Time Now For Fall Plantings Pasture Grass

(By Ralph R. Cogdell, Work Unit. Conservationist)

Planting time for improved pasture grasses or cool season irrigated grasses is about here. Fall planting are more desirable than spring plantings because of less weed competion and the blow hazard is reduced. Planting time is best between August 15 and October 1. It is in order to sow the grasses prior to the usual

Last fall several plantings were made before the September rains and they came up to a very good stand. Several plantings were made in October. These were a failure in most cases.

Two or more grasses along with alfalfa or madrid sweet clover are sown together. This prolongs the growing season as well as making more volume of forage available. Orchard grass, meadow fescue, alta fescue, Kentucky 31, Southern smooth brome, and perennial rye are the Alfalfa is the best legume for mixtures but may cause bloat. One pound of alfalfa or sweet clover is recmmended. The legume seed should Cunyus, Dell Wilman and John Belt be inoculated before planting.

The rate of seeding of grass is fifeen to twenty pounds of good quality seed per acre. Around one-half inch is the best depth to sow. The Floyd County Soil Conservation District has two special grass drills for seeding these mixtures. They can be rented from the High school vocational agriculture teachers at Lockney or Floydada.

The area should not be grazed until it is well established. Some management should be practiced. It is desirable to divide the pasture into three blocks for rotation grazing One plot is grazed while another is watered and the third plot gets new growth. As soon as one block is eaten down the livestock should be moved to fresh pasture and that block irrigated again, unless there is moisture available to start it growing. By this means, uniform grazing is accomplished and the grass can recover. To get the most of a pasture, it should be irrigated as often as hay and it will respond to com-

New Gas Refund Law Has Teeth

in this area this week awoke to the realization that a new law passed by the Texas legislature, will become effective on September 1 that will change a long-time custom in relations between the wholesaler and his customer in the handling of refunds claims.

The wholesalers have, in effect, been keeping their customers' refund claim records for them since the refund law became effective now a quarter of a century ago. Beginning September 1 the law requires that not only must the refund dealer

(1) Not keep any records, notarize papers or otherwise lend aid to his customers in preparing and presenting their claims to the comptrolers department, but also;

(2) Must have his customer's signature on a purchase invoice within three days from the date of purchase, and also must have cleared the papers from his office within a perod of not to exceed seven days.

These under penalty of having his license to do business revoked. Amendments to the new (which also covers liquefied gas tax regulations) would cover almost two pages of a newspaper in ordinary reading type; and the promise of still further regulation given in a provision that the state comptroller shall have the power to issue any rules and regulations which, after proper hearing, may be deemed proper. This week nine of the dealers of Floydada are issuing a statement over their signatures in which they point to the new regulations effective September 1. Customers, they anticipate, are not going to be too happy over the new arrangement. The dealers are asking the refund buyers of gasoline to "be patient and alert" to the fact that the change is coming up. Dealers will be under the thumb of the state comptroller who will issue licenses under which they will operate and will issue them their invoice forms at the taxpayers cost. Penalties include the cancellation of a dealer's license to do business.

No Norther Yet. When is the first frost or cold going to hit in Floyd county, to strip the cotton stalks of their leaves and stop the development of the bolls? We'd like to have the date put off as late as possible for the benefit of our friends who had to re-plant their cotton in late June and early July. We're working on it. Note that no "norther" came in July and not todate in August. Thus, we promise there'll be no early cold snap, that is an October one, and not until at least November 9. This ought to help the feelings of the man who has young cotton that is going to put on a lot of fruit in September. which he would like to gather this fall, and which an early freeze would rot in the boll.

In connection with cotton business and cotton talk we have recently heard talk about boll worms attacking the squares in cotton. They must be getting mighty bold, these bollworms, or have they been attacking squares in the cotton fields all the time and we just did not know about it? And if they have all the time why should they not have been named square worms instead of bollworms? These are the kind of things that need to be seen about!

Whether or not it is likely ever to happen depends on the turn of events, but it is being realized more and more that smaller communities than those having a population of at least 5,000 need home rule so that they can solve their local problems. The fact that the basic law throws around municipalities certain restrictions under the incorporation act for cities and towns was a good thing when it was done, and still is unless and until the people have a chance to vote on it. But the change in the law would be a great advantage toward better paving, sanitation and police policies in a community like Floydada. As it is now many obvious needs of this community are read out of consideration by the type of incorporation which is the only one available to Floydada. Probably many other communities in the state have their hands tied in the same manner.

-0-Somewhere up the line the cool mass of air from Canada that should have visited the high plains of Texas failed to do so. Could it have been that the rain makers, had

One of the new laws, this one becoming effective September 1, is that which is expected to change the usual manner of reporting by the farmer or other person using tax exempt gasoline and liquid gas. As is common knowledge the farm operator has been having the wholesaler keep track of his 'gas exemption papers" for these many years. In a large number of cases the wholesaler has actually had to go to quite a bit of trouble to get his customer in to sign up before the exemptions lapsed. The legislature is attempting to change all this for a reason we would not know. It is a comfortable thing to know you've got somebody who is going to make it his business to see that you do not too long neglect your business. Not 1937 and 1938. so, says the legislature, probably at the prompting of the comptroller's department Amongst other things it is going to be a violation of the law for the wholesaler to have an unsigned invoice on his desk longer than three days and another violation of the law to have the invoice in his possession signed or unsigned past the seventh day. Let somebody else tell you why. Here's the way it appears: The wholesaler is going to take this law seriously, for the reason, among other things, that he will lose his permit to do business if he does otherwise. He'd rather be in business with a few good friends irritated at him than to be out of business with the whole world his friends.

The Texas Motor Fuel Law Has Been Amended

In a way that is Important to Every Farmer and to Every Dealer who handles Tax Exempt Gasoline

Every dealer in Tax Refund Gasoline in the State of Texas (principally gasoline sold to Farmers for use in their tractors) has received a copy of the "Important Notice" which appears to the right in this advertisement. It is from the State Comptroller's Department, as you will note. This "important notice" makes it completely unlawful to follow the long-time custom of the wholesalers to help their customers with their tax refund claims, watching expiration dates, notarizing the claims and helping the customers keep track of their exemption receipts and other papers in connection with tax refunds that have been followed for a number of years. This practice, which has been done to accomodate busy men, not accustomed to record-keeping, must NOW BE COMPLETELY ABANDONED by the distributors of tax-exempt gasoline, under pain of being denied permit to carry on their business.

ES E

This pamphlet shows several changes in the law by which you will be governed effective September 1st, 1951.

You should carefully read each page and give very special attention to Section 13 (e) page 6 since this pamphlet will put you on notice and violations on your part could easily prevent your customers' claim from being paid. Also important is (1) page 10.

In this pamphlet you will find very important new legal requirements placed on the person who will file refund claims and you may pass this information to them for their assistance, but do not prepare or notarize claims. Do not keep the duplicates of exemptions in your place of business more than seven (7) days after they heve been issued.

STATE COMPTROLLER'S DEPARTMENT

"The invoice of exemption shall be made out and executed in duplicate by the refund dealer, the duplicate of which shall be delivered to the purchaser of the motor fuel and the original shall be retained by the refund dealer at the place of business designated on his license for the time and in the manner herein provided. Each invoice of exemption shall be signed by the refund dealer and the person who purchases the motor fuel for refund purposes or a duly authorized employee or agent of said dealer or purchaser. But if neither the purchaser of the motor fuel nor an agent is present to sign the invoice of exemption at the time of delivery, the refund dealer shall mail or deliver the duplicate invoice of exemption to the purchaser within seven (7) days after delivery of the motor fuel.

"(e) It shall be unlawful for any refund dealer, or any employee thereof, to prepare or notarize any claim for refund of tax paid on motor fuel purchased from said refund dealer, or to act in any capacity as agent or employee of any claimant for refund of tax paid on motor fuel purchased from said refund dealer by keeping his books, records, refund claim forms or other documents to be used or intended for use by said claimant in the preparation of his tax refund claim, and the Comptroller shall not approve the payment of any refund claim, in whole or in part, in which the claimant has permitted the seller of the motor fuel upon which tax refund is claimed, or any employee or said seller, to prepare, notarize or file his claim for tax refund, or keep any books, records or documents used in the preparation of filing of said claim. Provided that the Comptroller may, after proper hearing as herein provided, cancel, suspend, or refuse the issuance or reinstatebent of the license of any refund dealer who shall prepare or notarize, or who shall permit any emloyee to prepare or notarize, any claim for refund of tax paid on motor fuel purchased from said fund dealer by the claimant thereof, or who shall keep, or permit any employee to keep, any dulicate invoice of exemption for more than seven (7) days after it has been duly issued to a purchasof refund motor fuel.

of Dougherty

"(1) Concurrently with the issuance of a refund dealer's licenses the Comptroller shall issue and charge to the account of the licensee, a book or books of invoices of exemption which shall be printed in duplicate sets and serially numbered. The Comptroller shall keep a record of the number of books and their serial numbers issued to each refund dealer who shall be liable for a penalty in the amount of five dollars ($5) for each book of invoices of exemption received by him for which he cannot properly account as hereinafter provided. Whenever a representative of the Comptroller audits the motor fuel records of a refund dealer, or whenever a refund dealer places a reorder for a book or books of invoices of exemption, such dealer shall prepare a written record showing the serial numbers of all books not previously accounted for and if such record does not account for each book previously issued to said refund dealer which has not been previously accounted for, the refund dealer shall be given thirty (30) days notice in writing to produce any missing book or to show that it has been used to cover sales of refund motor fuel made by said refund dealer. If the missing book or books are not accounted for within thirty (30) days from the date of said notice the refund dealer shall forfeit to the State of Texas as a penalty the sum of five dollars ($5) for each book unaccounted for, which shall be paid to the Comptroller and allocated to the same funds to which the motor fuel taxes collected hereunder are appropriated. No further books of invoices of exemption shall be issued to any refund dealer who has incurred the penalty described hereinabove until said penalty has been paid. Any invoices of exemption which become mutilated or unusable shall be returned to the Comptroller by the dealer for credit to his account. The books of invoices of exemption shall not be transferable or assignable by such refund dealer unless such transfer or assignment is authorized by the Comptroller.

"If any duplicate invoice of exemption issued to a purchaser is lost or destroyed, said purchaser may make application to the Comptroller for forms to be issued and used in lieu of each lost

"The invoices of exemption bound in book form shall be furnished by the State of Texas, free of cost, to the refund dealer.

The amendments to the Motor Fuel Tax Law go into detail prescribing methods of handling refund gasoline for farm or industrial use and also lovers revised tax requirements on liquefied gas use. The above quoted changes, however, are the ones which completely change the methods of handling refund claims as has been the custom for several years. Your patient and alert attention to these requirements of the law will be appreciated by the undersigned dealers.

School Days Are Better Breakfast Days

IT'S time to make school days into better breakfast days, for September is Better Breakfast Month. It will be fun for all, especially if your breakfast menu looks and tastes this good.

Surveys put a revealing spotlight on our nation's breakfast habits. As for the youngsters, only one out of five goes to school with a good breakfast.

Breakfast Bonus

Government nutritionists point out that drowziness and grades may be the result of the forgotten or hasty breakfast. On the sunnier side, scientific tests have proved breakfast will "up" our work output, make us quicker on the draw, and keep us calmer and steadier during the morning.

A good breakfast, according to a pattern widely recommended by doctors and nutritionists, is a basic cereal b kfast. This includes just five .oods: fruit, ce-real, milk, bread and butter.

Tasty Menu

On a September morn, start with bright red tomato juice. Oat-meal is the main dish. Atop this goes—much to the delight of youngsters - fresh applesauce sprinkled with chopped peanuts. Serve it with either cold or hot Crunchy Wheat Muffins, made with crushed shredded wheat biscuits, offer a different bread-andbutter dish. You'll find the easy recipe below. Make your break-fast beverage milk for the children, coffee and milk for adults.

Crunchy Wheat Muffins 114 cups sifted all-purpose flour

3 teaspoons baking powder teaspoon salt

11/4 cups finely crushed shredded wheat biscuits

1/2 cup chopped nuts cup brown sugar

1 cup milk egg, beaten

1/3 cup melted fat or salad oil Sift together flour, baking pow-der, and salt. Combine shredded wheat, nuts, and brown sugar and add to flour mixture. Add milk and fat to egg and stir into flour mixture until just blended. Fill

The club is cordially inviting the community and any former residents who would like to come. Those attending may either bring their chicken fried or may fry it at the community center if the new out door furnace is completed by that time. The community working which was held Monday at the community center was well attended. There were 48 people who helped during the day to clean up the grounds and clean brick for building the outside furnace. Others laid the brick and all was completed except the building of the chimney, which it is hoped to have finished for the home-coming date. The furnace will be a four-way unit with one central chimney and many gay evenings are expected to be held at the Center. Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Pierce and children of Lubbock visited in the E. W. Turner home Sunday and at the hospital with Mrs. Pierce's grand-father, J. S. Worsham. Thursday night, August 9, the mid week prayer group will meet at the Carrs Chapel church at 8:15 o'clock. In last weeks column we reported You are invited to come. Zant Scott will lead the group. Choir practice will also be had. Mrs. Everett Miller will have charge of the singing.

Many employed wage earners over 75 years of age applied for old-age and survivors insurance benefit payments, according to John G. Hutton manager of the Lubbock, Social Security office.

While Mr. Hutton is greatly surprised at the comparatively large number of insured persons in this age group, his office has no way of knowing the total number. The reason for this lack of information is that many insured workers who have passed their seventy-fifth birthday have not applied for benefit payments. "They do not yet realize that they and their dependents can now have these monthly payments," he

Before the new social security law went into effect last September, payments could not be made to any insured worker over 65 who continued in a job covered by social security and earned over $14.99 in a month Under the amended law, a worker over 75 may engage in any kind of employment or self-employment and have benefit payments regardless of the amount of his earnings. Between the ages of 65 and 75, the insured person may now have $50 a month in work covered by social sec-

Hutton says it has been found that most people are reluctant to stop working at any age if they are still in good health. He further points out that this new provision for insured people over age 75 will be an incentive to continue in gainful

He urges all insured workers aged 75 or older, and who have not yet applied for benefit payments to do so without delay. Back payments can be made for as many as six months, but failure to make application promptly, may result in the loss of one or more months benifit payments to the worker and his de-

Paint Can Hint

If you are like most folks who do a little painting around the house periodically, you have a great array of partly empty paint cans. Here's a way to avoid opening each can to check the amount of paint left and its precise color. At the end of each paint job, paint a line on the outside of the can at the level of the leftover paint inside.

Remember Names

Try to remember names. If you forget, however, don't be bashful about apologizing and asking for the other person's name. "I'm sorry, I didn't get your name.'

The most picturespuely-named fort ever heard of was old Fort Phantom Hill.

It was established in December, 1850, by a force headed by Major Thomas, with Black Beaver as the, guide, on the Clear Fork of the Brazos, being part of a string of forts to guard against hostile redelland, the Reverend T. Edgar Neal skins.

The most exciting event in its history took place before it was established. This was while the soldiers were on the way. Black Beaver had warned that a blizzard was coming but Major Thomas, looking at the blue sky and the sunshine laughed and ordered the men to proceed. A norther struck, bringing sleet and snow that hid the wagons from each other and the soldiers wandered about, enduring

The troops sighted a high hill covered with large trees Mr. and Mrs. Shaw and Mrs. Glee but, as the force approached, it was Thomas and daughter, Beverly, and seen to be only a small rise and the Mr. and Mrs. Virgle Shaw attended trees were merely post-oak and black jack shrubs. destroy the fort. At any rate, it is a picturesque ruin--a place of tales and legends, chiefly inspired by its romatic name. An unknown poet has sung:

"Strange phantoms flit through the silent mesquite vale

And fading reveille comes sounding o'er the old McKenzie trail, Where muffled drums beat faster and the army bugles sadly trill, Where the vanished soldiers gather on the slopes of Phantom Hill."

It is a meeting place for community gatherings. It represents a sucessful effort to mainain a community life and spirit that is gaining admiration from communities all over the area.

A brief sing song led by Ed Holmes preceded the sumptous meal. Rev. Horace G. Krebbs, pastor of the Cone and Carr's Chapel churche said grace. Misses Dorothy and Buena Holmes sang melodies for the group with piano and accordion accompaniment.

How good roads, telephones, better farming better markets and better marketing methods are bringing great blessings to the country and re-making the lives of the people was told by Mr. Scott.

A considerable number of local business establishments and of the farm homes of Harmony were represented in the meeting.

The Harmony men were guests of the Floydada men at the dinner.
