

Council Orders Municipal Vote in April Third

The city council of Floydada in its regular session last week issued the final resolution required for the city election to be held on the first Tuesday in April, which will be April 3.

On that date, according to the charter, a mayor, marshal, city secretary and five aldermen will be chosen by the electors of the city. The same as for voting in other general and special elections. Vote will be at the city hall and J. G. Boyd will be presiding judge. E. P. Johnson will be associate judge, Mrs. K. Arnold and Mrs. G. Scott will be clerks.

Two Candidates Announced
Today there are only two avowed candidates for city office. They are K. Barker, who is offering for elective term in the office of secretary and Bob Smith who is seeking re-election as city marshal. Smith succeeded the late Morrison Wright in office and was elected in the following April.

Possibility that at least two names will appear on the ballot for mayor is being discussed around town during the past week. A petition recently presented to J. C. Wester, carrying a good number of names, asked him to run for the office of mayor and pledged support.

Similarly the name of F. C. Harmon has been advanced as a possible candidate. Neither Wester nor Harmon have indicated definitely whether they will make application to get their names on the ticket.

A construction of the law given by the city authorities two years ago said that "drafting" a candidate and putting his name on the ticket without his consent did not constitute a legal filing. This fact, at that time, made it difficult to get candidates in any considerable number for mayor or places on the council. The requirement as understood at the city hall was that content of the "candidate" had to be given over his signature. Formerly the custom had been followed of petitioning names on the ballot without consulting the "candidates."

Mayor W. U. White has indicated his desire to be relieved of further duty as mayor, after serving four years. Since service at this post, as well as at those of councilmen, are made only at a sacrifice, some persuasion may be required to get names on the ballot, according to the conversation about town.

Crusher Hitch In Plans For Street Paving

A rock crusher through which to process caliche is the "hitch" in the current effort to get several blocks of the streets paved.

The council last week received bids for the paving project of some eight blocks leading to the schools. But all were contingent on the availability of a crusher of economical operating size for the job. Today the crusher has not been located.

Councilmen were about ready to call for collection of the pledges made in the winter for some $5,000 for the paving job, when it developed that the crusher would not be available immediately and matters are still being held in abeyance until this problem can be solved.

M. P. Greenwood-Adams, Lecturer, Will Give Second of Rotary Programs Tuesday Night

M. P. Greenwood-Adams, a distinguished professional lecturer, who will be here next Tuesday night under the sponsorship of the Floydada Rotary club will have as his subject, "Australia, New Zealand and the Islands of the Southwest Pacific."

His address will be the second of four successive lectures on Tuesday nights at the High School auditorium in what the club calls an Institute of International understanding, vouching for the speakers as outstanding authorities on their respective subjects.

Dramatist and Journalist
A native of Melbourne, Australia, where he was also educated, M. P. Greenwood-Adams received training in a dramatic school and later appeared on the stage, but he soon deserted the footlights for journalism, joining the staff of a weekly newspaper and becoming contributor to a number of Australian magazines. For years he traveled the length and breadth of Australia and New Zealand, and interspersed his travels with visits to the Dutch East Indies, and Pacific Islands, Europe, and the United Kingdom.

Lectured for Natl. Geographic
Next he gave his full attention to the lecture platform. In London, England, he gave a series of lectures over a period of three months at the famous Philharmonic hall. He then came to Washington, D. C., where he lectured for the National Geographic society, thus coming to be recognized in this country as an authority on Australia and New Zealand. In 1937 he returned to Australia where he lectured, broadcasted, and wrote feature articles for the newspapers. While in Australia, he lectured at Melbourne university. Upon his return to the United States, a few years ago, he was engaged by the United States War Department, Public Service Division to lecture on Australia to the men in the Armed services. In the accomplishment of this service, he travelled over 16,000 miles lecturing. (See Rotary Lecture, back page)

Sgt. Ralph Jones Home From Eighth Air Corps Combat

Home safely from England, where he served 437 flying hours, 273 of them in combat, as a member of a B-17 bomber squadron, is Staff Sergeant Ralph E. Jones, son of Edgar Jones.

Practically unscratched in the eight months of service over Germany the Floydada man arrived back in the states on February 5, and reached home Saturday from El Paso to spend 21 days with his wife and father, before reporting for a rest and re-assignment at Miami Beach, Florida.

Of the 35 missions done by Sgt. Jones' crew over the mainland of Europe, six or seven of the hottest were during the German breakthrough into Belgium. There his squadron, after being grounded by weather for seven days bombed and strafed German troops transport and installations. Most of the German strongholds mentioned in the fall and winter dispatches were included in missions which he made also.

Council Hopes to Make Clean Up Continuing Process thru Spring As Plans Laid for Emergencies

The city council of Floydada hopes to make the clean up campaign in Floydada this season a continuing process that will begin now and continue through the spring months. Necessity for this method of spring clean up has become apparent as the shortage of manpower has developed.

According to the council's line of thought one or more men can be kept busy for an indefinite period but several trucks and several men for an intensive week of clean up will not be available, most likely. Also, possibly, the continued effort may be more effective and prove more popular with the taxpayers.

Plane Traffic At Airport Grows

Traffic at the City-County Airport north of Floydada continues to grow, the heaviest day being one recent Sunday when the port had eight planes, including machines from Childress, Pampa and Lubbock.

On one day last week two planes flew in from cities within the 200-mile radius for brief business visits.

Noting the continued importance of maintaining an open airport in the county, the Commissioners court at their regular session last week voted to continue a $25 per month subscription to the support of the airport for an indefinite period or until the county port is put into operation.

Building Practically Completed
The 60 by 60-foot hangar at the county airport on the Lockney-Floydada highway has been completed, except for swinging the huge doors which will await arrival of special trucks.

Basketball Title Still in Balance; Final Friday

By taking a nip and tuck game last night on their home court 38 to 31 from the Lockney Longhorn basketballers, Matador High hung on to their fight for the championship of District 3-A and the right to enter regional conference play for further honors.

The last and final game of the two out of three following the tournament will be played at Wayland college gymnasium on Friday night beginning at 8:30. Authorities of the two schools agreed on this subject to the nod from Wayland, last night at Matador.

Harp for Matador was high man last night to keep his team in the running with 16 points. T. Carroll was high point man for Lockney with eight points. It was a battle from start to finish with never more than seven points difference in the scores.

Lopsided Score Monday Night
The Longhorns ran away with the game at their home court in Lockney school gymnasium Monday night 57 to 37. Their cagers rang up scores from all parts of the court their long shots being particularly accurate while the Matador boys seemed to be unable to keep their feet and gauge their shots.

Matador Wins Tournament
The Matadors roared into the playoff for the district title Saturday night by winning the conference tournament final game at Matador from the Floydada Whirlwinds 28 to 23 thus gaining the right to the play off with Lockney Longhorns, round robin winners during the season. The Longhorns, by winning every game except one, went into the tournament odds on favorites to repeat.

Displaying a flashy attack, the Matador club won in the finals, with Payne setting the pace for the winners with 12 points. But scoring honors of the game went to Morrison of Floydada, one of the outstanding players of the tournament. Morrison poured 14 points through the hoop.

In the semi-final tilt, Morrison again led the way, and paced the Floydada Whirlwinds to a 31-28 victory over the conference play leader, the Lockney Longhorns. This game was a thriller all the way, with Morrison flipping in ten (See BASKETBALL, back page)

Guy N. Smith Authority on The Weather

Guy N. Smith, conservationist with the Floyd County Soil Conservation district, doesn't claim to know a lot about what the weather is going to be but he definitely knows what it has been for the past nine years wheresoever he was located.

In the soil service for that period he has a diary of the daily weather for two years in Deaf Smith county, four years in Hall county and the past three years in Floyd.

His diary of the weather he keeps as an incident to a required diary of his work with the soil conservation service. So when an argument arises Mr. Smith merely turns back to the day and year and there's the information showing the weather exactly "as was."

Fall of the Alamo

(Texas has become increasingly conscious of the Alamo and its heritage of devotion to liberty. The following poem by Lynn Elliot, "Moonlight Over the Alamo," which appeared in the March, 1943, Junior Historical Association, merits a wider reading audience. With the approach of March 6, the date the Alamo fell, the poem becomes quite timely.—Ed. Note.)

MOONLIGHT OVER THE ALAMO

There are shadows that cling to the battered walls,
There are winds that weave through the roofless halls,
But more than these to him who listens
More than the silvered by that gleams
In the moonlight over the Alamo,
Are voices that shout, youthful and strong,
And you can hear in their battle song
That runs like a deep tide through their strife,
The love of youth for a full, free life.
They are the ghosts of men, youthful and bold,
Who knew the feel of steel that is cold,
They know how to fight with empty gun,
And how to die when the fight is done,
But never did death find a harder crew,
That could deal death back twenty to two;
And never has death stilled, before or after,
And never has life lost, gayer laughter.
For the shadows that cling to the battered walls,
And the breath that blows through the ivied halls,
In the moonlight over the Alamo
Are the ghosts of men who loved what they gave—
Lovers of life—but not its slave.
One hundred years and ten hundred more

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witz Spikes)

My desire to garden was suddenly quenched before anything was done about it by the change from summer to winter again. Mr. Spikes's cousin, Frank Fox did not like the idea of listing up in a garden, so he spaded mine up in good old East Texas style. Now don't get nervous. This is the first time mine was ever spaded up and for some 25 years I have made a garden. Deep into the ground he pushed the spading fork, turning over the earth and breaking up the clods. Clear to the fence he spaded, a job I usually took after the listing was made, but I only scratched the surface. Maybe my garden this year will be the kind with a capital V.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Ware spent this Sunday afternoon in our home. We had a very pleasant visit. Mrs. Ware gave me her recipe for doughnuts and it is so good I will pass it on.

I cup mashed potatoes—1 cup sugar—two small or one large egg—spoon half cup sweet milk—1/2 teaspoon baking powder—1/2 cup flour, lemon extract and one half teaspoon nutmeg. Fry in deep fat.

I have been wanting to see a copy of the book of poems recently published by Harper and written by Ethel Jeanette Mathison. I know the poems are lovely for I have two she composed.

The reason we do not see any solid color prints in stores is that they are out into strings and tied along the fence posts. Red and yellow, green and white, they excite our imagination as we know they mean something about oil. Mysterious numbers appear on smooth pieces of pine boards. What they mean we do not know, but we can day dream about black gold deep under the ground.

I never have had much luck with pot plants but last fall Mrs. Jenkins gave me some cuttings of geraniums and told me to hang them away in a closet for a short time, then put in pots. I did and left them in the closet so long, as I forgot all about them, that they looked so wilted and woebegone I did not think there was a possible chance of their resurrection. But I cut them up in short pieces and put them in some dirt.

Will roll by the war-scarred Mission door,
And ever free men will watch with pride
These ghosts of young men, guns at their side,
Whose last breath, lighting liberty's fire,
Still wafts with the smoke of a funeral pyre
In the moonlight over the Alamo.

Now they are green and give me much pleasure in watching them grow.

Mrs. Perkins of Balla, showed me some beautiful pillow cases she had made from feed sacks. She did a beautiful job of satin stitch embroidered lettering. She wondered how women got their husbands to pull off their best shirts when they went to work on tractors. Now just what do you do?

Dear Scientists
By May Richstone in Hollands Magazine.

"I've been reading of all those wonderful devices you plan for the home of tomorrow. You're only a man, of course, and you can't really be expected to know what a woman wants. With all due respect for the mechanical marvels you promise, I am not beguiled. Indirect lighting and remote control aren't going to solve any of my problems. Neither are knives that chop up garbage.

Far more importantly, I need such things as grappling hooks to pry me out of bed at seven A. M. and stand me on my feet, full of delight at the prospect of starting another day. At the end of the day, I would appreciate a magnet that slides out of the wall and hits me on the head when my mind is only a mass of muddled thoughts. O, how I need a long lever that reaches out when my laundry has failed to appear, and scoops up the one who is reporting for work next door. And wouldn't I love a front door that is sealed automatically to the surprise visit of guests when the house is a grand and glorious mess, complete with matching hostess. Perhaps those knives that chop up garbage could do double duty in disposing of unexpected guests.

"That dust-proof house you promise is all very well. But I also need a vacuum sweeper attachment at the back through which my man is dry-cleaned as he comes trailing in mud from the garden. I need a power-driven machine that goes through the room gathering up the endless variety of possessions that the family strews around. It gathers sports and replaces while it hums a little tune.

"Your ideas about movable walls, too, are going to fall short of perfection. I'm afraid I don't really see their advantage, unless you can arrange elastic quality to the house so that it shrinks to three rooms when we have guests I'd rather not accommodate, (E. G., my husband's family), and expand to ten rooms for the welcome guests (my family, of course).

"While we are on the subject of movable walls, perhaps you could contrive an impenetrable wall that will descend between the children when they begin to squabble. And while we are on the subject of children, if only you could work out some complicated device that lures a little boy upstairs, strips him, dunks him in the tub, inserts him into his pajamas, brushes his teeth, deposits him in bed, reads him a story, then fastens him out for the night. Further on the subject of little boys, I need two magic switches, one to erase all the fingerprints from all the walls, one to eradicate the nicks, scars and gouges from the furniture.

"With all these incredible uses you're finding for glass, perhaps you could also invent rose-colored glasses to perch on my husband's nose as he begins to go over my checking account and gets snagged in my complicated arithmetic.

"Then for a Saturday night, what I would consider a pearl beyond price is a contrivance that pushes like a snow plow and pulls like wild horses to propel my man out of the house and take me to the movies.

"Dear Scientists, simplify my work if you must, and give me a heavenly surplus of leisure and energy. But unless you do something along the lines I have indicated, I will not be one bit happier. I promise."

Housewives who've conscientiously wondered how to avoid waisting food when that last piece of pie has to be thrown away can listen to this advice which comes from Miss Edith Lawrence, food preparation specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service.

Although Americans are said to be the inventors of the famous combination of apples and pie crust, Miss Lawrence says that turnovers, tarts, and dumplings often suit the occasion as well and are a great saving. Pointing out that left over pieces of pie may "go begging" Miss Lawrence says, too, that turnovers are more convenient and easier to pack in lunch boxes.

To make apple turnovers, you roll pastry dough into rounds about the size of a large saucer. Arrange layers of thinly peeled sliced apples on half the pastry, sprinkle with a mixture of sugar, cinnamon or allspice and a bit of salt, and dot with fat. Moisten the edge of the pastry and fold the empty half over the apple-covered half. Press the edges together with a fork, and prick the top crust to allow steam to escape in cooking. Bake in a hot oven, 400 to 425° F., about 20 minutes until apples are tender and crust brown.

Miss Lawrence says apple dumpings are nice for a good winter dessert. Peel and core whole apples. Roll the dough in rounds about the size of fruit plates. In the center of each round place the apples, sprinkled with sugar, spice and salt and dotted with fat. Lift the edges of the dough up to the top of the apple and press together like a bag. Bake in greased muffin tins in a hot oven 30 to 40 minutes until the apple is tender.

As for tarts, she says that they are the easiest yet to make. Bake pastry shells on inverted muffin tins. Just before serving fill the shells with well-seasoned applesauce. If desired sprinkle with nutmeg or chopped nuts.

Snow Is Melting
A Little 'Some-
Where in France'

Snow two feet in depth "somewhere in France" had begun to melt the least bit, around the first of the month, according to Sgt. Tommie W. Norvell, infantryman U. S. army in a letter received recently by his father, J. H. Norvell.

In a previous mid-January letter Sergeant Norvell was anxious to hear from the folks and thought his mail was being mis-sent as he had had no word since before Christmas about home. The boys over there are going through some tough stuff he says.

Tommie has two brothers in the service. Luther is a navy radioman in the Pacific War theatre and James Arthur is in the Marines also somewhere in the Pacific.

DAN GOODSON LIKES THE NAVY FINE HE WRITES HOME

Dan Goodson, who entered the Navy recently writes his mother, Mrs. L. F. Goodson of 211 North Main, that he likes the Navy fine. Dan has two brothers and a brother-in-law now in the service, Pvt. David B. Blanton of Camp Roberts, California, his oldest brother, Sgt. Leslie Goodson, now in the Philippine Islands and Cpl. David R. Goodson at San Antonio, Texas. A third brother, Tommie, was recently given a medical discharge from the army because of bad health.

Before entering the navy Dan was employed at Arwine drug.

RETURNS TO ARMY SERVICE

T/Sgt. Tom Noble Jackson, who has been here on a furlough visit with his mother, Mrs. N. G. Jackson from the Pacific War theatre, left last week to return to duty. He was to report at Seattle, Washington, and expected to return to a Central Pacific base.

BRONZE STAR IS AWARDED
S. SGT. J. W. NICHOLS

Among the plains of Texas soldiers attacking the west wall of the Nazi defenses is Staff Sergeant J. W. Nichols, of Tulia, a son of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nichols and a nephew of J. M. Willson of this city.

Sgt. Nichols recently was awarded the Bronze star for heroic service against the enemy in France last August. Member of an engineer combat battalion he took over command of his platoon when the platoon leader was a casualty of heavy German Artillery and small arms fire falling in the area.

Nichols successfully carried out the crossing of the Seine river in support of assaulting troops, and in the ensuing action his platoon successfully breached both mine fields and barbed wire entanglements, and under Nichols' leadership aided in the capture of 20 prisoners.

Sgt. Nichols entered the service in January, 1943, and went overseas in October of the same year.

Methodist Notes, 1st District
 Conditions were rather favorable for church attendance yet we had an average attendance at both Bellview and Aiken morning services. The church took a turn for the worse, a few came for the evening service. Something was wrong with the lighting system, and we had to call the electrician. Our subscription to the Southwestern Advocate has reached 44 in number. We started in to try for 50. We have reached 44, so now we are trying to get 50. Sunday at Carr's Chapel we had a financial part of the service for Christ. We have been in the Southwestern Advocate so many places that have paid their quotas; and most have gone away over. Listen to our report next week. We know, for we are determined that nothing is done this time. The Aiken Circuit will be in so remote that it may not be known to the public. Our are able and I believe they G. Walker, pastor.

W women and girls may get wanted relief in functional periodic pain
 Many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervousness of functional periodic distress. Taken as a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "time" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

Coops Purchase Refining Plant At Levelland

AMARILLO, Feb. 18—Purchase of the Motor Fuel Corporation of Levelland, Texas, including its refining plant and facilities, by the farmers and cooperative associations of Texas, Oklahoma, and New Mexico, was announced yesterday by Leonard F. Cowden, general manager of Consumers Cooperatives associated.

The 5,500 barrel-a-day refinery includes a modern topping plant, a cracking unit, Ethyl blending plant, Peroxide desulfurization unit, about 150,000 barrels of storage, 120 acres of real estate, and all the rolling stock, office facilities and buildings incorporated into the physical equipment at the Levelland location. The plant is served by the Slaughter oil pool, some 14 miles southwest of the refinery location, through a gathering system direct to the refinery.

Officers of the new Consumers Cooperative Refinery Association are H. H. Hogue, Dalhart, President; R. B. Gist, Happy, Vice-President; and W. W. Kurfess, Plainview, Secretary. Other directors are J. H. Leggett, Denton; Wood Johnson, Brownfield; George M. Cooper, Perryton; and Lamar Fulda, Corpus Christi. Mr. Cowden will be general manager and treasurer of the new association. Joe Denton, Jr., of Levelland, active manager of the plant for the past five years, will continue in that capacity.

Of the purchase price of more than three-quarter million dollars paid for the refinery, more than 1,500 farmers, other individuals, and cooperative associations purchased $400,000 in capital stock in a campaign during the last year. The balance of the purchase price was financed through a loan from the Houston Bank for cooperatives, of which W. J. McAnelly is president. Decision to purchase and operate a refinery cooperatively grew from a discussion at the annual meeting of the stockholders of Consumers Cooperatives association held in Amarillo a year ago in which the matter of continued availability of fuel and petroleum products for agricultural purposes was brought up and the matter of maintaining the price of such commodities commensurate with the cost of farm operation was discussed.

The stockholders voted to instruct the officials of Consumers Cooperatives associated to open negotiations for the purchase of a refinery, which was begun immediately, later resulting in the organization of Consumers Cooperative Refinery association.

The deal was handled by Mr. Cowden, acting for his board of directors, and the successful stock selling campaign throughout the territory was handled by his local staff, including A. L. Mills and R. V. Mescham, fieldmen; Don H. Wood, manager of the service department; Ted R. Wade, office manager; and Donald W. May, educational director.

(Consumers Fuel association of Floydada, Consumers Fuel association of Lockney and between 50 and 100 citizens of Floyd county have stock in the co-operative organization which has finally consummated a deal whereby the ownership of a refinery was obtained.—Ed. Note)

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Patterson have taken up their residence in Lubbock, where Mr. Patterson was transferred recently by the Southwestern Public Service company, with which he is associated.

Texans Making Big Investment In Savings

A record investment in savings on the part of Texans is indicated in the forty-second annual report to policyowners of Southwestern Life Insurance company released here today by C. F. O'Donnell, president.

R. E. Fry

showing the largest business gains in the company's history since 1928.

Insurance in force at the close of 1944 gained $31,709,407 for a total of $481,718,273. Assets now total $108,940,511, a gain of $10,751,709 over assets reported at the close of 1943.

Mr. O'Donnell announced that the company had invested more than $50,000,000 in United States government securities since Pearl Harbor.

Mr. O'Donnell's report noted an expanding interest in pension plans in Texas, through which both large and small business enterprises are providing retirement income for their permanent employees. In this connection, he said that since entering this field, the Southwestern Life Insurance company has underwritten pension business on more than 60 of the 104 plans adopted in Texas.

While military deaths were high, overall statistics compared favorably with the Company's five-year record, due to lower civilian mortality. Death claims paid during the year under policies on persons in the armed forces of the nation amounted to $474,858 and the Company has $65,500 insurance in force on persons reported missing in action, and $25,500 on persons reported as prisoners of war.

Mr. O'Donnell expressed satisfaction with the 1944 production of the Floydada agency, and said that more than 140 members of the company's agency organization and home office personnel are in the armed service of the United States. Of the original number entering the armed service, three have been reported missing in action, and two have lost their lives while in training. "The Company", he said "is conscious of the great sacrifice they are making, and is deeply proud of them."

Representing the Company locally is R. E. Fry.

With this new arrangement the treating plant is being moved from the company's warehouse to add considerably to the speed and convenience with which grains for planting can be treated. Mr. Leonard said.

FARMERS GRAIN COMPANY HAS NEW LIFT, BUILDING A NEW CERESAN MIXER

The Farmers Grain Company is going to be forehanded this year in carrying on improvements at their elevators and warehouses. Troy Leonard, manager of the elevator business this week announced the completion of a new electrically-driven lift at their wholesale grain elevator dump, which is expected to save time during the rush of the wheat season.

At the same time the company also has underway the construction of a new Ceresan treating house at the former Boothie elevator and mill site.

INSURANCE FIRE!

Farmers are so used to paying double for Fire Insurance that when I quote Farmers Union low rates, they are afraid our company isn't safe. Get the facts! Oklahoma Farmers Union with exactly our low rates have paid every claim in full . . . for 19 years and have piled up over $3,000,000.00 . . . that still belongs to the farmers. They have their millions behind Texas Farmers Union Policies. Insurance laws of Texas says we are safe.

A. L. Hollums paid $105.00 and saved $104.00 on the premium of a 5 year policy by buying Farmers Union Fire Insurance. Last summer after a bad hail storm, in less than 48 hours . . . he collected nearly double from Farmers Union Company what G. C. Collins in the same hail storm collected from an old line company after a SHORT wait of about 3 months! Needless to say, when it came time to renew . . . Farmers Union is now carrying Mr. Collins Insurance, too.

If the old line companies will tell you . . . find out what small per cent of our country's Fire Insurance money has been coming back to us as losses? You then will realize why Farmers Union can safely operate on less than half their rate. The savings is yours.

Mr. W. T. Robertson of 4 miles west of Floydada, chased the rate situation down and cancelled his 5 year $1500.00 Fire Insurance Policy with an old line company because it would cost him $108.00. He took the same 5 year $1500 policy in our Farmers Union Company, and it will cost him just $45.00, a mere savings of about $63.00. He says: "Ed, I need protection, but I just can't afford their high rates."

Mr. Farmer, You've worked and own the property! Isn't it worth $30.00 to have your own Farmers Union Fire Insurance to guarantee you $1,000.00 full protection for 5 years against fire, lightning, hail, tornado and wind? Pay the $30.00 in 3 payments if you wish.

SAFETY FIRST
 for you and your car!

WARNING! The traffic toll in winter regularly climbs to a peak fifty per cent higher than the summer accident rate.

And this winter, because tires and cars are older, both cars and lives will be wrecked at a rate far faster than ever, unless YOU do something about it!

So take every possible precaution . . . Drive slowly and alertly, because it requires from four to eleven times the usual braking-distance to stop a car, without chains, on wet snow or ice . . . Don't close-in on the car ahead . . . Slow down well before reaching crossings . . . And watch out for pedestrians picking their way in hazy twilight or darkness.

At any other time in our nation's history, there would have been something sacrilegious in discussing the saving of cars in the same breath with the saving of human life. Today, however, the country's war effort and well-being depend on an ever-dwindling supply of essential transportation. Lives are important, and so are irreplaceable automobiles.

Do your humane and patriotic part to save lives. Let your Phillips 66 Service Man do his patriotic part to help you save your car.

He has many engineered Tire-Saving and Car-Saving services. Some are free; some carry a small charge for materials and labor. All are a real aid in making your car and your tires last longer and go further.

Drive in at the Orange and Black 66 Shield, the sign of famous Phillips 66 Gasoline and Phillips 66 Motor Oil. But for safety's sake, drive 1-0-u-l-y!
