

Winds Trample Dragons For 24-0 Win

Keep Conference Record Clear in Mud Game On Wester Field

Although outwitted and outplayed in the first quarter of their conference game with Paducah Friday night, the Whirlwinds in the closing minutes of the second quarter launched an offensive that breezed over the Paducah Dragons 24 to 0. The Dragons went into the game with five first-string cripples. They had come through the season with no injuries. Everyone in practice scrimmage had occurred in 10-second fullback game. Biddy, right half, limped and Bourland, left tackle, and Pickett, left guard, were the first string linemen who had been hurt during the week.

Score in Second Quarter
The Whirlwinds scored late in the second quarter when Boteler stopped a Dragon offensive with an interception on the Paducah 44 yard line. This offensive was stopped temporarily at the 28-yard line but when the Whirlwind line began to demonstrate superiority the visitors kicked the ball to Boteler. Boteler kicked the ball to the 38. Two completed passes for the short gains rushing to Rutledge. Three line plays by Rushing set the ball up on the 1-yard line. Here Rushing instead of risking a fourth down line play, expected by the Dragons, faked over right guard, and passed to Morrison to Loran, who passed to Morrison right end for the first score standing up. The half ended with the ball in the middle of the field.

Floydada's second score came early in the third quarter when Rushing master-minded the Dragons into leaving a hole open behind right tackle. When his line opened up, a place for him to slice through, the secondary was too late to stop him and he scampered from the Floydada 29 across the field.

The first Whirlwind score in the fourth quarter came with a considerable sprinkle of substitutes in the Floydada line. Defending their 12-point lead the Floydada boys kicked out of bounds on the 20-yard line of Paducah. Three attempted Paducah passes were knocked down and the kick on the fourth down was blocked and the ball belonged to the Whirlwinds on the Paducah 9-yard stripe. Rushing went through the tackle on the fourth down for extra yardage. An attempted pass for extra point was knocked down.

As the game neared its end Murray and Kelley began sending in substitutes, the pretty clean suits on both ends of the field indicated that new combinations were being tried out by both sets of coaches, and the Whirlwinds were taking 5-yard penalties with regularity for delaying the game.

A Paducah offensive bogged down on the Floydada 35-yard line where the ball went over. Two line plays netted 7 yards to be followed by a pass to Ross who carried to the Paducah 48. Two plays later an end sweep spelled the fourth down for the Winds.

The only Paducah scoring threat came in the third quarter when the Dragons got their passing game working, Biddy to Puckett. Completing the first of the series for 21 yards the ball was set up on the Floydada 22-yard line. Three plays later the same combination clicked for 19 yards and Puckett was down at the Floydada three-yard stripe but the play was called back, Paducah penalized for holding and the game began all over again with the ball on the 36 of Floydada. Past that trouble by a narrow squeak the Whirlwinds had the advantage the rest of the way.

The score:
Floydada 0 6 6 12 24

Starting players for the two teams:
Floydada: Puckett, LE Bradford, Puckett, LT Baxter, Moss, LG Warren, Petty, O Boteler, Deason, RG Fawver, McCain, RT Tyler, London, RE Sparks, Pearce, Q Rutledge, Munson, LH Morrison, Sandlin, RH Ross, Bourland, FB Rushing, Biddy

Conway, Gray, Kennamer, Batey Lovell and Colville were among the Floydada linemen who got to play part of the game, and backfield players for the Winds who saw service included Loran, who got the lucky assignment to score, Allen, Conner, Trowbridge, Womack and Lyles.

Mud and Fog in Evidence
In spite of mud and water all during the game and fog during the last half both teams were remarkably sure-footed and the fumbles were fewer in number than in the average game, it appeared.

Modified Plan For Induction Of Trainees

Sensible Revision Of Examination Procedure To Avoid Confusion

A modified plan for induction of trainees under the jurisdiction of the Texas Selective Service System will be placed into immediate effect with the Army's most recent call for 1375 men, it was announced today by General J. Watt Page, State Selective Service Director.

The new system has the approval of the War Department, General Page said, and will reduce almost entirely the uncertainty with which registrants have heretofore been faced during the period between the local board examination and the date set for induction. A major advantage also in the new plan is that registrants will be given ample opportunity to make final arrangements in their financial and other personal affairs.

"In the beginning," General Page pointed out, "men called for induction did not know until they reported for induction whether or not they would pass their army physical examination. This naturally worked a hardship on many registrants—some of them had given up their jobs only to be rejected at the induction stations. Now registrants will know well in advance whether they will be inducted and are in a position to make their plans accordingly."

General Page explained that the modified plan calls for the usual preliminary local board examination within thirty to sixty days prior to date of call for induction. Within thirty days prior to call selectives will be sent at government expense to the Army Examining board in their district, where a complete examination, including physical, citizenship, morals, and literacy will be given. After examination the local board concerned will be notified of the result of the examination and the selectee will be returned to his home at government expense. Wherever possible, registrants will be permitted to return to their homes the same day they are examined by Army physicians.

Butter Climbs To Highest Price Since 1930

Wholesale butter prices in Chicago has reached predepression levels and were 7 1/2 cents a pound higher than at this time last year. Aggressive bidding for supplies on the Chicago Mercantile exchange for storage purposes boosted the price of top grades to almost 35 cents a pound. This was the highest price in 11 years.

Cheese also reached 1929 levels while wholesale egg prices were the highest since 1935. Cheese sold for 19 to 19 1/2 cents a pound, up for 4 cents from 1940. Top quality eggs sold at the highest prices of the year, bringing more than 23 cents a dozen, 4 1/2 to 4 3/4 cents higher than last year.

Traders attributed the gains in all of the dairy products to the vast buying program of the department of agriculture under the lend-lease act, larger consumption, and the prospects for wide demand for these products when production declines this fall.

Butter for November delivery was swept upward 0.35 cents a pound. The closing price of 36.20 cents a pound was almost eight cents higher than the season's low in February and was 9 1/2 cents a pound higher than a year ago. Turnover of futures aggregated 1,920,000 pounds.

Cheese Futures Set Record.
Cheese futures sold at the highest levels since trading in this commodity started on the Mercantile exchange seven years ago. Despite the fact that receipts at Wisconsin warehouses increased considerably last week, traders were willing to pay 21 1/2 cents a pound for cheese for delivery in November.

NOT MUCH CHANCE

for you to go clocking different brands of motor oil to prove which one flows fastest in Eskimo season. Yet the quicker the lubrication at every cold start, the less "dry rub" on delicate surfaces in your engine. Then why not change now to Conoco Nth oil for Winter and get an OIL-PLATED engine? OIL-PLATING is up in the cylinders to fight fierce grind, much sooner than any plain oil-flow alone could even start wiggling.

Conoco Nth oil, you see—all in addition to speedy flow—fastens OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if by "magnetic attraction." This close-bonded OIL-PLATING is up to its top-most point before you even touch the starter—and that's "faster than fast," to aid you toward anti-friction starting.

Even up in Iceland, of course, any engine's normal firing is hotter than the Land of the Hottentots. Yet you don't want to "burn up the oil!" And Conoco Nth proved it could last for more than twice the mileage averaged by the five other big-name oils in the impartial Death Valley Death-Test. When all five others were used up—engines ruined as each strict 5-quart fill gave out—the Conoco Nth oil that competed under identical conditions was still up at 2.7 quarts! Certified!

A known economy record . . . plus a known aid to safe prompt starting . . . when you change to Conoco Nth for Winter OIL-PLATING, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Today, Continental Oil Company

GAVE TWICE THE ENGINE LIFE!

This oil that OIL-PLATES gave its engine more than twice the life averaged by the engines using the other oils in the Death-Test.

In these times use your car prudently. And use oil that's great for engine life—changing regularly as recommended.

Good starting—good lubrication against all needless wear—helps conserve gasoline, too.

Crowning of Queen Will Be Highlight of Junior Carnival

The crowning of the carnival queen will get the spotlight of the junior carnival Friday night. The queens, their escorts, and attendants are:

Seniors: Margaret Camden, Oran Beck her escort; Josephine Britton and Tresman Glover, Maudene Moore and George Allen, Florence Oates and Bud Dubois, are her attendants.

Juniors: Nadine Powell, Gene Collins her escort; Peggy Ann Trice and Billy Bean, Daphne Lide and Bryan Meredith, Sharon Fuqua and Wynland Hale are her attendants.

Sophomores: Nancy Knight, Jack Martin her escort; Arla Vee Bishop and Johnny Cardinal, Betty Corley and Dale King, Peggy Jo Bishop and Bobby Barber are her attendants.

The queens are to be dressed in white, their escorts to wear their business suits.

This will be the final event and will also be at the Martin building instead of the high school auditorium as first planned.

Madame Zorima Will Be There

Madame Zorima will come again from her kingdom of witches, black cats and jack-o-lanterns to reveal the future to many boys and girls at the Junior carnival Friday night. The night when witches will ride through the sky on broomsticks and ghosts will prey upon those who are out late.

"Beware!" says Madame Zorima, "Your future holds dark secrets. Come to me, I see all, know all, and I tell all. If there is any question in your mind I can answer it."

Junior Carnival Halloween Night

Hear ye! Hear ye! Hear ye! The long-awaited Junior carnival is now at hand. The juniors have secured the Martin building to hold the carnival Friday at 7:30.

The $10 savings stamp which was to be given away has been changed to a $5 stamp. The radio, however, is still to be given away as previously planned.

Mr. Linder is to have charge of the auction sale. Some of the other main attractions will be a pie sale, grave yard, hall of horrors, zoo, baby clinic, fortune teller, freak show, wrestling match, bingo, doll rack, penny pitching and goin' fishing.

The juniors have planned the carnival booths for the enjoyment of young and old.

The Martin building will be full of fun and frolic Friday night when all will celebrate Halloween. Pie and Coffee to be Sold

A new pleasure will be added to the fun of Halloween at the junior carnival Friday night, the sale of pie and coffee.

The parents of the junior class members are to donate the pies. The juniors will serve the pie with or without coffee.

Lovelorn Column

Dear Lovelorn:

What can I do when I've lost my heart to a guy who doesn't want it, and will not give me his?

Anne Marise.

Dear Anne Marise:

Of course a girl wants boy friends; it's only natural. The first step, of course, is to select your quarry. Since you have already made your choice, you must decide on a course of procedure that will conquer him completely. The best course is to play hard to get. It may be hard to do, but it works. Don't let him know you like him, keep him guessing; but always be willing to listen to whatever he has to say. Keep him interested, but don't let him know that he really matters to you. This is your plan of action and once you decide on it, stick to it. This is a sure-fire formula for getting boy friends; I know because I've tried it.

Dear Lovelorn:

Since I have come from Ward school I have found no girl which I like the most. Today in a study hall a girl winked at me and I think she is cute. Should I pick this girl or another girl before someone else beat me to it or should I wait until next year?

George Washington VII

Dear George Washington VII:

I would advise you to concentrate on your studies while you are so young, but I know you wouldn't take my advice, so I'll try to help you all I can.

First, think over the girls of your acquaintance. Make a standard of qualities which you think any girl should meet and then compare the girl to it. However, don't make them too strict after all girls are only human! If this girl who winked at you meets these requirements, and you feel you'd like to choose her, then do so by all means. I'm sure she'll feel quite flattered, after all—didn't you choose her in preference to studies?

Dear Lovelorn Ed:

I am very much in love with a cute little blonde, but I am afraid to go with her because of a certain brunette that I am also very much in love with. What can I do?

A desperate Senior.

Dear Desperate Senior:

Are you sure that you fully appreciate your brunette girl friend? Remember, it might be better to stick to one girl for blondes are dynamite. Unless you are sure of your line, I'd advise you to concentrate on the brunette.

If I've still failed to discourage you; here's your cue—careful with that brunette. You don't want her talking to the other girls. Let her down easy. It can be done. Find out what she doesn't like for you to do and do it. Let her get so tired of you that she'll be glad when you have a change of heart. Then brush up on your line, if that blonde is your choice and go after her. Use your own judgement and here's wishing you lots of luck.

Half Holiday

The students of Floydada High school and ward school are to receive a half holiday on Friday, October 31.

This half-holiday is given so that students and teachers may attend the Floydada-Lockney football game.

There should be plenty of Floydada fans there ready to back the Whirlwinds to victory.

Dear Lovelorn Editor:

Please tell me how to capture Cupid. He never shoots any arrows at me and I am very lonely. Do you have to have a heart of steel to catch Cupid's arrows?

Brokenheartedly Yours,
Marquisee Martinez.

Dear Marquisee Martinez:

Are you sure that you would detect one of Cupid's arrows if he happened to shoot one your way? I'm sure you'll find many openings for romance if you'll look around. Yes, you have to look Cupid doesn't just walk up to you and say, "Here's your chance, take it!" There are no particular requirements, just a responsive heart.

Why am I telling you all this? I'm wondering too! If I believed it, I'd be using it to my own advantage—but don't get me wrong. I mean every word of it to be to your good, that's what I'm here for; so if you have any problem on which you would like advice please refer it to this column. If yours hasn't been answered this week look for it next week.

Paducah Band, Pep Squad Marches On

At the half, Friday night, the Paducah band and Pep squad in their orange and white uniforms, despite the mud did a very attractive formation.

The groups marched to the center of the field and did a spiral, while they played "Our Director." As they came out of the spiral, they went back into their regular formation. The groups marched to the end of the football field, doing a countermarch. Then the groups came back to the center of the field. The pep squad marched on ahead of the band and stopped, while the band played "Victory March." The pep squad did an about face and weaved through the band, they did a countermarch, to get into step with the band.

The hearty applause showed the crowd's appreciation for this pleasing entertainment.

Gives Formation On Home Field

Floydada High band stepped off its own rhythm Friday night as it played "Put Your Little Foot," and the waltz, "Beautiful Texas." This is the first time this performance has been given on the home field.

The band gave the formation at the first home game that received so much praise at the Littlefield game.

In addition to this formation at the half, the band also played during the game.

The formation "Uncle Sam's Review" is still to be worked out and will probably be presented for the Band Parents the first time.

Students Do Diamond-Spiral

As the special feature of the pep rally last Thursday night, the students, band, and cheer leaders did the diamond, spiral formations.

The students and band met at "Martin's corner" at 7 o'clock. They marched down the street to the southwest corner of the square where they did a spiral formation. They marched on to the southeast corner of the square where they again did the spiral. From there

Whirlwinds-Longhorns Clash Friday

The Floydada Whirlwind-Lockney Longhorn game to be played at 2:30 o'clock Friday afternoon on Lockney's municipal field promises to be the most exciting game for either team this season.

The Whirlwinds, who are tied with the Matadors for first place and the Longhorns, who have lost no game this season but have tied one game, will battle it out with all they have got, and for this reason it promises to be an interesting and well-attended game.

Nosey Reporter

The gossip this week is very striking. I hope it is to your liking. It must be getting pretty serious for two boys are getting delirious. It's Robert Warren and Leon West. In wedding rings, they're considering the best.

Wednesday night proved to be bad, cause Maudie and George seemed to be mad.

It takes quite a few to take Johnny to the show, Harold Sparks, Eddie Wayne Connor; Roy Baxter, and Joe. (Kinda Rushing things isn't it). Seems to me quite a bit.

Eddie Wayne Connor won't speak in the hall, to a junior who really meant nothing at all. When she turned down his offer to go to a show, as she wanted to, really, I happen to know.

The new boy, Merl Barker, has caught several girls' eyes; to Dora Faye Lackey he should get wise.

Johnny Cardinal gets around with these things in curls; Frances Keim and Arla Vee are just two of his girls.

NO ALUMINUM FOR LEG BANDS

Hens, like others of their sex, will be wearing substitutes on their legs in the coming year. Hens are doing their part for defense in more ways than one. Having already responded to the call for more eggs in the food-production program, stimulated by scientific feeding methods recommended by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the hens are now expected to help with the conservation of aluminum by changing the style of their leg bands.

Leg bands are those identifying markers put on mature birds by poultrymen who keep management records. In future, says the Department, patriotic hens will wear leg bands of various plastic materials or of soft metal composition—but no aluminum.

The pedigree wing bands placed on baby chicks at hatching time, to show their parentage, are another matter. The chick's wing must be pierced in attaching a wing band, and so far no one has found a satisfactory, sanitary substitute for aluminum.

The poultry industry has agreed to salvage and return all used aluminum leg bands and wing bands for reprocessing into new wing bands. By so doing, and by using the substitute leg bands, poultrymen believe they can get along with only 11,000 pounds of aluminum this year, instead of more than 150,000 pounds used last year. Increased egg production, needed for defense, depends on scientific methods of management and disease control, which, in turn, require individual identifications with sealed bands. The Office of Production Management has ruled that the poultry industry can make good use of 11,000 pounds out of the nation's scanty aluminum supply—if used for wing banding only.

FOOD TO WRITE THE PEACE

When the nations sit down at the peace table, a great big stockpile of American food, all ready to cook and eat, will greatly reinforce the American views on what arrangements are needed to make a just and lasting peace. I have said many times, and I now repeat, food will win the war and write the peace. But remember, we need reserves of food in order to exert the maximum influence at the peace conference table. By reaching the 1942 production goals, which include a start on these stockpiles, American farm families will help to write the history of the future.—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

Raphael's Sistine Madonna

The original of Raphael's Sistine Madonna, at Dresden, was placed in a room by itself, because interest in it would kill any other picture near it. People enter on tiptoe, speak in whispers as if they were in the presence of a personage and not a picture, and usually back out of the room reverently with face to the picture.

WTS Homecoming Day Set For November 8

Teachers and former students of West Texas State college at Canyon are looking forward to a homecoming day November 8 when a full day of activities has been planned. The plans include a parade and music by high school bands, a football game between Buffaloes and the Rattlers of St. Mary's university, San Antonio.

Superintendent Walter Travis announced that the Floydada high school band was planning to take part in the activities.

New Hospital Will Open November 5

Young Praises New Hospital Building

The plumbing and heating system in the new hospital was installed by Jim Young, who gives the building the highest praise. Mr. Young has been in the plumbing business in Floydada for the past six years. "The heating system in the new hospital is one of the finest I have ever had the pleasure of installing," Mr. Young said. "It is the latest single unit system which the Coleman company has recently put out." Mr. Young is a native Texan, coming here several years ago from Hillsboro where he was born and reared. He with his wife and two daughters live at 219 West California. The two daughters, Helen and Joy are both entered in the Floydada High school, being sophomore and senior respectively. His plumbing shop is located in Finkner's Auto Store where he carries a complete line of supplies and fixtures at all times. Mr. Young's wife is the former Mrs. Jessie Cardwell who with her husband owns and operates the Palace cafe in Floydada.

Opening Day For Hospital November 5

Announcement that the Pitts Hospital on Houston street, at the intersection of Fifth street and highway 70, will hold open house on Wednesday, November 5, was made this week by Dr. D. H. Pitts, owner. Friends from all over the area are cordially invited to visit the hospital. Note the reproduction of the famous stork and the doctor which serves as a weather indicator above the main chimney of the building.

Building Will Be Open For Public To Visit Wednesday Afternoon

Dr. Donald H. Pitts, practicing physician in Floyd county since October 1938, will open, officially, a $15,000 new fifteen-room hospital Wednesday. The building, an oriental style stucco and frame structure is located at the corner on intersection of Houston and Fifth streets on highway 70.

An invitation is extended to the public to visit the new building from 2 until 5:30 p. m. Wednesday, November 5. Dr. and Mrs. Pitts and the hospital staff will greet the visitors and escort them through the building.

Studied In Europe
Dr. Pitts served as surgeon in the United States army for seven years and later as chief surgeon in charge of a 220-bed hospital in South America. In 1937 he returned from a six months stay in Europe where he studied surgery in one of the larger European cities.

Dr. and Mrs. Pitts and children came to Floydada from Elk City, Oklahoma, where he had practiced medicine six years. The children are Douglas, a freshman student in the John Tarleton college at Stephenville, Texas, and Mrs. Ralph Hammonds of this city. The latter is the mother of a young daughter Sarah Douglas Hammonds.

Personnel Of Institution
The personnel of the new institution assisting Dr. Pitts will be Mrs. Wesley Carr, chief nurse and graduate of a Lubbock hospital; Miss Loretta Campbell, surgical nurse who has had four years surgical work in an Elk City, Oklahoma hospital; Miss Paylo Miller, ward nurse from a Lubbock hospital; Mrs. Jewel Teague, office nurse for the past fourteen months for Dr. Pitts.

Dr. Pitts was associated with Dr. A. E. Guthrie, local physician and surgeon, in the Floydada Hospital and Clinic from October 27, 1938 until August 15 of this year when he started plans for the construction of the new hospital building. Since that time he has maintained offices in the Readhimer building on West California street.

Work on the building started August 14 with S. F. Conner, contractor for the job that will be completed in time for the informal opening Wednesday. The building contains six patient rooms, one 5-bed ward, doctors office, operating room, x-ray room, sterilizing room, examination room, waiting room, kitchen and dining room, linen room and a laundry and storage room in the basement.

room which is a pale green. Mr. Hill continued, concerning his work on the hospital "that it was the most congenial crowd of workmen he had ever worked with," and that he was proud of his part in giving the people of this community such a fine hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Hill live one mile east of Floydada. Mrs. Hill who is president of the Floydada Music club was the former Dessie Walker.

MRS HENRY IMPROVED
Mrs. F. P. Henry who was quite ill the first of the week is reported to be improved. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Henry of Lubbock visited with Mrs. Henry Sunday.

New Hospital Was Built By Conner

Buck Conner, resident of Floydada since 1923 is one of Floydada's most prominent contractors. This week marked the completion of his latest contract, the new Pitts hospital at the intersection of Houston and Fifth streets on highway 70. The work on the building was started August 14.

Mr. Conner was contractor for the rock veneer home of Mr. and Mrs. Ike Grundy, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gamblin, the W. R. Simon home, Carl Minor and Fred Nabors home and many other beautiful homes in and around Floydada.

He has worked on several Defense contracts and is planning to start work on the finishing of the Lubbock Federal airport training school as soon as his work on the hospital is completed.

He was born in Hopkins county, Texas and is at home with his wife on West Houston street. Mr. and Mrs. Conner are the parents of two daughters, both of whom received their education in the schools of this city.

Dr. D. H. Pitts, physician and surgeon, has a background of wide service in his chosen profession. The new hospital which he will staff and maintain has been built according to his specifications for convenience in arrangement.

Committeemen Plan Food-For-Freedom Drive

Farmer-committeemen of the AAA and representatives of government agricultural agencies from Floyd county will meet in Lubbock, Thursday and Friday, October 30 and 31, to lay plans for the Food-For-Freedom campaign in this area, according to Paul Snodgrass, chairman of the Floyd county USDA defense board.

The district meeting will be one of 12 similar meetings being held throughout the state at the same time to get the food production campaign into high gear, the defense board official said. Representatives of Floyd county who will attend are: J. O. Gordon, Paul Snodgrass, G. B. Johnston, W. P. Ferguson, A. A. Hoots, Edgar H. Kemp, R. M. Battey, Ira G. Hudson and Orval D. Hays.

Following the district meeting, the county USDA committeemen, will undertake a farm-to-farm canvass in the food production pledge sign-up. Farmers in the county will be asked to produce their share of the foods which are needed for defense and for aid to the nations resisting aggression.

"We are undertaking the greatest food production job in the history of the world," Snodgrass declared. "We have the goals to meet and we will meet them. I believe the farmers of this county will go all-out in their effort to do their share in the Food-For-Freedom campaign."

Snodgrass explained that the USDA board would announce definite plans for carrying on the campaign in the county after the district meeting, but it is anticipated that county and community meetings to explain what is needed will be held in conjunction with the farm plan and pledge sheet, sign-up which will be handled by AAA committeemen.

Electrical Work On Hospital By Hinson

E. E. Hinson, who had the electrical contract for the new hospital has been in the electrical business in Floydada for the past fourteen years.

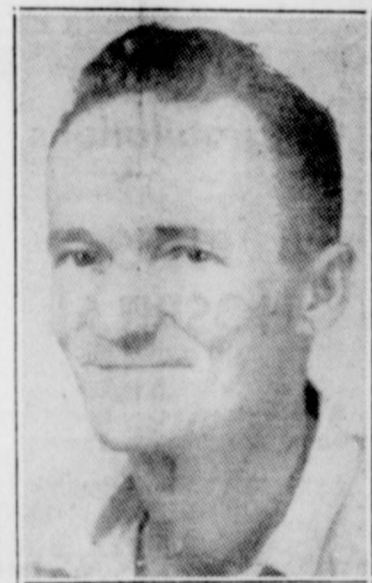

His business was first located in the building now occupied by Leonard's cafe. He next moved to the Floyd County bank building then to the building where Bishop Drug company now stands and from there to his present location next door.

Mr. Hinson was an electrical contractor the first year of his business experience here and later added electrical supplies and radio to his work. In 1939 he added the Zenith radio agency to his business and at the present time has one of the most complete electrical businesses in the Floydada trade territory.

"It has been a great pleasure to me," Mr. Hinson said, "to be working with Dr. Pitts in erecting the new hospital building. It is one of the finest buildings I have ever worked on and the electrical appliances are the very latest."

Mr. Hinson in describing the fixtures says, "The building is well wired, and besides having the regular entrance lights, has the spot light system for the operating room. A complete electric call system is installed from the patient's rooms to the nurses room. The operating room is equipped with electric sterilizers for instruments and packs."

According to Mr. Hinson the hospital as a whole is a building the city of Floydada can well be proud to point to as the latest asset to building improvements.

State Hygienic Service Aids Floyd County

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 27.—Detailing some of the ways the State Department of Health is aiding each county in the prevention and control of communicable disease, Doctor Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, today revealed that the number of specimens examined and the amount of vaccines distributed free to Floyd county in 1940 by the State Hygienic Laboratory would have cost $830.00 if purchased through private laboratories.

"The service rendered to this county is but one of twelve organized services set up to help you," Doctor Cox added.

The other services maintained by the State Department of Health include Vital Statistics, Food and Drug Inspection, Venereal Disease Control, Public Health Education, Tuberculosis Control, Sanitary Engineering, Maternal and Child Health, Nursing Service, Local Health Service and Administration.

"The assistance rendered this one county in this one division of service will convey to you some idea of the scope of Texas' health program," Doctor Cox stated. "The State Department of Health operates on a state appropriation of Four Cents per person, which amounts to $426.36 for this county. When compared to the return from only one of the twelve divisions in the State Department of Health, it is readily seen that Texans are getting much more health protection than they are paying for."

Well-Fed Nation Necessitates More Gardens

Millions of American farmers, armed with hoes, will march into gardens next spring as front-line soldiers in the nation's "Food for Defense" program, points out W. H. Nelson, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Farmers of Texas are being called upon by the State USDA Defense Board to increase gardens by at least 100,000. Farmers of the Floyd County soil conservation district are expected to make their contribution to this program which is designed to provide adequate food for the nation and those fighting aggression, Mr. Nelson declares.

"Everyone in the United States must be well fed if the nation is to make the most effective effort toward national defense," Mr. Nelson points out. "Vegetables are one of the most important sources of energy and sound health. It is of utmost importance that every farmer of Floyd County soil conservation district produce as much of his family's food needs as is possible in order that commercial stocks may be made available for workers in the concentrated defense areas."

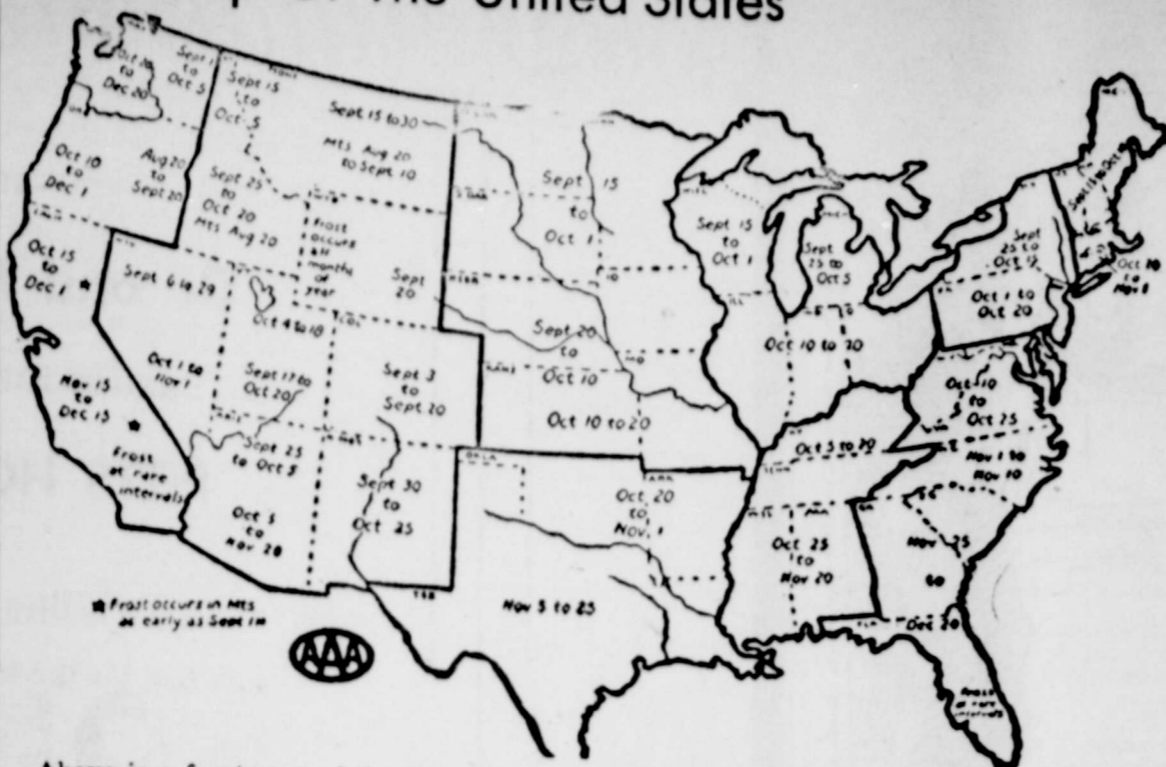

Technicians of the Soil Conservation service, who are assisting operations of the Floyd County soil conservation district, are including provisions for gardens in all farm plans where practical.

While the time for planting gardens is several months away, it is highly essential that plans for such projects be made now, according to Edgar H. Kemp, district conservationist.

Where farm wells or ponds are not now available for irrigation of gardens, the selection of a plot is of major importance, Mr. Kemp points out. If a pond is to be used for garden irrigation, it should be constructed during the winter, along with the necessary water diversion structures.

Planting of the garden site this fall will prevent run-off of rainfall

Frost Map Of The United States

Above is a frost map of the United States made up by the Automobile association of America, which is approximately correct for all parts of the country as to average early and late dates for frost.

Trees Effective In Prevention Of Erosion

Trees, as an effective means of checking erosion, are playing an increasingly important part in the soil conservation program being carried out in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle, according to George W. Hood, regional forester for the Soil Conservation service.

During the 1940-41 growing season, the forester reports, more than 103,000 trees were planted on 381 acres of 185 farms. These plantings were made in shelterbelts, farmstead windbreaks, and on steep slopes and in gullied areas to provide protection for the soil against erosive forces of wind and water, Hood points out.

New plantings were made on 123 farms, while replanting was done on 62 farms. The average number of trees planted to the farm was 526 with an average of 306 to the acre. "Trees can be grown successfully in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandle, even in years of low rainfall, providing proper precautions are taken," the forester states. "Selection of a site to which additional water can be diverted, careful preparation of the site, selection of adapted species, frequent cultivations to keep down weed growth, and protection from damage by livestock are essential for success," he says.

Many thousands of additional trees will be planted in the Panhandle this winter and next spring, mainly on land where the farmers

Also, where trees, shrubs or other windbreaks are not available for the garden site now, plans should be made for the planting of grain sorghums or some other crop to serve this purpose next spring, Mr. Kemp points out.

HYBRID POPCORN GIVES BIGGER AND BETTER POP

Popcorn that has a bigger pop and better eating quality is now on the way, according to plant breeders of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Purdue university.

The new popcorns are hybrids, and are produced by the same methods used in breeding hybrid field corn. The extra pop and better quality are due to higher popping ratio, the scientists explain. Ordinary popcorn expands to from 18 to 24 times its volume when popped, but some of the new hybrids expand as much as 30 times. Tenderness of the finished product increases with the popping ratio, so the consumer will prefer the new hybrids.

The popper who sells the popped corn also gets a break, because he gets more bags of popped corn from a bushel of corn. The farmer will like the hybrids because they are more productive and have stronger stalks—with less loss from lodging.

AMERICANS WIN COFFEE CONTROL

The two Americans have let several native crops slip from their control—rubber and quinine, in particular. But they have also adopted many foreign crops. One of them is the ancient Asiatic product, coffee. About 85 percent of the world's coffee supply now grows in Latin America, and the Western Hemisphere drinks more than 60 percent of all the coffee brewed, says an article in "Agriculture in the Americas," Department of Agriculture monthly publication.

During recent years Brazil has been growing more than two-thirds of the world's coffee supply: Colombia ranks second, accounting for nearly one-eighth. El Salvador, Guatemala, Venezuela, Mexico, Haiti, Costa Rica and several other countries account for an additional one-eighth. It is the principal cash crop or seven Latin American countries.

"The outbreak of the European war in the fall of 1939 clamped down the lip on markets which formerly took between 35 and 45 percent of all coffee exports," says the article. "By the summer of 1940, coffee prices were nearing all-time lows and planters were facing bankruptcy."

"Realizing the importance of avoiding economic collapse in Latin America in a period of world crisis, the United States assisted in one of the most ambitious examples in history of economic cooperation among the Americas—the Inter-American Coffee Agreement, which divides the Latin American share of U. S. coffee markets among producing nations. The agreement provides a satisfactory outlet in the U. S. for more than 55 percent of Latin American coffee and facilities the working out of plans to store surpluses that cannot be marketed. Its operations are being watched as a guide to adjustment of other surpluses."

INCOMES UP ONE THIRD

In outlining some of the results the U. S. Department of Agriculture has accomplished in lending money to needy farm people through the Farm Security Administration, Administrator C. B. Baldwin said the families had greatly improved their living standards and health, and also increased their incomes and net worth.

A survey of more than 440,000 standard borrowers now on the program throughout the country shows that families increased their average net income from $480 in the year before they received these Federal loans to $650 during the 1940 crop years. The net worth of these same families—over and above all debts—has increased an average of 21 percent. This additional buying power, says Baldwin, is reflected on the books of merchants and other businessmen in rural areas.

Production of armor, guns and projectile facilities for the Navy has increased more than eightfold, according to announcement from the Navy Department recently. The cost—$236,765,000.

The pay of enlisted personnel in the United States Navy ranges from $21 for recruits to $157.50 per month for some chief petty officers.

Wheat farmers overplanting their 1941 wheat acreage allotments by any amount will be ineligible for full parity and conservation payments and wheat loans, the Floyd county AAA committee points out.

Under the 1941 program, farmers who exceeded their allotment by not more than the larger of three percent of the excess acreage within a prescribed length of time and qualify for maximum payments. Paul Snodgrass explained in explaining that this tolerance would not be permitted under the 1942 program.

The deduction rate for excess wheat under the 1942 Agricultural Conservation program was raised from six times the payment rate specified under the 1941 program to ten times the payment rate. The new deduction rate applies to parity as well as agricultural conservation payments.

If allotments are exceeded by as much as ten percent, the penalty rate will wipe out the entire wheat parity and conservation payments. If the acreage allotment is exceeded by more than ten percent, deductions will be applicable to other payments earned unless the non-allotment wheat farm option was followed, the AAA officials said.

Marketing quota restrictions will apply to producers on farms subject to quotas on which wheat acreage allotments have been exceeded in the event marketing quotas on what is approved in a referendum next spring. In explaining wheat regulations further, the chairman said that if wheat acreage allotments are overplanted and marketing quotas are in effect producers will be eligible for loans on only the marketing excess for the farm provided wheat loans are available.

1941 Deadline Soil-Building December 1

Unless farmers of Floyd county take immediate steps to earn their maximum soil-building assistance, they will lose the opportunity to use this money for improvement of the soil on their farms this year, A. A. Hoots, secretary of the county AAA committee, has announced.

Since the 1941 program ends December 1, 1941 all practices must be completed by that date if payment is to be received under this year's program.

Last year, farmers of Floyd county failed to earn all of the soil-building assistance allowed under the AAA farm program, Hoots said, while farmers of Texas fell short of earning the maximum by two and one-half million dollars.

The big issue is not the amount of money unearned, but the amount of soil-building practices farmers failed to use, Hoots pointed out.

Improving the fertility of the soil is all the more important now, the official said, since the demands of consumers in this country and the needs of nations resisting aggression require still greater food production in the interest of National defense.

Practices which still can be completed by the end of the contract year include terracing, contour farming, chiseling and furrowing, strip-cropping, and building earthen tanks and reservoirs.

These practices tend to preserve soil and moisture, prevent erosion and improve grass supply, Hoots said, in pointing out their soil-building merits.

Neither the flag of the United States nor that of any other nation should be used as drapery, according to U. S. Government Regulations. When the United States flag is hung vertically, the union, or field of stars, should be either to the north or the east.

Rug for Chapel—Adorning the chancel of the Little-Chapel-in-the-Woods at Texas State College for Women is a hand-woven rug which, in a few months' time, would be impossible to weave because of the growing scarcity of good linen and wool. Miss Adeline Lee of Mineral Springs, Arkansas, graduate student at the college, figures that she tied 115,680 knots by hand, used 200 razor blades to cut threads, and put 15 pounds of linen warp and 50 pounds of wool into weaving the 17x4-foot rug for her master's thesis in art.

Cotton Yields, Premium Rate First Task Under Cotton Crop Insurance Program

Determining an average lint yield and premium rate per acre for every cotton farm in Floyd county is the first task to be accomplished under the cotton crop insurance program, Paul Snodgrass, chairman of the Floyd county AAA committee, has announced.

Until these figures have been approved by the State AAA Committee and Federal Crop Insurance corporation, applications cannot be accepted, the AAA official announced.

"We hope to start writing insurance applications in the county later in the fall, however, detail work will not begin until 1942 farm allotments have been determined," Snodgrass said in explaining that all allotments would be issued by November 1 in order that the food-for-defense program could get under way.

The 1934-1940 cotton history for a farm will be the basis of determining the average lint yield for a farm. In the event historical data is not available, appraised figures will be used in determining the average yield, Snodgrass explained.

Premium rates, which will reflect as nearly as possible the crop insurance risks on the farm, will be taken from losses shown in the base period. By this method, each farm will have an individual rating and the possibility of the good farmers carrying part of the risk cost of the poor farmer will be avoided, the AAA official pointed out.

The crop insurance program, under which 50 percent or 75 percent of the average yield may be insured, protects farmers against hail, rain, flood, drought and other factors over which they have no control. It does not insure losses because of poor seed, poor management, or failure to plant cotton at the proper time of year, the chairman said.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Solomon and daughter Betty Jean and son E. W. Jr., spent the week end with his mother Mrs. J. S. Solomon.

Luring Beasts Into Pitfalls

According to an article in Natural History, the elephant-hunting technique of early man consisted of enticing a herd of huge beasts into large pitfalls and then leisurely killing them with boulders suspended in a strong leather strap and let down on the elephant's head by the united efforts of several men, much in the way natives of today drive piles by means of rams.

A MESSAGE ON THE WALLS OF CHINA

FEW Chinese living in Kunming, a remote town in China's "Wild West," will ever see New York harbor or America. But today, the face of New York's Statue of Liberty, the symbol of American democracy, is familiar to all of them because a Chinese artist painted this tribute to America high up on the massive wall that encircles the town.

The giant mural was painted to convey a message of thanks to the United States for the large quantities of defense, medical and relief supplies which daily pass through Kunming on their way to China's war-time capital at Chungking. The mural depicts Chinese government forces, led by General Chiang Kai-shek on a charging horse, saluting the American Statue of Liberty as a symbol of the United States.

Kunming, which is the capital of the Southwest province of Yunnan, is the international gateway into Free China; a center of communications, railways and highways that radiate in all directions, and the Chinese terminal of the now-famous Burma Road, which starts at Lashio, and continues northward through the Burmese mountains into South China. At Kunming, it meets a hub of highways.

A Wisconsin-born American, Dr. John Earl Baker, recently went to Kunming as "resident director general" of the Burma Road. Dr. Baker's actual job is to untangle the traffic problems on China's main lifeline; to clear off obstructions caused by washouts, landslides, and debris left by the frequent Japanese bombardments.

Going out over the Burma Road in the other direction, headed for Rangoon and the United States, are increasing quantities of raw materials and produce of all kinds from China: copper, lead, tin, tungsten, antimony, iron, silk, tung oil, rice, medicinal herbs and tea.

A message on the walls of Kunming thanking America for her aid to embattled China helps morale. Upper left—Ferryes replace bridges on Burma Road, one reason China's life line to the west stays open despite Japanese bombardments. Upper Right—American ambulance trucks halt under a protecting hill on the Burma Road on their way to Kunming.

In pre-war days, Kunming was an obscure village, with little modern industry and no modern institutions. Following the Japanese occupation of the coastal provinces, however, factories were moved into the interior, and Kunming today is a boom town.

Kunming is also a major relief center, containing many warehouses from which American relief supplies are distributed to all parts of Free China.

Through Kunming pour the equipment sent by the eight relief agencies of United China Relief—food, clothing and vitamins for China's orphans from the American Committee for Chinese War Orphans; surgical instruments, ambulances, drugs and other medical equipment from the American Bureau for Medical Aid to China; books, scientific and laboratory equipment for China's migrated schools and colleges from the Associated Boards for Christian Colleges in China; supplies for relief work through American missions from the Church Committee for China Relief; small machines and industrial equipment for China's new decentralized vest-pocket industries, from the American Committee in Aid of Chinese Industrial Cooperatives; and other relief supplies sent by the American Friends Service Committee, the China Aid Council and the China Emergency Relief Committee.

Voluntary aid contributed by American citizens has an immediate effect in bolstering Chinese morale. The symbol of America on the walls of China speaks for itself.

Whole Wheat In Daily Diet Aid To Health

(Edith L. Wilson, Home Demonstration Agent)

For a safe diet every person needs at least one serving of whole grain products every day for vitamins, iron, and other nourishing and body building factors which whole grain products offer.

Whole wheat ginger bread provides an excellent use of whole wheat flour.

1-3 cup fat
1-2 cup sugar
1 cup molasses (sorghum or cane)
1 egg, beaten well
2-3 cup raisins
1 T white flour
3 cups whole wheat flour
2 T baking powder
1 T soda
1-2 salt
1 T ginger
1-2 T cloves
1-2 T cinnamon
1 cup sour milk

Grease 2 layer cake pans and dust with flour or line with paper. Dust raisins with the white flour. Cream sugar and fat. Add molasses and beaten egg. Sift together the whole wheat flour, salt, baking powder, soda, and spices and add to first mixture alternately with milk. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) 30 to 40 minutes.

CANNING APPLES

Home food supply demonstrators of the Home Demonstration Clubs still have a few more jars to fill with green tomato relish and apples. Many of them have apples in their orchards while others are buying them since there is an abundance on the market.

To can apples they should first be washed to remove any spray residue and dust. Peel, core and quarter. The quartered pieces are placed immediately into a solution of two tablespoons of vinegar to one gallon of water to prevent darkening.

It is best to pack the fruit into the container, add syrup of the desired sweetness and exhaust five to eight minutes in the water bath according to firmness of fruit, taking care to use a lid to keep the steam in water bath. Fill containers, seal quickly and process ten minutes in water bath. Cool quickly and store in a cool, well ventilated room.

REMOVING MILDEW STAIN

As a result of so much damp weather many homemakers are having difficulty removing mildew from clothing. Clothing affected by mildew should be soaked in lemon juice or vinegar and salt and then placed in the sunshine.
