As of the early part of the week progress of truce talks between United Nations, North and South Koreans and Chinese "volunteers" were still in progress with reports of reasonable success. United Nations representatives, who insisted on the disarming of the neutral spot at which the talks were held and demanded that newspapermen and photographers representing both camps be permitted to be present, were probably not ready to let the whole matter drop on these two counts. On the other hand the Communists were busily demanding this and that and acting the bully generally, and there appeared to be nothing left to do but to put a stop to that kind of tactics. U. N. negotiators and military observers are not sure even yet that the North Koreans and their allies want a truce. Since the given word of the Communist to date has been worthless this one may be another of the same brand. One newsman wise-cracked that the admiral who is chairman of the truce delegation of the U. N. insisted on the presence of Allied newsmen so he could have something to censor—their dispatches of course.

On the Dallas and Fort Worth "milk shed", meaning the area from which these city people get their milk to drink as produced on the farms and in the dairy lots of several counties, they are going to take a vote. Something about controls and how the federal government will have to say about the price, the way the milk is delivered, and things of the kind. The federal man from Washington has already been down and made arrangements for the manner in which the vote will be handled. He will let the voters know when the date is for them to vote. There have been considerable controversy and some strong words used in connection with the hearings which have gone on rather interminably for weeks and months. We are glad to be far enough away from it that we do not know the details of who wants the government into the management of the milk business more than to see that the public health is protected.

Warfarin, which prevents clotting of blood and causes rodents to bleed slowly to death of internal hemorrhages, gives good control of rats.

Last year county agricultural agents in Texas trained 4,200 4-H boys in 127 counties in plant and grass identification.

Except for a few items—copper for instance — we cannot help but feel that the cry of short supply is going to be proven as incorrect this year of our Lord 1951 and surely not later than 1952. The situation in industrial America is quite different to what it was in 1941. There'll be reasonably plenty of steel, reasonably plenty of cement and lumber and all the things that these go into. Lack of sulphur may make some shortages. But tires and tubes and automobiles and refrigerators, food containers, clothes, and all kinds of foods are going to be plentiful, so goes our guess. We see it in the wind that the Jews are unloading some of their warehouses and letting the public have the contents thereof. To us that is the give-away. Jews are uncanny business men. They have foresight where we others have hindsight.

In tight supply will be help of all kinds, though, and more and more inclination to demand more for doing less, and for "fringe" benefits. There is nothing wrong about the Jews unloading and there is nothing wrong about the working man wanting more for less. That is the way of things. The shortage of help will grow out of the increasing demand for workers in the "defense" centers. Carpenters and all kinds of workmen will be lured to these areas in increasing numbers through the remainder of the year. And, of course, the armed forces are going to continue to make their demand for an ample supply of men to meet the defense requirements.

Rhymes In Line. If you want vacation fun, avoid an overdose of sun; If you don't fix your car, chances are you won't get far; To mountains high and beaches breezy, start in time and take it easy; To dodge disaster drop the notion that you can swim across the ocean; Remember, too, it's always wise, not to over-exercise; Don't come back in such a state you need weeks to recuperate.

Ginners are putting a lot of money into their plants again this year getting ready for what may be the record-breaker for Floyd and adjoining counties. Assuming the weather continues reasonably favorable and the crop goes ahead into maturity without mishap there ought to be gins going away next February and March. Doesn't sound bad to a man who needs a job and knows how to work with cotton.

Young-Shurbet Vows are Read In Home Ceremony

In a quiet, but impressive double-ring ceremony Saturday evening, at seven-thirty, Meri Ellen Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Young, of South Plains, became the bride of Don Shurbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Shurbet, of Sand Hill. The ceremony was held at the Young home, north of South Plains.

Rev. C. A. Joiner, retired Baptist minister, read the ceremony in the home of the bride's parents. Vows were exchanged before an improvised altar of white gladioli banked with greenery. The setting for the candlelight ceremony was beautiful.

Miss Billie Chowning, of Floydada, pianist, played a medley of pre-nuptial selections, and the traditional wedding marches were used. Mrs. David Battey of Floydada, sang "Because."

The candles were lighted by the bride's brothers, Travis and Deral.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Young was attired in a white tulle gown, complemented with touches of navy in her costume. Her hat was a white straw, with a tiny brim effect and a tiny veil. Her shoes and bag were blue lizard, and she wore a delicate orchid. For something old the bride carried an old handkerchief, belonging to her mother; for something borrowed, she wore a ring which belonged to the groom's paternal grandmother; she wore a blue garter, her gown was new, and she wore a penny in her shoe for good luck.

Mrs. Young, mother of the bride, wore black, with black accessories. The mother of the groom wore navy with white accessories. Mrs. Maude Shurbet, grandmother of the groom, of Lewisville, was present, gowned in beige with white accessories. All wore white carnations.

Attending the bride, as maid-of-honor, was Miss Kayte Collier, of Floydada, who was gowned in beige with white accessories, and her corsage was of white rose buds.

Bill Shurbet, brother of the groom, was best man.

Following the simple but beautiful ceremony, the bridal party was honored with an informal reception. The serving table was laid with a lovely lace cloth, and centered with a tiered wedding cake and flanked by a crystal punch bowl. The punch bowl was surrounded by white Shasta daisies, and a tiny bride and groom stood on the tiered bridal cake. Golden punch completed the picture. Miss Estelle Richardson, of Floydada, presided at the cake cutting ceremony and helped serve, while Miss Nancy Buchanan, of Floydada, served at the punch bowl.

Mrs. Shurbet was graduated this spring from Floydada High school, and Mr. Shurbet attended school last year at Floydada High school. The couple left immediately after

Sand Hill Club Makes Party Plans for Friday Night

The home of Mrs. J. M. Williams was the meeting place for the Sand Hill Home Demonstration club July 16.

Roll call, "A fire hazard I have corrected," reminds us of a great many things to watch for.

GOOD HEALTH

1. HOW MANY CHILDREN HAVE WE?
 2. ARE AMERICANS HEALTH-WISE?
 3. WHAT IS A "STENOGRAPHER'S BREAKFAST"?

Answer to Question No. 1:
 Children make up almost one-third of the United States' 150 million citizens. Thanks to a continued high birth rate and a steadily falling death rate, the child population reached an all time high of 47.5 million in 1949. This is six million greater than in 1940.

Answer to Question No. 2:
 They are probably more health conscious than any other people in the world. Foreign visitors often comment on the widespread interest of the average American in medical discoveries. Newspapers, magazines, radio and television have contributed to this education and there are 20,000 volun-

SO MUCH FOR SO LITTLE
 An amazing feature of some of the automatic substances is not only what they do, but how tiny a quantity is needed. Striking are the results U. S. Department of Agriculture scientists report addition of aureomycin to supplement poultry feeds for chicks and broilers. With aureomycin added, feeders can save on protein needed in these feeds. A 19 percent protein feed with aureomycin added gives as good results as one with 2 percent higher protein analysis. Proteins are high cost elements in mixed feeds.
 How much aureomycin is needed? One experiment with the pure chemical showed that to get the nutritional equivalent of the higher protein, it was necessary to add aureomycin at the rate of 20 grams to a ton of the 19 percent analysis feed. The 20 gram is a scant three-quarters of an ounce—approximately two level tablespoons of crystals. This is only a little more than the heaping tablespoonful of sugar some persons like to add to a portion of breakfast cereal. But this small quantity would be added to a ton of feed—2000 pounds, or 20 100-pound bags. Clearly this sort of compounding will not be practical home mixing of feeds with scoophovels on the granary floor. The use of aureomycin as a supplement is developing rapidly. Experiments are still under way to determine just how much protein can be saved. As a practical matter feed mixers are less likely to use purified crystalline aureomycin than a fermentation product. In a parallel experiment the tests at Bellville included the fermentation product at the rate of 10 pounds to the ton.
 The aureomycin results reported are supplementary to the rapidly developing use of vitamin B-12 in feeds for poultry and pigs. The vitamin-enriched feeds are already widely used in promoting more rapid growth and development of market weight on a smaller allowance of grain. This sort of nutritional research is now being pushed hard by agricultural scientists, Federal and State. It is regarded as of significant value in the national defense effort.

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

The city of Kilgore was named for "Buck" Kilgore, a colorful member of Congress many years ago. Champ Clark, who was Speaker of the House before and during World War I, tells in his autobiography of the celebrated incident of a door being smashed by the Texan.
 Speaker Reed had all the exits locked so as to hold a quorum, but Kilgore kicked down a door. Clark chronicles, "He attained universal notoriety and immense popularity," adding that Kilgore's name was "fastened to a certain kind of shoe, designed especially for kicking and which was, for a time, immensely popular."
 Kilgore also made quite a reputation as an objector.
 He relished this story on himself. "When I returned home to begin the canvass for my third term in Congress, I asked one of my chief bell-wethers what my enemies were charging me with this time. 'Oh,' he replied, 'just the same old charge—that of being a plain d—fool!'
 "His report was short and if not sweet, was at least sufficiently comprehensive."
 A United States Senator once said, "The first month I was there, I wondered how I ever broke in—and, ever since, I have been wondering how the rest of them broke in."
 Chances are the more patriotism a person wears on his sleeve the less he has in his heart.

Gasoline Being Tested
 The Agriculture department in North Carolina is conducting tests of gasoline to provide better protection of the public against adulterated or illegally blended gasoline which has a flash point so low that its use might be hazardous. The tests are conducted in twelve laboratories on wheels. Retail outlets, terminals and sources of distribution are being checked.

Frozen Foods At New Level

Green peas are by far the most important single frozen vegetable, and the 1950 pack set a new high record of more than 154 million pounds, 10 percent greater than the previous record in 1948, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture. In 1949 the frozen pea pack was only 113 million pounds. The Bureau of Agricultural Economics notes that consumption of frozen peas in recent years has cut into the demand for fresh peas, particularly during the winter harvest season in southern truck areas.
 Several other frozen vegetables made new records last year, but the pack of frozen cut corn was substantially below either the 1948 or 1949 packs. Cold storage holding of frozen vegetables were at an all time peak at the end of October, 1950, when 456 million pounds were in frozen storage. The Bureau anticipates that when all the figures are in 1950 will have set a new high record in freezing of vegetables. "Consumption of frozen vegetables in 1951 is expected to continue at record or near-record high rates for most items."

VARIATIONS IMPROVE HOPE FOR BETTER LEGUMES

Men have said for generations that "like breeds like," but of the many possibilities for improvement, natural variation stands out as one of the best. "Like" occasionally breeds "unlike." Nevertheless, notable changes are surprising; sometimes even the place of change is surprising to most people.
 To a soil bacteriologist, however, a nodule on a plant rootlet is not a surprising location in which to find changes advantageous to the farmer. On all sorts of legume crops, U. S. Department of Agriculture and State scientists find that studies of individual nodules show as much variation as between above-ground plants. Nodules reveal all degrees of efficiency in nitrogen fixations. Bacteria in one nodule may be high fixers; in another nearby they may be low; in the next medium. Some of the tight little groups may fix no nitrogen at all—may be parasitic, living rent-free and even taking nourishment from the plant.
 At the Plant Industry Station of the Department such strain variation among nodule bacteria has been found for all legumes studied. Some strains are parasitic on one kind of plant and contributitig citizens of a symbiotic (help-each-other) society in another. For example one of the best on white and red; in so making cultures it may be possible to rule out altogether the one that is bad for a certain legume.
 The peculiarities of some strains of bacteria have amazed even the scientists who know the legumes from A to Z. A case involves two strains of fixers from Ladino clover nodules and two from white clover modules. Not one of the four did a thing for Ladino, not even those that had accepted Ladino hospitali-ty; but all four were good on white clover.

 The symbiotic relationship between legumes and bacteria is reflected in the relationship between legume breeder and soil bacteriologists. The breeder's new strain of a legume may need a more effective nitrogen fixer. The bacteriologists know where to look and feel pretty sure of finding such a fixer. On the other hand, the breeders feel just as sure that now and then they'll create new strains of legumes that can make good use of some of those bad bacteria (which, by the way, the bacteriologists keep in their living museums just in case proper associations may be found for them).

Ears Are Valuable
 A hooked sidepiece going behind the ears seems to be a natural way to hold spectacles in place, yet it was centuries after glasses were invented before this method was used, says the Better Vision Institute. Early glasses were held in the hand, or tied around the head with a ribbon, cord, or leather strap.
 Some would rather speak ill of themselves than not to speak of themselves at all.
 If you want to know why the girls close their eyes when they kiss you, look in the mirror.
 If travel broadens one, then some of the femmes we've seen lately must have been around the world.

Pickles Talk

COLLEGE STATION— There's nothing like an attractive dish of pickles and relishes to give a meal that "extra touch." And what's more important than that, they furnish some minerals and vitamins.
 According to foods and nutrition specialists with the Texas A. & M. College Extension Service, pickles and relishes are classed according to their flavor. For example, sour pickles have the flavor of vinegar. Sweet pickles have varying degrees of sweetness and sour. Dill pickles have the flavor of the herb used during fermentation. Kosher dill pickles have garlic added as a seasoning.
 The specialists urge home canners to use fresh, sound, clean vegetables and fruits for pickling. They recommend sorting and grading for size and age. Immature cucumbers make the best pickles, they say, and fruits should be firm and slightly under-ripe.
 For some tasty recipes and useful tips on pickles and relishes, see a copy of B-188, PICKLES AND RELISHES, which is just off the press. This publication can be obtained at the local county Extension agents' office.
 There is more truth in the statement that fine birds make fine feathers than in the statement that fine feathers make fine birds.

Miss Bryan is shown here studying at New York City's Traphagen School of Fashion, to which she won a year's scholarship with an evening ensemble of white virgin wool crepe of her own design which she modeled in the third annual home sewing contest.

Curtis Sanders came very near having a bad accident last week when their water tank blew down with a terrific roar. He was a-top the structure playing when it gave way. His mother had just called him to get down, when she saw the tank start to give way. In all the hundreds of gallons of water which fell with a terrific splash, the small boy was hurled free of the main wreckage, but was pinned by several boards. His mother wrenched them off him, and carried him to the doctor, thinking he could not escape without some injury, but he was unhurt, except for some bruises. He seems none the worse for his experience this week. The shock to his parents was worse than the actual hurt to Curtis.

The two nieces of Mrs. Sim Reeves have been visiting her and her husband, the past week. Betty and Virginia Ruddick who reside in Van Nuys, California, were here at the Reeves home, where they stayed for a year, a few years back. Mrs. H. L. Marble and June left last Thursday for a visit to Oklahoma to see relatives and friends which they had not seen in a long time. They visited an aunt, Mrs. Molly Rose, near Strong City, and relatives residing near there. They arrived at home Monday evening in time for June to attend the junior girls' encampment down in Blanco canyon this week. Several girls will go from here.

Friends here have been notified that the condition of A. S. Hollingsworth, of Midland, is somewhat improved. However he is still in the hospital there and under oxygen at times. Mr. Hollingsworth suffered a heart attack two weeks ago and has been in hospital since that time.

1/2 Million 4-H'ers Helping Reduce Farm Accidents

A recent survey of 2,000 farm accidents shows that 248 involve machinery. In other types, more farm people are injured by falls—476—than in any other kind of accident.

FARM FOLKS, as a general rule, give little thought to safety until a member of their family or a neighbor's is hurt or killed, or fire destroys their home or barn. Then they start doing something about safety.

This year it is particularly important that every farm family should do something about practicing safety, because even though there is a shortage of labor on farms, and new equipment is hard to get, food production must be boosted. That means the present manpower and machinery on farms must be guarded against accidents.

An average of 47 farm people are accidentally killed every day.

Helping to reduce rural casualties are a half million boys and girls taking part in the National 4-H Farm and Home Safety Program. More than $10,000 in awards for the best records of accident prevention and education are being provided by General Motors for the seventh consecutive year.

The program is directed by the Cooperative Extension Service.

HE'S PAID UP

A certain prominent saloon-er performed valuable service to his party and was rewarded by being appointed local collector of territorial revenue. One day, a letter addressed to him, he found $1000 bill with a slip attached reading: "Conscience money."

He folded the bill, placed it in his pocket, and to his assistant said, "I always did suspect that tender of mine."

New Deep Test For SE Crosby

CROSBYTON—It seems that one wildcat oil test must be in progress at all times in Crosby county, even though as yet the county has no well in production.

Two announcements were made the first of the week. The first was that Tidewater Associated Oil Company's No. 1 Hickman on the east plains had been plugged and abandoned.

The second announcement was more encouraging. Kewanee Oil Co. Cannan, a wildcat in the southeast No. 1 Canadian, a wildcat in the southeast corner of the county 18 miles from Crosbyton, spudded to 238 feet, cemented 13 and three-eighths inch surface casing at that point, and had drilled plug to start drilling operation. This test is located 660 feet from the north west lines of section 85, Block 2, H&GN survey.

Over in Dickens county just below the caprock there is reported to be a new test just about ready to spud in Location is on the Goetz Ranch, about five miles southeast of McAdoo and about 1 1/2 miles north of Highway 82.

MORE THAN 400 ATTEND
BILBREY FAMILY RE-UNION

J. T. Bilbrey, pastor of the Calvary Baptist church and Mrs. Bilbrey, attended the Bilbrey family reunion at MacKenzie park in Lubbock on Friday, the 13th. Over 400 relatives from Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, California, Oklahoma and Arkansas were present.

A basket lunch with barbecue was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Reverend Bilbrey had the pleasure of visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Bilbrey of Portales, New Mexico, who were present for the picnic.

The proposed water district embraces about 13,000,000 acres of farm land which lies over a huge underground water reservoir. It covers all of Lubbock, Hale, Parmer and Swisher counties and parts of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Terry and Cochran counties.

If created, the district would act through an elective five-man board of directors to promote conservation of the area's underground water resources. This would be done through regulation of the spacing of irrigation wells, preventing pollution, conducting educational programs on water conservation and conducting experiments on the recharging of the reservoir.

Requirements on SS Claims Are Reduced

During the first six months of 1951 the Lubbock office of the Social Security administration has received an average of 175 claims per month for old-age and survivors' insurance. This is an increase to about 4 times the figure for the same period last year, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the office.

Most of this increase, Hutton explained, is due to changes made last year in the law, which drastically reduced the requirements for eligibility. Under the new rules payments can be made in many cases after as little as six quarters—about a year and one-half—in jobs covered by the law.

The new eligibility rule applies to two types of cases:

- (1) Retired workers past the age of 65
- (2) Survivors of workers who have died since August 1950

The required six quarters of work may have been done at any time since the law went into effect in 1937 and can be from either steady work or scattered jobs with several different employers.

One effect of the change, Hutton pointed out, is that a large number of workers, many well past the age of 65, who were not eligible under the old rules, may now qualify for payments. The majority have already filed applications, but Hutton is certain that there are many in the Lubbock area who have not filed claims and are losing payments.

"We can make back payments for only 6 months," Hutton said "so that a claim filed now will cover only the months from January on. Any payments which might have been due for 1950 are now lost. If a claim is delayed until August, then January will be lost, and so on, a month for each month of delay. For this reason, we urge anyone who believes he may be eligible for payments to get in touch with us at once."

chant or other persons who receives the check keep a record of the merchandise that is purchased with the check or draft, and that a record is kept of the address of the party who gives the check or draft.

The fact that a party giving the check has an account with a bank will not excuse him. The law further provides that it shall take effect immediately.

"The facts that the number of checks, drafts and orders drawn and negotiated upon banks, persons, firms and corporations, without funds to pay such checks, is increasing within the State, and the fact that the law of this State are not now sufficient to correct the evil existing, and the further fact that the giving of such checks, drafts and orders imposes an undue hardship and burden upon the people of Texas create an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the Constitutional Rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House be suspended, and said Rule is hereby suspended, and that this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage, and it is so enacted."

County Attorney Jones pointed out that, in addition to the considerable number of hot checks given through error (on the wrong bank for instance), the number of hot checks that are floating is greater than is generally known and appear to be on the increase. Persons who are in the habit of accepting checks should require that the giver place on the check his address, if this practice is not already being followed.

Past of Old Emma Re-Lived at Meetin'

Mrs. J. J. Spikes was one of the fifteen former pupils and friends who attended a tea in Lubbock, on Friday afternoon, at the home of Mrs. Esther Wheeler, honoring a former teacher at Old Emma, in Crosby county, Miss Lillian Brockman of Eugene, Oregon. Miss Brockman taught school at Old Emma in Crosby county in 1897 and 1899.

Miss Brockman is also visiting in Lubbock, with Mrs. Roy B. Ezell while in this part of the country. Mrs. Ezell and Miss Brockman taught school together at Old Emma.

Ingenious Solution

The filing of papers and reference material usually presents a puzzling problem to the householder. One man who does a great deal of his professional work at home which involves the filing of letters, papers and drawings, recently solved the problem by buying two second hand golden oak commercial filing cases and removing the metal hardware. Instead, strong but attractive wood-knobs were used as drawer pulls. Then, placing the files parallel with the wall on either side of the double door leading from his study to the living room—he had a carpenter build bookcases on the sides. Enamelled to match the woodwork, the filing cabinets now disappear almost completely into the background of the room.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schulz of Vernon are visiting their son, Monroe Schulz and family in the Harmony community.

Kiddie Fibs Product Of Fertile Imagination

The lies children tell are not always lies.

According to Childcraft Advisory Service, they are often signs of a lively imagination which parents would do well to encourage.

"Without imagination, there is neither sympathy nor creative talent," authoritative writers for the Service point out.

Imagination can be developed to build bridges and cathedrals. It was people with imagination who invented television, bicycles, can openers and the other countless wonders and conveniences of modern civilization.

Yet imagination in the very small child is often discouraged by well-meaning parents who mistake his perfectly normal "flights of fancy" for lies.

Imaginative tales of childhood can also reflect desires which are unfulfilled. For example, when a child has no other children with whom to play, he often creates imaginary playmates whom he talks to and about.

Malaria Wonder Drug

Aralen is known chemically as 7-chloro-4 (4-diethylamino-1-methylbutylamino) quinoline diphosphate. Clinical investigation has shown it to relieve acute attacks of malaria much faster than previously known drugs, and to cure falciparum malaria, a type of disease that is non-relapsing but often fatal.

Paint-Up Program

In tall-Bakun, an excavated settlement near the Persian Gulf, some houses has as many as seven rooms. This was unusual for such early times about 3800 B. C. In some cases, house walls were painted with red and yellow bands. Others, a solid red or yellow. Apparently, the color was kept fresh by frequent coats of paint.

Summer Homes for Vacations

Many vacationists who visit the national forests make the wish that they might have a summer home in the forest. Many are not aware that the wish might come true. The possibility is worth investigating. More than 16,000 families already have such summer homes, and on many forests there is room for others who want what the Forest Service has to offer. The Forest Service recognizes summer home opportunities as one of the "multiple uses" for the National Forests and provides sites for approved buildings.

This may surprise many who have motored through National Forests without even noticing a colony of summer homes. That, in fact, is one of the features of the policy on summer homes. Permits for summer home building are not issued for areas within sight of highways or on lake shores, along fishing streams, or near scenic attractions. Such areas are preserved for general use of the public which, of course, has first priority.

In selecting sites for summer home building, the Forest Service seeks to locate them in areas that are attractive and accessible, with good forest cover, and often within convenient distance of a fine recreation area. Some areas have natural water supply from a spring. The summer home builder can not expect to pick out an isolated spot for a single home. A summer home area opened for this use is likely to include from 5 to 30 buildings lots of about a half acre each, but the layout is such that there is no crowding or urbanization.

Occupancy of National Forest land for a summer home is authorized by a special use permit which requires the permittee comply with conditions necessary to protect the forest and the public interests. Building plans must be submitted for approval. The premises must be maintained in good repair and Federal and State laws must be observed. Detailed requirements vary from area to area and local forest officials are ready to supply information. Annual permit fees range from $10 to $50—the average is about $25.

Many of the earliest of the summer homes are now being enjoyed by the second or third generation. But such properties may be sold or transferred only after the approval of the forest officer has been obtained in writing.

Not every vacationist who dreams that he would like a summer home in the National Forest would actually be satisfied with what is available. Many thoroughly enjoy the privilege. The Forest Service opens summer home sites from time to time as the demand warrants. The possibilities are worth discussing with the local forest officer who can issue permits.

News of Harmony

(By Mrs. Roy Hollums)
HARMONY, July 17th—Church school was well attended at Carrs Chapel Sunday morning and several went over to Cone for dinner and quarterly conference in the afternoon. Brother Boyd district superintendent of the Plainview district, brought a good message and then went in to the business of the conference. Those attending from Carrs Chapel were Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey and Don Ray, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tucker, Patricia and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Holmes, J. Riley, and Janet, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith and family, and Fred Byerly.

The Carrs Chapel revival meeting will begin next Sunday morning, July 22, and run through Sunday, July 29. There will be day services during the week-day mornings. The hour for these day services will be decided next Sunday morning. Brother Horace Krebs, pastor of the church, will do the preaching. He and the members of the church extend a cordial invitation to the public to come and enjoy the worship services.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ramsey and granddaughters Sherry and Melda Joe, took Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Finkner and family. Glen Parkey took Sunday dinner with Kenneth Hollums.

Mrs. J. R. Turner and daughter Carol visited Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Roy Hollums.

GOOD HEALTH

1. WHAT CAUSES MOST CHRONIC DISABILITY?

2. WHAT IS MOST IMPORTANT IN ATOMIC CIVIL DEFENSE?

3. DID SURGEONS ALWAYS WEAR WHITE GOWNS?

Answer to Question No. 1:
1. The greatest cause of chronic disability in the United States is arthritis and other rheumatic diseases. The total number of victims is as great as the combined population of Los Angeles and Chicago, 7,500,000. There are 147,000 persons completely disabled from these causes, 800,000 partially disabled and more than 6,000,000 who suffer from continuous or recurrent pain. New drugs and treatments are helping many and offer the hope that medical science will add yet another to its list of conquered diseases.

Answer to Question No. 2:
2. Trained health personnel is of supreme importance in defense against the results of atomic bombardment. Hospitals may be bombed out but it would be difficult to wipe out the trained personnel of an entire metropolitan area. So long as there are doctors, nurses and first aid workers in sufficient numbers, the injured can be cared for. Some member of every family should have first aid training.

Answer to Question No. 3:
3. Before the days of anti-septic surgery, surgeons wore their oldest coats for operating and sometimes used the same coat for as long as 20 years. After Dr. Joseph Lister's discovery of the principle of antiseptics a radical change in dress occurred. Eventually the sterile hospital gown and mask as we know them today were adopted. Modern surgical cleanliness has saved countless lives.

Get New Economy

WITH A MASSEY-HARRIS 4-5 PLOW 55 DIESEL

Here's real economy in diesel operation... the efficiency of Massey-Harris design. The 55 Diesel is powered by a big 382-cubic-inch full diesel engine with Dyna Cell combustion for longer power life, a longer-lasting engine. Dyna Cell and the fuel injector are set to one side of each firing chamber so the burning fuel creates a rotary turbulence when released from the cell. Power lasts the length of the piston stroke... produces more usable power at the drawbar.

Basically the 55 has the same design advantages as the gasoline models—clear vision styling, Velvet Ride Seat, shock-resistant steering, self-starter, self-energizing brakes, roomy platform, 14-34 rear tires—the features that make the 55 Series easy to handle, easy to operate. See the 55 Diesel soon... ask for a demonstration on your farm.

Dyna Cell cushions the high peak pressures of primary ignition... reduces engine knock and confines the explosion until the piston starts its downward travel—making crankshaft and bearing loads lighter.

Make it a Massey-Harris

This one says You've Arrived

HERE pictured is an automobile that may well be the fulfillment of any man's dream of a fine motorcar. For you've a right to expect, when you pay a fine-car price, that your money will buy more distinction, more comfort, more performance than are to be found in vehicles of lesser worth. So mark well the things that a ROADMASTER offers. No other car on the American scene has a prouder bearing. No other automobile has more spacious dimensions, more luxurious comfort, or finer appointments. No other car has a ride more serenely smooth on curve or straightaway, highway or byway. And no other car, at ROADMASTER's price or above, has Dynaflo, and the supreme command of every traffic condition which it provides. So you, at the wheel of Buick's biggest and best, have a right to feel distinguished. But there's a joy of possession which goes deeper than visible things.

There's the feel of a power plant as brilliantly eager as this great car's valve-in-head Fireball Engine—and the satisfying companionship of a brawny traveler instantly responsive to your every wish.

And there's one thing more, which only ROADMASTER can give you in such generous measure. That is the pride of a wise investment, based on the fact that this car stands alone in price per pound, among fine cars similarly equipped.

So why not take that very important first step—and come in and see us soon?

Cancer Cells Live In Tubes After Death

ALVESTON, TEXAS—For weeks the patient has died, the cancer which caused his death lives on in glass containers at the University of Texas Medical School.

Scientists make microscopic movies of the cancer cells—movies of the cells in contact with a standard nutrient, and of the cells in contact with a hormone used to treat cancer experimentally.

It is too late, of course, to help the man who donated the tumor, but the information gathered on the cancer's reaction to various chemicals may be used some day to aid a patient with a similar kind of cancer.

It was disclosed today by the American Cancer Society, which supports the research project, conducted by Dr. C. M. Pomeroy and a group of scientists who work under his direction.

How The Cell Reacts

Scientists are finding out how cancer cells react to changes in the acidity of their environment, and whether they will grow or die, or increase in size, or increase in pressure. They want to know all reactions to all these factors so that they can rule out the factors when the drugs are used. They are trying to learn what the drug itself does to the cancer cell.

Apart from the cancer, normal cells of the patient are tested. The drugs are placed in their environment too. The scientists want to know what drugs do to the normal

Financial Responsibility Law

All indications are that Governor Shivers has now signed the Shofner Bill which will become law on January 1st, 1952.

The stipulations of the bill are namely this: That all drivers or owners of vehicles involved in accidents must promptly deposit with the Texas Department of Public Safety assets—which may consist of an insurance policy, securities or cash—to cover damages up to $15,000. The State authorities will then investigate the accident, fix the blame and assess the damage.

Failure to pay the damages by any one of the three above mentioned methods, will forfeit driver's and car license until damages, either bodily or property are made good.

Although this does not become law until January 1, 1952, the sooner you begin using the coverage the better off you will be. It is our suggestion that you begin carrying liability insurance with $15,000 in limits, to be properly protected when the new law goes into effect.

Our companies stand ready to serve you in any way possible and we invite your inquiries as to any way in which we can be of special service to you.

Yours very truly,
J. H. and DELL REAGAN

cells. The big search is for a compound that will kill cancer cells without harming the normal cells.

The cells are placed in tiny chambers. Nutrient and drugs can be introduced through glass tubes. Motion picture cameras—making one shot every eight minutes—are equipped with microscope lenses. They record, for days at a time, the behavior of the cells in the presence of various drugs.

One curious phenomenon is being studied—rhythmic pulsation of certain brain cells. This was first observed in 1937 by London scientists in a tissue culture of a brain tumor. There appears to be a contraction and expansion about every four or five minutes.

Rhythm of the Brain Cells

The Texas scientists have found the same type of pulsating cell in normal human brain and they are attempting to find whether the pulsations produce tiny electric currents in the brain (they conceivably could supply the current registered on encephalograms). And they will experiment to see whether the environment chemicals influence the cell rhythm.

Forty specimens of schizophrenic brain, forty-five specimens of human brain tumor and brain tissues from epileptics which have been grown in tissue culture regularly showed pulsatile cells. The scientists will try to find out what his pulsation means and whether it varies in health and disease. If abnormal pulsations are detected in disease, efforts will be made to correct them.

Thus the study of a brain tumor in 1937 may be leading to new finds, not only vital to the understanding of cancer of the brain but may also serve to open a great new field of cerebral physiology.

Summer Care Of Shrubby

COLLEGE STATION, July—Take care of your shrubs during the dry summer months. Water, fertilizer and pruning are important to the life of your plants, Sadie Hatfield, Homestead Improvement Specialist for the Extension Service of Texas A. & M. College, says.

Shrubs probably suffer more from mismanagement of moisture than anything else, the specialists comments. There are two ways of keeping the moisture in the soil around the shrub: first, make a depression around the plant to catch and hold as much rain water as possible. Then once you have moisture in the soil—either from rainfall or irrigation—use some kind of mulch to keep it there.

Use layers 2 or 3 inches thick of well-rotted leaves and grass clippings or straw; rotted hay from hay stacks, or straw from wheat and oat stacks. If the soil is tight, use some sand for the leaves to work into, or use a layer of loose top soil to hold water later on. Miss Hatfield suggests using the hoe instead of the hose for the thin layer of top soil; you are likely to kill feeder roots near the surface if you dig more than 2 or 3 inches deep.

Shallow soils do not hold moisture through the summer, so it may be necessary to irrigate occasionally. The specialists says let the water run slowly until the soil is wet to a depth of 10 to 18 inches.
