BETTER POPCORNS BRED

In breeding new and better popcorns, the methods so effective in producing high-yielding field corn have shown equally good results. Records reported from the Kansas Corn Testing program show strikingly what can be gained by planting hybrid popcorns. Several of the new hybrid popcorns developed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Kansas State experiment station are outstanding in yield. One type, popcorn hybrid 2, averaged 47.6 bushels an acre compared with 26.4 bushels for Supergold, the best open-pollinated variety for Kansas. This is an increase in yield of 80.3 percent. Over a 5-year period popcorn hybrids 2 and 3 yielded fully 60 percent more corn than Supergold, and were equal to or superior in all other agronomic and popping characteristics.

Mrs. Buck Ragsdale of Baileyboro, Texas spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ross.

"ONE-MAN WAR EFFORT" FIGHTS IN 2 PLACES AT ONCE

Read what one man has done to help America win

L. C. KEENER, JR., is fighting Uncle Sam's war on two fronts. Here's how:

1. After Pearl Harbor he bought a $1,000 War Bond and began investing 7 percent of his salary in War Bonds. When his employer started the Pay-Roll Savings Plan, Keener pledged another 13 percent of his pay—a total of 20 percent.
2. Keener recently left his job for active duty in the Army, where he planned to have at least 10 percent of his pay deducted for War Bonds.

So while Keener is fighting abroad his money will be fighting at home. This is the scrappy American spirit that will lick the Axis!

Perhaps you, too, are fighting on the Bond front. But make it a good fight—make it the best fight you can. Boost your Bond buying through the Pay-Roll Savings Plan, right now . . . today!

You've done your bit—now do your best!

A POUND OF FOOD DAILY FROM A SMALL BACKYARD FLOCK

A flock of 15 hens, together with about 50 chickens raised chiefly for fryers, and also as replacements for the laying flock, will yield about a pound of food daily. Poultry specialists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture estimate that 15 good hens will produce in a year at least 180 dozen eggs, about 270 pounds. Forty of the young chicks raised to an average weight of 2½ pounds will supply about 80 pounds of dressed fryers or broilers. With allowance for minor losses, averaging five birds, the remaining chickens—previously selected pullets—would be used for replacements in the laying flock. Five hens at 5 pounds each replaced by younger birds, will supply about 22 pounds of dressed fowl. The total production thus amounts to 372 pounds of eggs and poultry meat—a pound a day of fresh wholesome food. Superior stock will produce more, especially in eggs, and even birds of only fair quality and kept by inexperienced persons should yield at least two-thirds as much. These estimates were used in a poultry exhibit by the Department recently, featuring backyard poultry keeping as a means of supplying home-grown meat and eggs. The 15 hens occupied a 6-by-8-foot house with a 6-by-6-foot sunporch. Feed hoppers, roosts, nests, and other equipment were designed for practical adaption and efficiency. The exhibit also included 50 young chickens in a brooder having a wire-enclosed runway.

Danger Of Acid In Car Motors Pointed Out

NEW YORK, N. Y., April 19.—Danger of acid in the engines of America's motor cars, due to slow driving necessitated by wartime rationing, was pointed out today by Dr. B. H. Lincoln, chief chemist of Continental Oil company.

He warned that motorists must be doubly cautious under present conditions if they are to preserve the country's transportation system for the duration of the war.

"There won't be any new cars until long after the war is over," said Dr. Lincoln, "because manufacturers will have to divert from wartime to peacetime production before they can turn out new automobiles. Consequently it behooves all motorists to take the best possible care of the cars they now have."

"Due to war conditions of slower driving and less frequent driving, an old car is more liable to become more wearing and do immeasurable damage. It has always been known that old engines, not run long enough nor hard enough to get really warmed up to their jobs, wear out fast. Engineers have estimated that the first few minutes of operation, the warm-up period, are responsible for 80 per cent of all engine wear."

"Actually this has not been due to 'wear' from friction, as the word is usually understood. Corrosion of metal parts by the action of acids is to blame."

"The ordinary driver does not know much about the danger of engine acid and corrosion, its causes and effects, and the best method of prevention. Most of all he does not know how and why this particular operating problem has become suddenly more dangerous as he patently reduces his speed and cuts down his driving mileage."

Dr. Lincoln went on to say that this acid condition and its dangers are responsible for Continental Oil company's current advertising theme—an effort to prolong the life of America's automobiles by a timely warning to motorists.

One of Continental's advertisements, in this series, featuring the dangers of acid, appears in today's issue of The Hesperian.

Raising the chicks after getting them from the hatchery is the main problem for the poultryman. Proper spacing in the brooder house and disease prevention are the main elements in bringing them to production age and correct spacing is the chief of these.

Over-crowding the brooder house starts many poultry troubles. They may not start until the pullets are placed in the laying house, and the poultryman realizes these birds do not have the natural resistance to withstand disease. They may have developed the crowding habit as a result of having to share such a small space in the brooder house.

How many chicks should be placed in the brooder house? The recommended is two chicks per square foot. This rule has not been followed too closely in prior years, but today it is important that every chick be raised for meat or for egg production.

If you have a good variety of stored food all methods of food preservation should be used. Mrs. S. J. Latta has been putting asparagus in containers in frozen food lockers. She said she liked the peas, corn and fruit that she had stored in the locker so much that she decided to try some home grown asparagus in the locker instead of canning it.

To do this the asparagus should be cut in even lengths, all scales removed and washed thoroughly. It should then be put in boiling water for three minutes, cool quickly, dry pack with 2% brine (2½ cups brine is one teaspoon of salt to every cup of water). It should then be packed in an airtight container. Glass jars, enamel cans or special containers may be used.

Several have been asking about what to do for cut worms that are cutting down English Peas and other small plants. A poison compound of five pounds bran, eleven tablespoons Paris green, or sodium arsenate, and four pints of water, one-half pint cane molasses. This may be applied by putting one-half teaspoon at the base of the plant.

Remember, masha is poison to humans and domestic animals.

In taking care of refrigerators we need to watch carefully the gasket or rubber seal around the refrigerator door. Wipe off any spilled food or grease immediately. Remember that if grease is left on rubber it causes it to become soft and sticky. Keep fingers off the gasket, and oil and moisture from the fingers should be washed off, too.

Avoid putting foods such as tomato or lemons against the enamel finish of the refrigerator even if your finish is supposed to be acid resistant.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hammonds of Lamesa came Sunday for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hammonds. They returned to Lamesa Monday, where Mr. Hammonds is a civilian instructor at the air field.

THE 2ND WAR LOAN DRIVE IS ON!

Winner Take All!

There is one stark and simple fact about war which you had better get straight . . . and quickly, too THERE IS NO SECOND PLACE IN A WAR — IT'S EITHER WIN OR LOSE!

This war is being fought for tremendous stakes . . .
... for your life and your liberty.
... for your church and your children.
... for your freedom and your future.

And it's WINNER TAKE ALL. Don't forget that for a minute.

The winner will dictate whether tomorrow you shall be a free citizen of a free world, or a helpless serf to a "master race."

The winner will dictate whether you shall live and prosper under the Four Freedoms, or toil hopelessly in the darkness of a "New Order."

The winner will dictate . . . because the winner takes all.

The winner takes all. All you own, all you hold dear.

The winner is being decided right now . . . today . . . this very minute . . . on battlefields all over the world. Will you stand idly by . . . or throw all your weight on our side?

The weight of mighty tanks and planes. The weight of thousands of guns and millions of shells. The weight of billions of dollars . . . 13 billions which your country asks you to lend during this Drive.

Your country wants to borrow every idle dollar you have—every dollar except what you need for the barest necessities of life.

You'll have to give up some luxury or comfort which was dear to your heart. You'll have to postpone some pleasure which you had been eagerly anticipating.

But what of it?

Your sons and brothers and husbands are dying out there . . . fighting your fight. Surely it is no sacrifice to lend your dollars while they are giving their lives.

They need your help. They need the weapons your money can buy. If one of the War Loan volunteers calls on you . . . greet him with open pocket-book. Remember, Uncle Sam's goal is 13 billion dollars in April.

Don't wait to be asked. Go to your nearest bank, investment dealer, broker, Post Office or issuing agency and lay your money on the line. Remember, it's an investment you're making—an investment that pays a good return and insures a happier future for you and your loved ones.

So lend up to the limit.
You'll sleep better for it.
