Only Trickle of Maize
Before the rains early maturing maize had begun to move in some volume but during the past 10 days of bad weather the movement has been slow. Dealers here this week anticipated that the bulk of the crop will not be ready for harvest for another two weeks. Heavy profit on irrigated acreage in maize is indicated.

Marked Temperature Drop
First forewarning of a winter on the way was given high plains people Sunday night and Monday morning, when a low of 42 degrees temperature was recorded and was followed by a 43 on Tuesday morning. Highest early morning temperature of the week was 63 degrees. On the "high side" the past week the thermometer registered two days in the low eighties, and two high sixties.

ish maid, is looking for a man and consults with Tommy as Professor Meadowski. But Roscola, the colored cook, portrayed by Bob Crowell, wants no part of any fortune teller and doesn't hesitate to say so.

So its Tommy Meadowski all dressed up as the famous Russian foot-chologist against Madame De La Chair in trying to tell Aunt Hattie how to invest her money. What a mix-up! What a situation! And to complicate matters Dr. Dora Druggins, a lady chiropractor, played by Dick Walker, is slightly deaf and arrives to treat her patient.

Tuneful Choruses in Show

Most Widely Read News Medium In Floyd County

Column Flowers Profusion at Exhibit

Although Floydada townsite has little rain to report over the weekend and a good many other sections of the county also had only showers and quarter-inch sprinkles, about half of the area of Floyd county has been too wet for field operations this week either harvesting, plowing or sowing, because of rains Friday and Saturday.

The same as to wetness also goes for the great area of farming country comprising the east plains in lower Floyd, northeast Crosby and north west Dickens counties where downpours practically blanketed an area with ground already soaked full of water.

East, north, south and west of Floydada, rain areas had one to three inches of moisture in areas difficult to define by communities in print. In most of these the rain fell Friday morning but in others the rains came on Saturday evening.

Floydada, Dougherty, Lockney, Aiken, Sterley, are among the points where the fall was light. But streaks in between — some of them — were in the previous 12-month period. Much of Baker and Campbell dashed with rainfall in excess of any district for instance, and some of Fairview, Liberty, South Plains, Cedar, Starkey, Lakeview, and Mt. Blanco. Some wheat will have to be re-sowed for sure and some land will have to be re-plowed.

Perhaps forage feed fields are making a better showing than in many years. These, however, are racing against frost. The growers are hauling out binder twine to have in case of an expected early frost and hoping they are guessing wrong. A late frost would be of incalculable value to many owners of herds of range and dairy cattle.

Consequently they feel it the duty of Floyd county people to continue to go along with USO, which is the combined effort of the American people, aside from official organizations such as Red Cross and Salvation army, to meet the social needs of service men and hospitalized veterans for another year.

Jackrabbits Are Outweighed

If weights and practice game results in pre-conference play can be taken at their face value the Whirlwinds ought to win from their lighter and less experienced opposition with ease and fans will have a chance to see a lot of substitute and comers in the green and white squad learning what football is like. ## Murder Charge Lodged Against Food Merchant

Pending investigation by a Floyd county grand jury in session this week, W. Fred Jones, 37, proprietor of Jones Super market, is being held on a charge of murder on a complaint signed by Sheriff Lee Howard, alleging the fatal shooting of H. C. Love, Jr., 23, Friday night at 11 o'clock.

H. C. Love, Jr., an employee of the Jones store, died Saturday afternoon at 3:30 at Pitts hospital, from a shotgun blast in the right side, fired at close range the night before, in front of the Red & White store.

There are no known witnesses to the fatal shooting. Edgar Jones and Mrs. W. Fred Jones, who had been at B & M cafe for a late steak supper with the victim and the proprietor of the store, drove up immediately behind the two men and rushed to the young man's side, taking him to the hospital.

W. Fred Jones surrendered within a brief time to Sheriff Lee Howard and was placed in jail. He surrendered a 16-gauge shotgun. The sheriff was in bed and answered a telephone call to the scene. The voice at the other end of the line said it was Fred Jones talking and that he had just shot a man and wanted to surrender. Asked who had been shot the voice said it was H. C. Love, Jr. The call was made from the telephone of the City Cab company, across the street from the Jones store.

Pos Dillard, a cousin of the slain man, was asleep in a car standing at the curb but was not awakened by the shooting.

No Examining Trial

Examining trial, tentatively announced for Monday by state's attorney Richard F. Stovall, was called off to await a session of the grand jury called by District Judge Alton B. Chapman for Wednesday to investigate the Love shooting and other infractions of the law.

In addition the services of Ranger local officials the services of Ranger Captain Mannie Gault were obtained. Principal objective was indicated as a probe for a motive for the slaying. The ranger was in Floydada Saturday and when he left Floydada Saturday night he was accompanied by W. Fred Jones, who has been in Lubbock county jail (See MURDER CHARGE, page 5)

"All the seeds have taken root," says Mr. Dabrowska. "We have already eaten the radishes. I wonder how the cucumbers and cabbages will turn out."

All through the war, the Pole writes that the garden was the only source of his living, "and so the seeds, which it was difficult to get this year, came in handy."

The letter received here was written long hand in his own language by Mr. Dabrowska. Fortunately, it came through the vice-consul and was accompanied by a translation.

ON AGAIN, OFF AGAIN

The other day the Fort Worth Star-Telegram announced a "bargain day" rate of which they notified their agents, but the ink had hardly got set on the offer until the agents had notice not to accept any offers at the rate—notify further that any money they had accepted could be refunded or the customers could wait their turn until they could get on the list. The agents buried the subscription department of the newspaper with new subscribers in the interim between notices.

It just happened, among other things, that the "bargain day" rates were almost as high as the regular rates were a few short years ago. The Fort Worth publishers had raised the regular price to $15 for a daily and Sunday newspaper and anticipated—having old times in mind—that their cancellations would be heavy. They expected to fill the gaps with new subscribers. But not so. The old ones stayed on and there were no gaps. It left the newspaper in the position of having offered to do something they couldn't do, in as much as they are still rationed (by the mills) on the amount of print they can have.

Report says the newspaper situation really is more critical than it has been in prior years and along after January will get worse. Publishers of small newspapers are beginning to put out warnings, too. How much ice it really cuts in the whole picture we do not know, but we hear stories of big publications and periodicals buying up mills for their own supply and "throwing the order book away". At any rate the paper situation really is becoming serious and some periodicals are suspending publication for this and other reasons.

ARCH GIBSON RESENTS "THE SAGA OF IZZY AND MOE"

I don't like the smack of the article in the September issue of the Readers Digest, under the caption of "The Saga of Izzy and Moe." I take this means of expressing my personal resentment.

First, I want it understood that I like the Readers Digest for many good things I find in it. I am a subscriber and glad of it, but I feel I have a right to resent publicly such articles as this.

This article has to do with making fun of the prohibition which went into effect throughout the United States on January 16, 1920.

It first says that every one settled back with an air, "well that's settled", and that there would be no more liquor problems.

Now that statement is not so, I happened to be living in 1920 and I know that people did not settle back with an air that all was well and that there would be no more liquor problems.

People looked on the law prohibiting the sale of liquor as they do on other laws. "That in effect it would at least slow down the liquor traffic."

The law prohibiting stealing has not settled all problems concerning thievery, but no doubt it has slowed down stealing and I do not want to repeal the law against all stealing.

The law against murder has not stopped all murdering, but I do not believe that the people of America are crazy enough to make murdering legal just because some do kill anyway.

Do you think it would be all right to put a tax on murdering and make it legal?

So far as the prohibition being a failure I remember that for three and one-half years in Bloomington, Indiana, I never saw one drunk man or woman on the street, but the very next day after repeal a drunk man came staggering down the street and now in wet districts we have to be embarrassed and chagrined by drunks staggering up and putting in their words of foolishness while we try to visit with respectable people.

Perhaps most of the newspapers did take the position that the whole problem of enforcement belonged on the vaudeville stage, but one must remember that most newspapers are political schemers willing to say or publish anything for the almighty dollar.

For one I am in favor of prohibition and never have thought prohibition was a failure.

If you should happen to see Mr. Herbert Asbury, tell him for me that I think he doesn't know what he talks about.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Last week I spent three days in Rails helping my son, Dr. Spikes, get moved to his new home and clinic which he recently bought from Paul Beddingfield. It is not difficult to move things from one place to another, but getting them located in new places is long hard work. It is a lovely home and I enjoyed helping get him located. There is a pine tree which is especially nice. Varied colored roses bloom along the red brick wall.

Rain, rain, rain, we cried all spring and summer. Clear skies, clear skies, now is heard, while farmers anxiously watch the maize trying to put in grain, as the land is being plowed and sowed for another crop of wheat. Will it have time to make? Questions upon the lips of every one about the late feed which is now in bloom? Will we have a late frost? Time alone can tell.

Fall vegetables have a flavor better than any time of year it seems. Beans and peas are tender and delicious and the turnips and greens - my, oh, my. . . .

John Fowler who has a drug store at Petersburg believes in advertising, so writes Ann Claitor in the Petersburg Journal. But does he?

John Fowler believes in advertising and at one time in his career he believed in vivid and lifelike window displays in his drug store, but that was several years ago. He was advertising his line of Stag products, and had used a lifelike picture of a stag for the central figure in the lay-out. It looked fine. Crowd-stopped to admire it. That life-like look really caught the eye. In fact it had so much eye appeal, that a small boy with a new B-B gun saw it, was sorely tempted and fell. He shot the stag squarely between the eyes. The shot left a nice round hole in the plate glass window too. As a chain is only as strong as its weakest link so also is a plate glass window as strong as its weakest spot. That small hole, with the aid of other happenings, is mainly on the verge of a complete collapse. When the bill comes in for the new plate glass John will wonder sometimes if the window really paid off.

At Emma there were no window displays and if there had been no one could have seen them through the little panes of glass with bars of iron so that no one could enter the store that way.

But there were counters of glass in which chocolates and striped sticks of sugar candy, kept company with chewing gum and assorted candies. But to me the turning rack that held the ribbons was the prettiest thing in the store. There were bolts of white ribbon, colors of the rainbow. Ribbons as narrow as the fingers of the baby that would wear them. Velvet bands of all colors and widths to encircle slim waists. Silk ribbons to make ties for pigtails, oh how they would shine as father would unroll yards and cut them off.

A foolish little maiden bought a foolish little bonnet With a ribbon and a feather and a bit of lace upon it; She thought she'd go to meeting the next Sunday, just to show it. "Alleluia, Alleluia!" sang the choir above her head; "Hardly knew you, hardly knew you!" were the words she thought they said.

Maybe that was what I thought they said when I went to church with my new shiny ribbons of satin on my braids of long hair.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Bert Childers and the Melon Patch

Bert Childers put an ad in the Clarion the other day. Here's what it said:

"Planted more melons than I can eat this year. Stop by and pick as many as you want. All free."

As you can guess, plenty of folks sent their kids over and plenty of the parents came too. Stripped Bert's melon patch in no time. And as they went away, Bert treated the kids to lemonade, and offered the grownups a glass of ice-cold sparkling beer.

Naturally it puzzled some folks... but Bert explains: "It gives me a kick to share things when I can afford to—whether it's the melons, or the lemonade, or beer. I guess I just like to indulge my whims."

From where I sit, if we had more "self-indulgent" people like Bert—who believe in share and share alike, live and let live, this tired world would be a whole lot better off!

Lovely Party Honors New Petersburg Bride

PETERSBURG, Sept. 27.—On the afternoon of September 19, the John Fowler home was the scene of one of the loveliest parties of the season, when Mrs. Jack Claitor the former Faye Jean Clubb, was named honoree at a miscellaneous bridal shower.

Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Fowler, Hegl, Roberson, Cocke, Suits, Gordon, Bledsoe, Pullington and Gregory.

The reception area was adorned with artistic arrangements of fall flowers in vases and floor baskets which harmonized with each room's color scheme. A yellow and white color scheme was carried out in the dining room's decorations and in the refreshments. The tea table was covered with lace and centered with a crystal basket of snapdragons and dahlia. The tiny napkins were lettered in gold, "Jack and Pat." Mrs. Homer Roberson presided over the punch bowl and Mrs. Donald Bledsoe served the decorated cake squares.

The honoree was presented with a corsage of pink rosebuds. Her mother, Mrs. Albert Clubb and the groom's mother, Mrs. L. S. Claitor were presented corsages of tall-tan rosebuds.

THE FLOWER SHOW

"I was so impressed by the beauty of the flower show Saturday afternoon that I wrote these words about it.—J. Lloyd Rice."

There they are in bright array,
 There are sinias, and verbenas,
 Flocks, and flags, and pansies;
 Old maids, and bachelor buttons,
 Daisies, dahlias and roses.

As I gazed upon the splendor
 Of the many shades and hues,
 I saw our country's color
 In the red, the white and blue.

Forgotten was the squalor
 Caused by man's misdeeds,
 For there I saw the power
 Hid in germinating seeds.

And waited on the air tide
 The most delicate perfume,
 As the incense of a young bride
 Filled the large and lovely room.

And when I turned my eyes away
 My spirit rose within,
 To magnify the good in me,
 And in my fellow men.

Hal Ray Hall, student at Texas Tech, spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Hall.

State Highway Jobs in Crosby County in Oct. Lettings

CROSBYTON, Sept. 27.—S. C. McCarty, district highway engineer, in conversation with John Harvey for Precinct 2, said last week that the contract for rebuilding Highway No. 82 from four miles west of Crosbyton to the Dickens County line would be let in October. He also stated, Mr. Harvey said, that contract for the ten mile stretch of Crosbyton toward Kalgay would likely not be let until December. Rebuilding highway 82 will be a half million dollar job. Mr. Harvey was told by the district engineer. Original plans called for an expenditure of $425,000, but since that time other costs have run the estimate up to around the half million mark.

Auto Production Gains Momentum

Automobile production in General Motors regained a good portion of the momentum lost in the shortened week after Labor Day as it reached a total of 23,345 passenger cars in the United States last week. However, the GM output in the U. S. last week was some 2,000 units short of the pre-Labor day week when 25,400 cars were produced.

Total passenger car production by General Motors in the U. S. this year, to date, is 384,250 compared with 1,397,849 for the same period in 1941.

Limit To Exports

In line with the automobile manufacturers voluntary limitation of exports to prewar percentages, General Motors exports of passenger cars so far this year are only about 5 1/2 per cent of total production, C. E. Wilson, president of General Motors announced.

"All automobile manufacturers have, since production was resumed after V-J Day, voluntarily limited their export volumes to the percentage of exports made during the years 1935-1939," said Mr. Wilson. This restriction, as officially authorized by the civilian production administration, means that only between 4 and 6 per cent, varying by different manufacturers, of passenger car produced in the United States can be exported.

Mr. Wilson said there is no price incentive to export instead of selling in the domestic market. "All cars shipped abroad are subject to OPA export price controls," he said.

Pyorrhea Curable Cox Claims

STON, Texas.—Contrary to the belief that pyorrhea is incurable, this is only true in the most severe cases. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, health officer, advises those who even suspect the presence of pyorrhea to take time by recheck and seek an early diagnosis from their dentist so that treatment can be instituted while the disease is still curable.

"Early detection and proper treatment of pyorrhea represents the formula for a successful cure. This means that the dentist must have an opportunity to discover the presence at the earliest possible moment since the symptoms are often so vague that the patient is unaware of its existence," Dr. Cox said. "Regular visits to the family dentist are therefore extremely important."

The treatment of pyorrhea is not an involved procedure. In the average early case one of the main therapeutic features is the proper hygienic care of teeth and gums as outlined by and reputable dentist. Carelessness regarding mouth hygiene is usually the basic cause for the condition.

since that time. Yesterday he had not sought a hearing on habeas corpus, it was indicated.

The fatally wounded youth, in conversations reported by the district attorney, indicated he was at a loss to know of any reason for the shooting. He told the district attorney he knew of no reason why his employer should have shot him. "I know of no reason why he would have wanted to shoot me," said the young man to the district attorney. He is also reported to have talked at length with his father while lying on his death bed, but none of this conversation has been made available for the public prints.

Was a Trustee Employee
The victim of the shooting was a trustee employe of his alleged slayer for whom he had worked some six months, learning the food business. Industrious, an apt student, and attentive to customers, the young man had risen fast in the store and had been given increased responsibilities, and was regarded as a close friend of his employer.

The accused man, with his wife opened his food store here six years ago as a small venture. Growing rapidly the store had become one of the larger volume establishments in the county, moving to the present commodious quarters early last year. Jones himself was discharged from army service early last year, his wife and father conducting the business during his absence.

Fuel Tablets Soon Common Place on Retailer Shelves

FORT WORTH—Fuel tablets -- used around the world during the war for heating "C" rations--may soon be everyday utility items for Texas hunters, fishermen and outdoor workers.

More than 21 million packages of fuel in tablets and in cans are now for sale, the War Assets Administration announces today. These compact fuel units can be used outdoors by placing them in a hole in the ground large enough to fit cooking utensils.

Samples of different sizes of cans and tablets are on display in the WAA Fort Worth regional office in the T & P Building. Minimum purchases range from 25 cartons for small retailers to 100 cartons for large retailers.

FERTILITY IN LEAVES

"Through fallen leaves, Nature has provided for a fertile forest floor," says the U. S. Department of Agriculture in a mimeographed leaflet on autumn leaves prepared by the Forest Service. This tells some of the bad effects of even small fires in woodlands in destroying and wasting fertility. Similar waste occurs, says the Department, when the town or city dweller burns autumn leaves instead of using them as mulching material or as a source of compost that can be used either as an organic fertilizer and soil conditioner to be spaded into the soil, or when well rotted as topdressing for lawns and gardens.

"Although the food prepared in the cavities of the leaves is returned to the tree in the fall, mineral substances with which the walls of the cells have become impregnated during the summer months are retained," says the leaflet. "Therefore, fallen leaves contain relatively large amounts of valuable elements such as nitrogen and phosphorus, which were originally a part of the soil. Decomposition of the leaves enriches the top layers of the soil by returning the elements borrowed by the tree, and at the same time provides for an accumulation of humus. However, if fires are allowed to run, through the forest and the leaves are burned, the most valuable of the fertilizer elements are changed by the heat into gases and escape into the air. Forests which are burned over regularly soon lose their soil fertility, even though no apparent damage is done to the standing timber."

For the first time in history, American soldiers are participating in the selection of the new uniforms they will wear. The GI's are being consulted in a poll of several Army camps as to the type of new blue uniform that will be used for winter, off-duty wear.

DE QUACKER

Hi Readers:
What's cookin'? I have plenty brewin' and stevin'. Just wait till you hear. So gather near and take a gander.

How is it that Valrie Burke can beat June Powell's time with Mac Smitherman? "What she got that ain't", says June?
Norma Jenkins has revived her romance with Clyde again so I hear. These Ralls boys sure have that touch.

It seems to some people that Bob Reeves and Thada Lacey have been doing okay. Ou La La!!

Clara, how do you rate Lubbock these days? Who was that boy that called?

Poor Rita, she can't help anyone. Now she has lost Dale to Audene. It started on the way to Tulsa and again Sunday on the band picnic.

I saw Don Shurbert making eyes at Sammie Shultz in English, didn't I?

Flora Mae, didn't I hear you say Dale Tardy was cute? I'm pretty sure if I didn't others have.

Why is it that Joy Bunch has so much to do with Randall Warren instead of her guy from Tech?

Ann Jones and Billy Mooney do fine in the show practically every Saturday night, but aren't you afraid you will get powder burned?

It seems like Sammie Shultz has her name in on all the scandal. This time it's Carol Womack she's after. Better be careful Carol or you'll be sorry.

Loy Lee Trice isn't doing so bad I heard. He would have taken general math the first period, but a certain girl with red hair takes it the third period, so he did too.

If you are looking for Sherwyn June Powell, Peggy Collier, or Claudene Goen, I'm sure they will be in June's mailcar chasing Jack Adams and Calvin Piles on their motorcycle.

Don Pope is really the hot stuff since he sang "Daisy" to Billie Chowning. All the senior girls are re-lecture. See the Magic of responding clay on the swiftly turning wheel, feel the thrill of this universal, age-old craft.

For the other programs each home room will have one program and we will present various movies for the remainder.

Safety Program October 22
One guest speaker of October 22 will be of special interest. He is a representative of the State Safety department who will speak to the assembly on the dangers of driving. It would be beneficial to each and every one of us to watch our driving for the coming month, as well as all the time, so that our speaker can not find and fault with us.

We are grateful to the school officials for securing these informative as well as interesting assembly programs for the coming year. We are sure that we shall enjoy them as well as profit by them.

Future Farmers Setting up Canner In Co. Building

This week the Floydada F. F. A. have been busy studying various diseases among animals. Each boy is encouraged to vaccinate his animals for various diseases.

We took inventory of the number of different animals and chickens on each boy's farm. The total is as follows:

1127 beef cattle, 552 dairy cattle, 111 horses, 69 hogs, 257 pigs, 329 sheep and 8,853 chickens.

Floydada chapter of the future Farmer's of America has been busy this week cleaning up the school ground and setting up the canner. The Commissioner's court bought a building in which to house the equipment and the chapter is setting it up. The boys have worked over the pop corn poppers and built a concession stand north of the stadium which the pep squad girls will use.

Callie Holmes, what's all the talk we hear about Gene of Plainview? Could it be a close friend or perhaps a boy-friend?

Everyone is wondering about Kelly Hagood's black shiner. Well, the low-down is he got it playing football. We wonder what the truth is?

Junior Perry and Joyce Stuart get along okay, right Junior? I bet Bill would have something to say about this.

Nell Reddy has been looking at Bobby Finley a lot lately and when asked what she thought of him she says, "Why do you think I take speech?"

I think Rose Beard is out to get James Finley although he has two Freshmen girls on his mind.

What dark alley did I see David Willson and Flora Mae Spann in last Saturday night?

One happy person Sunday night was Mickey Kennamer. She had a date Sunday evening to the band picnic with Bill Hale, and what more one Sunday night also.

EDITORIAL

Our government needs our help! Yes, small as F. H. S. is, they are asking us to assist them by uniting with other schools over the nation in the School Savings program. It is needless to say that each school city, and county must work together to make our United States. However, it is necessary that we know more about our School Savings program.

This program is promoted by the Treasury department in cooperation with the U. S. Office of Education. Its objectives are:

1. To assist the schools of the Nation to teach students to save wisely.
2. To provide an opportunity for students to save regularly at school through the purchase of U. S. Savings bonds and stamps.
3. To help students learn to manage their money so that it makes the maximum contribution to full life.
4. To help students become active and informed financial partners in their government.
5. To keep classroom savings on a voluntary basis without pressure on the individual through drives, contests, and quotas.

When you ask: "Why buy U. S. Savings Bonds?" how are you answered? "Buy them for your financial security. . . Invest in them to help provide for your future education, marriage, a home, setting yourself up in business. . . Buy bonds to keep the ownership of the public debt widely spread. . . Invest in Saving bonds to combat inflation an increasingly grave menace. Inflation now means deflation later and deflation means depression. Everyone suffers from inflation. We must contribute to be on guard and fight inflation in every way possible.

All these reasons are of the best. But all of these varied motives are simply parts of one reason, the sum total of them all, the ultimate truth for which the rest are merely props: The stability of our democracy can be measured by the personal security of our individual citizens.

Once we grasp the points of this argument all others are trivial. This is one reason which includes them all. It can be applied to any American of any age. It means that when a man is confident that he will be able to meet his personal financial needs next month and year, he has few fears about the integrity of his country. By buying U. S. Savings bonds through the School Savings program we are given that assurance.

We need good citizens now and always, citizens who feel secure because they are financially secure. We have one goal: A strong America, built on the personal security of every man, woman, boy and girl of any age.

The average cost of equipping and maintaining a soldier for one year rose from $533.88 in 1945 to $590.48 in 1946, the Quartermaster Corps reports. These figures do not include the cost of weapons, ammunition, transportation, pay, and similar expenses.

Pep Squad Girls Working Hard on Marching Rules

The Pep-Squad news increases each week, and the spirit and cooperation of each girl increases right along with it.

This week the girls are working exceedingly hard. At 12:15 every day they are meeting on the football field with the band and they're marching with the band to try to learn the signals and rules of marching. This is done in order that the squad may march with the band at the football games and also to help the advancement of our pep-rallies.

If you have asked several times the past week to buy a pencil from the pep-squad girls, do not be discouraged, but think of how hard the girls are working and trying to raise funds for a good football banquet this year.

The girls all agreed either to make a pie at home and sell it for 50 cents, or bring to their sponsors Mrs. Cardinal and Miss Garrett, 50 cents. This is appreciated very much and the squad as a whole would like also to thank the public for buying their pencils and cooperating with them.

Fashion This Week to Have the Right Kind of a Pencil

To be fashionable, as well as faithful, in F. H. S. this week, you must carry a green and white pencil. Of course, that doesn't mean just any green and white pencil, oh, no. Instead, it does mean the green pencils with the football schedule on them in white, which have been for sale through the Pep squad. The sale of these pencils has been terrific, and it really makes you feel good to see one of these pencils in the hand or over the ear of nearly every student. In this way we show that F. H. S. is still "all true blue" . . . or is it "all green and white"?

College News

The following letter was received by Mr. Harris from D. A. Shirley, registrar and dean of the upper division, of West Texas State college, Canyon, Texas:

September 24, 1946
Mr. W. B. Harris, Principal
Floydada High School
Floydada, Texas
Dear Mr. Harris:

Under separate cover, I am sending you the transcript forms as requested. I trust that we have a number of your students this year because we have had some very good students from Floydada.

Yours very sincerely,
D. A. Shirley

The faculty and the students of Floydada High school are very proud of the former Floydada students and of the records they have made in college.

Last year there were twelve Floydada students enrolled in West Texas State college in an aggregate of seventy - two subjects, of which only one student failed only one subject. Of course this is only a part of all our college students but we feel that it is a good representation of the work our students are doing.
