As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

The north-west wind's broom is sweeping the clouds away this Sunday and also cleaning the land of thistles that were cut loose with the one-way. Like bushel baskets turned loose they roll across the land, catch for a while on a fence over and go again. Fascinating to watch but mean a world of trouble later. Seeds are scattered, fence torn but we can't complain too much for they are thistles we raised instead of coming from a neighbor's field.

Leaves are whipped from the trees and sail away before they have had time to turn yellow on the trees and fall like a shower of coins under the trees where they had whispered and danced the summer days through. Sometimes seems like life has its stormy days when the pleasures and joys we have are snatched from our hands before we have had time for their enjoyment and sail away leaving our hands bare and empty. Like the leaves left 'til the proper time of falling, we want them to turn to golden memories and lay still in our memory houses.

Speaking of Clayton Carter last week brought back Emma Days when Clayton walked down the street from his home to the store with long curls hanging down over his ruffled blouse, and one arm in a sling smelling of iodiform. His arm was of much interest to the rest of the children. He actually had had it X-rayed and anyone could see the dark picture with the darker streak of his arm, yes, see the injured bone. Wonder of wonders! Clayton was such a cute little boy his brown eyes dancing ofttime with mischief.

Mr. Ramsey of the Harmony community tells some interesting experiences of early days in Eastern Nebraska when his father moved there in March. "There was still lots of cold weather," remembers

Mr. Ramsey. "We could not get material for a house so mother made a home in a wagon bed with overjet for some four months for father and three children. We lived some twelve miles from the town so between sleep, father and two neighbors made the trip.

"No, not in wagons but as father was the farthest away, he lighted the lantern, put the rope over his shoulders and tied the rope to a sled then walked to the closest neighbor. That man was a little shorter than father so he caught the rope behind him. Then the next neighbor still closer to town was the shortest so he took the rope behind the other two. They had to hurry before the road thawed to get to town where their purchases were made and waited till the road began to freeze and started home. The first man got out of the rope, took his things and the other two went on. The second stopped, took his supplies and father came on home alone, the sled still heavy with his own things.

"The lantern was blown out and father ate the good supper mother had prepared. No, this was not an unusual thing for men to do. All around men pulled sleds into town."

Each people as these made Americans. Their grandsons have fought to keep it. May the little children growing up preserve it in their time.

Mrs. Arthur Cooper sends me some funny cut sayings of her children. Her twins are aged four years. Linda, she writes, is the kind of girl that knows all the answers. Sandra asks most of the questions. It is seldom that the questions and answers match up but last week they did. Linda came running into the house and exclaimed, "Mother, Sandra wanted to know why we have five fingers on each one of our hands, and I explained to her that God made them that way so that when we buy gloves they would fit us." Now write me what your smart child or grandchild did or said for this column.

Someone was kind enough to send us a copy of the Canyon newspaper in which was an account of the wedding of Miss Dorothy Jean Jennings to Roy Dunnagan. I know she was even lovelier than her picture showed he as she walked down the aisle dressed in white satin with sheer yoke, fitted blouse and full skirt with a necklace of pearls and holding a Bible with an orchid. Now I knew this girl's mother Malley and her grandmother who was Mrs. Mattie Dale, the sister of Joe Brown of Estacado. We wish her and her husband much happiness in their California home. Ralls folks will remember that she taught in their school year before last.

Sidelights From Washington

By George Mahon

Figures make dry reading, but I believe the following will be of interest. A few days ago the House, on the recommendation of the Appropriations committee, rescinded fifty-two billion dollars—$52,000,000,000 in appropriations—money which had heretofore been approved for war spending. The biggest slice was recovered from the Army—thirty billion dollars was recovered. The remaining amounts were subtracted from other agencies.

In money World War I cost us twenty-six billion dollars. Total expenditures for World War II, will exceed three hundred and forty billion dollars. The amount of money being recovered now as a result of the end of this war is twice as much as the cost of World War I. And these figures do not take into account the greatest cost, the cost in human life.

Churches In Washington

Recently a visitor from Lubbock told me that he planned to attend the Sunday morning service at a certain Washington church. I cautioned him to arrive at the church by ten-thirty or he probably could not get a seat. He later reported that he followed by instructions, but was only able to get standing room in the rear of the church. The minister of this church began last Sunday a system whereby he will conduct two identical services or Sunday mornings, one at nine o'clock and one at eleven. This practice is already being followed by a few other churches in the city. There are many churches in the city where people have difficulty in getting seats at the eleven o'clock hour.

But unfortunately the people of Washington are not breaking any records for church attendance. Only eighty thousand out of a population of well over one billion in metropolitan Washington attend church on Sunday. According to a report recently made, twenty-three percent of the white children of public school age attend religious services on Sunday; the attendance rate for the negro children is thirty percent. There are five hundred churches in Washington, of which one hundred and sixty-one are colored.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

These news items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian published 14 years ago.

(Issue of October 22, 1931)
If there are any dry spots left in Floyd County following the big general rain over West Texas and New Mexico Tuesday night, The Hesperian was unable to bring them to light on Wednesday, when telephone calls and interviews disclosed that in every community the precipitation run from a minimum of one inch to a maximum of three inches or more.

Miss Bessie Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood of South Plains was married Saturday afternoon of last week to Mr. Jack McCown, of Whitley, Texas, the ceremony being performed by Rev. J. F. Nix.

When you go out looking for foot ball stars, just page Malcom Linder and your search will be ended for it was this little elongated lad that led his fighting teammates from Andrews Ward to a moral victory over the Plainview Junior High school Pups here Thursday afternoon, the game ending 0-0.

Littlefield's wildcats pawed the aid and dashed in vain against Floydada's mighty whirlwinds which kicked over the dope bucket, turned into a determined tonorado and swirled away Friday with a thrilling 7-6 victory in one of the finest exhibitions of high school football here ever seen in this section.

A farewell surprise party honoring Addie Barker was given at the home of Maxine Fry Friday. Misses Edelle King, Bonnie Fyffe and Maxine Fry were joint hostesses. Miss Barker will move with her parents to Portales, New Mexico to make their home.

A meeting of the "F" club was held Wednesday and the following officers were elected: Marion Heald president; Otha Johnston, vice-president; Floyd Murray, secretary-treasurer; Coach L. T. Barksdale sponsor; Malcom Bridges, reporter; Bruce McLaughlin, sergeant-at-arms.

Miss Selma Linder was hostess Tuesday evening to the YWA girls and the Intermediate Girls auxiliary at her home on South Wall Street.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Gilliam were hosts to the Friendship Bridge club in their regular meeting last Friday evening.

Atomic Question Mark
For weeks there has not been an issue of a Washington paper that did not carry some kind of story in regard to the atomic bomb. Many have been the speculations as to the future of the bomb. One editorial writer had this to say: "The atomic bomb is here to stay—but are we?"

Thomas M. Whitley Helped Put Cargo Planes over Hump

CALCUTTA—Sergeant Thomas M. Whitley, aerial engineer, of Route No. 1, Floydada, Texas, has been awarded an Air medal for meritorious achievement, it has been announced by Brig. Gen. William H. Turner, commanding general of the India China division, Air Transport command.

The India China Division is completing, by homeward movements of freight and personnel, its war mission of trans-India, India-China and intra-China transport. It has made air history by flying cargo and passengers in regularly scheduled day-and-night transit over routes once virtually unusable, primarily the famed Hump.

"From a small monthly tonnage at the outset," said General Turner in a war's-end statement to his troops, "cargo to China has increased until it has been proved that whole armies could be supplied by air in China—and they were, to the distress and destruction of our enemies."

TECH HOME-COMING NOV. 10

LUBBOCK, Oct. — More ex-students of Texas Tech than ever attended a home-coming are expected to be on hand Saturday, November 10, the date for the event this year. The Red Raiders are to play the T. C. U. Horned Frogs in the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCown and sons, who have been making their home at Alamo Gordo, New Mexico are moving to Tucumcari, and Mr. McCown will be an engineer with the soil service there. The family were here for a few days the latter part of last week and the first of this, guests in the home of Mrs. McCown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood.

The Home Front

(Edith L. Wilson)
Feather pillows may be washed with feathers in them, according to Mrs. Bernice Claytor, specialist in home improvement of Texas A. & M. College Extension service. Feathers may be removed from ticking, put in a large muslin bag and washed separately. Whether the feathers are washed by ticking or in a muslin bag method is the same. Warm water with lots of suds is needed. Washing should be done with a weak washing soda solution. The suds may need to go through another suds, and then through several like warm rinse waters. "When washing job is done," says Mrs. Claytor, "squeeze the water out and let the pillows dry in warm sun and in sun if possible. During the drying process, lightly beat the pillows two or three times so they will be fluffy."

Cattle and Sheep Add Security to West Tex. Farming

Ray C. Mowrey, professor in animal husbandry at Texas Technological college, Lubbock, yesterday talked about live stock on the farms of West Texas and of how they fitted into the farming scheme to add security to the average farm operations.
Because cattle and sheep adapt themselves to the widely varying feed supply conditions of the plains it is his experience, he said, that these animals blend well into any plan of operations. Hogs, he said, must be gone into more conservatively because their requirements for higher priced feeds vary little good years or bad.
Mr. Mowrey was presented on the program by A. L. Hartzo, pinch hitting for Grady Walker, who planned the program but could not be present.

I'm sorry to disappoint all my gossip lovers, but the report on Willa Bradford and Elmer Rucker last week was entirely a false alarm!!
Jumminy Crickets! I didn't know they were cousins! I guess I found out the hard way, but definitely!

Didn't Pete (Bashful McGee and June Finley look just simply sweet in each other's arms last Friday night? Of course, I mean at the Junior program. I hear that Pete is casting eyes elsewhere! What about Ina Faye and Jean Cummings???

O. L., I've had my new specks on (to see you better with, my dears!) last Thursday in the show and who came down the aisle with June Foster? You guess!! It was an entire sextet with the "Ballards" and "Paymes" (La Rue and D. F.) represented. And it "shore" was a big treat to pop corn afterwards wasn't it kids (De Quacker tells "ALL")!

Dean and Hughetta didn't seem to notice much that went on at the Breezers game. Bill and Martha were sort of pre-occupied. I hear Bill and Martha have been having it over Kelly!!

Jean Warren and George Reid were seen chatting. Are we going to start all over again?

Ovay Oden and Valrie sure did do O. K. Friday night. What about this, Mary Helen and LaVell???

Exactly "13" slips (I counted them) of gossip came to my desk this week concerning the love affairs of "L. S." and "Shorty". Did I have a doggone time sorting the stuff out! I'm supposed to know everything but I'm wondering. This puzzles me! De tell!

Romances that have budded out lately—Margie Whitehead and Bill Sherbet, oh, do they carry on in their English class?? Clara Pollan and Floyd Lyles (wake up, Lindell Warren); Delmar Hartley and Rose Beard, now what I mean they just can't wait for the afternoon English class to arrive.

What's this we see at noon?? Billy Jack Eudy and Liba Jean Gibson strolling to school...

June Powell, you couldn't be trying to attract Don's attention could you??

Norma Jean and Melvin were doing o. k. Saturday night.

Aren't Fred and Nancy just an ideal pair? Oh gosh!!

And Margaret Meredith and Bill Joe Hambricht (and don't tell me
"I" didn't see you strolling to school together!! You two were almost late in getting there, cause I was right behind you and I had to rustle like sixty!)

Note to parents: Can't you understand why little Junior was home such an ugly report card, stays out a little longer at night, and has to have the car at least twice a week now? He's in love!! (Just like you were in those good ole horse and buggy days!) And can you blame him!!

Jr. Show Draws A Large Audience

The Junior class, with guest stars entertained a large audience in the high school auditorium Friday night.

The first attractions were two numbers by the Junior Music club, under the direction of Mrs. Chowning. Then a reading "I couldn't help laughing" by Jeanne Battey followed by a piano solo by Dwina Glassmoyer. Next, was a tap dance by Bernice Littlefield. The "Don't Fence Me In" by Bing Crosby and the Andrews' Sisters (or reasonable facsimile).

Howard Adams played two piano solos followed by a vocal solo by Kathryn Crumpton and a piano solo by Leba Jean Gibson. The next number was a musical farce by Hazel Patton, Dwina Glassmoyer
and Joy Lambert. Bernice Littlefield was presented at the Hawaiian Dancer, "Tandala". A negro skit
"R. S. V. P. 55" was then given by Eugene Gee and Laverne Potey.

A song "Sentimental Journey" was given by Maxine Griffen, June Finley, Betty Haeed and Hazel Patton. June Powell, our guest star, did acrobatics, and Kay Sparks sang two solos, one of which, "Until That Day," was written by Orby McCleskey, a member of the Junior class. Beth Hinson played a piano solo. Our featured guest, Frank Sinatra, played by Sammy Hale, sang "I Couldn't Sleep A Wink."

The last number was a song
"Dream" with Dwina Glassmoyer,
Maxine Griffen, Joy Lambert, Jear
Walker, Valrie Burke, June Finley,
Hazel Patton, Reva Thomas, Lavell
Hail, Betty Tye, Kelly Hagood, Pete
McGee, Howard Adams, and Ovay Oden. This was acted out by couples under blue lights.

The Juniors wish to thank our guests June Powell, Kay parks, and the Junior Music club and also we are grateful for the large audience.

COME TO THE CARNIVAL

FHS B Stringers Best Lockney B's

The Floydada B Stringers played the Lockney B Team on Wester field Friday at 3 o'clock.

It was a good game from start to finish. The Floydada boys were leading the game from beginning to end. This will give the boys some very good experience and it looks as if some of the boys of the varsity will have to get to work to retain their position, because the B Stringers were really playing good football. They were completing passes and plunging the line in such a terrific number that the Lockney boys thought that Coach had slipped in a few of the varsity boys!!!

Two of the touchdowns were made on the passes from Hale to McGuire and Johnson made the final touchdown on an end-run.
Floydada was never in any very tight spots as they outplayed the Lockney boys all of the game.

We are very proud of our B team. So when they have another game let's all come out and back them up, because they are the future team of F. H. S.

Don't forget the Whirlwinds play Paducah here at Wester Field on next Friday night. So come on out and let's beat Paducah.

BREEZERS TAKE FOOTBALL GAME FROM TOREADORS

The Floydada Breezers played Matador on Wester field Thursday. The Breezers outplayed the Toreadors in every way. The final score was 19-0 in the Breezer's favor. The outstanding players were Loy Lee Trice, captain, Reese
Grubbs, Bobby Finley, Red Davis
Junior Perry, J. A. Terrell, Aubrey
Guthrie, Billy Reasoner, Thomas
Rucker, Tommy Reeves, Billy Jeter Jimmy Green and Dub Hodge. We are very proud of the Breezers.

The north section of the grandstand was filled with girls in green and white who created the proper atmosphere for the game. These girls from R. C. A. do an excellent job of yelling and backing their boys. They were led by Ruth Beedy, Sammie Shultz and Betty Laminack.

BAND ADDS FLAG BEARERS

The band has an added attraction
now. They have two flag bearers
now. They are Melba Smalley and Gloria Ann Shultz. Also, they have some twirlers who are Joy Lambert and June Powell.

The band elected officers last week. They elected the following:
president, Hughetta Smartt; vice-president, Martha Cudd, secretary-treasurer, Lovene Jones.

The band is to be a co-helper in giving the football banquet.

Come to the Junior Carnival

NEW JUNIOR OFFICER

The Juniors held a class meeting Thursday and elected Charles Beedy Junior vice-president. Pete Mc-Gee assumed the duties of president on the resignation of Johnny Roberts, who has moved to Colorado.

THIS WEEK'S . . . Junior Carnival . . . PERSONALITY Queen Coronation

For our personality this week, I have chosen another of our cheer leaders. She is a very pretty little red head, but that could fit either one of our cheer leaders.

Our personality was born in Crowell, Texas, where she lived until the summer of 1944. She is the daughter of our superintendent and our speech teacher. She couldn't help but have brains!

Our personality is 5 feet, 3 inches tall, with auburn hair and eyes that seem to match. She is a Senior this year, and a member of Gamma Sigma Kappa. She is also one of the pianists for the Junior Music club.

No one in school could fit all of this but La Rue Graves. She says that you can recognize her by her always having on sweaters and skirts, and her swoon boys are Van Johnson and D. F. Payne.

La Rue's ambition is to major in Home Economics in some college and she isn't very particular which one. Her favorite food is cocoa-nut pie, and her most frequent saying is "I don't know," especially in Senior English.

La Rue is one of our prettiest and most popular students, and if Crowell has any more half as nice as she, that they can spare, I wish they would send them on. La Rue in the opinion of her fellow students, really has what it takes, and I'm sure that people will always say that about her, no matter where she goes.

DANGER IN NEGLIGENCE No single part of the body structure is so vitally related to the life and normal operation of the body as a whole, or to its individual function, as the SPINE. The very slightest displacement of a spinal bone may create irritation of, or interference with, a trunk nerve. The effect of this irritation sooner or later, is DISEASE. The appeal of the sick for spinal adjustments is most urgent. We can see suffering and need everywhere. Seventy-five per cent of the children have spinal defects—every human has some illness. A health survey shows that on an average, each citizen of the United States is sick nine days out of every year. Cautious Reminder: Help eliminate your illness today by coming to The Purcell-All-Chiropractic office for a thorough Spinal Examination. DO ALL YOU CAN NOW TO PREVENT YOUR CASE FROM BECOMING SERIOUS. THE CHIROPRACTIC WAY

Methodist Notes, Aiken District

(J. G. Walker, Pastor) Did you go to church Sunday? Some of my readers will say "No it was too bad." Well, we grant you that it did look rather bad; but some made it fine and on time. Was the sandstorm worse at your place than just across the road at your neighbors? Maybe that sandstorm was a test of your loyalty to the work of the Lord. You know that the Lord tested Job, or allowed Satan to test him. Job's was a severe test. That little cold snap and wind Sunday morning was just a little attack; doubtless Satan wanted to make it harder, but the Lord knew that you could not stand much winter weather just at the beginning so He allowed only a light test. No doubt, the Lord believed in you as He believed in Job; but you yielded and God was disappointed; the Lord's work suffered, and you lost a blessing; and you feel now much like Jonah felt after the big fish had thrown him out on the sand; beach at the nearest point to Nineveh, and received the second call: "Arise and go to Nineveh, that great city and preach the preaching that I bid thee."

Well, you will never know in this world, how much we appreciated the ones who came. We know that they wanted to come. We know that each one present received a blessing, and has more strength to enable him to withstand other tests. Come to Carr's Chapel this Sunday. This will be our last day there in this Conference year. Whatever your feelings towards the pastor, or your desire for his return or his exit; be on hand Sunday, to help close out the year in a pleasant way and give the Church a boost for the coming year. If we all do our best (I feel sure we will) we will doubtless have the best financial report in the history of the Aiken circuit. We think now that every assessment and quota will be paid in full. Won't it look good spread out in the minutes of the Conference Journal?

THE RIGHT TRACTOR FOR THE PARTICULAR JOB

THE proverbial Jack-of-all-trades was master of none. The modern world of science and technology passed him by. The same principle applies to farm tractors. The tractor that does a wide variety of jobs unsatisfactorily can't possibly produce the greatest results at the least cost in any job. But that's what the farmer—particularly the small operator—has got to do to meet postwar competition: he's got to produce the most food possible with the least effort and, consequently, at the lowest cost. The farmer with 10 acres in truck crops needs one kind of tractor. The farmer with 100 acres in wheat alone needs another kind—or, as is usually the case, two or more different tractors. The tractor which does a good job on the Great Plains may be useless in the rice territory. And so it goes. Conditions of climate, the lay of the land, and the character of soils in the different parts of this vast country, together with wide variations in the nature of crops and the size of operations, combine to produce wide differences in the requirements for tractors. Harvester's policy is to meet all these requirements. That is why Harvester's postwar line includes a great variety of Farmalls and other specialized tractors and attachments rather than a single tractor with a single system of tools. Every tractor in the line was developed after scientific research and testing under actual operating conditions showed the specifications needed for efficiency and economy. Every Harvester-built tractor is the right machine for its particular job.

Place and Ritz an Hallowe'en Double Features

Place and Ritz theatres in Floydada will dish out a big double dose of murder and mystery for the Hallowe'en crowds in Floydada. It is announced this week by Jack Kessler, manager of Floydada theatres, that the same show will be featured at both places of entertainment and at the same price. These two shows Nela Lugosi starred in wholesale murder in a house setting in "The Invisible Ghost," a spine tickling murder story, and in the other is featured in "Mystery of the Thirteenth Guest." In this Dick Purcell starred as a private detective. The stories will fit in with the Hallowe'en merry makers' spook chasers. The "Mystery of the Thirteenth Guest" is motivated by the will of an eccentric old man who orders his granddaughter to open the document in an old long deserted house thirteen years after his death.

With a murder taking place as soon as the girl enters the house at midnight, the picture swings into high immediately and never lets down until the final fadeout.

In Lugosi's film story, "The Invisible Ghost," he is a kindly philanthropist named Kessler who specializes in plain and fancy murder in his odd moments.

Mysterious Inmate Wife
Kessler dreams of the day his wife who he thinks has run off with another man, will return to him. He does not know that she is insane as the result of an accident and is living in the garden house on the grounds.

Mrs. Kessler, portrayed by Betty Tompkins, slips out of her hideaway at regular intervals, sneaks into the house and casts a hypnotic spell upon her husband. It is a spell that turns him from a warm-hearted individual into a snarling stranger and he immediately kills the first person that strikes his fancy.

Innocently caught in a snare of circumstantial evidence, the fiancée of Kessler's daughter is executed for one of the slayings. His brother then visits the house, determined to clear the family name. Through his efforts the true killer is brought to justice in an action-packed climax.

Both shows begin at 11:30. The date is Hallowe'en night, October 31.

Joe Gates Tells Experience First Visit on Jap Soil

Joe W. Gates, son of Rev. and Mrs. Phil H. Gates, a veteran of the Pacific warfare against the Japs with a record of one ship shot from under him, writes his parents an interesting story given below about his short shore leave from the USS Niagara on one of the northern islands of the Japanese. In the letter dated at Otaru, Hokkaido, he writes:

I just got off liberty in Otaru. We wore undress blues and the weather was cool and sunny. We were told not to carry American money or merchandise ashore. I concealed a sheath knife at my side as I didn't want to get caught in a fight with no weapons.

We were mad when we hit the beach because a soldier told us that aboard had approached some Japs and had tried to find out about what had happened to the missionaries which had been here when the war started. Some (blankety blank) Jap spit right in his face and all the Japs laughed at his embarrassment. When he reported the incident, Military Police went looking for the Jap but they couldn't find him.

When we reached town they held us on the docks until there were over a hundred sailors, then turned us loose. We walked down into town and then split up into groups of five and went most anywhere we wanted to. Pretty soon there were several thousand blue jackets in the town besides about the same number of soldiers, and a few Marines.

The idea was to send the unarmed sailors into the town to show the Japs we weren't afraid of them and weren't going to take anything that didn't belong to us. We walked all over town (city of 15,000) and way back in the residential section.

Ragged, Poverty Stricken
We saw old women with faces haggard and wrinkled, their skins almost transparent, carrying large bundles of rags and sticks and old men with small grey goatees on their chins, their arms and legs so tiny in circumference it seemed impossible to carry a man, much less the loads most of them carried. Most of their clothes were of cotton and patched in many places.

We entered a school yard where quite a few children, all boys, were playing. Some were playing football and others were looking through a telescope at the ships in the harbor. As we walked up they ceased their activities and gathered in a bunch to stare silently at us. We looked through their telescope laughing and talking among ourselves all the while. The Jap boys were watching us very closely.

We smiled at them and looked at their balls and bats, exact copies of American sporting goods. They began to relax and one of them threw his ball to another and said shyly "trike." Another laughed and said "ball." They began talking among themselves obviously talking about us. One of the fellows persuaded him of the boys to play catch with him for a minute. As I looked up I saw framed in the window of the school the school master. There was a thoughtful frown on his brow. Perhaps he was thinking that we were spoiling his nice teachings that all Americans had souls of devils. Indeed I found one such picture inscribed "Soul of an American." As we wondered away, I found on the ground an English lesson for Japanese.

Inside a Buddah Temple
We visited a Buddah Temple. It was the old style building with sway back roofs and fancy designs all over and around the place. As we entered we slipped off our shoes and hats in Oriental custom and walked silently over the padded floor. The attendants stood by nervously for fear we should molest the dead ancestors which were all over the place. The rich had golden altars trimmed in silver and blue with delicate dishes engraved beautifully while the poor only had a pigear hole with cheap dishes and cheap cloth. The whole place smelled strongly of incense, as each small altar, rich or poor had an incense burner.

One rich family had the picture of a famous relative sitting on the silken covered box containing his ashes. Idols and sitting Buddah were in abundance everywhere, their eyes gleaming evilly at us, the foreign unbelievers. A chill ran the length of my spine and I thanked God that ours is a living God, and not a fat, evil-looking idol of stone. As we left the place I nodded to the attendant and he bowed almost to the floor, thankful that we had left his silent temple unmolested and undisturbed.

Not Babying the Japs
We walked back into the town and noticed that already the Japs were losing their great fear of us. Only a few stood around sulking and those we took great pains to look straight in the face until they dropped their eyes. If we can win the confidence of the younger generation we have succeeded in our purpose. These older people in their set ways have hated everything that stands for progress and brotherly love. We are not babying these Japs. If one steps out of line he is going to get hurt, and I mean hurt bad.

We have taken over the management of the railroads and hospitals but are employing the Japs to run them themselves. American trucks and jeeps are everywhere. A few Jap cars and trucks are still in service. Seventy-five percent of them were made in the United States but they have been converted to burn charcoal for fuel.

The sewage system is terrible as most of the sewers empty into gutters which run on the side of the street. They use this waste for fertilizer on their gardens. They have gardens everywhere conceivable. One vegetable I noticed in particular was squash. I saw squash blooms and leaves at nearly every home.

I saw the Jap "red light district." Military police were all around the place. The girls were out trying to drum up business but weren't having any luck. They were dressed in dirty rags and everyone of them had painted their faces white. What a stinking mess.

I was given a lotus blossom by an old man, and I wore it back to the ship. I think it was lotus. It was beautiful but had very little smell. I brought it back to one of my buddies in sick bay, who had a leg operation earlier this week.

Boy, there is no place like the good old U. S. A. bar, none. If I ever get there I think I'll stay forever.

METAL IRRIGATION SIPHON REGULATES FLOW OF WATER

LUBBOCK, Oct.—A new type metal irrigation siphon tube now being used on the Texas Tech farm is said to be the only one in operation in Texas. The manufacturer claims that it permits accurate regulation of the flow of water in an irrigation ditch by siphoning the water over the ditch bank. The new device, it is claimed, prevents washing out of soil and saves both time and labor.
