Double Funeral Sunday For Mrs. Norvell Willis and Little Son, Victims of California Collision

Funeral was held Sunday morning at the First Methodist church in Floydada for Mrs. Norvell Willis and her little son, Steve Vincent...

Floyd county farmers will take time out from seasonal work next week to elect AAA community and county committeemen for the coming year.

Three community committeemen and two alternates, as well as a delegate to the county convention, will be chosen in each of the county's nine farming communities.

Chairman Paul Snodgrass, of the county AAA committee, said today that the election will be held Monday, December 3, at the following polling places:

1563 Eligible To Vote In Floyd county, Mr. Snodgrass said approximately 1300 farmers are eligible to vote on committeemen this year.

The County AAA chairman, in reminding Floyd County farmers of the forthcoming ballot appealed for full participation.

Discussing the role of community committeemen, Mr. Snodgrass, present county committeeman, pointed out that soil and water conservation will continue to loom large among AAA program objectives.

Mr. Snodgrass also stated that on Friday of this week, Community committeemen will meet for final instructions relative to the election.

Mrs. W. H. Jenkins Rites Held Sunday

Last rites for Mrs. Margie (Maggie) Jenkins, 61, wife of W. H. Jenkins, and a resident of Floydada for the past 19 years, were held Sunday afternoon at 4:30 at the First Baptist church, where Rev. L. A. Doyle, pastor of the church, officiated.

Mrs. Jenkins died at 11 a. m. on Thanksgiving morning at the family home here.

Surviving children are three sons, Odis of Los Angeles, California; Fred also of California, and Grady of Cuero, Texas; and three daughters, Mrs. W. T. Bramlett, of Lubbock, Mrs. Jewell Redd of Amarillo and Mrs. E. H. Patton of Floydada.

Also surviving the deceased are three brothers, John Fritts, of Oklahoma City, and Will and Kerb Fritts, both of Duncan, Oklahoma, and two sisters, Mrs. R. H. Feidler, of Marlow, Oklahoma, and Mrs. R. H. Reed, of DeLeon, Texas.

Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock Sunday morning at the home of Mrs. L. D. Cardiff, a sister of the bride.

Gift Packages For Service Men Sought by Legion

There are thousands of American service men and women and ex-servicemen who are hospitalized in Texas for whom the war is not over and Legionnaires and Auxiliary members of the state are organizing to see that they all are remembered as Christmas-time.

McDermott post and auxiliary among these organized last week to carry on a "Gifts for the Yanks who Gave" program, and each post in the state will ship gifts on or before December 15.

Jack Henry, commander of McDermott post, named J. B. Turner chairman of the post committee, with Robt. McGuire and W. H. Brock as members. Small gifts of every kind which a boy or girl would like are desired and the Legion is asking all donors who will to join them in the shower for Christmas.

"Many of our sons and daughters will be in the hospitals for a long time and it is up to us to make life worthwhile for them during the long hospitalization period," Mr. Henry said is the slogan of the campaign for gifts.

Suggested Gift Items Scores of items will suggest themselves as appropriate. The gift can be a simple one or more elaborate. Books may include mysteries, classics, comics, dictionaries, westerns.

Championship 6-Man Football At Matador

Announcement has been made that the 6-man football bi-district championship game between districts 3-B and 4-B will be held at Burleson field, Matador, tomorrow afternoon.

The game, sponsored by the Matador Lions club, will be played between Plomot Longhorns, champions of District 3-B and the Dickens Owls, champions of District 4-B. Game will be called at 2:30 o'clock.

Classify Jerseys Again in Spring Plan of Breeders

Following the visit here last week of Dr. Rupel, of the Dairy Husbandry department of A. & M. college of Texas, and of D. T. Simon, Texas representative of the American Jersey Cattle Club, it was announced that several Floyd county Jersey breeders and the club officials are planning a classification day again next spring.

Herd of Jack Brian, Lockney, and Harvey Brock and C. B. Carmack, Floydada, were inspected and classified and the party, including nearly 20 Floyd county Jersey men, were guests of the Floyd County Jersey Cattle club and Floydada Chamber of Commerce at a luncheon in the Hotel Coffee shop at noon. W. F. Spears presided at the dinner.

Talks by the distinguished visitors including a discussion of dairy management by Dr. Rupel and a survey of Jersey cattle marketing conditions and Jersey breeding by Mr. Simons. The latter indicated that the supply of good, commercial Jersey animals in Texas is lower than usual.

Breeders who plan to have their herds ready for classification next spring include Clyde Parrish, president of the Floyd County Jersey Cattle club, Earl Edwards, Jr., its secretary and J. A. Jameson.

Mayo Motor Co. Opens Dealership Dodge-Plymouth

Mayo Motor company, located at 116 West Missouri street in the Barker building, this week announced the opening of the Dodge-Plymouth dealership in Floydada. Owners of the business will be D. T. Mayo and G. E. Mayo, father and son, who already have a stock of parts in the re-arranged and repainted show and service rooms.

D. T. Mayo, elder member of the firm, has lived in Hale and Swisher counties the past 25 years and comes here from Tulsa. He bought the Mrs. O. M. Conway residence at 1122 South Main street, where he and Mrs. Mayo make their home.

G. E. Mayo, who will have charge of the service department, has been a superintendent of construction with Plains Construction company the past four years, leaving the job to go into business for himself. He is married and he and Mrs. Mayo with their two-year-old son, Larry Watt, have moved to Floydada to make their home.

The firm already has a stock of parts and plan an excellent service for Dodge and Plymouth owners of the area, in addition to their sales.

Fine Open Weather for Cotton Harvest—If Any; Gin Reports Give Less than 5,000 as Total

It's as fine an open fall for a cotton harvest Floyd county has had in many a year but except for spots around there just isn't any crop.

A check-up this morning with gins indicate that the three gins at Lockney and the gin at Alken will end the season with a total of less than 3,500 bales among them. About 2,000 bales had been ginned at Lockney last night, some 900 at Alken and they are practically finished—possibly not more than 350 bales yet to be done. A fine crop of irrigated cotton was growing in this broad northwest area of the county when hail hit and the re-planting was a smaller acreage and too late.

Floyd County Shy In Campaign for Victory Bonds

Floyd county has a woefully low record of E bond buying to date in the Victory bond campaign.

Saturday night's figures, compiled by J. M. Willson, U. S. Treasury War Finance chairman, stood at 31 1/2 per cent, the total sales for the county being only $46,000 of an E bond quota of $145,000. An overall quota of $210,000 was set by the county and the big investors had already pledged their portion of this figure in other than E bonds by the time the campaign opened.

Frankly worried by the county's record, Willson issued a statement Tuesday "To the people of Floyd County," in which he pointed out that Floyd county stands 127th in the state of 251 counties organized for the campaign, and further that "Texas has the lowest rate of sale of E bonds of any state in the union."

"This is the record for your returning service men to see in this bond drive today," said Mr. Willson. "An embarrassing picture for the great state of Texas that has furnished more volunteers to the armed forces than any other state in the nation."

The splendid record Floyd county in particular and the counties of Texas in general has made in previous campaigns will be badly marred if the citizenship does not rally to make the Victory bond campaign a success before its close, he said.

Figures for the county was not broken down by districts by the chairman.

Call to Organize Young Demos. Here Saturday

A call to organize a county league of Young Democrats in Floydada on Saturday afternoon of this week in Floydada was issued this week by Ed Holmes, of the Sand Hill precinct. The hour is 2:30 o'clock and the meeting place the county court room.

The meeting was called after talks with several other young Democrats of the county. Mr. Holmes said, indicating belief that the organization could be helpful to the county politically. He issued the following statement in making the call:

"We do a little griping about the way things are run, then when we get a chance to help we say we are too busy."

"We have the best spot in Texas and we could have a little more influence down-state if we would stay awake at the right time."

"We have a chance to organize a Young Democratic club in Floyd county and be affiliated with both State and National organizations. We can send a delegate to the state meeting in Fort Worth on December 6 and 7."

"Take a little time and come to this meeting. Your thinking out loud might get a lot done for this plain country and some of Uncle Sams boys are going to need a decent break in the next few years."

out where the close-up fighting took place and could give the newspapers a good story. The reporter couldn't get the ex-schoolboy to talk, however, and lost a good war story.

J. R.'s plans are indefinite. At present he is visiting his sister, Mrs. J. R. Robertson here.

Winfred Newsome Due Home Shortly

Lt. Winfred P. Newsome, USNR, is due to reach San Francisco on December 1, aboard the giant Carrier Yorktown, one of a large contingent of officers and men, and soon thereafter will begin processing for separation from the service.

This is the news he gave his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Newsome here, in a letter written from Quantico, November 16. At the time he was aboard ship, having just reached that outpost from the Western Carolines, where the big campaign against Iwo and Okinawa had been directed.

Now that the war is over Lt. Newsome, a former county attorney of Floydada, who went into the service from Snyder, is anxious to get back into civilian life again.

His wife and their son, John Charles, have been making their home at Oklahoma City, during his absence.

All-District Team Voting Under Way

Vote on the all-district mythical team of District 4-A is under way this week, among coaches of the seven schools. Coach Gresham of Floydada high said he was casting his ballot yesterday.

In the voting no coach can select an entry for the district "team" from his own squad.

Caprock Water Superintendents in Meeting Here

Twenty-five members representing 14 towns in the area of the Caprock Water and Sewer association joined by several guests last night enjoyed a steak supper at the Commercial Hotel Coffee shop after a trip of inspection of the Floydada water and sewer systems.

The meeting was a regular monthly gathering of the association members and the inspection trip was followed by a brief meeting at the city hall before the gathering at the dining place.

H. O. Stanfield, president of the association, presided. Floyd Johnson, of Floydada, secretary-treasurer.

Feature address of the evening was made by Engineer S. C. Cooper, of Lubbock, on "Ground Water Sanitation." Mayor Harmon welcomed the guests, Fire Chief Carl Rodgers gave a brief discussion on operation and maintenance of the iron lung and resuscitator. Others who spoke briefly were Hugh Nations of Crosbyton, Walton Hale and Conner Oden of Floydada, and Leon Middleton of Quitaque.

Representatives of the various cities and towns included W. W. Miller, water superintendent, Lockney; S. E. Bowles, water superintendent, J. B. Slaughter and Claud Yates, of Plainview; H. O. Stanfield, water superintendent, Floydada.

Coach Gresham has a doctor check his boys Monday to be sure their injuries and colds gave indication of being out of the way by this week-end.

Wellington Is Heavier Wellington football fan talk and newspaper reports out of that point credit the Skyrocket team with having considerably more weight and greater reserve depth than the Whirlwinds in practically every position. The Whirlwind line, in particular, looks light to Wellington fans who were here the past two week-ends scouting the Floydada school's squad. No figures were available here this week on weights and experience of the Skyrockets.

The squad has had a successful season against strong competition. Yesterday it was indicated that scores of rapid Whirlwind fans will follow them to Wellington to see what happens to their battling little team. Best route to travel, they say, is by way of Paducah.

Indicating that the Floydada line will not be handicapped as badly against the Skyrockets as forecast are the official weights of the start-liners which show that the Floydada line actually will have a seven and a half pound advantage. In the backfield, however the Whirlwinds will give their opponents an average of 14 1/2 pounds per man. These official figures presumed to be correct, give Wellington's line an average weight of 152 1/2 pounds, the Floydada line 161 pounds; for the backfield, Wellington's average 159 pounds, Floydada 143 pounds.

Coach Gresham is most likely to start the same first string as last week. However, as late as Monday he had boys with fever from severe colds. Eubanks plucky starting center, in particular has been playing against odds. Not too big he was sick most of last week and the bruising play against Spur was his hardest assignment of the season. Berry, star tackle for the "Winds, also was "under the weather" rather seriously Monday.

Francis on Trip Sees a Bit More Champagne Area

(Along about November 14 found Francis B. Wester, Sergeant in the army, in the writing mood, so he takes us for a visit to Reims, France the Champagne capital of the world from Chenay, where he is stationed.—Ed. Note.)

When one writes as many letters as I do now you get to wondering if you don't know about how a writer or poet feels when he has his inspirations, not that I think I am either it's just that there is times when for the life of me I cannot think for the life of me I cannot think of the first line let alone some of these long drawn out stories that I am guilty of throwing about now and then. That's what I mean, sometimes when I don't even know it myself I am able to write a long letter while the very next time I don't even start. I know in our eagerness to get home and our impatience (new word maybe) we fellows who are seeing and have seen so many places we otherwise would have never seen fail to realize the privilege it really is and how we will appreciate this knowledge later in our life. Reverts to the old saying "It's an ill wind that blows no one good."

Champagne Capital of World
After leaving here last October, moving over all of Belgium, Luxembourg, part of Holland and some of Germany, I am back stationed in the historic old city of Reims, France, the Champagne capital of the world. Actually I am in a very small village about 9 miles outside of Reims called Chenay. This is a typical small French town that still retain a "town crier" who goes about every morning between 9 and 9:30 ringing his bell first and then giving out with the latest news of the village. We call him "Wenchell"—But that is beside the point, as much as we "modern Americans" laugh at this character and his news flashes he is still a very important and a "must" of this village of Chenay. Let's take a jeep out of this little village and into the city of Reims. We'll just hit the high spots, what do you say?

Despite its new appearance Reims is really a very old city, being in existence when the Romans first came here in century one. Then it was called Remi, for the Catholic priest who later became Saint Remi. There is a particular reason that the city has its new appearance—only in 1914 for 101 days and was the worst destroyed city of France after that great war. Champagne and the other industries that go to make up the world-wide famous beverage are the main livelihood of Reims and thus it gets its title as "The Champagne Capital of the World." Surrounded by fertile slow rising and falling slopes that are ideal for growing the fine grapes necessary for vintage of this beverage it is naturally self supporting in regards to other items of food grown by mans most essential worker, the farmer.

Most Mis-Named Structure
Because it is the first place of interest we come to driving from Chenay to Reims we will stop at the World's most misnamed structure, "The little red schoolhouse." Before the Americans took it over to house the Supreme Headquarters this school was about to reopen teaching domestic arts to boys between the ages of 14 and 20, after being used as barracks by the Germans for 4 years. In cold facts the little red school house is a very large building that any nice size city back in the States would like to have in its midst. Built of red brick trimmed in smooth white concrete, it covers, counting the center court an approximate of one city block or close thereon.

M. P.s Give You the Rush
We go inside and are somewhat awed at the modernness of the interior with its marble floor and as we step up to the second floor one notices the wide staircase you could easily drive an automobile up. We climb to the second floor to have a hasty look at the famous room that was used for signing of Germany's unconditional surrender. Really not much to tell about. It's a very simple little room that has in spite of its smallness a little anti-room before you go into the room where the document was signed. The walls are bedecked with maps, supply maps, battle maps and troop movement maps. It is said there were put there to impress the Krauts who were attending the Parley just now hopeless their situation was. In the center of the room is a very plain long table surrounded by chairs, each marked as to what "Famous or infamous" that sat there for the signing. That's all there is to see there so let's move on. M. P.s and others rush you to where you can't really see much any how.

Not far to go, just about 200 yards from the schoolhouse we come to another interesting portion of Reims. This place is de La Republique, famous for its two monuments. The first is Reims monument to the dead of World War I and carries that name, in French of course. It is a semi-circle made of white stone with a statue of some Biblical character at each end. Towering pillars at the back side gives it an old Roman appearance in spite of its relative newness. One fourth around the circle we come to the Mars Gate said to be one of the largest Roman structures remaining in France today. It was dug out of ruins at its present location about one hundred years ago. Its carvings are in a fair state of preservation and it is typical of the old Roman gates to their cities I studied about and was so bored with back in high school.

Always Take Second Glance
We head from here toward the Reims Cathedral, the structure that is world renowned and has stood more sieges than has hardly actually been recorded. On the way, however, we are passing the Hotel De Ville, this is the city hall of the city so let's take a hurried glance just as we pass. This building covers every bit of one city block and houses the nerve center of Reims city, county and national functioning. It is old French structure with many spirals springing out of its roof in some of the most surprising places. It is very pretty however in spite of the many spirals and one always takes a second glance at it should he pass there a dozen times a day.

World Known Cathedral
Here we are at the world known cathedral. This an architectural landmark of France was built in the fifth century and has been the site of the coronation of every ruler of France since Clovis in 499 with the exception of Charlemagne and Napoleon. A magnificent structure that looks like, from the air, a mother hen sitting with her young ones all about her. Stone carvers worked 200 years on the thousands of carvings on the building. The front of the building alone contains 530 separate and different statues (I didn't count them) ranging from Christ on the cross to the Wise Men and their camels. These are partially mutilated by the ravage of war and time. The towers rise to the height of 266 feet (again I quote) and are left with a more or less unfinished appearance although we are told the original plans called for spires on each of them.

The interior has a very old musty atmosphere and one feels so very small when he walks into it with its 123 feet high ceiling. It is lighted by 100 windows that really still don't give too much light, because the windows are covered with stained glass, some of it very old but a small portion. It is because the fragil glass was so very highly vulnerable to the air attacks and bombardments the cathedral has gone through in its days.

One of the most memorable coro-

nations that has taken place in this old church is that of Charles the Seventh. Aided to the victory by the Maid of Orleans, Jeanne D'Arc Charles and his army was led to Reims by Jeanne D'Arc and they made a triumphal entry into the city. On a beautiful high altar and with Jeanne standing at his side Charles knelt and was crowned king of France on July 17, 1429. Today at the approximate spot Jeanne stood, stands a statue of this celebrated person of French history. Outside of her steed and in full battle regalia is another statue of Miss D'Arc, very good likeness too. I am told. As if I would know.

Oldest Church in Reims
Speaking of churches, one should see the church of St. Remi at the southern end of the city. Actually it is the oldest church in Reims standing exact as it was built. It differs a bit in style from the famed Reims cathedral being Romanesque rather than Gothic. Inside the most impressive thing I saw was the magnificent tomb of St. Remi.

Let's take this street. This is Boulevard De La Pay and if we stay right on it we will end up right at the gates of the world's greatest champagne cellar and importers. Let's not go inside this time because a trip through there is a half days visit in its-self. But let's just stop here long enough to look at those numerous buildings and installations, one would never know an industry so lightly thought of in our country was really such an operation, especially when we know under these acres winds some 15 miles of tunnels and hundreds are down there right this minute hard at work.

We live, travel and learn, don't we? There's really a lot more to see but it's time to get back to Chenay and besides later we will want some more to see so let's get back.

Back in Chenay and pulling into the court of the chateau we are billeted in we see that same town crier ringing his bell, getting ready to give some news flash in all probability. I understand a little French so let's see what he has to say. "The bakery will be open from tomorrow morning from 9 to 11 and all those who have tickets may purchase bread."—Well what do you know, a commercial.

Pilgrim Thankful For Health, Too, Dr. Cox Reminds

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 27 — The first Thanksgiving Day in this country was proclaimed for the purpose of expressing thanks not only for the bountiful harvest which the colonists had reaped but for the sturdy health and endurance that had permitted them to survive the hardships and exposure, that first rigorous year in America. On the occasion of this Thanksgiving Day the State Health Officer, Dr. C. W. Cox, is appealing to every citizen of Texas to give serious thought to the preservation of his own health and that of his community.

"We have much to be thankful for in that our national health level has remained high despite the nervous tension, the sacrifices, the deprivations of war," Dr. Cox stated. "Our people have maintained a remarkably high health level and even under existing war conditions, Texas has shown a continued decline in maternal and infant deaths.

"The people of Texas have reason to be thankful for the steadily increasing interest and cooperation being shown in matters pertaining to general sanitation and the control of communicable diseases," Dr. Cox asserted. "Responsibility for the success and advancement of the public health program lies not with the State Health Department primarily but with the people who support and encourage the local community efforts exerted and who apply in their own individual lives the health rules with which they have become acquainted through public health education."

Dr. Cox pointed out that one direct result of public health efforts in this nation has been the lengthening of the normal life span by more than 15 years. "Certainly this is something to be thankful for and it should lend incentive for further efforts to promote and maintain community as well as statewide public health program."

LUBBOCK, Nov. 27. (Special to The Hesperian) — In a double ring ceremony read in the officiating Rev. W. J. Martin's home in Lubbock, Texas, Miss Zenoba Reed daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray R. Reed, Cone, Texas, and Clayton D. Cumbie, son of Mrs. C. A. Cumbie of Floydada, Texas, were married November 26, 1945 at 8 o'clock p. m.

The bride, who was unattended wore a grey imported gabardine suit with brown alligator accessories pink crepe blouse, gloves, and feather hat, and had a peach gladiolus corsage pinned on her suit. She carried a white Bible. For something old, the bride wore her mother's wedding band.

The home was decorated with white chrysanthemums, and the bride's aunt, Mrs. P. L. Payne, played the traditional wedding march and "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony.

The immediate families, relatives and close friends were present.

Mrs. Cumbie was a graduate of Texas Technological college and for the past year and one-half had been instructing homemaking in the high school at Ropesville, Texas.

Mr. Cumbie was recently discharged from the Army Air corps after having served 34 months in the European and Mediterranean theatres with the 17th Fighter Group.

The couple will spend their honeymoon in their new home near Cone, Texas, where they will be engaged in farming.

Mrs. Poyner Roberts Needs Club Hostess

Blue Bonnet Needle club met November 21 with Mrs. Poyner Roberts at 3 o'clock. The afternoon was spent in doing fancy work.

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson and Mrs. Lloyd Murry won prizes in games played during the recreational period.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Pete Kendrick, Wayne Finley, Everett Perry, Woodrow Wilson, Greer Christian, Oliver Allen, Layton Dorrell, Ernie Widener and the hostess Mrs. Roberts.

The club will meet this afternoon with Mrs. W. O. Baker.

DeVazier-Coleman Wedding Vows Said At Hernando, Miss.

Miss Myrtle DeVazier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. DeVazier of Madison, Arkansas, became the bride of Roy Coleman, son of Mrs. Ola Jester of Floydada, Texas, November 8.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Whitten, at the Baptist church of Hernando, Mississippi.

For the occasion the bride chose a brown wool suit with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white gardenias. Miss Dorothy Long was maid of honor. Cpl. Michael Leo served as best man.

A few relatives and close friends of the couple attended.

Mr. Coleman attended Floydada public schools and was discharged from the Army October 20 of this year. He entered service June 30, 1941, and served overseas 12 months.

The couple are making their home in West Memphis, Arkansas.

R. R. Jones Family Move to Crosbyton

The R. R. Jones family who have farmed on the East Plains in Dickens county, near McAdoo, since Mr. Jones was a young man, have taken up their residence in Crosbyton where they have bought a home they moved last week.

The Jones family will be operated by Ed C. Blackwood, Mrs. Blackwood being a daughter of Mr. Jones.

Mr. Blackwood recently has received his discharge from the army after serving some three and a half years.

Lumber Shortage Makes Block Concrete Business Pick Up Here

Lumber and other building material shortages in Floydada is being met in numerous ways by the building-hungry residents of the area, some of whom are turning to various materials, including concrete blocks. And a part of this demand is being met by Wayne Bennett, who has installed a block-making machine and is running to capacity at this time to meet the demand.

In addition to building blocks the plant is turning out drain tile of certain sizes and culvert tile in sizes 12 to 18 inches, Bennett said yesterday. The plant is furnishing jobs for six men, including Bennett himself.

Mrs. Dunn Entertains Honoring Her Mother

Monday, November 19, Mrs. Frank Dunn entertained with a surprise birthday party for her mother, Mrs. J. L. Monigomery from 4:30 to 6.

Only a few old time friends were invited to enjoy the time in talking over days gone by and present day happenings.

A candle lighted birthday cake was cut and served with punch by Mrs. Katie Conner, Mrs. C. J. McClure, Mrs. J. E. Green, Mrs. W. B. Jordan and Mrs. Frank Dunn and children.

Methodist Church

The pastor of The Methodist church of Floydada, Rev. Lloyd H. Jones, will speak on the subject "The Pastor's Job," in the 11 o'clock morning worship service Sunday. He will also be in the pulpit to deliver the message in the 7 o'clock evening worship.

Church school begins promptly at 9:45 each Sunday morning. The Methodist Youth Fellowship is conducted by the youth of the church at 6 p. m.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service meets on Wednesday evenings at 7:30.

DELAYED ACTION LIGHT

Snap off the garage switch and still have three minutes to get to the house in full light. Or turn off the porch lamp as company says goodnight, yet light them well on their way.

These are conveniences promised by a delayed action switch, now in production. Called Tymrit, it can be set to turn light off instantly, or at any time up to three minutes. A phosphorescent tip makes the switch easy to find in darkness.

TWO ELECTRIC PROCESSES CLEANSE GRAIN FOR BEER

A cold bottle of beer is the last step in a brewery-to-bar chain that involves electric control every step of the way, according to brewers.

To insure a quality product, they point out that the grain used in the manufacture of the beer is vacuum cleaned electrically, passed over an electro-magnet to remove foreign matter and distributed by screw conveyors to individual storage bins. After being crushed in mills, the grain goes to mash tubs where it is mixed with cereals that have been electrically agitated and cooked.

After being electrically aged and bottled, the beer is cooled by refrigeration until it is ready to drink.

50,000-HP. JET ENGINES MAY POWER 194X PLANE

Practical application of the principle of jet propulsion prompts conservative aviation engineers and electrical manufacturers to predict that aircraft of a size to dwarf the mighty superfortress will make trans-Atlantic flights well within the span of a working day.

The plane of tomorrow would have a wingspread of a quarter of a mile and be powered by several jet engines of perhaps 50,000 horsepower each. An idea of the magnitude of such engines is shown in a comparison with the 8,800 horsepower developed by the four motors of a B-29.

Floydada Trips Spur 31-26; Win Dist. 4-A Football Championship

The Floydada Whirlwinds lived up to their name Thursday on Western field by beating a powerful Spur eleven 31-26 in a very thrilling game.

By defeating the Spur Bulldogs the Whirlwinds became the undisputed champions of District 4-A. The Whirlwinds and the Wellington Skyrockets will play the bi-district game Friday, November 30, on Wellington's field.

The Bulldogs kicked to the 'Winds and the 'Winds ran it up to their 43 yard line. There on the very first play of the game Carmack ran for a touchdown from his own 45 yard line. It happened so fast that no one knew what was going on, especially the Bulldogs. So the 'Winds were then on their way. They kicked to the Spur 'Dogs. They drove it down the field and on an end-run from the 20 yard line ran it over to tie up the score.

Just to Show The Fans
The second period, just to show the fans who had not been ready on the first run of the game, Carmack again made a long run, this time from the 40 yard line. The 'Winds were now out in front 13-6. Over more in the second period of the ballgame Hagood went over from the 30 yard marker for the third center for the 'Winds. The conversion was good. The half ended with the score 19-6, favoring the 'Winds.

The second half started with the 'Winds kicking to the waiting Spur 'Dogs, who drove down the field and scored on a pass. The scoreboard now read 19-11. 'Winds still on the larger end. The 'Winds got the ball and Hagood on an end-run, crossed over the pay off line from his own 40 yard line. The third period ended 25-13. The fourth quarter the Spur Bulldogs intercepted a pass on the 'Winds' 20 yard line and ran over the final mark to the tune of six more points. The board now read 25-20.

The 'Winds got the ball and drove down to the 6-yard line and on a pass from Carmack to Payne

Future Farmers Have Good Year

Project Record books are being completed and the past year's work in Ag is being closed out by the Future Farmers of Floydada.

According to the records the past year's projects have netted the Future Farmers more returns than in any of the previous six years. The profits came principally from livestock projects, such as hogs, sheep and beef and dairy cattle while wheat and milo did well but were not so popular.

The coming year promises to be even greater in interest with hogs, beef calves, and sheep heading the list of projects that the Aggies will work with and study. The greatest number of beef calves and sheep ever fed by the Aggies is in feed lots this year.

HALF MINUTE INTERVIEWS

Question—What do you think of report cards?
 Marlene Poete—Oh well, I'm a good forger.
 Lewis Lloyd—Alright I reckon.
 Van Collins—Two more years won't hurt me.
 Reva Thomas—You can't live forever, and this'll finish me.
 Mrs. Merry—Mine are complicated because I am only the lowly substitute.
 John Moss—If I pass, it'll surprise me.
 Mr. Harris—Most revealing!
 Earl Edwards—What did I do to deserve this?
 Mrs. Romane—I couldn't say in plain English just what I think!
 Melvin Robertson—Well, I guess I'll stay at home the next six weeks.
 Maxine Griffin—I give up.
 Nancy Brown—What will my mother say?
 Sue Teague—Sorry folks, she just fainted.
 Claudine Goen—O. K. by me, if I get by alive.

One major oil company already has employed, postwar, 2,000 returned veterans who were not previously employed by it. More than 83 per cent of the company's employees who have been discharged from military service have returned to work.

Teachers Human—Some of the Time

To illustrate the fact that teachers are human, at least some of the time, we have compiled some data on their activities over the holidays.

Mrs. Romane took in some of that Childress sunshine; while Miss Osborne graded papers.

Mrs. Thomas spent Sunday at South Plains with friends.

Levelland was honored with the presence of Mr. Harris; while Mr. Graves spent the week-end in Dallas. He was acting as a delegate from District 4 at a meeting of the Texas State Teachers association.

Mr. Barber went domestic on us and pawed the kitchen; while Miss Sweptston was at her home at Hillcrest.

Coach Gresham spent the week-end learning how to flip coins. He is making certain that Wellington comes to Floydada next year even if it requires a double headed coin.

Mrs. Jones visited with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Freeman; while Mrs. Merry crated two hundred pounds of books to take to Salt Lake City with her.

Mrs. Mitchell spent the holidays playing golf with her husband. Who do you suppose won?

Mrs. Graves spent her time rowing back and forth between Crowell and Lubbock.

Miss Marr went "fishing."

Folks, the Whirlwinds journey to the home of the Wellington Skyrockets on next Friday, November 30, for the bi-district championship. So, come on out and let's beat Wellington!

Barbecue, Dance For Football Boys

Charlie Lewis gave a barbecue for the members of the Floydada district champ football team and their dates. The barbecue was held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Lewis ranch. Each one tried to out-eat the other and had a sweet time doing it. Many pictures were taken, and, of course, everyone laughed lots.

The barbecue lasted until about 6:30 p. m., and then all went to the dance given by the Ott Glassmoyers. The music was furnished by a record player and the floors were very slick to everyone danced and we mean even the boys, too. Many "Paul Jones" dances were hanging in the center of the room and that added to the excitement greatly. The dance lasted until about 11 o'clock, and everyone had the best time that they've had in ages.

The honorees and their dates were: Bill Womack, Dean Walls, D. Payne, C. L. Berry, Kenneth Finley, J. Ray Tribble, Oran Eubanks, Bruce Womack, Glenn Carmack, Melvin Robertson, Kelly Hagood, Don Jones, Bill Hale, Sammie Hale, Fred Conner, Oway Oden, Thomas Amburn, Leonard Grigsby, Eugene Mayfield, Bobby McGuire, Tom Ballard, N. E. Tyler and Carol Womack.

Martha Cudd, Hughetta Smartt, Nita Merle Patterson, Bobby Hiems, Dwina Glassmoyer, Norma Jean Carpenter, Jessica Perry, Valrie Burke, Beth Hinson, Ruthie Harmon, Bobbie Gene Medlen, Marjorie Oden, La Rue Graves, Oragene Willson, Lavell Hall, Myra Nell Hall, Mary Helen Lewis and Loveta Cummings.

THIS WEEK'S . . . PERSONALITY

For this week's personality, I have chosen the president of the Junior class. He is five feet, seven inches tall, with brown hair and very blue eyes.

Our personality was born in Lubbock and moved to Floydada in 1937. Then in 1942, he decided he would like the climate at Houston better. After three years, he again craved a change in climate, so here he is. Our personality says he is decidedly lazy, and his favorite food is French-fried potatoes. He says he loves to read "relax his mind."

(May I recommend Shakespeare). Naturally you all know that only Pete McGee could fit this description. He is our school's official "bashful boy." He said his favorite time of day was night, but I think I had him slightly confused. His favorite sport is baseball, and he thinks he wants to play big league baseball when he grows up. His ambition is to go to Texas University, and his pin-up girl is June Allyson. In case you are ever looking for him, he will be one who is grinning at Jay Lambert, wearing sailor pants and a T shirt. He says his favorite topic of conversation is sports, women, or just anything.

Pete's favorite pastime is listening to good music, and his favorite subjects are history and literature. Well, I guess that is about all I know about him, except that he is really an ideal, all-around boy, and if Frank Sinatra thinks girls swoon at him only, then he just hasn't seen Pete McGee.

F. H. T. MEETING
On Wednesday, November 21, in the auditorium at the sixth period the F. H. T. held a meeting. RAY McIntire ACA administration officer, was the guest speaker for this meeting, and in his address he compared our personality to a rectangular figure and challenged us to balance the four sides—the spiritual, the mental, the physical, and the social side.

Mrs. J. D. Cleveland gave a book review of "The Log Cabin Lady" at the meeting on November 28.

How Comes Hog Killing Time For Most Texas Farms

COLLEGE STATION, November 28.—Comes now hog killing time as much as formerly, because of the widespread use of the sweeper locker, hog killing is a year round deal on many

Texas farms. But most Texas farm people still wait for winter to butcher hogs for home use. Even at that, according to Roy W. Snyder, meat specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, if the weather gets much above 50 degrees for any length of time while the meat is in cure, it should be taken to a cold storage plant and let it cure under refrigeration.

With sugar scarce, many people will not have enough to cure meat. Salt, Snyder explains, is what actually cures the meat. Sugar improves the flavor and salt peter makes for a rich red color.

The standard recipe is eight pounds of salt, two pounds of sugar, and two ounces of salt peter. Mix, divide into three equal parts and rub one part of the mix into the meat every three days. Pack each rubbing. After the third and last treatment, pack the meat into the container skin side down. Leave ham and shoulders in the mix for two to three days per pound. A day and a half per pound is enough for bacon.

The longer the meat is kept in cure the saltier it becomes. If there is not enough salt that penetrates the pieces to properly cure the meat, it will spoil unless kept in cold storage. With pork as scarce as it is, farm families will do well to have their meat a little saltier than usual, rather than take a chance on spoilage.

Cane syrup or honey may be substituted for sugar, pound for pound. Sugar is still better than syrup or honey if it is available and granulated sugar will do just as well as brown.

Break Ground At Crosbyton For Hospital

CROSBYTON, Nov. 24.—Ground-breaking ceremonies for the first $75,000 unit to be constructed by the Crosbyton Cooperative General Hospital were held here this afternoon with approximately 400 persons in attendance.

Miss Frieda Sherwood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Sherwood turned the first shovel of dirt. G. E. Huddleston, chairman of the hospital board of directors, presided and introduced speakers.

These included Rev. Noel Bryant, pastor of the Ralls Methodist church; Rev. J. H. McClain, pastor of the Ralls Baptist church; Rev. J. W. Watson, pastor of the Crosbyton Methodist church and Rev. T. M. Gillham, pastor of the Crosbyton Baptist church.

Other speakers were W. T. Dunn, W. P. Walker, O. J. Edler, J. C. McClure, Mrs. Gillham and Mrs. Dunn. All members of the board of directors took turns at the shovel. After the ceremonies, a grader was put to work on the excavation.

The first unit will be of 25-bed capacity. The hospital association has 285 "paid-up" members.

Childs Brothers Home from Army

Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Childs have two sons home and discharged from service now.

Pfc. H. L. Childs (Buddy) was discharged at Ft. Bliss, Texas, November 2, after serving two years in ETO with the 9th Air force in Northern France, Ardennes Rhineland and central Europe. His medals include one silver star, two bronze stars, two unit citations including the distinguished unit badge with one cluster.

Pvt. Edward Childs was discharged at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., on November 4. He was overseas 10 months with the 9th Army engineers. He saw service in France, Germany, Holland, Belgium and Scotland. He received three bronze stars.

The average lease taken out on land considered prospective for oil production in the United States is either tested or the lease surrendered in less than four years.

Fifty years ago a publication was established in New York entitled The Horseless Age. There were exactly four "horseless carriages" in the entire United States at the time.

At the war's end, supplies were being flown into China by the United States Army Air Forces at the rate of almost two tons a minute around the clock.

Warn Veterans Look Carefully and Go Slowly

COLLEGE STATION, November 28.—A warning to "look carefully and go slowly" was addressed today to veterans seeking a place in agriculture by Dr. Ide P. Trotter, director of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

"While agricultural workers are always hoping for more farmers who are sold on farming as a mode of life, we are not interested in encouraging veterans to engage in agriculture unless they have a good chance of making a go of it," he said.

Dr. Trotter cited estimates recently released by the National Planning Association which stated that more than a million veterans want to own or operate full-time farms while another half million want part-time farms. An additional three hundred thousand war workers left full or part-time farms for the factories and now want to go back to farming.

It is also estimated that not more than 750,000 farms will go on the market during the next five years. Many farms, it is believed will be combined to form larger or more mechanized units. The anticipated result is that inflated values for farm land will continue.

The Texas Extension Service director laid down a three-point program to veterans:

"If you have no farming experience, get some before you take a chance on your own farm.

"If you haven't money to buy a farm big enough to pay out at present inflated land values, rent a place until you have.

"If you have both the experience and the money, consult the county agricultural agent in the county where your prospective buy is located to check its worth and to get estimates on your probable yield and income."

ENJOY THANKSGIVING DINNER

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Neil entertained relatives Thanksgiving day with a bountiful dinner.

Those present for the day included Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Farmer and son John, Homer Farmer, Mr. and Mrs. Ryburn Neil, Mrs. Lillie Luttrell, Mrs. Ola Jester and Mrs. Renfro, mother of Mrs. Neil, of Los Angeles, California.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fowler and daughter, Fontane, were holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fowler and daughter. Formerly of Floydada, the Sam Fowlers are making their home in Odessa. Mr. Fowler has recently been discharged from the navy.

George Tyler, who is associated with the Piggly Wiggly store in Haskell, was home over the week-end to visit his parents, Rev. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler, also a brother, R. T. who has just returned from overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Loran of Levelland visited here over the week-end with relatives and friends.

name in last Friday's colorful clash here before packed stands and sidelines, won by the 'Winds 31 to 23.
The Floydada entry for district honors scored about the same as it they could not break up the Spur offensive. Their first quarter lead of 18 to 6 saved the day for them. The teams played on about even terms the second and third quarters both scoring seven points in the third. In the fourth, however weight and experience of the Bulldogs began to tell, and they outplayed the 'Winds 13 to 8.
Annual Turkey Day Feed
The squad members, their managers and the coach again this year were guests as a body of local business men at their annual Thanksgiving day dinner. The event is almost traditional in the community. Spuds are given a big feed "win or lose or draw," which follows the game as soon as the boys can shed their battle tags and get to the table.
This year the feed was held at the Hotel Coffee shop to a winning team. However, the fans do not wait to see whether the boys are going to win, losing teams getting the same pat on the back as the winners.

THANKSGIVING GUESTS
Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poore of Lakewood community over the Thanksgiving holidays were:
Miss Odessa Poore of Amarillo; Miss Jimmie Poore of Lubbock; Kyle Holcom (recently discharged from the U. S. army now living in Lubbock); Mrs. J. C. Odum and daughters, Virginia and Mary Ann.

He requested all farmers to remember Monday, December 3, 1945, at which time the polls will be open from 8 until 5 in every AAA farm community. A big turnout of voters will demonstrate that Floyd county farmers believe in the elected committee system which enables farmers to run their own farm programs. On the other hand, a small turnout might be interpreted to mean that farmers are not interested in having their programs run by farmers.
