

Trickle Of Tax Money Begins For Co., School

A trickle of tax money began its flow into the treasuries of Floyd county and district as October 1 rolled around on the calendar, first day of receipt and accepted for. Report from the office of County Assessor-Collector Geo. B. Marshall indicated that, with a day or two of proof-reading yet to be done before receipts could be issued, several tax checks were on hand awaiting issuance Monday.

Similarly at the office of Mrs. Ethel Graham, collector for the Floyd Independent School district it was indicated that several receipts had been issued. Among the early payers was Home Owners' Loan corporation, which holds a number of liens here. Twenty-nine receipts for a total of $633.28 had been issued at that office Monday evening at the close of business.

Mrs. Graham's office had been moved from quarters in the county treasurer's office to the south end of the main floor corridor, a room heretofore used for some months for the sewing production room of the Red Cross.

Wrecking Jap Supply Line At Wewak—Daring low altitude flying by bombers of the U. S. Army Air Forces in a surprise raid on Wewak harbor sank many Japanese ships. These dramatic photos show how Americans dealt a heavy blow to Nipponese supply lines in New Guinea. Left, this ship, already the target of two American bombers, is approached by a third which scored a direct hit. Right, the same ship, shattered by bombs and on fire, is in the last phase of its sea life. (Army Air Force Photo.)

Organize County To Launch Drive For War Chest

Although the United War Chest of Texas will launch its official campaign to raise nearly five million dollars for the National War fund on October 10, Walter G. Collins, chairman of the campaign for Floyd county this week said some details are yet to be completed here and the proposal will be submitted to Floyd county people on a slightly later schedule.

But the organization, county-wide on a community basis, is being rapidly completed and this week Mr. Collins announced the following appointments after conferences here and at Lockney:

Little Sickness; Medics On Beam, Says Voight

A V-mail letter from Captain Gordon Voight (Rev. G. G. Voight, former pastor of the First Christian church here) reflects the elation of American forces in North Africa at the news of the surrender of Italy. The letter dated September 11 relates:

I hope all the people there were as happy as we were when the news regarding Italy was heard. It seems less fighting for us, yet the men here are prepared to carry on for a long war. Our enemies are not yet defeated and we know it. I hope our friends in the States will remember we are at war and will not slacken the war material output.

Very Little Sickness

We are still having some hot weather in this part of the country. The nights have been very hot also but within the last few we have had some relief. It is marvelous how little sickness we do have here. I suppose we must confess that the medics are on the beam even if we do not like the vaccinations, inoculations, etc.

While a young man he took up residence in Stephens county, where he engaged in stock farming and served as postmaster for years. "Three" their children were born.

He married Mable Foster at Bridgeport, Texas, in 1907 and to this union were born four children; Olan, serving in the armed forces and stationed in California; James Truitt of the U. S. P. D. Bartley, 77, Wildcat Stakes Died Last Week At Home In Cone For Pure Test

The staking of the Pure Oil Company's No. 1 Bernard Martin 12 days ago was announced last week end to break the silence as to the location of the Pure Oil company's 5,500-foot oil test in Floyd county.

It is in a block of lease estimated at from 38,000 to 42,000 acres lying athwart the center of the county. Exact location of the test is in the center of the southwest quarter of the northeast quarter of Section 7, Block T, described in oil terms as 1980 feet from the north and east lines of the section.

Staking of the location marks another step in the promised drilling operations. The hole will be another rank wildcat in the long search for oil that has been under way by the major oil concerns in this vicinity for a number of years. It will be the fourth or fifth deep test made within a distance of 20 miles of Floydada within the past five years.

In addition to the big block assembled by the Pure, other concerns which have considerable leased acreage in the county include Humble, which has holdings mostly north and east of the Pure block, and the Sinclair.

The company began taking leases here about April 1, and after the block was assembled work has been under way for several weeks on titles.

In the past week a considerable bit of pipe has been added to storage here for use in drilling the test.

He began his army service at Fort Sill and was stationed at Denver, Colorado, several weeks before his transfer to Columbia.

His letter was written from North Africa, where he has been for some weeks. Improvement in the condition of his feet which gave him much trouble, including a considerable spell in the hospital at Ft. Sill, is indicated.

CAPTAIN TURNER ASSIGNED AT TAMPA, FLORIDA, BASE

Captain Ervin L. Turner of the U. S. Air corps, recently returned from Alaskan campaigns, and who with Mrs. Turner left for Florida after a visit with relatives here, has been assigned as technical instructor Bomber Command, Third Air force, based at Tampa, Florida.

Hours before the close of business Saturday it was known to campaigners for Third War Loan bond subscriptions that Floyd county had over-subscribed the assigned quota of $383,400 worth of government securities, and the announcement of County Chairman J. M. Willson Saturday night that the total for the county was $419,664 was not a surprise.

The figures represent an over-subscription of $35,264.

On Thursday and Friday to make sure that the final figure announced would at least reach the quota, committeemen all over the county re-doubled efforts and the flow of subscriptions, both large and small, through banks and post offices grew to proportions that taxed the manpower of the issuing offices.

In Floydada and Lockney appeals to small investors were intensified throughout Thursday and Friday, and Sam Miller, manager of the north Floyd county campaign, added pressure to the larger bond-buying group to bring the total in that portion of the county to figures considerably higher than thought possible at the mid-week check-up.

Wilson Is Gratified
The first of the week, reviewing the conduct of the campaign, J. M. Willson issued a statement in which he expressed gratification over the heroic work done by the committeemen all over the county and the response which the citizenship made to the appeal to uphold the county's part in the giant financing effort.

Mr. Willson was particularly pleased with the type of bonds which Floyd county people purchased. A break-down of the figures, he said, show that people here bought very largely the E, F and G types—the kind that go into tax payments. For instance, he said, of the whole quota of $383,400, the E quota was $128,200, the actual sales of this type $224,264.50; of the F and G bonds the quota was $25,100, the actual sales $36,399.50.

Praised By Regional Manager
This record came in for praise by C. M. Smith, of Plainview, regional manager of War Finance committee, who called it "indeed, a fine record." Said he to Mr. Willson, "I doubt if any county has sold a higher percentage of E bonds than you did, showing the wonderful organization and campaign which you put on."

Over-Subscribed Nationally
The fund was over-subscribed nationally as well as locally. The Treasury department will announce exact figures sometime next week, it was indicated.

Remember To Buy Bonds
The fact that the Third War Loan has been floated successfully does not mean that a let-up for more than a breather is due, said Mr. Willson. "I have been advised that no other quota of purchases will be set for Floyd county, but a November quota will be set up and our people should keep on keeping on as they have, buying and putting away against the rainy day, and especially against that awful thing we call inflation."

Rainfall in the week ending Monday that amounted to nearly three-quarters of an inch of moisture, was of doubtful value because it cost most farmers in the area more than a week's time lost from the fields and fell in such small amounts that it did not soak into the earth. In plowed ground, farmers say, the moisture penetrated only an inch or so.

In the eight-day period, Monday to Monday, there was eight days of overcast skies and occasional drizzles all borne in on a northeast breeze, when any blow. Practically constant wind from the east and northeast for such a long period is an unusual natural phenomenon at this area, weather observers say.

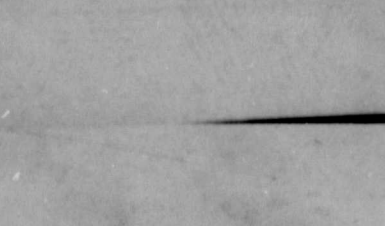

Some wheat that was dry planted probably will be to do over, Dot Hammonds, wheat grower of east

Floyd county, thinks probable and his opinion is echoed by other wheat raisers. The moisture swelled the grains in the ground but did not afford sufficient wetness to bring the plant on through the ground.

Little cotton harvesting was done and little milk combining, however, considerable time was spent on forage feeds put into bundles in the week.

General work was resumed in the fields on Tuesday. Drizzle of rain again Wednesday and heavy dew is followed today by bright sunshine. Good rains are reported in Hall county, lighter cotton harvesters in most of Floyd county were beating time work was going along as usual across Blanco canyon south.

The fight for freight rate parity, initiated on an organized and continuing basis a few years since under the leadership of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, gains a bit more prestige as it goes along. These continued efforts to show up a highly unfair condition will surely reach the Congress in such convincing manner that that body will take the matter in hand and amend the law which created the Interstate Commerce commission. This commission has the last word in freight rate matters and all other matters, practically, relating to railroads and other common carriers operating interstate. As the ICC set-up now is that body is tied to the old tradition by long established rules and customs, and will hardly break away voluntarily under any proof of discrimination in rates that might be submitted. Why it should cost more to haul pig iron or foolscap paper one direction than another only those who arranged special privileges for official territory can tell us. Be it said that with this special privilege many a fortune has been built that was taken out of other peoples' pockets—special privilege in that the hauling was done at one price for one and another price for another.

Our friends, the railroad people, wish that all this talk about unfair freight rates could be quashed. They take the attitude that clamor for fairness in rates is clamor against the railroads. As a matter of fact, it is not in West Texas by any means. We are convinced that railway companies have no better friends anywhere than in the great southwest. We must have our railroads and them fairly treated, fairly supported. But also for their good and our own in the long run we must have a chance at development that only can be given by an opportunity to ship on equal terms with any other portion of the country, the Official Territory, where shippers have hogged the gravy for two generations or more, along with the others. We want to take the railways along with us to a future which has opportunity for all of us. With less Texas—West Texas in particular—will not be happy.

Right now we do not have anything before us to indicate that small newspapers like our own are to be affected materially by the newsprint shortage. (However, we may have some mail on the way.) The big fellow is the one who is going to get caught in the squeeze this time. They are going to have to "freeze" their mailing lists to stay inside of their permitted tonnage and they will have to cut down, quite likely, on the number of pages. Some of the "features" you have grown accustomed to in your daily may be missing within the year, or, at least, abridged. Newsprint prices are gradually creeping up along with other costs, men who work at the trade have to have a little more money as they go along, and so the cost (and the consequent price) gradually spirals. Some of these mornings it will be a glad story to tell about peace being declared. Meanwhile, everybody prepares to try to stay in business while the storm rages.

Some kind of a "dairy program" is in the making, we can't help but believe from expressions we hear out of Washington, where somewhat jumpy note is taken of the dispersal of dairy herds near big centers. Operators in these instances say they "are not mad at anybody" and not trying to do anything but keep what they have together. They say the feed price and the milk price can't be made to balance. Dairymen down in Texas had hoped for plenty of forage feeds and hay for filler, but the crop year has brought forth the biggest dearth of these products downstate almost in history. With some good pasture and a bit of hay a dairyman can slide by fairly good and take a considerable bit of punishment. But when it all comes out of a sack from a long ways off he begins to look for a way out before all of his money is gone and his cattle are too poor to sell.

One of the results of the success of the allies in the Mediterranean seas, clearing out the Italian fleet, is being reflected locally in one particular that comes close to home. Release of the requirement that an order must come from the boy in foreign service before the home newspaper can be sent to him was announced by the post office department a few days ago. You can't mail the newspaper to him yourself but you can have the publisher do so. Another factor in the matter we opine, at least to hurry up the decision, was pressure from the home and the battle front. While the boys need guns and planes and ammunition and must have these first, only secondary to this is word from home. The men who are doing the fighting and dying and the lonesome watches and taking the heat and the cold sure want to hear all they can from home. Realizing this the war leaders loosened up on restrictions as quickly as they could.

Recent events in the war have youngsters worried who are in training camps, worried for fear it will be all over before they get their chance. Fact is—we really believe this—these lads will have their chance. Even should there be a peace of sorts with Germany and/or Japan within the next six months or a year there will still be plenty of dangerous policing to do, plenty of chance for adventure and travel into the far places and things to do when these places are reached. A global war is not settled in a few weeks or a few months, not this "unconditional surrender" kind. While people of our type hope and pray for peace and carry on organized efforts to bring it about even during a life and death struggle such as we have now, there are peoples who thrive on war, who make it their business and the business of whose families it has been for centuries.

Now OPA is to introduce tokens. They are due to hit sometime in next year and they'll be used for change when War Book No. 4 gets into circulation, or so we read in the papers. War Ration book No. 4 will be so designed as to last for a two-year period and the tokens will be used for "change" at the stamp counter.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Soltes

Quietness reigns on the farm at last this Monday morning as I write. The tractor has chugged its way to the wheat land after my husband vainly tried to start it and I got it going. It seems to me he always pushed in a starter of a motor very slow and easy, but I have always found one wants to step on one quickly and hard in order to get results. We had some chickens to catch and put in a coop for market, a small washing had to be hung on the line.

We had the nicest visit one night last week when the Woodruff Williams family from Dimmitt stopped to see us. Brother Williams was once our pastor at Cone. Johnny, almost six, was a good mate to Joe Ellis, both blond and overvalued. Beverly Anne was sweet and demure as she took a seat at the table and said, "We, Johnny and I, do not have to have anything put in our chair to make us higher." The twin boys, Don and Bob were adorable and delighted us as they ran around our home on their fat legs. We enjoyed this family every minute and long, long will we remember how the blessings of the Lord came down to our kitchen as each child bowed its heads and helped their father as he said Grace. Families like this make us believe in America and endure hardships that America's children will be safe and happy.

Mrs. Newman of Cone gave me some bits of coral and odd looking shells that her husband sent from New Caledonia. Now when the war started I did not even know there was a New Caledonia but I would not have admitted this if Mrs. Newman had not first said she had not known. When I first began collecting rocks it would have been beyond my wildest hopes to have come from the Southern Seas and I shall be delighted when the soldiers can send me some from Tokio and Berlin.

It was nice to meet old friends last week, Mrs. Pink Parrish, Mrs. Clyde Orr and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Botts and Sterling Parrish. Also a new friend, Mrs. Luther English, who wrote such a delightful book about the settling of the country near Abilene.

Of course I have known Luther English many years. I remember when I married and moved here near Cone, Luther and Anne were young men flying at the girls. Now that is not unusual, but the fashion at that time was for boys to eighteen or twenty to wear short trousers, and if you knew them, you will remember how slim and tall Anne and Luther looked in those short pants.

Wonder how many of you keep broken and cracked dishes to mend some day in the future when one will have plenty of time. I keep them in the way for a year or so, gradually moving them to sit on dusty cellar shelves. Right now there is a green flowered pitcher with a handle broken off, that has waited some thirty-five years to be mended. A cup only broken in two pieces, a piece out of a plate, the top of a cookie jar in three parts (still in the cupboard). Useless things, yes, but they might be stuck back again. (Note, the only things I ever did mend came in pieces again as they sunk in the soapy hot dishwasher.) But still I plan to mend up a lot of things—some day.

As quietly and peacefully as he had always lived, P. D. Bartley slipped away from earth one morn-

Stored in jars, wrapped in bits of paper, in bottles, he had his seed ready for a garden next year. But, stored in his neighbor's heart was the seed of kindness. Mr. Bartley stored there years ago. Seeds of kind deeds, kind words and peace, are found growing in many a life, put there by this man. Things of the spirit that have grown and multiplied and blossomed and borne good fruit. These are the things he passed out as we went about his daily tasks.

As I looked at the bright, sweet flowers, loving friends had stacked round his sleeping body, I thought they were not brighter nor sweeter than the flowers he had strewn along his way. And the warm sunshine that came pouring in the church he loved, from out of the gray clouds was not warmer than the sunshine of his smiling life that he poured out on gray days as well as bright.

Mothers with young babies used to stay at home so much the babies cried with fear when they saw a strange woman with a hat on, not knowing mother that way. Margaret Nell is growing fast and is beginning to laugh at us. "She is ours," says Wilda. "To have and to hold."

Did you ever see anything obey the law of gravity quicker than a pair of rayon hose, when a fastener is broken?

If you will leave a hat or a dress in the closet for one year after a season's wear, you will like it the third year. Why? Well, why does an ostrich hide its head in the sand? And so I think everyone has forgotten the hat or dress after a season's absence.

Won't Buddy like the new cloth fly swatter with a thin wood handle. Mother cannot hurt much or long with it.

From proverbs of the French people: He who can govern a woman can govern a nation. The most wasted of all days is the day we have not laughed. (May France soon laugh again.) Peace is the daughter of War.

This October By Bernice Kenyon With anger and with secret fear I watch the ruin of the year, And see the mounting color run Along the valleys, up the hills, Unwarned by any autumn sun; Ablaze from cold that lurks and kills. Blackly now the flowers stand lost In white iniquities of frost.

All the garden that we tended, Brought to fulness and to seed. Suddenly is stripped and ended— Fruit and blossom, vine and weed. And in despair I long to hide From so much color flung too wide; And find it futile to believe As this recurrent pageant ends, That though we suffer now and grieve, Another spring can make amends.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Insure Against Fire

DONT'S FOR FIRE PREVENTION

1. Don't leave fluid-soaked rags to accumulate in cupboards or closets. They can result in spontaneous combustion.
2. Don't experiment with home dry cleaning and inflammable cleaners! It's dangerous.
3. Don't smoke in bed . . . you are apt to get drowsy . . . and let a cigarette fall on the bedding or rug.
4. Don't leave matches within reach of children.
5. If you have anything combustible in home or garage, label it clearly with a "CAUTION-INFLAMMABLE" RED CARD.
6. Don't have curtains or draperies near a stove . . . they may catch fire very easily.

These are just a few simple precautions yet neglect of them causes thousands of dollars of property loss . . . and even loss of life . . . each year. Insure against fires by being careful; insure against fire loss by taking out one of our complete fire protection policies.

"Insure and be Sure" Protection Is Our Business

There are simple cautions all of us can follow—which can lessen the toll taken by fire every year! Simple things, like not tossing away lit cigarettes—not letting matches be in children's reach—not leaving a campfire or fireplace without scattering the embers until they are all out. IN TIME OF WAR, FIRE AIDS THE ENEMY! PREVENT IT!

During this week examine your fire insurance protection or call on your LOCAL AGENT for his assistance and advice in planning a complete program of CAPITAL STOCK INSURANCE.

Walding Conoco Dealer At No. 1

Retail Station

C. N. Walding is the new dealer at Conoco Station No. 1, popular drive-in at the corner of California and Fifth streets.
He took over from Fred Nabors who has operated the station for the past three and a half years, returning from service station business to go into something else, he said.
He had not made definite plans Tuesday.
Walding has been engaged in the oil distribution business and in retail station service for a number of years, and his experience as an operator is expected to serve him in good stead as he takes over this popular station. He plans to give a complete service, including washing and lubrication, handling Conoco Petroleum products exclusively.

GO LIGHT!

Overweight Motor Oil Costs You Dear

Be sure of changing to your Lightest possible grade — by having your engine Winter OIL-PLATED

Sure as you live... sure as your car must live... you'll want a change to the lightest motor oil that your engine can use this Winter of War.

Waiting for a "real cold day" before draining overweight oil that drags when it chills, is like waiting for your battery's doom. This drag of overweight oil wastes gasoline, too. And even worse is the big chance of internal damage because overweight oil won't squirt and spray into friction zones of your engine quickly. For the sake of your battery, your gasoline coupons, and your engine, change to your lightest practical grade of oil.

You can quit wondering whether "one grade heavier might be on the safe side." You can be as safe as possible with your engine OIL-PLATED by even your lightest suitable grade of Conoco Nth motor oil. Its load-carrying capacity is doubled by synthetic means. And this also creates "magnet-like" action to keep lubricant closely fastened to inner engine surfaces, in the form of OIL-PLATING. Even the lightest grade of Conoco Nth oil will give your engine the high protection of OIL-PLATING. Ask Your Mileage Merchant today to recommend the grade suitable for your car. Continental Oil Company

Dread Engine Acid is Fought by OIL-PLATING
Normal combustion always leaves acids inside of your engine when it stops. Formerly it seldom stood idle long. Soon mileage and speed heated your engine enough to oust acids. But nowadays rationing may force long rests, while corrosive acids gnaw. To combat corrosion, metals are plated. You combat acid corrosion with your engine OIL-PLATED.

Strickland Butane Adds Quitaque To Area It Serves

Dale Strickland Butane company, Buck Hickerson, manager, is now operating a butane and propane service plant at Quitaque, having acquired the business recently from J. E. Beard, who turns the business and equipment over to the Floydada and devote all of his time to the oil business. All butane equipment of the Beard firm has been transferred to the Strickland interest. Hickerson announced here this week.

With the head office in Floydada, Hickerson said the Dale Strickland Butane company now is serving four important communities—Floydada, Lockney, Quitaque and Stewart. A propane service, especially desirable in winter temperatures, will be a new feature of service to residents of this area, Hickerson said.

So. Side Singers Will Meet Here Sunday Afternoon

T. J. Heard and C. M. Lyles, officers of the South Side convention, anticipate the presence of some out-of-town singers. All who will be invited to attend and help sing.

Injured Workman Dismissed From Hospital Care

E. D. Stubbs, severely injured several weeks ago at Mt. Blanco gin in Crosby county, when he fell from a height to the concrete floor of the gin, was dismissed from the Floydada hospital this week and is expected to continue normal recovery. Stubbs sustained a broken knee cap and leg, cuts and bruises on the head and body. He was suffering considerably from the shock when admitted to the hospital.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Stewart a baby son Tuesday. The boy has been named George III.

Mrs. Henry Brewer was dismissed Saturday following a major operation.

Willie Mae Rucker, daughter of Bill Rucker, underwent an appendix operation Monday, October 4.

Billy Ray Smith, son of Ray Smith broke his arm yesterday when he fell from a gate.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Owen Emert, an 8 1/2 pound son, Wednesday, October 6.

Charlie Nickels May Return For Work As Ginner

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Nickels are anticipating the probable early return of their son from the armed forces to spend the fall season as manager and ginner for the Mt. Blanco gin.

Mr. Nickels, senior, last week said that all of the papers necessary to get the youth's return from a foreign post to spend the fall here, had been approved at that time. Search for weeks for a ginner to handle the plant at Mt. Blanco had been unsuccessful, C. W. Nickels said. Other gingers are reporting trouble of much the same nature.

Charlie Nickels, whom his parents believed to be in North Africa, has been stationed in a far northern base instead, they have learned.

HOME NEARS COMPLETION ON LINDSEY GRAHAM FARM

In the not very distant future, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham are going to be at home on their farm north of Floydada three miles.

The residence they began planning and buying for months before the war began, has been under construction more than 30 days, a crew of five under R. H. Willis being at work.

Very little new lumber is being used in the construction, lumber taken from an old building, which formerly occupied the approximate site, being used. Floors and lumber for doors and windows, and shingles are practically all the new building material being required.

YOU CAN SAVE 3 PER CENT ON YOUR STATE TAX

If You Pay During The Month of October

State and County Taxes are Now Due and Payable, the final date for payment to save penalty being January 31, 1944, the same rule as in former years.

However, there are some advantages of paying in this year which you may want to consider:

- (1) Paying now while you are gathering crops and have the money available might be advantageous in saving a big demand on your finances after the New Year begins when Victory Tax, Income Tax and other kinds of taxes will be falling due;
- (2) State and County and School Taxes are deductible from income as expense items; you might want to use these deductions on this year's income, a fair and legitimate thing to do if you find it to your advantage;
- (3) On Your STATE taxes, if paid during the month of OCTOBER, you are given a discount of 3 per cent;

If Paid during the month of NOVEMBER you get a discount of 2 per cent; and

If paid during the month of DECEMBER you get a discount of 1 per cent.

Please note that the discount applies only to Your STATE tax. On county and school taxes there is no discount.

Pay Your School Taxes Now! DO YOURSELF AND YOUR SCHOOL A GOOD TURN!

Now while crops are moving is a good time to get Local Taxes out of the way. We are told that bigger federal taxes are sure to come with the turn of the year. We can at least prepare for this and at the same time help the School by getting in Tax money early.

If you have Delinquent School Taxes, Why Not Pay Them Now?
Let's make Floydada District one that has No Delinquent Taxes.

WHEN You go to make our your Income tax report to the Federal Government, do not forget that school taxes are deductible the same as any other expense.

Remember, that while many incomes have increased since the war began, your school district has had little increase in income and a big increase in Expenses. You help yourself and the district by paying promptly.

Whirlwinds Hold Powerful Lobos To 13-13 Tie

Coming back in the second half to score a touchdown and extra point and to outplay their heavier rivals, Floydada High School Whirlwinds Friday night tied their heavier opponents, the Levelland Lobos, 13-13 and won an important moral victory.

Admitted the Floydada lads got the breaks of the game, although penalized numerous times for offside, at the same time the fans expected to see them beaten by a top heavy score by the bigger, more experienced visitors. Boasting a squad of 24 men, 22 of them seniors and seven of them first string men from last year's campaigns, the Lobos had cleaned up in two previous important engagements and anticipated doing the same here.

The Green and White boys drew the first blood when they took the ball on their own 40 on a punt return and marched downfield for a touchdown, Dudley carrying. The extra point was missed.

Gleamy Second Quarter
Taking over in the second quarter the Lobos quickly undid the advantage the Whirlwinds had gained. Taking the ball on the Floydada 20-yard line Half back Byerly snaked through the Whirlwind defense and had a score in nothing flat. Fullback Murphy converted for the extra point with his toe.

Following the kick off by Levelland to Floydada, the second payoff in the second quarter came when Murphy set the Green and Whites on their haunches with a quick kick. The Whirlwinds kicked out of trouble but were in again quickly when passes, Murphy to Tibbitts and Murphy to McDonald put the ball in scoring position, and Humphreys went over on a fake.

A Fumbling Contest
It looked like the game was all over except counting the score until the Green and White got going early in the second half. Taking the ball on their own 40-yard line when they covered a fumble, two passes, Allen to Morrison and Dudley to Womack took the ball down to the Levelland 20. There they bogged down and the ball went over on the 15 of Levelland. Another lucky break, Mize covering a fumble. In six downs the Green and White had two tries to make one foot for the score. But instead a backfield fumble cost six yards on the first try and the second try still lacked a foot of pay dirt, so that Levelland took over there. Their good fortune was short-lived, however, for Murphy, ordinarily quite accurate with his toe, got over-anxious and missed the ball completely. In the scramble it was Floydada's ball on the three-yard line. Dudley was called through the line making it nicely and then making his first point after touch-down this season by booting perfectly. It tied up the game.

Excitement But No Scoring
The remaining play-saw, for more than a quarter, between the Levelland 40-yard line and the Levelland five-yard line kept the crowd in an uproar of excitement, but there was no more scoring.

Mule Walker, Billie McClure and Paul Castleberry, who will officiate this season at all of Floydada's home games, handled the officiating job.

N. E. Tyler Likes The Marine Corps

Pic. N. E. Tyler, with the Marines, stationed at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, California, has written asking for The Hesperian. "I decided I would try to keep up with all the folks and especially the football games." He is an ex-star of Floydada High Whirlwinds. His letter says:

I really would like to be there to play with the fellows this year, but the way they took the last game I heard about they do not need any help at all.

California is all right and so are the Marines. I got to thinking about the Tyler family the other day, and it so happens that all have a different taste for the service, but all are liking it O. K.

A. G. thinks the Coast guard is the best. E. L. seems to think the Navy can't be beat, but I have a different idea. R. T. chose the Army Air corps and thinks it is wonderful. I think I made the best decision of them all. In my mind the Marine corps can't be beat by any branch in the world. The training is hard and long, but if you get into it and pitch it isn't so bad.

All three of my brothers are out there fighting somewhere, and I hope it won't be long before I can join them and get this thing over with so we all can be at home together again.

Send me the very next issue so I can catch up on the football scores and the gossip around town.

This past September 12 hen No. 164 at the Oliver Allen farm laid her 344th egg in 365 days. This undoubtedly will be the highest producing hen in Floyd county for the year 1942-43. She is called a Parmenter Red and belongs to the Rhode Island Red breed.

High production does not mean much unless the female has the ability to pass her good qualities on to her offspring. First of all she must have the ability to reproduce. During the hatching season this hen was running over 86% hatchability, and the fact that 32 daughters have been selected for one pen indicates high livability. There are some younger daughters and a large number of her sons on the yard.

The final test was started on hen No. 164 when egg 344 was placed in the incubator September 12 to see if it would hatch. And sure enough a husky chick was removed from the pedigree basket October 4.

This completes a successful year on an outstanding hen. It will be interesting to watch her through the years to see if she is capable of laying 1,000 eggs, or more, in a lifetime.

Two national records have been set by a Rhode Island Red hen at the Western New York egg-laying contest. The new champion bird laid 351 eggs in a standard laying test year of 51 weeks.

A total of 351 eggs and a score of 386.10 points tops all previous records for all breeds. She is the only hen to hold these two titles. Her closest rival in egg production laid 347 eggs in 51 weeks in 1942, and the largest number of pints amassed by any hen up to this contest were 376.25, a record which was set in 1941 by a Texas hen.

The champion hen is owned by E. B. Parmenter of Franklin, Mass., breeder of the Parmenter Reds that may be seen in Floyd county.

And you say you want to help the War Effort? Here are some food losses that have been compiled by the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service which you may be responsible for.

Eighty-eight of every 200 pigs die before they reach sufficient size for slaughter. The waste in peeling potatoes usually varies from one-sixth to one-fourth the bulk. Four of every dozen tomatoes grown goes into the garbage can. About three of every dozen apples or peaches or pears are thrown away, and a fourth of every head of cabbage is lost for food.

Three out of every 100 cans of milk delivered to Texas cheese factories are returned to farmers unfit for human consumption. . . and every year in Texas about 15,000 cans of cream are dumped because of spoilage. According to the report the cream and milk condemned in this state every year represents the yearly production of 3,249 cows.

George McAllister of Floydada community suggests this food loss can be partially overcome through greater efficiency in operation and management.

Reports which were made at the girls' 4-H clubs in September prove that they have been doing their best "On The Home Front" to produce food and take care of their clothing. Their reports show that 115 girls have made at least one garment; 79 girls have made at least ten button holes; 121 girls have darned and mended at least five garments each; 105 girls planted 7 varieties of vegetables in their gardens; 122 have planned and served 15 meals each; 276 garments have been renovated and 122 girls have canned 948 containers.

This report is from members of the Aiken, Providence, Lone Star, Irick, Sand Hill, Starkey, Lakeview, Dougherty, Lockney, Cedar and Fairview, 4-H clubs.

Many Floyd county families dried foods this year for the first time and have had little experience in the preparation of dehydrated vegetables.

While they will not equal in flavor, texture, or appearance the quality of cooked fresh vegetables, they are quite satisfactory if properly prepared and seasoned. The yield of prepared dried products varies, but usually one cup of dried vegetables will serve from four to six people, according to Hazel

Phipps, specialist in food preparation for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

In preparing dehydrated vegetables, here are some principles to follow:

Soak the dried vegetables in hot water just long enough to plump them, and cook them in the water in which they are soaked. Use a small amount of water—not quite enough to cover the vegetables. Simmer rather than boil vegetables. Cook them only until tender—not until they are mushy.

Propeller Does Not Tell Story Expected Of It

The twin-engine propeller which flew off of an army plane over Floydada from LAAP two weeks ago, was found the very same day and was returned on the following day, but it did not "tell" the story it was expected to tell, according to officers of the flying field. Major Smith, of LAAP came over and picked up the badly battered propeller and returned with it to the base.

Clifford Willis, who found the propeller some 200 yards distant south from his house east of Floydada two miles on the Matador highway, brought it in to M. H. Martin, member of the Floydada Flying club who sent the information to the flying field.

Two cadets were making a practice flight in the plane when the unusual accident occurred. It developed that the propeller when it tore loose from its moorings struck the frame of the plane a terrific blow, such a blow in fact that it had to be hauled back to the field for repair. At the same time the racing engine burned itself up with speed.

The young cadets made a "Wheels on the ground" landing in the crippled ship, but would probably have bailed out had they known the seriousness of the crack in the frame of the machine, it was said. They were at 6,500 feet when the propeller cut loose and started flying through the air. The cadets estimated they were over East Floydada and the propeller must have flown through the air some two miles to land on the Mills farm.

Mrs. Harvey L. Howard, Jr., and Mrs. John E. Snead, who have been visiting with Sheriff and Mrs. Lee Howard, left Sunday for Pueblo, Colorado to visit several days with their husbands, who are stationed there.

Sheriff and Mrs. Lee Howard have received word of the promotion of their son, Harvey L., from T/Sgt. to that of Master Sergeant. At present he is stationed at Pueblo, Colorado. He has recently returned from over sea duty.

WE'LL WIN THE WAR WITH WHOLESOME FOOD

Some items may be scarce at intervals. Some foods we are in the habit of eating may be in the control of the enemy temporarily. But there is not any doubt there will be plenty of wholesome food for all. This does not mean that the Home-Maker may not have to use ingenuity at times. This is where we come into the picture. We can help you if you'll shop early, shop carefully, but wisely and conserve points.
