Winds Take Season Opener at Crowell

Floydada High schools pride and the whirlwind football team, their opening game of the season Friday night last at Crowell. The Wildcats 6 to 0; to make the story more news-worthy the only representative of the 3-A of the Interscholastic League which did win.

Last to Haskell, Paducah to South, Lockney to Abernathy, and to Tulia and Ralls to Ascent. Crosbyton had an open game.

Furthermore, to make the home feel even better, Crowell is to be good enough that the game will win the district.

Field Team Rugged

However, tomorrow night the game is due to get a lesson in football and how it is played. Coach Gresham's boys will run against a tough one at Littlefield where he will take his squad tomorrow afternoon. With one fine Berry definitely out, and Don Berry a doubtful starter at full, the white will go up against a heavier, more experienced team with reserve strength two and deep in every position.

Changes to be made in the start tomorrow night due to injury, will likely put K. Finley at tackle for Berry, Dean Walls at tackle and Thomas Amburn at tackle for Bubanks.

Littlefield's opener last Friday night will be against the Castro boys at 7:30 to 6.

Henry Newton Jones, RM3c, left Saturday for Beaufort, North Carolina, after visiting here for 15 days with his mother, Mrs. W. T. Hopper. Newton is a Radioman on a crash boat. He graduated from high school here with the class of 1943 and has been in service a year.

Longhorn Field Ready for Night Games Very Soon

The Lockney Longhorns will get to play their home games, as long as the weather will permit, under the floodlights on their own field, unless something most unusual interferes. This will include their Floydada game tentatively set to be played on Western field, but with the understanding that if their own field is lighted by the date of the contest the game goes to Lockney.

Superintendent H. P. Clemons announced this week that the material is practically all assembled, and the flood lights should go on at an early date. He does not anticipate further trouble now in getting materials.

Team is Question Mark

Longhorn prospects for the season depend entirely on how the new men develop as the season progresses. Last Friday they lost to Abernathy at Abernathy. Their opponents for tomorrow night will be the Petersburg squad at Petersburg. The team could work out to be just so-so and it could develop a winning combination. After Longhorn the squad goes to Olton and these two games should tell what they will be able to do when they take up the battle for district honors in their conference opener against the Paducah Dragons.

State Guard Will Motorize

After nearly five years of marching, it now seems likely that the Texas State Guard will modernize and become motorized.

Last week Sgt. H. B. Johnson and Cpl. A. H. Rainer of Floydada's Company G, drove in one of the army's famous "Six by Six" two ton trucks.

Company G has had an army "Command Car", carrying four people, for the past several months, but this was recalled by the army and the large truck, which can carry nearly the entire company, was given in its place.

Sgt. Johnson and Cpl. Rainer returned to Floydada from El Paso with the Command Car.

Reports from Battalion headquarters at Lubbock state that within a few days an army four-wheel all-terrain trailer will be issued each company. With this equipment, all trips will be made in regular army style.

Blow Hot, Blow Cold, Weather Man Dishes Out No Moisture

A lot of Floyd county's late feed crop is going to make some pretty fair heads and a lot, possibly the big half is going to make fair to middling good "post toasty" bundles, according to cow pasture reports this week.

Not enough late moisture and the feed waits while the calendar rapidly marks off the days before the frost deadline. Two "northers" in the week presage an early frost to those inclined to forecast, but despite the fact that Friday morning's low was 45, only 13 degrees above

This is the news Conner Oden, of Floydada, was given by his mother by telephone Monday night of this week. Mrs. Oden, mother of the young artillery officer, was notified by the War department that her son had been liberated "in fair health." He was flown out of Honshu.

Through meager information the family had been kept hopeful that the son and brother had survived, and expected his eventual return to the homeland.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Mr. Spikes and I are alone this windy Sunday morning. Paul, Wilma and Joe stayed here last night while Wilda and Margaret Nell visited in Lubbock. The past week was a very trying one. The windmill broke, the tractor gave plenty of trouble. We have to go some six miles for a hand and take him home at night. The old sow unexpectedly was making a bed at the far end of the hog pasture and had to be hurried in. Eleven pigs were hunting their milk the next morning but I believe the mama sow knew she had too many and already has done away with two. Yesterday the mill quit pumping again and will have to be fixed. One thing about a mill, it will go along with out a bobble for a long time but look out when it begins to go wrong!

Now this would not be much trouble when the man about the place is able to go, but a couple of women are pretty helpless and if it were not for Paul we could not go on. Oh, I forgot about the roof blowing partly off the hen house that bad windy day. Wilda had to get the long ladder and nail it back on.

Mr. Spikes can sit up a little while by being helped. He leans against the head of the bed with his feet on a low stool. Slow improvements but very welcome.

Young Master Freddie Sparkman called on us one afternoon last week. Of course he brought his grandparents along, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reed. He is a fine looking youngster and has been doing his part in the war by letting his father go overseas to Germany and his mother teach in the school at Cone.

Joe Ellis asked his mother why the farmers always gave their wives the short corner rows in the fields for them to plant their peas and beans.

Had such a lovely card and kind words of cheer and appreciation from Mrs. Ooley of Dundee, Texas. Rails people will remember her as Mrs. Flynn Gillispie.

This is another Monday morning. Paul has been working on the mill. Thinks it needs a new cylinder. When that gets in I hope our troubles are all over about the windmill for a long, long time.

We are learning a lot of laughs these days as men come in to see Mr. Spikes and tell of hurts and wrecks and accidents they have had. After a while even the worst hurt feels alright and is worth telling about. Mr. George Ragle of Rails told about moving from Alabama to Missouri. He saw a mud hole ahead and tried to make one of his mules go into it, but the mule jumped and missed the mud. A wheel took up a tree and Mr. Ragle and a child were overturned and the child had to be pulled out of the mud hole.

Broyles Terrell, of Lorenzo, said that "Uncle Em English once told him that he and another fellow started down the caprock between Rails and Floydada when the road was pretty steep. They did not have any brakes on the wagon and depended on holding the little mules back. All went well for a little while but the wagon rolled faster and Uncle Em held them back tighter till the collars slipped over the long ears and shoved off the broad latches and away went the mules and faster and faster Uncle Em and the other fellow went.

It is most time for the mail to come, there is a bunch of dirty dishes to be washed, Margaret Nell is trying to take the typewriter away from me so I had better say thirty for this week.

World's Greatest Sneezer Recounts Few Experiences

Last week through the Hesperian I was challenged to a sneezing contest by J. A. Hollums of this city. After carefully reading Mr. Hollum's challenge I note he readily admits his inferiority as a professional sneezer by asking for three or four good sneezers to help him.

Mr. Hollums, I learn, has been in intensive training for about three weeks. I have only been sneezing around a little for a couple of weeks. I would like at least a 10-day persistent work out before the date of this contest. I wish to advise through the columns of this paper that I will accept Mr. Hollums challenge on the following terms and conditions:

We, (Mr. Hollums and myself) furnish evidence that we are capable of doing professional sneezing. Mr. Hollums' neighbors all advise me that he is merely an amateur sneezer and not capable of doing professional work. Mr. Hollums needs to furnish us with proof that he is worthy of the honor about to be bestowed upon him viz.—to enter a sneezing contest with the world's best sneezer.

References and Proof
Below I wish to offer references and proof of my capability as a professional sneezer of renown.

First: I wish to offer as reference anyone who has ever lived in three blocks of where I reside.

Now for a few happenings to prove my capability as a sneezer. Upon my return a few years ago from a sneezing contest in Colorado, I learned a lady had moved into our community during my absence. I was still steamed up a bit. On the night of our return I turned loose a few well directed sneezes that dislocated one of her garage doors, and blew a screen door off her back porch. The next morning before breakfast this lady rushes over to my good neighbor Ulmer White, and inquired of Mr. White, "What in the world was wrong with this man across the alley last night?" Mr. White advised her to think nothing of the matter and assured her the incident of the night before was a minor one and that she would in future observe many more even worse, if she continued to reside in the community. (This lady has moved to California)

Incident Proves Prowess
One other incident please: A few years ago I was invited to attend and participate in a national sneezer's contest on the west coast. For three week continuous sneezing we adjourned. The city of Los Angeles invited the three best sneezers, a lady from Maine, a gentleman from Florida and myself, to attend a two-day party in our honor at the Catalina Hotel on Catalina island.

We pulled anchor about 8:30 one evening and were about nine miles out to sea when the gentleman from Florida gave forth a fair sized sneeze and blew a couple of sailors overboard. I felt somewhat indignant at the carelessness of my new friend and immediately became possessed with an uncontrollable desire to display my ability as a professional. I belched forth and ripped the mast and cleared the deck of all sails. This of course rendered our vessel unworthy and left us at the mercy of the winds and tides, which was carrying us in a direction that at the nearest point, we would be six miles from Catalina island. The party decided to jump in and swim six miles. After a couple of miles I noticed my friends, the lady from Maine and the gentleman from Florida, were falling behind. Being assured of their inability to continue the swim, I picked them up and swam the remaining four miles with them on my back to continue our party.

After Mr. Hollums has read some of the highlights of my career, if he does not wish to continue with the contest, we will willingly drop the matter and ask there be no further mention made, by this or any other publication.

"Hurry, Beth... let's see the NEW QUALITY OF LIVING that makes your house cozy in winter... cool in summer!"

"I just flick my finger," Beth explained when we got to her house, "and presto!—in winter, it's comfortably warm, humidified—whether it's cool or below zero out. Yes, we've a NEW QUALITY OF LIVING..."

"On hot summer days, it's never too hot or steamy indoors. In fact, I hardly mind doing dishes! The house is so delightfully and has humidity when war's over. I want to have a Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner."

"Never a draft either. There's live clean air circulating gently, all the time. We all sleep better, too, because street noises are shut out. With our Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner, we needn't open windows. And..."

"See! No dust! Dirt and soot and even pollen (remember my hay fever?) are filtered out. Our Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioner saves me hours of cleaning time—makes drapes and furniture last longer, too."

"This simple unit does it all," Beth told me. "We've had it four years and wouldn't be without it!" Was I glib? "Beth," I said, "wasn't it obvious?"

Like Beth, the hundreds of home owners who installed Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioners before the war are enthusiastic. After four years' use, they say, "We wouldn't be without it. It's wonderful!"

You can plan on it—post-war... Imagine! Blustery winters, blistering summers, you'll choose your own indoor climate with Servel All-Year Gas Air Conditioning. Come in and let us tell you more about it.

Whirlwinds Sink Crowell Wildcats

Floydada Whirlwinds defeated Crowell Wildcats in a thrilling game Friday night on the Wildcat home field. The spirit of both teams was excellent because they were there fighting at all times. The first half of the ball game was close as any game that I ever seen. Both teams had possession of the ball about an amount of the time. Each side did some very fine driving through the center of the line and end runs. The second half the ball game was a different because the Whirlwinds came into the game with vengeance in their eyes. They made six first downs while the Wildcats made only two. It was during the third quarter that the touchdown was made. This was made on a hand-off from Melvin Robertson to Hal Backback, who went around left-end to the touchdown. This touchdown run from the 42 yard line. The Whirlwinds having gained a point lead were determined to win. They did keep it only by defensive playing, because the Wildcats were in there on every play.

There was a great host of fans out to see the Whirlwinds perform, and they were well satisfied with the performance. We are proud of our team this year so why don't all of you folks who did not get to see the game last Friday night come on to Littlefield Friday and see the game. Come on, back up the Whirlwinds!

Faculty News

We had a busy faculty this week. Mrs. King was home in Spring Springs getting her daughter ready for college at N. T. S. C. Denton. The Graves spent the weekend in their old homestead, well. We found Miss Marr there because that seems to be her when she isn't here in Floyd. Mrs. Romane spent a pleasant weekend in the home of her mother-in-law in Crosbyton. Mr. and

THIS WEEK'S . . . PERSONALITY

For this week's personality I thought it fitting that we start with the editor of our high school Hesperette. The editor himself didn't like the idea, but nothing like that will ever stand in my way.

Our personality lived in Floydada all of his life until he got to the sixth grade. Then he decided he hadn't been getting around enough and moved to Denver. From Denver, he moved to San Antonio, Austin, San Antonio again, then Childress, and at last back to Floydada. You know what they say about the bad penny—

Our personality is left guard on the football team this year. He says his favorite pastime is whistling at girls on street corners, his favorite son, "Aitchison, Topeka & Santa Fe." His favorite food is fillet mignon and his friends all say he resembles Lou Costello.

I am sure everyone knows that Kenneth Bishop is the only one I could be talking about, but I warn you, if you call him Kenneth, he won't know who you are talking about. He has been "Squirt Bishop" every since I've known him, and I'm sure he will continue under that name. Any resemblance between Squirt and a dignified Senior is purely coincidental, even if he is a member of this year's Senior class.

If you see a boy cruising down main street in levis, T shirt, gym socks, and a grin from ear to ear, you can be sure it's Squirt Bishop, and you can take it from us, he's a great guy.

The pep squad wishes to thank the merchants of Floydada for saving boxes. Will you please continue to do so?

 Superintendent I. T. Graves
 Floydada, Texas

Dear Mr. Graves:

It was my pleasure to serve your football team and a good number of your fans last Friday preceding your ball game with you.

Usually when such crowds are together there is more or less unbecoming behavior on the part of some player or fan, but with your people it was quite different. We have never seen a better acting group and we want to compliment you and your people on their very excellent good sportsmanship. Although our team did not win we think it was the cleanest ball game we have had here in years. To us your boys were one of the best coached teams for a first game that we have ever played. We hope our athletic relationship will continue throughout the years. Very kind personal regards. I am

My little chickadeses better keep the lights down lower because this nosy reporter is at it giving you the lowdown on gossip in F. H. S. What do we hear about Corky and Mary Helen sounds interesting. Lovene and Louis seemed to be having a good time Monday night. Hughetta and Dean still together. And so is Margaret Abbott and Melvin Booth. Ain't love grand! June and Squirt are doing okay, it seems.

Oh, Gee! James Elliott must really think Jean Carpenter is nice. Something new has been added to the campus this year. Pretty blondes-including Bernice Littlefield! and Pretty blue eyes too!

I wonder if Glenn Carmack is ever going to make up his mind about a certain three red-heads? What about this Nanette? Vairie, how do you rate all these out-of-town boys? Silvertown Ralls? BEAT LITTLEFIELD

Who's this new heart-throb Melton Smith has? It couldn't be Marlene Foote could it? I hear C. L. Berry is having girl trouble down Paducah way. Willie Bradford seems to think Johnny Roberts is plenty cute. Look out, Johnny, she's red-headed.

No wonder Marjorie didn't want to go to the Crowell game! She had other irons in the fire such as Earl Edwards.

Oragene and Tom make a cute two-some in the halls. BEAT LITTLEFIELD!

ASSEMBLY

The assembly Friday was given by the pep squad yelling for a victory over Crowell. The students were led by Myra Neil Hall, La Rue Graves and Nancy Bishop. They gave yells urging the team to victory.

Next on the program was Coach Gresham, introducing the football players and this year's captains, C. L. Berry and Melvin Robertson. The whole student body was proud and thrilled over each and every player. Melvin Robertson then presented Nancy Bishop, last year's football queen, with a gold, miniature football charm, given to her by the 1944 squad.

The program closed with the student body singing the school song.

GAMMA SIGMA KAPPA

The "Gamma Sigma Kappa" had its annual meeting Wednesday night, September 12, 1945, to elect the pledges for the coming year.

The girls who have accepted are Joy Lambert, Nancy Brown, Clara Cozby, Mickey Kennamer, Mary Helen Lewis, Beth Hinson, Sue Teague, Bessie Morrison, Nita Merle Patterson, Valerie Burke, Dwina Glassmoyer, Hazel Patton, Martha Cudd, Jean Cardinal and Le Vell Hall.

The old members are now planning a very vicious initiation. There will be more about the initiation next week.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blues" to come. Started 3 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. Try it!

But a telephone's already there!"

People often ask, "There's a telephone already in the place where I'm moving. Can't I have it?"

The girls in the telephone business office would like to say "yes." But it wouldn't be fair to the many people already waiting for telephones.

You see, the telephone won't work by itself. It must be connected by its own pair of wires to complex equipment in a telephone central office. In many places the equipment is all in use. All told, 230,000 people are waiting for telephones in the Southwest.

They expect to get service in their proper turn when someone makes "room" by disconnecting his telephone, or when we can put in additional equipment. That's why we can't just leave a telephone in place, and connect the service for the next person who happens to move in. That seems the only fair way to do the job...and the way we think you would want us to do it.

Texas Lemons Hit Market; Will Soon Supply All Texas

LOWER RIO GRANDE VALLEY—Lemon production is increasing each year and will soon provide enough lemons for all Texas. This year for the first time our community will have a weekly service to retailers of nature-colored, tree-ripened lemons under the trade name Tex-Lem. Anyone who has ever squeezed a Texas lemon realizes quickly the full justice of its claim to being the world's finest lemon. Tex Lems contain more juice and flavor than any other lemons, with an abundance of Vitamins C and B.

"These Rio Grande Valley lemons have everything that the yellow lemons have, and more," writes Victor Schoeffelmayer. "Their color is intended by nature, just as the lime is green."

In the past, yellow lemons from Italy and the Pacific west have supplied the Texas market, and users have become accustomed to their characteristic color. The Texas or Meyer lemons, however, is a variety which the famous government plant explorer of that name brought to this country years ago and which at last has established itself in the Rio Grande Valley, and bids fair to become a major asset of that great producing area. This new lemon gives more juice and acid than artificially colored lemons, authoritative tests prove. The Texas lemon's greatest merit is that it is not pulled from the trees till it is ripe, though it appears to be as green as the proverbial grass. The Texas lemon crop is estimated at 200 cars and its acreage is being greatly increased as people of this state and elsewhere consume this product in increasing quantity.

The Texas lemon, demonstrations show, can be substituted for competing varieties from this country or abroad. It makes as good lemonade as it does lemon pies or other confections.

Tex-Lem lemons are marketed in their natural color—a rich green, golden tinted. They are not made yellow by artificial methods. They are fresh from the tree-not stored for months in warehouses.

Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Shirey visited in the home of his brother and family at Portales over the week-end.

NORMAN H. HILLBURN GAINS WEIGHT AFTER WAR'S END

Norman H. Hillburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Hillburn of Liberty, is rapidly regaining his normal weight and a recent picture he sent the folks shows him to be looking fine.

Hillburn was an infantryman with the 89th division in France and Germany and lost 23 pounds while up on the lines of combat. His outfit went into Germany with Patton.

The pictures sent the home folks were taken in Scotland where he went on a 16-day furlough. One of the pictures he had made in a typical Scottish highland rig, kilties and all.

NEW INDEPENDENT DEALER IN GAS AT SOUTH PLAINS

C. E. Fowler last week announced the opening of an independent wholesale and retail oil and gas distribution station at South Plains.

He will be located at the Mayes old stand in the south part of town on the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. J. L. West and their son, John Key, returned recently from Scott & White hospital in Temple where Mrs. West went through the clinic.

Blue Cross Plan of Hospitalization Will Be Offered

The Group Hospital service known as the Blue Cross plan, sponsored on a national basis by the hospitals of America, will be brought to Floydada and offered to the people here on a community-wide basis during the month of October. W. R. Derr, of Abilene, regional director of Group Hospital service, told the Rotary club of Floydada Wednesday.

An active campaign of enrollment will be made, Rev. Derr said, indicating that a plan not heretofore made available here, except on an industrial or organization basis will be offered.

The Blue cross plan is a non-profit arrangement. Sponsoring and co-operating hospitals are practically state-wide in Texas, including two Floydada hospitals, Rev. Derr said.

Formerly a resident of Falls and pastor of the First Baptist church here, Rev. Derr now resides in Abilene. He plans to spend several weeks in the near future in Floyd and Crosby counties.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tinnin are visiting in Glenrose, Texas with Mrs. Tinnin's mother Mrs. R. Knight also a sister Mrs. Joe Deauvan.

D. D. T. MAKES COWS HAPPY

The happiest cow in the world ought to be the 5,000 in Kansas that are being used to test the effect on them of DDT, the new insecticide.

In the midst of horn fly season, these cows lie in their pastures, chewing their cud, as contented as cats on cushions. Across the fence, untreated cattle are bunched up, steadily switching their tails, trying to get rid of their tormentors.

"The results appear to be so good I am almost afraid to trust my own judgment on what to say about DDT," says Dr. E. G. Kelly, Kansas extension entomologist.

Here's what it has accomplished: Sam Ray of Liberty, Missouri, estimates his Shorthorns gave 15% more milk after a DDT spray got rid of their flies.—Farm Journal.

COLOR IS IMPORTANT

Color can be kind or cruel—to your health and efficiency, your personality and appearance, and to your daily quota of happiness. The new science of color conditioning or engineering has definitely proved during this war that the proper use of color in office and factory improves morale, speeds production, increases safety.

That color can readily overcome obstacles was proved by a company that was having difficulty with employees who were tiring quickly. Their job was to lift and carry heavy boxes painted black. But when the boxes were painted light green, the problem was solved. No longer did the men complain—and production speeded up.

Just an illusion, but the switch in color made the boxes seem lighter. Other experiments have proved the value of color for safety measures. Production in a shoe factory was dropping; spoilage increasing; accidents mounting to new highs. Workers complained of headaches.

Again the color expert went to work. He found employees working on black shoes on machines painted black. Equipment was repainted in contrasting colors—lighter colors. And the results were startling. Production zoomed; spoilage was nearly eliminated; accidents dropped off 70 per cent. And best of all, workers and management lost their head aches.

MEASURES MEAT TENDERNESS

The influence of feed on meat quality is a question that pops up repeatedly in various lines of research involving livestock and meat. In a mechanical test of cooked meat, made by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, 15 percent more force was required to shear through roasted rib samples from steers fed on grass alone than through similar samples from steers that had received, in addition to pasture, a grain feed of corn and cottonseed meal.

There are, however, points in favor of well-finished grass-fed beef, and the economy of this form of beef production, the investigators point out.

The mechanical tester was developed to eliminate, so far as possible the element of human error in rating beef for tenderness. The instrument, known as a penetrometer, records the pressure required to cut through a sample of meat.

WANTED—A NEW CHICKEN

Can you breed a broad-breasted broiler?

If you can, three years from now you may be at least $5,000 richer. Rules now are being prepared for one of the strangest contests in American farming—a contest to produce a fast-growing, better meat type chicken to help retain the market poultrymen have won during the current meat shortage.

D. D. Slade of Lexington, Kentucky, secretary of the International Baby Chick Association, heads a "committee for improving meat-type in chicken." This committee, which includes some of the top scientists and marketing experts in the poultry industry, will develop standards and make the prize awards.

In addition to the grand prize, there will be $3,000 awarded in progress prizes during the three years of the contest.—Farm Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell King and son were here Tuesday and Wednesday from San Diego, California on a visit with Mr. King's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. G. King. They are moving back to Texas, or at least to some point in this area, Russell said.

COUNTY BOOK PLAN

Like hundreds of other counties, Davis county, Utah, has poor library facilities. School children lack encyclopedias, science books. There is little good fiction or biography available to promote an interest in reading.

Now 255 members of the county's Parent Teachers Association, Lions Clubs, Junior Chambers of Commerce, and other groups have adopted as their slogan "a library in every community." They propose to raise $18,000 to finance the project through a one mill tax on all assessed property. Of that sum $10,000 will be set aside for books.

DANGEROUS BORROWING

Experienced ranches are paying off mortgages. Newcomers are borrowing and many will not be able to stay in business. Heavy debts and overstocking mean high mortality rate.—Farm Journal

BETTER THAN A BONFIRE

Garden soil is what the gardener makes it. Over the years a vegetable patch can be made better and better by a good gardener. A good gardener, says Victory Garden headquarters at the U. S. Department of Agriculture, puts into the soil each year more than he expects to take out. On farms the extra input is likely to be animal manures. Town and city gardeners usually have to limit themselves to compost supplement by chemical fertilizer.

Spring spading offers a good opportunity to improve the condition of the soil by working compost into it. The spring clean-up, preparatory to spading is a good time to start the compost pile that will be ready for use next spring. A Department of Agriculture worker out on business in a small town early this spring says he counted 21 bonfires burning one Saturday afternoon when gardeners were cleaning up. That represented real waste. Most of the burned material might better have formed the basis for new compost piles.

About the only things from the garden that should be burned in spring are the roots of some persistent perennial weeds such as morning glory, quackgrass and garlic. All through spring and early summer, weeds that are mowed, hoed or pulled by hand make good compost material. Healthy plant remains after a crop harvest should be saved and returned to the garden after composting. About the only other bonfire material from the garden are weeds that have ripened seeds, and disassembled garden plants—which should be burned in fall, not left until spring.

In a well managed garden the compost pile is the bank of fertility. The gardener makes deposits and withdrawals. It is wise to keep a substantial checking balance by saving and depositing practically all wastes that will decay. Banking is better than burning.

Methodist Notes, Aiken District Sunday was a full day at Aiken. The pastor preached to a nice crowd at Bellview at 10:30. Back to Aiken at 12; and listened to Bro. Hinds preach on a triple subject—"Home, Church and Heaven."

Dinner was served on the ground, and the enjoyment was unanimous. With us were Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Pickens, a former pastor at Aiken. At present he is pastor of Hart circuit, and the new organized Methodist church at Plainview. The Conference was well attended from all points. All were anxious for the very best arrangements possible for the coming year. Finances are well up to date, and all will be arranged before the annual conference. The War being over, and our boys coming in to help us, let us have a place for them to work. They will expect us to plan, and lead; and, if we do it wisely, and in fear of God, we feel sure they will heartily respond. Next Sunday at Carr's Chapel. Remember that you are supposed to reorganize and rework the Sunday school over the first of October.

One of the first indications of the resumption to civilian production of

Premium on First Bale for Edgin Man is $92.33

Premium for the first bale of cotton to hit the Floydada market announced Saturday by J. W. Lanier, manager of Farmers Cooperative gin, presented by Floydada business establishments was $92.33.

The bale, brought to Floydada by O. C. Payne, cotton farmer of Edgin, on Wednesday, was turned out by the Farmers gin on Thursday. A 536-pound bale of cotton was turned out from 1620 pounds of seed cotton. Seven hundred pounds of cottonseed brought the grower at the rate of $2.90 per 100, or $18.20.

With the closest classing office at Lubbock closed and no date set for it to open, Lanier said he was unable to get the bale classed so the grower could use his discretion on selling or processing the bale. Lanier made a special trip to the classing office. The gin followed the custom of donating the cost of ginning and wrapping to the customer. Other donors to the fund, which was left at the First National bank for Mr. Payne to call for at his convenience, were as follows:

Roving Reporter Finds More New Faces in Floydada

Bishop Motor company, Ford agency on California street, under the management and supervision of J. B. Bishop, have a number of new names in their personnel.

One discharged service man in this group, Dave Summers served three years in the Army Air corps, being discharged some two and a half months ago, joining the Bishop personnel about a month ago as a mechanic. He has had 12 years experience as a mechanic. Before coming to Floydada he lived at Rosewell, New Mexico. He and his wife and daughter live at 322 West Tennessee street.

Another new man at Bishop's is A. L. "Shorty" Barker who has recently returned to our city to make his home after living the past four years in Arizona, and being employed with the Southwest Lumber Mills at Holbrook, and Flagstaff.

Mr. Barker joined the Bishop Motor company on Monday, September 10. His family consists of Mrs. Barker and Kenneth and Melinda; for the present they are stopping with his parents Mr. and Mrs. E. J. We find still another new name in the Bishop personnel, that being Loye Sparks, from Fort Worth, who came to Floydada a month ago. Mr. Sparks has been employed at Consolidated Aircraft as a mechanic, also in Fort Worth Transit company.

Mr. Sparks with his wife lives at 129 West Georgia street.

They were first located in the Barker building on West Missouri street. The present location was purchased the first of this year and Mr. Bishop plans an immediate enlargement of this building, and hopes to have in his show room in the very near future a new Ford automobile.

Mr. Bishop and family live at 521 West Mississippi street. Peggy Jo the oldest daughter of the Bishop family is in her second year at Lubbock Tech college. Nannette the other daughter is a senior in the Floydada school now.

Twenty-six years ago the family moved from Floydada to Weatherford where they have resided since that time.

Two sons came with the body and one daughter, but her brother was ill and could not make the trip. One son Norman lives with his family at Smackover, Arkansas, the other son Vernon and the daughter Mrs. Ravanah Colville both live at Weatherford.

Revoke All Orders on Meat Slaughter

All slaughtering controls on the amount anyone may slaughter and transfer have been abolished, the District Office of Price administration has announced.

On September 8 OPA ended controls over how much livestock could be slaughtered and where the meat was to be shipped. The pricing order limiting the maximum percentages of good and choice cattle that a slaughterer may kill during an accounting period was revoked September 12.

Farmers and other slaughterers may now slaughter and sell all the meat they care to without regard to quantity. However, they are still required to observe the rationing and price control requirements which still remain in effect.

Rev. and Mrs. J. H. Owens were called to Big Spring Monday to conduct funeral services for a former member of Reverend Owen's congregation.

Thanks to The American Legion, veterans will find that service to their country has provided a minimum of handicaps to their opportunities to go ahead and pursue careers interrupted by war. The veteran's own industry, initiative, determination and thrift are the only limitations on his way to personal success.

Protection of veterans' welfare financially, physically and educationally is provided in the G.I. Bill of Rights. It is a workable plan for fitting veterans back into their former way of life, with as little loss to the veteran as possible. It also gives him the opportunity to improve his former status through education and loans for his business or farm.

And the G.I. Bill of Rights was conceived and the first draft made by the American Legion.

It provides opportunities for veterans to get loans to start businesses, build homes, establish farms. It gives them that extra financial push that allows them to re-establish themselves in the old... or a new... way of life.

It provides for the education of veterans whose schooling was interrupted by the war. It provides agencies to help veterans get jobs... and financial support until the veteran finds the job most suited to his training and talents.

But the G.I. Bill of Rights didn't just happen. It was brought about by the wisdom, the strength and the courage of the American Legion.

The G.I. Bill of Rights was born of a determination by the American Legion that World War II veterans should not experience the same disheartening neglect and indifference that veterans of the last war found when they came out of the armed services.

BENEFITS GRANTED 1919 VETERANS CONTRASTED WITH THOSE OF '44

When the servicemen came home from fighting the first World War they found a hearty welcome home, and but little else. It is interesting to note the comparison of conditions confronting returning veterans in 1919 and those awaiting the veterans of 1944 and later. The Omnibus Bill of Rights does not account for all the contrast, but The American Legion does.

End of War Good News in India to Hero (Bud) Cox

(Ed Note: The end of the war was good news in any part of the world. It happened to be. It was to Bud Cox in far-off India the end of the war to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Cox, of Ralls, from a letter to whom the excerpts below are taken. One-time residents of the community, the Coxes lived in the W. W. Smith place. Closing his letter LeRoy tells his father not to do all the farm work, he wants to be saved for him.)

I am fine, in fact better than ever. Now that this terrible thing is over, maybe it won't be long till we can all be together again. Don't know when I will be able to start home but soon, I hope. We will come back by boat, I guess, and it will take 15 or 20 days. This end of the war was really a "pleasant" surprise to us. One month ago, when I left China, the week had been a strenuous one for me; the same there I know, listening to every news broadcast that was possible to get at all hours of the day.

No Malaria Here

I am now stationed at Jiwana, India. It is a small place, located on the beach due west of Karachi. I had rather be at home than anywhere in the world, but if I have to be over here, I had rather be here I am than any place. The best part about it, there is no malarial fever, and we don't have to use mosquito nets, even if it is a swampland, desolate place. No mosquitos here. I am really glad to be here. We had a nice trip coming here. We flew the Hump at 14,000 feet, coming back a much better pilot than the one we went over.

First Coke in Two Years

Coming up from Karachi, I sat in the pilot's seat 35 minutes. The ship was on automatic pilot and the co-pilot had his feet upon the dash board, taking a "snooze."

I got my first Coca Cola in two years, when I got back in India, and some of the best hamburgers, just like we used to get back home at Jimmie Wright's.

The time I was in China I spent three months in Yankhi (close to Kunming), then seven months at Hengyang, the rest of the time at Lullang, 100 miles east of Kunming.

I am back at my old job, lower duty. And it's a pleasure now. When I was back in China, I learned and loved all those kids flying the fighters, and it was sure bad to see them crack up, or go out on flight and not come back.

On our trip over, we were not flying with the Army, but with CNA (China National Airways). If we had flown with the Army, we would have gone from Kunming to Chabua, India, then to the "Fire Ball" AC-54 straight to Karahi, one flight but as it was, we made our first stop at Assan Valley, then to Calcutta, spent three swell days there, just sightseeing. I got some more things to send home; then on the Karachi for two days, then here. I've been bathing in the ocean several times and the sun must have been awful hot, from the looks of my back. Today I went hunting, shot at a fox but did not kill him. Just killed three lizards, the longest one was over two feet long.

Pic. Ben P. Eudy, who has been on a furlough-visit with his parents Mr. and Mrs. George Eudy, after his return from Europe, left Tuesday morning for Fort Worth for screening and re-assignment, with a discharge one of the possibilities. He was in the campaigns through North Africa and into north Italy.

Allis-Chalmers Brings Farm and Home Hour Back

The tractor division of the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Company has brought National Farm and Home Hour back to the air waves as a weekly feature on a cost-to-coast NBC net work, it was announced this week by L. C. McDonald & Son, Allis-Chalmers dealers of this area. The first program was heard Saturday, September 15. It will be heard in this area at 1:30 p. m., over station KGNC of Amarillo.

Allis-Chalmers will be the Farm and Home Hour's first commercial sponsor in its 15-year history. The new show will retain all the authentic rural flavor that made it for many years the most popular farm program on the air.

The program will be broadcast in cooperation with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Each week members of the department will participate direct from Washington by means of a pick-up wire. Time will be furnished for the U. S. D. A.'s exclusive use in bringing flash news and official agricultural information to farmers.

In taking over the sponsorship of the Farm and Home Hour, Allis-Chalmers seeks to aid the farmer by keeping him informed on new developments in agriculture and marketing. In line with the company's long-established policy of promoting the family farm as a way of life, the program will emphasize better living, better farming, and more profit.

The Home Front

(Edith L. Wilson)

Good things come in small packages. Ask anyone who has used small apples for cooking. She'll verify the old adage.

Miss Edith Lawrence, Texas A. and M. College Extension Service specialist in food preparation, recommends scalloped apples and sweet potatoes as a dish your family will enjoy.

And here is the simple procedure to follow in preparing this delicacy: Take cold boiled sweet potatoes. Peel them and slice them. Place the uncooked apples and sweet potatoes in alternate layers in a greased baking dish. Sprinkle each layer of apples with salt, sugar and fat.

Add a little water and bake for 30 to 40 minutes in a moderately hot oven. If you like, you can leave the lid off the last 15 minutes of baking and sprinkle bread crumbs on the top.

"Or," suggests Miss Lawrence, "try fried apples with onions. That's easy and good too." Just fry sliced apples and onions with a little fat—slowly in a skillet. Be sure to stir every so often. Don't scorch them; that's bad for the flavor.

When they're nearly tender, remove the cover, add sugar and salt. Then continue cooking until the apples and onions are lightly browned. Serve at once.

If you prefer your apples straight.

Miss Lawrence recommends scalloped apples. You bake them the same way you do sweet potatoes. Just put a layer of apples in a baking dish, sprinkle with sugar and a little salt, and dot with fat. Continue until the dish is full. Cover and bake in a moderately hot oven—375 degrees.

Mr. and Mrs. Aldridge Thomas returned last Friday from Bremerton, Washington. Mrs. Thomas went to Bremerton in July to be with her husband; Mr. Thomas served almost three years in the U. S. Navy being discharged Monday, the 10.

INSURANCE FIRE

We farmers don't have all the money in the world behind our FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY because we have given millions of dollars to high financial interests in other states. (Yes millions) by paying a rate that is higher than is necessary to pay decent operating expenses and pay losses.

The Old Line Companies show you their financial statements with the millions on them, but don't kid yourself into believing that you can get it back by giving them some more through insuring through them again and paying their "DOUBLE" rate.

Personally we make our own money farming the land ourselves and we pay our own advertising. Financially speaking it don't make any difference to us where you spend your INSURANCE money. We SINCERELY WANT you to spend it with our own FARMERS UNION COMPANY and know you will save money on the premium you pay. We have paid every loss in full. The laws of Texas says you are safe. We know that we continue to pile up money that belongs only to our policy holders in Texas. Pretty soon we expect to reduce our premiums still lower, as Colorado Farmers Union have done.

I'll give $25 to the first person that will get me the following two sworn statements from any Old Line Fire Insurance agent in Floyd County covering the last 5 years—(providing he writes 100 or more policies per year).

1st: I want to know the total amount of money he has collected from policy holders in the 5 years and paid into the companies that he represents?

2nd: I want to know the total amount of money these same policy holders have received back as losses in these same 5 years? What percent do you guess?

I think that is the proof that we need to know that their "DOUBLE" rate is too high and proof that our rate of $6 per $1,000 per year is perfectly safe for our policy holders when you realize that none of the money we collect, pays dividends or interest to any PREFERRED Stock Holder or money lender in this or any other State.

You should realize that it is to the financial interest of Old Line companies and their agents operating in this State to try to create distrust in our own Texas FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, and try to break us, in order that you must pay their "DOUBLE" rate to "THEM" if you want your home protected against FIRE etc.

Butane heating and electric lights are taking most of the Fire hazards out of our Rural Homes (Thank goodness). Fire Insurance Rates should and will go down. Help me get the records and I will prove it to you.

In the meantime, insure with, and help build your own FARMERS UNION FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, IN TEXAS FOR TEXANS. Stay wide awake and do your own thinking. We will have a lot to live for in the next few years. Keep your property protected.

CHIROPRACTIC FOR ALL
In my practice I have had cases which were very young and others quite old, as the term "old" is applied today. I have found, however, that age, either young, old or otherwise, is only one factor, many times in the getting well process.

Whether young or old, it may be that yours is considered a problem case but has it ever occurred to you that your trouble might yield to the simplified principles of spinal adjustments? This has been the experience of many and that to their great surprise and satisfaction. Bear in mind that the question rests primarily on extent of disease and not necessarily on name or kind, as to whether you recover rapidly, or less rapidly. Remember the fact that in as much as you have a backbone and that very likely you have misalignments of the spinal column, is strong evidence that "the foremost drugless system of health" Chiropractic, can help you.

Call at Purcell's Chiropractic office at First National Bank Building and talk over your condition with me.

YOU CAN'T RECAPTURE Time

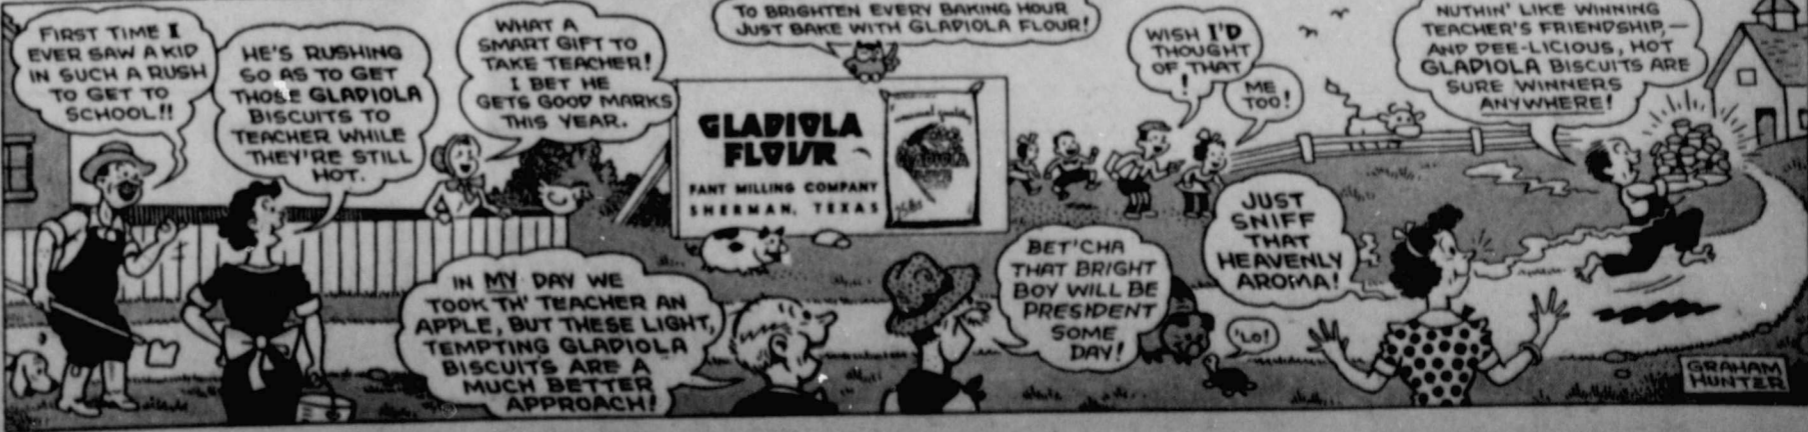

TIME slips away faster than we think. All too soon too many yesterdays have passed for us to accomplish all the things we intended one day to do... things like buying a home, starting a business of our own... or creating a savings program to protect our loved ones should something happen to us!

Mr. D. W. knew that time was slipping away from him, all too fast. And he knew he could never recapture any part of it. He had neither the income nor the time required for the average plan to create the protection he so earnestly wanted his family to have. But he learned how he might accomplish his desire, with limited income and limited time, through Southwestern Life Insurance. Fortunately, he was insurable. Fortunately, his wife and children will tell you, he invested in a Southwestern Life Insurance policy—a nominal contract on his life for $2,984. But for that fact, his family might have faced some serious readjustment difficulties, for death claimed Mr. D. W. last year, not quite three years after he had entered the agreement with Southwestern Life to pay his loved ones $2,984 should something unforeseen happen to him.

Time slips away faster than we think. Tomorrow, the unforeseen may alter or destroy all your plans. Now, while you may, set your savings program in motion through Southwestern Life Insurance. There is a Southwestern Life plan to fit your needs... a plan that you can create immediately on savings you can afford to save out of income. Get an insurance analysis of those needs today. The economy of the plan will please you.
