The Floyd County Hesperian

FLOYDADA, FLOYD COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1942

Low Contractor Named For 207 Construction

Confidence that the contract would be awarded at an early date for the construction of the north 5.165 miles of hard-surfaced highway in Floyd county on Highway 207 was expressed this week by E. T. Roane, resident engineer of the State Highway department, when figures named for the low bidder on the work closely approximated the cost estimated for the job when bids were opened last Thursday at Austin.

Plains Construction company, of Pampa, was announced by engineers as the low bidder at $36,972. Flexible base and asphalt surface treatment will be given the highway from a point one mile north of South Plains to the Briscoe county line. Received by State Highway department engineers the bid was to be submitted to the highway commission for final approval before the contract is awarded. It was one of 22 bids opened on that date for proposed construction that reached figures above $3,000,000.

Construction of the Floyd county mileage will bring closer by five miles the closing of a gap between Floydada and Silverton and will finish the job in this county. Approximately nine miles of the road in Briscoe county will be left open when the job in this county is completed. Briscoe county officials have been bending all their efforts toward getting the gap on Highway 86 through their county closed. Contractors are now at work on the last gap on that highway in Briscoe and Swisher counties.

Meanwhile, work has been progressing as weather conditions will permit on the WPA project of the State Highway department from a point 12 miles north of Floydada where the paving ends to a point a mile north of South Plains. Contractors now are given 60 days as a rule after work order is issued to begin construction, which means that, if approval is given the Plains Construction company bid, the last week's work on the north end of 207 in this county probably will begin around May 1.

Good Government Association To Meet Saturday

The Good Government association will meet at the county court room Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The announcement was made by Tom Black, secretary of the association.

Fate Of Floydada Flying Field Hangs By Slender Thread This Week; Club's Plane Grounded

Still desperately attempting to save their air field and the right to keep their plane at their home port, Floydada Flying club members yesterday and today are working in an effort to get recognition of their field northwest of Floydada.

At this time their plane is in storage at a Lubbock airport, on orders from district officials in Amarillo. Previously the club had obtained permission to keep their plane while attempting to meet rigid requirements of the air authority. The plane was moved to Lubbock Monday.

Meanwhile construction of an office and residence of a field manager and guard has been completed and all officials arranged for, save and except for sufficient financial backing. After spending several thousand dollars the club, which has graduated one commercial flier and one instructor in a brief period of a year, reluctantly views the prospect of their plans going a-glimmering while they are grounded in Floydada, their plane in an airport 55 miles distant.

Conferences this morning with the city and county officials, the club hopes, will result in some backing which, as a precautionary measure and a provision of safety for the community will be urged. Marvin Shurset, a member of the club, conferred in Amarillo with district officials, and M. H. Martin also has been active in an effort to get state and district officials to permit the local field to be continued as a daylight field. Several hundred dollars were spent in the past week in an effort to meet requirements. Pledge of support from Floydada Chamber of Commerce has already been received, and the final decision in the matter of meeting federal requirements will depend on the outcome of conferences in the immediate future of local officials. At present only recognized fields in this area are located at Big Spring, Lubbock and Amarillo.

Speakers Accept Assignments On Farm Program

Arrangements for the Farmers School at Lockney on March 10-11, have been progressing smoothly, it was indicated this week, several speakers of note on farm topics having already accepted assignments on the program. Among these are: Don Jones, superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station at Lubbock; O. B. Howell of the department of Plant Industry at Tech college; R. E. Dickson, superintendent of the Texas Agricultural Experiment station at Spur; Capt. Winfield Holbrook, manager of Texas Land & Development company, Plainview; and L. L. Leatherman, manager of the alfalfa mill at Plainview.

Other invitations are outstanding now and County Agent Jason O. Gordon said yesterday it was anticipated a highly interesting two-day program would be completed soon.

FIRST AID INSTRUCTOR FOR CLASSES HERE DUE SOMETIME IN MARCH

Instructors for classes in first aid in Floydada are now in prospect for a date sometime in next month. Fire Chief V. L. Elliott said this week.

A recent appeal by the chief for volunteers for first aid instruction resulted in applications sufficient for two large classes, a class of women and a class of men. Chief Elliott expressed the hope this week that the patience of applicants for instruction would not be worn out before he could obtain instructors and announce the dates, which he feels sure now will be sometime in March.

DR. BILLY J. WELCH ENLISTS IN MEDICAL DEPT. ARMY AIR CORPS

Dr. Billy J. Welch who has been engaged in the practice of optometry at Brownwood for sometime recently enlisted in the medical department of the army air corps and after spending a short while at Fort Still, Oklahoma, was transferred last week to the army air base at Lubbock.

Dr. Welch and Dr. and Mrs. W. M. Cauley and little son Jo Madison of Lubbock spent Sunday in Floydada with Dr. Welch's and Mrs. Cauley's mother, Mrs. A. J. Welch.

'Keep 'Em Flying', Says Pretty Girl Mechanic, Deljuan Clark, At Army Flying School

If any American girls are wondering how they can possibly help out in the national victory effort, here is a way—"Keep 'em Flying." Literally, that's the answer two West Texas girls have found. For they have secured jobs as mechanics' helpers at the Lubbock Army Flying school.

Whirlwinds Lose First Regional Battle Here

Floydada High School Whirlwinds lost the first of their three-game series of basketball with Lakeview (Hall county) school Tuesday night here for regional championship when the visitors tore in from the start to take the scoring lead and won 35 to 23.

It was a heart-breaker for the Whirlwinds, whose scoring eyes were off, as they tried time and again to get the range of the basket, while the Lakeview quintet, playing a wider ranging game plunked both field and foul goals with greater precision. For the first time in the season the Whirlwinds find themselves a game behind an opponent in a crucial series.

At Lakeview Court Tonight They will attempt a come-back tonight at Lakeview, where they journey for the second game. Should they win, the toss of a coin will decide when and where of the deciding contest. Anticipating their snooting will improve, Coach Murray will take the boys to the Hall county city this afternoon and expects to come home with the second game in the bag. Randy lads, the Hall county boys showed why they won their district title and then took Herford in easy fashion in a single game play-off last week-end at Lakeview.

Starters for Floydada were Chowning and Rushing at guard positions. Boteler center, Conway and DuBois forwards.

State Tournament March 5 Plans for the annual Texas High school basketball tournament, sponsored by the University of Texas Intercollegiate League, have been completed and officials at Austin are only awaiting selection of competing teams. The tournament will be held March 5, 6 and 7.

After all 24 teams—eight each from the AA, A and B brackets—have been selected, the drawings will be held to determine order of play in the tournament.

Finals will be played on Saturday night, March 7, in Gregory Gymnasium at the University, with statewide broadcast to carry reports of the last round. Three championships will be decided on the program. Winning teams awards will be presented by Dr. Homer P. Rainey, president of the University of Texas. The broadcast opens at 7 p. m.

War Board Puts V-Sign On Agriculture

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 20.—The Texas USDA Board put the V-Sign on agriculture today in announcing a state-wide "Plant for Victory Week" beginning March 1.

B. F. Vance, chairman, served notice on county USDA War Boards to let no farmer enter planting season "without full personal knowledge of his wartime food production responsibilities." "Plant for Victory Week" will be the occasion for clearing the way in each county for Texas' greatest food production record in history, Vance said.

In a farm-to-farm canvass last fall Texas farmers indicated they were ready to exceed virtually every food production goal set up under the Food-Fore-Victory program.

"But," Vance added, "after the Japs attacked us at Pearl Harbor and we plunged into war, our production goals were raised in line with the unforeseen developments." "Fortunately, these developments came ahead of planting time, and we believe Texas agriculture is prepared for this unprecedented production job."

"We hope that as a result of the interest which can be aroused during a special week emphasizing the importance of planting to meet our goals, every farmer will realize he plans and plants with a purpose. And that one purpose is Victory."

Board Takes Up Preparation For Sugar Rationing Program

Plans for the most widespread rationing program ever conducted in this nation, planned to reach in the most elaborate manner into every home, were taken up by the rationing board here this week for Floyd county, upon receipt of advance instructions from the state rationing authorities Monday night.

Brunet, five feet five inches tall Helen Barron of Lamesa will be one of seven 1942 ranch girls who will appear in the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show in Fort Worth March 13-22.

According to advance information furnished by the Division of Information of the Office of Emergency Management last week the program will include rationing of sugar to families through the means of rationing cards, which first will be issued to cover a period of 28 weeks.

The very elaborate plan calls for the printing of rationing cards for every family in America, one of the biggest rush orders for printing ever undertaken in the country, which was distributed among 23 printing establishments in all parts of the nation. The actual rationing program, it is stated, will be preceded by a survey of the present sugar supply in all the homes, and ration cards will be issued only after the amounts of sugar in hand is cancelled from the cards issued. It was announced that use would be made of teachers in enumerating families and issuing the ration cards.

Good Planting Seed Problem For Meeting

The serious problem that may be presented by inability to get planting seed (both in cotton and forage crops) of high germination, will be discussed in a meeting of the Floyd County Land Use Planning committee here Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Managers of gins and elevators, all the farmers who will attend, and representatives of all financing agencies in the county, are asked to be present.

Information from the Department of Agriculture at Austin and from state experiment stations indicate that seed of high germination are going to be hard to obtain, said County Agent Jason O. Gordon, of the committee this week. This applies not only to grain sorghums but to cotton as well, he said. Germination tests run of many samples of forage seed feeds show averages of 70 to 75 per cent germination where 90 to 98 has been the rule. In cotton the reports are even worse, with tests running from zero to 30 per cent where the normal is 85 to 90 per cent germination.

Need to find a solution of the problem before planting season arrives is apparent, agricultural leaders agree, and a wide-spread understanding of the situation is very necessary before spring.

USED STAMPS HELP MAKE ARTIFICIAL LIMBS IN PLASTIC PROCESS

To make artificial limbs for war crippled British children, a new process for making artificial legs and arms includes the use of a plastic made from the stamp pulp. The ink dyes of the stamps is extracted before the stamps are pulped. This coloring matter is not obtainable from any other English source. It is sold to the British government, the proceeds being used to provide beds and other necessities for children's hospital wards.

Instructions: Just tear off part of the envelope containing the stamp. Do not steam or tear the stamp, as the essential properties, including the valuable dyes, will be injured.

W. U. White has been appointed chairman of this activity in Floydada so please send or take your cancelled stamps to him.

What organization strides have been made by farmers of the United States in the past few years! Those who see in the finally demonstrated ability of farmers to get together and agree in general terms on ways and means of meeting emergencies, of representing themselves in the proper light in meeting of congressional committees, of getting their problems over as the nation's problems,—those who see in these activities something sinister have something to learn. Assuming that farmers will make mistakes, that they may start out like anybody else by reasoning from the wrong premise and thus get out on a figurative limb at times, the fact is that the times are forcing the farmers, because they are a minority now, to organize as a class. They must do so for many reasons, the old standpats to the contrary notwithstanding. For economic existence for one and a very sufficient reason. And for other reasons that have to do with happy homes, with well-fed children, with opportunities for their offspring. And if we should tell you that 97 per cent of all the farmers in all the United States can be contacted on two-day notice would you believe us? Well, they can. Almost equal to making wool out of buttermilk!

You're doing too much work, the country boys who go from Texas to defense plants are soon told after they get a job. This story is too often told in private letters privately written for private consumption only not to have a very considerable foundation in fact. In the face of cries from China, from Bataan peninsula, from Batavia, from everywhere for planes and ships and tanks and guns—help of every kind,—and our country supposed to be fighting for its existence! The manufacturer, working on a per centage basis makes more the more it costs the taxpayer for a plane to be turned out, the union leaders get more credit for better working conditions, credit for better pay for less work. That's the story that comes to us, and which we are ready to believe. We feel, further, that the so-called complacency of the American people is not that at all. It is an attempt to be patient with Mr. Mahon, Mr. Connally, Mr. O'Daniel, and 450 other men in Washington who are permitting the unholy mess to exist at all, while debating about the FSA and the fan dancers.

Don't pay any attention to the things a country newspaperman tells you about the bible. For that matter one such usually quotes Benjamin Franklin for Old Testament and vice versa. But we do suggest in seriousness that you read in Judges the things that may fit present conditions, and that you follow this by a study of the parallels of history as recorded in Kings and Chronicles. Will there come such a day in the United States that the Lord will turn his face from those who are vain in their own strength? We do not know. We do suggest you read and study—but not so hard that you have to be taken down to Wichita Falls or over to Big Spring. Keep in mind that unsavory things also happened in the days of Valley Forge, of the Battle of New Orleans and that some of the immense fortunes now extant were built on the necessity of the nation in the 1860's and the misfortunes of the down-trodden losers of the world's most bitter civil war. All the evil of the world is not crowded into this generation—but a sight of it is.

You'd hardly believe by driving over the county that 500 tons of scrap metal have been sold off the farms of Floyd county since January 1. But this seems to be the verified fact. And in spite of the thousands of tons that had moved before that date. And still you can't miss the junk machinery in the corners and around the lots. But 500 tons of iron and steel is not much iron and steel. To imagine how much money you have missed making in the past two years think of yourself as having had then only $100,000 in cash, and while your neighbors sweated and toiled to make crops and bought more machinery to take the place of discarded machinery, you had leaned back in a chair with your feet on the desk, or if you're turned differently, had leaned on the lot fence reflectively chewing a straw. And had hired an $85 a month man to buy all the junk your neighbors wanted to throw away. How much would your $100,000 be worth now? Well, consider that it has been done, over and over again all over the United States. Anything wrong about that? Well, was it wrong not to sell $2.50 cotton equities that were worth $25 per bale six months later?

Have you seen the whirlwind terracing plow in operation? A rather interesting application of some well-known laws of nature is in the plow. And the folks who are making it may make a lot of money. It's all in the laps of the fates. The whirlwind may take the place of the huge caterpillar in terrace making, reducing the invested cost, cutting down the per yard investment of the farmer in getting his land to hold the water that falls on it. On the other hand it may not. Apparently it makes available for good terracing jobs the power plant that every farmer, nearly, has at hand right on his own farm. Assuming that terracing is the good thing the government experts tell us it is, and that this kind of activity will keep our country from being another Iraq or a duplicate of drought-stricken China, there has to be a way to cut the bill down to the size the average fellow can pay.

Rubber plays such an important part in American life that you are going to miss it every time you turn around in the next year or two, when, as and if Japan keeps on doing to us what they are doing. How to save rubber:

Block up the wheels to keep weight off the tires when machines and implements are out of the fields for any considerable period. If rubber-tired implements are stored on cinder floors, block up the tires or place planks under them. The sulphur in the cinders breaks down the rubber.

Excessive slippage of tractor tires causes heavy wear, just as skids and quick stops do on automobile tires. Over-loading the tractor is one cause of slippage, and pulling in snow or mud without chains is another.

Keep rubber-tired implements out of the sun when not in use. Under-inflation damages both rubber and fabric in the tires. A solution of calcium chloride to prevent freezing is recommended when water is used to add weight.

Rubber tubing in milking machines will last longer if it is kept clean. After each cleaning and sterilization, the tubes should be hung up to drain and dry.

Producing vegetables at home puts the food supply right where it is to be used. It doesn't take any freight cars or trucks to move the food to these families—and transport is needed badly for other things these days.—Secretary of Agriculture Wickard.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

As the government has put a ban on weather predicting, the good old subject of weather has given away to that of "time." It takes some minutes for every one to understand just what hour is set for a meeting. The old time, war time or what have you? And anyway just how does the new time save? Endless topic for discussion. Do you remember how some of us fought the new railroad time? We were so accustomed to the good old sun time. We could always look in the almanac and set our clocks by the rising or the setting of the sun. My husband said I could run up our clock, but he did hate to go to bed at 11 and he did not want dinner any earlier. I am only thankful he does not call me at 5 o'clock war time to prepare breakfast.

The Women's Society of Christian service of Cone met with the Methodist women of Ralls, Crosbyton and Lorenzo in the day of prayer meeting. Mrs. Walter Watkins told of Chinese, Japanese, Malayan and other Christian women walking through the bomb shelled lands to the place for world prayer, holding up their hands as they prayed for peace, then as the sun crept on around to England, France and Germany there were women also praying, some in secret afraid of the Gestapo, others in company with many others, then on to America where women could pray without thought of falling bombs, then as the sun was out of our sight, women in Alaska were just going to their day of prayer meeting. As Mrs. Watkins told of these women and other young women sang lovely hymns I thought as I listened it was a beautiful sight to see young Christian American women giving their time and talents for the cause of Christ which means the peace the nations need.

I asked my little grandson, Carey of Lubbock, what he wanted for a birthday present, and he said, "A little pig." He had just returned from the barn where seven bits of pigs were squealing by his fat mother's side. I gave him a dollar and asked him what he was going to buy. "A pig," he quickly gave answer.

Note. It is a great deal quicker and easier to open a jar of canned stuff than it is to fill one.

I caught myself saying the other day, "When the boys go to France." It seems such a short time since we said that with fear and trembling in our hearts. Now we do not say "where." The world has narrowed down. Our neighbor has been robbed, beaten and thrown in the ditch to die. Uncle Sam is not passing by. He is stopping to aid where he has robbers and killers of his own to stop. I read a piece in the World Outlook of some few years back. The writer said the Japanese say that America loves her beauty rest mattresses too much to fight a war. But let Japan remember that young America slept on the soft down of honking geese and quacking ducks and her men and women rose from its downy depths to fight for freedom so that their children and children's children should have freedom and peace. America can arise from her beauty rest beds and fight that the children yet to be may have the freedom established by young America. A commentator said last night that the enemy may invade the territory of our land but never invade the territory of the spirit of the people.

I have had such a nice visit with the family of Doc Smith of Signal Mrs. Smith was very gracious, and her family so lovable. The Negro cook, Aunt Melissa prepared such good meals. The bluebonnets were in bloom and Sally was painting a beautiful picture of Elizabeth riding spitfire on top of Signal Mt. I heard the buzz of the saws and the pounding of hammers building a new town, saw the plows make a furrow on the grass covered sod, overheard a few snatches of lovemaking with a kiss here and there, went to a wedding cried when Tommy died from rattlesnake bite. Oh yes, I attended the parties where the cowboys danced in spurred boots. But during all this time I never left my easy chair by the stove for this lovable, pioneer family is closed inside the covers of a book written by Ethel Jeannette Mauldin, and if any wants to know the every day and Sunday, too, of early settlers, they can find it in fascinating detail by reading Signal, printed by Naylor company of San Antonio. The writer of this book is now Mrs. Luther English. Luther grew up near Cone, the son of a pioneer family, Mr. and Mrs. Em English. We are very eager to read the sequel that she is now writing. Thank you, Mrs. English for the autographed copy you so kindly sent.

Poet's Corner

(Edited by Mary D. Waters, 727 N. Main Street, Borger, Texas)

This poem in blank verse clearly paints a picture of American home life. I hope it brings back childhood memories for many of you.

ONLY A DREAM

It was only a dream, yet how real—
And how saddening.

Mother sewing and watching her needles,
That her hands—the same familiar hands—
Might not direct her stitches wrong;
Her face was serious, but kind,
As it had been in life.

Father sitting with an open book—
How oft I've seen him thus—
Poring intently over its pages,
So intent that he seemed not to hear
One uttered word of mother's or mine.

They sat in their accustomed places,
Where I've seen them many, many times—
Mother sewing, father reading;
Same old clock on the mantel
That ticked away the years, the long years—
How real, how real, yet only a dream.
Anne Dodson Buck.

And here is another familiar scene in our memories:

SILENT NIGHTS

To me the most silent night—
And when there are no lights—
You wait and wait and wait
So very, very late—

For the ever familiar sound—
But the hands no longer go round—
Ah! there's memory's knock—
You failed to wind the clock.
Erva Ann Sherrard.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Shaw left Sunday for Dallas, where they plan to spend ten days with their daughter Mrs. M. J. Rhew and Mr. Rhew. They will return by way of Graham for a short visit with Mrs. Shaw's sister, Mrs. Clay Johnson and family.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

News Items from the Files of The Hesperian (Issue of February 23, 1928)

At an early hour this Thursday morning, the A. B. Muncey home on the Floydada-Lockney highway was completely destroyed by fire of an unknown origin. Less than one-half of the furniture and fixtures in the house were saved from the blaze and the six room frame structure was a complete loss.

District court for Floyd county, spring term, will open in Floydada, Monday morning of next week, when the grand jury will be empaneled by District Judge Charles Clements and the wheels of the court started grinding.

Coach Jay plans to take some fifteen men on the trip to Lubbock with him.

Pre-Easter Drive Started Sunday At Christian Church

(Lawrence W. Bridges, Pastor) Sunday School at 9:45 war time. Morning worship at 11:00 o'clock. Sermon by the pastor, "A Fixed Purpose." This is the beginning of our seven weeks campaign "Toward Calvary" which was launched last Sunday. A splendid response was given those present. We hope for a larger enrollment this Sunday in this evangelistic campaign running through Easter Sunday, April 5th. Intermediate Christian Endeavor meets at 7:00 p. m. The evening preaching service will begin promptly at 8:00 p. m. The evening sermon by the pastor will be the third in a series on the prophets that have proven very interesting. Jeremiah will be the prophet for our consideration Sunday evening. Mid-week service Wednesday evenings at 8:30. The theme to be followed for next seven Wednesdays will be "Steps Toward Calvary." Lay leaders will direct these services. Come and worship with us.

The South Side Baptist Church

Announcement is made to the general public of the beginning of a revival meeting Thursday night, February 26 at the South Side Baptist church.

We are anxious for every one who can come and be with us and especially do we urge all members of the church to be there.

At this time we are not able to give the name of the preacher who is to hold the revival, but he is coming from Hutchinson, Kansas. We are planning on a wonderful time so come and let us worship together.

Methodist Church

(Rev. R. T. Breedlove, Pastor) Layman's Day is always interesting because it is the most interesting day we ever had. Charles Dean, an attorney and a layman of the Methodist Church in Plainview, brought to the church of Floydada a great sermon on "Methodist Men," and "A Changing World." It was indeed a splendid address, timely and inspiring.

The evening hour was equally as good. You know, we do not have to go beyond our own community to find real talent. We have in Floydada as good as can be found anywhere. Mrs. Lorin Leibfried and Mr. J. B. Boynton both delivered as good addresses on timely topics as any would hear in any church.

The hope of the world is in Christian laymen who count the cost and pay the price for salvation. Let the laymen rally to the Church of Christ as they ought and we will make the world safe for our children.

Go to church Sunday. "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." Forsake not the assembling of yourselves together.

The pastor's subject Sunday morning will be "V for Victory" and he will be glad to welcome you Sunday evening will be given over to a discussion of one of the most vital doctrines of the New Testament.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our appreciation for the many acts of kindness and beautiful floral offering, the words of sympathy and appreciation for our departed loved one, R. S. Wilkinson.

God grant that you may receive the same comfort and sympathy in your hour of sadness.

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, Jane King Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson, Jr., and little daughter.

IN GOVERNMENT SERVICE

'Blitz Lunch' Served in Street

The proprietress of a cafe in East End London had her shop bombed out in an air raid, so she promptly moved into the street to serve tea and mid-morning lunch to her customers. This picture is typical, says the British Ministry of Information, of the manner in which the people manage to carry on under adverse conditions.

Baptist Loyalty Crusade Opens March First

Our Loyalty Crusade is on, beginning Sunday, March 1. We are to have 10 weeks of intensive effort to improve our church work.

The purpose of this crusade is three-fold. First we want to enlist the attendance and interest of about 200 of our members who are not regular in their church attendance. We believe that God expects every member to be an active member. Second, we want to bring our Sunday School Training and Union up to standard in their work. These agencies of our work should be functioning at their best and we need to make them better. We have set a goal of 400 in Sunday school and 200 in Training Union. Our third purpose is the real one. The attendance of our membership and the improving of our S. S. and B. T. U. is for the purpose of soul winning. We need to reach the unsaved about us and we will never do it as long as our church attendance is low.

We are depending on every officer and teacher of our Sunday School, every member of our Training Union, every deacon, and every W. M. S. worker to give full support to this work. "All our members supporting all our church work" is our slogan. Can the church count on you to be faithful, or will you hurt the movement with indifference?

Let every member do his or her best to be present Sunday morning to start this special series of services.

PEAT IS BROWN GOLD OF ALASKA MUSKEGS

Alaska has a virtually untouched "Klondike" in its 110 million acres of peat muskegs—if anyone can develop satisfactory and inexpensive ways of packing and transporting the peat. Farmers and gardeners use commercial peat to supply soil humus. They also use peat for bedding in stables and as poultry litter that, in turn, becomes valuable manure. Several kinds of peat make good composts when combined with waste materials. Alaska fertilizer supplies also include fish-canning wastes.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture recently concluded a preliminary survey of the peat resources of Alaska, with a view of possible encouragement of a small-scale peat industry. Many muskegs are accessible from the coast, located along the shores of islands and the mainland, within or near the two great National Forests in Alaska—the Tanana and the Chugach—administered by the Forest Service.

The survey revealed sphagnum peats and sedge peats, both desirable for improving soils and for other agricultural uses. Through ages, this peat has accumulated on the surface and now forms layers from 4 to 6 feet or more deep. Only simple tools are needed to dig the peat. The surveyors made no exact estimates of supplies, but the reserves are ample.

Chief obstacles to marketing Alaskan peat are the short summer season, sparse labor supply, and transportation problems. Local plants could dry, shred, and pack the peat, but economic studies will be needed before the Department can recommend development of an Alaskan peat industry.

TEXAS CEMENT LABORATORY

Plans of the National Bureau of Standards to build a $12,500 laboratory in Texas for testing cement to be used in the Panama Canal lock were approved by the House Appropriations Committee.

INSECTS GET RESPIRE WHEN MAN WARS ON MAN

Like man, insects are ever at war. One insect's hide is another's meat. So, man takes advantage of insect competition. As a kind of entomological war-monger, he pits one species against another in life-and-death struggles.

For years the U. S. Department of Agriculture has maintained stations in Europe and the Orient for studying and collecting parasites to pit against insects destructive to American crops and livestock. During the last 50 years, 94 out of some 500 parasitic species shipped into this country and colonized have been successfully established. By holding down the numbers of destructive insects that are their prey, these parasites are now serving to limit damage by insects.

But man's own wars are proving a lifesaver for many destructive species of the insect world. Because man is directing so much energy into battle with fellowmen, the never-ending war on insects is beginning to lag. This "breather" may let some insects stage a come-back that will take years to overcome.

With the outbreak of hostilities in Europe in 1939, the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine was forced to close its Paris station and to discontinue parasite collecting in Europe. Political conditions in the Far East and fund-raising action in Japan have made it necessary to stop work in the Orient and close the station at Yokohama.

C. P. Clausen, in charge of this work, reports that a new parasite station has been established at Montevideo, Uruguay, and most of the European staff is now in South America studying parasites of holly weevil, pink boll worm, sugar cane moth borer, white-fringed beetle, and other natural "enemies" of insects from Latin America. Following the closing of the Yokohama office the staff will collect and study parasites in Australia and New Zealand.

MILK GOAL FOR 1942

A milk production goal of 125 billion pounds (7 percent more than the probable production in 1941) has been recommended for 1942, by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This quantity of milk would provide not only for the increased requirements for exports in 1942 but also for a record per capita consumption of all milk and dairy products next year. But even with an increase in per capita consumption, the total consumption of dairy products in 1942 will still be short of that estimated as necessary to provide adequate nutritional standards for the population of the United States. If the desired goal is reached, domestic consumption of all milk and dairy products (on a milk-equivalent basis) could be about 10 quarts per capita larger than in 1941 after allowing for the increased quantities needed for export.

A midget calf was born recently to a 16-month-old Jersey cow on the Herman Just farm, ten miles northwest of Robstown, (Nueces county.) The tiny animal, only a quarter of normal size, weighed 15 pounds at birth. One week later he had gained one pound, and was doing fine.

SHARE FARM MACHINES TO RELEASE WAR METALS
Aware that farm equipment is growing scarce because of defense metal demands, some large farmers are taking the cue from small operators and are sharing a piece of equipment owned by a group, according to reports reaching the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Home recently for a weekend visit in Louisa County, Virginia, Farm Security District Supervisor Alex J. Harris dropped in on a Triple-A committee meeting. The talk got around to lime spreaders. Harris told how the FSA often lends money to small farmers for group ownership of equipment. These particular committeemen had no need of a FSA loan, but they were immediately attracted by the idea of joint ownership. Four agreed to buy a lime spreader. Next day two or more neighbors fell in with the plan. The six shared the cost. These owners will charge themselves a small fee for use of the machines, to cover depreciation. A small allowance is paid to the member who acts as manager, who also manages the schedule of use. Harris points out that these farmers are not only ensuring their own production, but are also cutting sharply their claims on metal also needed for military use.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones were guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fox at Lockney. W. H. Brock spent last week in Waco on business.

So Western Life Continues With Good Record

With a gain of $24,077,074 for 1941, Southwestern Life Insurance Company enters the new year with $405,210,008 insurance in force. C. F. O'Donnell, president, reports in the 39th annual financial statement to policyowners.

Copy of the report was received here recently by the Company's local representative, R. E. Fry.

The continued progress of this Texas institution records numerous items indicative of the financial strength of Southwestern Life.

Assets are $80,618,343.61 reflecting an increase of $7,203,213.84 for 1941—a gain of $977,904.50 over the increase reported for 1940, which was the largest in the company's history.

The company continued its enviable record of never having had a default of either interest or principal on any bond owned by it. The report also shows that the company carries no real estate in excess of current market value and that it continued to earn a rate of interest during 1941 in excess of 4 per cent.

During the past year, the company continued to pioneer innovations in the field of legal reserve life insurance business. At its annual agency convention held in Galveston during last June, Mr. O'Donnell announced a retirement program for agents which has been nationally acclaimed as one of the leading pension plans to be adopted in the industry. The company began a sales training program for new agents in 1940 which has attained enviable results, and the institution was one of the first to inaugurate a salary plan for new salesmen, as an income floor to guarantee revenue beneath which they would not fall during their first year in the business.

The company confines its business to the state of Texas and aside from its investments in United States government securities, practically all of its investments are in Texas.

Since 1903, the 39th annual report shows that Southwestern Life has paid out to policyowners and beneficiaries $76,597,298.15.

Hunting License Business Good, Oden Announces

"Jap Hunting licenses" issued here in the past week by Conner Oden to celebrate the entry of his firm into the farm machinery business as representative of the J. I. Case company Tuesday had boosted the sale of Defense saving stamps nearly $50.

The "license" is patterned after the official game hunting license. However it gives wider latitude to the hunter, who is given "permission" to hunt before or after sun-up, before or after sundown and there is no bag limit. Furthermore the hunter may hunt with or without bow and arrow, pitchfork, shotgun, blunderbus, sub-machine gun, 75-millimeter gun or trench mortar.

The "fee" charged for the license is a 25-cent Defense stamp which in all cases is delivered with the "license" to the buyer.

"Buyers have come from all over the country," said Oden this week. "In fact, we've had them hunting us up. Apparently they all want to get at the Japs, and the best way a civilian can do that is to buy defense bonds or stamps of some denomination."

No Convention Agents To Get Defense Bonds

D. A. Little of Dallas, president of the Magnolia Petroleum company has been elected a member of the board of directors of Southwestern Life Insurance company.

A ROUGHNECK GROWS UP—THE MOVIE COMES OF AGE

Glamour and motion pictures haven't always been synonymous. And Hollywood hasn't always been the cinema citadel.

Movies, as we know them today, spent their infancy in the singularly unromantic town of Fort Lee, New Jersey. As reported by Rex Beach they bitrew their side street neighborhoods and moved into better quarters.

"The gutter-snipe grew into long pants," he writes, "and when them it put on the sweater and cap of hoodlum. No one dreamed that that it would ever mend its ways and turn decent, much less that it would become a member of the smart set, possess a string of polo ponies and dunk in its own Pumpkin swimming pool."

An outfit called Sam Goldwyn Pictures was shooting a picture at the time called "Laughing Gas Hyde." The title role called for some one shy, awkward, whimsical, with a western drawl. And they found their man—a trick roper and cowboy monologist in the currenct Zigfield Folles, who hardly knew what a camera looked like.

When the picture was finished he turned out beautifully. He was natural, sincere, utterly unaffected, and not in the least camera-conscious. At the death of his buddy he wept like a schoolgirl. Oddy enough, the greatest comic of our times was introduced to the screen through the medium of tears. His name was Will Rogers.

I AM THE COUNTRY WEEKLY

I am the Country Weekly. I am the friend of the family, the bringer of tidings from other friends, I speak to the home in the evening light of summer's vine-clad porch or the glow of winter's lamp.
I help to make this evening hour; I record the great and the small, the varied acts of the day and weeks that go to make up life.
I am for and of the home; I follow those who leave humble beginnings; whether they go to greet us or to the gutter, I take to them the thrill of old days, with wholesome messages.

I speak the language of the common man; my words are fitted to his understanding. My congregation is larger than that of any church in my town; my readers are more than those in the school. Young and old alike find in me stimulation, instruction, entertainment, inspiration, solace, comfort. I am the chronicler of birth and love and death—the three great facts of man's existence.

I bring together buyer and seller, to the benefit of both; I am part of the market place of the world. Into the home I carry word of the goods which feed and clothe and shelter and which minister to comfort, ease, health and happiness.
I am the word of the week, the history of the year, the record of my community in the archives of state and nation.
I am the exponent of the lives of my readers.
I am the Country Weekly—Exchange.

If some church musicians twelve hundred years ago hadn't discovered harmony—the singing of two different notes at the same time—there might have been no grand opera, and for that matter, what would have happened to "Sweet Adeline"? This birth of harmony is described for Texas school children in a University of Texas-produced radio program on group singing broadcast as part of the Texas School of the Air series.

Cowhands are wondering what to do about the shortage of rope caused by a government order placing Manila rope on the priorities list. Navy needs and the possibility that shipments from Manila might be stopped presumably are behind the order. Present lariats may have to last a long time.

Good Nutrition Patriotic Need Women Declare

Healthy Bodies Needed On Home Front As Well As In Trenches

By Edith L. Wilson Realizing that good nutrition is a patriotic necessity, 310 active members of Floyd county home demonstration clubs are going to make a great effort to produce an adequate amount of fruit and vegetables this year. They believe that strong healthy bodies are as necessary in the home fronts as in the first line trenches and that a sure way to have the food they need is to produce it.

Following is a suggested number of row feed per person for a spring garden which was discussed at the January meeting of the clubs: asparagus, 20 feet; rhubarb, 10 feet; shallots, 10 feet; mustard, 10 feet; New Zealand spinach, 10 feet; radishes, 10 feet; lettuce, 30 feet; Swiss chard, 10 feet; onions, 30 feet; English peas, 60 feet; beans, 20 feet; turnips, 10 feet; carrots, 30 feet; spinach, 20 feet; bush beans, 60 feet; lima beans, 30 feet; field peas, 180 feet; cabbage, 30 feet; egg plant, 15 feet; bell pepper, 15 feet; okra, 30 feet; Irish potatoes, 120 feet; tomatoes, 120 feet; squash, 15 feet; cucumber, 15 feet; sweet corn, 60 feet; and cantaloupe, 30 feet.

With this amount the family should have enough fresh vegetables and some to store for non-productive months. It is recommended that there be an adequate garden on every farm in the county. Home demonstration club members believe that increase in food production for 1942 is one thing that should be done to help in this greatest crisis of the country's history.

GAS MASKS FOR BABY CHICKS

(By Jason O. Gordon, County Agent) Carbon-monoxide poisoning is the cause of many deaths in the brooder house, and could be easily avoided if the poultryman would check the ventilation system before the checks are delivered, according to Jason O. Gordon, county agent. This gas results from incomplete flues or from stoves used to supply auxiliary heat in brooder house. This means that the oxygen in the house is being exhausted. As little as one part of gas to 1000 parts of air kills chicks or poulters in a few minutes. Symptoms of acute carbon-monoxide poisoning are: uneasiness, stupor, laboring breathing, a wobbling gait. The chicks seem chilly as the poison progresses, will gasp for breath, and lie on their sides with their head thrown back. Better ventilated brooder houses are the answer to the question of protecting against this danger. Supplying fresh air, of course, depends on the construction of the house and its ventilating system. A chief mistake made in brooding is giving too much heat in the brooder house. 75 degrees is plenty high for room temperature. Extreme dryness should be avoided, else poor growth and ragged feathering may be the result, with a tendency toward cannibalism. Humidity can be increased by keeping a pan of water on top of the brooder stove. A dim light all night in the house will prevent night crowding. No dirt should accumulate in and around brooder houses, especially around feeders and waterers. Cleanliness helps to prevent disease. The brooder house should be carefully checked before the expensive chicks are delivered, and remember, gas masks have never been invented for the baby chick.

Change In Payment CCC Salaries Was Effective Feb. 1

A news release issued this week from the office of Miss Ruby White, Floyd county welfare agent, indicates that effective February 1, 1942, members of the CCC will be allowed to keep $12.00 cash out of each month's salary, whereas formerly they were allowed to keep only $8.00 of their salary to spend.

For several years the boys were paid $8.00 cash, sent $15.00 home to their parents and saved $7.00. Effective this month changes allow the boys to get $12.00 cash, send $10.00 home and save $8.00. This is, of course, in addition to the feed, clothing, medical attention and training all members of the corps receive.

J. S. Murchinson, Executive director of the State department of Public Welfare, Austin, says there is a great need for applications for the CCC. Texas is being called upon for over 3000 new men this month and every boy who desires to make application should do so at once, the enrollment will be on February 20 at the local office.

"There are 8,000 Texas boys in the corps now," said Mr. Murchinson. "This is the smallest number in the nine years of its existence but we are glad that there is so much employment in Texas that these boys must remain at home. However, the training in National defense work is being increased in all camps and our boys are leaving camps to take good jobs in civil employment every month—our cooks, bakers, truck and tractor drivers are especially in great demand."

Home Blackouts May Be Made Inexpensive

COLLEGE STATION, Feb. 20.—Homemakers who plan carefully and use materials they have on hand can blackout their homes with practically no expense.

That's the news from Mrs. Bernice Clayton, Extension Service specialist in home improvement, who says its a good idea to be prepared, even if blackouts never are necessary. The first pointer is: Make use of materials already on hand. Such things as blankets, quilts, bedspreads, rugs, carpets, slip covers, or dark oil cloth may be adequate. Test the material selected by holding it before an electric bulb; make certain it admits no light. Then when the material is hung, send someone outside to see if any cracks of light shine through.

Cloth used in blackout curtaining need not be black, Mrs. Clayton says, but dark materials screen the light best. Dark blue, dark green, very dark brown, or dark red is acceptable. Materials of other colors—unless they're too heavy—may be dyed.

It's not necessary to blackout the entire house, so one room or two that is safest should be selected. In hanging the blackout curtains, try to take care of your need for ventilation. British families have learned that often it's necessary to leave windows open, particularly on warm nights. This means curtains must be heavy enough not to blow and expose light or they should be securely fastened above and below the windows.

All effective black-out curtains—whether they're new or made over—must come four to six inches above the glass and hang at least six inches below the sill. Allow one and one-half times the width of the window for fullness, the specialist advises. A lightweight frame fitting into each window offers one solution. It can be covered with heavy dark paper, oil cloth, or several layers of old sheeting dyed black. These can be slipped into windows in a hurry.

Foods I Class Substitutes For Sugar

The first year girls have been supplementing Karo for sugar in dried fruit. They found that in substituting honey for sugar use 3-4 as much honey as sugar and measure the flour scant. In cooking 1 cup raisins add 1-2 tablespoons Karo or 4 tablespoons sugar. In 1 cup dried apples add 4 tablespoons Karo and the same amount of sugar. In fresh apples for applesauce, add 2 tablespoons sugar. In 1 cup dried apricots add 4 t. sugar or 6 t. Karo. To 8 dried prunes add 2 t. Karo or 1 t. sugar. They also found when the Karo is added to the raisins instead of sugar they are much shinier. The fruit is just as good sweetened with Karo as with sugar. This week the first year girls are making biscuits.

If You Weren't You Whom Would You Like To Be?

As the reporter approached students and faculty members with the query, "If you weren't you, who would you like to be?" These people confessed their cherished heart's desire: Lajuana Jo Sharp: "Hedy Lamaar, because she has black hair." Maurine Medlen: "A boy of twenty, so I could get in the naval air corp." Betty Jean Spence: "The writer of the 'Gossip' column, so I could get even with some people." Evelyn Elliott: "Lana Turner, because I want to be a blonde." Arla Vee Bishop: "A Red Cross nurse, so I could help win the war." Le Roy Chowning: "A high school football coach." Mr. Barber: "A young boy." Macyl Boteler: "General Douglas MacArthur, so I could help set the sun." Floy Jean Hale: "Tarzan, because I would like to swing through the air." Gene Arwine: "Colon P. Kelly, Jr., so I could go to West Point." James T. Bishop: "A private under MacArthur, so I could help win the war." Joseph Looney: "Joe Rushing, because, well just because." Billy Wester: "Red Skelton, Jr. I would tell why but it would only lead to bloodshed." Gene Collins: "Lt. Harry Brown because he shot down four Jap planes." Merle Wood: "George Washington because he helped improve the government." Foy Senn: "Anyone except Mussolini, I don't want to be Hitler's foot stool." Oran Beck: "President Roosevelt. He is going down in history as one of the greatest men of all times." Roy Baxter: "Abraham Lincoln because he was a common man who worked from nothing to the highest honor in the United States." Harold Sparks: "Adolph Hitler, so I could commit suicide, thereby doing the rest of the world a favor." James Lovell: "Tommie Harmon, because of his outstanding ability in football." Melvin Hollums: "General MacArthur, because I have always wanted to be an army general." Bill Conway: "Coach Murry." L. W. Bridges, Jr.: "General MacArthur, because he is putting up a brave battle against the Japs." Jimmie Tye: "Coach Kelly, because he's going to the navy."

GRAY PRESENTS ANDREWS WARD ASSEMBLY

Mr. Erman Gay, F. H. S. bandmaster, was the feature in assembly at Andrews Ward last Thursday for the eighth grade, sponsored by Mr. Howard Amick. Mr. Gray gave impersonations of a boy who could play only "Auld Lang Syne." He played it as the boy would play it at school, as he would play a waltz and a jitterbug dance, and as he would play a march. He played a medley of patriotic numbers on the marimba. He also played "Home on the Range," "Under the Double Eagle," and "New San Antonio Rose."

WARD SCHOOL NEWS
The Jr. Red Cross is covering 130 Brailled Easter cards for the blind children of Austin. The Sand Hill school is cooperating with the Floydada Ward school on this project. The cards were sent here from the Jr. Red Cross headquarters at St. Louis, Missouri.
Defense stamp sales at Ward school last week were $57.75, which made a total of $393.95 this year.
Miss Miller, Miss Swepston, Miss Copeland, Mrs. Owen, Miss Cumble, Mr. Barber, Miss Hall, Miss Elliott, Mr. Linder, Mr. Travis are the F. H. S. teachers, besides Coaches Murry and Kelly, who were present at the Muleshoe game.
Georgia Ann Huckabee has been absent from school for several days on the account of illness.

The Whirlwinds of Floydada whirled around the Yellowjackets of Muleshoe, and their heel dust got into the eyes of the Yellowjackets so badly that they couldn't see how to hit the goal. They clinched a chance for the Whirlwinds to play for the regional championship. The Whirlwinds of F. H. S. took all the sting out of the Yellowjackets by a 38-23 score.
The game was played in the Muleshoe gymnasium February 19.
The Winds will play the Lakeview team from Hall county, which beat Hereford for bi-district by a 34-22 score, for the regional championship. The winner of this series goes to Austin to compete for the state championship.
"Bill" Conway, the boy with the winning personality, capitalized on eight field goals and three free tosses, a total of 19 personal points.
"Bud" Dubois, who is usually the "hot shot" of the team, had an off night against the Muleshoe team. "Bud" only scored four points, and these were the result of charity tosses.

Nosey Reporter

What would the world be without lovers? What would the world be without songs? Both of them go hand in hand to make up the presiding element in F. H. S.
And while we are on the subject of romance, there are the moon and the stars to be reckoned with. George Allen finally found the house with the moon and the stars in it, but, "Where Do We go from here?" he wails.
James Lovell and Faye Nell Ginn are hitting it off together. "How long has this been going on?" Ruth Webb's heart doesn't "Belong to Daddy," or any of the boys around F. H. S. any more. East Texas is the object of her interest! Francis Bishop is really "Blue" since she heard from Noel Head, who is at San Antonio.
Special! Here's something that no song could equal. Cageline Carmack and Carlton Farver have just been seen in the halls one time when they were not holding hands! Some record, yes?
Roy Baxter sings "I'll be around tonight in a taxi, honey," because he has a date with Lajuana Jo Sharp.
These Floydada boys may not all be good looking, but Peggy Ann, "What's the reason, they're not pleasing you?"
Why does Leona Parrish always say "Be honest with me, Dear" to Duane Burrows? We always thought Duane was pretty honest.
Oleta Norris was "Lonesome and blue" Sunday because someone did not go to see her.
Something of a "Lover's Quarrel" seems to have come between George Allen and Maudene Moore. They are not seen in the halls together and they don't sit together in commercial geography any more.
Dewey Parkey "Don't want to set the World on Fire," but he hopes to start a flame in Charlene Pulkerston's heart. She lives at Sand Hill.
"Will you be my Valentine?" This inscription was seen all over the place last week. Neoma Burgett and Allie Belle Baker got their Valentines in the form of candy—big boxes of it!
Thulia Moore was riding "Around Town" with a strange boy Sunday evening. Who was he? Several people would like to know.
"I gotta Sunday Man," says Betty Jo Dillard. From all accounts, he's plenty cute, too.
Quote: (from Dora Faye Lackey) "There's a city called Heaven." Population of two.
Just me and an angel.
Who looks very much like "Jack Craft."
That to you might not appear to rhyme, out it does! At least it does for Dora Faye.
"Dear Maudene, our tires aren't new," sang a very handsome boy to Maudene Moore when he was explaining the reason he didn't make it to her house Saturday night.
Robert Conner sings "I Got it bad and that ain't Good," because Merle has told him "Good-bye."
Betty Jean Spence, was Bryan Meredith's "Sunday Girl" last Sunday. From all reports she did a good job of it, too.
The moon must have gotten in D. I. Bolding's eyes because he strains them every day during the sixth period algebra class, watching for Betty Yearwood to come from her music lessons.
Well, well! Somebody tried to hold out on me! But since I am pretty good at putting jig-saw puzzles together, I managed to put this note "Together Again," and find out something. This is what the note said, "Bill Ferguson just can't seem to get along with these Starkey girls. Bobbie Diggs might explain something to him." Buck up, Bill, you might win yet.
"I'm jealous of You," Edgar Owens seemed to croon Saturday night because Helen Hinsley was with the other admirer.
"I'm in Love with You." This beautiful sentence is a symbol of the feeling Harold Bertrand and Mary Jackson (Lakeview girl) feel for each other.

John Velmar, Fireman
The Floydada High school group of volunteer firemen have officially joined the fire fighting squad. There were two boys, besides the high school group, who joined.
The boys are to help fight fires and to help during an air raid. The boys meet the first Monday in every month to discuss new matters. The boys drill the first and second Sundays in every month.

The boys who joined were Herschell Hinson, Gene Loran, Bryan Collins, Thomas Flynn Thagard, Kenneth Hodze, James Thurmond Bishop, De Winn Fyffe, Harold Sparks, Kenneth D. Johnson and Burl Hatley.
The department needs five more members to make a complete group of fifteen.

le Ruth Love certainly were "Having a Time" in Ginn's car last Sunday.

Personal to Miss Flora Jeter: You can't say you're "Nobody's Baby" now. You'll admit it too if you'll be "Honest With Us."

Who was it that turned out the lights "All Through the Night" at Floy Jean's last Friday night?

The very least we can say is that Floy Jean didn't get tired dancing at Dorothy's party Saturday night.

A number of the girls had those "Chewing Blues" at the party after Wayne passed out his "tobacco." When they started for the door everyone made way for them without argument.

Cubert Gray wasn't writing "Love Letters in the Sand" in the seventh period typing Monday afternoon; but after all, they are just as sweet written on paper.

Why don't Gene and Florence "Kiss and Makeup" and quit this silly quarreling?

We just heard Topsy say that she wished the "Chattanooga Choo-choo" would choo-choo a certain blond NTSTC student home to her.

Why is someone addressing letters to "Sophie" McLain with a "Mrs." on them? This must be something we don't know about, after all, "Mr. and Mrs. Is a Name."

Wayland said it was all over, but "Deep in the Heart of Wayland" we think there is still a spark of feeling for a certain little brunette, perhaps a little "Old-Fashioned Love."

Who is it that says, "Tonight We Love," what do we do tomorrow night?

We don't know about you yonder, but there surely are a lot of names missing "When the Roll is Called Down Here."

There is a song ringing in the happy hearts of a good many high school girls these days. It goes something like this, "California, Here I Come."

We wonder if Ovelene told her parents that "I Won't Be Home Until Morning" when she took the car and went to Amarillo. She should have anyway.

Part of the time Herschell sings, "I'll Never Love Again" and the rest of the time he sings "They All Come Back to me Somehow."
Something besides "Chopsticks," Floy Jean, if only you would learn something besides "Chopsticks."
It made us very happy to learn that the boys read the gossip column too, at least Virgil Boteler does, but then perhaps he is looking for something special in it. Have we missed anything, Virgil?
It looks like "Goodbye Now." Until next week, we remain your local correspondent,
The Nosey Reporter.

Margaret Camden, Mary Frances Jones, Josephine Britton, Thelma Doyle, Bill Ferguson and Robert Warren were students who went to Muleshoe to see the basketball game there.

Grafting peach stock has been the problem under consideration this past week by the first year Ag. boys. After studying the procedure in grafting peaches the boys will make a field trip to graft some peach trees for one of the nearby farmers.
Peaches should be grafted before the sap starts to rise and grafting that is done should be done soon.
Most of the wood working projects in the farm shop contest are being completed this week.
The first call for those who plan to attend the Fort Worth Fat Stock show was given Wednesday.

CLASS GETS FARM SHOP

The Vocational Agriculture students of Floydada High school are really turning carpenters. The department has purchased an entire farm shop, including forge, anvil, chain hoist, saws, hammers, chisels and all other tools that make up farm shop equipment.
Mr. Barber is a skilled craftsman in farm shop work and he is passing his knowledge on to the Future Farmers of Floyd county.

All the aggies are building useful equipment for the farm and then putting the new tools into practical use.
Some of the outstanding things they have constructed are an electric chicken brooder, a clothes closet, hog self feeders, cabinets of different kinds, desk and chest of drawers.

PRESENTS PLAY IN ASSEMBLY

The agriculture classes, sponsored by Mr. H. G. Barber, presented the play "Mail Order Brides" in assembly Wednesday, February 25.
The play was directed by Henry Martin. The characters were Wendell Johnston, Henry Martin, Frank Jeter, Harold Norrell, Margaret Camden and Fay Nell Ginn.

As They Saw The Whirlwinds Win From Muleshoe

There are fourteen teachers and a superintendent in Floydada High school. Of this number twelve of them attended the Muleshoe-Floydada game in Muleshoe Thursday night. They chartered a special bus for the players and teachers.
When asked how they saw and liked the game this reporter got the following answers.

Supt. Travis: It was one of the best games I have seen this year. "Boy," it was a "hum-dinger."

Coach Kelley: It was too close for comfort until the fourth quarter; then we started playing ball.

Miss Copeland: It nearly killed me. I sure would hate to go through another like it. My throat is nearly ruined.

Mr. Barber: It was what you would call a "killer-diller." It was a very hard and clean fought game.

Mrs. Owen: It was a wonderful game, although I nearly lost my heart in the third quarter because the score was too close.

Miss Miller: It was the fastest game I have seen in a long time. I haven't been able to talk since because I yelled so much.

Miss Swepston: I think it was one of the best games I have ever seen. It was really good.

Band To Attend Littlefield Annual Clinic

The F. H. S. band is planning to attend the annual pre-contest clinic to be conducted by Col. Earl D. Irons, head band director at North Texas Ag. college, in Levelland, Texas, Friday, Feb. 27.

A radio broadcast is to be made by the massed band at 4:30 over KPFO Lubbock, and a street parade is to be held from 1:15 to 2.

Medals will be awarded to recommended players in each section, and inspection and correction sheets will be given each band after the street parade. These sheets will help the bands in preparing for the spring contest.

Col. Irons will conduct the bands in contest music, giving helpful instruction to various sections. The massed band will play class B and C contest music as well as several marches. Those already selected are "His Honor," "Our Director," "American Legion," "The Booster," and "Them Basses."

The massed band will give a short program for the Levelland High school from 11:40 to 12:10. The band masters will hold a short session late in the afternoon and select their best players for a band to play the difficult numbers in a night workout.

Cornet demonstrations are to be made by Col. Irons and Ralph King. Col. Irons will probably play and discuss his own solos.

A drum major and majorette team will be heard from 5:30 to 6.

Home Ec Teaches Health Habits

"Since the individual's health is so important to the needs of the allies at this time, it is most important that each of us keep healthy. The following theme was one written by a first year foods student. It was written by Lila Jo Smith, who is one of our freshmen, and is also a shining example of good health. Evidently Lila Jo practices what she preaches. We wish all students and patrons would do the same.
It is as important to remain in good health at is to know how to set up fortifications."
HEALTHY PEOPLE

When looking for the good points of a healthy person you will find their bones well made, their weight correct, plenty of energy, good appetite, good eyesight, sound teeth, healthy teeth, and clear skin. Healthy people are not ill very often and resist common diseases well. Their food is easily digested which helps toward good health.

You know now the good points of a healthy person so you must also know how to preserve them. The most important thing toward good health is what kind of food you eat and how much. There are some food habits that help to govern eating: Do not eat too many sweets or too much of one thing, do not eat between meals, do not eat fats or rich foods at night, do not drink after any one, eat three well balanced meals each day, eat slowly and regularly and do not go to bed immediately after eating. Some other habits that are not considered as food habits are: Do not expose yourself to diseases, never over eat, keep healthy hair, brush, comb and Everyone helps defend a nation and the best thing we can do is to keep ourselves fit. You know that a person who is weak and run-down can do no work or anything else.

During the other World War there was an epidemic of the flu in which many soldiers lost their lives. We do not know where or how this started but some person, unthoughtful, exposed himself too much and thus the flu started which spread on to the soldiers.
None of us want this to happen again, so let us all do our part and stay healthy.

Speaker Says Life Cannot Be Defined

"You cannot put your finger on life! There is no definite meaning of life," says Reverend R. L. Davidson in assembly Wednesday, February 18.

Reverend Davidson continued his explanation by saying that Webster's definition of life, "animated existence" was incorrect. Some things which do not move and which cannot be seen, have life. The acts of the Apostles beginning with the twenty-fourth verse are the best definition for life, explained Reverend Davidson.

Reverend J. G. Malphurs, pastor of the City Park Church of Christ, introduced the speaker, who is holding a meeting there this week.

Reverend Davidson has had ten years of experience in teaching young people; therefore he knew what to say to the students.

Mrs. Lula B. Owen attended the District meeting of high school English teachers held in Amarillo Saturday morning. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the series of books that have been recommended by the state committee for adoption in schools for the coming year.

Mildred Woods from Lockney enrolled in F. H. S. last Monday. She is the daughter of Roy E. Woods and she is 15 years of age and a junior.

Ila Marie Battey is absent from school because of measles.

Planting Castor Beans In Floyd For Seed Crop

Floyd county has been designated among twenty-four counties in Texas to plant 3,000 acres of castor beans so seed may be available for planting in 1943, according to Jason O. Gordon, County Agricultural agent. The acreage approved by Floyd county AAA Committee to be planted this year is 50 acres.

Under the plan, AAA will furnish seed free provided one per cent of the crop is returned this fall. Farmers also must agree to carry out approved cultural practices, provide proper storage facilities, and deliver castor beans to designated places or the thrasher.

Commodity Credit corporation will purchase castor beans in the hull with prices contingent upon shelling percentage. Prices will range from $1.29 per 100 pounds for beans shelling 75 percent, to $3.71 per 100 pounds for 65 percent shelling. CCC will also provide three threshing machines to be located at strategic places in the state.

During the last four or five years a renewed interest has developed in the promotion of the castor bean industry for the production of drying oil for paints, varnishes, and lacquers, and for certain insecticides. Another reason is the present demand for castor oil for national defense, especially in the navy for making water-proof paints and for use in the recoil mechanism of naval guns.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment station at Lubbock, in a three year test, 1939-41, reports certain varieties of castor beans will produce satisfactory yields under irrigation and dry land practices. Flowering and U.S.D.A. No. 4 and 7 have been the best yielding varieties both under irrigation and dry land farming.

Under irrigation, flowering produced an average yield of 1378 pounds of seed per acre; U.S.D.A. No. 7, 1147 pounds; and U.S.D.A. No. 4, 1111 pounds. Where irrigation was not used, the flowering variety made an average yield of 836 pounds per acre; U.S.D.A. No. 4, 536 pounds; and U.S.D.A. No. 7, 445 pounds.

Available information indicates the castor beans should be planted in regular 40-inch rows with a spacing of as near 24 inches between plants as possible.

Most varieties of castor beans make considerable vegetative growth, bloom, set fruit, and mature seed during a greater part of the growing season. In most of the present varieties the seed pop out, or shatter, as the mature plants makes it necessary to harvest the seed by hand at frequent intervals to prevent loss of some of the seed.

GARAGE TO PINCH HIT FOR VILLAGE SMITHY

With so many automobiles at rest much of the time, many garages will find their usual work curtailed. However, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture, garages, particularly those in the country, are likely to pick up much general repair work for farmers and others. Garage mechanics may be called on to exercise ingenuity in making parts normally supplied through other channels.

Because of a shortage of many common items in the home it will be necessary to improvise substitutes from pieces of metal and discarded parts. The variety of things that can be made in garages, particularly where there is a forge, is almost endless. The Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering mentions such things as gate and door hinges, latches, braces, brackets and rings.

The oldtime blacksmith shop has practically disappeared, what with the reduction in number of horses and mules and the concentration of much of the farm repair work in larger towns, but the garage promises to be a good substitute in the war emergency. The anticipated shift will provide welcome work for mechanics and will be a blessing for the farmer and householder.

FREEZING TENDERIZES STEAKS

Ageing a thick beefsteak for 35 days at a temperature just above freezing makes it more tender. The steak will be equally tender if it is ripened for only 5 days and then frozen at 10 degrees F., the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

The steak aged for 35 days will be even more tender if it is then frozen at 10 degrees F.

When frozen at the higher temperature of 20 degrees F., after aging for 25 to 35 days, steaks were almost as tender as those frozen at 10 degrees F.

However, the longer the ripening period, the greater the chance of spoilage organisms affecting the quality of the meat.

The Department results suggest the use of the combination of aging not to exceed 15 days at 340 F., followed by freezing at 10 degrees F., for beef cut about 1.5 inches thick. Freezer locker patrons do not always have access to temperatures below zero.

But to improve tenderness they can first age their beef at about 340 degrees F., and then freeze it at the lowest available temperature. The meat should then be wrapped in moisture-vapor-proof paper for storing.

BIG QUAIL CROP

The State Game Department says that several things have contributed to this year's big quail crop in Texas. Heading the list is the excellent rainfall that fell all over the State in the early months of the year. The rainfall stimulated a growth of quail food plants, and other plants that the quail use for cover or shelter. It also provided plenty of drinking water for the birds.

William Summers, of Trenton, (Fannin county), received the highest award available when he was presented the American Farmer degree at the Future Farmers of America Convention in Kansas City October 19 to 23. Summers already holds the Lone Star degree, the highest available in Texas.

Texas farmers pay more than $56,000,000 a year for hired help and their annual expenditures for feed for animals and poultry are in excess of $39,000,000. Annual expenditures of Texas farmers for implements and machinery are more than $3,000,000 while they spend over $23,000,000 a year for gasoline, kerosene and oil, according to U. S. Department of Commerce census bureau.

While average weights of fleeces shorn in all sheep-producing States except Texas was higher this year than the 10-year average, the Texas clip recorded a drop of 6 pounds per sheep, according to figures of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Marketing Service. A possible explanation is that in computing Texas fleece weights lamb clips are included with grown wool.

ATTENTION! USERS and WOULD BE USERS of BUTANE-PROPANE GAS and APPLIANCES, RANGES, HEATERS, REFRIGERATORS and HOT WATER HEATERS.

The purpose of this information is to give those who are using it, and also to the general public, some facts about this wonderful fuel, which is so near perfect, that the whole U. S. A. from MAINE to CALIFORNIA has accepted it fully and the industry has now become one of the greatest in America.

WHAT IS BUTANE? WHAT IS PROPANE? WHAT IS IT MADE OF?

Practically everywhere you see it being used down South, except where it is being used in factories, BUTANE is in fact, two separate and distinct fuels in one container, cylinders, truck tanks and underground or above ground tanks—namely, BUTANE and PROPANE. BOTH ARE TWO OF ABOUT EIGHT OR TEN DIFFERENT GASES DERIVED FROM OIL WELLS. Hence it is a by-product of each and every oil well that has ever been discovered, but has to be separated and refined. Certain districts refine it and distribute it while most of it is burned up in the open oil fields as waste.

It is very plentiful in its raw state, and it is very cheap to produce, but owing to its properties, the equipment conveying and distributing it, makes it more or less expensive to get it to users. BUTANE: in refining the raw gas, at one temperature and pressure, BUTANE is collected. It is about 3 1/2 times hotter than the best natural gas, and is by far the dominating fuel in Texas.

PROPANE is distilled off from the same raw material at a different temperature. It is not quite so hot, but much more powerful in pressures. Each has definite characteristics. BUTANE has the peculiarity of failing to create usable gas, when the weather is colder than 28 or lower degrees of temperature (liquefies after having made gas), while PROPANE will continue to make usable gas down to near 40 degrees below freezing temperatures. BOTH GASES ARE LIQUID UNDER 25 POUNDS OF PRESSURE. It is easily controlled in reserve storage tanks at the refinery, tank trucks, cylinders, etc., because it is stored under this pressure. But when a valve on an appliance takes the pressure off, then pure dry gas is already formed to be used. SUMMER GAS, is from 85 to 87 per cent BUTANE to 13 to 15 per cent PROPANE, to make 100 per cent fill. IT DOES NOT MIX. The theory is to boost the BUTANE GAS by PROPANE GAS to make the gas work in coldest weather, but in reality, when it gets too cold for the BUTANE to "WORK," the PROPANE works all the time. WINTER GAS, more PROPANE is added, about 40 per cent BUTANE is used. The mix is done at the refinery and is the same price to dealer, whether it is light weight or heavy weight. It should cost the consumer no more for WINTER GAS nor less for SUMMER GAS. NO ONE HAS TO PAY EXTRA TO GET WINTER GAS over Summer gas. HOWEVER, if straight 100 per cent fill is PROPANE, then it is higher.

When you are informed by any one that they are giving you WINTER GAS AND HAVE TO CHARGE YOU MORE FOR IT, make them prove that it is 100 per cent PROPANE, for any other mixture is the same price at the refinery, the place of distribution, whether in underground tanks or cylinders or drums, whether it is winter gas or summer gas.

NOW, if you are using a light mixture of Propane and a heavy mixture of BUTANE, if the cold weather gets down around 20 to 10 degrees above zero, the BUTANE in the mixture just quits making gas (quits boiling), while the PROPANE keeps boiling until it gets around 40 to 44 degrees below zero, when it, too, quits boiling or making gas. So, after the BUTANE quits, the Propane keeps on boiling, like water in a teakettle, it ALL boils out, leaving nothing but BUTANE in the cylinder, and it is too cold to work. Therefore, one may have from one to six or more gallons in a cylinder when it completely cuts out.

No one can exactly tell you when it will all burn out 100 per cent in the winter months, but if you got your last fill from us, you will absolutely lose nothing, for we will weigh it, give you credit for what is left in your cylinder and apply it on the one furnished.

REMEMBER, that we maintain our own supply truck tanks and drive out to your home and fill your underground tanks at the lowest possible price per gallon (now 5 1/2¢ per gallon), but you must bring in your cylinders for refill. We fill 100 pound cylinders for $2.40 each. You rarely have to wait more than 10 minutes, as we have cylinders already filled waiting for you.

Why pay more for the same gas that we furnish you fresh from the best refinery of BUTANE-PROPANE for only $2.40 per cylinder?

REMEMBER, BUTANE-PROPANE, any combination allowed by law, costs the dealer the same, and should cost the consumer the same, whether WINTER OR SUMMER. BUT STRAIGHT PROPANE IS HIGHER. DON'T BE FOOLED.

NOTICE — We have plenty of 100% Propane available at only $2.40 per cylinder. We Guarantee complete vaporization — It's the Best you can buy!

WE SUGGEST THAT ALL INTERESTED CUT THIS ADVERTISEMENT OUT AND KEEP IT FOR REFERENCE.

Help Of Car Owners Is Sought To Avoid Bottle Neck In Issuing Title Certificates

AUSTIN, February 20. — Due to the defense emergency and the necessity for maintaining defense and civilian highway travel, the Texas Highway commission has accepted procedures to avoid a serious bottleneck in registering motor vehicles for 1942 caused by the requirement that all motor vehicle owners must have a certificate of title to the vehicle before the tax assessor-collector may issue new plates.

The commission requested county tax collectors to accept applications for 1942 registrations and issue plates where the applicant can show he has previously applied for a certificate of title but which has not been received because of delays encountered in their issuance. Tax collectors also were requested to issue plates if the applicant for registration presents a certificate of title which has been properly assigned to him, surrenders the assigned title and simultaneously makes application for a new title in his own name.

Swamped With Applications
The law requires motor vehicle owners to have had a Texas certificate of title to their vehicle prior to January 1, 1942. Since its passage thousands of persons have come to Texas to work in defense industries and are not familiar with the requirements of the state certificate of title law. Additional thousands of Texans have entered the armed forces, leaving their vehicles in custody of wives or relatives. Many thousands of Texas motorists simply failed to file their applications for certificates of title in time for them to be cleared speedily and the Certificate of Title Division is swamped with applications.

The commission pointed out that thousands of persons were using their vehicles in transporting themselves and others to work in defense construction projects and in defense plant industries and that it was imperative that the operation of such vehicles be maintained without interruption in the interest of national defense. The commission also acted so that necessary civilian travel could be maintained with a minimum of inconvenience and interference.

"As a result of this national emergency, it has become necessary for all of us to make many adjustments in our personal, business and civil lives and now more than ever common sense interpretation are enforcement of our laws has become a vital necessity," the commission stated.

Out-of-State Titles
Tax collectors were advised to issue registration papers to out-of-state owners, provided the out-of-state title is surrounded with the application for a Texas certificate of title. In cases where the out-of-state title is in possession of a lien holder it will be necessary for the Texas applicant to obtain this out-of-state title and surrender it at the time he applies for a title in Texas. If the out-of-state lien holder declines to surrender this title, it was suggested that an application for Texas title be properly filed out recording the lien and then mailed to the out-of-state lien holder so he may attach the out-of-state title and return all the papers direct to the county tax collector.

A registration receipt from a state having a certificate of title law similar to the law in effect in Texas will not be sufficient evidence of ownership. Owners seeking to register vehicles from states that do not have a certificate of title law must present satisfactory evidence of ownership.

In cases where vehicle owners now are serving with the armed forces and the civilian custodian does not have the certificate of title in his possession, the department, upon request, will write the custodian a letter giving the latest title record on the vehicle which will be sufficient evidence on which the county tax collector may re-register the vehicle in the name of the titleholder.

Asks Public Co-operation
The commission statement emphasized that every effort was being made to expedite issuance of certificates of title by the state and pleaded for public co-operation. The Certificate of Title division has been manned to capacity and is being operated day and night to speed title clearances. A large portion of the delay resulted from the tremendous volume of work on hand at the time the issuance of certificates of title was made the responsibility of the Highway Department. Additional confusion resulted when thousands of last-minute applications were filed. Motor vehicle owners can cooperate in solving the problem by filing their applications promptly and properly with the tax collector of the county in which they reside so that all titles may be cleared between now and the final date for registration of vehicles for 1942, this date being April 1. Administrative officers emphasized the necessity for the applicant to give an address at which mail can be delivered since the final certificate is transmitted through the mails from Austin and approximately 50,000 certificates have been returned because of an incorrect address or because the government does not deliver mail at the address given.

Quitting Time?

... Not for Us

QUITTING time doesn't mean a thing to your Electrical Company. Twenty-four hours a day, every day of the year, it brings better living to thousands of homes at the snap of a switch. It serves equally in industry, working as one of the most versatile tools ever given man's hand.

In this time of stress, when our whole country is devoted to production, we in the Electrical Industry are proud of the part Electricity is playing in making this land of ours a safer place for democracy. We are proud, too, that we were not found wanting when we were called on to serve.

No quitting time for the buying of U. S. Defense Bonds, either!

Registering was handled by the board with the assistance of volunteers to man both the Floydada and the Lockney offices, and was accomplished with little delay and no undue inconvenience to either registrars or registrants.

Owing to recent changes in the method of handling the third registration, details of which have not been completed, lists showing names and addresses of registrants will probably be delayed, it was indicated this week. As soon as possible, the list will be posted, no doubt, as they were in former registrations.

The local board is very appreciative of the fine co-operation of the volunteer registrars, and of many volunteers who offered to help but who were not needed. Borrowed typewriters and desks were brought into use and made the job an easier one all the way around.

Lottery on March 17
From Washington the report was given out the first of the week that the goldfish bowl used in all other previous selective service lotteries would be put into service again on March 17, when the third registration names will be given order numbers for induction into service.

CARE ESSENTIAL IN FILLING SILO

Most effective results in avoiding spoiled silage are obtained by taking proper precautions in silo construction and by harvesting the silage crop at the right period.

In general, silage spoils because it comes in contact with air after it is placed in the silo. Defects in silo construction, use of material which is too dry to pack well in the silo, and too much speed in filling or too little tramping of the material are the chief agencies that permit air to ruin the silage.

Every type of silo whether it be a permanent upright type, a temporary fence structure, or a trench below ground surface can be built to preserve silage effectively if the material placed in the silo is moist enough to pack well or if water enough is added to permit thorough packing of drier material. The rule of thumb method for determining the correct moisture content for plants going into a silo is that it should be possible to press or wring water from the chopped material. If that cannot be done, water should be added. Plants with 60 to 75 per cent moisture are at the right stage for silage. Materials placed in the silo while too green may result in considerable losses of juice and produce silage which is unpalatable to livestock.

The spoilage of silage at the top of an above-ground silo or at the end of a trench silo cannot be avoided entirely without prohibitive cost. Repacking at intervals of a few days after the silo is filled or putting chopped, wet straw or other material on top of the silage will reduce the loss.

Considerable silage is lost while the silo is being emptied because too great an area of surface is exposed in feeding. This loss can be reduced by feeding from half the area of a surface silo at a time or by taking a slice only a few inches thick from the end of a trench silo.

MAIL FOR BOYS IN ARMY

Many letters improperly addressed to boys in the army and navy go astray, said Sam Berry, superintendent of mails, at Dallas. To facilitate delivery, all mail should carry the name and rank of the addressee, whether a private or an officer, name of his company, name of the post and its location.

KEEP WOOD DRY TO PREVENT WARP

Bulged table tops, sticking wooden drawers, and warped ironing boards are familiar household problems in summer. Wood experts of the Forest Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture explain that, in hot humid weather, raw wood swells from absorbing moisture from the air. To help prevent this trouble, close the pores of the wood with a coat of varnish, or other moisture-resistant finish while the wood is dry—it isn't a job for a rainy day. Apply spare varnish to all sides of drawers inside and out and to the underside of tables that have been left unfinished. Wooden ironing boards are especially likely to warp from the moisture—aggravated by the heat of ironing. Cover all sides of the well dried board with phenolic resin varnish before padding.

KANSAS WEATHER

A recent national health survey discloses that Kansas is just about the most healthful state in the union. It is one of the first three in the longevity of women and among the first six in longevity of men. The survey discloses that Kansas has fewer communicable diseases, such as tuberculosis, than most any other state. And the reason ascribed, according to experts is the Kansas weather. Midsummer sun provides health-giving ultraviolet rays, say the experts, and there is midsummer sun in Kansas as in few places elsewhere.
