Test New Variety Black-Eyed Peas

COLLEGE STATION.—A new variety of black-eyed peas, Early Ramshorn, is being introduced to Knox County by 45 4-H Club boys who have demonstrated in nine communities. One hundred pounds of the new variety were planted.

The new variety, which has been tested experimentally at College Station for the past two years, produced 4,892 pounds of green pods per acre as compared with 1,966 pounds per acre of the common variety, according to R. O. Dunkle county agricultural agent.

When the peas began coming into production recently, club members and their families reported the new variety had a much more desirable flavor. Donald Nix, 4-H Club member of the Sunset community, described the flavor as less "tangy" than the common variety, and he found them to be less stringy.

All 45 members plan to save the seed of Early Ramshorn black-eyed peas to sell to their neighbors for 1947 planting. Market price for the edible peas has been 30 cents a pound, and if this price is maintained, the boys will receive a substantial profit from their demonstration, Dunkle says.

Often a selfmade man appears to have quit the job too early.

ST. MERE EGLISE CEMETERY NO. 2 in Normandy, France, shown above, is typical of 356 United States military cemeteries located throughout the world. Containing many of the men who gave their lives during the initial invasion of France in 1944, this cemetery, like those in other areas around the world, is landscaped so as to take advantage of the natural beauty of the surrounding countryside. U. S. military cemeteries are carefully tended by the Quartermaster Corps and are given the same attention and consideration as national cemeteries in the United States. Maintenance of these cemeteries and the care given to individual graves is done as a tribute to the gallant dead by the Government, without necessity for private contributions for their beautification.

Clyde Knight of Elmore City, Oklahoma, is here visiting relatives. James Dollar spent the week in the Cedar Hill community.

SEVEN RULES FOR FLOWER ARRANGEMENT

1. Cut flower stems long, on the diagonal, before sunrise if possible.
2. Remove foliage that would be under water.
3. Cut flowers in three different lengths, long, medium, and low.
4. Mass the darkest of the brightest flowers in the center; then work in medium and tallest sprays.
5. Arrange heavy flowers such as zinnias, marigolds, tithonia, etc., together. By the same token, team up your more delicate flowers.
6. For best results, anchor needle-point holders or "frogs" with modeling clay.
7. If you need an extra "frog" use crushed "chicken" wire in your container to hold the flowers in place or an Irish potato with holes in it.—Miss Sallie Hill, Editor, Home Department, The Progressive Farmer.

ROOSEVELT'S PAPERS

Almost everything from football to use of the President's name in advertising is there. And sober scholars of history can wade in knee-deep, now that portions of Franklin D. Roosevelt's personal papers are open to "qualified users" at the Hyde Park Memorial Library.

The correspondence holds gripes and pats from the public on the state of the nation, schedules of a Presidential day, White House functions, memoranda on governmental affairs and public issues, 1,200 documents about the Roosevelts from 1715 on, and tid-bits of other 17th and 18th century Hudson river families.

Files are incomplete because the "bulk of the papers" are still in the hands of the estate, and anyone interested in research should write Fred Shipman, the director, at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Sam McLean and J. B. Mallicoate of Fort Worth, were here for a short time this week on business. Mr. McLean formerly resided in this county and still has land in McCoy district.

American People Buy Many Bonds

WASHINGTON, D. C., July—Americans bought $139,057,000 more of Savings Bonds during the first half of July than in the first half of the comparable July period. At the same time E Bond redemptions dropped from $261,771,000 to $258,325,000 in July, a decrease of 1.2 per cent. In all series, sales were at the highest rate since January, 1946 and E Bond redemptions at the lowest since July, 1945.

The marked increase resulted from the Treasury's Back Your Savings campaign which stressed investment in Savings Bonds as a security for the future. Mr. Clark said.

Sales were increasing, redemptions were holding steady at the 1946 low achievement in 1945, according to Mr. Clark's report.

Does not take an economist out from these facts that Americans are convinced savings are both profitable and safe.

ous support in space and time devoted to urging Americans to buy and hold savings bonds.

The half-month report for the nation showed E Bond sales up 28.5 per cent, from $175,334,000 in the first half of June to $225,237,000 in the comparable July period.

Vote for JOHN LEE SMITH for Governor

WHY JOHN LEE SMITH HAS CONSISTENTLY CHAMPIONED THE CAUSE OF THE COMMON SOLDIER

"JUST A BUNCH OF PRIVATES ON PASS"

Privates Franklina S. Hart, Corrie E. Lott, JOHN LEE SMITH, and Frank E. McConnell, of 30th Co. A. C. on pass in Boston, Mass., May, 1918.

Lieutenant Governor John Lee Smith served as a private soldier in World War I. He was sent first to England and after a short time he was shipped to France from Southampton to Le Havre. He underwent the usual hardships of the man in the trenches. On one occasion he said: "My service in World War I was that of a private. It was a very ordinary and inconspicuous position. I led no charges and I held no enemy positions but I was a private. I know full well how to dig a trench. I know how to roll a field pack and throw it away when it gets too heavy. I know how to sleep in the trench without a tent over me or a blanket under me. I also know how to feel as if I had been and officer I would be better qualified in some ways, and yet I am convinced that the stern, hard life of a private taught me to appreciate the need of wisdom on the part of those who command whether it be in military or civil life."

Smith entered the army at Fort Logan, Colorado. He trained for a time in Boston, Mass. He was sent overseas to England. After a period of training in England he was shipped to France with an artillery regiment. After the signing of the Armistice, although a private, he was selected to teach in one of the schools opened by the A. E. F. for the use of American troops. He was in Paris when the first Peace Conference was held early in 1919.

Oragene Willson Graduate of Texas Applied Music course with grade of "A" average.

LaRue Graves Graduate of Texas Applied Music course with grade of "A" average.

Talented Pupils Will Continue Study in College

Three pupils from Mrs. Pearl Fagan's class won recognition this year by graduation from Texas "Applied Music course".

These pupils are Oragene Willson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Willson, Floydada, LaRue Graves, daughter of Superintendent and Mrs. I. T. Graves, Floydada, and Betty Lou Griggs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Griggs of Alvarado, Texas. Each of these pupils graduated from twelfth grade course with an "A" average.

Two different examinations were given each pupil, theory and playing, and the allotted time was around two and one half hours. Each pupil was required to take theory and the advanced courses of the theoretical work gave them an insight into real composing and creative knowledge.

Advanced sonatas, works of Chopin, three part inventions by Bach, studies and composition from Schumann, Mendelssohn, Beethoven Liszt, and many other composers besides required technical skills formed basis for examinations.

Betty Lou Griggs enjoyed the unique experience of entering two different piano courses and winning diplomas from each. Besides receiving a diploma from Texas Applied Music course, Betty Lou entered the "National Guild" held in Amarillo and for the first time of entering this course, won the high school diploma in piano with a super excellent rating.

Her repertoire for both auditions was 23 entries. This included 17 solos of college entrance difficulty. Betty Lou plans to continue her music in Baylor university in September.

LaRue Graves, talented young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves, was a Texas Applied student for two years, and made an average of "A" on final test. Her theory grades stand out among the highest from her classes. She was highly complimented by her examiner as a gifted and talented young pianist. She will continue her music in Baylor university.

Oragene Willson, an all around good student, made the highest general average in theory for four consecutive years, making a grade of 95 plus. Oragene is noted for accuracy and technical work in basic foundation. She, too, was highly complimented by her examiner and given a grade of "A" in playing. Her plans are to continue her music in the study of organ in Ward-Belmont, Nashville, Tennessee.

INDIVIDUAL FREEDOM

For centuries men struggled toward the single goal of individual freedom. They had learned through long and bitter experience that only individual freedom is worth fighting for, worth more than life itself. Slowly, through the ages, freedom was achieved, reaching its culmination in the United States.

Here was individual freedom—freedom of opportunity for every man to apply his talents as best he saw fit. Not every man could win the race, but every man could enter it.

No industry is a better example of that fact than is petroleum. Any man who so desires can get in the oil business and millions have. Many have gone broke. Some have grown wealthy. The door, however, always has been open to all.

The results have been striking. Within the borders of the United States lies approximately one-eighth of the world's potential oil land, yet we have produced two thirds of the world's oil. Oil is indeed a product of individual freedom.

Today, much of the world is turning its back on individual freedom to seek job security. The serfs of Europe's feudal system had job security. They could be killed or exiled, but not fired. Just how does that differ from any of the world's present totalitarian states? Slavery, by whatever name, limits individual freedom, stifles opportunity slows production and eventually lowers the standard of living of all but the few who rule.

This is history's great lesson. Let it be the handwriting on the wall for the people of the United States!

SEEKING NEW USES

"Industry is still hard at work searching for new uses for the products of cottonseed, even though demand temporarily far exceeds supply",—Porter M. Jarvis, Swift & Co., Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Ring and son of Dexter, New Mexico, visited this week in the home of Mrs. Ring's mother, Mrs. B. C. Gray, and with other relatives.

EX-SENATORIAL COURTESY

Sen. John H. Overton (D-La.) was worried—he was five minutes late for his appointment with President Truman. As he hurried to the White House, he recalled that the President himself is always rigidly prompt, particularly in his White House appointments.

When Overton entered the Presidential study, he saw that Truman was waiting. The Senator must have had a worried expression on his face, because the President smiled.

"That's all right," he said. "I know how busy Senators are. I used to be one myself."

"I suddenly hopes I'm sick," groaned Rastus. "I'd sho' hate to feel like this when I'm well."

FIRE DESTROYS BARN

INVEST IN IMPROVEMENT

It will pay many farmers to invest in the land they already own rather than to buy more. "With land prices at high levels, most areas, expenditures for proving or stabilizing the light prospects frequently will bring better returns than the purchase of needed additional land." is a note of caution offered by Norman Wall, U. S. Department of culture specialist in Agriculture.

"The significant increase in output during the war," Wall continues, "has taken heavy toll of soil resources. Expenditures for and fertilizer to restore and improve productive capacity of these soils will prove to be a sound investment. The practices that have been developed in recent years for building the carrying capacity of soils have demonstrated that expenditures for pasture improvement can materially stabilize and increase the farm income."

Girls have changed. They don't trust a man too far, but old days they don't trust him near.

A man who ran away from a warm, steam-heated inn and in Indiana must be crazy.

People who long for the good days would hate to read this by a candle.

Veteran Backing Reaches High In 5 Months of 1946

Farm Security Administration financing of veterans in Region VIII (Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico) reached new levels during the first five months of 1946, when 3,051 loans were made to ex-servicemen for the purchase of farm operating equipment or family-type farms, E. Lee Osbrin, Regional Director, said today.

The loans constitute almost two-thirds of the total number the agency has approved for veterans during the past two years.

"We expect this record lending to continue," Mr. Osbrin said. "More than 7,800 veterans applications, most of them of recent date, are now on hand in our county offices and are getting preferential attention. Applications are coming in heavily each month, and there is no indication that the peak has been reached."

Nearly 5,000 veterans have already received FSA assistance in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. Of these nearly 500 obtained farm purchase loans under the terms of the Bankhead - Jones Farm Tenant Act from earmarked funds set up by Congress for this purpose. The rest have loans to buy farm machinery, livestock and other operating needs. In all, veterans have received $9,720,481 in loans in Region VIII.

Veterans have had to overcome handicaps before obtaining loans especially in the farm purchase program.

"Real estate prices in most areas have risen far above pre-war levels," Mr. Osbrin said. "Veterans are having a hard time finding farms for sale at a price that the productivity of the land will justify. Moreover, in some sections, veterans are having difficulty finding productive farms available for rent."

WINDMILLS ON KWAJALEIN

SCHENECTADY, July—Although there's not a live tree left on Kwajalein, that island is literally over-run with "windmills."

However, the soldiers and sailors stationed on that Pacific island which was used as a jumping-off place for the plane carrying the atomic bomb for the recent Bikini test, are not trying to pump water nor are they homesick Hollanders.

Texas' Oldest Voter

Senator Allan Shivers, candidate for Lieutenant Governor, of Port Arthur, Jefferson County, Texas, receiving a check for his filing fee from Capt. Roderick Donald Steele, Texas' oldest voter. In presenting the check, Captain Steele, representing the citizens of Port Arthur, expressed the voters' appreciation for his 12 years faithful service to the district and reminded him that he was the youngest senator to take the oath of office when first elected to the Senate. (Shivers is now dean of the Senate).

Captain Steele for many years has refused to tell his age, but old-timers say that he is now 106. He still works daily as a marine surveyor, climbing over ships to inspect their cargoes.

HELPING NEIGHBORS

A scientifically minded farmer developed a fine strain of corn. His fame spread, and he was soon selling seed corn at a fair profit. A news man, hearing of his success, went out to call on him and get his story for his paper.

The news man said, "I don't suppose you let your neighbors in on your secret, lest they go into the business and destroy your profits." He was surprised at the farmer's answer: "I do everything I can to get my neighbors to grow better corn. If I did not, and they grew poor corn, the pollen from their fields would blow over my fields, and injure my yields." Then this farmer turned philosopher, and observed, "I find that I prosper best when my neighbors are prosperous."—From Rev. J. W. Holland's July Sermon in The Progressive Farmer.

Plowmen stopped walking in 1875

HOLDING a lurching plow in the ground from daylight 'til dark—following an endless furrow for weeks on end—was gruelling work for even the brawny pioneer. No wonder the John Deere "Gilpin Sulky" plow met with acclaim when it was introduced in 1875.

This new sulky plow was the answer to a plowman's dream. Wheels lifted his weary legs out of the furrow; iron sinews held the plow level at its work; and a handy control lever let him boss the plowing job from a comfortable seat.

Today, John Deere continues to pioneer dependable plowing equipment. Latest of the line are the new truss-frame tractor plows . . . plows that make farming easier and more profitable. We'd like to tell you about them the next time you're in town.

JOHN DEERE QUALITY FARM EQUIPMENT

According to Dr. William D. Coolidge, formerly vice president of General Electric and director of the company's Research Laboratory, the windmills on Kwajalein are there for a useful purpose. Dr. Coolidge, now consultant for the G-E Research Laboratory, visited the island for the Bikini bomb test as special observer for the Manhattan District of the Army engineers.

"On Kwajalein we saw the marks of war," said the eminent scientist. "Not a live tree was left—only a half dozen bare and dismembered trunks."

"I was intrigued by the sight of many small windmills, each three or four feet in diameter and located only a few feet above the ground," Dr. Coolidge pointed out. "On closer view it developed that each of these was a soldier's or sailor's power plant for an individual clothes washing machine consisting of the windmill, and erstwhile garbage can and some one of a variety of different mechanisms for translating rotary into reciprocating vertical motion and so swashing the clothes up and down in the wash water in the can."

NEIGHBORLY TURN

A hard-bitten hillbilly sat on his front porch sunning and rocking. A neighbor went by and called from the trail, "How be ye, Si?" Si spat, rocked a little more and yelled back, "None o' yer goldurned business." He rocked faster, spat again, and shouted, "Wouldn't a' told ye that much if ye weren't a neighbor o' mine." — The Progressive Farmer.

AMERICANS, THANK GOD!

John Strohm, president of the Agricultural Editors Association, now traveling in Europe, writes:

"Farmers over here generally are working very hard against terrific odds to produce as much food as possible this year. They're spading the ground if they don't have the plows. They're pulling plows by hand if they don't have oxen or tractors. They need fertilizer and draft power particularly . . ."

"The long term agricultural problem is the acute shortage of land in Europe—at least the majority of the countries, Greece, for instance, has only 4 and 5-acre farms . . . Cash income above living is only about $123 per farm family a year. . . ."

"The United States is sort of an outer garden of heaven in the eyes of most farm people abroad. And if you'd seen, as I have, the burned-out farm villages of Greece, the graves of Yugoslav farmers who were buried where they fell, the tools and land and governments they work with—then you'd tell your readers to thank their lucky stars for the accident of birth that made them American farmers."—From The Progressive Farmer.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Taken like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blow" to come. Started 2 days before "your time", it should help relieve pain due to poorly functional periodic cases. Try it!

TO CATCH FISH

Bluegill fishing is best on the spawning beds. Enough large bluegills concentrate around and on the beds to give you a nice string of fish in a short while. Use number 12 hooks; they are small enough to slip into a bluegill's mouth with the bait. Fish with the baited hook on the bottom of the pond. Use a very small stinker on the line 2 or 3 inches from the hook. Worms, crickets, grasshoppers, and roaches are all good bait. If bluegills don't bite at one location in 5 or 10 minutes, move until you find them. Remember where you catch strings of fish quickly. Return to those places when you fish again; a new supply of bluegills will probably be there spawning. The beds are usually 2 or 3 feet of water but may be anywhere from 6 inches to 6 feet deep.—Verne Davison writing in The Progressive Farmer.

BUTTON COLLECTOR

"I've had more fun the last ten years than ever before," declared 73-year-old Mrs. Lottie Vaughn, of Hays County, Tex. Pointing to her astounding collection of 16,668 buttons which practically cover three walls of her room.

"My oldest button, 119 years old is from my grandmother's wedding dress. This 57-year-old specimen is from my baby sister's coat. I'm proud of this gold-plated button, which came from the coat of an army officer in the Crimean War."

Mrs. Vaughn believes that an absorbing hobby can keep one fresh and eager, even after the children are grown or sorrow comes into one's life.—The Progressive Farmer.

VOTE FOR
EDWIN H. BOEDEKER
FOR DISTRICT JUDGE

We, citizens of Dickens County, are proud of the record Edwin H. Boedeker has made as our county judge and we want him re-elected District Judge. He is worthy and merits a promotion. We know him

AS A STUDENT:

He has an honorable record in college and graduated with a B. A. degree.

He received an LL. B. degree in law from Baylor University and while a senior student made the highest grade in Constitutional Law and was given an award for this accomplishment.

He is licensed to practice law in Federal and all State courts.

AS COUNTY JUDGE:

He cut the general expenditures of Dickens County $3,000.00 the first year he was in office; during his administration $110,600.00 bonded indebtedness was paid off; the county kept on a cash basis, reserves built up in various funds all without raising tax valuations.

He had passed for the county court of Dickens county a continuous term law in 1941; a similar law was passed by the Legislature for the District Court of Floyd county two years later, in 1943.

He tried approximately 300 legal cases as County Judge and has had only one appeal from all these decisions.

AS A CITIZEN:

He is cooperative, agreeable and active in civic, church and fraternal organizations.

He is courteous, has a cool even temper and a pleasant disposition.

He is clean in his habits, deep in his convictions, reliable in his dealings, and trustworthy on all issues.

(By Dickens County friends who believe a worthy record deserves a promotion)

Questions Often Asked by Vets Answered by VA

Answers are presented below to questions often asked by veterans in the administration of the G. I. Bill and received in the office of the Veterans' Readjustment Act, 1946, increased the amount to $90 a month. Am I entitled to retroactive payments for the increase?

A. Payment of increased subsistence allowances for veterans with dependents went into effect Jan. 1, 1946. It provides specifically that the increased amount is payable as of the first day of the first calendar month immediately following enactment of the amended legislation. Date of the enactment was December 28, 1945.

Q. I am 23 years old and would like to know what my premium will be on a 20-payment NSLI policy?

A. The monthly premium on such policies at your age is $2.05 a month per $1,000.

Q. How long do I have before I have to convert my term insurance to a payment form?

A. You can keep your term insurance for eight years from the time it was taken out, if it was taken out before January 1, 1946, or five years if it was taken out on or after that date.

Q. I have let my NSLI term policy lapse since my discharge. I have been out of the army more than six months. Can my policy be reinstated?

A. To reinstate your NSLI term policy, irrespective of the date of lapse, you are required to pay only two monthly premiums and submit a signed statement that you are in as good health as at the time of the lapse. You have until Jan. 1, 1947 to do this under the regulations.

Q. Is it permissible for a veteran to reduce the amount of his insurance policy?

A. Yes. The amount continued must be in multiples of $500, but not less than $1,000.

Q. Are there any restrictions for NSLI policy holders?

A. The insurance is free from restrictions as to residence, travel, occupation or military or naval service.

Subject to legislative appropriation, allocation and direction, all net revenues remaining after payment of all refunds allowed by law and expenses of collecting derived from motor vehicle registration fees, and all taxes, except gross production and ad valorem taxes, on motor fuels and lubricants used to propel motor vehicles over public roadways, shall be used for the sole purpose of acquiring rights-of-way, constructing, maintaining, and policing roadways, and for the administration of such laws as may be prescribed by the legislature pertaining to the supervision of traffic and safety on such roads; and for the payment of the principal and interest on county and road district bonds or warrants voted or issued prior to January 2, 1939, and declared eligible prior to January 2, 1945, for payment out of the County and Road District Highway Fund under existing law; provided, however, that one-fourth (1/4) of such net revenue from the motor fuel tax shall be allocated to the Available School Fund; and, provided however, that the net revenue derived by counties from motor vehicle registration fees shall never be less than the maximum amounts allowed to be retained by each County and the percentage allowed to be retained by each County under the laws in effect on January 1, 1945. Nothing contained herein shall be construed as authorizing the pledging of the State's credit for any purpose."

Sec. 3 The Governor of the State of Texas is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation for said election and to have same published as required by the Constitution for Amendments thereto.

To The Voters of Representative District 120:

Since Mr. Artie Baker's piece in the Lockney Beacon showing that I voted against H. S. J. Resolution No. 1, several have asked me to explain why I voted against said resolution.

I voted against it because the Sponsors of House Bill 12 had reached the conclusion that said bill would be unconstitutional and they were trying to get the constitution amended, so they could make said bill constitutional.

I voted against House Bill 12 because of the right to work clause in said bill which would have forced an employer, "if he advertised for help and a person made application for the place, he would have to employ him regardless of race or whether he belonged to a Union or didn't belong to a Union."

I did not vote against said bill because it was Capital's bill but I voted against it because of what I thought was its demerits. I feel that the employer has some rights as well as the employee.

VOTE FOR RAINEY FOR GOVERNOR

"We have in Texas the greatest storehouse of resources in the world. Yet we are still a poor state. That means that the people of Texas are not keeping in Texas for their own benefit a fair share of these resources in the form of tax revenues. I propose that we wake up. I propose that we get from these resources and others enough revenue to give us a decent school system, a first-class health program, a fine system of Farm-to-Market roads, and an adequate welfare program. Let's unshackle Texas by freeing it from powerful economic interests and their political agents—The Texas Regulars."—Rainey.

Rainey has the endorsement of thinking Texas Democrats—and he is opposed by the Texas Regulars—what better recommendation can there be?

Cpl. Patterson Has Assignment in M. P. Detachment

ALABANO, P. I.—Corporal Clem W. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Patterson of Route no. 1, Floydada, is now assigned to the Replacement and Disposition Military police detachment located south of Manila.

Entering the Army in January, 1945, Cpl. Patterson received infantry training at Camp Roberts, California. After his arrival overseas at Manila last July he was assigned to the 5th Replacement depot. For his Army service he is authorized to wear the Asiatic-Pacific Theatre ribbon, the Philippine Liberation ribbon and the World War II Victory Medal ribbon.

Patterson plans to go back to his father's farm after receiving his discharge from the army.

Funeral Held—

within 100 yards, Saturday afternoon killed a man and a boy, and ripped open a shelter while the owner was rushing the pair to Southwestern General Hospital.

Jerome B. Woods, 28, and his brother-in-law, James W. Barbee, 18, both of Floydada, Texas, in Floyd County, were standing near the opening of a tent at 2614 McKinley Avenue when the lightning struck them at 5:30 p. m. They immediately slumped to the floor and never regained consciousness.

They were pronounced dead upon arrival at the hospital.

T. M. McLeod, 2610 McKinley Avenue, was standing near the pair. The lightning bolt flashed past him he said, stunning him for a moment and numbing the right side of his head.

Saw bright flash
Charles Warren, owner of the tent, was seated beside them on a bed, dressing his two-year-old daughter, Frankie Jean. He looked up, Warren said, just in time to see the bright flash that seemed to come through the tent opening.

McLeod's eight-year-old daughter, Lorraine, rushed to the home of a neighbor, Mrs. J. J. Weatherford, 2615 McKinley Avenue, to summon help. As Mrs. Weatherford reached for her telephone a ball of fire flashed from the instrument.

knocking it out of commission. McLeod, together with Warren, placed the unconscious pair in Wood's car to rush them to the hospital. He called to his wife, who had been preparing dinner when the electric storm broke, to follow in their car.

"I was afraid to leave my children alone," Mrs. McLeod said "and I bundled them into the car and we all drove off together."

When she returned she found that lightning had torn off a corner of her home ripping loose several boards.

Woods Leaving To Get Wife
Woods came to El Paso a week ago, looking for employment, and had been working a few days for the McNutt Oil Co. He was getting ready to leave for Floydada Saturday night, to return with his wife, Eula, and his three-year-old son, Bobbie, when the disaster struck.

Barbee, an orphan and brother of Mrs. Warren, had been visiting his sister for the past three months and intended to remain through the summer. All were living together in the tent, an Army pyramidal type.

A copper wire screen, extending entirely around the inside of the tent, may have attracted the lightning, McLeod said. Wire screens were also on a window of his home-made shack near where it was hit.

Both McLeod and Warren had started building homes on their property and had found temporary shelter in the tent and a crude wooden structure McLeod had built to house his family. The property is on a location high above the rest of the city, on a sparsely-built section edging on Mount Franklin.

Surviving Woods, besides his wife and son, are his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woods, of Floydada.

Surviving Barbee are four sisters, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Jerome B. Wood, wife of the second victim, Mrs. T. B. Wilkinson, and Mrs. Bill Sisson, the latter three all of Floydada; and three brothers, Ellis and Bailey, of Floydada, and Calvin, in the U. S. Navy.

The bodies will be returned to Floydada under the direction of Kaster and Maxon for services and burial.

Jack Burleson Thinks Sheriff Is Full Time Job

R. C. (Jack) Burleson, with the approach of the date for the first primary, this week was bearing down in his campaign for sheriff in an effort to see as many people as possible to ask for their votes. "I haven't made a thorough canvass of the county because I have been holding down a job and have campaigned only as I could," said Mr. Burleson. "I have seen many voters but some I haven't, and I want to say it has not been intentional. I want the job because I need it, and I believe I can make the people a good and impartial peace officer."

R. C. (Jack) Burleson

Is Full Time Job

"If the people of the county decide to choose me for the office I will consider it a full time job and will give all my time to it," Mr. Burleson concluded.

Resident of the county for a quarter of a century and associated in a public capacity with the people all of that time, Burleson is convinced he knows what is expected of a sheriff here, and hopes the voters will give him their confidence and a chance to make good as their sheriff.

Ready for Vote—

The power of the Democratic convention, says Mr. Seay, was upheld by two supreme court decisions in 1944 and the power of the committee to require the carrying out of the will of the convention was duly bestowed on the committee by a resolution adopted by the convention.

Advance notice that the county Democratic convention will be held at 2 o'clock on Saturday, August 3, in the county court room is given by the county chairman of the party this week. Presumably those who are accredited as precinct delegates to the county convention will have signed the pledge at their respective precinct conventions, and if so another set of pledges will not be required of them. However, the order of the state committee will be carried out fully.

None of the precinct chairman, so far as was learned by the Hesperian at a late hour yesterday, had issued call for a precinct convention. It is assumed, however, that several precincts will hold conventions sometime during the primary election day.

"While I do not go along with the philosophy that calls for pledge signing, at the same time it is definitely in the power of the state committee, acting under instructions from the state convention, to require this before a member can be seated, in my opinion," the Democratic county chairman states. "Experience in the state convention two years ago did not leave the party any temporizing state of mind. The arbitrary requirement is set up to be sure that none but Democrats who are willing to go along with the majority get into the deliberations. "For many years Floyd county has been represented by delegates at the state convention and it is most probable the same will be true this year. I have no doubt that delegates whose credentials do not show that they have taken the pledge as required by the state committee, will be refused seats in the state convention."

NEXT OF KIN OF OVERSEAS DEAD URGED TO GIVE NOTICE OF CHANGES OF ADDRESS

The War Department has appealed to those who during the war received notice of the death of a relative in the armed forces overseas to inform the military service to which the deceased was attached if they have changed their address in the United States SINCE THE DATE THE NOTICE OF DEATH WAS FIRST RECEIVED. The Department has been authorized by Congress to ascertain the wishes of the legal next of kin concerning the return and final burial of World War II dead of all military services. The request is made also on behalf of the Navy Department, Marine Corps, Coast Guard, Red Cross and War Shipping Administration.
Many thousands of next of kin may have changed their place of residence since the date they received a telegram from the military services informing them of the death of a relative overseas. Such change of residence, without notification having been sent to Washington, may cause serious delays and make it difficult to send important information to proper persons.
To those next of kin who received notice of death from the War Department, the correct present address SHOULD BE MAILED AT ONCE to:
Memorial Division
Office of the Quartermaster General
Washington 25, D. C.
Next of kin who had relatives who died in the other services should mail their correct present address as follows: Those in the Navy to Bureau of Medicine and Surgery, Navy Department, Washington, D. C.; Marines, to Commandant U. S. Marine Corps (Casualty Section) Washington, D. C.; Coast Guard, to Commandant U. S. Coast Guard (Casualty Section) Washington, D. C.

SWAPPING SCIENCE

Interchange of scientific workers between the United States and the Latin American nations is brisk these days. The "Names and News" page of the August issue of Agriculture in The Americas, a monthly published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is filled full with brief news items of these activities.
One plant scientist has been assigned to administer the rubber program in Colombia, releasing another for rubber research. A plant anatomist is now in Cuba to establish a technique for testing fibers and to instruct Cuban technicians in the method.
One Colombian and two Mexican scientists have come to Washington recently for a year of practical training in Soil Conservation Service methods.
A Federal entomologist reported recently to a meeting of livestock sanitary officials from the southwestern States of Mexico, giving results of spraying cattle with DDT for control of insect pests. Two other entomologists are in Brazil at the request of the U. S. Army in connection with mosquito control at Belem, Brazil.

To The Citizens Of Commissioners Precinct 4

OF FLOYD COUNTY
It is my intention to see every voter in the Precinct and ask for your support in my Race for your commissioner.
But for fear there are some whom I will miss I want to make this bid for your help.
As you well know, I am a poor man and will have to make somebody a hand to make a living for myself and family, and if you elect me to the office of Commissioner I will sure do my best to make you a good one. I believe that I can handle the job and if you feel the same way I will appreciate your vote for —

Fire Insurance vs. Volunteer Fire Boys

There are more volunteer fire departments in the United States than there are paid departments and Floydada, Texas, has one of the best.
The reason I say this is that we now have the cheapest rates we have ever had. We now also have a 25% good fire record discount and there is only one other town within 60 miles that has this discount, which is all due to our fire boys.
Now, I would like to hear what someone else thinks about it.
Thanks

NOTICE--to the Voters of Commissioners Precinct No. 3:

I have tried to see everybody in the Precinct to solicit their vote in my campaign for Commissioner, and if I have not seen you I assure you the oversight is not intentional.
I am anxious to be your Commissioner for the next term, and I earnestly solicit your help. When you go to the Polls Saturday Please remember —

And, if elected, I sure will try to make Precinct No. 3 a good member of the Commissioners Court.

FOOLED 'EM THIS TIME

For a good many years The Hesperian has been able to give its Floyd county constituents a pretty fair inkling of who would not be the winner in the race for the gubernatorial nomination. A good many readers have been able to determine who would be chosen by the people by the fact that The Hesperian was not for him. Several have relayed this information back to the office.

We are used to being on the right side with the losing man and it is no novelty to us for our man to lose a contest for high office.

This time, however, it is different. Those who have been saving time and trouble picking a winner by the simple process of voting for the man The Hesperian is against, are due to have to make some other arrangements this time.

At this writing--on Monday-- we have no idea whom this newspaper would like to see in the run-off. We had intended to enjoy the privilege of supporting C. R. Stevenson. We had assumed that he would run. We liked the way he didn't "blast" something or somebody in the headlines every day.

We liked the way he tried to be governor and let the other constituted authorities be the other constituted authorities.

But since he is not in the running we have no candidate. Frankly at this moment we have only to say that one or two of the candidates for governor we would like not to be in the run-off. About the others we'll still have to choose.

PARTY A GOOD MANY YEARS

This year's election party at The Hesperian office came almost not coming off for lack of something to make a "board" out of. (How would you have handled that one without a proposition at the end of it?) But it is to be held, with plenty of light and everything--and if we think of any wrinkles to be added we'll add them, for the heck of it, and because the war is still over.

It has been a good many years that we've had the big board out front and everybody having a good time except the defeated candidates. This doesn't take into consideration a war election or two when everybody's thoughts were somewhere else.

You are invited, of course. We'll rope off as much of the street as will not inconvenience the neighbors and the city too much--and everybody will just whoop 'em up that wants to.

This is one year when we are hoping that all election boxes will report in time for the board to be full by the time it is time for most of the folks to go home and go to bed. However, every biennium so far since we've given the public this service, something has happened to some box somehow and we have never yet had all the boxes complete before 12 o'clock Saturday night. Every election year we hope this is going to be the one. We hope that 1946 will be it.

Floyd County
14 Years Ago

These news items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian published 14 years ago.

(Issue of July 24, 1932)
T. C. Russell and J. M. Willson were elected chairmen of North Floydada and South Floydada precincts respectively for the Republican party at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The North Floydada meeting was held at the office of T. C. Russell and the South Floydada at the office of J. M. Willson.

Floydada Country club's annual picnic Friday was marked by a large attendance, a bountiful spread of barbecued chicken, mutton and veal, with coffee, pickles and buns, swimming parties, golfing parties and a general get together.

Work of adding a fourth story to the new Bookhe mill and elevator is underway this week. Machinery for the new flour mill has arrived and is being installed. It was started by Joe P. Boothe. He hopes to have the mill in operation by the early part of August.

Edgar Jones, for many years market operator in Floydada, will have charge of the Armstrong market fixtures and equipment of which are being moved this week into the building with the Mallory Grocery company, successors to People's exchange, in the Readhimer Building.

On the face of unofficial returns it appears that A. B. Clark has a clear majority above both of his opponents, Tom W. Deen and L. L. Muncy for county clerk and that Frank L. Moore is winner by rather considerable majority over C. M. Meredith for tax collector.

E. S. Randerson and W. A. Brewster will be pitted against each other for the nomination for sheriff of Floyd county in the second primary and J. W. Howard and C. J. McCollum for judge.

All kinds of records were broken last night at the big election party staged in front of the Hesperian. It was estimated that 2,000 people thronged the streets of Floydada to see and hear the reports as they came from precincts over the county.

Pioneers of West Texas will stage their seventh annual reunion in the Hank Smith Memorial park August 12 and 13. Program plans are not complete but prominent speakers will be invited to make addresses. Old time music, a square dance and other entertainment features will likely to be included in the two days of festivities.

Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Singletary of Bell, California, visited the last two weeks with their daughter, Mrs. H. P. Pratt and other relatives. They left Sunday for Oklahoma City where they will visit with Mr. Singletary's brother and sister.

WHERE AGRICULTURE LEADS

U. S. manufacturers have not been devoting nearly as much attention to economies in the distribution of their products as they have to studies of economics in production, according to F. L. Thomsen of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in charge of research on marketing and transportation of agricultural products. Writing in the summer issue of the Harvard Business Review, Thomsen says there are only scattering records of the cost of getting manufactured goods from the factory to the consumer. These inadequate reports indicate, he says, that about 40 per cent of what the consumer pays represents costs added to the commodities after they leave the factory.

In contrast, Thomsen points out research on the costs of marketing agricultural products has been much more comprehensive with a view to identifying wastes and pointing the way to economies. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics is now completing and publishing the results of marketing studies of commodity groups. These reveal, he says, that for the year 1939 (before effects of war influenced the records) the weighted average for the cost of distributing processed foods was about 38 percent of the consumer dollar. "Yet foods are bulky and perishable," he comments, "and one might rationalize a justification of higher marketing costs in foods than for industrial products."

Industry, Thomsen finds, is spending much money on research to lower production costs, and could well devote more attention to fundamental studies that would point out economies in marketing and distribution. Failure to do so, he said "may be a natural reaction to the fact that manufacturers are thinking mostly of prices in terms of what they and their competitors are charging at the loading platform rather than in terms of price competition as the housewife views it on the retailer's counters."

COTTON IN A BETTER WORLD

"We can get the better kind of world if we want it hard enough. Whether American cotton-growing will participate in its material blessings depends upon what the American grower, with his expanding knowledge and new machines, can accomplish in efficiency and economy of production. I believe he will share fully in its blessings"—Lamar Fleming, jr., Anderson, Clayton & Co., Houston.

360 Texans Will 'Walk Themselves' to Death in 1946

AUSTIN, July—This year approximately 360 Texans will "walk themselves to death," predicts the Texas Safety Association. For the most part, they will walk with the traffic and will come from behind parked cars to be struck down. Others will meet death while crossing at intersections against the signal and while crossing diagonally across the street. These predictions are based on totals for the first six months of the current year in consideration of newly developing tendencies in the pedestrian accident field.

Pedestrian fatalities increase around the hour of sunset in all seasons of the year. The greatest number during the summer months is between 7 p.m. and 8 p.m. The Saturday and Sunday toll constitutes approximately 50 per cent of the total pedestrian accidents.

TEXAS DAIRY PROGRESS

Texas dairy shows continue to make progress in the right direction. They stress "quality". The object is to improve the state's 1,500,000 dairy animals. A large percentage of these cows are culls, as indicated by their low average production per cow of 145 pounds butterfat per year.

of Sulphur Springs, perhaps the best informed agent in the state on dairying, says, "A cow must produce at least 165 pounds butterfat before she starts to return to her owner a nickel's profit." That's some thing to think about. It means, of course, that Texas dairymen must greatly improve the dairy stock they now have. And, too, they must produce more feed on the farm and manage properly, else fail to make a profit. The Sulphur Springs show continues to feature dairy animals of the highest quality.

D. T. Simons, veteran Jersey fieldman, who for 25 years has traveled up and down the state, viewing good Jerseys and bad ones, is aglow with optimism over present prospects to make Texas a better Jersey state. Mr. Simons says, "I saw the greatest junior Jersey show ever held in the Southwest at the Panhandle-Plains Dairy Show at Plainview. One full day was set aside for the showing and judging of junior Jerseys. It demonstrated how the people of Plainview plan work, and play with their young people to make better dairy farmers for their world of tomorrow." GEORGIA'S MIGHTY MULE

They may build better automobiles but they'll never build a better mule than the Georgia brand, in the opinion of two Moultrie, Ga. motorists. The mule was grazing at the roadside when an automobile whizzed around a bend and knocked him down. The second car, just behind, hit him too. The mule hung to his feet, shook off the dust and resumed grazing. But both cars had to be towed away.

Ships Regrouped for Second Atomic Test

By WALTER A. SHEAD
WNU Correspondent

HONOLULU, OPERATIONS CROSSROADS—With attendant secrecy the target fleet in Bikini lagoon has regrouped for the second atom bomb test scheduled for August 9. Although most of the correspondents have returned to the States, several made application to remain in Bikini for the interim so they could cover the arrangements made for the second test. This request was refused by the Navy, however, and all newspaper men were ordered to Kwajalein, where they were either transported by air to the States or to Honolulu, or were to board the press ship Appalachian.

meantime the Appalachian is on a leisurely trip to Pearl Harbor where she underwent some minor repairs, and now is proceeding to Honolulu, where she is scheduled to arrive on B-Day minus 1, or August 8.

Nearest Center. It has been announced that ships in the bulls-eye of the second test include the battleship Arizona, the heavy cruiser Pensacola, the battleship Nagato, the transport carrier Saratoga, the transport Mayrant, the submarine transport transport Falow and the transport ship.

It may be that the pilotfish nearest the bomb burst, as has been announced, is an underwater detonation. Other ships of the target fleet have been placed in various positions ranging up to 1,800 feet away from the blast.

In Kansas, the Pensacola and Arizona all were severely damaged in the first test. The Pensacola particularly sustained heavy damage to her fire deck plates buckled. This incident went aboard the Pennsylvania after the first test and noted the decks amidship were driven inward about 12 inches and the force that steel supports were driven through the deck plating like toothpicks in paper.

Await Report. Considerable speculation is being done concerning the report of the Millikan board as to the effect of the atom bomb as an offensive weapon in naval warfare. The board decides that future construction must meet the demands of atomic blasts, then we may see an entirely different warship design.

The experience of the first blast is that firepower exposed to the superstructure is particularly susceptible to the heat and atomic power. The speculation is that to meet this threat, construction will see streamlining with low superstructure, as much as possible, something like a modern automobile with curved surfaces to deflect blast.

Systems of ventilation will be given close scrutiny. It was learned that the blast cases, particularly aboard the Arizona, entered the ventilation system.

MUSHROOM CLOUD . . . The huge mushroom cloud rises over Bikini shortly after the atom bomb was dropped. This picture was made by a photographer flying in a B-29.

gasoline. But on most all the ships were placed live mines, bombs, shells were in guns or on loading apparatus, and each ship had a full load of ammunition. None of it was exploded and the safety crews which boarded the ships following the blast were careful in their examination.

Then the speculation goes to the use of lead lining against X-rays, rock wool or some other protection against heat, and concrete or some substitute against neutrons and other radioactivity.

Opinions Vary. There are two schools of thought as to the damage likely to occur to ship hulls from the underwater blast. Having in mind the fact that depth charges of presently used explosives have sunk or damaged submarines and heavily damaged destroyers and other lighter craft, one school declares that the atom bomb will play havoc with the target fleet and predicts that even capital ships closest to the blast will be capsized and sunk.

Others, however, predict that much of the force of the blast will be absorbed by the water and that, although there is danger of light ships capsizing, the larger ships will merely roll with the water and their heavier underwater armor will not be damaged. They predict the heavily armored ships will not suffer as much underwater damage as could be inflicted with a torpedo. This is all in the realm of speculation, however, and the navy remains mum about its own expectations.

In discussions aboard the Appalachian among scientists and off-the-record comment by naval officers, there is some reason to presume that the atom bomb as an offensive weapon against ships at sea is not as effective as other weapons. However, its effectiveness against naval bases would be devastating and a fleet without naval bases would be rendered impotent.

Atoll to Remain. This writer believes that Bikini atoll and its coconut groves will be there after the second test is over and even after the third bomb scheduled for November or later is detonated in hundreds of fathoms of water in the ocean outside Bikini lagoon. We do not expect any 100-foot waves nor 1,000-mile-an-hour wind although some wave may wash over the island. A 15-foot wave could do that.

But the test which has changed from a joint army-navy operation, about which so much stress was put, into strictly a navy show and which is probably costing about a half million dollars a day, likely will give our military men all the knowledge they will need to prepare for or against the atom bomb in the future . . . if indeed there is any way of preparing against it.

ings and followed the ducts ducts, breaking out at the points, shoving through a and smashing other objects in its way deep in the ship. It was particularly noticeable in a comparison with the ship Prinz Eugen, which has no ventilation system depends upon row upon row of fans for ventilation for crew. Not a porthole was broken and no damage done to deck, but she was admitted much farther from the blast than the Arizona.

reflecting upon the damage to the ships in the first blast, a remarkable thing to this writer is that a single live mine, bomb, or charge of powder or any other explosive aboard any ship was exploded by the heat or blast of the bomb. Torpedoes Independence exploded due to which finally exploded her magazine and her aviation were 150 goats, 150 pigs and 3,100 white rats placed aboard 22 ships of the target fleet. Deaths from radioactivity are continuing, according to reports from the Burleson. Loss of life among the animals already has exceeded the 10 per cent figure originally announced. The little pig, found swimming vigorously toward land after sinking of the Sakawa, is presumed to be still alive.

FIFTEEN MEN JOBLESS

COLLEGE STATION.—The gears of a Model T and the brains of J. B. Hons and some neighboring Karnes County farmers put 15 men out of work. According to County Agricultural Agent A. P. Morris the farmers fashioned a fork lift on their tractor with the Ford parts to bull rake their hay and put it into eight-foot ricks. The home-made lift also will be handy in loading the hay on wagons if it is found necessary to haul it to the barn or stack it in feed lots, he says.

The man power the machine would replace is Mr. Morris's own estimate.

Mrs. F. M. Dillard and Mrs. Herman Dillard and little daughter Gail, left Sunday for Nebraska where they will visit with their husbands who are in wheat harvest.

Young Women Urged to Enter Nursing Career

Austin, Texas.—Dr. Geo W. Cox, State Health Officer, is appealing to young women high school graduates to seriously consider the public health nursing profession as a career, when re-entering school this fall.

"Public health nursing offers young women opportunities for life-time careers which are highly useful and satisfactory. Demands for professional nurses now exceed the supply in public health and other fields of work," Dr. Cox said. "Possibilities of travel, varied experiences, income, and other features of the profession compare very favorably with those open to women in other careers."

Education for nursing is available in 37 schools in Texas and enrollment is now under way for fall classes, which open about September 1. All schools still have vacancies. Applicants should be graduates of high school or have some college credit, with a record of good scholastic standing, be in good physical condition, and of high character. An interest in people and their problems, also ability to work well with one's hands is necessary.

Prerequisite training in public health nursing includes a 36 month course including vacations. Medical surgical, obstetric, pediatric, psychiatric and communicable disease nursing are studied. Completion of courses entitles the individual to the diploma of the School and to take State Board Examinations leading to the R. N. Certificate.

Details regarding nursing education can be secured from hospitals, physicians, nurses' organizations and local health departments, as well as the Texas State Department of Health.

2, 4-D PRECAUTIONS

"Weed 'em and weep" summarizes the experience of a good many gardeners and home owners who did not pay careful enough attention with the use of 2, 4-D as a weedkiller on lawns.

The misfortune reported most frequently to the U. S. Department of Agriculture experimenters is the killing of flowering plants and shrubs in beds bordering lawns sprayed with 2, 4-D. The explanation is simple in most cases. When the lawn was sprayed, some of the mist formed in the spraying carried on the wind and affected the flowering plants. This emphasizes the killing power of 2, 4-D in even minute quantities on most plants that do not belong to the grass family. To avoid this kind of trouble, spray the lawn only on a calm day, and working near a flower bed direct the spray away from the bed, not toward it.

Another source of occasional trouble has been the use of the same spray equipment for 2, 4-D and for a pest-control spray. The scientist have emphasized repeatedly it is necessary to wash and clean the equipment thoroughly after using 2, 4-D. Four or five thorough washings with hot soapy water and repeated rinsing is essential. Take care that the hose and nozzle of the sprayer are cleaned thoroughly. Otherwise enough 2, 4-D may remain in the equipment to prove deadly to plants the gardener intends to protect with an insecticide or fungicide. A mere trace of 2, 4-D will kill many plants and shrubs.

Late summer and early fall is regarded as the best time for 2, 4-D spraying of lawns. The weeds are still growing then, but as they are killed and leave bare spaces there is less danger that the thin spots will be taken over by crabgrass and other weedy grasses. It is well to reseed bare areas that appear after the weeds are killed.

Immigrant Tells Americanism

Stan G. Nami, State Commander of the American Legion, took just a few minutes of his time to read this and—read it—please consider a little of the importance of the Americanism Endowment Fund.

The national total sought is $15,000,000.

Texas' quota is only $450,000. A figure many Texans felt, and still feel is too low.

But Texas asked for the privilege of being the first State in the Union to meet its quota, and we are determined to show the nation that it was too low.

The Americanism Endowment Fund Program, of which President Truman is honorary national chairman, is designed to bring to all Americans an understanding of what their stake is—to teach them an understanding of their rights, privileges and duties under the Constitution of the United States—to make active and participating partners in what was designed to be, and must be, a unified enterprise.

Americanism must be a living active cause. It is only by a complete understanding of our Constitutional rights and responsibilities as American citizens that we can fulfill our duty to the world in which we live.

Two cataclysmic wars in the space of thirty years have plunged this world into a disruption of economics, morals, and civil affairs.

From the comparative comfort of the neutral nations to the appalling desolation of our allies and enemies alike, there is no nation, no group of people or for that matter, no individual, not burdened with grave problems.

Other countries, faced with these problems, are going along under their own concept. We are doing the same. It need not conflict with any other country's ideology.

It is our own.

It is Americanism.

The term "Americanism" has been taken by too many Americans, for too long, as something nebulous and intangible, subscribed to but not translated into active practice.

We are in a position to lead the other nations of the world to mutual understanding which can prevent a third, and probably totally destructive conflict.

We have invested heavily in the future of the world and of the United States as an integral part of the world. Our investment has been heavy, idealistically and materially. We cannot let that investment fail either as a nation or as individual American citizens.

And it must not be ignored that we are a nation of individuals. Our national tradition derives from men and women who came to America to assert their independence—liberty under law.

Maintaining our individual and combined freedom, we have signed our testament in the blood of 1,068,378 men and women killed or disabled in World War I and World War II.

As Americans, with an understanding of Americanism, we can make our faith the basis for living our lives in the fullest and freest terms laid down by the Constitution.

But only by obeying the injunction to put our own house in order can we hope to help establish order in a world of tragic confusion.

Let us start at home.

Some of the radio announcers should be called mastoids of ceremonies, they are such pains in the ear.

The way some people boast of their ancestors you'd think they were first-class passengers on Noah's Ark, or HAD a boat of their own.

According to law the designs of coins of the United States may not be altered oftener than once in twenty-five years.

The biggest handicap to marriage nowadays is the fact that a man can't support the government and a wife on one income.

We Americans are so prone to take industrial miracles for granted we frequently overlook the tremendous amount of work it requires to achieve them.

Comes now D. P. Barnard, noted petroleum researcher, to tell us that the new designs in auto engines will require carefully tailored gasolines. Automatic clutches, he says, will require gasoline with perfect idling characteristics to make them work.

"Early automobiles, diesel engines and jet planes could use any old fuel," Doctor Barnard reports, "but as better and more efficient engines are built they must have fuels which are just right for their highly-specialized needs. Scientific controls in the manufacture of gasoline and other motor fuels, therefore, become increasingly important."

All of this means that the field of petroleum research now and in the future offers more and better jobs to more people than ever before. That's true of just about every skilled trade or profession in the world today.

So about the best advice to any youngster in the United States today is to stick to that education as long as he can, study as hard as he can, and don't stop learning when he's out of school.

A husband is either a bull, a bear, or a dear.

To The Voters of Floyd County:

It is impossible for me to see all of you Voters as I have to work for a Living and am afoot besides, having sold my car when I entered the army. I served two years in the army, 10 months in France, Belgium and Germany. I feel that I am qualified to make you a Sheriff. I am a married man, 38 years old, with a family.

Leland A. Hart Will Certainly Appreciate Your Vote and Influence

To The Voters of Floyd County

I know the people of Floyd County and I think I know what they want in the way of a peace officer, having lived in Floyd County until I was called to World War I.

I returned in 1919, then later spent three years in Scurry County, returning to Floyd County about three years ago. I married a Floyd County girl.

If I am elected I promise the people that I will enforce all laws without fear or favor. I tried to do this as a Deputy Sheriff while serving under the present Sheriff.

If you feel that I can and will make you a good Sheriff I will appreciate your vote July 27th, 1946.

TOMORROW'S SCHOOLS

Modernistic, air-conditioned buildings with plastic floors—pale green or yellow walls, white blackboards, bright yet glareless lights—and no report cards. That is the elementary school of the future as school architects picture it.

Called to Washington by the National Education Association, these architects and modern-minded educators outlined their ideas for school improvements to the association's Educational Policies Commission which has started a two-year survey of elementary schools.

To get a composite picture of what the school of the future should be, the NEA committee will study outstanding elementary schools throughout the nation. The good characteristics of each will be compiled into a detailed report for use by other school systems.

Brighter Colors. Dull, dingy brown classroom walls have no place in the future picture, according to Alice Miel, Columbia professor. They put children to sleep. Blue walls are unsatisfactory too—they are "cold" and give children the idea teachers don't love them.

Light absorbing blackboards are on their way out too, as architects see it. Replacements will be made of milk-white or gray glass or plastics on which children will write with blue, green or other colored chalk. Letters or numerals written on such boards will be legible at greater distances, reducing eye strain.

Plastic Floors. Easier-to-clear and more sanitary plastics will replace tile, stone and wooden floors in tomorrow's schools. Periodic conferences between parents and teachers will render the report card system obsolete, experts believe.

NEA's final report will be substantiated in the schools studied.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Everyone is sympathizing with us about the hot weather we must have had on our recent visit to Kaufman, but believe it or not these good old "cool" Plains have been hotter since we came home till last night than we felt in East Texas. They all said down there they were having exceptional cool breezes there. It is dry down there, dry since the first of June. The gardens were all gone and cracks were in that good black land that one could hang a foot in. We enjoyed every minute of our time.

Mr. Spikes has so many cousins. Seemed like every one we would meet was from a different family. Dr. Fox and Jack Spikes settled in early days on Spikes Prairie. They both reared large families and their children had large families. Not many are left, but the ones whom we met made us so welcome that we long to go back. I like the quietness and spaciousness of their homes, the high ceilings, the large rooms and halls, the tall trees, the old stately courthouse of rock that Mr. Spikes remembers being hauled by his horse twelve miles east for the shen, new building. The streets are wide in Kaufman and you go up a hill and down again. I gathered and ate fresh ripe figs that I pulled from the trees, good cured country ham and delicious yellow corn.

We walked in an old cemetery, the Fox Cemetery, where we read that Joseph Fox was born the year 1800 and died in 1872. On another old time yellowed marble slab we read that Jack Spikes was also born and died in the same years. And we recall that Jack Spikes sold all his cattle to the Confederate army and all he had was a dish pan of worthless money at the end of the war. Stirring times then on Spikes Prairie. Captain Israel Spikes was training his men and the Spikes and the Fox men were getting ready to go to war. The spreading oak trees shaded women with anxious faces as the click of swords being made and sharpened came from the shops. Sad days came to that prairie, bitter sad as the men and boys all left.

Happy days came again but partings of another kind began to come. "Go west, young man, go west", rang in the ears of Captain Wesley Spikes and he gathered his East Texas ticky cattle, his plows and household goods and with his large family left their last camp an Old Cotton wood Creek and headed for the unknown west. Many years have passed. The vast grazing land that brought Wes Spikes west has been plowed up and made into fine farms. The land that he had plowed under and worked with so much hard labor has been turned again into grazing land and a small ranch has its spread on Spikes Prairie.

We spent a night with Alma and Ed Fox, there we got the good ham and corn. We ate dinner with Lonnie and Thad Carruthers, there I gathered the figs. Also brought home a jar of delicious fig preserves she gave me. We found Julian Morrow in bed but improving. We got acquainted with Julians and Lizzie's son who is the county clerk. We missed Thad Long who has passed on since we were there eight years ago but found his wife Ida and we had a nice night there. Met her son and daughter who are very pleasant. Nola's pretty young grand daughter with the dimples and her mother. Such nice kin to have! And who could ever forget Bert Nash? Jolly and full of fun. There was a visit to Letty Fox home. Letty had a fine son killed in the war in Germany. Jeff found two cousins there, Ross LaRoe from Greenville and Lena Becker from New Mexico. We met the sons of Alma and Ed, also Marion and wife Beulah Fox. But the cousin Frank that has visited us for years had gone to Waco the day before, but the people who live with him Jeanette, Crol and their daughter Carol, were lovely to us and made us welcome. We wanted to go "round the square" with Claud Callan but did not find time. Yes, there are mighty fine folks in Kaufman. We are going back.

We left home going down before breakfast and ate in Benjamin. A man was helping out his son at the nice cafe and he told us he was reporter in Judge Bain's court several years ago. His name is H. B. Sams and he asked about Homer Steen. So Mr. Steen can send him a copy of the Hesperian this week and it may be like a letter from home.

Well as usual when pa and ma leave home things happen. The windmill broke Wilda was quite sick for two days, the tractor had flats and we had taken off both pumps. John's car was gone and they were afoot for that day. They were glad to see us back.
