

Wheat Crop Harvest Gets Under Way

Shortage Of Cars Looms; Yields Up In First Fields

With fast increasing tempo the small grain harvest, with wheat predominating, got under way in Floyd county in the past week. Beginning with a trickle last Thursday afternoon when B. L. Breed of Lakeview delivered the county's first load of wheat to Farmers Grain company here, combines were running, according to yesterday's afternoon's reports, in 50 fields or more in widely scattered areas of the county.

More than 200 truck and pick-up loads of wheat were delivered to Floyd elevators yesterday and a fourth as many loads of mixed grain, every elevator in the county with the exception of Barwise, Aiken and Cereal had some wheat rolling in.

Yield Is Encouraging
To make the picture a little bit brighter than the event forecast a week ago, every field so far cut has made a few bushels more per acre than was expected. The Bread wheat that came in Thursday and Friday was delivered from a 59-acre field of summer-fallowed ground. It averaged 27.5 bushels and tested 62 pounds.

As other fields were harvested the run expected to level off at 15 to 25 bushels is between the brackets of 18 to 30 bushels. The 40 or more combines running and delivering grain at Floydada, Dougherty and Boothie Spur indicate the crop is just a few days further advanced in the southeast portion of the county than in other sections. Three combines were running at South Plains, one at Sterley and two at Whiteley switch yesterday, with the number to increase today. At Barwise the first runs are due to begin today and at Cereal and Aiken first runs will be made Monday, possibly Saturday, W. E. Taack of Aiken said.

At Petersburg, where most of the southwest Floyd county wheat will be marketed, some 20 carloads of wheat had been delivered up to last night. "Just getting started good," said Albert Clubb this morning, with tests running high and yields most encouraging. High yield there to date is 33 bushels. Elevators there will be snowed under as soon as the grain movement really gets going, elevator men being hopeful, however, that they can get all the cars they can load daily.

Generally Good Crop
The crop this year is indicated as the most uniformly good over the county of any crop in several years. At Lockney, where Oscar (See GRAIN HARVEST on back)

Emergency Farm Tools Ordered 'Without Delay'

COLLEGE STATION, June 12.—Several hard-to-get farm supplies which farmers need for increased food and feed production will be available at once the Texas USDA War board has announced. Under an emergency program which already has gone into effect, the War Production Board has asked manufacturers and distributors to get into retail channels without delay adequate quantities of approximately 66 items most urgently needed by farmers. Later, a program to meet long-range needs will replace the emergency program and 73 items will be available, making a total of 144 with high priority rating.

Items included in the emergency program are auger bits, batteries kerosene and gasoline cans, various types of chains, grain scoops, hoes, harness, well casing, pliers, screw drivers and shovels.

Additional items in the long-range program include axes, bit braces, blowers and forges, bolts and nuts, hacksaw blades and frames, jacks for farm tractors, mule shoes, horse-shoe nails, pump rods and couplings. Explaining operation of the program, B. F. Vance, chairman of the board, said the priority regulation provides that whenever a farmer orders any of the farm supplies from a dealer who has them in stock, he will sign a certificate specifying his needs. A certificate, which entitles purchase up to $25 of any of the items on the list, may be furnished by the dealer or written out by the farmer.

Certificates which exceed the $25 limitation must be approved by local county farm rationing committees before purchase may be made he explained. W. C. (Dub) TROWBRIDGE STATIONED AT CORPUS CHRISTI NAVAL BASE

America Salutes Food Producer

NO inspiring bands and no glamour of uniforms and decorations cheer these unsung heroes of World War II. With patriotic determination dairymen toil long hours under serious handicaps of labor and material shortages to produce food so vital to the winning of the war.

Dairy foods are of front-rank importance in keeping fighters and workers fit, says the National Dairy Council. Food production is the nation's most critical problem. Fighters on the farm are as essential to the war effort as those in munition plants or on the firing line.

Get Your $5 Bill Ready; Uncle Sam's Car Use Tax Must Be Paid Not Later Than July 1

Collector of Internal Revenue W. A. Thomas announced today that auto use tax stamps in the denomination of $5 were placed on sale in all postoffices and offices of collectors of internal revenue on Thursday, June 10. The stamps will evidence payment of the tax for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1943, and must be purchased on or before that date. The stamps will be serially numbered, will be gummed on the face, and will have provision on the back for entry of the make, model, serial number and state license number of the vehicle.

Mr. Thomas said that, to guard against loss or theft, when affixing the stamps, the vehicle owner should dampen the windshield rather than the adhesive side of the stamp. This method has been recommended to keep the stamp intact upon the windshield. As an additional precaution, it has also been suggested that each motor vehicle owner make a record of the serial number which appears on the use tax stamp in the event the stamp should be come lost.

Every owner of a motor vehicle which is used upon the highways should call at his local postoffice and secure a $5 use stamp and affix it to his vehicle on or before July 1, 1943, the collector said. The various postoffices will sell the stamps over the counter for cash only and no mail order business with respect thereto will be conducted by the postoffices.

It is the desire of the bureau of internal revenue that the use tax stamp shall be placed conspicuously on the windshield. There are no restrictions as to the location insofar as the laws of the state of Texas are concerned. Mr. Thomas stresses the fact that the use tax law has not been repealed and caution motor vehicle owners that failure to purchase stamps on vehicles using the public highways after July 1, 1943, will subject the violators to severe penalties imposed by law.

Schools Ballot On Using Part Time Coaches

AUSTIN, Texas, June 14.—Ballots have been sent to member schools of the Texas Interscholastic League asking them to vote for or against employment of part-time football and basketball coaches for the duration.

Loss of coaching manpower, due to the war, caused this proposal to be made at the annual meeting of League delegates, according to Roy Bedichek, director of the University of Texas League headquarters here. At present coaches must be full-time employees of the school. Superintendents or principals will cast the votes. Results are expected within two weeks, Bedichek said.

EDITORIALS

Watch out for a change in the type of coupons you will be entitled to use for trucks beginning July 1. According to advance information given out by the Office of War Information "T" coupons will not buy gasoline after that date. For them will be substituted a "T" coupon. Through this means the report says OPA hopes to take up "slack" mileage and remove potential sources of black market gasoline. In addition to this change grapevine reports have it that trucks are going to be checked more closely and probably shaved down on the gasoline mileage they will have available. By trucks we mean commercial and contract trucks that are being used in hauling. Farm trucks, this same report says, will be able to obtain all the gasoline they need.

Todate some pretty good men have shown up from somewhere wanting work in the harvest fields and the farm people who thought they might have quite a bit of difficulty getting help are not complaining as loudly as was expected. Should this continue through the harvest season and not come to a sudden stop as the area of ripe grain spreads it will be a much more gratifying experience than the condition which has been anticipated with a certain amount of dread. Calling on town help is usually a quite unsatisfactory experience for farmers, however intensely anxious the town man may be to be of service in a pinch. Plenty of men, plenty of trucks and plenty of sunshine sure could make the small grain grower happy.

The season has not developed sufficiently as yet to make known just what we are going to experience in the matter of grain cars and storage for grain. An interesting advertisement is running in The Hesperian this week from the Santa Fe railway, which will make interesting reading and give one an idea of just what is happening to railroad cars this year of war emergency.

When times are out of joint, hit by a violent upheaval like a war, they are just naturally out of joint and many of the things of which one might complain just happen that way in spite of all planning or foreseeing that can be done. This is one line of reasoning that might be taken by persons whose businesses or plans are upset, and who must do as they can instead of going at their problems in the best and most direct manner. Authorities attempting to take the stress out of one situation often make a worse stress in another. One could spend much time criticizing various and sundry agencies of the government which are doing various and sundry silly things and probably not be wrong so far as facts and figures are concerned. However, it also is possible one can get better results by holding his own council and concentrating on things he can do. This is what we tell ourselves as we view the activities of some of the agencies of the government, which indicate an entirely wrong state of mind and attitude toward the people. We recall that Sherman had been through about five years of that kind of thing when he said war is hell. Note that he did not say war is hell on the battlefield. He said war is hell period.

Nor are all the mistakes by the government new ones. They have been made time and again by nation after nation at war. The story of the Civil war is one mainly of the Union because the Union side won, but a controversy that raged on the Confederate side during the war still has two opposing camps among the sons and grandsons of the confederacy. This is about shoes. Critics of the administration of Jefferson Davis declare that shoes by the thousands and thousands lay up in the warehouses and rotted while the soldiers in the field went barefooted or next to it. It was some bottle neck or other that developed among the different authorities set up for the prosecution of the war. Say the critics Mr. Davis simply could not let his generals run the war nor could he delegate authority to subordinates on the home front. He had to tie a string to every move so that final decision came back to him and his cabinet. There is the other side of the argument, and probably the right of the thing is about halfway between the two opposing camps. All said only to illustrate that this war is not the first one ever fought that the critics could not have fought better. War is serious, bitter. The more violent at the front the more violent at home. And in the sound and fury only a very few retain complete balance, normal functions of judgment.

THEY DON'T MINCE WORDS

Newspapers like The Hesperian often pull their punches for reasons of taste and grace, the publishers bearing in mind that a periodical, though limited in coverage to two or three counties, goes to a complete cross section of the community. But note below an editorial of the type you find in labor magazines where no punches are pulled. It is entitled "Lewis opens his big mouth," and is from the Indiana Teamster, official magazine of the International Brotherhood Teamsters, Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers of America. It reflects a state of mind that is common in this portion of Texas:

Is he aware of the fact that American blood has been spilled on many battlefields, and that much more is certain to be spilled before the conflict ends?

Does John L. Lewis know that the United States of America is fighting for its life?

Does he realize that those young men who have given their lives for their country have done so to protect the privileges of free Americans, one of which is the right to join labor unions and to bargain collectively to improve their working conditions?

Has he considered the effect of the coal mining crisis on the morale of Americans, particularly the members of the armed forces who know that their chances of survival are lessened every time he opens his big mouth?

Does he realize that the truce he signed with the United States government was an admission that he had started a war against the United States?

Is he conscious of the fact that his actions affected adversely every working man and woman in the country?

Is he aware that if the miners are given the $2-a-day wage increase which he seeks for them that they and all other working persons will lose much more than $2 a day through inflation that would be an inevitable result of the giving of such a wage increase?

Does he realize that he is organized labor's greatest enemy? Is he aware that Hitler, Hirohito and Mussolini must regard him as one of their closest friends?

We believe that the answer to all of these questions is a loud "yes."

Something to put in your health notebook: Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer declares that, contrary to general belief, pneumonia is a contagious disease. It is definitely transmitted from one person to the other, says he, in the same manner as other contagious diseases. This killer, pneumonia, likes to catch a victim when he has had his vitality lowered by other diseases, especially influenza.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

The third planting of cottonseed lies sprouting in the almost too-wet ground and the farmer watches, almost angrily, the low flying clouds this Monday morning. It seems that cottonseed are being used as a fertilizer this year. Mr. Spikes gave the cotton up at the second loss and is planting feed, as all the feed was deeply covered with mud and packed in by the sun. It is a trying time and we wonder a time goes on swiftly by if we will make a crop. But I bring to mind other years, even later than this, when all seemed lost as far as making a crop went, but in the fall we gathered a rich harvest. This country promises most and makes less, and promises less and makes most. We console ourselves with this time-worn saying and plant as if it were in the early spring. The garden is ready to grow again. The potatoes were made and are dug, so one crop is to our advantage.

I had almost as soon have the hiccoughs as to go over a road that has rough places spaced evenly every hundred yards or so. The wind sighs through the young popular tree at the west side of the rock fence, and I remember three popular trees whose roots were cooled in the waters of a dirt tank where cattle watered and switched at files on a hot summer day. The willow poplars held out their fanning leaves to the blue of a summer cloud, flecked with floating white clouds. Nettle and I lived in one, Omega and Edna in another, while Mary Lee and Belle perched in the third. What lovely green houses they made, far enough away that we could not hear grandmother or Aunt Mirt call us to unpleasant duties, such as washing the dishes or churning or carrying in water from the well. What gorgeous dresses we played we had on! Colors taken from Aunt Mirt's gay bed of zinnias. Purple, like a queen's robe, red as the coals of the burning mesquite roots, blue as the heaven above, pink as my mother's cheeks, white as the clouds. We were ladies, haughty and proud, as we sat or stood in the branches that swayed with the wind, crooking our little fingers as we played drinking tea in imitation of a lady we saw once do this very way, happiness supreme was in the magic of the trees. Grandmother's garden was below our feet on the slope of the tank where we gathered red tomatoes and nibbled at cabbage leaves and shelled green peas from a pod. Farther away was the orchard, another play house, or rather playhouses as many as there were trees shading the deep sand from the hot sun. Would I ever forsake the love I then had for tall poplar trees?

I like to see red and pink and white and yellow hollyhocks marching along a picket fence, or standing at attention by friendly doors, or running away from the house to go down a road. If you want to get a smile and hear about the grandest babies ever just ask Mrs. John Hollums and Mrs. Charlie Berry about their grandsons. Of course if you have a grandson, you will smile to yourself as they tell you that theirs are the best and prettiest ever. Motto last war: Keep the home fires burning. Motto this war: Keep the home vegetables growing. White paint is smeared all over most of our things as well as covering the walls in the kitchen and bathroom. What I did not drop on things as I painted some of the rest went by and got. I did not do the job of painting like an expert and I am afraid it looks kind of spotty, but it is clean and I am thankful it is done. Mrs. O. B. McNeely of Ralls is a very gracious and pleasant lady. I always enjoy meeting her. The other day at Ralls she told me of her problem of having to get tacks out of something to use again. Now when one tries to use a second-hand tack they run into trouble. The head bends nicely to one side, as you try to get it out and even if have been so sharp, is all bent over. Second hand tacks, why one would not even set one for a fellow-sufferer in school, or even tell one to go sit on a bent tack! Thought for the week: Upper Room tells, "The Doughnut Woman began selling doughnuts on the streets of Genoa, Italy, at the age of fourteen and saved two thousand dollars, which she spent for a life-sized statue of herself. She had it erected in the famous Campa Santo cemetery, and daily thereafter, with morbid pride, she spent hours looking at her life-less self in stone. Aunt Jack was an ex-slave, who at the close of the war between the states was homeless and penniless. She became a cook in one of the fraternity houses at Denison university, and when one of the fraternity boys wanted to enter the ministry and did not have money to continue his education, she paid his way with her meager savings. He became a promising young preacher and daily thereafter, Aunt Jack looked with spiritual pride upon her more abundant self in this "living stone." Both these women were poor and worked hard. Both saved their money, but they differed in their vision and sense of values. One invested in lifeless stone; the other in creative life. Will Pile Wheat On The Ground, Railmen Believe

Much of America's half billion bushel 1943 wheat crop probably will be piled on the ground, at least during the harvest rush, in the opinion of Santa Fe Railway officials who are preparing for the annual harvest's deluge of grain.

Because of military transportation requirements, surplus equipment formerly allotted to handle the wheat rush simply does not exist in local storage until its movement to terminals or mills becomes a wartime necessity, the railroads experts pointed out.

A near shortage of grain cars exists today, two weeks in advance of the wheat harvest. Santa Fe loadings of old wheat are 135 per cent greater than last year and virtually all available cars suitable for grain handling are required by shippers daily. Pending delivery of more than 100 new locomotives that the Santa Fe has had on order for a considerable time, the motive power problem is equally as pressing as the grain car situation, according to J. J. Mahoney, general superintendent of transportation for the Santa Fe.

Repair Crews Are Busy

Reports from the Santa Fe Division Headquarters in the wheat belt of Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas indicate that every possible preparation is being made to meet the emergency. Repair forces at the various points are working full time and bad order cars are being repaired as fast as they are reported. Some 7,500 old cars are being made fit for grain handling by installation of temporary car-liners. However, many of these are required daily for present loadings.

Mahoney explained that while estimates on the wheat yield in the southwest have been reduced between 25 and 30 per cent under last year's bumper harvest, the present bumper harvest, the present outlook is for better than an average crop. He pointed out that 70 per cent is adjacent to Santa Fe rails.

"We anticipate a movement of 40,000 cars of wheat this year from Western Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas and Colorado, the majority of which is threshed with combine harvester, requiring a large number of cars stored in advance of the harvest to meet the demand," Mahoney continued. "We have approximately 6,000 more Santa Fe grain cars off our line than a year ago, leaving us only 40 per cent of our own good cars on home rails. Last year we had a large number OK foreign line box cars stored in the wheat belt awaiting harvest, which has not been possible this year. Slow return of our good cars and the task of selecting and fitting foreign cars for grain loading makes an ordinarily difficult problem even more so.

Harvest Right On Us

"With harvest but a matter of days away and no cars accumulated to handle the crop, we will have to do the best we can with the current supply, but it is highly probable that wheat will have to be stored on the ground temporarily. Although we handled 40,000 cars during the harvest rush last year, subsequent loadings have brought the total to 105,776 cars moved since May 1, 1942.

"A year ago we had nearly 10,000 of our own cars stored awaiting the movement and during the harvest we received 2,668 empties from other lines. During the peak movement we loaded around 1,300 cars daily." Public grain storage space at the interior markets is 55.2 per cent filled with old grain, a May 1 report shows. This leaves 122,720,000 bushels of space available for the new crop which is estimated to yield about 500,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Kansas with new crop estimates of approximately 145,000,000 bushels has about 45,000,000 bushels of commercial space available for storage. Temporary government bins capable of holding 21,000,000 bushels of grain were shipped into the state or built last year. Approximately 11,000,000 bushels of this space is available for the new wheat.

Conservation District News

"Hey, Look!" shouted the big black storm cloud to his buddy. "Old Fred has patched up those holes we put in his new terraces last week. Whaddaya say we 'dive domb' him again?"

That's the way R. M. (Fred) Battey felt when Sunday's June 6th storm hit him that evening. He had just finished up repairing nine breaks a few days before, and had up a good stand of cotton and feed. It didn't look so good for a day or so, but it now seems like Fred isn't hurt as badly as he first thought and he is getting ready to repair the new breaks and do the necessary replanting. Takes a lot to keep a good man down and five inches of rain in one hour ain't just hay!

H. R. ("Hard Run") Patterson figures his nickname should be "Hard Luck". He has been trying to complete a system of terraces for more than a month now on his place north of Floydada. First he had a breakdown with the terracer and then after it was fixed up and ready to go, Old "Jupe" Pluvius came along with a whole flock of monkey wrenches, in the form of rains, to throw into the works. It now is hoped by Mr. Patterson and others on the waiting list that he will get done this week.

J. G. Cage, who lives some twenty miles east of Floydada on the Floyd-Motley county line, is greatly interested in the revegetation program as well as other conservation practices. He is planning on returning some 40 or more acres to grass. Seed for a portion of this planting will be furnished by the district. Mr. Cage is now preparing to put in a cover crop for this purpose. An early issue of the Hesperian will carry an article on native grasses and methods of handling for revegetative purposes.

War Work of a Santa Fe Wheat Car

This statement explains why many Santa Fe box cars, built to move wheat during harvest season, are many miles away doing other war jobs.

★ This year an estimated 75,000,000 bushels of wheat must be moved by the Santa Fe from the wheat states it serves.

It will take about 50,000 carloads to handle Santa Fe's big share of this vital job!

To move wheat and other grains, Santa Fe has specially built weatherproof box cars—but today, many of these cars are far from the wheat belt. Where are they? What are they doing? The map above will give you an idea—it shows the movement of a wheat car for the past four months.

A Wheat Car Gets Around

Starting at Hutchinson, Kansas, with a load of flour for Boston, this wheat car has been kept rolling with vital war cargoes, including Army shoes, Army clothing, aluminum, lumber, machinery, and has just delivered a warload at San Francisco... far from the wheat belt where it is needed now! In four months this car has covered 1,439 miles on Santa Fe rails, and 9,749 miles on the other railroads. No rest for a war worker these days, but a fellow sure gets around!

Every Car in Action

Every Santa Fe box car, as well as box cars of all other railroads, is in action today. Some of these cars are too far away to be able to return to the wheat belt in time for use.

But guided by the wise direction of the Association of American Railroads, the Office of Defense Transportation, and the Interstate Commerce Commission's Bureau of Service, plus the friendly cooperation of the Army and Navy and war freight shippers, Santa Fe is making every effort to secure as many cars as can be spared from war movements to handle this year's wheat harvest.

New Goal In Egg Production Set For Poultrymen

Floyd county poultrymen are asked by the government to produce approximately 971,000 dozen eggs this year, 12 per cent more than in 1942, as their share in the Food for Victory program, the National Poultry Defense committee estimated today.

This county goal, which is based on the percentage increase suggested for Texas by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, can be reached if adequate supplies of labor and feed are available, declared Committee Chairman Hobart Creighton.

"Poultry farmers are now working harder than ever in all-out war production," Creighton said, "continuing the fine job they did in this county last year by producing approximately 867,000 dozen eggs to help supply civilian, military and lend-lease needs. Also, two developments during last year have resulted in larger laying flocks on most farms today:

"First, egg prices as shown by purchases of one of the larger buyers which paid $800,000 in Texas last year for 2,522,040 dozen, were so favorable that farmers saved an unusually large proportion of potential layers. Second, conditions in 1942 were good for raising pullets, as Fall weather was generally mild and the average hatching date was early.

"Those factors point to increased egg production," Creighton explained, "if an improvement can be made in the farm skilled labor situation and if farmers can get enough protein feeds. There are critical shortages of protein ingredients because imports have been cut so drastically. Even soybean oil meal is not being processed fast enough to meet demands. These are major problems facing and industry."

Texas poultrymen, who produced a total of 233,916,000 dozen eggs in 1942, are asked for 262,671,000 dozen this year as their share of the national egg goal of 4,780,000,000 dozen.

Dairy Business, Giant Industry, Battles Axis

June dairy month this year focuses attention on dairying—the largest of America's great industries. The importance of the milk from the nation's 26,000,000 dairy cows cannot be over estimated in the present gigantic struggle to preserve the American way of living.

Milk and its products supply about 20 per cent of the protein and energy requirements of man and even larger percentages of many other essential nutrients. States Milton Hill, president of the national dairy council. The fighting forces all dairy council. The fighting forces all dairy council. The fighting forces all dairy council.

The sick and the wounded, among the American allies are supplied with milk and its products to speed recovery. In schools, homes, factories, offices, war plants and on battlefields all over the world, the part that dairy products play in building better and stronger bodies is proved.

To make this contribution possible, dairymen on the farms and in dairy plants, as well as their families, are making every conceivable effort against difficult odds. Materials and equipment are short and sometimes impossible to get. Labor has never been so scarce. Hundreds of thousands of highly skilled and irreplaceable workers have joined the fighting forces or have been hurried into factories and munition plants.

Yet the dairy industry continues month by month to set new highs in its contribution to the war effort. In each month, except one, for more than three years, production has set a new record. In the first four months of 1943, production has averaged 1,770,000 pounds a day more than the record breaking production in the corresponding period of the previous year. In other words, in spite of undreamed of handicaps, the dairy industry is producing enough more milk this year than last year to supply the entire fluid milk needs of Portland, Oregon; Kansas City, Missouri; Louisville, Kentucky; Richmond, Virginia and Buffalo, New York.

Extension Service

The hatching season is over and now is the time to sell those roosters. Those who are mating pedigree birds will not dispose of the males, but they should be separated from the hens if quality eggs are to be sold.

If you have never run the test to determine just how quickly an egg will spoil in the summer months you should take the time to do so. Your extension agents would be happy to give you the outline to follow in making this test.

Every person who sells eggs should assume the personal responsibility that the egg qualifies for human consumption. We are in the season of the year when eggs spoil quickly. As a matter of fact, it is estimated to be a $3,000 daily loss in Texas.

If it were just a dollars and cents factor it would not be so serious. That loss represents a large number of eggs that should go to our boys in the armed service, or to our Allies. It means we are permitting waste of a product that can be easily shipped to our boys in the far flung theatres of war.

This office has copies of plans for building a water cooler that will reduce the temperature and preserve the food value of the egg for a longer period of time. These things the poultryman can do...sell or remove the roosters, gather the eggs more often, store the eggs in wire or slatted containers, and market them more often.

Keep the hens cool...they cannot perspire...so they suffer in hot weather and this affects both laying and size of eggs.

Some poultrymen even "air condition" the laying house. We can provide cool water, ample shade, and correct ventilation to help maintain production.

A turkey hen can qualify for Record of Performance if she lays 50 eggs, average not less than 30 ounces per dozen, from February 1 to June 1, have a hatchability of at least 72% of all eggs set, and must have at least 30 eggs set.

Mrs. David Battey of Harmony community has a hen that laid 81 eggs during the trap nest season, 23 eggs were set and 16 poults were hatched.

Forty-four hens were under trap nest supervision and 33 qualified on egg production.

CAMP HOSPITAL COUNCIL WILL BE ORGANIZED AT AIR FIELD JUNE 22

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD, June 15—A camp and hospital council in the South Plains area to aid in administering to the extra needs and comforts of the men in service will be organized at a meeting June 22 at South Plains Army Air field.

The council will be organized in a day long session under sponsorship of the American Red Cross. Representatives of 14 South Plains counties will be in the city for the meeting.

Those persons already named to attend the session and the counties they represent include Mrs. E. L. Angus of Floydada.

Postmaster B. A. Howell, of Sterley, was in Floydada on business Friday of last week.

Vegetables from Victory gardens are beginning to be harvested. In order to retain the color and food value of these vegetables a few rules might be followed. Begin cooking vegetables in boiling water then lower the temperature until the liquid just simmers. Vegetables should be cooked only until they are just tender. Greens and green beans should not be cooked until they are a grayish green but just until they are tender. Over cooking destroys food value and spoils the color. Green beans and peas may be cooked uncovered as this helps to retain more of the green color. Vegetables should be served soon after they are done; if they have to wait then let them cool and reheat them. That's better than keeping them hot for a long time.

Many people have wondered why pinto beans often do not cook soft. Mr. Rosborough, Extension Horticulturist, has the answer to this question. He says, "We have finally discovered that it is the way the beans are handled in the field. If the beans are left on the plant until the plant matures and dies they will be tough and hard when cooked. The beans should mature on the plant to the point when the pods are beginning to turn brown and while the foliage of the plant is still green. The plant should then be pulled up and placed in small stacks so that they will dry out in three to four days, after which time the beans can be picked off or run through a threshing. After peeling they may be placed in fifty pound lard cans or in tight paper bags to prevent weevil damage."

If you have taken your pressure cooker from storage and found that it is stained or has an odor, you may remove these stains and odors by first washing with soap and water, then rinse well. Cut up a lemon and put it in the cooker. Add 2 cups of water and hold the pressure at 5 pounds for 5 minutes. This will aid in cleaning as well as deodorizing. A double handful of potato peelings may be substituted for lemons in removing the odor.

HARMONY CLUB LEARNS NEW BARBECUE HINTS, RECIPES AT RECENT MEETING

The club met in their regular meeting June 10, at the club room with Mrs. M. D. Ramsey as hostess. The president called the house to order and roll call was answered by "a good barbecue sauce."

Wilson Discusses Barbecue Pits At Club Meeting

The Center Home Demonstration club met June 14 with Mrs. H. B. Mankins as hostess.

Miss Wilson gave a discussion on barbecue pits. Some pointers on the construction are as follows: Brick or rock that are on hand can be used also an old range or concrete can be used. The size when using brick should be about five and half bricks deep by four and half bricks wide. It will require about 250 bricks.

Build the pit high enough so as to eliminate all unnecessary stooping by building a foundation from four to six inches high under the fire box. Make the grill or rods across the top of iron about twelve or thirteen inches above the coals in the fire department. A chimney one and one half bricks in dimensions should be built at the back of the fire box. There should be a space on each side of the grill wide enough to set plates, salt and pepper and other articles necessary for convenience.

Locate the pit as near the kitchen door as practical for convenience. It should be located so as the chimney will be north, east or north west of the house and pit so the smoke will blow away from front of the pit and the house.

A good sauce made from things to be found in most kitchens is made as follows: 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon dry mustard, 1 tablespoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper and salt, 1/2 cup canned tomatoes, 1/2 cup vinegar, 1 small onion grated or chopped fine. Mix dry ingredients, add liquids and cook till sauce begins to thicken.

A refreshments plate of sandwiches, tea and cookies were served to Mrs. A. L. Spence, Mrs. J. L. Montgomery, Mrs. A. R. Epperson, Mrs. R. C. Ross, Mrs. A. W. Anderson, Mrs. J. R. Austin, Mrs. Nadine Smith, Mrs. Oliver Allen, Mrs. E. W. Lightfoot, Mrs. W. T. Lightfoot, Nita Jo and Kenneth, Mrs. C. Finley, Mrs. Clyde Bagwell, Mrs. W. B. Jordan, Mrs. Floyd Willis, Mrs. Jas. E. Green, Mrs. J. B. Jordan, Louis and Donald Ray Austin, Alice Nancy and Bobby Willis, Misses Betty Jean Spence, Virginia Smith and Miss Edith Wilson.

The next meeting will be June 28 at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. B. Jordan as hostess.

Youth Fellowship Meeting Held At Nelson Home

BAKER, June 16—Youth Fellowship of the Methodist church, held a council meeting in the W. H. Nelson home Friday night. Many plans and problems were discussed for the up-building of the on-coming young people. Those present were Rev. C. A. Hartley, Mrs. J. R. Hinton, Jean Nelson, Christine Hinton, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Green and the Nelson family.

Following Sunday school, Sunday several members of the Baker church went to Dougherty to the quarterly conference where three good sermons were delivered and the dinner and singing were enjoyed by all.

The Women's Society of Christian service went to Rushing Chapel Tuesday afternoon and heard Mrs. Foote of Floydada give an interesting book review on World Peace. Those attending from here were Mrs. Hinton, Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Geo. Stiles, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. Sam Green, Miss Jean Nelson and Miss Christine Hinton. Delicious refreshments were served to a large number.

Miss Leona Jones is in the Plainview hospital where she underwent an appendicitis operation Saturday night. We hope she will soon recover and return to her active duty in Youth Fellowship.

Mrs. Hershel Green's mother, Mrs. Graves, of Floydada is visiting with her this week.

GRAIN HARVEST—

Phillips of Lone Star unloaded the first wheat at Patterson's elevator Monday. The grain was high test and good yield. The first 35 loads to hit that market were coming from fields that were yielding 20 to 30 bushels per acre. Same kind of reports were made from the other north and northeast points.

With a car shortage forecast by railway men it is doubtful if the three railways serving the county will be able to put enough cars at the elevators to handle the grain in the peak of the movement. Car reports from Dougherty this morning were not encouraging, but the supply was apparently more plentiful in Floydada. Thousands of bushels of grain will be piled on the ground if open weather is vouchsafed through next week, the railway men forecast, although car repair crews are working at high speed and the railways are attempting to steer all cars, not demanded by military necessity, into this area.

Only weather of the week to slow down operations in the fields came Tuesday afternoon when showers struck through an area across the middle and west sections. A half inch or more of rain fell around Pleasant Valley and Muncy and westward, with sprinkles tapering off in each direction to give Lockney about a quarter of an inch and Floydada a sprinkle. Temperatures have been mild generally.

Masons Elect—
Other elective officials chosen are Roy Patton, excellent king; J. B. Calborne, excellent scribe; Chas. Bedford, treasurer; R. C. Scott, secretary.

Thacker Heads Council
At a meeting of Floydada Council No. 163 of Royal and Select Masters of masonry Tuesday night held at the Masonic hall, Dr. C. M. Thacker was elected to head the council as their illustrious master.

M. L. Probasco is deputy master; Chas. Patton, conductor; Chas. Bedford, treasurer; R. C. Scott, recorder.

A number of appointments to be made soon, are incomplete at this time.

Half Minute Interviews

Mrs. A. P. McKinnon: "Whoever look my pretty red-handed hedge shears, please return them as I want to borrow them a few days."

Bill Hams, Corpus Christi: "These windbreak trees on the plains sure look good after two years. They're the finest thing that ever happened to the plains country."

DVBS At Baptist Church Gets Under Way

(Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor)
Our Bible school is moving along nicely under the direction of Bro. Joe Taylor. We have enrolled 138 and hope to make it 150 by the last of the week. We urge the parents to get every child between 4 and 17 years of age in this school.

We will continue through next week and should have many new pupils beginning Monday. We invite the children of the other churches, this is not a school of Baptist doctrines. We have ten intermediates and hope to enroll more.

We will have our usual services on Sunday. The harvest is on and people are at work, but we hope we will be faithful to God on His Holy day. The B. T. U. is growing and we appreciate the interest that is being manifest. Remember, B. T. U. begins at 7:45. Every member should back every service for his own spiritual growth and for the advancement of the church.

Home Builders Hear Discussion Economic Policy

"The seven points of our National economic policy is to do your best to keep down inflation, conserve on all necessities vital for the war effort," Miss Louise Bryant of the Texas A and M Extension Service staff told the Home Builders club at the home of Mrs. R. H. Teague, Friday.

The seven points of our National economic policy are as follows: 1. Tax heavily and hold profits down; 2. Fix ceilings on prices and rents; 3. Stabilize wages; 4. Stabilize farm prices; 5. Save more; buy less; 6. Ration all essential commodities that are scarce; 7. Discourage installment buying and encourage paying off debts.

Miss Bryant, in her charming way fully discussed the seven points listed above and the home front at war.

In the absence of the president and vice president, Mrs. S. D. Scott presided at the business session.

The expansion committee members are to give a first aid demonstration to the negroes, the date to be decided later. The club voted to purchase a gift for Baby Ruth Coleman as she was the first colored girl to graduate in the county.

Mrs. O. G. Mayfield, in her council report, urged all members to bring their waste grease to the next club meeting. Large or small amounts of from 3 or 4 tablespoons or more will aid some, she said.

Lloyd, Mrs. C. W. Denison, Mrs. J. D. Eaves, Mrs. O. G. Mayfield, Miss Edith Wilson, and Miss Louise Bryant, Mrs. J. R. Teague, Mrs. Fred Lloyd and Miss Wanda Sue Teague were visitors.

The next meeting will be June 25 at 3 o'clock with Mrs. C. W. Denison as hostess.

Saturday Service 3 P. M.
Let all who read this, if they have occasion to be around the square Saturday afternoon, make it a point to be there at 3 p. m. and attend the gospel service on the lawn. The attendance was good last Saturday and we hope the interest and attendance will increase from week to week.
