SHERIFF HOWARD ASKS SUPPORT

Owing to the duties of my office and the short time left I regret that it is impossible for me to see all of the voters in the county before the run-off primary election on the 24th, hence I take this means of soliciting your support and influence, and in support of my claims for your consideration I wish to state:

First I want to thank you for that nice plurality of 150 votes given me over my five opponents in the first primary.

My three and a half years experience as your sheriff enables me to serve the citizens of Floyd County better in the future. And should the good citizens of Floyd County see fit to re-elect me on August 24th I will do my best to justify your confidence and do my level best to provide still better facilities for the office and law enforcement.

Respectfully submitted,
LEE HOWARD

ART DAVIS AND HIS MUSIC MAKERS VISIT BUNNELLS

Art Davis and his music makers radio entertainers, in a cross-country trip Friday visited the Bonnell brothers, OK Rubber welders, here. They entertained a street crowd for 30 minutes or more for the Bunbells.

Danger lurks at every crossing -- danger to you! Sometimes there is a friendly warning, "Bad Corner", but sometimes there is not. Overconfident drivers often find that blind corners are deathtraps. The Texas Safety Association says the experienced driver approaches every intersection at such speed that in an emergency he can stop before a collision occurs. Accidents don't pay -- ask the man who had one!

Motorist, good brakes are essential for the sake of safe and efficient service, advise the Texas Safety Association. Statistics show that one car in seven involved in traffic accidents has faulty brakes. You're only a foot from trouble -- test your brakes!

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS REGARDING FINAL BURIAL OF SERVICE PERSONNEL WHO DIED OVERSEAS IN WORLD WAR II

Q. Who is responsible for the final burial of the dead of World War II?

A. The Quartermaster Corps has been given this responsibility by the War Department, and is now completing plans.

Q. Who will decide where the final burial of service personnel or civilian who died overseas during World War II in the service of the United States will be made?

A. In the absence of special circumstances, the War Department will recognize the wishes of relatives for final burial in the following order: If the deceased were married, the surviving spouse. However, he or she must not have been divorced or separated at the time of his death or remarried. If the husband or wife has remarried, or the parties were divorced or separated prior to the death, preference passes to sons who are over 21 years of age. If there are no sons over 21, preference passes to daughters over 21. If there are children under age, or no children, then the right passes to surviving relatives in order of relationship to deceased. If deceased was not married at the time of death, decision rests with father, then with mother. Brothers over 21 make decision after father and mother. If there are no brothers, sisters over 21 make decision. If brothers and sisters are under age, or if there are no brothers and sisters, the right to make decision passes to other relatives of deceased in order of their relationship.

Q. What choices are open to relatives who have the right to decide on final burial of service personnel who died overseas during World War II in service of the United States?

A. Remains may be returned to United States for burial in private cemetery; remains may be returned to United States for burial in a national cemetery; remains may be interred in permanent military cemetery overseas; remains may be interred in a foreign country, the homeland of the deceased.

"CHIEF" BENDER

In the thick of the South Atlantic League's current pennant fight is a 63-year-old warrior to whom baseball is an old and glamorous story. He's "Chief" Albert Bender, part Chippewa Indian, who broke into the big leagues with the Philadelphia Athletics in 1902 via the old Carlisle Indian School and a Harrisburg, Pa., semi-pro outfit.

Now, when most ex-big leaguers would be retired, the Chief still is going strong as manager of the Sally League's Savannah Indians.

Set Records. Bender, who became the first pitcher in history to win six World Series games, has been called money pitcher of all time. He won 23 games and lost five for the A's in 1915; won 17 and lost three in 1914; played in 48 to 52 games a season between those years. Bender tried the old Federal League in 1915, got the gate and went to the Phillies. In 1919 he managed Richmond, setting a hurling record of 29 wins and two losses which still stands. Then came seasons with New Haven, Reading, Baltimore and four years as baseball coach at the Naval Academy.

Since 1937, Bender has been back with Mack as scout and farm club manager. Just now he's taking a rest because of a physical ailment but plans to return to the Indians within a few weeks. — Exchange.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Since I announced for sheriff I have been spending every minute I could seeing the citizens and talking to them; and since you put me in the Run-Off I have been giving all my time to the campaign.

Those I have seen have been most courteous and considerate, and I appreciate this. But there are a good many whose votes I need that I have been unable to meet. To these I want to say that I will appreciate your help. I wish I could have met and talked over the campaign with you in person.

I started out in the race with only one promise—that was that if you elect me I will do my best to make you a good sheriff. I have no other promises of any kind behind me. I realize the importance of the job I am asking for and will try to live up to it if you choose me on Saturday, August 24th.

Respectfully yours,

LELAND A. HART

Shortages are holding him back...

SHORTAGES

We in the Bell System were adding telephones at the rate of three million a year until shortages started getting worse. Now it's harder and harder for us to get materials for manufacturing and building.

We aren't complaining for we are in the same boat as everyone else. But we thought you might like to know the supply situation on some of the biggest items in the telephone business.

LEAD—There is a world shortage of it. Even when conditions here straighten out, it will be some time before adequate supplies are available.

COPPER—It is in great demand but we shall probably have adequate supplies when the smelting, refining and fabricating plants get going.

TEXTILES—A serious shortage exists in cotton and synthetic yarns and fabrics.

STEEL—Strikes in steel and coal industries have affected the supply in the face of unprecedented demand.

RUBBER—Synthetics are in fair supply, but natural rubber is on government allocation.

LUMBER—It is scarce, due to both unusual demand and dislocation of the lumber trade.

BRASS MILL PRODUCTS—These are used in telephone central office switches and other equipment. Supply will be short until disturbed conditions in the copper industry are settled, permitting brass mills to get back to full-scale production.

It's a tough situation, but we aren't giving up, any more than you have given up trying to get butter or sugar or shirts.

We're doing the best we can with what we've got and hoping these disturbed conditions will end, so that we can really go full speed ahead.

They are supposed to be good, but they don't have a chance against an ex-whirlwind.

Our coach is a Lieutenant - commander and a nicer guy you could never find. He is tough, but that is what turns out a good team. He said I had plenty of power, but I ran too low and was easy knocked off my feet, but by the 11th of September he would take care of that. I weigh 185 and gaining right along.

Plans For Vet Houses

One large room skillfully organized for living, dining and sleeping is the outstanding feature of the plans for a three-room house for veterans, shown above as pictured in the June issue of House Beautiful magazine. This arrangement affords a large house look, avoids mean single rooms. Such a house might be built for approximately $5,700 in climates where heavy construction is required, or for about $5,250 in warmer climates.

Lower Pumps to Get More Water Supply

Water in more volume and cooler days have combined this week to increase the supply of the municipal plant and lessen the demand on the mains. Increased supply was obtained by lowering pumps in two of the wells by 20 feet to get deeper into the supply. Meanwhile exploration for more water continues by the city fathers. A well completed the first of the week on the property in Andrews addition can be developed into a good one, but the city wants a big well and will dig again, this time in the southwest part of the city. If this doesn't get the big sands they seek the council is said likely to develop the well they have in Andrews addition, equip it and tie it on to the system.

Floyd Willis is recovering at his home this week from injuries received in an accident which occurred Saturday morning at 10:45 o'clock one mile east of Center. He suffered several cracked ribs and nose plus several cuts and bruises. Mr. Willis had been to see Frank Dunn, a neighbor, and was returning home when the steering arm of the car came off. The car overturned four times. Mr. Willis, in a dazed and painful condition, walked the three-fourths mile distance back to Mr. Dunn's house. Mr. Dunn and Mrs. Willis' brother, Welborn Miller brought Mr. Willis to the Floydada hospital, where he received treatment until Wednesday at which time he was taken to his home three and a half miles north-east of town. Mrs. Jennie Bishop underwent a minor operation Monday of this week at St. Mary's hospital in Lubbock. She is reported, as of this morning, by Mrs. J. B. Bishop, to be resting nicely.

g's Classic Counterpart Texas Lore

(By Boyce House)
 Irving's classic of Crane and the Headless Horseman in Texas lore—a story as fantastic in many ways as the one which came from the pen of Winkle's creator.
 In 1850, Texas was overrun by marauders, and the most infamous of these was a man named Vida. He deserted the army of Mexico and became one of the most famous thieves in the border.

along the Rio Grande, he reaped a good profit in the "horse trade"—at the same time making it appear that Indians were responsible for some of his own deviltry.

One summer, he and several of his gang made a raid along the San Antonio river, with enormous losses to the settlers. He struck a time when most of the men were away pursuing Comanches, but it so happened that two men were at home, and they immediately gave chase.

The story goes that, before reaching the Nueces, they met up with the famous frontiersman, Big Foot Wallace, who joined them in the pursuit. One evening, the three men, about sundown, located the camp of the horse thieves and staying under cover, kept a close watch on their quarry. They saw that the band put out but one man as guard for the horses and that the other three rolled up in blankets.

When they were reasonably certain that the desperadoes were asleep, the pursuers decided to attack. One shot the man guarding the herd, while the other two sprang upon the sleeping men. The scrimmage was over in short order. The horse guard, though apparently badly wounded, escaped but the three in the camp were killed outright.

Upon examination of the bodies it was discovered that one of them was the leader, and the legend goes that one of the avengers conceived the idea of beheading him, mounting him on his own horse—a fine stallion—and, after tying the man to the saddle, let the horse loose.

This was done and, as the horse was freed, it galloped off like a streak in a cloud of dust.

Soon afterward, stories began circulating—even faster than the beautiful horse and its gruesome load could travel. Soldiers, scout, Indian and other travelers told of seeing a man without a head, mounted on a superb stallion, galloping around the country and frightening the settlers half to death.

It was said that after several weeks the horse was finally killed at a watering place where it had gone to quench its thirst, and that the headless rider was still sitting in the saddle where he had been tied

Picnic Tomorrow Planned by Sand Hill H. D. Club

The community picnic was the main topic of discussion of the Sand Hill Home Demonstration club when it met August 14 in the club room. The club decided to hold its annual picnic on Friday, August 23 at 7 o'clock p. m. at the school house and use the newly installed play ground lights.

All club members and their families are invited to attend. Ice cream is to be furnished by the club. There will probably be a base ball game, but plans are not complete.

Mrs. Gene DuVall gave a talk on "Local public problems" and Mrs. Ed Holmes discussed "National public problems".

Those present were Mesame Gene DuVall, Ed Holmes, Jim Holmes, Arlon Miller, Lynn Miller and Miss Verona Miller.

The next club meeting will be held September 11 at 2:30 p. m. in the club room. Miss Edith Wilson is to give a demonstration on "Buying living-room furniture".

All members and families are cordially invited to attend the picnic.

Floydada Girls Wed Crosbyton Brothers In Double Ceremony

Miss Carlee Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Garrett of this city, became the bride of Quill Pierce of Crosbyton in a single ring ceremony performed August 17 at 7 o'clock p. m. at the home of Rev. E. J. Keith, Baptist minister at Mt. Blanco. The bride was dressed in a sky-blue suit with black accessories.

At the same ceremony Miss Helen Robertson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robertson of the Starke community became the bride of Raymond Pierce of Crosbyton. The bride wore a grey suit with black accessories.

Both couples were attended by Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pierce, of this city, Kate and Lula Mae Pierce and Billy Parker of Crosbyton and Mrs. E. J. Keith.

The brides attended Floydada High school. Mrs. Quill Pierce graduated with the class of '46.

The grooms are sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Pierce of Crosbyton, both attended Crosbyton High school. Quill Pierce received his discharge from the army August 12, after serving over two years, eighteen months being spent overseas in the Pacific theater of war.

Both couples plan to live a Crosbyton, where the young men will engage in farming.

Lunch Program on Permanent Basis

Schools in Floyd county may make requests now for participating in the community school program for the next school term.

According to Dan L. Boyd, District Director, all applications should be sent to the State Department of Education, School Lunch Division, Austin, Texas, the agency which is working jointly with the U. S. Department of Agriculture in handling the program.

The school lunch program has operated for several years on a year-to-year basis but recently was made a permanent government program. State and federal government will contribute to its support, with Federal grants-in-aids being supplemented by funds and other services within the state, Boyd explained.

Primary purposes of the program which has gained in popularity and growth in the county are to provide growing children with wholesome foods they need for maximum health and to create and expand markets for agricultural products.

Any public or non-profit private school of high school grade or under, meeting certain requirements may participate in the program, Boyd continued.

As in the past, community school lunch rooms will be operated by local sponsors which may be school boards, Parent Teacher Associations or other civic groups. Responsibilities include seeing that necessary food is bought and properly stored; that the right amounts and kinds of food are served; that each child may have a daily lunch regardless of his ability to pay, and that there is no discrimination between paying and non-paying children.

SIX TONS OF DISHES WASHED IN AVERAGE HOME ANNUALLY

Accelerated Salvaging of Household Fat Makes Possible
Present Supplies of Soap for This and Other Household Chores

It has been calculated that every American housewife washes six tons of dishes every year! Add up the accumulation from 365 breakfasts, luncheons, dinners and in-between snacks and the total would fill six trucks, experts say.

Staggering as the task of washing six tons of dishes sounds, imagine how much more impossible the job would be without soap! The prospect of a soap-less life is not on the horizon, however, as long as housewives keep up their present rate of salvaging fat.

Department of Agriculture authorities point out that if it had not been for salvaged fat in 1945, housewives would have had 13 per cent less soap. Even so there are not enough industrial fats and oils available to meet the demand for soaps and other goods the public wants.

Help Yourself

Every time you turn in a pound of fats to your meat dealer you are actually helping yourself and your neighbors by relieving the shortage not only of soap but also of scarce items like table linen, draperies, floor coverings, even possibly some more nylons.

Food experts too are urging fat conservation! Use and reuse every drop and ounce of beef, bacon and even lamb fat when you're cooking, they say. Then, when you've had all the food value of your fat, turn in the drippings and scrapings for salvage.

The 800,000,000 people starving in Europe and Asia are scavenging in garbage cans for grease that many an American family washes down the drain. Fats are scarce everywhere. We, as a nation, must be careful not to waste material, which if properly used would save human lives in some other country and add to comfort in our own. Remember your annual six tons of dishes.

One Pound Helps

Sixteen tablespoonsful of used fat makes a pound. One pound of used cooking fat turned over to a meat dealer helps relieve the shortage of industrial fats and frees enough soap fats to help make a box of packaged laundry soap, or six bars of toilet soap, or five bars of toilet soap.

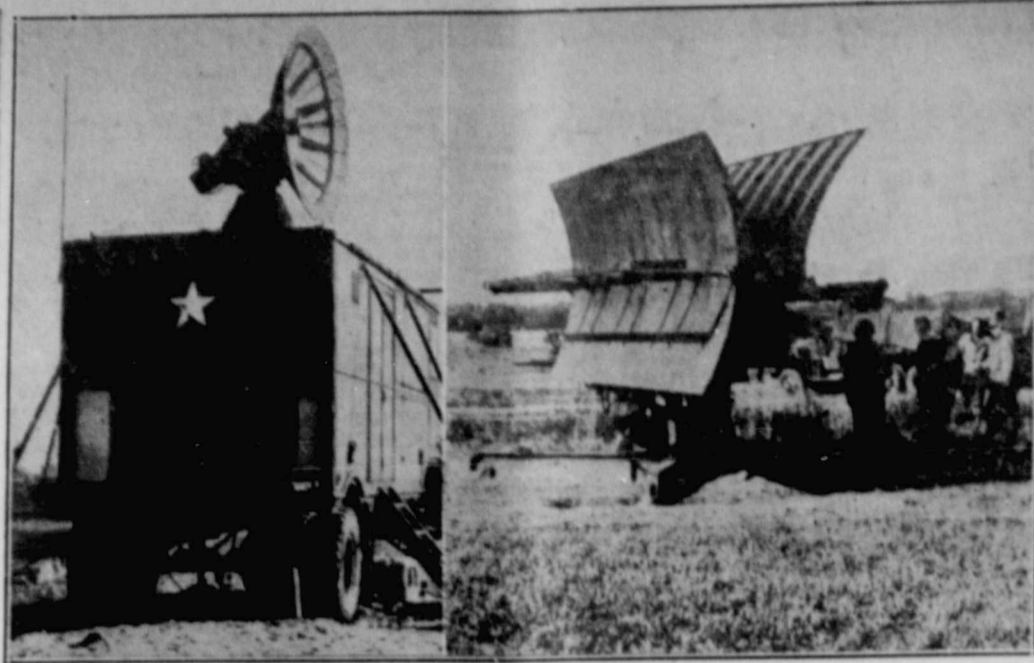

The lady engineer and general manager of such a household therefore can save and salvage enough used cooking fat to take care of her dishwashing needs.

Remember that in addition to dishes, literally tons of clothes need washing every year—miles of woodwork and linoleum must be scrubbed and it all takes mountains of soap. Sit down and figure out the amount of soap . . . and the amount of fat . . . required to keep your household clean.

Supplies Never Lower

Supplies of edible and inedible fats and oils all over the world have never been as low as they are today. Fats and oils imports to the U. S. are still only a shadow of their pre-war tonnage. The only tangible way to get more raw materials for soap making and other essentials is by turning in more used cooking fat.

Continued conservation of every drop of used cooking fat will prevent shorter supplies of soap. Accelerated fat salvage—the skimming of soups, scraping of pans, rendering of raw and cooked fat—means improvement in soap supply, and a slight easement in the household burden of six tons of dishes every year.

LATE MODELS IN RADAR EQUIPMENT—Left, a modified SCR 584 anti-aircraft radar set and an automatic plotting board. This set is capable of automatically tracking and plotting a flight of aircraft in a precise manner. Fighter and medium bomber aircraft without airborne radar equipment can be tracked and controlled to the target and given the bomb release point during inclement weather. Right, is the "snowplow" radar antenna installed by a Ninth Air Force unit in France. Complete equipment weighs 68 tons, but it does not require special handling because the heaviest component weighs only 600 pounds.

Junior Farmers of Floyd County at 3-Day Camp

Twenty-five Floyd county juniors, along with Mrs. Roy Hollums and Mrs. Ruth Duval, attended the Texas State camp for Farmer's Union juniors held at Ceta Canyon August 9, 10, and 11.

While at camp, they met Juniors and sponsors from other parts of West Texas.

Mrs. Esther Harbo and Stanley Vogt from the National Farmers Union office brought some very interesting information in the study courses they held during the morning and afternoon class periods. They were assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Overturf, (the Texas Farmer's Union secretary and state educational director). Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berg, the Union's state president also attended and took part in the fun.

The days program consisted of group singing, study classes, hikes and swimming. The evening's programs were filled with singing stunts, and active games.

All Juniors report a good time and are looking forward to another camp next year.

Protective Cars Thousands in Jeopardy

August—Approximately every three cars on Texas highways is being placed in jeopardy, it was announced by the Texas Safety association.

The program had as its slogan "Check Your Driving—Check Your Car—Check Accidents". Emphasis was deliberately placed on driving and stressed the necessity for keeping cars in top mechanical condition.

There's no tax on safety -- it's as free as the air -- but brother, there's a tax on accidents and you pay it! The government doesn't send us an Accident Tax Bill -- but the tax is there -- in increased insurance costs -- in the price of the commodities we buy. The Texas Safety Association predicts that the cost of accidents for this year may hit the million mark! Play Safe--and Save!

The Texas Safety association reminds pedestrians to take stock of their walking habits. Do you cross in the middle of a block? Do you jaywalk? Do you fudge a little on the green light? If you do these things, then stay in your own back yard -- you're living on borrowed time!

California means "land of oven's heat."

Other defects reported include obscured or broken glass, lack of rear vision mirror, worn-out muffler, bad steering and other miscellaneous defects.

The most common listed reasons for police contacts with motorists in order of frequency, were as follows: speed, stop sign violations, accidents, signal light violation, right of way violations, improper signals and reckless driving.

condition was revealed by a traffic safety check conducted from May 15 to June 30 under direction of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. More than 35,563 vehicles were examined by police in Texas. Of these, 14,378 had one or more defects. The total of defects reported by type was 240--almost one dangerous defect for every car examined.

Stories of Wild Life—Hunting, Fishing Yarns

A Matter of Courtesy

During the past quail season, I met an old man out shooting over a rather ancient pointer. Twice the dog pointed at a clump of bushes. Each time the old man walked over, kicked at the matted growth, wheeled sharply and fired into empty air. When I saw the birds rise either time, my curiosity jumped out of bounds. I asked what it was all about.

"Wal, shucks," the old man answered. "I knew there warn't no birds in them bushes. Old Jim's nose ain't what it used to be. But he's still sensitive and I'd hate to call him a liar."

Fish Food Eats Fish

They boast of big things in Texas, and now they have a story that puts the man-bite-dog oddity back into the files for good. Personnel of the Kerrville, Texas, fish hatchery are sad. They have no fish. Their fish food ate them all up!

Water scavenger beetles make fine fish food when they relax and take it easy. But when they grow big and gobble up bass eggs and fry so avidly that they close the hatchery, something ought to be done about them.

Something is. The hatchery folks have drained the ponds and are plowing up the ground. They are going to give bass fry a good food from now on!

Korean Laws Strict

The following is printed on the reverse side of a Korean hunting license:

"Hunting in public streets, shrine and temples is not permitted. Firing at buildings, people, cattle and street cars is not permitted."

Moral for Game Hogs

The New York Game and Fish Department thinks that a low-life game hog may have pulled a bigger boner than he planned when he killed and dragged away by night one of the world's most valuable bucks from the Department's Wildlife Research Center. The deer was full of hormone injections, part of a cooperative scientific research program on bone and antler growth conducted by the Harvard Medical School and the Department.

Not only did the thieving so-and-so seriously interrupt the experiments, but it's nice to toy with the idea that he may wake up some morning to find his satanic appetite has been derailed with a neat set of antlers growing right in the middle of his forehead!

Handy Kink

Fill an empty 16-gauge shotgun shell with matches, slip an empty 12-gauge shell over it, and you will have a handy, damp-proof match box.

Rattle Prattle

The number of rattles on a rattlesnake has nothing whatever to do with its size or age, an imminent authority on snakes tells us. Rattles shed their "bells" or lose them sliding through the brush. A rattle three feet long may have twelve rattles, while one five feet or more may have six or eight. To judge the size of a snake by its rattles, take the width of those rattles as the best indication of the snake's size. The wider the rattles the larger the snake.

Kite Eats on Fly

Possibly the title is a shade misleading. We do not mean to infer that the bird sits on the back of a common house fly while eating, but that the kite captures and devours its prey while flying.

Rabbits can be hunted legally during summer months in most states. If you are one of those guys who thinks rabbit meat is not palatable, try this recipe, brother!

Its smothered rabbit and onions. Clean rabbit and cut into small pieces. Season with salt and paprika. Dredge with flour. Melt 1 tablespoon of butter in skillet. Sauté rabbit in butter until browned. Cover meat thickly with sliced onions. Sprinkle onions with salt. Pour in 1 cup sour cream. Cover skillet and simmer for 1 hour, or place in 325 degree oven and bake until tender. Eat and then say rabbit is no good!

High Stepper

The jumping mouse can jump forty times its own length, or about 1 foot at a leap. If a deer could duplicate this feat, according to its size, it might leap 100 yards! Some drip adds that the cow who jumped over the moon, according to fable possibly had a touch of jumping mouse blood in her veins.

That Ought to Show 'Em

Stories and letters are coming in constantly about careless hunters shooting horses and cattle. During the past deer season, the owner of a fine herd of goats on a Wyoming ranch posted this sign: "HUNTERS: Please be careful of my goats. I painted all their horns red, except two, which I couldn't find."

When one hunter came across the herd, he found that, in addition to red horns, one animal had the word "goat" painted on its sides in large black letters.

Kentucky is the Wyandot name for "land of tomorrow."

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McNeill and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Quebe of Providence returned to their home the first of this week from a two weeks vacation trip when they visited the Yellowstone National Park in Wyoming, and in Salt Lake City Utah, and the Grand Canyon.

The word "CUSTOMER" has always had a pleasant connotation, but we are afraid that during the war period some people have rather lost sight of its full significance:

A customer is the most important person ever in this office--in person or by mail.

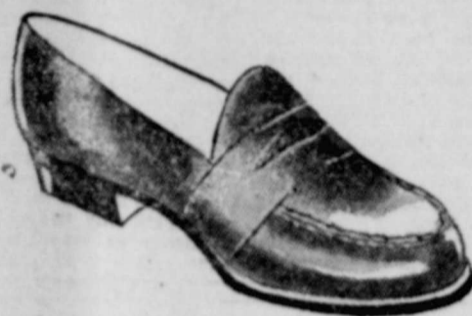

A customer is not dependent on us--we are dependent on him.

A customer is not an interruption of our work--he is the purpose of it. We are not doing him a favor by serving him--he is doing us a favor by giving us the opportunity to do so.

A customer is a person who brings us his wants, it is our job to handle him profitably to him and to ourselves.

Operators' Schools in Texas

Increased enrollment has thirty operators this year. Besides the fact that the number of operators will also be increased, the Andrews School will have two sections of the school. The school has a small building.

Dr. L. A. Wood, superintendent of public instruction, announced plans today for operators schools to be held under the supervision of school superintendents. Training institutes are optional or two day programs and a discussion of the authority and responsibility in transportation of students, qualifications of operators, first aid and maintenance of school buses, care and maintenance of buses and discipline of students.

Institutes are to be joint efforts of the State Department of Education, the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Safety Association. "No person in our school has a more responsible position than our school bus drivers," the fact that 6,100 bus drivers transport daily to school more than one million of the school children of Texas.

The fact that last year eleven were killed as a result of bus accidents offer a serious challenge to us to do everything possible to upgrade the driving ability of these drivers," he said. Institutes were attended by school bus drivers last year. Leaders of the program were the county school superintendent who will schedule institutes so that one hundred per cent will be had.

Plans call for completion of institutes not later than October 15.

CHEMICAL "KEY" ENABLES NEMATODES TO "ORDER" FOOD

Many nematodes are highly selective in the plants they use as a source of food. For example, according to nematologists the golden nematode will attach itself to the roots of only the potato and some of its close relatives such as the tomato. The sugar-beet nematode feeds only on the sugar beet and some of its relatives; the wheat nematode only on wheat and a few other cereals and grasses.

The reason for this narrow limitation to a given host plant lies in the fact that the nematodes—microscopic worms—that attack plants inject into the tissues of their food plants specific chemical substances able to unlock from a particular plant just the food compound the nematode needs. It appears that in this way these microscopic organisms use the secretions of the salivary glands as a chemical "key". Injected into the rootlet or the young wheat kernel, this "key" causes the plant actually to manufacture food to order for the nematode assimilates it so directly and completely that the digestive channel of the parasite has little work to do and has become greatly reduced. Since no waste products need to be eliminated, the outlet of this channel in some cases has all but disappeared. Apparently the "key" unlocks from the host plant a complete food that is all food for the nematode.

PEAS INCREASE COTTON—Ludwick Thompson, tenant farmer, followed 25 acres of winter peas with cotton. In the same field on similar soil he had an additional 53 acre of cotton. Cotton on pea land produced 537 pounds of lint per acre as compared with 267 pounds of lint cotton where no peas had been planted. — J. C. Patterson, county agent, Waco, Texas.

Plans call for completion of institutes not later than October 15.

IT'S DONE WITH BAGS, FOLKS

Cute "little sister" Vicky Lynn Hulett pauses for a refreshing drink in Memphis Overton Park, while "big sister" Hilma Seay smilingly looks on. The "big sister-little sister" frocks the girls are wearing are made from gay floral printed cotton fedge bags. Yes, it's all done with bags, folks.

MORE AND BETTER FOOD

Comparison of food consumption in the United States during World War II with that during World War I indicates, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, that civilian consumption per person averaged 10 to 15 percent higher in 1942 to 1945 than in 1917 and 1918. The average diet during World War II was also much better from the standpoint of nutritive content than it was in 1917 and 1918.

In contrast, Continental Europe according to a midsummer summary by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, is passing through a serious food crisis. Unusually adverse weather, coupled with war-caused dislocations of agriculture, cut production in many years, and taking continental Europe as a whole—consumption in 1945-46 fell to around 80 percent of prewar. Although food production in Continental Europe in 1946-47 is expected to improve over 1945-46, any real improvement in consumption is dependent upon maintenance of food imports close to the level of 1945-46.

The Texas Safety Association says that when a driver starts up the motor of his car, he automatically assumes the responsibility for the load he hauls, the car he drives, his life, the lives of any persons riding with him, and the welfare of those who share the highways. A car can be replaced; the load can be replaced -- but nowhere are there stockrooms where we find a replacement for a life!

New Hampshire was named after the English county of Hampshire.

The Texas Safety Association reminds motorists to use a little extra caution on the highways during the weekend, when you go out for that family picnic or ride. Just why there should be more vehicle deaths on Sundays than on any other day of the week but more non-fatal injuries on Saturday is something of a mystery; the figures, nevertheless, prove this to be true. Whatever the explanation, you'll agree that where driving on the highways is concerned, it's a great life if you don't weekend!

The Texas Safety Association warns drivers that the right-of-way is the right of way only so long as it is safe. If the other fellow needs it through necessity or because he is a road-hog, give it to him! A good driver knows that a right of way on this earth is of little value to him after death!

Many of the fine things you are enjoying and are about to enjoy on the Santa Fe are the direct result of riding the line rather than riding an office chair.

You can see more railroad from the cab of a locomotive than you can from a typewritten report. It all goes to prove that foresight is better than hindsight.

That's why you so often find the top executives of Santa Fe at the "head-end" of Santa Fe trains. They ride in front by desire and design to see what lies ahead.

The modern railroad executive, who has grown up with tracks and trains and who has spent a large part of his life in railroading, looks at a section of track not in terms of ties and rails but in terms of the possible improvements for better service to shippers and passengers.

Coupling long experience with mature vision, he translates new ideas into action with immediate decision which is both practical and timely.

This practical "Management's-eye-view" has led to the straightening of curves, improved roadbeds, new bridges and many other things which pay off in terms of better service for both passengers and shippers. It has led also to improvements of design and handling in the locomotives themselves.

During the next few months, Santa Fe will announce a number of new features improving its service and equipment. Watch for them.

WHY RUSSIA DOES THAT WAY?

It is most unlikely that Russia is in a position to wage a war right now and it is quite certain that the great bulk of the Russian people are not ready for another holocaust such as they have just experienced. Speculatively Russia was kept in the war by the ability of America to keep that nation supplied with fighting material and food.

So that the present actions of Russia's statesmen are very little understood by the rank and file of this country. Perhaps Mr. Byrnes and others representing America in the conferences of the nations know what the Russian game is, but the rest of us are in the dark.

An interesting theory advanced recently by a local man, as one of the possible solutions of the Russian approach, is that that nation's leaders have in mind past history of this country and its people. World War I was followed in this country by revulsion to everything military or that had to do with the war. We completely put off the war mind when we got through and wanted nothing to do with the world problems that followed. Possibly we shall do the same again. For when the man on the street gets fed up he has the big mind in Washington set accordingly. If the Russians can tire us down and can win their points that way they will have won the big prizes they are demanding.

PUBLICATION LAW NEEDED

Legislatures come and legislatures go, but never a one comes along that is sold on the idea of the value of publicity for acts of our state's myriad officials. We mean official publicity that tells how much money there is or was in the public treasury, who it was spent with, what the public got in return for its money. Whether Oklahoma has an ideal law of this kind we do not know but the kind of law they have is of the type we have in mind.

For instance, of the thousands that a Commissioners court or a city council spends annually, the only way a Texas community can get the exact information is for someone most logically a newspaper, to assemble the information at its own cost, and print it at its own cost. Because this is a hard job and because it is thankless and expensive to do, few, if any, newspapers within our scope of knowledge give this service to the public. The Hesperian is among those which do not.

It is not practical, it appears to us. But if it were done officially and paid for by the public, the assembling of the information and putting it into public print would be a most salutary check on public servants.

IS IT USELESS TO TRY

As aforesaid, getting the legislature sold on a good sound law that would require publicity for all official money-spending, is a matter that newspaper men have been unable to accomplish. Inertia, perhaps, in part—but mostly that the newspaperman gets credit for being self-seeker. He wants a publication law by which he can fatten his own purse, it is reasoned. It is logical to assume that the newspaper would make money out of it.

Thus, the legislator is side tracked off the main issue, which would be a law directing publicity for official money-spending, and the net result is nothing, except possibly a punitive measure directed at the newspapermen themselves. One such punitive effort is now a part of the law of the commonwealth. By its provisions it is unlawful for a newspaper to charge a candidate for office more than he charges any other customer for like service. The newspapermen went to Austin to get matters and came up with a law directed at them for their trouble. Their motives were mistaken by the legislature, it appears.

What is needed, of course, is a mandate from the people for the law. A good, common sense law of the kind would be inestimably valuable.

Nature's Forces Hold the Rings Around Saturn... and OIL-PLATE Your Engine!

NO one knows just why Saturn is the only planet to have rings around it. We do know, however, that mighty forces of gravitational attraction hold them there. Through extensive research into the forces of attraction between molecules of liquids and solids, Conoco scientists are able to bring America's motorists the benefits of new and better oils.

Using the force of molecular attraction (basic force that holds things together), a special ingredient in Conoco Nth motor oil is attracted to working surfaces of your engine. In fact, so strong is this attraction that cylinder walls are OIL-PLATED.

And because molecular attraction holds Conoco OIL-PLATING up where it belongs... prevents it from all draining down to the crankcase, even overnight... you get these benefits:

- added protection during the vital periods when you first start your engine
- added protection from corrosive action when your engine is not in use
- added protection from wear that leads to fouling sludge and carbon
- added smooth, silent miles

That's why you'd be safer to OIL-PLATE your engine now... at Your Conoco Mileage Merchant's. Look for the red triangle. Continental Oil Company

FAT SALVAGE FOR SOAP

Household fat salvage collections in the last three years have accounted for 7 to 8 percent of the total supply of inedible tallow and greases—much of which is used in soap making—the U. S. Department of Agriculture reports, emphasizing that the need for salvage is still urgent. In the first four months in this year the collections were about 20 percent smaller than in the same month in 1945 but were about 40 percent larger than in the last four months of 1945, the Bureau of Agricultural Economics says. The increase in early 1946 is traceable to bigger civilian supplies of pork in these months following supplies of pork and bacon in late 1945 that were so light that housewives could not accumulate much fat to be turned in. Advertising the need of fats also helped.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

H. J. R. No. 62

proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas by the addition of a new Section to be known as Section 49-b, creating a Veteran's Land Board and establishing a Veteran's Land Fund; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section I. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto a new Section to be known as Section 49-b which shall read as follows:

"Section 49-b. There is hereby created a Board to be known as the Veteran's Land Board, which shall be composed of the Governor, the Attorney General, and the Commissioner of the General Land Office. The Legislature shall provide by law for the issuance by said Board of not to exceed Twenty-five million Dollars ($25,000,000) in bonds or obligations of the State of Texas for the purpose of creating a fund to be known as the Veteran's Land Fund. Such bonds shall be executed by said Board as an obligation of the State of Texas in such form, denominations, and upon such terms as shall be prescribed by law, provided, however, that said bonds shall bear a rate of interest not to exceed three per cent (3%) per annum.

"In the sale of any such bonds a preferential right of purchase shall be given to the administrators of the various teacher retirement funds, the Permanent University Funds, and the Permanent Free School Funds; such bonds to be issued only as needed, in the opinion of the Veteran's Land Board under legislative authorization.

"The Veteran's Land Fund shall be used by the Board for the sole purpose of purchasing lands suitable for the purpose hereinafter stated, situated in this State (a) owned by the United States, or any governmental agency thereof; (b) owned by the Texas Prison System, or any other governmental agency of the State of Texas; or (c) owned by any person, firm, or corporation.

"All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of the Veteran's Land Fund.

"The lands of the Veteran's Land Fund shall be sold by the State to Texas Veteran's of the present war or wars, commonly known as World War II, in such quantities, and on such terms, and at such prices and such rates of interest, and under such rules and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, however, that any such lands remaining unsold at the expiration of eight years after the effective date of this Amendment may be sold to anyone as shall be prescribed by law.

"All moneys received and which have not been used for repurchase of land as provided herein by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of lands and for interest on deferred payments shall be credited to the Veteran's Land Fund for use in purchasing additional lands to be sold to Texas Veteran's of World War II, in like manner as shall be provided for the sale of lands purchased with the proceeds from the sales of the bonds, provided for herein, for a period of eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment; provided, however, that so much of such moneys as may be necessary to pay interest on the bonds herein provided for shall be set aside for that purpose. After eight (8) years from the effective date of this Amendment, all moneys received by the Veteran's Land Board from the sale of the lands and interest on deferred payments, or so much thereof as may be necessary, shall be set aside for the retirement of said bonds and to pay interest thereon, and any of such moneys not needed shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law."

Sec. 2 The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Thursday in November, 1946, at which election all voters favoring the proposed Amendment shall

Gas Utilities Division

Austin, Texas

IMPORTANT

To Hickerson-Strickland Butane Co., Licensee, Floydada, Texas

Field inspectors from this office report the following unsafe practices being prevalent throughout the state. These practices are extremely hazardous and must cease immediately.

1. Installing underground systems aboveground. There have been a number of such instances come to the attention of this division. In nearly all cases the excuse is made that it is only a temporary installation. In no case will an underground system be installed aboveground.
2. Filling ICC bottles not equipped with relief valves. No vessel may be filled with liquefied petroleum gas which is not equipped with the proper relief valve in operating condition. No vessel is approved nor may any vessel be installed which is not equipped with a relief valve of an approved type and adequate area.
3. Filling ICC bottles not equipped with liquid level gauging devices. Vessels not equipped with such devices but otherwise filled in accordance with the provisions of Gas Utilities Docket No. 141 may be filled only by weighing. Extreme care must be taken to prevent overfilling.
4. Filling so called "Rock Gas or California Bottles". These containers have reversed heads and are not approved for use in Texas. No dealer will fill any such container at any time.
5. The practice of selling systems to unlicensed individuals to be installed by them. The statutes require that all installations be made by a licensed and bonded installer and reported by him to this division. Any system not so installed is not an approved installation and must not be filled with liquefied petroleum gas.

In order to save time and avoid confusion in inspecting public building installations all licensees submitting plans covering such proposed installations must give the location in such a manner that the inspector can locate the installation without delay.

Very truly yours,
S. C. McIntosh, Director.

DDT IS ON THE JOB

DDT is fast becoming a household favorite with rural homemakers. Thousands of farm families are using this powerful weapon to banish flies, mosquitoes, fleas, roaches and bugs of many kinds from their homes and porches. Guided by the U. S. Public Health Service, the Farm Security Administration last spring in Alabama began a large-scale spraying campaign in four Southeastern States. For two years the Alabama Health Department had been spraying DDT in homes in the areas where malaria is most common. Many of the small farmers who use FSA's supervised credit services as aids to better farming and better living wanted to try out the war-developed insecticide, so when DDT became available the FSA assigned a woman field worker to accompany the health department representatives and learn their methods of mixing and spraying.

This field worker then gave demonstrations for all FSA supervisors and home economists in Alabama, and they in turn demonstrated use of DDT at group meetings of families. These families found that a gallon of the 25 percent DDT concentrate of the kind that mixes with water, when diluted with four gallons of water makes a satisfactory emulsion for spraying the house and buildings of an average farm. The 5 gallons of final spray mixture costs between $3 and $6, and one spraying lasts 3 to 5 months. An ordinary compressed air garden sprayer of 3 or 4 gallon capacity can be used to apply the spray. When these sprayers are supplied with two discs for the nozzle, the one with the smaller opening is better.

A 5 percent solution of DDT in deodorized kerosene is also satisfactory for spraying homes. It can be applied with the compressed air sprayer or an ordinary household sprayer. A brush can be used for applying it to screens. For livestock they use wettable DDT powder mixed one pound to 2 1/2 gallons of water. This is safe for cows, hogs, horses, mules—but should not be used on cats.

Alabama results were so good that FSA is pushing similar campaigns in Florida, Georgia and south Carolina.

WITCH VERDICT STANDS

Everybody blamed the devil, of course. Just the same, townsfolk of Salem, Mass., in 1692 had the grace to admit a mistake in the matter of witches. Of all the guilty colonists, they were the only ones who did. From the pulpit came prayers that "God would pardon all the errors of his servants and people in a late tragedy raised among them by Satan and his instruments."

Witch Hunt. The "late tragedy"—19 hanged, one squeezed to death—started when hysterical girls turned neighbor against neighbor in a huge witch hunt. Though the General Court of Massachusetts passed a resolution four years later confessing its error, the Massachusetts Senate today—254 years after—seems to think the "witches" might have had something on the crystal ball. The Senate was asked to consider a resolution "to reverse the attainments" (legalized disgrace) of the 13 women and seven men executed for witchcraft. But the bill was killed—"with a roar," reported the Boston Globe.

POLISH ELECTION WATCHERS

If Poland's Red government keeps its latest promise of elections and holds them in February, opposition leader Stanislaw Mikolajczyk wants America and Britain to join Russia in supervising the voting. Mikolajczyk also wants more freedom of press and political meetings; and representation for his peasant party on vote-counting bodies. Whether he gets these things is ultimately up to Russia. There's no indication he will. — Exchange.

Mexico is supposed to be an Indian name for "habitation of the god of war."

SIN IS SIN

Like salt on a pretzel, there's no substitute for "sin". In England, R. J. Soper, vice president of the United Kingdom Methodist Conference, heard it called "moral laxity or moral delinquency" by some people, "sexual irregularity" by others. He figured they were talking about the same thing but not talking about it the way they should. Result: Next time the conference met he asked that "the word sin be restored to every pulpit's vocabulary. It seems to me that 'sin' is a more accurate statement than the more euphonious phrases that tend to soften its impact." Henceforth a sin could be expected to be called a sin, in England's Methodist church. Exchange—

The Indians had two translations for the word Wyoming. One was "extensive plains." The other was "mountains and valleys alternating."

Iowa means "sleepy ones."

LESS SPECTACULAR STARVATION

"A considerable number of people throughout the world have died of pure starvation," says D. A. Fitzgerald, a former food specialist who visited more than half the countries of the world as a member of the Hoover mission, "but the visual evidence of the world's hunger are largely less spectacular. This hunger is evidenced by greatly increased death rates of children—frequently as high as 200 per 1000 under one of age—by high death rates of old people, by increased incidence of disease and death from disease, and by the sheer physical inability of adults to do a day's work. . . . All that is preventing these conditions developing into mass starvation are the food shipments especially cereals, being made from the United States and other countries. Continued large shipments are essential until this year's locally-grown crops are available."

Maine was named after an ancient province in France.

HOPE FOR CANNING RECORD

"We hope that housewives will break even their wartime records for home canning and preservation of foods," says Paul C. Stark of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, Director of the Office of Emergency Food Programs. "When the jars and cans are counted at the end of the season, we hope to have many more than even the 3 1/2 billion quarts of vegetables and fruits which were canned at home during each of the war years."

"We already know of the success of the victory garden program. This is due in a great degree to the cooperation the Department has had from State and local garden leaders, garden clubs, and individual gardeners throughout the Nation.

"Gardeners and housewives need just one thing to make them realize the special importance of all methods of home food production and preservation this year. That was to be told that people all over the world are starving, many dying of hunger, and that by growing and preserving more food here at home we would be in position to send more overseas to the people who are in such urgent need of food."

Massachusetts was the first state to receive an Indian name. It was named after a bay and means "near the great hills."

Increased Values Make Favorable Sale of Bonds

CROSBYTON, August 16—Most property owners in Crosbyton received notices this week from the Equalization Board of the City of Crosbyton, asking them to appear before that board and show cause why their city taxes should not be raised.

Property owners had expected this raise in valuations, but most of them were surprised at the amount of the increase. The city commission announces that they have already contracted to sell the $50,000 in bonds voted for paving, city hall construction and purchasing of a fire truck, the transaction to take place as soon as the present revaluation is completed. These bonds will bear the interest rate of three percent. On top of this, the contract calls for the refunding of the $71,000 outstanding bonded indebtedness of this city. These bonds now bear 3 1/2 and 4 percent interest. This will be a saving of approximately $16,000 in interest to the taxpayers of Crosbyton, making the new issue actually cost only $34,000 instead of $50,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Allen and family and Mrs. Allen's father, Bill Graham returned home Sunday from a vacation trip to Natchez and Jackson, Mississippi, where they visited relatives and St. Jo, and other points in Louisiana, where they visited friends.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lanier returned home Friday from a month's rest in Hot Springs, New Mexico, where they had been taking baths for their health.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Whit Spikes)

No rain this Monday noon, but clouds are piling up in the north and northwest. Looks as if one would be safe to prophesy rain with a capital letter. It is hard to watch a crop burn up. Many have wells and are working day and night to keep their crops going, others have to sit and wait and wait, perhaps for the rain that never comes.

Wonder what folks on the Plains were doing the summer of 1900. Way back? Yes, way back. From the old day books we see what they eat. Flour, sugar, coffee, meal and bacon. They buy syrup, canned peas, sardines dried beans. J. I. Tipton buys a watermelon and four cherrots. He set up the crowd. George Mayes - yes you know him, he lives at Crosbyton - purchases one pair of shoes for $3.25 a half pound candy for 15c. Five cigars also, one feed of oats for his horse and his dinner was 25c. Marshall Wheeler bought five pair of socks for fifty cents. He can't do it in 1946 Grandpa Jones' windmill, needed new leathers and he bought some new for some one in the family that was sick. And it was this summer that George Mayes bought the hair tonic and it cost him a dollar bill. Rufus Bedingfield bought a ring for five dollars. Rufus whom all liked, but the prairie winds have swept over his grave for many many years.

George Witt must have been going somewhere. He bought a hobble rope, some bacon and baking powder, three boxes of axle grease and a box of 22 shells. Esell Brothers Will and Roy, purchased one shirt and three ties. Mrs. Murphy, now Mrs. Dave Benton, sr., of Rails, needed 100 pounds of sugar for which she paid $7.25, one gallon vinegar, spice cloves. Sounds like sweet pickles to me. And I see where Judge Murray sells father a bushel of peaches.

A quiet little town, Emma, those long summer days of 1900. Simple things the people bought and not too much of them. No light dues no water to pay for, no paving, only hard dirt road leading to town that had grass still in the center. Plum butter bubbled on the range stoves, peach pickles simmered. Girls made dresses of lawn and sewed on yards and yards of narrow lace. Booted men sat on the pine counters in the stores and whittled and talked of elections, of good old cow ponies, of long hard trips after freight. They talked of roundups and stampedes and the long miles they had driven cows up the trail. The summers might be dry and still but cattle could be moved to another section where there was water, or find their way to the canyons. There were not many crops to burn in the terrible heat.

The men sitting there in the store that smelled of Kerosene and bacon and calico, did not see the big streams of water that would some day flow down the rows of cotton and cane. Perhaps they did not see the brick buildings and the paved roads where wheels would not bog deeper than a mule team could pull out of slimy mud. They did not hear the radio that would some day broadcast their dancing fiddle tunes. They did not smell the gas that would do away with cow chip fires they did not see the tall poles that would bring light to farm and ranch homes as well as to the towns. They did not visualize the airplane as it would soar fast as the mighty eagle and spread larger purple shadows on the ground. No, they did not see all of this, but they held on to the land and to their dreams of better fortunes for their children than they had found in the places east where they once lived.

The Old Settler's picnic has come and gone, slipping down the years to join the sixteen others that have gone by. Why was it that the faces of the old timers that did come were strained, their eyes hunting for some one they did not find, their ears tuned to hear voices that whispered only in sweet memory? Oh, so many had gone on since the last reunion. Their feet were not stirring up the thick dust, their hands once held out in fond greeting were not felt. Seemed like there were more gone than remained.

We looked to the gray canyon walls for the answer but they seemed to hold themselves aloof. What people are you asking about? Is it the red man that once smoked his pipe of peace here? Is it the people who held the first reunion under those trees? I have seen so many, they proudly say. We are so old. How can you expect us to keep up with man whose life is full of trouble and is short as the grass on our rough sides?

But oh I know who it is that I miss. My own dear Aunt Sadie that loved to camp at the reunions. It is Mrs. Arthur Duncan in her white dress carrying a large wreath of flowers to lay at the foot of the majestic monument. It is Bob Smith hurrying here and there laughing as he goes. It is sweet Grace Wheeler coming under the arbor with her mother and father. I am missing Aunt Felle Littlefield as she sits cool and comfortable in her lavender dress and bonnet. I miss the jiggling of Uncle Nell Bicknell. There is not place here to tell all that I do long for and miss. Plans for the Last Reunion are laid down in the Bible, the way to get there is plainly marked, and our good old friends are awaiting us there.

How women and girls may get wanted relief from functional periodic pain

Cardui, many women say, has brought relief from the cramp-like agony and nervous strain of functional periodic distress. Takes like a tonic, it should stimulate appetite, aid digestion, thus help build resistance for the "blues" to come. Started 3 days before "your time," it should help relieve pain due to purely functional periodic causes. TRY IT!

Byton Seeks Guard Unit

BYTON, August 16—A petition circulated here by Lloyd Byton of Company B, Texas National Guard, and Carl Davies, district manager, asks for a unit of the National Guard to be located in Crosby.

Byton will bear the signature of the leaders of all organizations in the city and county and other representative citizens. It points out that an executive committee of the Texas National Guard is still in existence in Crosby, and that it has had the approval of the general public.

Byton shakes your head when he reads the news about brutal racket wars, juvenile delinquency and fiends? But did you know that thousands of Texans are in traffic courts? And that most of those thousands are respectable law-abiding citizens -- like you! Motorists, the Texas Safety Association, get it through their heads: making traffic laws and safe driving is a crime -- and our traffic toll each year shows the kind of crime does not exist! Don't be one of the losers!

TIME RUNS OUT ON HIM; TOM McLAIN PAYS PARKING FINE BUT DOESN'T ENJOY IT

The other day I was at Plainview on some business that I could not do at Floydada. I secured the parking metre coins. I was longer getting my business seen to than I had anticipated, and often, time gets away rapidly, so there I had a ticket. I went over and paid the first fine that I had ever paid.

I often dream but nothing to such, but that night one came to me that was an expression of my feelings. In this dream I was talking to some of the Plainview men. I told them that I had just paid the first fine of my sixty-eight years. Didn't much like to have to pay extra for the privilege of trading with them, but the humility of paying a fine was much worse. Also told them that if my neighbor across the road should decide to charge me if I ate dinner with him, that was his business not mine, but if I failed to eat with him that was my business not his.

That if they decided to fine me if I traded with them, that was their business not mine, but if I traded at other places more like the way I have lived that is my business not theirs.

City Dads Are Too Big
Now to our city Dads of Floydada

--if you contemplate adding city things to our town--think twice before you try to put on city duds. We are big enough to wear them. Just think of those street lights that were put in several years ago. Think of the remarks made by many people about us trying to put on "airs" and the final proof that we were not big enough for such.

Just a thought by one who has been used to the open range and not to these new fangled-pay when you stop (and perhaps pay a lot more before you leave) hitching posts.

RELIGION MORE POPULAR

Almost any churchman in the country would be willing to point to some religious emphasis in the American scene.

For people to whom religion is part of a dollars-and-cents world however, there were special, concrete signs.

In Black & White, "Big" for publishers came in a one-month survey of new books reported by Publishers Weekly. Of 331 new works, religious books (56) placed second only to the invariable first ranking fiction list (91).

For broadcasters there was a sign reported by Louisville's WHAS, serving a 100-mile radius of listeners in towns of less than 2,500 religious shows rank second only to hill-billy music. (Pre-result guessers had placed religion far down the list.) In larger towns religious programs were in the same level of interest as popular news broadcasts.

Banz, Slargest sign of the bunch came from the entertainment world's magazine Billboard. Flirting, as usual, with incoherency Billboard reported: "Bible Biz is Booming." What it meant:

"The boom in religious and semi-sacred music and records which has been parking up there on the front burner since the first tense war years seems to be coming to a boil."

Translated further it meant many popular song writers and singers were turning their attention to religious works, with gratifying cash results.

Examples. Peter DeRose, resting on the laurels of perennial favorites "Deep Purple" and "Wagon Wheels" penned a hymn "God is Ever Beside Me" and heard it played over networks up to 16 times a night. He watched sheet music sales soar.

For ministers, however, it was still the spiritual signs that counted. Exchange--

Everybody is talking about his rights these days. Here, says the Texas Safety Association, is something for drivers to remember about the other fellow's rights -- the pedestrian's rights: A pedestrian who has started across the street with the green light has the right to continue to a point of safety before the driver starts up, even though the light has changed after the pedestrian stepped from the curb.

In the summertime fair weather is glare weather for motorists. The Texas Safety Association suggests: If you care about the comfort and seeing condition of your eyes -- and if you care about your safety and that of others -- keep your windshield clear and see what happens -- or is about to happen.

Motorist, keep your eyes peeled for pavement break-ups caused by hot weather expansion and buckling of the hard surfaces -- especially if your tires are not yet back to pre-war standards. This is a reminder from the Texas Safety Association, with the warning that pavement breaks are not only hard on your car but are also accident hazards. So watch for pavement crack-ups -- avoid those traffic crack-ups!

Allan Shivers Runs For Lt. Governor On Qualifications

Senator Allan Shivers, leading candidate for lieutenant governor, is seeking election to that office solely on the basis of his qualifications.

In every way, Allan Shivers, the legislator, lawyer, farmer and World War II combat veteran, is exceptionally qualified for the No. 2 state office. As a state senator for a number of years, he established an excellent record of public service. A loyal Democrat and native Texan, he is a man of highest character and splendid personality. The majority of Texans believe he will reflect credit and honor on the State of Texas.

Shivers, a war veteran of two years overseas, during which time he earned 5 battle stars, did his best to make this a free country for a free people. He will continue that course as lieutenant governor.

He has conducted a dignified campaign, free of mud-slinging and personalities. His platform appeals to every Texan: Better farm-to-market roads, better salaries for school teachers, enlarged public safety facilities, a thorough public health program, redistricting of the state for legislative purposes, greater aid to the aged, real assistance to war veterans, reorganization of the pardon and parole system, a first class university for the colored and equal responsibility for both labor and management. He is against a sales, state income or any other form of new taxes.

Allan Shivers will be the lieutenant governor of all the people. In addition to integrity, sincerity and ability, he has a background of training and a record of public service already performed which gives him the right to ask for promotion.

An accident does not care what your name is or your occupation, how important you are or how famous. An accident has no respect for your personality or good looks. It is not bluffed by your size or your nerve. It says "phooey" to luck and the law of averages. But an accident, reminds the Texas Safety Association, has plenty of respect for plain common sense, alertness and consistent carefulness.

Accidents kill more children than any disease, says the Texas Safety Association. Last year in Texas 383 children of school-age were killed in traffic accidents. In the typical American family of three children the probability is that one will be killed before he has lived out his normal life span. Slow down -- and save that third child!

U.S. ROYAL!

You get all the features that have long made the name "U.S. Royal" famous--plus the advantage of special rayon cord construction* to make your driving extra safe, trouble-free and luxurious.

Nine years ago when "U.S." first marketed a rayon cord tire it was proven that although rayon-built tires are lighter, they are also stronger and safer.

That's because this super-strength rayon "U.S." uses, runs many degrees cooler... cuts down destructive inner heat... adds thousands of miles to tire life... and gives you far greater protection against blow-outs.

And of course in this newest U.S. Royal you get many other safety features, too--the famous Royal block tread for smooth riding--perfect balance for easy steering and parking. The fact is that U.S. Royals are every bit as modern as the fine cars on which they are standard equipment--every bit as fine as the quality name they've built up over the last thirty years--every bit as good value for your money as U.S. Royals have always been.

See these great new tires today at your U.S. Tire Dealer's--find out how soon you can be riding on rayon-built U. S. Royals!

*Present Government regulations restrict all rayon constructions to sizes 6-50 and larger

Crime Increase Is Almost Double

AUSTIN, August—Criminals are preying upon the rural population of Texas at nearly double the rate of two and a half years ago, Director Homer Garrison of the Department of Public Safety declared today.

Garrison said rural crime increased 85.27 per cent from the first six months of 1944 to the first six months of 1946.

Biggest gain was in robbery, up 158 per cent. Another staggering gain was shown in burglary, up 121 per cent. Auto theft jumped 96 per cent; felony theft 61 per cent; murder and homicides 55 per cent; and rape 48 per cent.

During the same period crime increased 42 percent in the cities. The overall gain for both rural and urban jurisdictions was 54.54 per cent.

Garrison said law enforcement officers are "holding their own against long odds," for arrests have increased in direct proportion to the gain in crime.

Convictions, however, are lagging behind. The penitentiary system received 930 new prisoners in the first half of 1944, 862 in the first half of 1945; and 1221 in the first half of 1946, Garrison said. This represented an increase of 31 per cent from the 1944 to 1946 period.

WORD OF APPRECIATION

We would like to take this means of expressing our thanks and appreciation to our many friends for their kind words, deeds, and the lovely floral offering we received during the illness and death of our mother. May God bless each of you Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Sandefur, Mr. and Mrs. V. O. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Crawford, and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford and family.

LT. W. M. ROMANE HOME

LT. William M. Romane returned this week from 19 months service with the army in the European Theatre of operation.

LT. Romane's wife, who is the former Marguerite Leonard, has been making her home with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Troy Leonard, during his absence while she taught commercial subjects in Floydada High school.

E. W. Lightfoot of Mineral Wells spent the week-end in Floydada on business. Mr. Lightfoot is the father of Travis Lightfoot.

Linda Gayle Clark of Plainview is spending the week here with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Polk Goen and family left last Thursday for points in New Mexico, Colorado and Flagstaff, Arizona. They plan to return the latter part of the week.

Motorist, if you still have tired rubber tires on your automobile, the Texas Safety Association asks you to keep in mind that hot weather and friction heat from fast driving are hard on those tires. And blowouts are dangerous -- more so when you're going fast. So keep your speed down, conserve your tires and avoid an accident.

Providence Locals

PROVIDENCE, August 19—Mrs. Clarence Brandes and Mrs. Arthur Sammann and YVonne were in Floydada Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Landrum and son, Welborn, of Plainview, were Tuesday dinner guests in the Arthur Sammann home; Welborn will spend the remainder of the week visiting with YVonne.

Mrs. Clarence Brandes attended the state meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration association which was held in Amarillo this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Scheele and baby; Miss Helen Joyce Rouser; Miss Marie Brown Mr. Ernest Sammann; and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Riley and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Aires of Gruver were fishing at Buffalo Lake Friday and Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Schutte will leave Monday for Lubbock; Mr. Schutte will be sent to Galveston or Temple, for medical treatment by the U. S. government.

Mrs. Joe Zimmerman left Sunday for medical treatment in Lubbock. Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Scheele and family spent Sunday in the Ted Boedecker home.

L. W. Landrum, of Vega, was here on business Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Payne and baby daughter moved into the teacherage Sunday morning. We sincerely hope they will enjoy their work here as much as we shall enjoy having them with us.

Jim Jones of Amarillo was here over the week-end, visiting in the Harold McLaughlin home and with Miss Nadine Brandes.

Twenty families surprised Mr. and Mrs. Ewald Sammann on their fifteenth wedding anniversary at their home in Plainview, Sunday night. After the many lovely gifts were presented, the ladies served sandwiches, cake, cookies and punch to more than eighty persons. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

The Texas Safety Association says common sense counts on bicycles, just as it does anywhere else. You can "gangway" into a group of smaller children playing on the sidewalk -- and see them scramble or get hurt. Or you can think of them first. You can be a fool on your bike or you can be bright beyond your years. You can hitch on trucks, run red lights, dart into traffic. Or you can be careful. Remember when bike hits auto, auto usually wins. When bike hits child or grown-up, bike usually wins. But in either event, if you're riding the bike you lose!

Everyone hates to miss a train. But there is one time everyone should miss it -- at a grade crossing! In a survey of 4000 drivers, it was found that 81 per cent of them looked neither way before crossing the railroad tracks; 17 per cent looked in one direction and two per cent looked both ways. The Texas Safety Association says "Miss that train -- Look! -- Listen! -- and Live!"

The motorist who lets the steering wheel of a car become a wheel of chance is gambling with injury or death! If you don't want to gamble with accidents, the Texas Safety Association suggests that you observe the following safe driving rules: Always keep your eyes alert. Always keep your hands on the wheel; never light a cigarette or wave to a friend while driving. Constant watchfulness is a good watchword. One moment of inattention may mean tragedy!

To the Voters of Precinct One:

This is a last minute reminder to let you know that I earnestly solicit your vote and influence.

The duties of the office as your present commissioner have taken from me the privilege to see everyone of you; therefore I take this opportunity to say that I would like to keep on serving you.

For the last three and one half years I have tried to make you a good commissioner. I have given the best possible service under the prevailing conditions which we have faced.

The county's business is the biggest business we have in the county, and I have earnestly worked for the interest of our county.

Floyd county is one of the top counties in our big state. The best of everything is not too good for Floyd County People.

Precinct one has seven mail routes and seven school bus routes to travel its roads. We have done everything possible to keep the roads where they will give the people the best possible service.

After checking the records and work I have done, you are the judge as to whether you would like to have me to continue to serve as your commissioner.

Sincerely,

W. H. (Bill) BROCK
