Half Inch Rain Report General Thruout Area

A good half to three-quarters of an inch shower that fell this morning—56-hundredths in Floydada—was the most general precipitation that has come to Floyd county in many months.

The fall was not heavy but contrary to the run of rains this summer and early fall this one seems to have left no dry spots. It appears to have come down for an inch or more in Hale county, but reports at 9 o'clock from Lockney, Dougherty Barwise and South Plains are all about the same general tenor—a half inch or more.

At Barwise Frank Probasco said quite a bit of wheat was likely to be sowed and brought to a stand on the rain that came, since it fell on ground that was already in fair to good condition as to moisture content.

The fall changed the picture from yesterday afternoon quite considerably. It stopped plowing that had been under way on a high pressure (See Half Inch Rain, page four)

Game Friday Night Is Football Opener

Coaches L. F. Gresham and Estel Baker of Floydada High school football squad and the fans of Floydada are due to have a look see at the 1946 version of the Green and White at Wester field come Friday night.

The squad was doing heavy scrimmage work throughout this week after limbering up in the first week of school in preparation for their annual opener with Crowell Wildcats tomorrow night. The game will be called at 7:30.

The coach will put on the field a heavier team than last year's entry which was district winner. Coach Gresham was non-committal yesterday on what he expected his boys to do. They are responsive and should come along all right by mid-season if they keep up the present stride and have no injuries. Part of his line he is not sure of and can't be for a time until they get a few lessons under belt.

The Wildcats are due to win the game, with more experienced men back from last year and more seasoning in the spring and fall. Coach Louis Purvis will bring a squad of 25 Wildcats here for the game.

Building Permits Granted in 1946 Exceed $100,000

With the beginning of this week building permits issued in Floydada for the year of 1946 had passed the $100,000 mark, in spite of the fact that materials and fixtures are so difficult as to make home-building a nightmare, and also despite the fact that numerous construction jobs undertaken are indicated at only a nominal figure, with the end cost an unknown quantity.

Figures for the first six months of the year showed $84,350 in permits issued with a backlog of unfinished construction in the neighborhood of $50,000.

Figures for July and August and to September 7, on permits issued by City Secretary B. K. Barker, approached $20,000, the exact figures being $17,550. Following are the permits issued July 1 to September 7:

While the OPA and other big city boys are knocking down r straw man and picking him up to knock him down again and calling him Black Market in meats the fact is the number of merchantable meat animals left in this part of the world has been reduced to the minimum. This is especially true of hogs so far as the Floydada market is concerned. "No merchantable hogs left in the country," said Lonnie Dowling, buyer here, this morning.

And Bowling indicated that combination of circumstance have left not an awful lot of pigs to be sold when they get big enough this winter and next spring. Although there are more cattle than hogs the situation is not much better locally, so far as the consumer is concerned. What cattle there are have got to put on some fat or grow some more before they are ready for the town folks to fight over.

Crop Loan Redemption Will Be Completed Oct. 1

Cotton still under the 1945-46 loan on October 1, 1946, will be redeemed for producers' account by the Commodity Credit Corporation. F. C. Elliott, cotton specialist of the Texas A. and M. Extension Service, Texas, says the 1945-crop cotton loan now should give serious consideration to marketing the cotton in pools. The 1945 loan rate for 15/16-inch linting cotton, gross weight 1.08 cents per pound. Since the price has climbed considerably, producers should be able to get a substantial profit. The 1945-crop loan cotton which was redeemed before October 1 is provided in the loan agreement into pools. Not until all cotton in the pools is liquidated will the producer receive any payment. Net proceeds, if any, will be distributed among the producers whose cotton was placed in pools in proportion to their interest. From the proceeds of the liquidation will be deducted all advertising and handling charges, insurance and handling charges. No payment will be made to producers at the time their cotton is redeemed and after October 1 the sale of cotton now under

Deducts Clause In All Extended Cov'r'ge Policies

All insurance companies and their special and local agents have just received a communication from the Fire Insurance division, Board of Insurance commissioners at Austin which contains the following:

"With their enclosure will be found a new and greatly simplified manual governing the writing of Extended coverage, Windstorm, Hurricane and Hail, Explosion, Riot and Civil Commotion, Vandalism and Malicious Mischief and Aircraft and Motor Vehicle Property Damage Insurance."

"This new manual is effective September 1st, 1946, and all policies covering the perils mentioned above effective on and after that date are to be written in accordance with the provisions in the revised manual."

"The most notable change is the requirement that the $100.00 Deductible Clause shall be attached to all Extended Coverage and Windstorm policies covering on buildings and structures, except farm property for which a new $50.00 deductible shall be used. The new deductibles are applicable to the entire State and may not be omitted by the payment of an additional premium. The present $30 deductible, form 199, is discontinued, effective September 1, 1946, as to Extened Coverage and Windstorm coverages effective on and after that date."

Second Peach Crop Same Peach Tree

City Carrier Lorin Leibfried who is by way of being a shade and fruit tree enthusiast, has another new one for the book. It is a peach tree that now is ripening its second crop of peaches this season at his home, 714 South Main.

The first crop which ripened in July were large, extra large, well-colored, well-flavored, while the September crop are little fellows although well-colored and fair to the taste with a slightly "plum-y" flavor.

The tree put on all the blooms at the same time, for September as well as for July, but in some sort of selective manner, ripened them 60 days apart. Leibfried doesn't offer any explanation. In fact he doesn't know any, he said.

Nation Probably Will Not Reduce Debt During 1947

Before fiscal year 1947 was 38 days old, U. S. spending had piled up a $1.2 billion deficit, 63% of the $1.9 billion shortage President Truman had predicted for the entire year, says a recent newspaper reporter's analysis.

The budget for the year ending June 30, 1947, totals $41.5 billion, but at current rates of spending there'll be a clear miss by $10.8 billion. To offset it, Truman says he'll cut down Government expenses and he forecasts a flood of tax collections not counted on before to wash out the fast accumulating debt.

As early as last January, the President estimated $36 billion would cover 1947 expenditures. With some $31.5 billion expected in revenue, Administration leaders then cheerfully predicted the Government wouldn't go in the hole more than $4.5 billion for the year. But in later revenue estimates, Treasury officials predicted 1947 would produce some $8.1 billion more than was expected—($5.5 billion in income taxes)—which if true, and if expenditures were held down, would net a $2.6 billion profit.

What's a Billion?

But expenditures weren't held down. Congress started buying "extras" and so did the President, none of which had been included in earlier budget estimates. When these were added up, spending had jumped another $7.5 billion. Hurred cuts in departmental budgets however, brought it down to $3.2 billion.

Of the $7.5 billion increase over January estimates, $4.4 billion went for new legislation, including $2.4 billion for terminal leave pay, $200 million for increased pay to military personnel, $200 million for war damage to the Philippines, $1 billion more for veterans' benefits, and $200 million to increase wages for postal employees.

Truman says we'll still reduce the national debt from $268.6 billion to $261 billion by next June 30.

How? "By taking it from a $12 billion treasury cash balance," explains the President.

LIFE BEGINS AT FORTY FOR AAF

After thirty-nine flying years the Army Air Forces is celebrating its last peacetime birthday since 1941 and contemplating an eventful new year. The 40th year will be a season of research and development of progress in the Air Age and great effort in the direction of peace.

In the 39th year:

Gen. Carl Spaatz, veteran commander of the U. S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe and later in the Pacific, was named commanding general of the U. S. Army Air Forces upon the retirement of Gen. Henry H. Arnold.

An Air Force B-23 dropped Atom Bomb No. 3 experimentally. The B-28 bomber capable of 12,000 non-stop miles, was evolved, and the rocket-powered fighter, XS-1, was grounded to fly 1000 miles per hour.

At Wright Field an Air Force experimental plane model was hurled through a wind tunnel at the equivalent of 450 miles per hour.

Around the corner a "ramjet" engine was created, designed to propel an airplane nearly 5000 miles per hour.

A parachute made of ribbons was demonstrated successfully as was an automatic ejector seat for pilots, designed to hurl a pilot to safety from a swift moving fighter.

A Lockheed P-38 "Shooting Star" simulated how the Atlantic coast to the Pacific flown by an Air Force pilot in the speedometer time of less than 4 hours and 15 minutes. Another Exhibit of Air Force jets, spending less than half a day in the air, breeched the California, headed east, lunched in Washington, D. C., flew back to a waiting supper in California.

A Superfortress flew non-stop from Tokyo to Chicago, and a Flying Wing, seven feet thick at the middle and with a wingspan of 10,000 miles was flown.

Twenty-two new world aviation records were established by AAF planes. Two Air Force planes flying under instrument conditions hit skyscrapers in New York, and a radar device was developed to warn pilots of obstacles in their flight path.

Another radar device was used successfully on the Air Transport Command's scheduled North Atlantic run to Faria. With it the navigator can "see" far ahead of his speeding plane, pick out the rough spots in the weather, alter course around them, insuring a smoother and safer flight.

A four-engine Skyraider ferry-loaded on water off Japan, refused to sink after floating in rough seas a full day. It was towed toward the shore and sank as a hazard to shipping.

Air-Sea Rescue helicopters were used in Los Angeles to deliver air-mail in sailing competition, and it was proposed in Washington to test the first ball of the 1946 World Series from a helicopter hovering a few feet above the pitcher's mound.

The 39th year saw large numbers of combat-veteran aircraft Liberator, Fortress and Superfort become obsolescent and the B-17 "Memphis Belle" was given by the Army Air Forces to the city of Memphis, Tennessee, as a memorial. In Norwich, England, home of the famous Second Division of the 8th Air Force, a large memorial was dedicated for the men who died in air combat over Europe.

Plans were prepared to erect a tremendous Air Engineering Development Center—a hundred square miles of America molded into a testing laboratory for the Air Age. Experiments for the site were made under units of heavy power, machinery and plants to contain guided missile experiments and 250,000 gallons of water each minute for cooling. A city was planned in entirety and it was revealed that the giant center would be open with no restriction to any air resources who could be met by Navy Civilian Joint Committee's approval of the proposed experimental station.

A tremendous number of Air Forces' airmen returned to civilian life, back home bases in every quarter of the globe. Air Forces were organized on a coast-wide scale and leaders were stepping in living time. The year was historic for the large number of young men enlisting in the peacetime AAF. In this 39th year, it was estimated that "life to begin at 40" will include 400,000 men for the Air Force next year.

FOR SOUP AS YOU LIKE IT—HOME CAN IT!

The war years taught almost everybody something about home canning. Because of the emergency, emphasis was placed on basic spoilage-preventing rules and on quantity rather than individuality. Now the time has come when more thought can be given to selecting, preparing, seasoning, and canning foods as YOU, not someone else, may like them.

Canning rules cannot be ignored, but standardization of flavors and seasonings has no place in the food preservation program of the homemaker who exercises the privilege of setting her own food standards. Naturally those standards should be high, furthermore the taste preferences of those who share the food must be considered.

Take the matter of soup. Once you get the habit of using your own brand prepared and seasoned as you like it, you will never want any other.

Nothing quite takes the place of a really wonderful home-made vegetable soup. Our favorite recipe for canning it contains no cabbage, no turnip, no onion, because we are like G.I. Joe—we don't like THAT canned soup taste and odor. But if that's what you like, put the cabbage in, turnips too, but if they go in, other things might as well stay out because these strong vegetables overpower all the more delicate flavors. However, a slice or two of onion added when the soup is put on to heat for about fifteen minutes for serving, gives a fresh out-of-the-garden flavor.

The Vegetable Mixture may be thinned with milk or water before heated for serving, but is much better when thinned with meat stock or broth. Vegetable soup gets along all right without a garnish, but if it is to be the mainstay of a lunch or supper, you might like a piece of toast covered with grated cheese floating in each bowl. Crackers or bread sticks are usually served with vegetable soup but our choice is midget corn pones, about two inches long, crusty and hot.

Gledys Kimbrough, editor of the famous Ball Blue Book of canning and preservation recipes, gave us her favorite recipe for vegetable soup. It is:

- 5 quarts chopped tomatoes
 - 2 quarts sliced okra or
 - 2 quarts small green lima beans
 - 2 quarts corn
 - 2 tablespoons sugar
 - 2 tablespoons salt
- Cook tomatoes until soft, then press through sieve to remove skin and seed. Add other ingredients and cook until thick. Pour into hot jars. Process 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure.
- "Odds and Ends" Usable
- Miss Kimbrough also told us that many people like to put "all the odds and ends" they can find in the garden in the soup, and she thinks that's all right if that's the way one wants it. It seems that all you do is: prepare the vegetables and boil them five or ten minutes with water to cover or with tomatoes which have been skinned and chopped. Season with salt and pepper. Pour boiling hot into hot jars. Process for the time required for the vegetable (in the soup) requiring longest processing time.

Nation's Top Boy Craftsmen

FIVE of the nation's top boy craftsmen, each a winner in the 1946 Napoleonic coach and model car design competitions of the Fisher Body Craftsmen's Guild, are pictured here with C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors. They are, first row, Roger H. Otting, 14, of Detroit, winner of a $5,000 scholarship for his Napoleonic coach; Cedar Rapids, Ia., who also won a $5,000 scholarship for his coach. In the second row are Vincent J. Rauth, 19, of York, Neb., who won a $4,000 university scholarship for his model car; Robert J. Hartlieb, Jr., 16, of Allentown, Pa., who tied with 13-year-old Virgil Max Emer, Jr., of South Bend, Ind., for junior car building honors, both receiving a $4,000 scholarship.

The report on Hale county, coming from Plainview, said the school buses likely would not run in some Hale county communities and that the rain was good all the way westward past Clovis.

Write a minus sign for almost all of Floyd county so far as rain is concerned in the past week, but crops have made fair to excellent progress in most of the county on rains and damp of the week previous.

Monday afternoon a bit of a shower fell in the vicinity of Lakeview and again Tuesday there were some showers in widely separated areas of the county. In spots around Lakeview a half-inch moisture helped to keep the top of the ground moist in fields where the late feed crop is

Finest Irrigated Crops

The story in irrigated fields is all to the good so far. Crops responded slowly during the heat of the summer and irrigation men were hard put to it to keep their alfalfa and other crops going. The last two weeks, however, the going has been easier and some of the finest feed crops and one of the best cuttings of alfalfa in history have rewarded them. More than 600 farms in the county have part or all irrigated fields and their tonnage will be tremendous.

Demand, however, will far exceed supply in both alfalfa and forage feeds, with buyers from all portions of the southwest eagerly taking all offerings.

High temperatures of the week have run from a high of 96 degrees for an hour on Tuesday to a high of 85 on Sunday, mostly in the eighties.

Lows have run from 66 degrees to 68 degrees in the early morning hours.

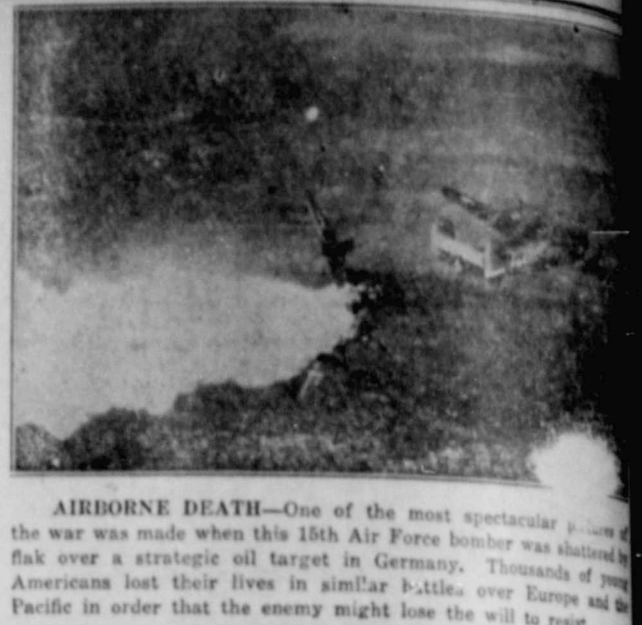

Billy Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Edd Brown, will leave this weekend for California to resume his studies at the University of Los Angeles. Billy is majoring in optometry.

SEVEN FAT YEARS FOLLOWED SEVEN LEAN YEARS

Experience in the United States has run just contrary to the Egyptian chronicle of the seven lean years following the seven fat years of the Pharaoh's dream which Joseph interpreted. Here the seven "fat" years of high production have followed instead of coming before the seven "lean" years preceding (1933-39). However, as a result of the change in demand—both national and world-wide—the farm situation in the "lean" years was characterized by a threatening and persistent "surplus" problem. In the "fat" years, the parade of record-breaking crops has not been able to match the war-created requirements, and "shortages" have accompanied bumper crops.

These contrasts appear in U. S. Department of Agriculture tabulations of crop production. By using the August Crop Report figures for the seventh fat year, and official estimates for previous years, simple addition shows a production of more than 21 billion bushels of corn for the seven years of 1940 to 1946. For the seven previous years the "lean" production was 15.4 billion bushels. For wheat, the figures show almost 7 billion bushels in the seven fat years and 4.8 billions in the lean period. For oats, the record stands at more than 9 billion bushels compared with 6.5 billion.

The record reveals that for these crops, production in two "fat" years have been nearly equal to three of the "lean" years. And the United States has experienced seven suc-

Successive fat years of good crops? Crop experts agree that the weather is a principal item. They mention as other elements in the picture: hard work and planning by farmers, improved machinery, and better cultural practices that include such items as use of fertilizer, hybrid corn and improved varieties of other crops, and control of erosion. From the standpoint of human nutrition, substitution of machines for horses as farm power has released much acreage for food growing.

SUPREME COURT SPLIT

Back in the early days of the New Deal, President Roosevelt ran into his first serious snag when the Supreme Court began cracking down on some of his pet projects—like the NRA—and calling them "unconstitutional." Roosevelt, looking for some way around this obstacle, decided to use the same method British Prime Ministers had used on the House of Lords—install some new blood into the Court. In other words, "pack" it with Justices who agreed with his ideas.

To bolster his argument that changes were needed in the Court (it did not meet a sympathetic public response), Roosevelt said the judges were divided among themselves—they couldn't seem to agree on what the law was. At that time they were turning out an average of 19% divided and 81% unanimous verdicts. As FDR put it, there was a "persistent and dramatic split among the Justices," and "a welter of uncomposed differences" had brought "the law, the courts and indeed the entire administration of justice dangerously near to disrepute."

President Roosevelt's proposal to pack the Court by increasing its size died young, but inevitably, as the years went by, he did manage to pack it anyway, simply by staying in office and appointing men of his own choice to fill vacancies.

Result
What was the outcome? The year the court-packing bill was introduced, there was dissent in 19% of all decisions. But by 1941, the Justices managed to agree on only 62% of the cases. By 1944, Roosevelt has full year in office, divided opinion accounted for 60% of all verdicts handed down by the Supreme Court. Average for the years 1941 to 1954: 48% unanimous, 52% divided.

AIRCRAFT'S COMEBACK

To American aircraft manufacturers, a year ago, went 15,860 telegrams, signed by Army, Navy officials. Their curt message: "Cancel contracts..."

With more than $10 billion worth of business yanked out from under them as quickly as you could say JV-Day, many a stockholder fidgeted, quietly inquired where he could sell his holdings.

Bankroll
Now they're probably trying to buy back in. Although aircraft production is down from wartime No. 1 to peacetime No. 16 U. S. industry its yearly income is still written in 10 figures (just about a billion dollars per year). After a year of peace-

For Greek War Relief

PEDIGREED JERSEYS "FLY" TO GREECE—Three aristocrats of CBS' "County Fair" program—two Jersey heifers and a Jersey bull—enter a Veterans Air Transport at Newark, N. J. Airport for their flight to Greece. The prized stock, valued at more than $10,000 and donated by the Borden Company, are winging their way overseas as part of the Greek War Relief Association's "Give An Animal" campaign, which calls for the re-stocking of Greece's small farms now. Until these animals can bring farm production back to pre-war levels, the Greek War Relief is urging all America to send pennies or dollars to the Association that a $12.75 thirty-five pound food package may be "telegraphed" today to the heroic but starving people of Greece.

time production, the Aircraft Industries Association, representing U. S. firms, told how it's done.

Waiting for the factories to be cleared of war work were orders for 47,657 civil aircraft of all shape and sizes.

In its biggest pre-war year (1941) the plants had turned out only 6,597 were in no great danger of going broke even at that rate.

HAZARDS OF FARMING

An oldtime rural wisecrack war "You never get rich on a farm, but it's safe."

Today farming has become one of the most dangerous of occupations.

Farm occupational deaths in 1944 accounted for 25% of all industrial occupational deaths. Out of every 100,000 farm workers, 53 died from accidents incurred doing farm work.

Last year, non-fatal but disabling accidents happened in more than 900,000 farm homes. A half million other non-fatal accidents happened to farm people on and off farms.

As in industrial accidents, every farm accident has a cost tag attached, and while the farm safety record is getting worse, the industrial record is improving. Steel, once considered high on the dangerous list, now ranks fifth safest. Farmers could well take a tip from industry's efforts.

TRIP TO SOUTH TEXAS
Edgar and Fred Jones and Billy Jones, son of the latter, spent several days this month, on a trip to South Texas and across the border. They touched at the tip of Texas at Brownsville and crossed the international boundary for several hours side trip into Old Mexico at Del Rio. The Davis mountain area on their route, is a very pretty area and well worth seeing, said Edgar Jones, who almost bought a $200 saddle for $50 "just to show the boys when he got home" but couldn't find a way to get it back to Floydada without damage.

Death Car Driver Having Busy Yr.

The nation's No. 1 peacetime killer, the death car driver, is having a busy year. The traffic death toll in the first six months of 1946 is 15,750 killed, 540,000 injured.

This started out to be a record year for traffic slaughter. April auto accident deaths exceeded those of April, 1941 (that year 40,000 died in crashes) by 4%. But there are indications that the rate is declining.

President Truman's call of a Highway Safety Conference in May had wide effect. From the White House meeting the apostles of traffic safety went out to preach the gospel of careful driving in all parts of the land. The result was a national mobilization of traffic safety on a scale never before equaled. And it paid off. In May and June traffic deaths skumped 21% and 19% under comparable figures for 1941.

Good Effect.
A survey by the American Automobile Association says that the trend is downward. It's based on reports from A.A.A.'s corps of road reporters who cover hundreds of thousands of miles of highways yearly.

Their reports show general improvement in driving due to: (1) recognition of the seriousness of the accident toll; (2) realization of the hazards of rusty drivers, outworn cars, unsafe tires; (3) improved enforcement; (4) co-operation of magazine, newspaper, radio and other media for promoting safety.

But A.A.A. recognizes that speeding and reckless driving are still rampant and will push its campaign with the slogan "Take It Easy." Says Lou E. Holland A.A.A. traffic safety committee chairman "Any slowdown . . . by motorists or pedestrians alike will mean speedy loss of the modest gains we have made."

A nation-wide checkup by the International Association of Chiefs of Police revealed that automobiles in bad mechanical condition are the biggest killers. One of every three cars whose drivers were questioned had one or more major mechanical defects. Most common defects disclosed by the survey: Unsafe brakes faulty lights.

The year has been a significant one in the history of the organization locally, and one which has called for much time and work which the pair have given without stint. Their statement says:

"We take this means to express our thanks and appreciation for the whole-hearted cooperation and backing we have received from our Legion members, ex-servicemen, and citizens of our community."

"While it has been our privilege and pleasure to serve as commander of the American Legion and president of the Ladies auxiliary, we feel that any degree of success we might have attained is largely due to the cooperation extended us."

"Especially are we grateful for the wonderful spirit of cooperation given us in opening the doors of Floyd County hospitality to the large number of people who attended the Legion-sponsored Fourth of July Celebration; which was largely successful due to the individual efforts of each member and citizen."

"In retiring from our present ofices, we can do no more than to wish our successors the complete cooperation that has been ours during our term."

"We humbly thank each and every one of you for your efforts in our behalf."

TIGERS TAKE HOBOES AND NAZARENE SOFTBALL FINALE

Ring the curtain down on the softball season in Floydada the Tiger team of the Junior Softball League Friday night won two games handily, taking the Hoboes and the Nazarenes successively before a big crowd that enjoyed watching the kids immensely.

Proceeds from the admission charge is being put away for use when the season opens again next vacation time to get the incidentals together for the youngsters, Guy Ginn said.

NEW WASH RACK

One of the new wash racks that will help care for the automobile of people of this area is that just completed for Day & Night Texaco Bill Owens, manager, by C. D. Poote.

Across the street in rear of the merchandising store Poote is constructing the rack is easily accessible. Owens says the installation is a highly usable one and that he had had very good results with the equipment, especially in solving the problems of hard-to-reach bearings and springs for lubrication.

Meeting at Lockney School Issues September 21

LOCKNEY, September 6—The board of the Lockney Rural High School has called for two meetings to be held the same day at the same place to determine the tax rate for this year and the other to determine the bonded indebtedness of the district.

The date has been set for September 21 and the voting box will be at the Lockney High School. Bertram Harris has been appointed the district officer in one election and Dodson in the other. Each district a set of judges and clerks will be appointed at 8 and 7 o'clock.

The tax rate in the new district will be $1.00 per hundred dollar valuation but in order to run a school that is needed it will be necessary to vote a rate of $1.50, it is the plan agreed upon by those who planned the district.

Conservation District News

Terraces were completed last week on the O. D. Orsburn farm, operated by Benton Ritchey, a cooperator of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district who lives in the Fairview Conservation group. W. H. Cox dirt moving contractor from Colorado City, did the work. The terrace system includes a diversion which picks up overflow water from a relatively flat field above and diverts it to native pasture land below.

H. B. Machen, a district cooperator who lives five miles north of Lockney in the Belt Conservation group is planting a mixture of bromegrass, crested wheat grass, perennial rye grass, hairy vetch and sweet clover. He mixed the seed together and planted them with an ordinary wheat drill.

John Lee Carthel who is operating his father's farm in the Belt Conservation group, has just finished sowing forty acres of alfalfa. It will be irrigated from the well recently completed on the farm.

L. A. Williams, a District cooperator of the Harmony Conservation group reported this week that a test of his weeping love grass seed harvested this summer showed a 98 percent purity and a 70 percent germination. According to Soil Conservation service technicians assigned to the district, the germination test can be expected to be considerably higher after the seeds are a few months older.

W. F. Ferguson, chairman of the board of supervisors for the District stated this week that the supervisors had located hairy vetch seed after considerable amount of inquiry. He said however that due to the fact that regular commercial sources of seed were furnishing what appeared to be an adequate supply, no seed would be ordered by the district immediately. He advised that if district cooperators unable to get the seed they needed they should report this fact immediately to the supervisors and they would make every effort to secure enough to supply their needs.

Charles V. Wright, who has worked for the Soil Conservation service in the Floyd County Soil Conservation district for the past eighteen months has received notice that he is being transferred to a similar position at Canadian, Texas, in the

Not Satisfied, More Time Given on Service Book

Although hundreds of Floyd county service men, their parents, wives and friends, have responded to the Hesperian's appeal for help in publishing a representative World War II Service book, The Hesperian is not satisfied with the number of responses received and is extending the time once more—the final and last extension—to September 28. The first extension given was to September 14—next Saturday.

The time positively will not be extended again. This will be final. The book would be a success but we want more veterans represented in it. It's this county's book, all men and women who served, or are now serving, should be in it.

Remember, getting a picture and write-up in the book is as simple as ABC! All you do is fill out an information form, attach a picture and mail or bring it to the Hesperian office. There is no charge no obligation.

The Hesperian appeals again to veterans, their relatives, and service organizations for co-operation. Compiling this book has been a big job but the Hesperian feels that it is something that should be done, some thing to record for all time to come the contribution of this county in World War II. Without the co-operation of all veterans and their relatives the book will not be complete.

You still have time to bring in the picture of your service man or woman. Do it now! Do not wait until September 28.

Remember, there is no obligation to buy a book, but if you do want a book, we have been assured that a copy will be available for you. However, it's important that you order it now to make certain enough copies will be printed. With this book presenting pictures and write-ups of hundreds of men and women in this county, it naturally will be one of the prize mementos. Every veteran will probably want one—many relatives and friends also will want a copy. Anyone can order one of the books. The price is $3.50.

WINFRED PAYNE HOME FROM OKINAWA, AWAITS DISCHARGE

T/5 Winfred Payne arrived home last Thursday from San Antonio on a terminal leave from the army, awaiting his discharge which he will receive October 9.

T/5 Payne landed in the United States August 27 from Okinawa, where he had spent 11 months with the 3088th Quartermaster Refrigeration division.

Winfred and Mrs. Payne, the former Wilma Smith, and their son Ronnie are temporarily making their home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Payne near Dougherty, where they will engage in farming.

For eight years now the Texas Safety Association has been asking motorists not to kill themselves. That works with some people, but others apparently attach little value to their continued existence on this earth. To those drivers the Association now is offering a more cold-blooded idea—if you don't value your life, think of your car! If you wreck the one you have now, you may not get another for a long time. Don't be careless today—and careless tomorrow!

A fellow in California was arrested for driving backwards. He had figured he could save money because he had rented the car on a mileage basis. The Texas Safety Association points out that this man was no more rash nor ridiculous than the people who take risks while walking or driving or working in order to save time. To save your life, you can't beat carefulness!

Paraplegic Operates Tractor

There's more to this picture of a young Texan and his tractor than meets the eye. The special left-hand gear shift permits James Qualia, Lubbock, to turn in a full day's work on his farm, although he has been paralyzed from the waist down since his B-24 crashed in Italy.

Texas Rattler May Be Shown As a Souvenir

A four foot and seven inch rattlesnake with 11 rattlers and a diameter of eight-and-a-quarter inches was brought into the office of The Hesperian Tuesday morning by Fred Taylor, who has just arrived in Floydada from his home in Long Beach, California.

Mr. Taylor saw the snake at the Day crossing in the canyon and tried to run over him with his car, but the snake started off just as if he hadn't been hit. Mr. Taylor then went to the Holmes farm and with Austin Holmes, he returned and shot the snake.

Mr. Taylor is in hopes he can preserve the snake's skin so he could take it back to California and have it mounted to display in his barber shop as a souvenir from Texas.

CATTLEMEN NOT TALKING

Cattlemen of the southwest are not doing a lot of talking for the public prints, for congressional committees nor on the public forum. It is characteristic of the most of the southwestern cattlemen to talk among themselves a considerable bit but not too much outside.

Four and five years ago we heard responsible cattlemen decry too high prices for cattle. Doubtless, they are of the same opinion still. Too high is followed by too low, the cattlemen know. Too high means a lot of people in the business who don't know what to do. Too low means the financial ruin of these together with the ruin of some of the others as well.

The cattle business, of all businesses, is one of the most hazardous, regardless of what you may have heard. Markets and credits and bad luck have spelled ruin for a greater percentage of cattlemen than hazards in most any other business have. Any cattlemen 50 years of age probably has been broke at least once.

Almost without exception, a cattlemen, if he will tell outside of his own circle what he is thinking, thinks government intervention in his business brings with it so many arbitrary influences to bear that he can't go ahead without extreme danger financially. About the only man who can go ahead is one with she-stuff and range for them. Enough calf crops will grow him out finally. However, some cattlemen in this category are getting out for awhile just to look on and save their capital for a time when there is a different kind of deal. Attempting to appease the rascous table, to run the cattlemen's business for him, the management at Washington is piling up trouble for the cattle raiser -- and eventually for all concerned.

NOT CERTAIN AT ALL

Not much anything which hangs on what the future may bring is certain, and least of all what kind of a market people may be favored with for any certain commodity.

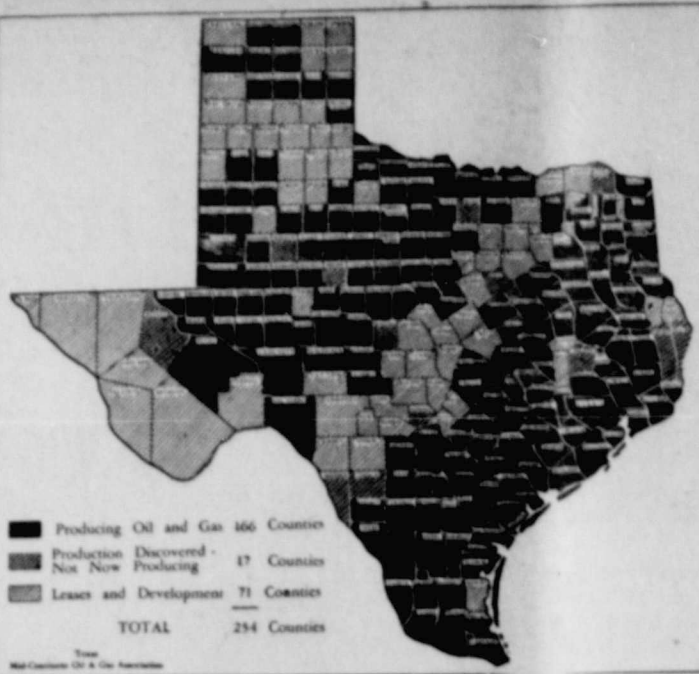

However, it is one of those near certainties that eggs are to be a good price come the first of the year and for some weeks or months there after. For farm and poultry people are cutting their egg layers to the irreducible number in a flock. Chickens have been going out to the consuming public in great numbers throughout the summer and into the fall. In the lot have been many, many good potential layers. Chance for immediate profit and prospect for a considerable possible loss during the heavy fall feeding season have worked together to make the poultry producers cull and then cull some more.

Feed is too high, except for one who has an over-abundance, to carry enough fowls through the winter and these only to be fed heavily for production when eggs shall have reached an abnormal price once more.

THEY WANT BETTER GRADES

This time of year in this part of Texas, when the heat goes up and the price of eggs, run of the yard goes down, nearly always brings talk of quality eggs for the market. Peculiarly nothing ever comes of such talk. Some feeble gestures are usually made and some few make an effort to get guaranteed quality tag on it.

But the general run of people here just do not want to go to the trouble of putting proven quality into eggs they offer on the market, preferring to take whatever the market may be for what they have to sell the way they want to sell it.

Oil and gas development covers all of Texas, a map prepared by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association shows. Every one of Texas' 254 counties now produces or has produced oil or gas, or has land leased for oil and gas exploration, the map reveals.

Nearly 94,000,000 (million) acres, or virtually one-third of the State's total land area, are now leased to Texas oil and gas operators. Last year their lease and royalty payments to Texas farmers, ranchers and other land-owners totalled $215,000,000, providing a large "extra crop" for Texas agriculturists. Since 1919 such payments have aggregated more than two billion dollars, or an extra cash bonus of nearly one-seventh of the value of all Texas agricultural crops during this period, the association reported.

Oil and gas are now produced in approximately 1,100 different fields in 166 counties scattered through Texas, while an additional 17 counties formerly produced. The 71 other counties are now being actively explored for oil and gas, with land under lease for drilling.

The buying public insists on better grades but the attitude that eggs is eggs is well set in the grain here. This way of thinking costs a pretty penny but perhaps not more than meeting the demand for quality would cost.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

These news items taken from the Floyd County Hesperian published 14 years ago.

(Issue of September 15, 1932)

E. S. Randerson Monday morning assumed the duties of the office of sheriff of Floyd County, as planned recently, when the court appointed him to succeed J. M. Wright, resigned. With him into office went G. Scott King of this city, Morgan Wright of Lockney, and Rowe Bryant, of Lone Star, as deputies.

Gins of Floydada are ready, or practically ready, for the season's run and the same is true of the other gins in the territory, which have had crews checking up on the condition of the equipment and where repairs are necessary have had them under way.

The Commissioners' court in their meeting Tuesday morning formally adopted the budget which was proposed to the public hearing on the Monday afternoon previous and formally set the rate at 56 cents as planned earlier in the year.

Enrollment in the public schools of Floydada reached 790 Monday of this week, when check was made by administrative officials.

Further plans for the flower show in Floydada on September 23 and 24, to be held in connection with the exhibits of the Home Demonstration club, have been made this week by the committee of the 1922 Study club, which is sponsoring the show.

Mrs. J. W. Stephens lost much valuable clothing, rings and personal effects and Mrs. C. Snodgrass a very considerable number of cans of food Tuesday morning shortly before noon, when daylight robbers took advantage of the temporary absence from home of Mrs. Stephens and Miss Kathleen Snodgrass, who were visiting across the street.

That the route through Floydada for State Highway Number 28, recently announced as having been chosen over Houston and second Streets taking practically twenty-two blocks of an unpaved area, can be paved with Federal funds from the emergency appropriation made by congress shortly before its adjournment, was indicated as certain by Olib Gilchrist, state highway engineer, in a recent letter.

Floydada High's football squad lost one of its speediest men for the season Wednesday afternoon when Lowell Gamblin sustained a broken collar bone in practice scrimmage.

Mark W. Duncan, youngest son of Mrs. Arthur B. Duncan of this city, was married in Lubbock Thursday of last week to Miss Lulu Mae Briggs, the wedding being solemnized Thursday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. O. Haymes, pastor of the First Methodist church, with a few friends of the couple present.

Prospects are still good for a record-sized corn crop, estimated at 3,442,202,000, U. S. Department of Agriculture reports.

Delinquent Show led at Palace Tuesday-Wed.

Boys and girls of today are neither better nor worse than those of fifty years ago, according to a noted educator who recently viewed the motion picture, "Neglected Daughters", which comes to the Palace theatre next Tuesday and Wednesday, September 17-18.

According to this authority, modern life has become more complex and the automobile has added to the problems which are thrown in the face of today's youth. These things combined with the fact that American home life has changed, that parents have little time in which to discuss personal matters with their children, are blamed by him for the much over-publicized record of juvenile delinquency.

"Neglected Daughters", he stated, is an excellently done study of pre-war student life. Such conditions exist in every city and small community in the country, for the reasons shown. Parents have little time or inclination to deal with the problems of their sons and daughters and usually take the easy way out, which is to depend on their finding out many of the important facts of life as best they can. According to this authority, "Neglected Daughters" should be seen by every parent in the country along with their sons and daughters of high-school age, the parents will see the importance of confiding more in their children, and will help the children to avoid the tragic consequences so often brought about by lack of proper knowledge.

In addition to "Neglected Daughters", a featurette, "Secrets of Motherhood", billed as a picture you will never forget, but may wish you could, is on the program. Women and high-school girls only will be admitted at 2 and 7 p. m. and the first 25 ladies in line at the first 2 o'clock showing will be admitted free, upon the payment of 5c Fed. Tax. Men and High-school boys only, will be admitted at 9 p. m.

In addition to the picture program William Raymond will appear in person on the stage in a discussion of "Sane Sex Relations". A nurse will be in attendance at all shows. The admission price will be 50c including Federal Tax.

LUBBOCK, Texas, September 7—Fair officials have set aside two big days of the six-day 29th Annual Panhandle South Plains fair for the students of the South Plains. School days are October 9 and 10. Students from schools south of Lubbock county will attend the Fair free on Wednesday, October 9. Those from north of the line will be admitted free, the next day, Lubbock city pupils will be guests of the fair on Tuesday, Lubbock day.

All students will be required to pay a government tax of 5c if under 12 years of age and 10c if over twelve as they enter the fair grounds. This is required by federal law.

Farm Wife Has 64-Hour Week!

COLLEGE STATION, September 7—Pity the poor farm housewife who works a 64-hour week, with no added rewards for overtime!

At least, this was the report of 183 farm housewives interviewed in a study by the Vermont Agricultural Station. And Florence Low, associate specialist in home management for the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, says she expects the average farm or ranch woman in Texas spends every bit as much time on housework.

The Vermont farm women found that they spent on housework figured about 59 per cent of their waking hours, and the hours of housework varied with individuals all the way from 54 to 120 hours. Those who spent the most time with household tasks had large families and young children, while those who spent the least time had hired help or family aid.

Three jobs -- preparing meals, house cleaning, and dish washing -- required the lion's share of housework hours. Preparing meals required a fourth of the total time, house cleaning almost another fourth, and dishwashing about a sixth. Other household jobs include

Care of children and the sick, nine per cent of the time laundry, cleaning, mending and sewing, nine per cent; canning and preserving, six per cent; marketing and household business, three per cent.

Since preparing meals, house cleaning and dish washing not only required most of the homemakers' time but also were described as "most tiring" and "most disliked", Mrs. Low advises Texas homemakers to study these three jobs for short cuts. Greater efficiency, sometimes easily achieved, cuts down on drudgery and will leave more time for recreation and pleasure, she points out.

Food Situation Demands Record In Home Canning

The food situation at home and abroad still calls for a new high record in the canning of fruits and vegetables by American housewives. The generally favorable grain harvest in prospect has not decreased the need for abundance on the storage shelves in the cellars. The home canning goal is still 4 billion quarts of fruits and vegetables canned at home to supplement the commercial pack, says Paul C. Stark, Director of the Office of Emergency food program. Widespread blight injury to the commercial tomato crop is an added reason for fully loaded shelves.

Some housewives have fallen short of earlier records. If this year's canning is to set new high record, or unreasonably high prices at the market. The extra food is insurance that the family will be well fed and that just so much more food will be added to the supply the world needs sorely.

Texas Has Lots To Gain in Egg Grading Plan

COLLEGE STATION, September 11.—Texas has a great deal to gain by adopting a voluntary egg grading program, since it has large numbers of producers and large numbers of consumers, and produces much of its own feed, in the opinion of F. Z. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

He says at a recent meeting of representatives of the state's poultry industry, leaders agreed that grading of poultry products would be beneficial to producers, handlers, and consumers alike. The consensus was that it is highly important to maintain trade and brand names along with grades, Beamblossom reports.

Beamblossom points out that pricing must be based on grades, before a grading program could be successful. "Unless producers have an incentive for taking better care of eggs, they can't afford the extra trouble and expense of grading," he says. He also emphasizes the need for increased consumer education on egg buying.

In a recent study in which Beamblossom cooperated with Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, College Station buyers, given free choice, bought twice as many eggs marked "fresh and infertile" in preference to the better quality eggs offered at the same price.

Along with grading and consumer education, the need of the industry is for more attractive packaging and adequate refrigeration of poultry products from producer to consumer, he believes.

Gains from Soil Conservation

"Many things make me more optimistic over the future of soil conservation in our own country, and in the world as a whole, than I have ever dared to be before," said Dr. H. H. Bennett of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, chief of the Soil Conservation Service, in a recent address. Number one among them is the fast growth and good accomplishments of soil conservation districts. The many beneficial results of soil and water conservation, which we have measured repeatedly, prove the soundness of this way of agriculture as nothing else could. Thousands of statements and reports from farmers bear this out.

"Especially significant, I think, is that the most rapid growth in districts, the most extensive applications of soil conservation practices on the land, and the most gratifying reports of benefits all have come during the busy war and postwar production years.

"In the reports of more than 9,000 representative farmers and ranchers throughout the country who keep books on their operations, we learned recently that the average annual production of all major crops had increased by 35.7 percent per acre as a result of using soil conservation practices. An increase in production even approximating this reported increase would amount, for the whole country, to something almost equal to the discovery of a new continent with a lot of good agricultural land on it."

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Jones returned home Thursday after a two weeks rest in Hot Springs, New Mexico, where they took baths for their health.

Present U. S. Department of Agriculture estimate on the national wheat crop is 1,132 million bushels, with a 101 million bushel carry-over from last year.

When he was a boy Frank Boykin, Alabama congressman, worked for 30c a day as waterboy for a construction gang.

Walter S. Gillford, president of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co., started as a $10 a week clerk.

A good stand of lespedeza seed is generally worth far more than the grazing value it offers.

U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced a grain export goal for 1946-47 -- 400 million bushels of all grains and grain products.

Bankers Institute; Banking

Watson, executive vice-president of the First National Bank of Floydada, was one of several Texas bank officials who spent four days of last week at the University of Texas, Austin, attending the annual meeting of the Texas Bankers Association. The current developments in the banking business in Texas and the national economy were discussed during the conference. Watson stopped in Hillsboro, his home town, on his way to Austin. This is the fifth such conference of Texas Bankers Association members held in Hillsboro since 1937. The meeting was held during the last three days of the month. The numerous angles of late monetary influences and the general business situation are being discussed. It is generally predicted that the banking business will be substantially more active than the "bust" is inevitable. W. H. Iron, vice-president of the Federal Reserve Bank at Austin, said that certain developments must not be allowed to occur, he said, listing them as:

1. Manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers must avoid price increases which are not the inevitable result of normal and legitimate cost increases. Businessmen must not take advantage of the opportunity to raise prices when prices are low. 2. The government must not attempt to force a controlling hand over the economy.

3. The government must not attempt to force a controlling hand over the economy.

INSURANCE FIRE!

Mrs. C. A. Cumbie this week insured her home in Texas Farmers Union for $5,250.00 with full coverage for 5 years and paid $133.88. She paid an extra $5 for 5 year membership in our Texas Farmers Union to help educate our boys and girls and help develop other ways for us to save money.

Same as Mrs. Cumbie and hundreds of others, you can keep a big saving in your own pocket and have your own Fire Insurance Company and Farm organization fighting for you at the top, or you can help build Sky Scrapers in other States. When you give them the extra money, you be the judge if they are helping producers in Texas?

We are to the point where we just can't kid ourselves. Check the records. Your Texas Farmers Union Fire Insurance Company has paid every loss in full. No depreciation. Ask Joe Fortenberry who received $150 for payment in full when his wash house burned, then to his surprise he received more than an extra $100 for items that we considered were included in household furnishings.

Save yourself a Christmas present while you build better homes here, by staying with your own Texas company.

You have helped me get a car (not a new one) that I may help get more done. Drop me a card, Floydada or Lockney, or come to the farm that I may explain further.

Motley Ranchers Want a Closed Season on Quail

MATADOR, September 11—Ranchers and members of the Motley County Game Management Association last Thursday voted 41-1 in favor of closing the quail season in Motley County.

The action of the association will be referred to the executive committee of the group who will refer the matter to the state legislature, according to J. R. Emmons county agent.

Only a special session of the legislature can make the proposal effective this year, as the quail season begins on December 1 and closes January 16. Otherwise the season will not be closed until 1947.

Proponents of the closing of the season were land owners who reported that the shortage of quail was greater this year than it ever had been, but not all land owners held this opinion.

At last Thursday night's meeting A. S. Jackson, biologist for the state game commission of Austin, told the group that Motley County had the best game organization in the state and that several other counties were basing their game units on the one of this county.

Those on the executive committee who will work out the details are Gus Bird, Elbert Reeves, L. A. Stearns, Mervin Green, and U. L. Willie.

Warn Used Car Buyers Obtain Ownership Proof

AUSTIN, Sept.—Buyers of used cars have been warned to secure from the seller acceptable proof of ownership as the State Highway department moved toward wiping out traffic in stolen and mortgaged motor vehicles in Texas.

"All County Tax collectors have now received instruction to hold the line in requiring proof of ownership on all applications for vehicle titles," E. J. Amey, Director of Motor Vehicle registration announced. Applications for Texas titles are made through local tax collectors under the present law.

"Properly assigned certificate of title from any of the thirty states having a title law similar to Texas is the best evidence of ownership. The purchaser should insist upon receiving a release of any lien recorded on a Texas title or a title issued by any other state," Amey stated.

Outlining minimum acceptable ownership proof of vehicles brought into Texas from any of the seventeen non-title States, which includes Louisiana, Amey announced, "We will accept a 1945 license receipt from Louisiana or other non-title State and the current receipt if both are in the name of the person applying for the Texas title."

"Bills of Sale showing all changes in ownership must supplement such 1945 license receipt, if applicant for a Texas title is not the same person in whose name the receipt is issued," he added.

Strict enforcement of the Texas title law was endorsed at a recent meeting of car dealers, enforcement officers, tax collectors and representatives of finance and insurance companies. The meeting had been called to determine if present requirements for title were meeting with the approval of all concerned.

"Numerous stolen and mortgaged cars bearing license plates from non-title states have been sold in Texas," Amey stated. Purchasers of such vehicles are unable to obtain valid titles in Texas and the vehicles are subject to seizure by their lawful owners.

The National Automobile Theft bureau has estimated that the current requirements of the Highway department have reduced sales of stolen cars in Texas by half.

The Texas Safety association says both children and motorists must be warned about traffic dangers, and because it's easy to forget, these warnings must be repeated over and over again. Motorists must learn again to watch out for care-free groups of children enroute to and from school. Parents are urged to teach their children to Stop—Look—and Listen accidents.

Would you gamble the life of your child on the flip of a coin? Of course not! Then take a tip from the Texas Safety association and teach that youngster to take chances—to look in all directions when crossing a street—to obey signals—to think about what he's doing. Heads always win in preventing accidents!

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

The Spikes' have a farm and the green grass is growing all around thanks to the good rains we have had. It was so nice to get home from Temple and find everything soaking with water. Found mother doing fine at Temple. Just ate and slept and sat around talking all the time I was gone. Somehow the lower altitude than I have been used to all my life was almost too much for me. I had no energy whatsoever, felt like I had to push myself along. All I wanted was a front porch and a good rocking chair, and I would have done like the man in Arkansas who sometimes "thought" as he rocked but most times he "jest set."

The hackberry trees all over Temple are beautiful and a magnolia near our door show like green jade after the shower which came straight down. We did not even have to close a window.

I never saw a town in which it was so hard to catch a bus. Edna and I never learned how. We would stand at a bus stand and when a bus did come I would pass on by. Later we were told that one was a bus from the near-by Army camp. Once we did get one to stop, an old delapidated one. We handed our tickets out, only to be told in gruff tones, "seven cents, each" and no please either. We found it only went two blocks on our way so we did not gain much.

I started this column last week after I returned from Temple but somehow I just could not make myself finish it. I was sore all over and very tired after my trip home on the train. It was the roughest ride I ever had. Imagine riding in a wagon with horses trotting and loping for some four hundred miles as an example. Comfort is not the watchword for the transportation people just now. Just to move materials and peoples from one place to another is a task.

Sister Edna took mother home with her to Amarillo. She had quiet an experience at Dallas where they were to take a sleeper. She writes, "We had a most pleasant ride from Temple to Dallas. Mary Lee and the boys met us with a wheel chair. The boys took turn about pushing mamma around the station."

The story of how Dickie ran off with her at the last, got on the wrong track and while trains were pulling in, how Mary Lee and I fairly flew down the tracks looking for them; sent Waddie and Red Caps out looking for a "small boy" pushing an old lady in a wheel chair with only a few minutes until our train would leave, our baggage already on, dark as pitch, and how just as we were calling everyone around, Dickie pushed mamma up she all composed and smiling is a story in itself and worth the front page of any newspaper. We had a good trip home on the train that night and were met in Amarillo by Carl, Mary and Lowell and two watermelons and two cantaloupes."

Puzzle. If you plant your turnips before the rain, grass and weeds will come as thick as fleas on the comb of a hen if you wait till after the rain and plow the ground, the top of the soil will be too dry for the tiny seed to some up.

Seems like every tree on this place has some peaches even if they are not much good and as small as plums. The Indian peaches are fine where they have had water. I am saving a lot of seed for anyone who wants some to plant. They are from the trees that the McDermott family set out when they came to the Plains. Every year they are getting whiter and whiter just a few red streaks. I remember when they were dark red.

All I desire right now is plenty of sugar. I visualize thick sweet preserves, canned peaches, heavy and sweet with sugar, sweet pickle peaches, peach butter... well only a vision and a dream of the past glories of canning.

PASTORS HELPERS HOLD ALL-DAY MEETING AT CHURCH

The Pastor's Helpers class of the First Methodist church met in the basement of the church in an all day meeting on September 10. The devotional leader was Mrs. W. E. Walker and her subject was "Witnessing for Christ". Mrs. R. M. McCauley and Mrs. W. M. Colville were hostesses.

The following members were present: Mesdames J. J. McKinney, W. E. Walker, Lula Slaughter, Will Snell, E. C. Henry, A. P. McKinnon, Adelle Thaggard, Lillie Britton, Geo. Dickey, O. B. Olson, D. D. Shipley and J. E. Laughlin.

Visitors present were Mesdames Bob Henry, Lloyd H. Jones, Doris Reagan and Nannie Hayes of Gatesville, Texas.

According to the Texas Safety association, 219 persons have been killed by drinking drivers for the first six months of this year; 50 per cent of the drivers had no driver's license. If you drink, it's your own business. But if you drink and then drive an automobile, then it's everybody's business, says the Association. You may not care about your own life, but a lot of people care about theirs.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golden and children Ralph and Lottie of Grand Prairie visited last Thursday and Thursday night in the home of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Switzer. They were enroute home after a visit in Roswell, New Mexico, with Mr. Golden's parents. While in New Mexico they visited the carvers and several other points of interest.

RAMEY, NOT RAINEY

Homer A. Ramey, short, owlish bespectacled Congressman from Toledo, Ohio, wants it known that (1) he is no carpetbagger, (2) he has never been a university president (3) has never written a book, and (4) has not been running for governor of Texas.

His trouble stems from the fact that a man in Texas named Homer P. Rainey has been running for governor, was once president of the University of Texas, and has written several books.

Rep. Ramey said Texans kept asking him: "What's an Ohio congressman doing running for governor of Texas?" Some bluntly accused him of being a carpetbagger, others of having written "sex books."

No Sex. Ramey defended himself on the House floor: "My name is not Homer Rainey, it is R-A-M-E-Y. I am not a carpetbagger running for the governorship of Texas. I have never written a book, I know nothing about advanced sex or any other kind of sex."

Quipped Rep. Albert Gore (D-Tenn.): "We have every confidence that the gentleman from Ohio would be very proficient in all fields and subjects."

Carelessness, the predominating cause of accidents, is teaming up with the mass movement of school-going youngsters to reap a red harvest that would make a cemetery of little graves, side by side, more than a mile long—a parade of the injured the same length. According to the Texas Safety association, accidents of all kinds made human wastage of 883 school-age children last year.

You'll find the youngsters pretty excited during the first few days of school—and perhaps the schoolboy patrols aren't in operation yet. Beware excited children and lack of enforcement rules, you have a perfect set-up for a tragic accident unless drivers are especially careful. The Texas Safety Association every driver to expect the best when driving near school
