Campaign Closes With Three Tons Clothing

Section of good used clothing county had closed Tuesday week and the announcement made that the shipment going this week would approximate tons of clothing.

Jack Henry and Mrs. A. E. shipping and reporting three heads, yesterday said a considerable number of volunteers had made possible preparation and packing of clothing for immediate shipment to collection depots on the from which trans-shipment will be made by UNRRA.

Thousands of refugees, their lives and their homes destroyed by the accompanying illness and destitution, will benefit from shipments of clothing going to European and African for re-distribution. In some cases clothing was being given prior to the war. It was indicated in reports made to local people by J. Kaiser, national chairman of the clothing campaign.

Walter Hale, of Floydada, county chairman of the drive, Mrs. C. J. McCollum of Lockney, Mrs. Billie Stanforth of South Plains, and Mrs. W. S. Poole, of Lockney, as able and active assistants. Widespread interest in the campaign was evinced and hundreds of homes in Floyd county contributed articles for shipment, though little active canvassing was done. Principal depot for collection of the clothing was in the basement of the court house.

Five Counties Represented At Convention

Five counties were represented in the Five-County Singing convention held here Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church, the semi-annual gathering of the organization of sacred music singers. Eight districts were included among the districts.

Commissioners Push Road Plans for the County

Continuing their effort to keep the county's farm-to-market roads in the fore the Commissioners met Tuesday afternoon conferred with the State Highway commission in Austin and urged the adoption of a plan on which post-war work will be carried out.

Judge W. E. Grimes and Commissioners W. H. Brock and R. B. Whitman made the trip to the capital city for the court here, expecting to reach home yesterday or last night.

David Lane Kirk In U. S. Again

David Lane Kirk, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ohmer W. Kirk, has advised his parents by wire that he is back in the United States once more and hopes to see them soon. He wired from an Eastern hospital camp.

Wounded in the shoulder while on a patrol looking for a place to set up a command post, David Lane had anticipated return to battle service soon.

The fact that he has been evacuated from the war theatre and sent back home indicates to his parents that their son's wounds has not responded to treatment as was expected. He has been taking treatments for a paralytic condition in the arm, he has indicated.

Iron Lung Fund Is Still Growing; Many See Device

Although the halfway mark in raising funds for the Iron lung for Floyd county, sponsored by the Floyd county Fire department had not been reached the first of the week, the fund was growing gradually as interest in it was whetted by public demonstrations and talks on its value to the community in life-saving.

Carl Rodgers, chief of the department, has made tentative plans to show the machine at Lockney one or more days of next week, he announces. However, dates and place could not be given this office as late as yesterday.

Boy Scouts of South Plains have the honor of being high organization to date in raising funds for the Iron lung. A box supper sponsored by them last week raising $180. Nearly $350 in all has been donated from South Plains for the fund.

The youth had been attending the annual junior-senior banquet of the school in Floydada and had parted from his classmates only several minutes before the crash. The body was extricated from the wreckage with difficulty and returned to Floydada by Grady Hall of Harmon Funeral home and officers. He was killed instantly, when his car rammed under the truck headed east, the same direction in which the youth was traveling.

Staff Sergeant Douglas Pitts Cited, Awarded Bronze Star

Another Floyd county boy, Staff Sergeant Douglas A. Pitts, has been awarded the bronze star medal for bravery on February 25, news of the bronze star citation was only reached here last week-end by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. H. Pitts.

Wounded while a member of an Assault unit moving up into Germany, Douglas went to the battalion aid station, the citation recites, to seek medical attention in company with a buddy also injured at the same time. Finding the aid station building aflame on their arrival, "they unhesitatingly entered it, descended into the smoke filled cellar and courageously proceeded to carry out wounded soldiers who could not leave by themselves." The citation of the division, commander of the division, of which their assault unit was a part. News of their assault unit was a part. News of their assault unit was a part.

Every door they tried was locked, so Sgt. Pitts placed his BAR at the lock of a door and fired. All he got was a discouraging "click" from his rifle. Pfc. Scherer then stepped up and tried his luck. No dice!

Pfc. Porter and Pfc. Swiney attempted to fire theirs. Sure enough rain and mud had clogged the other two BAR's. Finally, Staff Sergeant Lorin L. Hewitt, 7837 Northeast Prescott, Portland, Oregon, blew the lock off with his M1.

Beads of sweat were on Sgt. Pitts' face.

"Damned good thing the Jerries didn't stick around to test our 'security,'" he said.

John D. Cantrell, 3 Times Wounded, Home from Europe

When Pfc. John D. Cantrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cantrell, knocked on the door at the family home in Floydada Wednesday night of last week and asked if "this is where the Cantrells live," it was the first information the family had that their son was not still in the battle lines in Germany. Johnny himself was almost as much surprised to be at home. Enroute and when he landed he had debated whether to wire his mother and decided against it. A telegram, he feared, might be more shocking than for him to walk in.

Wounded Three Times

His outfit was in battle and was preparing for the assault on the Rhine river on April 5, when he was called down to CP and asked if he had been wounded three times. Answering affirmatively, he was told to leave out, that he had a 45-day furlough home. Late the same afternoon he had quit his company and started on his way. He was 20 days making it to Floydada by way of El Paso, where he checked out to begin his furlough.

John D. wears the Purple heart with two oak leaf clusters for three wounds received in battle, a wound in the shoulder, one in the hip and one in the lower leg. It was the latter wound that kept him in the hospital for some weeks. He had been overseas about 14 months, wearing two overseas service bars. His other decorations include the combat infantry badge, and the European-African-Middle Eastern theatre campaign medal with three bronze service stars to theatre campaign medal.

Twilight Softball Players Will Use 'Choose Up' Plan

To eliminate confusion and to make the twilight softball games more enjoyable for all players, it was announced this week by a committee composed of Jake Watson, Floyd Johnston, Felt Patterson and Aaron Carthel, that an organization meeting of softball players will be held at Andrews Ward gymnasium Tuesday evening of next week, (May 8) following the twilight game.

At this meeting all the softball players will be asked to be present or represented, and it is announced that the roster of players will be made up from the names of those present at that meeting. Captains will be elected and these will choose in rotation. The hope is to have enough names to make up the roster of four teams.

Efforts at organization for the past two weeks have been hindered by too small representation at the meetings.

A game is scheduled for Friday evening of this week at the Ward school grounds and the game next Tuesday evening, to be followed by the organization meeting to adopt a tighter plan, name players and adopt rules and regulations. ### THE MAN WHO IS 12 YEARS OLD

(Editorial from the Patchogue Advance, Patchogue, N. Y.)

"The Man Who Is Twelve Years Old," a poem by Maurice Smiley, has become a symbol of the prayers and hopes with which countless Americans, and people of all nations, are following the International Conference at San Francisco.

Mr. Smiley's verses, saluting youth, have been given nationwide prominence as the result of a campaign undertaken by one of our country's leading business concerns, to help center public attention on the Conference.

Without mentioning their own business in any way, except for a sponsorship signature, the General Cable Corporation has run the Smiley poem in newspapers from coast to coast. An inspiring illustration of a twelve year old boy is used as a background for the poem.

Because of this broad publicity to more than a thousand newspapers, delegates to the Conference as well as the general public undoubtedly will have a clearer vision of the fundamental importance to future generations of the deliberations which are taking place today.

Mr. Smiley's poem, which has found a place in the hearts of countless thousands, is given below: "There's a man that I know, and he lives near you.

In a town called Everywhere; You might not think he's a man from his hat.

Or the clothes he may chance to wear; But under the jacket with many a patch.

Is a heart more precious than gold. The heart of a man 'neath the coat of a boy.

A man who is twelve years old. We never may know what the future will make.

Of the boys that we carelessly meet,

For man a statesman is now at school.

And Presidents play in the street. The hand that is busy with playthings now.

The reins of power will hold; So I take off my hat and gladly salute.

"This man who is twelve years old."

THE MORTON TRIBUNE

Number 8 of Volume 5, the Morton Tribune reached The Hesperian office this week, with the name of Douglas Meador at the mast-head as publisher and editor. Formerly the Cochran County Headlight the newspaper was acquired several days ago by the Matador publisher. First issue under the new management was a sprightly appearing newspaper well edited and nicely done typographically.

Evidently the Motley county-reared newspaperman is going to do as good a job at Morton as he has been doing for a number of years at Matador with the Tribune there. Incidentally it should be said the Matador periodical was a lively newspaper, too, last week under the supervision of Mrs. Meador.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

It is hard to collect my mind this April Monday morning. The sweet word, Peace, is being whispered and we long for the loud clear call that will tell all war in Europe is over and that war with Japan will soon cease.

I cannot let myself get to thinking too much about it. The time has been so long that my son has been away and yours and yours, whether the time has been only days, weeks or years it has been long, too long. Every time I see a picture in a paper of a mother welcoming her son it makes me happy and I almost feel my arms around me.

How happy the inmates of the ark must have been when the waters receded and they stepped on dry land again! How happy we will be when the waters that separate us and the ones we love bring them back to us and they step on their native soil once more!

The big cured ham will be taken from their racks on the farms, the special jar of preserves will be opened, the crank of the freezer will turn and every lovely dish will be set out, when our boys come home.

Saturday was such a nice fine day in Crosbyton. The sky was blue with here and there a tiny white cottony cloud. The air was gentle cooling one's face from the hot sun.

Cars were thick as blackbirds on a feed stalk, farmers and business men looked with interest at the fine collection of animals from the neighboring farms and ranches. Women walked around, trying to keep an eye on Johnny and Susie who were going everywhere with the ease of drops of kerosene oil, slipping through cracks, under the heels of cantering horses, by the horns of cattle and on top of cars.

Yes, young America was having a time. Just across the street Crosbyton club women sold lunches, and ran red soda pop into tin cups for customers. And really Mrs. Percy Lamar did make a good salesman! She talked one into being hungry then into buying something to stop that hunger.

I like to watch the Future Farmers groom their animals. Not beauty getting ready for her first ball was getting more attention. The calf's hair shone in the sunshine and all looked as if they had had a bath. Both Mr. Hilliar of Farmer and Oran Wheeler of Come looked as happy as the boys as they saw ribbons hung on the stuff they had brought.

The cattle seemed somewhat restless the horses seemed to enjoy the admiration given them but the hogs were at home, they had a shady place to stretch out in and it was time to snore, which they did and never cared a fig for the passers by. The show was a sight to the County agents for they had worked with the boys for this hour.

Around and around rode the ones on horses, up the street the horses feet clattered louder than the passing cars. Red silk blouses, and red bandanas fluttered from girls and boys as they rode. The sun caught and gleamed on a shirt of gold satin, spurs made music, ropes whistled through the air and onto stubborn necks of dogs. "I never dreamed there would be so much to show," folks said one to another. "Why this is simply fine."

"Where in the world did all these horses come from?" "Yes, that's Charlie Middleff on that black, he knows how to ride." "Do you suppose the boys curled that Hereford calf's hair?" And so they talked and laughed and enjoyed the show.

Friday will be my birthday and all the kin will remember that May Fourth, 1892, the Jones' loaded up their best and corn and plows, their cured meat and peach preserves in Good Old Parker county, let the small herd out of the lot, climbed into the ox wagons and onto saddled horses, called the dogs and started to the Plains on Jones' fourth birthday. There is no getting around my age. I am just that old and nobody forgets. But what do I care? I lived in the west when it was brand new, saw the country grow from ranches to farm homes and lovely little townland cities, from coal oil lamps to electric lights, and my people remember me on my birthday. Sweet Aunt Mirt, bless her heart, sent me a book, "Blaze Star" and a long letter, mother sent me a lovely vase, clear as a spring of water and with the hint of the blue, blue sky, being reflected in it. As the days go on others will remember and I feel their love as they remember.

How we missed Mr. Curry when we stepped in the Review Office! Many years he has met us when we visited and always made us feel so welcome. But we feel sure he has left the paper in good capable hands and now he can have time for his stamp-collecting hobby.

An old Spanish saying is that "a kiss without a mustach is like an egg without salt."

Ye that have faith to look with fearless eyes Beyond the tragedy of a world at strife, And trust that out of night and death shall rise, The dawn of ampler life; Rejoice, whatever anguish rend your heart, That God has given you a priceless dower.

To live in these great times and have your part In Freedom's crowning hour; That you may tell your sons who see the light High in the Heavens—their heritage to take—"I saw the powers of Darkness put to flight, I saw the Morning break."

Fresh Pineapple Soon on Market for Canning

COLLEGE STATION, April 26—Fresh pineapple soon will be on the market, and since canned pineapple on grocery shelves requires high tolls in blue ration points, many Texas homemakers, both rural and urban, are expected to can pineapple at home this year.

Sugar loaf and Smooth Cayenne, varieties imported into Texas from Mexico, seem to be the best for canning, in the opinion of Mrs. W.
J. Leverenz, food preservation specialist for the A. and M. College Extension service. She suggests selecting ripe fruit, since if pineapple is sun ripened it has more flavor and contains more fruit sugar. Ripe pineapple can be distinguished since it is orange colored, and the spines can readily be pulled out.

Unripe fruit not only is lacking in flavor, but it sometimes is irritating to the lining of the stomach, the specialist explains. She suggests that if fruit has been gathered before it is ripe, it should be wrapped in thick paper and kept for a few days, preferably at a temperature between 65 and 75 degrees F. Soft, over-ripe fruit should be avoided, since it results in waste, and the cost of canning it is higher.

Pineapple canned in plain tin cans has a better flavor and color than when canned in enameled cans or glass jars. Recipes for canning pineapple or pineapple juice are available from county home demonstration agents. They also can supply directions for candied pineapple to be used in fruit cake. Mrs.
Leverenz cautions that individuals should stay within the five pounds of sugar allowed for making jellies, jams and preserves, so canning or freezing pineapple seems preferable.

Pineapple to be frozen is prepared as for canning and packed into air tight moisture proof containers. It should be covered with syrup made by dissolving one half to three-fourths of a cup of sugar to one cup of hot water. The syrup should be added when it has cooled. Then the container should be sealed and quick frozen as quickly as possible.

Pineapple canning is a popular activity among the students of the Future Farmers of America chapter at the local high school. The students have been studying the art of canning and have been preparing samples for the county fair. The chapter has been very successful in their canning projects and has received many commendations from the judges. The chapter is very active and is planning to hold a canning contest in the near future.

How to caponize, how to grow and develop a capon, and how to market
the fowl, one of the studies that Future Farmers of the local high school chapter have recently begun. As the first step in the process several cockerels have been caponized by the students of the class already.

The Vocational students' leader,
H. G. Barber, to make the study more interesting is offering a prize of $5 to the student who has the best capon in a show they will hold in October. Mr. Barber would like to see more interest in good fowls and more interest in capons for the market than at present in the area.
With a bit of encouragement the show idea might be spread out to cover a county-wide area, he said.

It is harder to fly a plane from east to west than from west to east.
The earth turning on its axis from west to east, drags along an envelope of atmosphere, which when added to the prevailing winds that also move in the same direction make it necessary for west-bound fliers to buck headwinds all the way along the westward route.

Judge looking at the docile husband, what induced you to hit your wife? With a small shrug the little man answered Well, she had her back to me, she was bent over, the frying pan was handy, and the back door was open. So—I just took a chance.

Unfortunately, few of the tokens and souvenirs placed in the cornerstone have been located, since bystanders, mostly teen-age boys confiscated the contents before they could be identified and listed.
Among the few items that were brought to the Tribune office, was a copy of The Matador Mavrick, dated Friday, September 23, 1904.
The cornerstone was laid the following Tuesday, according to an item appearing in the badly torn,
age abused publication.

The Pullman conductor one night found a red lantern hanging in one of the lower berths, so he looked up George, the porter and asked:
"Say, George, why is that red lantern hanging on lower six?"
"Well, boss, Rule No. 23 in my rule book says that you should always hang up a red lantern when the rear end of a sleeper is exposed."

People did not discover that the tomato was edible until about 1850.
Before that time it was general be-now quality oil is more important than ever before...but even motorists who are twenty times as old as our troubled little friend, don't know choosing a quality oil can become a chore, a bore, and a headache.

Well, Phillips puts an end to your oil worries, and tells you how you can pick quality with certainty every time.
You know that oils may differ greatly...in chemical composition, in lasting power, in stability...and in other ways. And Phillips offers a number of differing lubricants to meet various preferences of car-owners.
But if you want our best oil, remember that Phillips tells you frankly that Phillips 66 Motor

Mother's Day Is May Thirteenth

General observance of Mother's day in churches, among civic clubs and organizations, and in homes of Floyd county was forecast this week by preparations reported under way to make the day one of more than ordinary significance this war year.

Hospital Care For Sick Mother's Day will be observed by Baptists throughout Texas in a concerted effort of all Sunday schools and churches to provide hospital care for the sick poor in the five Baptist hospitals of the state.

Every Baptist is invited to make a gift to the sick and needy on what day, May 13, as a personal tribute in honor, or in memory, of his own mother.

Gifts will be collected into a special fund which will be used solely for giving hospitalization to critically ill patients in need of hospital therapy but unable to pay for such treatment.

Patients cared for under the plan will, upon discharge from the hospital be given a bill marked "Paid by the Baptist churches of Texas"

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. England and daughter, Sue Ann, are in Henrietta this week, where they are visiting his mother, Mrs. F. England.

Methodist Notes, Aiken District

J. G. Walker, Pastor

We had a good attendance at Carr's Chapel Sunday morning though there were some absent that have been regular attendants. I think that the spirit of the services Sunday was the best we have had. The one's absent missed the good fellowship; but, if wholly under the leadership of the Lord, may have had a better blessing.

Sunday, you know was Fifth Sunday; and maybe that all did not fully understand that we were to have services, then maybe, it being an off Sunday they were not so much impressed with the responsibility of attendance. Sunday evening was the smallest attendance we have had the entire year at that place.

When the Prophet Elijah became discouraged, he ran far away and took a nap under a Juniper tree, and the Lord had an angel to wake him up and give him his supper; and he lay down and slept through the night, and the angel woke him up and gave him his breakfast and let him continue on his discouraged journey. This preacher can't sleep good under discouragements.

My wrap-up last week did not get into the paper; it may have been too late, and then it might have been the stuff suitable for the waste basket, and this scribbling seems just the material to find its way to the junk pile. We do hope it gets in and we can have an even start next week.

Don't forget the services at Bellview and Aiken next Sunday; also keep in mind the district meeting at Muldrow 8 and 9 of this month. Carr's Chapel is arranging a Mother's day program. Hope Aiken and Bellview will arrange one also.

TO HOLD FARMERS MEETING

A farmers meeting will be held Wednesday night of next week at the McCoy school house. Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

FROM GUN DIRECTORS TO FARM TELEPHONES

Sharpshooting with anti-aircraft guns seems pretty remote from telephone science—yet Bell telephone research created an "electrical brain" that gives deadly aim to sky-pointing gunners. One gun in Normandy, controlled by the Western Electric gun director, bagged a Nazi plane in only three shots.

The same expert telephone research that developed the electrical gun director has already found new ways to extend and improve farm telephone service. Practical telephone men are busy right now planning how best to use those new ideas.

They'll be ready to go when the war-time telephone job eases up.

Keys Will Go Armed Forces

STATION—Turkeys for holiday dinner of the United States this year will be raised under a one hundred million dollar program of the War Food Administration order which became effective April 8.

The program was approved by the WFA received from the War Food Administration and M. College Extension says that the 1945 procurement program will operate under order 106 which was in effect until the 1944 requirements were filled.

As stated, the order is revised to include procurement of hen turkeys normally marketed in April, May and June, as well as the late summer marketed in the late summer and fall. It will remain in effect until the full quantity of turkeys needed is bought by the U. S. Quartermaster Corps for all armed services. While most of the supply will be used to provide dinners, a part of the over-shipment may be used under present military program for poultry.

The revised order applies in all of the authorized processors in the turkey area, which includes the set-aside of all turkeys. The must be slaughtered by authorized processors and held in delivery to the QMC, a wholesale receiver, or delivered to cold storage for ultimate use by the QMC.

Of less than 25 turkeys inspected, provided there is no disease processor located within miles of their farms. These apply for release to the Dairy Product Branch, Office to Marketing Services, 425 Wilson Building, Dallas 1.

The statement specifies that each processor must apply to the deputy administrator for authorizing the location of the plants, and state that the plant is approved by the U. S. Veterinary Corps. In addition, they must agree to process turkeys according to U. S. specifications, and that all processed turkeys will be handled as required by the order.

Ensign R. Swinney made a trip to town last week-end where he was called by the serious illness of his father.

GRAND NEPHEW OF J. J. SPIKES KILLED IN CRASH OFF COAST OF FLORIDA

Ensign Don Spikes, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Spikes of Amarillo and a grandnephew of J. J. Spikes of southwest Floyd county, was one of the April casualties in the U. S. Navy Air corps. He was killed in a crash off the coast of Florida. The crash occurred on April 19, his 21st birthday.

The crash occurred when he attempted to land on a carrier after his plane had gone into a tail spin. Coming in too low he failed to gain altitude, his plane went out of control and dove into the ocean. No hope is held for him relatives were told by his commanding officer.

Ensign Spikes is a grandson of Mrs. Fred Spikes of Lubbock, one-time resident of Floydada. His father, John Velton Spikes, lived in Floydada a number of years while a boy.

J. L. Hilton, in company with his daughter, Miss Joe Cowan, of San Jon, New Mexico, was here Saturday and Sunday, guests of Mr. Hilton's brother, W. H. Hilton and Mrs. Hilton.

Harvey Lee Newberry who is stationed at Camp Fannin, Tyler, Texas, writes the home folks that he is sorry that Floyd county could not get some of the rain that they are getting down there. He says that the day he received his medal in rifle range he had to whip the water off the sight but he still made 36 points out of 40. He is the husband of the former Jean Sims.

INSURANCE FIRE

One of the old line boys seems to be trying to leave the impression that I am a "cut-rater"? Even if I was, I'd rather be a "cut-rater" than a double-rater." The fact is, the rate we are charging (60c per $100.00 per year) is standard for safe insurance, the Co-Op way. The Co-Op company that backs us up has piled up over $4,000,000.00 surplus in the last 19 years, just charging the same low "cut-rate," if you please.

I don't say it is "just as good," it's "better." Actual records in Floyd County prove that we pay more than the Old Line boys when a loss occurs.

And you don't always get what you pay for either. I cite you to two instances as proof. 1st: I have a record in my possession where on Old Line salesman received more as commission for selling a policy, than the insurance records of Texas says it takes to pay average losses! Did the farmer who bought the Old Line policy get "LESS" than he paid for? 2nd: Last Fall, on the streets of Floydada, a group of fellows were discussing how to get the farmers cotton pulled? An Old Line Fire Insurance agent was in the bunch and someone asked him why he didn't go help? He said: "It wouldn't do any good for me to go, I haven't done a lick of work in over 40 years!" Has the Old Line agent got more than he has paid for?

Old Line agents who live in town, own and take the profit from farms but when farmers band together in their own Farmers Union Co-Op Fire Insurance company,—boy, some of the Old Line Fire insurance agents (not all of them, mind you) get so hot that they wouldn't be a safe risk for the "cut-rate" company!

We've got the records of average fire losses. We know we're safe. If you can get Fire Insurance with the Farmers Union company, it will only cost you at the rate of $30.00 per $1,000.00 full protection for 5 years. Pay in 3 payments if you wish and no interest to pay.

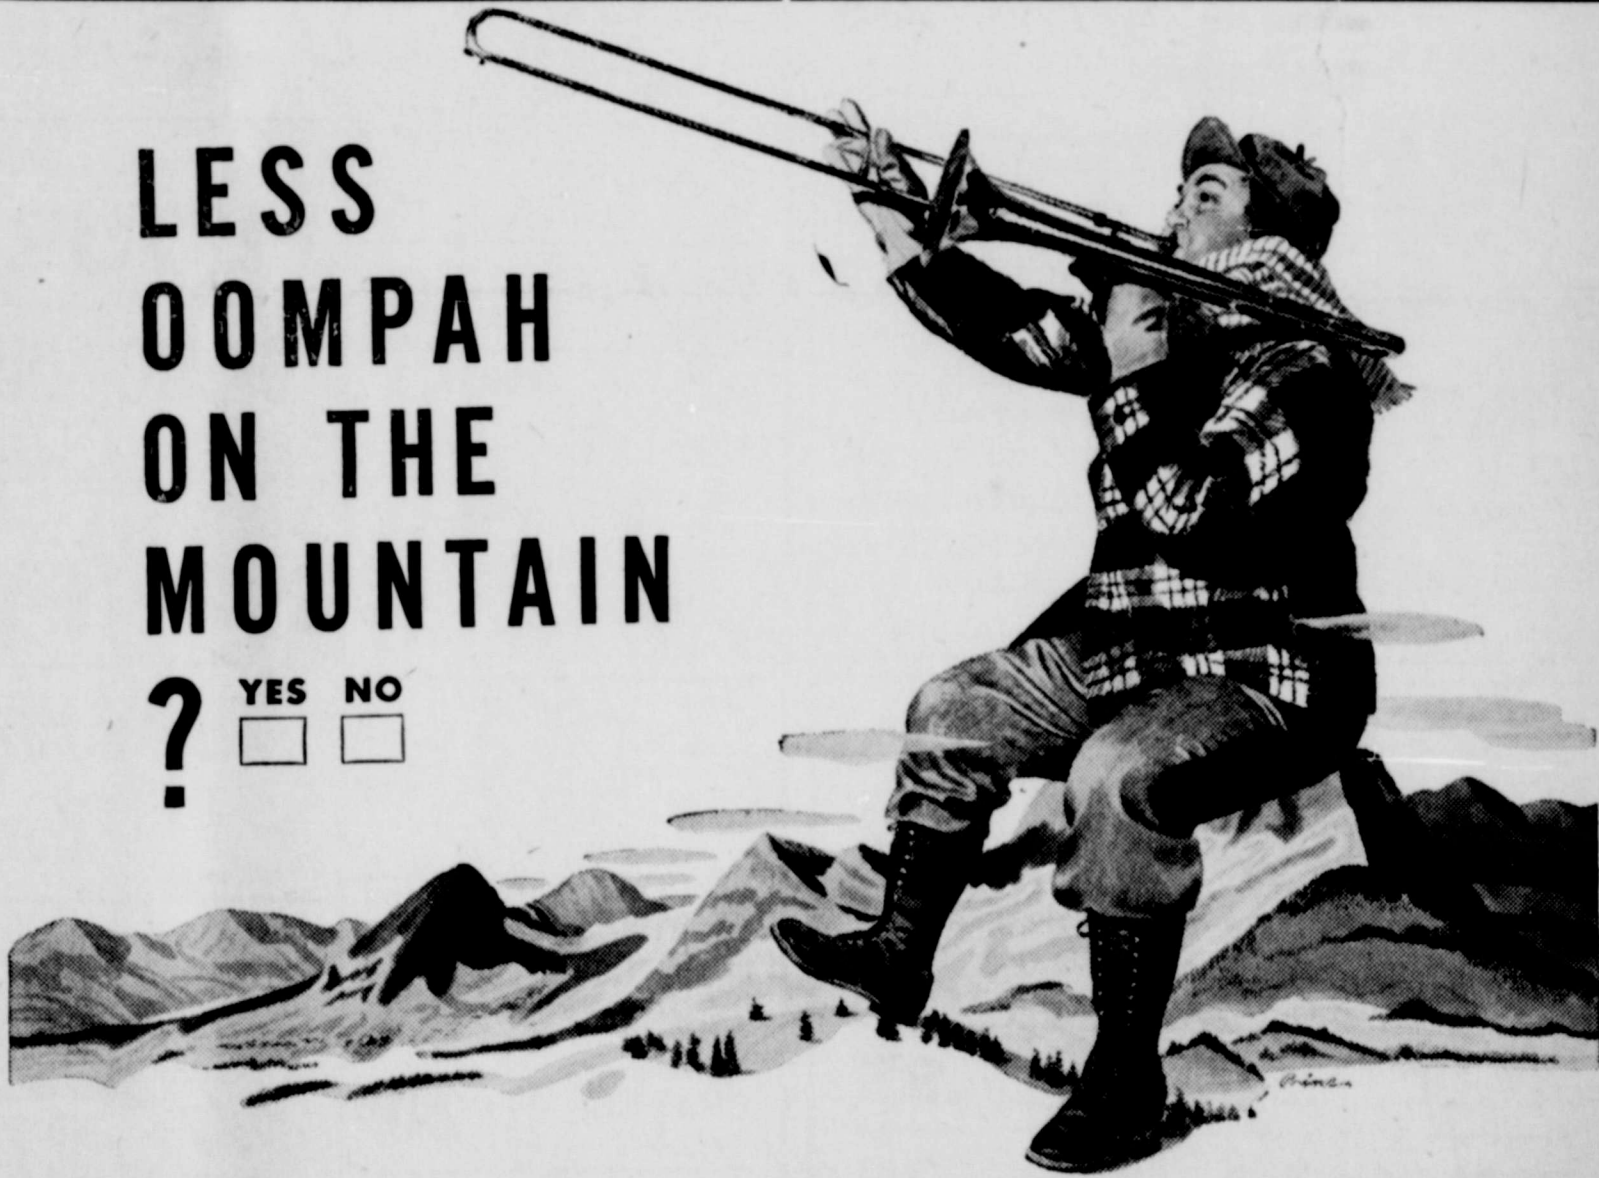

Thank you boys, and continue to see —

LESS OOMPAH ON THE MOUNTAIN

? YES NO

Any man's chestful of mountain air—compared to his chestful at ground level—can't blare out as much of an oompah. For mountain air is thinned, but up in the Rockies—or out on the plains—or anywhere else right now—it's this air of Spring that's really important! It warns of danger to your car, crying for the real thorough safety of a Springtime change to Conoco Nth motor oil—a change that will OIL-PLATE your engine's insides!

Patented Conoco Nth oil includes an added life-saver—an extra ingredient. This product of long costly research adds little to price, but it bonds protective lubricant to metals direct, in the form of OIL-PLATING—an extra that goes even beyond Conoco Nth oil's great liquid film to curb grinding wear!

Another great quality of OIL-PLATING is its resistance to acids. They're always part of combustion, but they can't freely corrode OIL-PLATED parts. Save those parts to save oil and gasoline—to conserve power and your battery—to fight carbon and sludge. It pays to remember that exactly what you want is Conoco Nth oil—today. From Ft. Sill induction center Pvt. Goen went to Fort Knox, Kentucky, for armored battle training and later to Camp Bouse, in Arizona. Sailing in July of 1944, he reached England August 1 and spent some three months in the British Isles as a mechanical repair man, traveling widely in that country.

Small Son Survives
Surviving the deceased are his wife, a small son Stanford Norman II, born December 31, 1944, his parents, and a brother, the latter also in the service—Lt. (jg) W. Elton Goen, whose home port is on the west coast. This brother is here on an emergency leave from his post.

Stanford Norman Goen and Margaret Pate Hale were married at Fort Knox, Kentucky, on December 1, 1943.

The nation-wide campaign opens on May 14 with all the big guns booming. When that time comes it is most likely that Floyd county people will be very busy, which is why the county committee had hoped to stage the campaign here ahead of the general campaign.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Glassmeyer, a sister, Dwina, and a brother, Larry. Two grandparents and a great grandfather, residents of Missouri, also survive.

Father was in Missouri
The youth's father was absent from home at the time of his death. Mr. Glassmeyer was at Springfield, Missouri, the family's former home, when news of the boy's death was received by him. Mr. Glassmeyer reached Floydada Sunday morning.

Charles Marvin was born in Springfield, Missouri, August 11, 1928, shortly before the family moved to Floyd county to make their home, and had lived in this county all of his life.

Memorial Flag to School
Death of Charles Marvin brought to an end plans of the senior class to stage a carnival, as usually done to stage a carnival, as usually done. Funds from which have been used as departing gifts each year. Instead, Bobby Stephens, class reporter, said yesterday that due to the passing of their classmate the seniors are leaving an eight-foot by twelve-foot national flag. The flag will be presented to the school in memory of Marvin.

Classes were dismissed at high school Monday afternoon at 2:25 for the funeral rites and several local retail establishments closed out of regard for the youth and the family.

Iron Lung—

in how it works. Man improvements have been made in mechanical breathing apparatus in the past few years. The Emerson Iron Lung was first introduced by Doctor John Haven Emerson, a graduate of Harvard Medical school in 1930. At that time there were 25,000 cases of infantile paralysis in New York city alone. Prior to that time other apparatus had not been accepted or approved by the American Medical association. In the past few years the machine has constantly been improved.

Briefly the machine works like this: The patient is placed in the machine and the head of the victim extends through a soft rubber collar and rests on a pillow. The diaphragm on the end of the machine by working in and out creates a vacuum. This positive and negative vacuum forces the patients chest to rise and fall. The adjustment on the side changes the pressure from zero centimeters to 35 centimeters. The other adjustment for positive pressure can be regulated from zero to fifteen centimeters. The average polio patient has an adjustment thus of 15 Cm negative and 6 Cm positive. The machine also has a hydraulic tilt so that one end of the Lung can be raised, thereby lowering the patient's head. This facilitates drainage and makes the use of the aspirator more efficient. The aspirator is attached at all times. This machine also has the new rotating features so that the patient can be raised on the left or right side.

It is stated by J. H. Ingram Factory technician that few cases expire in the lung if proper aspiration is done. (Dr. Grey A. M. A. meeting in Cleveland 1942). The Adult Iron Lung can be used in any type asphyxia-Drowning, carbon monoxide poisoning, and electrocution.

The infant iron lung and the portable resuscitator will arrive in a few days. The infant iron lung is used on children up to about two years of age. The portable resuscitator is expected to pay for itself in many ways. First, it operates on the energy of the oxygen tanks. When turned to resuscitation it breathes into a victims lung 13mm mercury pressure of about half that the patient could stand. It then reverses itself automatically and breathes out 9 mm thereby eliminating prone pressure. It further signals immediately if an obstruction is in the air passage. The aspirator on the machine is then used. The apparatus has an inhalator built into its mechanism also. This is used when the patient can breathe, but with difficulty, such as a smoke victim, etc.

All of the equipment is fully approved by the American Medical association and doctors and nurses are invited to inspect it, calling for its use when needed.

Mr. Ingram who visited the display Monday and Tuesday to display its use to the Fire department, doctors and nurses stated that their charts on Polio indicated a start in the U. S. so far this

So far the goal set to reach this equipment has not reached halfway mark and anyone who to contribute to its purchase ed to do so at once.
