City Light Report, published in this week's Hesperian as a formal statement from city authorities to the citizenship, following the completion of the annual audit, does not make too bad reading for the taxpayer to think over. The authorities and the taxpayers may well be pleased with the way the figures read. In our judgment they should see to it that the light plant continues to be well bulwarked against lack of capital for usual operation and for possible expansion. Sufficient capital at the right time to do what needs to be done should be the guiding business factor. The business man, private enterprise competition, is entitled to assume from past experience in many communities, that the day will come when the municipality will have dissipated its funds and be unable to cope with the demands. Ensuing will be a sale at a price that is determined by some body other than the city authorities. If the Floydada experiment, a windfall from the days when the country was emerging from the depression, succeeds, it will be one of few that dot the country. The report will be read with a great deal of interest, and picked to pieces, line for line, in a number of offices far, far away from Floydada, it may be taken for granted. The experiment may be a dud but it doesn't look that way in print to a layman at the beginning of the eleventh year of operation.

Low Germination, dry weather or both may plague the cotton growers and planters of other row crops in Floyd county this year. Due to the high costs all around and the reported shortage of good seed, most everybody is going to be careful to make haste slowly. There is good season in the subsoil on most dry land farms but the upper ground needs a wetting. It may turn out to be a blessing in disguise that not enough moisture is in the ground now. The temptation to get started probably would be too great. A late, cold spring has been unfavorable for planting anything that needs warmth in the ground to get it up and growing.

Tidelands. Senator O'Mahoney continues his delaying tactics in the national senate and Sam Rayburn, the Texan, won't give the light for action in the house of representatives judiciary committee. Senator O'Mahoney is trying to get the Interior department's foot in the crack of the door by giving it interim authority to control the tidelands areas. How any sane man, regardless of the right or the wrong of it, could believe that the federal government would or could handle the tidelands oil business in a saner, more efficient manner than the states is beyond our grasp.

HST recommends raising postal rates. What! Surely not on letters!—Pathfinder

Whether the confusion in high places in connection with the OPS regulations, the attempted price roll backs and price ceilings, is the fault of the administration or of men in industry and commerce, farming and merchandising sparring for advantages, we have been unable to determine to our own satisfaction. DiSalle, the high man in the price control administration, had a very good name as a citizen and business administrator before he was drafted to handle the job of price control. No reason why he should have changed to an orge overnight. On the other hand, industry and business is understandably upset by regulations that seem quite difficult to interpret and to follow.

For instance, there is a pronounced belief in cattle circles that the price roll back in the live stock industry should have come a good many months ago and that one immediate result of the rollback to become effective May 9 will be the lack of meat on the counter for sale to the public. It is the feeder, not the man with range cattle, that is going to suffer immediately. This man is going to quit feeding, they say, and with apparent good reason, because he is going to have to take a slower, cheaper way to market. Big cattlemen have told the administration they think the set-up is going to result in a black market in the meat business, and only those who can pay black market prices can get meat later in the year.

The Hesperian is now "regulated" as to production costs or will be when May 28 arrives, we suspect. We must do more than suspect in the meantime. Offhand we gather that the printing establishment has been given a number, as such things usually start out. Here are ours: 2711 over 9, and 3 8371 320 X. This gets us confused and in the state of mind to confess and give up before we even start. The fat letter containing instructions, charts and things, we are informed, is based on Title 32A—National Defense, Appendix; Chapter III, office of price stabilization, economic stabilization agency; (ceiling price regulation 22); CPR 22—manufacturers general ceiling price regulation. The first paragraph says: "Pursuant to the Defense production act of 1950 (Pub. law 774, 81st Cong.) executive order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General order No 2 (16 F. R. 738), this ceiling price regulation 22 is hereby issued." Oh, well, there are men by the thousands to whom this kind of thing is duck soup, and our troubles in connection with it will just be their assurance of a steady livelihood for the next several months or years. A small businessman lathers around in the complexities of a problem that isn't a problem at all to these more capable men. We wish we could find one that would work cheap enough we could afford to hire him.

Folks Better Wake Up in America, Says Captain In Korea

It's full time the people of the States come to their senses, realize we are at war and get down to the business of fighting it, Captain R. F. Kerlin, a member of the fighting forces in Korea, writes his father, R. L. Kerlin, of Naravisa, who with Mrs. Kerlin, is a visitor in Floyd county this week. "My boy sure thinks we are frittering away our time fussing and quarreling here at home when we have all we can attend to on the battle front. He says the home folks better wake up to what is happening to us," said Mr. Kerlin, senior.

The Kerlins were one-time residents of Floyd county. Mrs. Kerlin is a sister of Mrs. Ralph Childress, of South Plains, and the Kerlins are here for a visit of several days. With Mr. and Mrs. Kerlin are their daughter, Mrs. W. F. Rorabaugh and two children. The Rorabaugh husband and father is in the navy, stationed at Adak, Alaska.

Proper Spacing of Water Wells Is Important

Locating irrigation wells too close together is a costly business. The High Plains Water Conservation & Users Association points out.

A farm official tells this illustrative story: His organization loaned a farmer enough money to put down an irrigation well. It stretched the farmer's credit to the limit, but he got a good well. Not long afterwards, a neighbor drilled a well about 60 feet away. The two wells set up a mutual interference, with the neighbor getting most of the water. The only thing our farmer now is lower his pipes. He won't stretch that far. He does lower his well, chances are his neighbor will have to do the same.

The point, one that water conservation experts have long known is that proper spacing of wells not only saves water, but sometimes saves hard feelings.

One of the main functions of a proposed underground water conservation district is to promote proper spacing of all new wells. This would be done under a permit system, and while no person would be denied a permit to drill a well, the permit would be conditioned on the recommendation of the driller and his neighbors who already pumping.

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

WHEN you look at all a ROADMASTER has to offer, it's only natural to conclude that it's priced with the rest of the fine-car field. Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal. Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a 152-horsepower Fireball engine and Dynaflo Drive* delivers. It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes Buick ever developed. Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which bespeak the custom standards to which it is painstakingly built.

All you could want in a fine car is here in abundance. But don't let that fool you into deciding "it's too rich for me." If you've looked into 1951 car prices generally, you'll discover this: You can own a ROADMASTER for just a shade more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field." Why not look into this today?

"I got the story on 50,000 Miles-No Wear and changed to New Conoco Super Motor Oil" says Arnold B. Bangerter, Jr. Owner, Radio Cab Company Salt Lake City, Utah

"Since I changed my 14 cabs over to Conoco Super, I've cut oil consumption almost 50 per cent. With at least 85,000 miles on each, there's no sign of needing new engines yet!"

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 39.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that Conoco Super can keep your new car new.

NEW CAR DEALER
 It's a pleasure to have satisfied customers, thanks to Conoco Super," says Walt Winters, Chrysler-Plymouth Dealer, Westside, Iowa. "My customers depend on my judgment about the oil to use in their cars, and Conoco Super is the one I recommend."

TRAVELING SALESMAN
 When I purchased my new Pontiac, put in Conoco Super," says Melvin L. Sever, Traveling Salesman, Pampa, Texas. "I average about 4,000 miles a month and Conoco Super has given me the best of service—even helped to increase the miles per gallon of gasoline."

Postal Mail Box Improvement

May 7-12

The post office department has announced the week ending May 12, Rural Mail Box Improvement week.

Small boxes which are not erected or which are not in serviceable condition retard delivery of mail and expose it to the elements, said H. Smith in announcing the special attention to be given to them.

It is the desire of the department to encourage patrons of the delivery service to provide mail receptacles and to place them in such manner that they will be readily accessible to the carrier and present a neat appearance.

Especially desirable that the boxes be maintained in a condition to assure proper protection to the mail therein, that the names of owners be inscribed on the boxes visible to the carrier, and that they be approached them, and their supports be painted.

Patrons who have mail boxes top-opening, reverse or other type are net to discard them provided they have been in use by the owners for several years and maintained in good, serviceable condition.

Any boxes not of the standard type which are of such a design that they cannot be served by the carrier from the side or are in such condition as to protect the mail, should be replaced with boxes of the approved types.

Boxes, regardless of material, of course, be of such a design and condition that there be no likelihood of the carriers being injured when serving them.

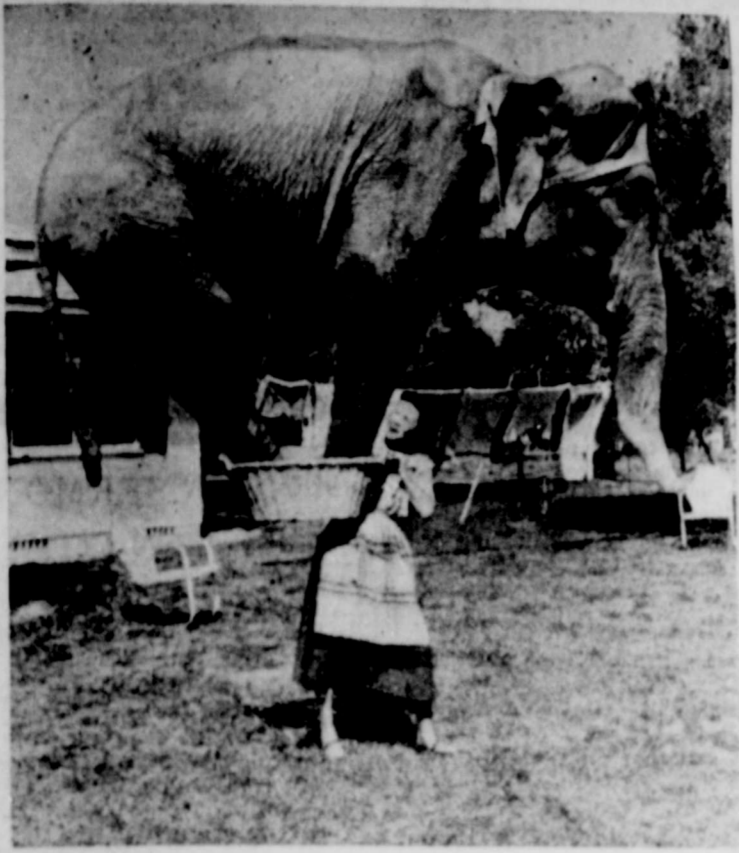

Local postmaster and Floyd County carriers are urging rural patrons to improve their boxes because of rural routes this year.

Neatest Trick of the Year

DID YOU EVER LIFT AN ELEPHANT?—You have, according to the experts, if you've been doing your washing with the old-fashioned method of rinsing. They point out that the average housewife lifts five tons a year in the rinsing process. The elephant weighs only four tons. No-Rinse Surf, now being introduced in this section, eliminates the need for rinsing through an exclusive process developed after five years of laboratory research. This means no more elephant lifting for the housewife. It means, too, a saving of 11,000 gallons of water and 125 hours of labor a year.

Nephew from Louisiana Army Man Since 1939

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Culpepper had a very pleasant surprise one evening recently, when their nephew, James Culpepper and family from Monroe, Louisiana, came to visit with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Culpepper had not seen their nephew in several years. He has been an army man since 1939. He recently had been stationed at Enid, Oklahoma.

James Culpepper was in the World War II, being on battlefront several times and has had many experiences during his career in the army.

Mrs. A. N. Gumble and daughter, Mrs. Carl Casey, of Lubbock, were guests Tuesday of her sister, Mrs. G. R. May and niece, Mrs. Fred Cardinal.

Crowded Dutch Go For Grass

With a population of more than 700 to the square mile, one of the densest in Europe, The Netherlands, unlike thickly-peopled countries of Asia, has not adopted a diet mainly cereal, but remains an important producer and user of livestock products, especially milk, butter, and cheese. This remarkable accomplishment, says Dr. W. M. Myers, in charge of forage crop improvement research in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is the result of two facts not yet widely accepted here:

"The first," he says, "is that high levels of dairy production are possible with high quality forage supplemented with only small amount of concentrates; second, that improved grasslands produce nutrients more abundantly than land growing other feed crops."

"About 72 percent of the land of that country is arable—about 6,000, 000 acres. And of this 3, 292,000 acres are in permanent pastures, 2, 275,000 in arable crops, the remainder in horticulture crops. Cows are on pasture about 6 months of the year, with no concentrates. For the rest of the year they are stabled and fed hay and silage from the permanent grasslands, fodder from cultivated land, and some concentrate. About 68 percent of the feed of livestock is from permanent grasslands, but milk and butterfat production are high.

The best permanent grasslands, says Myers, who visited The Netherlands last year, are those mostly of perennial ryegrass. There are few legumes, but yields are kept up by fertilization, including heavy use of nitrogen. Dutch agronomist believe that well-fertilized ryegrass is higher in energy value than comparable forage containing legumes. But they are willing to change from pure grass to grass-legume mixtures if they can find "partner plants" that will persist and produce in partnership at high levels now possible with nitrogen fertilization. They are working mostly on ryegrass and white clover, but also on annual ryegrass, orchard grass, timothy, and sweet lupines—always on the lookout for better strains.

Landing in Korea

Lt. Charles Ray Hamilton was due to land at Pusan in Korea last week he wrote while a day out from shore to Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Steen.

Young Hamilton is with an infantry division which trained at Camp Chaffee. Hamilton was a reservist A. & M. graduate and was called up last fall.

Everett Powell, aviation apprentice in the navy, who has been here for the past ten days on a furlough, visiting his parents, Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Powell left today for San Diego, and then will be sent to Jacksonville, Florida to an aviation school. While here Everett and his parents visited relatives in San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cowen, of Hamilton, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrison, 419 West Missouri street. Mrs. Cowen and Mrs. Harrison are sisters. Mrs. Harrison, who has been ill for the past few months was thought to be slightly improved this mid-week.

Breathes there a man who does not think more of what he is about to say, than of what has been said to him.

Dan Hagood Hurt In Queer Accident

Dan Hagood, 16, injured yesterday evening at 6:30, at the intersection of Tree street and Sand Hill highway in front of the J. G. Martin residence, had a good night at Peoples hospital, was the report this morning. He was injured when a horse he was riding plunged into the side of a car being driven west by John Henry Brock. The horse was out of control, J. G. Martin, who witnessed the accident, said. The car was hit about even with the windshield. Dan was thrown over the top of the car. The horse was killed.

Check last night revealed Dan's principal injury was a shattered bone between the knee and ankle of the right leg. The leg had been perforated. Unconscious when he was taken to the hospital, Dan recovered consciousness soon. No internal injuries were found in the examinations made last night, hospital reports said.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Some years ago when your columnist visited the high school at Gordon, in Palo Pinto County, Supt. Tankley told me of a ghost town, about six miles away --

Coalville. About 50 years ago, coal mining flourished around Thurber, Mingus, Lyra and Strawn.

Several mines worked near Coalville. The town had a population of 3,000 and there were progressive stores as well as several saloons. The school enrollment was around 350. But the mining ended, the school district was consolidated with the Gordon district and there is no sign of the once flourishing town. In fact, Coalville's site is part of a farm, and cattle graze on the once teeming spot.

Church Breaks April Records In Attendance

There will be open house Sunday afternoon in the nursery, beginners, primary, junior and intermediate departments of the First Baptist church Sunday school so that the parents may come and visit in the class rooms that their children meet in, and meet the teachers, it was announced this week by the pastor, R. Earl Allen.

All parents are urged to come between 2:30 and 3:30 Sunday afternoon. They will also have the privilege of inspecting the remodeling of the building. Much painting has been done inside the building as well as the outside. Two lots adjoining the Wall Street Church of Christ have been bought to give room for additional parking. More than $3500.00 have been spent on the building and grounds.

The church is also making an effort not only to serve those who can attend the services, but to reach into the homes of those who cannot attend, through the radio, the pastor said. The Sunday morning services of the First Baptist church are broadcast by station KFLD from 11 to 12 o'clock. Much response has been received from the programs. The pastor is beginning a series of sermons, "Foundations for Reconstruction," based on the ten commandments.

April Was Record Month
The month of April was a record month for the First Baptist church. The Sunday school enrollment has reached 868. The attendance during the month of April averaged 492.3 for the five Sundays which was an all time high average for a month. This was a gain of 92 in average attendance over this April last year. For the past 25 Sundays, the Sunday school has averaged 430 each Sunday in attendance.

The revival was a success in high attendance and resulted in 48 additions to the church. Twenty-two of these were by transfer of membership, while 26 were by baptism. There has been 10 professions of faith that have not yet come into the church membership. This brings the total of additions this church year (since September 1) to 117. The resident church roll numbers above 800 and the non-resident members bring the total to 1064.

Plans are being made for the Vacation bible school which will begin May 28 and close with commencement, June 8.

Specialized Medicine Unworkable Affects Health Officer Dr. Cox

Tex., Texas — Socialization in either public health or private practice of medicine, Health Officer George Cox has in a statement aligning with the medical profession and specialized medicine. Health is a separate, distinct private medicine, Dr. Cox says. Professions have their own objectives, and distinctive of accomplishing them. Specialized public health's objective is to educate as to how to prevent disease by such means as vaccination against smallpox and typhoid and immunization against typhoid. Investigation of disease outbreaks and isolation of communicable disease cases, thus limiting its spread. Inspection of water supplies, and control over the safe production of milk, drugs, and food are the health officer added. "I get sick and accidents happen. The job of curing and preventing is the business of the practitioner of medicine—of a doctor and the specialist in private practice advocate health principles when mothers have children against diphtheria and polio, and public health officials help in the vital maintaining a high level of health for all Texans," Dr. Cox said.

There is no competition with private practice. Public people deplore the idea of specialized medicine as unworkable, some, and totally inefficient. There is no place on earth that better system of medical education than the United States. Doctors deserve the credit. There is no place on earth higher standard of public health people deserve for that," the doctor concluded.

A shortage of strong elastic has revealed just what this country is really in.

Heart Surgery Gives Hope to Many Patients

The long-pondered heart operation which Mrs. A. V. Stewart of Floydada, underwent in Baylor hospital, Dallas, on April 20, is a new type of heart surgery, which is beginning to give hope to many persons, says an Associated Press dispatch from Dallas, this week. Mrs. Stewart is convalescing in Dallas following dismissal from the hospital last week-end.

A considerable bit of courage was required for the patient to make up her mind, since the operation is a new one on the body's most vital organ.

The operation relieves a condition which technically is called mitralstenosis. It is a narrowing of a heart valve. Mrs. Stewart has had the heart condition for several years, and physicians have indicated the belief that the trouble was due to rheumatic fever which she suffered as a child.

Opens a Clogged Valve
The Dallas dispatch tells of the operation in this manner: The surgeon opens the clogged valve between two chambers of the heart by inserting his fingers inside the heart and cleaning away the obstruction.

The operation has been likened to that to correct the condition of "blue babies," but it goes a step farther than the rearrangement of blood vessels outside the heart. This operation is within the heart.

A Dallas surgeon who operated upon Mrs. Stewart said the heart valve is usually the result of rheumatic fever, but also can be caused by other conditions. He pictured the valve as two flaps of membranous tissue which turn downward into the ventricle chamber. In a normal valve the flaps alternately fall freely apart and close tightly, as the heart beats.

In mitralstenosis the flaps tend to stick together so that the valve not only becomes narrow but its function is impaired. It neither closes tightly nor opens freely.

It becomes thickened and scarred, and produces a strain on the heart. Mitralstenosis usually creates a loud heart murmur and, also, causes the patient to cough up blood chronically. The new surgery usually corrects both these faults.

Some men smile in the evening, some men smile at dawn. But the man worth while is the man who can smile, when all his front teeth are gone.

Lakeview News

(By Mrs. E. H. Tooley.)

LAKEVIEW, April 30—A week's revival closed here Sunday night, and a number of visitors from our own community and from other places were present.

Sunday was 4-H club day. After attending church, the entire group were luncheon guests of Mrs. E. H. Spears, who is 4-H girls' sponsor. They enjoyed a picnic in the canyon Sunday afternoon. The boys and girls report a very enjoyable occasion, which will be long remembered.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones are the grandparents of a new granddaughter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Jones of Panhandle. Mrs. Jones and Imogene made a bus trip to Panhandle Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Blanton Hartsell and children have as their guests Mr. and Mrs. John Cowen of Hamilton. Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Cowen are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Fowler Estep and Frank Jones left for Grand Junction, Colorado, Sunday night in response to a message of the death of Dale Cothaus, 14 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Cothaus. Dale was a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Jones and a nephew of the Esteps. He was drowned in an irrigation ditch on Sunday.

Quite a number of teachers who are applicants for the schools here, met the board of education at the school building at different times during the day Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Tooley, who have occupied these positions for the past four years are retiring and moving to their new home in Plainview the first of June. The Tooleys recommend this school and splendid community to the teachers who are elected to fill their places. Some of the "salt of the earth" is found here.

Mr. and Mrs. Tooley and Anita returned home Sunday afternoon from a weekend visit with their daughters and sister, Mrs. H. P. Hill and family of Vernon and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

1. Both the Chinese and the Italians claim the honor of having invented eye glasses. However, it was during the Middle Ages that Europeans hit upon the idea of putting lenses in frames and perching them before the eyes. The modern application of this old idea has saved many eyes, and has provided many more with better vision.

Answer to Question No. 2:

2. Herpes zoster, or shingles, is a painful disease affecting old and young. It is in all probability a virus infection, extending to the sensitive nerve ends of the skin. The sores appear on the skin over the tips of the nerves and may cover a considerable area of skin. Medical treatment can reduce the itching and pain and shorten the duration of illness.

Answer to Question No. 3:

3. More patients seek medical help because of headaches than for any other single reason. Causes range from eye trouble to brain tumors. Treatment ranges from eyeglasses to surgery. In the case of persistent headaches, see your doctor. He has at his command modern scientific methods for diagnosis and treatment.

26 Floyd County Members Attend Tulia THDA Meet

Twenty-six Home Demonstration club women from Floyd county attended the district meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association at Tulia Saturday. The meeting was held in the high school auditorium. Mrs. H. H. Rogers of Ropesville, vice-president for District 2 T.H.D.A., presided at the meeting. A total of 226 were present.

Mrs. Sam Green of the Friendship club was pianist for the day, and Mrs. Everett Miller of Harmony was the song leader. Mrs. C. A. Coffee of Dougherty was elected secretary of the association. She and Mrs. S. J. Latta of Sunnyside were on the resolutions committee, and these courtesy resolutions were read by Mrs. Latta to the association. Mrs. Latta, Mrs. Coffee, and Mrs. Jno. Smitherman of South Plains were delegates to the convention from the Home Demonstration clubs in Floyd county.

A recommendation to the convention was submitted by the Floyd county delegates. This was that a distinctive license for Texas automobiles be designed and adopted. This recommendation was adopted by the convention and it will be voted on at the state convention.

The business of the day included reports and discussions. Mrs. B. M. Rucker reported that the T.H.D.A. fund for the district was $339.10 with Hale county sending in the largest contribution, and Floyd county a close second with $86.85 contributed. It was voted to spend the district's 4-H fund of one hundred dollars by hiring a trained nurse for the district 4-H camp at Lubbock, and buying a record player to be used at district and county camps. It was also voted to charter a bus from the district to the silver anniversary meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration association at

High Winds Make Fishing Luck Bad

George Mize, Billy Tad Probasco and Bill Tye were on Lake Kemp fishing this week-end. Also on the lake were Ott Glassmeyer, Bob Rosson, and Grady and Bill Walker. Report — Not very much luck.

Wind too high. Another father and son combination of fishermen at Lake Kemp were Walton and Bill Hale and J. A. and Gene Arwine. Same story — No luck.

—Them Politicians

Gayle Mayo, president of Lions club, Elmos Jones and Williams and the incoming president, Parnell Powell, were elected at the Monday, May 2, district Lions convention in Lubbock. This convention was the largest and nicest district convention ever attended. Hereford was the way to show the Lions a little politics at the convention. With a little politics at the convention, Parnell Powell was voted out as man at the convention. He was awarded a cigarette lighter.

District 27T and District 28T combine for the spring convention to be held in El Paso in 1951. District Governor Marshall Vey of Lubbock presided at the meetings. There were between five and six hundred Lions present at Hereford convention.

Boyd Meador of McLean was elected District governor of District 2 T. I.

Fashions and Fads

One of the fashions and fads of the week, we find that summer dresses are in vogue and are very good this summer.

These dresses are made of gingham, organdy, and other light materials and are looking skirts and dresses.

Barret slippers of Irish linen are in vogue. These slippers are available in almost any color and can be dyed a different color.

Sportswear the denim pedal pushers and full back jackets are popular. Another fad in sportswear is the towel T shirt. The shirts are colorful and are easily carried.

For the fashions and fads of the week, we hope they prove to be in planning your summer wardrobe.

Farmers Urged to Grow More Feed Grains

Farmers in area where the wheat crop has failed are urged to consider the planting of grain sorghums, Thomas J. Hutchins, Secretary of the county P M A committee, said today.

"We don't want any farmer to plant grain sorghums at the expense of cotton because cotton is vitally needed in our defense effort. However, where growing cotton is not feasible the planting of grain sorghums will help out greatly in our drive for needed feed grains," he said.

B. F. Vance, chairman of the state P M A committee, has already announced that two state meetings have been scheduled for the Texas Agricultural Mobilization committee to highlight the need for increased production of grain sorghums. These meetings will be held in Amarillo on May 2 and at Abilene on May 3.

"With continued strengthening in consumer demand in prospect and with military requirements increasing there will be need for all the livestock, dairy and poultry products that can be produced from the feed supplies that are expected to be available in the next few years. Feed is the essential factor in maintaining livestock for the present high level of production of meats, dairy and poultry products and must be maintained for several years. While the rate of feeding is at record levels and this constitutes a heavy drain upon the supply of feeds. Requirements may be expected to be even greater as consumer income expands with our programs in the national defense effort," the secretary said.

PROGRESS WITH GUAYULE RUBBER

Discussing agricultural contributions to defense, Dr. Bryon T. Shaw, research executive of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, has cited advanced in guayule rubber production as a field of progress since World War II. "We have learned to produce plants and grow the crop more economically. Through plant breeding, we have learned that the rubber content of the guayule shrub can be increased greatly. We already have strains that produce as much as 50 percent more rubber per acre. We have also learned how to do a better job of extracting the rubber and removing resins. Dersinated rubber compares favorably with imported rubber for manufacture of tire carcasses. We improved yield and quality by processing the green shrub instead of letting it dry out after harvest. A continuous extraction process is working well on a small scale. Improved guayule rubber is now undergoing road tests."

MONEY FOR NEW ALPHABET

The late George Bernard Shaw tinkered with a simplified alphabet as early as 1901. His will, published last month, directed that the biggest part of a public bequest from his estate ($338,840 after taxes) should be used to develop a 40-letter alphabet, reports Pathfinder news magazine. Designed to simplify the spelling of English, each letter would stand for a sound.

Just as the choir swung into the chorus of the hymn "Lord Send the Old Time Power," the church's electric lights flashed back on.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Chambliss and children of Iowa Park, were weekend guests of her parents, Mrs. L. L. Switzer.
