Thirteen Trainees Go to Camp

Thirteen Floyd county men are leaving this morning for military service, instructed to report to the local board to be sent to the Lubbock induction station.

Thurmon Brown Thomas, Sidney Reeves, Manard Andrew Harris, Arthur Lewis Nigh, all of Lockney;

Leo Herschel Hand, Hershel Swepston, G. H. Hall, William L. V. Hale, John Samuel Hale, Lonnie Pope, Louis Earl Boothe, Cecil Edmund Queen, Willie Edgar Bell, all of Floydada.

Included in the call also are Lynn Warren McCaugh, Dale Wesley McCaugh and Benjamin Anton Cook of Lockney, and Lester Lee Malloy of Floydada, who have asked for transfer to other places, where they are working, for induction.

The several thousand dollars worth of quarters for Civilian Conservation workers were emptied early in the year, with the announcement that the men were being transferred to other points.

Since that time only a guard and watchman have been maintained at the camp here. It was not indicated to city officials what the plans of the army are when the request for renewal was made.

Request for the renewal of the lease was presented in the regular session of the City council Tuesday night and was promptly granted.

J. W. Harrison Among Missing Of 131st F. A.

James Walter Harrison is one of 26 Hale and Floyd county boys who were members of the 131st Field artillery, serving in Java at the time of the final capitulation of United Nations forces there...

This is the news this week given to Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrison, of Lakeview, parents of the Floyd county man, by the War department.

Harrison sailed for the Pacific outposts with other members of the plains contingent last fall and the outfit went into the Java campaign when the United Nations were attempting to hold back the Japanese invasion force that finally swept out all opposition from Singapore and the Malayan Straits area.

Harrison entered service in early 1941 as a member of the Texas National guard and was trained at Camp Bowie. All of Battery A, however, did not go to the Pacific area, the outfit being split up when troop movements began.

It is assumed that J. W. has been a prisoner since in March when the Java campaign ended disastrously. However, his relatives here had not heard from him in some weeks at the time of the fall of the Dutch possession.

Information which the relatives may receive will have to come in a round about way. The International Red Cross, with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland, is the only agency available for this purpose.

According to convention this organization obtains and exchanges information as to prisoners of war between the warring nations.

Since practically all of the wheat will go "into the loan" little attention is being paid to the market.

A cursory survey of farm storage facilities in the section indicates that many wheat men are anticipating the possibility that their crops cannot go direct from the farm to the elevator.

Managers of the elevators are warning their customers that while they will make every effort to handle the crop, they "may get in a jam" for space at the terminal points.

When that happens, they say, railroads are going to refuse to permit loading and the elevators will fill up in rapid fire order.

There are plenty of things to gripe about as to the conduct of the war and especially the way the satellites who run the bureaus take it upon themselves to push the folks around, but all in all the war is being handled magnificently, better than a war ever before was handled in a democracy. True, some of the smart, wealthy ones have sons in the society division of the navy, and there is some unhappiness over the way this and that segment of the population is taking advantage of conditions. But there are no scandals like in Civil War times and there are fewer that you would think who are being made into millionaires for us all to despise after the war is over; also, all in all, the Selective service is working good so that every family contributes according to its manpower. And the way the men on the fronts of the worldwide conflict are handling themselves is most magnificent, so every report shows. Our 1942 boys are carrying on the tradition that has come down to them from the Revolution, from the Civil war, from Spanish-American days and from their fathers who fought World War I.

While we complain of the thousands who are working to get themselves good, soft spots in Washington and around we must remember there are tens of thousands who are working night and day, putting their patriotic best into the war effort. Self-effacing men and women who are working without stint in Washington and elsewhere with the sole idea of winning a war. Few of us out at the grass roots think the rubber situation is being handled right, and fewer still think that sugar rationing is necessary or desirable, but those things, when you get right down to it, are just incidents when compared to the big thing.

One of the things about present-day Washington which vexes us is the cynical, sophisticated manner in which our country's columnists and Washington correspondents are writing about our congressmen and senators. If your reading diet consisted wholly of their filth you'd be ready to believe that your congressman and senator ought to be in a penitentiary or padded cell for safe-keeping. Reading after these gutter delvers you'd think that congress is full of jelly-fish-like, fawning and corrupt men. If you will keep your own congressman in mind when you read this stuff, you'll have a better balance as you go along. You know that you do not have corrupt men representing you in congress, or if you don't know it its your fault because you could have made a change a year and a half ago, or you can make a change this fall. So these gutter-snipers are talking about you when they write the way they do about your representatives in Washington.

These filth-mongers are the people who have the newspaper profession in such low esteem at the White House and in the country in general. They need to be squelched not by passing a law, but by the power of public opinion which would force them to come out in the open with their innuendos and actually prove some of the stuff they write. If what they insinuate is true why not pin it on some congressman and send him to jail or to oblivion and let a good man have his place. Surely out of 150,000 men and women in Congressional District No. 19 there is one incorrupt man who would not fawn before the seat of the mighty. Surely we could find him. And surely the other districts could, too. The fact is most of the special correspondents need a good bath with old-fashioned lye soap, then to be scrubbed with a good stiff horse brush. Then have about twelve months of regular hours and hard work to do. Their minds would clear up wonderfully. They would be good citizens once more and the newspaper profession would begin to regain respect in high places. As it is, it is all the president can do to stomach these self-important muckrakers, and the same goes for the most of the patriotic, hard-working men who make up our congress.

One thing of which gasoline users should be watchful is the careless storage of the fluid in anticipation of a rationing program on which official Washington seems to have its mind set. Such a program would be extremely unpopular and many will attempt to forestall the inconvenience of it by storing. When they do they take an extremely long chance. Gasoline, stored like oil companies handle it, with experienced men and handled in regular facilities, is relatively safe. But gasoline is a dangerous explosive. Kept in make-shift containers, stored in basements and garages, poured from open containers and things of that kind, it presents a serious fire and explosive hazard. Electric sparks, careless smokers must be considered, likewise the fact that gasoline vapor is heavier than air, and may flow along the ground under buildings, into basements, to be ignited and flash back. Furthermore, careless storage can bring cancellation of standard fire policies in Texas. Consider these things before you anticipate the rationing program.

The terminal elevators are telling their customers they are going to prorate their storage space around among their customers who have done business with them before. That, in effect, says that there actually is not enough space for all the wheat and that some of the grain is going to have to be stored by the man who raised it, on his own farm or somewhere else. While there is no doubt that if the shipping situation were not so acute there would be plenty of storage space in America for all the wheat raised, the fact remains that our allies are going on short bread rations while our bins are overflowing. There are so many things to be hauled across the seas at one and the same time that the requirements have to be prorated. The wheat you are raising certainly will be needed, but you are expected to do our part, insofar as you can, by helping provide storage until such time as it can be used.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

The cotton came by a "Scratch" and yesterday we had a good rain. The mocking bird is singing outside the window, but here I sit in bed as useless as an extra sugar bowl. A cold in June is so out of time and place. I have been real sick since I was struck with a chill Saturday evening, but am improving and trying to think of enough to fill my place in the paper.

I like to put green and blue and brown bottles in my windows for the sun to shine through, a leftover from making playhouses when a child. How well I remember the bits of dishes of beautiful colors we so carefully saved and put on a paper-covered tin can or bucket in our play parlor. Especially lovely were the pieces of melted and twisted glass. The more common earthen bits were covered by shiny tinfoil. What a grand piano a five gallon tin can made. And what music it tinkled out as the sun sank in the west and the first star peeped out. Gone are the playhouses of yore. Gone with the long queer dresses of brown checked gingham, a color particularly selected for wearing qualities and not so easy soiled. Vanished like the white aprons our mothers wore. So the colored bottles bring back sweet memories.

Heard at the club: "Well, I see we will not be able to get clothes lines."

"What difference will that make? We will not be able to get more clothes to hang on them." was the apt reply.

The C. O. Thomas home was not very far from Emma. We counted the glint of the sun on the windmill wheel as it turned in the wind and knew the green trees cast cool shadows on the ground. Mrs. Thomas was such a lovely woman to me. Today I love the rose geranium for she let me crush a leaf in my hand to get a whiff of its delightful fragrance. The other day I had a card from her. It seemed it was filled with the scent of rose geranium. And as she wrote of her children, I could visualize them coming down the white road to Emma school in a two wheeled cart, Charlie, mainly with the responsibility of driving, Virginia, and Mamie, two sweet pretty girls, and Wayne sitting straight in the bed of the cart, an adorable first-reader. Then there was Ralph too small to go to school. We were made happy to hear of this well-loved family of childhood days.

Thank you, Margaret Turner, the Woman's Angle, Lubbock Avalanche for your kind words of praise. Sometimes old hens show such little sense. For instance yesterday an old hen, mother of twelve two-weeks old chickens sat down with them during the rain, under the eaves of a barn, when she could have gone so easily inside. Well, if it rains today she won't have to bother about any one but herself.

A hedge of breath-taking beauty, elder in foamy white bloom at the home of Mr. and Ned King. Anne and Carey and Tar Baby (the Cocker spaniel) went home yesterday.

Poet's Corner

(Edited by Mary D. Waters, Wolforth, Texas)

I am bringing you two poems which I hope will bring comfort to families with loved ones missing—our kinsman Ben Bean, Jr., of Breckenridge was reported missing at Corrigador. We wait, with many others for favorable information.

Reported Missing
My son is among the missing,
Whether captive, whether slain;
Or lost within the jungles
If he's hungry or in pain,

Just now I cannot know but this
I know must ever be,
That I must strive to bear my pain
And grief courageously!
That I must never cease to hope
He shall return again;
Or if he die, then I must know
He did not die in vain!

Flora Smith Dean.

This one is filled with the bravery of a mother's heart:
My Son
My son! I cannot know that he Shall ever hear these words again
Of if a mother's heart can hold
As much of joy as of pain
But this I know, that I must strive
To bear courageously;
Whatever share of joy or grief
The truth shall bring to me.

There are so many mothers
Who wait for news in vain
Their sons among the missing,
Are they captive, are they slain?
And we must wait together,
Help us O God, for we are weak;
What ever be that final word
Unto our hearts Thy comfort speak.

Flora Dean Smith.

terdy. Perhaps to childish minds a week seemed like a summer's visit. I miss them this morning. I listen for the call of grandmother, the happy laugh, or the quick cry of hurt. They will come again, though, and we will be happy with them.

Isn't it nice for a dream to come true? So thinks Bobbe Muncy of the Hesperian force for it has been her dream for many years to work in the Hesperian office. Bobbe is very friendly and sociable. Saturday Floriene told me of the lovely shower given her the night before, and I was made happy by her telling me of her happiness. May all the young people getting married now, soon have a peaceful world to live in, is my prayer.

Prayer for Self-Mastery
Florence Taylor
Father, I ask for grace to bear
The irritations of the day,
The little unimportant things
That try my patience. Lord I pray
For poise; for wisdom to discern
The good each small best holds for me.
May I see each as a steppingstone
To ultimate self-mastery.

Your Choice For District Attorney

There are two candidates for the important office of District Attorney of this District. Mr. John A. Hamilton, who has been your District Attorney since May, 1937 is a candidate and Mr. L. D. Ratliff, Jr., who is now serving his eighth year as the County Attorney of Dickens County, is the other candidate. Do you know which of these men is best qualified by ability and character to fill your office of District Attorney? You cannot expect to cast a wise ballot for your most important law enforcement officer unless you are acquainted with the facts concerning the candidates for this office. If you believe in good government by the people, it is your duty to search out the facts, and to cast your ballot in accordance with your good judgment reached by a consideration of the facts. One of the candidates is better qualified by ability and by character to fill your office of District Attorney than the other. You ought to want the best man for the job. You owe each of the candidates your consideration. No candidate expects more than a fair hearing. Will you take the time to read a series of short articles concerning this race in order to acquaint yourself with the facts? I expect to discuss this campaign in a fair and honest manner through the pages of this newspaper during the next few weeks. I will appreciate having you read them in the hope that you will get better acquainted with me, and the facts, and that I may be of some assistance to you in your determination of a choice for this important office.

JOE DICK MOORE AND HIS COACH MEET AGAIN AFTER MONTHS 2,200 MILES AWAY

Lubbock Avalanche: Joe Dick Moore, former Floydada youth who moved to Henrietta and became something of a football byword in those parts, decided four months ago to enlist in the Navy.

He bade his coach, Wilson Dees, so long and off he went—small reaching him first at New Orleans, then New York and, just lately, San Francisco.

Then—2,200 miles from home at a place not identified, coach and pupil met, both in uniform. Dees had joined the Navy. Coach found himself on the receiving end of a personally-conducted tour by yacht, over the USS Long Island. Young Moore is a nephew of Louis F. Moore, deputy county clerk, in Lubbock. He was promoted to seaman, second class, a few days ago.

Social Security Amendments To Law Proposed

LUBBOCK, June 8.—Two proposed amendments affecting workers who have entered the armed forces and civilian employees of the United States government have been recommended to Congress by the Social Security Board, according to a statement made by John D. Palmer, manager of the Lubbock office of the Social Security board.

"The first of these two proposals," Palmer said, "calls for the protection of the insurance rights of workers entering the armed service of our nation. This may be accomplished according to the board's idea by the 'freezing' of a worker's insurance benefits as of the date of his entry into the armed service. Another plan would be to extend the coverage of old-age and survivors insurance to include employment by the armed forces," Palmer said.

The second proposal which is considered of vital importance to workers applies to civilian workers in the employ of the government. While it is true these workers are receiving Civil Service rights, their rights under the old-age and survivors insurance system are jeopardized since, under the present law, employment by the Federal government is not covered. The board has recommended to Congress that the law be amended to protect the rights of such workers while employed on government projects.

It was emphasized by Palmer that neither of the above proposals has been acted on by Congress and it is not known when amendments to the Social Security act will be taken up. "It is our hope," Palmer concluded, "that something will be done regarding these two proposals at an early date since many people are constantly making inquiries regarding them, especially the one affecting the worker who has joined the Army, Navy, or Marine corps."

USED CARS AND HOW TO KNOW THEM

CUSTOMER: Both these cars appeal to me, but...

SALESMAN: You won't find a better second-hand car anywhere than either of these. Wonderful buys!

CUSTOMER: If I only knew how the engines had been treated... what oil the ex-owners used.

SALESMAN: This one, I don't know. But this red job I happen to know had nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil from its first mile!

CUSTOMER: Well, why didn't you say so! Conoco Nth! I'll take the red job, of course! First of all, whoever owned that car knew what was best for a car when they used Conoco Nth. With Conoco Nth in the crankcase, I'm sure the cylinders and moving parts were protected by OIL-PLATING—lubricant that doesn't all drain down at every chance, but stays on the job.

SALESMAN: Well, that'd sell me the red one.

CUSTOMER: Why, man, Conoco Nth can help keep an engine so clean of sludge and carbon that it easily ought to mean good long life. I'm going to cash in on this car's value—and keep on using Conoco Nth.

You can cash in, too. Cash in by getting all the engine life and good oil mileage that are winning sensational sales success for Conoco Nth oil. See Your Conoco Mileage Merchant today! Continental Oil Company

From where I sit . . .

by Joe Marsh

A FEW weeks ago, I had occasion to visit some friends of mine in Nebraska.

Nebraska certainly is a great State, I like Nebraska. I like those immense cornfields that seem to stretch from horizon to horizon. (Plenty of wheatfields in Nebraska, too.)

But the thing that interests me most about Nebraska right now is the very important social experiment the beer people started there several years ago.

Beer itself is naturally a beverage of moderation. Yet, all too often, people are inclined to blame beer wrongly for any misconduct of the customer or the proprietor in a place licensed to sell beer.

So, the brewers got together to see what they could do about this. They weren't really responsible for their retailers' . . . in fact, they're not allowed to control retailers. But the brewing industry worked out a plan by which it cooperates with the public authorities to eliminate bad conditions in the minority of places whose conduct would reflect on the law-abiding majority.

The beer people urge proprietors of retail places to conduct them properly and to obey the law. They urge consumers to cooperate, and ask the public generally to report law violations to the authorities. They send warnings to careless retailers and if conditions are not corrected they take the case up with the authorities. Naturally the authorities and the public have welcomed this as an added force in building respect for law and order.

That program is now operating in many states—and with the Nation at war, brewing industry organizations cooperate with civil and military authorities to assure good conditions in beer outlets around the army camps and naval stations.

Somehow, to me, that's a mighty important, public-spirited effort. I don't know of anything like it ever having been tried before. If people really help the brewers with that program they'll be doing a great thing for the country.

Theft Of Cattle Charged Against Co. Official

Alleging the theft of two cattle, the property of J. E. Newton, the Floyd county grand jury for the May term Saturday returned a joint indictment against H. J. (Hugh) Nelson, prominent south Floyd county resident and Commissioner of Precinct No. 4, and his son, Loid. H. J. Nelson is a candidate for re-election as commissioner.

Following the return of the indictments into open court the men were arrested and posted bond in the sum of $1,000 each with Sheriff Fred N. Clark.

The Nelson family has been a prominent one in the county for 20 years, residing a short distance north of Lakeview. The cattle alleged to have been stolen were in a lot shipped some weeks ago by the Nelsons to Oklahoma City, Oklahoma. A brand inspector turned them back. The brand was one used at one time in New Mexico by Bob Echols of Matador and later by him transferred to Henry Long of Ft. Sumner. The brand also was used by Jack Long of Hale county, and the cattle came to Newton's pasture adjacent to the Nelsons through purchase from the Hale county man last year. Hugh Nelson last week said that he and his son hadn't stolen any cattle, when he learned he was being investigated.

The Nelsons and Newton have owned farms closely adjacent for the last few years and Loid Nelson has been occupying and now occupies one of the Newton farms. The case is not expected to come to trial at this time of court.

Local Merchants Feature Onions—Victory Food

One of the largest crops of mature onions ever produced at this time of year is now on the market, according to Carl Minor. Local merchants are cooperating in the nation-wide campaign to feature onions, which Secretary Wickard has designated a Victory Food special, June 8-15.

Clever cooks who know the chief value of the onion is its flavor will not fail to take advantage of the plentiful supply of onions which are being sold at such reasonable prices. For with a little ingenuity, onions can prove their weight in gold by varying the flavor of nutritious foods which are served from day to day, he said.

But Vitamin "Z" a make-believe vitamin that adds zip and zest to your meals, is not the only value of onions. In their raw state they have a little vitamin B1, riboflavin, vitamin C, iron and calcium. Young green onions are fair sources of carotene, which the body can change into vitamin A.

All onions fall into two classes: the strong and the mild. The typical mild type of onion is the Bermuda, which is on the market only during the spring. So it's now or not until next April if you want to buy all you want of Bermuda.

If you're buying mature onions, look for those that are dry, bright, clean, hard and well-shaped. Avoid onions that are moist at the stem end of the bulb as moistness here may mean the onion is decaying inside. Buy green onions that have fresh green tops—and medium-sized, well-bleached necks for at least 2 or 3 inches up the stem, Mr. Minor explained.

The following suggestions regarding the use of onions are based on material prepared by the Bureau of Home Economics, USDA:

"Now that onions are plentiful, try them in soups, serve them with meat, mix them with other vegetables in all sorts of dishes. Most families consider them a 'must' in vegetable salads. Favorite salad partners are cucumbers, finely chopped salad greens, radishes, tomatoes. "For a quick onion and potato soup, use this method. Dice 3 tablespoons of onions, and 2 cupfuls of potatoes. Add 1 quart of milk. Cook slowly until the potatoes and onions are tender. The starch from the potatoes will thicken the milk somewhat. Thicken more if you like a soup with a little more body to it. Season to taste.

"For a dish that's worth the little extra time it takes — try onions stuffed. Skin large onions and cut them in half, crosswise. Simmer these onion halves in salted water until they are almost tender. Remove the center rings without disturbing the outer layers of the onion. Chop the onion centers fine. Cook some celery or parsley in fat for a few minutes. Add bread crumbs, salt, pepper and the chopped-up onion. Bake in a moderate oven for about 30 minutes—until the onions are tender. For a more filling dish, use chopped meat or fish or baked beans in place of the bread crumbs."

Mr. and Mrs. Worth Howe and son Worth, Jr., of Comanche, returned home Sunday after a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. P. Q. Haney. Mrs. N. Nabors of Comanche who accompanied them on the trip remained for an indefinite visit with her son Fred Nabors and family and her daughter Mrs. P. Q. Haney and Mr. Haney.

Mrs. Herschel Hammonds returned Friday from a week's visit at Fernon with her brother Milton Sims and family.

TRIBUTE PAID TO MEMORY OF TWO TEXAS BOYS AT TCU GRADUATION

(Following is the eloquent tribute paid to Wilbert P. Matthews and another Texas boy, John Byron Cason, Jr., at T. C. U. last week on the occasion of commencement week of that school.—Ed.)

Memorial

(Written by Edward McShane Waits, President Emeritus of T. C. U.)

We pause amidst these baccalaureate services to pay tribute to the memory of two of our comrades who have poured out the sweet, red wine of their brave lives in devotion to their home, their countrymen and their God. History has many proofs that without the shedding of blood there is no redemption. Liberty and progress exact their price, and too often that price must be the blood of heroes and the tears of a nation. But it is a consolation to remember that our history has been worth all it has cost, and that those who have perished to make it glorious have their own highest reward in the loving remembrance of those of us who came after them, and in the enduring monument of civic virtue and national worth.

Therefore, it is only fitting that we should honor today Lieutenant Wilbert Prenton Matthews, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Matthews of Floydada, Texas, who died in the service of his country on May the 3rd. Lieutenant Matthews was in the Air Corps and was this month to have been granted the rank of captain. He had completed the work leading to his Bachelor's degree, and that degree will be conferred posthumously at the Commencement exercises.

Aviation Cadet John Cason, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cason of this city was graduated from this university in 1941. Cadet Cason's plane crashed on April 3rd, 1942, at the United States Training station at Corpus Christi.

Both of these young men were students of high rank and were held in highest esteem by both the faculty and students of Texas Christian university. Our hearts go out in deepest sympathy to the parents today.

If I read God's history aright, civilization goes forward not by the survival of the fittest, but by the sacrifice of the best. Is not the blood of Dunkirk, Pearl Harbor, Bataan, Wake Island, and Corregidor in a way as sacred as Calvary? The blood of Calvary has a sacredness all its own, but surely no man has ever laid down his life for a great, holy cause who has not entered into fellowship with the greatest martyr of all the ages.

So this morning we honor these brave young men who have paid the last full measure of devotion to the sacred cause of their country and civilization. . . and may we here highly resolve that this sacrifice shall not have been in vain . . . and here dedicate ourselves to the unfinished task.

Here in this young American we have no ruined castles, no ancient shrines, no monuments with foundations buried in the dust of centuries ago, but we do have a heritage that is far richer in the dedicated lives of these young heroes who died that others might live. All honor today to these untitled noblemen . . . and to their mothers who gave them birth.

And it is our supreme hope that when the hostility of nations shall cease, when the wrath of man is turned aside for the chariots of God, that truth, justice and righteousness shall be enshrined and that we may find peace, cooperation and brotherhood throughout the earth.

Mrs. Flynn Thagard and daughter Sammie came Saturday for a visit with her mother Mrs. S. D. Greer. Mr. Thagard spent the week-end here.

State Fair Will Not Be Held During 1942

DALLAS, Texas, June 5.—There will be no 1942 State Fair of Texas. Decision to forego the annual exposition, known as "The world's largest and most beautiful State Fair," was reached by the board of directors after Harry L. Seay, president of the institution, made a report on his survey of conditions brought about by the national emergency.

Lack of transportation for both exhibits and patrons decided the issue. Tire shortage, possible gasoline rationing and scarcity of shipping facilities influenced the decision. Many of the leading fairs of both the United States and Canada have been called off for the duration.

Grounds and buildings of the $15,000,000 plant of the State Fair of Texas have been tendered the United States government for whatever use it may see fit to make of them. Mr. Seay announced.

FISHERMAN REPORTS A VERY MUDDY TIME AND A FAIR CATCH OF FISH

Polk Goen, Herbert Sims, Ott Glassmoyer and Gaines Davis returned home Monday from a three-day fishing trip to Possum Kingdom dam near Graham. They report their catch was fair even though they did strike very rainy weather and got stuck in the mud with their boat trying to get it to the lake.

Mrs. J. W. Pitts of Los Angeles, California, came Friday to spend several weeks with her sister Mrs. L. H. Newell. Mrs. Pitts is a former resident of Floydada.

Mrs. G. T. Young returned Thursday from a visit at Denton with her mother Mrs. Carmen Fitch. She left the following day for Amarillo where Mr. Young is employed in defense work. Betty and George Young remained at Denton for a longer visit with their grandmother.

Mrs. Herschel McNutt and baby left Saturday for San Antonio, where they will join Mr. McNutt who is employed at Duncan Field.

Mrs. C. P. Phillips and children of Fort Worth are visiting Mrs. Phillips' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ode McHenry.

What Can I Do to Help?

Every American who loves liberty desires to see our foes' weapons silenced forever. Every American who loves liberty should help crush the menace to our privilege of self rule that is being projected by the Axis war lords.

To that end, then, all of us must devote our resources, thought and energy with profound earnestness, for the defeat of our enemies is a job which calls for the cooperation of everyone—make no mistake about it! The housewife, the business woman, the farmer, the industrial worker, the business man . . . all have clear-cut duties.

Whether might alone makes right will be decided on the battle field in this war. And you, whether you employ, or are employed, hold the answer to whether innocent, peace-loving, God-fearing peoples may be free in generations to come to work and worship as they please. This war has placed great responsibility on you.

You should avoid waste. You should follow peacetime buying practices, as nearly as you can, refraining from making purchases to store away, keeping in mind the importance of conserving, especially those things vital to the armament program. You should carry on as normally as possible, considering that we are at war, for it takes physically vigorous and mentally balanced men and women on the home front to produce the things required to keep our fighting forces armed, and fed, and clothed adequately.

You should accept war news—the bad with fortitude, the good with reaffirmed resolution to not slacken your efforts in doing your part to see this war through to a victorious end. You should be careful not to disclose news about our armed forces. If you hear that a unit is leaving a post or camp at a specified time, keep quiet about it. If you see trains bearing troops, divulge no information as to the direction of travel. While traveling, if you pass a convoy, do not spread the news. The safe way to treat news of a military nature is to believe that the enemy has spies everywhere, and act prudently to avoid being the medium through which the slightest harm could come to a single one of our men in uniform.

Our Duty To Fit Them To Fight

Our boys — your sons, your husbands, your brothers, your grandsons—are going to the front to do your fighting for you. You want them fitted to fight, don't you? We cannot do for them what they will do for us. To them we will owe our liberty and all of the fine things that go with living in free America. The least that we can do is to make certain that they are fully armed, well fed, and adequately clothed. It is our duty to bend our efforts and our resources to help supply them in such quantity that they will not want for a single thing. Let's get busy—work harder, buy all of the Defense Bonds and Stamps that we possibly can buy.

The Bank of England Has Nothing on Us!

WE PHOTOGRAPH YOUR CHECKS, TOO!

Recent news stories tell how the bulky records of the Bank of England are being photographed by a camera invented in America, as a precaution against wartime destruction.

Did you know that your checks, if drawn on this bank, were being photographed daily, as fast as they are paid, by the same marvelous type of camera used by the Bank of England?

You may lose a cancelled check, but—if it was on this bank—you could still prove payment, because we can always produce exact photographs of the check and its endorsements.

We Sell War Bonds

Let's Answer The President

With Tons and Tons of

SCRAP RUBBER

The radio and the press quote President Roosevelt as declaring that if the people of the country can and will get the Scrap Rubber of the Nation into "Circulation" it is possible that Gasoline Rationing will not be necessary, that commandeering of tires may be averted, and even that commandeering of tires may be averted, and even trucks re-capped tires for use in carrying on the work of the Nation.

LET'S SAY TO HIM _____

We'll Put Scrap Rubber In Circulation

We've Got Tons and Tons of Scrap Rubber in Foyd County. It is in the Corners of Fields, in the Barn, the Garage, and in the Back-yard. But we have been Negligent in answering the appeal for rubber that lies dormant in old, worn out, used up tires and tubes and other Rubber articles.

Now, if it will help get the job done, let's really go to town with this scrap rubber. Let's pile tons and tons of it up — from the smallest to the biggest user—and get it into the hands of the Junk Dealer so that it can be used to arm our Country's War-time Tanks and Field Artillery, our Jeeps and Trucks. Also our Tractors, our Trucks and our pick-ups.

We must keep our Army Rolling—at home as well as abroad. The army that produces Food and Feed and the Army that goes out to meet the enemy in Deadly combat.

Let's head off the stagnation of Gasoline Rationing, with its untold Millions of Administrative Cost and Irritation; Let's get our worn-out Rubber into Circulation and assure an ample supply of rubber for all needed purposes. Let's do this on a Patriotic basis, on a basis of Giving to our country the Thing it needs to win the war.

Scrap Rubber Week June 15 to 20

We can get the Job Done right Now if all will join in and get the Junk Rubber started to moving. Let's pile up Tons and Tons of Scrap Rubber, Sell it to the Junk Man at Market Price and Give the Proceeds to our Red Cross. Let's do it this week—before the Grain Harvest Starts. Delay may mean the Loss of Precious Time. Delay might result in an unwise decision at Washington. The Whole Country is Going to Join in in some kind of a movement. Why not Floyd County Take the Lead? Why not show with tons of Scrap Rubber in sight in a Big Pile what can be done? Floyd County has 10 Tons, 25 Tons, perhaps 50 Tons or more of Scrap Rubber that is doing nobody on earth any good. It needs to be in action somewhere for the sake of our Country. We mean this seriously and we ask that every Patriotic Citizen Take it Seriously. If you prefer to sell your Scrap Rubber well and good, but Don't "fool around" another minute. Get action on your Scrap Rubber before wheat harvest.

Wheat Harvest—

 county give warning that Old Man Hall may yet beat the farmers to the crop and in 20 minutes take all the worry of harvesting and storage off their hands.

A Few Hill Spots

Rains during the week fell largely in the southwest portion of this county and extended over into Crosbyton. A good inch fell at Crosbyton and Ralls, Cone, Petersburg, Lorenz and report good rains, too. At Floydada 52-hundredths of an inch fell.

at McCoy an inch and a quarter, at Harmony something like the same amount and around Allmon a heavy rain. Barwise had a half-inch and in spots between that point and Floydada, and north and east of Floydada fair to good showers fell. Hill splattered on streets of Floydada and Lockney Tuesday afternoon and a few farms in widely-separated areas reported damage to grain and small cotton, notably near Sand Hill and near Lakeview.

The grasshoppers are going to get a little of the wheat in some areas is current report. Also that when this crop is harvested the pests are going to take to the growing row crops and to the pastures, where some damage already is being done. The poison bait mixing station here had already far passed the million-pound mark early in the week, and was going strong yesterday. Hoppers are maturing now and taking to wing with the result that they are much more difficult to handle than three and four weeks ago.

Eugene Burke, of Abilene, was a visitor here a part of last week, guest of Maurice and Phil Steen.

Mrs. Paul Foster spent the weekend with her husband, Pvt. Foster in Lubbock. Pvt. Foster is with the Medical detachment at the Lubbock Flying school.

Miss Billie Ray Slaughter of Albuquerque, New Mexico, came Sunday to visit her grandmother Mrs. Lula Slaughter and her aunt Mrs. W. L. Fry and Mr. Fry.

AIR RAID INSTRUCTIONS

After many hours of research and observation, it has been determined that the following set of rules and regulations are the most effective in coping with air-raid situations:

1. When the bombs actually start dropping, everyone should run like hell. The point is: keep going at full speed. If possible, wear spiked shoes. This will aid in getting over the people who are slow and who get in your way.
 2. Be sure to take advantage of the situation in case of a blackout. For example—
 (a) If in a bake shop, grab a pie, a cake, etc.
 (b) If in a show, grab a blonde
 (c) If in an insurance office, hold on to your pocketbook.
 3. If an incendiary bomb falls near you, pour gasoline on it. You can't put it out anyway, so you might as well have some fun.
 4. In case a bomb falls to go off pick it up and bounce it on the ground. The fuse might be stuck. If this doesn't work, place it in the furnace so it will be warming up while you call the fire department.
 5. If you receive a direct hit by a bomb, keep calm and don't go to pieces. If you do this no one will miss you.
 6. During an unusual bombing raid, you should tear your hair, yell as loud as you can, and scream bloody murder. This will scare the kids.
 7. Before going into an air-raid shelter, you should eat generous portions of onions, garlic, and limburger cheese. This will help relieve the congested situation found in these shelters.
- File this away in a convenient waste basket for use in case of emergency.—Exchange.
- "Well, I certainly made a good impression on her," said the cane-bottomed chair as the artist's model stood up.
- "Stand behind your lover," said the Scotchman to his unfaithful wife. "I'm going to shoot you both."
