TRACTORS AND MACHINES WORK IN WHITE AND WATER-LOGGED FIELDS

Fact that a very high per cent of Floyd county wheat had been harvested and marketed when the week ended does not mean that the fields of wheat were not still being done when Monday came. The fields are small, and in some the grain is still green, in others the ground so water-logged that the machinery bogged down Monday morning dawned on a scene that seemed to be some 40,000 years in the category of delayed harvest. Likewise a considerable amount of other grain including sorghum was yet to be harvested. This was particularly true of fields in the southeast of Floydada. The combine ran Sunday in some places to get the late wheat into bins before the rain or weeds kept the crop from being harvested. The big-yeilding wheat were done last week for the most part, but these late fields are being done poorly by the owners of crops.

Wheat in Windrows
The most unusual season there has been in some green wheat, which is not yet ready for the harvest. In other places, some operations will be cutting the grain and standing up as they follow up on the water lines of surface. Some very fine wheat will be on the market in that manner due to the high water delays.

Some of the more unusual harvests of the year has been the growing of crops which were in ripening when the weather turned to fall. John P. would begin to fall. John P. is one Floydada resident who has had quite a bit of his late crop. He has had quite a bit of his late crop. He has had quite a bit of his late crop. He has had quite a bit of his late crop.

What the total increase in tax-able renditions for Floyd county may prove to be following the meeting of the Commissioners court last week-end as a board of equalization, had not been determined this week. In fact a total will not be made for some days, possibly, due to the fact that some rendition sheets are still to be passed upon.

A court on Thursday was swamped by taxpayers who wanted to see what changes the board proposed to make in their valuations. Pridaysun was a little lighter. Due to the busy season some taxpayers have dates with the court for a later date when they will be less crowded with their work incidental to the harvest. Their number is not large, said Judge Tubbs yesterday.

Some increases are due to show up on the rolls in the form of changes and new tax renditions on utilities, railways, oil company property, oil leases and royalties. Representatives of King, Lathem, Shultz & company, a Dallas firm of engineers, sat in with the court in the consideration of a moderate net increase in values. A moderate net increase in tax payments to the county is due to be found when the totals are run.

In the main individual taxpayers appear to have been hit lightly and an occasional rendition was lowered where values did not justify assessments made on the original renditions.

Fourth of July Quiet Day Here

Members of Floydada Fire department will sponsor the dance to be held on the night of July 4 at the American Legion hall, said Carl Rodgers, chief of the department, this week. An orchestra made up of advanced students at West Texas State college, will play for the dance. The orchestra is said to be a very good one. Rodgers expects a big attendance. For a number of clerical workers in Floydada the week-end and Monday, July 4, combined will make a two-day and a half interlude in their business activities. These include bank and post office employees and workers with governmental agencies.

Make a Big Yield
One of the many high-yield averages reported from the year's operations was on the farm of J. V. Nelson, of Amarillo. Nelson finished a 551-acre field near Lone Star early and it averaged 32.1 bushels per acre for the entire field. Later cutting in another field of about the same size belonging to Nelson yielded upward of 25 bushels average. "That's the biggest crop of wheat I have ever raised," said Mr. Nelson here last week. Nelson contracted cutting and hauling to a custom crew on the first 551-acre field and found it a quite satisfactory arrangement, he said.

Barley yields have been gratifying for the most part. Randal King, on his father's 40-acre field southwest of Floydada, had probably 35 bushels. Randal found a place for the barley by loading it on two six-wheelers and wheeling it off to Fort Worth.

Meningitis Takes J. M. Floyd, Junior Monday Morning

Funeral services were held at the First Methodist church, Lockney, Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for John Marvin Floyd, Jr., age 22. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Floyd of Lockney.

Rev. N. S. Daniel, pastor of the church, officiated, and burial was made in the Lockney cemetery, under the direction of Carter Funeral home there.

J. M. was born March 21, 1927, in Lockney, where he had lived all of his life. He graduated from the Lockney high school. He also served in the U. S. Army for some time, and at the time of his death, he was employed by the Brunner Lumber company.

Mr. Floyd became ill Sunday evening, and after becoming worse, was taken to the Veteran's hospital in Amarillo by the Carter Funeral home ambulance.

J. M. died unexpectedly Monday morning at 10 o'clock. His case was diagnosed as spinal meningitis. His only immediate survivors are his parents, and one sister, Mrs. Shirley Robertson of Olton.

School Administrators Pore Over Provisions of Gilmer-Aiken Laws

While school men pondered and asked questions raised in their minds by provisions of the new school law in Texas, known as the Gilmer-Aiken law, and a conference of school administrators of the area is called to be held tomorrow and Saturday at Plainview, local school people this week had come to the conclusion that Floydada Independent School district most likely would not be adversely affected so far as keeping the doors open and proceeding with scholastic work as usual next September.

While definite information in the hands of members of the school board and the superintendent was so meager that none were willing to be quoted directly, it appears that the district's tax rate and valuations are such as to provide the funds necessary to meet the requirements of the new law, for the present at least, to get funds provided in the statute. If this proves to be correct the school will be helped, not harmed by the new law. There are any number of questions, however, which have not been answered as yet and further enlightenment on what various provisions of the law may call for, will be sought by the local authorities.

Some of the other schools of the county, Lockney in particular, may fare better under the new school law than it appeared at first blush.

Administrators to Confer
Announcement made this week by County Superintendent Clarence Guffee of a conference of school administrators to be held tomorrow and Saturday in Plainview indicates that school men of the area are alert to the administrative problems in the new statute. Superintendent Guffee anticipates that all school administrators in the county will likely attend this conference. The conference will be attended by an area-wide representation from Parnell, Castro, Swisher, Briscoe, Hall, Childress, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley, Cottle, Hardeman and Foard counties. Every county superintendent and district superintendent is expected to be present. All of these have questions the answers to which they hope will be developed in this area wide conference. The meeting begins at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Consolidations A Must
Meanwhile there has appeared no likelihood that the mandate of the law as to district consolidations may have been misunderstood. School districts which have not operated schools the past two years will be annexed to an adjacent district which has had an active school. The non-operating schools are referred to in the law as "dormant". The requirement is that the county school board must take official action which will annex these "dormant" schools to an adjoining district where there is an active school. Among the districts which have not operated within the past two years in this county and which have not voted consolidation or annexation to some other school in the county are the following:

Liberty, Blanco, Harmony, Pleasant Hill, Antelope, Hillcrest, Fairmount, Edgin. Campbell, Baker, Lakeview, Sand Hill, are among the common school districts which have had active schools the past year, as also consolidated districts at South Plains and Dougherty.

One school district in the county which did not operate last year but has not been "dormant" for two years is Fairview. The presumption is that this district will not be required to be consolidated with another district.

With so many questions to be settled and with numerous actions required of school officials yet to be done it appeared here this week that scholastic matters are due to have high ranking in the subjects which will occupy the public mind in the next several weeks.

So'western Makes Study of Floydada Distribution Lines

Harry Webber, field engineer of the Southwestern Public Service company, is due to finish a study of the present distribution system of the company in Floydada this mid-week and will prepare a report to his superiors with recommendations later. Webber's work here will include a field inventory. Re-building of the system serving this community is in prospect as a budgetary operation within the near future, possibly within 12 months, said George Caven, manager of the company here yesterday. Webber has been associated with Southwestern Public Service company for a number of years.

MOVEMENT OF GRAIN CARS SLOWED, NORTH PLAINS CROPS MAKE DEMAND ON RAILWAYS

After a survey made yesterday morning by Chamber of Commerce Secretary Robert Crowell and County Agent Bob Gibson, a report was made that wheat harvest in Floyd is 85-88% complete. Most of the considerable improvement over previous crops in this county said Mr. Gibson. The storage shortage is still a predominant factor to the wheat farmer, and many permanent and temporary granaries and bins are being used for wheat in the Government loan.

Yesterday at noon, 403 cars had been shipped from Floyd county. The wheat lines seen at Floyd county elevators, often extending several blocks, caused many farmers to unload their grain until they could get it into the elevators. The yields are from six to thirty bushels per acre. The average yield is expected to be around 18-20 bushels, which is extra good considering the excessive rainfall and hail in many parts of the county. Nearly all elevators are filled, and movement of cars are slowing considerably due to harvest getting into full swing in other areas.

Some wheat is still on the ground, but the wheat farmer doesn't worry about his stalks getting beaten, washed, or blown to the ground, and is mighty lucky to have that "gold looking stuff" so near his bank account.

Early Settlement of Fire Insurance Claims is Expected
Expectation is that a settlement will be made Tuesday of next week on fire insurance claims of the county for the damage to court house and contents in the fire of the morning of March 11. County Judge G. C. Tubbs said the commissioners and the adjuster for the insurance companies had reached a general understanding and he anticipates they will have no difficulty reaching an agreement for settlement. Aggregate of the insurance carried was $225,000 of which $200,000 covered on the building and $25,000 on contents. An offer on the court house adjustment made by the adjuster estimated the building loss at a figure slightly less than $110,000.

King Funeral Monday

Robert Pierce King, veteran food dealer of Floydada, lost his battle for life on the thirteenth day after he suffered burns over 65 per cent of his body on Monday, July 12. Mr. King died Saturday night at 10:15 in Peoples hospital.

The tragic manner of his injury and the spirited struggle against odds which he made to live made his daily progress a matter of concern in practically every household in the community. He gave up the battle Saturday morning and told his family he expected to live but a few hours longer.

Meanwhile skill of staff members of the hospital was added to by telephoned advice from numerous specialists, whose aid was sought. Medicines, hopefully expected to be helpful, were flown in by plane.

Funeral rites were held Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the First Baptist church after the body had lain in state at Harmon Funeral home during the day Monday. Rev. A. A. Collins, of Levelland, former pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here, officiated. Rev. A. A. Durrant, of Garden City, present pastor of the church, aided in the service. Mr. King had been an official of the Cumberland Presbyterian church here for many years.

A score or more of the communities of the county were represented in the audience which attended the last rites. Harmon Funeral home had charge of the rites. A military salute at the graveside marked his passing. He was a trainee when World War I came to a close.

Not only had Mr. King been prominent in local food distributing circles. He had also engaged in farming in this and adjacent communities since the days of his youth here. His acquaintanceship was wide and he had made many personal contacts throughout the years of his business career which came to a dramatic close when he walked into the hospital a badly burned man two weeks ago.

Burned While Servicing Tractor
Mr. King's fatal burns came when he was servicing a tractor on his farm four miles west of Floydada. He had gone to the field to carry lunch to an employee, Buddy Jenkins, colored, and to check on the operation of the machinery. He was unaware that his clothing the night of the tragic event. He ran from an expected explosion when gasoline spilled on a hot tractor manifold. Jenkins followed and threw the burning man to the ground and helped extinguish the blaze. King's clothing was practically burned from his body, and his face and neck were seared as well. Jenkins drove his employer to the hospital in the latter's car as quickly as he could after the accident. Friends went to the scene of the fire several minutes later and extinguished the flames of the gasoline fire. An open vent prevented the gas tank from exploding as pressure pushed the burning vapor from the tank.

Little hope had been held out to the family from the beginning that the victim of the accident would survive it was said. Hospital authorities are said to have told the family that recovery would be unlikely. However as the battle for survival extended itself into the second week a somewhat more hopeful attitude was taken by relatives. In the mid-week it became apparent that only unusually good fortune would see the victim through.

Noises in the cities on the east-coast seaboard are somewhat confusing the Alton Chapmans found on their sojourn in the east from which they returned to the noise-free plains country Saturday night after attending the Rotary International convention in New York City and spending several days seeing the country and listening to the voices of the people.

In particular the Chapmans enjoyed a few days at Washington, D. C., where Representative George Mahon introduced Judge Chapman when he was presented to the U. S. Supreme court applying for a license to practice before that court. Mahon is a very busy man but he manages to get around and do the things the homefolks ask him to do, said Judge Chapman. Judge Chapman saw the august high court march into their morning session and begin their deliberations on the day he was presented.

"When we begin to fear for our country it is a comforting thing to realize that we have such men as Mahon and Worley and Gossett there looking after their country's interest. They are fellows just like us and they are alert to the facts of government and industry," said Judge Chapman of the scene in Washington. "They are a lot noisier back east than we are but these representatives of the people have their fingers on the pulse of things and they are not going to let the noise-makers influence affairs unduly if they can help it."

Of their stay in New York City, where they attended the sessions of Rotary International as representatives of Floydada Rotary club, Judge Chapman said it must undoubtedly have been the International convention to highlight all international conventions. It was a joy and a pleasure to fellowship with men of many nations there represented, the judge said. Many (See Chapmans Home, back page)

Radios Come High When You Steal 'em

Radios are still too high in spite of the fact that radio dealers have reduced prices. At least, they are too high if you steal 'em, like a man by the name of D. J. Ricks is charged with doing.

Ricks is in Floyd county jail to serve a 30-day sentence and has a hundred dollar fine to pay. According to the verdict found by a jury Saturday afternoon Ricks' offense was taking a radio from the home of Loyd Widener, seven miles north of Lockney. The complainant charged theft. The defendant, a colored man, was arrested in Memphis. On premission of the arresting officer there he went to the toilet but forgot to come back. It caused a bit of difficulty temporarily, it was said here.

FORTUNE HUNTERS SEEK PRIZES IN PALO DURO PARK

An average of 1,000 more visitors each week than a year ago are visiting colorful Palo Duro Canyon State Park this summer. The increase in a large measure is attributed to the quest for the gold coins of the fabulous 1949 Treasure Hunt. Some 10,000 numbered coins were dropped into the Canyon May 28 from a plane. Those ending in seven are good for 1,000 valuable prizes and all others are eligible for costly supplemental and grand prizes. The prize list totals more than $20,000 in value.

Science Finds Important Protein Factor

Protein factor supplement, which has been shown to produce new growth substance, is produced by practical use of animal nutrition. The field of animal development is a major step toward production of more meat with lower cost.

Concentrate, called APF supplement, has just been added to Pul-O-Pep poultry and hog feeds. Quaker is the first manufacturer with national distribution to offer APF supplement to feeders, according to D. W. Fyffe, D. W. Fyffe Feed Co., in Scientists say that adequate APF in animal diet is essential to growth and reproduction. In a year experiment at Iowa State College, Dr. Damon Carton says that pigs fed a ration containing APF tipped the scales at a size of 200 pounds as early as four weeks earlier than other diets.

In another project, it was learned that chickens on APF-supplemented feed gained as much as 10 per cent more weight (with as much as 10 per cent less feed) than similar birds on an un-supplemented diet.

Top quality feeds always have contained a high level of APF-bearing materials such as meat scraps and fish meal, Mr. Fyffe said. But natural sources vary widely in APF content, while the new concentrate supplies a standardized, measurable amount.

Ruminants such as cattle and sheep do not need APF in their diets, Mr. Fyffe explained. They apparently manufacture the substance in the first of their four "stomachs".

Weather Aids Construction of New Lines

More than 205,000 rural families cooperated to bring the great "hired hand" of electricity into the most isolated rural areas, and they have done it in the best tradition of American free enterprise. Every family which receives electricity from one of these cooperatives has a share in the ownership and a voice in management.

Organized for the sole purpose of extending electricity's benefits, 76 Texas rural cooperatives built electrical systems with money borrowed from the Rural Electrification Administration. Operating on a non-profit basis they are repaying the borrowed money with interest; in 1948, they paid more than $200,000 in actual taxes in support of the Government.

Real community enterprises operating for the betterment of rural living, the rural electric cooperatives have created greater farm prosperity and a big new market for growing Texas industry.

Operating under extreme weather conditions the local cooperative is slowly getting the latest construction program under way.

The Basanda Construction company, contractors for the project, to date have dug and set poles on 35 miles of line. A wire stringing crew has been stopped several times due to bad weather until recently. Better weather of the past week indicates better headway may be expected.

Drivers Ignore Traffic Signs

AUSTIN—Would you drive with your head tucked under the dashboard of your car?

It's as sensible to do that, State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer said today, as to ignore warning signs along the streets and highways. "Either one represents a case of flying blind," Greer said, "and cars aren't equipped for blind flying."

The Texas Highway Department is cooperating this month with the Texas Safety association in an effort to impress the importance of traffic markers on motorists and pedestrians alike.

"Traffic signs and signals and pavement markings cover almost every situation that can be anticipated, yet the regularity with which they are ignored is appalling," said Greer. "A conscientious observance of traffic signs would help greatly to reduce traffic accidents."

Greer pointed out that traffic signs are easily recognized by their distinctive shapes, even at a distance that makes their lettering illegible. And he urged drivers to increase their own traffic protection by learning what these shapes are.

"Round markers are used to indicate approaches to railroad crossings," he said. "The familiar 'crossbuck' marks the crossing itself. Oblong signs indicate speed limits or other regulatory instructions. Diamond shaped signs warn of danger ahead. Eight-sided signs are used only for stop signs."

The Highway Engineer emphasized that every sign has a meaning and a purpose, and is installed for the protection and guidance of the people only after study by traffic engineers has established its advisability.

More Pipe Lines for...

Good Gas Service

Over 40 miles of new transmission and distribution pipe lines have been installed by West Texas Gas Company this year. Many more miles of new lines will be installed before the end of 1949.

Many of these new pipe lines, all of which are designed to maintain good gas service, replaced smaller lines. Other new lines were extensions to serve new customers and others were designed to transport natural gas to cities and towns West Texas Gas Company serves.

The installation of pipe lines is but one of many functions of West Texas Gas Company.

This year we will invest over $2,225,000.00 in new facilities—all of which are designed to maintain good gas service, high in quality, low in price—the best bargain in your family budget.

Volunteers Put Up Big Sign For Air Traveler

Breakfast by the Chamber of Commerce was served to the volunteers of Floydada who painted the air marker on top of the Oden Chevrolet company, Tuesday morning.

Those who volunteered for the job were Bob Crowell, W. D. Burke, Bill Tanner, W. E. Garrett, Maggie Daniel, Bob Gibson and Ed McElroy. The air-marking was a joint sponsorship between the Flying Farmers organization, who furnished the paint, and the Chamber of Commerce, Bob Crowell, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, reports.

The air-marker was painted according to the Civil Aeronautics Airworthiness specifications. The name of the town, "Floydada" is written in large ten foot letters. A double circle (ten and one-half foot outer circle, eight and one-half foot inner circle) is used, denoting that the airport is not an all-weather airport.

There is also an arrow pointing in the direction of the airport; the equivalent of the distance to the airport, being one mile; also an arrow pointing due north; the latitude, 33 degrees and 49 minutes and the longitude, 101 degrees and 20 minutes. These are seven foot letters, all of which are painted gold.

Procedure For Acquiring Land Is Kept Simple

By BASCOM GILES
Commissioner of the General Land Office and Chairman of the Veterans' Land Board

(Editors Note: This is the concluding article of a series of three by Bascom Giles explaining the newly created Veterans' Land Board program.)

In keeping with the terms of the legislation creating the Texas Veterans' Land Board, its administration and operating policies will be kept as simple as the problems of this huge program will permit.

The fact that approximately 13,000 veterans have already contacted this office for information on the working details of the plan indicates the commendable desire of veterans to own a farm or ranch home under the idea originally conceived by the author five years ago.

Paper work involving application to participate has been cut to the minimum. Each successive step has been shorn of all encumbering delays.

For example, proof of the applicant's eligibility can be established by submitting a certified copy of his honorable discharge plus substantiation that the applicant was a resident of Texas at the time he entered military service and is still a legal resident at the time of application for land program benefits.

For those taking advantage of the 90 day priority offered those who have service-connected disability sustained in combat, certification of such must accompany the application.

Each veteran will be limited to one purchase not exceeding $7,500 cost to the board. He will be required to pay not less than five per cent down and execute an on-or-before note for 40 years at three per cent interest for the balance.

Should a purchaser desire to acquire a tract of land costing NOT more than $10,000 he will be required to pay the difference between $7,500 and the purchase price plus the five per cent down payment on the $7,500 loan.

He shall have served not less than 90 days on active duty in some branch of the armed services between September 16, 1940 and December 31, 1946, unless discharged sooner for service-connected disabilities. A certified copy of the applicant's honorable discharge will be required to be filed with application. In addition, a veteran who leases his land for oil or gas must apply one-half of all bonus and rentals to the retirement of his debt.

The veterans will NOT be required to live upon the property but he will NOT be permitted to dispose of it for a period of three years.

Payments of principal on note with interest will be made on a semi-annual basis. Each veteran will receive a contract of sale from the state and upon final payment he or she will be granted absolute title.

Failure to make payments when due, permits the Board to revoke the contract of purchase and to forfeit the land which can then be offered for resale to other veterans.

A veteran may reinstate his land which has been forfeited, up to the announced date of resale by payment of a penalty and placing account in good standing.

The Board in its first meeting named Alvis Vandygriff as executive secretary.

Vandygriff, an attorney, who hails from Ennis, Texas, has been serving as Chief Clerk of the General Land Office. He is a veteran of World War II having served as a Major in the Army Air Force. He was selected by the Board to direct the administrative machinery of

13th JUNE DAIRY MONTH

DAIRY FOODS

always YOUR BEST BUY

June is Dairy Month

June is Dairy Month from coast to coast. It highlights dairy foods for which housewives spend more than 15 per cent of their food budgets. In turn they get nearly 30 per cent of the food consumed annually in this country.

The physical well-being of every person, old and young, leans heavily on milk and its many products. Take fresh milk and cream, for example, about 60 million quarts are distributed through stores and doorsteps daily across the nation. Today milk consumption alone is 14 per cent higher than before World War II.

Dairy foods used in each home represent an industry that employs full time at least 1,500,000 persons and gives a livelihood to about 10 million people. In addition the industry contributes $10 billion to national commerce.

Better Boxes on Routes Are Seen by PM

An inspection of the boxes on the rural routes out of Floydada that was completed in May by Mrs. Barbara H. Smith, postmistress, revealed that the boxes are in better condition both in outward appearance and stability than they have been in years. Congratulations from Mrs. Smith go to the patrons of route 1 for leading in the number of 100 per cent boxes and to all the other patrons who cooperated in the upkeep of their boxes.

Honorable mention goes to the following patrons on route 1 for having 100 per cent boxes: O. M. McReynolds, H. L. Dunn, Tom Hall, G. E. Fuller, J. C. Garrett, R. P. King, C. O. W. Va. Mountains Kind of Deceiving Says Claud Parrish

Claud Parrish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Creed Parrish is spending the summer in West Virginia, where he is selling Bibles and "bible helps."

In a recent letter to his parents, Claud said that he was in Montgomery, West Virginia, and doing fine. He sold $200. worth of Bibles in four days. The main thing that bothers Claud is that he is homesick for the plains.

In the letter he told his mother that the hills of West Virginia are kind of deceiving. He was on foot and tried to take a short cut of five miles but got lost in those hills and walked ten miles before reaching his destination. Claud declared if he ever got back to the plains he would stay there the rest of his life.

Flea Transmits Typhus Fever

AUSTIN, TEXAS—The people of Texas have been fortunate in escaping any serious outbreaks of typhus fever this year, the total number of reported cases so far being 133. This is a gratifying decrease in the incidence of this disease, but at the same time, it is well to warn that only continued stringent rodent-control measures will hold this disease in check.

This is the advice of Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health officer, who says that "typhus is one of the most debilitating of all diseases, and the long drawn out illness results in such loss of time that this factor is usually even more expensive to the victim, than his doctor and hospital bills."

Inasmuch as typhus fever is transmitted by the rat flea, the control of typhus depends almost entirely upon ridding ourselves of rats. No garbage should be left exposed where they can get to it to feed. Granaries and feed houses should be rat-proofed so that rats are starved out. All rat harborage such as trash piles, piles of old lumber, accessible quarters in the walls and foundations of buildings and other suitable living quarters should be denied them. Houses and business buildings can be effectively rat-proofed at a comparatively low cost, and the expense is always much less than the damage that can be done by rats, and the sickness they can spread.

"When the rat is gone, typhus fever will go also," Dr. Cox said. "Keep building out, starving out, and killing out all rats, and typhus fever will no longer menace the health of our people."

THERE ARE 'NICE' SNAKES

AUSTIN, Texas—Enakins says bad as you think, says a Texas authority on snakes.

An authority on Texas snakes, Dr. W. Frank Blair explains, are only four poisonous snakes among the many that live in the state. For everyone of the poisonous coral, rattlesnake, water moccasin and copperhead snakes, ever, there are 10 non-poisonous snakes that help mankind by eating harmful insects, he points out.

His advice is: Learn to recognize the poisonous types and kill them, but let the others alone.

A Very Fine Car at a Very Low Price?

When the 1949 Pontiac was introduced, its public reception made Pontiac history. Yet today, some six months later, it still continues to grow in public popularity and demand! For this extraordinary situation, there is a very simple and obvious reason. This big, distinctively styled beauty enables people to enjoy fine car ownership at a very low price.

Powered by the world's sweetest engine, it provides fine car performance wherever you drive. Its handsomely appointed Fisher body affords fine car spaciousness and fine car atmosphere. Because of the exclusive Travelux Ride, Pontiac comfort over every road is fine car comfort. Its fine car steering and general handling ease are the happy result of fine car engineering and design. As you have the right to expect of a fine car, Pontiac ownership carries with it the definite promise of satisfactory, dependable performance over the years.

Yet for all its fine car quality, Pontiac is not expensive. Few cars undersell it. In fact, it is America's lowest-priced straight eight. Buy this fine car at its very low price and you'll be very, very happy for a long, long time!

McLeroy Says Use Care In Farm Storage

A large percentage of this year's bumper crop is in or will be placed in farm storage. It is important to protect this wheat because the farmers have been fortunate to harvest such a crop stated Edd McLeroy, assistant county agent yesterday. Every bushel saved will contribute toward increased farm efficiency and toward helping feed a hungry world.

To those farmers that have or will have stored grain, here are some steps that should be carried out, right away.

No. 1: Remove and feed or bury all old infested grain both inside and outside bins, from drive-ways, and from under the bins. The old grain is the source of much insect infestation and too many of the bugs have burrowed into walls, cracks, and crannies.

No. 2: Spray the bin thoroughly with 2 1/2 per cent DDT or Chlor-dane. Use two gallons of spray to each 1,000 square feet of floor space and wall space.

No. 3: If bin is in a poor condition, take special precautions to see that it is in top condition before any grain is put in it.

No. 4: If temporary storage is used, use the best possible.

When placing the wheat in farm storage, if at all possible, have the moisture content down to 12 1/2%. High moisture grain is inductive to insect infestation as well as heating.

After the wheat has been stored it should be fumigated within two to four weeks. The wheat should hold the fumigant for several weeks, and one treatment should last until warm weather next spring. If a commercial fumigant is used, the instructions will be on the label. There are two common types that may be made up. The first mixture is composed of three parts ethylene dichloride and one part carbon tetrachloride. Use this at the rate of four gallons per 1,000 bushels in a steel bin, and six gallons in wooden bins. The second mixture is one part carbon disulfide and four parts carbon tetrachloride. Use this at the rate of two gallons per thousand bushels in steel bins and four gallons in wooden bins. Keep all fumigants away from fire, be careful not to breathe it, and don't get it on your skin or clothing.

The farm stored grain should be checked once a month for temperature and insects. Those insects may be small but they do a tremendous lot of damage to stored grain. It is estimated that the tiny insects get one out of every eight bushels of Texas farm stored grain.

members of the family. The sisters are Mrs. John Burgett of Denton, Mrs. Charlie Byars of Weatherford, Mrs. Horace Marble of South Plains, and Mrs. Billie Pace, of Beaumont. These and numerous other relatives attended the last rites Monday afternoon.

Robert Pierce King's business career began while he was still a youth, employed as a grocery and market clerk in Floydada. He became owner and manager of his own business in 1933. Later E. L. Cornelius, a brother-in-law, became associated in the business which operated and continues to operate as Kings Grocery and Market. In addition Mr. King carried on farming operations in Cedar, Dougherty and Floydada districts. Of late years his son, Randall King, had been associated with him in some of the farming and live stock ventures.

Robert Pierce King was a native of Parker county, where he was born in 1898. He came to Floyd county in 1912 as a boy with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. King. He spent his school years here while a farm boy and later attended Trinity university at Waxahachie. It was at Waxahachie that he met Neely Leora Cornelius whom he married on April 9, 1921.

Pallbearers at the Monday afternoon rites included six close friends Kenneth Bain, sr., J. Sam Hale, Tom Hopper, W. C. Snodgrass, C. O. Spence, and J. M. Daniel.

Business Will Continue

Yesterday E. L. Cornelius, brother-in-law and former partner of the deceased man, said the business of King's Grocery and Market would be continued. Under the partnership agreement Mr. Cornelius succeeds to the ownership of the store.

Nature's Process of Restoring Soil Better Than Burning Crop Residue, Conservation Men Urge

The wheat harvest for 1949 is history for most farmers in the Floyd county Soil Conservation district and there is a great temptation to burn the heavy stubble before plowing.

Several farmers have discovered some badly washed areas that were not in the field last year. Some few are thinking of terracing and contour farming these areas as a means of controlling soil erosion. This is a mechanical way of checking the erosion but it is much more effective to use some of nature's process with the mechanical, which is to work the crop residue back into the surface of the soil. The mechanical way is not adequate and must have some help from good tillage practices to maintain soil fertility. They are equally important factors in a sound conservation program. The added humus (stubble) assists in increasing moisture holding capacity.

More water held in the soil is that much less to run off and cause erosion and it will make more moisture available for another crop. The severe blowing last December and early January was on fields that were low in organic matter or humus content, say officials of Floyd county Soil Conservation district.

The few farmers that are tempted to burn their wheat stubble should weigh the many advantages of having large crop residue worked back into the soil against the easy plowing that burning will afford.

Fultz Is Making Business Calls For The Census

A. D. Fultz, principal of Andrews Ward School, Floydada has a specialist's job for the next few weeks. He has been named industrial census taker for Floyd county and has been calling on business and industrial enterprises in the county. Some of the industries are excluded, some included in the program of census taking. The printing industry, for instance, asked to be exempted. The census is being taken at the instance of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce for the benefit of business people in general and manufacturers and distributors in particular.

Fultz estimates his job will be done in two or three weeks. It is a hard working job and he will make wages if he doesn't spend too much time and too much gasoline assembling the information he is required to get.

Mr. Fultz said this week the calls he is making are revealing some facts which are most encouraging. For instance, he finds one dealer who is a big operator in more than one line and several who are doing a big volume of business that is not apparent from casual observation.

The census in this congressional district is directed out of Lubbock, of course, where a district census supervisor was named several weeks ago at the instance of Representative George Mahon.

Errant Decimal Point Is Blamed

An errant decimal mark messed up a story last week that appeared in The Hesperian. It was about a list of subscribers to a fund to aid T. J. Britton who has been ill for sometime. Fred Warren made up the list and turned the money over to Mr. Britton. The decimal point had the amount donated by 40 or more friends at $13.25. The amount was $132.50 or thereabout.

Lead in Phosphate

WASHINGTON - Western farmers need fertilizer badly. They send to Florida and Louisiana for it, paying about $30 a ton for shipping, points out Pathfinder news magazine.

Yet four Western states have 60 percent-an estimated 6,000,000 to 8,000,000 tons-of all U. S. phosphate deposits right in their backyards. Most of it is on land still in the public domain. Idaho has 43 per cent; Utah 13 per cent; Montana, 3 per cent; Wyoming, 1 per cent. But together last year, they produced only 8 per cent of what the nation mined.

Last fortnight the Department of the Interior announced a new policy which may change all this-and much more, if Western phosphate mines stimulate the farming and industrial wealth expected. The department has lifted several stringent rules which cramped expansion. It doubled the maximum average-2,560-leasatze in a state, extended time limits for development, and dropped first claim to a large part of the production.

Aid To Defense

This will mean more phosphates and super phosphates to enrich agricultural lands, and for chemical and medicinal use. But that's not all: Western phosphate beds are unusual in that they also contain important deposits of other minerals like vanadium, nickel, zinc, lead and fluorine-nearly all of which are critical materials.
