Santa Claus Will Pay First Visit To Floydada Monday Afternoon

That jolly old gent that all the kids have been waiting for will pay his first visit to Floydada Monday afternoon to officially open the Christmas season. Santa will arrive downtown at 3 o'clock riding atop the Floydada Fire truck and will distribute candy as he makes the rounds, seeing all the youngsters. As an added feature, Floydada High school band will be on hand to parade on the downtown streets.

Robert H. Crowell, manager of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, said that the rural schools have been contacted and it is possible that some of the schools will dismiss in time for the kiddos to get downtown for St. Nick's visit ushering in a gala holiday season.

Lights On Monday Night

To add more Yuletide spirit to the day, the Christmas street lights will be ready to turn on Monday night. Work will begin Friday on stringing the lights that will cover seven business blocks. Additional decorations for the streets have been ordered and Al Puchs, superintendent of the city light plant, said that barring unforeseen difficulties including bad weather, the lights would be turned on Monday night.

A crew of 5 or 6 city employees and possibly others will begin stringing the lights immediately following the Thanksgiving holiday. The lights will again be strung entwined with spruce as was last year except the criss-cross at the intersection of Main and California street. It is hoped that aluminum foil can be obtained for these two lines instead of greenery.

An outdoor lighting decoration is on display in front of the Chamber of Commerce office and the

'50 Cotton Acreage Allotments Set Soon

Gin at McCoy Burned Friday

Of the 15 plants which opened up last week's campaign to gin the area's record breaking cotton crop, there were 14 left Saturday night. Friday morning the McCoy gin, 9 miles southwest of Floydada, was burned by friction-created fire as it cut in the fleece of the 17168th bale of the season. Loss of the owners is estimated at a figure upward of $80,000.

The fire got under way about 4:30 o'clock. It was generated in the cleaners, a not unusual circumstance. But one of the cleaners threw a belt and instead of cleaning out the blazing staple it choked down. Shortly the blaze had enveloped the gin house and it was only a matter of minutes until the whole plant was doomed. By 8 o'clock only standing portions of the plant were the water tower, the smoke stack and the office.

Leonard Z. Miller, manager of the plant for the past three years, who was awakened at his nearby residence almost immediately when the blaze got under way, telephoned futilely for aid from Floydada Fire department. It was a token effort, however. Long before the department could have reached the scene of the fire the plant was enveloped in flames. The department did not even attempt the run, since an unlimited supply of water would have been needed in any effort to meet the emergency.

Friction-generated fire in snapped cotton as it passes through the gin plant is not an unusual occurrence, but the gin and the ginner must keep the flow staple moving and get it out in the open where water or fire extinguishers can be used. The driving belt which did not function spelt the difference in this instance. The bill will be of an undetermined amount when some insurance carrier has been determined.

Owners of the plant are Tom Edwards of Crosbyton, George Edwards and Raymond Aiken of Plainview. They had spent some (See McCoy Gin, back page)

Leads West Texans

J. M. Willson, Floydada lumber dealer since 1911, who also is interested in a half dozen enterprises in the West Texas area, is the new president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce. Willson was installed Tuesday and is taking leadership in the campaign for water dams in West Texas.

Willson Named New President Westex C of C

J. M. Willson, of Floydada, is the new president of West Texas Chamber of Commerce, chosen Tuesday afternoon at Fort Worth when the annual meeting of the board of directors was held at the Worth Hotel. The Floydada man succeeds John D. Mitchell, of Odessa.

B. P. Bludworth of Brownwood, Frank H. Kelley of Colorado City, and Homer D. Grant, of Lubbock were named vice-presidents. Ed S. Stewart of Abilene again is treasurer and D. A. Banden was re-elected as general manager.

Coincident with the meeting was the establishment of a new water association—the West Texas Domestic Water association—program of which will be the solution of water supply for domestic and industrial purposes and a multi-city dam system in the area. Homer D. Grant, of Lubbock, will be president of the water association.

Floydada Men Present

Several Floydada business and professional men attended the banquet Tuesday night to honor their fellow-townsmen and to hear top-flight state and national officials pledge support to the proposal to assure West Texas areas an ample supply of water. Among those present, also, was Mrs. Willson, wife of the organization's president.

Wm. A. Warne, assistant secretary of the Department of Interior, gave unstinted approval to the plans and declared the department could and would help solve the problem, as congress gave them authority. Senators Tom Connally and Lyndon B. Johnson, as well as Congressmen George Mahon and Gene Worley, were present to pledge support to (See Westex C of C, back page)

He Had to Have It, He Thought Cecil Griggs' Cotton Harvester Gathering For Somebody Else

Cecil Griggs, of McCoy, just had to have his cotton stripper. He was off to the races, so far as cotton harvest was concerned, until Friday morning when he went out to crank up and there was his tractor but no stripper attached. So he didn't have it after all.

He had solved the harvest problem, headed off all the headaches of hiring pickers and keeping them satisfied.

But after the thief or thieves got through with him he was minus harvesting machine, minus hands, and a considerable field of cotton to gather.

Griggs left his machinery in the field late in the afternoon—"sorter early because I had some other things to do." Next morning the machine was gone. In its place were some truck and pick-up tracks, where it had been lifted from the field. It was a clean job. Even every bolt, nut or washer needed to make the hitch a perfect one had been taken.

Griggs couldn't figure it out. Sheriff Leland A. Hart, called to the scene, could get only slight clues. The machine, worth on the market twice what it cost the owner and that was all the story that could be patched together. Naturally, they reasoned, somebody in the night had made off with it, to another locality where it would be readily salable. A cotton harvester of this type is just a cotton harvester. It has no serial number, no identifying mark. But any kind of a good stripper sells just like hot cakes now.

Mr. Griggs was apprised of his loss when his son reached home the following morning. He wondered to his mother what dad did with the cotton stripper. The ensuing conversation revealed the loss and the search was begun then and there. The machine may have gone west, southwest, it is surmised. Anyway to a good market a bit out of the beaten path.

INTER-COUNTY COTTON GINNING BIG PROBLEM FOR PINK BOLLWORM CONTROL AUTHORITIES

All thoughtlessly no doubt, high plains cotton raisers, including some Floyd county growers, are making a problem for the authorities charged with the administration of Pink Bollworm control. These growers are filling trucks with six to 12 bales of cotton and starting out east, driving until they find a gin where they can get 24-hour service.

Driving from an area which has been quarantined except under regulations to an uninfested area they are violating the regulations set up to prevent the spread of pink bollworm.

E. I. Posmire, pink bollworm quarantine control supervisor who was in Floydada Monday, calls attention to a statement issued by L. F. Curl, in charge Division of Pink Bollworm control, in which Curl sets up rules for inter-county movement of seed cotton. For the purposes of quarantine enforcement seed cotton will be allowed inter-county movement for ginning in the grouping of counties indicated below:

- Group 1: Oklahoma counties;
- Group 2: Texas-Counties of Gray Wheeler - Donley - Collingsworth - Hall - Childress;
- Group 3: Hardeman - Wilbarger - Wichita - Motley - Ford - King - Knox - Baylor - Stonewall - Haskell - Throckmorton - Shackelford - Callahan - Cottle;
- Group 4: Scurry - Fisher - Jones - Nolan - Taylor - Brown - Coleman - San Saba;
- Group 5: Quay - Curry and Roosevelt, New Mexico, and Bailey - Lamb - Hale - Floyd - Cochran - Hoekley - Lubbock - Crosby - Dickens - Yoakum - Terry - Lynn - Garza - Kent in Texas;
- Group 6: Sterling - Coke - Runnels - Tom Green - Concho - Mason - Schleicher - Menard - McCulloch - Irion - Reagan;
- Group 7: Lea, New Mexico - Gaines - Dawson - Borden - Andrews - Martin - Howard - Mitchell - Ector - Midland - Glasscock in Texas.

Seed cotton produced in Group 1 may move into Groups 2 to 7 inclusive for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 2 may move into group 3 to 7 inclusive for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 3 may move into Groups 4 to 7 inclusive for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 4 may move into Groups 5 to 7 inclusive for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 5 may move into groups 6 and 7 for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 6 may move into Group 7 for ginning; seed cotton produced in Group 7 must remain in Group 7.

Ginners will be held responsible for observance of the regulation under their dealer-carrier permits. "Ginners will be held strictly accountable and will be expected to refuse to gin cotton produced a long distance from their gins," the statement says.

Cotton Quota Vote Dec. 15

On Thursday, December 15, 1949, Floyd County cotton farmers will vote in a referendum to decide if marketing quotas will be used for the 1950 crop.

When the supply of cotton exceeds the normal supply, the Secretary of Agriculture is required by law to proclaim marketing quotas for the next crop. Quotas for the 1950 crop were proclaimed by Secretary Brannan on October 13, 1949.

But quotas will not be used in 1950 unless approved by two-thirds or more of the cotton growers who vote in the referendum. Any person who had an interest in a crop of cotton grown in 1948 is eligible to vote.

If quotas are approved—cotton farmers will be entitled to 90-percent-of-parity price support if you seed within your acreage allotment.

If quotas are not approved—price support to cooperators is limited by law to 50 percent of parity.

Growers approved quotas by overwhelming majorities in each of the years 1938 to 1943, when checked on a nation-wide scale. In Floyd county quotas were approved in 1938, 1941 and 1942.

In 1939, 1940, and 1943, quotas were rejected.

It is estimated that the quotas will carry in Floyd county due to the fact that the present farmers are operating under changed agricultural era.

Old-Time Singing Sunday Afternoon

J. D. Hager of Lockney this week announced there will be an old time singing held at the city auditorium in Lockney, Sunday afternoon, starting at 2 o'clock. Mr. Hager especially invites all of the Floydada people to attend this afternoon of entertainment.

The Evans sisters of Amarillo will be there to help furnish the music and lead the singing.

This is Thanksgiving day, and though many of us cannot make up our minds as to the future, seeing that so many decisions must be made within the next year or so, we can be thankful that we now have what we have to do, that it is sufficient unto our day. Furthermore, that it is providing not only the necessities of life but some of the better things as well. Who could deny this if they would? So be thankful for these material things, bounty which the Giver has made it possible for us to take from Mother Earth or from the bloodstream of commerce as we serve it. One thing about Thanksgiving. It is earthy. It is intended simply to express thanks over a meal of whatever proportions, and for a stomach that is equal to the digestive processes. Robert Burns gave our idea of Thanksgiving when he said we have meat and we can eat, so let the Lord be thanked.

Recently at Houston members of the County Democratic Chairmen's Association of Texas, who have been trying to give them selves or their offices a build-up in state political circles, had another set-back somewhat to the injury of their respective vanities doubtless. The association put off their meeting from a certain date to another certain date so that they could have the prestige of an address by the Honorable Sam Rayburn. A hundred or more, the exact number not being indicated, arrived in Houston and at the appointed place for the meeting. Mr. Rayburn also arrived in Houston. But they met at the Rice while Mr. Rayburn checked in at the new and awesome Shamrock hotel. A considerable number just went on down to the Shamrock where the big political magnet was ensconced, while the others awaited what they thought was a date with them at the Rice. He finally telephoned the few faithful left at the convention to "come on over." County Democratic chairmen have for more than forty years been only wood carriers and water toters, which is what the convention of them found out all over again at Houston. Mr. Rayburn had their number as did everybody else. Even the third man in the nation politically could not call some conventions to break up and come on over, but it could and can be safely done to county chairmen of the Democratic party in Texas. In our book it is just as well. Otherwise the party organization county by county, might become as unsavory politically as it is said to be in some other states, the highly enlightened State of New Jersey, for instance, or good old rotten Pennsylvania.

Floyd county added its quota to the ashes of gins last week-end, result of the heat occasioned by the tremendous friction of ginning cotton with the burrs and other trash. The ginner needs to be a nery man, capable of taking it. He carries insurance to cover his probable loss but this bill, along with some other bills the ginner pays, is a big one. And a burning out can never be replaced, either financially or otherwise. One thing a ginner can't be accused of is setting his gin afire. After you say that it about tells the story.

Speaking of insurance the instance of the church that was destroyed by the weight of sleet early this year in Lockney and over which there was some litigation brings on a new angle which insurance companies must now consider. When a federal judge let an insurance company pay off the Lockney loss without the judge having to write an opinion on whether or not there was liability he left the matter open for the insurance companies to determine what their policies might say in the future. The fine point about it was when does sleet get big enough to be hail if sleet is not hail. As one result there'll be a good many other losses paid off in West Texas on account of the same storm. The insurance company went into court to ask for a judgment clearing them of liability in the Lockney church damage, since the board of trustees of the church would not sign a release. The company wound up paying off. What insurance people think about the fairness of the situation they were caught in would be interesting to know. But, after all, the policy sold the church was a policy which the insurance company had written with many fine lines of print. The case undoubtedly made insurance history. Also it insured the church congregation having enough money to finish their church, a happier view of the matter.

Note that funds for the construction of local hospitals have been increased from the federal government, which will spend through state authority on local hospital construction. The per centage of the federal participation also has been increased from one-third to one-half. When local people took up the idea two or three years ago of obtaining this federal aid for hospital construction they found the plan involved and the expense of construction so high that the hospitalization needed could not be provided without charges which appeared to be excessive in order for the investment finally to pay itself out. Hospitalization really has become big business. Where the government takes a hand it also adds to the tax bill somebody somewhere has to pay. Many communities all over this state and others are building on this plan.

Money will buy a pretty good dog, but it won't buy the wag of his tail. —Josh Billings

Floydada Man Air Force Pilot 'School'

Cadet Dolphus E. Blodgett, 26, whose wife lives at Floydada, entered the basic pilot training program this month, to begin the first year of earning the "wings" of an Air Force pilot officer.

Blodgett arrived at Randolph Air Force Base on November 20, and has been enrolled in the preflight training portion of the program. As a member of the 80F, Blodgett will receive six months of intensive instruction in the phases of flying fundamentals.

Part of the training at this station includes 130 hours of flight instruction in the 625-horsepower "Texan" aircraft and ground-school classes in subjects relating to flight and to Air Force military training. Rigorous calisthenics is a part of the training activities.

On successful completion of his course here, Cadet Blodgett progresses to an advanced single or two-engine school of the Air Force Command, where he will receive instruction in the operation of aircraft, such as the P-51 or B-25, for an additional six months. When he is graduated he will be commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force.

Blodgett was graduated from Childress High School in 1942 and served in the Air Force the following three years as a bombardier-navigator officer. He served with the 319th Bomb Group in Africa and Italy, and flew 66 combat missions in those areas. He was awarded the French Croix Guerre with palm and the Air Medal with twelve oak leaf clusters. Blodgett, who holds commercial and multi-engine pilot's licenses, was an instructor from 1946 until 1949 at the Spartan School of Aeronautics, where he taught hydraulics, aircraft instruments and assembly. While in high school at Childress, Blodgett lettered in track and boxing. His parents live in Wenatchee, Washington.

Another Flow Power In New Ford Line

Another flow of power in the quietest operation in both V-8 and V-6 engines distinguished the new Ford passenger cars in 1950. The new Ford dealers last week were taking advantage of the latest engine design we have ever added to the life of our engines. Harold T. Young, president-engineering, said, "We will miss her very much, especially PTA. She has been so faithful and always ready to do anything for the good of the school."

Among the engine improvements in the 1950 Fords are: New camshaft timing gear of laminated composition which replaces the former cast-iron gear, giving much quieter operation. New auto-thermic type pistons control expansion and contraction and eliminate piston slap. New camshaft, designed for quiet operation, featuring a long-stroke and closing ramp which reduces tappet noises. Increased oil economy resulting from addition of an oil squirt hole connecting rods which provide lubrication of the cylinder after a cold start. New cylinder wall finish with oil control. Rubber seal ring on intake stem guide of the V-8 engine, prevents excessive oil consumption through leakage of oil the valve guide. The new rubber seals help oil economy the first mile driven.

Miller Entertains for the Lockney club. The Lockney Home Demonstration members were guests of the club Tuesday of last week and entertained with a book reading in the home of Mrs. Claude Miller. The book reviewed by Lynn Miller of the Sand Hill was "The Gauntlet" by James H. Thompson. Thanksgiving motif was used in house decorations and the members. The guests arrived, they were entertained by Mrs. Fawver and Mrs. Roberts. The guests received in an attractive book in the name of a "struttin' turkey", made the club my Janice Roberts. Individual cognacs were presented each person. Roll call was answered with "What am I thankful for?" poem, "November", was read by the entire group sang, "America, Beautiful".

ARMY-NAVY PERSONNEL ENGAGED IN MANEUVERS. Roy L. Pontiac Line for 1950 Now Displayed Here

On display Friday afternoon, the new 1950 Pontiacs offer twenty-eight appearance and mechanical improvements—headlined by a substantial increase in eight cylinder power.

In presenting the new Pontiacs, L. C. McDonald, dealer, said: "The 1950 line is the best-looking, finest performing Pontiacs ever produced." The 1949 models brought Pontiac's popularity to a new peak. Now we have gone from there," he said.

Pontiac again gives its customers an extremely wide choice. Chief-tain and Streamliner lines are continued with standard and deluxe styling, six or eight cylinder engines and Hydra-Matic or Synchro-Mesh transmissions.

Cubic displacement of the popular eight cylinder engine has been increased to produce 108 horsepower. Horsepower of the six cylinder engine remains at 90. Compression ratios for both engines are 6.5—allowing maximum performance with operational savings on non-premium gasolines.

From bumper to bumper, inside and out, calculated design touches have enriched and highlighted Pontiac's traditionally rich appearance.

Be Sure To Attend Church Regularly

GRATITUDE is one of the most beautiful of virtues, and ingratitude one of the most baneful of vices. If children are under obligation to give thanks to human parents... how much more are ALL under obligation to give thanks to GOD! We owe it to HIM; we owe it to our fellows; we owe it to ourselves.

WE owe GOD thanks for all things... for the beautiful season called THANKSGIVING. Moreover, "HE GIVETH US ALL THINGS RICHLY TO ENJOY." Each moment, hour, day adds to our obligation. It is still true that His mercies "are new every morning." Gratitude to Him should find expression in THANKS-GIVING and THANKS-LIVING.

WE owe thankfulness to our fellows. Gratitude is contagious and bears gladness, strength, enrichment. Unconsciously each gives blessing or bane to others. Decency demands that each avoid giving hurt and strive diligently to give help.

WE owe it to ourselves to give thanks. Gratitude may find expression in attitude, utterance, and activity. We are ourselves beneficiaries of habitual thankfulness, or victims of thanklessness. We have abundant occasion for thanksgiving. We should join the chorus and, "PRAISE GOD FROM WHOM ALL BLESSINGS FLOW." Go to your church on Sunday.

Band News

The Whirlwind band performed
during the half of the Floydada-Spur game Friday.

They entered the field, and did a left flank movement. They came to a halt in front of the east stand and played "Indiana State" while in the formation of an "S".
After coming out of the S, they did a counter march. While going to face the west stand, they discovered they had no home, so they wandered over the field playing
"Going Home." Then the drum majorette blew a whistle and they formed a house. Here they played
"Home Sweet Home". The drum majorette pushed on the side of the house causing it to collapse.

The band then formed the letters T E A M and played "Steel King."

After this they came into regular positions, did a counter march, and marched off the field playing "The Thunderer."

The F. F. A. Boys and P. H. A.
Girls have decided upon a Christmas party to be held December 20, at 6:30 p. m. A committee of four boys, two girls, and Mrs. McMillian met and made the plans for the party, which will be held in the high school cafeteria.

The second and third year F. F. A. boys have been studying swine management. To aid their study the third and fourth period class made a field trip to Brother Sidney Johnson's place to see his hogs. He has a fine herd of Chester whites.

The sixth and seventh period class went to the Purina store to study the project down there. They have two hogs there called Mike and Ike. Mike is receiving grain and supplement and gaining almost two pounds per day. Ike is receiving only grain and gaining approximately 1/2 pound per day.

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thursday is Thanksgiving Day. This is the day the American people have set aside as a national holiday; a day in which to give thanks to God for His blessings.

We don't realize, until we stop and consider, just how fortunate we are. We live in a country where there is "government of the people, by the people, for the people". Our cities and our countryside have not been damaged and destroyed by warfare. We, as high school students, should realize and be thankful for the blessing of our educational facilities. For we have all the advantage that a good education offers anyone in his life's work whether this work is farming, managing a store or a home, or a position in a big industry.

This is just a beginning; there are so many reasons we have to be thankful on this Thanksgiving Day!

Candid Camera

A certain "Fish" who is 5 ft. 6 inches tall, weighs 125 pounds, has brown hair and eyes, whose weakness is athletics and whose greatest ambition is to become an All-American football player for T. C. U. fills the personality picture for this week's candid camera. This certain freshman is none other than the class president, Billy Charles Carmack.

Born in the swellest town in Texas, Floydada, on February 4 in 1935 Billy Charles is now 14 years old and a very popular guy.

Billy Charles just likes almost everything but square dancing, chocolate pie, french fries, pretty shirts and socks, reading, riding horses, and showing dairy cattle at fairs are his specialties.

He dislikes cooked cabbage, studying, gripey people, beans, Lockney, and Algebra I. He says his worst habit is talking to much.

"Always" is his favorite song and Mrs. Jones is his favorite teacher. He loves football, basketball, baseball, and track.

His most enjoyed movie was "Sea Biscuit" and his best liked movie stars are John Wayne, Alice Faye, and Montgomery Clift.

Billy Charles was most embarrassed the first day of school in the first grade. He came to school in short white pants and all the kids made fun of him for wearing them. He cried and they teased him for crying. It made him so mad that he refused to wear the short pants to school anymore that first day.

During his pastime Billy Charles says he would just ride around and get into meanness.

Billy Charles' most thrilling moment was when he made a touchdown on the kickoff at the Crosbyton game.

The sweetheart of his life should have lovely black hair, black eyes, be 5 ft. 4½ inches tall with 115 pounds of pretty figure and she must definitely be sweet.

To begin a perfect day for Billy Charles he'd arise around 6:30 and go for a brisk morning walk with his dog. He'd eat breakfast of Bacon and eggs and hot biscuits. After breakfast he would go horseback riding till about 10:30. Then he would go sleep all morning till noon. For lunch he'd eat fried chicken, gravy, creamed potatoes, fruit salad, ice tea, hot rolls, and chocolate pie. After lunch he'd relax with a good book and listen to the radio till about 3:30. Then he'd go to town, drink a milk shake, and buy some sport books. He'd stay about an hour and a half, then come home and talk to his girl on the telephone till about 5:00. Then he'd eat a light snack and get ready for his date with the girl of his dreams. He'd pick her up around 8:00 and they'd eat a steak supper and go square dancing. They'd dance till midnight and take a long ride in the moonlight on the way home. He would arrive home about 2:00 eat a sandwich with a glass of cold milk, and hit the hay.

Billy Charles, you're a swell "Fish" we all like—Good luck to ya'.

Assembly Program Was About Snakes

Monday morning, the faculty and the student body were entertained by Jack Raymond, representing the Southern Assembly company. He gave an unusual program about snakes, which was entertaining as well as informative. He told how to recognize poisonous snakes and showed several different non-poisonous snakes.

He gave the biology class a book about reptiles which Peggy Collier received for the class after she had touched a long black snake.

Everyone enjoyed the program by Mr. Raymond.

Assembly Program by Pep Squad

The unusual assembly program November 18 was given by the Pep squad. The pep-squad opened the program with yells, then the High School chorus, directed by Miss Beville, sang three numbers, and the band played a few numbers.

A monologue, "Sis Hopkins and Her Beau, Bilious," was cleverly given by Jean Porter; and Doris and Dorothy Foster sang, "There's a Tavern in the Town," accompanied by Dorothy Bishop at the piano.

The following numbers on the program was a football quiz conducted by Ray Cook; the participants were Aubrey Guthrie and Pat Fralin on team one and Arlen White and Katie Collier on team two. Aubrey Guthrie and Pat Fralin won the prize which was a stick of candy for each.

The colorful square dance, "Texas Star," danced by Pat Fralin, Billie Newberry, Elaine Snodgrass, Edith Garrett, Mack Hickerson, Billy Carmack, Bert Grimes, and Lloyd Edgar Allen was the next number on the program.

A stuffed Spur football player was stuck with a pitchfork and carried off the stage by John Moss, dressed in a characteristic devil costume. Those holding the football player were Junior Perry and Ted Davis. The program closed with the school song sung by the entire audience.

CHORUS CLUB NEWS

The Chorus club sang from the balcony of the First Methodist church last Sunday morning. They sang "Let All Mortal Flesh Keep Silence" as the call to worship, "List To The Lark" and a special, "Beautiful Savior" as the offertory, and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You" as the benediction.

They enjoyed singing these songs and being present at the First Methodist church.

THESPIAN CLUB NEWS

The dramatics department of Floydada High school presented the play, "We Shook the Family Tree," Thursday night, November 17, in the high school auditorium.

The play was enjoyed by all, and each actor is to be complimented on his splendid performance.

McCoy Gin

$20,000 modernizing the gin before the opening of the season. The modernized plant was built around four new 80-saw stands which were turning out 120 bales of cotton every 24 hours. The loss also included a pile of some 50 or 60 tons of cottonseed which burned for nearly a day after the gin plant had been destroyed.

The plant had been in operation since 1925. It had some 3,000 bales more of cotton scheduled to be turned out before the season close-down.

Friday customers of the gin were casting about for a place to take their cotton after the unfortunate loss. Cotton growers for the main part were planning to make use of the Petersburg, Floydada and Cone gins, all ready covered up in cotton. Apparently more of the raisers planned to go to Cone than to any other point.
