YOUTHFUL PIANO VIRTUOSO IN CONCERT HERE FEBRUARY 19

Slim, blonde, 22 year old Jean Graham is a typical American girl who happens to be a piano virtuoso. It is in this capacity that she will visit Floydada on February 19 when the Floydada Municipal concert association will present her as the next attraction on their 1950-51 series.

From the time of her Chicago debut at 16, when the formidable Claudia Cassidy called her a "miniature tornado—a shining talent," Jean Graham has been gathering applause, honors and critical kudos like bunches of field flowers. Her Town Hall debut in New York City was her first personal and artistic triumph for her. Both the New York Times and Herald Tribune referred to her "fiery temperament," "incandescence," "musical and tactile sensibility," "virtuosity," and "enkindling imagination." She was praised for her firm and resonant tone and for the non-musical but eye appealing attributes of charm, sweetness and being "tall and very pretty."

An Ohio girl of Scottish descent, Jean Graham revealed her extraordinary talents at an early age and was the first prize winner of the Ohio Federation of Music clubs in both 1939 and 1940. In 1941 she was the winner of the Edgar Stillman Kelly scholarship of the national federation of music clubs, and played twice at the Young People's concerts of the Chicago symphony for conductor Frederick Stock. After winning the young artists award of the Chicago Artist Association and the Piano award of the Chicago Music festival, Miss Graham went on to graduate from the New York Juilliard School and to study with Madame Isabelle Venyova.

Award winning, already an established habit with the young artist, continued and in 1948 she walked away with the bronze Medallion of honor awarded by the Women's International exposition in recognition of outstanding musical achievement. In 1949 she received her highest honor—she was named the Leventritt Foundation Prize winner, and, as such, appeared as soloist with the New York Philharmonic symphony under Leopold Stokowski.

She has appeared subsequently with Eugene Ormandy and the Philadelphia symphony as soloist with the Boston Pops orchestra, conducted by Arthur Fielder and was a sensation with the newly-formed Carnegie Hall "Pops" orchestra this past summer. Jean Graham has toured extensively in the East with a brief foray into Southern territory where the Memphis Press Scimitar said of her—"her music is like a sudden sun on a gloomy day."

Now Miss Graham is about to embark on what to her is "my greatest adventure." She is touring America. When asked if she was nervous, she replied, "How could I be, before all those lovely people. I'll only be coming home."

The Jean Graham concert for members of the Floydada Municipal Concert Association will be held at the High School auditorium on February 19 at 8:00 o'clock.

Farm Bureau Directors Lay Campaign Plans

The board of directors of the Floyd County Farm Bureau were due to meet in a luncheon here last night to plan their annual membership drive.

Ben Quebe, president of the county Farm Bureau said, "Farm Bureau district two, which is composed of 16 South Plains counties and 6,082 members, is beginning its district-wide membership drive very soon. This district has accepted a quota of 7,750 members in 1951 and each county is expected to reach its accepted quota. Floyd county's quota is 400 members. Therefore, we are asking every farmer and rancher to join Farm Bureau with us and make Floyd county an even better agricultural county."

"The Texas legislature convened January 9, with some bills to discuss that will affect every South Plains farmer and rancher. To insure that we are represented when these pieces of legislation are presented, we must endeavor to invite everyone to join Farm Bureau during our membership drive," Quebe said.

"The board of directors of the Floyd County Farm Bureau will meet and discuss the possibility of having community educational meetings during our membership drive," Quebe concluded.

Wallace Loyd Killed In Action, Parents Advised by Army

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Loyd have received the information from Washington that their son, Wallace B. Loyd, who was reported missing in action in Korea on July 27, 1950, had been killed in action and that a confirming letter would follow the telegram.

Wallace Loyd was the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pawver. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Loyd and brother, Bob of Floydada, a brother, C. C. Loyd in the army at Fort Eustis, Virginia, a brother, Keith at Chickasha, Oklahoma, and a sister, Mrs. L. L. Cross of Fontana, California.

Wallace had been in the army about a year and half when he left for Korea, joining from California, the former home of the Loyds.

D. L. Catlin Missing in Korea Since Dec. 3

David Lawrence Catlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence A. Catlin of Lockney, has been missing in action in Korea since the third of December, a telegram from the adjutant general of the army to his father said Tuesday.

The family last heard from their son in a letter dated November 22. Attempting to get word from their son they wrote Congressman George Mahon who got the report from the War department.

David Lawrence was with the 32nd infantry of the Seventh division. He is a nephew of Lloyd Catlin, Floydada business man.

Polio Campaign Comes to End

Late yesterday as the last drives to complete the polio campaign were under way the state headquarters said the March of Dimes was being brought to a close on a note of gratitude for Texas people's support and on expressed hope to conquer polio.

As Floydada committees and thousands of others continued the battle into the night hours of Wednesday.

Returns from the 67 Marching Mothers last night, wound the City Polio campaign up with a total of $878.03 for their hour of work between 7 and 8 calling only at houses which invited them with a porch light. The mothers called on 368 houses for an average of $2.38 per call, said Edward West.

Wednesday the Texas Polio planning committee announced it had begun a survey of personnel and equipment to prepare for a recurrence of the recent record number of cases in the state.

Returns were incomplete from over the county this week and the Floydada drive was not finished until 8 o'clock last night when the March of the Mothers was finished in a porch light visitation campaign.

The success of this drive is due to the citizens of Floydada who turned on their porch lights to invite 67 "Mothers Marching on Polio" and to the cooperation of the Jaycees, Floydada Fire department, Southwestern Public Service, Boy Scouts and teachers of the public schools.

"This spectacular, streamlined version of house-to-house canvassing has provided a dramatic climax to the March of Dimes on one unified community-wide gesture of good will and generosity to a cause," said Edward West, moving spirit in the city-wide campaign. "A complete report of funds toward our goal is in-complete at this time as the miniature iron lungs on about 50 merchants' counters have not been taken up and some communities have not reported their totals," he added.

The Floyd County chapter feels confident of their goal from the interest shown in the city and communities. The 10-degree weather hasn't slowed up the pie supper, domino, 42 and 84 parties and their reports are encouraging, according to Jake Watson and officials of the county chapter.

Body of Mrs. Small To Be Interred Here

Mrs. A. E. Guthrie received a message from her husband, Dr. A. E. Guthrie on Tuesday night, saying that his sister, Mrs. F. J. Small of Rosenberg, Texas, passed away at 10 o'clock.

Dr. Guthrie and Woody Guthrie of Dumas, went to Rosenberg last Sunday. Her mother, Mrs. J. H. Guthrie had been with Mrs. Small since Christmas. Mrs. Small had been ill for the past year.

Dollar Day Gives Shot in the Arm To Ailing Currency

Dollar day again Monday. First Monday in the month, and many Floydada stores are co-ordinating their merchandising plans to give Ailing Currency a shot in the arm on that particular day. They are inviting people from all over the area to look in and see how the patient rallies from the heroic treatment.

In spite of the BOE indexes, and the trend of the times toward higher and higher prices and higher and higher costs of doing business in stores and everywhere their merchandising plans to give Ailing Currency a shot in the arm on that particular day. They are inviting people from all over the area to look in and see how the patient rallies from the heroic treatment.

Mr. Root received his BA degree from Baylor University, his MA from Harvard, and is studying for his doctor's degree at the University of Colorado. Root is a veteran of World War II, in which he served under General Patton in the intelligence corps. Mr. Root is expected to accompany him on his trip to Floydada.

Approximately 300 persons are expected to be present for the banquet this year according to retiring president J. E. Bishop. A few tickets were still available Wednesday, but those who are planning to attend the banquet were advised by Bishop to purchase tickets as soon as possible.

Applications came in briskly this week for all-risk federal cotton crop insurance and as early as Tuesday P M A administrator Ray S. McEntire said there was no doubt the county had qualified with at least 200 units represented in the total acreage.

In spite of cold weather now the prospective cotton growers foresee the day this spring when they'll start the planters. The all-risk insurance becoming effective on that day, McEntire said the total number of farm units covered would run well above 200.

The Floyd county committee has carried on an active campaign for the protective type of insurance among cotton growers here.

WESTER & SON, grocers, at the C. P. Leeper location on South Main Street, are celebrating their second year in business this week.

Temperatures since Saturday mid-afternoon over Floyd county have played tag with the zero mark as a monstrous cold front enveloped the western half of the nation and blew frigid air as far south as the Rio Grande valley of Texas.

Yesterday afternoon there was little indication of a let-up, but the weather man said higher temperatures would prevail beginning Thursday afternoon. Low for the week here was 7 below zero this morning at 6:00 o'clock, but in the four-day period the thermometer has not registered above 30 degrees. In fact, the meter stayed below 20 degrees practically all the time from Sunday night at 10 o'clock until late Wednesday. All day Wednesday the readings ranged between 10 degrees above and 20 degrees below.

Very Little Moisture Floyd county has had little moisture in the week. Hopeful reports Tuesday night of a good fall of moisture Wednesday had materialized as late as 2 o'clock yesterday in only a slight covering of snow.

As of that same hour no reports of serious highway mishaps had come in, and the fire department had made only two runs. One of these was to the R. C. Henry, Jr. garage apartment in the 100 block on West Kentucky. Warming water pipes with a torch had ignited birds nest materials in the wall of the garage. The fire was extinguished before any damage was done.

The other run was to Conoco Station No. 1, where the back seat of an automobile belonging to a traveling salesman was afire. It was quickly extinguished.

While Floydada and Floyd county people have been lucky during the freeze, some disastrous fires have hit the neighboring area towns. At Childress a million-dollar fire gutted a quarter block of business property Tuesday including the First State bank building and four other major business houses. At Lubbock Tuesday night the J. C. Penney store was burned from wall to wall as all fire fighting equipment in the city battled a blaze for four hours. The loss will run above a quarter of a million dollars, the reports indicated.

Sunday morning about 5 o'clock Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Franks, of Crosbyton, lost their car and all equipment there in a north side of the square blaze that put them out of business until they can re-build and re-equip. The Franks are former residents of Floydada. They had some insurance but not enough to cover the loss. One other business was also a loser in this blaze, which caught in the kitchen of the cafe.

Hardest blow to hit any community in this area came at Idalou where the school district lost a 14-room school that will be most difficult to replace. This was on Tuesday.

May Hurt the Bugs The continued cold may prove invaluable to the area before the crop year is over. Five days of frigid temperatures have killed some types of insects entirely and will hamper locomotion and reproduction of other types. The green bug, says County Agent Robt. H. Gibson, is not killed by the cold, but locomotion and reproduction are much retarded for this enemy of small grain fields. Green bugs have been in evidence in considerable numbers throughout the county, and favorable weather in February is badly needed.

Mrs. O. L. Stansell Passed on Sunday After Long Illness Mrs. O. L. Stansell, who had been ill for the past three years, passed away in the Lubbock Memorial hospital, on Sunday night at 11 o'clock. Her family were at her bedside when she died.

The funeral services for Mrs. Stansell were conducted on Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the First Baptist church, with the pastor, R. Earl Allen, officiating, assisted by a life-long friend of the family, Rev. J. Frank Nix of Lubbock. Pallbearers at the services were Everett Perry, A. V. Stewart, Earnest Carter, L. D. Britton, Johnny Joe Starkey and Johnny Lackey.

Daughter of Pioneer Merchant Mrs. Stansell was born Gertrude Elizabeth Collins, on May 22, 1886, near Atlanta, Georgia, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John S. Collins, the latter a pioneer merchant of Floydada. Mrs. Stansell joined the Baptist church in early childhood and was faithful in her attendance at all services at the church until her health failed.

Mr. and Mrs. Stansell were married in Bailey, Texas, on January 19, 1909, and to this union three sons were born. One son, N. B. Stansell, preceded his mother in death on September 8, 1950. Two sons, Pat and Jack, and the husband survive, as well as six grandchildren, all of Floydada. Two brothers, Walter and Gene Collins of Floydada, and two sisters, Mrs. W. H. Cline of Dallas, and Mrs. Anna Smalley of Clovis, New Mexico, also (See Mrs. O. L. Stansell, back page)

Views and Comment

THE FRINGE OF REASON (The Odessa American)

The business of collecting and disseminating news is getting hammed up intolerably by a legion of journalistic muggers, scenery-chewers and strip tease artists.

The hard-working and unsensational journeymen who labour in the vineyards where news is made have a mounting hatred for this increasing tribe of snatch-and-run actors.

The only fellow we knew who made a good thing out of somebody else's scene-stealing was the late Professor Zambrini who had one of the most popular burlesque routines in the business.

The professor—a wispy old fellow—would studiously bang away at a xylophone on the front of the stage while a pretty girl did a strip tease behind him, apparently without his knowledge. As the audience applauded and hollered for more, the professor would take deep bows, express his thanks to the music lovers in the crowd, and do encore after encore.

The gentlemen of the press, however, are not profiting from the distracting activities which are going on behind their backs. Fact is, they are sharing the blame for a number of sins they aren't committing.

Mr. Truman is following the precedent of his late boss in blaming the working press for his steady loss of public confidence and esteem. Actually, what the newsmen do is quote the President (without quotation marks); and the President has the unfortunate habit of saying fool things which are painful when they appear in type.

On the other hand are the columnist and radio oracles who report not what the President said, but what he meant, or thought or wanted to say. They quote anonymous "highly placed" officials who disclose all manner of sensational information. These "highly placed" characters, page boys or procurers who overheard a man who overheard a man who... well, you know.

The newspaper reader — or radio listener — demands to know why the news columns have not contained this or that "report," and the kept men and women of journalism begin the old story that the "press" is corrupt and does not report all the news.

The news columns of most newspapers are as free from disguised opinion as it is possible to make them. Editors have their selection of columnists and radio people have their selection of commentators.

If editors and radio men are conscientious and honest, they'll give their essayists a free hand as long as they are willing to explain and defend what they write and say, admit their errors and reason with logic and consistency.

There is no need in the world for commentators or columnist who label as "isolationists" every American who doesn't want to continue our present and purposeless policy of trying to defend, feed, clothe and bribe all of Europe and Asia, or those who shout "reactionary" when an American suggests that he is not a ward of a big brother government.

When you find a columnist of that ilk, you generally will find also an editor's note in which the newspaper says, rather ambiguously, that it doesn't necessarily believe in the good character of the writer or the accuracy of his reports. In other words, says the editor's note, "We print this guy only because you're willing to pay us to do it."

They aren't reporters — workers in an honest and worthwhile trade. Don't confuse them. And don't expect the real reporters of news to compete with these show horses and trained seals who skirt the fringe of reason for the sake of a good yarn.

One of the heartiest (financially) of the crystal ball gazers in the screw which sells "newsletters" even "confidential newsletters" which purport to be from anywhere from six minutes to six centuries ahead of the news. They advise that rationing is probable; that war is possible; that taxes are going up; that all men die, and that the sun always sets in the west.

If you're not a professional oracle, it is surprisingly simple to make these announcements read like hot "inside" tips. In fact, the newsletters keep telling their suckers just how "hot" they are, in case the reader hadn't detected any heat.

The smartest operators of newsletters insist that the letters are copyrighted and must not be published. That's a good bet because nobody wants to publish them; but it impresses the subscriber.

The newsletter writers — the few which aren't fronts for one or another pressure group — are a different breed of cat from the columnist and radio commentators.

They are real artists at saying the obvious and commonplace with such consummate artistry that their subscribers feel they are getting a real scoop right from the horse's mouth.

The crisis which is on for America had to come sooner or later and the all-out effort at military preparation at this point in the development of the new era appears to be heading toward greater difficulties than we can realize. By June 1 we will be wondering how our positions as citizens could possibly have been so good in February, assuming no happy change in the developing events. Taxes and manpower shortage and controls over our lives are in the making, such as perhaps only 80-year-olds can remember the like. The out for which all devoutly pray is the possibility that the power of the politboro over the people of Russia and half a world besides can be broken. If some good fortune like this does not come our way we are in for — well, we're in for it.

He who waits long enough for something to turn up may find it's only his toes.

Cleanliness is the first rule in properly caring for the pressure cooker.

Long-term Investment that pays daily dividends

THESE days thoughtful people turn their minds to the durability of things they purchase.

But it's rare when doing your duty turns out to be the best way to satisfy your heart's desire.

That's what's so marvelous about this '51 Buick.

If you picked a car just for the lift it gives you—your pride in its power—or its generous comfort—you couldn't make a better choice.

But make note of this:

That gleaming new push-bar forefront, which greets your eye with flashing beauty, contains 25 grille bars made of stamped steel, individually mounted to "give" and come back unharmed. Combined with a massive, wrap-around bumper, fortified by two stalwart "bumper bombs" and two added uprights, it gives unsurpassed protection.

Springs of stout spiraled steel on all four wheels let your wheels curtsy over bumps, while you ride level as a lance. But they also need no servicing, and breakage is virtually unknown.

Buick's great-powered engine is a Fireball, wondrously lively and eager at the mere touch of your toe—but it also wrings extra power from every drop of fuel, and has the mechanical perfection that comes only from years of experience with this basic design.

Dynaflow Drive gives you effortless smoothness of control—but it also eliminates clutch repair bills, saves tires, eases strain on the whole driving mechanism, from engine to differential.

The road-steady gait of a Buick assures relaxed security—and is also evidence that you have a durable, deep-silled, X-braced frame beneath you.

However you check it, you'll discover this: The things that make you yearn for a Buick on first acquaintance, are the very same things that make Buick such a smart long-time buy.

Better see your Buick dealer—soon.

Standard equipment, accessories and trim illustrated are subject to change without notice.

No other car provides all this:

- DYNAFLOW DRIVE • FIREBALL POWER
- 4-WHEEL COIL SPRING • DUAL VENTILATION
- PUSH-BAR FOREFRONT • TORQUE-TUBE DRIVE
- WHITE-GLOW INSTRUMENTS • DREAMLINE STYLING
- BODY BY FISHER

HAS THE Electric HOME LAUNDRY?

The glamour girl, of course. All she does is put the clothes in her automatic washer, set the dials, and leave the rest to Reddy. Then, when they're washed sparkling clean, into the dryer they go and once more, Reddy takes over the hard work. Reddy keeps the water hot, too, with an automatic electric water heater, that's as clean and dazzling as an electric light bulb. Ironing is easier, too, when it's done on a modern, electric ironer. Don't get worn out by back-breaking wash days. Be drudgery-free, be happy, let low cost electric service do the hard work.

Blood Count Is Routine of Physical Exam

There are so many diseases in which the diagnosis can be substantiated by microscopic study of the blood that flows through your arteries and veins, that even a partial list of them would fill many pages. Not only are the things that make up the blood separated and counted, but the shape of those things is studied, the age of them, and the manner in which they separate or group together, says a health talk recently released by the State Medical association of Texas.

The blood count has become a routine part of a physical examination. This "elementary" check-up of the blood starts with a prick on the middle finger or the lobe of the ear, and the blood is sucked up into a tube. It takes just a tiny bit of blood but that tiny bit tells a great story.

There are supposed to be 4 to 6 million red cells per cubic millimeter of blood and something between 5 and 8 thousand white cells. Needless to say, the time is not taken to count every cell. A spot of the blood is put on a slide marked off with lots of the little lines and the number of red cells is counted in one of the tiniest squares as an average number and then multiplied by the number of all the squares to find out how many of the red cells are in the whole drop. The white cells are much bigger than the red, but the total number is figured in roughly the same manner.

The red cells aren't only counted, they are also studied for the amount of redness in them, that redness coming from hemoglobin. Hemoglobin is the pigment just as in paint, the more pigment you have, the richer the color; when you thin the paint you are reducing the pigment and making the color paler. But hemoglobin also is the oxygen-carrying red cap of the blood stream, and if the parts of the body which feed upon blood do not get sufficient oxygen, they can't do their job like they are supposed to. So hemoglobin is very important, but it is also rather elusive. Just exactly how much or how little you have or how to count the amount you do have has never been fully ascertained. Hemoglobin is estimated only, not counted. Wide variations can be spotted, of course, in the study of blood, but when the variations from normal is nly slight although your body seems to reflect the variations, you might end up with some such description as "borderline anemia."

The Turquoise Room is for private cocktail and dinner parties. Features of the room are the turquoise, silver and gold decorative treatment, consisting of golden tint plate mirrors, gold colored draperies, turquoise carpeting and accordian type sliding doors. The dome accommodates sixteen passengers and the seats revolve to suit the convenience of the passengers.

The shape and size of those red cells may also play a part in anemia. These are studied under a microscope after the blood has been smeared between two glass slides. All the cells won't be the same size but if the majority are too big or too little, your blood isn't giving you the best kind of treatment. Since the cells are supposed to be round, the microscope will also point out any change in that shape. When they get out of line, those cells assume a wide variety of different forms, varying from clubs to sickles, with each different form having its very own special medical term.

The clotting ability of the blood is very important at the time of operation, of course, and there are tests to study those parts of the blood that make it form a dam to staunch the flow of blood.

The Wasserman test to detect the presence of the family of germs that cause syphilis, among other diseases, the typing of blood including the intricacies of the Rh factor, the accumulation of chemicals in the blood, the time it takes for sediment to form when the blood is jiggled in the test tube, the composition of that sediment — there are so many different signs your doctor can pick up from the study of your blood. All of the tests aren't necessary, of course, but he will advise whichever ones he thinks will contribute information as to your health. And in your blood stream is frequently the final significant answer to any threat to your health.

Boyce House Twice Told Tales

Will Roger said that there is nothing as stupid as an educated man if you get him off the thing he is educated in.

And it might be added that there is nothing as stupid as an educated man if he is educated beyond his capacity to absorb.

Which many of our Ph.D.'s are. For example a bunch of professors gave a writer a grant of a substantial amount of money to write a book about the Southwest. And what do you suppose he included in the Southwest? Louisiana and Arkansas!

Louisiana is a land of swamps, cotton plantations, old Southern homes and it is as Southern as Alabama and Georgia.

And as for Arkansas, your columnist was born there and therefore can lay some claim to knowing something about the state. Arkansas has swamps and heavy rainfall. Cattle raising is not a major source of income; there are no arid regions, no sandstorms and no steady, strong winds such as are to be found in considerable parts of Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. Arkansas had slaves, seceded, was the scene of fighting in the Civil War, had steamboats and plantations. If it isn't a Southern state, then there is no Southern state.

A region is not simply a matter of geography, of course but it is climate, customs, traditions and history. Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona have much in common.

A bunch of highbrows commission another very wise man to write a book about the Southwest and none of them knows what the Southwest is!

Is it any wonder that most business men look with suspicion on most college professors as theorists?

If the Southwest is just any place that you want to take in, then let's annex Brooklyn. The Dodgers and their fans are certainly uninhibited enough and have an abundance of color—and I'm sure that Brooklyn is southwest of somewhere!

In 1903, George C. Murrell joined the Sulphur Springs fire department. On Jan. 1, 1950, he retired as chief but is still a member of the department and is fire marshal of that city.

Murrell saw the equipment change from the old hand-drawn hose cart to three large American LaFrance fire trucks. The News-Telegram (Eric Bagwell, editor) several years ago related some of the veteran fire fighter's experiences.

He recalls a fire that broke out at night and lasted for hours. The flames started in the old Elks Hall on Connally street. Four buildings on the south side of the street were destroyed and a wind swept the flames across to destroy two buildings on the north side of the street. Surrounding buildings were kept soaked in water to prevent spread of the fire and Chief Murrell was standing near a partitioned wall with his hose trained on one of the nearby structures when the wall caved in.

The closest call that he ever had, however, was when the oil mill burned. He and another fireman, Kirk Kellogg, were on the ground, holding the line through a doorway in the second story. Suddenly the high brick wall tottered and fell. In that fleeting instant when he saw the wall leaning toward him, Murrell called, "Step Forward." Spectators screamed as the wall fell, for they believed the two firemen killed, but when the dust and smoke cleared away, there they stood, unharmed.

When Murrell saw that they did not have time to clear the pathway of the wall, he gave the signal to move forward so that, as the wall fell, they were in line with the doorway and so the wall passed over them and they didn't receive even a scratch.

Bill Doolin, notorious old-time out law, escaped from jail by telling a joke and then, while the guard was doubled up with laughter, grabbing his pistol. History does not tell what the joke was.

After business meeting, Mrs. Clyde Burton gave an interesting demonstration on the use of modern sewing machine attachments. Recreation was led by Mrs. Vinson, and delicious refreshments were served by the hostess. There were eleven women present, one new member. The next meeting will be with Mrs. T. R. Nolan on Friday, February 9.

The get-together at the schoolhouse last Friday night was well attended. It was for the purpose of entertainment and for collecting funds for the polio drive. More than 36 dollars have been contributed to date. Did you get in on this worthy cause?

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

PROVISION
 by Vanda F. Carlson
 No doubt the questing wild birds never know That God's wise provisions for such things as restless wings Include the possibility of snow; That He anticipates their future needs By packing seeds Into the cupboards of the wayside weeds While days are sunny and the nights are warm, And there's no slightest hint of winter storm.
 Serene, the birds fly off into the blue To wing the trackless highways of the sky, Till by and by The gray days come, as gray days always do; Then, quite undaunted by the snowy pall That covers all, They spy the wayside weeds, so guant and tall, And clustering on them till the full heads nod, They take provision from the hand of God.

The radio says it is cold, very cold, but inside our snug little house we do not feel or realize it is just above zero, but there has been magic for on our north picture window in the kitchen the red, blue green and purple plates are outlined on the back with curves of silver lace in the daintiest of patterns. Dots, scrolls and tall branches are etched all over the glass, fairy flowers of winter and all for nothing as to cost. They give us exquisite pleasure and we class them among our riches.

The romance of ice is very interesting. Ice is a necessity without which the public would suffer. The blasts of winter turn the waters of lakes, rivers and ponds into ice, but that is not enough for American families, to have refrigeration. The Egyptians knew the secret of cooling by evaporation and the natives of India use it today—filling with water shallow trays of porous materials placed on beds of straw and leaving them exposed to the night winds, with the result that dawn finds a thin film of ice formed on the surface. Emperor Nero had slaves bring snow down from the mountains to cool his wines. Alexander the Great had trenches dug for storing snow. Hundreds of kegs of wine were cooled there. When Catherine d'Medici left Florence, Italy, to go to France, she took with her the best of chefs to make sure that she would have frozen creams and ices every day. Sir Walter Scott told how Saladin, leader of the Mohammedan armies sent a frozen sherbet to Richard the Lion-Hearted, much to the amazement of that monarch.

In the seventeenth century the French government licensed the business of farming snow and ice to farmers but the farmers raised prices so much the government was forced to relinquish its interests. We have the picture of the early fishmonger in England selling ice from his wagon which he still does. The first record of American delivery of ice to the home is in 1802. The first commercial shipment of natural ice from America was exported by Frederick Tudor in 1806 when a shipload was sent to Martinique in the West Indies to help stay the ravages of yellow fever. The first American patent for artificial ice was taken out in 1850 by Dr. John Gorrie of Appalachicola, Florida.

But until the year 1890 not much had been done and that year there was the shortest crop of ice that has ever occurred in the history of the U. S.

In early days here on the plains, a doctor at Plainview built an ice house which furnished ice in the summer for sickness and perhaps some cold drinks. Emma was too far away and it took too many hours to bring such perishable stuff to the little inland town. Mother was sick. Her fever was high that summer day long ago. She begged in her feverish state for only a tiny bit of ice to cool her parched tongue. Father sat by helplessly. We children were scared to death that mother would die. All of a sudden, pop, pop, pop, on the housetop and we looked out to see big white balls come down from the black cloud. We rushed out and began picking them up, running in to mother to give her the cold ice. We put them in a bucket, packed them down good and hard and set them in the coldest place we could find. Mother always said the hailstones made her well. We children have always believed God answered our prayers that hot summer day.

A few years ago I came into Floydada and Mr. Kirk showed me a new way of ice-making, an oil burning refrigerator which made its own ice. I could not believe it, but there it was. Never, I thought, could we afford such a costly thing for our home. If I recall it was something of eighty dollars. But eighty dollars was hard to make in that day of cheap cotton and wheat. My small ice box would have to do and we had to get ice from the towns near by. Ice then was delivered at our door. Electricity came and I at last owned a refrigerator. Then a luxury, now a necessity.

Now dear reader, all this because ice is on our windows and ice in the big white box keeping our food from spoiling.

Mr. and Mrs. Will McKee of near Lamesa visited with Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fuller Wednesday and Thursday of last week.

Before marriage they bill and coo. After marriage the cooling stops and the billing begins in earnest.

Nothing Better Than Good Food, Says Ohio Man

If a man isn't able to eat the foods he likes he's in mighty sorry shape—imagine going through life without being able to enjoy a fine big platter of bacon and eggs. That is the way Joseph N. Damiot, 3414 E. 5th Street, Dayton, Ohio, used to be, but since he has been taking HADACOL, he says he feels just fine and is able to enjoy lots and lots of fine foods. Mr. Damiot found that taking HADACOL helped his system overcome a deficiency of Vitamins B₁, B₂, Niacin and Iron.

Here is Mr. Damiot's statement: "My first bottle of HADACOL convinced me that HADACOL was what I needed for the gas on my stomach at nights. I could not keep food on my stomach, but after the first bottle I was going great. Now I eat bacon and eggs, and other foods that never would stay with me. I also can sleep well at nights. Thanks to HADACOL, I will never be without it, and can recommend it to all who suffer with the above ailments that I had. I know because I have suffered for quite some time."

R. E. DICKSON
"He Made Water Walk"

On the rolling plains of West Texas, where an annual average rainfall of 20 inches creates the most serious problem for agriculture, Ray E. Dickson will be long remembered as "the man who made water walk." In his 36 years as superintendent of the Texas Experiment Substation at Spur, this Texas A. and M. researcher led the way to full use of the country's precious rainfall through development of strip-pan terraces. He learned and then preached that the rainfall of the plains country was sufficient, if properly conserved. He proved that water conservation is the quickest way to soil saving. On the basis of his pioneering much of the work of the national Soil Conservation Service was established.

Brewer Is Teacher in Vocational School

McLee Brewer, a Sam Houston State Teachers college graduate with BS degree in vocational agriculture, has succeeded Newton Goodwin as an instructor in Floyd County Vocational school, it was announced last week by N. S. Abbott, coordinator.

Brewer has a wife and daughter. They will make their home at Lockney as soon as living quarters are arranged for.

Wasted Water; Wasted Money

Over widespread sections of the, 22 million acres of western irrigated farms less than half the water applied to the land actually benefits the crops, according to Allan McCulloch and Wayne Criddle, writing in the new U. S. Department of Agriculture bulletin, Conservation Irrigation. This wasted irrigation water usually causes land damage by erosion, alkali accumulation, leaching or waterlogging, they declare. "Every gallon of water that is either pumped or purchased is money out of the farmer's pocket when the water is wasted. It increases cost of crop production, in addition to the damage his crop and land may suffer," it is stated.

They use a relatively new term—conservation irrigation—as part of the current western irrigation terminology. "This is simply using irrigated soils and irrigation water in a way that will insure high production without waste of either soil or water. It means using cropping irrigation and cultural methods that will help keep the land in permanent agriculture," it is explained.

Along with sketches of improved layouts and photographic examples of various types of irrigation systems, the authors say that in following conservation irrigation, these steps are recommended:

- (1) Make an inventory of your soil and water resources, as well as inquiries into more adequate supplies, if necessary.
- (2) Decide how to apply the water to fit your land.
- (3) Plan your distribution system to carry water where needed and to safely dispose of any waste.
- (4) Prepare the land so that water can be applied efficiently, some land possibly needing leveling.
- (5) Make efficient use of the water by adjusting the size and flow of streams and taking special care if there is alkali in the water to keep it from settling at the roots of plants.

Trained assistance in handling this job may be obtained by farmers in many districts through the technical personnel of the Soil Conservation Service.

JAPS LIKE LAND REFORMS

"Before and after" studies of conditions in Japanese villages indicate that the agrarian reforms sponsored by the Occupation are getting desirable results, according to Arthur Raper, rural sociologist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. New leadership is emerging in the villages. Results are in line with the Occupation's policy "to break the old feudal pattern" as a prelude to democratic development. Rapid growth of new cooperative organizations is second only to the land reform in developing a substantial number of new leaders drawn from groups never before influential in Japanese affairs.

Raper directed a study of 13 representative villages in the spring of 1947. This was before the land reform had gone into effect. The study was in response to an invitation from the Supreme Commander of the Allied Forces. A re-study of the same villages in late 1948 and early in 1949 followed a period of intense activity in the land reform program.

In the years from 1946 to 1949, Raper reports, Government agencies bought about one third of all cultivated land in Japan—about 4 1/2 million acres—and resold it to cultivators. Most of these were formerly tenants on the land. More than 3 million farmers, says Raper, bought some land. This is about half of the total of Japanese farmers. Tenancy dropped from 46 percent to about 12 percent. The agencies handling these transfers of land were elected village commissioners of 10 members, and half the members of each commission were farm tenants. In the villages, the study group found that the shift in ownership had changed the operating units but very little. In general, the new owners are farming the land they had been farming as tenants, says Raper. The farms are small and average only about 2 1/2 acres in area.

At the time of the first study Raper said that many tenants seemed doubtful as to whether they wanted to be owners. The "after" study, however, revealed none who wanted to go back to tenancy. The "pride and satisfaction" in ownership, says Raper, is "having important effects upon the participation of these families in public affairs." The initial election of the commissions in the villages was a valuable experience for those participating. Within a few months it had become clear to the villagers that the commissions had real authority. Results of the land reform are widely popular, perhaps one of the most significant ever launched.

Life is like that. You usually hear about the man who hit the jackpot, but the fellows who built up the pot are unknown.

Large Attendance At Dealer's Show

Numerous farmers of this community, their families and friends, were in town Friday night to attend a program sponsored by S. J. Latta, local farm implement dealer.

Main event on the program was the showing of two feature films in color. One of the films, entitled "Heavens of Peace," was a tour of several small nations where peace has existed for centuries. They were mainly agricultural nations that managed to make a little go a long way.

The other film, entitled "The Soil Is Good," pointed out the importance of the soil to the welfare of a nation and what must be done to preserve the topsoil. It revealed, too, how modern equipment on the farm is helping the modern farmer do more with less help.

In addition to the movies, the program included the presentation of a stage show.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sam Hale and Mrs. Gene Blackman were in Lubbock on Tuesday.

Young People Rally at Calvary Baptist

A rally for young people of the community tonight at Calvary Baptist church is announced by the pastor, J. T. Bilbrey, who said that 25 or 30 students from Wayland college will be present and join in the program of singing and worship.

A team of two or more of the Wayland student body are continuing to visit the Calvary church every Sunday morning and evening to join in their worship. One of the Wayland coeds who will appear in the local church's worship program soon is a Hawaiian girl, date for which will be announced later.

Hardwood floor of the new church has been laid and finished in the improvement program. Attendance is growing, said the pastor. Church school is held at 9:45 a. m., morning worship at 11 o'clock and the evening service at 7 o'clock.

YOUR JOB AND MINE

The appearance of the school grounds is noticed by all people who drive or walk past the school building. The luxuriant shrubbery adds to the attractiveness of the grounds and shows careful planning on the part of some interested person or persons.

Pupils view well-kept school grounds and building with pride. They are proud to show such a building to friends and to visitors. If, however, the grounds are cluttered with paper and coke bottle, pupils are not inclined to point to the grounds with pride. On the other hand, they become apologetic and show no interest in the school grounds. Wrong impressions are gained by passers-by.

All F. H. S. pupils should assist in keeping neat, attractive school grounds and school building. All can refrain from throwing papers, gum wrappers, or any kind of refuse on the grounds. They can also keep the interior of the building clean and cheerful by keeping the desks clean and un-marred.

Fun and Music in Assembly Program

On January 26, 1951, an assembly was presented by the Southern School assemblies. The program consisted of music, singing, and fun for all. It was presented by Galen Harvey.

Mr. Harvey played several musical selections, and the students and faculty enjoyed the program very much. Among the selections which he played were "Tennessee Waltz," three versions of "Three Blind Mice," "Down on the Range," and "Good-night Irene."

Because the program was musical, the ward school band and chorus were also present.

Candid Camera

Our camera is focused on a very attractive young lady who is 5' 4" in height and weighs 128 pounds. She has dark brown hair and green eyes. She was born on April 3, 1934, in our own little town. You have probably guessed that this could be none other than Natha Burleson, and you are right.

Among her favorites are: green and gray, William Holden, and Barbara Stanwick, cheese and asparagus soup, football, "Thinking of You", Bing Crosby, and American history.

Her likes are dill pickles, Frances and Marlene, frosted cakes, sandwiches, sweaters, shoes, and friendly people.

Her ideal boy must be at least 6' tall, weight about 180, have a dark complexion, be very friendly and likeable. She seems to have these things down perfectly. I wonder if she's found him yet?

Natha has some distinct dislikes which are any kind of meat except deviled ham, anklets, snooty people, Algebra II, western movies, and bleached hair.

Two very exciting moments in her life were when she was announced one of the cheer-leaders and one day when she had just said something unkind about Mr. Baker, she turned around, and ran right into him.

Natha's secret desire is to be an author of murder mysteries.

Her ideal day would begin early in the morning about 5:30 with a cold shower; then she would leisurely eat breakfast consisting of toast, just dripping with butter, and coffee. While eating this nourishing meal, she would read the latest Earl Stanley Gardner murder mystery. She would read until 9:00, then get in her '51 Ford and get Marlene and Frances. They would just ride around until noon and eat sandwiches and drink cokes for lunch. Then they would go to her house, make candy, listen to the radio, and play records. At 10:30 she would go to bed and read until 11:30 or 12:00. (That's using common sense!)

Natha, here's wishing you anything you desire. F. H. S. loves you.

Chuckles and Laffs

The little girl showed unusual interest in the church wedding and then suddenly turned to her mother with a puzzled expression.

"Did the lady change her mind?" She whispered to her mother.

"Why, no, what makes you think that?"

"Cause she came up the aisle with one man and came back with another," the child replied.

The young lady waited patiently in the drugstore until the pharmacist was free to wait on her. "What will it be?" he asked.

"I wonder," she asked, "if you'd read this letter from my fiance for me. He's a doctor!"

The golfer stepped up to the tee and drove off. The ball sailed straight down the fairway, leaped onto the green, and rolled into the hole. The golfer threw his club in the air with excitement.

"What have you suddenly gone crazy about?" asked his wife, who was trying to learn something about the game.

"Why, I just did a hole in one," yelled the golfer, a wild gleam of delight in his eyes.

"Did you?" asked his wife placidly. "Do it again, dear, I didn't see you."

The golfer stepped up to the tee and drove off. The ball sailed straight down the fairway, leaped onto the green, and rolled into the hole. The golfer threw his club in the air with excitement.

"What have you suddenly gone crazy about?" asked his wife, who was trying to learn something about the game.

"Why, I just did a hole in one," yelled the golfer, a wild gleam of delight in his eyes.

"Did you?" asked his wife placidly. "Do it again, dear, I didn't see you."

Style of the Week

The style of the week is the new football jackets. They are really very pretty, and all of the boys are very proud of them.

'Winds Losers In Conference Games of Week

Abernathy high's Antelopes proved their superiority in the clutches Tuesday night and won their first round robin game against the Whirlwinds on Abernathy court 46 to 37. Coach Gresham was not displeased with the game his boys put up but they lacked a little of with personal fouls and wound up the game playing with three men on the floor. Gresham's B squad lost, too, 39 to 17, and the girls' team, showing improvement but not enough, also lost to the Lockney girls cage team 41 to 19.

NEW SPEAKER SWORN IN

Secretary of State John Ben Shepperd is shown administering the oath of office to the new Speaker of the House of Representatives of the 52nd Texas Legislature, Rep. Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba. Shepperd officially opened the House of Representatives Tuesday, January 9, and presided until the unanimous election of the San Saba attorney as Speaker. Representative Senterfitt is beginning his sixth full term in the Texas House. He is the senior member of the law firm of Senterfitt, Crump and Jameson in San Saba. The Secretary of State convenes the initial session of each Legislature according to requirements of the Constitution and Texas law. Both Shepperd and Senterfitt, in opening remarks to the legislative body, termed this Legislature as one of the most important and crucial in the history of the state.

Saturday Floydada Day in Ft. Worth

Saturday, February 3, is Floydada day at the Fort Worth Pat Stock show, and doubtless, there will be a good crowd from this area present.

The Sweatheart of Floydada, Darlene Bryant, who attended the opening of the show last Friday, and rode in the grand parade, will be in Fort Worth for Floydada day. She had to return home last Sunday from Fort Worth to attend school this week, but will be there for the big day.

Also attending from Floydada and making a good show for the home town will be the "Teenage Figure Eight Square Dance Exhibition group", who will perform both Friday and Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock.

This weather may have some effect on the attendance from Floydada as the weatherman promises "more like we have now."

Henry Barber and a group of Aggie members of the Floydada High school attended opening day at the Pat Stock show and County Agent Bob Gibson and a group of 4-H club boys, also were there for

Texans Battle For Restored Grass Wealth

Bill Norman, of Dougherty, is chairman of Better Texas Pastures, incorporated, for Floyd county, Carl Daniel, of South Plains, is vice-chairman, and C. H. Bedford, of Floydada, is treasurer. Bob Gibson, county agent, is temporary chairman.

This is a new organization in the state which has for its first objective a 10-year pasture improvement program in the state. It is state-wide in its scope.

The members of the Floyd county organization spent a day last week in Amarillo, where they attended a meeting of District 1-N, and laid the foundation for their future work. They propose to accelerate the program for improved pastures in order to increase yields and profits, and to improve production.

It has been a Texas folly to use up the prairies on which the wealth of the state is founded, with no thought of future replacement, let alone improvement — all at the expense of tomorrow, as it has been prodigal with all its other natural resources. And Texas' tomorrow is here right now. So goes the thinking of the organizers.

The organization will be active in promoting better pastures programs.

Little Hope Roberson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Roberson, who was taken ill Sunday, was carried to Lubbock Memorial hospital and had a tonsil operation on Wednesday. If no complications arise, they hope to bring her home this week-end.

Mrs. John Fowler, who had major surgery at the Lubbock Memorial hospital two weeks ago, was removed to her home in the McCoy community Wednesday afternoon and is reported as doing nicely.

The longest tunnel in the world is the Simplon Tunnel through the Alps.

Poll Payments Make Big Jump

Business picked up in the past week at the county and state poll tax collector's window and the figure of 1720 as of Wednesday night last week will have been surpassed by several hundred when the final tally is made.

Last night was the last date for the payment of poll taxes to entitle the freeholder to vote.

Tuesday afternoon Hamilton was sure the figure was above 2,200, which means 500 polls paid in the week up to that hour. Yesterday the stream of poll tax payers was a steady flowing one. The poll tax payers were from all over the county, not from any particular area, he said.

Hamilton could not make a percentage guess on ad valorem tax payments. He said the figure might come close to last year's all-time record of 96 per cent, within four per cent of cleaning the slate of all tax assessment, rendered and un-rendered.

Car Registrations Begin

Today the taxpayer gets to make a start for 1951 on his steadily growing bill for various and sundry kinds of taxes. He can pay his automobile or truck license fees beginning today if he wants to do so and has the money.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Reams and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Pinkley, of Amarillo, spent Sunday here, guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. E. L. Muncy. Mrs. Reams and Mr. Pinkley are daughter and son of Mrs. Muncy.

George Reid May, a student at North Texas State college at Denton, was home for a few days with his mother, Mrs. G. R. May, this week.

S. H. Wright, who had been very ill with pneumonia in the Peoples hospital since last week-end, was reported this mid-week as being improved.

John Cabot, a Venetian, was the first man to cross the Atlantic under the English flag.

Youthful Bicyclist At Ralls Rallies Following Mishap

RALLS, January 18 — Eddie Wayne Verett, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Verett, is reported out of danger at a Lubbock hospital following a traffic accident a mile north of town Friday.

The child was riding a bicycle down the highway when he suddenly turned the bike onto the pavement and into the right fender of a car driven by Mrs. Homer Steen of Floydada. According to D. B. Thomas of Paducah, who was driving north meeting the Steen car at the time of the accident, the boy was thrown into the air by the impact. His head struck and shattered the windshield.

Given emergency treatment at Spikes Clinic, the boy was found to have a basal skull fracture, but with no paralysis. Medical authorities say his condition is not dangerous.

Mrs. Luther Fry and Mrs. Flynn Thagard, both of Floydada, were in the Steen car at the time of the accident.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, January 29 — Sunday school and church attendance dropped a great deal Sunday on account of the frigid weather. We miss the college students on the week-ends they are absent. We are glad to have Mrs. Carl Daniels at church Sunday.

Reverend R. C. and Mrs. Guest were called to Dallas early Monday morning by the illness of Mrs. Guest's niece, Kay Campbell of Lamesa. The child's illness was diagnosed so serious that they were contemplating amputation of an arm, but she is much better now, and they will not have to do surgery. The Guests returned home Friday morning.

Mrs. Raymond Upton and son, Jimmie, went to Lockney Thursday afternoon and visited with Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Jack Calahan.

Mr. and Mrs. George West gave their daughter, Lucille, her traditional birthday supper Friday night. The West girls have always had a birthday cake on their natal days, and now their families help them celebrate. Those who enjoyed the occasion were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Smith, Sandra, Carla and David; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Smith of Sterley; and Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Evans, Gary Lee and Sharon, from Amarillo. Both Mrs. R. L. Smith and Mrs. Evans are teaching this winter.

Mrs. Wm. Stanforth, sr., left Saturday morning of last week for a few days rest at Mineral Wells. She was accompanied by Mrs. R. C. Henry, Mrs. R. E. Fry and Mrs.

Romance of the Rose

Cecile Aubry, petite French star of the forthcoming motion picture production, "The Black Rose," smiles wide Gallic approval of the table setting featuring flatware in Damask Rose pattern by Heirloom Sterling.

In a setting to delight the heart of Kubla Khan himself, Miss Stupell, America's foremost table stylist, illustrates how the woman with imagination and a touch of artistry can create a table that captures the personality of a guest or highlights a special event.

The rose motif of the hand-painted china used for the table provides an inspired accompaniment to the Damask Rose pattern of the flatware in Heirloom Sterling.

E. J. Morehead all of Floydada. The ladies returned Friday night.

The South Plains gin caught fire Monday night about 10 o'clock. The quick thinking of John Smitherman probably saved the whole structure, for when he discovered the blaze, the Lockney Fire Department was called, and the fire quickly extinguished.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips of Lockney spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rene Yeary.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton and Ronnie Dale were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jarrett last Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Jarrett have recently moved on the R. L. Lackey place. We are glad to have them in our community. Word from Mrs. Edna Lackey states that she is settled in Santa Fe, New Mexico, with a daughter, Mrs. Jack Craft and family.

The two smaller children of Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wilson, Gary and Sue, had tonsillectomies last week and they did very well. Sue is back in school again at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham and boys were visited Sunday afternoon by Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Beard.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Edmonds, Sue, Diane and Benny, went to Dallas Thursday morning, where Benny went to the doctor, who removed the baby's cast. He is doing so well, and will soon be creeping everywhere. The Edmonds returned home Friday night.

Mrs. Dock Jones and Mrs. Murray Julian attended the W. M. U. all day meeting in Lockney last Tuesday. Mrs. Guest was at Dallas, and couldn't attend the conference. Floydada W. M. U. had the most members present at the meeting.

Thursday afternoon Mrs. Bill Beedy, Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham, and Mrs. Doodle Milton spent the afternoon visiting Mrs. J. P. Taylor. They presented Mrs. Taylor with a gift from all her club members.

Interesting Club Meeting
The South Plains Home Demonstration club met Wednesday, January 24, at the home of Mrs. Wade Deavenport, Mrs. Herman Thornton acting as co-hostess. Miss Petty was with us, and she gave a most interesting experiment in "color for you", trying colors on the members, those colors which heretofore no one thought they could wear. Miss Petty also showed few machine equipment, and showed the new fabrics for spring. One of the most promising ones is shantung, and another is linen, which is now made crease-resisting.

Roll call was answered with "My most useful sewing equipment," and the answers showed that more women need to do more of their own sewing, in these times of high prices.

Mrs. Ruth Smitherman presided over the meeting and one new member was reported. Mrs. Rufus Young, Mrs. Doris Huckabee and Mrs. Connie Sanders had charge of the interesting games for the afternoon. A delicious refreshment plate was served to the following members:

Mrs. Madames John Smitherman, Hans Sanders, Ernest Smitherman, Sim Reeves, Ernest Huckabee, Walter Wood, Rex Smitherman, Bryant Higginbotham, Horace Marble, Harry Hartman, Maureen Parks, Dock Jones, Albert Stewart, L. T. Wood, Bill Beedy, Doodle Milton, Arthur Brown, Rufus Young, Herman Thornton, Wade Deavenport, and our leader, Miss Petty.

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Carl Daniels, on February 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robin Fortenberry, of Cedar Hill.

F. F. A. Boys See Show

Twenty-five boys left Friday morning for Fort Worth with their agriculture teacher, Mr. Barber. The boys attended the Fat Stock show, Friday and Saturday. The boys who went from South Plains were: Don and Fred Marble, Glenn Brown, Terry Julian and James Huckabee. Four of the boys won part of their spending money in the grass judging contest at Floydada. The boys who won the forty dollars were: Terry Julian (with 100%) Lavon Shearer, Glenn Brown and James Huckabee. They all returned Sunday night, a tired but happy crowd.

Mrs. Otho Sanders quilted two quilts last Monday with the help of neighbors and friends. Those who spent the day, had dinner and got out the quilts were Mesdames J. P. Colston, L. A. Clayborne, Jessie Foster, Al P. Suitor, all from Sterley; Mrs. G. A. McAda and Mrs. Louis Harston from Lockney; Mrs. Fred Fortenberry, and Mrs. John K. West from South Plains. Mrs. Sanders' mother, Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, of Dougherty, was also present.

Mrs. Field Welcomed Home

Mrs. Menard Field, who has been at Grand Prairie since the day after Christmas, returned to her home, with Mr. Field, on Wednesday night. The physicians at Grand Prairie report that she won't have to go back for treatment for three months, and perhaps not then. We all wish her the best of luck, and rejoice that she is getting well.

All her children with their families welcomed Mrs. Field home with a delicious supper at her home, Thursday evening. All the children brought the surprise meal which, they so enjoyed. Wm. Stanforth was also a guest at the supper.

Mrs. S. A. Thornton and Mrs. George West were shopping in Ft. Worth last Thursday.

W. M. U. of the Baptist church met Monday afternoon January 29, at the home of Mrs. Doodle Milton, with Mrs. Dock Jones presiding over the meeting. Royal Society was enjoyed by the members present and everyone is welcome. Do try to come whenever you can.

Anne and Kenneth Bean have been frequent visitors at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. K. West this past week. The Beans have moved to their new home just this side of Silverton, and Anne will finish the rest of her school year by correspondence.

Miss Leila Petty and Mrs. John Smitherman went to Lubbock Friday and spent a most enjoyable day.

We are glad to report that little Price Pritchett is home again after spending a few days in the hospital last week with a case of pneumonia. The other children have been ill, too, but at present all are in the mend.

Entertained Friday Night

Mr. and Mrs. Rex Smitherman gave a lovely party for some of their friends Friday night. An evening of canasta was enjoyed, and delicious refreshments were served to: Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Calahan, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huckabee, Dick Quest and Joy Lambert.

Mrs. King Very Ill
We are sorry to know that Mrs. Horace Marble's mother is very ill in a hospital, at Floydada. J. L. King has been ill for some time, but she took suddenly worse last week. The children are here to be with their mother as long as she is with them. We sincerely hope Mrs. King recovers soon.

AN APPRECIATION

We wish to express our heartfelt appreciation to our friends and neighbors for the many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved husband and brother, M. L. Solomon. The beautiful flowers, the lovely meal prepared, words of sympathy, and every act of kindness were appreciated.

May the Heavenly Father's richest blessing be on each and every one of you, in our prayer.

Church Building Clear of Debt

LOCKNEY, January 26—The Lockney Baptist Church is now clear of all building indebtedness. Rev. E. J. Cobb, pastor, said this week. The church has been in a campaign the past two months to clear the indebtedness and a special offering last Sunday morning completely cleared the debt.

The offering Sunday amounted to approximately $4400, about $500 more than was needed to pay off all indebtedness on the church. On December 10, 1950, when the campaign started, the church owed $15,700.00 on the $100,000 building. That amount has been raised since that time.

The church now plans to build a camp house on their property at the Baptist camp in the Blanco canyon below Floydada, according to a vote of the membership Sunday. They instructed the church treasurer to retain the surplus in the building fund separate and that it be used as the beginning of a fund to build the camp cabin.

FAIRVIEW, January 30—Even the weather man has been telling us we were due to have some cold and weather, we could not believe it really would get cold and this cold. The last three days have been the coldest weather we have had here in a long time. Water pipes frozen and burst, cars hard to start and all the other usual things that take place when we have near zero weather.

Leonard Wilson returned to Tech college Tuesday after being home for mid-term vacation.

Duane and Randall Reeves of Plainview are spending this week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Cozby and their aunt Hollands and the Wilsons have been friends for years, they having been members of the first church Rev. Wilson pastored.

Brenda Walls of Floydada spent last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls.

The crowd at church Sunday was small, due to such cold weather.

Mrs. C. H. Wise visited Mrs. Joe Wilson on Wednesday afternoon.

the Railroads RESPECT...

What is the TRUTH?

the Labor Unions seek to REPUDIATE this agreement!

At various states in the present dispute with the brotherhoods of railroad operating employees... the railroads agreed to arbitrate. The union leaders refused. ... the railroads accepted the recommendations of President Truman's Emergency Board. The union leaders refused. ... the railroads accepted the White House proposal of August 19, 1950. The union leaders refused. Finally an Agreement was signed at the White House on December 21, 1950. Now the union leaders seek to repudiate the Agreement. The railroads stand ready to put the terms of this Agreement into effect immediately, with back pay at the rates and date indicated. The Agreement is given in full below.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT

Washington, D. C.
December 21, 1950

1. Establish 40 hour week for yardmen with increase of 23 cents effective October 1, 1950, and additional 2 cents effective January 1, 1951.
2. Set aside 40 hour week agreement until January 1, 1952, and establish 6 day work week for yardmen. Effective with the first pay roll period after 30 days from the date of execution of the formal agreement, yardmen required by the carrier to work on the 7th day to be paid overtime rates except engineers who shall receive straight time rates for the 7th day. This does not create guarantees where they do not now exist. On and after October 1, 1951, three months' notice to be given of desire to go on 40 hour week. Provide for consideration of availability of manpower and 4 cents per hour if and when the 40 hour week actually becomes effective.
3. Settle rules for 40 hour week and 6 day week.
4. Grant yard conductors and brakemen other rules such as daily earnings minimum, car retarder operators and footboard yardmasters as recommended by Emergency Board No. 81.
5. Settle following rules:
Initial Terminal Delay (Conductors and Trainmen)
Interdivisional Runs
Pooling Caboose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Reporting for Duty
More than One Class of Service
Switching Limits
Air Hose (Conductors and Trainmen)
Air Hose Differential and Double Header and Tonnage Limitation (Conductors and Trainmen, all Territories)
6. Road men to receive 5 cents per hour increase effective October 1, 1950 and additional 5 cents per hour increase effective January 1, 1951.
7. Quarterly adjustment of wages on basis of cost of living index (1 point to equal 1¢ per hour. First adjustment April 1, 1951. Base to be 176).

8. Agreement embodying principles applicable to yardmasters to be entered into for benefit of yardmasters.

9. Effective October 1, 1950, the basic hours of dining car stewards shall be reduced from 225 to 205 hours per month; no penalty overtime to accrue until 240 hours have been worked, the hours between 205 and 240 to be paid for at the pro rata rate.

Effective February 1, 1951, overtime at time and one-half shall accrue after 220 hours have been worked. The basic monthly salary to be paid for the 205-hour month shall be the same as that now paid for the 225-hour month. Except that four dollars and ten cents ($4.10) shall be added to the present monthly rate effective January 1, 1951.

10. In consideration of above, this agreement to be effective until October 1, 1953, and thereafter until changed or modified under provisions of Railway Labor Act. Moratorium on proposals for changes in wages or rates until October 1, 1953, as follows:

No proposals for changes in rates of pay, rules or working conditions will be initiated or progressed by the employees against any carrier or by any carrier against its employees, parties hereto, within a period of three years from October 1, 1950, except such proposals for changes in rules or working conditions which may have been initiated prior to June 1, 1950. Provided, however, that if as the result of government wage stabilization policy, workers generally have been permitted to receive so-called annual improvement increases, the parties may meet with Doctor Steelman on or after July 1, 1952, to discuss whether or not further wage adjustments for employees covered by this agreement are justified, in addition to increases received under the cost of living formula. At the request of either party for such a meeting Doctor Steelman shall fix the time and place for such meeting. Doctor Steelman and the parties may secure information from the wage stabilization authorities or other government agencies. If the parties are unable to agree at such conferences whether or not further wage adjustments are justified they shall ask the President of the United States to appoint a referee who shall sit with them and consider all pertinent information, and decide promptly whether further wage increases are justified and, if so, what such increases should be, and the effective date thereof. The carrier representatives shall have one vote, the employee representatives shall have one vote and the referee shall have one vote.

11. If the parties cannot agree on details of agreement or rules they shall be submitted to John R. Steelman for final decision.

The usual protections for arbitrators, miscellaneous rates, special allowances, and existing money differentials above existing standard daily rates will be included in the formal agreement.

 The foregoing will not debar management and committees on individual railroads from mutually agreeing upon changes in rates, rules and working conditions of employees covered by this agreement.
