As the matter stands now the two-lane ribbon represents every-day hazards to hundreds of local people and through travel as well. For the nine months of the school year this hazard is doubled or possibly even trebled.

Back east (on the Atlantic seaboard) many people have it in their minds that the gasoline shortage is not actual but that the government is just "pushing the folks around" for the psychological effect. It is well that an investigation be made, as has been proposed in the Senate, to determine the fact of the matter. The administration is permitting itself to be eched into bad positions, one right after another, like that. In a country where every oil well is prorated and every tank in the country could be overflowed with a quarter turn of the valve it just doesn't make sense, unless there is some other very good reason, like, for instance, the transportation problem, which it well could be. Folks have to be shown and this would be a good time and place for the oil administrator to begin showing. Until the people are convinced, they are not going to go along. When they are convinced, 99 per cent will go along willingly, even enthusiastically, with anything needed to be done. A shame that Mr. Roosevelt can't give all these things his own attention. Lots of his hired hands made good records as business men for themselves or as executives of corporations, but that doesn't qualify them for statecraft, for working with people and their emotions.

What is the matter with the many boys who are in the conscript army of the United States is largely that neither the boys nor their parents believe the situation in the United States has so changed in twelve months that the congress and the country cannot go ahead and do as was indicated would be done—use them twelve months, train them for soldiers and then call them back if really needed. Meanwhile it would be somebody else's boy's turn to spend a year in training. The psychology of the whole lay-out is all against the arguments of the government unless it is actually intended that we shall send an army across the seas and that soon. As a matter of fact, an army that is "turning over" once a year is not as good an army as one that keeps the same personnel. This is bound to be true, like it is in business or on a farm. But the point is the same was as true a year ago as it is now and there are millions of young men in the age limits who owe their country just as much as the boys now on the "firing lines."

But be that as it may—assume that wars always bring unfairness and inequities—the attitude of the country as a whole surely will awaken some morning to be less selfish and more willing to sacrifice than has been demonstrated to date. As for instance, cities and towns which are not "getting theirs" are literally raising hades with their congressmen. An example is Amarillo. Why Amarillo should be considered so God-awful more necessary to the defense program than any other country town in America one can only surmise. And individually, our people are looking for what they can get out of the war—how they can feather their nests now against the day when the backwash sets in after a peace conference and a settlement. All take it for granted that the United States can and will see the war through successfully. And all expect not to get hurt financially and not to get shot or even shot at. We are the same folks—or sons and daughters of the same folks—that went to war in 1917. But we sure don't have the same old spirit. A stranger on this planet sure couldn't tell it is the same one by comparing the spirit of '17 and the spirit of '41.

Here's a tip: If you have money you are planning to put into fall or winter clothes, (clothes in particular and most anything else in general that is manufactured) don't put it off. Whether you think it is right, and regardless of whom you blame, prices at the mills are skyrocketing and you must pay more later. Furthermore, some merchandise the public is in the habit of buying is going to be off the market beginning in the late fall or early winter at the latest. For instance, Grade A cotton duck. The army is taking every yard of this material the mills can produce. You'll have to take Grade B when the present supply of your dealer is exhausted.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Nellie Witt Sikes

More rain came last week. A large black cloud came out of the north, thundering, lighting the earth with flashes of brilliant lightning, and whipping deluges of water on the growing crops. All work outside had come to a stop, but the kitchen was full of peaches, tomatoes and chicken to be canned so the men had to help. Not because they wanted to, but they could not see any way of getting out of it.

It was good to meet Mr. and Mrs. Staples this morning at Cone. We knew them at McCoy. Any neighborhood is fortunate to have this young Christian couple in their midst. In my mind all schools should have Christian teachers and I find most of them do.

The catalogs are so flattering this year to women of my age and I should add weight. It is, "Clothes for the Gracious Lady", and "Young like your daughter", and "clothes for the Larger Figure."

New dress forms made of plastic which hardens to a permanent reproduction of your figure, so reads a line in a new magazine. Well, this brings back a memory somewhat funny in our family. Years ago when I was a great deal younger than I am now, I decided to follow the home demonstration idea of making a dress form so my troubles of fitting would be over. I bought a new vest, perhaps you younger readers should ask some one older just what was a lady's vest, and a roll of gummed brown paper. The vest was stretched on carefully, the afternoon was hot and my children were to make the form on my perspiring body.

Around and around the paper was unrolled and stuck to the vest, stiffer and more uncomfortable it got, my feet hurt, but no sitting down was possible in my stiff paper form. Endless it seemed as the children laughed and wrapped more paper high around the neck and over the arms following the directions minutely. At last the paper gave out and there I was, looking like a dummy in a show window that had not been dressed. The children teased, said they would not cut it off, and did run off to the barn and back, and they were not in any hurry to get back either. The form had to be split down the back, a rather trying thing when you did not know

FLOYD COUNTY 14 YEARS AGO

News items taken from files of the Floyd County Hesperian published in Floydada fourteen years ago.

Twenty stalwart F. H. S. huskies will trot out on the practice gridiron next Monday to begin their fight for positions on the whirlwind football squad.

Including Captain A. D. White, Coach Ike Jay points out that he will have Sidney Carter, U. S. Marshall and Jim Stiles. In the line of scrimmage, four more men who have lettered in past years will endeavor to secure their old positions in the backfield. These men, John Edwards, Jim Carter, J. R. Boran and Harold Porterfield have a number of times, starred in whirlwind games.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson returned home Tuesday from a tour of a number of states and the western coast. They have been gone about three weeks, going by way of Salt Lake city to San Francisco and up the coast to Victoria, Canada.

Unless something altogether unforeseen develops, residents of Floydada may expect to have gas piped into the distribution system here not later than September 20.

Mrs. Ohmer Kirk and two children returned home last week from an extended visit with relatives at Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Lon M. Davis left Wednesday for Mineral Wells. She was accompanied by Dan Jenkins and Miss Audrey Farris. Miss Audrey will go to Dallas to visit her aunt Mrs. E. C. Swallow.

Miss Mamie Latham of Jacksonville is spending the week here as the guest of Mrs. E. L. Angus.

With twelve home demonstration clubs and 5 rural communities signed for agricultural exhibits, and work started on the flower and art show, plans for the Floyd County fair which will be held in this city on Sept. 22, 23, and 24, are nearing completion, according to announcement this week by officials.

Honoring their son Levon of Los Angeles who is here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Pitts of the Lakeview community held a family reunion last Sunday.

Some of the players advertised to appear in films at the Olympic theater this week are Lon Chaney, Renee Adoree, Lew Cody and Bob Custer.

just how deep the sharp knife in unskilled hands might cut. I gratefully shed the locust-like form and pasted it neatly together. Now my fitting troubles were over I consoled myself as I sat in a chair. But somehow clothes draped round my dummy form did not fit they were all too large and for many years the old form stood on its pedestal in the attic, catching dust and making a scarecrow for the mice. No sir-ree, I am not letting any modern plastic be fitted to me. My clothes can not fit if that is the only way.

It was a pleasure to meet Miss Worth Shipley in the Hesperian office last week. She is a very interesting young lady with ambition to be a newspaper feature writer. I am sure from looking into her clear eyes and hearing her talk, she will do what she tries to do, and do it well.

Thought for the day: "Unless we are willing to 'share' with others the forgiveness and love we have found in Christ, it will be only a matter of time until we lose from our own hearts the radiance and glow of that experience." H. P. Myers.

THE COUNTRY SCHOOL

The country school of the pioneers was a real Corner Post of Rural America. It taught the Three R's, it kept open the doors to the world's learning. Education for living was mainly given at home. With changing conditions, the school has had to take over more of the task. Today its goal is to enable each child to make the most of himself in many ways—in health, in work, in recreation, as a citizen. The new country school is a Corner Post of fine rural living, and of American Democracy as well.—Fannie W. Dunn, Professor of Education, Columbia University.

POET'S CORNER

(This column carried on by contributors, entirely without remuneration, under direction of Mary Dean Waters, Beeton, Texas, to whom correspondence should be addressed. All manuscripts accompanied by a stamped, self-addressed envelope will be returned.)

I would like for the following people to send some of their work soon to be included in the fall issue:

A. Lincoln Newell, Anne Dodson Buck, W. Edd Brown, Myra Wilson McCarty, Fay Stapleton, and Gertrude Friend Scoggins. And any one else who is interested. The above named people are to have poetry published in book form before long.

I shall tell you specific details and other poets included in the book a little later.

LETTER HOME

Many a mother's hair grows white While she waits for the letters we never write Her steps grow slow and her eyes grow dim While she waits in vain for a line from "him."

Or a word from her baby, even a card To a mother's heart the waiting's hard She and dad are all alone— So empty the nest when the birds have flown.

Out in the world each babe has gone And mother and Dad must carry on Their tired old hearts reach out in vain To draw to their hearts each child again.

Don't wait till your parents are old and blind Before you leave the world behind, And journey back to the old home nest, Home going hearts are happiest.

Remember to write to mother and dad It takes so little to make them glad; So is left of their earthly span Give them all the joy you can.

—Flora Smith Dean

IMPENETRABLE

You've built a wall around your soul; Who knows what secret lies within? Perhaps a sorrow beyond control, Perhaps it is a little sin. What can it be that you conceal? I search your eyes to find the key; Is it hurt that will not heal? Or could it be your love for me?

—Louise McKee McCue

MY MOTHER

It was April 30 nineteen thirty eight When mother passed through the beautiful gate She was nearing her 85th milestone As she Peacefully left for the heavenly home

She was not a person of great fame But all who knew her, honored her name And ere her spirit took its flight I heard her say, "I have fought a good fight."

It was a battle of right against wrong A Christian warfare waged alone Her life was like a plain path trod If followed, it will lead you to God

And when I reach that heavenly land I want to clasp that guiding hand Where all is joy and peace and love In those beautiful mansions, bright above.

What is advertising, anyway?

A lot has been written about advertising.

A lot of speeches have been made about it.

But the whole fact in a nutshell is—advertising is simply a time-saver.

It saves time for the man or woman who wants to buy something—and for the store or factory with something to sell.

And like most time-savers, it's a money-saver too.

The Little Boy who wasn't there-

LAST YEAR 276 CHILDREN WERE HURT BETWEEN HOME AND SCHOOL!

It was nine o'clock in the morning, the opening day of school. The teacher called the roll and everybody answered by holding up his hand. Everybody, that is, except little Frank Wallace. He wasn't there.

Frank was in the hospital with his little body mangled. His head hung at an unnatural angle. Both his legs were broken and he was coughing blood. The doctor shook his head. Mrs. Wallace stood there, sobbing quietly and Mr. Wallace clenched and opened his fists YOU KILLED FRANK WALLACE! You drivers who relied on your horn, rather than on your brakes, on good luck rather than on good sense. You took that little boy out of a classroom where he belonged, and put him into a cold, damp grave.

Drivers, be careful! Little children don't always stop to think before running into the street. We who are older must think for them. We must have our cars in good condition so that we can stop when we have to. We must go slowly in school zones, obey the traffic warnings and the schoolboy safety patrol.

We must save lives, not squander them.

Because—your own children go back to school today. Are they safe?

YOU

ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR HIM

IF you haven't seen to it that your car is in good condition, with the brakes, lights, and steering all functioning perfectly.

IF you don't drive slowly enough to bring your car to a complete stop within 2 feet in a school zone, or if you disobey any warning or traffic signs or signals or the directions of the schoolboy safety patrol.

IF you do not at all times do your duty as a citizen by respecting the rights of others, whether they are fellow drivers or unsuspecting children, and by safeguarding those rights as you would safeguard your own.

Soil Building Practice In 1942 Program

When final provisions of the 1942 AAA farm program are drafted, increased emphasis will be placed on conservation and soil-building work on individual farms, Aleye A. Hoots, secretary of the Floyd County AAA Committee, said this week.

Soil-building allowance rates, which will be the basis for determining maximum payments farmers may earn, have been announced through the Department of Agriculture. The rates will be substantially the same as in 1941.

Under the 1942 program, farmers may receive two kinds of payments with the rates for compliance and special crop allotments to be announced later. The two types of payments are: (1) a payment for carrying out approved soilbuilding practices, and (2) a payment for planting within special crop allotments such as wheat, cotton, rice, and peanuts.

As in former years, conservation payments to be made under the 1942 farm program are contingent on the annual appropriation authorized by Congress, the AAA official said.

Instead of a total soil-depleting allotment for the farm, there may be substituted special crop allotments covering certain feed grains in surplus areas, he said, adding that the state committee has not yet decided whether this would be necessary in Texas. Feed grains include oats, barley, rye, grain sorghums and corn.

Allotments will not be set up for commercial vegetables this year, he added.

A soil-building allowance is established for each farm on the basis of such factors as the farm's cropland, non-crop pastureland, commercial orchards and vegetables, and the participating farmer may earn his farm's allowance by carrying out approved practices.

Soil Building Allowance
Under the 1942 program, a farmer's allowance will be computed at either 70 cents per acre of cropland not included in special crop allotments for the farm in areas where feed grain allotments are not established, or 50 cents per acre of cropland not included in special crop allotments for the farm in areas where feed grain allotments are established. In 1941, the 70-cent rate applies only to areas generally deficient in feed while the 50-cent rate is available in surplus feed areas. The Texas AAA committee has not yet designated areas where the different rates of payment will apply.

The rates of non-crop pasture land will be the same as those under the 1941 program, Hoots said, and will vary by areas. Fifty cents per acre will be allowed for restoration land. In 1941, the soil-building allowance on restoration land is 45 cents per acre, but the additional payments of 15 cents per acre made on this kind of land in 1941 will not be continued in 1942.

A payment of $1.30 is allowed for orchards. For commercial vegetables normally grown on the farm, the 1942 payment is $1 per acre.

Included in the 1942 program will be the special allowance of $15 which farmers may earn by planting forest trees. This payment will be in addition to any other allowance which may be computed for the farm. The $20 minimum payment to a farm is also included in the 1942 program, Hoots said.

Wheat Mixture Plantings
Word was received from officials at the State Office on August 18th stating the State Committee had recommended that wheat mixtures be considered wheat under the 1942 program. Definite information will be issued as soon as it is received in the county office.

Church Services

First Baptist Church

(Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor)
The pastor wishes to express his appreciation for the many courtesies extended him and family since coming to Floydada last week. The preaching attendance for the first Sunday was good and there seems to be a fine spirit of fellowship and cooperation. Also the people of the other churches have been very nice and we hope to have good fellowship with them in the days ahead.

Because of the rain and the absence of a pastor the attendance has fallen off and we hope to do something about the Sunday School and Training Union attendance for next Sunday. We hope that every member will make it his special business to help in enrollment. Please take a little time and visit your delinquent neighbors in behalf of next Sunday's attendance.

The Wednesday night services will be given to Bible study and prayer. We will study Romans for a few Wednesday nights and every member of the church would profit by reading and studying this great book. We need the presence and the prayers of all the membership in this period of adjustment.

First Christian Church

(Lawrence W. Bridges, Pastor)
Sunday School at 9:45 A. M. promptly. Morning worship at 10:45. Sermon by the pastor on the subject, "We Preach Christ". Special music. Let everyone be in his place at these services. There will be no Sunday evening service here as the Pastor will preach in Roaring Springs at 8:00 P. M. This ministry to our neighboring Church is proving profitable to them and inspirational to us who have gone over in these missionary services. We had an increased crowd last time we were there and two fine people were baptized.

Our youth choir is rendering a fine service in their special music. All who can are urged to go over Sunday evening and help us out in this splendid cause. As vacations are coming to an end now and school starting may we all find renewed interest and vigor in the church program for fall and winter. Some splendid things are in store for us all who back the services with all of our enthusiasm.

City Park Church

J. G. Malphurs, Minister

The new minister is getting the work well organized for the fall and winter. The short meeting which closed last Sunday night did much good in getting us started. The church for the fall will have a full program for constructive church teaching and work. The minister now laboring with the church has had much helpful experience in church development and well organized Bible teaching. During the summer and winter he will conduct several classes in Bible which will be adapted to the needs of various groups and ages.

10 o'clock, Bible teaching, classes for all ages.

Methodist Church

(R. T. Breedlove, pastor)

A slight increase in Sunday school attendance and a considerably larger congregation for preaching was a welcome change last Sunday, and the Board of Stewards had a gratifying response to their "dollar day" call for funds to catch up with the deficit.

The pastor will preach at both hours Sunday, and we urge all members to make whatever sacrifice is necessary to be in their places for worship. To be away from your places on Sunday makes it that much harder for the church to carry on, but to be in your places helps in many ways. First, it inspires all who attend with you. Second, it shows that you are in thorough sympathy with the spiritual truths that make life worth living and that have made our country what it is, the free and great land of liberty and culture. Let us keep these high spiritual blessings by always holding to the things that really count, righteousness, justice, truth and brotherhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Lon M. Davis and Lon, Jr., visited from Sunday until Tuesday with Mrs. Davis's parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bradford in Canyon. Her sister Mrs. W. C. Black and family and Mrs. Irby Carruth and family of Bonham were also guests in their parent's home.

Miss Dorothy Brock returned to her work in Galveston Saturday after a two week's visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brock.

J. R. Dooley of Wichita Falls spent the week end with his parents Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dooley and Dorothy Ann.

Mrs. Nora Cox and her daughter Mrs. Duane Smith and Mr. Smith of Amarillo visited in the home of Mrs. Cox's brother L. T. Bishop and family Sunday.

Mrs. Annie E. Lewis and her daughter Mrs. Minnie Smartt are visiting friends and relatives in Tulsa, Oklahoma and Clinton, Missouri. They plan to be gone about ten days.

PRESBYTERIAN MEETINGS CLOSE SUNDAY EVENING

The revival services which have been in progress this week and last will come to a close next Sunday evening. The Rev. Carl C. Durbin of Lubbock has been bringing a very interesting series of messages to the Cumberland Presbyterian church.

The evangelist's subject for this evening will be "The Unanswered Question". The subjects for Friday Saturday and Sunday evenings will be: "The Three Crosses", "Behold the Man", "The Second Coming of Christ: Fact or Fiction".

Sunday morning the message will be brought by the pastor of the church, Rev. Rudolf A. Renfer. The meetings at the Presbyterian church have been very well attended. We have been happy to have a large number of visitors from all the churches of the town.

Again, we invite the public to these profitable meetings which feature interesting messages and inspirational song services.

Friends who registered were Mrs. H. A. Finley, Mrs. S. E. Duncan, Mrs. W. A. Shipley, Mrs. A. B. Duncan, Mrs. J. L. Coppell, Mrs. C. M. Wimpsey, Mrs. Cora Lambert, Miss Dorothy Elza, Mrs. Abigail Elza, Mrs. R. F. Jackson, Mrs. A. B. Clark, and daughter Jo, Mrs. J. W. Ginn, Mrs. Y. M. Moore, Mrs. W. E. Grimes, Mrs. George Lewis, Mrs. Alma Sullivan, Miss Betty Cantrell, Mrs. Betty Gye, Mrs. Freeman, Mrs. Oleta Goetz, Mrs. Maude Hollums, Mrs. Towry, Mrs. Bert Barker, Mrs. Horace Simpson, Mrs. F. C. MAN-MADE WEATHER AIDS STUDY OF GRASSES

Scientists of the U. S. Regional Pasture Laboratory, State College, Pa., have just set up a new "climate maker" to test pasture plants in controlled environments.

Made-to-order weather will aid U. S. Department of Agriculture research in breeding improved grasses and legumes and in improving pasture management practices.

The "climate maker" is a heavily insulated cabinet with four large chambers where sample plants can be grown under controlled light, temperature, and moisture. The chambers have outer doors of refrigerator type, and inner doors fitted with observation windows. Above each chamber a bank of fluorescent lamps, insulated by plate glass, provides maximum light with minimum heat.

Air conditions and other environmental factors can be made to vary as they do on ordinary days during a growing season. Special apparatus controls the temperature, humidity, and flow of air in each chamber. Soil temperature, moisture content, and nutritional value are under control. Varying lengths of day and different light intensities simulating cloudy or clear weather can be provided. Recording devices trace an accurate, continuous account of the manufactured weather and soil conditions inside the chambers.

Bureau of Plant Industry research men of the Laboratory—who cooperate with experiment station workers in the 12 Northeastern States from Maine to West Virginia on fundamental pasture problems of the region—believe that better management may be the key to the greatest immediate improvement in the pastures of the Northeast. Since environment greatly influences management practices, these scientists expect the "climate maker" will later prove helpful to farmers.

"WELL NOURISHED AND EFFICIENT"

Better nutrition does not mean soft living. Secretary Wickard emphasized in his address at the National Nutrition Conference for Defense. "It does not mean growing fat and lazy," he said. "It does not mean concentrating our attention on the flesh pots, the luxuries of life. On the contrary, it means becoming harder, more efficient, better able to work overtime whenever it is necessary, better able to do with out luxuries when we have to. We do not know exactly what is ahead for us or for the world, but we do know that we are going to be called on to make sacrifices. This is all the more reason for giving attention to the whole problem of nutrition now. By applying our brains, our knowledge, and our common sense to the use of our vast resources, we can be a well-nourished and efficient people."

on complete refrigerating system. We guarantee the original purchasers of 1941 Servel Electrolux Gas Refrigerators to refund without cost any defective burner, control or refrigerating unit for a period of ten (10) years from date of installation. (You pay only cost of installing parts.)

YOU folks all read the papers and listen to the radio. So is it necessary to mention that there's just no predicting what next year will bring? But we can still supply a limited number of some of the more popular models of SERVEL Electrolux, the gas refrigerator backed by that famous 10-YEAR GUARANTEE, at no extra cost. And it's still the only one that's backed by such a guarantee; for the very good reason, no doubt, that it's the only one with no moving parts in its freezing system. Nothing to wear, to make noise, to cause costly repairs. And we can still give terms on your new Servel so low the payments will be about like your monthly ice bill. But—better not wait—unless you're like the man up there above. Better come in today!

All About The Louisiana Battle

Everybody Will Get "Eat Out" Soon, Then Start All Over Again

Letters From Home Look Good

With the Blue Army Somewhere in La. (We Think) August 22—From this land of chiggers, ticks, and pine trees, and all sorts of undergrowth, and plenty of dust mixed with it, this report on the Big Extensive Army maneuvers are brought to you from three Floyd county boys who had much rather be there than here. This parable will probably bore most of you readers as it will be rambling and uninteresting as we are known by most everyone as the world's worst letter writers, but if it is not satisfactory and is printed, which we doubt very seriously, just blame Homer Steen for requesting some reports on Army Life from Louisiana. He does not have to print it anyway.

We arrived here on the 8th of August and bivouacked near Mansfield and cleared out a place for us to stay. Then three days later we moved to Benson and had to do the same thing there. Since then we have moved several times and do the same thing every time. We have really got some experience pioneering, for part of this place reminds you of the wilds of the remotest part of Africa that we have heard about. Our first maneuver was the VIII Army (US) which is composed of the 2nd, 45th, and 36th Divisions versus the 32nd, 34th, 37th, and 38th Divisions which composes the V Army Corps, also known as the Red Army. The maneuvers are judged by umpires which are furnished by all parts of the army.

Firepower, which is counted by points and each rifle, machine gun, mortar, and heavier weapon counts so much. Concealment, speed, and camouflage and positions count points also. So the battles are fought mostly on paper. The one who gets the "Firstst with Mostest men and Equipment" generally wins. The umpires judge when you are being shelled by the artillery and when the planes bombs are hits and how many men are killed and what weapons are put out of action for 24 hours, also the casualties. Small sacks filled with flour are the bombs.

Dangerous Looking Equipment

When you see a Battalion of Tanks roaring by, it makes you think just a little more of the effectiveness of the Army. The 2nd Armored Division, of Fort Benning, Georgia, really has some dangerous looking equipment such as light and medium tanks, halftracks, scout cars, and 5 ton trucks that are armored. As you probably read we out maneuvered the Reds and won the war very decisively although outnumbered by 40,000 men.

We are having some days off to rest up before the next war starts, which is tomorrow. It lasts for 4 days and then we will have a couple of days off to discuss our mistakes and let the officers eat us out and for their superiors to eat them out and then we will start again. The big battle will probably start about the 5th of next month with the entire 2nd and 3rd Army (US) fighting. It is estimated that between 400,000 and 600,000 men will participate in it. The battle will last for 15 days with no rests in between times. We are quite confident that we will win it for Gen. Ben Lear, who does not like to see all of you again this is three soldiers signing off and wishing everyone the best of everything.

Quartermaster "Puts Out"

Our particular phase of the Army is hauling troops and supplies. We are equipped with 6 x 6 GMC Trucks that will go most anywhere a tank will go. We drive at night over wagon roads that are so dusty that it would be hard to drive on in daytime with blackout lights on. We haul the troops behind the tanks and follow up and when opposition is men the troops fall off and advance. It is just a little hard when you have to drive for 36 hours not eating or sleeping and lots of times scarcely enough water. The Quartermaster really does have to put out when the advance begins. We haul all kinds of supplies and a large responsibility rests on our regiment for we have the 36th Division to take care of. Every time the enemy retreats or advances, we have to move the distributing point and also all of our men and equipment left behind and that really requires some work. We have not had any accidents and that speaks for our regiment, men and officers.

Around camp there is nothing to do, but to play cards and talks and gripe and clean up. The social activities are nil and so is bathing and laundering. We really miss the conveniences of Camp Bowie. The heat is pretty bad. So far we have been fortunate by not having very much rain. One of the boys offered a native Van Zandt county for all of Louisiana, but we think that we would have been cheated. Most of us are in favor of giving it back to the French.

A Bit Hard to Take

Right now we would like to smell a good old Floyd county duster even. One of the brighter soldiers remarked that he did not believe there was such a thing as an ugly woman. Most of the men are disappointed over not getting out in a year and a lot of dissatisfaction is expressed, but they will get over it and will go ahead and make the best of it although it is just a little hard to take when you think of all the other millions who are still civilians and are taking care of our girls and doing all the things that we miss.

We must close this bit of nothings and prepare to move. We would appreciate any fan mail that anyone might see fit to write us. We are counting on getting home around the 1st of October as we are supposed to leave here between the 25th and 30th. We do enjoy the Hesperian down here and will really be glad when and if we do get home again. Lots of rumors are circulating around that we are going to be sent to Panama or Trinidad. We don't know and we don't care very much for it would do no good anyway and we would like to see part of the work.

If you see fit to print this OK, and if not, it is still OK. You may revise it or change it anyway or censor it if you wish. So until we see all of you again this is three soldiers signing off and wishing everyone the best of everything.

Sincerely Yours,
John Harold Chapman,
James Ray Lloyd

13,398 MILES ON 5-QUART FILL OF OIL

in the Certified DEATH VALLEY DESTRUCTION TEST

Revolutionary New Oil tested against 5 other big brands. 6 new cars Destroyed to prove Economy and Protection.

CERTIFIED I hereby certify Valley Test and related work thoroughly and fairly conducted. Engine Destruction occurred in each case at the mileage stated.

H. H. Jullien

Consulting Engineer, who during Academic year is Professor of Automotive Engineering, Purdue University

The oil that reeled off an amazing 13,398 miles on one regular fill, in blazing Death Valley, was proved to be an oil of the Nth degree—an oil of new high character... Hence its name:

CONOCO Nth MOTOR OIL

This dramatic test, supervised impartially and Officially Certified, was simple, yet harsh. 6 identical new cars were taken to Death Valley—where the heat hits record highs. 5 of these cars were each assigned a different widely-known, highly advertised motor oil. The sixth car used new Conoco Nth motor oil.

Each car was broken-in on a brand assigned by lot. Then, one 5-quart fill of this same oil went into the crankcase—kept under lock. The cars were driven 57 miles an hour until oil failure cracked up each engine—utterly wrecked it! All of this under impartial official scrutiny, as was every step in the test, right on through the dramatic finish.

Here is what happened

New Conoco Nth oil went 13,398.8 miles. Not another oil came within 5,683 miles of this. One outstanding oil failed 8,268.6 miles sooner than new Conoco Nth motor oil. So it outdistanced the five competing oils by 74% to 161%.

Why this Astounding result was possible

New Conoco Nth motor oil contains a Conoco-originated synthetic (U. S. Patent 2,218,132) called Thialkene inhibitor. An inhibitor in motor oil acts pretty much as an inhibition acts on you. Inhibitions hold you back; police many actions. And so Conoco's Thialkene inhibitor polices Conoco Nth oil... arrests pollution that otherwise comes from normal operation. And that's your aid against a dirty engine with inferior lubrication.

Are you an OIL-PLATING "fan"?

If you are, more power to you! Don't for a minute feel let down, for Conoco Nth also contains the famous synthetic that OIL-PLATES engines. OIL-PLATING comes from the magnet-like attraction that keeps it bonded to inner engine parts, so that it can't all quickly drain down to the crankcase—not while you're using Conoco Nth oil. This same famed OIL-PLATING is still yours to guard against wear.

Because of OIL-PLATING and Thialkene inhibitor, one 5-quart fill of new Conoco Nth oil went an astounding 13,398.8 miles. Of course, you'll never Death-Test your Conoco Nth oil in sinister Death Valley, nor repeat any other proving-ground tortures. You'll still drain and refill at the intervals recommended by qualified authorities. But how you'll expect to stretch the distance before you ever add a quart, judging by this big fact:

5 heavily advertised oils in the Certified Death Valley Test were out-miledged 74% to 161% by Conoco Nth oil. Economy like that counts up into dollars! Change to Nth oil today at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Co.—Pioneers in Bettering America's oil with Synthetics

Gully Erosion Problem On Many Farms

Thousands of acres of good pasture and crop land in Floyd County have been destroyed by gully erosion, according to Edgar H. Kemp, Acting District conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service. Numerous fields of formerly good crop land have become so badly gullied within recent years that they no longer can be cultivated and for all practical purposes must be classed as waste land. Thousands of acres of good grass land also have been destroyed in the pasture and ranges of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district, according to the Conservationist.

Gullying has been a problem for some farmers and ranchers of this section, Mr. Kemp states, but as sheet erosion has removed top soil, the problem has become more acute. In most instances, gullies have started as a result of overgrazing of pasture or range land or from attempting to grow clean-tilled crops on steep hillsides or erodible soils. Once gullies begin to form in a field, they grow rapidly in size and number unless adequate preventive measures are taken.

Many farmers of Floyd County Soil Conservation district have demonstrated that gully erosion can be controlled. Both old and newly formed gullies have been brought under control by proper conservation practices on many farms cooperating with the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Turning water away from the gully head by means of a division terrace is one of the most economical and practical means of stopping gully growth, the Conservationist advises.

"Large quantities of water flowing down a gully caused it to become longer and deeper. If the water is diverted away from this water course, erosion in the gully naturally is stopped," Mr. Kemp states.

Creek dams of wire brush, rock and dirt also are being used in many pasture gullies as well as the planting of various shrubs and trees. Regulated grazing and contour furrowing also help control pasture gullies by slowing up runoff of water and spreading it out rather than allowing it to concentrate in the gully channels. In many instances, it is necessary to construct fences around gullies to prevent livestock grazing and trampling the area and thus permit the grass growth to heal over the erosion scars.

Where cultivated land has become badly gullied, usually it is necessary to take it out of cultivation and plant it to grass or trees or some other type of permanent vegetation. Terracing, strip cropping, and contour tillage also assist in gully control on crop land because such practices tend to spread the water over the land and prevent concentration in the gullies.

Killing Mesquite With Kerosene Effective

COLLEGE STATION, August 28.—A demonstration on the San Pedro ranch near Carrizo Springs shows that kerosene is effective and economical in killing mesquite trees and brush, says Robert R. Lancaster, Extension Service pasture specialist.

In 1939, 2,000 acres were treated, 3,459 in 1940 and this year's program calls for another 3,000. There was some resprouting, but such instances were readily found and treated the next year.

The oil is applied by means of a two-foot spout attached to a two-gallon can equipped with a carrying bail and side, or pouring, handle. The spout opening is about the size of a lead pencil. Approximately 12 inches of the base of the tree is thoroughly saturated with oil to a point where some of it flows into the ground. It is the kerosene on the roots which kills the shrubs and trees. Special care should be taken in treating bushy and "sick" bark mesquite, as these have been found to be more resistant to the oil.

The spray program on the San Pedro ranch, carried on under the supervision of County Agricultural Agent A. L. Sebasta, starts in July runs through September. No more than government allowance has been used in the eradication work.

Wheat Referendum Will Be Held Again In 1942

Floyd county wheat growers will vote in a national referendum before June 10, 1942, to determine whether they want to continue marketing quotas according to recent announcement by the Floyd County AAA committee.

The announcement, which was made several days ago by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard, gives farmers sufficient time to plan their 1942 plantings.

According to the AAA Act, a proclamation must be made prior to May 15 of any marketing year when it appears the wheat supply will exceed a normal year's domestic consumption and exports by more than 35 percent. The referendum must be approved by two-thirds of the farmers voting before quotas are in effect for that year's crop.

"The carry-over we will have on hand July 1, 1942, will be one of the largest on record since our exports have been reduced and we are harvesting an above-normal yield this year," the AAA explained.

Wheat quotas, in effect for the first time this year, were approved recently by 94 percent vote in Texas. Floyd county wheat growers approved quotas by 88 percent favorable vote.

Since marketing quotas protect loan collateral, a government loan would not be made on the 1942 crop if quotas were voted down. Loans at 85 percent of parity are in effect on the 1941 crop because quotas were approved.

The purpose of wheat marketing quotas is to divide a limited wheat market equally among producers. Farmers planting within their allotments make adjustments at seeding time while farmers exceeding their allotments are called upon to adjust marketings.

The marketing penalty on excess wheat this year amounts to 50 percent of the basic loan rate. Since the national average loan rate is 98 cents, the penalty on excess wheat is 49 cents.
