Sugar Released From Acreage Allotments

Pointing the way the wind blows nowadays in the farm world, the Floyd county committee of the AAA has been advised that acreage to be planted in sugar beets has been released from allotment.

This means, in other words, that a farmer can plant all the acreage he can spare in his regular farm program to put into sugar beets.

A considerable number of Floyd county farmers who have been experimenting with sugar beets are much interested in this announcement.

Release of farm allotments on sugar has not come through as an official bulletin from the Washington office of the U. S. Department of Agriculture but notice has been received from the state office of the Agricultural Conservation Association. "This is official so far as making plans is concerned," said Aloye A. Hoots, secretary of the Floyd county committee.

Reports of sugar rationing which have been current have pointed toward a larger acreage for several days.

Cotton Increase, Too

The county committee has had no official word of increases in cotton acreage in Floyd county. Such an announcement is anticipated, however, based on a recent report from the Agricultural Marketing Service in a news story dated out of Dallas on February 7, stating that the goal for this year in cotton planting is 25 million acres, an increase over last year of two million acres, or 8.7 per cent.

The story out of Dallas said that emphasis would be put on longer staple cotton and that the longer staples—1 1/2 inches or better—would be especially favored in the markets. This would indicate that Floyd county's one-variety staple program, in which long staple is stressed, will be in line to help this county benefit from the continued insistence on a longer staple crop.

A query at the county Triple A office evoked the statement that no official word has been received on increasing cotton allotments and that in the event a bigger allotment is permitted cotton growers will be advised immediately.

Weather and Crops

The temperature reached a low for the week Monday morning when records of the REA showed 20 degrees. High for the week was recorded Thursday of last week at 71 degrees.

No precipitation other than a slight flurry of snow Wednesday morning early, was recorded for the week. The snow fall was not enough to make a trace of moisture.

Under the impetus of a 12-day warm streak wheat, oats and barley had begun to make some showing above the ground and it became evident that neither oats nor barley had been killed to any extent by the January cold.

Small grain growers, as well as row crop men, indicate an inch of rain would be of material benefit.

Floydada Cadet Second Officer At Naval Base

Signal honor came to a Floydada boy in training at the huge Naval Air station based at Corpus Christi last week when Aviation Cadet Oscar P. Rutledge, Jr., was advanced to second in command among the cadet officers. He came up from the rank of lieutenant as adjutant of the Third battalion, to be regimental sub-commander with the rank of commander.

The story was told in the Corpus Christi Times, which declared that Rutledge was sub-commander of a regiment of 2,500 men in training at the base.

The class will graduate sometime in March.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, city, O. P. Jr., was graduated from Floydada High school, attended Texas A & M, John Tarleton college and Texas Tech. He was employed in the Texas Highway department, engineering division, had three years of training in the ROTC and received primary civilian pilot training.

His superior officer in the cadet training school is Aviation Cadet L. M. Love, of Tacoma, Washington.

Irrigation Farmers To Carry On Fertilizer Experiments; 25-Ton Shipment Received

A 25-ton shipment of metaphos, TVA's phosphate fertilizer of new high concentration, has been received at Lockney for use by test-demonstration farmers. H. W. Schacht, president of the Floyd County Land Use association, announced last week. The Association and the Texas Agricultural Extension Service manage the test-demonstration program through the county agent's office.

Metaphos, known chemically as calcium metaphosphate, is of higher analysis than any phosphate fertilizer in common use by farmers. It contains over 60 per cent available phosphate plant food, whereas the usual phosphate carries 16 to 20 per cent.

The farm members of the Land Use Planning committee, who select the demonstrators, advise with them while changes are being made and adapt new practices to their own farms. Results are judged by check plots, from records and by the visual effect of the phosphate on crops, livestock, the farm and home unit and the community.

Since the test-demonstrators are rendering a public service, they pay for the phosphate only freight charges from Wilson Dam, Alabama, location of the Tennessee Valley Authority's experimental Fertilizer Works. They also bear all other costs of changes incurred in their farm reorganization.

There are nine test-demonstration farms in the county. The present shipment is for the follows: F. L. Brown, R. E. Deahl, Fred Hage, Elmer Laughlin, H. W. Schacht, C. J. Taylor, H. M. Thompson, Glen Watson and B. B. Wilkes.

Phosphate was applied on test-demonstration farms in Floyd county for the first time in 1941. The results could not be accurately checked because of the excessive rainfall, however check plots revealed an increase of alfalfa hay of approximately 30 per cent where phosphate was applied. The demonstrators are expecting more favorable results this year.

The phosphate test-demonstration actively here is a part of a national program of farmers participating with their Agricultural Extension services in 24 states and with the Tennessee Valley Authority. Throughout the country, there are 30,000 test-demonstrators in 650 counties.

Need Volunteers For Red Cross Production

Mrs. C. M. Conway has been named Red Cross production chairman to succeed Mrs. Lola Galloway. The appointment was made this week by Chapter Chairman Clarence Guffee. A committee of sub-chairmen who will assist in the work consists of Mrs. E. L. Angus, Mrs. R. T. Roane, Mrs. Roy Snodgrass and Mrs. Clarence Foster.

Headquarters for the Red Cross will be moved soon from Fellowship hall to the south end of the hall on the main floor of the court house, in the office formerly occupied by the Retail Merchant's Association.

Finished Garments Needed
All garments completed are to be brought to the office so they can be included in the shipment that will be mailed out the first of the week, officials say. Those who have garments unfinished are urged to complete them this week end.

New Shipments Arriving
New materials are coming in this mid-week and volunteers are needed to take charge. The sub-chairman will also need volunteers to keep the office open from 2 until 4 o'clock each afternoon. Already on hand are materials for 500 girls skirts, 99 boys shirts and other materials that are on hand but have not been checked in.

When Submarine Scare Hit Texas Coast

As I See It

Pennies Did It

Buddy Cook the other day bought himself a Defense Savings bond, a $25 one, and here's the picture of the proud owner and his bond.

Proud in particular is Buddy because the bond was bought with pennies that he had saved, 1825 of them. He is 5 years old and is ready to start saving for his next bond.

Buddy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cook of Hillcrest. He is strong for anything that will help along the Japs and believes that buying all the Defense bonds and stamps you can is one of the best ways that any citizen can help to get the job done.

Colorful State Basketball Show In March

If the Floydada High School Whirlwind basketball squad makes the grade in their regional contest for honors sometime after February 14, winning over their regional rivals in the conference immediately to the west of us, the team will be one of the contestants in the most colorful pageants of basketball in the history of the state.

Twenty-four teams will participate in three divisions—Classes AA, A and B—and championships will be awarded as a result of a three-day competition on March 5, 6 and 7, climaxed with a "program of champions" on Saturday night, March 7.

Announcement of these plans was made this week by the University of Texas Interscholastic league, in which it was said that the three championship games will be broadcast on a statewide hookup, to allow the folks back home to get early and continuous reports on their favorite's progress.

Work To Begin Tomorrow On Highway 207

Work on the six and a half-mile WPA paving project on Highway 207 north of Floydada 12 miles to a point slightly beyond South Plains will begin tomorrow morning, according to an order issued by the Works Progress administration. The project is sponsored by the State Highway department.

How many men will respond to the call for laborers was problematical yesterday, but it was indicated as probable that 25 to 35 workers will be available, enough for the beginning of the job. Others will be added, it is anticipated, within 30 to 50 days. J. L. Laminack will be project supervisor for the WPA. R. T. Roane is resident engineer for the highway department and will supervise the work with George McPherson as construction superintendent.

Originally planned to be started last year and completed during the winter, the project snagged various kinds of difficulties, principally weather and road conditions, that delayed work for weeks and months. Private employment during November and December has kept relief rolls to a minimum, and a few Floyd county men have had WPA jobs in Hale county also.

Grade and drainage structure and a seal coat for the finished road bed similar to that on the remainder of the same highway in county are contemplated.

Contract Letting Coming Up
In addition to the construction of this six plus miles of highway, the remaining unpaved length of road to the Briscoe county line north will be up for a letting set for February 19, an official notice from the State Highway department says this week. However, contractors are now given 60 days in which to begin work on state highway contracts now and it could be the latter part of April or the first of May before work begins, assuming the contract is actually let on the 19th of this month.

Rev. C. R. Joyner Baptist Minister Buried Tuesday

Funeral rites for Reverend C. R. Joyner, 53, were held at 2 o'clock p. m. Tuesday at the First Baptist church in Spur. Burial was made in the Merkel cemetery.

The well-known minister died on Monday in a Lubbock hospital. He had served as pastor of the church at Spur the past four and a half years. Previously he had held pastorates at Wellington for six years and at Merkel five years.

He is survived by his widow; four daughters, Miss Lana Joyner of Dallas, Miss Emma Joyner of Sweetwater, Mrs. Otha Barbee of San Antonio; Miss Pauline Joyner, a student of Hardin-Simmons university; one son, Victor Joyner of the United States army air corps, Sikeston, Mo. Rev. Joyner had been prominent in the Floyd County Baptist Association.

FROM ROARING SPRINGS

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Harper and six children recently moved to Floydada from Roaring Springs and are making their home at 329 West Tennessee street. They had resided in Roaring Springs for nineteen years.

Respite For Floydada Flying Club Granted Temporarily; Civilian Planes Grounded

Floydada Flying club, operating for the past 60 days under fast recurring regulatory measures and now perilously close to losing the use of the air for the duration, yesterday were given a temporary respite by high Civil Aeronautics authorities, with the promise that a thorough investigation of the local set-up would be made before finally grounding the club's plane.

Civilian planes based at private flying fields, where machines are not under the supervisory eyes of the military of civil aeronautics authorities, are being grounded all over the United States and rigid rules governing the disposition of the planes are being enforced.

Floydada Flying club last week had instructions to cease flying their machine and to dis-assemble the ship, storing it in various designated places, but a strong plea to authorities, showing the possible value of a machine strategically located as the Floydada plane would be, gained the respite temporarily. The local flyers were given permission to continue flying until such time as further study can be given to the situation here.

The club has made an unusual record in training. Of six members originally in the club, five now hold private flying licenses, one is rated an instructor by the CAA, and three have license to fly as members of the Civil Air Patrol. The club has put several thousand dollars into their plane and field and will use every effort to convince authorities their activities should not be curtailed.

Private Planes at Lockney

Three owners of private planes at Lockney also are having trouble trying to keep from being grounded, and the same arguments for their continued operation are being advanced as at Floydada. It appears that flyers in areas not adjacent to designated fields are in for grounding unless they can show the public safety can be aided by their continued operation. Should efforts now being made by the plane owners eventually fail, the only way their machines could be kept in the air would be to store at a licensed field, such as now exists at Plainview and Lubbock. The order affects literally thousands of private-owned planes all over the United States.

Gordon Lightfoot Escapes Injury On LaFayette

Gordon Lightfoot, naval reserve mechanic at work on the LaFayette (Normandie) at a New York city dock when it caught fire Monday morning, is safe and all right, a wire received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lightfoot Monday night, told them.

Gordon had been at work on the LaFayette as a mechanic since the first of the year, his father said.

The huge vessel, one of the largest liners, afloat, formerly belonged to the French. It was confiscated and for several months has been undergoing changes to make it over into another type of vessel. The fire originated, news stories published this week said, from the sparks of an acetylene torch. Workmen escaped by skinning down ropes, by lowering life boats, and by jumping. One was killed and a large number injured. Several million dollars damage was done.

ANGUS NAMED TEMPORARY ADMINISTRATOR OF J. V. JONES ESTATE

Saturday E. L. Angus was named by Judge G. C. Tubbs temporary administrator of the estate of J. V. Jones, wholesale produce dealer who died suddenly Monday of last week.

Officer Now

It's Lieutenant W. M. Stanforth now, member of the U. S. Air corps, at present in the ferry command, stationed at Long Beach, California.

Known to his friends as Billie, he graduated from Mather field at Sacramento, California, on January 9 and was given his wings then. His present assignment is to deliver planes as ordered to all parts of the United States and Canada.

Week before last he was in Dallas overnight enroute with a plane to Montgomery, Alabama, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Stanforth had the pleasure of a visit with him there.

Billie graduated from Floydada High school with the class of 1937 and graduated from Oklahoma A. & M. college at Stillwater with the class of 1941. Shortly after graduation he was accepted in the air corps as a student flyer, finishing in January this year as indicated above and being given the assignment in the ferry command.

Triple A Hours Now Same As Before Change

Time changes in business around town have been generally toward observance the way the clock goes, that is with the clock run up an hour, to observe the usual hours of opening and closing by the clock.

One of the first to announce adoption of this plan this week was the Triple A office where Aloye A. Hoots, secretary to the county board, said that hours being observed are 8 o'clock to 12 noon and 1 o'clock to 5 p. m.

Producers who want to do business with the county office are reminded of this full hour earlier opening and closing. The early birds will find the full force on the job and late comers in the afternoon will find the force with a day's work already done and gone home.

Eligibles Also May Register Here Saturday

Monday, February 16, is registration day for all male persons in the United States between the ages of 20 and 44 inclusive, and here in seven brief paragraphs are the answers to all the questions pertinent to the registration, as issued by the Local Board of the Selective Service system:

Men between 21 and 36 years of age who registered in 1940 and 1941 are not required to register again.

For the convenience of farmers, who might be busy with farm work on Monday the 16th, the local board will have registrars on hand at American Legion Hall on Saturday and Sunday afternoon, to register those who cannot come in conveniently on Monday. However, registration must be accomplished not later than Monday, the 16th. In case of some registrant who might be too ill to appear, special provision will be made for their registration.

Every man subject to registration who is an inmate of an asylum, jail, penitentiary, reformatory, or similar institution on February 16th, is required to register on the day he leaves the institution.

W. L. Carver Home Destroyed By Fire Monday

Floydada Volunteer firemen were called at 7:30 Monday morning to the home of W. L. Carver, on West Lee street. The 2-room house, owned by Will Louis was completely demolished although most of the household effects were saved.

The fire started from a coaloil stove, Fire Chief Vern Elliott said. The loss by fire was determined as $500 with only $250 insurance by the owner of the house.

Firemen have had several calls the past few weeks but most of the calls have been to grass fires, Mr. Elliott said.

RAY COOK PAINFULLY INJURED FRIDAY MORNING

Ray Cook is in a Plainview hospital where he was carried Friday morning following an accident in which he sustained a badly crushed and lacerated hand. The accident happened as he was cleaning the chaff from the fan in a feed mill.

Physicians fear the amputation of two fingers of his left hand may be necessary, his wife said Wednesday.

Stiff Practice Continued By Whirlwinds

Floydada High School Whirlwinds, due to be certified this week as district age title winners in 3-A, did not know as late as yesterday whom their opponents would be from District 4-A in regional competition.

Naturally, they do not know, either, where the game or games will be played nor when. Barring protests or upsets in the hot 4-A conference contests their opponents will be either Tahoka or Denver City.

The Whirlwinds have not let down since winning the district title from Matador, however. Their eyes are turned Austin-ward and they are playing all the practice games they can get. In the past week they have had two practice games with the local Phillips team and tonight they journey to Wayland college to continue sharpening their shooting eyes and technique of strategy against a team there.

Had Germany been economically stronger during World War I, that is strong enough on the home front to hold out for another two years of fighting, the serious mistake of allowing inflation to get out of control might have whipped the United States 25 years ago. That one battle (on the economic front) we certainly did lose, it is claimed with good reason. This time we are not going to let it happen we are all agreed, and the OPA (office of price administration) is the answer we have given through our congress to those who would attempt to repeat that mistake again this time for personal profit. A price ceiling can be and likely will be put on practically every commodity. Here is the reason as briefly given by the regional director for Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana:

"All of us know that if prices on commodities and rents began skyrocketing as they did twenty-five years ago, during the first World War and in the post-war period, a severe hardship would result to the public. And more than that—the huge sums appropriated by the government for our war effort would lose in value and would purchase much less. Thus, our democratic plans for prosecuting the war would be nullified. We must not allow that to happen. We must win this battle on the home front—against inflation."

To see that ceiling prices are effective patriotic citizens are called up to aid the price control administration against unreasonable price increases in all lines. These are asked to report what appear to be violations of the price set, the words used being "There are always a few 'chiselers' and it is our business to see that these 'chiselers' are compelled to abide by the new law." Complaints on price matters should be addressed to the Office of Price Administration, Tower Petroleum Building, Dallas.

Without realizing it the hoarder presents a great danger to orderly prices and the American standard of living. Those panicky humans who create artificial shortage spread public fear and create new hoarders, which then spreads again to a new set of hoarders and in turn leads to price increases and perhaps rationing. It must be recognized that the government, in putting such a huge force of men into the field must get into the market and lay by not only present needs but also must buy to have surpluses that can be located in different strategic points in case of emergency movement of men. Those who see these things happen and set forth to get the edge on their fellow citizens by laying in all the goods they have money to buy and space to store constitute a serious danger, which level-headed citizens should help to discourage in every reasonable way. One danger is the rationing card, which would be a direct result if the practice becomes widespread.

Bonds or bondage? Buy U. S. Savings Bonds.

"Foods, shelter and automobile" has replaced the traditional "food, clothing and shelter" as an expression indicating economic necessity in America. This is true for Texas at least, figures recently gathered by the Texas Bureau of Business research show. Twenty-five per cent of the family income on the average goes for food, 14 per cent for rent, 12 per cent for car expenses and—taking fourth seat—nine per cent for clothing.

Following sugar rationing, due soon in a possible rigid form with sugar cards and all the trimmings, already here in a mild sort of way in the hope that the folks will go along with the idea—following this it is said will come the possibility of rationing shortening and then coffee. Millions of men under arms calls for millions of pounds of fats for use as shortening. Furthermore, grease is needed in soap making and soap may not be as plentiful when the squeeze comes as it is now. The only reason for rationing coffee would result from a lack of boats to haul the coffee beans from Brazil to the processors. The allies need boats mighty bad for a hundred jobs. If U-boat sinkings can be held to a minimum as our big ship buildings program gets into high coffee may not have to be rationed.

Talking about coffee, we read something the other day we did not know, which is interesting if true. Coffee should be kept in a refrigerator, this article said. It will help preserve the original flavor and make fewer spoonfuls necessary for the same strength in the pot. If you're a coffee toper you'll be interested. Also you'll be interested in knowing the coffee makers are frantically in search of some kind of a container that will take the place of the tin cans now being used and which may not be available later. When the roasters turn to paper as a source for containers the objection is raised that it permits the aroma to escape to some extent, and right on top of that the further objection that paper is already scarce and none to spare for the coffee people.

But the coffee man's problem is a slight one beside that of the beverage maker who must have sugar as an ingredient. The Coca Cola people, for instance, how much will the sugar shortage cost them and the thousands who work for them directly or on contract. Fact is, the unfortunate turn of affairs will just pull their house down on them, only to be rebuilt at a time now unknown. The fortunes of war, like of which have been recorded since man emerged from mountain caves and decided to fight for a place on the earth against the behemoths which surrounded him on the earth, the sea and in the air.

Billions for Allied victory . . . or for tribute to dictators? There is only one answer: Buy U. S. Defense Bonds and Stamps.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Sparks

A dollar a dollar, a bewildered farmer. Why do you sleep no more, you used to rise at five o'clock but now you rise at four.

Work on the farm has been bogged down by the government sorghum. From time immemorial the farmer has raised Cain on his own back. Now he is paid by the government he wants to quit. His field is full of shocks, the land needs plowing. Where to stack it, what to do with it? No sellee, says Uncle Sam.

The reason a mother gives her youngster a middle name is so when she wants it to stop doing things it shouldn't, or to call him in from play she can call to a much better effect—John—John—Thomas—sounds more severe than just Johnny as most usually used.

Mrs. E. W. Turner was kind enough to bring me some rocks when she went to Utah and Nevada. These are my first from these states. Thank you, dear lady.

Saturday we loaded some office furniture that my son had stored here. I was to take it to Lubbock for him. We would have gotten along fine with the loading if it had not been for a white Leghorn hen. She was hunting a nest. She spied the open screen door, in she came and hopped on the bed. We scared her off, she flew out and cackled madly. She saw the trailer. Up she went only to be scared off time and again, and then was forgotten. The big load was all on, she was discovered at the very bottom. We shooed and we hit and poked sticks in at her. She did not budge. Off came enough of the load till she could be reached and scared off. I left with the trailer, the hen cackling from the top of the rock fence.

If you do not think we have excitement on the farm, you should just be here when a gate is left open and the old mare, whose colt is in the pasture to be weaned, gets out and makes for him. Will the colt go over the fence and get cut? Hurry! Gates are very necessary around a place but they give lots of trouble when one is left open. Somehow every animal on the place sees that gate open and wants to go through it, and does, upsetting all members of the farm family.

This is the time of year when our hands feel like files, our hair is full of sand and we have to spend every still day getting out sand. Who was it, anyway last fall who said they wanted to see a good old sandstorm?

It is very cold today, a north wind sweeping from the north pole—it seems. The men are killing hogs and I am groaning inwardly about my hard job tomorrow. Joe Ellis is having a bad time. The story below is a bit of true history of the many stories of early days which I thought you might like to hear.

Starlight On The Prairie
Fear gripped Edna's heart and a cold sweat broke out on her smooth white brow that warm summer afternoon as the postmistress whispered to her as she handed out the mail.

"The men who killed your husband's brothers are reported as seen in this country. You must hurry home and tell Tom," her friend urged.

Edna thanked her, mounted her wry little cowpony and rode the three miles to her home in a gallop. Her thoughts were bitter. Three of her husband's brothers waylaid and

Edna carried the baby back into the little house that stone like a piece of yellow cheese in the sunlight. Her mother who was visiting her tried in vain to comfort her weeping daughter. Perhaps it was a false rumor and Tom would be back soon. Supper was eaten, the dishes washed, the child hushed to sleep with its grandmother's voice crooning a lullaby.

Edna and her mother went to bed but not to sleep. The night was dark only for starlight, the first stars of the night blazing deep in the quiet sky. A sleepy bird twittered softly in his nest in the locust tree. The scent of petunias was heavy on the breeze that stole in the little house.

Suddenly the silence was broken by the popping of guns. Edna and her mother jumped out of bed, searched for their clothes in the darkness, spoke only in frightened whispers, hushed quickly the crying sleepy boy. Murder was in the land! The smell of burnt powder overcame the fragrance of the petunias. Red flames spit from guns, hidden by the distance and the dark.

Again the silence descended on the prairie, broken only by the sound of galloping hoofs on the soft sod. Edna and her mother scarcely breathed as they waited, their arms around one another. Was Tom dead? Lying under the star light—skies? Seconds were hours—minutes days. Would the rider pass on? No, he was turning in at the open gate. The woman felt each other as cold as ice. They heard someone dismounting. They must prepare for the worst.

A familiar sickening smell filled the room, nauseating the two women, who waited so rigid and so still. Tom's dear voice was calling out, "That damned pole-cat was shore hard to kill." Edna fainted away.

Here is my Valentine to you, written in the spirit of the day - heartaches are eased sometimes in dear familiar things.
February 14, 1942
Saint Valentine, we need you
In a world that's full of hate
And may your gentle spirit write
"I love you" on our slate.
And may we pause a moment
Amidst the din of war
And send a word of greeting to
Each loved one near and far.
Forgetting all our heartaches in
That dear familiar line,
Still remember through the ages--
"Will you be my Valentine"--

In keeping with our "Good Neighbor" policy we have "Mexico the Beautiful" Land of sunshine and laughter. The Spanish language is the most musical of all tongues and here we find beauty in simple things.

MEXICO THE BEAUTIFUL
Care-free, raven tressed, sloop eyed child,
Laughing in a sunny, southern clime,
Where beauty reigns in colors rare,
And heaven and nature are in rhyme,
O, Spanish shawl of richest hues,
To adorn sweet Senorita's hair,
O, shiny copper metal disks
To clasp her waist so lithe, so fair,
And there the giant Magnolia trees
Reach up their arms to touch the sky
Of red geraniums on window sills
To cheer the pilgrim passing by,
O, Land of sweet, shy little nuns,
Where Allsabbaster Christs hang high
And Holy Mary's bow their heads,
To bless the throng as it goes by,
A mellowed beauty in white haired grace,
Crouched in peace there o'er her
pipe,
Content to bask in southern sun,
Done with rush and wars and strife,
Rows of creamy abode walls,
Nestling there in the gleaming sun,
Patios teeming with eager life,
Singing, dancing to guitars strum,
Beauty even in lurid slums,
Where famine and tears and heart-
aches rage,
For there the crimson peppers hang
And there comes a song from a linnet's cage.

Farmall-M and No. M-11 Middle Buster Ad No. 1483

A Real Middle Buster for Hard Ground

The 4-Row "M-11" for Farmall-M

For a practical tool-bar type of middle-buster, we recommend the four-row No. M-11 (shown above) for the Farmall-M Tractor. It is a combination three and four-row implement. It can be used for flat listing three rows or as a four-row lister or buster.

With various equipment available, it can be adapted to different operations right up to cotton picking time—for busting middles, running middies, planting, or listing. It is a sturdy, well-built implement, designed to work in hard ground.

The M-11 is a quick-attachable machine, built with a new type of rear stabilizer which, while giving the implements complete freedom vertically, holds them rigidly in line laterally. It is adapted to use with the "Lift-All" attachment.

Come in and find out more about the line of middle-busters to use with the new Farmall Tractors.

Company B Has Bigger Roster, Needs More

Although Company B 41st battalion, Texas Defense Guard—Floydada unit—has a largely increased roster in the past 30 days, including numerous recruits who are mastering the drill and studying military conduct for the first time in their lives, the company still is in need of more recruits, says Commander Travis P. Collins.

"The State Adjutant's department tells us we need not only to have a full complement of men actually out drilling but that we need a super-numerary list to fill in the gaps in the ranks that may be occasioned by necessary dropping out as members find it necessary to change their occupations, move or otherwise become unavailable," said Captain Collins.

The roster as of last week, as furnished by Lt. Harry Morckel, following the campaign for members to fill the ranks and keep the company in Floydada, is given below. These are to be furnished with clothing and other army issue soon, requisition having already been made for the equipment including guns.

Company B Roster

TDG Officials Inspect Local Troop Tuesday

An inspection visit to Company B 41st battalion, TDG, was made last week by Major Thos. W. Gahagan of the adjutant general's department, who in company with Battalion Commander V. H. McClintock, of Childress, found the local company recruited practically to full strength and attendance 100 per cent except for illnesses.

Officers and enlisted personnel of the company admitted the drill and military department of the company was poor at the surprise inspection trip. An inspiring and informing address by the inspecting official created much enthusiasm in the ranks, Captain Collins said.

Naturally we would much prefer the merchandise be in the hands of the consumers than on our floors," said Strickland. Gospel Meeting Begins Tues. At Local Church

A special event for the winter season with the City Park Church of Christ is a gospel meeting, beginning next Tuesday night. Seeing the great need of reviving many who are indifferent to their spiritual duties, as well as that of converting sinners, the church is putting on this gospel feast. Every church and every member of the church, needs to fortify against Satan if American civilization is to survive during and after the war. This meeting will be an effort to "Keep the spiritual fires burning till the Boys come home." Every church will be sorely tried, and every member will be sifted by Satan, before the war is over. Let us defend our country by defending her moral and spiritual standards.

The preacher for this special meeting is J. L. Davidson of South San Antonio. Mr. Davidson comes to us with good recommendations. He is a graduate of the Johnson Bible college, Kimberlin Heights, Tennessee. He has been for some time laboring with the church in South San Antonio, where he has accomplished great good.

Services will begin each evening at 9 o'clock, war time. Day services will be announced later.

China Missionary Will Speak Here Saturday Night

Rev. H. A. Wiese, on a furlough from China as a missionary where he and his wife spent seventeen years for the Church of the Nazarene, will be in Floydada Saturday, February 14 at 8:30 p. m. They have been through weeks of bombing and days of shell fire and stayed with their work when the city fell.

Rev. Wiese is in deputation work telling of the wonderful progress of the missions. He has motion pictures of scenes in China. These pictures take one on a real trip to China. The pictures also show of the life of the people and a bit of their experiences among which is a gruesome view of the battle field near their house. He also has a few Chinese things which show what the Chinese use and how they live.

Rev. Wiese will appear at the Presbyterian church, the Presbyterian elders having kindly granted the use of their building.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Remember the hour—8:30 p. m.

Church Of The Nazarene

We are having Rev. H. A. Wiese for a missionary service Saturday night at 8:30 at the Presbyterian church. He will show motion pictures of the work in China. Come and bring your friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Williams have returned from Clovis, New Mexico, where they spent several days with their son, Modrel Williams and family.

First Baptist Church News

We are deeply grateful for the splendid interest that our people are showing in the church services. There were 337 in the Sunday school and a full house for the preaching service and, "Believe it or not," the building was almost full for the evening preaching service. We were glad to welcome a fine group of the Methodist friends at the evening service. May they or any other people of Floydada, feel that they are always welcome at our church when they are not having services at their own church.

Now is the time for all loyal church members to come to the aid of our church attendance campaign. We are working toward that 400 in Sunday school and 200 in B. T. U. We appreciate the good response on the part of many of our members but there are still a considerable number who are not attending. Non-attending church members are not happy Christians. They are not growing in grace neither are they bearing any fruit for the Master. They are like the one talent man who hid his talent in the ground. God was sorely displeased with that man and also He is sorely displeased with the church member who through negligence or love for other things fails to attend God's house for worship. "Forsaking not the assembling of ourselves together as the manner of some is, especially as we see the day approach."

Whirlwinds Sew Up District; Whip Canines

Floydada High School basketball sewed up the District 3-A basketball championship Tuesday night, February 2, with a good 41 to 19 trouncing of Spur High school. The game was played in the Andrews Ward gymnasium.

Bud Dubois was the "hot shot" of the game. He was hitting the hoop from any angle with his right and left handed shots. He scored 12 personal points.

Halftime score showed Floydada in the lead by a 21 to 12 over the canines from Spur.

The starters for Floydada were Joe Rushing, Bud Dubois, Bill Conway, LeRoy Chowning and Virgil "Shorty" Boteler.

Spur's starters were Ericson, Smith, Reynolds, Swaringer, and Barkley.

Whirlwinds, Gallant Team
Triumphantly overcoming stiff competition and grasping district 3-A's highest cage honor, the Whirlwinds of '42 have set a record of big achievements.

The Whirlwinds furnished high point man ten times out of the eleven games played.

Looping the ring for 459 points this season, the Whirlwinds have had only 204 points scored against them.

Bud DoBois, Whirlwind forward, has scored 147 points and was six times high-point man.

Junior Conway, another forward, responsible for 123 points, was high-point man three times.

Virgil (Legs) Boteler, six foot-three inch center, was high point man one time, and has scored 58 points.

Trophies Will Arrive Soon
The District 4-A football trophy and the District 3-A basketball trophy will probably arrive at the same time.

Mr. Bert Ezell, principal of Matador High school, informed Walter Travis that the football trophy had already arrived at Matador and that he would send it in good season.

Editorial

Hearts will be the theme on February 14. In many countries it will be broken hearts, but in America it will be candy hearts.

There will be boxes of candy, fragrant flowers, and lovely valentine cards for mother and sweetheart from their best boy friend. Hearts will be warm with love and affection and cheer will drive out the gloom that has prevailed in the homes during the past few months. Boys at camp will produce pictures of those dear to them in an effort to stifle their unhappiness at being so far from home.

No matter what you receive this Valentine day, though it be only a friendly greeting, show your appreciation, not for the gift or the giver, but for the symbol of peace that it represents.

American History Classes Debate

The American History classes have been debating this week.

The third period class debated on, resolved: that Short and Kimmel should be court martialled. Those on the affirmative were Troy Cummings and Sharon Fuqua; on the negative were Bryan Meredith and Joy Ward.

The fourth period class debated on, resolved: that there was more harm than good in the anti-slavery society. Helen Young and Joseph Looney were on the affirmative and Rubye Poore and James Lovell were on the negative.

The fifth period class debated on, resolved: that the south was justified in seceding. Those on the affirmative were Gene Collins and Harold Sparks and on the negative were Cubert Gray and Virgil Williams. The affirmative won.

Assembly

The American History classes had charge of the assembly program Wednesday.

A short play was given in honor of Lincoln's birthday. This play showed a group of women trying to decide a place for a statue of this versatile man.

Musical numbers were furnished by Mr. Gray. Most of his songs were ones that were popular during Lincoln's day.

Boob Patterson and Robert Warren gave a negro sketch.

Scouts Prepared For Emergency, Resume Shows

The Boy Scouts had charge of the assembly program Wednesday, February 4, on honor of National Boy Scout Week under the direction of Rev. L. W. Bridges, pastor of the First Christian church.

Rev. Bridges gave a resume of the things that Boy Scouts all over Floyd county in particular, and all over the world in general, were doing. Harold Sparks gave an explanation of what to do for shock and Randolph Rutledge showed pressure points on the body for stopping bleeding. Artificial respiration was demonstrated by Gene Loran and James Bishop, while Randolph Rutledge explained their actions.

Rev. Bridges pointed out that the Boy Scouts of America and England were better prepared for the present war situation than the biggest majority of adults. He told of the Scouts' work in Pearl Harbor and in the New London explosion.

He said that, as a general rule, demonstrations were taken too much for granted. The Boy Scouts, he stated, have undertaken to learn these things, and they have succeeded.

According to Rev. Bridges, Floyd county has the largest number of Eagle Scouts in this part of the country and Floydada has the largest number for a town of its size, in Texas.

Border Review Held

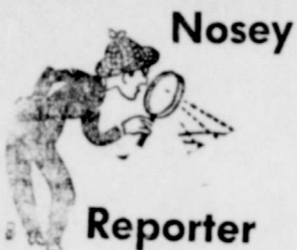

The Border review of the Boy Scouts was held Wednesday night at the annex of the Christian church. The purpose was to review their tests before someone other than the Scoutmasters.

Both troops 57 and 64 attended with David Ferguson, Troop 64 Scoutmaster, John Farris, Troop 57 Scoutmaster and Reverend L. W. Bridges.

From Troop 57 were Johnny Collins, James Bishop, Gene Collins, Harold Sparks, Billy Wester, L. W. Bridges, Gene Arvine, Charles Ray Hamilton, Gene Loran, Randolph Rutledge, John Colville and Johnny Hammonds.

From Troop 64 were D. I. Bolding, Marion Parrish and Jack Martin.

Fifteen To Join Volunteer Fire Department

The boys of Floydada High school have again come to the aid of the city. A group of fifteen boys is to join the city volunteer fire department. The boys will join February 16.

So many boys are leaving for defense projects and armed service that it has caused the fire department to be short of men. The group will meet in the city hall Sunday morning to join officially.

The group will play a part in the fire drills that are held at the high school building. In case of an incendiary bomb raid, they put out the fires out.

This shows the high school age boys of Floydada High school are much interested in their town.

Various Classes Have Interesting Studies Now

The different classes of FHS are having interesting as well as helpful studies.

At present the civics class, instructed by Mr. Linder, is studying the steps in passing a law. Each Friday the civics students have to turn in a report telling how many pages of outside reading they have read through the past week.

In world history, instructed by Miss Miller, the students are studying Henry VIII and Elizabeth. They have subscribed for "Our Times" and are studying the news stories in them.

The Speech class students have got their parts and have started rehearsing their plays. Speech is instructed by Miss Cumble.

In English IV the students are studying the basic parts of speech and are diagraming. English is directed by Mrs. Owen.

Food For Victory Loans Made Available; Hays Announces; Feed-Seed Funds Liberalized

Food for Victory loans, with which greater numbers of low-income and small farm operators may increase food and feed production for home consumption and the market, are now available through the Farm Security Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Announcement that funds are immediately available and that applications for loans are being received here, was made by Arvol D. Hays, rural rehabilitation supervisor for the FSA in Floyd county, who received the "full speed ahead" orders from Regional Director Wilson Cowen at Amarillo.

The liberalized lending program does not affect present FSA borrowers. However, present borrowers may, if the need is present, obtain loans to meet increased food goals for wartime needs.

In addition to bringing additional numbers of farm families into the thousands now being served in this section, Farm Security plans to help producers form cooperatives to market their products. This may be done by establishing pick-up and deliver routes in the rural areas.

Among purposes for which the new Food for Victory loans will be made, according to Mr. Hays, are purchase of feed, seed, fertilizer, tools and power necessary in production enterprises; purchase of material for fencing, building shelters for livestock and equipment for production.

Loans are available also for participation in group ownership of work-stock and power equipment; purchase of cows, heifers, calves, pigs, other livestock and chickens.

Farm wives will be interested in knowing that these Food for Victory loans may be made to eligible rural people for the purchase of materials and equipment for the construction of food storage. Persons eligible for Food for Victory loans are tenants, low-income owner-operators, and the part-time farmers with small farms, employed in non-industrial off-farm work, who can make a contribution to national defense needs, either by supplying more of their own family needs or by contributing to national marketable supplies.

Producers who do not own their own places will be required to obtain from one to five year leases, depending upon the term of the loans.

In his instructions to Mr. Hays, Mr. Cowen said that simplified farm and home plans will be required for all borrower-families.

Win the War—Write the Peace
"Our greatest effort toward increasing the necessary food and feed to win the war and write the peace," Mr. Cowen wrote, "will be made with our present and future standard borrowers."

"Farm Security," he continued, "has a responsibility of aiding these standard borrowers to obtain a share of the increased demand for food, thus giving some protection to their already small and precarious share in the total national income."

"Our greatest effort," Mr. Cowen wrote to Mr. Hays, "toward increasing food and feed production, will be with the rural families below the economic levels ordinarily aided through standard loans. These families in many instances, can be aided to produce food to an extent which they have never before achieved."

Farm families in Floyd county who believe they are eligible for assistance through the Farm Security Administration, are urged by Mr. Hays, to contact him soon at his office in the court house, at Floydada. "We're in the war to win," said Mr. Hays, "and it's going to take a lot of food here at home, for the army and navy and for the United Nations. Let's win the war and write the peace with food."

Ladies' Night Party At Lions Club Tuesday

Lions and ladies at their mid-winter ladies' night party had as their feature entertainment a reading, "The White Cliffs of Dover," done by Mrs. James Little, and also heard enjoyable saxophone and marimba numbers by Erman Gray, music director at Floydada High school.

Since it is Valentine season the Lions made love to their wives as they answered roll call to "Why I love my Valentine."
"The women took charge of the proceedings as members and guests were seated. Mrs. J. M. Willson served as Boss, Mrs. Terrell Loran as secretary and Mrs. Fred Nabors as taitwister.

The program was arranged by M. P. Goen, L. W. Chapman and J. M. Willson. Before presenting the reader, John Stapleton paid a pretty tribute to the wives of the club members.
