Return of old settlers day for the annual Floyd County Pioneers re-union is always a pleasurable event for the early-day pioneers and to a lesser extent to those who came later. This was well-illustrated Monday of this week. Those who really pioneered the country, who planted with such equipment as they had available and then began seeking some kind of implement with which to harvest the crops they may have raised, get more enjoyment out of recounting a former day than do those who have followed them. At least, we feel that must be true.

A note here on the desk we intended to use a few weeks ago about the ever-present little boy in whatsoever group it may be. We noticed this perennial little boy at the bridge opening over the Quitaque where dignitaries of the various interested communities, of the state highway department and others gathered for an official sort of ceremony that commemorated the event in the manner it deserved. Without anybody pushing him into the scene, in fact without knowing or caring whether he was a part of the scene, there he was, the little boy who wanted to see it all and got into the most advantageous place to get his eyes full. We haven't seen all the scenes of all the important events in recent history, but we can well believe that whatever the occasion, wherever it took place, the eye of the camera which records all within its range, also put into the scene the little boy along with the captain of industry, commerce or war, because there he was for the record.

Dollar Day Monday in Floydada. If you like the idea of these special merchandising events, designed to stimulate business and to make possible special offerings in merchandise of various types, encourage the people you find advertising them. Everything any of us does to make the area a better, more lively business area, the better things will be for all, including the man who has commodities to sell, believe it or not.

Predictions on the wheat yield in Floyd county have gone up gradually in the past six weeks despite the fact it has become evident quite a bit of wheat that was left on the ground to make a crop should have been turned under because of a poor stand. There is the distinct possibility that Floyd county may give the area a race for first place in total production this year. Some fair to good showers that streaked across portions of the county in February and March did a lot more good than was anticipated. Also it should be recalled that the wheat had a good sub-soil moisture bed to grow downward to during the entire season. All that the area lacked of producing a record-breaker was a good snow in mid-winter. Even a two inch rain in November would have done the job. Of course, it did not happen, but what we have left, after abandoned acreage, is evidence of how we would really have "gone to town" had the mid-winter moisture hit right. Our prediction is that Floyd county will market something like a million and a half bushels of wheat this season. Weeds will give more grief than anything else unless hail gets into the competition.

This week it can be reported as a favorable omen for an off year wheat crop that the grain is maturing with more speed and more uniformity than in any year of recent experience in which a poor winter season was followed by a heavy late rain. There seems to be no doubt, barring unusual weather that wheat harvest will be moving right along by June 15 to 20. There will be a few individual crops to be gathered before that date, there is at least one small bit of acreage that is going to mature a pretty fair yield by this week-end, ready for the harvest. There may be others, of course. Quite likely the fast-maturing crops is not going to run into maturity late enough that it will be endangered by hot winds.

Although the state legislature has re-districted Texas for representation in the senate and the house, last hopes for congressional redistricting seem to have gone glimmering. Too many "hot potatoes" and too many controversial situations. It is easier to say something must be done than to do it, the legislature has found. Deep east districts and central and south Texas districts seem to have afforded most of the problems which were considered while re-districting had its place on the legislative calendar. Last week and this it is a battle over who shall bear the brunt of a new tax bill of several million.

There is not a material marvel of this marvelous age in which we live whose fatherhood cannot be traced distinctly back to a single point, a single remote germ, a single primal source — The moveable types of Gutenberg and Fust. —Mark Twain.

26 YEARS OF GOOD CITIZENSHIP AND PUBLIC SERVICE

This drawing of Boys' Ranch's first permanent unit in the new expansion program was chosen from a group of 20 plans submitted by members of the Fifth Year Architectural Class A & M.

The unit will house 24 boys, 4 to a room, and has a large living room and recreation room. Also, there are quarters for a man and his wife, who will supervise the group of boys living in the building, thus providing closer contact and opportunity for better guidance and individual attention.

Cut-Off Dates for GI Training, and Education Announced by Ayres

1. When is the cut-off date?
The GI Bill states that a Veteran's Course of Education or training "shall be initiated not later than four years after the date of his discharge or the termination of the present War, whichever is the later." Termination of the War, for GI Bill purposes, was fixed at July 25, 1947, by the Public Law 239, 80th Congress. Therefore:

(1) Veterans Discharged on or before July 25, 1947 (and this includes most World War II Veterans) must begin GI Bill training by July 25, 1951.

(2) Veterans discharged after July 25, 1947, must start Within Four Years After The Date of Their Discharge.

(3) Veterans who enlisted or re-enlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 6, 1945 and Oct. 5, 1946) may count the entire period of their enlistment or reenlistment as War Service for GI Bill purposes. They must start training within four years from the end of their enlistment or reenlistment period.

2. Is There a Cut Off Date For Public Law 16 Trainees?
There is no cut-off date for starting courses under Public Law 16, the Vocational Rehabilitation Act for Disabled Veterans.

Disabled Veterans may begin Public Law 16 training at any time after discharge, but in time to complete it by the wind-up of the program. The wind-up, for World War II Veterans, is July 25, 1954.

For Veterans disabled after fighting started in Korea, the termination is Nine Years from the end of the Current Emergency, a date not yet established.

3. What Is Meant By "Initiating" Training?
To initiate GI Bill training by the Cut-off Date means actually to begin. It does not mean merely make an application for training before the deadline, with the training itself to begin sometime afterwards.

4. Veterans actually in training by cut-off time will be allowed to continue afterwards. Veterans not in training by that date not start afterwards—though there are some exceptions.

A Veteran who has started his course in time, and who has continued in it, will be considered to be in training, even though he has temporarily interrupted the course for the Summer vacation or for other reasons beyond his control. Example: A Veteran enrolled in the Fall of 1950 for a 2-year GI Bill Business Course. His first school ends in June, 1951, at which time Summer vacation begins. The July 25 Cut off date comes during his vacation. Yet, he will be permitted to resume his training for his second year starting in the Fall of 1951.

4. When Does The GI Bill Program End?
The law states that no GI Bill Education or Training "shall be afforded beyond nine years after the termination of the present War."

Termination date of the War, for GI Bill purposes, was July 25, 1947. Hence, the GI Bill Program comes to an end on July 25, 1956.

There is one exception. Veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the Voluntary Recruitment Act (between October 5, 1946) have Nine Years from the end of that enlistment or re-enlistment period, in which to wind-up GI Bill Training.

5. When Does The Public Law 16 Program End?
There are two termination dates for Disabled Veterans under Public Law 16.

World War II Veterans with disabilities incurred in or aggravated by service between September 16, 1940, and July 25, 1947, have until July 25, 1956, to complete Public Law 16 Training.

Veterans disabled while on active duty on or after June 27, 1950 have Nine Years from the end of the Current Emergency in which to finish training under Public Law 16. (In other words, this clause covers Disabled Veterans of the Korean Campaign.)

To be eligible for the Training, Veterans in the Korean Campaign must have disabilities resulting from conditions under which Veterans Administration pays compensation at full War-time rates.

How can you Tell till you Try It?

THE days and weeks are slipping by—and what have you done about it? What have you done to find out how it feels to handle a high-powered and high-spirited '51 Buick?

We'll tell you this. In all the years that Buick has been building fine automobiles, there's never been the match for this one.

This is a car that likes to be compared—for power, for performance, for ease of control, for ride, and room, and comfort.

We can tell you its valve-in-head Fireball power sinks you back in the cushions at the touch of your toe.

We can tell you it's nimble-footed in traffic, or that it conquers hills with smooth and exultant momentum.

We can tell you it hugs the road and holds the curves as if it were drawn by an invisible magnet.

We can tell you that it has big, soft coil springs on all four wheels—or that its gas mileage will put a smile on your face.

We can tell you that Dynaflo Drive* will spoil you for any other type of power transmission.

But you'll never know till you try it yourself what all this really means.

How about coming in for a sample? Once you've experienced all this for yourself, the modest price tags on Buick SPECIALS, SUPERS or ROADMASTERS will look like a double bargain.

**Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Buick models. Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice.*

On May 4, the women's society of the First Baptist church of Floydada, under the leadership of Mrs. Helen Patterson, the mayor of Floydada, and the W.M.S. entered into a banquet honoring the graduates of the high school, and their pastors and pastors.

The pastor, acted as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Patterson gave the welcome, and Professor J. M. Rogers, principal of the negro school, with very appropriate words of appreciation.

Exception of short talks by McMillan and District E. Chapman, the representative of the negro group under the leadership of the W.M.S. The program was well between music and speaking. Everyone went away convinced that the occasion was such to cement friendly relations between the races and to bring the Kingdom through fellowship.

At Mrs. Hoskins, others were Mrs. Annie Ray and Bro. Ray.

Grain Sorghum May Fall Short of World Need

The 1951-1952 grain sorghum outlook to the producer, from a price standpoint, looks much better than it did last year, says Bob Gibson, county agent.

Grain sorghums are being used at a faster rate than they are being grown. This is especially true since the outbreak of the Korean war. The total supply of grain sorghums and other concentrated feeds for the 1951-52 feeding year are expected to be substantially less than last year. The total rate of feeding per animal unit during last winter was the highest on record.

IH Announces New Farmall C

A new McCormick Farmall tractor, the two-row, two-plow Super C, is being introduced in this community by Martin & Company International Harvester dealer in Floydada.

"It's superior 17 ways—with more power, more pep, more pull," says Mr. Martin, about the new Super C, latest addition to International Harvester's line of five Farmall tractors.

Some of these 17 superior features, according to Mr. Martin, are the larger bore valve-in-head engine that provides 12 percent more power on every stroke and delivers an abundance of smooth power over the entire load range; battery ignition starting; big-diameter, high-leverage steering wheel that steers easily, with finger-tight response; new self-energizing double-disk brakes that insure positive pin-point turning; new upholstered, hydraulic shock-absorbing seat for all-day riding comfort; strengthened chassis from front to rear, and weight matched to power for high-traction pull.

Like all the other Farmall tractors, the Cub, Super A, H and M—the new Super C has a full line of matched, quick-change McCormick equipment designed especially to use with it. This includes direct-connection, forward-mounted and trailing equipment.

The direct-connected implements include two-bottom moldboard plow, two-furrow disk plow, four-disk harrow plow, two-row cotton and corn listers, and mower.

Kelley, Lockney, B. S.; Bobbie Sue Damron, Lockney, B. S.; Lonnie Lee Seaman, Lockney, B. S.; and Jack Livesay, Lockney, B. B. A.

This will result in the grain sorghum carry-over this year being reduced by more than 20 percent from last year's level.

If feed grain production in 1961 turns out as indicated by the BAE report of farmers March - intentions to plant, feed grain production in 1951 will be 6 percent less than last year. Unless there is a substantially larger grain sorghum production than now appears to be in prospect producers in some areas will have to reduce livestock and poultry output.

Farmers in this area should review their planting intentions and revise their plans for grain sorghum production upward wherever possible. This does not mean to reduce cotton acreage to plant grain sorghums because cotton is vitally needed in the defense effort.

The loan value for grain sorghums in 1951 has been established at $2.09 in Floyd County, and from all indications of supplies on hand and estimated acreage to be planted the actual market price will be greater than the loan value, Gibson said.
