

All Cars Eligible But Quotas Still Are Effective

Reminder that the Floyd County War Price and Rationing board still is restricted by a quota in spite of the fact that all motorists are eligible for tires was offered today by W. Edd Brown, board chairman this week.

"Even under the new mileage rationing regulations, the board still is operating under quota restrictions in issuing certificates for all tires, tubes and recapping services," said the board chairman. "Under the mileage rationing program, all motorists are eligible for tires, but most essential mileage must be taken care of first under the rationing regulations," he stated.

The Floyd county quota was set in Washington. Announcement has been received here from the Office of Price Administration that several boards have reported the belief seems to exist among tire applicants that approval of their applications is assured under the new regulations. District officials joined the Floyd county board in asking that the public realize the board is limited by a quota.

Some motorists are under the impression they must obtain recapping service or replacements, if recommended by a tire inspector, before signature of the inspector will be placed on their inspection report. The board called attention to a line on the tire inspection record specifying that inspectors will not sign until the "required service" has been completed, "except for recapping service or replacement."

Chairman Finley Calls Meeting To Organize Class

An advanced First Aid class will be organized Friday night at 8 o'clock at the City hall, according to an announcement made this week by Ike Finley, Floyd County First Aid chairman. Mr. Finley urged that everyone interested by present to help outline plans for the meetings. Joe Browning will teach the 10-hour course.

"Anyone having completed the standard first aid course would be eligible to take the advanced course," Mr. Finley said. He urged that everyone eligible take advantage of this opportunity because of the present shortage of doctors and nurses.

Precision Flying Is Their Watchword

Precision is the watchword with the pilots of these twin-engine AT-9 training planes, caught by the camera in a formation flight. The pilots are among those who received their silver wings in class 43-A and are "ready and rarin' to go" to join their comrades in spreading aerial death and destruction to the Axis.

Two Floyd Men Graduate Today And Get Wings

RANDOLPH FIELD, Texas, Jan. 14.—Trained to razor-edge and ranging in age from 18 to 27 years, the greatest number of war birds in the history of the Army Air Forces Gulf Coast Training Center received their silver wings at eight advanced schools today, and are ready and anxious to join their comrades in dealing aerial death and destruction to the enemies of Democracy.

Augmented by classes from two new fields, Blackland two-engine at Waco, Texas, and Eagle Pass, Texas, single-engine fighter schools, 43-A is the beginning of the 1943 output of pilots.

New pilots from the Floyd county area include: Lieut. William F. Bertrand, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Bertrand, R. F. D. No. 2, Floydada, from Moore field, San Angelo; and Lieut. Charles L. Cates, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cates, R. F. D. No. 4, Floydada, from Ellington field, Houston.

The tremendous expansion program which was launched even before Pearl Harbor, saw eleven classes graduated last year. Forecast that the 1943 production will far outnumber that of 1942 is based on the fact that many new schools in the Training Center are now nearing completion and will contribute flying graduates.

In addition to Blackland and Eagle Pass, new pilots received their wings at Foster and Moore fields, Texas, and Lake Charles, Louisiana, single-engine advanced schools, and Brooks, Ellington and Lubbock, Texas, twin-engine advanced schools.

They have been recipients of the finest instruction in the best planes in the world, and are part of the Army Air Forces answer to those who would destroy the American way. Of the graduates, some will be commissioned second lieutenants, while others will be appointed to the newly created rank of flight officer.

Quentin Burgett Living; Prisoner In Germany

Lieut. Quentin Burgett is a prisoner of war in Germany.

This is the news his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Burgett of Santa Anna, have been given officially and which they have relayed to relatives and friends here. "Quentin is a prisoner of the German government," a laconic message from the Burgetts said last Friday to R. P. King, an uncle of the flying officer, whose Flying Fortress went down in a bombing raid over continental Europe a week before Christmas.

Lieut. Burgett, the family was advised by the War department at the time, was missing in action just following a raid in force when the American machines were under heavy attack and lost several planes.

The news that Burgett survived the crash of his machine and is a prisoner in Germany was received just 19 days after he was reported missing. Whether he is injured and how many of his crew also survive are among the details which are yet unknown in this country.

"You can tell all of my friends back at home where I am and that I am O. K. I would like very much to write all of them but I can't. Give all of the folks by best regards and don't forget to write me for a letter from home would really seem good."

Daniel Resigns Post At First Nat'l Bank

President Since 1934 Making New Future Plans

After 26 years association with the First National bank of Floydada, J. V. Daniel has announced the severance of his relations as a stockholder and president of the institution.

Sale of his stock to other members of the organization and associates was completed on January 2.

Mr. Daniel at this time has plans which have not been matured sufficiently to announce, further than to say he expects to continue to make his home in Floydada.

Worked As Bookkeeper

His first connection with the banking business began in 1915 when he moved from Hughes Spring to Floydada and worked for a year with the First State bank as bookkeeper. After a year he moved to the First National in the same capacity and has been with that bank ever since, save two years spent in the armed forces of the country during portions of the years 1917 to 1919. In the latter year, his military service completed, he returned to his job with the First National.

From 1921 to 1927 he was cashier of the bank, and for three or four years until 1934, he was vice-president, being chosen for the presidency in 1934 in recognition of his outstanding work during the first years of the depression. In this period, he is credited with working out many tangled financial puzzles with a minimum of friction and no law suits.

When Mr. Daniel became president of the bank in 1934 it was operating on a capital of $25,000 with a surplus of $10,000. The official statement of December 31, made public last week, gave the capital assets at $50,000 in common stock, $28,000 surplus, $22,991 undivided profits and a reserve for contingencies of $18,000, an increase in capital investment of more than $83,000.

Lieut. Smothers Outlined WAAC Duties Friday

Rose L. Smothers, WAAC lieutenant, from West Texas recruiting headquarters at Lubbock addressed a group of interested women Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at Fellowship hall in behalf of the Woman's Auxiliary Army corps.

Lieut. Smothers answered many questions in regard to the duties of the WAAC's and informed the women in regard to the basic training, and personal chances of promotion. She said 90% of the women who volunteer ask for service abroad and this is the only organization in which women can serve overseas.

She explained that one of the good advantages in being a WAAC is that the members are trained for an occupation that they desire or seem fitted for, and that this training might prove very beneficial to members after the war.

Several prospects were granted interviews following the meeting.

License Plates Will Be One- By-Four 'Tabs'

Although no license plates for 1943 may be sold legally until February 1, Assessor-Collector Geo. B. Marshall this week received notice from the State Highway department giving some details as to the tags and adding, however, that "some counties are likely to be late" in getting their tags.

Whether Floyd county will get tags by February 1, Mr. Marshall does not know. His information from the department said the 1943 "plates" will be in the form of 1 inch by 4 inch tabs, with one punch-hole, which will be applied over last year's and will have serial numbers to comply with the receipt numbers he issues. Marshall does not know the answers yet to several questions that will be asked, as for instance, what about a newcomer with a tag from some other state.

To Collect At Lockney For one full day, Wednesday, January 20, the Floydada office of the assessor-collector will be closed while Marshall and his deputy are at Lockney to spend the day collecting ad valorem taxes. This is the annual visit of the official for the convenience of taxpayers who find it inconvenient or impossible to come to the office here.

Controlled Farm Program More Lenient In Cotton And Wheat Allotments For This Year

A more lenient farm program that eliminates the requirement which previously made it necessary to plant at least 90% of the cotton and wheat allotments, was received in a telegram this week addressed to the County Committee of Floyd county.

The elimination of deductions for failure to plant the required acreage of special crops was brought about in order to place full emphasis on growing war crops and the production of essential food.

of the increased productions requested" the following explanations were pointed out:

A balanced food production would not result if every farmer were allowed to produce just what he could produce with his machinery and manpower. We have a two-year supply of wheat and short staple cotton on hand; but we need long-staple cotton, soybeans, peanuts, meat and milk.

If industry were uncontrolled there is a possibility that we would have too many tanks, not enough guns; too many airplanes, not enough ships. Controlled industry can produce only a balanced output necessary for the prosecution of the war.

Similarly agriculture must produce a balanced-output of the needed foods to aid in winning this war. We have to take into account what our Allies must have, what our fighting men need, and what our people on the home front must eat to produce the necessary war goods. In answer to the question of "Why is a AAA program necessary in view

EDITORIALS

We cannot too strongly urge our people that, whatever they may think of the gasoline rationing program, they should by all means try to obey the edicts of the bureau which is handing out the regulations. Complying in spirit, as well as in letter, might be difficult with us or with you. But do obey the letter of these "laws." If, in our complaints against the plan being used and the set-up in general, we have given the impression that one is justified in failure to comply, we hasten to declare that was not our intention. The country is in a death struggle, true, and you should not be done the way you are being done perhaps, but until changes are made in due process it is not for us to say we will not be bound by emergency measures. Two mountains do not make a hole in the ground. Obey the letter of the rationing laws and you'll be happier.

Owners of automobiles, trucks, pickups and tractors must at once revise their attitudes toward the vehicles which they own. How well they are cared for and how long they will last will have a definite bearing on the country's war effort. So that, instead of being your own property to whom around and tear up or do as you please with, they are a part of the nation's trust put into your hands. Not legally, probably, but certainly in a moral sense. This is the way this kind of reasoning is arrived at: The estimate is that the minimum number of automobiles the country needs to maintain absolute essential business is twenty million, and the number of trucks five million. When one of these machines goes out of service it cannot be replaced. Automobiles and trucks are not now being made for civilian purposes. And when the total number of machines taken out of service reduces the total in use to the twenty million and five million levels, the government will have to take some plant now making war materials and have them re-tool to begin making cars and trucks again. The car you care for or the truck you keep running thus helps put off that day that much longer. Care for your car for your country.

Texas' governor, Coke R. Stevenson, on the air one day last week, pointed out one of the ways the federal government gave the state the run-around during the pre-war period, a practice that is being continued. This is in the "regional" set-ups that often put portions of several states under the direction and supervision of certain federal agencies for certain purposes. Thus the state governments concerned were given the run around, tied off somewhat like a surgeon would eliminate a vermiform appendix. Thus co-operation, or complaints, went direct to Washington, undermining state control of state affairs. The governor of Texas is a western Texas fellow and as such is going to get credit for being a reactionary. Also, the governor spoke of what the "founding fathers" had in mind. That is out back east, where Washington, Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin are long-since outmoded.

Retail milk prices in Floydada fortunately have not been upped for more than a year, but if ceilings in adjacent areas continue higher than at this point it is only a matter of time until the price rise will come here, one way or another. Already there have been feelers put out to producers who sell through this point, either for retail or for cheese production, suggesting more money for the same products. The man who milks and feeds the cows is going to be in a receptive mood and the man who pays them off is going to have to collect as much of the difference off of the retail trade as he can. Price squeezes like this are usually unwelcome to the middleman, because it disturbs his trade, costs him customers and a considerable bit of explaining.

The utilities companies are chain stores again. Once before they were chains and it cost them many a pretty penny to keep on furnishing merchandise to customers. This time, however, some of the utilities companies are quietly getting out of business, reporting only one or two stores and taking merchandise out at their other points. As is usually the case as a result of punitive laws the public pays the bill in inconvenience. At this time there are certain types of radiants and other merchandise for natural heaters you will be unable to obtain in Floydada. You can find them after a trip of some 55 miles if you happen to rate a gasoline card that will allow you to spend that much. This is only by way of illustration of how the thing is working in practice at this time.

The members of the Texas legislature last week memorialized the Texas delegation in Washington to make an effort to get some common sense into the war effort on the home front. In particular the Texas lawmakers asked that some effort be made to get the president to get some of the crackpots out of positions of responsibility so that the rule of common sense might again prevail. The self-appointed legislative committee stuck its neck out a long way, but most everybody in Texas is glad that somebody has the nerve to express the general sentiment. A lot of the things being done in the name of the war effort have no relation to the war effort except as a deterrent and, for that matter, no relation to anything else, not even the excuse of being for the betterment of social conditions, now or post-war. The people who have the sons on the firing line sure are getting tired of being shoved around and being told they are unpatriotic if they make a holler.

In connection with income tax reports, if you are a gambling man be careful to report it (in the place provided on the income tax blank) if you are ahead of the game for the year of 1942. However, you do not get credit for gambling losses, except to the extent of an amount that will equal what you have won. In other words, if you're winner you owe and if you are loser you just lost some of your money and you'll have to pay taxes the same as if you had not used bad judgment in the hand or horse you backed.

Nowadays so many people need sympathy that you shouldn't waste any on yourself.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nelle Witt Spikes

Well for a change, a much liked one, this Monday morning is dry and clear enough to go to work in the field again. The combine will get the maize that has stood so well and defied wind and snow and ice. The cotton clung tightly to its boll, and ducks have not quite finished the sorghum on the ground. The last two warm days make one aware that a garden time is just inside the garden fence.

When I get ready to go help milk I put on a long skirt woven from our own wool and terribly stylish some ten years ago, milk apron tied on a heavy coat, and warm hood. Then if it is muddy, I slip on a pair of my husband's old shoes, (just wasn't fancy enough to get over shoes) and start out. I feel like I am Mrs. Five by Five, and one could not tell whether I was coming or a-going.

My husband has been telling the family about the time "bob" wire came in to use in his boyhood. People on the prairie bought some of this new fencing. Cattle and horses running, would not even stop. Many were cut and folks were enraged. Fences cut. He told of one fence being cut between every post, even wire. Legislators were alarmed laws were passed, in favor of the fence and it became a penitentiary offense for one to cut a wire fence, which law is still in force. Mr. Spikes said it was the law then that a plank or pole should be put longways between every post. A man in Kaufman county fenced a league of land and put long poles between every post. Stock could then see the fence. The bars were long and sharp, closely spaced. On many an old fence in this country one sees a strand or so of this wire, which almost caused a revolution and changed the old way of letting stock run on the outside ranges.

I have been thinking this morning of a trip I made to Portales when I was a young woman with a son of two and one half years and twin babies of six months. Mother and father came down from their claim in New Mexico one spring in a covered wagon to see the grand twin girls. Father decided to stay awhile and I was to go home with mother, who had a boy of eight years, one of five and a girl of two. Such a trip. Four days of traveling and camping out houses for between. We got my cousin, Mary, a young girl to go with us and help me back with my train journey. The weather was cool, but with bedding in the wagon we kept warm. The twins cried. We thought they did not like to ride. When we stopped to camp, they cried louder than ever. Wilson and Josephine got into mischief, spilling the talcum all in the wagon, getting perfume into drinking water and cups. Opening a box of black pepper we lost our way, part of a day we journeyed a little to the northeast when it should have been northwest, making our trip a lot longer. The last evening we rode into a storm, dirt and lightning and roar of thunder. We stopped at a little house until the storm was over. It was dark, but we were in five miles of mother's home. We started to the wagon. Me carrying the twins.

A sudden flare of lightning lighted the whole universe. I was starting to step off into a cellar with my girls. We took the train home after two week's stay. The girls did not like that way of traveling. They cried even more about that. We stopped for a night at Hereford. Next morning we were waiting for the train, trying to keep up with Wilson and see after the babies. Mary handed me the one she had, to coral Wilson. I heard the shriek of the train, and I rushed up to Mary, saw that she did not have a baby in her arms, fairly yelled, much to the amusement of the onlookers. "Mary, where in the earth is that other twin,"—me standing there excitedly holding one in each arm.

Mrs. Bessie Westerman of the Robertson community in Crosby county sent me two nice rocks for my collection. Bessie and I have been friends from the time we both lived in Hereford. Mrs. Westerman is a very capable farm woman and always stands for the better things that make a fine community. Good wishes, to you, Mrs. Westerman. Two lovely blue vases stand on my bookcases. To you, they would look just alike, but to me there is a world of difference. One I bought and have had for some time, the other was a gift of friendship from Mrs. Loflin of the Golden Rule store in Ralls, who now has sold out. The vase represents the fact that I was the first woman customer when the Golden Rule first opened up in Ralls and I was the last two make a purchase after the store's life of twenty-odd years.

Being a farmer this bad winter looks like would be trouble enough but being both mail carrier and farmer would be still worse to our way of thinking and Mr. J. W. Clonts is both. Roads that would be hard to push a wheelbarrow down when dry and needing stints when wet, snow blocked roads, making miles of extra driving, sticking in the ditch and working to get out. Yes, mail carrying is not like going to a fourth of July picnic with cake and ice cream. It is a hard task, but Mr. Clonts usually makes it. When he does not come which is very rare, we sigh and say, I know the roads must be impassable.

The sun is about ready to come up, and as the colored cotton pickers says "Ole Miss, we must plunge into the work head foremost" this morning. Him calling me Ole Miss makes me think of old plantation life in the south. Wilma is the Young Miss to them.

Good thought for the week. Give me within the work which calls today, To see thy finger gently beckoning on; So struggle grows to freedom, work to play, And toils begun from Thee to Thee are done. J. F. Clark in "Daily Strength for Daily Needs."

W. E. BROWN SUGGESTS CAUTION TO PREVENT LATION BOOK THEFTS

Floydada, Texas, January 11, 1943. To The Hesperian: Many citizens of this county seem to be confused as to the status of the number three stamps in their "A" Mileage Rationing Books. The impression seems to be general over the county that number three stamps will be valid through the 31st of January. This is to advise that the original valid dates for all "A" stamps is still in force. This means that the number three stamps in this "A" book will be valid to and including January 21, 1943. After that date the number 4 stamps will be valid for the period listed on the inside of the front cover of this book. We wish to caution all holders of sugar books and gas books to protect their books against loss or theft. A new rule will go into effect shortly in connection with the loss of these books and it will not be an easy matter for lost books to be replaced by duplicates. In fact, there is the likelihood that a lost book will have to be advertised for a set period of time and convincing affidavits furnished before a duplicate book is available. Also, there will likely be a definite time that the loser of a book will be required to go without a book before he can secure another one. Minor violations of the rationing program, dealing with gasoline, sugar, ceiling prices and other phases, are being reported from time to time to the local board. Correction of these violations is in the hands of the OPA and they are now carrying on a systematic and thorough investigation by trained investigators. It is much better to cooperate with the Government in this great rationing program, which is designed to win the war, than to try to "cheat" and put something over on the ones who are trying to safeguard your liberty.

W. E. Brown, Editor

And, too, it is going to get someone into serious trouble when these violations are checked and sufficient evidence is in hand. W. Edd Brown, Chairman.

Care for my Car for my Country?

Sonny, what you do to your car is your business, although chances are you won't be able to get another while the war is on. But what your daddy does to his car is the nation's business! The American way of life is geared to the motor car. It takes the warworker to his job, carries munitions, provides essential civilian transportation. That is why cars and tires must be used wisely, must be preserved to play their part in holding war production at maximum. Your Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you Care For Your Car... For Your Country. And though you drive less miles, don't make the mistake of assuming your car needs less care. Reduced driving may increase crank-case dilution of oil by unburned fuel... may increase sludge because of added condensation of moisture. Both greatly reduce the motor protection and lubricating efficiency of your oil. Your battery, with charging time cut down, will need more frequent inspection. And spark plugs must be scientifically adjusted to prevent waste of fuel. Remember, every Phillips 66 Service Man is specially trained to make your car and your tires last longer and go farther. Enlist his aid, when you stop at any Orange and Black 66 Shield for Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for fast starting pep and extra mileage... and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

Imminent School 'Blackout' Fore-Seen By Hill

CANYON, Jan. 14. — Many communities of the Panhandle face an educational "blackout" next fall unless drastic steps are taken to meet the acute teacher shortage, President J. A. Hill of West Texas State college declared this week in announcing spring semester plans of his institution.

While West Texas State is offering short courses, pre-induction and pre-professional work, aviation mechanics, radio, and many other wartime classes, the college is at the same time mindful of the plight of schools in this area, Dr. Hill added. With the assistance of Panhandle principals and superintendents, he proposes that a survey be made of persons who might, with some quick preparation, go into the school rooms in the emergency. The college will offer "refresher" courses and beginning classes in the spring semester opening January 26. It will have other courses leading to all Texas teaching certificates.

Dr. Hill noted that practically all young male teachers would be in military services or industries by next fall. Hundreds of young women are leaving the schoolrooms for military auxiliary services or jobs in business and industry which pay more than school teaching.

"Unless something far-reaching is done quickly, this generation of youth is going to reach adulthood with the poorest preparation to carry its rapidly increasing responsibilities that has characterized any like body of citizens in a quarter of a century," Dr. Hill said.

He called for increased salaries for teachers, re-entry of former teachers, acceptance of married women as teachers, and emphasis upon the importance of the teacher in this national emergency.

In 1942 this department advocated the slogan, "A garden for every farm family and a Frame Garden for every family."

We were advised over a year ago to begin production food for home use as many foods would not be available to the consumer. We are coming close to the time when the purchase of certain foods will be limited.

Home gardens do require a lot of work, but the important factor to consider is the health of the family. Each family should study the food requirements for the year, and make definite preparations for that family garden.

Floyd county growers have been asked to produce 15% more turkey meat in 1943 than they did in the past year. The Texas goal is to have more than four and a quarter million birds at marketing time next fall.

These goals can be reached through better breeding and feeding. Quality meat can only be produced through careful feeding of balanced rations. Proper feeding will reduce turkey troubles.

Each turkey grower should plan in advance a good feeding program for the year. Certain feeds may be difficult to purchase, which may mean substituting other feeds. A good plan is to keep at least one month feed supply on hand. This will give the producer an opportunity to make corrections in the ration and avoid unnecessary trouble.

Hen No. 1 on the W. A. Kirk poultry farm in Floydada laid 280 eggs during her trap year. Mr. Kirk reports that 39% of his flock laid 250 eggs or more for the year.

It requires about the same amount of feed to maintain a hen's body regardless of production. The feed range becomes smaller as the production increases, and certainly the profit increases when more eggs are laid. Now is a good time to check the flock average for the past year and determine what changes can be made to increase production. More eggs are needed—keep the hens on the job.

Farm operators will not be expected to grow cane for hay in 1943 to comply with the AAA program. This means more stress will be placed on grain crops that can be harvested with a combine.

Check the good grain sorghum varieties released by Experiment Stations and secure seed stock early. Remember many farmers will be changing their crop plans and good seed is always a problem.

Let us help you locate adapted varieties that are new to the area.

Lockney Locals
LOCKNEY, Jan. 11.—Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Thornton visited in Canyon Thursday with relatives and friends.

Miss Dorothy Sherfield was able to be brought home from the Lubbock hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Huey Davidson spent last week in Oglesby with their parents and other relatives, returning home Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wharton and son Billy Mack of Lubbock spent New Year's here with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wharton. They visited during the afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Carthel of Floydada. Mr. Wharton has been on the police force at Lubbock for a number of years.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Powell visited in Plainview Saturday.

Miss Ruth Mooney returned to her home at Oglesby last week following a visit here with her sister, Mrs. I. H. Davidson and Mr. Davidson.

This year it will be safe and wise for the farm family to plan for a not for six or seven months which is often the case.

In making the plan, two and one half pounds may be allowed for each adult. Then to make it last a whole year the most satisfactory methods of conserving meat should be used.

Sugar cure or even salt cure may be used. The freezer locker is an excellent place to store meat, as freezing is a very good method to save food value, flavor and texture of meat. Meat may also be canned in tin cans or glass jars. Successful use of glass jars depends upon the rinsing being free from nicks and chips, upon the quality of rubber rings or composition tops used, and upon tops fitting tightly. When using tin cans notice the type of gasket the lid has. If it is a paper one, keep the lid dry until the can is sealed.

If a quantity of canned meat is not desired the so called "scraps" might be canned such as the heart, brains, tongue, pickled pigs feet, liver paste and scrapple.

For detailed information concerning canning meat, ask at this office.

At the end of the year the 4-H girls in the county took inventory of their work. 97 girls reported that they had helped with cotton harvest and performed other jobs on the farm during the year on account of labor shortage. 99 girls planted gardens and 106 girls planned 1340 meals and about 90 per cent of them had a hand in this year's canning. This means that these girls have certainly lived up to the first part of the Victory demonstrator's pledge that of producing food, feed and fiber, for herself and others.

Emergency Crop Loans Available For 1943 Crops

Emergency Crop loans, known generally as "the seed loans," offered for many years in this county by the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan section of the Farm Credit Administration, are now available to farmers in need of financial assistance for the production of vitally important food crops and normal crops for 1943, according to announcement of W. E. Farwell manager of the Dallas office.

Applications for the loans are being taken in this county at District Clerk's office, Floydada, under direction of Field Supervisor Clyde F. Milam. Funds obtained under these loans may be used to cover the cost of preparing the land and to purchase seed, fertilizer and supplies incident to the production of the crop. A first mortgage on the crops to be grown is the security required on the crop loans. As in the past, borrowers will be required to agree to plant a large garden for home use and a balanced crop program will be encouraged. This year, however, particular emphasis will be laid upon the patriotic duty of all growers to produce food crops and oil bearing crops outlined by the Department of Agriculture as all important goals in meeting the urgent war needs. Loans are also available from this agency to purchase or produce feed for livestock. A first mortgage on the livestock to be fed is the security for that type of loan. Applicants who can obtain loans from banks, Production Credit Association, or on reasonable terms from other sources, are not eligible for Emergency Crop loans.

Cotton Harvest Ends This Week At Center

CENTER, January 12.—The pretty days of sunshine have certainly been enjoyed by everyone in the community. A norther blew up last night so we do not know what we have in store for us. Moving in the community has begun. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jackson moved near Sterley Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peterson moved to the Sand Hill community today, after residing in the community a year. We regretted to see them go and our good wishes go with them. In a unanimous vote cast Sunday Rev. J. R. Gambrell was called to preach for the community. He will accept or refuse the call when he occupies the pulpit Sunday. Jimmy Green, stationed at Sheppard Field, visited at home from Monday until Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jordan had as their guests on Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell and Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Harris and son Roy. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anderson and children, Dorothy, Nita and Leon and Eunice and James David Welborn and Curtis Meredith were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Peterson, Sunday. Jean Peterson visited Norma June Ross Sunday. Edwin and Lewis Anderson visited with the Robertsons this Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Mayfield visited Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Mankins Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jordan were guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ross at dinner Sunday. Other visitors in the afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Kendrick and children. W. B. Jones visited with his son Roe Jones and family Sunday. Mrs. G. C. Bailey has been quite ill with a throat ailment since Christmas. We had the first step made toward permanent road improvement last Friday when the road men hauled and filled in the three lowest places in our roads here. Now both the east and west road and north road are passable, with promise that further work will be done when the water gets out of the bar pits. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hopper and daughter have moved to the A. W. King farm for this year. If weather remains good the greater part of the cotton will be gathered this week. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McClure visited Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Mayfield Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. McClure visited their daughter, Mrs. Louis Golden in the Plainview hospital last week and will go to see her again tomorrow. OPA OFFICIALS ATTEND MEETING AT LUBBOCK. E. S. Randerson, chief clerk and J. W. Lanier, were representatives from the local War Price and Rationing office who attended the luncheon at the Hilton hotel at Lubbock Wednesday. Mark McGee, state director of OPA was host at the luncheon honoring Doyle Settle, district rationing officer for his meritorious service. Following the luncheon, problems of the county rationing boards from over the district were discussed. Besides the Alamo, still standing at San Antonio, Texas, are a number of other historic missions, some more than 200 years old.

FARMER'S SHARE OF STORE PRICES

Jan.-June, 1942

A dollar is spent—Farmer gets 5¢

1 1/2¢ wheat in 8 or 9¢ loaf

144¢ cotton in dollar shirt

Food doubles its price after it leaves the farm. Some farm products, on which processing and other costs are high, more than double their price before reaching consumers, latest figures from the U. S. Department of Agriculture reveal. There's only about 1 1/2 cents worth of wheat in an 8 or 9 cent loaf of bread, for instance, and about 14 cents worth of cotton in a dollar shirt.

Quality Vital As Well As Quantity In Butterfat

America's farmers must keep an eye on the quality of their cream while they strive to produce the huge quantity of butterfat asked of them for the war effort during the new year of 1943. H. C. Darger, coordinator of the National Cream Quality Program, Chicago, states in a message received here recently. Mr. Darger's message was sent in connection with the scheduled observance throughout the county and country on Tuesday, January 12, of Farm Mobilization day proclaimed by President Roosevelt with the object of "insuring for the year 1943 the maximum production of vital foods." "Failure by many farmers to safeguard quality may result in cream so bad that state and federal laws will not permit its use for making butter—a true Victory food," Mr. Darger writes. "During 1942 an estimated 30 to 50 million pounds of cream—enough to make more than a thousand carloads of butter—had to be rejected by creameries and cream buyers as unfit. In addition, huge quantities of finished butter were seized and condemned because made of poor cream that had 'gone by.' This represents not only the loss of valuable foodstuffs badly needed by our armed forces but also a loss of many millions of dollars to the farmers whose labor went into the production of this large volume of unacceptible cream. To the extent that we are able to whittle down the amount of poor and rejected cream mentioned, the 1943 food job will be made easier." In his message, Mr. Darger calls attention to several facts on milk separation which hold the possibility of substantial increases in the production of cream and butter even with our present cow population. "Farmers using outdated water dilution, deep-setting and similar methods of separation lose fully 25 per cent of their butterfat in the skim milk, in comparison with only one-half of one per cent loss shown by good mechanical separators," he states. "On the other hand, a mechanical separator not kept in efficient working condition can also be a cream thief of the first order. Cow-test association records reveal that losses of anywhere from 4 ounces to several pounds of butter per day are not common on farms having poorly functioning mechanical separators, the majority of which could be quickly restored to efficient operation. There are also the totally unnecessary losses resulting from failure of many farmers to separate their milk immediately after milking, while it is still warm. Separated at a temperature of 90 degrees, 125 pounds of milk will yield about five pounds of butterfat. But the same amount of milk separated at 60 degrees will deliver less than four pounds of butterfat, the balance running off with the skim milk. This is equal to cutting a five-cow herd down to four cows."

"What have you done?" asked Peter.

"To seek admission here?"

"Oh, I used to edit a high school paper.

"On earth for one long year."

The gate swung sharply open, and Peter touched the bell.

"Come in, my child and take your harp.

"You've had enough of hell."

time you learned it, too.

What happened to the recent King and Medien romance?

Harold and Doris seem to enjoy each other's company, just a little too well if you ask me.

L. W. still has a corner of his heart for Edith Ruth, so we hear.

Howard finally got a date last Wednesday with Jean Wester.

If Dean weren't so bashful, he could do all right for himself.

Roy and Eddie Wayne didn't seem to care who was in the trunk of their car Sunday night did they? Or maybe they didn't know.

Bryan sure seemed to be having a good time in the show Sunday. Wonder why?

My, what next? Girls by themselves with a car on Sunday afternoon. It couldn't happen. Gee, these boys are dumb.

HEATED ARGUMENTS—WHICH COUPLE HAS GOTTEN ALONG BEST AT FLOYDADA HIGH

There have been some very heated arguments this year on which couple has gotten along the best. So to settle this argument, we decided to run a survey to find out what some of the students think.

Eddie Wayne Conner: R. T. and Sammie. They have less trouble than anybody.

Roy Baxter: Faye Nell and De Winn, they get long swell.

Tom Roy: Kenneth's and Nadine's. Full of laughs and sorrows.

If you saw Kenneth going around trying to borrow a dollar to go to the show you would laugh, too.

Dorothy Tye: The romance, or maybe I should say conflict, between Dub and La Juana caused the most excitement, but it certainly wasn't the happiest one.

Betty Jane Spence: Bryan's and Daphne's because of certain reasons.

David Battey: Harold's and Helen's just because.

What do you think?

Explains Point Rationing Plan Effective Soon

Highlights of the point rationing system, to be inaugurated within several weeks, as indicated in a recent OPA release, are as follows:

Rationing will be preceded by a short freeze, during which war ration book two will be issued to every man, woman and child. The freeze also will give food stores opportunity to build up supplies, train clerks, receive and post the official OPA list of point values and familiarize themselves with the values, and take inventory of their processed foods.

Everyone applying for war ration book two will be required to fill out and sign a "consumer declaration" form stating exactly the stocks of processed foods on hand. Book two will have stamps removed for excess stocks, thus compelling applicants to use up present stocks before buying more. Heavy federal penalties can be applied to those making a false declaration.

Nothing canned at home, however, need be declared and no stamps will be deducted for home supplies.

The following processed fruits and vegetables will be subject to the regulations for rationing processed foods:

Canned and bottled fruits and fruit juices, including spiced fruits; Apples, including crabapples; apple sauce; apricots; baby foods; berries, all varieties; cherries, red sour pitted, and other cherries; cranberries and sauce; fruits for salad and fruit cocktail; grapefruit; grapefruit juice; grape juice; peaches; pears; pineapple; pineapple juice; all other canned and bottled fruits, fruit juices and combinations.

Canned and bottled vegetables and vegetable juices: Asparagus; baby foods; beans, fresh lima; beans, green and wax; beans, all canned and bottled dry varieties, including baked beans, soaked dry beans; pork and beans, kidney beans and lentils; beets, including pickled; carrots; corn; peas; sauerkraut; spinach; tomatoes; tomato catsup and chili sauce; tomato juice tomato products; all other canned and bottled vegetables, vegetable juices and combinations.

Other processed foods: Canned soups, all types and varieties; dried, dehydrated, fruits, prunes, raisins and all others; frozen fruits, cherries, peaches, strawberries, other berries and all other frozen fruits; frozen vegetables, asparagus, lima beans, green and wax beans, croccoli, corn, peas, spinach and all other frozen vegetables.

The following items are exempt: Canned fruits; chili con carne; frozen vegetables in containers over 10 pounds; fruit cakes; fruit juices in containers over one gallon; fruit puddings; jams; jellies; meat stews containing some vegetables; olives; paste products such as spaghetti, macaroni and noodles, whether or not they are packed with added vegetable sauces; pickles; potato salad; preserves; relishes; vegetable juices in containers over one gallon.

Point values will be the same in every store in the country and a housewife may shop in any store she chooses.

The new point "currency" for processed foods will be represented by

W. L. Clayton is Texas state chairman of the polio (infantile paralysis) effort this year, culminating on January 30, celebrating the president's 61st birthday. Mrs. George H. Pittman, of Dallas, is vice-chairman in charge of women's activities.

The blue stamps in war ration book two, which will contain both red and blue stamps. There are a total of 96 blue stamps and a numeral on the face of each shows its point value. Each stamp also bears a letter of the alphabet. The letters designate the ration period when the stamps may be used.

11,000 Books To Floyd
A total of 11,000 copies of war ration book two have been shipped to Floyd County War Price and Rationing board, W. Edd Brown, chairman has been advised, and plans for their distribution will be announced soon.

The Floyd County board has been assured the date for point rationing of canned goods will not be set until it has received all forms, books, and instructions and had opportunity to study them.
