Matador Regional Tourney

Buildog cagers, undefeated robin play in District 4-A interscholastic league, and last week-end district tournament will lead the entourage to the regional tourney at Matador on February 21.

Matadors, district runners-up of the other three districts in the tourney will have two teams in play to make a tournament attract a lot of attention to the town in northwest Texas.

Place Will Be Decided
Superintendent H. P. Clemons, of regional basketball chairmanship, the Hesperian yesterday placed the regional tourney to be named in a meeting of the regional committee Sunday afternoon in Amarillo. This meeting will meet at 3 o'clock in the hotel.

Clemons thinks likely Region only one in the state which will have an eight-team tourney. Special permission was asked to have the eight-team play in the region and the state committee on the request, Mr. Clemons on the district committee with members which will choose the team for the tournament are J. E. Dimmitt, Walter Travis, Emmett Smith, White Gordon Mills, Wellington Cook, Spur; Bert Ezell, Matador; Roy Brown, Levelland and other from that area.

Floydada Places Third
The district round robin tournament Floydada High's team placed third, losing in round robin to Spur and once to Matador, undisputed leader this season. (See Regional Meet, back page).

Country Club Membership Increase Soon

Increase of membership in Floydada Country club by means of sale of a minimum of 50 associate memberships, is favored by the directors of the club, and it is most likely that the directors will take necessary steps to add the increased number to the roll soon.

Barker, secretary of the club, said that a poll of members recently made showed the addition of associate members and an increase in membership dues is overwhelmingly favored by the 100 present members, he said. However, a second poll is now being taken which will be decisive on the points.

Club members are working on the increase in membership and a proposal to make dues payable in advance. In the first vote many members indicated preference for a greater dues increase. The new vote is to confirm the increase to the lower brackets.

Improvements, especially background equipment, are contemplated by the directors this year if the members approve, Mr. Barker indicated.

It is urged that all local men between the ages of 21 and 35 join this worthy organization. A special invitation is extended to the men of the surrounding farm communities to join this organization.

Two Thousand Dollar Jersey Bull Is Sold

C. B. Carmack, Jersey breeder, who is building an outstanding Jersey herd at his farm near Sand Hill, this week announced the sale of his Volunteer bull, the son of $15,000 Welcome Volunteer, to Dan F. McLean, Crockett, Texas.

Carmack has had the bull in his herd the past two years. The South Texas buyer who is due to receive the animal at Crockett sometime the first of next week, is a banker, a hardware dealer and a Jersey breeder. Carmack said this week the bull may well prove to be a big bargain at two thousand.

His famous sire is making Jersey history in one of the show herds in Massachusetts, and he has three sisters who are among Texas' biggest butterfat producers.

REUE ATTENDING PENNEY MEETING IN FORT WORTH
J. W. Reue, manager of the J. C. Penney Company, is in Fort Worth this week where he is attending a four day conference which opened Monday with managers of stores in the Southwest and Mexico bearing that name.

WILSONS DUE HOME SOON
Pl. Sgt. and Mrs. Joe E. Wilson are due to sail from Honolulu on the "Lejeune" to San Francisco, February 26, according to a letter received by the Hesperian office. They are expected to be in Floydada sometime in March.

Pl. Sgt. Wilson is eligible for a discharge from the Marine Corps soon.

Red Cross is Faced with Many Problems of Rehabilitation As Organization Begins 66th Year
J. W. Reue will be fund campaign chairman of the Floyd County chapter, American Red Cross, for the 1947 drive in March. It was announced this week by Carl L. Minor, chapter chairman. Vice-chairman is Grady Walker.

A meeting has been called for Saturday afternoon in the county court room for all community chairmen it was announced. The meeting will be held at 2 o'clock.

Although the Floyd County Red Cross chapter and the national organization have reduced war-inspired programs and wartime budgets, pressing need for funds to simplify other services, particularly in relation to veterans, calls for the full attainment of the 1947 goal.

It is true that the Red Cross operating expenses for services to the armed forces have taken a drop in keeping with the reduced size of the Army and Navy, and it is also true that the Red Cross is using cash reserves on a local and national basis. But at the same time that some of the war-born services are diminishing, some of the peacetime demands are higher than ever.

Bones At Least 100 Years Old, Sheriff Is Told

When two teen-age Petersburg boys dug up a skeleton from a shallow grave on Blanco canyon in mid-January, and turned their find over to the authorities, they had unearthed the bones of a 15-year-old Indian maiden, who died in the vicinity not less than 100 years ago possibly 300 year ago.

So reports the Texas Department of Public Safety from the Austin office to Sheriff Leland A. Hart of Floyd county, and this on the authority of Alex D. Krieger, archaeologist of the Department of Anthropology, University of Texas. "This skeleton is probably that of a Comanche Indian girl, who has been dead for not less than 100 years nor more than 300 years," is the way the archaeologist puts it.

Dug Up on Denning Farm
The skeleton find was made on the O. W. Denning farm. The boys took their find home and later turned over the bones and skeleton over to the Hale county sheriff, who sent them on to Floydada. State Ranger Raymond Water took the bones down to Austin for the Floyd county authorities and turned them in for examination on January 23.

Life's Embarrassing Moments Escaping California Youngsters Find Good Car in Oklahoma, But Hit Trouble's Jackpot in Texas

Joe Don Russell, 20, of Los Angeles, California, and Joy Everette McDonald, 19, of Compton, same state, were two mighty embarrassed boys Sunday morning when they jumped out of a cellar at the D. A. Senn home a mile northwest of Floydada, right into the faces of two scared women, Mrs. Senn and a neighbor. They admitted as much to Sheriff Leland A. Hart Sunday night. They soon put distance between themselves and the women but they hated it they scared the ladies so bad.

They had to make a break for it because the women were about to lock the cellar door where they had hidden. The boys had the door slightly ajar for breathing purposes while they dried off and got a little warmth into their bodies from the exposure of the night.

One Thing After Another
How come they were wet and cold? That came about when they ran waist deep into Santa Fe lake in north Floydada Sunday morning about 3 o'clock?

How come they ran into Lak Santa Fe? That came about when they made a dash from the automobile they were driving and took out across railroad track, fence and bog just trying to get away.

And why dash out of the automobile and take off afoot? That came about when they missed a little culvert on the street adjacent to the old Santa Fe warehouse site ploved up a lot of dirt, damaged the car and found themselves stuck. The sheriff and the city marshal were crowding them so close the only thing they could do was run for it. A cry of halt and a pistol shot in the air helped their speed a bit, they admit.

And how come? . . . but that is enough of that kind of thing. The boys admitted in statements here Monday morning they had taken a car from the street in Clinton, Oklahoma, early Saturday night, because they decided that would be easier than hitchhiking it back to California. They stopped at McLean and got some groceries enroute. They had been in Floydada long enough to pick up a cream can or two for gasoline containers took a hose from Magnolia Station No. 1 and were ready to get some (See Boys in Trouble, back page)

Flying Farmer Meeting Date Fri., Feb. 28

Next meeting date of the Flying Farmers Association of Floyd county has been tentatively set for Friday afternoon, February 28, at 2 o'clock, it was announced this week by Herman King, president of the association.

The meeting which will be held in the county court room, Floydada, is moved up from March 8 to avoid conflict with the Fat Stock show in Fort Worth, which many members will attend.

At the meeting the by-laws committee will make a report and present suggested by-laws for approval.

Phillips Plays Here Oct. 3

Rounding out their five-game home schedule for this fall, an 'open' date of Floydada High school football squad has been filled.

Floyd county football fans will see their whirlwind team of Floydada High school go against the rough and tough Phillips Blackhawks on the home grounds on October 3, it was announced this week by I. T. Graves, superintendent of the school here and chairman of the athletic council.

The game matched Tuesday fills out the 10-game schedule of the whirlwinds for the fall campaign with five games at home and five away. The council had sought games with any number of teams closer to home and contacted the north plains boys after it became apparent that no opponent with an open date that would fit the local schedule is available closer.

The Blackhawks have been district and regional winners in Class A interscholastic football for several years. They are due to repeat again this year, indicating that fans of the area will see their lads pitted against a team of championship calibre early in the season.

To Separate Dairy Co-Ops
PLAINVIEW, Feb. — The Portales branch of Plains Co-Operative, Inc. is to operate its own plant and facilities as a separate organization in the future, the membership of the dairy products co-operative decided in an annual meeting here Tuesday attended by about 200 persons.

Wallace Louthan, manager of the Plainview branch, said the move to separate the two dairy manufacturing plants and set up separate co-operative governing bodies, with separate boards and charters, has been contemplated for several years.

The new Mexico group is to buy the equity of Texas co-operative members in the plant and facilities and then will be on their own," Louthan said.

Other business attended to in the afternoon session included re-election of Tom Haslip, Rodgers, N. M. D. A. Gordon, Portales, and John A. Lloyd, Floydada, as directors. Talks by President A. B. Tarwater; Texas Tech faculty member K. M. Renner and Louthan and a barbecue lunch were on the program Tuesday morning and noon.

Williams Attends Houston Meeting of Farm Loan Assns

L. A. Williams of Floydada, member of the board of directors of the Floydada National Farm Loan association, attended the Federal Land bank of Houston's annual stockholders' meeting in Houston on February 11 - 12 as the association representative.

Mr. Williams said that the Land bank, which is owned entirely by the 144 national farm loan associations in Texas, is celebrating its 30th anniversary this spring. Local farmer and rancher - owned national farm loan associations "are the foundation of the Land Bank System and the meeting in Houston was featured by discussion of the operations of these organizations which are set up for providing safe, long-term credit at low cost, to suit the needs of land - owners," he said.

Reports at the Houston meeting showed that 164,717 Land bank and Land bank commissioner loans for a total of $477,650,900 have been made in Texas during the past 30 years, many thousands of these loans having already resulted in debt-free ownership of farm homes.

Visited in Floydada
Mrs. W. T. Meador, of Portales New Mexico, visited here Monday until Wednesday with her sister Mrs. E. B. Mullins.

Karper Visions Stabler Market For Gr. Sorghum

Developments of the past four years lead R. E. Karper, agronomist in charge of sorghum investigations of the Texas Experiment stations, to believe that a more stable market is in sight for the grain sorghums of the high plains of Texas and the rolling plains lying to the east.

Two major concerns, which manufacture by-products of the grain sorghums, soon will be taking many thousand tons of these sorghums and processing them for the markets of the world.

Representatives of one of these concerns—General Foods corporation—were in Floydada with Prof. Karper yesterday, and the trio spent some hours with County Agent A. L. Hartzog. General Foods again this year will make an offer to Floyd county farmers for a contract for waxy kafir from which may be extracted starch for use in making tapioca. The offer has been made to plains farmers since the war cut off supplies from the Far east.

These two General Foods officials were Dr. R. A. Baldwin, chemist in the central research laboratories of General Foods at Hoboken, on his first trip to this state, and Sam Redmon, field production manager of Ickehart Bros. plant at Evansville, Indiana.

High Schoolers Drum up Business For Lambert Show Next Week Working for Band Uniform Funds

Although they've done well so far and the public has responded nobly the high school band is a long ways from realizing their dream of enough money to suit their organization by school opening time next fall. Undismayed they are still doing things for the cause. Report of the band reporter on their plans for next Tuesday night at the high school auditorium is here presented in the hope it will get a tremendous response.—Ed Note.

Floydadans will have the opportunity of seeing a show next Tuesday that will compare favorably with the "big time" shows on Broadway. Yes, no doubt you've already heard, it's the "Chick Lambert Show". Featuring a 10 piece swing band fronted by "Chick" Lambert the show will be patterned after the Kay Kyser radio program with a $5.00 cash prize going to the winner of the College of Musical Knowledge Contest. Included also is a "So you want to lead a Band" contest in which members of the audience will be given a chance to lead the band. The one judged the best by popular approval of the audience will receive a $5.00 prize. Contestants will be chosen from the audience in novel way, which will be announced after the show begins. Some of the highlights of the show will be Dvina Glassmoyer singing, "The Old Lamplighter" and "Why does it get so late so Early"—The Chickettes, a group composed of Valerie Burke, Beth Hinson, Hazel Patton, and Dvina Glassmoyer singing "Ain't nobody here but us Chickens" and a group playing "Sweet Sue" on beer bottles—Plus some very good instrumental numbers by the orchestra, such as "Buttermilk Skies" and a Boogie Woogie number that is really solid. Mr. Mr. Haden, local band director, says "People will be pleasantly surprised when they hear the orchestra. For a group of young musicians, that have been organized such a short time they are outstanding."

Proceeds of the show will be placed in the Band Uniform Fund and will make the band just one step nearer getting those uniforms they need so badly. So make plans now to attend, "The Chick Lambert Show" Tuesday, February 25th, for 60 minutes of outstanding entertainment and help make our band, "The best dressed Band in Texas!"

WATER CONSERVATION LAW

Nobody knows what is going to be the wise thing to do, soon or down the years apiece, about water conservation on the high plains. What we do know, we think, is that the problem is a local one, if there is a problem.

Which is why it appears reasonable for water users of this area to compose any differences they may have and combine themselves against some kind of a program, meaning a law and a board to administer it and supervise its observance. The matter is not one to be taken lightly. It is important to all the plains people and Texans.

The legislative enactment now proposed seemingly would set up some policies that may be out-moded soon. Such a movement at this time should be defeated.

FREIGHT RATE FIGHT

People of the Southwest are not going to let up in their fight for an equitable arrangement of freight rates until they get something done about it. This may take a good many years, in fact many, many years. Many interests have their welfare tied up in the present arrangement which gives producers of finished products in official territory great advantage over those who would like to locate in another part of the United States, Texas for instance.

Not only has the classified freight rate been quite unjust but also commodity freight rates have been made so as to give some portions of the country a great advantage over others.

Many wonder why the railways which serve this area would not be for a program that would give equity to the southwest. And it is a question well asked. There may be several matters involved in the answer though. For one thing railway companies, believe it or not, are bound hand and foot in all their fiscal affairs, from building a new culvert to making a freight rate. In the wisdom or lack of wisdom exercised by the people through congress and the legislature in the past 40 years the railway companies have just about been lawed out of the opportunity to exercise their own judgment. Where a company is in that position any radical changes might make their position fiscally or otherwise a precarious one. Railroad men are able quite likely, to formulate a policy they would like to follow. They can't guess what the public is going to have them do, unfortunately.

RED CROSS CAMPAIGN

The annual Red Cross campaign for funds will be conducted in Floyd and other counties of the nation during the month of March. Preparations to present the program to the people are now being made. Floyd county will be asked to raise a quota of $3608. In order to make the quota thus asked less than half of what it was previously, the county chapter's funds on hands as well as the national funds will have to be dug into to a considerable extent, as explained by the Red Cross last week.

The Red Cross has some faults, which some of us should remember we have a tendency to magnify, and perhaps, beyond reason. However, it is the agency which we have set up to do the job and has every reason to expect support from us when the month of March—now only a few days away, shall come around.

Good Insurance.—“Seed treatment is not expensive, and is good insurance for satisfactory stands of cotton. It has been found to pay big dividends, especially when seeds carry disease germs and when cold, wet spring planting conditions prevail.”—U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Most Dependable Feed.—“Protein is the most important nutrient in the ration of all livestock; and cotton is the most dependable source of this protein throughout the Cotton Belt.”—National Cottonseed Products Association.

Farm wage rates for the entire country on January 1 were 10 per cent higher than a year ago, and more than three times the January 1935-39 average.

Wages paid to farm workers during 1946 averaged $88.40 per month with board, $106 per month without board, $4.15 per day with board, and $4.83 per day without board.

SMALL TOWN CALLING

Just over a year ago Dr. Edward R. Janjigian moved to Edinburg Ind., for his wife to be with her ailing father.

With a string of degrees (A. B. M. D., Ph. D.), a psychological novel, “Doctor Destiny, to his credit Dr. Janjigian was a big shot for such a small town. It was a good break for Edinburg, which had only one aging doctor to tend its 2,500 people.

Better Job. Last month, his wife's father died, Dr. Janjigian, 37, decided to accept an offer from Pennsylvania as regional chief psychiatrist at three times the money he was making. He had three children to consider. There was “no future” in Edinburg.

But sadness lay over the town when the doctor locked his office and climbed into the family car. Dr. Janjigian didn't feel cheerful either. As he drove along he kept remembering the looks on the faces of the sick people he was leaving behind.

Chance of Heart. Forty miles up the road he suddenly swam the car around. A small town's plight was more important to him than a fat salary.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Valentine day was always a lovely day to me and this year was no exception for we were invited to a Valentine party in Mrs. Singleton's room at Cone.

Margaret Nell asked the first thing that morning if it was Friday and she could not wait with much patience for the hour to come to go. Each pupil and visitor was served with ice cream cones and chocolate cake by the room mothers, Mrs. Wilma Wheeler and Mrs. Lois Waller. Then the valentines were put in the waiting mail boxes, each child getting many beautiful ones with a Hershey bar "Love Token" from Mrs. Singleton. It was a very pleasant afternoon.

This is a lovely day. We went to Crosbyton this morning and after dinner, Wilda and I did our washing. For a while I did not see how I could get this column in, but so many of you have told me recently that you enjoyed it so I am making an extra effort to get it in this Monday as I have been falling so much the past few months.

We welcomed our son's wife last week when he brought her to Dallas after they were married in Dallas. She has come a long way, some five thousand miles and we hope she will feel at home and be happy in the country she has adopted. She is pleasant and friendly, a bit of the England we have always loved to read about and her sunny nature delights in our sunny climate. If I had only made one connection sooner," she says, "it would only have been a week from Cheltenham, England to Dallas Texas, and if I had come by plane it would have been quicker." I smiled to myself as I remembered the Spikes family spent two months coming to Crosby county from Kaufman.

Stringfellow and Hume had a drawing of lots at Emma when the town was founded and they were a long time making out the deeds. At last a man began talking that he did not believe they would give the deeds. At last the talk came to Stringfellow and he struck the man

EDITORIAL

DUTIES IN SAFETY

Every day in our newspapers we read of automobile wrecks, airplane crashes, train collisions, and other unfortunate occurrences of every kind with loss of lives. Behind each of these regrettable losses is a real tragedy. Maybe someone was sleepy or just careless. No matter what the cause, more often than not someone's life is lost. Most of the time, we do not even know the names of the victims, but every once in a while a tragedy hits home. Three people loved very dearly were lost two weeks ago because one man did not realize that in his condition he should not be driving at all much less trying to pilot a heavy truck on the highway at night at top speed. A precious possession. No wants to lose this thing that never be regained. Yet every thousands of people are risking their own life and those of others driving or handling guns and things just as deadly in such a way to cause a regrettable accident. Only way to escape losing one's life is to be careful at all times, even when sometimes accidents occur and a life is lost. These rules and cautions should be observed by everyone:

Drive slowly
Do not drink while driving
Obey all traffic rules even when they may seem unnecessary
Be careful with firearms
Do not touch live wires
Look and be sure the way is clear before crossing a street
Do not drive in bad weather if it is an emergency
Do not take unnecessary risks for the thrill of it
Above all remember that every one values his life above all else. Help make the world a safer one in which to live.

GRAPS AND GOWNS!

The seniors had a new excitement last week. Measurements were taken for gowns and gowns, and orders were placed for invitations. Time is slipping by and soon the seniors will be seniors any more. Everyone in the class has his plans for this semester so it will probably be a very lively around here.

DE QUACKER

De Quacker is your friend, I hope so with your news don't toy. Help me catch up on the dope. By telling on each girl and boy. We'll see no hearts are broken. Though sometimes it can't be stopped. When you know some News you kids, See that in My Can it's popped.

Bill Bloxum from Sand Hill seems to be losing the old charm for Callie Holmes since Rollan Glaskox got his ankle broken—Callie feels that she should be kind to Rollan for that reason but something tells me it goes farther than that. Am I wrong???

Geneva had better watch her step 'pears to me. Hansel's attention has been focused on Floyce Jarrett quite a lot lately.

Jane Johnson becomes more carried away with Don Shurbet every day. Now she has warned all the girls to keep hands off. He's her man!!

Geneva Norman is watching a certain "older man" very closely lately. Louis Lloyd maybe. The Peggy Collier-Billy Jones romance seems to be cooling off a little. Is Peggy having some competition maybe?

Welms Norman has found company of Dorothy Clayton very enjoyable lately much to Gladys's dismay. Too bad, Gladys, but there are plenty more boys just "hankering" for your affection.

Delmar Hartley is certainly trying to sweep the Freshman girls off their feet. The latest Sherwyn Fyffe.

Joy Bunch and Juanita Jenkins are on speaking terms again. Guess one of them decided to generously let the other have Jimmy Vickers.

Wanda Freeman and Wayne McCormick certainly enjoyed the Floydada-Lockney basketball game the other night. Or was it each other's company?

Virginia Dunn and Garvin Beedy have been noticed talking quite a bit in 7th period study hall. Could this be the beginning of a beautiful friendship?

Hope McIntosh has her eye on a certain Freshman. Just ask Bobby Finley.

Callie Holmes was caught winking at Don Shurbet in Algebra Class the other day. How that girl gets around!

Gene Dale Jackson is getting very little learning in 6th period Speech class lately. Could his mind be on the girls in the desk next to him.

Hazel and Norma Moore are happy as larks these days. Its seems that Joe and Gus are supposed to come down here soon.

Leroy Parrish can hardly wait for 7th period English each day. Could Jane Johnson have something to do with that.

Gene Hollums and Joyce Jarrett are quite carried away with each other so I hear. Gene's old flame Maxine Thornton, doesn't even rate any more.

Chick Lambert has gone for a guy named Leo from Plainview lately. Tell us more, tell us more.

Rose Beard was seen with Charler Beedy Wednesday night. Has Bob Reeves lost out, Rose? And, say Charles, what happened to the Beedy-Thomas love affair?

Valrie Burke and Dink seem to be getting rather serious. Am I wrong? Or could it be Russ again???

Seems that Joy Bunch, Austin Holmes romance is ended. Austin is very much interested in June Dunford now, but she seems to have only Thurman on her mind.

Bobby Jack Harbor and Jimmy Joyce King really do enjoy 7th period J. B. T.

That's all the juicy news for another week. Don't forget my can in Mr. Harris's office.

I'll be snooping on you "De Quacker"

OUR FRIENDS OF YESTERDAY (Dedicated to Nita, Glenn, and Kenneth)

Our friends of yesterday are gone. They are not with us today. Their seats are vacant, and you can hear the people say "This accident was a terrible thing. The sorrow that swift destruction can bring—"

But now that's all in the past, and here is what we should say. They were our loyal, true friends, our friends of yesterday.

We remember their smiles, kind words, and cheer. We remember all the good they did. They were just like all of us—just good American kids.

We will remember the two ball players—The heroes on the field. How hard they worked for the goal. Yet, they would never yield. And also we will remember Our Pen Squad leader so fine. She led the cheers for the school. This school of yours and mine.

So to the students of the Green and White. Here's what I have to say. Let's stop and think and remember Our friends of yesterday.

Unusual Program 'Men under the Sea'

The assembly program which was scheduled for Tuesday, February 18 was postponed until February 21. However, a very entertaining program will be presented at that date.

The school is very privileged to have Harold B. Davidson, ex-CBM-USNR, salvage expert, diver, inventor, and explorer, to present his "Men Under the Sea."

His wide experience has carried him from the romantic tasks of scientific expeditions, gathering specimens, and taking submarine movies among coral reefs, to the hard dangerous construction of sea walls, bridge foundations, and salvage of sunken ships, often in sub-zero weather.

He was on the first Navy crew to begin work salvaging the ill-fated Normandie. Later he took part in the African Invasion. After his release from the hospital he was selected to represent the Navy officially on many public occasions: celebrations, war bond rallies, radio broadcasts, and memorial services. He was twice commended while in the service. One of his salvage devices was accepted by the Navy for use in ship salvage.

How does it feel to die? Mr. Davidson can tell you. He was one of the few to survive a squeeze. Alone and crushed beneath fathoms of water, he suffered the agonies of the dreaded squeeze. His apparently lifeless body was hauled to the surface and with Adrenalin injected directly into his heart, he lived.

Now he comes to us to tell this tale in "Men Undersea."

Judge Gribble, Meet Mr. Hatch

Judge Luther Gribble of Wellington

C. V. Hatch, of Plainview

Last week the picture of a good looking, distinguished sort of man was presented in The Hesperian as being Judge Luther Gribble of Wellington, newly named administrative judge for the Ninth district of Texas. The picture we used was not that of Judge Gribble as a matter of fact but of C. V. Hatch, of Plainview. The Hatch picture we intended to use with another success story recently, since the Plainview man has been outstanding in his line of endeavor as a distributor for the Ralston Purina company.

Judge Gribble probably would like to know the man whom The Hesperian had pinch-hitting for him, and Mr. Hatch also might like to know the distinguished jurist for whom he was substituted. So, here we present them side by side, for an introduction. Judge Gribble meet Mr. Hatch. Mr. Hatch this is Judge Gribble.

On Guard, West Texas Irrigation Farmers!

Your Underground Water Rights are About To Be Confiscated

The High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association, an association composed of 3200 farmers and land owners from 16 counties in West Texas was organized to combat underground water proration and to encourage water conservation in Texas.

Persons whose interests are foreign to the interests of West Texas agriculture are desirous of the passage of state laws which would place the water and irrigation supply of West Texas under state control and proration.

One such bill, purportedly applying only to the Winter Garden area of Texas on the surface, is now before the Texas State Legislature. This bill is a piece of vicious subterfuge which includes the entire state of Texas within its jurisdiction. Enactment of this bill will place the water of every farmer in the state at the mercy of the Texas State Board of Water Engineers, should they attempt to organize water districts.

High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association takes this means to publish excerpts of the proposed bill in order that farmers and land owners of West Texas may have a knowledge of the impending legislation. This association opposes this bill as being entirely unsatisfactory. Objections are printed in bold faced type in the right hand columns of this page.

BILL EXCERPTS

AN ACT to control the orderly conservation and development of the underground waters of the area composed of the following counties, to-wit: Zavalla, Dimmit, Atascosa, Frio, and La Salle, in compliance with the intent and command of Section 59 a, b, c of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas: declaring the waters of underground streams, channels, artesian basin, reservoirs, lakes and other bodies of water in the ground, lying and being situated in the area composed of the above named counties to be the property of the State of Texas.

Section 3: Whereas, it has come to the attention of the Legislature and the citizens of Zavala, Dimmit, Atascosa, Frio and La Salle counties that the unregulated development, division, taking and use of the underground waters in this area has resulted in serious depletion of ground waters . . . therefore subject to existing vested rights, the waters of underground streams, channels, artesian basins, reservoirs, lakes and other bodies of water in the ground, lying and being situated in the area composed of the above named counties, are hereby declared to be the property of the State, and the right to the use thereof may be acquired by appropriation for beneficial use under the terms of this Act and not otherwise.

Section 5: Beneficial use is the basis, the measure and the limit to the right to the use of the water described in this act. Existing water rights based upon application to beneficial use are hereby recognized, and nothing herein contained is intended to impair the same or to disturb the priorities thereof.

Section 10: After the effective date of this Act, every person, association of persons, corporation, city or town, who shall desire to appropriate for irrigation mining, milling, manufacturing, air conditions, public parks, game preserves, recreation and pleasure purposes, and/or the construction and operation of water-works for cities and towns, any of the water described in this Act, within the boundaries of such Area, shall make application to the Board in form to be prescribed by said board in which said application shall designate the particular underground stream, channel, artesian basin, reservoir, or lake from which water is proposed to be appropriated, the use to which it is proposed to apply such water, the location of the proposed well or wells, the name of the owner of the land on which such well or wells will be located, the amount of water applied for; and if the proposed use is for irrigation, the description of the land to be irrigated and the name of the owner thereof.

Section 18: As between appropriators, the first in time shall be the first in right, provided, however, that all appropriations or allotments of water hereafter made . . . shall be granted subject to the right of any city or town or municipality within the boundaries of such Area to make further appropriations of said water thereafter for domestic and municipal purposes.

Section 20: After the effective date of this Act, the Board shall, by regulations, establish the fees to be paid by applicants and declarants and such other necessary fees as may be required for the effective administering of this Act.

Section 21: When for a period of four years the owner, (three years for surface water), of a water right from any of the ground waters described in this Act shall have failed to apply the same to the use for which the right was vested, was appropriated, or shall have been adjudicated, such water right shall be forfeited by order of the Board.

Section 23: Districts may be organized within the state of Texas within the terms of Section 59 a, b and c of Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas in the same manner and under the same procedure as in provided for the organization of water control and improvement districts under the provisions of Chapter 25, Acts of the Regular Session of the 39th Legislature, as amended, for the purpose, and with such rights, powers, duties and restrictions as provided by said Section of the Constitution and as provided under the provisions of this Act. Provided that the State Board of Water Engineers shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all petitions for creation of districts to exercise the particular powers provided by this Act, or to authorize a district having powers other than those hereby created to additionally exercise the powers hereby given.

Section 25: Districts organized under the provisions of this Act shall have rights, powers and duties:

g. To do all things necessary for the conservation, protection and preservation of the underground waters, described in this Act, and the specific enumeration of special powers and duties herein shall not be construed to deny such districts other powers and duties necessary to the carrying out of the purposes of this Act. It is hereby emphasized that such districts when created shall have, enjoy and exercise each and every power available to such districts when created for any other purpose, including the right to create debt and levy taxes, provided only that the same be done in conformity with the provisions of Section 59 a, b, and c of Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas.

Section 27: Water improvement districts, water control and improvement districts, water control and preservation districts, and fresh water supply districts heretofore organized within the Area described in this Act, or which may hereafter be organized under the provisions of the several Acts of the Legislature of the State of Texas, authorizing their organization, may in addition to the powers granted to such districts by the said several Acts, exercise the powers granted under the provisions of this Act. Provided that any district desiring to exercise the powers granted under this Act, shall file with the State Board of Water Engineers petition for authority to exercise such powers.

Section 32: After the effective date of this Act, any person, association of persons, corporation, city or town, within the boundaries of such Area, who shall willfully take, divert or appropriate any of the underground waters described in this Act, or use such waters for any of the purposes named in the Act, without first complying with all of the provision hereof, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be fined in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars, or by imprisonment in the County Jail for a term of not exceeding six months, or by both such fine and imprisonment, and each day that such taking, diversion or appropriation of such water shall continue shall constitute a separate offense, and the possession of such water, except when the right to its use is acquired in accordance with the provisions of this Act, shall be prima facie proof of the guilt of the person, association of persons, corporation, city or town or the agent, officers, employees or representatives of any person, association of persons, corporation, city or town.

Section 33: Irrigation farmers who use water from their own wells without compliance with all the provisions of this law and directives of the State Board of Water Engineers, or in a manner which the board might hold as wasteful, subject themselves to fines and imprisonment as law breakers.

Section 34: This section opens the way for formation of other water proration districts such as outlined in the bill for Zavalla, Dimmit, Atascosa, Frio and LaSalle counties, without the passage of additional legislation. This section places the control of all future districts that may be formed, under 'the exclusive jurisdiction of the State Board of Water Engineers.

Section 35: Additional water taxes are accessible under this clause.

Section 36: This section is the most vicious section of the bill in that it seizes all control of existing water organizations and districts and control of any organization or district which may be formed in the future under the Texas State Laws and Constitution.

Section 37: This section places the Texas State Board of Water Engineers in absolute control of all future water and conservation development in the State of Texas. The High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association decidedly opposes this measure on the grounds that if at any time in the future it becomes necessary to prorate the underground waters of the Plains area, such proration would automatically be administered by the Texas State Board of Water Engineers. This would place all the water resources of West Texas at the mercy of this board.

Section 38: Irrigation farmers who use water from their own wells without compliance with all the provisions of this law and directives of the State Board of Water Engineers, or in a manner which the board might hold as wasteful, subject themselves to fines and imprisonment as law breakers.

Section 39: Openings for additional taxation are given in this section without any limitation of amount.

Section 40: If irrigators find no need for the use of their wells, (such as in the event of sufficient rainfall to make

The High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association urges every farmer and land owner in West Texas who has an interest in agricultural irrigation to write his state representative and state how he feels about underground water proration in Texas.

The statements that have been circulated in West Texas about the decline of the High Plains water table are greatly exaggerated and for the most part are promulgated by interests that are foreign to the best interests of the farmers and land owners of this area. The water level has not declined any appreciable amount in the High Plains, and in a great many places it is at an all time high, some wells showing the water to be four or five feet closer to the surface than ever before. An extended program for the study and investigation of the High Plains underground water supply is being planned by the High Plains Water Use and Conservation Association. Until complete data are compiled and studied, the Association advocates that no legislative action be taken on water proration in any area within the state of Texas.

Section 23: Districts may be organized within the state of Texas within the terms of Section 59 a, b and c of Article XVI of the Constitution of Texas in the same manner and under the same procedure as in provided for the organization of water control and improvement districts under the provisions of Chapter 25, Acts of the Regular Session of the 39th Legislature, as amended, for the purpose, and with such rights, powers, duties and restrictions as provided by said Section of the Constitution and as provided under the provisions of this Act. Provided that the State Board of Water Engineers shall have exclusive jurisdiction to hear and determine all petitions for creation of districts to exercise the particular powers provided by this Act, or to authorize a district having powers other than those hereby created to additionally exercise the powers hereby given.

District supervisors report the applications recently received for assistance in soil conservation work: C. L. King, Oscar E. M. Sewell, W. R. & B. R. S. W. M. Summerlin, Jr., T. E. O'Brien, C. F. Perry, Mal Jarboe, Sam A. W. Dale, J. R. deCordova, J. A. Noland, J. C. Wesley Carr, A. B. Merrill, W. B. Hatchett, R. C. Phillips, W. A. Stearns.

Poole, a cooperator of the county Soil Conservation district, recently purchased and installed two wells on a section of land about five miles northwest of Floydada. Conservation service technicians assigned to the district are planning and laying out an irrigation system. Mr. Poole will use Hubam clover and alfalfa for soil building crops and has agreed to plant a considerable amount of weeping love grass for erosion control.

Spence who lives in the Lockney conservation group has a small acreage of hairy vetch which he is using for the first time as pasture and soil builder.

Thomas, a District cooperator, lives in the Davis conservation district one half mile south of Blanco. He reports he has started grazing grass and legume mixture which was planted last fall.

Terraces were completed last week on the Charles Schuler farm which is owned by W. C. Castleberry. The farm is located in the Allmon Conservation district one mile east of Allmon school. Three road main-tenances were used for the construction work. All terraces were built to catch on native pasture land so that excess rainfall might be used to grow the grass, which has been checked on the contour to help conserve the water. Assistance in planning and laying out the system was given by the Soil Conservation service technicians assigned to the District.

John T. Carthel, a District cooperator, who lives in the Belt conservation group and farms the quarter section adjoining the Prairie Chapel school has recently completed laying out a new irrigation system. This is the first year for the farm to be irrigated. Help in laying out the system was given by Soil Conservation service technicians assigned to the District.

GERMAN MARRIAGE MART

Unmarried males in Germany are at a premium. Those willing to forsake bachelorhood for wedlock are doing so with an eye to the future—their future.

Throughout the male-depleted Reich, men are inserting ads in newspapers offering marriage to qualified women. Instead of (or in addition to) money or outright dowries, most men are demanding that their brides-to-be have a successful business or profession.

Size 46, Please.

One Frankfurt ad read: "Former officer, tall, broad-shouldered, seeks to become acquainted with attractive young widow who can offer a comfortable dwelling, complete with household furnishings and clothing of her late husband. Object—matrimony and business collaboration."

Women, too, have their opinions as to the ideally suitable mate. Two doctor's daughters asked in an ad: "Which physician, not under 35 years old, would like to marry into a good general practice? Widower with child acceptable."

Automobile Crash Fatal to Rancher

LOCKNEY, Feb. 14—Robert Earl Bell, 41, former resident of the Lone Star community, was killed instantly Wednesday morning in a collision of two automobiles three miles north of Hobbs, New Mexico.

Bell had owned considerable land in the Lone Star vicinity and has engaged in ranching in that area for many years.

CONCERNING A KILLER

In a Stanford university chemistry lab, Drs. Hubert Loring and C. E. Schewerl began working with 150 grams of brains—rat-brains, taken from lab animals infected with rat-infantile paralysis.

In near-freezing temperatures (to prevent rotting) they ground the brains, leached them chemically, filtered what remained, swung it in centrifuge. The end product weighed only 1,500,000th of what they started with. It was a crystalline powder.

Loring and Schewerl tested it every way they could think of, finally announced they had an 80% pure specimen of polio virus. The electron microscope gave them the virus' approximate size: 1/40,000 the width of a pinhead.

In Again. What they hope to use the virus for—and why the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis financed their research—is to find a polio vaccine.

Injected back into rats—or possibly other animals—the virus may generate an antibody which will kill the most vicious members of the virus-tribe, leave a feeble remainder. This can then be used to infect animals with a harmless form of the virus—but give immunity from the vicious form.

Paralleling. If it is done with rat-polio, it can be done with human polio. But prolonged testing must come first.

Meanwhile, other methods to weaken a virus exist. Radiation and solvent chemicals. They too will be tried.

Hollywood designers say spring fashions will be long-waisted, and hubby will have to be long-winded to race for the cash to meet the waistline.

Dodge Dealer Meeting Held

D. L. Mayo of the Mayo Motor Co. has returned from a meeting in Lubbock where a member of the Dodge factory executive staff of Detroit outlined advertising, merchandising and training plans for 1947.

The continuing program of training Dodge dealers and salesmen to better qualify them to serve truck users in the selection of the right trucks to meet specific hauling needs was outlined at the meeting.

Suggestions were made on the purchase of new equipment, and dealers were urged to expand present service and parts facilities in those few instances where they are not adequate to accommodate increasing demands.

Dealers were told that Dodge "Job Rated" truck line was expanded during 1946 to include 175 basic truck vehicle weight models covering 97 per cent of all hauling and delivery requirements.

City Election—

has not yet been granted by the responsible federal agency because of the "tight" situation in home construction.

Must File by March 1
Today there is only one avowed candidate for a city office, this being Bob Smith, present incumbent, who seeks re-election as city marshal.

Ruling recently made for city officials to observe in Texas by the Attorney General's department, points out that Texas statute requires that applications for places on a city election ballot must be made at least 30 days before the date of the election. This means that names must be filed on or before March 1.

If this rule applies in Floydada, which apparently it does, then all applications must have been filed by March 1. Thus the citizens who have been getting heated up about the city election about a week before election day will be too late this year, except for a write-in campaign. Absentee voting begins not more than 20 days before the election.

F. C. Harmon is present mayor, B. K. Barker city secretary, Bob Smith city marshal; five aldermen are W. U. White, J. D. McBrien, Conner Oden, Walton Hale and J. W. Lanier, the terms of all expiring in April.

Bones Are Old—

Sheriff Hart said the University people had asked to keep the skeleton, but that Texas Tech museum had put in a prior claim and he would probably give the bones into the possession of the latter institution.

Blanco Was Trading Outpost
That people who now live along the reaches of the Blanco are not the first to tread this ground by hundreds of years has long been known. And that, as mortal affairs go, there must have been deaths on the silent prairies, as Indians, Mexicans, traders and adventurers met and bargained, living crudely the while. So future finds may as well not be unexpected in graves with primitive marks long since gone, say the historians of the lives of mankind.

son and Matador proved the right to claim second place by defeating every other team in the district except Spur and nosing out Floydada for second place in the tournament. Lockney, district winner for two years straight, did not have such a good season this year. Exact standing of the eight teams is not known to District Chairman I. T. Graves since all reports were not made by team officials.

In first round of the district tournament played in Matador Friday night, Saturday afternoon and Saturday night, Floydada defeated Petersburg. Spur won from Paducah. Matador took Lockney and Crosbyton bested Ralls.

In the second round Spur won from Floydada and Matador bested Crosbyton. In the finals Spur was winner over Matador and Floydada took Crosbyton in the lower bracket.

gas to replenish their supply as soon as they found a gas barrel or a tractor.

Got Scared and Stepped on It
When the sheriff and marshal saw the car late at night driving around instead of going on through on the highway, up in the general vicinity of Andrews ward school they started following, thinking another school burglary might be in the making. The boys didn't like the car following them and stepped on it. Dashing north to Grover street they turned east across the highway and east. Which was too bad.

Dead ends of a street at a railroad track call for slow speed.

When they got out of the lake they began looking for shelter and out at the Senn place found it. Then followed their embarrassment a few hours later when the women went to shut the cellar door.

The boys made it as far as Plainview by hitchhiking but were picked up about dark Sunday night at the highway red light on the other side of town while trying to get a ride on down the line. They were tired and hungry and didn't care much if they did get caught. Plainview officers called Sheriff Hart here, then followed the admissions and now the boys are awaiting further developments. They had been in Oklahoma on a trip to their old home state. The car they took belonged to Gordon E. Stanley, an undertaker. They took the car from his garage. It is a 1941 maroon Plymouth and it will have to have some repairs before Mr. Stanley uses it again. The keys were in the car, the boys said. All they had to do was back it out, turn the switch and push the starter.

Where you come from is not important—it is what you are that counts.
