fore in the decade. Farm operators are making a desperate effort to take up the slack due to the government program. Corn will be planted not only on irrigated land but also on dry land acres. A considerable number of acres have been contracted to go into popcorn.

The wheat outlook varies widely. In east and southeast Floyd county, notably in the Dougherty area, there is a considerable acreage of wheat that is going to run to profitable proportions. But in the west and northwest part of the county the wheat, due to dry and green bugs combined, is 90 per cent out of the picture.

You may think this is dramatizing... the situation but it is something... to think about - this is our last year... in public school. We, the upper... classes, have reached the end of... the line.

Doesn't seem possible that 12 years... will have passed they have... sped so swiftly. Since we were six... years old we have trod the paths... to and from the "Little red school-... house." Then Tuesday night in... ceremony lasting an hour or so it... will end.

A. B. C. D. E. F. G. H. I. know enough to get so many people in dutch with other people it isn't funny, but I will try to help every-one out a little.

Well, I wonder if Billy Mac had a good time over the week-end; the way it seems he must have.

Bill seemed pretty glad to see Sheryn when she came in Sunday afternoon. Wonder what he did over the week-end?

Peggy, how did Fred know that you would come in at 6 Sunday?? He hit it right on the dot, because he met you out on the Lubbock hi-way.

Betty did Earl make it this time? You know, I heard that he didn't even come the other time.

Why, why is Mary so up in the air?? Could it have been because she had a date with David just before we left for our Senior trip. Seems as though Benny Ewing and Mary Fawver are discussing matters in English IV class.

Say, Betty Johnston how about telling us more about this boy that you are going with? He is a cute number.

Billy Jo and Gieva seemed to have fun with each other. If I only know what goes on out at McCoy.

Well, I wonder what happened? Jimmy went west and Billie went south-east. Could they have a good time together now.

Who is this that Mary Alice is getting letters from? Some of them are pretty good. It would be very funny, if some of them got in the paper.

Could Dorothy and Trice have been having a little trouble over the week-end?? That certainly wasn't a place to have a fuss Dorothy, don't you know the river is right there, he might have put you in, you know?

Hershel will you be in the goose, when Loene finds out what a time you had over the week-end while she stayed home.

Genelle, tell us more about this new boy friend of yours. Where was he from? What color of hair did he have? How tall was he? Come on, tell us.

Wonder why Joy was so worried Friday night?? Could it have been because Coach had to take Bill to the doctor??

What is this I hear about Betty Jean thinking maybe she could fall in love Saturday night?? What difference does it make what night it is Betty??

Jane what is Doris gonna say when she finds out that you were with Leroy over the week-end?? -What a week-end!

Sammie, did you enjoy the week-end with "H"? I know someone that might enjoy you??

Well, Joy you should know how to play pool by now. Especially after watching Bobby play so many games.

What did David do with "Little Clara" over the week-end?? Mary seemed to step in, didn't she??

How could Jane have been so happy when she found out she had a letter from someone when she had such a big week-end??

What did Arminita and Velma do without their boy friends from Wayland over the week-end??

I know some people who will be sorry when Mr. Barber's pictures are developed.

Did Everett and Keith really make it to the rodeo??

David is getting pretty good to be able to take in two dances in one night, huh, David.

I'll bet Jr. and Chris had loads of fun Sunday night since they hadn't seen each other since Thurs day.

Pat, did you enjoy your ping-pong game with that boy from the other lodge? Good Deal.

Say Buster could that have been Joyce that you--

Who is this boy that Trois wants to march with at graduation- Could he be a boy in the band Trois?? Johnny Rutherford has caught her man now, after that shower they got the other day he shouldn't be afraid to back out now.

Is Jimmy Joyce still going with Jimmy Jones? They make a cute pair, Jimmy and Jimmie.

Vera sure would like to go with Billy Mac again. Why don't you give her a chance??

Gloria are you love-sick? You and Weldon are really on the beam.

Well Genelle, you really have your man captured, don't you? Best of luck to you and John, and we're hoping that you get that birthday present that you want. Or is it for graduation.

Peggy, why aren't you going to college?? Is it because you and Fred are making plans for the future?? Could it be for a life-time date??

Billy Mac, what were you doing in Plainview Friday Night?? Don't you know you can't check up on these Floydada girls without them finding out? Besides, who were you with??

Arminita is really in love, isn't she?? She doesn't even eat dinner. She and Lee both have it bad don't they?? The boys must too, because they come over on week-ends to see them.

Doris who is your new flame. He is cute but what were you two doing out on the Matador highway?? uh-huh.

Mary Helen has a deep crush on Douglas Whitfill. That's what I heard. She remarked to us that she thought he was very cute.

Nancy G. why don't you give Don Pope a chance?? He told me that he would give his good arm to go with you. And when a boy wants to go with a girl that bad, there's something behind it all. Why not you and Don would make a very cute couple.

Delton, I bet the girls really chase you since you got your new car. It is rather eye-catching but then, most convertibles are.

Jane, did you and Leroy have a good time on the trip to Amarillo? From what I saw you did. Leroy, just what is Doris going to say about this?? Oh, well, Doris already has him tied for good anyway.

What's this I hear about Gieva and Billy Joe's going to get married as soon as school is out? Is this true kids? Good luck.

Velma who is Lynn- Couldn't be Lynn Whitten from Wayland college could it? He's cute, so I'd really hang on if I were you.

Ted Davis and Lane were together at the show Thursday night-what is the matter, Ted, Can't you do better than tha'?

Well, this sure has been fun making up all the gossip for the De Quacker so Joy Bunch and I, Billie Chowning, want you to know that we sure have enjoyed it all.

Candid Camera

As the seniors' of 1950 draw the curtain on their final act, graduating from dear old F. H. S., with precious memory buried in each fold, they present this week to us the gal with the sweet personality, Velma Faye Briggs valedictorian of the senior class. Our personality gal has short brown hair with brown eyes. At seventeen she's 5 ft. and 4 inches tall and weighs about 106 pounds. Velma was born on September 3 in 1932 where the plains end and the hill begin, a little town called Matador. Then she enlightened the best town in the west when she moved here about six years ago.

To give you a better picture of our personality, I'll start with her likes which go like this: Fried chicken, green biscuits, slumber parties, Archie, gang 4, Mrs. Thomas, friendly people, shorthand, Mr. Foster's jokes, her Sunday School teacher, and Wayland college.

To continue, she lists her dislikes as the color purple, turnips, cabbage hateful people, serious people, most blond-headed girls, and waiting for telephone calls to be completed from Plainview.

Velma's secret desire is to be the wife of a preacher or musical director. Her one great ambition is to be a school teacher and also always to be a successful Christian person.

Her most thrilling moments came when she learned that she would get to go on the senior trip and when Miss Sweeton told her she was valedictorian.

Velma's biggest weaknesses are tall boys and cutting her hair.

She loves to run around in "green beetle," swim, and go to football and basketball games.

"Rebecca," written by Daphne De Maurier, is her best liked book, while "John Sings Again" rates as her favorite movie. She enjoys seeing June Allyson and John Lund on the screen.

The popular "Sentimental Me," is Velma's favorite hit tune, and her favorite colors are green, white, blue, and red.

She says her worst habits are acting silly and walking pigeon toed.

Velma's "Romeo" has deep blue eyes and curly blonde hair. He is 6 ft. 4 inches tall and has a very cute grin. He likes to have fun, go to church, and also he is talented musically.

To finish the picture with a special touch, we will point Velma's ideal day beginning about 8 o'clock when Arminita, Lee, and Mazy would come by for hr in the "green beetle." Then they'd take a flying trip to Plainview and pick up three certain people. To continue their journey the seven of them would travel to Roaring Springs and take a good swim. After the swim they'd find a shady place to spread the picnic lunch consisting of fried chicken, olives, dill pickles, potato salad, tomatoes, ice cream, cake, and gallons of ice tea. Following the nice lunch, they would go exploring and koda-king for almost two hours. By this time they'd be ready to swiz back to Plainview and skate awhile.

Around 7 o'clock the gals would dress for a concert, given by the Wayland International choir. After the wonderful concert the same seven would go to the Dixie Dog stand to eat a bite. Then the ideals would bring the gals home to Arminita's for a slumber party and bid them good night. The gals would journey in the house to eat a big midnight snack and tell ghost stories.

According to Motor Age the results of the driving lessons in the schools of the country are beginning to bear favorable results. So good are the reports that instead of a decrease in driver lessons in schools an increase is most likely. Automobile dealers already have something like six million dollars invested in the idea (on a nation-wide basis.) Safety authorities are beginning to make such reports as that youth who have the driving lessons as a part of the school work are four times less likely to be involved in accidents and six times less likely to be in violation of the law when they do have accidents. That kind of news is sure to be encouraging.

May is the month just before the big annual movement of people from one part of the nation to another begins, as vacation time lures. This is the reason the automotive industry calls May Safety month and is engaged in a huge general campaign, which is brought to the home level in the advice, "Check your car - check accidents." It is good advice to take seriously.

Tests of large-scale ramjet engines at simulated altitudes of 100,000 feet and at four times the speed of sound have begun in a newly completed test chamber at the Ordnance Aerophysics Laboratory, Daingerfield, Texas.

The new chamber makes possible for the first time high-altitude tests with full-scale ramjet engines as large as 48 inches in diameter. The ramjet, which has been called the "flying stovepipe," is the type of engine used in propelling supersonic guided missiles.

We can't help but believe the country, or at least Texas, is moving toward another trial of prohibition. This could be more in error as concerns the nation at large than as to the state. Perhaps it is the fact that whiskey and gasoline do not mix, and the headlines have too many automobiles in smash ups. Maybe it is not that at all, and another maybe is that we are mistaken in the trend. Prohibition in the first trial, was a dismal failure it is true, and it may be that it will be again. But so was guaranteeing bank deposits a big failure one time, but now guarantee of bank deposits is the accepted thing. In our humble opinion there is no reason ever to expect the problem of whiskey to be settled to the satisfaction of a majority of the people. We mean in general that the disposition either for or against prohibition that is made by one generation is likely not to suit the next. There will be an ebb and flow of sentiment back and forth of the middle grounders as between the rabid pro and the rabid anti.

Nobody likes to be regulated and shy away from self-regulation despite the fact they sometimes know they should undertake to meet a problem in that manner. We are thinking of the water problems and the fact that the State of Texas is due to have a new water code. A committee of legislators has made the state from one end to the other, listening to interested people. At Houston next week the final hearing will be held, two days of testimony. Report says that many have asked to be heard. When the committee has completed its work and presents the results of its studies to the legislature next January there will be some legislation attempted. If, meanwhile, people who live in the areas where they have a right to create districts and set up their own regulation, will have done so it will put them in position of having set their own house in order. Which gets us around to stating the belief that the High Plains Water Conservation association is right in urging that water districts be formed and that the situation be kept in hand rather than to let their districts and possible self-rule go by default.

Texas is one of the five states leading in state government spending, according to report credited to the Census Bureau by the Council of Texas Retailers association. The association carries on a campaign, especially on election years, to combat increased taxation and arouse public attention to the taxation situation. The state's annual budget continues to increase biennium by biennium. Roads and schools are two of the biggest items for which people are demanding continued expenditures. There is not likely to be any decrease in this demand. But as the council has pointed out we know that the time is coming when the increased budgets must stop. That the state may be edging more and more to sales tax is one of the things that is foreseen. More and more people are coming to the belief that the sales tax, taking the place of the others, is the route to go. Organized retailers are going to do their utmost to keep this from happening. Holding the budget down and reducing the tax load is one logical way to accomplish this.

A strike is the weapon that organized labor can use to get demands met for equity in working conditions or pay. But if strikes could be avoided as a means toward settling differences between capital and labor it would be a great thing for the public. Perhaps we are not far enough along in the history of labor relations to realize such a dream in the foreseeable future. But all are agreed the strike is a terrifically expensive thing. It is expensive to the men and capital involved. A strike is also expensive to the public. The railways and the firemen right now have the focus of attention. They are totally unable agree as this is written. The public is the third party and will suffer financial loss and inconvenience on a scale that neither the railways nor the fireman will have if the disagreement continues unsettled for long.

A good political platform that is guaranteed to beat any man for office who runs in the year 1950: "If any provide not for his own, and specially for those of his own house, he hath denied the faith and is worse than an infidel." This quotation is taken from an interesting book, that is quoted often to prove the point one wants to prove.

It is possible to add an extra 100 pounds to the weight of a calf during the first six or eight months of its life through the use of creep feeding.

Rural Electric Lights Brightly Shine on Fifteenth Anniversary

May 11 is an important anniversary for Texas farmers. For on that date in 1935 President Roosevelt ordered the establishment of the Rural Electrification Administration, and such previously indispensable rural gadgets as the coal oil lamp, the wood cookstove, and the old fashioned washboard were on their way into oblivion.

In 1935 only 2 per cent of rural homes in Texas had electricity, while today 81 per cent of Texas farms and ranches put electricity to more than 300 different uses. Texas' 77 rural electric co-ops now serve more than 256,000 rural homes over 104,000 miles of wire, enough to reach four times around the world.

Texas has been a leader in the rural electrification program from the start. The first rural power lines in the country built with money borrowed from the government were energized by the Bartlett Electric Cooperative at Bartlett, Texas, in March, 1936.

Spread Slowly at First
Rural power lines spread rather slowly over the state for the first few years. REA provided nothing except technical advice, guidance, and loans to be paid back with interest. Rural people talked it over, organized co-ops, and built more and more power lines as it became apparent that the co-ops were financially practical and would be able to pay back their loans to REA.

But rural electrification in Texas is past the stage where the accent is on the extension of lines. It is developing to a point which will create a new problem, arising from an increased farm use of power to create income. In December of 1941, the average power use per farm for that month was 45 kilowatt hours. In December of 1949, it was 90 kilowatt-hours. The national average is 141 kwh. This constantly increased demand for power on the farm eventually is expected to throw an additional strain on Texas' power sources. Even now many suppliers are nearing the limit of their capacity to produce dependable service. Co-op leaders are hoping for new dams to provide more hydro-electric power to meet the increased demand.

Texas' 77 rural electric co-ops now have a monetary value of more than $125 million. They are owned and controlled by the rural families they serve, and each of them is repaying its loan to the federal government on or ahead of schedule.

How Districts Could Serve Water Users

(This is one of a series of informative articles prepared by the High Plains Water Conservation, and Users Association of which the Floyd County Water Conservation Association is an associate member.)

By Salla Rodman

Creation of ground-water conservation districts, as authorized by the 51st Texas Legislature, would put into service new educational agencies to help the irrigation farmer figure how to make the most profitable use of his underground water supply.

As independent locally-controlled organizations of water users, districts could, for example, investigate to find out which irrigation systems are the cheapest and most practical for use on High Plains. Bypublisizing which systems provide the best utilization of water with the least waste, the cost of useless pumping and the waste of water could be avoided.

A district's investigation might also provide the answers to these questions. What size pump is best for use under the conditions of the ground-water basin in this particular area? How much and how long is it safe to pump without permanently damaging the water supply? How close together may wells be drilled without the danger of mutual interference ruining either farmer's investment? Is sprinkler or flood-type irrigation more efficient or more productive or cheaper in this part of the country?

Serving the farmers by making known which crops will make the most money with the least water would be another useful educational function of a district. Take alfalfa and cotton, for instance. Alfalfa requires nearly three times as much water as cotton, but cotton usually sells for more. And in addition, cotton can be produced for less, because less costly pumping is required.

Of course, a district could not tell its members what crops to plant or how much water to pump, but it could point out the most beneficial use of the water and the most profitable use.

Trip to Kerrville Enjoyed by Seniors

At 12 o'clock hursday night, May 11, a bus load of thirty-seven seniors of Floydada High school and three sponsors started out to the Heart O' The Hills Inn, which is sixteen miles west of Kerrville. The first stop was in Junction, Texas, where they stopped for breakfast.

On arriving at the inn at 8:15, Friday morning, they were assigned to their rooms. The whole day was spent swimming, hiking, boat riding, playing pool, ping pong, shuffle board, and croquet, and bowling.

The next morning they were up at 7:30 for breakfast, then they went swimming, boat riding, hiking, played in the recreation room, and rode horseback, did some shopping, and went skating. That night a dance was held for those who liked to dance.

A tired group went to bed that night.

The next morning they were up at 7:30 and left for home at 8:30. The first stop was at Sweetwater, where they had lunch. The next stop was Spur, where they stopped for cold drinks. A tired but happy group returned home happy at 5:15 Sunday afternoon.

The group of seniors want to thank those who made it possible for them to make this trip. They want to thank Mr. Barber, Miss Swepston, and Coach Gresham for their time and patience in making the trip possible and pleasant.

The seniors hope that the seniors next year can go to the same place as it is a beautiful, clean place with many things to keep one busy.

AGGIE NEWS

Saturday, May 13, Douglas Whitfill went to Canyon to the area meeting. The area officers were elected; a candidate for state office was elected, and Douglas gave his speech. There was some strong competition and Douglas did not place in the field of seven.

The boys are still working on the concession stand. It is not expected to be completed this year, but early next year for sales to be made.

1950 Class History

In 1939 the "50" class started to school. From the first to the eighth grades the classes were divided into A and B classes. The ones whose names began with a letter from "A to MM" were in class A. The ones whose names began with a letter from N to Z were in class B. The classes were very disagreeable and would not have anything to do with the other class, and they had many arguments until the seventh and eighth grades when they became more friendly toward each other.

In the seventh grade, we were the first classes from grade school to serve at an eighth grade banquet. Peggy Collier was class A and Sammie Shultz was class B queen. For the seventh grade picnic, the class went to Blanco canyon in A and B groups.

In the eighth grade, the classes combined and went to Plainview for their picnic. This was the first time the classes would have anything to do with one another.

The eighth grade banquet was held in the grade school gym. The gym was decorated with crepe paper and flowers and windmills for a typical Dutch banquet. Doris Bollman was Master of Ceremonies and Mr. Perry was toastmaster. Sammie Shultz was announced valedictorian.

As freshmen we came to high school scared stiff with knees knocking.

The presidents for the classes were: freshman: Bobby Finley, sophomore: Dorothy Bishop; Junior: Mr. Perry; and senior: Bill Jones. The representatives for the classes were: Peggy Collier, Ruth Smith, Joy McCravey, and for the year 1950, Miss Betty Laminack was crowned queen, in a very impressive ceremony.

As juniors the class went to Roaring Springs for the class picnic.

At midnight on May 11, the senior class left for Kerrville for their senior trip.

On May 21, the Baccalaureate sermon was held in the First Baptist church of Floydada.

On May 23, the "50" class graduated. The program consisted of speeches from the valedictorian, Velma Briggs, and honor boy, Billy Mac Shipley. The program also consisted of talent from other members of the class.

Now you have the past. Look in the class prophecy for the future.

"1939 CLASS"

The members of the senior class of 1950 that started in Andrews Ward school in 1939 are Sherwyn Fyffe, Peggy Collier, Jane Johnson, Arminta Berry, Dorothy Bishop, Billie Chowning, Keith Stansell, David Willson, Charles and Charlene Patterson, Junior Perry, and Sammie Shultz.

Thespians of Class

'Present With Pride'

The Thespians proudly present their president, Dorothy Bishop, who is a senior. Dorothy is a very talented member of the Thespian club. Her talent was exhibited in "The Crazy Smith Family", "We shook the Family Tree," in which she played the lead at Hildegard, and "The Severed Cord," in which she was placed on the all-star cast at district and also at regional contests. Dorothy is a splendid president, and we hope that she might continue her work in dramatics.

We are also proud of our secretary, Molly June French who is also a very talented Thespian. Molly's outstanding art in "The Crazy Smith Family", "Mansions", and "Mr. Lincoln's Whiskers", in which she was placed on the all star cast at district and also regional contests proves her ability as a Thespian. May Molly continue in her dramatic career.

Another outstanding member of the Thespian club, who is a senior, is Douglas Whitfill. His part in "We Shook the Family Tree" was outstanding. Douglas was district winner in declamation for year 1950. He placed second in the regional contest at Lubbock.

Other talented and interested seniors in dramatics are Peggy Collier, Jane Johnson, Leroy Parrish, Grace Muncy, Joy Bunch, Sherwyn Fyffe, Arminta Berry, Barbara Marshall, and Don Pope.

Four of the five club officers are seniors. They are Dorothy Bishop, president; Molly June French, secretary; Joy Bunch treasurer; and Arminta Berry, reporter.

Good luck to the seniors. May they continue in their interest in dramatics.

FORT WORTH, May—State campaign headquarters for Preston Smith, Lubbock, who has filed as a candidate for lieutenant governor, were opened Wednesday in Fort Worth.

Paul Cates, Lubbock business man and state chairman of Smith's campaign, announced the appointment of Jim McMullen of Fort Worth as campaign manager and publicity director. The headquarters are at 1117 Houston.

Members of the state committee are Clifford B. Jones, Parker Prouty, Hurley Carpenter, Charles A. Guy, Spencer Wells, Walter Posey, C. E. Maedgen, George Benson and Homer Maxey, all of Lubbock.

DAUGHTER BORN MAY 11

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. Johnson of Lubbock, Texas, are the parents of a baby girl born at midnight 12:51 a. m. Thursday, May 11, at the Plains Hospital. The little girl weighed 8 pounds and has been named Buella Kathleen.

The Johnsons have two other children, Vicki and Nathan Lee. Baby Kathleen is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. N. Powell of Dougherty, and Mr. and Mrs. Dee Johnson of Floydada.

Mrs. W. E. Lackey, and children Thada and Greer, left for Mineral Wells, last Friday and returned home the first of the week with Mr. Lackey, who has been in Mineral Wells taking the baths the past two weeks.

Mrs. Jennie Connor of Lubbock spent Mothers Day with her mother, Mrs. L. H. Lewis on South Main Street.

Safety Trained Drivers Have Fewer Mishaps

Students who have not taken driver training are involved in four to seven times as many accidents as those who have taken the course, according to a report made of state surveys by Tom Hewitt, staff writer of Automotive News, who gives the following statistical information and the conclusions arrived at from the figures:

Vermont checked 209 students who took driver training and were granted their licenses last year and 209 who had not taken the course but also received their licenses last year. The survey reported that of those who took training, four were involved in accidents but none was convicted of violations, while 29 of those not trained were in accidents with 10 convicted of violating traffic laws.

A similar test on a broader scale was conducted in Delaware, where it was shown that performance of times poorer than that of the trained.

2,200 Driver Records

A sampling of the records of 2,200 young drivers in Delaware was divided into two equal groups—those who had enrolled in training and those who had not been instructed. It was found that 252—or 22.9 percent—of the untrained were involved in mishaps, in contrast to the 57—or 5.1 percent—of the trained group. Five times as many of the untrained had been arrested for traffic violations.

These views are shared by Eugene J. Panning, supervisor of driver education for the Massachusetts registry of motor vehicles, who said recently:

Saves Lives, Property

"In three states—Delaware, Wisconsin and Ohio—where such students have been made, results indicate that trained drivers have from 40 to 50 percent fewer violations and traffic accidents than untrained drivers."

These findings show that education of teen drivers pays off in savings of lives and property. And auto dealers are greatly responsible since they have presented over $6,000,000 worth of cars to the program.

Wright Scott Wins District Spelling Bee

Gayno Wright Scott, two-time county champion of Hale county, last week spelled Brochure and "Brusquely" to win the annual News-Globe Spelling bee and a chance at the national competition.

Gayno Wright is an eighth grade student in the Plainview Junior High school, but he is only 13 years old.

He is the son of L. Hal Scott, Route 4, Floydada.

The words were pronounced by H. Grady Wilson, director of the Bee. The final hour and a half of the bee was broadcast from KGNC and the winners were interviewed by Bob Watson, assistant manager of the station.

Judges were Dr. A. K. Knott, word specialist of West Texas State college; Ray Small, professor of English at Amarillo college; and C. B. Underwood, circulation manager of The News-Globe.

Immediately after the Bee, held in the high school auditorium, the county champions were taken in a chartered bus to the Herring hotel where they were guests of the News-Globe at a banquet. Mason King was master-of-ceremonies and the champions were greeted by Wes Izzard, editor-in-chief of the News-Globe.

The winner, accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. R. L. Rutherford, a teacher in the Plainview schools, will go to Washington for the beginning of the national spelling bee festivities on May 22, with all expenses paid by the News-Globe. The national bee will be the night of May 26. Winner of the national bee receives $500 in cash, and a several-day tour of New York City.

Plenty of Snowfall In South Dakota

When D. W. Burke left South Dakota the first of last week to come home from his farm there, he left the ground covered with eight inches of snow.

But the eight inches on the ground was only a circumstance of the snowfall since the opening of spring. For instance, 22 inches since April 28, and 62 inches in all since the middle of March. In 60 days he planned to farm the ground on his South Dakota holdings Mr. Burke had nine days that he could work in the field since March 18.

In the nine days he could work Mr. Burke put in 600 acres of 1300 acres. Wheat is coming up and the ground is soaking wet under the snow, he said. He will take back with him a wheat drill that will go through the wet straw of last year's crop.

Howard County Man Files For Congressman

Entry of a Big Spring, Texas, man in the race for the congressional honors of the 19th district, was made in Floyd county last week, when Anton Mike Ripps handed his application to get on the Floyd county Democratic primary ticket.

Ripps, a retired locomotive engineer, told the county chairman, he was making application in every county in the district in a personal visit to the respective county chairmen. "I want to get out and see the district, anyhow, and get acquainted," he said. Applications can be made by mail. Twenty-five letters, enclosing a dollar bill for filing fee, would have done the job but Ripps decided the hard way would be the best way to see and talk to more people.

Ripps was about mid-way on his tour when he reached Floydada. He had covered most of the counties in the west part of the district and headed for Crosby county from Floydada. He anticipated finishing up the application campaign probably at Haskell in the week.

Mr. Ripps was at the throttle of the Texas & Pacific Eagle when it came time for him to retire last fall. He's a steam locomotive man, he said, and is partial to them he said, when questioned about the new Diesel's operated on his T & P run. "The steam engine is simpler and easier for a man who has operated them all his life and that would be the reason I prefer them to the Diesel."

Mr. Ripps is 65, hale and hearty, and said he would campaign actively. His already announced opponent is the present representative, Congressman George Mahon of Colorado City, another city in the south end of the district as is Big Spring, Howard county.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Love and daughter, of Ft. Worth, Texas, arrived Saturday for a visit with Mr. Love's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Love, and with Mr. Love's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Lackey and daughter.

Rights of Service Men in Re-Employ

"Returning servicemen who left positions in the employ of private employers to enter the armed forces, whether by induction, enlistment, or from the service, are entitled to reinstatement upon timely application," stated William O. Cooper, Field Representative for the bureau of veterans reemployment rights department of labor, for Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Arkansas.

"These rights exist for anyone enlisting in military service today if it is their first enlistment under the 1948 Act and for not more than three years!"

Cooper called attention to the recent Supreme court decision in Oakley vs L & N Railway, and Haynes vs Southern Railway, which held that the reemployment rights of ex-servicemen extended beyond the first year of reinstatement, and that there is no one-year statute of limitations.

"The right of reemployment exists for enlistees entering the service since June 24, 1948, regardless of military service prior to that date, provided the enlistment is for not longer than three years. Even if the Congress does not extend the Selective Service act of 1948, anyone who enters service prior to June 24, 1950 will have rights upon discharge," Cooper said.

Information about reemployment rights may be obtained from local offices of the State Employment service. Assistance in connection with reemployment rights problems may be obtained from the volunteer Reemployment Rights committee-man for Floyd county, D. G. Ayres, Floydada, Texas.

THE SENIOR
A few more days and then good by

To a place where many hours were happy and sad, were spent. Yes, a few more days and we're gone.
But many happy memories will linger on.
It's been so long and yet so short. This time we've spent in school. In there we've worked and played. And tried to keep the golden moments.
But now it's over, it's almost enough.
And as we watch the last days go by.
We laugh and say we're glad it's still its true.
That we're a little sad and a little know why.
The under-classmen envy us as yet we envy them.
Because they have a year or two more.
Before they must face the same so dark, dull and dim.
But it will be good to be free from school—maybe.
So when you see a senior standing straight and proud,
Or sit and listen to him boast,
Or see him dreaming with his head in the clouds,
Remember, he'd go back and trade places with you—almost.
