Circus Coming To Town; Season's First, Maybe Last

The first circus of the season and probably the last one for the duration has completed arrangements to exhibit afternoon and night in Floydada Thursday, May 13.

There are some twenty circuses on the road and only two travel by rail as all of the rest use the motor transportation. The Dailey Bros. Three Ring Circus, which is due to exhibit here is the largest of the motorized shows.

While many business concerns are worried about possible labor shortage, the Dailey Circus has a most unique insurance against such troubles in the presence of its star elephants. They are all natives of India and in that country they are trained to work.

Floyd County Has Doubled Its Quota For Red Cross, Final Report By R. E. Fry Shows

Floyd county has doubled its quota for the 1943 War Fund drive of the American Red Cross. Yesterday R. E. Fry, chairman of the county-wide drive, mailed a final check issued by Earl Crow, chapter treasurer, to the Midwestern Area office at St. Louis, Mo., in payment of the amount to be sent in from this county.

According to instructions received by Clarence Guffee, chapter chairman, the county was to send $2,500 of the county quota to area headquarters and to keep $500 in the local account for use in Floyd county. Early in March the first check for $2,500 was sent in, the check mailed this week by Mr. Fry being the second in that amount.

The newspapers of the county and the many willing workers in all parts of the county have shown a "fine spirit in this worthy cause," Mr. Fry said in a statement. "I consider it a privilege to have had the opportunity to work in this great cause."

Although the period of active work on the Red Cross quota ended the first of the month, funds continued to come in as more and more people asked to be included among those who contributed to the War fund, with the result that final closing of the War fund account was delayed until the late date indicated.

Stray Chickens, Stray Canines, Marshal's Worry

Principal activity of City Marshal Bob Smith the last few days has had to do with stray dogs and complaints of neighbors who have neighbors who let their chickens scatter over the neighborhood.

In the stray dog division the marshal had accounted for 48 the first of the week and had some prospects on his list. As to the chicken-garden problem the line of procedure for the most part is one of conversations with garden owners who hate to "turn their neighbors in" and would like for the marshal to do something about their beans and radishes and flower beds getting scratched up about as fast as they can re-plant.

Figures running from $3,000 to as high as $12,000 per night were given out from these meetings, where entertainment and old-fashioned ballhoos were combined.

Whatever community you live in, keep in mind that about now is the proper time for a general clean-up for health's sake, for civic pride's sake, for the prevention of fire, and for the sake of a high state of morale which we must make effective on the home front. Impressions which service men at home on furlough gain from the surroundings which they view in your community will be reflected in their conversations when they get back to camp. It is highly important that they carry back good news from their old homes. Likewise, it is well to remember that the loss of a house by fire also is a distinct drain on the construction materials needed for carrying on the war department's activities. Likewise it is important to remember that in this war public health authorities are dreading the appearance of the ugly head of epidemic. Heretofore, in all the history of nations at war pestilence which has accompanied or followed wars have killed more people than all the death-dealing machinery. One carelessly neglected disease-breeding spot in some community somewhere in the nation will be the place where the disease, should it come, will take first hold in our country. And so, the proclamation of the mayor of Floydada this week setting aside next week for a clean-up campaign in Floydada, may well be taken as a signal for clean-up in your community, too. There are neglected premises and public grounds in Floydada where accumulations have gathered during the winter. There may be such spots in your community, too.

Those who keep a watchful eye on Dame Nature have already had their spring tonic from lamb's quarter growing somewhere about in the corner of the premises, on a lake side or by the side of the road. This point free, unrationed pepper upper is nature's way of taking care of its poor folks. Those of us who have tasted of this bounty already this spring are undoubtedly a jump or two ahead, in pep and good health, of those who are waiting for their stamps to come in so they can buy something in a can that will not do the job as well as the roadside variety of greens. Poke greens and lamb's quarter sure do make your eyes sparkle, your teeth shine and the calcium level rise up in your blood stream. For beauty, for health, for economy of money and ration points hurry out and grab off some of nature's bounty before the leaves get too tough.

City Marshal Bob Smith's interesting report of stray dogs disposed of in the past week reminds us of that funny thing about human nature that makes us haul our stray dogs and cats off somewhere and pour them out instead of disposing them in some humane way. In recent years some farm folks have suspected that town folks have hauled their cats and dogs out apiece and let them out, and on the other hand town folks have had some back door callers that whined and meowed in a distinctly new octave, indicating that something four-footed had been taken for a ride by soft-hearted folks somewhere who just couldn't stand to kill a cat or dog and hoped the little fellers would be fortunate and find a good home.

Talking about town and farm folks it is difficult to tell which has the most interest where. Many of the farm people have more business in town than the town folks have and on the other hand there are some town folks who spend most all their daylight hours on farms and in live stock pastures and pens. One thing that seems to be obvious about town people right now is that they are spending too much money for building purposes to be making only urgently needed repairs. Paint, new screens and just possibly other minor repairs should be made in town, but any major spending should not be undertaken on a strictly patriotic basis by town people. On the farm it is another story. The farmer's plant should be kept in the utmost good condition to make his work more effective for the benefit of our armed forces and production for the civilian population. Thus a town-farmer might be spending quite a little money to make his farm more efficient but should not spend a dime whatever on his town place.

Mamma and the children may have been a bit dubious of the importance, stressed by The Hesperian in recent weeks, of papa going out hunting and fishing while they stay at home planting and hoeing and keeping the bugs out of the Victory garden. But we insist we are right in the matter. War makes a difference you know. Before us we have official confirmation of the rightness of our stand. OPA has announced that over-the-knee rubber boots—the kind worn for hunting and fishing—can now be bought ration free. Below-the-knee boots are still rationed. Why would the powers that be do this except to make it easy for papa to go hunting and fishing so as to bring in things for the family to eat? The answer is plain, of course. And mamma should make it easy for papa to ease off to the lake or out where the game is plentiful. She shouldn't complain at him. She should be a good soldier. We have to win this war, you know. And papa can't be hampered with mamma and the children at his heels to scare off the game, and stomping and squealing always scares the fish so they won't bite. So as soon as he gets through putting the cotton in the ground and runs a 100 acres or so of feed through the four-row outfit some morning, don't expect anything but that he get out his rubber boots and go hunting and fishing. If he goes by way of town to see a feller about something for a few minutes and gets tied up in a trade that takes the rest of the day maybe the fish will bite better the next day anyhow. Mamma may not understand, but she should remember that the menfolks are shorthanded now, and crowded and rushed as they are do not have time for a lot of explaining.

You may succeed when others do not believe in you, but never when you do not believe in yourself.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

It is now 11:30, "Lesters Watch time" (My, my, what an effect some of these radio announcers are having with our old western brogue) and this column is just in the making that is being actually writ down thoughts of it have filled my mind all the morning. With two hundred more little White Leghorns, we had to get busy and build more coops. Wish just for once I had brand new lumber and nails to make a chicken coop. We decided to let hens care for these late chicks and now old McDonald's farm has nothing on us for it is chick, chick here and chick chick there all over the place. Drum sticks are beginning to assume proper proportions on some and pully bones are rounding out. Please step around in a week or so.

I see that Jimmie Rankin in "Week at a Time" is all wrought up over cows having uplifted eyebrows. Now, Jimmie Rankin, the uplifted eyebrows do not bother me a bit, it is the uplifted hind legs that I just plain do not like.

By the time you read this May will be here and so says Hood and so say I.

The light like the birthday of the world. When earth was born in bloom; The light is made of many dyes; The air is all perfume; There's crimson buds and white and blue.

The very rainbow showers Have turned to blossoms where they fell. And sown the earth with flowers.

Smells: The delicious fragrance of the grape blossoms, the unforgettable smell of freshly turned soil, the delicate perfume of waxy white locust blossoms in the stary night, a whiff of honeysuckle making one think of ladies of old, dresses in rustling silk for church, holding a spray of honeysuckle as they listen to the sermon; the crushed scent of newly mowed grass, the homey smell of lye soap in the old black pot.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

News Items from the Files of The Hesperian (Issue of May 2, 1943)

Monday, May 6, First Monday in Floydada—that's the news that is being broadcast by a practically unanimous list of retail merchants of Floydada, who are working jointly with the firm of Seale & McDonald auctioneers, to provide a big free monthly auction market for the benefit of the farmers of the county who want to buy or sell at auction.

An April total in building permits of $50,375 as shown by the records of City Secretary Burl Bedford at the close of the month Tuesday afternoon, brings a total of permits in the city for the first four months of the year to $171,025, a materially larger figure than the same period in 1928, when the total was $36,656.

In a drive to bring the citizens of the community with the desirability and need for a general spring clean-up of all premises in Floydada, including alleys and neglected corners, officials of the city led by Mayor W. C. Hanna this week are hoping that the citizenship have become somewhat active and that general cooperation will be had next week, when the final week of the clean-up campaign arrives.

Jessie Mae Wood, winner of second place in the typing contest at the district interscholastic meet at Lubbock, left Wednesday, to enter the state contest.

Closing exercises of the Lakeview school are being held this week, with the final program on Friday night. Graduation exercises of the seventh grade students is being held Friday evening with a short closing program. Rev. P. D. O'Brien will deliver the closing address.

Twenty or more members of Boy Scout troops 43 and 44 of Floydada were guests at the weekly luncheon of the local Rotary club Wednesday. The boys being scattered out among their elders for the feed which preceded their introduction. G. A. Linder, so far as local records disclose, was the first local man to give attention to the insistent demand of Floydada boys for the organization of a Boy Scout troop.

A six mile extension on Route 1 out of Floydada, that will give better mail facilities to twelve or more families has been granted by the postoffice department, following the recent inspection by a representative of the department.

A style show of fifty years ago, a mock wedding and an old fiddlers contest are the features of a gala night of entertainment at the Campbell school house Friday night. Campbell Home Demonstration club is sponsoring the entertainment and will sell popcorn balls and other eats during the evening.

I go around sniffing to get them all. Sounds: The burr of the tractor, the nickering of the black mare to the grunting her long-legged colt, the mocking birds pouring out music with never a thought of ray. The farm is a good place this fine Monday morning and we take new heart to go about the endless duties.

It is very aggravating to bring up a goathread with one foot, to have it fall inside the other shoe. You lean over and try to take it out without pulling off your shoe, while standing precariously on one foot. The coat head only slides farther down. You stick your fingers, push the sticky thing in the tender foot. Then you resignedly pull off the shoe, not daring to sit down on the ground for fear you will never be able to get up, shake out the shoe while almost falling, put it on again. Only to feel the sting of another one you failed to shake loose from the lining of the shoe.

Co-incidence: One of my favorite singers Bradley Kincaid singing "Where the Silvery Colorado Winds its way," on Easter Sunday. Now did I remember another Easter Sunday when I had a beau who brought the music of this same song for me to play while he sang, oh so wonderfully it seemed to me then. No my husband does not sing and I doubt if he ever heard the song in those days. And his hair was black and the singers' was blond.

My sister-in-law, Mrs. Temple Ann Ellis made a trip with her grand daughter to Key West recently. Their trials of catching buses and planes sounds like a dream where one has every kind of difficulty. She told of the lovely vines some covered with white blossoms, others pink, purple red. Of leaves that were not satisfied with green as our leaves are but are variegated as coleus. She told of the lovely poinsettia tree covered with lovely poinsettia-like red flowers. Of the Keys, which are islands of coral, of the highway connecting them all together like beads on a string to the mainland of Florida. And there was another visitor in our home the last week that told of still farther away islands and today I have bits of coral and pearly sea shells from New Caledonia because Eric Hillyard remembered my collection and brought them to me. He and his wife and baby daughter, his nephew and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Benefield of Port Worth and another young nephew came to see us. Eric told how the wide expanse of the ocean looked, "Just like the plains if there were no houses." And about the natives on the tropical islands where he served his country he said "They look so very funny and peculiar with their hair standing on end, dark a brilliant red and the feet around the bottom back and kinky." The bits of coral and the shells tell me a story, one about the islands never heard of by many till now. I hear the roar of the sea, and feel the vibration of the big ships, and they tell me of brave American boys doing their duty without a murmur on islands of coral where sea shells shine pearly pink and white on the sands of the shore. Thank you so much, Eric, for your remembrance of my hobby.

I did not write the poem below in words as did Flossie Deane Craig of Georgia, but it has been in my heart

For the LEADING LADY In Your House "Kate Greenaway Tracks"

She'll get more applause than ever when she toddles out this spring in her dainty new Kate Greenaway Frocks. Made to capture hearts, mothers will find these frocks enchanting. In crisp, Springlike sheer cottons. Sizes 6 to 12 months and 1 to 3 years.

To My Sea I think I always knew you'd volunteer. But when the hour to say goodbye had come I would have caught you close and held you fast. Within the magic circle we call home I'd meant to speak some words of courage dear. To say "Fight till the victory's won And if you be on land or on sea May God protect and keep you safe my son." But when at last you took me in your arms And smiling softly said "Goodbye now mom" My tongue refused the task I'd set for it. And I stood there as one new stricken dumb. I found no heartening words to say to you. Because my heart keep crying out its fears; I had to man the flood-gates desperately. Lest I should send you from me bathed in tears. But I must not sit wringing full hands. Not when there is so much for hands to do:

You take your training, son, and I will take mine. In total war there is a home front too.

Buy Anti-Freezes On Approved List Only, ODT Urges

LUBBOCK, Texas, April 27. —Automotive supply dealers who will be stocking up during the coming weeks on anti-freeze solutions for next winter were warned today by the Office of Defense Transportation to purchase only approved alcohol-thyleneglycol solutions.

Although the manufacturer of harmful anti-freezes containing inorganic salts of petroleum distillates was prohibited last year by the War Production board, reports indicate that many of the deleterious products are still in the hands of manufacturers or jobbers.

Retail dealers were cautioned to buy only solutions free from harmful sodium or calcium chlorides, fuel oil, naphtha or kerosene. They also were urged not to sell old supplies of harmful mixtures to consumers.

Many truck and car motors were damaged last winter, some beyond repair by anti-freezes containing harmful materials, according to reports received by ODT.

Safe anti-freezes are permanent solutions containing ethyleneglycol and the more common semi-permanent types containing Methyl or ethyl alcohol. The chemical division of the WPB has assured the ODT officials said, that there will be sufficient stocks of acceptable anti-freeze available for civilian use.

Weather and Crops

With the exception of a few dry spots in the county where rain is needed, weather conditions the past week have been ideal for plowing, planting and growing grains. No moisture has fallen during the past week but a wide range of temperatures was recorded by West Texas Gas company.

High for the week was reached Monday at 92 degrees. The low for the week was recorded Wednesday at 52 degrees.

Cotton Planting Started
A large acreage of cotton will be in the ground by the last of the week is the belief of cotton farmers. Some cotton was reported planted the first of the week.

Kaffir and maize planting has also started over the county. Good underground moisture, sufficient to bring up feed and cotton prompts the efforts of farmers causing a rush on farms the past week.

Victory gardens also come into the picture with rows and rows of English peas, beans, potatoes, onions and in some gardens, tomato plants growing new leaves overnight showing up in most every back yard and garden plot.

HOW TO MAKE YOUR MEAT GO FURTHER

Meat Cut First Meal Second Meal Third Meal

Beef Brisket
First meal. Brisket cooked with beans is a delicious dish for the first serving. The beans are soaked over night and brown sugar, onion and seasonings added, then placed in a covered kettle with brisket on top. Brisket and beans should be covered with water and cooked in a moderate oven for about three hours.

Roast Pork with Dressing
First meal. A stuffed lamb shoulder is a thrifty roast. The bones may be used to season vegetables or to make soup stock. A tasty stuffing is made for it by combining whole kernel corn, cracker crumbs, seasonings and minced green pepper. The roast is placed on a rack in an open pan and about 40 minutes per pound allowed in a slow oven.

Second meal. For the next night's main dish, combine cubes of cold roast with left-over vegetables and enough gravy to hold together. Place mounds of the mixture on squares of pastry and fold over to make a triangle. Pinch the edges together. Brown in a hot oven. These are called Pasties.

Third meal. The remaining lamb "bits" may be ground and mixed with cooked oatmeal, an egg and seasonings to make Scotch Pancakes for supper or for breakfast.

BLADE END OF PORK LOIN
First meal. Blade end of the pork loin is excellent for a roast. The end cut is lower in price than the center cut. Roasting is easy when a few simple rules are followed. The roast should not be covered and no water added. A low temperature saves both meat and fuel. A bread dressing, shaped in balls and placed around the roast half an hour before it is done, will extend the servings. This roast requires 30 minutes per pound.

Second meal. The cold slices of roast pork are delicious heated in barbecue sauce.

Third meal. The trimmings from the roast make a surprise supper dish when combined with cream sauce and served between layers and over the top of biscuits as Pork Shortcake.

May First Child Health Day In State Of Texas

AUSTIN, Texas, April 29.—Asking cooperation of all Texas parents in a campaign to stamp out preventable diseases and insure the highest health levels among the children of this State, Governor R. Stevenson has followed President Roosevelt's example in signing the State-wide cooperation campaign for child health day.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, said today, "There is no more important phase of child health than that of child health and the tragic annual death toll from diphtheria and smallpox is a reminder that we must remember that science has long produced a successful and safe sanitation against both these diseases."

Dr. Cox pointed out the vital importance of child health to the total health of our nation, and urged all parents to exert every effort to control and protect child health not only through the application of given health measures but also by reducing the incidence of the more fatal childhood diseases.

Young children who are taught personal hygiene, who live in clean homes, whose diets are carefully supervised and whose young bodies have been made immune to the ravages of such diseases as diphtheria, smallpox and typhoid fever, have an excellent chance of growing into strong, healthy, useful citizens," Dr. Cox said. "It is these children and girls whose strength and health we are safeguarding by Child Health Day, who will be the leaders of that victorious and peaceful era which we are fighting to bring about."

Miss Pauline Walden and Mrs. J. E. Banks spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Sumner and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Dilling. Miss Walden and Mrs. Banks are students in the national nurse school at Lubbock.

The dairy ration being used by Clyde Parish is not a "military secret," but an oversight on our part. We have had an opportunity to see how many people read this particular column.

In case you are interested in securing a copy of that ration, please call at the county agent's office, or request a copy by mail.

A soybean variety test will be conducted by Henry Neil Schacht, son of Mr. and Mrs. Schacht of Lockney community. Henry Neil will plant seventeen different varieties in an effort to determine the best adapted variety for this county.

The demonstration will include the following varieties: Habaro, Richland, Mingo, Patoka, Gibson, Mandell, A. K. Chief, Mukden, Ogden, Macoupin, Arksoy No. 2913, Ralston, Scioto, Dunfield, Illinois, and Manchua.

This demonstration will be conducted in cooperation with the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Manke, Legume investigation.

Henry Neil is a member of the Lockney 4-H club and is serving his club as president.

If you need any help in planting your Victory garden there are some good bulletins available at this office. C-149 on Victory Gardens and C-175 Growing Gardens and Producing Food for Freedom.

Home demonstration club members plan to turn in waste fat at the next council meeting. If each club woman in the county were to turn in 2½ tablespoons of fat each, that amount would make enough gun powder to fire 85 anti-tank shells. The grease will be brought to the club meeting preceding council meeting and the council members will bring the amount collected from their club.

The homemaker who is trying to find protein foods to serve alternately with meat dishes will say that cottage cheese is a very good one as it has about 21% protein found for pound. It will give as much as round steak according to food specialists. Cottage cheese may be served in a number of ways. Besides serving it with sliced tomatoes or pickled beets it may be made into cheese balls seasoned with salt, pepper, chopped celery, cucumbers and served on a bed of shredded lettuce. Cottage cheese combines nicely with many fresh or canned fruits. Recipes for making cottage cheese may be obtained at this office.

You will probably be planting squash pretty soon. The Yellow Crookneck is a good variety. The Yellow squash are preferred to white ones because of higher vitamin content. The seeds need to be planted two feet apart in the row. Lima beans are also planted when the soil is warm. The bush variety is good for this section.

185 girls attended the 16 4-H club meetings held during April. At the meetings a demonstration on planning the wardrobe—what to buy and what to look for when buying was discussed. The girls were urged to make over as many things as they could in order to save money for more important things.

A hen that will lay 212 eggs in 221 days will pay her feed bill. Hen No. 164 in the flock of Oliver Allen started laying September 13, and has an outstanding record to date.

A very interesting feature about this hen is the fact her eggs are fertile. Out of 79 eggs set—73 chicks were hatched. There are other outstanding hens in the Allen flock, but at present this hen has the best record.

Mr. Allen started the hatching season with 31 Parmenter Red pullets, and a goal of hatching enough chicks to select 500 pullets of the breed for the laying house this fall.

To achieve such a goal would require hatching approximately 1,200 chicks. A total of 1,181 chicks have already returned to the Allen farm and 328 eggs are in the incubator at the present time. To make things more complicated for the hens, Mr. Allen sold six cases of eggs to friends.

It costs no more to feed a good hen than one that only lays a few eggs. The use of high production male birds on the average flock would pay good dividends.

CLARENCE FARMER PRAISES REPRESENTATIVE DEEN FOR WORK IN LEGISLATURE

To The Editor:

Will you, kind sir, permit me to give something of the record of Judge Tom Deen, of Floyd county, representing the people of the 120th District of the State of Texas.

The aged people of this district are entitled to know the record of their representative. I have been here in Austin for the greater part of the last 3 months as the Attorney for the aged people of Texas, doing everything I can to prevent their checks being cut and to provide an amount of money corresponding with the provisions of the Constitution of Texas.

The House of Representatives has done wonderfully well for the aged people. Just a few members of the Texas Senate have blocked House Bill No. 9 and House Bill No. 159 that would have brought relief to the aged people of Texas. If the Senate had promptly passed these bills like the House did, then the old people would not have had their checks cut for the months of March and April.

I have this day filed a suit in the Supreme Court of the State of Texas, seeking to have released the $1,154,000.00 that the Comptroller froze and impounded in a separate fund and did not issue any warrants against it for the aged people. If the Supreme Court gives the aged people relief, then the checks will not be cut in the month of May.

Actively For Aged People

For Judge Tom Deen I want to say that I have had the finest cooperation. He at all times has voted and worked for every bill and resolution that would bring relief to the aged people of Texas. I trust that the aged people of this District will appreciate his wonderful work for them in this respect.

He voted for House Bill No. 159 to prevent a cut in the checks of the aged. He voted for House Bill No. 9 to remove the ceiling on Old Age Assistance. He voted for two resolutions urging the Senate to act.

He was a member of the committee of 5 on the Investigation of the Administration of Old Age Assistance and was the Vice-chairman, you know the wonderful report they have made.

It was he that piloted to victory Senate Bill No. 256 to remove J. S. Murchison as Executive Director of the Welfare Department. That bill was killed by one House Committee but Representative Tom Deen came back to the House, and after a vigorous fight, got the House to suspend the rules keeping the bill alive and got it referred to the State Affairs Committee. This Committee favorably reported the bill and Judge Tom Deen then got it passed in the House. It went to the Senate and the Senate did not agree to the amendment. A Conference Committee was appointed and on this committee was Judge Tom Deen. Through his splendid work a report was agreed upon and on April 20, 1943, this report was adopted in the House by a vote of 117 to 1 and in the Senate by a vote of 17 to 9.

In all this wonderful work Judge Tom Deen has never flinched from duty, has never back-tracked, has never double-crossed the aged people, but at all times has been their faithful Representative, diligently working for their interest.

Works For Common People

In much other good legislation he has been there in the fight at all times voting and working for the best interest of the great common people of Texas. I certainly commend him for the assistance that he has given me in my work for the aged people. He is a splendid gentleman and I am writing this out of a heart full of appreciation of the work that he has already done for the aged people of Texas, no one could have done better.

Thank you, Mr. Editor, to give space in your paper for the article of appreciation of the work of a faithful Representative, and that your readers may have testimony from a man in another county that appreciates the work that the Representative of District 120 has done for me.

Very sincerely,
Clarence E. Farmer,
Attorney for the Old People of Texas, Fort Worth, Texas.
