HAVE TO GROW THEIR OWN?

We just wonder if the cattlemen of West Texas are going to have to turn cotton growers in self-protection. The shortage of high concentrate of protein is making the cattlemen, including the dairy man, really go into a brown study. Whether his thoughts include the possibility that he will have to go to growing his own protein we do not know.

However, we hear this is the fact: That if you have some cottonseed you can get some cake and meal at the mills without question and if you don't you have to do some begging. Readily, you can understand the mill management's attitude. A man who is co-operating, trying to do something about a bad situation that has been coming on for two or three years, naturally would get more consideration than a man who has occupied his mind and his time with something else. There was a time, of course, when a customer was a customer, when there was too much cake and meal and an order for a carload from a big customer was something to shout about. But now, and for a time, we presume, it is different.

It is entirely possible the cattlemen may turn cotton grower on the side. At least it is sure he had better do something about the situation he is in.

FACTS FOR THE VETERAN

Reinstatement of NSL Insurance

(Ellery B. has been discharged from Navy service. While in the Navy, he subscribed for $8,000 National Service Life Insurance. Premiums for the insurance were paid by pay allotment during his active service. Almost six months had passed before he remembered that he had paid no premiums on his insurance since his discharge. Now he has a good job and he wants to continue his government insurance.)

When Ellery was discharged, his insurance was paid to the end of the month in which his discharge occurred. Future premiums are due on the first of each month and should be forwarded to the Veterans Administration. If the premium is not received on the due date, a 31-day grace period begins to run. If the premium is not received during the 31-day period, the policy will lapse. If the veteran dies while the policy is in lapse, no payment will be made to the beneficiary.

Ellery's policy is lapsed, but may be reinstated without physical examination upon submission of the proper form, provided he applies for reinstatement within six months from the date of discharge and his physical condition is the same as on the last day his policy was in force. His own statement as to his physical condition is sufficient to satisfy the Veterans Administration.

If he had delayed filling his application for more than six months after discharge, he would be required to furnish evidence of good health to satisfy the Veterans Administration. A physical examination would be necessary.

Red Cross home service chairmen usually have a supply of the forms necessary to this reinstatement. They will aid the veteran in completing these forms and will advise him of the amount of the premiums which should accompany the application for the reinstatement. In this case, two monthly premiums will reinstate the policy.

Floyd County Red Cross chapter is prepared to give you counsel and assistance with reference to benefits available to the veterans and their dependents.

Bakers on Home Ground Again
 Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Boren, sr., and Mrs. W. C. Boren, jr., arrived last Friday from Corpus Christi for a 10-day visit with friends and to meet their son Cpl. Eugene V. Boren who has just received his discharge and arrived on Friday from 19 months in the South Pacific, after a two or three weeks delay enroute stranded in San Francisco.

The Boren family are former Floydada residents, and are property owners here still. Both sons, W. C. jr., and Eugene, graduated from high school here and were members of the band.

W. C. jr. is a lieutenant in the U. S. Army infantry and now stationed at Batanga. The brothers met in Manila or near there and got to visit each other back and forth for about three months before Eugene left for the states.

Mr. and Mrs. Boren, sr. have made the Floyd Ballard home their headquarters while here but have visited other friends also. Mrs. W. C. Boren, jr., has spent some time visiting Mrs. James Asher here.

Since Mr. Boren left Floydada five years ago, he has worked at Odessa, Brownwood, Wichita Falls and Denison building army camps working with the U. S. Army engineers. He also helped to build the Boulder Dam at Las Vegas, Nevada.

Mrs. Worth Howe and little son Roby, were visitors here over Sunday, guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. Q. Haney.

FARM POPULATION SHIFTS
 The farm population comes out of the war not only fewer in numbers, but also with a change in age groupings. Dr. C. C. Taylor of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics points out. Between 1940 and 1945 the number of persons living on farms decreased by 5 millions, or more than 15 percent. From 1940 to 1944 there was a loss of 40 percent in the number of males between 14 and 24, and a drop of more than 20 percent of those between 25 and 44. The number of persons 45 or over remained about the same.

Readjustments are to be expected, says Dr. Taylor. Some demobilized service men and industrial workers will return. How many will return depends largely on employment opportunities. Such movements respond sensitively to economic opportunities elsewhere. If widespread unemployment exists there will probably be a considerable shift of people to farms.

"Shifting to nonfarm jobs," says Dr. Taylor, "or combining them with farming has been an important means of raising the level of living of farm families. The amount of nonfarm work done by farm operators during 1943 was 36 percent greater than in 1939, while the wage income from such work increased by a much greater percentage."

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hall visited Friday in the home of her sister, Mrs. and Mrs. David Summers. Mrs. Summers is ill with an ear infection.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Looper spent Monday with his brother C. P. Looper and family.

SETS SKILLFULLY STUNTED
 As the tidal wave of holiday mail recedes, a smaller surge follows—the garden catalogs. These will offer onion sets, a garden staple. Few readers may stop to think that onion sets are one of the real oddities of the garden supply business. They come from a crop deliberately and skillfully overcrowded, so overcrowded that growth is checked. The bulbs are stunted and may grow into shapes different from their normal rotundity. Then the crop is harvested, cured, and stored for about half a year. In the spring the stunted bulbs are replanted with favorable spacing. They grow again and form the favored early green onion of spring. Or they may be left to mature as full size vegetable bulbs.

Commercial production is concentrated mainly in a few districts where soils and climate are favorable and where growers have picked up the "know how"—near Chicago, in the Greely district in Colorado, and in the Willamette Valley in Oregon.

Seeding rates range from twenty to thirty times as heavy as when onion seed is planted for production of large bulbs. Growers need to make sure of good seed germination and need to plant enough seed so that the young bulbs will be sure to be stunted by overcrowding. Too thin a stand of sets means a loss of crop, with onions too large for sets and not large enough for eating. Soil should be fertile but not rich in nitrogen.

Soil for set production should be as free from weeds as possible. Cultivation between rows is by machinery, but the crowded rows have to be weeded by hand. After growth stops, sets are dug and cured by drying for weeks in large shallow trays that can be stacked in the field and protected from rain. For the winter, sets are stored in warehouses and processed to remove dirt and scales before distribution.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Turner, Jr., visited his parents this week. Mr. Turner has just recently received his discharge from the Navy, and was stationed in San Diego, California, to make their home.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Poore Sunday with Pvt. Edcor Hodge, San Diego; Mrs. M. J. Strong of Tahoka and Mrs. Ola Avery of Detroit; Miss Jimmie Poore, Lubbock and Cpl. and Mrs. J. C. Odam and daughters Virginia and Mary Ann.

Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Walding have sold their ranch home to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lakey of Muncy and have bought the W. H. Jenkins home in northwest Floydada and moved there the middle of this week.

Lee Howard Is Candidate For Sheriff

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of sheriff I wish to say that for the past three years, I have tried to perform the duties of the office in a fair and impartial manner. In the performance of my duties, I have tried to enforce the law to the best of my ability.

I have been practically reared in Floyd county, coming to the county with my parents in the year of 1901. I shall do my best to see each citizen of the county personally if the duties of my office will allow.

I appreciate your consideration and support in the past, and shall appreciate your continued support and influence in the coming election.

Sincerely,
Lee Howard.

DDT HELPS PRESERVE THE "BALANCE OF NATURE"

"Nature is grossly out of balance when there are extensive outbreaks of insect pests."

This is one of the comments of Dr. P. N. Annand of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, in regard to frequently expressed and widely published fears that DDT is dangerous because it may "upset the balance of nature."

Dr. Annand emphasizes the pressing need for a great deal more research into just such problems. He says that ever since DDT has been available in quantities that made fairly large scale tests possible, the scientific workers of his bureau in cooperation with other interested agencies, have been making increasingly comprehensive tests of DDT in experiments that would give authoritative information as to the effects of the chemical on beneficial insects, birds, fish, and other wildlife.

He emphasizes that results have been generally encouraging. One of the early fears was that DDT would destroy too many bees, which are useful as honey collectors and even more valuable as pollinators of many crops, particularly legumes and fruit. Tests indicate that DDT is not as deadly to bees as was feared. In work so far it has appeared less deadly than the arsenical sprays now commonly used, and there is evidence that beekeepers may come around to view DDT as a promising relief from arsenic poisoning of bees.

In regard to large scale use of DDT, which appears to offer for the first time a practical control for some forest insects, Dr. Annand says: "The occurrence of these outbreaks in itself is evidence that the beneficial insects, birds and other predators have failed in holding the population down, and that a supplement is needed to bring the insect population more nearly in balance with the vegetation on which it feeds."

Dr. Annand pointed out that when a forest area is almost completely killed by such a pest as the spruce budworm, the effect is a disturbance of the "balance of nature" that can be compared to the effects of a forest fire. Wildlife, birds, other insects, and even fish are displaced and destroyed rather completely by the forest fire or by death of most of the trees. In contrast, fairly large scale tests of DDT indicate that DDT may check a pest that is on the rampage and thus actually restore the balance of nature that would otherwise be destroyed. Birds, wildlife, and beneficial insects are soon able to return to treated areas, although a killing of the trees by the pests, if not controlled, might keep them out for years.

Alvin Baker New Member Faculty

As a new teacher on our faculty here, we have Alvin Baker. Mr. Baker graduated from Floydada high school in 1937 and was a star player on our football team. He attended Hardin-Simmons university at Abilene and was also a member of the football team there. Mr. Baker has recently been discharged from the Air force. He served four years in this branch of the service, 20 months being stationed in England. He was discharged with the rating of staff sergeant. We wish to welcome you to our school, Mr. Baker.

WHIRLWINDS DEFEAT SILVERTON

The Floydada Whirlwind boys entertained the Silverton hoop flingers on their home floor last Friday night. The two B teams clashed at 7 in a preliminary battle. Both teams really showed some talent for next year. The Whirlwind's B team came out on the top in more ways than one, first by having 19 foul shots to Silverton's 10, and had a score of 12 to 9. The second attraction was the big one, with the 'Winds coming out on top by a score of 28 to 16. Carmack led the 'Winds in their scoring spree with 9 points. Payne is next in line with 7. Paige led the Silverton boys with 7 points.

The same was going with the boys from Floydada all the way through as they were never behind or were never tied. So it looks as if Coach Gresham will have a very promising team for this year.

"IT'LL BE NEWS WHEN"

Clara Belle Pollan isn't flirting. Melvin and Margaret aren't together. Betty Lou Griggs stop making 99's. Jimmie Hicks gets a little taller. Melba Smalley and Gloria Shultz aren't seen together. Glenn Carmack isn't a husky athlete. Gene Dale Jackson starts studying. Leba Jean Gibson doesn't have a mess of hair. Miss Swepston stops giving such long English assignments. James Pinley finds a steady! Bobby McGuire goes to Notre Dame! Don Jones isn't wearing loud socks. June Foster learns to keep house. Coach Gresham isn't one of the best coaches FHS has had. Mary Lou Wise doesn't have one of the best personalities in FHS. Dolores Smalley isn't smiling. The Whirlwinds meet Petersburg next year. LaVeil Hall isn't one of the cutest junior girls. Wayland Faulkenberry isn't playing baseball. Mr. Harris doesn't like to hunt.

THIS WEEK'S . . . PERSONALITY

For this week's personality, we have chosen the Freshman's candidate for FFA Sweetheart. She was born in Floydada, near Center and seemed to sort of like the place, because she has stuck around. With five feet, one inch tall, with blond hair and blue eyes. She also has the most adorable dimples that I have seen around FHS in many a year. She is the answer to a Freshman boy's prayers, in my opinion.

Our personality says her favorite food is corn bread and sweet milk and her favorite pastime is going to the movies. She says that her pinup boy is William Bendix. She usually wears skirts and blouses. Her favorite subject is English, and her ambition is to go to SMU and major in English.

I'm sure that you have all guessed that I'm talking about that Freshman dreamboat, Christine Jones. Her first name is Christine, but she isn't ever called that. Christine is one of the presidents of the FHS club and she seems to be a leader in every class she has. Her pet hate is onions, and the thing she loves best is dogs.

Christine says that just about the main event in her life was being ritched by a tall dark and brutal horse. She said, "He pitched me in the ditch and almost stepped on me." She said that she spent her holidays visiting in Amarillo, Plainview and Lubbock. She really must have been kept busy. Oh yes, her secret ambition is to be the pilot of a B-29.

Christine, we are all looking forward to you making a place for yourself in FHS in the next three years, and we're all betting on you as being one of the most promising Freshman in several years.

De Quacker
 Take a sniff of things to come—I hereby resolve: I'm going to make you boll (bawl) You'll wish you hadn't seen that gull.
 I'm going to make you fret and scream.
 You'll wish this was a dream.
 I'm going to make you grit your teeth, pull your hair.
 I'm back from a happy holiday. With loads about so and such. I hope I can serve you in every way.

Our menu today is mush. Melba Smalley has been holding out on us. You might have known she wasn't sitting around twiddling her thumbs until the right boy came along to replace her Maxey. The girls sighed like punctured tires the other Sunday when she walked in with "him" at the show. Who is this darling hunk of man the girls ask with a quary look in their faces? Don't say he is your cousin cause I know better.
 La Roe, how do you like Boat-swain Probascio in his bell bottom trousers?
 Everybody is going around trying to console Bill after hearing the awful news that Martha is moving to Slaton.

What would Christmas be without mistletoe? Barbara-John K. I have come to the conclusion that Bobbie Helms is making prettier music with James Burke than she could with anybody else. It is pretty music? ? ?
 Gloria Shultz, better pack your bags and move to South Plains because Nancy Brown has entered into the picture.
 Willa, you are a bad little girl. You have already broken your New Year's resolution. Let us change it to: "I resolve to leave boys alone entirely—except Squirt Bishop."
 That is better don't you think? It will make it a lot easier considering everything.

Glenn's resolution for the year must have been to go with more girls. What about Betty Lou? And Jean Cardinal (but he stood her up) I haven't found out yet who Norma Jean Carpenter was with at the New Year's show but I know it wasn't Melvin. Maybe this is what she likes about Dallas.

 Roberta, I notice you are wearing a certain boy's ring.
 From my perch it looks like Joy and Pete are drifting apart. Things sure look gloomy.

I was just wondering if N. E. stood for Nobody Else—for Myra Nell is always with him. But then there is Valrie Burke I forgot about for I'm the one that sees everything.

Rumors are that Louise isn't a Clark any more since Christmas I checked all the names under "Marriages" in last week's Hesperian to find out for sure. Maybe you kids had better keep on calling her Louise Clark just in case. Hollis was supposed to have changed it though.

While musing around I noticed together the following: James Pinley and Clara Latham; Thomas Amburn and Ruthie; June Foster and Jim Bob Hedgecoke; Clara Cosby and Louis Lloyd; Oray Oden and Hazel Patton; Bessie Mae Morrison and Weims Norman; Sue Teague and Bruce Womack; Norma Jean Moore and Don Jones; Maxine Griffin and Jimmy Price; Mary Helen, you kinda like your cousin's taste, don't you. And then you cry cause D. F. stood you up. You must remember this, that all is not fair in love and war in FHS.

What did all these boys learn in the book, "Kissing Technique," they got in Dallas.
 We wonder why all the first string football boys slept on the fourth floor and why they wanted the older and younger members of the crowd on the eleventh floor in Fort Worth.

FIFTY YEARS OF YEARBOOKS
 A sign of the shift to "post-war" is the fact that the U. S. Department of Agriculture will resume publication of the Yearbooks of Agriculture, discontinued during the war. Publication is expected late in 1946 or early in 1947.

When the first Yearbook (for 1894) was issued in 1895, Charles W. Dabney, Jr., Assistant Secretary of the department at that time, welcomed the innovation. He explained that in previous years the annual administrative report of the secretary had included "perhaps unavoidably, discussion of the investigations carried on in the department." Scientific discussions made the report valuable to farmers, but the scientific material would be more useful if presented as in this yearbook, which the Congress had authorized.

"The present volume represents but imperfectly," Mr. Dabney wrote in 1895, "the ideal of what such a yearbook should be." Since 1936, in particular, the department believes the year books have been a good deal closer to what they "should be." Each volume has been a substantial review of a special field, including background and current developments, with considerable basic sci-ific explanation that is of permanent value to readers—particularly farmers. The aim has been to make the Yearbook a true reference book. The formal report of the Secretary of Agriculture is published separately for those who need only the report. Statistical matter which at one time occupied a large section is now also published separately.

A review of the table of contents of the first yearbook suggests the persistence of agricultural problems:

and the fact that research advances, opens new fields for research. Some of the 18 were: Meat inspection; agricultural education and research; soil and weather forecasts; soil and fertilizers; distribution of mals and plants; hawks, crows; dairying, bovine tuberculosis and pasteurization of milk; diet; pure seeds; grain; fruits; ramie culture; farm good roads.

Wonderful Time, Say Football Boys

The football boys, Mr. Graves, Mr. Harris, Mr. Gatewood, and Coach Gresham went to Dallas January 1 to see the Cotton Bowl game played by the University of Texas and Missouri.

First the boys went over to the Cotton Bowl and after that returned to Fort Worth to spend the night in the Backstone Hotel (in which reservations had already been made). They then ate supper and were all feeling better and were up for all night. I do mean all night. There were various forms of entertainment that went on in the town that night; but some of them too insignificant to mention. Needless to say every boy had a wonderful time and is grateful for having had the opportunity to attend this outstanding football game.

NEW YEAR'S EVE PARTY

The Junior Music club had a New Year's Eve dance at 9 o'clock at Barbara Moss'. There were oodles of refreshments such as punch, cookies and hot crackers with melted cheese on them. The music was furnished by record player and piano. The dance broke up in time for the kids to go to the midnight show.

FASHION OF THE WEEK

Every football boy in FHS is wearing a Missouri-Texas (mostly Texas) football pin. The boys got them at the Cotton Bowl game.

North Carolina Girl, James M. Willson, Jr., Take Nuptial Vows Home Wedding Here Sunday

A quiet home wedding Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Willson, sr., at 112 South First Street, Floydada, united in marriage Sergeant Anne Newman of the Women's Army Air Corps and T/Sgt. James M. Willson Jr., both of whom are stationed at Fort Bliss, El Paso, Texas.

Miss Oragene Willson, sister of the groom played the wedding march and James M. Willson, sr. escorted the bride to the altar.

Rev. Lloyd H. Jones of the Methodist church officiated with the ring ceremony. Cpl. Doris Sackman of Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, was maid of honor, with Jim Tom Nicholas, cousin of the groom, from Tulsa as best man.

Mrs. Willson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Urquhart Newman of Cary, North Carolina, and has spent the past year in the U. S. Service; T/Sgt. Willson has been in the army for the past three years and is in the Personnel center at Fort Bliss. Both bride and groom are hoping for a discharge in the near future.

After the ceremony, a reception was held. Guests for wedding and reception were Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Nichols of Tulsa, Sargeant Rose Tabaske and Pvt. Romaine Tresselt both of Fort Bliss, Texas, and from Floydada Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Garrett, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Minor, Mrs. E. C. Henry, Mrs. W. H. Alexander, Mrs. T. K. Arnold and Mrs. Lloyd H. Jones.

The bride wore an aqua blue traveling suit, and an orchid corsage. Mrs. James M. Willson, sr. mother of the bridegroom, poured tea and coffee for the guests, and Miss Louise Willson, sister of the groom, served cake. The room and tea tableboth were decorated with white gladiolus, ferns and white candles.

Both bride and groom arrived in Floydada on Thursday on a fifteen day furlough from their station and must return this week-end.

The bride wore a brown accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Reception For Wedding Party Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held for the wedding party. After the bride and groom cut the wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bride and groom, Francis Foster and Gene Bradford served cake and coffee to the guests.

Mrs. Russell is a graduate of Floydada High school with the class of 1944. She has been employed at White Drug store for the past few months.

Mr. Cook finished high school in 1941 and attended the University of Oklahoma for one year before entering the armed forces in which he served for three years, most of that time spent in foreign service. He has recently received his discharge.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home in Wichita Falls, Texas, where Mr. Cook will be in school.

B. K. Barker, jr., and Aldison Barker, both students in Tech at Lubbock are spending the week-end at home. They had spent a 15-day holiday vacation at home, returning to their studies on January 3.

Miss Sharon Fuqua, Ted Gould Married at Belen, New Mexico

Miss Sharon Fuqua, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fuqua, became the bride of Theodore (Ted) S. Gould at high noon on New Years day. The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Hoyt Welch Baptist minister of Belen, New Mexico.

The bride wore a navy faille crepe afternoon dress trimmed in black sequins with black accessories. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone choker, gift of the groom. For something borrowed she carried a white lace trimmed linen handkerchief belonging to a sister, Mrs. Hubert Scott of Amarillo. Her going away suit was black and white check wool with black accessories and a corsage of tansman rosebuds.

Mrs. Gould attended Floydada High school, graduating with the class of 1943. She was employed locally as bookkeeper until 1944 when she attended Western Union Telegraph school at Springfield, Missouri. For the past year and a half, she has been employed as a printer clerk for A. T. and S. P. Railroad company.

The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Coleman Gould of Wareham, Mass. He graduated from Wareham High school in 1942 and for the next two years attended Northwestern university and Harvard university. He enlisted in the navy in 1944 and served aboard the U. S. S. Grafter and the U. S. S. Clinton in the South Pacific until November 20, 1945, at which time he received an honorable discharge.

After a short wedding trip to Albuquerque, Mr. and Mrs. Gould will be at home in Clouds, New Mexico. In the spring Mr. Gould plans to return to college to complete his engineering degree.

POSSUM FLATS . . . STARTING THE NEW YEAR RIGHT!

A "Look at the Books"

OR

"A Finger in the Pie"?

Which is the UAW-CIO really after? Is it seeking facts—or new economic power? Does it want to know things—or run things?

These questions concern you as well as General Motors.

For years the facts about General Motors have been made public.

In spite of this, the UAW-CIO demands a chance to look at our books, with the hint that we could meet Union demands "if the truth were really known."

We have firmly declined to recognize this as a basis for bargaining:

1. The Full Facts are Published

How much General Motors takes in each year—how much it pays employees—how much it pays to stockholders—how much it pays in taxes—how much net profit we make—and many other facts are plainly stated in annual reports and quarterly reports.

These are broadcast to 425,000 stockholders from coast to coast—sent to newspapers and libraries. Additional copies are free for the asking.

2. All Figures are Thoroughly Checked

Every General Motors annual statement is audited by outside auditors. Similar figures are filed with the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Does the UAW-CIO honestly believe that General Motors would or could deceive these experts?

3. Basis of Collective Bargaining is Defined

The Wagner Act lays down the rules for collective bargaining. These cover such areas as rates of pay, hours of work, working conditions.

No mention is made of earnings, prices, sales volume, taxes and the like. These are recognized as the problems of management.

4. Something New has been Added

The obvious fact is that the UAW-CIO has gone beyond its rights under the law—and is reaching not for information but for new power—not for a look at past figures, but for the power to sit in on forecasting and planning the future.

A "look at the books" is a clever catch phrase intended as an opening wedge whereby Unions hope to pry their way into the whole field of management.

It leads surely to the day when Union bosses, under threat of strike, will demand the right to tell what we can make, when we can make it, where we can make it, and how much we must charge you—all with an eye on what labor can take out of the business, rather than on the value that goes into the product.

5. This Threatens All Business

If the Union can do this in the case of General Motors, it can do it to every business in this land of ours.

Is this just imagination? Union spokesmen have said, "The Union has stated time after time that this issue is bigger than just an ordinary wage argument, that it is bigger than the Corporation and bigger than the Union."

For Labor Unions to use the monopolistic power of their vast membership to extend the scope of wage negotiations to include more than wages, hours and working conditions is the first step toward handing the management of business over to the Union bosses.

We therefore reject the idea of a "look at the books" not because we have anything to hide but because the idea itself hides a threat to GM, to all business, and to you, the public.

Woman's Training Now in Print

Indianapolis, Ind. — A print-outline in detail The Legion specific plan for training as integrated with study with education and careers is off the press. The pamphlet are now distributed to all leading groups in the United States, to labor organizations, clubs, and to school groups similar organizations. American Legion plan provide a year's military training for youths between the ages of 17 and 20 years. This training will be divided into two periods.

The first period calls for four months of basic military training. Thereupon the trainee may select any of several options for the completion of the remainder of his training or its equivalent. He may go to college and train with the ROTC. Or he may go ahead with the National Guard for three years, or in any functioning unit of the Organized Reserve Corps; or, if qualified, he may, if selected, pursue advanced technical training or basic scientific training which may be given in the armed forces, or in industry, or in a college; or he may complete his training with the armed services; or he may enlist in the regular forces for a normal enlistment period.

New Mexico Oil Land Helps Again For J. R. Hinton

J. R. Hinton of Route 5, has another reason this week for being glad he made his first investment in Lea county, New Mexico, land in the hope that it would turn out good as an oil investment.

For some 10 years a lease he had worked out to cost him nothing, and he and his family have had "grocery money" from the income, and now two strikes come along in 36 days of each other, to make 280 acres of mineral rights he reserved in a land deal in 1929 very valuable, and the other to make production from a deep sand quite probable on a lease he has been getting shallow pay off of since 1936.

He has had almost fabulous offers on both tracts but said this week that taxation laws being what they are, a sale on either would be out of the question for the present.

To several Floyd county people already getting some oil royalty these new strikes add another, potentially several hundred thousand dollars.

STEADY WORKERS PREFERRED

Farmers put a money value on skill and experience—and perhaps a "settled down attitude toward the job—of the men they hire. This was indicated in results of a survey of farm labor by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics that covered a week in March of 1945, a period when the proportion of regularly employed workers to seasonal workers is somewhat higher than it is when crop cultivation and harvesting is more active.

Men in the age group from 35 to 44 years averaged the highest hourly earnings of any group, with the men from 45 to 64 next. Young workers, from 18 to 34 classed third, elderly hands over 64 were fourth, and youths under 18 at the bottom of the scale.

Seasonally employed hands got somewhat higher hourly earnings than the regulars, but they worked fewer hours a week on any one farm and therefore made less money during the week. Then, too, the regulars had considerably more privileges and benefits—housing and board or food furnished by the employer.

This summary of conditions last March is a part of a wider study of wages and wage rates of hired farm workers which the U. S. Department of Agriculture is making public as results are compiled. Reports to come will give comparative figures for other seasons.

What's Back of My Gas Burners?

This is the third in a series of four advertisements being published in the belief that you would like to know more about the natural gas business, which so vitally affects your daily lives.

weighing 123,000 pounds, which is used in our sketch to represent the plant. Actually, the plant consists of several buildings, steam boilers, heat exchangers, stabilizers, dephlegmators, generating plant, compressors, many pumps, and other auxiliary equipment, all quite complicated and scientific. The gas itself passes through only the absorption tower where the gasoline is removed by the use of absorption oil and the moisture is removed by the use of diethylene glycol, a liquid chemical which has a strong affinity for water. The absorption oil and the diethylene glycol are purified and used again, in continuous cycles.

Another advantage gained by drying or "dehydrating" the gas is that internal corrosion of the pipe line is held to a minimum, thereby reducing the roughening of pipe walls and the formation of scale and dust.

After passing through the Gasoline and Dehydration Plant, the gas flows into the high-pressure pipe line. This is the main transmission line which brings the gas across the country to your city and other cities, passing through one or more additional compressor stations on its way.

West Texas Gas Company owns and operates five compressor stations; one at the gas field, called the Turkey Creek Station, the McSpadden Station near Canyon, and the Plainview, Tahoka and Littlefield Stations. McSpadden Station is now being enlarged, and when this work is completed we will have in service 26 compressor units with a total rating of 4540 Brake Horse Power.

Bunny Appers Harmless, May Carry Infection

AUSTIN, Texas, January — During the winter months hunting rabbits is a popular sport and a wild rabbit makes a very fine food, but according to the State Health Department, extreme care should be used in the handling of wild rabbits to prevent a possible infection with tularemia.

"Those little cottontail rabbits are not always as harmless as they look," states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer. "For some of them are infected with tularemia this serious disease which is also known as rabbit fever usually is acquired by human beings through contact with infected rabbits or through contact with the infected insect that spreads it from animal to animal."

Dr. Cox cautioned that hunters should shoot only the rabbits that run away at his approach. A rabbit without the energy to scamper away from the hunter is likely to be a sick one that can transmit tularemia.

"It is necessary to handle uncooked rabbit meat cautiously," Dr. Cox said. "The use of rubber gloves will protect your hands since the germs may enter the body through any cut or scratch however small if an infected rabbit is handled without gloves."

As a further safeguard, Dr. Cox said rabbit meat should be cooked very thoroughly so as to destroy any disease producing germs that may be present. This means that it would be cooked at a boiling temperature for at least 20 minutes before cooking it to your individual taste.

Newell Parker is back at home with a discharge from Uncle Sam's army. Separated at El Paso on January 7 he came home Tuesday.

Newell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Grady Parker.

30 MILLION AUTOS

Kaiser-Frazer Corp. President Joseph W. Frazer estimates that 45 million shiny, new automobiles will be produced in 1946, but most auto-starved Americans will find it difficult to buy one before 1947.

After that, says Frazer, buying a new car will be duck soup, and within the following five years the industry will make and sell nearly 30 million. Frazer arrives at the figure this way:

Former car owners now without automobiles: 8 1/2 million. Owners ready to junk cars more than eight years old: 9 million. Others who will junk or trade-in cars more than four years old: 9 million. Cars allotted for foreign sale: 3 million.

Green Light. Frazer predicts 1946 will usher in an era of economic fertility "yet unparalleled in small and large business in this country"; and that much, if not all, employment slack will be taken up primarily in the "marketing and servicing of cars and postwar products of other industries."—Ex.

Sessums Stresses Wide Coverage of Law for Veterans

George A. Sessums, contact representative of the Veterans administration yesterday afternoon stressed the wide coverage of the laws passed by congress this past fall, affecting benefits of veterans of World Wars I and II, before a group of social people who will have more or less to do with aiding veterans officially or unofficially.

The meeting was held at McDermott post, Legion home.

Many provisions of the law have not been interpreted as yet, said Mr. Sessums in this conference; also numerous provisions are yet to be made effective because of lack of personnel in the administration. Hospitalization facilities are far short of the need, he told the group.

Before his conference at the Legion hall, Mr. Sessums spoke to the Rotary club, giving an enlightening outline on the general layout and the workings of the new laws pertaining to veterans.

MORE TIMBER NEEDED FOR PEACE THAN FOR WAR

War increased the drain on the timber resources of the country, but Lyle F. Watts, Chief of the Forest Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, anticipates an expanded peacetime economy will create a demand for lumber nearly a third greater than even wartime requirements. In the next few years, he says, we are likely to need 2 1/2 billion cubic feet of forest products annually, or about 5 billion more than during the war.

From 1909 to 1938, surveys indicate that forest reserves of standing timber decreased from 2,226 billion board feet to 1,764 billion board feet, says Watts.

The basic trouble, Watts emphasizes, is that commercial forest lands have not been utilized for sustained production for forest crops. "Our 462 million acres of commercial forest lands is capable of producing all the timber we are likely to use without encroaching on areas dedicated to recreational use or watershed protection. But they have not been kept productive."

Less than half the area of the public forests can be classed as commercial forest land. Public forests are kept on a sustained yield basis. "But the crux of our timber problem," says Watts, "lies in the private forest lands." He thinks public forests should be increased to include about half the commercial forest land. Land remaining in private hands should enjoy better protection from fire, insects and disease. The educational approach alone, as a means to better use of forests, is not enough, and is too slow, he thinks. The Forest Service believes it will be necessary for the Federal government to establish standards of forest practice to stop premature cutting and keep the forest land productive. He adds, "We do not propose to regulate cutting budgets or otherwise control the volume of output, except as restrictions on forest practices may limit the amount that may be removed from any one property."

Silver Anniversary

We thank you folks for all past favors and patronage. We hope you and our organization make this, Our 25th Year a big success by helping you and helping us. We believe we have learned something about the poultry, egg, cream and feed business. Ours is strictly a Floydada Institution. We are not owned or controlled by any organization. No outside capitol. No outside labor. Just home folks.
