Firestone Opening Next Week-End

Floydada's new Firestone dealers, the Robinson and Davis Home and Auto Supply company, are announcing their grand formal opening here on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week.

Members of the firm, comprising the new Firestone dealer store, are B. M. Robinson, sr., Bill Barnett, Paul Davis, and B. M. Robinson, jr., all of whom reside in Floydada. Weeks ago these members of the new firm chose Floydada as an advantageous point from which to merchandise Firestone products after consideration of numerous good cities and towns in the high plains area.

In their grand opening next week a complete line of Firestone products will be featured consisting of over 12 departments, and including every type of tire required for passenger, commercial and farm use.

Robinson & Davis have purchased the most modern equipment available and are in position to give prompt, efficient service on the road or on the farm, as well as at their store, located at 108 South Main street. Bake Robinson, formerly a merchandiser at Post, is head of the firm and believes that Firestone's merchandising service will fill a definite need in this community.

Attendance Awards Announced

To add interest to their opening the supply company is planning some attendance awards which will be given away on Saturday night, June 26. No purchase is required to register, of course, and the registration book will be open throughout the three days of the opening.

Free souvenirs are also being provided for the three days of the friend-making event, said Mr. Robinson.

Second half play in the city softball league got off to a flying start when it decided the league leader. First round play failed to provide one since Merchants and Phillips both ended with six wins and one loss. This all important game to decide the league leader was played Tuesday night. Final score was Merchants 9, Phillips 2.

There will be plenty of excitement Thursday night, usually open or reserved for make up games, when Farmer invades the home park to play Phillips.

Regularly Scheduled Games
Friday night in the regularly scheduled games Stansell-Collins plays Grigsby Laundry in the first game and South Plains will play McCoy in the second.

The games beginning Monday of next week may be postponed according to Gene Collins. This postponement has not been decided definitely and will depend to a great extent on the harvest. A definite announcement will be made later in the week said Mr. Collins.

With a hot sun pouring down, amidst some wind and occasional overcast, Floyd county farmers last week-end began sending their combines into the field to harvest a crop that ranges from a trickle of three or four bushels per acre to 45 bushels or better. Peak of the grain movement, it appeared yesterday, is due to come about next mid-week. As usual a few early crops have already gone to the elevators and plows are turning the stubble.

Yesterday's temperature was 100 degrees, according to West Texas Gas company thermometer, but the day before was an even hotter one, with 103 degrees registered in Floydada. This is aiding to hurry the wheat from field to elevator.

While South Plains wheat growers should refrain from seeding poor milling varieties, Comanche, Westar, and Wichita certified wheat is producing excellent results. A. L. Hartzog, county agent, said this week.

O. C. Bailey, who lives on the edge of Lockney, is cutting 39 1/2 bushels of certified Westar per acre. With 80 acres under cultivation, it doesn't take a mathematician to figure out that he is going to have quite a yield.

Wayne Russell, who is farming the Adrian Crawford land near Lakeview, in company with the state field seed inspectors, Mr. Goethe and Mr. Lacey, is cutting dry land Wichita wheat for certification and preparing to cut dry land Westar and Comanche. He estimates that he will get approximately 15 bushels per acre.

About 30 bushels per acre has been forecast for Arlan Miller, of Sand Hill, who is preparing to cut some certified Wichita wheat.

The wheat inspected at Sterley seemed to have a little bit better prospects than that at Sand Hill, with 30 to 40 bushels predicted for Robert B. Smith on his Westar, Comanche, and Wichita.

The above yields are on summer fallow and irrigated land. It is estimated that the county dry-land wheat grown on stubble land and has not been turned under as yet will yield from three to eight bushels, according to Hartzog.

While seed wheat will be scarce, some of the farmers in the county will have reasonable supplies of good grade and certified wheat of improved varieties such as Comanche, Westar, Wichita, Standard Black Hull, or approved milling strains available to their neighbors or other growers throughout the county," said Mr. Hartzog.

Very little of the wheat has been brought in yet. Although not enough has been cut yet to make a definite approximation, observers think that the yield will be a little better than was expected.

Another thing that the farmers have to look forward to is no congestion at the elevators this year. As of yet, very few migrant combines have drifted in, and it is expected that local machines will be able to largely take care of the harvest.

Cutting Wheat at Barwise

First wheat around Barwise began to move to the elevator on Tuesday. W. M. Goode, manager of the Henry Edwards elevator there said he got about a carload and a half that day. Practically every bushel of wheat that will be marketed there will be from irrigated fields. Goode says they have promise of good yields. First field finished figured out at slightly better than 32 bushels per acre.

Mrs. W. N. Jones was brought home from the Lubbock hospital Monday afternoon, and is reported to be doing as well as can be expected.

Carmickle Well County's First Oil Producer

The General American Oil company's No. 1 test on the E. M. Carmickle land in southwest Floyd county is a producing well, the first in the county. During tests of the past several days it has been flowing by heads and making some 400 barrels of oil with about one percent water.

J. L. Suits, publisher of The Pettersburg Journal this morning said his information is that the well will be put on the pump soon and will have a good allowable. The oil company is elated over the find. It is about two locations east of the Byrd No. 1. Byrd No. 2, one location west of Byrd No. 1 has been shut down. Formation in it is said to have run some 700 feet lower than the Byrd No. 1. The Bob Mayo test also is closed down. Formation in it ran some 500 feet low, according to the Journal man's information.

North of the Carmickle test on the Crump land (officially known as the Strickler No. 1) the test is down about 6400 feet. It is set up for a test formations to 8,000 feet or more. Presumably the other tests are awaiting developments there, Mr. Suits said.

Firemen Take Time About While Chief Is Hospitalized

Fire Chief Carl Rodgers has been in the Plainview hospital since Monday morning suffering from a paralytic condition due to high blood pressure. Mrs. Rodgers has been spending part time with her husband as have Mrs. Newberry and other relatives. The fire boys have been taking turn about with Charley Presley, assistant fire chief, in holding down Mr. Rodgers' position while he is hospitalized.

Mrs. Edd Johnson Hurt

While on her way to Lubbock Monday afternoon, Mrs. Edd Johnson cracked a vertebra in her back when her car swerved to avoid hitting a house being moved, just north of the canyon.

Mrs. Johnson went ahead to Lubbock, having some x-rays taken when she got there and discovered the extent of her injuries. She had a brace put on her back and was brought home last night.

Court room Suicide Grewsome Sight

The court room suicide of a defendant before the bar of justice at Odessa last Friday afternoon was the most gruesome sight in the experience of trial judge Alton B. Chapman, of Floydada, who was sitting for Judge Cecil C. Collins in the 70th District court for Ector County. Also it made history in modern trial court rooms for West Texas.

An oil field worker, S. A. Hostetter, 63, committed suicide by cutting his throat in the court room immediately after a jury returned its verdict convicting him of a charge of assault with intent to murder, and as he stood for the judge to pronounce the judgment of the court.

The petit jury which tried the defendant was filing from the court room. The deputy who was waiting on the jury was leaving the room to help the jurymen assemble their personal effects to leave.

One or more other enforcement officers including a Texas Ranger, were also present but none in the immediate presence of the defendant at the moment. His two lawyers sat, one on each side of the defendant, as he arose.

"As I recall the scene now, I had just glanced around to see if the jury was out of the room or something of the kind," said Judge Chapman. "My attention was called to the opening moment of the tragedy when a man from the audience sitting behind the defendant cried out, 'Judge, this man is cutting his throat.'"

Saw Trickle of Blood

"About the same moment I saw as my eyes came back to the defendant a trickle of blood around his neck as though he had made the first slash. A big, rugged man, with deeply tanned hide from many years in the open, he then began slashing at his throat and whipping his knife in the air at scurrying officials and onlookers who surrounded him. The only thing I heard him say (See Judge Chapman, back page)

SWPC Grows Up; Giant Main Spring of Industry Development

Floyd county people are aware only in a general way that their county is in an area where millions are being spent on a bet that a portion of West Texas, a portion of Eastern New Mexico and a portion of Southwestern Oklahoma are in the choice spot of all America for agricultural and industrial development of the next half of a century, and maybe for a much longer period.

"Gamblers" on the future of this section are the officers and stockholders of the Southwestern Public Service company, who have poured millions into the area and are still to spend several million before they are through with a project which they expect to serve the richest area of varied enterprise in their knowledge in the United States.

This is a conclusion reached by a writer for The Hesperian, who was a guest of Southwestern officials on a trip last week-end that covered something less than a thousand miles. On the trip also was L. W. Chapman, manager of Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative and Robert Crowl, manager of Floydada Chamber of Commerce. Chapman is an important customer of the Southwestern group and is loud in demand for more and more power to serve more and more customers on the lines of the cooperative.

Spend Two Days Looking

To show what they are doing to meet the situation was the intent of the trip on which they escorted Mr. Chapman in company plane and station wagon to more than half a dozen power plants located strategically to take advantage of ample, low priced fuel areas. The newspaperman and Chamber of Commerce manager complemented the party composed of Jim Collins, district manager of the company, George Caven, local manager, and Fred Dick, pilot of a Beechcraft twin engine plane. The party spent two days looking at impressive plants already in operation and seeing installations which, when completed, will more than double the present power output of these plants.

Beginning at the Tucco plant in south Hale county the party traveled to Denver City, to Carlsbad and to Roswell the first day. Installations that require millions of dollars and many man-days of work, together with added facilities now under construction were seen at each of these points. On the second day, what is being done at Clovis, at Amarillo and at Riverside plant at Borger were viewed. Words carry small meaning as to the huge installations which dwarfed the imagination of the newspaper man to describe.

Plane Is an Economy

So big is the new company which has sprung up out of the ashes of the old Texas Utilities company (and its predecessors on up into the echelons of high finance now a thing of the past) that a program of millions is their only course for now. They are committed to the proposal they will furnish power to agriculture, to industry, and to mining in this area. They have no alternative, except to quit. Ordinarily southwesterners do not do that.

With millions already spent on their own initiative and at the behest of the War Production board (during the war) they are spending another several (said to be around $35 million) million dollars to go along with their program. They believe they have the most productive area to serve with the greatest possibilities, in the United States. Thirty years hence they may find they are wrong and that instead of making millions, they have not made anything.

For instance, right now, they find a Beechcraft twin engine plane they use to get around over the territory with and to make their needed factory and financing trips, is a huge economy over the slower means of travel that once prevailed. A man or a committee, using their plane, can attend to business in Chicago, in a factory city, in Dallas or New York City, and be back on the job at work again before the going trip could have been made by train, automobile or bus. Leastwise, they figure it that way. And the figures on calculation seem to bear out this estimate.

Past the Diesel Stage

Southwestern long since has abandoned the Diesel and similar engines for the lower per unit cost turbine power generator, used to produce KWH by the thousands and "throw them into the line." They are using smaller engines. It is true, with their higher unit cost at this time, but only to meet a demand that grows with each week for more and more power. This requires the use of plants which would have otherwise been discontinued long since.

To show what is happening in West Texas, if you don't know of the demand for irrigation power for instance, there is a plant out on the high plains which is making caustic soda and hydrochloric acid by the use of the electro-chemical process. It is a bit of a plant covering a quarter of a block, more or less. It requires more energy than all of the demand from Floydada, Lockney, Plainview, Hereford, Canyon, Tulla, Dimmitt and Happy. Southwestern has this business. They also have the potash mines around Carlsbad as customers, probably for half a century or more if they don't disagree. And there are other industrial outlets in the offing.

EDITORIALS

A considerable bit of infantile paralysis in Texas has made some communities rather panicky. Report of any new cases of polio put the people into a dither. Health authorities indicate that there is undoubtedly some connection between filth and general uncleanliness in a community, possibly in the fact that filth and lack of sanitation are breeders of flies, mosquitoes and other possible carriers. About the best thing that any community can do is to be sure that things are cleanly and in ship-shape and that there are no gathering places for filth. If, after the years come and go, and it should be found that unsanitary conditions do not control, it will at least be a satisfaction to know that cleanliness prevailed. Doctors and scientists, public health departments and privately financed foundations are working on the job with intense eagerness to find the source and bolt out the polio scourge. Meanwhile parents, they say, should see that their children do not suffer undue fatigue, have plenty of rest and the normal amount of play.

City fathers in Floydada are trying another time to let a contract for a swimming pool and the improvement of a parksite around it. Last effort was stymied by their effort, it appears, to assure a pool for use the latter part of this season. Contractors feared to guarantee a completion date so early in view of tight supply of materials and not any too many men to be found to do the labor. Under the contract the council is advertising for consideration on July 6 the contractor will be permitted a considerable bit more time, since completion of the pool for use this year is going to be an impossibility.

West Texas—all of the southwest for that matter—is a tricky sort and the consequences of its varying seasons from year to year are almost laughable. This time last year the pinch of car shortages became apparent over night, elevators were bogged down in grain they couldn't get through the spouts, wheat raisers were in alarm for fear they could find no place to market their crop. Hauls of 100 miles, even more, were common, to find a place where the grain cars and the elevator facilities were available. This year's crop of dry land wheat in Floyd county will be merely a trickle. Some irrigated crops will be excellent, others fair to good. The overall county production may be equal to 20 per cent of last year's crop. Meanwhile the big push in custom harvesting is by-passing the county for the most part. Over-night stops along the way for a few of the hundreds of machines that started down-state and now are moving north and west, bring some of the machines to Floydada and other Floyd county points. And railways have cars setting on the sidings awaiting the loads in ample numbers to care for all needs. The varying seasons of the plains area really do bring about changes from year to year.

We will have to change our minds not to go along with Mr. Jester for governor and with Mr. Stevenson for United States senator. Mr. Jester, his political opponents charge, is sold out to the oil interests. It seems probable Mr. Jester has stayed along about the middle of the road as he said he would. Anybody in a political game, who doesn't do as we would have him do, is sold out. Such a charge is easy to make and can be loosely made with fear of reprisal, as a rule. Mr. Stevenson was such a relief as governor of Texas that he would undoubtedly carry the same calm wisdom into the United States Senate and reflect a great deal of credit on the farmer-ranchman type of citizenship from which he springs. To be United States senator is a most worthy ambition and we have no rocks to throw at Congressman Lyndon Johnson and other good men of Texas who have thrown their hats in the ring. It is merely that we believe Texas with a chance now to choose a man like Stevenson for U. S. senator can help a lot in restoring simplicity and calm statesmanship in the national legislative halls.

With the blessing of state health departments cities and towns all over the country, maybe in the south more particularly than in other sections, have been using freely any kind of sprays which they hope and expect to help communities in continuing better sanitary conditions. Fine mist is thrown under considerable pressure that, it is hopefully thought, will work into the many and various parts of premises and buildings and work havoc on insects, flies and breeding place of filth. It was in this general manner that the islands of the Southwest Pacific, many of them, were made livable for the forces of the country to move into and hope to survive the battle against nature while fighting the human enemy also. Many times, returning soldiers say, islands would be sprayed for two or three days in advance in spite of the enemy. This dangerous work would be carried on at considerable loss in order to save more men when the ground forces moved in. It seemed to work, in fact it did work. And the suit which communities have followed in civilian life since the war is not confined to any one part of Texas or the south. All through the states the spraying has been going on in an effort to eradicate the most possible insect life that may be harmful to human life.

Apparently honesty isn't the best foreign policy.

Floydada Golfers Lose to Crosbyton

"Those guys down there play golf!" was the opinion of Ernest Carter after the Floydada Golfers played the Crosbyton Golf club Sunday afternoon.

The Floydada club lost, 16 to 9 but they are planning to have their revenge when the Crosbyton club plays here next Sunday. The game will be held at the Country club.

Floydada players who went to Crosbyton game were Ernest Carter, Jeff Welborn, Rex Brown, N. B. Stansell, Ed Johnson, Gene Collins, Bill Hambright, Billy Joe Hambright, Gordon Hambright.

The only Floyd county players to win their matches were Rex Brown and Ed Johnson. N. B. Stansell tied his game and Bill Hambright won half a point by keeping the score even for the first half of the game.

Letter From China Locates Cousin in US for Mrs. Borum

Apparently news travels faster in China than it does in the United States.

Mrs. E. R. Borum hadn't had any news of a favorite cousin since she was 14 years old, until a short while ago when her sister in China wrote Mrs. Borum that her cousin now lived in Tracyton, Washington.

After a short correspondence, the cousin, Mrs. Ida Boyer, came to Floydada for a visit. The two women had a wonderful time visiting, with Mrs. V. Andrews included, too. Mrs. Boyer is also kin to her. Their visit was cut short by the death of one of Mrs. Boyer's best friends, but the cousins plan to keep in touch with each other a little better in the future.

Low MORE with LESS POWER

A Krause One-Way, by actual field test, has less draft than other one-way plows. That means more plowing with less power. And in addition a Krause gives you a uniformly level seeded field through heavy stubble and weeds to give you a chopped-up field that is near perfect for topsoil protection . . . gives you a field summer-fallowing tool. You gain many other advantages, too, with a Krause. Check the features. Compare. Talk to your neighbors who use Krause One-Ways. If you do, it'll be Krause for you.

Happy Day, Pop; Mom, Where's My New Swim Suit?

Father will get a warm reception in all Floyd county homes Sunday as the high plains lapses into some of the highest temperatures that have been recorded for June during the last few years.

These Floyd county people seem to celebrate this holiday quietly — the average family going to church to hear one of the "Give Dad the biggest pieces of chicken on his day" sermons, and then gathering with all the local friends and relations for the big Sunday dinner.

After such a dinner, most of the families will be too drowsy to mind, there being no particularly exciting places nearby to spend their time and money that afternoon, and will spend the evening talking and visiting until time to hunt an inviting swimming place.

Southwestern

county people and to patrons of Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative is that there is going to be ample energy for all needs as the need comes along. This southwestern giant is committed to the proposition that they have selected the best area in all the United States to spend their money and serve a clientele. If the southwest fails they are goners, too. If it wins, they win, too, — unless something better comes along and makes their investment obsolete.

Flight Over the Plains Area
A possible flight over their territory would take one from Floydada to Tucco, to Denver City, to Carlsbad, to Roswell, to Clovis, to Amarillo, Borger - Phillips, Guymon, Oklahoma, back by way of Pampa and all the intervening little cities of promise. And in every nook and cranny of that vast area, which widens out on the north to take care of Dalhart and other communities, there is a possibility of something new developing. The Southwestern believes that if something has not already happened to make his area the country's most blessed it certainly is going to happen, sooner or later.

Half a Million in Floyd
Already in the project has been more than $300,000 spent in Floyd county, and during the period of the next 18 months this amount will have been increased to more than half a million. The company must care for Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative. Will every home with electric current have automatic cooling and heating within the next 10 years? They must meet the demands of their industrial customers in Floydada, Lockney, Aiken, Dougherty, South Plains, McCoy, et cetera, et cetera. They must make power available to the new gin at Barwise if demanded. They must spend more money for betterments of their line serving Floydada. They must increase the voltage of their lines so as to get more power thru the same wires. All of this calls for spending money.

Today they have found the investment pays, so far as their accountants can guess. You figure and you figure, you estimate and you guess. You arrive at the conclusion you can make a return on your investment without increasing the charges. Maybe 15 years of experience will prove you are right. Possibly it will not. No figures are absolute because no estimator can forecast the future. And it is the future of the southwest that Southwestern is betting on. So the reporter gathers from looking, observing and talking.

Principal factors in what will happen to such a unit as the $65 million dollar Southwestern are the cost of money, the cost of fuel, right cycle of costs, right investment. Wrong cycle, bad investment. That's about the story.

What the whole thing means to Floyd county people may be summed up briefly. If we are right, Southwestern is right. If we are wrong, Southwestern's stockholders made a bad bet. They have a bevy of career men who are directors and managers. They are out "on the field." They might have some difficulty finding their ways about in a skyscraper until they learned which edge to punch. But they do know how to produce electrical energy, how to make friends and influence people, how to evaluate a faller summer, how to work out cost-saving methods.

The officials of the company speak of a "backbone" of their system, of a little Pittsburg at Borger, of untold possibilities in the New Mexico-Texas area around the boundary line, of what may be the demand in the irrigation section of Floyd and Hale counties of more natural gas areas that may be opened, of more oil fields that may develop. And are their managers all optimistic and eager, each urging his own sector? You have to bet on that kind of an organization. You must not sell them short. So says the reporter who may have oversold himself. Nobody did anything to him but let him look.

Floyd County Spending
Detailed expenditures in Floyd county run from $200 on a small improvement to $32,000 or more for something bigger. The whole bill runs at this time to $320,000 plus. It will be more than $500,000 not so long hence.

Shielded Line to Floydada
One of the things that is the worry of the electric energy supplier is lightning. Shielded lines are the only answer at this time. And the worst area in the whole system is the Tucco area. Shielded lines are being installed. A shielded line is one which is protected from the blasts of lightning. Floydada patrons of the system will have the advantage of such a system soon. The line from Lockney to Floydada is being discarded for larger line and while it is being installed a considerable coat of shield will be provided above it. This shield will cut out many a lightning bolt that formerly dealt misery to the electric user in Floydada. A re-location on lines is also in the schedule, say Southwestern officials.

The following is a list of projects completed during the past year in Floyd County or in the process of being completed at the present time. The estimated cost of each of these projects is also shown.

WHAT EVERY TEXAN SHOULD KNOW ABOUT BINDWEED

1. The bindweed blooms are white or pinkish and resemble a small morning glory. The leaves have an arrowlike base and are variable in size and shape.
2. Bindweeds are costing the people of the Panhandle more than a million dollars this year. (Surveys show that more than 50,000 acres are infested with bindweeds which means no crop. Suppose it produced 20 bushels of wheat per acre or 1,000,000 bushels at $2.00 per bushel.)
3. Bindweeds are almost impossible to eradicate or kill.
4. 2,4-D does not kill the bindweed, but it does keep it from seeding and spreading.
5. Soil sterilization by salt or sodium chlorate does kill bindweed.
6. Soil sterilization is very expensive and it encourages erosion.
7. The chlorates are poisonous to livestock, and they are very dangerous as fire hazards. Chlorates are not available in quantities which would be needed.
8. Clean cultivation with plow and hoe at 10 to 14 day intervals for two years does eradicate the weed.
9. Bindweed spreads largely by seed.
10. Bindweed seed are spread in garden and field seed. Bindweed seeds were first brought to this country from Russia in wheat seed.
11. Bindweed seed have been known to lay dormant in the soil for 20 years and sprout to a good stand.
12. Bindweed seed are often spread by transient combines.
13. The people who have bindweed should be more interested than

FLORAL HYBRIDS COMING

Breeding of many kinds of flowering plants to be grown from seed in the home garden can follow the lines that proved so successful in development of hybrid corn, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. S. L. Ensweller, specialist in this type of work at Plant Industry Station at Beltsville, Md., reports:

"A technique that is just coming into use in flower breeding is the utilization of hybrid vigor. When two plants of different lines are crossed with one another, the resulting hybrid is often more vigorous than either parent.

"The chance of obtaining greatly increased vigor usually increases the more the parent plants differ from each other. Thus more vigor and larger flowers is likely to result from crossing a tall, red-flowered snapdragon with one that is short and bears white flowers, than from crossing two tall reds.

"As a rule, a considerable number of potential parent lines should be inbred for 5 to 7 generations. All possible combinations should then be made until the best are determined. From then on the breeder need only maintain his chosen inbred lines and make the hybrids whatever he wishes. As long as he maintained control of his inbred lines he would have a monopoly of the hybrid produced.

"Florists are willing to pay good prices for high-quality seed, and the development of such inbred lines and hybrids should prove profitable. This method is only feasible with plants usually grown from seed, and especially those that produce many seeds per capsule."

Publisher's Inferiority Complex Gets Big Boost From Sunday Listeners on KGNC Broadcast

(Crowded Out Last Week)

Radio listeners to KGNC out of Amarillo, who heard a belated broadcast Sunday morning from that station before Sunday school time, have been telling the publisher of The Hesperian, Homer Steen, that he did a good job when he mixed fact and fancy about the county and some of the people in it, on a program called "Down Panhandle Publisher's Lane". The broadcast, set for an April issue date, was put on in June. It was untimely but apparently many people are kind in their appraisal of such matters. Many have called this week to say the publisher of The Hesperian did a grand job.

COOPERATING WITH FARMERS

Farming, in all its phases, is one of the big sources of wealth in this section.

We wish to encourage our farmer friends to adopt better business methods, to use good seed and fertilizer, to take proper care of farm machinery, and to diversify, so as to have more than one source of income.

We are ready to make loans to responsible farmers for productive purposes, where farm inventories and good management assure safety of the loans.

If you have a problem of farm financing at this time, a talk with us may help you.

None have been particularly critical, to the amazement of the newspaperman.

I want to thank you, said L. G. Withers, for being so truthful in your broadcast, especially for saying the GIs couldn't expect to have an easy way of getting into the farming business in Floyd county. Right now things are not right for a beginner in the farming business here, is Mr. Withers' belief. He said he liked all the boost stuff the newspaperman put out about the county and the people in it.

Took the Bits in His Mouth
According to most of the (partial) local listeners the newspaper man just took the bits in his mouth and ran away with the broadcast for the full 30 minutes. George Young was the interviewer but he didn't get a look-in. It is a matter for the books when an interviewee "out talks" George Young, said a newspaperman, Clyde Warwick, of the Canyon News, secretary of the Panhandle Press association. The Floydada publisher "let them have both barrels", he claims. There wasn't anybody present to deny a thing and nobody to look him in the eye and cause cast-down eyes when the fact and fancy poured forth.

Least local praise came from J. G. Wood, real estate man, who opined The Hesperian man was a bit late with his program. "I guess it was all right," said Wood. Others also stressed the fact that the newspaperman could have been on time for once, but had no criticism to offer, otherwise.

Made Them Want to Move Here
Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McNeill said they would have moved to Floyd county at once after hearing the Floydada man talk, if they hadn't already lived here. They thought The Hesperian man's warning to youngsters getting into the farming business about buying high-priced leases was timely. "Not a chance if you don't already have a foothold," they said.

John B. Stapleton, district attorney, heard most of the broadcast. It was a pretty honest sort of thing, he thought, to be a booster talk from start to finish. He found an error, however. The publisher spoke of Andrew J. Floyd when it should have been Doniphon Floyd, Alamo martyr, for whom the county was named, and also called attention to the matter of how the town of Floydada came to be named. An official version on the county's records that goes into every abstract of title, has an affidavit from Claude V. Hall saying how the naming came about. The publisher quoted another version and mentioned that there were other stories, one of which might be true.

Others who said kindly things about the broadcast included Claud Patton, A. L. Hartzog, Mrs. John F. Lewis of Lewis ranch, and Mayor F. C. Harmon.

N. W. Williams and Kyle Glover at Floydada post office heard the program and were all smiles about it. Mrs. Barbara H. Smith thanked the newspaper man for his effort. Leonard Matsler said he thought the publisher mentioned everything that could be said about Floydada or Floyd county except the carrot crop. Reminding the publisher he related that the county agent, the school system and I. T. Graves, the printers, and everybody was praised except the restaurant man. "I don't think Leonard's was mentioned," he said.

Many others, Robt. McGuire among them, said things about the interview that helped the publisher's inferiority complex.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. King left Friday morning to attend the Cumberland Presbyterian General assembly in Nashville, Tennessee.

They visited until Monday with their son, W. Alpha King, in Fort Worth. The remainder of the week was spent in Little Rock with their daughter, Mrs. Johnny Hill. The assembly will begin around the end of this week.

Billy Joe Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Smith, sr., who underwent an appendectomy recently at West Texas hospital in Lubbock, has been returned home and is recovering satisfactorily.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

Taken from the files of The Floyd County Hesperian published 14 years ago. (Issue of June 21, 1934)

E. S. Randerson, sheriff of Floyd county, is on the road to recovery this week. His car struck a tree 18 miles east of El Paso, when the car swerved to avoid hitting a horse.

Beginning July 1, deposits up to $5000 in banks of the country will be secured under provisions of the law creating the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation.

A "Greased Pig Race" will be featured in the next Neighbor day. It is scheduled to be held Wednesday morning on the show grounds south of Willson and Son Lumber company.

Honoring Mrs. Dee Garner following her recent marriage, the Hester West Missionary society of the First Methodist church entertained Friday night with a miscellaneous shower in the church parlor.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin S. Miller and children, Welborn and Elnora, spent Saturday and Sunday at Claud, Texas, as the guest of Mrs. Miller's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Duke. G. C. Tubbs and E. W. Henderson attended the annual meetings of the Lubbock Royal Arch chapter and council held in Lubbock.

After suffering defeat at the hands of the Rotarians Monday afternoon, the Methodist came back strong Monday night to gain revenge by beating the Merchants 15 to 9.

Honoring her niece, Billie Max Snodgrass of Houston, Mrs. Frank L. Moore entertained Friday evening of last week with a party.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie W. Hill, who spent the last winter at Bethel College, McKenzie, Tennessee, returned home last week and plan to spend the summer here.

Judge L. G. Mathews spent Tuesday morning in Plainview on business.

The four-legged chicken brought to the Hesperian office last week by Marion Carpenter, died at the Floydada hatchery after it had been there only one day.

A survey of surplus property inventory indicated this week that the Grand Prairie region still contains approximately one third of the entire nation's government owned real property. That is, of an estimated two and a half billion dollars worth of real estate now in WAA inventory nationally, approximately $875,000,000 worth is located in the five states of the southwest. Much of the large valuation is due to the fact that the region contained nearly half of the nation's surplus airport property, a considerable part of which has been disposed of. And most of the remaining industrial property consists of so-called "scrambled facilities", difficult to dispose of because ownership of the land, buildings and improvements is divided between the government and other owners.

Nine chapels, located at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Little Rock, Arkansas, are being offered to priority groups, including non-profit institutions such as churches. The churches are for offsite use only. Applications, submitted on special forms, will be considered at WAA's Grand Prairie office of real property disposal until June 25 for priorities and until July 15 for all others.

Aid to stricken flood sufferers in the Pacific Northwest came from War Assets Administration this week in the form of 24 carloads of surplus house trailers. The house trailers, located at a federal housing project in San Antonio, were turned over to the Federal Works Agency for distribution. WAA's okay also was placed on a $24,000 donation to Southern Methodist University, Dallas, this week.

NEW FORD TO BE SEEN FIRST TIME JUNE 18th

The 1949 Ford, which reveals a departure from traditional styling and engineering has made public today by the Motor company.

Standards of beauty, comfort, and performance in the Ford passenger cars advance far ahead of others in the low-price field. J. R. Davis, vice-president and director of sales and advertising, said, "Styling of the new definitely establishes it as the car of the year."

Develop and produce the 1949 passenger cars, Ford Motor Company has expended more than $10,000 in tools, dies, jigs and fixtures.

B. Bishop, of the Bishop Motor Company, who attended the unveiling of the 1949 Ford, said yesterday that one of the new models will be shown in the sales rooms beginning tomorrow.

The smooth, flowing lines of the 1949 Ford passenger cars are accentuated by the simplicity of the air-scoop grille. Fresh air for the pressurized ventilation system also enters through the grille.

The modern design is molded along functional lines. The grille is distinctive, the massive but shorter fenders and the wide rear fenders have eliminated. There are clean, uncluttered lines from front to rear.

Comfort has been one of the primary objectives of the Ford. There is more room in the "lounge car" interiors than in many cars with much larger overall dimensions.

A new type of suspension system — "hydra-coil" springs — replace the traditional transverse springs and the front axle. This system is centered around airplane type shock absorbers mounted within low frequency coil springs. In the rear, extra long longitudinal springs are complemented by airplane shock absorbers.

A new heating system available in the new Fords brings year around comfort to drivers and passengers. Fresh air is scooped into the car through large intakes just behind the grille.

The system, which has an automatic temperature control, can be used as a fresh air ventilator, a fresh air heater or as a recirculator heater.

ECONOMY — Economy of operation has been increased up to 10 per cent improvement in gasoline mileage for the new six-cylinder engine and the extensively redesigned V-8. Both are offered as power plants in all Ford models. Other engineering features result in better performance and longer engine life.

The new "equal-flow" cooling system contributes to good performance under extreme conditions by improving general operating efficiency. Water flows in volume the full length of the block.

Improvements in the ignition system also have contributed to increased economy and efficiency.

As much as 25 per cent improvement in gasoline economy may be achieved by taking advantage of the overdrive which is available as factory-installed optional equipment.

SAFETY — New standards of safety have been set in the rugged construction of the chassis and body.

Lowering the over-all height by four inches and placing the seats between the axles results in a lower center of gravity, and aid in safe driving.

The windshield has been increased in height and width and the rear window now provides "picture window" visibility for driver and passengers.

All doors hinge at the front.

PERFORMANCE — Increased performance values are one of the highlights of the new cars.

Steering has been greatly improved. The new Ford may be guided by a minimum of effort even under severe wind conditions.

Engineering changes in the engines, some of them already mentioned, contribute to smoothness of operation.

The 114-inch wheelbase, convenient for parking and moving through heavy traffic, has been retained.

The new six develops 95-horsepower, providing better acceleration in passing and heavy traffic. The V-8 develops 100-horsepower.

Chrome trim, both inside and out, has been reduced.

There are two lines of cars, the Ford and the Ford Custom. Both styles in both lines include the four door sedan, two-door sedan and club coupe. Convertible and station wagon models are obtained only in the Custom line and the three passenger coupe only in the Ford line.

There is a very narrow margin between keeping your chin up and sticking your neck out.

'Shooting' Started Yesterday on Road South to Lakeview

After ten years of work on seven miles of road, the highway department begins shooting asphalt to the Lakeview road yesterday.

"That's not bad—" Jim Potts, the highway commissioner, drawled. "Just a little less than a mile a year."

The department hasn't been at fault though, as this might lead you to believe. Much of this time has been spent arranging the legal things that must be done before a road can be built. Then much time had to be spent surveying. The road will probably be finished this month, if the weather allows.

The Crosbyton road to the Big Four school house was started on Monday. This should be finished by the first of September. Again the weatherman will have the final say.

Judge Chapman

He said "It's no use now. You're too late."

The charge on which the defendant was being tried was for the shooting and beating of a man named Francis Bell on July 12. Bell later married Hostetter's estranged common law wife. The jury had just returned a verdict of 10 years in the penitentiary.

Gave Her A Pistol
Hostetter's trial began Thursday morning. There were few witnesses. The defendant on the stand said that Bell frequently visited their home but his common law wife denied there was anything between her and Bell. Hostetter had given her a pistol for her protection. After he and his wife had broken off relations, Hostetter related that he saw her and Bell and another woman together. He went home, got the pistol, and fired at Bell several times. Five shots took effect but when Bell didn't fall he beat him over the head with the pistol. Bell lived to take the stand against his assailant. Hostetter related the details of the attack on Bell with relish said Judge Chapman. It was after the shooting that the common law wife got her divorce and married Bell.

Most Grievous Experience
"In all my experience the suicide in the court room was the most grievous thing I ever saw," related the judge. "The defendant repeatedly cut and slashed at his throat and practically severed his own head from his body, cutting jugular vein, windpipe and all, as he swiped a little black handled knife back and forth and fought off officers, who were caught unaware by the unusual turn of events. Finally a big Texas Ranger covered the furious defendant as he slumped down from loss of blood, and tried to quench the ebbing life flow. But it was too late."

An ambulance was hurriedly called, the dying man was rushed to the hospital. About all left to do was for court attaches to clean up the big mess the man had left. Gore was all over the floor and counsel tables.

Then He Got Nauseated
Judge Chapman related he was unaware he was nervous over the tragedy. He thought he was cool and collected. He went about his business, entering some court orders in uncontested matters for a half hour or more. But as the day waned he began to feel sick and as his nerves began to relax he became very ill and went to his room. "It was quite a little bit before I felt right again," he said.

Judge Chapman had been assigned to the bench at Odessa for five days to relieve the trial judge in clearing up a congested docket. Prior to the Hostetter case he had finished up a trial Tuesday night for Judge Collings in which a man was given a life sentence for the slaying of his twin brother. Judge Chapman finished his work Saturday morning before leaving for home.

Odessa is the county seat of Ector county. It is about 190 miles from Floydada and the center of an oil field that has developed sensationally in the past eight years. It had a population of 9,576 in 1940. Present estimated population is 30,000. Some of the finest people in the world live there. There are also some residents with reputations not so savory. It has some pretty rugged individuals. You go from Floydada by way of Brownfield, Seminole and Andrews to reach Odessa.

The court room suicide got big headlines in all the regional press and as far east as Fort Worth it was played up in the daily press.

Among the onlookers at the suicide were the defendant's two attorneys. One of them fled the court room, while the other, too dumfounded to realize the development of events, sat in his chair during the whole time. Judge Chapman said there was no question of dereliction of duty on the part of officials. The defendant had been searched at every convening of the court for weapons by the official waiting on the court. It was a bailable case and the defendant had his liberty on bond. A bit of a pocket knife was not considered a weapon. The judge later learned, he said, the defendant had spent some hours making it razor sharp and had boasted to his lawyers, who did not realize his meaning, that they need not worry about him having to go to the state penitentiary. The court reporter is quoted as having told the press the defendant cried out, "I don't want to go. I never violated any law. None of my family ever went to the penitentiary." Judge Chapman said he did not hear any of this.

Wheat Harvest

A good deal of the wheat in the Barwise vicinity is ready for the harvest but some will be several days yet, perhaps a week, depending on the weather.

Biggest Run Next Week
Opinions vary greatly as to the dry land farmers and the folks who are most concerned about them this week, the elevator men.

Floyd county won't realize when their peak of the harvest comes this year after the long lines and endless waiting of last year. According to some elevators though, they expect the bulk of the harvest to come in about next Tuesday.

There is nothing consistent about this harvest. While some farmers are struggling to make four bushels on their dry-land wheat, Clarence Guffee and Mark Martin will make from 15 to 20 bushels on their lake lands.

Little Wheat Is Shipped
Only three car loads had been shipped yet from Floydada Monday. These were from the Producers elevator.

Floydada Veteran N-Tac Valedictori'n

Harry C. Lane, who lives on Route 1, Floydada, was valedictorian of the June graduating class of 208 students at North Texas Agricultural college.

With 18 A's and 4 B's, Harry had an average of 93.1 and 197 grade points. His major was Agricultural education.

"We are proud of Mr. Lane's record, and would be glad to have more students like him," said Otis Lyon, assistant registrar at NTAC.

Harry graduated from the Post High school in 1946, and his family moved to Floydada a few years after that. He is 24 years old, the oldest of seven children, and a veteran of the last war.

John Hinsley Was Ward Graduate

Someone mis-averaged the grades, and as a result John Hinsley had to sit and watch his class file by on the night he should have graduated from the eighth grade.

After the other boys and girls were proudly displaying their shiny new diplomas, some teacher happened to re-average some grades and found that John Hinsley did graduate after all.

Now John has his diploma just like the rest of his classmates, but he missed the goal they all worked for - graduation night.

John, the teachers and faculty of Andrews Ward apologize to you.

HALF-WAY TAX PAYMENTS

Only one person in Floyd county hasn't paid his half-way tax payments, proudly states Ed Ham, tax assessor - collector.

The thing just as well mentioned under the above plan Floyd county is that only three people elected to pay under the way plan last fall.

Under this system of payment half of the taxes are paid in December, and the other half due have to be turned in sometime in June, during which they are completely interest penalty free.

EGGS

Now that summer is here let us all pull together and keep Floyd county on the map by selling GOOD EGGS.

Wash all dirty eggs in moist cloth, then dry. Keep all pee-wee eggs at home. Use cracked eggs at home. Place the little end of all eggs down in case.

See that the cup side of case flat is up.

Gather eggs twice daily. Keep plenty shell for sale. Sell all roosters. Do not keep eggs on stove.

Market eggs twice weekly. We will do our part if you will yours.

We now have cold stored and intend to pay off for GOOD EGGS

Place Salt Body When Days Come

There is little that summer is here. If you think so, take a quick look at the thermometer or feel your shirt. The chances are that it will be hot and salty with sweat. Sweating means the loss of salt. Dr. George W. Cox, Health Officer, advises that salt in drinking water as a means of avoiding heat cramps. A prominent constituent says Dr. Cox. "On days when the thermometer goes to 90 or above, as it has recently, you may lose as much as fifty grains of salt. Laborers, farmers, and white-collar workers should be especially watchful of heat cramps are characterized by pain in the stomach, headaches, sometimes nausea and vomiting. The danger comes because the salt may occur without knowledge of the individual. Deficiency causes cramps or dizziness. Tablets may be purchased if they are not available. A pinch of table salt will serve the purpose. Drinking milk is an excellent means of replacing body salt lost in perspiration." Dr. Cox says, "Salty drinks should be avoided."

Mr. and Mrs. Robertson visited with their son, Harold, and family, Sunday.

The carpenter, we haven't learned his name yet, building the houses on the Stringer farm, has his wife and baby here now from Dallas, Texas.

Miss Norman Alexander went to Tulsa, Texas, over the week-end. Oscar Alexander is having a headache trying to take care of all the alfalfa since the rain began.

Well, the folks are watching the buildings going up on the gin site for cotton pickers.

Now graduate...

For protection "to the Nth degree," OIL-PLATE your engine with Conoco Nth Motor Oil! Drain out old, worn-out oil... and refill with new, fresh Conoco Nth!

Nth Oil (Patented) contains an added ingredient that fastens an extra-film of lubricant so closely to metal that working parts are OIL-PLATED! And because extra OIL-PLATING clings to cylinder walls... won't all drain down, even overnight... you get extra protection from "dry-friction" starts... from metal-eating combustion acids... from power-clogging sludge and carbon due to wear!

For full-time protection and more miles per quart, smart motorists will now graduate...
