> Roy Lester Snodgrass, 55, of 3301 South Harrison street, Amarillo, passed away at his home on July 1, at 1 a.m., after a short illness, having suffered a heart attack. Mr. Snodgrass had not been well for the past year, but still continued his work with the office of Price Stabilization in Lubbock. He and Mrs. Snodgrass had just returned home on Friday evening from Lubbock, where they had made arrangement to move in the next few days.

Funeral service for Mr. Snodgrass was held from the Methodist church here, where he had membership, on Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock with Reverend Dick O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Big Spring, officiating, assisted by R.

Earl Allen, pastor of the First Baptist church of Floydada, and Tilden B. Armstrong, pastor of First Meth-odist church. Pailbearers were J. H. Reagan, Edd Johnson, Ulmer White, Jack Henry, W. L. A general rain, on the right night, in the right amount, and in ideal pattern, with no hail or wind, covered Floyd county and the area Monday morning from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock and left cotton and feed crop farmers jubilant over the prospect of a good crop year.

An inch to 2.20 inches of rain fell throughout the area reporting to The Hesperian, At Floydada the fall was measured to 1.5 inches by Chief Carl Rodgers at the city hall.

No portion of Floyd or any of the adjacent counties was left dry. It was the first big general rain to fall in many years on the first of July, after wheat harvest was practically complete, after cotton and feed was all planted and up to a good start, and before the growing crops began to suffer for lack of moisture.

If you think that government and politics are "dirty" and beneath your consideration reflect this fall and winter over the changes that the laws passed by the last legislature will bring about in many phases of the social and political life which you live. More than 500 laws or changes in laws, including constitutional amendment resolutions became the law of the land or are put up to you for consideration and vote during the period of the next sixteen months or so. Boats, boilers, bombs, bonds and warrants, veterans land fund, corporations, chiropody, civil defense, civil service, communism, elections, fire prevention, gambling, guardianship and administration of estates, housing, labor, motor vehicles, railroads, and, safety, are among the subjects on which one or more laws each were passed, according to a compilation by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce last week. In addition eight constitutional amendments are due to be voted upon. Also 14 laws were passed which will affect the handling of the affairs of all counties in the state. All of these things are entitled to have the serious consideration of every adult in the state. The type of laws which are passed biennially to meet changing conditions will be determined by the type of men chosen to pass them-a matter that is directly up to you. Is your own welfare too "dirty" for you to give it thought?

People in this area of Texas evidently are aminded not to let last year's toll paid the insects be repeated this year in their cotton fields. Last year in the state the insects robbed the farms of 948,000 bales of cotton and 396,000 tons of cottonseed, according to the estimate of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics. The bill in dollars and cents was more than $200 million. Whether the bugaboo will look so large that the man out in the field will over-spend this year considering the results he gets, is also to be considered. In the immediate area of Floyd and surrounding counties the crop looks mighty good and it would be a shame to let the insects have it. So think all, and in accord with this thinking they are acting. Some cotton men report that what they expected to be sure fire killers for some of the insects are turning out disappointingly. However, they are still experimenting. The bill, we cannot help but repeat, is going to be a high one. The cotton crop better be a good one. -0

Much interesting reading these days about rain- making in the southwest and on the mountain slopes in New Mexico, Colorado and around. The cloud seeders are re- the expiration of forty-two days porting not only two to three times as much rain when the cloud formations are right as when and if nature is left to handle the job unassisted, but also that the rains fall gently and over a longer period of time. This last A. D. 1951, in this cause, numbered fact is of great benefit in the matter of soil erosion, longer lasting moisture in the ground from a gentle fall and the probability of less hail. One salient claim is that seeding the clouds and getting more moisture over a given area does not rob any of the neighboring areas, because there is always a great deal more moisture in the atmosphere than can possibly be squeezed out of it by any presently-known method. One intriguing phase of the study is the possible changes that may be brought about in the high plains and other western areas through inducing increased rainfall.

Among the new regulations a national law that becomes effective July 9- a considerably revised Selective Service act. This is due to make changes in the status, militarily speaking, of an extensive list of persons in Floyd county who are in the age limits. The pros and cons of selective military service have been explored for many years by the congress and this last law evolves from conferences and debates extending over many, many months. Practically every sentence in the law is a compromise of conflicting convictions. None of it is carelessly or hurriedly done. It illustrates the ultimate in the form of government which we maintain in America. Not that there won't be changes.

Just how many thousands of acres of good Floyd county cotton was destroyed in the wind and hail of last Friday night has not been learned here but the angry weather took a toll on several farms in the area below the caprock where the equal of the finest is always grown. The hail seemed to hit hardest in the area between Los Linguish and Quitague creeks and sweep on southeastward to do a lot of damage to the great crops growing in the vicinity of Flomot. Contrasting was the Sunday night rainfall which came gently and did a great deal of good throughout the county.

Oh, mercy, our stomachs, used to Texas clocks, had a sinking sensation. But we were repaid a hundred fold as we got our plates and marched by the long tables where barbeque, sonof-a-gun stew, red beans, pickles, salad, cake, pies and cookies soon had our plates piled high. And what barbeque and what stew and red beans! Only the ones who really know-how can even begin to cook these old ranch favorites.

Prentice Harris was the barbeque cook and we put him in our estimation with our beloved Uncle Tom Franklin of Emma picnic days as a meat cook. We tried to persuade the young lawyer son of the family who is assistant to the state attorney of New Mexico to come to Texas and get him a wife as the girls of California and New Mexico had failed. Major Dalton Harris and wife were there. He is also a nephew of Harve's. He did some jumping out over Africa and Italy in a parachute from a plane during War II. George Fawver and his boys and daughter were there. The Ray Reeds and daughter's families and Annie Assiter and Teddy Assiter were going down that barbeque line with their plates and tin cans for coffee. Surprising isn't it, how many people claimed a reason for going to the H-V Barbeque? And that coffee must have been just right, for I heard a man, Mr. Bailey, that claimed a century of living and coffee drinking that whoever made this coffee was sparing on the water. And it was good and

The road Harve and his wife have travelled in Eastern New Mexico has not been too smooth all the way. There have been stops and detours as well as easy going on the H-V ranch. There was the time 150 head of H-V cattle died along with other cattle all over the country. But did the loss of that many cattle daunt a Harris? Harve sharpened up his skinning knife and started out getting the stiff hides off the cattle. He skinned his cattle and he got $4 a day for he was a good skinner and did not care how hard he worked. He could get as many hides as 25 a day. At the end the Harris family had the loss replaced, a new shiny buggy to ride in and a new house to live in. Harve decided he could skin cattle faster than he could raise them No, the Harris family never sat down and cried over a loss. They turned it somehow to gain and Saturday friends and neighbors sat with them at the ranch house and enjoyed the fine old-time brand of

How to Battle Poliomyelitis Told By Cox

Austin. Texas—During the first five and one-half months of this year 283 cases of poliomyelitis, polio for short, have been reported to the Texas State department of health. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, state health officer, has issued the following methods of transmitting the disease may not be known, however, sufficient information is at hand to demand certain percautions and these inc lude personal hygiene and campaigns for sanitation improvements.

Stringent efforts should be made to eliminate house-flies, mosquitoes, and rodents and to destroy their breeding places. Every effort should be made to institute approved garbage collection systems, and secure safe water supplies. Where adequate municipal sewage disposal systems are not in operation, it is necessary to install and maintain sanitary septic tanks and outdoor privies. All raw foods and vegetables should be washed throughly before use and protected from filth and insects. All food handling establishments should adhere strictly to the State law concerning the sterilization of dishes and utensils. Those restaurants with insufficient personnel to maintain approved sanitation, should close one or two hours a day so that employees can assist in maintaining cleanliness and high sanitation standards.

Over-exertion in children should be avoided. Children chould not visit homes where there is illness. Early symptoms of infantile paralysis are headache, fever, vomiting, drowsiness, followed by stiffness in the neck and back. When suspicious symptons appear, a physician should be called immediately

How to make Wise Tracks to a Beauty

How do you buy a new car?

Are you one of those people who buy on love at first sight?

Or do you check cars feature for feature, price for price-then pick the one that gives you the most for your money?

Whichever you are, we'd like to suggest that you come in and see our 1951 Buicks.

It's a sure bet you'll go for the swift, smart look of a SPECIAL, SUPER or ROADMASTER -fall seriously in love with the pace and power of its bonnet-filling engine.

And it's a cinch you'll go for the room and richness of those Buick interiors-the screne smoothness of Dynaflow Drive* and all-coil springing.

But don't let your emotion be the only judge - get the practical picture too.

Note that the power that gives you such a big kick here comes from Buick's famed valve-in-head Fireball Engine - which means you get a lot of miles from each gallon of gas you buy.

Note that the silken ease you enjoy with Dynaflow* goes hand in hand with real money savings in maintenance costs.

Above all, note what a Buick's price tag includes - how much more sheer automobile you get in a Buick than the same money would buy elsewhere.

How about making tracks to our showroom right soon-checking thoroughly into the matter-and see if you don't fall in love with a smart-buy Buick?

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notic #Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

No Fish Left If 'Hot Rod' Fishing Allowed

Fred Williams, sport editor of th Austin Stateman-American

"The news item the other day about the latest depredation against fish life probably made a lot of people snicker. Maybe even a few thought they might like to try the stunt sometime

"First off, let's get it straight! This so-called hot rod fishing is as illegal as using dynamite. Because the state law specifically limits the means of taking fish. If it didn't there wouldn't be fish left in our lakes and in streams very long.

"Of course, some think it is cute and ingenious for "sportsmen" to go to the trouble of rigging up a magneta-battery outfit with a rod to charge the water and knock out the fish

"Real conservationists and sportsmen know that this isn't cuts. Frankly, it poses just another threat to our wildlife in an era when the fish and the game animals are struggling to withstand the impact of civilization.

"Actually, Texas has just about the most generous fishing laws in the land. There is no closed season on most species and in most areas. There are generous limits on the number of fish that may be caught. There are generous limits on the number of hooks and lines one may use.

"In other words, the laws were designed for the benefit of the Texas folks who like to get out on the lakes and streams. They can still exist indefinitely to that end, providing the populance resists the urge to cheat and futhermore helps see to it that the other fellow stays

BARBERS TAKE NOTE

Dallas, Texas, May 29- Beards are fashionable when our culture is romantic, while men are clean-shaven during periods or rationalism, says Thomas F. Mayo in the Summer issue of "Southwest Review," just published.

From twenty years of research, Professor Mayo, who teaches Eng-lish at Texas A. & M., has found that wearing beards is an exclusively romantic custom. Beards were fashionable in the twelfth, thirteenth, sixteenth, the early part of the seventeenth, and the nineteenth, cnturies-all romantic ages-when the difference between the sexes was accentuated, and beards were worn as a gesture of virility.

Western culture has been rationalistic since 1900, but now the pendulum is beginning to swing back toward romanticism. So watch for beards again.

NEW GIANT ATOM SMASHER UNDERGOES INITIAL TESTS

Satisfactory initial tests of the University of Chicago's $2,500,000 synchrocyclotron, giant atom smasher, have been made after three and one-half years spent on design and construction, Samuel K. Allison, director of the Universitly's Institute for Nuclear Studies, announced.

Deuterons, the nuclei of heavy hydrogen atoms, have been accelerated to an energy of 250 million electron volts, the highest known energy ever achieved artificiallyq with these atomic particles. Herbert L. Anderson, professor of physics in the Institute, and John Marshall, assistant professor, who directed design and construction of the big accelerator, conducted the tests

Next step in getting the Chicago instrument into final working order will be to produce a focussed beam of protons, the nuclei of ordinary hydorogen. In the test, the deuterons were not brought outside the magnetic field.

The energy attained with deuterons indicates the synchrocyclotron will accelerate protons to energies of the order of 450 million electronvolts, making it the most powerful accelerator of positive ions in the western world.

AUSTIN-The Floyd County school board trustees have the authority to consolidate six elementary common school districts into one without an election, Attorney-General Price Daniel has ruled.

John B. Stapleton of Floydada.

August 21, 1946, the Floyd County school board had set up the Lockney Rural High School District No. A by grouping the following common school districts:

Lockney No. A, Ramsey No. 27, Pleasant Valley No. 2, Irick No. 1, Prairie Chapel No. 25 and Sterley No. 30

But no school of any sort, elementary or otherwise, has been operated in any of the elementary districts, except the Lockney Common School District No. A, since the sch-olastic year 1946-47. The Lockney elementary school has operated under control of the rural high school district trustees.

The board now wants to consolidate the other five common districts into the Lockney No. A common district.

The questions arose partly from a dilemma over the Gilmer-Aikin 'dormant school" statute, which provides that the county board of trustees shall consolidate each dormant district with an adjoining district. That doesn't apply to active rural high school districts, even though some of their component parts might be inactive, the opinion prepared by Assistant Attorney General Chester Ollison held.

If there has been less than 20 pupils in the five inactive districts for two seccessive years since 1946-47 school year, the school board may abolish or consolidate the districts without an election.

Chrysler Campaign Farm Workers Will Cover 3,000 Counties of U.S.

Because of the effectiveness of the newspaper advertising campaigns during the first half of 1951 Chrysler will use more than 3,000 newspapers public, reports John H. Caron, director of advertising, Chrysler division. Chrysler corporation.

Representing a combined circulat- | during July. ion of over 51,000,000, the newspaper imum circulation penetration into the more than 3,000 counties in the United States that are served by Chrysler dealers.

"The effectiveness of our hardhitting advertising program has helped build public acceptance so thoroughly that Chrysler dealers at present have about 35,000 firm orders for our FirePower V-8 models," Caron reported. "In fact Chrysler dealers in some cities are being forced to return deposits because they have been unable to supply demand." Among the newspapers which Chrysler will use is the Floyd County Hesperian.

Gas Co. Seeks Small Increase

C. I. Wall, president of West Texas Gas company, announced Monday his company has filed a petition with the Texas Railroad commission for an increase in its general service rate.

Mr. Wall said that "for sometime we have been concerned over the fact that ever increasing costs of material, labor, taxes, gas purchased for resale, etc., might make it necessary to request an upward adjustment in our general service rate.' He stated further that "since the company began operation in the fall of 1927 several downward adjustments in rates have been made-the last reduction being made in 1940."

This is the first general service rate increase to be requested by the company.

A proposed rate has been filed with the petition to the Railroad Commission-a copy of which is being presented to the mayors of the towns the company serves. The proposed rate increase would not increase the present minimum charge which is $1.25 per month for the first two thousand cubic feet used. Twenty-three per cent of the bills rendered to residential and business customers are for two thousand cubic feet or less.

To show the effect of the rate increase the company has made application of the new rate to the act-, ual annual consumption of over seven hundred residences representing several from evry town served. The average annual residential consumption for the calender year 1950 was 86MCF.

Taking the first fifty examples cited in each of several groups, arranged by annual consumption, the following average annual increases will occur

Annual consumption 41 to 60 thousand cubic feet, annual increase in bill $2.82; Annual consumption 61 to 80 thousand cubic feet, annual increase in bill $4.55 Annual consumption 81 to 100 thousand cubic feet, annual increase in bill $5.99:

Annual consumption 101 to 150 thousand cubic feet, annual increase in bill $8.13.
