Grid Battle At Wester Field

Out the Vote Little Cry For Democratic Rally

Democratic rally Saturday afternoon in the down-town business district at 3:30 o'clock has been announced by local Democrats, whose battle cry right now is get out the vote.

Alton B. Chapman will address the crowd, using a loud speaker to challenge the Democrats to the Texas Regulars, who are presently opposing the re-election of the party's standard bearer, Governor C. West.

Chapman will support some of the Democrats in the electoral college, which has created much of a stir in the political field.

While professing assurance that there is no likelihood the Texas Regulars will carry Floyd county, Chapman is making every effort to arouse interest and get out the big vote in the election in Floyd county.

Large Roosevelt Fitness Contest and outstanding leadership contest sponsored by the Judge Chapman in his address in the viewpoint of the Roosevelt is declared. Several local groups are sponsoring the rally, including J. C. Wester, Judge Jeffers, J. A. Hollins, and others.

"Have gone down the line" Roosevelt since disunion first in May in the party, resulting in a wide-open breach between the anti-fourth term Democrats of Texas.

Conference football battle between the Lockney Longhorns and the Floydada Whirlwinds will be played on Wester Field Friday night, game time 8 o'clock.

This change in the game plans were agreed upon by officials of the two schools this week. The game originally was scheduled for 2:30 in the afternoon at the Lockney field. Desire to give a larger number of football fans of both communities an opportunity to see the game was the controlling factor in the change, it was stated by officials here. A much larger percentage of fans will be able to see a night game than a day-time game.

It is believed Lockney school's plans for a lighted field was caught in the squeeze of short-ages incident to the war and will have to await a better day.

Athletic officials have agreed upon Stony Wall as referee and other officials will be named today. The fans like the way Wall runs a game and the selection will be popular. Winfred Fowler who has been handling games for Floydada high this season has another engagement for Friday night.

Dope Favors Whirlwinds

Record of the two teams in both pre-conference and conference games played to date gives the nod to the Whirlwinds to win over the Longhorns. Both teams have had to build from scratch with many new faces in the line-up. However, the Floydada team has come along better and the Longhorns will be underdogs at the kick-off. Coach Murry yesterday warned his team's supporters, however, that in a tilt between Floydada and Lockney high schools, the dope means little, and the winner will be known only when the lads get through battling it out on the gridiron.

The Opposing Line-Ups

Probable starters announced by the coaches are as follows:

Pos.—Whirlwinds	Longhorns
LE—Decker	Huggins
LT—Mize	Caryll
LG—Hall	Thornton
C—Boteler	Reecer
RG—Gearhart	D. Perkins
RT—Berry	Rhine
RE—B. Womack	Messer
QB—Morrison	Williams
HB—R. Womack	T. Perkins
HB—Carmack	Carroll
FB—Collins	Wilson

Substitutes who are likely to go in during the game for Floydada include J. Price, Tribble, McNeill, D. Jones, Robertson and others.

For the Longhorns Jeffcott, Fanning, Crocker, Vernon, Johnston, Powell and Colvin.

4-H Club Swine Judged Saturday Afternoon Here

Robert Hambright, keen farm youngster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Hambright of Lakeview, Saturday afternoon was declared to have the best six-month-old pig of a group of several 4-H club boys who showed their swine here Saturday afternoon to the admiring crowd, with County Agent H. D. Pool, of Hockley county, placing the animals.

However, it was a matter of choosing the best from the entries, all declared excellent. Billy was awarded a registered Jersey heifer by the sponsors, four local co-operators. Second place went to Eddie Joe Fortenberry, of Cedar. His award being 100 baby chicks. Third place winner Earl Robertson will get 75 baby chicks, and all others, except Jerrold Vincent, exhibitor of the purebred boar, will get 50 baby chicks each. Jerrold will get 100 baby chicks.

Fourth place, shown by Earl Eubanks of McCoy, fifth Delbert Shearer of Lockney, sixth, Chas. Eddie Holmes, of Sand Hill, seventh Billy Strickland of Cedar.

The baby chicks will be delivered to the boys next spring by Carmack hatchery.

Every 4-H club boy in the list did much more than just an ordinary job of developing the sow presented him earlier in the year. County Agent Ransom declared, evidently gratified with the progress of the efforts of the youths under his direction.

Mrs. Topsy Wester, of Dallas, sister of Charles and aunt, Mrs. M. C. Blair and son, Marvin Ray, of Ft. Worth came to be with Charles during his leave at home. They returned home Tuesday.

Tommy McIntosh Gets Nickname and Learns War is Nasty Job

Tommy McIntosh, who was working at Dr. Kimble on West California street when the war called him, was learning a lot while he had some time to be finished in the profession, has a lot about the business of the past two years instead. To the fact he give herewith to his parents (Mr. and Mrs. McIntosh) which tells the story of a quiet sort of boy and how he had a mosquito bar draped over him. The reason I saw him was because he turned over on his side. Guess it was just a moment after I saw him that he saw me. He let out some kind of a yell and almost sat up. I threw an oath at him.

Used a Three-foot board I didn't have a gun with me so I picked up the closest thing which was a board about three feet long. Dated October 20, the letter says:

Quite An Experience I had some experience yesterday. I killed my first Jap. After I think about it it wasn't a very nice way I killed him. I was also by myself. Guess I might as well tell you how it all came about.

I was out looking for a certain kind of a nut that the natives chew. I was walking by an old native hut when I saw him lying on the floor. He had a mosquito bar draped over him. The reason I saw him was because he turned over on his side. Guess it was just a moment after I saw him that he saw me. He let out some kind of a yell and almost sat up. I threw an oath at him.

Absentee Balloting Forecast of Big Vote

To Attempt Cash Program Paving To City Schools

Closing a conference of city and school officials and interested taxpayers and property owners last night, the appointment of a committee to determine how much money can be raised for paying to the schools among the citizens of the community and by Floydada Independent school district, was announced.

This committee is composed of F. C. Harmon, chairman; E. P. Nelson, R. B. Ross, O. P. Rutledge, Mrs. Alton B. Chapman, M. P. Goen, Mrs. Geo. V. Smith. Their instructions are to determine what money can be raised and make a report to the city council at its regular meeting on the night of November 14.

This committee was asked to contact all property owners adjacent to the paving, as well as citizens of the entire district. Routing of the paving to Andrews ward by one of three alternate ways will depend largely on the attitude of adjacent property owners, it was indicated as a possibility.

R. Cardinal

R. Cardinal, 98 Died in Plainview Tuesday Morning

PLAINVIEW, October 31—Raphael Cardinal, 98-year-old native of Canada, died here this morning. He had been at the Thornton home at 607 Houston Street for several months.

Funeral services will be Thursday morning at 9:30. The rites will be held at the St. Alice Catholic church here and burial will be in the Plainview cemetery beside the grave of his wife who died in 1936. The W. M. Lemons Funeral Home has charge of arrangements.

Cardinal was a young man when the Civil War broke out and in 1865, the year the war between the states ended, he moved from his birth place, Remi, Ontario, Canada, to Vermont. His life span covered the great expansion of the country westward after the Civil War.

Cardinal had not been in the United States long when he responded to the admonition of Horace Greely, "Go west, young man." He trekked to Kansas where he homesteaded, married and fathered most of the fourteen children which were born to him and his wife.

In 1901 he moved to Oklahoma because that territory was being settled up and Cardinal was a frontiersman. The rush on the land in Oklahoma must have made the country seem overcrowded to Cardinal, for after ten years, only one of the almost ten decades in his long life span, he moved his family to the Texas Plains and settled in Floyd county.

It was the final trek for Cardinal as head of a large, fine family. He continued his farming and ranching activities and the family prospered. Most of the children married. (See R. CARDINAL, page 4)

Forecast that the general election in Floyd county for 1944 will see a vote cast that approximately equals the county's vote in the first primary this summer was seen in the absentee balloting yesterday, when 43 absentees had cast votes, of them 33 civilians and 10 members of the armed forces. Several score ballots were still out, with November 3 the deadline for their return to Margaret Collier, county clerk. These figures are approximately the same as this summer when upward of 2,600 votes were cast in the Democratic primary.

The ballot, an eight-column "blanket" more than 20 inches long, has columns for all parties, the list this year including the "Texas Regulars" as well as Democrat, Republican, Socialist America First and Prohibition and the independent column and the "blank column." The last two carry only the names of the offices. Only Republican and Democratic columns carry complete lists for national and state offices and the Republican has no candidates for district or county offices. Three proposed changes in the constitution are also listed.

Battle between supporters of the Democratic national ticket and the anti-fourth term Democrats has precipitated the local political interest. Only once before in a generation has the general election created such interest. This was in 1928 when Floyd county was recorded in the Republican column for the national ticket in support of Herbert Hoover against Al Smith, Democratic nominee.

Local Angle in Election A local angle was brought into the election this week by an announcement of a write-in campaign for sheriff. An advertisement appearing in county newspapers urges voters to write in the name of Walter Hollins for that of the Democratic nominee, Lee Howard, present incumbent. Howard ran without opposition in the primary. Hollins, who is not a candidate, was a deputy sheriff under a former administration.

Following are the Commissioners named by the election in the various precincts:

Southwest Floydada No. 1: R. E. Fry, presiding judge, E. C. King, George Finkner, J. M. Willson, judges;

Starkey No. 2: J. K. Holmes presiding judge, Eford Parrish, judge;

Allmon No. 3: E. E. Foster, presiding judge, Dennis Thorne, judge;

Sand Hill No. 4: G. C. Collins, presiding judge, Walter Knight, Jim Holmes, Tom McLean, judges;

East Lockney No. 5: J. J. Harris, presiding judge, Lester Honea, E. A. Cox, Guy Allen, judges;

Aiken No. 6: H. W. Schacht, presiding judge, H. L. Stowe, judge;

Providence No. 7: Pelham Clements, presiding judge, T. H. Bedeker, judge;

Lone Star No. 8: G. B. Johnston, presiding judge, H. E. Prizzell, judge;

South Plains No. 9: W. E. Sims, presiding judge; Gilbert Bean, H. T. Bradshaw, G. Milton, judges; (See ELECTION, back page)

Pct. 1 Voting Placed Moved Down-Town

For Southwest Floydada Precinct No. 1, the voting place established by the order of the Commissioners court is the high school building. There, however, school is in progress, and R. E. Fry, presiding judge, has announced that quarters for the election offices have been obtained in the Martin & company building. The northeast corner of the building will be cleared out and roped off for the purpose, Mr. Fry said, after consulting with the county election committee.

Dalhart Minister Coming as Pastor Nazarene Church

Mrs. E. C. Gee and Mrs. Ella Johnson have returned home from the Abilene District assembly of the church of the Nazarene held at Quanah last week, and report an inspiring gathering of more than 200 accredited delegates as well as many visitors including several from other states. The two women were delegates from the Floydada congregation.

Dr. H. V. Miller is the general superintendent of this district and a new pastor will come to the Floydada church. He is Rev. Gibson, a Dalhart minister, who will succeed Lloyd McCoy, who has been serving the church here the past few months.

Geo. T. Smalley Missing in Action

Mrs. Ama Smalley of Clovis, New Mexico, has received word that her son, Geo. T. (Buster) Smalley, is missing in action.

Word from the War department said he had been missing since October 14. The news was relayed to relatives here Tuesday.

Buster, who is married and has a wife living in Clovis, has been in France with a combat unit since shortly after the invasion began.

Few Turkeys Marketable Thanksgiving

Few turkeys will be marketable from Floyd county flocks as Number One birds for Thanksgiving this year, dealers in Floydada think.

While the number of turkeys on the farms is somewhat above last year's number, most of the fowls need a bit more weight and a few less pin feathers.

Exactly when the market for the Thanksgiving turkeys will open is a matter of guess, sometime soon, however. Government requirements for the men in the armed forces are still far from being filled and all the turkeys will go to that market before supplies will begin to be available for the civilian trade.

Lockney Cut-Off Designated In Road Program

Designation of the "Lockney cut-off," important travel artery east from Lockney to Highway 207, as a farm to market road which will be built and maintained as a part of the system of designated highways of the state, has been agreed to by the State Highway department with the Floyd County Commissioners court.

Record of the agreement entered here last week, includes waiver by Floyd county of participation of the state in the payment of any county or road district bonds in the construction of the highway, a formalism, since no bonds are to be issued in connection with it.

Three Floydada Students Rate 'Who's Who' at West Texas State

Three Floydada students at West Texas State Teachers college in Canyon rate "Who's Who Among American Colleges and Universities," it was announced last week in the Prairie, student publication of that school. They are:

SEN. O'DANIEL POURS IT ON

Senator O'Daniel has a wonderful radio presence and he has been making full use of it in his campaign against the Roosevelt-Truman ticket in Texas. He pours it on in good style, and one thing you can say for the senator is that he voiced Democratic when he lived in a Republican state the same as he has when he had his poll tax receipt in Texas. At least he says so and there has been no refutation of the claim from any source.

One would not have the senator violate his conscience to do other than he is doing. Many Texans have the same attitude. They are convinced, it is reasonable to assume, that to scuttle the Democratic ticket this year and take what the reactionaries have to deal out for the next four years, is a better bet than to try to clean up the bureaucrats under the present regime.

One thing those good people may not take into consideration, and we include Texas' junior senator is that the bureau got their foothold under the Coolidge and Hoover administrations, and like a runaway horse, had and will have the bits firmly in their teeth so it will be difficult for any administration to stop them. The logic and the patronage of the thing is all against the anti-bureaucrats.

Senator O'Daniel has been having a bit of difficulty over his W. Lee O'Daniel News, political organ. The senator's ghost writer is a good one, and his newspaper a sprightly one for those who like their politics dished out good and hot.

However, the senator did have a little difficulty making the investigating committee and the postal authorities believe he could start up a newspaper and have 70,000 bona fide subscribers without a build up campaign. In fact, the senator revealed to the senatorial investigating committee that he actually had about 1,000 and that other thousands were mailed out under his second-class mailing permit. From Democratic state headquarters came the claim that "big interests of Texas contributed $129,000 to the junior senator's paper," and that it had been sent through the mail at the taxpayers' expense and contrary to law.

We call attention to the fact that political newspapers handled in this manner have occurred or come to pass the same way for time immemorial and that no big fuss has been raised about them. It has become sort of a custom and the people enjoy the show. In fact, in spite of the fact that the law is violated these political newspapers have served a good purpose in getting new and fresh viewpoints before the people.

BUT A HOLLER IS RAISED
One place where the rub came in was that the senator was using newsprint which other newspapers, long established and under OPA regulations, were having to give up from their quotas under quite binding orders of the War Production Board and the OPA.

"A storm of protest" is said to have gone in from many of these newspapers. So far as we are advised no names were given of those who joined in the vigorous protest. Certainly we did not protest. In fact, we enjoyed getting the senator's viewpoint as presented by his most able hired publicity agent and ghost writer in the W. Lee O'Daniel News.

Surely there must be a good many violations of the second class privilege accorded to newspapers, done even by long established periodicals which might use the permit for a front to cover up free subscriptions, or in fact, to cover up the fact that substantially all of their "subscription" lists are on a free basis. Accordingly, to our reasoning, 70,000 4-page newspapers such as the senator is putting out is only a drop in the bucket, couldn't hurt an awful lot, so far as the newsprint supply is concerned, and did give a viewpoint on a matter that is alarming all of us.

The senator, the same as his opponents, has a right to have his say. He pays a high price to get his views over the radio because the radio makes him a low price to get his views through the mails because it is the custom for the mails to be a relatively cheap channel of communication.

BALANCING THE LEDGER

In choosing to continue the support of the "straight" Democratic ticket in preference to the Texas Regulars (who have some good arguments in their stand against the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt to the presidency, reasons which, however, should be submerged for the greater good of the many) and in preference to the Republican ticket as exemplified by their stand bearer, Mr. Dewey, we have arrived at our conclusions with the least heat and the least prejudice possible.

Contrary to many good Democrats we opposed the re-nomination of Mr. Roosevelt for the third term. We felt and still feel that it was not for the best of the liberal movement in America, dating back to Jefferson and before, to have a candidate for the third term who had served for eight years. Be that as it may, the party and the people of America overwhelmingly re-chOOSE him. And since that time we are in the midst of war and are faced with the prospect of having to make some kind of a peace—a peace in a world of cut throats and of other peoples whose rights in this now much smaller world are on a par with ours. Further we have domestic matters which are of transcending importance to the nation's welfare.

These two major problems, the global one and the domestic one, are problems which Mr. Dewey, and the men who will head the congress if the Republicans win, will face with a point of view which will be disastrous, in our opinion, both at home and abroad. We can't escape these conclusions from their past records.

MR. ROOSEVELT MORE ABLE

On the other hand, Mr. Roosevelt, we think, will carry on more ably in the war than Mr. Dewey could—the president is the commander-in-chief of the armed forces and you can't get away from that—and can and will make a better peace. The isolationist people, who bulwark Mr. Dewey's candidacy, just can't realize that the world has changed since they had charge of things and that living with neighbors without reciprocating isn't going to work like it did in the good old Smoot-Hawley days, when you fixed things up for the Big Boys back east and charged it to the ignorant cotton

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Ghosts will walk for me this Halloween, but they will be the ghosts of other days, and I will see the dim figures pass and hear the soft rustling of something delicate as a butterfly's wing and sweet and fragrant as a baby's cheek.

There was an auction sale when I was a young girl with heart beating high as to whom would fall my gayly wrapped, full box. There was a school party for my own children and well I remember their happy faces and ringing laughter. There were orange pumpkins scooped clean by my son's long slim fingers, and a red candle glowing in the center. There was a raisers down south and the corn-belt folks boys in the middle west. They could go back to the flesh pots where they once fared so heartily. According to the ways of human nature this is an inescapable conclusion, in our opinion. Furthermore, while we heartily admire a racket buster we would hardly turn the nation's leadership over to that type of mind.

Meanwhile, we don't for a minute try to make believe that we are not vexed by a lot of things the throne room scyophants and knee-benders are doing. A change would get us a new set of the same type with different names, however. So, we'll hope the Democrats win and that, after they do, the people will insist that the congress assert the people's rights once more. Congress is not sure the people mean what they say, their actions perhaps giving life the lie to some of the big talk you hear in the lot fence and street corner conversations.

THE GEESSE ARE ARRIVING

Getting around to a less distasteful subject, we note with pleasure the reports our nature scouts bring in the first of the week, one of them being that the geese have begun to come in at last, looking the country over for good feeding grounds convenient to lakes. Plenty of pintails and teal, some mallards, but only an occasional goose. Monday the geese began scouting, not big flights in migration but the home-hunting kind. The green wheat fields he saw must have delighted the old magoose's eyes, and all else she had to seek as to provender was a convenient forage feed field.

We want a goose for Thanksgiving dinner since we can't get turkey and besides we like geese better anyhow. We concentrate on the thought—how to get a wild goose for Thanksgiving. We know a woman that sure can cook them the way they ought to be cooked, and is out of patience with a man that is not good enough provider to get one even when the country is full of them.

THROWBACKS IN NATURE

Perverted nature just has to try to be like it wants to be, whether its visible form is animate, inanimate, two or four-legged. We saw some red buds blossoming in early October and some lilacs and heard of a number of other spring inanimates that did queer tricks. Yesterday we saw a common, ordinary currant bush bravely putting out its little yellow blossoms at a time when frost, oftentimes, has already briven back the sap and put the bushes into the first nap of the long winter sleep.

party at this house where the young folks of the neighborhood came in every kind of disguise and the house was full of red and yellow leaves and cookies and ghosts with wet, cold hands. There was the smell of sun-ripened apples and spiced fruit drinks. There was screeching and laughing and the sound of running feet.

Why should not these kind of ghosts find welcome with me? Many of the friends of my girlhood days have passed on, my son with the long slim fingers uses them in ministering to the hurt and sick in England. The boys at my party are all over the world. Pat Davis in India, Jack Cagle in Africa, Buddy Cox with his smile in China, his brother W. A. is in England. Wendell James is wounded somewhere in France, his brother, Verron in the navy. There are some of the ones who so gayly played pranks and jokes that warm fall night.

God bless them all and may they return and in turn see their loved ones play and prank on Halloween.

I know my chow-chow will be extra good this year. I had all the makings ground, I was tired, the kitchen was not clean, and there was still much to do before the shiny new pint jars were filled. Wilda brought in the mail, there was a fat, interesting letter and soon I was making the acquaintance of a reader of this column and a new friendship is in the making. On account of the kindness of Mrs. Collins Walker of Lockney, I forgot I was tired and proceeded with the canning in a happy mood. Thank you Mrs. Walker for your letter.

From the Old Whitehouse Cook Book: In telling how to make blueberry pickles: "Pick over your berries, using only sound ones; fill your jars or wide-mouthed bottles to within an inch of the top, then pour in molasses enough to settle down into all the space as molasses does not run freely, only lazy people will feel obliged to stand by and watch its progress." Only think of a modern cook book telling this.

And I always enjoy reading about the old-fashioned pound cake. "This is the old-fashioned recipe that our mothers used to make, and it can be kept for weeks in an earthen jar, closely covered, first dipping letter paper in brandy and placing over the top of the cake before covering the jar. Beat to a cream one pound of butter with one pound of sugar, after mixing well with the beaten yolks of twelve eggs, one grated nutmeg, one glass of wine, one glass of rose-water. Then stir in one pound of sifted flour and the well-beaten whites of the eggs. Bake a nice light brown."

You might also like the remedy for colds. "An old time and good way to relieve a cold is to go to bed and stay there, drinking nothing, not even water, for twenty-four hours, and eating as little as possible. Or go to bed, put your feet in hot mustard and water, put a bran or oatmeal poultice on the chest, take ten grains of Dover's powders, and an hour afterwards a pint of hot gruel; in the morning rub the

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Issue of November 6, 1930)
Less than 1,000 votes were cast in Floyd County in the general election held Tuesday of this week. It appears from the tabulations made Wednesday night from official reports to the county clerk from nine out of 19 boxes. The total registered in these nine boxes was slightly more than 500 votes.

Local solicitation for memberships in the Red Cross in connection with the annual national campaign which will be held this year from November 11 to 27, inclusive, will be conducted Monday in an effort to reach as near the 700 quota set for Floyd county as quickly as possible. It was announced this morning by Lon M. Davis, chairman of the Red Cross.

The turkey market for Thanksgiving opened this morning at 12 cents for Number One turkeys, according to local dealers, who posted the price, although not expecting a heavy movement of the birds at this time.

Two big football games within five days, one a conference game with Floydada's ancient rivals, the Lockney Longhorns, and the other with the dark horse of the district the Turkey Turks, looms up on the menu to be served local fans of the gridiron during the next week.

Sunday, November 2, having marked the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dick-ey, their children had arranged a day filled with pleasure for the couple.

For at least two hours last Friday afternoon, Floydada football fans had visions of a district crown snapped out of a clear blue sky by Coach Barksdale's Whirlwinds eleven when they upset all dope and even surprised themselves with a 25 to 6 victory over the Canyon Eagles.

A fifteen pound sweet potato, a sample of "What the boys down in Hopkins county can raise" was displayed in Floydada recently by G. A. Maddox, of Sulphur Springs, father of J. D. Maddox, who has moved to Floydada.

Extension of 30 days has been granted on reduced freight rates for Floyd county by the Federal Drought Relief Committee at Washington, according to advices received by W. S. Ross, designated official for issuing shipping permits for the county.

Floydada and Floyd county people will have the benefit of the labor that will be needed to dress out a large per cent of the turkey crop of this section during the Thanksgiving and Christmas season. Plans of local poultry and egg companies are to dress out all turkeys that come to the market here and local labor will be used.

body all over with a hot towel, and take a dose of appetizer medicine."

Here is one for toothache: "The worst toothache, or neuralgia, coming from the teeth may be speedily and delightfully ended by the application of a bit of clean cotton saturated in a solution of ammonia to the defective tooth. Sometimes the late sufferer is prompted by momentary laughter by the application but the pain will disappear. Mighty simple that, don't you think?"

This old cook book gives me much pleasure and I still use a good many recipes from its yellowed pages. It tells to use a pinch of this or that, and many are the remedies, how to wash nice fabrics, health ways. How to make glue and shoe polish and powders and creams, eating etiquette, how to lay the table for all kinds of meals.

We have sorghum molasses on our table, fresh from the mill in East Texas. And is it good? Well, yes. It makes me think of the year I taught school at Labarque. Grandma Jones fixed up our school dinner not lunch. She put in a can of blackeyed peas, seasoned with a hunk of salt pork and a can of sorghum molasses made by my Uncle Jim Witt. In this she put some butter, and we knew as we stirred the butter in the rich syrup that all the butter she churned that winter was reserved for the school children.

There was Felix and Nettie and Omega, grandmother's own children. Mary Lee, her daughter Mirtie's little girl and myself, her daughter Margaret's oldest child, who was the teacher. All of us gathered around the full bucket, sipping the sorghum and enjoying the peas with a compliment of red tomatoes and hot pepper. Soda biscuits in the early fall and late spring when there was milk, but sourdough in the cold of the winter.

Sometimes there were slices of cake, or wedges of pie, but always something good. The children must have the best.

Joe Ellis can read. It came all at once, it seemed. How very proud he is that he can read to us, not us to him.

Nothing gives me more strength and peace than a visit to the canyon. I feel the presence of God, the eternity of time in the hills. The beauty of nature in the trees, always changing but never ugly. Gray as an old person's hair in the winter snows, pink and green and soft yellow in the spring, fanning with grown green leaves all summer long and glorious with color in the fall.

Tommy McIntosh—

and hit him across the face about 10 times, when the board broke. I picked up a long stick about two inches around and broke it the first time I hit him with it.

I started to leave when I saw an ax and I guess I thought I might as well make sure he was dead, so I hit him two or three times on the side of his head with the blunt end. Then I ran all the way back to where the boys were.

Then a couple of boys and a medico friends of mine went up and got the convulsions off him. The most valuable thing I got was an apron of a thousand stitches he wore. It is sacred to him. It has the stitches in it and four Jap coins sewed on it. He wore it next to his body so I had to boil it and give it a good washing. The ashes of his ancestors were in a pocket of the apron.

I also got a Jap bayonet and a couple of other things of less importance.

Slept Good Last Night
Well, I slept good last night and I hope I do tonight. The boys are calling me "killer McIntosh" now. I don't see how I had the guts to do such a thing. I'll send the apron home one of these days. I hope you let it stay in the house.

Then tragedy struck and the hardy builder of homes in the wilderness, already far past the three-score and ten span, had to give up his faithful helpmate. Mrs. Cardinal died of burns she received when gasoline which she mistook for kerosene was poured on a fire.

Soon after her death Cardinal quit trying to carry on any kind of farming operations. Several years yet remained of his physical activity but as he neared the century mark became bedfast.

He died this morning at 6:55. Father Drorak administered the last sacrament. The man had come quietly to the end of the long trail.

Children surviving are Peter Cardinal, Stockton, Calif.; Louis, T. J. and A. G. Cardinal, all of Floydada; Neff Cardinal, Plainview; Sister M.

Raphael, Concordia, Kan.; Mrs. Geo. L'Euyer, Clifton, Kan.; Mrs. E. J. Boudreau, Purcell, Okla.; Mrs. John Maxwell, Hawthorne, Calif., and A. R. Cardinal Grand Prairie. Had Cardinal lived until Nov. 25 he would have been 99 years. He was born Nov. 25, 1845.

Miss Sharon Puqua of Brownwood spent last week here visiting friends.

Hubert Stringer
Narrowly Escapes Suffocation

Stringer, of Wichita Falls, was locally as joint operator of the Callihan company and the Stringer company to Barwise in West county, says he is learning the way that smoking in bed in Pitts hospital this week is being done for by suffocation and inhalation of smoke.

Monday morning from a smoke-filled bedroom at the Stringer headquarters where members of the family make their home while here. Albert Pricer and other employees of the large stockfarming and irrigation property carried him unconscious from the building. He was burned on the back but his burns were secondary. He was placed in an oxygen tent at Pitts hospital after being brought here from the ranch by a Harmon ambulance.

The building was not damaged but Pricer had to clear the building of some of the smoke before he could find his employer. Penicillin flown from Wichita Falls by plane by Dr. W. G. Harrison has been used to aid in the victim's recovery. The plane was piloted by Jim Jennings, an old friend of the Stringer family. Mrs. Stringer, Hubert's wife, who was visiting in Dallas with her father, Clint Tullis, reached Floydada Saturday afternoon as did Stringer's brother, L. R., who was at Sweetwater when he got the news.

Hubert told Mrs. Stringer he recalled getting up and going to the bathroom for water to quench the fire but as he returned floated off into unconsciousness.

Bomb Fragments Are Dangerous Col. White Warns

Communities adjacent to Childress Army Air Field were advised today by Col. John W. White, commanding officer, for their own safety to make no contact with bomb fragments found in outlying fields. "While most of the bombs fall on the target areas," the colonel explained, "emergencies often make it necessary to release bombs over the open prairies. When this occurs it is possible that neighboring farmers often find parts of the bombs."

Colonel White warned that these fragments contain explosive charges which do not always go off upon striking the ground. "Instead of exposing yourselves to needless danger," he advised, "notify by telephone or post card either Capt. Pancher S. Archer, ordnance officer, or Lt. Vann B. Mitchell, bomb disposal officer, of the exact location of the bombs. In this way personal contact with the bomb needn't be made by civilians, and the danger will be removed in the fastest possible way."

Nancy Brown, Junior student, won the Carnival Queen's crown of Floydada High school Saturday night, with good looks plus personality. Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Brown of Cedar. This is her second year at Floydada high.

Jr. Candidate Carnival Queen

The Halloween carnival last Saturday night sponsored by the Junior class of Floydada High school, was pronounced a success both in terms of crowds, and funds. A crowd also attended the coronation ceremony at high school, following the carnival. "I am afraid," he said, "that a good many people have the idea that there will be places in agriculture for millions of returning veterans and persons who leave war plans. There have been such movements in almost every country after almost every war. In this country after this war, agriculture will offer no large scale possibilities along that line."

The Junior class and its sponsors, Mrs. Clinton Fyffe, Mrs. Phil Merry, Jr., and Miss Geneva Marr, are gratified with and appreciative for the help they had from so many sources in staging the carnival. B. K. Barker, city secretary, and the city light plant, for the lights, W. N. Garrett for the use of the building where the carnival was held, Willison & Son Lumber company for lumber and building supplies, and all the merchants who gave donations as prizes, are on the list of the class and its sponsors for words of thanks and appreciation. Welton Dunsavant, class president, is proud of the class spirit and the campaign organization which worked for and elected the junior candidate, Nancy Brown, queen of the annual Halloween carnival. "This is the first time, to my knowledge, that a Junior class has won the queen's contest and also given the carnival," said Mrs. Fyffe. Mrs. Merry and Miss Marr, as new sponsors, expressed thanks to all who helped in any way to make this annual affair such a success. Banquet Next Spring The next and biggest activity for the juniors is sponsoring the banquet given for the seniors in the spring. Funds raised at this October carnival will be used for that purpose.

PASTORS HELPERS CLASS

The Pastor's Helpers class will hold its all day meeting with Mrs. Ella Johnson November 14 instead of with Mrs. R. H. Willis as planned. Sgt. and Mrs. R. C. Patton of Lubbock visited from Thursday until Monday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Patton. They were accompanied by Floydada by Miss Nora Speck who will stay for an indefinite visit. Pvt. Guy Cantwell returned Sunday to his post in San Antonio after an 18-day furlough visit with his mother, Mrs. Bess Cantwell and his grandmother, Mrs. V. Andrews.

If you are overweight, perhaps due to over-indulgence in food and not due to any glandular disturbance, why not try this inexpensive home recipe to help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Here is a recipe that can be used inexpensively at home. Just get from your druggist 4 oz. of liquid BARCEL CONCENTRATE. Add enough grapefruit juice to make a pint. Then just take 2 tablepoonsful twice a day. Wonderful results may be obtained quickly. Now you may slim down your figure and lose pounds of ugly fat without back breaking exercise or starvation diet. It's easy to make and easy to take, and pleasant. Contains nothing harmful. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky weight and help regain slender, more graceful curves, return the empty bottle and get your money back.

WICKARD WARNS AGAINST ANY BACK-TO-LAND PLANS

Secretary Wickard warned sharply "against any belief that there can be any sizeable back-to-the-land movement after this war," when he appeared at a hearing of the House Special Committee on Post-war Economic Policy and Planning. "I am afraid," he said, "that a good many people have the idea that there will be places in agriculture for millions of returning veterans and persons who leave war plans. There have been such movements in almost every country after almost every war. In this country after this war, agriculture will offer no large scale possibilities along that line."

A substantial number of our men now in uniform came from farms. That number will be about sufficient to fill the gap left when women, children and older farmers drop out of farm work after the war. There is every reason to believe that a somewhat smaller, rather than larger, farm labor force will be needed to turn out full farm production. As we have seen, even under the most favored conditions, it will be no easy matter to maintain and improve the living standards of families already on the land. We cannot afford again to think of agriculture as a refuge or

A REPUBLICAN Administration that looks after business interests first, and not the farmer, that believes depressions are an act of Providence, and so does nothing about them! Or the DEMOCRATIC Administration that believes in prosperity for ALL, that believes in the American farmer—and that has PROVED it knows how to protect the farmer's interest today and tomorrow.

Three Republican Administrations watched the farmer sink deeper and deeper into the depression . . . AND DID NOTHING ABOUT IT!

The American Farmer has magnificently justified the faith shown in him by this Administration. Both the Land Banks and Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation have operated at a profit. On The Farm & Home Front

LEON C. RANSON
County Agricultural Agent
Texas A. & M. College

Home Demonstration Agent
Extension Service

A group of Floyd county cotton farmers are making plans to visit a Lamb county farm where three types of mechanical cotton harvesters are at work. The cotton has been defoliated by chemical treatment. Farmers who would like to attend this demonstration are invited to give the county agent their names so he can notify them of the specific date that the trip will be made.

The boys in the Lockney High school have organized a 4-H club and selected David Williams as their president. John Lee Carthel is vice-president and David Stowe is secretary. Supt. H. P. Clemens arranged the meeting. He and four other adults attended and gave the boys the benefit of their suggestions in getting off to a good start. H. W. Schacht, Ed Tutton, Vernon Daniels and Mr. Carthel were the other adults present.

Farmers who would like to sell direct to truckers are requested to list their names with the county agent. We are getting requests from organized groups of farmers in other counties for such information.

Leonard Smith of the McCoy community threshed 15,775 pounds of Waxy Grain sorghum from five acres last week and received a $280.75 check for it. This is an average yield of 3,155 pounds per acre and the premium paid by the purchaser made it bring $1.78 per hundred.

The need for cotton pickers in the county is beginning to get serious. The agent's office could place 300 hands today if we had them. The latest report is that all cotton counties from here to Waco are needing hands. There are not enough to go around because cotton is open in so many counties at the same time, and the weather during the first part of October kept hands out of fields most of the time.

Very few Mexicans will be coming into the county until they have picked the cotton down state and are given enough gasoline to get home on. They can get gasoline, but not until they have finished the job where they are. Local officials in the different counties are going to hold them just as long as they are needed if they can possibly do so. This means that the Mexicans that do come in here will be later than usual.

Farmers who must harvest their cotton now will have to depend on local labor, because that is all there is. Perhaps some thought should be given to rearranging school schedules to give the children more time to spend in the fields until the peak has been passed. This can be done by turning out earlier in the afternoon, or turning out Friday and Saturday each week, or dismissing school entirely for a few weeks. In the meantime, every boy and girl who can, should pick cotton on Saturdays to help the farmers save their crops.

Farmers who can wait, have two possibilities for getting their cotton harvested. A few Mexicans will come to the county later, and farmers can wait on them, or a lot of it can be gathered with slides after frost has killed the leaves and all the bolls are open. Modern gins

In the first quarter, the second, and again in the third, Floyd's football squad, marked the victory, 25 to 7, against the Dragons Friday night.

Womack, newly fashioned after playing for two seasons at end, made the score of the game for the first quarter, and in the second. Quarterback is credited with one touchdown in the first and Johnny Collins with a third. Glen Carmack, the backfield scoring unit, made the only extra point made by the team. Robertson and Morrison did a job of punting for the team. Murry gave practically the second quarter game a second string a chance to do as a team.

Erratic driving proves so inefficient in Wartime that it's no longer favored anytime.

Deftness is the style in motoring. Tactics like swooping in and out of line seem wasted, when the little coupe—from miles behind—presently shows up anyway in the "thrill-driver's" mirror.

That's skill—making a steady good average; not leaping and bounding to make it up. You'll show still greater regard for dutiful mechanism by having your engine OIL-PLATED—internally surfaced to resist corrosion by the unavoidable acids of combustion.

Changing to Conoco Nth motor oil will automatically give you an OIL-PLATED engine. Costly pioneer research created the special Conoco Nth ingredient that gives this popular-priced oil its magnet-like action. And that's what joins OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces, as if to stay.

Acids stay too, these days—infesting every cylinder in unreasonable quantities. Former chances of ousting corrosive acids are decreased these days by low engine temperatures—longer stretches of standing cold—mileage limitations of any kind. But you can keep your engine's fine inner finish under cover of protective OIL-PLATING—resisting corrosion! Just change to Conoco Nth motor oil at Your Mileage Merchant's. Continental Oil Company
