Letter To The Editor

Dear Bill,
I don't know who or what determines the arrival of carnivals in town, but I would like to suggest that the next one be located on the land out by the Community Building.

When one can look from a storefront on Main Street, in broad open daylight and there on the ground, on a mattress a man and woman "carrying on" and a man urinating (disregarding privacy)—I would say "that's the pits."

constitution where people will be supplied food and a place to live. In our own case, we have always had to cough up the money when we have been checked out at the super market, and we've never had a government subsidy to help us with our house payment.

Years and years of this socialistic approach by the liberal Congress have made far too many people feel that the world (meaning the rest of us) owes them a living.

Maybe the current administration will turn that thinking around a little.

REMEMBER WHEN?

Back in the early days, the Friona Consumers service station was located south of the Santa Fe Railway tracks on what later became Highway 214. There was not much of a highway at that time, as the road was unpaved. You can tell by the automobiles that times have changed. Some of the brands shown are Kelly Springfield, Century, and Marathon. We at Friona State Bank are happy to have brought you this glimpse from the past.

About Your Neighbors

By JUNE FLOYD

Anyone who knocks on the door at 810 Woodland Avenue in Friona is likely to be greeted by a smiling face, which belongs to Alvin Carter. This charming lady has been a Parmer County resident since 1926.

She and her husband, the late Carl D. Carter, and their two small daughters, Glenda and Carol Dean, along with one of her brothers, the late Jim Coldiron, moved to a farm seven miles southeast of Friona when most of the farm land in the neighborhood was sod.

The first spring they were here the men broke out the farm land with horses and mules. At that time tractors were almost non-existent.

There wasn't any pavement in the county and very few graded roads. Alvin remembers that all road working equipment was pulled by horses or mules and farmers living along the roads were assigned different areas of the road to keep up.

"Carl's job," she said, "was to drag the road from our house south to the Syndicate Hotel, which was located on the road from Bovina to Dimmitt and later moved to Friona."

When the Carters came to Friona, they cut across pastures. At that time Spring Mercantile was located on South Main Street where the Sears Catalog Office, Strout Realty and H&R Block offices are now.

In her trip back down Memory Lane Mrs. Carter made the following observations:

"It was hard for me to learn to say 'Dr. Lee' and 'Dr. Paul,' and I still think of them as big boys helping their Dad in the operation of the store."

"Dr. McElroy and Dr. Wills were our doctors back then. Dr. Wills came to the farm to deliver our two daughters, Wynona and Zada, who were born after we moved here."

"Some of our neighbors in those days were the Otis Masseys, the Homer Hydes, the Clinkscales and the Frosts."

Alvin Coldiron was born February 25, 1899, in Coryell County, Texas. Carl Carter was born April 30, 1898 in Ellis County, Texas.

These two were married July 14, 1917 in Erath County, and lived there nine years before moving to Parmer County. In addition to his farming and road grading duties, Carl did construction work in his spare time and at one time was a butcher for a local store.

Mrs. Carter said, "We kept hens, milk cows and hogs; grew a garden and did just about anything else that we could to make ends meet during those days."

Then, she added, "No one, except those of us who lived through the Depression and Dust Bowl Days in this country during the early thirties can possibly understand how things really were. Prices were low, but money was so scarce that we had to make every penny count."

Her husband the victim of what was then called "dust pneumonia" died in 1933. For the next few years Alvin and the girls continued to live on the farm. Her brother, Jim, did most of the field work, but there were times when Alvin left the older girls to look after the younger ones and went to the field to help out during the growing season.

Then, in the fall of the year she and the girls helped with the cotton harvest.

"At that time," she said, "There were no mechanical cotton harvesters, so the only way to gather the cotton was to stoop over, pull it off the stalks, stuff it into long sacks, drag them through the field, weigh them and empty the contents into a wagon."

She went on to say, "That was the only way the girls had to earn money for school things. Jim always paid each one of them just like he did the hired hands."

A few years after her husband's death, Alvin, Jim and the girls moved to town. The most impressive thing to the girls at that time were running water in the house and a radio, which their uncle had swapped one of his plows for.

"For a few years," Alvin remembers, "We did whatever work we could find to do on a day to day basis. I did a lot of ironing and house cleaning for which I was paid very little, but somehow we managed to get by. When the girls and I are together now, we remember those days as lean but happy ones."

Her first full time job was with Dilger's Cleaners, which was the forerunner of Reed's Cleaners. She kept this job about twenty years before she retired.

All four of the Carter girls grew up and married here. At the present time, only one, Wynona, who is married to Clarence Martin, still lives here. However, Carl's Dean, who lives in Farwell, commutes to Friona each day. She is employed by Plains Hardware here.

MRS. ALVIN CARTER

"Clarence (Martin) is the only son-in-law I have left," Mrs. Carter said. "Glenda, Carol Dean and Zada are all widows."

Zada lives in Irving and Glenda lives in Mesquite. These two towns are close together, which makes it very convenient for Alvin when she visits down there.

She has thirteen grandchildren and sixteen great-grandchildren. Only three of her grandchildren live here at the present time. They are Larry, Mike and Greg Martin.

As Alvin looks back on the years when her girls were growing up, she remembers them as "some of the best years of my life."

She quickly points out, "We never could have made it had we not family and friends here."

Mrs. Henry G. White was Alvin's sister and Lura Coldiron Bradley was her sister-in-law.

"In fact," she said, "We were double kinfolks with Lura and her family. She was Carl's sister and her husband, D.E. was my brother."

Mrs. Carter appreciates her good health, her family and her friends.

She concluded the interview by saying, "I'm so glad that I'm still able to take care of myself and able to enjoy my family and friends."

Linda Nelson, Lance Light United In Church Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony at 6 p.m. Saturday, May 23, at Sixth Street Church of Christ, Linda Nelson became the bride of Lance Light.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Grady Nelson of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Light of Maryneal, Texas.

The double ring vows were read by H.D. Simmons before an arrangement of brass candelabras holding white tapers. The center of the decorations was a heart shaped candelabra interspersed with frosted pink carnations and dusty pink roses. Spiral brass candelabras and palms completed the decorations.

The maid of honor was Star Light, Maryneal, Texas, sister of the groom. Mrs. Bobby McKee, Cortez, Colorado, was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Laurie Harrell, Temple, Texas, and Jan Kelly, Killeen, Texas.

Louis Light was his son's best man. Groomsmen and ushers were Paul Reiger, Roscoe, Texas, Tim Stephenson, Harold Light and Gary Light, all of Maryneal. Harold and Gary are brothers of the groom.

DeAnna Dickens, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl. Ring bearers were Jim Charles Dickens, Lubbock, cousin of the bride, and Jeremy Nelson, nephew of the bride. Holly Snead, Friona, and Robin George, Maryneal, cousin of the groom, were the candlelighters.

The bride's attendants wore identical formal length gunny sax gowns of navy voile trimmed with dusty rose and navy ribbon and braid with white crocheted lace accents. They carried uncandles designed as hurricane lanterns with streamers of silk flowers tied with navy and dusty rose satin ribbon love knots.

The flower girl and candlelighters wore identical formals of rose and blue floral print on white voile. They were designed with fitted bodices, Peter Pan collars and gathered skirts. The skirts ended in flounces which were bordered with lace and ribbon, which was repeated on the front of the bodices. The flower girl carried a basket of silk flowers with satin ribbon streamers.

As the bride was presented in marriage by her father, she wore a formal length wedding gown of sheer illusion over bridal taffeta. It was designed with a fitted bodice featuring a yoke of sheer framed with chantilly lace ruffles. The stand up collar was banded with matching lace.

The full sheer sleeves were caught at the wrists with lace cuffs. The full skirt ended in rows of chantilly lace ruffles, which formed a cathedral length train.

Her mother fashioned her headpiece, which held a fingertip length veil of illusion. It was a derby hat covered with chantilly lace and decorated with silk roses, camellias, a large bow of illusion and a band of seed pearls.

Her only jewelry was a diamond necklace, which was a gift from the groom.

She carried a hogarth bouquet of white roses, gardenias, and baby's breath tied with white satin ribbon streamers.

Wedding music was provided by a chorus composed of Charles Caudill, Bob Welch, Patsy Bandy, Nelda and Curt Miller, Glenda and Libby Procter, all of Friona, and Mr. and Mrs. Lanny Trussel, Muleshoe, with Duain Ginn directing.

They presented "The Twelfth of Never," "Sunrise, Sunset," "For Baby For Bobby," "Wedding Song," "I Pledge My Love," "Annie's Song," and "I Keep Falling In Love With You."

The wedding was directed by Sue Procter.

The bride's table for the reception which was held in the foyer of the church, was covered with a dusty pink under cloth overlaid with white illusion swags, which were caught at the corners with silk flowers and satin ribbon and a white lace cloth, belonging to the groom's mother.

The table was centered with a basket of silk flowers surrounded by the arrangements carried by the bride's attendants. A three tiered cake atop a fountain with cascades of roses made of gum paste, styled by the bride's mother and Janice Dickens, aunt of the bride. Crystal and silver serving pieces completed the table setting.

Cake was served by Tina Dickens, Tulia, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Chris Cruncheon, El Paso. Punch and coffee were served by Jan Mason, Friona, and Regina and Rexann George, cousins of the groom, Maryneal.

Others in the houseparty were Joyce Broyles, Carol Zetsche, Joy Graham, Patsy Bandy, Lola White, Libby Procter, Beulah Miller and Winette Parr, all of Friona, and Marsha Dickens, Tulia, aunt of the bride.

For the wedding trip to Santa Fe, New Mexico, Mrs. Light wore a gray suit designed with a fan pleated skirt and belted jacket with burgandy piping and a dusty rose ruffled blouse. Her corsage was of dusty rose and navy silk flowers.

Guests were registered by Regina George, Maryneal, Texas, cousin of the groom.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dickens, Tulia; and Mrs. Lois

Petty, Lubbock, grandparents of the bride; and Mr. and Mrs. Cal Alexander, Maryneal, grandparents of the groom.

Other out-of-town guests signing the register were: Craig Howard, Canyon; John Redden, Memphis, Tennessee; Molly Cos, Kyle Degge, Judy Swift, Sara Jo Bryant, Kent B. Rhodes, David Kelly, Jo Dee Parker, and Maci Davis, all of Lubbock, who were counsellors with Linda at Camp Blue Haven, New Mexico last summer, and Sheryl Sherwood, Panhandle, Texas, who was also at Blue Haven.

Also, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lins and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lins, Tulsa, Oklahoma; Mr. and Mrs. David Nelson, Hart, Texas; Mr. and Mrs. Lanham Nelson and Scot Nelson, Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. George Hemstetter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Dickens and Sara and Mr. and Mrs. J.R. Also, Mrs. Henry Doyle, Tennessee; Mr. and Mrs. L.L. Pruden, Springlake, Texas; Mrs. Garland Kelly, Killeen; Marshall Aldridge, Arlington; and Bob, Benny and Jeffery McKee, Cortez, Colorado.

Her husband, a 1979 graduate of Highland High School, which is near Maryneal, attended Tulsa Vo-Tech at Tulsa, Oklahoma, where he earned a "B" Journeyman electrical license while working at ABCO Electric in Tulsa.

Call 247-3681 With Your News Item

If Friona has a 1981 contest for the largest purple top turnip, Les Ainsworth, who lives at 1612 James Street, will surely take home the blue ribbon.

One day last week he decided to pull a turnip from the furrow between his garden rows. After all, he really didn't want it to grow there, but somehow a seed floated or blew off down there and sprouted about six weeks ago.

At first, Les, who grows a neat garden, thought he would just leave it alone. Then, when he decided to pull the pesky thing, he found that he was facing a man sized job. After a few tries, he decided to use a shovel to help dislodge the roots, which were much larger than he expected.

When he finally extracted the monstrosity from its place of origin, he found that it measured 20 inches in circumference and weighed three and three-quarter pounds.

Does anyone happen to know what the record is for that variety of turnips? I don't, but I'm sure this one must be close to the top.

Recent visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith have been Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Black and Mr. and Mrs. Danny Baize and daughters, Brandy and Shannon.

Mrs. Black is the former Judy Smith and Mrs. Baize is the former Esther Smith. The Blacks live near Charlotte, North Carolina, and the Baize family lives in Lubbock. However, Dennis and Judy are spending the summer in Lubbock.

The Smiths feel they are very fortunate to have three of their four daughters in Lubbock for the summer. Their second daughter, Janet, also lives there.

Incidentally, Ralph and Fay have a brand new daughter. Little Carrie Deann Jones, daughter of Boyd and Mary Ralph Smith, who live out southeast of town, was born one day last week.

Carrie Deann's arrival upped the total Smith granddaughters to five, so, for the first time, Ralph's and Fay's granddaughters outnumber the daughters.

Those not mentioned earlier are Lisa Ponthieu, who is Judy's daughter, and Bethany Jones, who is Carrie Deann's older sister.

Joe and Pearl Johnson returned home late last week after attending funeral services for one of Joe's sisters-in-law, Lillie Johnson, who was buried in Duncan, Oklahoma, on Monday and visiting some other relatives.

In Oklahoma City they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Sanders and in Umpire, Arkansas.

They visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Green. Mrs. Sanders is Joe's sister and Green is Pearl's brother.

Upon their arrival home they learned that a nephew of Joe's, Danny Johnson, also of Duncan, Oklahoma, had been killed in an accident.

Their grandson, Mark Johnson of El Cajon, California, arrived in Friona a few days ago for an extended visit with them. His dad, Nolen Johnson, is a 1918 graduate of Friona High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Nidey of Campo, Colorado, were weekend visitors in Friona. They are former Friona residents. She's the former Marilyn Martin. Calvin is her daddy and Lawrence and Clarence are her brothers.

Jean and Keith Blackburn of Albuquerque, New Mexico, came down for the Lynn Blackburn-Mike Hutson wedding Saturday afternoon. They also visited in the homes of Jean's dad, Howard Mayfield, and Keith's brother and sister-in-law, Claude and Joe Blackburn.

Some other former Friona residents who were here for the wedding and a visit with kith and kin were Neil Pounds of Amarillo; Larry and Paula Fairchild and children, Tammy, Jeff and Vicky, Adrian; and James and Cindy Weatherly and daughters, Tiffany and Shayla, Austin.

Cindy is the sister of the groom and James is the youngest son of Lois and the late Clyde Weatherly. James flew back to the Capitol City Sunday and

Girl Added To Jones Family

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Jones, Route 1, Friona, became parents of a baby girl at Deaf Smith General Hospital, Hereford, Tuesday, June 23.

She weighed eight pounds, two ounces, was twenty-one and one-half inches long and was named Carrie Deanne.

Mrs. Jones and Carrie have been dismissed from the hospital and are at home.

The couple has an older daughter, Bethany, who is almost two.

Grandparents are George A. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, all of Friona.

HERNANDEZ PROMOTED

Marine Sgt. Manuel Hernandez, son of Conrado and Elena Perez of Route 1, Friona, has been promoted to his present rank while serving with 1st Maintenance Battalion, Camp Pendleton, California.

Cindy and the girls stayed for a longer visit.

Think it would be interesting to know how Lynn and Cindy are going to keep the duplication of names in their families from keeping them in a state of confusion.

Mike has one brother, David-Lynn has two brothers, David and Mike-Lynn's paternal grandmother is named Joe-Mike's mother has the same name. Mike has two nieces and one is named Tiffany-Lynn has one niece. Her name, if you haven't already guessed, is Tiffany.

Doris Hough is having a fun summer. Soon after the end of the spring session at West Texas State University, Canyon, she accepted a summer job at Rocky River Ranch at Wimberley, Texas, which is down near Austin.

Doris is a 1980 graduate of Friona High School and will be a sophomore at West Texas this fall. She's the daughter of Charles and Luann.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Baxter were Mrs. Sonny Pipes of Elk City, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Young and son, Farron, of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Mrs. Pipes and Mrs. Young are daughters of the Baxters. The New Mexico Youngs also visited Troy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Young.

Recent visitors in the home of Mrs. L.D. Pope of the Black Community have been Fred and Kenneth Pope of Idaho Falls, Idaho; Gene, Kirk and Kerri Pope of Vilas, Colorado; and Freida Winebarger and daughter, Leslie Ann of Hanover, Pennsylvania.

A family ice cream supper in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Baxter and children, Misty, Janet and Corben, Tuesday evening was a courtesy for Mrs. Pope and her out-of-town guests.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. James Wyly and Robin, Jay and Beth Norsworthy, Mr. and Mrs. Gerall Wyly and Shyla and Mr. and Mrs. Criss Wyly.

A former Friona resident, Florence Frost, is a guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dan Laceywell. She presently lives in Abilene and is Camille's mother.

Mrs. Frost lived here from 1919 to 1941. She observed her 95th birthday November 25, 1980 and is very active for a person her age.

Mrs. Frost also has one granddaughter, Gladys Day, and one great-granddaughter, Dian Anthony, who live here.

One point all of us should remember....what the government gives, it must first take away.
