Same Tax Rate for New Year

Floyd county tax rate for the year will be the same as last year, County Judge G. C. Tubbs said this week. This was agreed upon by the commissioners following the budget hearing Monday morning.

However, the formal order that will make the tax rate effective will not be made until after the vote at Baker this week on Saturday when the taxpayers there will decide whether the old tax rate will continue to be effective or a new one adopted that would be 50 cents higher on the $100 valuation for school purposes. South Plains district last week decided to raise the school tax rate there from $1 to $1.50.

For county tax rate purposes the total bill will be $1.22 per $100 valuation. It has not been indicated how this will be divided out amongst the various funds. However, it is known the general fund rate will be 30 cents, permanent improvement fund 15 cents, road bond fund 30 cents, the special road fund 15 cents.

The state tax rate will be 42 cents as set by the state tax board and the total for state and county will be $1.64.

Using Lake Water to Irrigate Feed

Warner Johnson, who is operating the farm on the Dan Day old place two and a half miles east and one mile north of Lakeview, is getting some experience in pumping water from the lake on the place out on to field of feed.

Johnson is fortunate in having ample rise in his ground within a few feet of his supply, so that he is using only 20 feet or so of pipe to get his level and is using a small motor for power to get a pipe full of water. There is plenty of water in the lake apparently, James Robertson said, to give a field of some 50 acres of feed a good watering.

W. Fred Jones Burial Rites Held Wednesday Evening

Burial rites for W. Fred Jones, 40, Floydada-born and reared, were held yesterday evening at 6:15 at the graveside in Floydada cemetery, with Roy C. Ling, a Wichita Falls minister, officiating in the presence of about 150 relatives and friends. The funeral had been held previously in a Wichita Falls funeral chapel with Rev. Ling as the officiating minister. The casket was opened at the cemetery here and a present filed by to view the body.

W. Fred Jones died in the Electric chair at Huntsville Wednesday morning at 12:11, following vain efforts of his relatives and of a number of north Texas ministers and friends to get his sentence commuted from death to life imprisonment. Rev. Ling was among those who witnessed the execution.

The minister spoke briefly and simply of the inspiration which Fred Jones had been to him in the brief period of a year or more he had known him. He declared the man over whose bier he spoke had done more good in turning men to righteousness from sin in the last year of his life than had any man he had ever known. The deceased was a great inspiration to the minister himself, he declared, and Jones' firm faith in the saving grace of an all-wise Creator had spread its influence through the compact group of mourners that Fred Jones' last prayer before he entered the death chamber was for Floydada people. He had no doubt whatsoever that the man who died, charged with the crime of murder, had put himself completely in the hands of his God, and that his sins had been forgiven.

Three Day Stay of Execution

Members of the family, including his widow, his father, Edgar Jones, and two brothers, Ralph and Glenn, were present for the last rites at Wichita Falls, accompanied the body to Floydada and saw it interred by the side of his mother who preceded him in death in 1941. The mother was the victim of a highway accident while the family was on a vacation trip.

The execution of the Floydada man followed a three-day stay of execution ordered by Governor Allan Shivers on recommendation of the Board of Pardons and Paroles. He

SCHOOLBOY FOOTBALL NEARS; TRAINING BEGINS ON MONDAY

As mid-August approaches and first date when football practice in interscholastic League circles may begin (August 15) school officials of District 3-A began brushing off gear that was put away last fall and began issuing call for their candidates for the team to show up for the first workouts on Monday.

In Floydada Coach L. P. Gresham sent out word for his boys to show up at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon for a short workout and to get their uniforms. There will be two weeks of training before school starts, he said. It was indicated the other seven teams in the district also plan to begin training on Monday.

No Pads for a Week

In local football practice there will be no pads for the first week. The youngsters will work out in pants and jerseys and practice timing, passing, punting and defensive maneuvers as they round into shape. The second week it will be another story, the coach indicated by inference.

Floydada high's green and white team lost eight men from their squad in the spring. Of these four were first string men and four others saw lots of football play. The team has a center, some tackles, some ends and two backs from last year. The rest of the squad has got to be developed around these.

In addition to high school principal A. E. Baker, who works with Gresham as assistant coach in the line, there will be another aide this year in the person of Charles Read, jr., who comes from Texas Technological college for the first year as a mentor after leaving school.

Around the District

To mention the outlook briefly as to the other teams in the district: Lockney district champs, will be big and tough this season. They have lost some good boys but they will have a good, hustling ball club.

At Ralls the Jackrabbit team that fought valiantly last year returns with no men missing and will be a much better squad this season.

What Matador may come up with as the season opens is not known. The team is generally scrappy but last year lacked reserves.

Abernathy, which is getting to be an oil town, is going to be really tough. Their team may be the one which uncrowns the Longhorns of Lockney in the final stretches of the season. These two teams quite possibly may battle it out for top honours.

Contractor Paid For City Paving

Paving work done in Floydada by contractors Cooper & Woodruff last month was formally accepted for the city residents who had money in escrow. Mayor Harmon and Engineer Potts made a final inspection Tuesday morning. Paving work accepted included the original contracts.

Potts said a few private driveways for which owners have paid, remain yet to be done and will be included in the next few weeks, according to plans of the contractors.

Jaycees to Entertain State Head of Organization Here Thursday

Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce will have the pleasure of entertaining the state president of the organization on Thursday evening of next week, it was announced yesterday.

State President E. M. Kirkpatrick, jr., of Baytown, Texas, will be here and he will be the guest of honor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kimble for an informal ice cream supper. All the local Jaycees and their wives will attend. Dr. Kimble is president of the local Junior Chamber of Commerce this fiscal year.

Along with the state president will come State Vice-president Jim St. Clair of Levelland who will present the state leader to the local group.

It is anticipated that several other Jaycee organizations in the area will be represented at the meeting a week hence, and be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Kimble at the informal party.

City Equalization Board Has Meeting

Values as rendered by taxpayers of the City of Floydada will come under the scrutiny of a board of equalizers during the next few days or weeks, following their appointment by the city council recently.

Members of this board are Clarence Goins, John W. Lanier and D. T. Mayo.

Their preliminary sessions to assess the situation were held this week. Lanier has served on previous boards, Goins and Mayo being new to the job in this locality.

Yesterday no notices had gone out setting a date for hearings on any change of values.

THREE NEW DIRECTORS NAMED ON HOSPITAL BOARD BY COOPERATIVE HOSPITAL MEMBERS

Three new directors to replace three who have been serving Peoples hospital since before its operation were named by the members of the association Friday night of last week.

The meeting was called specially for the purpose of permitting a new and enlarged membership to express their desires for leadership in the hospital enterprise. The meeting was held at the American Legion hall. Attendance was gratifying, members of the old board said. These members served refreshments while the canvass of the vote was being made.

New members of the board of directors or trustees named were Walter Collins of Floydada, Bill McNeill of Dougherty, and Roy Hale of Harmony. They take the place on the board of J. H. Hrabal, Jno. A. Lloyd and John P. Moss. Re-elected were Joe Robertson of Center, O. C. Vinson of Floydada, W. F. Ferguson of Starkey, and Ed Holmes of Sand Hill.

Jno. A. Lloyd, retiring president, was among those who made talks. He urged the membership to back their trustees in their efforts to make the hospital an asset to the people of the area. "I hope the people will pull together to help the

Mrs. W. D. Martin Succumbs at Clovis

Mrs. and Mr. M. H. Martin and their son Fred and Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Martin are in Clovis this midweek where they are at the home of a brother W. D. Martin, whose wife succumbed there Tuesday night at 7:30 from illness due to a tubercular condition.

The Clovis woman had been ill for several months. She survived the recent return of the body of an only son from foreign soil, where he was killed in battle. Re-interment of the son was made at Clovis recently.

Final rites are to be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock for Mrs. Martin. The family had been residents of the New Mexico city for the past 11 years.

Mary Shaw Battles With Pneumonia

Mrs. Mary Shaw, secretary to County Superintendent Clarence Gufee, has shown marked improvement this week, after battling with pneumonia.

She was hospitalized 10 days ago and spent about a week at Pitts hospital, from which she was dismissed and returned home on Friday of last week.

Report Tuesday said she was doing nicely and would soon be well again. During her absence Superintendent Gufee has been having to wrestle with the reports, applications, board meetings, transfers and the like without her expert aid.

Name Bill Beedy To County Board

Bill Beedy, of South Plains, is the new member of the Floyd County School board, named by the board Monday of this week to fill the unexpired term of C. W. Burton of Fairview. Beedy will represent Precinct Three on the board.

Burton resigned 10 days ago after serving as precinct trustee for a number of years.

EDITORIALS

To every man his own particular woes. To those in grief be it grief, to those in financial straits, money, for those afflicted with arthritis drawn tendons and hardening joints. Each carries his burden as best he may. Each also bemoaning his unhappy lot considers that of his neighbor and returns to his own troubles, picking up the bag of woes and carrying on. So says the fable. And so says the nature of humanity. Whatever your woes you carry them with moaning and groaning or with smiles or patience or fortitude. But your own you carry. You would not, could not, swap them for woes made by choice and chance for someone else. That's the way you are, believe it or not. Can you imagine it?

Good old cotton.—Right now everybody is praising good old cotton. How it is going to make us money, and put spending funds into the hands of the poor man, who, after all, makes or breaks a country. The well-to-do you have with you always, an inference which may go with the biblical statement that the poor we have with us always. Also those who have more of worldly goods than others, who spend about the same good years and bad, except that in extra good years they spend more in Dallas, never more in Floydada, or is it fair to say this? Anyway, good old cotton. We hope against fear it will not start raining in the latter part of August and put the crop on the blink. A good many people are depending on the weather man to do the right thing. He could make or break a good many plans right now in the next forty days. A lot of wet weather on top of a dry spell wouldn't be too good a thing to send that portion of the plains country that hopes to make and harvest a big cotton crop. Be kind, weather man. Give the wheat people enough moisture to go ahead with their operations. Don't go too strong and spoil a cotton man's dream of evening up his past misfortunes and getting a bit ahead.

Paving contractors who are operating on the highways of Floyd county are setting a deadline of August 15 on "side" contracts for work they may do in Floydada while the present highway contract is under way. The contractors picked up a little bit more business during the early summer contract than they anticipated and got caught with a bit of over load. This is what we hear. It is not official. Anyway, they want the people who are interested in an 18-foot strip of paving on their streets to get busy and say what they want done. If you're working on such a plan for your street in Floydada, keep this in mind. Also, keep in mind that you may wish you had had your water and sewer connections checked to save future trouble of digging up the street to get to the mains for a repair job. Paving costs money but it is worth every cent it costs.

Cotton in Floyd county seems to be better and prettier, has a deeper tap root and is cleaner of weeds than we have ever seen it the first week of August. That there is a very considerable reservoir of moisture in the sub-soil, even in the dryer areas can be found to be the fact by digging just a bit. Moldboard plows at five inches, where an occasional one is being used, also give evidence of the good underground season in spite of the fact that a considerably desired rain would be most welcome now. Assuming that fleahoppers and thrip and Lygus bugs do not spoil the outlook, August should see a tremendous fruitage put on the fine, healthy stalks, well cleaned and cultivated throughout the confines of the county.

Best present guess, say medical men, is that polio is an affection of the gastro-intestinal system and therefore the basic need is for sanitation as a preventative. After polio hits a community you have to do something about it, and you won't have to be persuaded by the mayor, say those who have had experience. Best way, of course, is to take every precaution beforehand and hope you have hit the unsanitary spot that may be incipient breeder of infantile paralysis before it gets hold. There is no way of knowing of course. Polio hits on both right side and wrong side of the tracks, in the restricted additions as well as in other areas of a community. But the guess is apparently backed by experience, that polio is basically a filth disease, not necessarily from your own backyard but filth just the same.

Rains on the north plains down to and including an area in the north part of Floyd county accentuate the fact that rains in this area do run in "streaks" and that the dividing line between rains that begin on the north and drift south on cold fronts and the rains that begin on the south and drift north, just about cuts Floyd county roughly in half. The old, old-timers may have noted this back in the nineties for all we know. First time it was noted, that we know about, was in 1913 or thereabout, when it was said that the line of green verdure began around Lockney and extended south past Edwards plateau, while to the north the ranges were too dry way past Amarillo for the grass to make pasture for cattle when springtime came.

I understand the 4-H Club girls can enough food each year so that the jars would almost reach around the world."

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Graham and Mrs. Marie Dillard and son were among the week-end visitors in Floydada, Petersburg and Plainview. Here they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Jetton, at Petersburg they visited Buddy Graham and at Plainview they spent a short time in the home of their son and brother, Ervin Graham.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Burton, their daughter Maurice, and Miss Christeen Burton, of Munday, left this week for Nashville, Tennessee, and will spend several days in the Volunteer state as guests of relatives and on sight-seeing tours. At Nashville they will be guests of Dr. Joe Burton.

Mr. and Mrs. Opal Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Spury Jones of Newton, Mississippi and Mrs. J. W. Jones, of Goree, Texas visited in the Fred Jones home last Thursday. Opal and Spury are brothers of Fred, and Mrs. J. W. Jones is the mother.

Polio Strikes Quickly; How to Combat It

Following is a statement from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, telling the procedure to follow for best manner of getting help when polio strikes in your home.

(note)

At the first sign of illness, call your own doctor. If he suspects polio he will report the case to the Health Department and arrange for hospitalization or home care as indicated. The National Foundation does not select physicians or hospitals. This is a family matter. If you have no family physician, call your City or County Health Officer, your Board of Health or the nearest hospital.

If your doctor says it is polio, hospitalization is required. The National Foundation will help arrange for transportation to a treatment center as soon as the patient goes to the hospital—or if your doctor says the patient can be treated at home—get in touch with your Chapter of the National Foundation to arrange for any needed assistance.

(a) Most Chapters are listed in the telephone book under N for National Foundation, I for Infantile Paralysis and the letter starting the name of the county you live in, i. e., Lubbock County Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. If you can't find it, ask your doctor, hospital or Health Department.

(b) Your chapter will get in touch with you as soon as it learns the case through your physician, hospital or the Health Department. However, late reporting and a heavy hospital load may delay chapter contact. If you do not report promptly, telephone or visit your Chapter representative. You ease your own worries sooner making the approach yourself. The Chapter representative will notify the hospital that it is arranging with you for full or partial payment of expenses for medical care as are children. Discuss with your Chapter how much of the full cost the Chapter will pay.

(c) March of Dimes funds are used to help medically indigent—but is not the same as "indigent," which includes families of moderate income, who cannot meet the high costs of modern care of this extensive disease. The help is a gift on a loan. While families that are expected to do so, no family is expected to impoverish itself to meet medical expenses for polio.

(d) Even if you can assume full costs for initial hospitalization, it is a good idea to see your Chapter representative—a patient who is severely affected—and this cannot be determined in the first few days as may need help later on. Bills incurred in the weeks before your Chapter assumes financial responsibility cannot be paid months afterward, but the Chapter will step in at whatever time you really need help. Have a frank, friendly talk with your Chapter representative at the beginning.

(e) Chapters pay for hospitalization, professional services including nursing and physical therapy, transportation to and from hospitals, convalescent centers and clinics, treatment after hospitalization and appliances such as wheelchairs, crutches, etc., as needed. There are hard and fast rules. Each case is decided upon individual medical

Tweed-Duet

Any resemblance between this girl's outfit and her beau's sport togs is purely deliberate—for sentimental as well as practical reasons. The odd jacket is a distaff version of his favorite wool tweed, and the skirt, of similar material, will keep in fashion stride with his slacks. She chose the jacket from a gray, green or brick assortment—for about $18—and the skirt, in black spiked with red checks or green with blue gold, was hers for about $11. This Tilly Schanzer ensemble is from four pages of "I wear fabrics like his" in the August issue of Good Housekeeping magazine.

Self-Centered People Hunting For Symptoms

AUSTIN—Among a certain and rather extensive group of self-centered persons symptom hunting unfortunately is rather popular. Because of a too detailed study of so-called health literature of the alarmist type or on account of a recent death in the family, introspection develops to a morbid degree. The result is an entirely unfounded fear for all sorts of disease possibilities. Many become victims of this warped psychology develop brain and nerve exhaustion and in extreme cases even become affected mentally, stated Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

Of course it is entirely proper for personal well-being. To maintain vitality and to prevent diseases is a logical pursuit for every one. But it most decidedly must be kept within bounds. When one becomes obsessed with the subject, concern for health has overstepped the limits.

For all practical purposes, after giving reasonable attention to diet, personal sanitation, sleep and exercise, and assuming that one's bodily limitations as defined by the family average person can dismiss the subject of health. This, plus the annual physical examination should adequately cover the situation.

On the other hand, conditions are bound to arise where actual disease symptoms manifest themselves. It will then be up to the doctor to decide what the trouble, if any, is and for the patient to abide by his judgment.

In short, symptom hunting as a hobby is a dangerous matter. One should stay away from it. It is neither safe nor healthy to do otherwise.

and financial needs. Assistance is given regardless of age, race, creed or color. More than 110,000 polio patients were directly assisted in full or in part up to the end of 1948.

5. In addition, your Chapter can put you in touch with proper sources for nursing and physical therapy at home can refer you to rehabilitation and vocational training agencies, will provide literature designed to foster better understanding of infantile paralysis—so you will know what to expect and how to help your polio patient back to a useful life.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

The last red embers from the camp fire which burnt hot and glowing piled high with cowchips has been doused out with the dish water in the old black iron skillet. The skillet put away in the chuk box with the tin cups and plates and iron knives, forks and spoons, and the grounds of Arbuckle coffee tossed on the ground. The big coffee pot is keeping company with the Dutch oven not to be got out for another year, for the Old Settler's have broke camp in Ralls.

Yes, it was good while it lasted, the setting around glowing fires of memories fanned again by those of us who remain to tell about the early days.

Some memories are as sweet as the new chimes in the Baptist church ringing clear down the years, chorded by unseen hands. Some are as sad as a cold autumn rain coming down on a dugout roof where a bright-eyed little child is playing no more with brothers and sisters; some are as light-hearted and gay as nimble feet knocking out a back step to fast fiddle tunes. Rib-tickling stories are told again, jokes laughed over, joy, sorrow, pain, bitterness been steeped in the cauldrons of time and the shadows and suns of many, many years have brought forth a brew of liquid of such strength and sweetness that we drink with one another and are refreshed and at last know this is the true waters of the Fountain of Youth.

How nice it was for Tee to put her arms around me and tell me she loves me . . . for Wayne Thomas to tell with pride I was his Sunday School teacher . . . for Mrs. Paul Poulson to bring such a lovely basket of food so that, "Paul might share with old friends" . . . Walter and Ruby Gillon to see to all details . . . for Lorenza Lions club to bring over such perfect barbecue with the tantalizing zing odor of green mesquite (or so it seemed) . . . and two pretty ladies handsomely dressed in oldtime costumes to sing old favorite songs (Kate Wicks and Elnora Tinnin) . . . If I should put down all the nice things, the paper would have nothing else this week, so I shall finish by telling that Mr. Welsh of the Lubbock-Avalanche added much to the two days' pleasure by his evident enjoyment of the time spent with us and the very fine pictures and write-up in the Avalanche accorded to the reunion.

"A man's real possession is his memory. In nothing else is he rich; in nothing else is he poor."

"Thanks in old age—thanks ere I go, for health, the mid-day sun, the impalpable air-for life-merer life, for precious ever-lingering memories."

As we left the cool auditorium where we had spent two days in fellowship, recalling happy days of yore these words came to me.

"Is here they say the journey ends And little doubt it must be so; But as I tell my bestest friends I HATE TO GO."

Thanks a million to Mrs. Ham Smith for the pretty interesting rocks. Makes me feel plum good for her to remember my hobby while she was in a lovely place.

A friend and good neighbor to all he knew has gone on, Mr. Pittman has left a "good name" which is "better than precious ointment"

Black Special Now on Display Floydada

Mich.—Featured by a new and radiator grille design new to the automotive industry, the special series was introduced today with completely new and many engineering innovations. Long and sleek in appearance, the new Special is three inches in over-all length on a base virtually the same as its predecessor which went out of production last December.

flow, Buick's torque converter transmission, is available as optional equipment.

The new series is presented in two body styles and three models—a six-passenger four-door sedan, a six-passenger two-door sedan, and a three-passenger two-door business coupe with added utility space in addition to ample luggage room in the trunk compartment.

High on the list of engineering achievements is the design of the combined bumper and grille. Developed by Buick and offered on the special for the first time, this innovation was accomplished by placing the vertical bumper grille bars forward of the single-piece bumper. Two bomb-shaped bumper guards, which also house the parking lamps, are mounted on the bumper.

New also are sweeping fender and body contours which individualize the special from a styling standpoint.

The Buick ventilports, a Buick development of last year which has been widely copied, are relocated in the special and are ovals rather than circles.

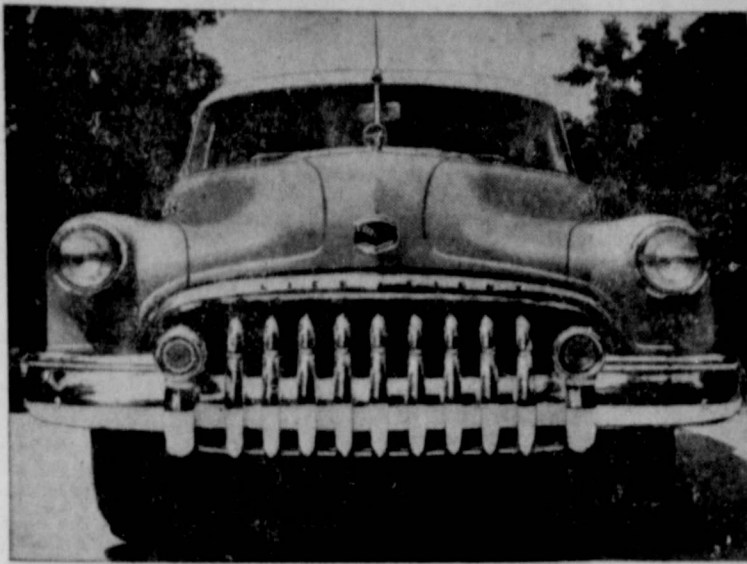

With the special back in the line, Buick plans expanded production for the remainder of the year. During the current month of August, schedules call for the greatest output in Buick's history. In preparation for the Special many millions of dollars have been invested in new tools, dies and machinery, and assembly lines will be used in plants located in various parts of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones and family spent last week-end in Panhandle visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones' son and wife, James and Margaret.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. McIntosh, of Brownwood, spent Saturday night and Sunday here, guests of their son and wife, Dr. and Mrs. O. R. McIntosh.

Conservation District News

Planting time for improved pasture mixtures or irrigated grasses is almost here. Fall planting is more according to the work unit conservationist of the Floyd County Soil Conservation District. The blow hazard and weed competition interfere less in the fall than spring.

This past winter, some few farmers had the grass plants to heave out of the ground and die. Earlier planting with favorable moisture conditions should check this as well as reduce the chance of it blowing out.

Usually, several grasses are planted in a mixture. This prolongs the growing season and a green plant is available for a longer period of time. Smooth brome, perennial rye, orchard grass, alta fescue and meadow fescue are the grasses to plant. In the past, crested wheat grass was recommended but it does not respond to irrigation as well as the others mentioned. However, if plenty of water is not available, crested wheat grass will give good results.

Legumes Recommended
A legume in the mixture makes a better pasture. Alfalfa is the best legume but it may cause bloat. Bird-foot trefoil will not bloat. Other legumes used in this area are sweet clover, hubam clover and vetch.

The rate of seeding is usually 15 to 20 pounds of grass seed plus one to three pounds of a legume. Around one-half inch is the best depth to sow.

The Floyd County Soil Conservation district has a special grass drill for seeding these mixtures.

After a stand of grass is obtained, some management should be practiced. To get the most of the pasture, it should be irrigated as often as hay and the area should be divided in three plots. One area is grazed while another is watered and the third gets new growth. As soon as a plot is eaten down, the livestock should be moved to fresh pasture and that plot watered again unless there is moisture available to start it growing again. By this means uniform grazing is accomplished and the grass can recover.

RALLS—With true pioneer spirit more than 300 early settlers of West Texas braved a slow, steady rain Thursday to gather in the city auditorium for their 24th annual reunion. The program closed Friday night following an evening of square dancing in the city auditorium.

On Thursday officers were elected as follows for the year of 1950: President, J. Edd McLaughlin, Ralls, vice-presidents Bill Ezell, Crosbyton, and Roy Terrell, Lorenzo, were re-elected to serve for another year. Secretary Mrs. Nellie Witt Spikes, who was commended for her hard work and splendid efforts in behalf of the reunion this year, nominated Mrs. Walter Gillon, Ralls to be the new secretary. All were elected by acclamation.

No meeting place has as yet been designated for the 1950 reunion. By unanimous vote the old settlers decided to let the officers get together sometime in the near future and decide on a meeting place.

Miss Marjorie Grimes of Stratford spent the week-end visiting the Gene Collins.

Efficiency Test On Irrigation Wells Tuesday

An efficiency test on the operation of an irrigation well at Irick, that of G. M. Potts, will be made Tuesday morning of next week, it has been announced by George Caven, manager of Southwestern Public Service company here.

Earl Lewis, agricultural engineer of the company, and Caven will make the tests with R. V. Thurmond and Ed Bush, of Lubbock, Extension service specialists in irrigation, supervising. Their figures and reports on the tests will be made available to all interested irrigated farm owners and operators.

Potts has 285 acres of cotton under irrigation at this time. He has, in the opinion of Mr. Caven, a perfect layout to get the utmost of efficiency from his well operations. "Our primary interest in the test is to show that efficiency does pay," said Mr. Caven here yesterday. He believes the educational value for irrigation farmers will be great if they make a study and survey of what the farm operator at the Potts place is carrying on to get the utmost from his pumps and irrigation ditches.

It is the judgement of irrigation experts that many wells are being operated on very low efficiency. Caven believes that if these estimates are correct many farmers can profit by attending the test to be carried on at the Potts place Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hanks, of Electra, Texas, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rimmer, spent the week-end visiting the caverns at Carlsbad, N. M., and they also visited friends at Levelland.

"BUGGIES WILL NOT LAST"

"It's short-sighted to think the buggy will last much longer," said Henry Timken fifty years ago when there was talk about the new horseless carriages being a fad that would not last.

And after fifty years, "Old" Henry, as he was affectionately called, could, if still living, look upon The Timken Roller Bearing Company as it is today and be well pleased with the truth of his statement. As the company that bears his name celebrates half a century of progress in the manufacture of roller bearings for industry throughout the world there should be more than a passing nod given to "Old" Henry and men like him who made our industrial progress possible.

Shown above is a buggy that some people thought could never be replaced by the gasoline car. There was even an attempt to lobby for anti-auto legislation. Below is one of the stream-lined cars of today. Inset shows Henry Timken, founder of the business that helped make the automobile the speedy, economical job it is now.

CROP Milk Reaches Children Overseas

Thousands of refugee children, such as this one being fed by Sister Klara, Lutheran nurse in the Lobe Haus Children's home in Munich, have been supplied with milk through the contributions of American farmers to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), according to John D. Metzler, national chairman.

In the year ending June 1, CROP handled 75,668,381 pounds of farm commodities, valued at $6,576,000. Included in this amount were 4,470,000 pounds of milk. Shipments were made to 22 foreign countries.

"Since milk is desperately needed, we shall strive to obtain a larger quantity of it in the 1949 CROP campaign," Metzler said. "In many areas children over nine months still get no milk at all. Younger ones get one-fourth pint a day."

CROP is sponsored nationally by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.

Wednesday was the first day that his mother and father had been permitted to see him since his arrival at the center, and the time limit is fifteen minutes.

Glenn became ill Saturday evening, complaining of his head and the back of his neck hurting. The Parkeys decided to take him to the hospital. He spent Saturday night in the Peoples hospital, and the doctor's test there diagnosed his case to be poliomyelitis, advising them to take him to the polio center at once.

Efficiency Test On Irrigation Wells Tuesday

An efficiency test on the operation of an irrigation well at Erick, that of G. M. Potts, will be made Tuesday morning of next week. It has been announced by George Caven, manager of Southwestern Public Service company here.

Earl Lewis, agricultural engineer of the company, and Caven will make the tests with R. V. Thurmond and Ed Bush, of Lubbock, Extension service specialists in irrigation, supervising. Their figures and reports on the tests will be made available to all interested irrigated farm owners and operators.

Potts has 285 acres of cotton under irrigation at this time. He has, in the opinion of Mr. Caven, a perfect layout to get the utmost of efficiency from his well operations.

"Our primary interest in the test is to show that efficiency does pay," said Mr. Caven here yesterday. He believes the educational value for irrigation farmers will be great if they make a study and survey of what the farm operator at the Potts place is carrying on to get the utmost from his pumps and irrigation ditches.

It is the judgement of irrigation experts that many wells are being operated on very low efficiency. Caven believes that if these estimates are correct many farmers can profit by attending the test to be carried on at the Potts place Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hanks of Electra, Texas, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rimmer, spent the week-end visiting the caverns at Carlsbad, N. M., and they also visited friends at Levelland.

"BUGGIES WILL NOT LAST"

"It's short-sighted to think the buggy will last much longer," said Henry Timken fifty years ago when there was talk about the new horseless carriages being a fad that would not last.

And after fifty years, "Old" Henry, as he was affectionately called, could, if still living, look upon The Timken Roller Bearing Company as it is today and be well pleased with the truth of his statement. As the company that bears his name celebrates half a century of progress in the manufacture of roller bearings for industry throughout the world there should be more than a passing nod given to "Old" Henry and men like him who made our industrial progress possible.

Shown above is a buggy that some people thought could never be replaced by the gasoline car. There was even an attempt to lobby for anti-auto legislation. Below is one of the stream-lined cars of today. Inset shows Henry Timken, founder of the business that helped make the automobile the speedy, economical job it is now.

The infant is survived by his parents; two sisters; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Griffith, and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bybee, all of Lockney.

CROP Milk Reaches Children Overseas

Thousands of refugee children, such as this one being fed by Sister Klara, Lutheran nurse in the Lobe Haus Children's home in Munich, have been supplied with milk through the contributions of American farmers to the Christian Rural Overseas Program (CROP), according to John D. Metzler, national chairman.

In the year ending June 1, CROP handled 75,668,381 pounds of farm commodities, valued at $6,574,000. Included in this amount were 4,470,000 pounds of milk. Shipments were made to 22 foreign countries.

"Since milk is desperately needed, we shall strive to obtain a larger quantity of it in the 1949 CROP campaign," Metzler said. "In many areas children over nine months still get no milk at all. Younger ones get one-fourth pint a day."

CROP is sponsored nationally by Catholic Rural Life, Church World Service, and Lutheran World Relief.

Glen Parkey Shows Much Improvement

Glen Parkey, thirteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Parkey of the Harmony community, who was taken to Plainview polio center for treatment of polio Sunday evening, is reported to be resting somewhat.

Wednesday was the first day that his mother and father had been permitted to see him since his arrival at the center, and the time limit is fifteen minutes.

Glenn became ill Saturday evening, complaining of his head and the back of his neck hurting. The Parkeys decided to take him to the hospital. He spent Saturday night in the Peoples hospital, and the doctor's test there diagnosed his case to be poliomyelitis, advising them to take him to the polio center at once.

What every party-line telephone user knows...

EVERY PERSON WITH A PARTY-LINE telephone at home knows at least three things about the service.

He knows the line must be shared fairly to be useful to everyone—just as a street is shared by those on it.

He knows he appreciates courtesy from others on the line—such as not interrupting, and recognizing his emergency needs for the line now and then.

He knows whether party-line service meets his needs. About half our customers have always preferred party-line service, even before the war, when they could have had individual lines.

Today, out of each four families with telephones, about three have party-line telephones and one of them has asked for a different type of service.

We'd like to be able to give it to them. We are working toward that, and are making some progress despite the continuing heavy demand for telephones from those still without any service.

We have on file thousands of requests for some other type of service. Wherever local conditions permit, we are meeting these requests, and are keeping a careful record of all requests, to act on at the first opportunity.

Tuco Plant Lends Itself To Plains Area Development

When you drive through the rich agricultural country between Plainview and Lubbock, nature's handwork usually gives place to man's as you see upon Tuco, power supply for the plains, just north of Abernathy.

It is the normal reaction the time you see Tuco, for the looks as out of place, sitting as it does in the heart of a rich agricultural area. But a little research shows that this main source of power for the Plains Division of the Southwestern Public Service Company is ideally located.

The plant went into operation in 1930, and externally little different than it did in those days. Inside, however, Tuco has a "new look" and where once heard only the hum of a single generator can now be heard the roar of three turbines producing 40,000 kilowatts, of electric power.

It is easier to picture than to describe, so, for the moment, let's take a look at our kilowatts. One kilowatt of electric energy produces the equivalent of the power of one horse and you know that's a lot of horses—about 1.34.

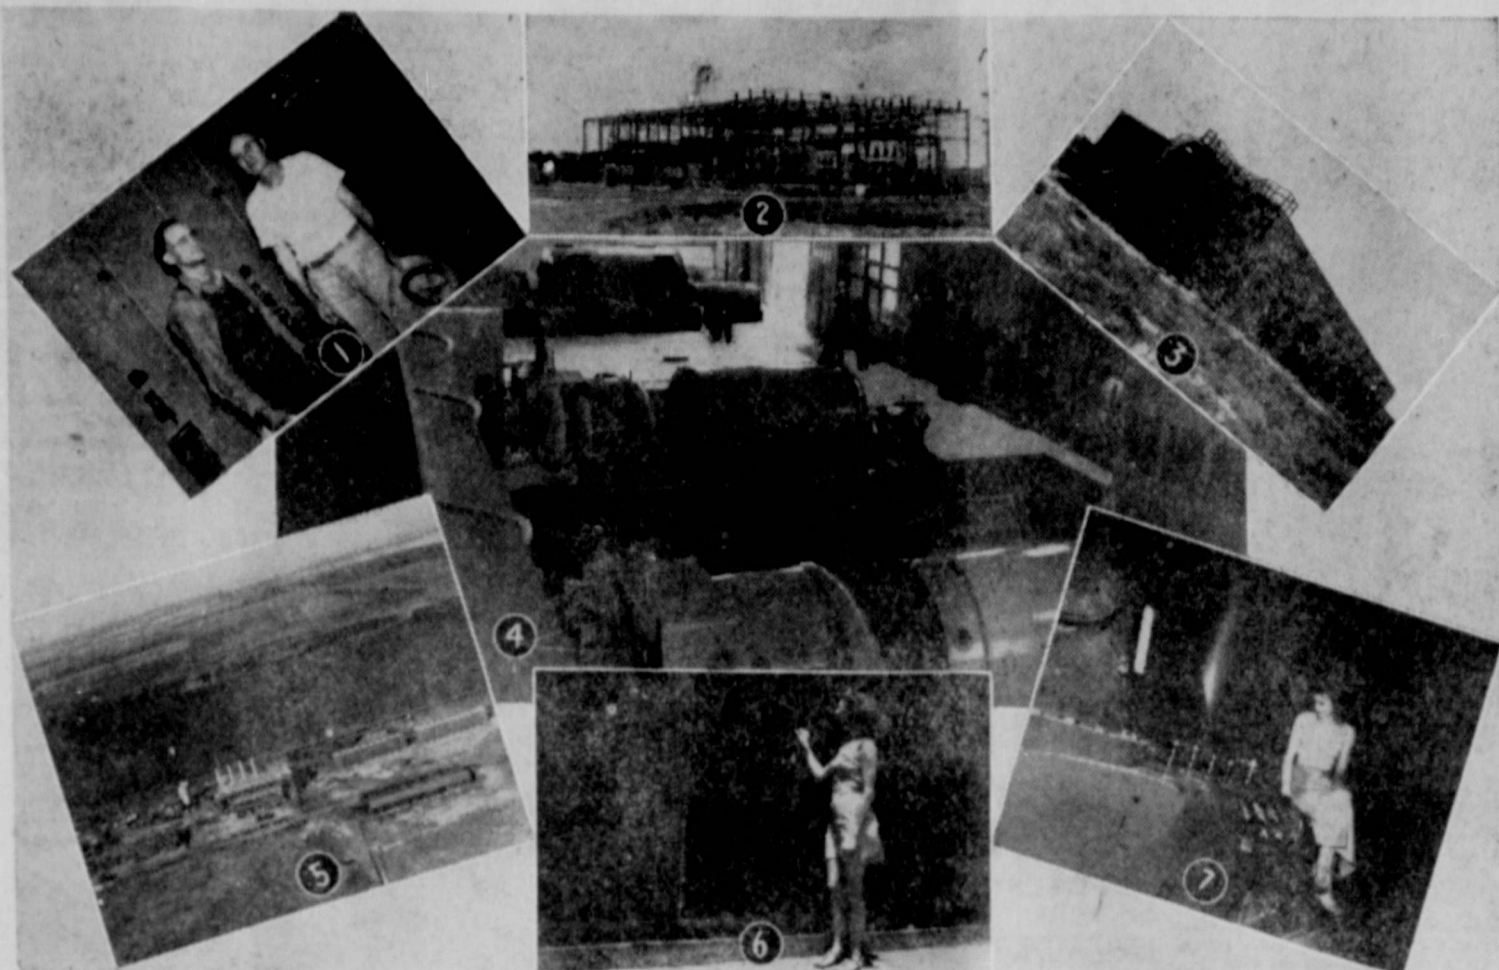

It is a well-planned power plant in many respects. That accounts for the fact that externally it is little different than it did a few decades ago, while actually it can now produce more than 40,000 kilowatts of electric energy.

When it was built, room was made for the installation of additional generators. Two have been added—a second 7500 kilowatt unit in 1938 and a new 25,000 kilowatt General Electric turbine generator has just been installed.

Even as Tuco planned when it was built, room was made for the installation of additional generators. Two have been added—a second 7500 kilowatt unit in 1938 and a new 25,000 kilowatt General Electric turbine generator has just been installed.

The record—and power plants in presidential speeches—have to be made. Tuco's new 25,000 kilowatt unit—that alone is the equivalent of 33,525 horsepower—went into operation July 9th 1949 at 10:32 a. m. The new unit has operating capacity at full capacity, and power dispatchers of Southwestern Public Service have not yet had to work the "bugs" of new turbines and that's what the new unit is for. The new unit is "on the line" smooth. The new unit is "on the line" smooth. The new unit is "on the line" smooth.

DRS. CLOUGH & CLOUGH
Podiatrists & Orthopedists
111 West 7th
Plainview, Texas
No. 226 for Appointment

This is the Southwestern Public Service Company's Tuco generating station—electric power source of the plains. 1—M. C. Davidson and Frank D. Bishop. Their combined safety records total 35 years. 2—Sub-station, starting point for transmission of electric energy. 3—Cooling tower for reducing temperature of water to be re-used. 4—Generator Room with the new 25,000 kilowatt unit in the background. 5—Aerial view showing Tuco surrounded by rich farm lands. 6—Miss Jerry Dyer, plant manager's daughter, inspects one of the 18 giant cooling tower fans. 7—Miss Dyer again, this time viewing some of the controls on the new 25,000 kilowatt generator.

will be ready to produce its new capacity, 40,000 kilowatts, on a full time basis.

Tuco's location in the midst of a rich agricultural area is important to the farmers of that area. This is irrigation country and that means water is important to the farmer. It's also a little hard to get along without if you plan to use steam to generate electric energy. You can't use up the water your customers need for their farming—and still have customers. That accounts for the location of the plant. Tuco's water supply comes from a lower water level than does that of the farms in the surrounding area. As water is needed by city folks too, Tuco was located outside of a populated area.

Located Right Geographically
Tuco serves an area that covers more than 3000 square miles, extending from Dimmitt and Silverton on the north to Levelland and Crosbyton on the south. Most of the communities in this area, especially those in the northern half, receive a major portion of their power from Tuco. Southwestern Public Service Company's Denver City plant helps Tuco carry the load in the southern end of the region. Geographically, Tuco is located close to the center of this area, another reason why it was a good place to put a power plant.

Tuco's location is important—and good—as far as the tying together of Southwestern Public Service Copany's power producing facilities, are concerned. There are ten steam turbine generating plants in the system, spaced from 75 to 100 miles apart. Tied together by high tension transmission lines, they are able to help each other carry the load if one has to "down" for any reason. For example, power generated at Tuco could be transmitted to Clovis if the New Mexico plant needed additional energy, or Tuco and Denver City or some other plant could combine to help another area. A network of 2561 miles of transmission line—with the main arteries in the system extending from Borger to Carlsbad, New Mexico and from Amarillo to Portales, New Mexico—make it possible for the ten plants to share the load.

A power plant is an around the clock operation—24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Thirty-two men are needed in direct operations at Tuco. Once a power plant gets going, operation is almost automatic because of the many instruments that control the various machines generating the electricity. That accounts for the relatively small number—32—men needed to keep Tuco's 53,640 horses at work. Each of the 32 is a technician, specializing in one particular field of the operation, but knowing enough about the over-all running of the plant that he could fill the breach of any job.

Monthly Payroll High
Tuco's "dollar and cents" contribution to the area it serves is a very important one. The monthly payroll at the plant averages around $10,000 and has been as high as $14,000. Many articles of supply and equipment are purchased locally and aid the community economy. For example, the new cooling tower which was installed for the 25,000 kilowatt generator was fabricated by a Plainview firm, Lillie-Hoffman Cooling Towers, Inc. Tuco's tax bill, and that of other Southwestern Public Service Company installations in the area, helps pay the cost of providing local government.

Housing facilities for families of 12 of the 32 employees are provided at the plant and the remainder of the staff make their homes in Abernathy and the surrounding area. Tuco is probably the safest place in the area to work despite the usual belief that power plants are hazardous places to make a living. There hasn't been a time-lost accident at the plant in 5 1/2 years. One reason for this record is that everyone at Tuco believes in the philosophy that accidents don't happen, they are caused. Another contributing factor is that families of the employees as well as the men themselves get in on the safety tests that are given. Recently, 17 year old Jerry Dyer, daughter of plant manager Bob Dyer, led the entire plant in an examination. Mrs. Dyer was also high on the list. Nobody fails the examinations and high grades are the rule, not the exception.

Two of Tuco's employees have seen each of the three units now in operation go "on the line" for they have worked at the plant since the day it went into service. The two are M. C. Davidson, maintenance foreman, and Frank D. Bishop, shift foreman, who have worked side by side for 18 years without a time-lost accident.

Tuco's "up in the air" these days, too, and picture post cards of the above the plant aboard the equipment plant are given passengers flying of Pioneer Air lines.

Tuco has been carrying its share of the electric power load for nearly two decades. Its share has grown bigger—as has the area it serves—but sound planning and good operation have kept the plant ahead of the power needs of the region. It doesn't look like it belonged where it is, but it's in the best possible place to do the job that has to be done—provide electric power for you.

than 300 miles of company-owned telephone lines and long distance commercial lines provides as good a communication system as is available.

R. F. Hinchey Explains

R. F. Hinchey, president of West Texas Gas Company, explained "Communication between all points of West Texas Gas Company's transmission lines is very essential and must be maintained at all times in natural gas service to the thousands of homes and businesses in the 23 counties the company serves. An additional insurance for proper communication, West Texas Gas Company has installed its own short wave radio net work."

The installation of the short wave system enables the company to call together emergency crews at a few moments' notice. Licensed radio operators are on duty at all nine fixed radio stations twenty-four hours a day, every day of the year. They will keep in contact with maintenance men making repairs along the transmission lines, and also dispatch pressure readings via radio when other communication systems are busy or out of order.

The nine fixed stations are located at Lubbock, Plainview and Midland, which are division nerve centers; at Odessa, which is near two sources of natural gas supply; at Turkey Creek Compressor Station in the Panhandle Gas Field, and at compressor stations near Canyon, Hereford, Littlefield and Tahoka.

Bill Owens Is Independent Gas Dealer

Bill Owens, who has been Texaco retail dealer at Day and Night Texaco for the past five years, has gone independent and is now selling gasoline and oils independently at the station on Highway 70 east formerly occupied by W. N. Crumpton.

Owens went to the independent line last week and hopes to build up a trade on oils and gases that will give the customer a wide latitude of choice.

Succeeding Owens at Texaco Day and Night will be Winfred Payne, who is getting his first experience in management of this line of business.

Owens carried an announcement last week of his change over to the independent line and Payne is announcing his selection as retail dealer this week.

Programs Make Big Event of Short Course

The second rural women's short course was held at Texas Technological college at Lubbock on August 2, 3, 4. This short course is the only one of its kind in Texas. It is conducted under the joint auspices of the Texas Extension Service of A. & M. College and Texas Technological college, and was planned by the Home Demonstration club women of this district, County Home Demonstration agents, Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent for the Extension service, and Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the division of Home Economics from Texas Technological college.

"Students" attended classes from 8:30 to 5:30 each day and also attended the night programs. A great variety of subjects were taught by specialists from the Extension service of A. & M. College and instructors from Texas tech. The women who attended expect to be telling, teaching, and showing what they learned for quite sometime to come. Among the very enjoyable and instructive part of the short course were the two evening programs. On the Tuesday evening program Mr. Preston Smith, a member of the Texas legislature, told of the accomplishments of the last session of that law making body. Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, past state president of the Federated Women's clubs of Texas, spoke on the United Nations. Mrs. Walker has attended two meetings of the Nations assembly.

Among the 130 students attending the short course were Misses C. L. King, Lone Star; Roy Wilkes, Pleasant Valley; Wayne Russell, Lakeview; W. C. Sims, Sunnyside; D. T. 'Expedite Road With All Speed'

Southeast Floyd and north Crossby county people, particularly those of Baker, Pleasant Hill and Mt. Blanco, will be pleased to learn that circumstances are working around to speed the day when they will have their paved road leading off from Highway 70 eight miles east of Floydada.

The paving on this seven miles of road is included in the county-wide bond issue, but at present there appears no hope that it can be included in the 25-75 program of county and state. The Highway Department has indicated it will be unwilling to go along with the county on the road, at least at this time. There are other roads in which the department has indicated willingness, or probable willingness, to participate, hence the commissioners, in order to know what their possible commitments can be on these, must first know what their bill is going to be on the Baker-Pleasant Hill road.

$75,000 Is Ear-Marked

So it came about this week the Commissioners court "appropriated, set aside, and ear-marked" $75,000 of the road bond fund, or such part thereof as may be needed, for the improvement of this road, and in doing so declared: "It is necessary and expedient and to the best interest of the Farm to Market road system of Floyd county that the improvement of this proposed road proceed with all speed."

The route of the Baker-Pleasant Hill road, as indicated in the field notes when the bond issue was voted, runs south from Highway 70, three miles by Boothe Switch and Baker school house, thence east one mile, and thence south three miles to Pleasant Hill.

No steps have been taken this week to get the road into the engineer's mill for field work or on the drawing board.

Yesterday the Commissioners court hired a Lubbock engineering firm, the Lubbock Engineering company, to do the engineering work on the Baker-Pleasant Hill road, after they conferred with the district engineer, S. C. McCarty, earlier in the day, according to information The Hesperian has out of Lubbock, thus practically shutting the door to any help the county might receive from the State Highway department on this portion of the county's highway system. Locally the court had been urged to "go along" with the highway department in the hope of obtaining invaluable aid from this source.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Cunningham of Albuquerque, New Mexico, are visiting in the home of W. H. Owens. Mrs. Cunningham is a niece of Mrs. Owens.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Dennison visited their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Dennison at Idalou Sunday.

Three Floyd county school districts have their "names in the pot" for new school buses this year for a total of five new vehicles to transport scholastics to and from school. They are South Plains (three), Lakeview one, and Floydada one.

New rule on school bus purchases requires that these be bought through the State Board of Control. Also the application for purchase goes through the county superintendent's office after first getting the approval of the county board. All of which was had this week.

The buses will be purchased on a competitive basis, the school districts are told. Bids will be opened on August 18. It is not indicated when the districts may expect delivery.

BOYCE HOUSE 'GIVES YOU TEXAS'

Apropos of all the discussion of school matters, notably the Gilmer-Akin bills, there comes to mind the story about Fisher Alsip, the Temple story-teller.

A good many years ago, it seems that Alsip was teaching a small school and he attended a county institution where the main speaker was bound to have been a very great man because he lived a long way off. This profound thinker told his audience over and over, "Study the child; study the child."

When the meeting was thrown open for general discussion, the

Just then her father, who has been reeling, laughed himself at his adversary, knocked him down, clamped on a headlock and began applying the pressure. The reaction of the other twisted into an expression of pain.

The little girl shouted, "That's it, daddy; tear his head off and throw it in the face with it!"

lanky Alsip arose and, in a drawing tone said: "We have been urged to study the child, study the child. But in the of the fact that there are 67 of the children and only one of us, suggest that they study the teacher."

Many years ago, when I was still in Eastland, they used to hold wrestling matches. One wrestler had a German police dog which was in the back of the hall. As the owner was undergoing rough treatment in the ring, the animal would bark furiously and tug at the rope holding him. Had the rope given way, the dog would have torn the owner's adversary to pieces.

But the match recalled most vividly had quite a different opponent—the little daughter of one of the athletes. She sat in a ring-side seat and was perhaps four years old, with golden hair and blue eyes. About began and her father was getting the worst of it. He was floundering to the mat and, as fast as he could, he was flipped down again.

The little girl's countenance never was serene. I thought, "Innocence of childhood! It is so that she is too young to realize that her dad is being defeated."
