national planning."

In Floyd county the final week of the sales campaign of the Federal Crop Insurance program for cotton got under way this week. On Monday the sales were brisk and every indication was that the county would qualify under the program.

S. McEntire, adm., officer of PMA said: "We must have 200 units covered if the insurance is to be in effect. At the rate that the sales are now coming in, the county will qualify; however, those farmers who have not signed the contracts and are interested are reminded that their failure to sign may be the contracts we need to qualify the county.'

The cotton crop insurance policy provides protection of the cotton crop investment with the farmer paying a premium for this protection against the unknown-against what can happen to any crop any year that crop disaster strikes.

Crop disaster can strike any farm. It may not, but it can. Like other insurance, crop insurance for cotton protects against what might hap-It is a program of protection and the individual who considers it in terms of his chances of collection does not understand the purpose of this insurance.

In Floyd county, January 31, 1951, is the deadline for writing this all-risk insurance on cotton. Full details of the program are available at the PMA officee.

This feature, with more support from the Chamber of Commerce and the people of Floydada could be made into a first class show of which the town would be proud, the report pointed out.

There were 50 calves bought last year and 50 sold in the fall. The roping members fed the calves so when it was all tallied up the shares are indicated as still worth $50 each, the same as when the season opened last year. The secretary told the stockholders he thought they drew a good dividend due to the fact they all had season passes for themselves and their wives to the rodeo and roping attractions.

County Poll Tax Payments Pass The world's greatest indoor rodeo will be presented in magnificent 50 per Cent as Deadline Looms

Although an important election in municipal affairs is just around the corner in Floydada the per centage of polls paid from this vicinity seems to be no higher than that over the rest of the county. This was the belief expresed this week by T. T. Hamilton, county and state assessor-collector. Mr. Hamilton spent last Thurs-per centage of polls paid lies in the prospect of the city election in April, when a full slate of municipal authorities are to be chosen. To qualify to vote in this election an elector must have paid his poll tax to county and state.

The per centage of ad valorem taxes paid at the county office is high, but is not likely to reach the 1949 tax year level when a record may have been made with more than 96 per cent of total assessments cleaned from the slate

By Mothers to Homes of City

Mrs. Billy Henry will serve as captain of the Mother's March on Polio to be staged Wednesday night, January 31, according to an announcement made this week by officials of the Floyd County National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis.

Mrs. Henry has chosen as her able assistants four lieutenants, Mrs. Fred Zimmerman, jr., Mrs. John Kizer, Mrs. Jewel Elza and Mrs. Edward Wester. Each lieutenant has appointed nine sergeants, who in turn have each named a corporal, making a total of seventy-two workers to cover the town. Mrs. Henry has divided the town into 26 districts with approximately 25 houses to the district, two workers assigned to each district.

Mrs. Henry with a genial smile for everyone and a reputation for getting things done, urgently appeals to all of the mothers who are asked to help Wednesday night give just this one hour of their time to the cause. She pleads that they don't use the excuse that they don't have the time "for if their child contracts polio believe me they will give their time and plenty of it",

This spectacular, streamlined version of house-to-house canvassing will provide a dramatic climax to community-wide gesture of goodwill and generosity to a cause

Climax March of Dimes The time will be one hour from 7 to 8 o'clock, Wednesday evening, January 31, the last night of the March of Dimes campaign. The place is every home-on every street in every neighborhood-on all sides of the railorad tracks, no matter how rich or how numble. The family fdeer not ave a porchlight, a lantern, a candle in a bottle, or a small flash light attached to a fence can serve as well, because every gift is welcome.

Mrs. Henry emphasized the fact that no family will be disturbed who do not have an outdoor light of But everywhere there is a light the mothers will call and collect the contributions for the fight against polio.

Slogan Is Chosen The slogan is "Turn on your Por-ch Light at 7:00 o'clock Wednesday Night, January 31". Various organizations are taking part in publicizing the event. The Jaycees' Americanism committee headed by Kenneth Tate and Pee Wee Rainer will announce the date many times over loud speaker. Billy Henry from the same organization will direct the writing of the message on the side walks and giving out the slogan on hand bills.

The Boy Scouts will deliver circulars at the schools on Monday afternoon and in the residential districts Wednesday afternoon.

As a last reminder the fire department will turn on the siren at exactly 7 o'clock Wednesday night heralding the beginning of the campaign and again at 8 o'clock signifying the close of the drive. Carl Rodgers will direct the activities of the Fire Department. Workers Meeting

All of the workers are requested to meet Monday night, January 29 at 7 o'clock at high school auditorium for final plans for the drive. At this time Edward Wester will again show the March of Dimes film which outlines the plan for the workers. Mr. Wester urges every worker to be present.

Views and Comment

A firm in Cleveland, Ohio, found that Regulation W is a regulation with teeth in it. One of the Federal Reserve banks got a judgment in U.S. District court, forbidding the firm to continue making credit terms that did not comply with the regulations. Regulation W and other federal regulations usually have all the authority they claim and it is well to try to learn what they provide for and abide by these provisions. Curbstone law is cheap but it comes too high at that when you get into federal district court. Incidentally, don't ever get into federal court if you are poor or only well-to-do. That is definitely a rich man's game. A poor man, in our opinion, cannot hope to get justice in a federal court.

Signs of the Times .-- For every one of the millions of telephones the American Telephone & Telegraph company has in the United States the company pays taxes equal to $2.65 each. In addition, the company collects by law and forwards to the United States treasury, more money than it pays out in dividends to its stockholders.

Aside from the matter of raising more tax money one of the major tasks of the present state legislature will be to re-district the state for representation. Presumably there will be a re-check on everything from judicial districts as well as for representation in the congress and in the state house and the senate. Floyd county, being in the outer confines of the 120th state legislative district, the outer confines of the 30th state senatorial district and the same in the 19th congressional district, may find itself in new company when the redistricting job has been done. If the legislature itself fails to accomplish redistricting in this session the job by constitutional amendment, will devolve upon a commission. The legislature, it is said, is not likely to let this last possibility come to pass.

That the treasury of the infantile paralysis organization has been seriously depleted by the inroads of polio in the past 12 months is the common report, which can be taken as correct. The report of the Texas situation says that not only have the chapters spent all of their funds but have been forwarded some $375,000 from the national foundation. The way it works when you subscribe, half of the money that is collected stays in the home county chapter and half goes to the national fund to meet the over-all problem and to carry on research. In a case of infantile paralysis the bills for hospitalization and medical attention are so tremendous it takes a mighty few patients to eat up all of a county chapter's money. So far as we can see there is nothing to do but to go along with the talent on the program the way they are carrying it on, lost motion, apparent incompetence, and all. You and I will at least be doing our utmost. You feel mighty little and helpless when polio hits.

As of this moment practically everybody in this area, who is engaged in farming, has in mind to put a considerable acreage into cotton when planting time comes. We have a report through the mails which of four people on Wednesday night, ster will have charge of the cafe gives the annual report on the Texas A. & M. College system from the chancellor. The system includes three important colleges in addition to the numerous colleges that are centered at the college station, also two experimental stations and three experimental services, which sprangle out all over the state. This report does not include Extension service as we think of it in Floyd county as being connected with A. M. college. The educators of the state think of the educational system as jsut now making a beginning at being properly organized to do a good job. The ordinary citizen is not sure of but one thing about it, vaguely expressed in the slang expression, getting into pretty high cotton. Of all the schools and colleges and experimental stations each has its head and man-sized jobs down through the brass by the hundreds. The chancellor is a newly-adopted thing of the past two or three years. He coordinates, and with the regents, makes policy and has to do with personnel in the higher ranks. On the side he has overall to do with research committees, institutes, foundations, et cetera, et. cetera. University of Texas has also gotten so big that it has to have a chancellor, too. No one man could possibly give all the things about these big schools his considered thought. He has to have reports, approve decisions and all of that for many a project that he does not actually see or know about personally. Texas schools are just now coming around to this "system" idea. They've had the plan years and years in the big colleges back east that grew fat from the Civil

Now is the time for us to realize that it is the news in the paper today that is going to affect the future of the country and the world, and that it is we who, in a decade or two, will be governing our nation. Perhaps we shall be a part of a world.

Many of you have heard the statement "History repeats itself." But if we look back over the history of the United States and the world again we shall find a lot of history that would be a tragedy to have happen again. Therefore, if more of us would know what is going on in the world, we may be able to help prevent mistakes from being repeated, by profiting from the experiences of others.

The most important problem before the world peace conference today is keeping peace in the world forever. This cannot be attained unless the people of the world are on friendly terms. In the second half the breaks were all against Floydada. The Winds were not able to get a rebound or an out-of-bounds ball, and the boys in the blue were ahead seventeen points at times. However, the never - say - die 'Winds kept pounding away at the basket and trimmed the large margin down to five points. When the buzzer rang, Dalhart won by 12 points. Hre favorite colors are blue and pink, and her favorite teachers are in her words, "All those that can tolerate me from day to day". Nancy's ambition is to become an architect, and her secret desire is to own a book store and a floral hop as her hobbies.

Nancy takes a very good viewpoint concerning her ideal boy. She says, "Tall or short, thin or fat, handsome or ugly, what difference does it make when love is blind and ignorance is bliss?"

Nancy names just two dislikes and they are, "I do not like to go to bed right in the middle of a good book or get up when I have just come to the climax of a wonderful dream."

Her likes number more than her dislikes and they are: red beans, sweet pickles, horses, and the people in F. H. S. as her very dearest

Nancy's ideal day would begin rather early, at 4:30 a. m. She would get up and then take a swift horseback ride to the top of the mountain accompanied by her collie There she would watch the sun rise and then return home in time for a swim before breakfast

After breakfast she would visit her hobby shops and spend part of the remainder of the morning reading the latest book just off the press. The afternoon would be spent with her architectural drawings. After dinner her Prince Charming would come and they would go see Mrs. Graves' latest play

We think Nancy is one of the nicest girls in F. H. S. and we are sure that she will be a great success in life.

Look! Listen! Waste Adds to Shortages

In the cafeteria there are many ways that pupils may assist the ladies in giving better service to

On thing to remember is that shortages are occurring and that paper napkins are beginning to be hard to get. These napkins also cost money and should not be wasted. Many times a thoughtless person wastes several napkins at the lunch hour instead of his quota of one napkin. Straws are an item of expense also and should not be used extravagantly

If the pupils will remember that waste of these materials may cause their elimination from the cafeteria, they will not waste the articles. Pupils should recognize the fact that money saved on these items of expense will be used to buy the essential foods.

Go the Berry, Iomato Route Says Marshall

If this land is ever to sell for $500 to $1,000 per acre we will have to go the cannery route. That is raise something that humans eat, this is marketed in cans. These can opener wives are getting more numerous every day.

Boysenberries is one of the most profitable of the berries. Their flavor is wonderful, eaten fresh or frozen for cobblers or preserves and on ice cream at soda fountains. They pay $500 per acre and up. It takes nearly two years to get the first berries. Planted now they will grow the canes next summer and will produce the berries the second

Perfect Tomato Country

The south plains is almost perfect for tomatoes. That would probably be our major canner. Our famers would not think much of the price the canners pay for tomatoes, around $30 per ton or 1 1/2 c per lb. The catch to that is tomatoes produce 15 to 20 tons per acre

We could sell pinks to truckers at 5c to 10c per pound and get several hundred dollars per acre and then sell the bulk of the crop to the cannery. Tomatoes and juice are very easy and fast to put in cans. The important thing about a cannery is the farmers must own and operate it.

There is a commercial tomato grown on the west coast, that is probably tops in our nation. It has more meat, more flavor, less seed. produces more per acre and is free of diseases and wilt. The vine is fairly small and is planted by most of the large acreage farmers. man near Stockton, California, raises tomato plants. His tomato plant bed covers 15 acres. He sells Pierson tomato plants. I have been thinking of sending for some of these seed. The seed are cheap, $12 per pound.

My message to every farmer this time is, order a dozen Boysenberry plants today and learn what they will do. Then you will later plant several acres.

On the day of February 26, 1887 cowboys coming to get their mail at the Mt. Blanco Postoffice found a new baby girl had arrived to stay with Aunt and Uncle Hank Smith and they called her Pretty Mary for her hair was dark brown and her cheeks pink. She learned to laugh and play as the years went on, in the valleys and on the hills nearherhome. She gathered the yellow buttercups which spread the bed, up and down the canyon. Her hand clasped bouquets of purple gentians, red wine cups and blue stars like bits of the sky above. Her love for all she met made her dear to everyone and soon she was called "Hon" the short for the southern term of "Honey". through the years she kept the love of her friends and the ones she met from time to time. Now this day of January 15, 1951, her life is ended and like the beautiful sunset with its colors of gold and red and blue, her life went out leaving a glow of gold and silver, of love and service, the red of courage and the blue of faith, behind as her loved one's tears fall at her passing.

DINOSAUR REVERSIBLE PLOWS

Are the answer to Soil Conservation

Yields per acre will be increased greatly. Less water is needed to make a crop; cost of weeding is saved by turning weed seed under so deep they can not come up; stop soil from blowing; reclaim plant food that has gone too deep into soil: YOU TOO, should get in on the extra profits. You can always save land leveling costs using a DINOSAUR TWO-WAY PLOW. Its many excelling features are almost too great You can break to be true deeper with the same power, or as deep with less power. Therefore operating costs are reduced, and you can break land FASTER.
