Will Talk Sheriff's Posse at Meeting Here Monday Night Informal discussion the past week have led to the conclusion that enough interest has been shown to assure a sizeable riders' organization among Floyd county horsemen; said Sheriff Leland A. Hart here Monday, and an organization date Monday night, June 11—has been set. Last informal meeting was when eight interested persons got together to set the date.

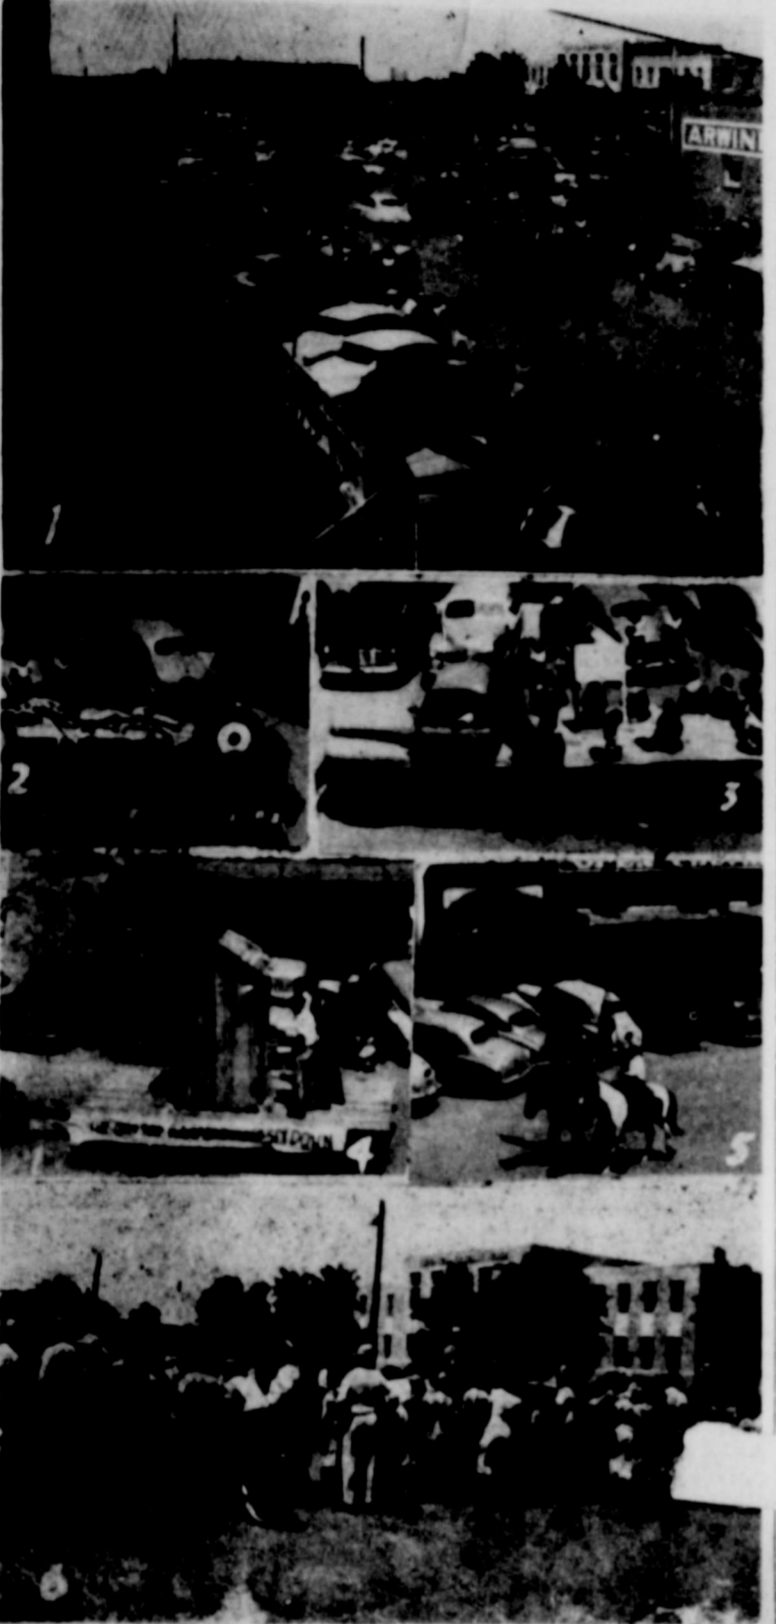

Sentiment points to the probability that the organization will be named "Sheriff's posse," and the sheriff is inclined to believe that a membership of 75 or 90 riders who will don uniform for mass riding exhibitions, will be found over the county and area.

Mr. Hart said a delegation of members of the sheriff's posse at Lubbock had promised to be present to help get the sheriff's posse here started off to a successful beginning. All who are interested are invited to attend the meeting at 8 o'clock Monday night, June 11, in the temporary county court room.

Grand Jury Will Meet Tomorrow The February grand jury for Floyd county district court of the 110th district will be empaneled for the first time tomorrow at 9 o'clock, when they will be asked to take testimony in some forgery and theft investigations.

District Judge Alton B. Chapman delayed organization of the grand jury because its services had not been needed until at this time. The grand jury will hold its deliberations in the temporary court room.

When Pioneers Paraded

When Floyd county pioneers had their annual get-together last week the afternoon parade was a feature. Here is a part of the picture as seen by a staff camera from the window of The Hesperian office:

- (1) Looking north down Main, parade in the distance headed for the re-union grounds three and a half blocks distant and around the corner;
- (2) National Alfalfa mill float, second prize winner;
- (3) Cub Scout float, judged in first place for floats;
- (4) Floyddada Junior Chamber of Commerce had an unusual float in the parade. It didn't win a prize but got some comment;
- (5) Leading the parade, as flag bearers are Geo. L. Fawver and G. L. Snodgrass, both of whom saw the grass-hopper years and yaller summers of the early nineties here;
- (6) When the parade halted on Main street, the bicyclist and walkers crowded around. County's new court house in the right distance.

Annie Taylor, Floydada Negro Teacher, Admitted to Wayland

Mrs. Annie Taylor, veteran member of the Floydada School faculty, is attending the summer session at Wayland college. Plainview, where she registered Monday. A Negro, Mrs. Taylor was the first of her race to ask admission to the plains Baptist church school. In a board meeting held last week her application was acted upon favorably when it was learned her qualifications standing was equal to the requirements of the school. Opening the way for Mrs. Taylor's admission was a vote by the college trustees that "the academic facilities of Wayland college will be opened to all races." The school has several students of other nationalities attending from foreign lands on scholarships. Earl Allen, pastor of the First Baptist church, of Floydada, attended the board meeting which passed on the question of admitting Mrs. Taylor to Wayland college.

Mrs. Taylor and her husband, Charles, junior for Floydada Theatre, have resided in Floydada a family of five children, two of whom are in college at Prairie View and one in army service. They have owned their home for many years. Mrs. Taylor has been teacher of elementary grades in the North Ward school since it was opened 24 years ago. During the early years of the ward school's operation, she also taught other grades through necessity of the scholastics, while it was a one-teacher school.

Mrs. Taylor's admission to the Wayland student body made news headlines throughout the country. Three other negroes were also admitted following her lead in seeking educational facilities.

County Board Adds Campbell and Baker Districts to Floydada

At the county board meeting of Floyd county in the county court room Monday afternoon, two school districts which had been dormant for the past two years, were consolidated with the Floydada Independent School district. They were Baker and Campbell. This was in accordance with the Gilmer-Aiken bill, requiring districts that have been dormant for two years to be consolidated with

Drill Rotates Below 9,800 at Lackey Wildcat

Drill at the J. S. Lackey oil test by Houston Oil company of Texas two and a half miles northwest of Cedar yesterday morning was bottomed below 9,834 feet and drilling away in lime and chert, the latter a hard flintlike substance. The contract depth reportedly at 9,800 feet is thus passed by several feet. Drillers are said to have had the go ahead signal.

A coring from the well, on display at the Hagoods Department store yesterday afternoon, looked hard and flint-like and had a saline taste when placed to the tongue. The fact that the drill is continuing to go down on the Cedar Hill Wildcat and that prices on leases and royalty continue firm lends encouragement to belief that informed oil men still have confidence in the possibilities in that area as well as in other parts of the county.

The east-central Hale county test on the Charles Clements land, six miles south of Plainview, a report Tuesday night said, had no shows of oil or gas in a test made at 8,623-88 feet. Recovery was 90 feet of drilling mud. The drill was in an unidentified lime, said the report.

In northeast Crosby county the Tidewater Oil company and associates L. C. Hickman test, slated to go 8,500 feet, was drilling below 7,390 feet in shale, with no shows reported. This test is 13 miles northeast of Crosbyton and about the same distance south of Dougherty in Floyd county.

No further reports had been heard here as late as yesterday afternoon on a test that has been reported as ready to stake in an area immediately north of Floydada. Both Cities Service and Stanolind are considerably interested in this area and both have been reported as interested in getting a test started. No official word from either has been had at The Hesperian office.

Jones' army rank is major. He is an infantryman. Since the war and his return to civilian life Major Jones has been employed with the State Highway department here in the resident engineer's office.

LEAVES FOR JAPAN

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Vickers received a telephone call from their son, Pfc. Jimmy Vickers, from Seattle last Thursday night, saying he was leaving for Japan. The family have not had any other news from Jimmy. He visited with his parents here about two weeks ago, and left here for Fort Lawton.

Weather continued to be favorable to the development and maturing wheat crop in Floyd county this week, and the acreage that was not abandoned early in the season and not too thin is promising a fair to good yield, some crops excellent, a few unusually good. So goes the story in reports received at The Hesperian office.

On some of the irrigated farms the yield will be larger than in a number of years, and there is an estimated 30 thousand to 40 thousand acres of the crop under irrigation. Cool, cool nights in the past week, apparently not too damaging to cotton have been high allies of the maturing crop of grain.

This week indications pointed to the probability that an occasional acreage on favored or high ground will be harvested this week-end. A few trial runs are reported from over the county. Late Tuesday M. H. Martin made a trial run in his wheat cutting a round. He got 62 sound wheat but with a moisture test of 15, too high for the market. This crop is adjacent to Floydada, a mile southeast, Glenn Jarnigan, four miles east, also has a small part of his grain crop that will go to market soon. The damp, cold winds have prevented the crop from maturing as fast as was indicated last mid-week. Temperatures have been remarkably low for early June. Low reported for the week was in the sixties on four successive days.

Wednesday's showers did not affect the crop adversely, said some farmers in the Pleasant Hill area a few large hail stones which fell at high noon threw a scare into wheat growers in that area, where many dry land crops are looking good. Hail as large as eggs fell adjacent to the Nichols farm at Pleasant Hill on the route of G. M. Shirey, Carrier on Route 5. Shirey who made a dinner stop there, found the hail stones still as large as pullet eggs forty-five minutes after the hail had fallen. He picked up eight of the stones which, melted, made more than a teacup full of water. They were smooth, not the slug type, he said. The hail fell scattering only and in a light breeze. No damage is reported.

Frank Probasco and his son Gene have a new variety of wheat on their Barwise farm, in which there are some five-grain meshes already developed. Frank said about 30 acres. He would not guess at the yield. "Wait until I harvest it," he said.

Macy's and Gimballs seem far away from Floydada but their recent spree of selling "fair priced" goods at reduced prices has set off a chain of thought reaction over the nation that may be that long awaited change in the psychology of the people. For ten years it has been a seller's market. The reduced price battle may be a well-thought scheme of the big department stores in the nation's money capital to get retail business back on a merchandising basis after all these years. What touched it off was the Supreme courts' decision that a merchandiser is not bound by a "fair price" rule of a manufacturer that he has not consented to. It is a long-established custom or rule of merchandising, and every state in the union has a fair trades act in line with the plan, except three. Texas is one of the states where "fair pricing" has not been adopted as a rule of law. Strong opposition to the "fair trades act" has developed every year for many years in this state. A bill that would make fair trades policies effective in this state has been dropped into the legislative hopper every biennium for a quarter of a century or so.

We have yet to find the retailer who is not trying to go along with OPS regulations and yet to find one who does not think the whole thing is a futile gesture that will not benefit anybody. We have not seen all the retailers, not even all the local retailers, to ask about their attitudes and beliefs. But we have talked to a good many. One of the developments in the hog market, another, important adjunct of local business is that the hog buyer now has to call his market (the packer) before he ships a load to see if they can accept the shipment. When the packer has slaughtered his "quota" he has to quit, whether the pens are full of hogs or not, and he tells the Floydada man not to ship. They do not have the room, says the packer. We have not gone down to the stockpens to see for ourselves whether the packer is telling the truth, but he is in the slaughtering business and it would be a peculiar thing for a man to say he can't handle any more business if he can. It doesn't work that way with you or me. At the same time making hogs scarcer and cheaper by law does not seem to be the answer to us. Does it to you?

The federal regulations which expire on June 30 are likely to be continued by the congress but whether on an increased and tightened basis yet does not appear clear. We wish the average citizen would go to the trouble to inform himself on what the executive department is seeking. If we understand the reports and analyses being given out, the bureaus and commissions would have control to the extent that you would have to be licensed before you could even open up a new business, or purchase or sell real estate. Rents would be raised or lowered in any locality in the judgment of the controllers. Remember, the president is getting all the cussing for these things but there is also the congress. There is a man from your congressional district who must vote for or against these things, and he is getting to spend mighty little time back out where the hogs are raised and the wheat is grown these days.

Wayland college's vote last week that "the academic facilities of Wayland college will be open to all races" will doubtless bring up a lot of talk, some it heated pro and con. The colored teacher who made the application for entrance into the college's summer school is Annie Taylor, who with her husband Charlie has reared a family in Floydada, has two of them in college at Prairie View, and has taught in the North Ward school here since enough boys and girls of the Negro race moved into the community to justify or require such. The teachers, colored and white alike, have an incentive to attend school and keep raising their scholastic standing. This comes about under the new public school laws in Texas. It will be a break for Annie if she can attend Wayland and do her summer work toward a degree instead of having to go to Prairie View as she has had to do in years previous. Associated press gave considerable space to the news of the development and Time indicated an interest in the story also.

La Ventana Study Club Ends Year With Installation

The La Ventana Study club of Lone Star held their closing meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Raymond Teple, with Mrs. A. H. Suiter as co-hostess, on May 29.

The president, Mrs. W. H. Johnston, asked Mrs. W. T. Rankin to preside. The year's work was reviewed and the complete financial report was given by the treasurer. All the projects under Mrs. Johnston's administration were completed, although we did not attain all the heights she aspired to for us. Great progress has been made and we feel the year's program has been rightly guided and well done.

The club feels ready for a brief summer rest, and have great hopes and plans for the coming year of good fellowship and good service by each member, beginning September 11, 1951.

This being installation day, the program was chosen by the chairman. As a last service to us, as our president, Mrs. Johnston gave a book review, Perry Burgess's, "Who Walk Alone." It was very ably presented.

Mrs. Ernest Tibbetts, of Plainview, was the installing officer for the officers for the new year 1951-1952. This formal service brought to each member as well as to the officers, a clear perspective of the duties, we owe our club, community and nation.

Club Organized In 1937
The Le Ventana Study club was organized April 27, 1937, with Mrs. Tibbetts helping to complete the organization, with 14 charter members. We chose to meet on the second and fourth Tuesdays from September thru May, as our meeting dates for each club year. We were admitted to the state federation and general federation in October, 1937, with 17 members. Since we are entirely rural, we are happy to report a membership to date of 23, all active members, with seven of these as charter members. For the past three years, we can boast of being 100.00 subscribers to the "Club Woman."

Scrap From Farms Will Help In Production of Defense Equipment

WANTED: All the iron and steel scrap that is lying dormant on farms, such as obsolete, broken and worn out equipment and other accumulated material. It is urgently needed to maintain and increase the output of steel plants and foundries. More scrap means more steel!

If steel mills and foundries are to achieve any increase in production over the present high level, all available farm scrap must be started moving off the farms, says the Committee on Iron and Steel Scrap, of American Iron and Steel Institute.

Farmers everywhere can help toward more steel by scrapping their obsolete equipment and selling it promptly to a local scrap dealer, with other iron and steel scrap from their farms. It will be used to make steel for defense equipment and essential civilian items.

The need is urgent. Steel plants and foundries are now using record quantities of scrap. Every day in 1951 about 98,000 tons of purchased scrap are being used. Never before have such large quantities been required. The need will increase, for capacity is scheduled to increase sharply over the next year. Farms have always been a source of scrap and during war when drives were organized agricultural areas yielded tonnages of scrap to help win the conflict.

Farmers are asked to take scrap now to town and sell to scrap dealers. If the scrap is usually bulky, preventing transportation by the farmer, scrap dealer can be called. Arrangements can be made with the local farm agent to get the dealer.

Farms are one of the primary sources of the scrap that is required by steel companies, foundries, auto wrecker factories and railroads as one of the other major sources. More scrap from farms means more steel!

I SHALL TAKE NOTICE

I shall take notice daily of the things That God has placed on earth for us to see.

The lovely everyday things: wind and wings,
The symmetry some wide-spreading tree,
The clouds that move in rhythmic unison,
The wayside flowers as I pass them by,
The sunset colors when the day is done,
The stars that nightly move across the sky.

I think it must please God to have us note
The things He has created with great care.
So much of beauty is as if He wrote
His poems out upon the listening air
With His own hands, for those who will to read:
Surely He wants His children all to heed.

I think it about time Winnye Angus made another report on the beauties of Floydada and someone needs to take time to report also on the towns of Ralls and Lorenza, there is so many beautiful flowers, shrubs and trees. Surely He wants His children all to heed!

The old settlers have had their day in Floydada and they are still a hardy, healthy lot for it took some one strong to eat all that large plate prepared by the Demonstration Club women. Chicken roasted to a turn, potatoes in a white hill surrounded by green beans, a heavenly salad, chicken dressing in a heap and gravy poured over. Two fat prunes, golden apricot preserves, ice cream and ice tea. Now if I left anything out, I am sorry, but many asked the women if they had to share with another. Thanks a lot, Demonstration ladies for a fine dinner, well prepared and served.

The last week it seemed as if watering the garden was like pouring a little stream of water on a great big fire. The wind blew and the water left the earth almost as soon as put on. But somehow the vegetables withstood the wind and the heat and look fairly well this Monday morning.

West Texas is having a fine time lately of changing her weather mind. We turn on the air conditioner to light again the floor furnaces and the gloves. To freeze or not to freeze; to melt with heat or not melt, ladies and gentlemen that is the question before the house.

The Promised Land.
When the Society of Friends came to Estacado following their leader, Paris Cox, they intended making a great colony of religious and education advantages for their sons and daughters. They called the new town Maryetta but later changed to Estacado. At that time there were not more than ten or twelve families in a radius of 200 miles on the plains. We read the names of some of them and find them all recorded in the 1890 census. The Paris Cox family, The Underhills, the Matt Hadleys, Seth Janeway, Isaiah Cox and the little daughter, Mary Ellen, who was the first to be laid away in the new cemetery at Estacado, dying from snake bite. Such a short time these good people lived in our country, yet they left a record of schools and churches, farming and making gardens, and also left some of their children who married with the other settlers. The Friends left, were many of them we have no record, but in a little book called "The Promised Land," written by Frances Jacob Smith's daughter, Edith B. McGinnis. She says her father came to Estacado with his family in 1888. After Paris Cox died Frank Brown helped Mrs. Cox with her cattle.

The Quakers went through many hardships on the plains, their brave leader died. The winters were long and cold. They burnt buffalo chips and mesquite wood from the breaks.

Mrs. McGinnis has this to say about their leaving: "The Quakers were leaving, but they had fulfilled their purpose. They had led the way to agriculture, and had taken religion and education to the South Plains."

Frank Brown wanted a new colony started and was led to South Texas and we find some of our Crosby County our Quaker friends enduring new hardships for another beginning, around Alvin Texas. The Alistus Lewis family, and son-in-law, M. M. Cox had already arrived. The Quakers leaving the cold of the plains for the sunny south found a two to three inch snow, the first in 60 years.

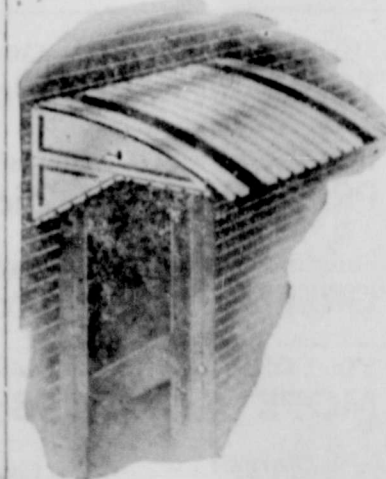

They established their new colony and called it Friendswood. We meet again Mat and Cass Hadley and their two adopted children, Lizzie and John. We hear the Lewis family talking, Nancy the patient little wife saying as they shivered in their newest home, and I am pretty sure Nancy was tired of pioneering by this time, "Does thee think we could go any farther south?" and Alistus laughingly said, "We'd have to jump in the Gulf of Mexico if we went any farther south." T. H. Lewis was there, also with him his wife Hand and Emma they were called and their two children Floy and Glenn. We see them building new houses a gleam in their eyes as they had back at Estacado, they saw homes and churches and schools and the land growing with crops. Miss Elva Lewis, we knew her as teacher in Estacado was now Mrs. Cox and she organized a literary society as on the plains. Grace Lewis and brother, Waldo taught the school and we recall that their sister, Rosa, was a teacher in Penn College almost all her life.

The burying ground was started here as back in Estacado with tragedy. A tree as it was felled, killed a man by the name of Newton and the first grave was in the Friendswood cemetery. The Galveston flood of 1900 came, and almost wrecked the colony, but they rebuilt as we find in the Bible, when the temple was built, every one contributing the best he had and all had a mind to work. They built a church in the shape of a Maltese Cross.

We also find in this very readable book of The Promised Land, that the Charlie Holmes family went to Wichita, Kansas so they would be near Friends University. Here we leave Friendswood, a small place between Galveston and Houston, a part of the Plains, Crosby County settlers, in a new home and making it the Promised Land as they did not get to do here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murry and children left Monday for Loveland, Colorado to make their home. Mr. Murry will be connected with a contracting firm out of Denver. He has been with the Oden Chevelet company since he has been in Floydada.

as the exception, the cotton crop that went into the ground in the last week of May and the first two days of June is showing up wonderfully with the greatest per centage of good stands in many years, according to the reports. Rows are shining from end to end with perfect stands, free of weeds and plenty of moisture underneath for all present needs. A half inch of rain to set the ground around the tender plants would be just exactly ideal in practically any field. The occasional field that got by the heavy rains of May is running up and putting on foliage well despite the five-day cool wave, general over the area. Feed and forage crops also are beginning to show up well in the fields.

Self-Employed SS Coverage Is Compulsory

Old-age and survivors insurance is not optional for self-employed persons, John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock Social Security office, pointed out.

Mr. Hutton said there had been some misunderstanding regarding persons working for themselves in their own trade or business, or as partners in such enterprises.

If you are self-employed and receive as much as $400 in net profit from your business or businesses in any taxable year after December 31, 1950, your Social Security coverage is compulsory by law, Mr. Hutton said.

He also pointed out that the only exceptions are income derived from practice as a physician, lawyer, dentist, osteopath, chiropractor, apothecary, naturopath, veterinarian, architect, CPA licensed, registered or full-time practicing public accountant, Christian Science practitioner, professional engineer or funeral director.

Self-employed persons do not report themselves with the employer. This income must be reported annually on income-tax form 1040 Schedule C, especially revised for this purpose. The first report is due March 15, 1952, covering self-employment income for the taxable year 1951.

Payable along with the report is tax. This tax is 2 1/2 per cent of the first $3,600 net business profit. For business partners, the tax is levied on the first $3,600 of the distributive share of the partnership net profits, whether or not the profits are distributed.

A representative of the Social Security administration will be in Floydada at the post office on Wednesday at 9:00 a.m. and will be glad to assist anyone in matters pertaining to Social Security.

Scholastic Numbers Another Deep Test Dwindle in Motley Staked in Crosby

MATADOR.—Schools in Motley county need more scholastics if they are to remain in business on the present scale. A few years ago the county had approximately 2,000 students while the scholastic population for the entire county is but 850 for the 1951-52 term.

News of Harmony

(By Mrs. Roy Hollums)

HARMONY, June 4th.—Well our summer's and winters are full of surprises. Part of this last week was so warm folks were very uncomfortable and again Saturday night and Sunday it was the opposite. But we are thankful for an opportunity to get our crops replanted. Most everyone is through of just about through replanting and watching the clouds, anxiously hoping the rain will be postponed until the seeds have time to come up. The high winds this past week have made it very hard on those with hay to be mowed and baled.

Captain Weldon D. Edwards of Brooks Field, San Antonio, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edwards, this past week. Captain Edwards was taken seriously ill Friday night just after supper at the home of his parents and was rushed to the hospital at Reese Air Force base, where an appendix operation was performed. He was reported Sunday morning as resting satisfactorily.

Congratulations are in order for Mr. and Mrs. Dan Krause on the arrival of a new daughter at West Texas hospital. Also for Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Freeman of Amarillo on the arrival of a new daughter on May 25th, at St. Marys hospital in Amarillo. The little girl weighed 8 pounds and was named La Dena

Fay. Her mother is the former LaRue Williams of this community.

Friends visiting with Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ramsey Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Seth Waddell of Bentonville Arkansas, Horace Carr, Mrs. Mather Carr, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gary and Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey and family. Mr. and Mrs. Waddell are former residents of Harmony, their home being the one now owned by Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Williams. The Waddells moved away in 1923.

Visitors with Mrs. Mather Carr Wednesday were Miss Anna Carr, Mrs. M. W. Heard, Mrs. Erx Williams and Miss Nancy Patterson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Roberson visited Mrs. Roy Hollums Friday morning.

A number of ladies from this community attended the frozen food demonstration in the R.E.A. kitchen Friday. Among those attending were Mmes. Chloma Williams, Zant Scott, Everett Miller, R. B. Gary, Sherwood Ramsey, James Jefferies, and Roy Hollums. This demonstration was very interesting and helpful to families having home freezers. We offer our sincere thanks to members of the R.E.A. organization, Mrs. Morcel and the P.H.A. supervisors for making this demonstration possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hale and sons are enjoying their beautiful new home. They moved into it this past week and are busy getting settled. This is one of the prettiest and newest homes of this community.

They invite every child in the community to come and be in this school, which will be held each morning from 9 to 11. The school will end Saturday, June 9.

There was a mistake in the Zone meeting date in this column last week. The date for the zone meeting will be Friday June 8, instead of the 6 and will be at Lakeview, Hale county.

Brother Horace Krebb, the new pastor of Cone-Carrs Chapel, will preach at Carrs Chapel next Sunday.

We don't have to show the wife who's master in our house. She knows!

DENNIS DILLARD, MARINE WOULD LIKE TO BE HOME

Mrs. Mary Lee Dillard has had a letter from her son, Dennis, who is serving with a Marine detachment aboard the Aircraft carrier USS Philippine Sea (CV-47), which has been in Korean waters 11 months. It is due to the states soon and Dennis hopes to be home by Christmas.

Dennis writes "No one will ever have to worry about me joining anything else. I am ready to get home and out and hope I will be by Christmas."

Dennis's duties consist of guard duty. He is a gunner on a 20 MM anti-air craft machine gun.

The letter was written May 22 and he has been in Korean Waters for eight days. Dennis would be glad to hear from his friends.

She said that if he was her husband she'd give him poison; and he said that if she was his wife he'd take it.

WHAT GOOD IS AN Unregistered Pedigree?

Your Tractor Serial Number is its Register of Pedigree

You know what happens to the value of pedigreed stock that isn't registered. Then what about a tractor without a serial number?

Tractors produced by present day manufacturers leave the plants of their origin with serial numbers that are intended to identify them for life.

That serial number helps establish the tractor's value, whether new or used. As a general practice banks and finance companies want a tractor's serial number before they will lend money on it and insurance companies want it before they will issue a policy.

A serial number helps the manufacturer determine if a tractor is within its warranty period. This is your protection... you are not left "high and dry."

The tractor's serial number is a guide in getting the right replacement parts quickly and without mistakes. If your tractor is stolen, the serial number is the best means of tracing and identifying it.

From the day you buy your tractor until the day you sell or trade it in, its serial number is your protection and guarantee. Without it, your investment has no assured value.

It will pay you to make sure your new tractor has a pedigree... a serial number. We hope it will be a Ford Tractor.

"Some day I'm going to own a Roadmaster"

ONE thing that interests us mightily is the fact that so many people are stepping up, when they buy automobiles. We've been looking at surveys, and it seems that just about everyone wants a better car than the one he's now driving. So we know how you feel, and we'd like to help you make your dreams come true. We'd like you to discover how fine a fine car can be. We'd like you to stretch out in the room of a ROADMASTER—feel the luxury of its double-depth cushions—stroke the fine texture of its fabrics. We'd like you to know the proud levelness of its ride—and its gentle obedience to your hand on the wheel.

We'd like to show you the many extras this custom-built Buick provides—at no extra charge when we come to make out a bill of sale. But above all, we'd like you to experience two thrills found exclusively in ROADMASTERS. One is the smooth might of its Fireball Engine. The other is the supreme simplicity of Dynaflo Drive, which is, incidentally, one of the many features included in the price. We try to hold down our enthusiasm in talking about this masterful beauty. We might claim—you'll find more room—more comfort—more luxury—a smoother ride—more conveniences—more thrill in a ROADMASTER than in any other car in the fine-car field. But why spoil the thrill of discovery? Come find out for yourself how completely a 1951 ROADMASTER fulfills the dreams of the car you hope sometime to own. And let us whisper something to you: The cost of making this step to ROADMASTER ownership is less than most people believe.
