Option Offered Holders of E Series Bonds

DALLAS—Congress has just completed legislation that will postpone "writer's cramps" and other inconveniences for millions of Americans who bought United States Defense Bonds during and since World War II.

Nathan Adams of Dallas, state Defense Bond chairman, received notice Tuesday from the Treasury that the Senate had passed and sent to the president a bill giving owners of Series E bonds the option of holding their bonds for all or any part of another 10 years, with accrued interest.

"This legislation is going to save bond owners a lot of trouble," Mr. Adams said. "Many of the people who own Series E bonds will want to reinvest the money as they mature. If this bill had not been passed, they would have needed to take their bonds to the bank as they matured, sign them and have new bonds issued."

"When you have literally hundreds of these bonds, as many Texans do, signing them for redemption can be a tedious job that results in a tired and aching hand."

Mr. Adams said that automatic extension applies only to Series E bonds. He emphasized that the extension is purely optional with the bond owner and that the holder of maturing Series E's can cash them in for full value at any time.

Owners electing to hold their bonds under the new plan will receive 2 1/2 per cent simple interest on them for the first 7 1/2 years of the extension and interest during the final 2 1/2 years at a rate to bring the total interest to 2.9 per cent compounded. The 2 1/2 per cent interest during the earlier years of the extension is a somewhat better return than for newbonds.

"Now the owner of Series E bonds who want to reinvest his money as they mature only has to hold on to them," Mr. Adams said. "If he holds them for the full period of the extension they will pay him a return of 78 per cent on his original investment."

He said that the bill also would keep a lot of money in savings that otherwise would pour into the spending stream and add to inflation.

Seed Germination. Seed scarcities are due to plague the farmers this spring, particularly cotton seed. So says everybody who handles seed and those who are in official position. As for instance, John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture of Texas. Mr. White expresses alarm over cotton planting seed. He says every man who puts cotton seed in the ground should know for himself the germination per centage of the seed that he buys. This precaution would eliminate disappointments, save time and money, and might save a crop! The fact that a stand of cotton on the average in West Texas requires two and a fourth plantings should make this an interesting fact to the man who is contracting high price seed to hazard against the elements.

Dr. E. M. Sadler, president of Texas Christian University at Fort Worth has been reading The Hesperian, we assume. The other day he picked up one of our squibs almost word for word when he said in a speech that one of the current troubles of the country is that too many people are talking too much about too many things they don't know anything about. If you think the eminent educator might be wrong, just listen for most any given five minutes to most any neighbor you have. He'll insult your intelligence before you can get out of hearing to save your neck! The ranting of the ignorant is abroad in the land.

Just what the brass in the agricultural department wants to do to the PMA and the SCS and FHA and the Extension service we couldn't gather from the quite verbose directive issued a few weeks ago out of Washington. Somehow or other it read like some of the other things we've read before that didn't seem to add up when they got to the Floyd county "level." One thing we'd like to insist upon as a matter to which the public is entitled, namely that supervision of the soil conservation service be permitted in Texas to remain as it was set up—an independent agency operated by the farmer for the sake of the soil, with access to the advice and help of the experts.

We have every reason to hope that Floydada citizens will come up on the evening of April 3 with a good set of city officials for the next two years. Some of them, we assume, won't suit some people, some of them won't suit others. But out of the nine choices for five aldermen and the three choices for one mayor, we think the people should have a good, common-sense set of men who will handle the city's increasingly important affairs for the next two years. However, there may come the important year when it would be a good thing for the city to have staggered terms of the aldermanic body. Making a complete change possible every two years is somewhat hazardous to the welfare of the community, we think. Sometimes the public becomes hysterical. We need to protect ourselves against ourselves. To find a way to stagger the terms of the aldermen should occupy some of the time of the set we choose next Tuesday. We assume this would be a simple matter. Maybe it would not.

Signs point to the probability that the cotton people are wearing out the cottonseed hauling them back and forth and around until they won't be fit to plant when planting time gets here. We talked with a man from that southeast Missouri delta country within the past week. In that area they are planting the face of the earth in cotton the past few years. The man was a trucker. He was after a six-wheel load of Floyd county cottonseed he had located somewhere around Floydada. Meanwhile Floyd county and other high plains cotton growers also are getting their cottonseed from wherever they hear they are to be had. They all have in mind it takes two or three plantings to get a stand of cotton up and growing. Most of the ginners and cottonseed dealers are doing their best to get together enough acclimated seed to take care of this area. They sure are hoping for just exactly the right kind of weather at the right time.

Well, womenfolks, we've got the men on the run in Floyd county. They have seen the writing on the wall and they are getting ready for eventualities. You know this jury business some of you have been raising sand about, mainly, we assume, because you don't have enough to do. Well, we have seen the lay out and we can report that a jury-woman's dormitory is being provided in the new court house. It will be ready before you can possibly get the constitutional amendment passed, so that when you do get your right to serve on the jury, just bring your overnight satchel and report to the judge. The room will be ready—as soon as they get out and hunt up some new, clean sheets. Nice, airy-looking room it is.

Everybody knows this but you and me department: If you have trouble getting ducks picked clean enough after the hunt, put the birds you want to cook in a sack and sprinkle rosin (like you buy at the store—rosin, you know) freely over them. Then shake them up good so the rosin soaks in all over. This before you scald the birds for picking. The feathers will come right on out without much trouble and the ducks will pick clean and easy. We guarantee this was what we were told the other day. It sounds simple.

Maybe two can live as cheaply as one—but not as quietly.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Wit Spikes)

What a bliss to press the pillow
Of a cottage-chamber bed
And listen the patter
Of the soft rain overhead

That subdued, subdued strain
Which is played upon the shingles
By the patter of the rain

This day after Easter we are hoping that the soft rain which is falling will not only rain daffodils but wheat, cotton and grain sorghums and for the one—"Who loves a garden still his Eden keeps."

Perennial pleasures plants, and wholesome harvests reap."

There is always magic here and there for eyes to behold. For instance when Mrs. Bill Mayes gave her recital of music pupils at Ralls a short time ago, there was a rainbow near the piano in the beautiful Baptist Church. One by one the "colors" arose and played delightful tunes on the piano, the white orchid, pink, blue—well you know the colors—a rainbow of beauty, young girls, and the two boys, you ask? Surely they were not part of the bow which spanned the corner of the church. Did you know they were the pots of pure shining gold which their parents saw that night at the foot of the rainbow.

I told Margaret Nell that she was the prettiest and played the best, but I added, I am your grandmother. All the other mothers and grandmothers know that their musician was the prettiest and the very best, which makes everything quite alright.

Life never gets "tejjous" for me. In fact Wilma said, "mother, you and dad are the busiest people I know." When the sun begins to slant in the afternoon of life one finds there are may tasks before the setting of the sun and there are so many things of interest and needs to be done.

We planted the slips of green which one day will be onions, covered the potato eyes deep in the ground, moved the strawberries and reset the fragrant violet. We have two little green pines starting towards the blue sky and Mr. Spikes set out a pecan and I a walnut. I am very happy about so many rose cuttings "coming thru" the cold of the winter and I have out seven new rose bushes. I scan the catalogues and make up long lists which I do not order. But by elimination there will be babilias, gladiolas, zinnias, asters and more and more annuals. One rhubarb plant survived. I see.

Visitors made us happy, too. Mrs. Woods and Mildred, Mrs. Jonas of Pampa, Mr and Mrs. Burl Ware and Melba of Ralls, Mrs. Lacy Martin, Mrs. Huckabee, Wilda and family, Wilson and Marjorie and Mrs. Eddie of Ralls. Work and company, the weeks take wings, but lovely iridescent wings, and Easter ushered in another week with a grand day at church in the morning and evening luncheon with new members getting acquainted—Mr. and Mrs. West, Betty and a younger son from Whitesboro, the first people I recall ever meeting from that town, and all the other new members were warmly welcomed.

Oh, but the week brought a great sorrow, also in the passing of Mrs. Claiborne Pearson of Lorenzo, for God's Hand touched her and she slept—with a Bible in her hands which knew its feel so well. She sleeps, "wearing the white flower of a blameless life." Her eyes are closed, "The eyes of a pure woman, wholesome stars of love."

For our good friend of many years and her loved ones I quote this poem:

"I had a tiny box, a precious box
Of human love—my spikenard of great price;
I kept it close within my heart of hearts,
And scarce would lift the lid lest it should waste
Its perfume on the air. One day a strange
Deep sorrow came with crushing weight, and fell
Upon my costly treasure, sweet and rare,
And brake the box to atoms. All my heart
Rose in dismay and sorrow at this waste:
But as I mourned, behold a miracle
Of grace divine. My human love was changed
To Heaven's own, and poured in healing streams

On other broken hearts, while soft and clear

A voice above me whispered, "Child of Mine,
With comfort wherewith thou art comforted,
From this time forth, go comfort others,
And thou shalt know blest fellowship with Me,
Whose broken heart of love hath healed the world."

John and Peter and Robert and Paul
God in all His wisdom created them all
Happy birthday to you, Rev. Huckabee. The past year you have brought to us riches of the soul which are more than gold or silver. May you have many more years of usefulness preaching the love of God and His forgiveness and mercy.

Mrs. N. B. Stansell, who has spent several weeks with her sister, Ray Clements in Flagstaff, Arizona, has returned home. She reports Clements, who has been very ill the past few months, as improving.

Vows Unite Miss Sue Green And Victor Green in Church Wedding

PLAINVIEW—A single ring ceremony performed Friday evening at 7:30 in the First Baptist Church united in marriage Miss Sue Green, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Green, Plainview, and Victor Green, Plainview, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green of Route 3, Floydada. The pastor, Dr. A. Hope Owen, officiated.

Vows were repeated before an altar flanked on either side by baskets of gladioli and stock. The choir loft was decorated with baskets of fern and branched candelabra.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of ivory slipper satin fashioned with a lace yolk, fitted bodice and long sleeves tapering to points over her wrists. Tiny satin buttons extended down the back of the gown. The veil of imported illusion fell from a tiara of pearls. The serving table was covered with a white linen drawn-woven cloth. The three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was surrounded by small nosegays. Ribbon from the nosegays extended to the low double crystal candle holders bearing white tapers. Mrs. Walter Haynes, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. A. Hope Owen cut the cake. Mrs. O. M. Conway poured. Assisting in the dining room were Myrtle Scarborough, Margaret Green and Jane Green. Evelyn Wright and Melba Jo Roberts attended in the gift room.

Guests were present from Floydada, Lockney, Phillips, and Borger. The couple will be at home at 1702 West Eleventh Street after April 1. The bride's traveling outfit was tan, brown and green accessories.

Fairview News

(By Mrs. Clyde Bagwell)
FAIRVIEW, March 27—Monday was damp and foggy with a drizzle rain part of the day. Made us feel good for wet weather is what we need lots of it right now. By Tuesday morning the sun was shining clear and bright and everything looked dry again.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rushing left last Wednesday for Houston where they are spending the Easter holidays with their daughters, Mrs. Malcolm Bridges and family and Dorothy Rushing.

Gladiolus Culture Discussed by Guest Speaker For Club

Treat gladiolus corms for fifteen minutes before planting in a solution of 1 ounce new improved cretan, three teaspoons dref soap-flakes in three gallons of water, said Robert H. Gibson, county agricultural agent to the Floydada Garden club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. O. P. Rutledge, Friday, March 23.

Mr. Gibson discussed the selection of corms for best results in results in growing gladioluses in the home garden. From actual experience he explained the selection and growing of gladiolus having from his own garden corms varying in size from No. 1's to No. 6's as they are classified by commercial growers. The No. 1 bulb is the largest and No. 6 the smallest size. The Number three size produces good blooms said Mr. Gibson.

The corms are planted 3 to 6 inches deep according to their size and the texture of the soil. Rich, well drained loam, occasional applications of fertilizer and a generous amount of water will produce results that will abundantly repay the gardener. Barnyard manure is still the best fertilizer one can use, stated the county agent.

Mr. Gibson was introduced by Mrs. L. J. Welborn leader of the program.

In the business meeting presided over by Mrs. Hollis Bond, president, Mrs. B. K. Barker's resignation was accepted with regrets. Mrs. Barker a charter member of the club was made an honorary member.

Dedication Is Highlight of Great Day at First Christian Church

The dedication of a church is an event of great importance, and the dedication of the new First Christian church Sunday, March 26, was no exception. The church is a real realization of a dream of the congregation since the dedication of the church's sanctuary 12 years ago. At this time Gordon G. Voight was pastor of the church. Reverend Henry was presented for this service. This day is also to be remembered as the last service attended by the late Rev. Walter P. Jennings, who at that time was pastor of the First Christian church at Lubbock. Rev. Jennings preached the dedicatory sermon.

This brings a total valuation of approximately $75,000 in property owned by the church and its conservative estimate, according to W. Edd Brown, church treasurer.

All services held through the day had record attendance with an all-time high of 125 in Sunday School.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, March 26 — Easter Sunday dawned bright and beautiful across the plains, and many in our community attended sunrise services and then went on to the church of their choice late in the morning. We had a fine group at church in South Plains, and new spring apparel brightened the already sunny day. Good wishes at Easter and on one's birthday are pleasant. They give us encouragement and put new zest in our lives. However, good wishes will not come true by the mere wishing. We make our own years, and whether or not they are happy and beautiful depend on the kind of living we put into them. Easter brings new hope to us and brightens our lives with new faith.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Stanforth, sr., left for Dallas on last Wednesday. They took baby Billie with them.

They spent several days shopping, getting a check up at the doctor's for small Billie, and returned on Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Sim Reeves were pleasantly surprised on Easter Sunday when they returned from church and found relatives had come to call on them. Mr. and Mrs. Cole Boswell from Turkey and Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Reeves from Lubbock had Easter dinner with them and spent the afternoon. Their son, Raymond, was home over the holidays with them, too. He goes to Texas Tech.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Burgess and baby son, Mark, came to the Carl home on Friday evening week-end with Mrs. Burgess family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Daniel, L. N. and Carlene Johnson, who reside close by, were at the parent's home, also to spend Easter holidays.

The W. M. S. of the Baptist church will meet Tuesday at 3 o'clock for Royal Service at the church. It is hoped that many will attend.

Johnny Boy Wilson has been very ill with measles for the past week. They are the real old German measles, and he had to be taken to the doctor. He was thought to be immune, for the rest of the children have had the measles and he had been around many times before, and never taken them. Several of our children out here have had a rash like the measles, and so many have had the gland infection.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGowan and twin sons, Junnie and Tommy, were Easter week-end guests at the home of Mrs. McGowan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wood. The McGowans are from Tucumcari, New Mexico.

Mrs. Menard Field was out to visit Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Wilson on Friday afternoon and she took Sue and Gary, her grandchildren, home with her to spend the night and Saturday with her.

The pretty home of the Herman Thorntons of north of South Plains was the scene of an informal party Friday evening. Just a friendly get-together for a few friends who each contributed a covered dish for the jolly supper which centered around a main dish of Mexican origin. After the delicious dinner games of "42" and canasta were played. Those who participated and enjoyed the party were Mr. and Mrs. Horace Marble, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Julian, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Deavenport, Noel Deavenport, Sam Waters, and the host and hostess.

WHOSE BIG TRUCKS?

While telling Texans their highways are being damaged by the present 48,000-pound load limit, foreign-owned railroads like the Santa Fe, operate huge double-trailer trucks (shown above) in other states. Despite the greatest rail car shortage in American history, these railroads are attempting to reduce the volume of freight now being moved by their competitors in Texas.

This giant truck and double trailer is operated by the Southern Pacific Railroad, one of the foreign-owned railroads now claiming that the present 48,000-pound load limit is damaging our Texas highways. The equipment shown above is capable of hauling more than 122,000 pounds, the legal load limit in Michigan. Yet, the foreign-owned railroads which operate this type of equipment in other states are seeking to reduce the limit to 38,000 pounds in Texas.

Railroad-Owned Trucks Carry (In Other States) Nearly Twice The Texas Load Limit

The foreign-owned railroads operating in Texas and calling themselves "The Texas Railroads" are attempting to mislead the people of Texas and the Legislature. In a series of advertisements they call the Texas-owned Motor Transportation Industry, "The Big Truckers" and accuse this industry of seeking "preferred treatment." This propaganda campaign is designed to secure the passage of restrictive legislation which will further reduce competition of motor transportation.

Railroad Propaganda Has Not Told Texans Truth

The railroads do not tell us that their own trucks in other states are carrying nearly twice the weight now allowed in Texas. They do not tell us that Texas has the third lowest load limit in the United States. They do not tell us how much money railroads contribute to the construction and maintenance of the Texas highway system. Nor do they admit that the railroads of America are now incapable of furnishing the necessary service and equipment to meet the demands of the present national emergency.

American Association of State Highway Officials Recommend Standard Limits

This group of highway engineers has promulgated a set of standard sizes and weights for governing motor transports. The results of years of experience, the AASHO Code is recommended by the Defense Transport Administration. Under these specifications Texas

Motor Carriers would have an INCREASE in load limits approved by the highway engineers themselves. These officials are responsible for building and maintaining our highways.

Fair Treatment . . . Not Preferred Treatment

Texas motor carriers feel that Texans are entitled to the best service possible. With the present railroad-sponsored restrictions, it is impossible to render that kind of service. Service can be improved and rates can be lowered by increasing load limits. More taxes will result from more freight hauled.

tion which would not exist today if rail service had been adequate to meet our needs. Railroads have received good treatment from the State of Texas. 32 million acres of good Texas land has been given them as an inducement to building their roads.

The foreign-owned railroads have a place in the economy of our state. They have a service to perform. So has highway transporta-

Motor transportation is not asking for "preferred treatment"—only fair treatment. This industry is proud to contribute to the construction of better highways in Texas.

Texans Want Facts . . . Not Propaganda

The Texas motor transportation industry composed of more than 2,000 independent operators has done more to give this state its present highway system than any other industry. This Texas-owned industry paid more than $62,000,000 last year in taxes and license fees, all of which goes to the building of highways and to the public schools. Railroads pay nothing.

motor carriers to haul loads of much greater weight. States like California, Colorado, Michigan, New York and many others noted for their fine highways have refused to allow the railroad propaganda to restrict motor transportation. Are their highways being destroyed? The railroads would have us believe that half the weight being moved by truck in other states is damaging our highways in Texas.

The maximum limit for motor cargo is now 48,000 pounds. This is the third lowest in America and only a little more than half as much as is allowed in most states. Our highways are built under the same specifications required by the Federal Government of all states participating in the use of Federal funds. Yet, every state except two allow

The foreign-owned railroads have not told us they operate more than 100,000 trucks and how much weight they carry on the highways in other states. If what they say about trucks in Texas is true, then they are guilty of damaging highways in other states by carrying loads up to twice as much as are now allowed in Texas.

DEFENSE TRANSPORT ADMINISTRATION CALLS FOR EXPANSION OF HIGHWAY TRANSPORT SYSTEM

Following are excerpts from a letter addressed to the Governors of all the States from James K. Knudson, Administrator of the Defense Transport Administration, dated March 8, 1951:

JAMES K. KNUDSON Says:

"We are faced today with a rail car shortage unprecedented in American history . . .

"Restrictive State limitations on the sizes and weights of highway transport vehicles, and lack of reciprocity covering their operation between the several States, are materially reducing the load capacities of our transport facilities and preventing their full utilization in the defense effort.

"When the present national emergency first came upon us with the Korean crisis, it became apparent that some action to liberalize size and weight requirements and to attain greater uniformity in State laws would be necessary. STATE RESTRICTIONS ON HIGHWAY TRANSPORT HAVE A MORE SERIOUS EFFECT UPON THE WELFARE OF THE NATION DURING TIMES OF NATIONAL EMERGENCY THAN AT ANY OTHER TIME. IN SUCH AN EMERGENCY, NEARLY ALL TRAFFIC CARRIED ON THE HIGHWAYS IS EITHER DIRECTLY RELATED TO THE NATIONAL EFFORT, OR IS NECESSARY FOR THE MAINTENANCE OF THE ESSENTIAL CIVILIAN ECONOMY. IT IS ESPECIALLY IMPORTANT, THEREFORE, THAT SUCH TRAFFIC BE ALLOWED TO MOVE AS FREELY AND EXPEDITIOUSLY AS POSSIBLE . . .

"Unjustifiable State limitations on sizes and weights of motor vehicles, and restrictions intended to harass and burden highway transport to obtain competitive advantages for other modes of transportation, can not be tolerated in time of national emergency such as this, nor can they be permitted to impede our gigantic defense effort . . .

"Highway transport vehicles must be operated at full capacity to provide the essential transportation facilities for the vastly expanded defense economy. This must be done also to conserve manpower, motor trucks, and vital rubber supplies and equipment . . ."

MERCURY WINS AGAIN IN MOBILGAS ECONOMY RUN!

1951 MERCURY WITH OVERDRIVE IS DECLARED "ECONOMY CAR OF ITS CLASS"

THIS year it's the 1951 Mercury with Touch-O-Matic Overdrive* that won first prize in Class "C" in the Mobilgas Economy Run!

Proving its pound-for-pound gasoline economy, this stock Mercury scored amazing 59.868 ton-mile performance over a grueling 840-mile course staked out by the AAA. Virtually every kind of weather and road condition—7,000-foot ice-ridden mountain passes . . . sweltering, sand-swept roads of Death Valley—put the car to the test. But still, the new 1951 Mercury delivered the best ton-mile gasoline economy of any car in its class.

That's something to think about when you go to buy a 1951 car. It's good to know that the new 1951 Mercury can save you money for years to come—no matter where you drive it!

As if this amazing economy weren't enough, Mercury also offers new styling that's more than just skin deep. New riding comfort that's designed to give you a smoother ride longer. New value that can't be surpassed by any car.

Once again the facts have proved it—the new 1951 Mercury is "the buy of your life!" So drop in at our showroom and get the complete story.

*For "the drive of your life," Mercury offers you a triple choice in transmissions. More-O-Matic Drive, the new, simple, smoother, more efficient automatic transmission—Touch-O-Matic Overdrive are optional at extra cost. There's also silent-ease synchronized standard transmission.

Center News

(By Mrs. J. E. Green)

CENTER, March 27—It is still March and the wind still blows. We thought we might get some rain yesterday, but it misted awhile and cleared off.

We had a good and interesting program at the church Sunday. For our morning sermon we were favored with the recorded sermon of the late Dr. C. E. Meredith preached on Easter Sunday, 1950, in his home church at Arlington.

We are glad to have a number of former Center-ites present for the service. Among these were Messers, and Mmes. H. D. Meredith, of Dougherty, C. M. Meredith, sr., and Miss Vera Meredith, and Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lightfoot and family, all of Floydada, and Rev and Mrs. Clay Muncy of Lockney.

Prospects Good For Crosbyton Chiefs Squad

CROSBYTON—The Crosbyton Chiefs are nearing the end of their third week of spring football training, according to announcement this week by G. L. Erwin, new coach of the high school. The training period is to end April 3.

About 25 or 30 boys have been reporting for practice, he said, and are learning some fundamentals of football which will be of benefit to them next fall.

Prospects for the squad look much more favorable than they did last fall, Coach Erwin said. Only four senior boys, Frank Hash, Donald Parker, Richard Sudduth and Don Nickerson, will be lost from the 1950 Chief-ton squad, and last year's young inexperienced team now have a season's training and a year's growth behind them. In addition several eighth graders with experience will be vying for positions on the team.

WHY NOT HAVE A HOBBY?
One always thinks of hobbies as being something pleasant to work in, but he very seldom tries starting one for himself. He thinks of a hobby as being too hard to start; if he would only try it, he would find that it is easy, after all.

One of the advantages of hobbies is that it gives one something to do in leisure time. So many people do not have time on their hands spend by running around or doing some foolish thing. Hobbies are educational in that they make more serious and broad-minded. They help him to arrange his thoughts and materials properly. Hobbies are interesting for people of all ages to have.

Different kinds of hobbies are: fishing, sports, piano playing, horse-back riding, and many others numerous to mention. Probably the most common type of hobby is collecting. Many people collect stamps, salt and pepper shakers, and beads. Anything along this order would be fun and interesting to work on.

Since many high school teen-agers have lots of leisure time, why not get a hobby?

WHY NOT HAVE A HOBBY?
Considering that spring is here in the activities that occur every day, one should continue his school work in backing the annual spring race and should maintain that through the track meet, which coming soon.

Those taking part in the particular spring sports work hard to do their best. This is a good reason why anyone should back them with cheer and let them know in some way that he appreciates the effort.

Those who sponsor affairs, such as banquets, should be shown appreciation by those who attend. One should signify this appreciation in some way while having fun so that the customs may be continued.

Annual Class Issues Of The Hesperette Are Acknowledged

The freshman, sophomore, and junior classes have really shown what they can do toward working on "The Hesperette." Each of these classes has given the students a paper that every one has enjoyed reading.

This just shows what the students working together on something in which everyone is interested, can accomplish.

The co-operation given by each class and the many clever articles and columns are really appreciated. The staff wishes to thank each and everyone of you who helped to give us these "Hesperettes."

Easter Vacations

How Did You Spend Your Easter Vacation?
Mr. Graves: "I went to Canyon."
Mrs. Graves: "I went to Amarillo with my daughter."
Mr. Baker: "Stayed at home and worked in my garden."
Miss Swepton: "Spent the holidays in Plainview and at Hillcrest with my parents."
Mrs. Thomas: "I stayed at home."
Mr. Copeland: "Friday—camping and fishing which amounted to sleeping."
Mr. Gresham: "Went fishing. Brought back some too."
Miss Frasier: "I went home."
Mr. Foster: "I built a fence around my back yard."
Mrs. Sevek: "Relaxing at home and enjoying it."
Mrs. McMillan: "I had a guest from East Texas and enjoyed a nice call from my son."
Mr. Barber: "I went to Brady with Lawrence Stovall and Troy Lee McNeill. We bought three calves."
Mr. Kattner: "I worked on my lawn."
Mr. Carpenter: "Stayed at home."
Mr. Hill: "I stayed at home and worked."
Mr. Watson: "Visited my parents."
Mrs. Johnston: "I graded papers."

thought future years.

These things and others are a part of spring in this school. One should support the many activities of the school.

Unusual Assembly Program Is Enjoyed

On Tuesday, March 20, we had a very nice Assembly. Mr. Rodman gave a lecture-demonstration of the little known art of makeup.

At the beginning of the program four volunteers were chosen from the audience — Franklin Stovall, Jackie Hutchinson, Jerry Oden, and Herbert Irwin.

While the entertainer lectured, he made up these boys students to look like different characters.

Franklin Stovall and Jackie Hutchinson were tynype pictures of two young men in the Gay Nineties.

Jerry Oden portrayed three different ages of one character: one, an old time country school boy in about 1880; two, a flashing, dashing college freshman; and three, a crusty, old professor on the college school-board.

Herbert Irwin portrayed our great Confederate General, Robert E. Lee.

In little less than forty-eight seconds Herbert was changed from Robert E. Lee to Uncle Sam.

Because the assembly program was unusual and also entertaining, all of us enjoyed it very much.

A BIT O' HUMOR

Three hermits lived in a cave and spent all day staring at the walls, never speaking. One day a stallion ran past the entrance of the cave. Six months later one hermit muttered "That was a pretty brown horse." Two years later another hermit said "That wasn't a brown horse, it was white." About a year later the third hermit got up and stalked toward the entrance of the cave. "If it's going to be this constant bickering," he said, "I'm leaving."

"Who ever told that guy he was a prof? He doesn't know how to teach the stuff. Everybody hates him. Everytime he tries to explain something he digresses so much that no one can understand what he's talking about. I think he ought to quit teaching and go back to the farm." "Yeah, I flunked too."

If he can remember so many jokes, with all the details that mold them. Why can't he recall with equal skill how many times he has told them?

A freshman on his first visit to the bank was asked to endorse his check. He wrote "I heartily endorse this check."

Two men were flying east in a passenger plane, making their first air trips of their lives. The plane touched down in St. Louis, and a little red truck sped up to its side to refuel it. The plane landed again at Cleveland and again the little red truck dashed up to it. The third stop was Albany and the same thing happened.

The first of the two men looked at his watch and turned to his companion.

"This plan makes wonderful time." "Yep," said the other, "and that little red truck ain't doing' so bad either."

Don B.: What's worse than raining cats and dogs?

Grover: Hailing streetcars and busses!

Waitress: "Hawaii mister? You must be Hungary."

Customer: "Yes, Siam and I can't Roumanice long either. Venice lunch already?"

Waitress: "I'll Russia table. What'll you have? Air?"

Customer: "Whatever's ready. But can't Jamaica cook step on the gas?"

Waitress: "Odessa laugh! But Alaska."

Customer: "Don't do me favors, just put a Cuba sugar in my Java."

Waitress: "Don't be Sicily, big boy. Sweden it yourself. I'm only here to Serbir."

Customer: "Denmark my Czech and call the Bosphorus. I don't Bolivia know who I am."

Waitress: Canada noise! I don't Caribbean. You sure Ararat."

Customer: "Samoa your wisecracks. Whats got India? D' you think this arguing Alps business? Be nice! Matter of fact, I gotta Smolsensk for you."

Waitress: Don't Kive me that Boulagne! Almon! do! Spain in the neck pay your Czech and scam! Abyssinia."

Fashions And Fads of Spring in 1951

Well, spring is here and so is the wind. What you need is a huge, brightly-colored head scarf to keep your hair in place. These scarfs are pretty, not only on the head, but also around your neck or tied around your waist.

Speaking of huge scarfs, have you ever tried making blouses, boleros, or halters out of them? They are very cute with your favorite shorts or slacks.

A batise blouse looks nice when it is starched and ironed nicely. They are very cool looking and also cool feeling Nylon blouses are taking the lead this year, since they are so pretty and easy to do up. So many of the girls had nylon blouses to go with their Easter outfits.

Spring will soon be joined by summer, and you'll probably want to buy some sweet smelling perfume to keep you fresh throughout the spring and the hot summer days. Notice I said sweet smelling, not some strong stinging perfume. Everyone likes to smell a faint odor of flowers or something similar, but no one likes to sit next to a perfume factory. So, if you do get some strong smelling perfume, go lightly on it. You need not spray yourself from head to foot. A little at the temples and behind the ears or maybe at the wrist will be sufficient.

Aggies Enjoy Their Spring Assignments

The F. F. A. boys have been pruning orchards and hedges the past two weeks.

They have learned what branches need to be taken-off and how and where to cut them off. They have also been studying several things in class. Some of these are poultry, management of dairy cows, management of beef calves, and several others. They are learning the things that it takes to do this type of job.

The boys are enjoying their work very much.

NEW HAMPSHIRE IN ARKANSAS

Rapid gain of the New Hampshire breed of chickens for broiler production is reflected in a study in Arkansas in which the State experiment station cooperated with the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. Ten years ago a survey showed that more than 4 out of every 5 broilers raised for market in Arkansas were white birds either White Wyandottes or White Rocks. Now these two breeds supply only a little more than 1 in 10 of the market broilers. New Hampshire alone account for more than half of all the birds, and if three cross breeds that include a New Hampshire as one parent are included, the broilers with half or full New Hampshire blood total 83 percent of the production.

From 1940 to 1949, broiler production in Arkansas grew rapidly, increasing more than four fold—from less than 9 million to more than 38 million birds. Ten years ago nearly all were disposed of in the live market; now more than a fifth go to local buyers who have processing plants. Production is less seasonal than in the late Thirties, the study showed. A minority of Arkansas producers are broiler specialists, but the great majority are farmers who make broilers an important part of farm business, but have other sources of income.

"Sweets to the sweet" was originally said by Shakespeare in the last act of Hamlet.

Good Well Solves City Water Problem

CROSBYTON — City officials were quite pleased Monday with the new city water well which has been completed on North Brekshire avenue. Although no official gauge has been placed on it yet, the well appears to be producing about 450 to 500 gallons per minutes from a 6-inch pipe.

"This is more than our other wells put together," Mayor Cary Lodal reports," and should ease the water situation in the city for a long time to come."
