There is now in production and has been for 30 days or more what is known as a "universal" rationing book that will take care of practically anything in the way of food or clothing that is going to be rationed when, and if, somebody in Washington so decides. This new book will take the place of the "sugar" book you have, according to the information we have been getting. If you have no sugar rationing book to surrender, no new "universal" ration book to take its place. This new book will make a mathematician out of you and a student of economy. It will work in "units", and different commodities at different times will have different unit values. Thus, solely for the purpose of illustrating our point and not that we know anything about what is and is not to be rationed, the "unit" values might give you a right to buy a lot of one kind of meat and a mighty little of another kind, or a lot more liver than marshmallows or vice versa, all from the same coupon book. The thing will be so flexible that grandma will wear her specks out keeping up with the changes and her granddaughter is sure to think up some wisecracks about the whole thing. Irritating and time-killing but no particular harm.

The long arm of winter has been chugging the spaces of the infinite northern skies full of holes the past two weeks, trying to break through and bring that really bad spell of weather to the high plains. As this is written the effort has been unsuccessful. A wee bit of the breath of Boreas has borne down on the winds, the barometer continues to hang low and low, but somewhere, some how, the elements have got their signals crossed. But we maintain the teamwork is going to be good some of these mornings or evenings. And when it does the touchdown fireworks are going to be touched off. And will there be a spell! There must be something like that between now and March 1 or the insects are going to eat us up in this country. Believe it or not, you'll see plenty of boll weevils in Floyd county cotton next year if we don't get the kind of weather we need. All together now! Let's have a real winter. And be prepared for it when it gets here.

That the army and navy departments really are in need of typewriters is indicated by the fact that the commercial departments of schools are being drawn on for some of their classroom machines. Approximately 20 per cent of the machines in the hands of schools will be taken, probably. None of the typewriter companies are making any machines now with the exception that one company has a minor part of its plant in production. Schools and taxpayers will not object, of course, and no good if they did. However, it would make your face red if you found one of these typewriters in one of Madam Perkins' multitudinous offices scattered all over the United States or, for instance, in one of Mr. Jeffers' gasoline rationing offices where they are filling out forms by the millions to be stacked up in an office somewhere that has to be built with critical materials, to be taken out and burned about 20 years from now.

Civilization will have arrived when a man tells you where you can buy a good book instead of where you can get a good meal.

Warning! Warning! If you are one of those who got scared of the gasoline rationing program and felt it might disrupt your business so badly you wanted to take a chance on storing some gas in containers on your place, remember this one thing—gasoline has the explosive power, almost, of TNT or dynamite. You wouldn't think of keeping even dynamite caps or detonators about your premises on account of the danger to the children, because you are not so familiar with them. And as for TNT, you'd walk a year before you'd let any be stored about on your premises. But you handle gasoline all the time, you are familiar with it. Familiarity breeds contempt. And after it is too late, you wish you hadn't. At least, at least, be careful. And we do not mean maybe.

One of the amusing things that is happening about gasoline rationing is the old boy who looks around and finds that one or more of his neighbors has one or more coupons than he has in his gasoline book. Burning up rubber and gasoline to get there, he rushes in to consult with the board, which he feels, has terribly mis-treated him. Usually it isn't so bad, or there is a good reason. At any rate what he has been awarded in miles for the next several months with his motor vehicle is based on his own representations. He went away the first time satisfied but he sure did not stay that way. The board is a voluntary outfit, with none of the executive members of the panel on anybody's payroll. But they accepted the job and they have to be nice and let the complainant get it all out of his system before they begin to talk. And after their speech is then made, the "ill-treated" user only grunts his acquiescence or leaves still disgruntled and unhappy. The fact is, there can be as little as 30 gallons of gasoline between a B and a C card. All the cards above an A are "tailored" to fit the claimed needs of the user. Incidentally, if you have a C card don't get the impression that you have an unlimited gasoline "drawing account." You might find yourself out of gasoline and coupons both at the same time some morning.

Interesting mix-ups are occurring in ODT gasoline certificates over Texas. Sure of the intent of ODT to do the right thing some of the vexed farmers and other operators whose requests have been cut are asking Washington to enlighten them on how to proceed. Thus a farmer who asked 16,000 miles travel was allotted 3,200 miles. Farmer asks:

"What days should bring eggs to town, what days should take feed to poultry and cattle, what days should haul labor out to farm and what days should let things go."

Another ranchman, operating two ranches 20 miles apart, thought he needed 25 gallons weekly, was given 10.

"Ranchman asks what days should feed cattle and doctor screw worms and what days should let cattle go hungry and screw worms operate unmolested."

A school bus operator using three buses, actually driving 4,470 miles monthly, allotted 4,500 miles quarterly, asks what route should operate and which children should be left at home.

A person of real courage and daring is one who will come right out and say he doesn't like grand opera.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

"I had a tiny box, a precious box of human love—my spikenard of great price; I kept it close within my heart of hearts. And scarce would lift the lid least it should waste Its perfume on the air. One day a strange Deep sorrow came with crushing weight and fell Upon my costly treasure, sweet and rare. And broke the box to atoms. All my heart Rose in dismay and sorrow at this waste. But as I mourned, behold a miracle Of grace divine. My human love was changed To heaven's own and poured in healing streams. On other broken hearts, while soft and clear A voice above me whispered, "Child of Mine. From this time forth, go comfort others. And thou shalt know blest fellowship with Me. Whose broken heart of love hath healed the world."

I reprint this beautiful poem for all those who are suffering over the death of a loved one. May your bruised heart emit the fragrance that God loveth to smell.

This is the time of year I like to make wreaths to hang in my windows and to give to friends. Carefully I snip off bits of spicy evergreen from the Arizona Cypress and the cedars at the door, being particularly careful to cut them where it does not harm the symmetry of the plant. A red spray from the mandarin and a cluster or so of the orange pyracantha berries with shining leaves from the honey suckle and I am ready to tie the twigs to a wire coat hanger pulled round. A red bow of gleaming satin ribbon at the bottom, a tinsel star, or the gorgeous red and blue and green of the Christmas tree ornaments and there is your wreath ready to hang. A wreath that will give one more pleasure than all the boughten ones from the store.

Paste silver and gold paper on both sides of thin card board, cut into stars, large and small, edge with silver tinsel and hang on tree. Circles may be cut also and edged with tinsel. Make the Christmas time gay for the children, let them string popcorn and make pretties for the tree, teach them the spirit of Christ, the spirit of giving and loving and of peace on earth, good will to men.

The farmer's crop, not gathered, lies under a blanket of snow this Monday morning. He digs the bundles out so that the stock will not go hungry. While he knows the snow will be fine for the wheat coming on, it is hard to know that cotton and maize is damaging that is already made. Making the crop was hard, had a great greshoppers and end-les weeds, gathering has been harder. Help that came in bunches like birds, vanishing overnight as the sound of war boards called and the thunder of gas rationing shook the land leaving the farmer with much to do. But the farmer has never quit, the call of duty is clear from the infancy of Pearl Harbor to the victories of today, make him tighten up the suspenders on his faded patched overalls and carry on to feed the world.

Olin W. Fry of Floydada has been named one of the ten master farmers selected for 1929 by The Progressive Farmer, chosen because of their outstanding success on the farm, and with their wives will be honored with a banquet to be given by that periodical in the Palm Garden of the Adolphus hotel in Dallas on the evening of December 17.

Practical completion of the work of paving the square adjacent to the court house grounds was accomplished this week, with the expectation that before Saturday night Contractor Edd Manning will have sanded down the last square yard of brick and asphalt unless inclement weather intervenes.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Tye and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tye and children of White Deer have been here the past few days on a visit with relatives including Mr. and Mrs. S. B. McCleskey of this city.

Showing this week at the Royal: Thursday and Friday: "Something Always Happens" with Esther Ralston; Saturday only: Hoot Gibson in "The Flying Cowboy"; Monday and Tuesday: "Oh! Kay" with Colleen Moore; Wednesday: "Old Ironsides" with an all star cast including Wallace Beery, Esther Ralston and George Bancroft.

an's weeping, there was lack of woman's tears." It was Friday afternoon and John Bedingfield was shouting the above lines as his name was called on the program. Oh, of course, we knew Algiers was in North Africa and our hearts were touched as the sad story went on, but this was past history, distant as the moon from Emma and Algiers too far away for a one of us chalk-dusted pupils to ever see—No, John's son is somewhere on that side of the world, boys of friends who listened that sunny day so long ago, are now on their way.

"The many buttons down the front of the dress," says the announcer, "make for a long slenderizing line down the front. Please, I'll take another dozen buttons."

I can personally vouch for the goodness of the cookies made by the following recipe, both given me by Mrs. Cammack of Lubbock.

1 cup shortening, 2 1/2 cups sugar, 2 1/2 cups flour, dash of salt (the less dash the better to me) 1 teaspoon orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind. Cream shortening and sugar, add eggs, mix well, add dry ingredients which have been sifted together, add orange juice and rind, bake 400 degrees for ten or twelve minutes.

Here is the best item of all. "All In One Day" from the Rush County News in Kansas: "There was once a farmer who drove twenty miles to the county seat in his pick-up. He drove faster than is recommended by the government, because he had so much business that required his attention. He had to register for the army, fill out an occupational questionnaire, sign up for crop insurance, get a card permitting him to sell his wheat. He had to go to the court house to put in application for a tire, to the county superintendent's office for school records to get his oldest child a birth certificate, to the county clerk's to get a book for tax-exempt tractor gas."

"Thinking of all these things confused the farmer so much that halfway to town he remembered he had to have his war-ration books to get canning-sugar permits for his wife, so he went home to get them. When he at last arrived at the court house he found the doors locked and everybody gone to lunch, since they were operating on war-time to save electricity. While the farmer was sitting in his pick-up waiting for the office to open, the State Highway patrolman came along and asked to see his motor-vehicle tax stamp and his driver's license. Then the chief of police dropped by and asked him to move his pick-up since he was located in a fifteen minute parking spot.

"So the farmer went to the drug store and bought a box of aspirin and went home and went to bed. And if the Federal Bureau of Investigation hasn't found him he is there yet."

THAN IN INSURED BANK DEPOSITS

Even $5,000 in gold dollars buried by Uncle Sam at Fort Knox would be little, if any, safer than $5,000 of your money deposited in this bank—because your deposits here are insured to that amount by the F.D.I.C. And that simply means that almost no matter what happened—that did not shake the very foundations of the U.S.A. itself—your money would be safe. ## WAR changes a famous slogan

FOR THE DURATION, a famous and friendly slogan goes into retirement.

With gasoline being rationed to lengthen the calendar life of your tires and thus conserve the Nation's war-time stock-pile of rubber, we no longer invite you to Phillips up with Phillips.

But you are still as welcome as ever at any Phillips 66 Service Station. The Phillips man is anxious to get and hold your business, even though your gasoline purchases are greatly reduced.

If anything, he is more anxious than ever to give you those pleasant, friendly services which make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. That is his way of showing his appreciation for your business. And more, he has pledged himself to "Keep 'em Rolling", as a patriotic duty.

In the meantime, hundreds of Phillips research workers and many thousands of production employees are speeding up their good work for victory. With Phillips vast resources of raw materials, their efforts have made the company one of the largest suppliers of 100 octane aviation gasoline to the Army Air Corps, the Navy, and the United Nations' air forces; have made the company an important participant in the U. S. synthetic rubber program.

Remember these facts, and drive in where you see the Orange and Black 66 Shield. That's where you get Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil . . . two famous products which are everything you can expect in times like these, when the needs of Uncle Sam's fighting forces naturally come first.

P.S. In place of our slogan at the bottom of this advertisement, we have placed a slogan that is yours, ours, and every American's.

Christmas Plans Are Underway By Clubs

The annual custom of having a community Christmas tree and program on the court house lawn will be dispensed with this year, according to reports from several of the clubs that have heretofore had the honor of sponsoring the affair. This is in compliance with the War Production board's request in regard to decorative lighting this Christmas. Several of the clubs and churches are still planning on decorating Christmas baskets.

No Union Service Planned
Individual churches will observe Christmas this year with trees and programs for the different departments of their respective organizations. The announcement was made by Rev. P. H. Gates, president of the Ministerial association.

The association met Thursday night at the study at the First Methodist church and among other business, the agreement to dispense with a union service was made.

Plans for a New Year's observance are in the making. This is to be a union service to be held at the First Methodist church from 9 until 12 p. m. The last day of the year, officials of the Ministerial association announced. A program will be announced later.

Shopping Early
Although indications are that Christmas will be observed in a quiet way, merchants report that holiday buying has been much heavier than usual and customers are shopping much earlier than usual. One reason for this is the necessity of having to purchase early in order to reach the soldier boys at home and on foreign soil. Shoppers are reminded, too, to complete their lists as soon as possible for choice selections as the supply of many articles will be exhausted and they cannot be restocked for weeks and maybe not at all, one merchant said.

Mrs. Bernard H. Borum of Groves, Texas left last week-end for Lockney after spending the past week here with her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Borum. At Lockney she will visit a week in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cooper before returning home.

Since the State constitution of Texas was ratified in 1876, approximately 100 amendments have been adopted.

Stonewall Jackson's Great-Grandson Cited for Gallantry in Air Combat

Major Thomas Jonathan Jackson Christian, Jr., great-grandson of General Stonewall Jackson, the distinguished Confederate leader, has been awarded the Silver Star for gallantry in aerial action in the Solomon Islands fighting, according to a report received from Major General Millard F. Harmon, commander of the United States Army in the South Pacific area. Major Christian received the honor with Major Thomas M. Hubbard, of Fort Worth, Texas, at the advanced base in New Caledonia. With other Army flyers and in cooperation with Navy and Marine Corps airmen, Majors Christian and Hubbard saw extensive action over the Solomons in defense of Henderson Field on Guadalcanal Island where they repeatedly fought off Japanese planes. Major Christian is the son of Brigadier General Thomas J. J. Christian.

East Concerned Over Possible Meat Shortage

LUBBOCK, Dec. 7.—After a recent tour of the north and east, W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department at Texas Technological college since 1936, and present chairman, has been commissioned as captain in the United States Army and reported Sunday, December 6, to the Eighth Service command in Dallas.

Mr. Wells served during World War No. 1, participating in most major battles overseas, returning home a captain. He was in the Army of Occupation in Germany six months.

President of the Hemphill-Wells company department store, he is former president of the Lubbock Chamber of commerce and for eleven years has been a director of the West Texas Chamber of commerce.

For many years San Felipe, Texas, was the only municipality in the state conducted without taxation. The city government was supported by proceeds from an investment made as the result of the sale of five leagues of land which were ceded to the municipality.

Texas' budget is handled by the State Board of Control, which submits to each session of the legislature an itemized statement of the various governmental department's needs, as well as recommendations for appropriations to state educational and eleemosynary institutions.

The present constitution of the State of Texas was written by convention which convened at Austin, September 6, 1875, and adjourned November 4, 1875.

Spencer Wells Back Into The Army Service

LUBBOCK, Dec. 7.—Spencer A. Wells, Lubbock, member of the board of directors of Texas Technological college since 1936, and present chairman, has been commissioned as captain in the United States Army and reported Sunday, December 6, to the Eighth Service command in Dallas.

Mr. Wells served during World War No. 1, participating in most major battles overseas, returning home a captain. He was in the Army of Occupation in Germany six months.

President of the Hemphill-Wells company department store, he is former president of the Lubbock Chamber of commerce and for eleven years has been a director of the West Texas Chamber of commerce.

For many years San Felipe, Texas, was the only municipality in the state conducted without taxation. The city government was supported by proceeds from an investment made as the result of the sale of five leagues of land which were ceded to the municipality.

Texas' budget is handled by the State Board of Control, which submits to each session of the legislature an itemized statement of the various governmental department's needs, as well as recommendations for appropriations to state educational and eleemosynary institutions.

The present constitution of the State of Texas was written by convention which convened at Austin, September 6, 1875, and adjourned November 4, 1875.

Consider Hazard Of Home Fires At Christmas

AUSTIN, Dec. 7.—Marvin Hall, State Fire Insurance Commissioner, suggests that plans for the coming holiday season include careful consideration of fire prevention.

"We must not allow destructive fires to burn our homes, or to cause injury or death to our families," Hall said. "This can be avoided by being careful in planning our decorations for Christmas. The decorations more commonly used are highly combustible, and therefore create additional fire hazards during the holiday season."

Several fire safety practices mentioned by the Commissioner were:

See that decorations are kept a safe distance from stoves or other heating equipment; do not allow them to come in contact with electric light bulbs, or appliances; prevent the accumulation of trash, papers, boxes or rubbish; "black out" matches, cigars and cigarettes before discarding them; keep matches beyond the reach of children; be careful to keep electric circuits from being overloaded.

If a tree is used, secure a fresh one, keep it dampened and outside the house until actually needed. When set up, place the tree in a room where it will be as cool and moist as possible.

MOISTURE IN THE MENU

Which of the common vegetables is most watery? Active research into dehydration of vegetables as a part of the war effort by the U. S. Department of Agriculture has developed information to guide commercial dryers in their work. In planning drying equipment, one fact the dryer must know, says the Agricultural Research Administration, is the quantity of water he will have to remove from the material while it is being processed. W. B. Van Arsdel of the Bureau of Agricultural Chemistry and Engineering has prepared a table giving the moisture content of nearly a score of vegetables as they are when ready for dehydration. This is substantially the same as the fresh vegetables prepared for home cooking. The relative rank in "wateriness" may upset some of the casual impressions of housewives.

Sweetpotatoes are the driest of the common vegetables with from 2 to 3 1/2 pounds of water for each pound of bone-dry material. Sweet corn ranks next with 3 to 4 pounds, followed by peas and potatoes, with from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 pounds of water to a pound of dry matter. Kale has 6 to 7 1/2 pounds; table beets 6 to 9, and beet greens 9 to 10; with rutabagas 7 to 10 and carrots 7 1/2 to 10. Snap beans have 8 to 10 pounds of water; onions 8 to 11, spinach 8 to 13, chard 9 to 12, mustard greens 9 to 13. The vegetables with the most water to remove are cabbage with from 10 to 13 pounds of water to each pound of dry matter and celery with 12 to 20.

STAIN REMOVAL RUSH JOB

Speedy work with the right stain remover may save a spattered dress or coat or rug to serve another day, and save a trip to the cleaner's as well to the tune of a few war savings stamps. The need to salvage every scrap of cloth in war time calls for "know how" in home methods of stain removal, especially with the many new fibers and mixtures.

War demands are causing shortages of some chemicals formerly recommended for certain stains, calling for other methods. Textile specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have gathered detailed suggestions for dealing with about 100 common stains, and this information is available to anyone who writes to the department for it.

Generally speaking, whatever the fabric or the kind of stain, it is important to treat the stain while it is fresh; to know the kind of cloth and the fibers of which it is made; to work carefully, but quickly; to try simple methods first, such as sponging a non-greasy stain with cold water, or using carbon tetrachloride for a greasy stain; to avoid hot water because hot water sets many stains; to test a small sample for color change before using any stain remover; to use all chemical stain remover sparingly and apply with light brushing motions; to neutralize acids with alkalis and vice versa; to "feather" or spread a liquid remover unevenly and dry rapidly to avoid making rings.

Stains on viscose or cuprammonium rayon can be treated like those on cotton and linen, but acetate rayon dissolves in acetone, alcohol or chloroform. So it is necessary to test a sample before using any of these stain removers on a rayon of unknown construction. Nylon is not harmed by acid of alkali stain removers, and may be bleached.

PLYWOODS ARE STRONG

With plywood used widely in training planes and gliders, inspectors at factories must be alert to detect signs of weakness that make the wood unsafe. On the other hand, wood in the aircraft grades is unusually valuable and should not be rejected unnecessarily.

In some of the aircraft woods discolorations are common, and there has been doubt as to which of these indicate weakness. This has been particularly true of yellowpoplar, in which the wood may show most of the colors of the rainbow.

Forest pathologists of the U. S. department of Agriculture have come to the rescue of the inspectors with information as to which colors denote weakness. These scientists have found that, in yellowpoplar much of the buff or brown wood lacks toughness and should be excluded. But veneer stained red, yellow, lavender, purple, gray, or any shade of green is not materially weakened and may be used in airplane plywood without risk. These findings make approximately 20 percent more yellowpoplar veneer eligible for aircraft purposes.

Organized from Regular Army troops in June, 1917; arrived in France some month under command of Maj. Gen. W. L. Sibert. October 23, 1917, Battery C, 6th Field Artillery east of Battlement fired first American shot in World War. Took first German prisoner captured by Americans, and suffered first combatant losses November 3, 1917. During operations the Division took 6,661 prisoners. Its casualties totaled 26,332. Served in Army of Occupation near Coblenz and returned to U. S. late in August, 1919. Its insignia is red figure on olive drab.

SECOND DIVISION
Organized October, 1917, from troops of Regular Army and Marine Corps. First unit of Division arrived in France in June, 1917. Its commander was Maj. Gen. Omar Bundy. Participated in Aisne-Marne offensive and succeeding operations. It captured 12,026 prisoners and suffered 25,076 casualties. Joined Army of Occupation and returned to U. S. in August, 1919. Its insignia the "Star and Indian Head" on square of blue.

THIRD DIVISION
Organized from Regular Army troops in November, 1917, at Camp Greene, N. C., commanded by Maj. Gen. Joseph T. Dickman. Went to France in April, 1918, and served its entire time—86 days—in active battle areas. Chateau-Thierry, St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne. It advanced 41 kilometers against enemy resistance and captured 2,240 prisoners and great quantities of artillery and machine guns. Its insignia is three white stripes diagonally superimposed on a square field of royal blue.

FOURTH DIVISION
Organized from Regular Army troops December, 1917, at Camp Greene, N. C. It included also the first drafted men to enter the ranks. It was commanded by Maj. Gen. George H. Cameron. It arrived in France in May, 1918, and was active in Narroy and Hautevesnes offensives, the Vesle and Meuse-Argonne operations. Nicknamed the "Ivy Division", its insignia is four green leaves superimposed on a diamond of olive drab.

FIFTH DIVISION
The "Red Diamond Division" was organized at Camp Logan, Tex., and arrived in France in March, 1918. It was composed of Regular Army troops in command of Maj. Gen. John E. McAheon. It participated in the St. Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne operations, capturing many prisoners and large quantities of arms and munitions. It served with Army of Occupation until the summer of 1919. ### Funeral Services For Dr. Stovall Held At Dallas

Funeral services for Dr. William Thomas Stovall, 65, of Dallas brother of R. M. Stovall of Floydada, were held Tuesday afternoon, December 1, at the Marrs-Munday funeral chapel of Dallas. Dr. W. Marshall, pastor of the Gaston Avenue Baptist church officiated. Burial was made in the Hillcrest Memorial Park.

Dr. Stovall was stricken with paralysis November 25 while at Alto to look after some real estate interests and succumbed December 29. He had been a resident of Dallas for the past 25 years.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Johnnie Dorsey Stovall, Dallas; four brothers, Geo. Stovall, Plainview, Lee Stovall and H. C. Stovall of Lubbock and R. M. Stovall of Floydada; two sisters Mrs. E. C. Morgan, Waco and Mrs. Rufus Trussell, Mt. Cain.

Mr. Stovall returned home Wednesday of last week after attending funeral services for his brother.

HUGH McCULLOUGH ENTERS F. B. I. ACADEMY

Hugh D. McCullough, son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fry left last week for Washington, D. C., where he entered the F. B. I. academy. He has been a resident of Midland for the past eighteen months where he has been employed as geologist in the district offices of the Sinclair Prairie Oil company.

Mrs. McCullough and little son Bob Fry will make their home here with her parents during the next three months while Mr. McCullough is attending the F. B. I. academy.

Gas Rationing First Test Of Church Loyalty

(J. G. Malphurs, minister)
 We have said before that Christianity is to be tested in Satan's sieve. Plants that sprang up on rocky ground, without being well-rooted in Christ, will rapidly under the trials now upon the world. Gas-rationing is test Number One on church attendance. Food rationing will have but little to do with church attendance since it does not have anything to do with means of going places; but gas-rationing limits our travel, whether we have abundance of food or not.

Genuine Christians will obey this regulation without murmuring against those in authority (Rom. 13:1-4). It is intended for the good and safety of a great nation. Christians should be an example to non-Christians in using their allowance in the best way possible. They will put church attendance first among the necessary trips to be made. That is the way our government would have them do, thank the Lord! Because our rulers see the great need of the church with her spiritual light, Christians must show their appreciation by refraining from taking unnecessary trips. Weak church members will likely do as non-Christians, burn their allowance (and more if they can get it) in going to places of amusements and in making unnecessary trips. They will leave church going off on the pretext, "We can't get gas."

Though not intended by the lawmakers, gas-rationing will begin its test "at the house of God." (1 Pet. 4:17) We mean by this, that if church members will stand this test by using the allowance wisely, and remain faithful to church duties, their example will help non-church members to obey the regulation. If church members violate the law and deal in boot-legging of gas the outlook for national unity is dark.

You are invited to worship with the City Park congregation both morning and evening.

Center News

CENTER, December 8.—This fine snow is great on wheat and for an underground season next year. It is pretty hard on cotton pulling. We surely need at least a couple of weeks nice weather to complete the cotton harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Sims and daughter Betty Jo spent the weekend at Slaton with Mrs. Sims' sister, Mrs. Gentry and family.

Mrs. L. Sandefur has been ill recently but is able to be up and about the house most of the time.

Billy Crabtree came Saturday to stay some ten days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Crabtree. Billy spent most of last year in Puerto Rico and later in California.

Mrs. C. Finley and Leonard moved last week to the Wright place northeast of Floydada. Mr. Finley will join them soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Allen have their daughter Mrs. Layton Dorrell and small daughter Darlene as their guests this week.

No school at Center yesterday because snow was too deep for children to be out.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jordan, Mrs. C. L. Joiner and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell went to Lubbock last week. Mrs. W. B. Jordan for a physical check-up, the J. B. Jordans to shop and Mrs. Joiner left from there for her home in Santa Ana, California, after a three and one-half months visit here with her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Bagwell and Mr. Bagwell.

Orville Lightfoot and small daughter Teddy, Mr. and Mrs. Cheaves of Dallas, parents of Mrs. Lightfoot, Mrs. Nadine Smith of Dumas, and Mrs. T. C. Hollums of Amarillo were Thanksgiving visitors of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Lightfoot.

Little Ray Frank Harris is visiting tonight with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jordan.

We have nine baby pigs and six new lambs that were ushered in just ahead of the snowy spell. There were no services here Sunday, guess folks got scared of the snow.

Instead of our club meeting December 14 we plan to entertain our families with a Christmas program and supper on or about December 23. Definite date and place will be announced later. We will not meet with Mrs. A. L. Spence as scheduled in the yearbook.

Teacher Gives Reasons For Joining WAACS

Mrs. Hughes, of Santa Fe, New Mexico, a former teacher in the Floydada schools for four years, has recently joined the WAACS, according to information received here recently by friends. Mrs. Hughes is the daughter of Mrs. Bob Mayo of Petersburg and was reared in that community. She gave up a $1,800 a year job with the Highway department of Santa Fe to join the WAACS.

Mrs. Hughes gave the following reasons for joining: "I remember the spirit of Bataan, the Alamo and those quaint men who marched barefooted in the snow at Valley Forge. I'm throwing my beret into the ranks of the United States Army and asking for the privilege of sharing routine burdens so that more men can carry the American flag to farther places. And when it is all over and we halt at Tokyo and Berlin, I want to remember that Hitler and Tojo asked for it—that they stood on a mountain and dared God to bring on the enemy, or even women."

Mrs. Hughes has lived at Santa Fe for the past six years. She is now in training at Fort Des Moines, Iowa.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to all of our friends and also to Dr. and Mrs. Pitts and the nurses at the hospital for all of the kindness shown to us during the illness and death of our son and brother, R. L. Riggle.

The beautiful flowers and all the kind deeds have made our sorrow easier to bear. It is our wish that you receive as much comfort in your hour of sorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Riggle and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Carr Surginer returned last week from Fort Worth where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Homa Runnels and at Blum, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Gibson. They were accompanied on the trip by Mr. Surginer's mother Mrs. C. Surginer, who visited her brother, Geo. Wilhoit and family of Burk-burnett.

C. W. Ginn who was injured two months ago in a train-car collision near his home at a railroad crossing at Cereal, north of Lockney, is able to be up and about, according to his mother Mrs. J. W. Ginn, who returned home Friday following a three weeks visit with her son and his family.

... General Electric equipment is fighting with America's land army. From the rolling kitchens to the front line, electricity works for victory.

1. In the factory electricity stitches the seams of tank armor, and on the battlefield it controls the operation of these spearheads of modern combat.

2. In induction center and field hospital, the X ray helps safeguard the health of our fighting men, aiding in the diagnosis and treatment of disease.

3. Far from the usual power sources, mobile power plants supply electricity for 800,000,000 candlepower searchlights by which a newspaper can be read 12 miles away.

4. Blitz war requires swift communications! On the soldier's back, in field and sky, radio co-ordinates the striking force of American army planes, guns, and tanks.

Pre-Flight Aeronautics in School

A Pre-flight Aeronautics course is to be offered the second semester and is to be taught by Coach Murray. It will be a half semester subject and will give students credit. It deals with what makes the plane fly, the knowledge of the instruments and knowing how to read them and it also deals with physics. The students taking this course will learn exactly what makes the motor tick, kinds of flying weather, and some navigation. There will be a few experiments along the electrical line, and diagrams as well as how to recognize different types of planes.

When a student has completed this course he should be able to fly a plane with very little training.

GO ALONG WITH RATIONING AND OTHER GOVERNMENT PROGRAMS, URGES BROWN

Floydada, December 3d. To The Hesperian: The rationing program of the Federal government, more especially the rationing of gasoline, is apparently the number one problem in universal rationing. Until the dead line on gasoline sales by dealers and service stations was reached there was not too much said about the program. But now little else is being talked and headlined throughout the Nation.

There are those who believe the rationing of gasoline is essential to the prosecution of the war and there are others, including our Governor, Coke Stevenson, who say that it is positively not necessary from any angle. Someone is right about this and someone is wrong. What is the correct answer?

Our military experts and those of our leaders who have given serious study to the question, without exception almost, say that if the needs of our fighting forces are not properly and wisely protected against a "Dunkirk" or another "Pearl Harbor," we could and may lose the war that now engages and demands our full strength. They say, and advisedly, that the rationing of gasoline is vital to the conservation of rubber now in the United States (we are cut off from almost all importation of rubber at this time). They further say that the visible needs of our fighting forces, based on the views of military experts as to the probable duration of the war, will take every pound of crude rubber now in reserve in the United States.

As A Safety Margin
If these statements are facts, and they may be facts for aught that you or I know, then we should conserve our rubber supply even if all of us are called upon to do a lot of walking. Just to be safe we should give our government the benefit of the doubt and await developments.

Those who are doing the loudest complaining over the rationing of gasoline should do a little thinking. Candidly I can't say that I am "crazy" about the rationing program but I can take it if it will aid the war effort—and I can take it without feeling that I am making much of a sacrifice.

when there was more lost motion and more inefficiency in high places than we have with us today. But, even with this condition prevailing, we have some real statesmen in the Congress of the United States, enough let us hope, to put on the brakes and steer us through the storm. These statesmen are not all in the Democratic party either.

The November election shows the direction in which the wind is blowing. The next general election is almost sure to set up a different administration that will be good and wholesome for the country until that administration quits thinking and begins to fossilize just as the present administration is doing.

Schools Dismiss Friday For Ten Day Vacation

Floydada Public schools will be dismissed Friday afternoon, December 18, for the Christmas holidays to be resumed Monday morning, December 28 at 10 o'clock, according to an announcement made by Superintendent Walter Travis.

Two special Christmas programs are to be presented next week, by the schools. The first a Victory concert by the Floydada band, directed by Erman Gray will be given Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the High school auditorium.

Then on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock children of the first three grades of Andrews ward school will be presented in a Christmas opera, "Is Santa Real."

Employs Music Teacher
Supt. Travis also reported the employment of Mrs. S. H. Thompson of Wellington, as teacher of public school music. Mrs. Thompson has been teaching at Olliland for the past five years where her husband served as superintendent until recently when he volunteered for naval service. She is a graduate of Central State Teachers college of Oklahoma.

Mrs. Thompson resumed her place in the school Tuesday morning, relieving Mrs. Roe McCleskey, who has been substituting since the resignation of Miss Ouida Whitefield several weeks ago.

Originally a trading post, Seymour Texas, county seat of Baylor county, stands at the crossing of the old Dodge and California trails.

Gas Rationing—

gests that they wait until it actually becomes apparent their supply of gasoline is not going to be sufficient for their business needs. In every instance, it is pointed out, the coupons issued were based on the statements of the applicant himself and not on the comparative claims of a neighbor. The board is not attempting to give everybody the same as his neighbor but has attempted to find out from the applicant what his actual business needs are for passenger car operation. Martin said.

Passenger Tire Quotas Enlarged
To meet needs in the first month of mileage rationing, under which practically all passenger cars become eligible for recapping services or replacement tires. OPA announced expanded passenger car tire and tube quotas for December. Quotas announced for the month include 41,973 Grade II new tires, 16,880 tubes and 39,193 recapping services for Texas.

The Government's idle tire purchase plan may prove to be the most important factor of the entire mileage rationing picture. On November 30, it was estimated that 6,250,000 passenger-type tires had been turned in and officials said that slightly more than half of these are usable in their present condition or can be made usable by repairs or recapping. The usable and repairable tires will be placed back into trade channels as soon as possible and will be rationed to consumers on the basis of essential mileage. The other tires, graded as scrap, will be ultimately be converted to reclaimed rubber to augment the nation's supply of crude rubber. Many thousands of tires made from reclaimed rubber are now being stocked by dealers all over the nation in preparation for the requests for tires under the mileage rationing program. The whole program is designed to furnish tires to all, based on essential mileage. The essential mileage part of the program, of course, is guided by the gasoline rationing regulations.

Coffee Drinkers, Note

Coffee drinkers who failed to get their war ration book No. 1 (sugar ration book) must file an application with their local war price and rationing board by December 15, in order to purchase coffee, and that date is the last date on which ration stamp No. 9 may be used to buy sugar. Book No. 1 is necessary not only for securing coffee now, but must be presented to local boards around the first of the year in order to receive war ration book No. 2.

Victory Concert Date Changed To December 14

Announcement has been made by Erman Gray, director of the Floydada High school band that the date for the December Victory concert is December 14—Monday night—instead of December 19, Thursday night of next week.

Change in the date is occasioned by conflicting Christmas activities dates in the school, Mr. Gray said. Both the high school and ward school band students will participate in the Victory concert of this month.

Admission to the concert is the purchase of a War stamp or bond at the door, which the purchaser keeps.

PEANUT FLAVOR FOR BAKED APPLES

The wartime supply situation makes baked apple even more popular than usual for either a simple dessert or breakfast fruit, both because the fruit is plentiful and because it calls for little or no sugar. After coring apples, many cooks fill the core space with a bit of butter and nuts and raisins. A variation that offers good nutrition as well as a difference in flavor that will please many, says the Bureau of Home Economics, is to omit the butter and nuts and fill the cavity with peanut butter and raisins.

The Elm Creek Soil Conservation Project, Bell county, Texas, is the oldest Project of its kind in the United States.

Texas spends more than $2,000,000 annually for the development and conservation of natural resources.

More than $8,000,000 is spent annually by the Texas government in the maintenance of correctional and eleemosynary institutions.

More than $50,000,000 is spent annually by the Texas government for the support of free schools and vocational training.
