4-H Club Boys To Be Guests At SPAA Field

SOUTH PLAINS ARMY AIR FIELD, Tex., May 29—More than 300 4-H Club boys who have made outstanding records in 20 counties of the area will be the guests of South Plains Army Air field Thursday and Friday, June 8 and 9, it has been announced by officials at the field. SPAAF is paying tribute to the young men of the area for their outstanding performance in producing enough food to feed at least one soldier each day throughout the entire year. For this achievement, the young men will be given a day's visit at the nation's largest advanced glider pilot training center and will have an opportunity to see how the food they produce is helping the war effort by keeping the men in shape to keep 'em flying. In 1943, SPAAF played host to approximately 80 of the 4-H Club boys. The Extension, agriculture magazine published at College Station, praised the visit at the field as one of the most impressive of any made by the 4-H Club boys in the entire state. This year, the boys again will be shown the men in field work, the routine training tasks and the flight line where the Winged Commandos are training in the big cargo and troop carrying gliders. The counties from which the boys have been chosen include Bailey, Borden, Brisco, Castro, Cochran, Crosby, Dawson, Floyd, Gaines, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Lubbock, Lynn, Lamb, Palmer, Seurry, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum. One-half of the group will visit the field on Thursday, June 8, and the other half Friday, June 9.

Harris Named Principal At High School

W. B. Harris, principal of Andrews Ward school for the past three years, will be principal of the high school for the next school term. He was elected to the place Friday night of last week when the school board held a special meeting. At this meeting I. T. Graves, new superintendent, who will come from Crowell to succeed Walter Travis as superintendent, met with the board, and went over school affairs to have them better in hand when he arrives to take over on July 1. H. A. Poole to Dumas. Harris will succeed H. A. Poole, who resigned to accept the principalship in the Dumas High school, and will with Travis go to that place.

Prospect of a profit from a wheat crop in Floyd county this year were looking up this week as wheat began to emerge from the ragged boots and show a nice little head. Combine headers will have to root ground to get some of it but practically every acre in the county will be cut and much of it is going to show a good profit. Profitable operation in particular will be shown on summer fallowed land. Reports from all parts of the county assembled at The Hesperian office show that there will be a considerable amount of 15 - bushel wheat, a few fields of 20 to 25 bushels. But the major portion of the every-year wheat land production looks like six to eight bushels to those producers reporting. Best wheat area in the county this year, as to yield per acre seems to be in a section of the country lying northwest, north and northeast of Lakeview a few miles. Good wheat yields will be the rule in that limited area. With few exceptions no wheat was abandoned. Oats and Barley, Too. This year also oat and barley planting was above average as farmers hedged against too heavy row crop acreages and many of these fields will make fair to good yields. Rains of the past week have helped the late crops to put on a better grain and get out of the boot in a better condition. Some early fields will be ready to cut soon, while other crops are just getting into the milk stage. Probably the thickest stand on record generally is expected to boost the yield if the harvesters can get cycles down to it. Few Dry Spots Left. Last night's precipitation in Floydada, when 1.13 inches fell around sundown was between a fourth and a quarter of an inch at Lockney, big rain north of South Plains on the county line, also between Lockney and South Plains, was only a sprinkle at Dougherty, and heavy at Petersburg, Northwest of Petersburg and in that city some hail damage was done to tender crops emerging from the ground. Floydada was definitely eliminated as a dry spot by the downpour. Probably most crops planted this week will have to be done over when the ground dries. Reports are incomplete on many communities, telephone service being practically nil into many areas where service was formerly good. Rains Friday and Sunday were quite heavy but spotted. An area extending from Dougherty westward (SEE WHEAT PROSPECT, back page)

Shower At Meal Time. The pioneers were driven inside the court house by rain that began falling about noon-time and held their formal session in the district court room. However, the hardy "forty-year-olds" and the "fifties" ate their chicken pie dinner on the lawn as prepared for them by the women of the Home Demonstration clubs. Gathering under the overhanging limbs of nearby trees the old settlers talked and laughed away the storm clouds, clustering for a bit of shelter from the elements. The dinner was a feature instituted some four years ago. It honors those who resided in the county 40 or more years ago. Around the table were a number who took up residence in Floydada in 1890 and even prior years.

"Invasion Punches" invades Floydada, Wednesday, June 14, and Floydada will get in its own special punch at the Axis.

The Fifth War Loan show, a blood-and-bombs action-filled movie of actual combat, will send 50 minutes of thrills and chills through the town when the three official war pictures included in "Invasion Punches"—complete with sound—are shown at High School auditorium. The program, free to everyone, will begin at 8:45 p. m. In addition to the movie, two war-wounded heroes from McCloskey General hospital will be here, War Finance Committee Chairman Walter Travis said. This time Floydada's punch at the Axis will be bigger and greater than ever: it will be an invasion punch! "Invasion Punches" consists of three moving and important motion pictures and of two war heroes telling of their experiences with the enemy. The films are "Kill or be Killed," "Film Communique No. 6," and "German Fortifications." "Kill or be Killed" shows various aspects of hand-to-hand combat, it shows that brass knuckles and black jacks and sawed-off shotguns have a place in war and that a right thumb in the eye may be more effective than a right in the jaw. "German Fortifications," the German's own film—with American-made commentary—shows fortifications erected along the English Channel to repel invasion from the north. It gives indication of the growing German fear. "Film Communique No. 6," in several sections, shows such things as the taking of Cape Gloucester and Arawe; portable oil lines in Italy; and the fight against mud in Italy. Organizing For Campaign. With a quota of $335,000 to be raised for the Fifth War loan the county organization is being perfected to carry the message to every resident of every community. The "Invasion punch" program coming on Wednesday night will be only two days after the opening of the campaign and is expected to add to the determination of local people to see that Floyd County's full quota is subscribed. Sales in the campaign, as set up by the U. S. Treasury War Finance committee, to attain goals set must include $195,000 in Series E bonds and $140,000 in all others.

Freedom of the Press

Indeed, I'm for a bold free press—
Backbone of this good old U. S. I—
Watchdog of liberty,—oh, yes,
And more—or else I miss my guess.
Ah, ill for us that day, God knows,
They'd throttle freedom of the press;
Imagine the tyranny and distress
Then come, the people of oppress,
Without recourse of redress—
You bet, I'm for a bold free press—
That is, I'm for it, as you may guess,
Until it steps upon my toes!

You'll feel a bit squeamish about the probable supply of cottonseed meal next fall, also cottonseed oil and hulls, if you hear the things we think we hear from people who have been planting cotton but are not going to do so this year. Scared of the labor situation, especially of the possibility they might get "in the weeds" and be unable to get out, a good many who have planted cotton year in and year out, are getting out this year. Or are we just imagining things? Other kinds of row crops that promise more for less, like combine maize, have the call, or we are mistaken. Next winter when you go to your dealer and can't get what you want, probably you'll get soybean meal, if anything, and pay the freight on it from Iowa or Illinois. Always a calamity howler around and mayhap we are it this time. Another cut or two in cotton acreage and the crop will be down to a minimum hereabouts. Many times, over and over it has happened, when a man goes against the crowd, he is winner by it. Possibly the man who goes ahead and plants cotton this year as usual will be winner. Possibly he won't.

Who do you suppose was the man who devised and proposed the plan for this war time that Congress and the president quickly took up and made effective among the early contributions to the effort to win the war? And how came it, do you suppose, they thought it could help to win the war? We're not position to argue about Up North and Back East and Down South, but we can say without hope of successful contradiction that out here in the Middle the thing is a continual source of annoyance that just won't cease annoying. There must be millions of citizens somewhere who think war time is beneficial. Else why wouldn't congress repeal the law quickly. For surely, the congressmen are hearing from the folks out where they try to gear their cows and calves and chickens to a clock instead of to nature like the animals by nature insist. Why couldn't a man run for congress and be elected from the 19th district for instance, on that very issue? The law is just about as popular as a case of smallpox with all the people we have any contact with. A town fellow, or a factory worker, we assume, doesn't care one way or another. But you can bet the farm folks do care!

Keeping all governmental agencies out of politics this summer and fall is going to be a hard job. But most of the federal agencies, we are happy to note, are already beginning the effort to do so. As instance, a recent notice which went out to all officers of the Office of Price Administration, which has to do with rationing. Not only all paid employees but volunteer helpers as well are warned to keep their bills out of politics to the end that this agency will have no charge of politics lodged against it. Naturally, a volunteer worker for OPA is going to use his own discretion in his attitude toward political activity. He will or won't be silent as he his adjured according to the way he feels about the matter. And it is difficult to see how OPA will be able to curb its own employees. A man usually feels that his politics is his own, something after the nature of his franchise as an elector. But at least OPA is trying and the head office is making its own stand plain. Any political activity in the personnel of the ganeyc thus can be pointed to as plain violation of orders from the top.

Another evidence that the federal government is going to try to keep the war effort out of politics is in a recent letter from the War Finance division of the Treasury department. All parties, race and creeds are represented in the five million volunteer war bond salesmen and in the 130 million Americans. Whatever their political attitudes may be—and they'll vary as widely as the cross-section of the population varies—there must be no misunderstanding of the non-political status of the War bond campaign. And the Treasury department is clearly within good ethical practice when it consequently requests that no official Treasury newspaper advertisements, transcriptions, outdoor panels, et cetera, be sponsored by any one candidate, committee or party.

Among the most over-run service organizations in the country is the telephone company. While local exchanges are making the grade with fair to excellent success in spite of tripled number of calls, it is the long distance conversation that has bogged the telephone people down. Large segments of the facilities of the telephone company are given over to military needs, it may be taken for granted. The remaining facilities, available for civilian use, are not sufficient to meet the demand for long distance conversation, what with the business demands of boom times and additional millions of calls from and to service men, cross and criss cross continent. One subscriber recently attempting a call of considerable distance was told a two to three hour delay would be experienced in getting the call through. He said he overheard a conversation while waiting in which an operator somewhere up the line told a customer who called for a Chicago connection that a 10- to 12-hour delay would ensue before his party could be buzzed.

Aggravations incident to this delayed service are bound to pile up, in fact some inconveniences that amount to privations. But we are in war. The telephone company, which undoubtedly likes the business as well as the next one can do just so much even with all the modern developments of modern communications, including the coaxial bar. We hold tight to the hope that our invasion of Europe will be successful and that there will follow a let-up in restrictions enforced by lack of equipment and manpower, not only for those who would like to talk over the telephone but as well for those who would like to have some of the other necessities incident to maintaining an orderly line on the home-front.

Experience teaches us that if we want a thing cheap we must pay pretty dearly for it.

Some people imagine they are being sympathetic when really they are only being inquisitive.

There ought to be a law against people who write about the weather in Colorado.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)
Well, the Old-timers have left their names again on record in the register book at the Floyd County court house and the badges and arm bands will be put away for remembrance of another good get-together. The shade supplied by the tall trees on the green lawn was outdone by the shade the gray clouds made over the sun, a fine mist began to fall but the still hard pioneers only laughed and said, "Let her come."

The women of the demonstration clubs who served such an ample good plate of potatoes, un-un chicken pie, another hardy pioneer, black-eyed peas, and a very generous slice of apple pie that would have made a northerner say, "You 'll," with a cup of hot coffee, were a bit put out and embarrassed by the paper plates getting damp and limber but the old timers did not even notice as we talked and remembered.

As we gathered in the big courtroom, calling to each other as we took seats, we were young again, the Mr. and Mrs. was dropped and Glad and Gule and George, Willie and Mary and Mable and Maude were boys and girls again. Mr. McCallum of Lockney made a dandy master of ceremonies and added much to the program.

Looked like Judge Hamilton just couldn't forget the wood taking of early days as he made the speech of the hour, which brought forth much applause. Now any one knew the pioneers were a good bunch when the women of the house said she had burnt cowchips just as long as she intended to, the man naturally had to hunt wood and it was not his fault that it was in the pasture of the big ranches. I missed the parade but you were there and I need not know to tell about it.

Just as the older ones were gathering up their wives to go home, rain began falling not a mist but a decided hit. It was nice to have Mrs. Bain and Mrs. Maude Hollins and her attractive young grandson as company as we stood in front of a store and watched the rain dance as gaily down the streets as the younger generation would do a few hours later.

The rain ceased a little and Mr. Spikes and I left for home trailing a load of cotton seed cakes, Paul and Wilma and Joe in the car just behind. We hurried as we saw a cloud ahead but ran right into it. But I will let Joe tell the rest as he told me later. "Grandmother, you sure did drive fast when you hit the rain. You got over on the wrong side and just missed a car. You liked to have gone off the pavement then on the dirt. You would slow down so sudden we would nearly run into you." Down the canyon and up the other side, running out of the rain, seeing another cloud coming right to us, making it home just a few scant seconds before a big downpour, the end of a perfect day.

Mr. and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass have a grandson that has the pioneer spirit as a very young age, three years old. The morning of the picnic he had his clothes all ready to go, his old boots and old knakis, and even his old cap for he was to be an old timer. Good for you, Don Louis, keep on staying as long as Grandpa Glad and you will be a really old timer.

Joe Ellis also is developing the spirit. He says he is starting out on being an old settler.

Around and about the courthouse and town: Mrs. W. W. Smith and Mrs. Burgett sitting in a car. Mrs. Glad Snodgrass looking as pretty as a picture. Mrs. Angus' new Red Cross decoration, well deserved. Mr. Steen having to get back after his year. Happy to see Mrs. Reeves of Jeicho once more, the lovely bouquets of wild flowers brought to the tables by Home Demonstration women. Lee Howard in a slicker pouring coffee for everyone. Sterling Parrish looking much like his dad, Pink, and with the same friendly smile and greeting, the pretty McLain girls. Mr. and Mrs. Mark Potter young looking and married 61 years. R. C. Bennett of Lockney being teased for carrying matches and setting everything on fire. Mrs. Arnold reading her poem and looking like a girl, a man wearing his hands under the drip of a porch in front of Charlie Berry's. Judge and Mrs. John Howard walking around together like two levers, the handsome old fashioned gentleman and his pretty partner. Yes it was a nice day, a day to be put away and taken out now and then to look at and be happy over—the 1944 Floyd County Reunion.

I Have Seen the Spring
Sara Teasdale
Nothing is new, I have seen the spring too often;
There have been other plum trees white as this one
Like a silvery cloud tethered beside the road,
I have been waked from sleep too many times
By birds at dawn boasting their love is beautiful
The grass blades gleam in the wind, nothing is changed.
Nothing is lost, it is all as it used to be.
Unopened lilacs are still as deep a

Many Ante-Grasshopper Plague Pioneers Still Represented in Annual Re-Union Registration

Although the registration of pioneers who trekked westward in the first two years of Floyd county's first strong sweep of immigration and settlement is noticeably lower this year than in the first year of the annual re-union 16 years ago, still the list of 351 who registered in the association's books last Friday had a number of "first" and "second" year residents, who anticipated the grasshopper plague in 1892. A number of registrants even preceded the date of the founding of the county in 1890.

Registration was under the general supervision of R. C. Scott, and the below were recorded as present, a few being "homesteaders." The name, the date of first year of residence here and the present address of each registrant is given:

IDEAL FOR SUMMER WEAR
— Curlee Clothes
Despite the tremendous gains in popularity of Curlee summer weight worsteds, not everyone understands just exactly why wool is the ideal suit material for hot weather wear. There are, as a matter of fact, several reasons for this.

Wool fibers are extremely light in weight and, because of their hollow construction, actually insulate your body against heat. At the same time, they are so strong that they permit an open, porous weave which permits free air circulation and lets your body breathe. Because the fibers are tough and resilient, these fabrics tailor well, hold their shape and stand up under the stress of hard hot weather wear.

You will like the new Curlee Summer Suits because they are smartly styled and expertly tailored from selected materials in the season's newest patterns. You will find suits that fit you in our complete assortment of models, styles and sizes. Come in and see them.

WHEAT YIELDS MADE SAFER

Nation-wide advantages has resulted from what appears to be a localized plant breeding undertaking of the U. S. Department of Agriculture—development of rust-resistant small grains for Texas, in cooperation with the State agricultural experiment station.

Rust resistant grains for the areas of central and southern Texas—where mild winter weathers allows the red stage of stem rust to live at all seasons—amounts to insurance added to insurance, not only for Texas but for States to the North which usually get their rust from spores blown up from the South. The widespread, generally successful, and continuing campaign to produce rust-resistant varieties and to eradicate the barberry—the plant on which rust overwinters in the North—led by the Department in the important grain States is basic insurance. Breeding rust-resistant varieties for the South increases the protection by reducing one source of infection. Together they have banished for this war the fear of a rust epidemic working for Hitler by destroying wheat. In 1918 the U. S. suffered a disastrous rust epidemic, and fear for the crop was ever present in 1917 and 1918.

With barberries under control, there would still be a possibility of the rust disease in northern fields in some years. The red rust stage, which strikes direct from wheat to wheat, without having to live on the barberry, can survive the winter on grasses and gruels in southern Texas. A combination of south winds and moist warm weather may drive the rust spores northward in advance of the harvest to multiply and then blast northern grains. This weather combination is not probable, but it does happen.

In breeding rust-resistant grains for Texas, the object has been more to improve them as winter pastures and cover crops than for grain. Texas will gain from these new varieties selected to meet these special needs. For the rest of the country there is the added assurance that, as these better varieties are accepted and grown, there will be less rust in spring.

EAT LIKE MONKEYS, SEAMAN ADVISED BY MEDICAL MEN

In advising shipwrecked seamen as how best to survive, a publication by the Medical Division, War Shipping Administration, and the United Seaman's Service urges sailors to follow the habits of monkeys in so far as eating is concerned. "Anything that you see monkeys eat is all right," says the helpful booklet.

In a review of "Safety for Seamen," the American Merchant Marine Institute lists the following interesting hints:

All animals, even poisonous snakes are safe to eat.

While in a lifeboat, beware of frostbite. By making faces, you can determine if frostbite has developed on your face.

To catch fish in a lifeboat at night, shine your flashlight on your sail. Flying fish will jump at it and fall into your boat.

Seaweed, while not delicious, is very edible. Crabs, too, are good; eat them for their juice and spit out the shells.

Warning to redheads: People with light complexions freckle easily, should be given the most protected spots in a lifeboat.

Before abandoning ship, be sure you have the following: sunglasses, flashlight, knife, sweater, chewing gum, pack of cards, warm socks, and especially long underwear.

The Bible is the world's best-selling book.

"BOOM" LEADS TO "BUST"

Following the report by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics on "Current Developments in the Farm Real Estate Market," issued late in March, Secretary of Agriculture Wickard renewed his warnings as to the imminent danger of a destructive land boom. He said:

"The behavior of land values now is very similar to what it was in the last boom. Since this war started, farm values for the United States as a whole have risen at almost exactly the same rate as they did during the last boom period. Values now stand at almost two fifths above the average immediately before this war. To say that we are not on the road to a highly inflated land prices now would be to deny that we had a boom before. Then, as now, purchasers just refused to believe that land prices were inflated, because they thought they would always have a market for their products at high prices. But in the middle twenties and early thirties it was not hard to convince those same purchasers that they had paid too much for their land during the boom. Two million farm foreclosures told the tragedy."

Heavy boulders in the bottom of river beds have been known to be raised to the surface and floated downstream by ice which has formed around them.

When the sun has gone down, the surface of the ground loses its heat at a much more rapid rate than does the surrounding air.

When sleet attains a diameter of more than one-fourth of an inch, it is called hail.

QUALITY VS. QUANTITY

"The significant nutritional factor in this war is that we are paying much attention to the quality as well as to the quantity of the food we eat," says Dr. R. C. Sherwood of the Civilian Food Requirements Branch of the War Food Administration. "In determining the food requirements for the civilian population, calculations are made of the content of all the more significant nutritive factors including proteins, fats, minerals, and vitamins. A specific example of an important nutritional program of national scope is the enrichment of flour and bread, as a most economical and equitable way of distributing these added nutrients. Stress should be increased in nutritional education programs upon the use of enriched flour and bread for home and institutional use."

Men, Flower Seeds Being Sent to Prisoners

Prisoners of war being sent to Germany soon will be supplied with fresh vegetables—and flower seeds—like those at home, it is possible, the War Administration recently purchased about 15,000 pounds of vegetable seeds for distribution to the American Red Cross. The seeds are going abroad in 100 collections designed to reach this summer for American prisoners in German prison camps. The collection contains a total of 18 to 20 kinds of seeds ranging from a half ounce to a pound. The seeds are printed for cultivating are printed in packets in both English and German.

This is the first purchase made directly for prisoners. The WFA has been supplying vegetable seeds to allied forces since 1941. Purchases have amounted to approximately 100 million seeds. Most of the seeds already shipped, principally to Russia where they are used to provide food and feed, and to areas devastated by the war.

These seeds in addition to the regular demand and the garden program, American seed growers have increased production from 124,000 in 1939 to 356,000,000 in 1943, and huge acreage is planted annually one or two crops of seed. The seeds are packed in a single pint package with enough rutabaga seeds, to produce 500 bushels of vegetable, and it takes only a few tomato seeds to yield tons of food. Likewise it is practical to ship a third of an ounce of onion seed in a packet of 100 pounds of onions.

WASHERS IMPROVING RANGE

Men are doing more reseedings each year—to bring down range and to supply the forage they need so that conversion into meat for range will be needed afterward, too. So ranchers are more and more range foragers, the U. S. Department of Agriculture says.

M. Hand and C. Kenneth of the Forest Service point out that knowledge of the relative forage values of grasses is necessary as a basis for making fully satisfactory seed and sound plans for reseedings. To supply this information they reported a grazing test on seeded mountain brush land in Utah.

Scientists seeded several varieties of grass. They found that the use that the cattle of each when allowed to graze will. Smooth brome, tall orchard grass were favored, with slender wheatgrass and crested wheatgrass being palatable than the favored wheatgrass and berded wheatgrass. All of these are useful on ranges or unfavorable to support other species.

Investigators suggest that as possible the preferred should be seeded on parts of range that naturally receive less and less palatable ones naturally congregate and aid in obtaining better than of livestock and in making a good grass cover on all.

WAYS NOT TO CAN

The U. S. Department of Agriculture is urging everybody who can to preserve surplus vegetable products, two methods of canning are not advocated by specialists. The warning against the "open kettle" method of canning is that the "oven" method.

Housewives have tried oven canning believing the jars were protected by higher temperatures than the oven thermometer recorded. A high temperature canning specialists say that in the jars stays at about 212 degrees, so that harmful bacteria are not killed. Evaporated fruits and tomatoes which are adequately processed at 212 degrees is not a good method of canning for persons and proper jars seal during processing builds up inside the jars may explode. The oven canner may fly out of the kitchen wrecked—and effort wasted.

Oven canning is wasteful and tomatoes. When canning, food is cooked in an open kettle, then packed into jars and sealed. Bacteria can enter the jars when food is transferred from kettle to jar, and may be food to spoil. Open kettle canning is dangerous for vegetables they may contain types of bacteria destroyed only by far more intense heating.

Canning specialists recommend reheating food and packing jars, then processing fruit, and pickled vegetables in bath canner, and vegetables in a steam canner.

Scientists variously estimate the height of the atmosphere at 100 to 200 miles above the earth.

Third Quarterly Conference Set For June Seventh

(C. A. Hartley)
The 3rd quarterly conference will be held at Baker, Wednesday, June 7. Preaching by the District Superintendent, Dr. W. C. Hinds at 11 o'clock, a one day revival.

We know that this is a very busy time and it will take some sacrifice on our part, but I believe that God will bless us in our efforts if we will only pay the price.

Before we try to excuse ourselves from attending this service let us first see how many men and boys and girls have gone out from our homes and are paying the supreme sacrifice, that we may enjoy such times as this.

We want to make this a day of prayer for those who have gone out from our midst, and will never come back.

Preaching at 11 o'clock, Dr. W. C. Hinds; Dinner at 12:30; Prayer service at 2 p. m.; Preaching at 2:30 p. m., Dr. W. C. Hinds, followed by quarterly conference.

Preaching at 9 o'clock, Rev. F. M. Beauchamp.

Revival to Begin At Dougherty Friday, June 9

(C. A. Hartley)
Let us not forget that the Methodist revival begins Friday, June 9, at Dougherty, Texas, and runs through June 18. Every one is invited to attend these services, and we covet your prayers that this may be a time when souls will be brought to God.

PIONEER SAVES ITSELF

Scientific vegetable breeding keeps extending the areas in which it is up to the wise gardener to know his vegetable varieties. More and more, the plant breeders are perfecting new varieties and strains—tailor made—to fit certain conditions—of soil, of climate, of handicaps imposed by plant diseases or insect pests.

The Pioneer bean is an example. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Oregon agricultural experiment station cooperated in breeding this bean and released it for planting last season. For certain areas in the northwest it is by far the best snap bean. Elsewhere it is no better than, if as good as, many of the standard snap bean varieties. It also has some promise as a dry field bean.

The one particular quality in which Pioneer excels is resistance to the curly top disease. Curly top is best known by its destructive effect on the sugar beet crop, but it also attacks beans and certain other crops. The disease is carried by a leaf hopper that multiplies on wild plants in many western areas. When these weeds dry up in early summer the insects migrate to the fields of beans, or tomatoes, and attack their crops. The breeding of super beans that will thrive in spite of the insects was one of the major triumphs of modern plant breeding.

Rodeo Rained Out Saturday, Repeat Show on Sunday

Lone Star Roping club's rodeo ran into competition with rain last week-end, the last few minutes of their performance on Pioneer's day in the rain, and Saturday it was just too wet on the field for fast work.

Sunday afternoon a repeat performance was staged, but in the latter part of the program on that day also the customers began to look for shelter from the threatening clouds that finally brought a shower.

The show was a good one, fast time being reported in roping, Bronc riding, team tying, ribbon roping were other features.

To see if they can have better weather luck at home the club has announced a rodeo for Sunday afternoon, June 4, at Lone Star. Lone Star is 12 miles north of Lockney.

WASTES ON THE FOOD TRAIL

No sane person would toss more than half a pound of good food into the garbage pail, day after day, every day of the year. Yet, while thousands of people are starving in other countries, that is exactly what is happening in the United States. The evidence obtained by the War Food Administration points to an annual waste of 225 pounds of edible food per person from farm to garbage pail.

Food is wasted by everyone, in bits and dribbles. It is wasted in homes, in restaurants, in institutions, by retailers and wholesalers, in transit from plough to plates.

This wasted food constitutes the greatest reservoir of unused food in the world, says the WFA. Food is saved is the equivalent of extra food produced. By preventing waste and using food on hand before buying more, the housewife leaves more food in the store for others to buy. The retailers can stretch supplies further, leaving more food available at the source for other important users—our armed forces, our allies, and the hungry victims of war. An average family of six, by avoiding all waste, could save enough to feed one person now starving in occupied Europe. America has 34 million families.

Accounting for the total waste of 20 to 30 percent of all food produced, the WFA says that 2 percent is left unharvested on farms for lack of labor; 2 percent is lost by poor handling in transportation; up to 7 percent is lost in storage and wholesale markets; 3 to 6 percent wastage occurs in retail stores; 6 percent is wasted by restaurant patrons; 15 percent of all food taken into homes is wasted, of this 100 pounds per person is good edible food. This waste is due to over buying, failure to use leftovers, lack of meal planning, wasteful or careless preparation, and serving too much on plates.

"Clean plates," says the War Food Administration, "are patriotic in wartime."

Unlike most substances, water is lighter in the solid than in the liquid state.

WHEAT YIELDS MADE SAFER

Nation-wide advantages has resulted from what appears to be a localized plant breeding undertaking of the U. S. Department of Agriculture—development of rust-resistant small grains for Texas, in cooperation with the State agricultural experiment station.

Rust resistant grains for the areas of central and southern Texas—where mild winter weathers allows the red stage of stem rust to live at all seasons—amounts to insurance added to insurance, not only for Texas but for States to the North which usually get their rust from spores blown up from the South.

The widespread, generally successful, and continuing campaign to produce rust-resistant varieties and to eradicate the barberry—the plan on which rust overwinters in the North—led by the Department in the important grain States is basic insurance. Breeding rust-resistant varieties for the South increases the protection by reducing one source of infection. Together they have banished for this war the fear of a rust epidemic working for Hitler by destroying wheat. In 1918 the U. S. suffered a disastrous rust epidemic, and fear for the crop was ever present in 1917 and 1918.

With barberries under control, there would still be a possibility of the rust disease in northern fields in some years. The red rust stage, which strikes direct from wheat to wheat, without having to live on the barberry, can survive the winter on grasses and grains in southern Texas. A combination of south winds and moist warm weather may drive the rust spores northward in advance of the harvest to multiply and then blast northern grains. This weather combination is not probable, but it does happen.

In breeding rust-resistant grains for Texas, the object has been more to improve them as winter pastures and cover crops than for grain. Texas will gain from these new varieties selected to meet these special needs. For the rest of the country there is the added assurance that, as these better varieties are accepted and grown, there will be less rust in spring.

EAT LIKE MONKEYS, SEAMAN ADVISED BY MEDICAL MEN

In advising shipwrecked seamen as how best to survive, a publication by the Medical Division, War Shipping Administration, and the United Seamen's Service urges sailors to follow the habits of monkeys in so far as eating is concerned. "Anything that you see monkeys eat is all right," says the helpful booklet.

In a review of "Safety for Seamen," the American Merchant Marine Institute lists the following interesting hints:

All animals, even poisonous snakes are safe to eat.

While in a lifeboat, beware of frostbite. By making faces, you can determine if frostbite has developed on your face.

To catch fish in a lifeboat at night, shine your flashlight on your sail. Flying fish will jump at it and fall into your boat.

Seaweed, while not delicious, is very edible. Crabs, too, are good; eat them for their juice and spit out the shells.

Warning to redheads: People with light complexions freckle easily, must be given the most protected spots in a lifeboat.

Before abandoning ship, be sure you have the following: sunglasses, flashlight, knife, sweater, chewing gum, pack of cards, warm socks, and especially long underwear.

The Bible is the world's best-selling book.

QUALITY VS. QUANTITY

"The significant nutritional factor in this war is that we are paying much attention to the quality as well as to the quantity of the food we eat," says Dr. R. C. Sherwood of the Civilian Food Requirements Branch of the War Food Administration. "In determining the food requirements for the civilian population, calculations are made of the content of all the more significant nutritive factors including proteins, fats, minerals, and vitamins. A specific example of an important nutritional program of national scope is the enrichment of flour and bread, as a most economical and equitable way of distributing these added nutrients. Stress should be increased in nutritional education programs upon the use of enriched flour and bread for home and institutional use."

Men, Flower Seeds Being Sent to Prisoners

Prisoners of war being sent to German lines soon will be supplied with fresh vegetables—and flower seeds—like those at home, it is possible, the War Administration recently purchased 15,000 pounds of vegetable seeds for distribution to the American Red Cross.

The seeds are going abroad in collections designed to reach this summer for American prisoners in German prison camps. The collection contains a total of 18 to 20 kinds of seeds—ranging from a packet of an ounce to a pound. Most of the seeds already shipped, principally to Russia where they are used to provide food and feed, and the areas devastated by the

(C. A. Hartley)
The 3rd quarterly conference will be held at Baker, Wednesday, June 7. Preaching by the District Superintendent, Dr. W. C. Hinds at 11 o'clock, a one day revival. We know that this is a very busy time and it will take some sacrifice on our part, but I believe that God will bless us in our efforts if we will only pay the price. Before we try to excuse ourselves from attending this service let us first see how many men and boys and girls have gone out from our homes and are paying the supreme sacrifice, that we may enjoy such times as this. We want to make this a day of prayer for those who have gone out from our midst, and will never come back. Preaching at 11 o'clock, Dr. W. C. Hinds; Dinner at 12:30; Prayer service at 2 p. m.; Preaching at 2:30 p. m., Dr. W. C. Hinds, followed by quarterly conference. Preaching at 9 o'clock, Rev. F. M. Beauchamp.

PIONEER SAVES ITSELF

Scientific vegetable breeding keeps extending the areas in which it is up to the wise gardener to know his vegetable varieties. More and more, the plant breeders are perfecting new varieties and strains tailor made to fit certain conditions—of soil, of climate, of handicaps imposed by plant diseases or insect pests.

The Pioneer bean is an example. The U. S. Department of Agriculture and the Oregon agricultural experiment station cooperated in breeding this bean and released it for planting last season. For certain areas in the northwest it is by far the best snap bean. Elsewhere it is no better than, if as good as, many of the standard snap bean varieties. It also has some promise as a dry field bean.

The one particular quality in which Pioneer excels is resistance to the curly top disease. Curly top is best known by its destructive effect on the sugar beet crop, but it also attacks beans and certain other crops. The disease is carried by a leaf hopper that multiplies on wild plants in many western areas. When these weeds dry up in early summer the insects migrate to the fields of beans, or tomatoes, and attack their crops. The breeding of super beans that will thrive in spite of the insects was one of the major triumphs of modern plant breeding. The "U. S." varieties saved the industry, and even revived beet growing in areas where it had been abandoned.

The Pioneer bean is susceptible to rust and to yellow bean massie, but rusts are rarely destructive in the areas where curly top is severe. For the curly top region the Pioneer resistance to curly top makes crop prospects favorable where, without this variety they would be hazardous in years when curly top is severe. But for other areas Pioneer is not recommended.

Bones—I feel stiff all over. Arnica—What's the trouble? Bones—We bought modernistic furniture a couple of weeks ago, and I just found out I've been sleeping in a bookcase all the time!

The decrepit old car rolled up to the toll bridge. "Fifty cents," called out the gate-man. "Sold," replied the driver.

Rodeo Rained Out Saturday, Repeat Show on Sunday

Lone Star Roping club's rodeo ran into competition with rain last week-end, the last few minutes of their performance on Pioneer's day in the rain, and Saturday it was just too wet on the field for fast work.

Sunday afternoon a repeat performance was staged, but in the latter part of the program on that day for shelter from the threatening clouds that finally brought a shower.

The show was a good one, fast time being reported in roping. Bronc riding, team tying, ribbon roping were other features.

To see if they can have better weather luck at home the club has announced a rodeo for Sunday afternoon, June 4, at Lone Star. Lone Star is 12 miles north of Lockney.

WASTES ON THE FOOD TRAIL

No sane person would toss more than half a pound of good food into the garbage pail, day after day, every day of the year. Yet, while thousands of people are starving in other countries, that is exactly what is happening in the United States. The evidence obtained by the War Food Administration points to an annual waste of 225 pounds of edible food per person from farm to garbage pail.

Food is wasted by everyone, in bits and driplets. It is wasted in homes, in restaurants, in institutions, by retailers and wholesalers, in transit from plough to plates.

This wasted food constitutes the greatest reservoir of unused food in the world, says the WFA. Food is saved is the equivalent of extra food produced. By preventing waste and using food on hand before buying more, the housewife leaves more food in the store for others to buy. The retailers can stretch supplies further, leaving more food available at the source for other important users—our armed forces, our allies, and the hungry victims of war. An average family of six, by avoiding all waste, could save enough to feed one person now starving in occupied Europe. America has 34 million families.

Accounting for the total waste of 20 to 30 percent of all food produced, the WFA says that 2 percent is left unharvested on farms for lack of labor; 2 percent is lost by poor handling in transportation; up to 7 percent is lost in storage and wholesale markets; 3 to 6 percent wastage occurs in retail stores; 6 percent is wasted by restaurant patrons; 15 percent of all food taken into homes is wasted, of this 100 pounds per person is good edible food. This waste is due to over buying, failure to use leftovers, lack of meal planning, wasteful or careless preparation, and serving too much on plates.

"Clean plates," says the War Food Administration, "are patriotic in wartime."

Unlike most substances, water is lighter in the solid than in the liquid state.

James Buchanan was the United States' only bachelor president.

Council Report Tells Plans For More Members

Council met on May 20th, roll call telling if all non-club women of our community had been contacted and a map of the community made.

The marketing committee reported no further progress toward buying a truck load of pineapple. Finance committees read our budget for the year. Also it was found inadvisable for council to furnish 4-H club pins this year, but some mark of identification will be adopted. Expansion chairman urged the community map marking also to contact war widows and interest those in our midst in club work.

Mrs. Caffee made report about Old Settlers day program. Committees were named to have charge of different parts of the work on re-union day of the pioneers. Mrs. S. D. Scott, Mrs. C. A. ## Synthetic Rubber Supply Grows, Tire Man Relates

An interesting and informative discussion of synthetic rubber and the progress of the synthetic rubber manufacturing business was given the Rotary club of Floydada at its May 24 meeting by K. E. Weir, of Denver, a representative of one of the large rubber companies.

Many tires are now being made of different types of synthetic and boards may be able to be more lenient later in tire distribution, depending to an extent on the success of the invasion, said the speaker. He said, however, that not nearly enough tires could be made to meet the demand and that need for extreme care in conservation is highly necessary. Truck operators, in particular, will suffer for tires during the next 90 days, he gave as his opinion, urging night trips and careful attention to speeds to avoid heat on tires during the summer.

Geo. M. Finkner was program chairman for the day.

Pvt. and Mrs. W. T. Elza have been visiting relatives here for the past week. They arrived May 26 and will leave today for Amarillo to visit until Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn. From there they will go to Camp Kohler, California where he is stationed.

Miss Dorothy Elza is in the Plainview hospital recuperating from an appendectomy. She was operated on Tuesday morning of last week.

They see proper so to do, on Monday the 12 day of June A. D. 1944, at the Court House of said County, in Floydada, Texas, when said Account and Application will be acted upon by said Court.

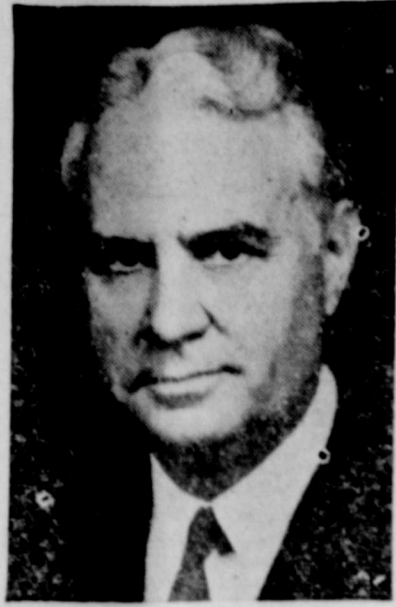

Given Under My Hand and seal of said Court, at my office in the City of Floydada, this 29th day of May A. D. 1944.

(Seal) MARGARET COLLIER Clerk, County Court Floyd County.

Nolan Huskey Letter to Mother From Overseas

(This letter was recently received by Mrs. E. E. Huskey from her son Nolan Huskey who is with the Naval Air Corp somewhere across. The last time Mrs. Huskey knew for certain where he was stationed, was in Pearl Harbor. He was wounded and in the hospital for two months not long ago.—Ed. Note)

Dearest Mom:
I guess you're pretty mad because I haven't been writing and I hope you will understand when I tell you that I am helping with one of the biggest operations of the war or have been. I do think of you mother, but they have been flying me day and night. After I am through flying all day all I think about is going to bed. I don't even eat any more except for a sandwich once in awhile.

Don't worry though, mom, this war is going to be over soon and I'm going to live through it. I have already seen my share of action and I'm in a good safe place now. All I get out of it was a few scars and they are not in sight. Of course I also accumulated quite a few gray hairs, but they don't bother me. After all I'm an old man now.

Mom, did I tell you about making chief? I made chief the first of May, so I'm sporting a new uniform now. I will send you a picture if I ever have the opportunity to have one made. I'm sure proud of the picture you gave me mom, I have them on my desk down where I fly so I can see it all day.

Keep your chin up mother and don't worry about me.

Poor Man's en, Hamilton Pioneers

followed immediately by the nester also seeking a new home in the west. Dr. C. J. McCollum, Lockney postmaster, served as master of ceremonies at the meeting.

Judge G. C. Tubbs in a brief announcement, told of the delay in assembling the county's war roll of honor and asked the aid of those who knew of names which should properly go on the roll but might not be included.

Gertrude Bradford (Mrs. John) Arnold, of Silverton, daughter of one of the founders of Della Plain, now one of the county's ghost towns, read two poems of her own composition, honoring the pioneer men and women of the plains. Mrs. J. J. Spikes, columnist for The Hesperian and other newspapers, Geo. L. Pawver, Glad Snodgrass and Gule Snodgrass were among other pioneers who spoke briefly. Gule Snodgrass told of the day when it dawned upon his father that he had 12 acres of fine millet in the field and no way to gather it. Finally the family and some help hired on the shares pulled the crop up by the roots to save it.

Preached Gospel in Nineties

One of the talks of the afternoon that was particularly interesting to the old-timers was that of Rev. R. E. L. Muncy, who moved to Floyd county in 1895 and has been an active minister in the years that have followed. So far as is known Rev. Muncy is the only minister of the gospel of any denomination now living who preached in this county before 1900.

Tom W. Deen paid a brief tribute to the pioneers of the nineties and read a poem lauding them, as written by Mrs. Arthur Cooper.

Incomplete Memorial List

An incomplete memorial list was read and is to be added to before the minutes are made official, it was indicated. Included in the report of the memorial committee are the following who have died in the past 12 months period:

He is regaining normal strength fast and hopes to resume active work again soon.

Mrs. Marivena Kemp visited in Floydada last week-end the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bob Smith, following the close of her school year at Shammet, Texas, where she was a member of the faculty. She left Sunday for Waxahachie, where she will spend the summer.

J. P. Eubanks underwent an operation on his knee May 22 at the Plainview Sanitarium. He is doing as well as can be expected and is some stronger after a blood transfusion last week. Mr. Eubanks will remain in the hospital some three to six weeks.

Thirty-five Floyd County 4-H club boys have been invited to visit the South Plains Army Air Field at Lubbock on June 8th. This honor has come to them because each boy produced enough food in 1943 to feed one or more fighting men. These boys are R. E. Bartlett, Jackie Brock, Ronald Fred Conner, Samuel H. Day Glenn Dees, Harold Dunn, Earl Edwards, Jr., Marvin Emert, Maurice Ford, Richard Golden.

Wichita is the name of a new early maturing hard red winter wheat variety similar to Early Blackhull, but with improved milling and baking qualities. The addition of Wichita to the group of improved varieties makes available to farmers an early maturing, high test-weight variety of satisfactory baking quality. It is equal or superior to Early blackhull in yield and test weight and is usually one day later in maturity than Early blackhull, averaging about 10 days earlier than Tenmarq under Texas conditions.

Wichita is the second improved wheat variety announced by the Experiment stations in two years. Comanche was announced and distributed in 1943, and has proven itself to be an excellent wheat for our area. It has the highest yield of any variety grown on the Experiment stations. It is high in test weight and excellent in baking qualities. Comanche was developed to take the place of Chiefkan (commonly called "smo..h head") which is very poor in baking qualities. It is very similar to Tenmarq except that it has a higher test weight. Wichita has been developed to replace Early blackhull, which is also a poor quality wheat.

Comanche seed will be available in large quantities after harvest. Wichita will be distributed from Experiment stations in small amounts. Farmers who are interested in obtaining seed from either of these improved varieties should contact the County agent.

Insects will be taking a heavier toll in the gardens and fields this month. Controlling them is simple if we keep in mind that there are just two kinds of insects—chewing and sucking. The chewing insects eat the plant while the sucking insects suck the juices out of the leaves and stems. To kill the chewers dust or spray the plants with Lead Arsenate or Cryolite. To kill the suckers dust or spray with Rotonone.

R. M. Bullock, accompanied by Mrs. Marion Barton and daughter, Dorothy, spent last week in Shamrock visiting relatives.

Sgt. Oliver Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Armstrong, is home on furlough. He has been stationed overseas with the Medical corps of the army.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Looney and sons spent Sunday visiting Andrew Jetton and his mother of Liberty.

Miss Jean Wester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wester, will return home this week from visiting with her brother and wife, Pfc. and Mrs. James Wester in Dallas, and relatives in Sulphur Springs. Miss Wester has been gone since May 22.

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Kirchner of Dallas came Sunday for a visit of a week with her mother, Mrs. A. P. McKinnon.

The first book printed in America was "The Bay Psalm Book", 1639.

Tate Fry Sick; Being Returned To the Mainland

Tate Fry, who has been seeing a "lot of excitement" out on the Central Pacific front as a communications man on a medium cruiser, is sick and is being returned to the mainland. That's the news the kinsmen here have. Tate may be back in the states within a few days, he writes.

However, he doesn't think he is very ill, thinks they ought to keep him in Hawaii where he could be closer to his job, and expects to recover rapidly. His illness, he tells home folks, was first diagnosed as a condition requiring an operation. However, the last verdict of the doctors is medical treatment.

His "lots of excitement" has been with a task force that has hit the Gilberts and the Marshalls, among other Jap strongholds.

Henderson Gains Rapidly; Suffers Heart Ailment

W. H. Henderson, ordered to bed two weeks ago with a heart ailment, under strictest orders for quiet and rest, rallying rapidly, members of the family said yesterday.

This period of absolute rest can be broken within a few weeks now, if he continues the present rate of fast recovery. He is at the family home 500 South 3rd street.

Baker Locals

BAKER, May 29—Quarterly conference will be held at Baker, June 7, Wednesday. All ladies of the Floydada circuit are asked to bring a covered dish.

Rev. Hartley filled his regular 4th Sunday appointment accompanied by Mrs. Hartley and Delmer. They were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stiles for dinner.

Cpl. Bill Dowdy of Kansas is here for a few days visit with his wife, Opal, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Colston. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Fawver and Mary Lou, and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Colston spent Sunday in the Colston home also.

Miss Jean Nelson accompanied Rev. Gates and other Youth Fellowship workers to Abilene to the annual assembly held there each year. Grandma Kreis and daughter have returned from South Texas where they spent the winter.

Pfc. Floyd Bradford was home last week-end again on a short furlough.

The Women's Society of Christian service met with Mrs. Ray Smith Monday. After the study "For All of Life," Mrs. Geo. Stiles, Mrs. W. H. Nelson, Mrs. Sam Geen, Mrs. C. A. Hartley and Mrs. Ray Smith visited in the home of J. H. Owens whose son is reported missing in action.

HERE'S LUNCH WITH PUNCH

Sandwiches are the mainstay of the carried lunch and meat fillings are favorites for warding off between-meal hunger. To stretch the lunch ration try this filling made with ground cooked liver, or other meat, hard cooked egg, onion, and mayonnaise. Include a beverage or soup, crisp snack or salad and dessert for the lunch box that goes to school or to work.

Bums On The Move Annoy Residents

Its moving time for neer-do-wells, bums, hoppers, and such ilk, who are changing climates with the arrival of good weather.

This is the answer to the annoyance some householders are experiencing this week by men who knock at the doors and make unusual requests for food, lodging, baths, whatnot, says Sheriff Lee Howard. Three or four such persons have been picked up by the sheriff this week, lodged in jail or sent on their way with a warning, lacking any actual basis for charges, said Mr. Howard this morning.

Persons who are thus annoyed should call an officer at once the sheriff said. Some complaints this week have come into his office hours after the bum has moved on.

Wheat Prospect—

Advance Supply of Cars Advance preparation of box car supply is already under way to take care of the annual rush of grain loading that begins with opening of the harvest season in the great winter wheat area of the Southwest, officials of the Santa Fe Railroad announced today. Present orders are for movement of a minimum of 18,000 box cars by July 1 from eastern and southern roads to supplement the supply already on western lines.

No other mass movement of cars compares with that to the grain fields. In normal years, a minimum of 25,000 box cars is concentrated in the Southwest in advance of harvest. Last year only 6,700 were moved from eastern and southern lines, however, so the advance supply this year will be better than a year ago, according to officials of the Western Railways.

Rainfall Here 2.11 Inches Rainfall recorded here from Friday through last night as recorded at Rural Electric office was as follows:

Friday 62-hundredths, Saturday 15-hundredths, Sunday 21-hundredths and Wednesday 1.13 inches.

Throughout the county the rainfall has been in the form of local showers, some very heavy, some very light.

T. Sgt. and Mrs. Ralph E. Gee, and son, R. E., from Brownwood, Texas came May 20 for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gee. They left Saturday for home. Sgt. Gee is expected to be shipped soon.

Charles Wagner Died of Natural Causes, Verdict

Receipt yesterday of report on the contents of the stomach of Charles Wagner from the State Department of Health at Austin indicating that chemical analysis had revealed no trace of poison, was followed by a magistrate's verdict that the Floyd county ranchman died of natural causes. Judge J. W. Howard, who instituted the inquest, had asked County Health Officer N. E. Greer, of Lockney, for an autopsy, which was held and the chemical analysis made.

Charles Wagner died on the morning of Wednesday, May 17, following his release from the state hospital at Wichita Falls.

DANIEL BOYS—W. R. AND BILL—FINALLY MEET UP SOMEWHERE IN ITALY

AFTER 15 MONTHS of hunting for each other, often in the same town, their outfits passing and re-passing as the fortunes of war took them to one place and another through the North African campaign, and later in Italy—after these months the Daniel boys, W. R. and Bill, finally have had their family get-together.

They had 18 hours together a few days or weeks ago, the parents here, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Daniel, have been advised.

The boys went overseas in the same convoy and had been twice in the same town in Italy.

SANFORD SHAW AT HOME, IN CIVILIAN LIFE AGAIN

Sanford Shaw is back home, in civilian life once more after 25 months in the U. S. navy, most of the time on the high seas as a gunner on transport and supply ship convoys. He has been given a physical disability discharge.

Yesterday he said he planned to take it easy for a time before getting back into the run of things.

At the time he entered the navy young trainees were being put into active service after six weeks of training and this was his experience. He had quite a bit of service in the Atlantic convoys before transferring to the Pacific where he did similar duty. He touched on every continent of the world in the period of his service, except South America.

He is now stationed at Corpus Christi and is in advanced training there. His wife, the former Helen Ring of Dougherty is now here, but will join her husband as soon as possible.

Ensign Womack is a graduate of Floydada High school, Class of 1939 and has been in the service more than a year.

A HIGH LEVEL OF TRADE

Discussing world food prospects after the war in their relation to foreign trade, R. B. Schwenger of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, economist in the Office of Foreign Agricultural Relations, says there is danger of restrictions on world trade that will hamper the free interchange that is needed. But such a "doomsday picture" he says, "is not meant as a prediction."

"Fortunately," he comments, "there appears to be fairly wide agreement that to have level of trade, and thus use the world's resources efficiently, we must have a higher level of food consumption all over the world than we had before the war. That was agreed to by most countries at the Hot Springs conference last year. It is hard to over-emphasize the importance of these discussions to farmers and to everyone else."

"If the governments succeed in attaining the Hot Springs goal, then the particular interest of American farmers is going to be more largely in the home market and in imports. American farmers will be less concerned with exports."

"Wartime experience is showing that we can eat an enormous lot of food in this country if we just get it around to the people who want to eat it. We can get all the meat and dairy products and eggs and poultry that anybody in this country wants to produce without sending a bit abroad, and we can eat more, too. We can use all of our fats and oils. It is easy to think of many other items to add to the list."

"We will still export some cotton, tobacco, wheat, fruits, and some other products. And, of course, just as was the case before the war, the way for us to do that is going to be by importing the products we need, such as rubber, silk, wool, coffee, bananas, tin, zinc, and other minerals. In this way we will supply the dollars to pay for goods we want to sell abroad."

SOYBEANS PINCH HITTING

Four-fifths of the fats and oils the United States imported in pre-war years will be replaced by the oil from the home grown crop of soybeans, according to figures developed by Dr. M. A. McCall of the U. S. Department of Agriculture in a recent review of some of the services of the scientific crop improvement activities, of the Department and the State agricultural experiment station.

"The critical wartime fat and oil situation given added pressure for soybean production," he said. "In 1941 the acreage harvested for beans was 5,855,000 acres; in 1942, it was 10,762,000 acres; 11,492,000 acres estimated for the 1943 harvest and a goal of 14,000,000 acres has been requested for 1944. The increase in the production of this crop as a wartime necessity has been remarkable. It has been possible only because of new varieties developed in the cooperative program of the States and the Federal department."

"Newly introduced varieties maturing satisfactorily in the several areas, yet utilizing the full growing season and higher in oil content than others previously available, have been a contribution to our war economy hard to overvalue."

"The 14,000,000 acres of soybeans requested for 1944, estimated to produce 17.3 bushels to the acre on the average, should give 242,500,000 bushels of beans of which 180,000,000 should be available for crushing. This should produce 1.6 billion lbs. of oil, roughly eight-tenths of our pre-war imports of fats."

Hocus—Who first introduced salt pork into the navy?

Pocus—Noah, when he took Ham into the ark.

AWARD TO ONION IMPROVER

The onion belongs to the amaryllid family, often called more pompously the Amaryllidaceae. Because of this the American Amaryllid Society made its most recent annual award of the William Herbert Medal to Dr. Henry A. Jones of U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Dr. Jones works at the Plant Industry Station, Beltsville, Md., and among other things having to do with improvement of vegetable crops works on onion breeding. The Society made its award to him for his "important contributions to the cytology, genetics, breeding, and culture of the onion, Allium cepa."

A related fact is that the U. S. Department of Agriculture and the California agricultural experiment station recently announced the production of the first hybrid onion variety and its release to growers in certain regions of the west.

Sgt. Willie C. Austin has been transferred from Ft. Ord, California, to Camp Carson, Colorado. He is serving in the 63rd Medical Battalion. He has recently been promoted to supply Sgt. Austin has been in service two years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Austin of this city.

C. H. Mince, who is stationed at Fort Lewis, Washington, in the army has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mince at Lubbock while on a furlough. He was in Floydada visiting last week-end, his grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Mince, among others.

Lovell Clark was carried to the Lubbock hospital Monday for the treatment of an infected leg. He was slightly improved Tuesday, his wife reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Tucker Teutsch and daughter, of Dumas, Texas, were guests here last week of Mrs. Teutsch's mother, Mrs. E. F. Stovall. They also visited in Roswell, New Mexico, with relatives while on a vacation.

Mrs. Buddy Lloyd and son Scott, of Corpus Christi, are visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Scott. They plan to spend the summer here. Mr. Lloyd is in Corpus Christi working.

Billy Tad Probasco, who is stationed at Luke Army Air Field, is home on furlough, visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Probasco.

Mrs. Floyd Cash and Mrs. George Cash were here several weeks visiting Mrs. Cash's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McPeak.

Albert McPeak, of Dallas, is here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. McPeak, here the latter part of the week.
