'Norther' Breaks Record Hot Wave In Plains Area

After bearing down for 25 days to equal in length all local records of continued heat waves, the West-er Man finally turned off the juice Monday night and Floyd county citizens have enjoyed temperatures slightly below normal for nearly 72 hours, while gentle breezes turn mills to renew sorely depleted supplies of water for stock.

Beginning the week of July 22 when thermometers registered as high as 100 degrees, to be followed on July 24 with a 106 degree range, the sun bore down and the wind blew only fitfully for 25 days to make the lot of the live stock farmer a bad one, to bring discomfort to all the populace, to seriously retard the normal maturing of dry land crops and to bring to a stop all wheat land stubble plowing.

The lower temperatures blew in on a "norther" Monday night and the north and west panhandle country had a light but general rainfall. A bit of a sprinkles was recorded at Floydada.

Irrigation Farms Busy
Business spots in the county during the long sustained heat period and continuing without stop this week are the 500 or more irrigation farms where operators, minus much-needed help, have been on a non-stop schedule for nearly 30 days. Tired and work-wearied out men are pouring the water to thirsting fields of alfalfa and forage feed, with prospects, however, of reaping a wonderful harvest for their efforts.

Harvest is beginning in a few fields of cane where bundles are being made. Combine harvest in short stalk maize is due to begin this week and next week. Excellent yields are anticipated in the earlier fields. Late feed will have to have more rain and the in-between crops will mature only a light crop, reports indicate.

Lockney Man Killed, Another Injured Mon.
James Virgil Visage, 24 years of age and a resident of Lockney, was killed and Lawrence Quisenberry, also of Lockney was critically injured Monday night when a pick-up in which they were riding crashed into a telephone pole six miles north of Plainview.

Quisenberry was reported still alive Wednesday afternoon by hospital attendants at Plainview. Suffering from head and chest injuries he was given little chance to recover. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Quisenberry of Lockney. He has a wife, two sons and a daughter.

Officers who investigated the accident said an electric motor which was in the back of the pick-up was struck by the pole. The men had been to Amarillo to get the motor.

Main Street Somewhere In Sicily.—U. S. War Department—This photograph radioed to the United States by U. S. Signal Corps, is a characteristic picture of an Italian city after American occupation. Inhabitants are resuming normal lives. Scenes of terrorized populace such as were witnessed in Nazi-occupied lands have not followed the Allied invasion. Axis prisoners coming in by truck seem to be enjoying the ride.

Mrs. Caffee Is Elected Sec. Of Texas HDA

News that Mrs. C. A. Caffee, of Dougherty, has been elected secretary of the Texas Home Demonstration association was received early this week by Mrs. C. A. Caffee, county home demonstration agent, from the Floyd county delegation in Fort Worth attending the annual sessions of the state association of home demonstration club women's representatives.

The Floyd county delegation left for the convention with the avowed belief that she is eminently fitted for the position and will reflect credit on her home county by an efficient administration. The brief telegram received by Miss Wilson, commending her success, gave no details, except to indicate the annual meeting under way is a highly successful one.

Captain Voight in North Africa Writes Friends

Editor's Note: The following letter, addressed to The First Christian church, is from a former pastor of the church, Capt. Gordon G. Voight, who is serving as chaplain in the United States army located in North Africa.

"Dear Friends: Your letter came yesterday, exactly one month from the day it was mailed. It was very much appreciated. We are always very happy to receive mail, as that is our best contact with the States. When one is as fortunate as I am to have such close friends to take their time to write, it sure is encouraging.

"Our services here are held in various places and of course we are not adequately prepared to conduct them in places that always have a religious significance or background. Whenever the men can get off, many of them do come to the services and often express personal gratitude.

"I am sure most of the American soldiers are glad to serve and give their best that America might worship God as it sees fit. You people are indeed fortunate to have a small but beautiful church where you may come and worship God and to glorify His son, Jesus Christ.

"I am feeling fine and in the best of health. I am hoping that the war will soon end and that all the men can be home again with their loved ones and friends.

"May God bless you all and keep you in His presence."

Big-Inch Texas-Okla. Line Thru Floyd County

The big-inch 384-mile oil pipeline from Sundown, in Hockley county, Texas, to Drumwright, in Oklahoma, is projected to run through Floyd county.

Although no statement relative to the matter has been made by the builders, right-of-way placards last week were in the field, working out of Floydada and attempting to get the job done as quickly as possible.

A line 16 inches in diameter is projected, according to local reports, and the line will hit Floyd county boundaries near the southwest corner of the county and go west of the county on the east line somewhere northeast of Hillcrest.

According to farmers who have been contacted the line is due to cross Blanco canyon at the Joe Day crossing, hit the southeast corner of the E. C. King farm, touch the B. B. Gulley farm and the Coverdale and Massie lands on the east of him and cross Highway 70 slightly east of the Latta Service station three miles east of Floydada.

The line will be put sufficiently deep below the surface of the earth so as not to conflict with the handling or cultivation of the land, it is indicated. Todate no difficulty has been experienced in obtaining right-of-way leases, it is said.

The line will make available for transportation of the crude of the Hockley and adjacent fields to refineries in the Drumwright area.

Fred I. Merrick, a deputy collector, will be in Floydada on September 1 to assist the citizens in the preparation of income tax returns, according to announcement this week made by W. A. Thomas, collector, of Dallas.

No other visit is contemplated prior to September 15, the last day on which the estimated income tax returns may be filed, the announcement says.

The present income tax law, commonly known as the pay-as-you-go plan, has many new features not heretofore contained in the income tax law and the public is not nearly as well informed as to the requirements of this law as on previous occasions, Mr. Thomas says, urging citizens to familiarize themselves with the new tax statute.

High Level Of Farm Production With No Quotas, Restrictions Preliminary Outlook For 1944

A preliminary review of the 1944 AAA farm program reveals many recent developments affecting farmers in Floyd county including removal of wheat quotas and wheat acreage restrictions, and cancellations of cotton marketing quotas referendum for 1944, says Ray S. McEntire, local administrative office of Triple A.

There will be no wheat acreage allotments established as in past years. A national goal of 68 million acres of wheat for 1944 harvest has been requested. It is felt that the goal can be attained by confining wheat plantings to land adapted to the production of wheat and without abandoning farming practices needed to maintain production and prevent wind and water erosion. Farmers are asked to hold land for increased acreages of grain, sorghum and feed grains and then to plant all other acreages to wheat consistent with good farming practices.

Synthetic Rubber Soon Will Whip Tire Problem

That the end of the shortage in tires for essential commerce and industry is in sight for not later than December and an ample supply for all needs of the general public by late spring will be available, is the opinion of S. R. Caldwell, district representative of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber company, publicly expressed Wednesday noon at the Floydada Rotary club.

In a brief talk Caldwell, who has a distit of 22 counties in this area of Texas and New Mexico, said in substance:

The synthetic rubber program is moving faster and more favorably than was expected; the synthetic passenger cars are now being made in considerable volume and most major production in all sizes of tires will be started by the rubber companies.

Already a trickle of synthetic tire manufacture has started and there are being delivered to dealers in small quantities, principally in 6.00 by 16 sizes.

Most of the synthetic rubber manufactured today has been going to the army and navy for their various needs, especially for leak-proof gasoline tanks on airplanes.

The first grade synthetic tire will sell for $18.17 in 6.00 by 16 size and other sizes in proportion.

The synthetic tire in speeds up to 40 miles has been demonstrated as seven per cent more efficient than the natural rubber tire; at speeds above 40 miles the efficiency curve of the synthetic tire goes down faster than that of the natural rubber tire.

Treasure Your Tubes Caldwell demonstrated the making of synthetic rubber from the product of the government-sponsored polymerization of high octane gasoline. From a vial of this milky looking substance he poured a small quantity of fluid and put in with it in a small glass a substance which he called a coagulator. The almost instant result after stirring was a stick wax, a small ball of rubber-looking substance that bounced when thrown on the floor.

Although the tire making process has been approximately looked in his opinion, Caldwell said that the tire makers are having much more trouble making tubes that will give service. "Treasure the tubes that you have", he said, indicating that automobile users are going to have to learn a new technique of putting tubes into tires when they begin using synthetics.

He declared the story being told about the synthetic tires catching fire on the road is in his belief, "Natural rubber tires have caught fire on the road when punctured enough and synthetics likely will do the same thing," he declared.

Shirey Is Elected Head Odd Fellows Secretaries

G. N. Shirey was elected president of the Odd Fellows Secretary's convention recently while attending a meeting of the organization at Corsicana. Dates for the convention were August 8 and 9.

Mrs. Shirey accompanied her husband as far as Dallas where she visited relatives there and at Paris, Cooper and Clarksville.

The convention voted to return to Corsicana for their next annual meeting.

Present legislation does not provide for wheat payments in 1944. No wheat marketing quotas will apply for the 1944 marketing year and no payments will be conditioned upon meeting or planting within goals. Soil-building practice payments will be made for approved practices carried out during the 1944 program year.

The 1944 loan level cannot be announced at this time. Loans are provided for at 85% of the parity. It is contemplated that any producer of acceptable wheat will be eligible to participate in the loan program unless he has adopted farming practices inconsistent with good farming practices for the area in which his farm is located.

Cotton crop insurance will not be available on crops in 1944. The cotton contracts were for only one year. The three year wheat contracts will be terminated after harvest in 1943 and will not be in effect in 1944. This fact was brought about by the dissolution of Crop Insurance by Congress.

The 1944 program will emphasize price supports to establish desirable price levels to bring the needed volume of production. Price support loans will be available.

How perseverance pays, sometimes huge dividends, is illustrated by the success that finally crowned the efforts of Amon G. Carter, the Fort Worth publisher, to break into the oil game. The story is told, and it has background for being the approximate truth, that Carter drilled or had a part in drilling nearly 100 dry holes in the southwest before he finally hit with a producer. Since he finally had a stroke of good fortune he has been doing better and better, so that now his former neighbors and friends speak rather sarcastically of him as an oil tycoon, the envy in their references plainly discernible. Generally you can tell how successful a man has been by the unkind cuts people take at him if they have known him a long time.

Certainly the high plains and lower panhandle area needs a good rain and row crops are taking much punishment. But it is remarkable how well crops have been and are standing up under the continued pelting rays of the sun. A most unusual thing, too, about the weather this summer has been the remarkable lack of wind. Many of the complaints you hear have a basis in the lack of stockwater, for which we are used to depending on the wind, rather than on the effects of the continued heat on the crops. How much forage feed will be made, how much of it will be put into bundles and how much threshed with a combine thresher depends on how well the crop is matured by the underground season present when the heat wave set in in July.

Monday morning the cut in the value of gasoline coupons was dropped from four gallons to three gallons, which is a cut of 25 per cent, for people of the southwestern part of the nation. The new rule also became effective in mid-western states. It has not been put into effect in the Pacific states as yet. The people of the southwest are using their automobiles too freely, authorities think. Whether they are right or not depends on your point of view. Many take the same attitude as Texas' governor, namely that the new rule has nothing to do with winning the war one way or another, and was not intended for that purpose. Our own idea, expressed a number of times, ad nauseum perhaps, is that the political pressure from the east has been so strong that something had to be done about it. It will not hurt a great deal, except for the additional "trigger work" of going to see the ration board, filling out new forms and things of that kind. Where a man can show that he really needs gasoline to carry on an essential activity our guess is he will get all the gasoline he needs. Those who can't meet the test of necessity will not fare so well, taking the judgment of the board. Of course, that is where the rub will come with a good many people—taking somebody else's judgment and not their own, on a matter which they feel like ought to be under the head of their own business. The set-up is the way it is, this is war and somebody has got to have the last say. You could work up high blood pressure about the matter or you could take it easy. The latter policy might be just as good.

If you hold a B or a C gasoline coupon book it is indicated you are going to have to see your board or apply to them by mail, something of the kind to get a new type of coupon. They are going to keep you honest by making your old ones invalid, so the report goes by radio and the public prints. When you go in to talk matters over as you think, and get you a new book or new coupons or whatever it is that will be dished out, you'll be a "case" to the girl that waits on you and she will be "interviewing" you. You'll be numbered, initialed, catalogued and filed away until your next trip. You suspect the whole, eating up all the manpower and womanpower it does, couldn't have much to do with winning the war, and you might or might not be right. One wonders if plains-reared, maize-fed girls who make up most of the clerical personnel in the counties of this section do not think the new terms and jargon they have to learn as being the least bit stilted. However, better wages and more favorable working conditions and hours than they could get in private employment soon reconcile them to the new way, no doubt.

Considerable difference in temperatures has been noticeable in reports from various parts of the panhandle country. North plains visitors complain of the terrific heat here and folks who live here complain as they return from Childress, Vernon and such spots of the terrific heat in those places. Last Saturday the difference in temperature at Floydada and Childress was nine degrees. It was 97 at Floydada, 106 at Childress at the hottest hour respectively.

The Hesperian has been lax in reporting on weather conditions. The writer hasn't been out communing among the little creatures of nature as much as we would have liked. Things incident to the war have been in the way. Information you get out of store bought books is all right but sometimes one is unable to put it into practice, especially information that has to do with the weather. These words as a preface. In answer to the many who want to know when it will rain we do not make any direct reply. But obliquely we approach an answer by suggesting that no favorable moon changes are in the offing for a considerable time hence. This doesn't mean it can't rain. But just the same it would save feed to cull flocks now, save grass if surplus sheep, cattle and horses were allowed to go at the first favorable time, and barley if hogs were marketed as fast as they get to the right weight. Also, one should always observe the old adage waste not, want not, and take care of last year's bundles even with new bundles now ready to harvest. The law of averages and the moon changes don't tell the story as good as other and better signs, but that's the best we can do right now, handicapped as we are.

It seems altogether probable that a called session of the Texas legislature will be held. Conflicts in the provisions of the recent law passed by our legislature and the federal law seems to call for this. At least, we might better say, conflicts in interpretation of the respective laws by Texas and federal authorities. The federal assistance agency says old people cannot make as much as $250 per year and still stay on the rolls and draw pension checks, as the Texas law would permit them to do. Quick action, in fact quick acquiescence in the federal construction of the law appears to be the only way out to save the "matching" funds for the aged of the state. You don't tell federal agencies. You ask them.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

There is a mighty pleasant American sound that has been silenced by the guns of war, that of turning cream freasers in these hot afternoons and evenings. The strong brown arms that turned the freasers are now cranking up jeeps and planes and holding guns. The gear that once went into the freeding cream is now making ammunition for death and not life as then. But thank God some of these days the boys will come home and won't they be hungry for good old home made ice cream and ma will sally around, beat the eggs and get things ready, live cakes. Little brothers will dash up and steal spoons of the cream every time they have a chance. Little sister will sit near and watch big brother home at last, turn again the handle that has rusted in his absence and the American way of life will begin again.

The debate about eating or not eating hot pepper is on again this summer. The Jones family, my mother's people, all like hot pepper's and I acquired the taste at a very young age. Grandpa Jones used to cut out the hot veins so that we children could get a milder pleasure and we all bragged who could eat the hottest pepper. One day we overheard two of my smaller brothers arguing this question. One told of some one who could stand the burning better than the other. For some time it went until one of them told the other as if clinching the question: "I bet God could if He put the pepper between a biscuit."

Our good old West Texas wind is coming again, turning the mills and making water go down the rows of our wilted garden. And for another good turn it blew me a picture of a very good looking young lady with her long tresses streaming from her head blown by a high wind. The letter was post marked Lockney and now I shall be searching for the young lady as she did not put her name on the picture. Thank you and please write me a note.

Whenever I see a new fashion magazine I look longingly at the pretty slim, fashionable dresses on

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Issue of August 22, 1929)

Rising out of the past, fond memories of the Old West Texas come again last Thursday and Friday among hundreds of pioneer settlers among the thousands of visitors attending the Annual West Texas Old Settlers reunion held at the Hank Smith Memorial park. An estimated crowd of between twelve and fifteen thousand gathered at the famous "Old Rock House" in Blanco canyon for the reunion.

Lakeview, Campbell, Cedar Hill and Antelope communities made a close race for the honor of being the first to sign a contract for exhibit space in the Floyd County Fair here in September.

School days are nearly here again. First signs of the approach of opening days for fall sessions of the schools made themselves apparent last week and this when workmen of the various buildings began to put the buildings in good condition to receive the approximately eight thousand boys and girls who are expected to begin the school year right by attending on the opening day, September 2.

More than 100 Boy Scouts from the Central Plains Area council are in their first annual encampment this week at Holmes creek near Quitaque, according to word received from E. L. Roberts, district Scout executive who is in charge of the ten-days encampment.

Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Stansell, who were recently married, were honored at a shower with Miss Ruth Jenkins as hostess at her home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith entertained with a dinner Saturday evening, honoring members of the first Matador ranch outfit. Covers were laid for W. R. Brown of Ryan, Oklahoma; Bob Stelzer, Commanche, Oklahoma; John W. Smith, Addington, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Starks, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. Smith.

Mesdames G. F. Klebold, John L. West and Wilson Kimble were hostesses to the Woman's Missionary society of the First Methodist church Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Klebold home.

Thirteen Floydada boys returned Monday from Palacios where they spent a month in the annual encampment of Texas National guard as members of Battery A, 131st Field artillery of Plainview. L. G. Matthews, lieutenant of 71st Infantry brigade, also attended the camp, returning Wednesday.

Announcement that a Sock Supper and program is being arranged for Friday night, August 30, at South Plains, was made this week.

The Hesperian's story last week relative to two Floydada youngsters who were passengers to the Old Settlers' picnic on the Ford tri-motored plane from this city, a trip of some twenty-two miles, brought to light the fact that two other Floydada children like air-riding very much, and that one of them flew at the tender age of eighteen months. They are Gladys Ruth and Billy Brown. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Norman and children left Sunday for Amarillo where they planned to visit relatives and friends until Thursday when they will join Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Latta and Miss Robbie Archer at Carlsbad and visit the cave.

the slim women. Then I resolve to go and do likewise. But here is the situation. I am not a bit finicky about my eating, every thing looks and tastes good to me when I go to the table. Bread and its companions, meat and butter, all that grows above and under the ground and all the sweets, by every vine and on trees and in cane brakes. I take them all out and while I am eating I do not envy my brethren that look all round the table, take a bite of this and a small spoon of that. I enjoy about most everything with the result that I will never, never be slim and haughty and fashionable like the tall woman in the new fashion sheet.

Black eyed peas are on the throne again, simmering with bits of bacon, shelling from many hands into the pressure cooker, driving for winter abundance, on the dinner and supper table as we as my husband comes to his meals.

The farmer's way of thinking is flexible. For instance, only a short time ago he groaned and said if it did not rain he was ruined. Then he changed to if it does rain I will make a sight of cotton and feed. Now he sighs and says, perhaps after all if it does not rain I will make feed enough to get by on.

Jack A. Paschall of Detroit, Michigan, my husband's nephew who recently visited in our home, writes back a letter of interest as he was born on the plains of west Texas in the days when the town of Emma was brand new.

Jack is now in his half-playing on his pallet in his half-dusout home his daddy was raising yellow pine lumber for dugout and wagon campers he had helped settle in the fast-building town of the prairie, blue lakes lapping the untrampled mesquite grass on the north and the south of the to-be city. Then the call of California came sweet and clear in the ears of the Paschalls and soon a short wagon was going west after a covered crew up with the orange groves and the fast growing cities in the golden west. At the age of seven he visited again his first home, then after an absence of some thirty years he came again, looking for the cattle and the herds of antelope and the unbounded open spaces. But let me quote what he writes, "Dear Aunt Lizzie" he writes Mrs. Ellis, "A pound of this thin paper, covered could not even tell you how much I enjoyed seeing and being with you people. And I adored your fine clean little city. I believe that the countryside around Lubbock (and Emma) has been the greatest surprise of my life for I had pictured it a barren waste or grazing land—and it certainly is just the opposite." So this is how it looks after thirty years. Jack is an organizer in the schools of Michigan in the Visual Method of class piano instruction which is now in effect in the public schools of Ohio, Michigan and Pennsylvania. This method is a great thing for underprivileged children, teachers and appreciation of music. I am not at all and children of talent are brought to the fore. We on e thought that giving music lessons to any child but one who love music was a loss. Now we know that ones not musical can be taught and should be, the delights of appreciating music.

Poem of the week by Pauline Prosser-Thompson:
How lovely are the faces of
The men who talk with God—
Lit with an inner sureness of
The path their feet have trod;
How gentle is the manner of
A man who walks with Him!
No strength can overcome Him, and
No cloud his courage dim.
Keen are the hands and feet—ah yes
Of those who wait! His will,
And clear as crystal mirrors, are
The hearts His love can fill.
Some lives are drear from doubt and fear
While others merely bled;
But lovely faces mark the men
Who walk and talk with God.
Copied in appreciation of Rev.
Knove of Lockney our pastor at
Cone, who visited in our home recently.

Mr. and Mrs. T. J. DeFoe of near Ralls have had two lovely granddaughters visiting them lately. I know because they entertained me one afternoon I was in the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. DeFoe.

Friday the thirteenth came a day early for the family. Mrs. Etha Paschall my husband's sister from California fell and sprained her ankle. A few hours later Joe Ellis tore two finger nails from his fingers only a few feet from the place where Etha was hurt. Note, Friday the thirteenth was very quiet as the ones hurt were much better.

How to preserve your Car

It's a good idea to "put up" fruits and vegetables for next winter. . . but if you put up your car instead of using it for essential transportation, you actually throw an additional burden on overloaded streetcars, buses, and trains.

In the national interest, as well as in your own, the way to preserve your car is to give it the care it needs and deserves in times like these.

Save rubber, gasoline, and oil by cutting down driving speed. And get expert help to make your car and your tires go farther and last longer.

This expert help is waiting for you at every Phillips 66 Service Station. Go there at least once a week so that the Phillips 66 Service Man can check tire inflation. In hot weather, twice-a-week tire checks are even better. Remember, under-inflation not only increases tire wear but places an unnecessary drag on the engine and thus wastes gasoline.

The Phillips 66 Service Man will also inspect your tires for cuts and bruises, will crisscross them with the spare every 3,000 miles, will tell you when re-capping is advisable. He will check your radiator, battery, and air filter. Will change crank-case oil, and lubricate chassis parts at the nationally recommended 60-day intervals.

Remember, whether you buy one coupon's worth of famous Phillips 66 gasoline, or merely want water or air, Good Neighbor Service is always waiting for you at the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Charges Against Welfare Dept. Given Airing

Charges of extravagance and of the employment of help at salaries higher than those authorized by the state legislature were aired when the state investigating committee recently spent four days hearing testimony and arriving at conclusions as to the conduct of the State Department of Public Welfare.

The meeting of the committee, of which Representative Tom W. Deen of the 120th district was vice-chairman, was held in Austin and the hearing conducted was a public one.

One of the immediate results of the committee's meeting was the employment of a new director, who took charge of the office Monday of this week.

Post Cards Would Do

Testimony before the committee alleged that telephone and telegraph were being used on scores of mat-ers every month for which a penny post-card would amply serve all needs. The old folks, whose living expenses have risen so high they are unable to live within their incomes had become increasingly restive over reports of waste and extravagance which they were hearing.

Testimony from one official, Judge Deen said, was that the added ex-pense of telephone and telegraph was demanded by the federal mat-ting agency. Findings of the com-mittee and their recommendations are as follows:

Committee Findings

1. We have continued an extensive investigation since the adjournment of the last session of the Leg-islature and find that the con-ditions of the State Department of Public Welfare are progressively growing worse. We find that the books of the State Department of Public Welfare have not been audited by the State Auditor for the past three years.
2. We find that the entire per-sonnel of the State Department of Public Welfare is composed of young people, with the exception of ap-proximately two percent.
3. We have found one employ-ee in the State Department of Public Welfare, Mr. Giles Averitt, who has tried to obey the salary schedule set up by the State Legislature by re-questing additional salary raise above the appropriation schedule set up by the Legislature.
4. We find that the employees of the State Department of Public Welfare are all drawing the salary of some few months ago and that since the Legislature adjourned there have been 150 additional salary raises of employees.
5. We find that the State Depart-ment of Public Welfare is paying $2,185.00 office rent per month for two and one-half floors in an air-conditioned building in the city of Austin; and we find that their tele-graph and long distance telephon-calls range from $900 to $1,000 per month.

Recommendations of Committee

1. We demand of the State Board of Public Welfare, composed of Mar-vin Leonard of Fort Worth, chair-man, Thomas H. Taylor of Brown-wood and Hubert Johnson of Waco, the immediate replacement of J. S. Murchison, the executive director of the State Department of Public Welfare.
2. If the said J. S. Murchison is not replaced immediately, this com-mittee shall insist on calling the Legislature together, either by pro-curement of the Governor, Speaker of the House, or by the majority of the House of Representatives to pre-er impeachment charges against the executive director and the board of the State Department of Public Welfare; and we demand the imme-diate resignation of the board members, Marvin Leonard and Thomas H. Taylor, as such would have a whole-some and beneficial effect on the Social Security program in Texas. The board members have refused to abide by the salary schedule as set by the Legislature.
3. Having found that the State Department of Public Welfare has approximately 1,088 employees, spending an average of $163,000 per month for administrative expenses, and they claim that it is necessary to hire additional and other employ-ees and to spend more money in order to continue to draw Federal Matching Aid, if these claims be true and the Federal Social Security Board does advocate such extrava-gances in the spending of public funds at the expense of the old peo-ple, we feel that this is a matter which should be called to the atten-tion of the United States Senators and Congressmen from Texas.
4. We recommend that at least 80% of the entire personnel of the State Department of Public Welfare be composed of employees 65 years of age or older, from the pension rolls. We feel that this would im-mediately release many young em-ployees from this department for military duty and provide employ-ment for something like 500 pen-sioners on the rolls. We believe this change of policy would result in a more sympathetic attitude in the administration of old age pensions in Texas.
5. We further recommend abol-ishing all Assistant Area Supervisors as we feel they duplicate the work of Area Supervisors and other employ-ees.

Members of the committee who signed the report are Ennis Favos, Chairman, Tom W. Deen, Vice-Chairman, O. H. Moore, L. L. Duck-ett, A. H. Overton, Jr.

Families of this community as well as adjacent ones are invited to come and bring their children. SALT SAVES THE SURPLUS OF VICTORY GARDEN CROPS

Salt can save Victory Garden vegetables from going to waste for lack of a pressure cooker or other way of short canning equipment, say John L. Etchells, chemist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Ivan D. Jones of the North Carolina experiment station, who have studied salting and brining as a wartime method of preserving vegetables. They find that more than 20 garden vegetables can be preserved successfully, and that much of the flavor, color and food value lost in old-time brining can be saved by a few simple changes in method.

In old-time brining vegetables were put down in such heavy salt that they kept all winter in open crocks. By long soaking in water changes of water was needed to remove salt and make them palatable. The scientists now find that about 15 vegetables can be put down in light salt or weak brine with vinegar until a natural fermentation produces an acid that preserves them and gives a pleasant tart flavor. Then the vegetables can be packed in glass jars, processed in boiling water, and kept like canned food. They need little or no soaking before cooking, taste much like cooked vegetables seasoned with salt and vinegar, and keep more of their mineral and vitamin values. Vegetables suitable for preserving this way are: snap beans, carrots, cauliflower, turnips and rutabagas, beets, green tomatoes, greens like kale, mustard, turnips, and cabbage and head lettuce.

Corn, peas, lima beans, okra, green peppers and onions, on the other hand, need heavy salt or strong brine.

Snap beans can be preserved either by the light salt or weak brine and fermentation method, or by heavy salting, but first need 5 minutes balancing in steam or hot water to help hold their color and soften them for better preservation.

ATTENTION WHEAT FARMERS

Planting Good Quality Wheat Varieties Proves Profitable To Farmers

Texas Flour Mills report the increase in good quality wheat in the state has enabled them to better enter into highly competitive markets, thus bringing about a greater demand for Texas wheat. Extra demand for Texas wheat is conducive to better market prices and higher protein premiums. Those few communities in the state producing a high percentage of off-quality wheat have experienced lesser demand for their wheat and lower protein premiums. The U. S. D. A. and the State Agricultural Experiment Stations recommend only the high quality COMANCHE, TENMARQ, TURKEY, and KAN-RED varieties and the intermediate quality STANDARD BLACKHULL variety for the hard wheat area of Texas.

For sources of good seed wheat contact your county agricultural agent, local elevator dealer, or the Texas Wheat Improvement Association.

Conservation Measures For Trucks Urged

Truck conservation measures surpassing any previously known will be required to enable civilian-operated motor trucks to shoulder the unprecedented burdens that will be thrown upon them as the nation diverts its gigantic "knockout" blows against the Axis in Europe and on the other fighting fronts, according to W. E. Fish, manager Commercial and Truck department Chevrolet and Motor division of General Motors, who has just completed an extensive survey of current truck transportation conditions in the United States.

"There exist at the moment a set of conditions demanding closest attention and utmost ingenuity on the part of truck operators, shippers, dealers and maintenance men to keep the trucks that are now in operation running efficiently and economically for the duration," said Mr. Fish.

"While the manufacture of a limited number of heavy duty trucks for civilian use in the balance of 1943 has been authorized, growing military demands, it appears evident, will absorb the country's heavy duty truck production capacity during the latter part of 1943 and the first six months of 1944. According to published statements of governmental officials, medium duty trucks probably will be manufactured in limited quantities for civilian consumption beginning the early part of 1944. No additional light truck manufacturing is proposed.

"With this restricted outlook for new trucks, it is apparent that ways must be found to keep present trucks in condition to haul heavier loads and work longer hours.

"It can be assumed safely that the great majority of truck operators today are giving closer attention to the basic fundamentals of truck conservation, such as inspection, lubrication, tire care, brakes, batteries, etc.

"More than ever before the truck driver has an important part in truck conservation. Many operators are drilling their drivers in the detection of trouble symptoms or danger signs through fuller utilization of their faculties of sight, hearing, smell and feeling."

A mixture of four ounces of oil of tansy and one gallon of wood alcohol proved to be the deciding factor in controlling the "under ground" seed pests of grain sorghum seed on the Herschel Carthel farm in Lockney community.

Mr. Carthel was having trouble securing a stand of the grain sorghum. He observed a small brown beetle following the drill and making a meal of the heart of the seed. The bug was identified as the Colorado Corn Root worm.

"This seed treatment made the difference in securing a stand of grain sorghum and the cost is a very small item," Mr. Carthel reported.

Earl Edwards, Jr., a 4-H club member of Lakeview community, reported excellent results in controlling horn flies on his favorite dairy cow by using a mixture of one part of Rotenone and ten parts wettable sulphur as a dust.

This material is not poisonous to people but will do a very effective job of killing insect pests. Rotenone is very effective in controlling insects in the Victory garden.

Earl reported the flies were "about to eat old Sayda up," so he was given the rotenone-sulphur mixture to try. It seemed the flies were more interested in this 15 year old cow than the other cattle on the Edwards farm.

You might like to know that Sayda was selected as a member of the Model Dairy herd at the Texas Centennial. She was bred by Oscar Stansell of Floyd county and has been an outstanding cow.

Farmers and ranchmen must file an estimated income tax return on or before December 15, 1943. A farmer under the law is one who obtains at least 80% of his gross income from farming.

This income tax form will provide permissible deduction as well as his taxable incomes, both for income and Victory tax. The forms should be available soon. All taxes paid so far this year will be credited to payment of the 1943 income tax.

Record books will be very helpful this year in determining figures to place on the return forms. Farmers and ranchmen are busy producing the food for the men in uniform and realize the manpower shortage. Complete record books will be the "time savers" this year.

A concrete hog wallow will pay for its cost in a short time in saving high priced feeds. Hogs must be cool and comfortable if they are to make cheap gain.

Let's save feed and produce more pork through better hog management.

YANKEES FINALLY LEARN ABOUT NATIONAL ANTHEM

James Fry Gibbs, who is in the army stationed at Fort F. E. Warren, Wyoming, in a recent note giving address for The Hesperian, adds that the Texas boys have finally got it over to the Yankees, thick in those parts, about the national anthem, "Deep in the Heart of Texas."

Vegetables carried over from the spring planting season should have a side dressing of fertilizer. Green pepper hot pepper, okra, field peas, eggplant, pole butter beans and summer tomatoes make up this list. Apply the fertilizer in a furrow 8 to 12 inches from the plant on both sides of the row. Use three pounds per 100 feet of row. If the soil is dry, irrigate before or after applying the fertilizer.

Conservation District News

The District's terracing rig made a futile effort to construct terraces on one of Frank Dougherty's farms last week. The ground was just too hard and dry. Better pray for rain, Frank! The rig humming merrily this week, however, on the C. V. Pool farm south of Floydada where ground conditions, while dry, permit its operation.

County heavy road machinery has just completed the construction of several terraces surveyed by District engineers on Mrs. Sigal Wortham's farm.

W. H. Taylor south of Allmon school recently reported his terraces where she will probably remain another week, her brother Kenneth Hodge, said Tuesday.

Captain Addison, stationed in the Canal zone was home for a leave of absence to be with his wife. He has returned to duty with the army air corps.

Mr. J. Holt Waldrep, who had been here for several weeks on a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Fry, left last week returning to Athens, Georgia, where her husband is in the naval air force.

terraces in 1943 season or completed construction on those previously started are requested to declare them to the A. A. A. office. They wish to know their length and width. Those who have had their lines surveyed by the District's technicians may secure this data by calling at the District office in the courthouse.

J. M. Pierce of Starkey community worked on some of his terraces recently until the ground got too hard. Like many others he is hoping for some sky juice so he can finish up the job.

MRS. MAX ADDISON BELIEVED IMPROVING AT DALLAS

Mrs. Max Addison is thought to be improving satisfactorily from illness the past four weeks. She is at Beverly Hills hospital at Dallas where she will probably remain another week, her brother Kenneth Hodge, said Tuesday.

Captain Addison, stationed in the Canal zone was home for a leave of absence to be with his wife. He has returned to duty with the army air corps.

FIRE DEPARTMENT SAVES GRASS PASTURE BY RUM MADE TUESDAY AFTERNOON

Floydada Volunteer Fire department answered two calls last week to fires, the most serious of which was a pasture grass fire in the outlying area southwest of town, where they caught the blaze before it covered much acreage. It was on land belonging to W. M. Massie. The origin of the fire was guessed at by the fire department as being a carelessly thrown cigarette.

Another fire to which the department answered a call was in the 500 block on West Tennessee street, where they extinguished a blaze in a pick-up. The machine caught fire from burning grass and weeds, Chief Carl Rodgers of the department said.

Mrs. P. M. Smith returned home Thursday from Poolville where she has been the past two weeks visiting relatives. Her son Chas. Smith and a daughter, Mrs. J. J. Crandall of Bailey, Texas accompanied her home for a visit here. Mr. Smith returned home Friday and Mrs. Crandall plans to remain for a longer visit.

Pvt. Delmar D. Hatley has returned to camp after a week here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hatley and boys. He is stationed at Camp Huan, California, in the anti-tank division.

A message from the United States Treasury about YOUR WARTIME TAX DOLLARS

THE American people have accepted the highest tax bill in the history of the country with splendid patriotism and cheerfulness. The Treasury Department of the United States feels that an explanation is due them in turn—feels that they deserve to be told why, when and how their tax dollars are vital to winning this war and the peace that will follow.

As a taxpayer, consider these facts:

Our government is currently spending 240 million dollars each day, almost all of it on war, and this figure will increase materially as the war continues. About a third of that amount is being raised through taxes. Those tax dollars are as necessary for weapons with which to defeat our enemies as are dollars raised through the sale of WAR BONDS. Hence, when you pay taxes today you are definitely and directly contributing to victory.

And, at the same time, your taxes actually help to maintain your own purchasing power now—and prevent disaster to your country after the war. Here's how:

Billions of Dangerous Dollars

Every time your cost of living advances, you are paying a tax on your income. If your cost of living should double, you would pay a tax of 50% on your salary, wages or other income. But it would be a tax that wouldn't benefit our fighting forces, our Government or anyone else—except Hitler and Hirohito.

Now—to prevent such a concealed tax on your income from taking place— isn't it good sense as well as sound patriotism to pay your government taxes of 20% on part of your total income—or more—

And your taxes do help prevent just such a price rise! How? By taking part of the billions of dangerous dollars which otherwise threaten your living standard and putting them to useful work, winning the war. Those billions of dangerous dollars, you know, represent the difference between the income the American people will receive this year and the amount of civilian goods that will be made in the same twelve months. If taxes were lower, prices would tend to rise, and your real income would be reduced by just that much.

Keeping the America He Knew

There's another reason why your high taxes help your country in wartime—and really a much more important one to you. Your tax money is helping to win the war now—but it's equally essential to winning the peace and keeping the America that boy knew before he went into the armed forces.

All the industrial power, all the inventive genius and productive capacity of this country would not bring back a busy, prosperous America that we know if a drastic deflation followed victory. And, as surely as the sun that rises in the morning will set at night, a deflation would follow an inflation brought about by failure to tax ourselves realistically now.

So, next time that tax burden seems heavy to you—think of these facts. Remember that your tax dollars are helping to pay for victory now—that they are in there fighting for your living standard now—and that they are working to keep our country's financial structure sound for that boy now in the armed service, for all your family, and for you in the peace to come.

YOUR CHECKS ARE DOING A REAL "Victory Job"

Checks are doing a great war-winning job. They are saving time, saving tires, saving mistakes, saving tempers, saving money.

Paying by check will help you, and it will help to win the war. We invite you to open a checking account with this bank.

WE SELL WAR BONDS

SOME QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT YOUR TAX BILL

Q. How much of my federal tax payments is being spent on war and how much on so-called "normal" expenditures?
A. About 96% of your tax payments are currently going to pay for direct war expenditures. Only one dollar in every twenty-two you pay, therefore, goes for all other federal expenses, most of which are indirectly to aid the war effort.

Q. How much of the total war bill is being paid currently out of taxes?
A. A little over one-third.

Q. Is this proportion higher or lower than in England and Canada?
A. Lower. Both Canada and Great Britain are paying approximately half of their war expenses through taxation.

Q. Is there any way other than taxes and war bonds by which the government could finance our share of the war?
A. There is. The government could borrow from the commercial banks, which would put even greater spending power in the hands of the people—thus creating a basis for inflation.

Q. Is there any other advantage in financing as large a share of the war bill as possible through taxes?
A. Yes—and a very real one to you, the taxpayer. All the bills for the cost of the war must be paid sooner or later through taxation, but if paid currently, from taxes, there will be no interest charge to mount over the years and provide an extra burden for you to carry.

Q. So far, so good. But don't you think taxation is unfair in the way it distributes the burden for all this?
A. On the contrary, and we believe you will agree if you think it through, that taxes are the fairest, most equitable way to pay for the war. That's because Federal Income taxes are levied on ability to pay for something that all of us need and must have—victory now, a sound America later.

OPA Official Explains Gas Reductions

The new rationing order on gasoline, reducing the value of A, B or C coupons from four to three gallons, will not prohibit farmers and ranchers of the Southwest from getting enough gasoline for "essential" operations. The statement was made by Max McCullough, regional administrator for OPA, in a radio talk Tuesday night. He stated that "consideration" would be given to the fact that driving requirements vary in different sections and different localities.

Order Is Necessary
"Shortage of petroleum, plus military demands for petroleum products has made the new order necessary, especially when military requirements are already in excess of one million barrels a day," McCullough said.

According to the official, the reduction does not extend to the Rocky Mountains and the Pacific regions because there are still sufficient reserves there to permit civilian consumption of gasoline at the present rate, even after the Pacific theatre of war has received the oil that it needs. But these reserves, he said, could not be shipped to the Southwest, Midwest or East because of transportation shortages.

Fears Tires Shortage
"This nation faces, during the next six months, a shortage of tires so serious as to threaten essential civilian transportation unless our driving, nationwide, is held to a minimum," Mr. McCullough, OPA Regional administrator said.

GASOLINE BUSINESS BRISK SATURDAY AND SUNDAY AS SERVICE MEN FILL 'ER UP

Gasoline business was brisk Saturday and Sunday, to put it mildly. Station attendants say that if business were as good every day as it was those two days it would really be nice to be in business. Auto drivers used all the 4-gallon coupons they could for Monday morning. Average citizen would drive up, have the first four gallons poured, then with measuring eye decide whether to try to stuff another four into the gas buggy's innards. Generally speaking, local gasoline dealers and OPA officials are of the opinion that for actual needed driving the new rule will not adversely affect business.

S. G. T. CLYDE WRIGHT 'FIT AND WELL, RED CROSS MAN WRITES MOTHER

Staff Sergeant Clyde Wright, with the American army contingent in England, is "exceedingly fit and well," his mother, Mrs. Merv Wright, is advised in a letter from J. Grant-Forbes, a Red Cross conductor, with headquarters at Hans Crescent Club, Knightbridge, London, S. W. L.

"I had the pleasure of meeting your son the other day. We spent a happy morning seeing the sights of London. He looks exceedingly fit and well. It certainly appears that army life agrees with him," writes Mr. Grant-Forbes. Continuing he says:

"My only excuse for writing this note is because I know that mothers like to know just how their boys are getting along."

"He is quiet happy and looks forward to the dawn of that day when he can return to his own homeland and those he loves. He sends his love to you and all at home and kindly greetings to all his friends."

FIRST WORD SINCE APRIL RECEIVED BY SHAW FROM SANFORD, IN THE NAVY

First word since he was here in April was received this week by the W. A. Shaws from their son, Sanford, in the navy somewhere in the Pacific. In a letter addressed to all members of the family, he says:

"I am having to write you all in one letter for I just have a few of these V mail heads."

"Now don't think I have lost my mind, but I saw two rainbows last night about 1 o'clock. They were so clear that I could almost distinguish the colors."

"I hope you will be able to read this as I am writing it in my bunk."

"Mother, you and dad ought to know one of the sailor's family that is on here with me. His name is W. E. Foster. They live at Petersburg or about a mile from Almon school. He knows the Holmes boys and a lot of people around Sand Hill. So you do and see them you can tell them he is fine."

"Tell everyone hello for me. Best regards to all, Sanford."

ROY E. SMITH HOME

Roy E. Smith, former merchandiser of Lakeview store, but who has been at Garden City, Kansas, in the Army Air forces for more than a year, has returned home after being put on the reserve list and out of active duty.

His plans for the present are indefinite, he said last week end. He is visiting with his mother, Mrs. R. C. Smith, and other relatives, while he makes up his mind as to future activities.

SHAW'S LEARN THEIR SON DON SERIOUSLY INJURED IN NEW GUINEA FIGHTING

The Tom Shaws have been notified by the War Department that their son, Don, who is in an infantry division in the Southwest Pacific, has been seriously wounded in action.

The telegram telling of their son's wounds was terse and carried no other information. It was received 14 days after he was hurt, and the parents were promised further information as it was possible to communicate with them.

Young Shaw was one of the early volunteers and has been in the Pacific theatre for more than 18 months of the war. He had been in previous encounters without injury most of his service in the New Guinea campaign. The home folks' most recent letter from the boy had enclosed with it a much-worn Japanese bill, (assumed to be Japanese occupation currency) which Don suggested his daddy "just as well not try to spend."

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Sims and family of Vernon spent from Friday until Monday visiting in the home of W. C. Sims.

PFC. BOBBY E. REASONER WRITES TO PARENTS FROM BRITISH ISLES

(Editor's note: Following is a letter from Pfc. Bobby Elton Reasoner to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Reasoner. The letter is the first word from their son in four weeks. In service the past 15 months. Pfc. Reasoner is serving in a bombing squadron.)

August 2, 1943.

Dearest Mother, Papa and all— I will write you a few lines to let you know I am well and doing fine. Hope all of you are the same.

I am somewhere in England. We came over on one of the world's largest ships. The trip was rather pleasant and I didn't even get sick.

The country over here is really beautiful and the people over here are really nice to soldiers.

We get paid in English money. It seems kinda funny but I guess I will get used to it.

When you answer send me Lee-man's address because I have lost it. And white and send him mine.
