WINDS IN CRUCIAL TEST FRIDAY NIGHT AGAINST LOCKNEY TEAM

Top of District 3-A schedule this week is the game between Floydada Whirlwinds and Lockney Longhorns at Mitchell-Zimmerman field Lockney at 8:00 Friday night.

Floydada Whirlwinds, at the present district leaders with a clean record, will be heard to the contrary, Superintendent Sidney Reeves, Lockney schools, told The Hesperian yesterday. "The impression is that the hour for the game might have been changed probably because of the fact that Friday homecoming day at the school, there has been no change whatever in the plans for the football game," said Mr. Reeves.

The official date and hour for the Whirlwind-Lockney football game at Mitchell-Zimmerman field at Lockney is Friday night, 8 o'clock, despite any reports which may be heard to the contrary.

Superintendent Sidney Reeves, Lockney schools, told The Hesperian yesterday. "The impression is that the hour for the game might have been changed probably because of the fact that Friday homecoming day at the school, there has been no change whatever in the plans for the football game," said Mr. Reeves.

...tangle with the heaviest line in the district when they go up against the Longhorns. Lockney, always high for the annual Floydada grid battle, will probably put forth even more effort this week, due to homecoming which is scheduled for that day. Longhorns, who have lost two games, dropped their last one to the 12-6 last week and with their backs smarting, will be after the heads, holders of a near defeat last week at Matador.

Floydada looked anything but a district winner last week and has rain to hamper practice this week. But should they have some red players back in the line up, probably put up a good show.

Other district contests are: Paducah at Tulla, Abernathy at Realls, Matador at Crosbyton. Spur takes homecoming from the district, scrambling to gain scheduled. Homecoming Week.

LOCKNEY—Next week has been designated as Western Week and homecoming by the Lockney school Superintendent Sidney Reeves has announced. Although no parade plans have been made this year, the Western Week will be observed by the schools and those

At Meeting Enjoy Barbecue With Producers

The John Snider barbecue which highlighted the social side of the annual meeting of members of Producers Cooperative Elevator Thursday night of last week, was attended by approximately 300 persons, said Jones, manager of the elevator.

Members were accompanied by their wives, a fact which elevator manager said was highly gratifying.

The meeting was held at the American Legion hall, where the home-brewed beeves were prepared and served by the Amarillo barbecue in the serious side Frank Trippe, also of Amarillo, manager of the Elevators Association, discussed the marketing and storage situation from the angle of the producers of the area. Fred Battey presided at the invocation preceding the social service.

J. Wilkes and Henry Willis were re-elected to places on the board of directors.

The local organization is just completing a 215,000 bushel addition to its storage plant, of steel and concrete, at a cost in excess of $94,000.

Individuals and organizations sponsored by Mr. Jones, to which Producers are indebted for aid in connection with the barbecue and meeting are the City of Power division, Floydada schools, the Floydada schools, Mitchell Post, American Legion, Marshall, Bob Smith, Consumers Association, Builders Mart, County Rural Electric cooperative, and numerous others who arranged the hall and served barbecue.

The good turn out was appreciated by the management and the board of directors, who especially mentioned having so many women present," said Roy Jones.

local citizens who wish to participate. Homecoming day will be Friday when the Longhorns play the Floydada Whirlwinds on the local grid-iron. The game will be a night game, starting at 8 o'clock.

Since it is not a holiday they decided not to make an elaborate affair of the occasion, Mr. Reeves said, but he is expecting a large group of ex-students and visitors for the day.

Norman Sees No Likelihood For A Classer

E. L. Norman, vice-president of the First National Bank of Floydada, foresees no likelihood that Floyd county cotton raisers will be given a local cotton classer to hurry up classification of their cotton they offer to Commodity Credit corporation for loan. In fact, Mr. Norman is of the opinion that further efforts along this line would be fruitless.

Responding to requests of numerous interested growers Norman contacted Congressman George Mahon relative to the inconvenience complained of under present classing conditions. The congressman advised that he regards it impossible for the present to have more than one classing office in an area. He has had numerous conferences with key men in the Department of Agriculture who desire this to be the situation, he advises Mr. Norman under recent date.

However, the congressman does say, according to Mr. Norman, that the Department of Agriculture has promised three-day service on cotton classification for the producers and that this promise is being fulfilled by the Lubbock classing office. "I have been most anxious to see that we get the fullest cooperation and the best service possible," the congressman said to Mr. Norman.

Art Willis Rites Held on Tuesday

Last rites for Arthur Leon (Art) Willis, 51, were held Tuesday, October 25, at 10:30 a. m. at the City Park Church of Christ, with Elder A. F. Waller, minister of the Church of Christ and Rev. R. N. Huckabee, pastor of the Methodist church officiating.

Mr. Willis was born January 5, 1898 in Alabama and came to Texas when he was only three months old. He had lived in this vicinity from 15 to 17 years and had been operating the service station and wholesale oil business at South Plains for the past two years.

Mr. Willis married Mrs. Ida Mae Pearse, September 12, 1937 at Plainview, Texas.

Besides his wife, he is survived by two sons, Otis Leon, Farmers Branch, and Rex of South Plains; three stepsons, W. M. Steele, Farmers Branch, Curtis Pearse, Calif., and Jerry Pearse of South Plains; one sister, Mrs. J. R. Barton, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Shortly after being taken to the Peoples hospital here Saturday night, October 22, Mr. Willis died.

Pallbearers for the services were Dr. J. G. Pruitt, Burton Thornton, John Smitherman, Horace Marble, Raymond Upton, and Aaron Carthel.

Interment was in the Floydada cemetery.

Survivors of the deceased are the husband and one son, Millard, Jr.

Sizeable Liquor Haul Is Taken

The biggest and best assortment of bottled liquors shown in Floydada in many a day was on display at the Sheriff's office here Saturday when the photographer-reporter went by with his camera. One hundred eighty-six bottles shown here are the remains of a load estimated at 25 or more cases in a Lincoln which crashed head-on into the Cooley service station pumps. Two men in the car were apprehended uninjured by Sheriff Hart and his deputy, A. K. Mays. In the background is a little still taken recently in a raid by the officers.

Liquor Wagon Smashes Into Local Station

Ill fortune and mis-chance dogged his way through Floydada when E. R. McAfee of Abilene with a Lincoln sedan-load of liquor bottles following the loud crash. McAfee Friday night for a fast run through Floyd county on Highway 70 enroute west.

At the turn from the straight away into Houston street about 1 a. m. in southeast Floydada, McAfee's car, doing an estimated 85 miles, straightened out the roadway. In its flight it took out two pumps and two steel awning posts at Blue Goose Service station and grocery, operated by Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cooley.

Pumps and posts, broken and unbroken liquor bottles with flowing gas, water and liquor, made a sorry sight for Mr. Cooley to view when he ran from his bedroom adjacent following the loud crash. McAfee and another man riding in the liquor-laden car a moment before, stepped out of the wreckage practically unharmed. The car practically new with a speedometer reading of 2,300 miles was badly wrecked.

Sheriff Leland A. Hart and deputy A. K. Mays, summoned to the scene by Mr. Cooley, recovered 186 pint bottles (pictured above) of liquor intact, and estimated fully that number smashed in the wreckage.

A charge of transporting liquor for the purpose of sale was lodged against McAfee, and Judge G. C. Tubbs, in a hearing Saturday, set bail for the defendant at $1,000, which was put up in cash by a friend who came up from Abilene.

Much liquor moves through the country after nightfall to "coases" in the dry part of the state, according to common report, generally at unpredictable hours, at high speed and by varying routes, making apprehension by peace officers difficult. In this instance the route was unfamiliar to the driver, who was unaware of the turn in the roadway into Floydada, and failed to note the road sign which indicated

Troop 64 Has 11 Boy Scouts At Round-Up

Eleven boy scouts from troop 64 of Floydada attended the Round-Up on the campus of Texas Tech in Lubbock, Saturday, October 22.

The highlight of the gathering was the Arizona-Tech football game Saturday afternoon. A special section was reserved for the 650 scouts.

In a mass meeting in the gymnasium Friday night each scoutmaster in the South Plains country was given a "mortgage" for a certain number of new scouts to be recruited by December 1. Local scoutmaster, A. H. Rainer has already met his quota of 5 and will receive a certificate indicating that the "mortgage" has been lifted.

Scouts were taken on tours of the college by members of the Alpha Phi Omega ex-scouts fraternity. Floydada scouts who made the trip were Jackie Henry, Jimmy Collins, Lynn Jackson, Larry Glassmeyer, Glad Norman, Barry Fyffe, Gordon Joiner, and Carl Brock.

Writer Makes It Unanimous Cold Scare Starts Anti-Freeze Hunt by Owners of Automobile

Do you have any anti-freeze? That question is becoming prominent this year with only a minor cold snap or two under the climatic belt.

Frantic searching was started early Monday, with a predicted low of 30 degrees for the night, and people were dashing everywhere in the mad rush to buy that gallon or two of anti-freeze.

We will have to take the standpoint of "I told you so," simply because that is what we did in a Hesperian published some months ago in which we said, there would be a shortage unless you started buying early, which you didn't and which there is.

Most of us sat around and decided to take pot luck, because what happened last year was bound not to happen this year, surely someone would get wise and have a large stock on hand.

Meanwhile we are still short on the precious fluid and some will undoubtedly drain radiators because of the lack. It doesn't really affect those of us who told you so, because we got ours early. (Monday morning that is.)

'Woozie' Jackpot Word for Marjorie On Quiz Program

One word "Woozie" was all it took for Marjorie Oden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conner Oden, to win the jackpot of $195 on a quiz program. Marjorie is a student of Southern Methodist university in Dallas and usually hears the quiz program before going to school.

A root beer company, makers of "Woozie" beer, sponsors the program and each broadcast calls different telephone numbers hoping someone will answer with "Woozie instead of 'hello' Marjorie did just that.

The announcer was really excited while Marjorie remained quite calm until she learned what she had won. She had expected a couple of bottles of "Woozie" and maybe a show ticket.

Donnie Woolsey Has Mild Case of Polio, Says Report

Donnie Ray Woolsey, 13 year old son of J. W. Woolsey and Mrs. Carl Lewis is receiving treatment at the West Texas Polio center at Plainview.

The lad, admitted Friday afternoon, has a mild case of the malady, attending physicians said.

Late Tuesday, the Woolsey family reported that his condition was greatly improved but it is indefinite how long he will be in the hospital.

Committee Urges Prompt Wheat Report

The Floyd County Advisory committee, of the Federal Crop Insurance corporation, are urging all farmers who have wheat insurance policies to submit their acreage reports promptly after the wheat crop is seeded.

They announced promptness in reporting their acres is advantageous to all concerned. All contracts contain a provision which allows the insured a 5% discount on his premium if he files his acreage report promptly, and also pays the premium in full by the date specified in the contract. Prompt filing of the acreage report also fixes the terms of the contract before many of the risks of the insurance are incurred.

W. H. Nelson, T. Sid Brown and E. L. Thomas comprise the committee.

'Much Improved' Is Hospital Report on C. E. Neil Illness

Charles E. Neil, veteran Floyd county farm operator, who suffered a cerebral hemorrhage Saturday morning and has been in Peoples hospital for treatment and observation since, was described by authorities there as "much improved" yesterday, although he had very high temperature Tuesday.

Mr. Neil has a right side paralysis, it was stated.

Had Stroke While Driving Mr. Neil had a cerebral stroke while driving into Floydada on the highway from a farm southeast of Floydada. Wilson Warren and a negro workman discovered Neil's condition when they overtook his car moving slowly down the highway on the wrong side of the road, the owner slumped over the wheel.

The negro jumped out of the Warren car and stopped the Neil vehicle in time to keep it from crashing. They hurried the ill man to Peoples hospital for treatment. Members of the family despaired of his life as late as Tuesday night.

Deer Slayers Finish Hunt; Outrun Storm

Since the opening of deer season on October 15, scores of Floyd county people have been to the mountains of Utah, Wyoming and Colorado hunting bear, deer and elk. Most popular hunting place has been in the mountains northwest of Rifle, Colorado, where some have been quite lucky in bagging bucks and others not so lucky.

N. B. Stansell came home with a buck and a doe to his credit and Woodrow Badgett and Bud Barton, Plomat, each bagged a doe. Billy Stanforth, Jr., and W. E. Burleson killed two does each. Others hunting near Rifle have been L. A. Marshall, Harry Morckel, James Word, W. M. Stanforth, Sr., and Stanley Burleson.

Hunting in Wyoming Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Lane Decker have returned from a hunting trip in Wyoming. Mr. Decker bagged one of the largest deer that has been taken out of that part of the country this season.

So far as known all the hunters got out of the mountains ahead of the blizzard.

The party went to Lake Mead by way of Williams, Arizona, where they were joined by Claude Nichols and several other men.

One thing that people must keep in mind in connection with an all-weather road building program, one that has been going on all along as well as any future is that a "permanent road" is not a permanent road. There is no such thing as permanent in connection with a road, in spite of the far-reaching research done and the thousands of miles of trial and error work that has been carried on in Texas as well as in the other states of the nation. Thus the roads that have been built must be kept up. They deteriorate with time and with use. We say this not by any means to discourage any roadbuilding plans that any community or the whole county might have in mind. No doubt "permanent roads" are a great economy. But they must be paid for over and over again out of the savings effected by their use. The same goes for streets. Don't expect your paved street to be permanently off of your mind now that you have it paved. Don't expect the paving you hope to put on your street in the near future to stop all the expense. It isn't in the book.

Weather note: Demand for the outstanding prognostications on the weather which formerly appeared in this newspaper can be met again some time next spring. Principal reason for this is that the weather has finally made its cycle changes and leveled off again, so that the signs mean what they say. During a change, such as has been in progress the past three years none of the signs can be reasonably sure, that is to say that the prairie life is crossed up, too. To illustrate, many a tarantula has come to an untimely death in Floyd county during this changing period because the elements did not carry out their promises and threats. And the blue weeds and lake grass have suffered from this same condition that transpires once about every 40 years to 50. But its over now, its over. Next year you can watch The Hesperian and be sure of frost dates, and other things the gardener must know and which would be helpful also in avoiding screw worms in the cattle and encephalomyelitis among the horses. There will be no advance in the price of subscriptions. However, we advise all to keep their expiration dates well in advance for fear we change our minds.

The State Highway department has a big job cut out for it in the next few years. Observers outside of the organization cannot help seeing that maintenance of their present artery roads is going to be a big problem, even if Texans had them add no new hard surfaced travel ways. At this time it is said the department has 22 million dollars a year in their budget for upkeep and repairs on state highways. The fact is that if all the repair and re-do jobs that should be done were put in the budget tomorrow the bill would run above a hundred million. This year there is to be added to the system something more than three thousand miles of hard-surfaced roads. So one can see that this business is a growing one. If the country people of the state have their way in the next 12 months there are to be added several thousand more miles that will reach around school bus routes and rural mail routes as well in the next few years. Presumably the people are going to be willing to get Texas out of the mud and then foot the bill as it comes time to keep it that way. It will not be a little bill.

Writer Is Given Story By-Line About His Trip

Note: Homer and Mrs. Steen returned after a brief absence during which as is the fashion of newspaper people, they made conversation with strangers, some of whom would talk and some of whom would not. Mr. Steen remains here in the first person some of the signs he saw and snatches of conversation he recalls.

(By Homer Steen)

Jargon: Fry two, sunny side along the way: Little girl hopping humming a tune home, card in hand. . . Traffic on highways adjacent to walking lines marked across highway. . . school grounds high fences surrounding the grounds to keep kids out of traffic.

Scenes: Red headed negro girl . . . bob tail trucks with high cotton side boards, loaded full of little, tender turnip greens. . . machines appearing somewhat like row binders in fields cutting the greens for the greens hungry populace.

Cafe cook: "I'm tired of this. The next woman that brings in a cotton tail for me to dress I'm going to blow my top."

From a Tennessee cafe menu: Ham and eggs 75c; country ham and eggs $1.

Ozark grocer: "The big crop of squirrels has beat us to the hazel nuts and chinquapins this year and the walnuts are too green to sell."

Church sign: Apostolic faith church. . . another church sign Assembly of God church, this place for sale.

Design for last sentence of a native giving traveler directions: "You can't miss it." One morning Made-line and I, in a kitchinish mood, asked nine in a row how to get there. Eight of the nine finished their pleasant and kindly instructions that way. I offered to bet one of them $5 I could.

Tennessee colored boy: "Crackling bread -- I love that stuff."

Humboldt, Tennessee, business man: "Our electric rate is four mills."

Note to prospective home builders: There is no probability the country ever, ever will run out of timber suitable for lumber.

Note in re cotton crop: "There's many a thousand bale of cotton of the 1949 crop in the United States that will never be gathered."

Beauty parlor operator to Made-line: "Don't honk in Memphis. We have an anti-noise ordinance. The officers will swarm right out and take you in."

Memphis barber: "There's more good fishing of all kinds in 50 miles of Memphis than any other place in the world."

Copiah county, Mississippi, has a nice-looking, sensible sort of court house. Court house architecture varies widely from ginger bread to modern massive.

Memphis cab driver: "Ed Crouch made Memphis and that's just the way it is. I guess we turned him out because we got jealous."

New Orleans sight-seeing bus guide: "The Hibernia building, the tallest in New Orleans, 23 stories, is built on pilings driven 150 feet into the ground."

Girl ordering lunch at Solar's grocery store, New Orleans: "I don't see anything on your menu that I like. Haven't you got some good old collard greens?" The answer was yes, and so she had collard greens with iced tea, fresh raspberry pie for dessert. Eating next to the attractive miss I didn't want any dessert but I had the pretty girl and the raspberry pie on my mind and -- what would you think? -- I ordered fresh raspberry pie. Was it ever good!

Saw Scenes and Signs
We do bachelor laundry.
Drink and Chat bar.
Sugar cane unloading winch, a cross between a gin pole and a merry-go-round.

Schools in southern Louisiana: Lots for the little colored boys and girls, not near so many for the white children along the road.

High schools in New Orleans: Girls in one school, boys in another. A considerable love and business success story about this goes back into the rich tradition of the colorful city on Old Man river.

Rampart street aint now the kind of a street you read about in the book.

Mississippi river bridge at New Orleans may not be the longest and biggest and highest in the world but it will do until another Huey Long comes along.

Turnip greens and lettuce and collards, some planting, some just coming up in odd lots, gardens and in fence corners between sugar cane patches.

Tennessee woman (walking into a restaurant after the football game and talking to friends): "Don't you all get excited. I'm not going to chew this gum very hard nor very much longer."

Winter merchandising note from southern Louisiana, sidewalk temperature 87 degrees: Hugger caps with ear flaps or muffs of fur in store window of a Floydada-size town.

Across Atchafalaya river: Automobiles and pleasure cars take the high road across a wonderful viaduct, trucks and busses take the low road. Answer said to be the high road doesn't have enough foundation to take the heavy vehicles' pounding.

"Fun" and "pleasure" in the signs in the Acadian country.

Road shoulders in most states (other than Texas): Venture a wheel out on one at your own risk. In southern Louisiana you just totally doesn't.

In a Floydada-size town in mid-Louisiana we went to a nice, little air-cooled cafe and ate at a table near the slot machines. The machines have guaranteed jackpots. When a U. S. marshal walked in I nearly swallowed my upper plate. Here's a raid, I thought. But not so. He had in tow two youngsters enroute to prison. He was the handsomest man! Fully masculine and prettier teeth than Clark Gable and a smiling, he-man personality. I could have lost a loving wife right then and there. "The best looking man I ever saw in my life," said you know who.

Cafe customs in the Cajan country: They expect you to order French fries. Order a hamburger with onions and you get the onions fried and piled on top of the burger.

In the Cajan country they brought out noon-day dinner with cornbread as the "bread" on the menu, and turnip greens. The roast beef had a savory gravy.

Everywhere we went in seven states they go for barbecue, and their barbecue cooking outfits range all the way from works of art to tin lean-to looking things. The smoke was coming out of many of the pits as we drove along.

In Louisiana they have gambling local option the same as liquor and there is something in their constitution approved when the state went into union that gives a county or parish local option regardless of the way the state law may read. Thus one county would have gambling that was legal, the next county might have gambling and liquor, or neither.

Most enjoyed by us at the Dallas fair: The Elsie and Elmer booth with their bit of a son Beaugard, and the little "trains" that take sightseers and sorefoots around over the grounds. We also attended the Texas - O. U. football game as guests of the State Fair management. We didn't even make an attempt to see the Spike Jones show.

Names of Things
Big Skin river, Dirty creek, Rabbit branch. . . Towns named Humansville, Peculiar and Fair Deal. . . Southern Queen Colored Hotel. . . David's Ark. . . Noah's Inn. . . Chatterbox Cafe. . . Dums Creek. . . Skillet Fork. . . Tick Tock Drive-In. In Tennessee, Kentucky, Indiana, roadside parks are "picnic tables," and a slick road is a "slippery road." Road sign advertises Budweiser, Falstaff, eggs and fryers.

One end of a conversation between two young matrons heard by Made-line: "We don't go anywhere or do anything like that. All we do is sit there and look at each other."

Mississippi lumber mill operator: "We have eight kiln runs, two of them down now on account of mud in the bottoms. We sell long leaf yellow pine and have enough timber in the forest to keep us going indefinitely."

Old saying proven true: Negro and a hound dog are like ham and eggs. They go together.

Louisiana State Highway department tries to do all their own road building. They identify the new farm to market projects with state numbers. In Tennessee they call them rural road projects, in Missouri they are designated county-wise with letter or letters of the alphabet.

long, and three inches wide each bearing a town name, highway number, mileage information and an arrow pointing forward, backward, or angling away from the road was too much for me at 10 paces and 3 miles an hour.

In Louisiana a highway warning cattle at large means just that. To be conservative the number is seven per mile for more than 200 miles before you get to New Orleans from Shreveport. Answer figured out by Madeline and me is that the grass is kept mowed on the rights-of-way while the grass out in the woods and pastures is taller and tougher. It is against the law to let the live stock run at large but the highway department recognizes the fact that this law is not observed.

Tin roofs by the thousand on barns, sheds, negro shacks, nice homes, churches. Hardware dealers in Tennessee said it was because they last longer and cost less than spruce shingles, now hard to get. "Don't the roof get a little noisy when it rains?"

"Yes, you can hear it all over the place," he grinned.

Many houses and barns with tin roofs are surrounded by pine trees 80 feet or more tall.

Road sign in Louisiana: To go left go over the overpass and make two right turns. We tried it. It works.

Wayne Bennett would have to have mounds up to 50 inches if he were in the tile making business down south. He would also have to have at least five acres of ground,

They go in for tile in a big way. You can understand why they collect 8 and 10 cents gas taxes in Louisiana. A mile of road bed alone in the southern part of the state easily costs twice as much as a Floyd county finished mile of hard-surfaced road. For a good road that must carry heavy traffic they consider a concrete slab only.

Saw scene: Negro with a wagon load of moss pulling out of a river bottom. That family by now has two newly made mattresses.

Road sign in Indiana that cocked my pistol said "Look out for falling rocks." Madeline says it makes sense. I say it don't. We had a lively argument for awhile there. I was still scrooched down, driving like mad, my mind on falling rocks, trying to get out of the danger zone, when she called my attention to the fact that passing cars also are dangerous unless you stay on your side of the road.

In New Orleans papers appear advertisements observing anniversaries of the passing of deceased fathers, mothers, brothers, etc., in which the heartache of loving survivors is told and the virtues of the loved one are recalled.

In the Mississippi delta country above Vicksburg they are about to build three big dams for flood control and will make sure tremendous cotton production in about five counties. At Jackson and Sardis they told me the dams would prevent the winter overflows as well as the rise that usually comes in June and runs everybody and their live stock out of the bottoms. They always raise a bale or two bales to the acre. The dams will make living conditions better in the delta area but the annual layer of silt will be sorely missed 15 years from now when the cotton production goes down. This happened in Arkansas when they built a levee to keep Old Man River away from the vicinity of Blytheville. Another delta area on the Mississippi that has hit the cotton jackpot is in southeast Missouri. Formerly there was no cotton there whatsoever. In the Vicksburg delta a man with a thousand acres of cotton is just a picker. Northern Mississippi cotton harvest is just a wee bit ahead of Floyd county, Texas.

Missouri farmer: "Weevils are eating up our corn in the fields. They took 15c a bushel off the price for two days hand running, then quit buying altogether on account of the weevils."

Sign on a car in a used car lot: $40 Ford for $75.

At a Mississippi cafe I said to a negro woman who was cooking something that smelled mighty good: "Are you going to have hot water cornbread and fresh catfish for dinner?"

"No," she said.

"Aren't the creeks around here full of good catfish and don't they sell 'em?"

"Naw suh, they is lots of catfish and they catches them, but they catches them for their own use."

Also in Mississippi: There was a slightly overcast sky when I asked the station about the state fair going on up at Jackson.

"Yes, it's going on and there'd be a lot of folks there if it wasn't for this blustery weather."

As my eye traveled in a circle looking for the bluster my glance met Madeline's who was looking for wind and dust, too. We snickered but silently to keep from offending the nice young man who waited on us. A mile or so later we laughed good when Madeline pointed out a very slight ripple in the leaves of a tall tree. "Terrible weather," she said.

Fashion note: Men wearing coats of maroon in flannel and corduroy, and the same prominent in windows from New Orleans to Louisville.

Signs on Louisville store front: Please keep hands and feet off of wall.

Traffic sign in Tennessee: "Our traffic laws are reasonable. Are you?" Hate to be picked up for a traffic violation in that man's town. I slowed down.

Owensburg, Kentucky, is full of Madeline's kinfolks on the Potter side of the family. She asked the service station man if he knew any Potters thereabout. "Yes, the town is full of them," he said. "The mayor is a Potter."

I wanted us to drive up to the mayor's house and tell them their cousins from Texas had come for dinner, but better judgement, as I was told, prevailed. They couldn't have said more than "no" and we could have been lucky.

Also at Owensburg a man makes his living buying hams and re-selling them. The cafe people and others complain that he keeps them all bought up and they can't get them without going to him for them. He is the "market" for hams for several counties.

In the Louisiana state capitol one elevator is "reserved for the governor," another for "the lieutenant governor." We couldn't find the one reserved for the folks. Also a parking sign at a Memphis church said "reserved for the pastor."

Official highway map of Oklahoma: "Not a municipality in Oklahoma is more than 50 miles from a lake and good water." Evidently Oklahomans who go to Congress know who they'd better look out for while the others elect statesmen to go to Europe to see about the displaced persons. What more good in all the world could a West Texas congressman do than to get "a lake and good water within 50 miles of every municipality" in his district?

In most of the states we visit they have turned their old state capitols into historical treasure houses and moved their officials into newer, larger quarters. But the people insist on filling these, too with heirlooms which they don't want to be bothered with in their own homes but are unwilling to throw away, mostly about war and their gallant forefathers. They shouldn't do it but I'll let you tell them so.

Pat on the back: Every state we ever traveled in ought to send their engineers, their draftsmen and their sign-makers to Texas to let the Texas State Highway department show them how. Texas is 10 years

Conquest of Plains

Subject of Speaker

MATADOR—Samuel Colt, barbed wire and windmills were principal factors in helping conquer the Great Plains area, according to Hollis Bond, with the firm of Massie and Bond, land agents, principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Matador Club, in the Methodist church basement.

A qualified historian, Mr. Bond approached his subject with great ease. He was introduced by District Judge Alton B. Chapman of Floydada. "The Colt was the turning point," Mr. Bond declared. "Up to the time of the gun's invention, the hostile and nomadic Indians in central part of the nation against had been holding the vast territory white invasion."

Everyone seemed to enjoy the colorful lesson on American history told by Mr. Bond.

Head your Buick for our fountain of youth

Now's the time when Autumn calls you out for a ramble in your Buick.

Slide under the wheel and answer that call! Take a Fireball cruise through the countryside, with your heart growing lighter and the years slipping off your shoulders at each mile!

Just one reminder, though. Make sure your Buick is in top shape to keep step with you. First bring it in to us — and let us clean summer's dust out of your air filter, flush out tired summer crankcase oil with its grit and goo, check your carburetor adjustment to see that you're getting the most powerful, most economical mixture with October's cooler, heavier atmosphere.

We can do this quickly, economically, with a sure touch. Our thorough Buick training and long Buick experience in doing each job the factory-designated way have earned us a reputation — we're the "Fountain of Youth" for Buicks.

To make it easy, we've printed a Fall Check List below. Just tear this out, drive in this week and hand it to us — and when you head out for the open road there'll be a happy smile on your face!

Tear out this check list — bring it in with your Buick

Fall Checkup — Lights, brakes, tire wear, front-end alignment, oil filter unit, battery, car heater.

Adjust — Carburetor, distributor.

Clean — Air cleaner.

Daily - Wallace Marriage Vows Said in Dallas Baptist Church

Miss Jo Ann Daily, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Daily, 6307 Rev. and Mrs. Dallas, became the bride of Harold David Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Wallace, 5533 Swiss, Saturday, October 15, in the Gaston Avenue Baptist church in Dallas.

As the bride entered the church with her father, Dr. Marshall T. Craig stood at the altar and Mrs. Lynn Watson played organ music. Gale Dunn was vocalist.

The bride wore a pink satin ball-length gown with matching mitts. The dress had tiny pointed collar, ledge sleeves and a full gathered skirt. Her shoulder-length veil of French bridal illusion fell in a circle from a shaped net of the pink fabric. Atop her white Bible was a white orchid showered with stephanotis and satin streamers.

Mrs. B. W. Furr was matron-of-honor and chosen for bridesmaids were Mrs. James Anderson, Roy Hodges, J. L. Vaughn and Miss Carmen Banuelos. The candlelighters were Miss Patsy Pinson and Miss Martha Wallace.

The groom's cousin, Richard Wallace, was best man and groomsmen were Billy Scarborough, John Hall, Jack Overbeck and Don Bullock. Ushers were Roy Hodges and Jean Ray McDowell.

A reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Lloyd. Mrs. George Lovell and Mrs. Charles Smith presided at the cake, while Miss Virginia Springer served punch. Mrs. B. R. Durrett presided over the bride's book.

For going away, the bride chose a three piece Palomino corduroy suit with matching brown accessories and a white orchid corsage. The newlyweds are spending their wedding trip in the Ozark mountains of Arkansas.

Mrs. Wallace attended Andrews Ward school as a small child. The family moved to Dallas some 8 years ago and she graduated from Woodrow Wilson High school there. She also attended North Texas State college. The groom graduated from Woodrow Wilson High school and attended the University of Texas, Southern Methodist university and North Texas State college.

Attending the wedding from Floydada were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Deakins, Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie and Mr. and Mrs. Grady Walker.

Flower Show Judging School November 7

Announcement was made this week of a flower show judging school to be held in the Trinity Methodist church in Amarillo on November 7 and 8 by Mrs. Joe Miller, president of the South Amarillo Garden club. In making the announcement, Mrs. Miller said that the horticulture and flower arranging course would be of interest to everyone including residents here.

Registration begins at 9:30 on the morning of November 7. The morning session will be flower show practice and the afternoon discussion will be on horticulture. Tuesday morning a discussion on elements of flower arrangement will be given. The afternoon will be devoted to a demonstration of making flower arrangements.

The lectures are not restricted to Garden club members, however only Garden club members affiliated with State clubs may receive state and national credit for courses.

Mrs. Arthur Imbrecht and small son, Rickey, of Laguna Beach, California, are spending two weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Yearwood. Betty Yearwood, who is a member of the school faculty in Dumas, also spent the week-end with her parents.

Fox - Laminack Vows Said October 14 At Clinton, Oklahoma

An altar of large baskets containing gladioli and chrysanthemums on each side, with tall white candelabra in the center reflecting in a mirror formed the setting for the marriage of Miss Billie Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Fox, of Arapaho, Oklahoma to Jim Laminack, son of Mrs. Mabel Laminack, Floydada. The vows were exchanged at 9 o'clock in the evening on October 14 in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Senior, Clinton, Oklahoma.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a teal blue suit with sable mist accessories. She carried a bronze orchid on a white Bible with white satin streamers. Mrs. Jack Wilmett attended the bride as matron of honor. Mrs. Kenneth Rogers lighted the candles. Kenneth Rogers, of Oklahoma City, attended the groom as best man.

Jackie Brock Scores Again as 4-H Clubber

COLLEGE STATION—Jackie Brock perhaps Texas' best known 4-H boy, has scored again. Floyd Lynch, state 4-H club leader of the Texas A&M College Extension service, announced that Jackie has been elected as winner of the state 4-H Citizenship contest for 4-H boys.

Jackie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Brock, Floydada, Floyd county. He is twenty years of age; has completed 12 years of 4-H work; is a senior in Texas Technological college and has built up over the years one of the finest competitive 4-H records in the nation. He has completed demonstrations that include: field crops, dairy cattle, poultry, hogs, beef cattle, gardening and sheep; however, his greatest achievements have come in the fields of leadership citizenship and achievement.

Many Times A Winner

He has held an elective office in his local club, in the county 4-H organization, district or state every year since he first enrolled as a 4-H member. He has attended National 4-H congress three times. In 1943 as a Santa Fe award winner, in 1944 as a national Farm Safety winner and in 1947, as a sectional and second place national winner in the Leadership Contests. He has received two college scholarships in addition to the three trips. In 1946, he was a delegate from Texas to the National 4-H Club camp, Washington, D. C., and in 1947, represented his fellow Texans at the American Youth Foundation camp, Ft. Shelby, Michigan. The scholarship to this camp was provided by the Danforth foundation St. Louis.

Currently he is serving as president of the district 2 boys 4-H organization, and this past summer his fellow members made him chairman of the State 4-H Conservation Camp. He was one of the organizers and is a charter member of the Texas tech 4-H Club, the only collegiate 4-H club in the state. He has never been too busy with his own work that he couldn't take off and help others.

Organized A Negro Club

During the war, he organized a Negro 4-H club in Floydada and served as their leader. He is a qualified dairy heard improvement tester; in 1945, he helped organize six Farmers Union groups and was one of the 4-H members that helped get the Floyd County Planting Seed association started. He assisted with the organization of a cooperative hospital in the county and is a member of a local service club as well as many other organizations that have as their object the improvement of economic and social conditions in the area.

Jackie has always had the support and cooperation of his parents, local club leaders, county extension agents and others, and he will tell you that this isn't his record alone but one that was made possible by the cooperation of many.

He says, "The many rich and lasting experiences gained through 4-H club work has made for me a strong and firm foundation on which to stand when I take my place among the citizens of my community, county, state and nation."

The National Citizenship awards are provided to honor Thomas E. Wilson, Chicago. He is chairman of the national committee on boys and girls club work. The two national winners, a boy and a girl, will each receive a $200 college scholarship. Jackie's record will be entered in the national contest.

Security Benefits Not Automatically Paid, Says Hutton

Social security benefits to 65 year old workers and to the families of workers who die are not paid automatically, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, cautioned.

In every case where payments are due, a claim must be filed with the social security office to start the ball rolling. The law places a limit on the number of back payments that can be made when a claim is not filed promptly and no more than three months' back benefits can be paid.

When a 65 year old worker stops work, he should get in touch with the social security office, without delay. When a worker dies, someone in the family should make it a point to inquire about possible benefits to the survivors. In either case, if action is delayed more than three months after death or retirement, one or more monthly payments might be lost.

Inquiries should be addressed to the Social Security administration field office Box 1401, Lubbock, Tex.

Potent Teams Still Battling For Top Rung

District standings are near in line with results of last week's games under the district belt. Floydada with the help of the Abernathy forfeits, still leads the district with a very small margin, having gone to Matador last week, taking a very close decision from the Matador Matadors, 12-12, winning on 11 to 5 first downs.

Spur is the next in line in district standings, having lost only one game in five starts. Spur dropped their only game to the Paducah Dragons, yet are in one of the best positions to continue in the district race without another loss although they must still contest Abernathy, Rails and of course Floydada.

Crosbyton and Lockney are in the next spot in district standings, having won three each and lost two games. These teams are still potent and are likely to upset other district contender's plans.

Paducah and Rails are tied for the next spot, with two wins and two losses to their credit, both being capable of winning more games.

Tulia fills the next slot with only one conference win to offset their three losses.

Matador and Abernathy are tied for the cellar each with only one win and four losses. Abernathy has-

To Try Pheasants in Petersburg Area

PETERSBURG—An order was sent off Tuesday, October 25, for pheasants. These birds, when they arrive, will be grown and wild-raised and should be able to take care of themselves.

Many people of this area think that this is just as good or better country for pheasants as any in the United States. It is said that these birds are the gamest of game birds and really make fine shooting, and when you get one, you have some of the finest eating in the world.

These birds cost $8.00 per pair. There is a five year closed season on pheasants in Texas and a heavy fine for killing them.

TO THE VOTERS OF FLOYD COUNTY

In announcing my candidacy for the office of member of the Texas State Board of Education from the 19th Congressional District, I feel that I need no introduction to the people of West Texas as I have worked continuously for the past 8 years with the school people of this area.
My chief concern has been for equal and progressive educational opportunities for the youth of West Texas. As a parent, a class room teacher, a school administrator and a deputy school superintendent I have become familiar with the school problems of this area. I am now district supervisor of the National Educators Life Insurance company.

 TEAM TEAM TEAM !!!
 Yes, we have got the team, a good one too, but that is not all it takes to win a football game. It takes lots of that stuff called "Spirit", school spirit to be exact. If you are an average student, you think "Oh well, the band and pep squad show our spirit enough." But what if the team, band, and pep squad each left it up to the other? I am afraid we wouldn't be top of the district for very long. Let's everyone stand behind the boys and let them know we think they are tops.

Band News

BAND NEWS
 The Floydada High School Band performed at the half of the Floydada-Matador game.
 They formed on the field in reverse positions and went through a routine which put them in their regular positions.
 They formed a clock on the middle of the field and played "Grandfather's Clock".
 After this they did a counter march and came to face the west grandstand where an "M" and an "F" were formed. While these letters were formed, they played "Indiana State Band" and "Steel King". While the band played, the twirlers went through routines.
 After the letters were formed, the band marched off the field playing "The Thunderer".

Home-Making Week October 30 November 5

The Homemaking girls are planning to observe the Future Homemakers of America Week.

OFFICIAL MEMORANDUM
 BY
ALLAN SHIVERS
 GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

GREETINGS.
 The Future Homemakers of America is the national organization of pupils studying homemaking in junior and senior high schools. Working toward better home and family living, the membership shares in solving the problems important to home life.

The Texas Association, constituting the youth of this State and affiliated with the national organization, provides opportunities for developing leadership and intelligent participation in our democratic society. Through its program of work, these youths are learning to live better tomorrow.

Having as one of their main purposes the promotion of international good will, the Future Homemakers of America have sponsored such activities as the adoption of home economic classes in foreign countries, developing a broader understanding and better relationship by an exchange of letters and gifts. These members, through their organization, have resolved together with youth of all freedom-loving nations to celebrate the World Christmas Festival by sending gifts and friendship packages throughout the year to needy children in other countries.

There, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of October 30-November 5 as FUTURE HOMEMAKERS OF AMERICA WEEK in Texas, in recognition of the contributions of this program to our homes, community, state, and nation, and to its importance in the relationship between nations, and ask that it be fittingly observed.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 5th day of Oct., 1949.

ALLAN SHIVERS
 Governor of Texas

STYLE OF THE WEEK
 Ye old high school students are on the beam again this week Never, never, say "Hello," you must say, "O-Hewo!"
 Even the girls have taken the old fad of rinsing their hair. My, what will "blondie" come too?

DE QUACKER

Sunshine or rain my column is always in the very same place in this paper. You can always look it up. What's this I hear about Francis Pratt liking to have a date with Don Hill? Sounds interesting!
 Curtis Meredith and Veva Buske seem to be doing pretty good in 7th period study hall. Could this be a new romance in the first degree?
 I hear that Carolyn Kiker would like to go with Rodney Hinkle. Come on Rodney, why not?
 Bobby Durham and Margie Herring seem to have fun together in English III. What about this, Bob? What will Rodney think, or do you care??

Is this a new romance?? Trois asked Buster to the Masquerade Ball, Halloween Goblins, watch out! Trois, have you forgotten Billy Jo??
 It looks like Dean S. and Billy Hand were having a good time at South Plains the other night. Dean seems to like these Silverton girls. Jane was really glad to see Cliff when he came home Tuesday. Old flame burning anew...
 What is this I hear about Don Pope wanting to go with Eva Waller? New Romance maybe??
 George B. What's this I've been hearing about you wondering what's wrong with Wanda S. Well, don't worry; from what I hear she still likes you. "Tell us more."
 Mary Patterson and Neil Pierce are doing O. K. in 5th period S. H. Because when he bit rings, she gets all excited over Thursday night.
 Mary Ann W. sure seems to be crazy about Gene; that is all you hear. Could it be Gene Payne?
 Eva Waller and Jimmie Powell seem to be enjoying English III a great deal, combining each others hair.

Juanita Hucklebee, I think you're feeling for Bob Harbor is mutual. He certainly would like a date.
 "Billie can't make up her mind between Loy Lee and Jimmy Hammonds. It seems she likes them both. Cupid, you sure are in a fix.
 Trois Muncy was pretty upset Friday night when Billy Jo got hurt. Better watch her Gleva, she has her head set on him and you know Trois when she gets a crush.
 Who was Arminta waiting for Sunday night? She and Mary were pretty desperate.

Who is the Freshman girl that has a crush on Jimmy Jones?? None other than Judy Moss. But he has his eyes on Mary Parrish and wonder who her eyes are on??
 Did I hear that Betty asked Jr. to the Halloween Masquerade? Luck to you, Betty, but you'd better watch Chris.
 What's this I hear about Arlen giving Grace his ring back. I knew that couple wouldn't stay separated very long.
 What's this I hear about Ima Nell saying she sure would like to go with John Moss? John, why don't you give her a chance?
 David and Mary Alice together, boy what will happen next. But it looks pretty good, doesn't it??
 Eleveland Lee and Tommie have really been having a good time since their folks are gone. Boys at their house all time. Out of town boys

Whirlwinds Clip Matador 11 to 5 on Downs Rule

Floydada's fighting Whirlwinds team just did get by a scrappy but outclassed Matador eleven at Matador Friday night. The Winds picked up 11 first downs and 3 penetrations to Matador's 5 first downs and 3 penetrations. Matador scored first on an intercepted lateral from Smith, the Wind's wingback. The Winds were on their own 45 and Shealon, the Matador's pivot man, broke through the line and raced the necessary yardage. Gieseke's try for point was no good, 6-0. The Matador's then scored again, this time on a fumble by Robertson, which set them upon the Wind's 20 and Gieseke ran it over. The try for point was no good, 12-0. It seemed as if Matador was getting all the breaks in this night's games, but late in the second period, a pass from Finley on the 47 connected with Capshaw, an inexperienced but speedy ball toter, who outraced the whole Matador team. The try for point, no good, 12-6. The Wind's last score did not come until late in the last quarter, when Perry set up on a pass play from Finley gaining 40 yards. The next play was a shot pass to Ring who also went over standing up. Guthrie's try for point was no-good. The score was 12-12, as it remained, but the Winds got the ball game on their 11 first downs.

The world's huge one hundred pounds heavy weight woman wrestler of the world has been found in F. H. S. The "champ" is 16 years old and was born in Plainview, Texas, on April 6, 1933. This heavy weight has blonde hair, beautiful blue eyes, and is five feet and two inches tall. Why, you do know your champs, it is Peggy Collier.
 Peggy is just "slap-happy" over pretty clothes, Mercury, slumber classical music, swimming, moccasins, chocolate, dancing, pep rallies, cherry limes, sour pickles, sleeping late, tennis, and (Whew!) fried chicken.
 Pesty boys, moody people, rainy weather, squash, Mondays, orange, turnips, reading, raisins, and wrestling matches she "hates with a purple passion."

CAMEL and a NEEDLE

The world's great Teacher has left us with a word of wisdom that never loses its charm nor its truthfulness, "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle than for a rich man to enter the kingdom of God."

There are some things that money cannot buy; in fact all the really great values of our world cannot be bought. Money can secure food and houses and clothing and all sorts of necessary goods for our convenience and our comfort. But money alone is pretty weak and foolish. The old Spartan mother said to a son who complained that his sword was too short, that he must add a step for himself to lengthen the sword; and that was the absolutely essential part of the equipment. That is still true. Helpful as money may be, you are more important. Real friends and genuine fellowship wait for the extra step that you must take. Love and happiness in a home are not bought; they are the product of loving and trusting and dependable souls.

Camels do not go through needles' eyes; nor do human kingdoms of value answer to the demand of money alone. But with God all things are possible. Rich men may enter God's kingdom if they will love Him more than they love their money. Any man may enter the kingdom on the same basis. People who trust in things and who find that so much can be bought for a price will discover with difficulty that education and love and religion and trust must be gained by sheer personal worth and goodness. Greatly then should we honor men and women of wealth who are first good people and kind and generous. They have proven to be masters of things and not their servants. Let's use what money we have for good but let's never think money is a substitute for character or for piety.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

This Church Page Is Being Published Each Week With the Hope of Getting More People to Go to Church. It Is Sponsored By These Business Firms Who Believe We Should Attend Religious Services Regularly.
