

Farmers Pay 143 Land Bank Loans In Current Year

Loans numbering 143 against Floyd County farm homes amounting to $325,000 have been liquidated by the borrowers within the fiscal year of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association.

This fact, brought out in the annual report of A. B. Clark, secretary-treasurer of the association, tells where some of the money is going that is being made on farms of the area.

These loan liquidations, less 52 new loans made during the year leave a net decrease of 91 loans in the association's files. The 52 new loans are practically all together for purchase of farm homes by families who have been in the renting class heretofore and are adding new acreage to their holdings.

The meeting held in the District Court room Saturday afternoon was attended by 107 members, who re-elected the following as directors: W. C. Cates, G. C. Collins, Norman Hamilton, to serve with M. L. Probst and Jim A. Lloyd, hold-over members. Mr. Cates was elected president of the association and Mr. Lloyd vice-president.

A. B. Clark was re-elected secretary-treasurer of the association and Mrs. G. L. Kirk acting secretary.

S. L. Holmes Raises First Bale Cotton

S. L. Holmes, of Starkey, had the first bale of cotton on the Floydada market for the season of 1943 late Tuesday and will deliver his second bale to town sometime today or tomorrow.

Grady Harris, manager of the Scott Gin company, who turned out the first bale for the grower, had a federal test run on the lint Wednesday. It was sampled as middling 32-34s staple, good enough "the loan."

Floydada High Schedules 9 Football Games for Season

4 Teams Left In Dist. 4-A Competition

Their ranks decimated by the loss of Paducah, Rails and Crosbyton high school teams from inter-scholastic play this year in football, officials of District 4-A last Thursday night resolved to carry on.

Floydada, Lockney, Matador and Spur were represented in the meeting of the district committee in Matador when this decision was reached and a schedule for inter-scholastic play beginning October 15 was mapped out and set down as official.

Teams will play game and game, round robin style as in basketball, and the team having the highest per centage will be declared the winner, finishing on Nov. 19. Should two teams be tied the play-off will come on November 25.

On this basis each team will play six official games during the season, three at home and three away from home, and here is the way the schedule will run:

Round Robin Schedule: October 15: Matador at Spur; Lockney at Floydada; October 22: Floydada at Spur; Matador at Lockney; October 29: Spur at Lockney; Floydada at Matador; November 5: Matador at Matador; November 12: at Floydada; Lockney at Matador; November 19: Lockney at Spur; Matador at Floydada.

Spur Has The Edge: Advance dope on the strength of the Spur Bulldogs have the edge on their opponents at opening time this season the same as last. With a large per cent of their good boys back from last year's successful campaign the Spur boys ought to have a walk away.

L. E. RUTH JENKINS HERE WHILE ON BRIEF LEAVE

L. E. Ruth Jenkins, of the Women's Army Auxiliary corps, who has been stationed at Ft. Oglethorpe, Georgia, is here for a brief rest and visit this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, prior to taking an assignment at a new station.

When she resumes duty, Miss Jenkins will report to Laurensburg-Maxton Air base, Laurensburg, South Carolina.

John Hardy Owen Believed A Jap War Prisoner: John Hardy Owen, a son of C. H. Owen, of Paris and a nephew of Mrs. Sam E. Thurmon of this city, from whom the family has not heard since the day before the fall of Java on February 28, 1942, is among the living. He is somewhere a prisoner of war, presumably of the Japanese. Part of the writing on the form card is indecipherable to members of the family, who have referred it to Washington for more possible information.

This is the word Mrs. Thurmon of this city had from Mrs. Owen, the boy's mother, last week end. John Hardy was a member of the "lost Battalion," going with the now famous 131st from Texas from Jacksboro, where he was living in November, 1941, when the call came.

Hollywood 'Stars Over Texas' To Help Sell Bonds in Floydada

It was announced yesterday that Floydada will be included on a tour of Hollywood stars which will encompass almost the entire State of Texas, in the interest of selling bonds during the Third War Loan Bond sales drive. The stars will be here from 4 o'clock Wednesday (September 15) to 7 o'clock, and the biggest War Bond rally in the history of the county is being planned.

Visiting here for the tour, which is called "Stars Over Texas," will be three of the outstanding western stars of Producers Releasing Corporation, Jim Newell, Dave O'Brien and Guy Wilkerson, who are famed for their characterizations as leading man and comic in the "Texas Rangers" series.

These stars will participate in the rally to be held on the court house square, Walter Travis, superintendent of Floydada schools and director of city bond sales announces. A platform will be erected, bond sales booths set up. Down-town streets will be roped off to make room for a crowd of some thousands of people.

Plainview Band Will Play: Mr. Travis also announced that the Plainview school band has consented to play for the occasion, through the courtesy of Supt. O. J. Laas of Plainview High school.

The only appearance of Newell, O'Brien and Wilkerson will be at the Bond rally, details for which are being fast unfolded this mid-week, with new and interesting announcements due to be made as the date approaches. Their appearance is under the sponsorship of Jack Deakin, manager of Floydada theatres, who is local chairman of the War Activities committee of the motion picture industry, and of the Texas Theatre Owners association, under whose sponsorship the "Stars Over Texas" tours have been planned. The tours of which this is one of eight different groups which will play in more than 200 towns in Texas, have the backing of the War Finance committee here and in Washington.

The three stars will be in Texas for approximately two weeks during the September bond drive, and will work during this period at no salary, devoting their entire time and energy toward the selling of War bonds for Uncle Sam. In addition to Floydada they will appear in approximately 25 other towns in the state. The eight different star units working throughout the state will make it possible for every town of any size in Texas to have a group of Hollywood personalities for their major War Bond rallies.

Military Personnel Coming: It is planned that the local Rally be one of the most impressive ever presented here, with bands, entertainers, heroes from our Armed forces and military personnel participating. Mr. Travis will announce other details soon.

Newell and O'Brien who have just completed a series of radio platters for the Special Services division of the U. S. Army, will have their famous songs go to every outpost of the fighting front, as these recorded programs are short-waved to our boys all around the world. Newell also has started with Paul Whitman on his Ford radio show, and the rotund band leader has given Newell special leave for his Texas bond-selling tour.

Guy Wilkerson, the comic member of the Texas Rangers, is noted for his eccentric character in the Ranger pictures. Latest film of the boys who will be here for the Bond Rally is "Fighting Valley."

Cotton Opens Fast; Feed Harvest Rushed As Combines Strike At Fields Of Early Forage Crops

Cotton opening fast, this week with the first bale at Floydada already ginned and graded, indicates that the cotton ginning season will be earlier this year than usual and likewise, from cotton raisers talk, that it will be finished earlier than in many years. August heat, except on farms where subsoil moisture could be saved and on irrigation farms, spoiled a top crop.

Maize Harvest Rushed: Meanwhile forage feeds — maize, beets, kaffir — are being rushed to market as fast as elevators can take it, some going to town too green but for the most part in excellent condition to be marketed. Banded feed is also being cut and stacked and the way of the weather man now indicates that a season nearly twice as long as usual is going to favor the man who has a lot of harvest to do with little or no help. This is in marked contrast to last year when feed and cotton both were still in hundreds of fields at Christmas-time.

Feed crops are showing a good profit, but pouring the crop into the elevators and storage places too fast is having its effect on the market.

'Going After That Quota' Chairman Willson Says

"We don't know for sure what all the citizens of Floyd county are thinking but we do know that we have thirty well-organized committees of good citizens who are in dead earnest about raising our quota of $63,400, and we are going in after that quota with the full intention of getting it."

Thus said J. M. Willson, general chairman of the Third War Loan Bond drive for the county yesterday, 24 hours before the opening day of the biggest push by any government in the history of the world to finance a war.

From all over the county come reports to the chairman of plans for canvassing districts, of programs and rallies and other means of reaching the citizenship. Before the final bell sounds and the last day of the drive comes, every citizen and every home will have been contacted if that becomes necessary to make up the county's assigned part in the war financing job. Willson's statement sums the matter up as a matter to be on the conscience of the individual citizen. In it he declares:

September 9 Memorable Date: "As the Third War Loan campaign gets under way tomorrow, if we all do our part September 9 will become a memorable date in our time-table for victory.

"What does our part mean? Give this question a thought at your dinner table tonight. Is there anyone missing? Give this question a thought while at work. Is there anyone missing in your office or at your workshop?"

"Of course, there is. From your home, your neighbors' homes and from your places of work there are many faces and voices missing. They have taken their places on the fighting fronts or in training camps. They are giving life and limb; they are undergoing ordeal after ordeal to protect all that you are or hope to be.

Back The Attack: "If you want a simple, direct answer to the question: 'What is my part in the Third War Loan?' here it is: Do everything in your power to back the attack with War bonds. Take every penny you do not need for necessities—such as rent, food, health—and put it into War Bonds.

"The Treasury Department has set a personal goal for every American. Buy at least an extra $100 bond above your regular war bond buying during the Third War Loan. That $100 war bond is the extra something you will be putting back of the invasion of Hitler's Europe and the Japanese-occupied Pacific Islands.

"While Europe and the South Pacific may seem faraway places to you, always keep in mind that boys from Floyd County are there. "Think of invasion in terms of the son or brother or father or uncle or dear friend who is actually facing the Nazi Panzers and the Japs. "The Third War Loan is a campaign primarily for us as individuals. Each one of us must decide the matter of how far we are willing to go to back up Americans in uniform."

Raise Effective Oct. First On Subscriptions

The Hesperian this week is announcing a raise in the price of subscriptions from $1 to $1.50 per year in the area of Floyd and adjoining counties and from $1.50 per year for all others to $2 per year, effective October 1.

Increasing cost of subscriptions with no place to take up the slack make the change a necessary one, it is judged by the newspaper management.

The change in subscription price is the first since days of World War I and the years immediately following. The files of The Hesperian disclose. At that time the price was $1.50 at home or abroad.

AT CAMP DAVIS: CAMP DAVIS, North Carolina, Sept. 1.—Resident of Floydada, Pte. J. T. Smith is attending the Anti-aircraft Artillery School at this army camp.

First Physician. Dr. Varney Andrews, whose passing is mourned this week, began the practice of medicine in Floydada in 1890, the year of the county's founding.

Dr. V. Andrews Succumbs After Long Illness

Dr. Varney Andrews, 79, suffering for months from an incurable throat illness, succumbed Monday evening shortly after 6 o'clock at the Plainview sanitarium, and his remains were laid to rest in Floydada cemetery late Tuesday with full Masonic honors, following funeral rites held from the First Methodist church.

Rev. L. W. Bridges, pastor of the First Christian church, of which the deceased was a member, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The body of the widely-known physician was brought home from Plainview Monday night. Active in the practice of medicine from the date of his arrival in Floydada in the summer of 1890 until they recent months, Dr. Andrews had officiated at hundreds of births from the days of the horse and buggy and had ministered to the sick from the days of the pioneer dugout to the present time. For the several months of his illness he had realized that his end was near. He passed into a coma two days before his demise.

Had Been Civic Worker: Quiet and unassuming Dr. Andrews had, in addition to his ministrations to the sick, found time for unnumberable civic jobs, serving as member of the school board, as master of the Masonic lodge, and in many other capacities. During World War I he was a member of the draft board and for nearly 30 years prior to his death served as county health officer.

Surviving members of the family are his widow, three children by a former marriage, and two step-children and several grandchildren. The children are Carter C. Andrews, of Pomona, California, Mrs. Clarence Goins of Muleshoe, and Mrs. C. E. Delk of Amarillo; the step-children Mrs. Bess Cantwell of this city, and Guy Rush of Portsmouth, Ohio. Dr. Andrews' first wife succumbed in 1921 and his second marriage occurred in 1925. All of the children were here for the last rites.

Palbearers at the funeral were Baird Bishop, Ben G. Morton, J. C. Wester, W. H. Hilton, Roy Patton and Hershel Green. Among the out-of-town relatives. (See DR. ANDREWS, back page)

EDITORIALS

You Floyd County people certainly are doing about. You are changing around so fast that The Hesperian is a lap and a half behind you and apparently cannot catch up. We have changes of address—not of the service boys alone—coming in so thick and fast that we wonder where all the travel money comes from. And it is getting more and more expensive to try to keep up with you. Added to other costs it has resolved itself into a matter of charging more for what we put out. This isn't to say that you are getting more for your money. The fact is we are giving you less and less all the time. We may be victims of circumstances, as we like to think, or we may be just lazy and inclined to pass the buck. Whatever it is, we have to have more money. Which is why you find the announcement on another page of an increase in subscription price effective October 1. We put it off that long so as to give all concerned fair notice. Beginning that date the price raise is from $1 per year here at home to $1.50, and from $1.50 for away-from-home subscribers to $2.

You do not have to guess that the fellows who run the federal tax offices in the country and the press agents who work for them are not farmers and do not associate enough with farmers to have the farmer viewpoint. This is not to say that that is "against" them particularly. We are aware of the fact, though, through reading the press releases about the "pay-as-you-go" estimates that must be made on September 15 by a certain portion of the American public. After wading all the way through one of these yarns about who must and why, the last paragraph indicates, if it gives the information at all, that farmers do not have to make a report until December 15. Having read one of the "releases" the other day (the boys mail you a "release" now instead of asking you to print an article or notice for Uncle Sam without charge) and subsequently read a story that a representative of the Collector of Internal Revenue would be in Floydada for one day only, we visioned the representative as covered up by indignant farmers—until we just happened to glance at the last paragraph of two or three pages of single spaced stuff. And there it was about the farmers for whom the agony will be delayed until just the day before their wives remind them it is only 10 days until Christmas.

Now we admit a grievous oversight, probably one of the many, of which we were guilty in the last issue in August. By all means, we should have reminded our patron to get his turnips broadcast in some likely spot where the wife had smoothed off and somewhat mulched the ground. An early September shower is always likely and you get the turnips started a lot sooner and, if the fall rains come, you have turnips for a long, long time before the hard freezes comes. We have to charge this oversight to the war or to OPA or the gov'mint bureaus. You know we are having a hard time keeping up to the minute on our indignation on these weighty matters. Other things must wait or go undone entirely.

No divided nation can be a victorious nation. United we stand, divided we fall is as true today as when it was first uttered in 1776.—Nation's Business.

If you had a little surplus of butter that the neighbors would like to have, either "borrow" and pay back" some of these days or on outright purchase, would you let them have it, knowing it is against the rules of the Office of Price administration to do so without coming in eight blocks or 20 miles and reporting the same. And, having reported, hand over to somebody some red stamps and sign up that you are ready to go to jail for six months and pay a $10 thousand dollar fine as soon as the FBI gets around to you? A considerable number of the women are sitting out on the edge of their chairs about that. When will the man show up to make the arrest? Will he drive up in a cloud of dust, throw on the brakes and clap the handcuffs on before you can even so much as scrub the baby's face and try to make a decent appearance? Or, perhaps, will the officers surround the place and have you under arrest and started for the jail house before you can take up the churning that got you into all this mess in the first place? Indeed, dear ladies, it may be that the first thing you know some morning you'll have an official looking letter in the mail. Instead of being another gov'ment check what if it is your summons? These are perilous times. The regulations are regulations and it will do you no good to begin being good to your husband after that happens. He can't do anything for you after the FBI gets on your trail.

When should it come the first frost or hard freeze? That's another thing we've lost out on due to this war. We fully intended to keep up to the minute on this important part of our business, but July and August got by us and only the most meager information do we have from Dame Nature. In fact, only a report from a scout or two. We usually want to give such matters our own personal attention, but we get a report or two from other sources just to keep ourselves on the beam as it were. Now, we have to ask you. Is it going to be an early winter? Will it come a killing frost or a hard freeze around October 20? We suspect as much but we positively do not give our usual iron clad guarantee about when to gather the green tomatoes. We want to do the right thing and we may be able to give complete service on this point even yet. But right now our usually highly efficient First Killing Frost department can't come any closer than a sort of a wild guess. The crawling things, the serpents and the other prairie life and the mesquites have already given the answer, but concentrating on the blasted OPA at the time, we weren't there to hear the shouting of their tiny voices.

Farmers are reminded that, while they do need to be assembling the information about their businesses for purposes of making an estimate on their incomes for the year, they do not, as a matter of fact, have to make the September 15 report. Their date and deadline is December 15, much closer to the end of the year. The man who makes a report on September 15 is the employe who draws a regular salary and can now estimate pretty close to what he will have drawn down in the way of wages by the end of the year.

It's a funny thing that shower of rain can't freshen up people like it does the flowers and trees.

As A farm Woman Thinks

By Nell Witt Spikes

This is about the first time in a week I have had time to sit down and think, but I find I am so sleepy thoughts float away and others come, unfinished and hazy. Of course, with a brand new black-haired grand-daughter I should be able to write poems, but when I say her name is Margaret Nell—the first for my mother, the Nell or me—that she was born September 3 and she is about as fine as they come, it would take all the nice, pretty adjectives in Webster's dictionary to describe her—you know how they are—adorable, beautiful, cunning, darling, etc.

My stay in Rak has been made as pleasant as possible under the circumstances by the many kindnesses of friends. I always like to be in town very early in the morning as it looks so different from the quiet of the day. As I go to my early breakfast I find people up and at work.

Wonder why we farmers get the idea in our heads, even a trifle envious, that the town people stay in bed until late hour and had breakfast in bed. This is not true, for their work hours start early. As I go by the storekeepers are turning the keys in locks, piling long white covers off of goods, sweeping out, and giving a friendly greeting. A pick up starts at the back full of glistening ice, hazy to slip into waiting ice boxes, modern comfort denied to early settlers. Long shadows from the community house still darken the pavement and watermelon rinds c the grassy lawn.

Floyd County 14 Year Ago

News Items from the Files of The Hesperian Issue of September 12, 1929

Sunday afternoon and night came and the culmination of three days of heavy precipitation in Floyd county, when rain variously estimated at two to six inches fell and flooded lakes, washed out road culms and culves and effectively broke all semblance of dryness conditions over practically all of north-west Texas. Residents report lakes running over and pouring their waters into lakes on lower ground. The crossing over Blanco canyon was made impossible for several hours while the river was on a rampage. Some hail and wind damage occurred.

stand empty of sweet, red heart from the night before. Sparrows hunt for grain fallen from cracks in the farmers' trailers. The water lower measures it long, spidery legs sun catches on the silvery metal and picks out the black letters—Rais. Morning papers land at front doors, the scent of frying bacon and coffee, the fragrance of a parked load of apples, sweet and juicy from their valley home, the sudden swish of a car rounding a corner, a very small child leading and guiding a still smaller brother across the street, Marjorie's pleasant smile and Dick's morning greetings at the door. The sun slips over the farthest house in the city, an early customer takes a seat in the barber chair and the busy Saturday has begun and the town takes on the look that I know.

I could not keep from laughing the other day when I saw a dead chicken on the running board of a car. Yes, mister, we have started to town, slung a dead chicken on the running board to throw off the pasture fence near the house, and forget, only to haul it home again.

A young pecan tree grows right outside the window at Dr. Snow's hospital. I wondered why anyone would plant a pecan so near the house. "A squirrel buried a nut we gave him, and must have forgotten all about it," Dr. Snow says.

The other day Maude, Lena and I sat in a cafe eating our dinner together once more. The years have passed, since we did that before. We could just see ourselves, dressed in long dresses with ruffled aprons to keep them clean, our hair braided in long smooth braids, taking some biscuits from our tin buckets, some with cold beef roast inside, others hiding a spread of wild red canyon pum jelly, perhaps a boiled egg also, with salt neatly tied in a piece of rag. It was a feast then to eat together, friends of school days. It still is a feast to eat together, friends of mature years. We remembered and laughed, looked to see if Lena was still wearing a silk string with a piece of assafoetida tied on the end, teased Maud about not wanting to study Physical Geography and staying in at recesses to argue the matter with a teacher that was set on her learning it. Maude and Lena laughed about a funny kind of a boy giving me some candy heart Valentines. For an hour, we were only Maude and Lena and Nellie again. Then we were Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Bonine and Mrs. Spikes.

For many years the fathers of America were neglected and slighted. But looks like now they would beat mother and have two days instead of one.

It is ketchup making time and here is a recipe I have found to be good. Select only red tomatoes and tie the mixed spices, (whole) in a bag as the ground spices turn the ketchup darker. Cook thoroughly and measure. To every gallon of strained juice add 2 tablespoons salt, three or four of sugar, 1 tablespoon mustard, 1 pint of good cider vinegar, 1 tablespoon mixed pickling spices, two small red peppers or ground red pepper.

Put all ingredients in kettle with exception of vinegar, cook till almost thick, add vinegar and cook till thick. Least cooking without scorching will make a better red color than slow. I like to boil an onion (whole) and take it out when juice is cooked out.

Poem written for Mother Shipley of Lorenzo by a long-time resident of Floydada, by a neighbor, Mrs. V. Wampler of Lorenzo:
Yes, Mother Shipley is old and her step has faltering grown
And in her hair there is only snow where it has been so brown;
Yes, her hair has turned all gray, for she is ninety years old today,
And her eyes are not bright for she has travelled far along life's busy way,
She sits with her withered hands folded in her lap
And I know she is just waiting for some one to drop in for a little chat.
When she hears my step, I see her face light up with a smile
And I hear her say "I'm glad you came to sit, let's talk a little while"
And then we will sit and talk as neighbors will about the weather or the harvest's ripening grain,
Just common things, the growing crops, perhaps we need a little rain.
Then in her face I see a somber glow, a little sadder now she seems,
And she tells me of the mate who sleeps beneath the green
Then will talk of her son and mine, who long ago were laid to rest
She will tell me not to grieve for surely God knows best,
And she will hold my hand and bid me pray and I must never doubt.
Though they have gone where the gates swing in but never out,
Now my little visit is over, homeward my steps I wend
I pause and think how sweet to have and hold her as a friend,
Then when my earthly cares are over, my work on earth is done
How sweet to know she will be waiting at Heaven's gate to bid me welcome home.

War Fund Appeal To Combine War-Related Jobs

Millions of people all over the world will be given help through the contributions this fall of Floyd county to the National War fund. Frank M. McBroom, field representative for the United War Chest of Texas, told several Floydada and Texas, told several at a meeting here last Thursday night, held at McDermott post, American Legion.

Floyd county has not yet set up its quota in the $5 million dollar campaign to be conducted in Texas, but will do so shortly after a county organization is completed.

The campaign in Texas will be held sometime toward the latter part of October. The organization in this county is expected to have a county-wide complexion and appeal. Among those present to hear Mr. McBroom and take part in the preliminary discussions, Thursday night were:

R. E. Fry, Robt. McGuire, Cecil Hagood, J. M. Willson, E. L. Norman, O. P. Ruediger, W. G. Collins, J. C. Wester and A. B. Clark of Floydada; R. E. Patterson and Frank Perkins of Lockney.

A Unified Campaign
The Floyd County War fund will combine the appeals of 16 war-related agencies approved by President Roosevelt's War Relief Control board in the first unified campaign of its type ever conducted. The program to be carried out by the War fund of this county will be designed to serve three fronts: The Military front, the United Nations front, and the Home front.

Mr. McBroom, pointed out that giving to the United fund means support for the far-flung USO—the home away from home for our own fighting men; comforts for the "barbed wire" legion of prisoners of war; food for starving Greece; medical supplies of the gallant Russians; aid for the scorched earth of stricken China; assistance for hundreds of thousands of homeless refugees; timely help for our own armed forces and our Allies overseas; and several other humanitarian services. The National War fund has estimated that nearly 60,000,000 people all over the world will receive direct aid from the $125,000,000 which is to be raised in the United States for war relief this year.

Governor Coke Stevenson is serving as honorary chairman of the campaign in Texas. George A. Butler, prominent Houston attorney, is president and campaign chairman.

Conservation District News

The election of five District supervisors is set for October 5, 1943. All farmers are urged to vote at their respective polls at 8 p. m. on this date. It is essential that men having an interest in the development and conservation of Floyd County's resources, be elected. Polling places: sub district N. 1 Lockney, No. 2 South Plains, No. 3 Cedar School, No. 4 Baker school, and No. 5 Sand Hill school. Present supervisors are F. L. Brown, Webb Taylor, J. S. Lackey, W. H. Nelson, and W. F. Ferguson.

Bill Norman of Dougherty is another member of the District's rapidly growing list of cooperators. The engineering staff put in three days last week in running contour lines and mapping some 480 acres.

Ernest L. Thompson of Blanco had just requested District assistance in making a well location and planning a system of ditches and laterals on his farm. We understand Ernest has already bought a part of the necessary pumping equipment. The continued dry weather seems to be making a number of Floyd County farmers irrigation conscious.

Watch this column each week for comments by Floyd County farmers.

Pfc. Frank Sitton, jr., spent last week in Petersburg on a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Sitton. He is in the air corps, stationed at Bryan.

B. B. Guiley is absent from home this week visiting relatives and old friends in Burleson and in Dallas county. He expects to be home this week end.

Singing Sunday Afternoon At Sand Hill

This will be the first of a series of Sunday afternoon singings to be held at Cone, Floydada, Sand Hill and Petersburg on second Sunday afternoons for an indefinite period. Singing will be held at one of the four places on every second Sunday afternoon.

"LET MARRIAGE BE HAD IN HONOR AMONG ALL"

(A) God Is the Author of Marriage, and Not The State

Jehovah said: "It is not good that man be alone; I will make a helpmeet for him. Therefore shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave unto his wife: and they shall be one flesh."

Jesus said: "But from the beginning of the creation, Gen. 2:18, 24 male and female made he them. For this cause shall a man leave his father and his mother, and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh; so that they are no more two, but one flesh." Mk. 10:6-9.

Paul said: "The twain, saith he, shall become one flesh." I Cor. 6:16. Jesus concludes: "What therefore God hath joined together, let not man put asunder." Mat. 19:6.

(B) God's Purpose in Marriage:

1. To rear children for the glory of God. "And God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he them; male and female created he them. And God blessed them: and God said unto them, 'Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it.'" (Gen. 1:27-28). "Behold, all souls are mine; as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the son is mine." (Ezek. 18:4). "Lo, children are a heritage of Jehovah; and the fruit of the womb is his reward." Psalm 127:3.

2. To typify the union that exists between Christ and the church. "The husband is the head of the wife, as Christ also is the head of the church." "This mystery is great; but I speak in regard of Christ and the church," Eph. 5:23-32.

(C) How Long Does God Expect a Marriage to Last?

"The woman that hath a husband is bound by the law to the husband while he liveth; but if the husband die, she is discharged from the law of the husband. So then if, while the husband liveth, she be joined to another man, she shall be called an adulteress; but if the husband die, she is free from the law, so that she is no adulteress, though she be joined to another man." (Rom. 7:3) "The wife is bound for so long a time as the husband liveth; but if the husband be dead, she is free to be married to whom she will; only in the Lord." "That the wife depart not from her husband (but should she depart, let her remain unmarried, or else be reconciled to her husband); and let the husband not leave his wife." I Cor. 7:10-11.

(D) God's Remedy for Breaking the Marriage Vow

"Flee fornication." (I Cor. 6:18) "Ye husbands, in like manner, dwell with your wives according to knowledge." (I Pet. 3:7). "Because of fornication, let each man have his own wife, and let each woman have her own husband. Let the husband render unto the wife her due; and likewise also the wife unto the husband." (I Cor. 7:2-3). "Let marriage be had in honor among all, and let the bed be undefiled: for fornications and adulterers God will judge." Heb. 13:4.

(E) Christ Gives One Condition Only for Divorce and Remarriage

"Whosoever shall put away his wife, except for fornication, and shall marry another, committeth adultery; and he that marrieth her when she is put away committeth adultery." Mat. 19:9.

(F) God Rebukes Those Who Break The Marriage Vow.

"Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in prison for the sake of Herodias, his brother Philip's wife. For John had said unto him, 'It is not lawful for thee to have her. And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, because they counted him to be prophet.'" (Mat. 14:3-5).

Jesus said unto the Samaritan woman: "Thou saidst well, I have no husband: for thou hast had five husbands; and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: this thou hast said truly." John 4:17.

Paul, when preaching to Felix and Drusilla, frightened them because he "reasoned of righteousness, and self control, and the judgment to come." for they were living in fornication. Acts 24:25.

Paul to the Corinthians: "It is actually reported that there is fornication among you, and such fornication as not even among the Gentiles, that one of you hath his father's wife." "Put away the wicked man from among yourselves." I Cor. 5:1-13).

(G) Evil Results of Breaking the Marriage Vow

1. Injustice to children of divorced parents, "Else were your children unclean." I Cor. 7:16.

2. Destroys type of the union that exists between Christ and the church. "For this cause shall a man leave his father and his mother and shall cleave to his wife; and the two shall become one flesh. This mystery is great; but I speak in regard of Christ and the church."

3. Prevents one from holding an office in the church. Eph. 5:31-32. "The bishop therefore must be without reproach, the husband of one wife." "Let deacons be husbands of one wife." "Let none be enrolled as a widow under three score years old, having been the wife of one man." I Tim. 4:2, 13; 5:9.

4. Forfeits their inheritance to the kingdom of heaven. "Be not deceived: neither fornicators, nor idolaters, nor adulterers shall inherit the kingdom of God." I Cor. 6:9-10.

(A compilation of Bible quotations on the subject of marriage, arranged and contributed by J. O. Malphurs).

More Showers Saturday Help Late Feeds

Added showers Saturday evening of last week gave more promise for late feed crops, but reports indicate that "whereas some farms had an inch or more of moisture in addition to the rainfall of the previous Thursday, others got none. The pattern is quite mixed so as to make "reporting" the rainfall practically impossible.

At Floydada the precipitation measured in The Hesperian's unofficial gauge as 4-tenths, making an inch total for the week ending Saturday night. However, numerous farmers report more than two inches while others report none whatsoever.

Temperatures have been quite mild, with a slight chill in early morning hours.

Ever think about Running a Factory ?

If you've ever run a farm or dairy or store, there are a lot of things about running a factory that you'd find pretty familiar. Things like working any and all hours, training green help, planning for months ahead without letting the planning interfere with the job of the moment.

These are the responsibilities of management. And the peculiar American ability to meet and lick these problems means a lot today, both on the food-producing and weapon-producing fronts.

Ability to manage isn't picked up overnight. For good management is a skill just as much as good workmanship—learned the hard way.

It won't be forgotten overnight, either. For it is these men who, on farm and in factory, have actually produced the things from which our high living standard is derived, who can and will, by working together, give every American a more abundant life in the peacetime years to come. ### Their Eyes Need Good Lighting

NOW, MORE THAN EVER, their eyes need good lighting. Tests show that 35 per cent of all children develop defective eyesight during school and college years... due largely to insufficient light. Don't let this happen to your child because you failed to provide good light for him to study by.

Although there will be no more I.E.S. lamps manufactured for the duration, we give you these five points for protecting precious eyesight.

1. Keep lamp bulbs and fixtures clean.
2. Avoid direct glare from electric light globes. Use indirect reflectors whenever possible.
3. Don't work in your own shadow, especially on close work.
4. Use the right size globe to supply enough light and the proper kind of light.
5. Don't waste electricity.

JASON O. GORDON County Agricultural Agent Texas A. & M. College Extension Service
EDITH L. WILSON Home Demonstration Agent

A new circular "Pay As You Go Income Tax on the Farm" has just been received in the county agent's office. This new leaflet discusses the new provisions affecting farm and ranch operators who must file an estimated return by December 15th.

This circular contains many questions and answers regarding the new method of paying income tax in 1943. It will assist in determining the kind of information that is needed before the return is made.

This bulletin is free to farm and ranch operators who desire to do something about the income tax return before December 15th. It might be well to run an estimate of the yearly income if you have income other than farm or ranch interests. If your income other than farming is more than 20%, then you are not a farmer... so says the income tax law.

The wise poultryman will not let another week pass without vaccinating his flock for chicken pox, worming, checking the poultry house for adequate ventilation, and providing green feeds.

Vaccinating for chicken pox seems to build up resistance to other diseases. It will assure the owner that his birds will not have pox in the fall or winter after they are in full production. Best of all it will keep them from having the disease and reduce the death loss caused by a pox outbreak.

Poultry should be wormed as a "safety measure." If there are no worms present there is no harm done. Too many farm poultrymen are feeding wormy chickens and expecting to get eggs.

The easiest way to check adequate ventilation is by the smell in the house. If it smells clean then there is assurance of plenty of air circulation. If it does not smell clean then some boards better be jerked off the sides of the house.

At this season of the year there is not enough green feed available to the chickens. Better feed alfalfa hay soaked over night and the amount the birds will eat in 30 minutes. It is advisable to add alfalfa leaf meal to the mash so the poultryman will know the birds are getting plenty green feed.

It may be cheaper not to feed a balanced poultry ration or watch a few simple items of management, but the poultryman usually pays for poor management with dead chickens.

Floyd County farmers are planning to visit the agricultural experiment station at Lubbock to study the new "War crops" which have been developed. A field day has been scheduled for September 10th.

Important crops to be studied will include the sweet sudan grass, the waxy endosperm kaffir that is being used to make expensive baby foods and "stickum" for stamps and envelopes, and the combine types of sorghums. There will be the legumes, crop rotation and irrigation. Crops that conserve labor must be included in the 1944 Farm Plan... these may be observed at the station.

We plan to leave the agriculture building at 9 o'clock Friday morning. Any person who is interested in agriculture is invited to make the trip.

Dougherty H. D. Club Plans For Big Bond Rally

Main business of the Dougherty Home Demonstration club meeting Wednesday afternoon of last week was making plans for the Bond rally to be held at the Dougherty school auditorium on Tuesday night, September 14 at 8:30.

It was decided to have an old-fashioned box supper. All residents of Dougherty community are urged to be present and all ladies and girls bring boxes and a quart of fruit juice.

This is to be a repetition of the former bond rally held at Dougherty.

Mrs. O. G. Glassmeyer was hostess at the meeting when the advance plans were made and Mrs. A. H. Kreis presided in the absence of the club president, Mrs. C. A. Caffee. After the business and program for the two meetings were disposed of a demonstration was given by Miss Wilson on "kraut making" and she also gave some interesting information on "backyard improvement."

The hostess served lovely refreshments to Mrs. Will Poole, Mrs. T. J. Campbell, Mrs. J. T. Poole, Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Kreis and Miss Edith Wilson.

Mrs. W. S. Poole will be hostess for the October 6 meeting.

Mrs. L. E. McDonald and daughters, Betty and Diane of Tulsa were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Olson and Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McDonald the past week.

Miss Lena Scott who is employed at Lubbock, spent the week end here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Scott.

BLACK-DRAUGHT

When the lunch bell rings at school each day will your child have a good lunch?

Several schools served lunches last year which proved very satisfactory. This eliminated much work and responsibility for the mother and too her child was insured of an adequate lunch. These lunches usually consisted of one hot nourishing main dish, a glass of milk, fruit or vegetable in some form, bread and butter or a sandwich and a simple dessert; which made an ideal lunch.

In schools where lunches are not served it will be necessary for mothers to do some careful planning, since it is difficult to provide needed foods in a lunch box and many items used for lunches require ration points. Sandwiches are easy to carry, easy to prepare and are well liked. Good bread should be used; it is best to have it a day or more old. Sandwich fillings should be seasoned mildly, but well. It is good to have two kinds of sandwiches in the lunch box, a protein sandwich and a sweet one.

Some sandwich fillings are:
1. Cottage cheese mixed with either chow-chow, green pepper, celery, onions or carrots. 2. Peanut butter moistened with cream and mixed with chopped stewed apricots or peaches. 3. Finely chopped hard cooked egg moistened with mayonnaise and mixed with chopped crisp bacon and green pepper. 4. Dried beef fried in butter and combined with lettuce and mayonnaise. 5. Chopped cooked beef, chopped cabbage, a little pickle and mayonnaise.

A bit of raw vegetable adds something crunchy and gives the desirable bit of salad to the lunch.

Desserts for the school lunch must be simple and easily digested. A piece of fruit and cookies are good. Cooked fruit, baked custard and fruit custards are nutritious and digestible.

It is difficult for a child to get his quart of milk a day unless he gets a glass at lunch. If milk is not served at school he may take it in a thermos bottle.

Children must have the proper food at each meal if they grow and develop as they should.

Miss Leona Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones of Floydada, has enrolled for the Fall term at Draughton's Business College, Lubbock. Leona is the sister of Miss Tommie Ruth Jones, who recently completed her course at Draughton's in Lubbock.

Mrs. James Asher came Friday for a visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. Victoria Asher. Mr. Asher who is taking advanced training in an Air Corps school, was transferred last week from Chico, California to Marfa, Texas. Mrs. Asher plans to remain here several weeks.

James Fry Gibbs, who has been stationed at Ft. Warren, Wyoming, for the past several months, has returned to Texas. He will be stationed at A. & M. college for a few months in school following a brief visit here and at Lubbock with his mother, Mrs. Ruby Gibbs.

Pre-Estimate Of Wheat Yields Is Possible

AMARILLO, Texas — A simple formula has been developed that will help Southern High plains wheat farmers forecast next year's yields and to take advantage of favorable seasonal conditions or to forego and avoid soil erosion hazards when they plan for fall wheat sowing in an effort to meet expanded acreage goals set by the War Food Administration.

H. H. Fennell, research specialist of the War Food Administration Soil Conservation Service of Amarillo, extracted the formula from records on 80 wheat farms in soil conservation demonstration projects, and he said it has worked successfully "hundreds of times under a wide variation of seasonal and soil conditions."

Of all the factors influencing wheat yields, July rainfall and soil moisture at fall planting time are most important, Fennell said.

In the light of the Fennell formula a generally favorable July rainfall in the West Texas High Plains has raised the prospects for the wheat harvest 11 months later.

His long experience in erosion control research and use of soil conservation practices has led Fennell to accept this formula as a reasonably accurate way of forecasting next year's wheat crop on the basis of this year's known conditions.

How to Figure It
Multiply the number of inches of July rainfall by 2 1/3.

Divide the number of inches of depth of soil moisture penetration at wheat sowing time by 3.

Add these two values together and subtract 6%.

The number obtained, Fennell declared, will be the average expected yield per acre in bushels of wheat, and, he added, the "chances are two to one that this average will be within three bushels of the actual yield harvested."

If a crop failure, or an extremely low yield is indicated, wind erosion dangers are greatly increased. Preparing and seeding the land, without getting a good cover of wheat to protect the soil, will leave fields subject to severe wind erosion during the winter and early spring "blow season."

"Since the efficient use of soil and moisture resources in the production of essential crops is of great importance to the national interest in wartime, taking advantage of favorable seasonal conditions to increase production is just as important as avoiding as waste of seed and labor where conditions are so unfavorable as to predict an almost sure failure," Fennell said.

"As an example of the application of the formula," the research specialist said, "suppose the July rainfall was 3 inches and the soil was moist 42 inches deep. 3 times 2 1/3 equals 7. 42 divided by 3 equals 14. 7 plus 14 minus 6% equals 14 1/2. Where these conditions exist the chances are two to one that the yield harvested the following year will range somewhere between 11 1/2 and 17 1/2 bushels per acre."

"Suppose the July rainfall was only 1 1/2 inches and the soil was moistened only to a depth of 15 inches, by the same formula an average yield of 2 1/2 bushels would be expected, or the chances are two to one that the yield would be between 0 and 5 1/2 bushels."

"These effects do not hold good, however, above 5 inches of July rainfall and 60 inches of soil moisture penetration," Fennell reminded, "for the reason that excessive quantities of moisture are not utilized by the crop with the same efficiency that moderate supplies are used."

Farmers can't do anything to increase the July rainfall, Fennell said, but they can use soil conservation practices to store more of the water in the soil.

Moisture At Sowing Time
"Although the two factors of July rainfall and fall soil moisture store account for only 41 percent of the total influence of factors determining the wheat yield, this is a sufficiently large proportion of the total of what it takes to make a crop," the research specialist said. "There is no reason why wheat growers should not begin to take these factors into account in planning their crop management. Although such other factors as wind erosion, the date of planting, and the spring rainfall enter definitely into the increase or decrease of wheat yield, the amount of soil moisture present at sowing time is by far the most important single factor, exercising more than one-fourth of the total weight of all factors effecting the yield of grain."

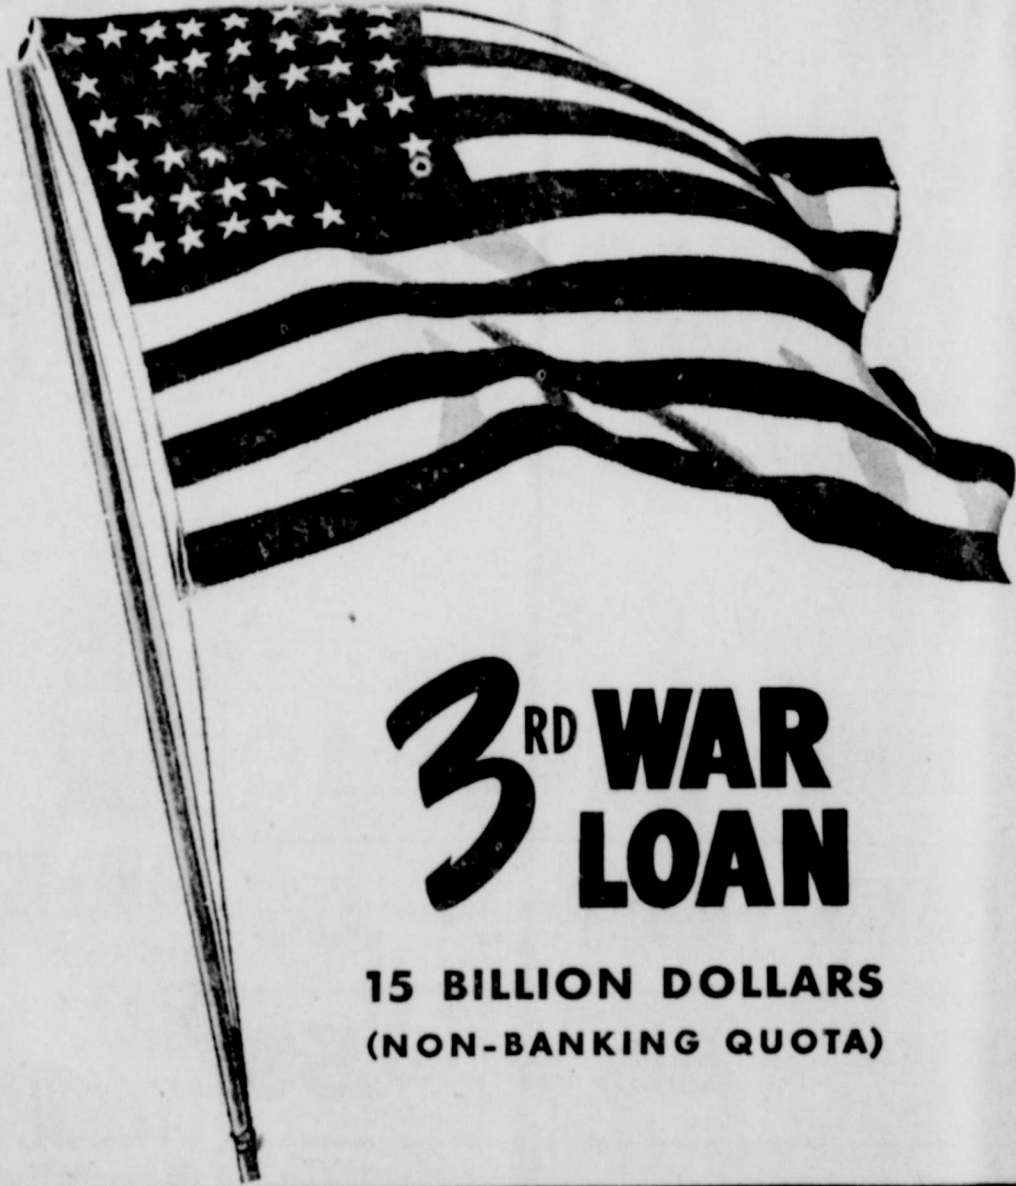

Fennell said that a practical method of determining available soil moisture is to bore into the soil with an auger or to sink a posthole digger until the layer of soil too dry to ball up in the hand is reached; then measure the depth to which moisture has penetrated. This measurement, he explained is sufficiently accurate to be used in the formula.

Two To One Odds
As to the rainfall records, an actual measurement in the immediate locality is more dependable; however, the Weather Bureau record at the nearest weather station can be used with a reasonable degree of accuracy providing it has been observed that the rains were approximately equal in size and number during the month in both localities.

"Try making a forecast," Fennell challenged, "and see how it comes out before accepting this method, and bear in mind that one out of three results may be expected to fall outside the range calculated. The two to one odds are not high but where the necessity for gambling is admitted, it is better to have two to one odds in your favor than none at all. Advance information about your crop production possibilities can be used to increase war production with safety against erosion hazards."

SGT. JAMES AND MRS. CAGLE HAVE DAUGHTER BORN SEPT 3

Margaret Nell is the name of a new daughter born to Sgt. and Mrs. James Cagle on September 3 at the Snow hospital in Ralls.

The mother is the former Wilda Spikes, who was for some time supervisor of Housekeeping Aide in Floydada. She and her daughter are doing nicely. The father is with the American Expeditionary forces somewhere in the Middle East. Mrs. Cagle is making her home with the Spikes' during his absence.

Mrs. Luise Meisterhans and Wm. Eugene, with her grandson, Jimmy Langhron, of Houston, Texas, are here for a visit of two or three weeks with her sister, Mrs. A. J. Ryals.

T/Sgt. Curtis Huskey returned to Desert Center, California, Wednesday after a 20-day furlough visit with his foster mother, Mrs. E. E. Huskey.

Dr. V. Andrews—

here for the rites were Mrs. Jo V Bonney, of Muleshoe, whose recent enlistment in the Marines was a source of gratification to her grandfather; Guy Cantwell, step-grandson of Port Worth; Mac King, a nephew, of Paducah; Mrs. Lena King, a niece of South Plains; Mrs. Lou Andrews and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Andrews of Plainview.

Was At The Big Soiree
Numerous legends have grown up about Dr. Andrews and his services to the sick and afflicted over half a century in this section, among these being the untiring work he did following World War I in the influenza epidemic.

And other story that has verified

cation in the verse of the cowboy's poet, Larry Chittenden, is that as a young fellow Dr. Andrews liked his fun and was among those who had a good time at the famous "Cowboy's Christmas Ball" at the Morning Star hotel in Anson. The poem epitomizes the rare get-together of those blazing young days of the eighties when "the dust riz fast and furious" at the square dances and that "Whirl at Anson City" was no exception.

Dr. Andrews may be and probably is the only surviving authentic person who attended the ball, which Chittenden made famous. The bright-eyed "Widder Ball" who was the hostess, John Millsap, the ex-sheiff of Lamar county and "Windy Bill," the caller at the dance, all have passed to their reward.

Most Establishments Closed
Honoring Dr. Andrews practically all business was suspended in Floydada for the two hours of the funeral and burial rites, retail establishments including pharmacies with which he was closely related, being among these.

the season so far as experience is concerned. Each has a good backfield first string man with a few squadsmen, who played some last year. And both have a nice string of eager youths who will learn fast, but likely will lose some games while they are at it.

Matador should start the season in better shape than either Floydada or Lockney, with more experienced men and more weight as well, and will come more nearly heading off the Bulldogs, unless either the Whirlwinds or the Longhorns develop much strength unusually fast.

H. P. Clemons, superintendent of the Lockney schools, is district chairman, Homer A. Poole of this city secretary succeeding Wilson Head, who resigned at Lockney to go to Denver City. Same admission prices as last year will be effective, the officials decided.
