Methodist Notes,
Aiken District

Sunday was an all-round good day with us. Bellview people on time; and we did not have to hurry. Had a very fine service, and arrived back at Aiken before the Sunday school closed.

Found the largest congregation that we have had here. Sunday was our Mothers day here. It was a week late, but having three appointments, we could not be at all three the same day; so we changed the day at Aiken. The pastor preached to the Mothers Sunday morning and we put on the Mother's day program in the evening. We want to express our appreciation of the ones rendering the program. We have some very fine talent and we are learning how to use it.

Get ready for the revival which is to begin here Friday evening before First Sunday in June (1); and will run through the following week, closing Sunday night June 10. Rev. M. A. Walker from Sudan will be with us and do the preaching. He is son of the pastor, and it is natural that we highly recommend him. No matter how well he preaches, he can not bring a revival. If we have a revival, we must pay the price. The price is not in dollars nor cents; but in repentance, re-consecration, prayer, and readiness for service. When the people of Aiken do these things the revival will come preacher or no preacher. Begin now, don't wait another moment.

Melvin will not be here until Monday evening; the pastor will do the preaching until then. Prayer is the greatest help in a revival.

"If my people, which are called by my name, will humble themselves and pray, and seek my face, and turn from their wicked ways; then will I hear from heaven, will forgive their sins, and heal their land. Come to Carr's Chapel next Sunday."

Recalls the Storm That Hit Della Plain in 1889

Remarking in a recent letter to his nephew J. T. McLain, of Sand Hill, about the sandstorms and winds that beset West Texas, R. E. L. McLain, now of Fort Worth, one-time Floyd county newspaper man, tells an interesting story of the tribulations incident to one storm that struck this county in 1889, when Della Plain was an aspiring community just established on the broad prairies.

I vividly remember the many spring winds and attending sand storms that beset, not only Floyd county, but all West Texas during the months of March and April. Many times we have had to eat our bacon and beans filled with dirt of doubtful composition; a mixture of buffalo grass, both digested and undigested, sand and other substances which we were not able to separate in our haste to consume, before it became too thick to swallow without coffee or water to wash it down.

Big Storm at Della Plain
That reminds me of the big storm that struck Della Plain in 1889 when it blew down my windmill and destroyed Mr. Vanderslice's home and slammed me up against the little real estate office just across the street. I saw the black cloud coming from the west and hastened to get home before it would strike but I was too slow. I had just passed the Vanderslice home when I observed Mr. V. and the little girl come out of the door onto the stoop and the next thing I saw was Mrs. Vanderslice and the little girl lying flat on the ground about 10 or 12 feet north of where they were standing at first and the house was completely gone and I was hanging for dear life to the battens on the wall of the office building, my hat gone and me scared almost to death but unhurt. My hat was found several days later down under the caprock in Motley county.

Mrs. Vanderslice and daughter were unhurt but scared stiff; their home leveled to the sod foundation and the furniture scattered for some distance and the lumber and iron sheeting strewn for miles to the east.

Dug out and Boxed Houses
You remember that we all lived either in dugouts or built of sod or flimsy box houses, erected on sod foundations. We would take a sixteen inch rod plow and turn the tough buffalo grass sod cut it into one-foot strips and then build our dugout around an excavation which had been dug about three feet deep to a height of four or more feet and then erect a ridge pole and place china poles, rafter shape, on which we put straw and then lay sod over the roof and filled the cracks with dirt; then plaster the inside with a mortar made from the gipsium dirt we found in a shallow draw about a mile west of Della Plain. It made a warm and comfortable abode for the time being.

Dugout Caved In On Us
While wife and I were visiting down at Seymour, the range cattle came and horned the sod wall on our abode, and then that fall, when the rains came, softened up the sod and it caved in on us one night and it was only the ridgepole that kept us from being buried alive in our dugout and we were forced to move into our little two-room box house in front, and which was saved from the storm, narrated above. By the windmill which I had erected just to the north of the house and so close that the storm took its revenge out on the windmill.

That storm also demolished the warehouse of Ewing & McLain, besides doing considerable damage to other property about town.

Yes, we used to enjoy some freak weather on the plains in those days, where hardy men and women braved the vicissitudes of frontier life, and made it possible to establish society, law and order and good government, preparing for the beauty and prosperity of Floyd and Hale counties of the present day. If it had not been for the sturdy and Godfearing people who risked their lives, their health and their fortunes in those early days, there would not have been much to look back on in the most beautiful country in the world. Wife and I have done considerable traveling since 1881-91 in Floyd county but we often wonder just why we left and wish that we were back there enjoying the fresh breezes and pure water and the beautiful views for miles around. But we have no regrets to hinder our hoppiness and fruitful lives.

Vanderslice first dug a basement, three feet deep and then built a four-foot sod wall and built his house on top, which made him a fine large home and it became a meeting place for all the people of Dellaplane for public gatherings, until the storm which wrecked the home and Vanderslice moved to Oklahoma where he died around the turn of the century.

Envy is a madness which cannot endure the good of others.

The Home Front

(Edith L. Wilson)

In response to a number of requests I am giving the new method for canning strawberries which was mentioned in this column recently.

Wash and cap the berries. Mix 1/2 cup dry sugar with each quart of berries. More or less sugar may be used according to taste or availability of sugar. Pack tight and full into clean cans or jars. Do not add water or syrup and do not plug lids on containers. Place filled containers into a water bath canner, with water about 1/2 up on the outside of cans or jars. If jars are used, the water should be about 120° F. which is not too hot to hold the finger in. If tins are used, the water may be boiling hot. Cover the water bath to hold in the steam. As soon as the water comes to a boil, count time.

Steam pint jars 10 minutes, and quart jars 15 minutes.

During steaming some juice is drawn out, and the berries shrink. Take the berries from one container and refill all the other containers or one could have a few berries in a small pan which could be set on top of the filled containers while they are steaming. Those extra berries may be used to refill in order to have a good pack and avoid floating fruit. After the containers have been refilled, seal the cans and seal jars according to type of lid being used. Return them to the water bath canner and add enough boiling water to cover the containers.

Process pint and quart containers 15 minutes.

Mrs. C. L. Daniel and little son, Danny, left Saturday for Mineral Wells where they met their husband and father, Captain C. L. Daniel. They will return here to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hammonds, while Captain Daniel is on delayed orders from Montgomery, Alabama.

of Navy planes struck at inland tar-

By 7:30, smoke from the intense

Where The Lonely Bullets Whine

On the battle front where the bullets whine,
I'm always wondering which one is mine.

Put to God I breath a prayer,
That my name is not written there.

As I lay on my back at night,
There are many things that don't sound right.
Still over me the bullets whine,
And me still hoping none is mine.

As I am awakened from my sleep,
Through the front lines those Japs
have crept,
To seek, and to destroy,
Some good, American boy.

From our holes we gently peeped
Upon those Japs which through had crept
And with our guns we aimed and fired,
Those Japs knew they had come too far.

Then as night began to fade away,
Still in our holes we quietly lay
There wasn't much to fear,
But still the bullets we could hear.

Then as day began to break,
We prayed to God that He did take
Our boys who had died that night
Caused by this terrible wicked fight.

Then the sun peeped from behind
the clouds,
Still lonely bullets whined so loud,
It was then chow time was sound,
And then C Rations were passed around.

It was then the phone began to ring
To our mortar position it did sing;
Right 200 and fire one round,
Look out, Japs, it is coming down.

Then our mortars were on the Japs
We had our shell in their laps;
Cease fire, boys, was our next phase
Then our planes can lay their eggs.

Then the rumble and the roar of our B-24's,
The opening up of the bombardier
doors,
They laid their eggs, and flew away
Then it's up to us the rest of the day

This poem is true as the skies are blue,
We are writing it to tell to you,
This war is tough and rugged too,
But we still have time to think of you.

The bullets still whine over our head,
Those bullets have caused most of our dead,
But still we linger on this way,
We pray they will stop whining
some day.

"Along the Route to Tokyo"

They raised the Flag again on Corregidor...

Let's raise the money in the MIGHTY SEVENTH

OUR FLAG flies once again over Corregidor. The cost was great in blood and pain, but our fighting men did not turn back. And on Iwo Jima, four thousand men—more and more—died to take the long step forward to Victory. Twenty thousand others suffered wounds. Yes, we're on the way to Tokyo!

At home, your contribution to Victory is measured in dollars. The Seventh War Loan is the biggest in America's history because seven billion dollars must be raised from individuals alone. That means you must buy more and bigger War Bonds.

This is really two great loans in one; for this time last year you had been called upon twice to subscribe in War Loans. As our fighting men raise Old Glory all over the world—let's raise the money back home!

New Ruling Sets Requirement for Mailing Seamen

Order which becomes effective July 1, which will be of much benefit to parents with sons and daughters in the navy, the Marine Corps, or the Coast Guard overseas, has been issued by the post office department, which will require that servicemen to request a subscription before the publisher may send the same. Here are the points of the ruling:

Postmasters Must Initiate

Individual copies of newspapers and magazines offered for mailing by publishers, addressed via the post offices at New York, N. Y., San Francisco, Calif., to Marine Corps, and Coast Guard personnel on duty overseas, shall be accepted only when they are sent in fulfillment of requests initiated by the address for subscriptions or renewals.

Postmasters at the offices of mailing shall require publishers to present for their examination the requests from the addresses for subscriptions or renewals of subscriptions.

3. Relatives and friends may pay for the subscriptions or renewals of subscriptions provided the addressees have initiated requests thereof.

4. Complimentary copies sent by publishers, copies paid for by advertisers, and copies sent under any kind of an arrangement whereby the requests of the addressees are solicited shall not be accepted.

5. Copies mailed in fulfillment of subscriptions which are unexpired on the effective date of this order, shall be accepted until the subscriptions expire.

Naomi Huckabee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Huckabee, of South Plains, is a member of the graduating class, who name inadvertently was omitted from the official list issued prior to graduation.

Kindly Thieves Leave Pine Boards For Wheels Taken

Leaving neat pieces of finished two by four East Texas whitepine as souvenirs for the owners of the cars whom they visited last Friday night, thieves paid visits to five residents of Floydada and took with them a wheel and tire complete assembly from each.

Left with the souvenir pieces of pine are Miss Jean Bain, Howard Cline, Elder Grady Pricer, City Marshal Bob Smith and Douglas Holliams. The white pine boards were left as underpinning for the automobiles. The owners thus will have not a great deal of trouble putting on new wheels when they obtain them.

The thieves were not so kind to the Cecil Hagoods, however. They took their lawn mower and a saddle and left nothing. It couldn't have been a hometown job, City Marshal Bob Smith thinks. Lumbermen told him there hasn't been any white pine dimension lumber for sale in Floydada for three ears, he said.

Former Co. Agent Pays Brief Visit

W. H. Darrow, a former county agent of Floyd county was among last week's visitors in Floydada.

Mr. Darrow spent a brief visit here enroute on a trip that carried him to several plains states on a survey of conditions in this area.

The Darrow family, after leaving Floydada went to A. & M. college where he was associated with the Extension Service news service for sometime. Later the family went to Washington and he was in the government service there for some time. Later he embarked in private work and in recent years has been serving a clientele reporting activities of the congress and government agencies. The family is living in the City of Washington at this time but plan to return to the farm when war conditions have been resolved. He has a son who is in the engineers' corps in the European theatre of war.

CAR DAMAGED BY FIRE

The city fire boys were called about 11:40 Monday morning to extinguish a fire in a car owned by Jim Dunlap on West California street. The cause of the fire was a short in the wire of the motor. Only slight damage was reported.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKinney and family, of Clovis, New Mexico, and Jack McKinney, of San Antonio, were among the week-end visitors to Floydada. They were guests of the J. J. McKinney family, among others.

rapidly as manufacturers can deliver materials and the REA systems can let contracts or hire the necessary labor for construction.

Projects Already Approved

The authorized REA construction will create 50,000 man-years of employment nationally, according to Mr. Henry. Projects in this program already have been approved by REA and more than $100,000,000 in federal loan funds available to finance them. This money is the difference between $32,000,000 allotted by REA as loans for specific projects from funds authorized by Congress, and the $420,000,000 actually advanced to REA's borrowers.

Mr. Henry said that the new lines will make electric power available to farms to help them produce the food needed to win the war against Japan and the peace in Europe. In the last 28 months, the Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative, inc., has extended service to 200 farms under the WPB's wartime regulations authorizing the electrification of farms able to use electrical equipment in livestock, dairy and poultry production.

Live Better: Farm Better

Farm electrified by the Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative, inc., under these regulations were able to make an important contribution toward the defeat of Germany because they had electric power to help save labor and produce food," Mr. Henry said. "The program we are starting now will help finish Japan and win the peace. It will provide jobs for boys coming home from the European war and help the farmers to live better and farm more efficiently."

Old Settlers—

Chapman is a pioneer of Dickens County.

Dinner for Old Settlers

Largely increased attendance at the special dinner for the old timers in the assembly is expected this year. This is due to the fact that 45-years olds who have been residents of the county for 40 years are eligible to dine. Fifty years of age formerly was the requirement. Also the association will have as its guests any and all servicemen of the county who happen to be in Floydada on that day, whether specially invited or just drop ins. All service men present will be guests of the old timers at the noon-day lunch, is the plan.

Fashioned after the old-time tournaments the horsemanship events of the afternoon will be featuring by the races for loops with lances and with other events of similar type, including cigar races. Roy Childress is chairman of this committee. Late yesterday the several interested local people who met Tuesday night to formulate plans for a rodeo ground here could not say whether the pens, chutes and other equipment of the rodeo could be put in place in time for the old settlers meeting or not. If not, then there'll be no rodeo in the afternoon. If they can make this close schedule then the rodeo will be held. In any eventuality the rodeo will be held from time to time as an amateur event for roping clubs of the area. Tate Jones was elected president of the organization formed to promote the building of the arena and to staging the rodeos.

family and continued to live there until 1912 when he moved to Floydada to live for 12 years until 1924 when he returned to Mt. Blanco. From 1929 until the time of his death he lived at Lubbock.

Dedicated Park to Parents

One of the parks in the State park system is that which was dedicated by Bob Smith to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Clay Smith, to be used as an annual gathering ground for pioneers of West Texas. This annual gathering was held continuously from the mid-twenties until two years ago when it was deemed advisable to discontinue the re-union until after the war. A statue of his parents, placed there by the State Centennial commission, marks an advantageous spot on the grounds.

could buy their bonds at the bank and the district get credit for the subscriptions; or they could contact the committeeman handiest to them. "We will try to see everybody but meanwhile we can all make it easy on ourselves by buying at the most convenient time and place. What we must do without fail is to back the boys who are doing the fighting," he said.

Matadors Take $5,000 Here

Two out-of county War bond purchasers who are allocating part of their subscriptions to Floyd county are the Matador Land and Cattle company, which has notified Chairman J. M. Wilson that this county will be credited with $5,000 worth of C bonds they are buying.

The Quanah, Acme and Pacific Railway company has notified the Floyd county committee that $25,000 worth of bonds to be bought on June 18 will be credited to this county. That is the first date on which corporations may purchase bonds of the type the company has selected. Chas. H. Sommer, of St. Louis, president of the company, said here yesterday while on a brief visit in company with his brother, A. F. Sommer, vice-president and manager of the railway, of Quanah.

Farm-to-market roads are in a worse condition today than any time since the bottom of the depression, said Public Roads Administration (PRA) and the American Automobile Association.

Reason for ruts, mud and wash-outs include road crews 40 percent below normal strength; unrepaid machinery due to shortage of parts; sharp cuts in Federal aid; low supply of road-building materials.
