

FLOYDADA DAYS NEW SHOPPING FOR MID-MONTH BUYERS

Floydada days—Friday and Saturday—begin in the week-end, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and the retail trade committee and retail parts of the busness. It is a mid-month shopping for business, similar to the first Monday in Floydada. Two days of one, though, instead of the week-end.

Effort to induce the public to look at the things the stores are offering, instead of wandering about the big centers, is the plan. Genuine bargains are being offered into the job of the day. It is hoped will appeal to the shopper and her merchandising business on a broad base to the public on an array of good buying packages—and prices. This is the Floydada Days' is in the week-end. If Floydada days catch on it will be a permanent feature in the community.

He attended school in Visalia, California and was a member of the Assembly of God church.

His survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd, three brothers, Bob Loyd of Floydada, Corporal Carl C. Loyd who is stationed in Germany, and Reverend J. K. Bishop Urges All-Out Effort On Red Cross

If the $3,350 quota of the Floyd County chapter, American Red Cross, for 1952 is reached there is going to have to be some all-out effort for the remainder of this month, declares J. B. Bishop, fund campaign chairman.

Wednesday at noon receipts for the campaign were only $1,569.19 actually in hand, despite the highly successful efforts of the first campaigners who reported.

There are portions of Floydada yet to hear from, particularly residential sections and there are more than half of the other communities in the county from which no reports have been made. Bishop says, however, that much of the "money end" of the campaign has been done. He has an unofficial report on an additional $300 over and above what has been turned in, which still leaves the county total at less than $2,000.

Mr. Bishop urges all who have not had time yet to make their assigned areas do not fail to make a complete canvas and give everybody a chance to help with the county's part. If the county fails this time it will make history in the annals of the county as the first failure since the opening enrollment now more than 40 years ago.

Brown-Holmes Co. In New Quarters, But Same Building

Brown-Holmes Company, real estate and insurance agency, have solved the problem of the high cost of moving. The trick is to move next door so you can use skids, hand trucks and hand power and not call in the van and a crew to whip your safe and paraphernalia across town.

The agency is now located officially at 101 North Main street, actually corner of Main and Missouri streets, in the Williamson building, next door to the smaller quarters in which they established the agency two years ago. They outgrew their smaller quarters at 106 West Missouri, also in the Williamson building.

The building has been re-done on the interior. It has, almost three times as much space as their former location.

With C. E. (Ed) Holmes and Rex R. Brown, owners, are associated P. A. Faulkenberry in the real estate business, and Bryan Collins in the general insurance and casualty business.

Mrs. Lucille Alfred, who recently resigned as court reporter for the 110th District court, has accepted a similar place with 112th District court at Fort Stockton. She began her work there on Monday.

Mrs. Allred has been in Floydada for the past six years as court reporter. Her mother, Mrs. F. M. Fawcett, who makes her home with Mrs. Allred, will remain in Floydada for a few weeks at their home, 422 West Kentucky street.

HARRY STANLEY DOING WELL Harry Stanley who is recuperating nicely at his home, 320 West Kentucky, from a recent serious ailment and a stay in Peoples hospital, says he is enjoying the many cards he is receiving from his friends. As yet he may not have company, but he is doing well and enjoys hearing from his friends.

Mrs. Maud Hollums is out of town for several days, leaving yesterday for Commerce, where she will be the guest of her cousin, Claude V. Hall. It will be a brief respite for Mrs. Hollums from the management of the Arthur B. Duncan Abstract company. In addition, she said, she and Mr. Hall "have some catching up to do" in the matter of conversation.

Interscholastic League contests in District 3-A will get under way tonight in Floydada High school auditorium when six of the eight schools in the district will present one-act plays in competition for honors.

The beginning hour is 7 o'clock. The plays will be presented in order decided by lot, the name of the school and names of the play being as follows in order:

Paducah—"Enter The Hero"; Tulla—"The third act from 'Our Town'"; Spur—"This Night Shall Pass"; Floydada—"Mooncalf Mugford"; Alternaty—"A Sunny Morning"; Rails—"The Darkest Hour".

Out of deference to the contesting casts after one of the schools has begun a play the doors to the auditorium will be closed and will not be reopened until that play has been finished. Thus if one misses the 7 o'clock curtain it will be better to come at about 7:35 so that there will not be such a long wait. Mr. Graves suggests to those interested. The plays are of such entertainment value there is little likelihood that attendance will not be good.

Literary Events March 28 There will follow the other events of the spring meet, with literary events one week from tomorrow, March 28, beginning at 1 o'clock p.m., in both high school and elementary school divisions. The high school contests will be held at the high school and the grade school events in Anderw ward school.

On the Saturday following, March 29, the track and field events will be staged, these also on Floydada ground. Wester field is being out-fitted and groomed for the occasion this week. Both senior and junior ages of high school and elementary school will compete. The opening will be at 9 o'clock. Most of the eight schools are working out a complete team to compete in the events. Floydada high in this division also is defending champion.

Tennis play off in north and south halves has been in progress throughout this month and the finals are due to be played not later than Saturday of this week. The director general did not have the complete information on the progress of the tennis competition yesterday.

Volley ball by sub-divisions of the district is also being played. The finals will be held here April 19, beginning at 10 o'clock a.m.

Similarly softball play off is scheduled to be held here May 3 beginning at 10 a.m.

State's Advice Is Sought For War On Flies

Floydada authorities are convinced that the battle which has been waged here for several successive years against flies and fifth have been productive of good results, and there will be re-doubled efforts this spring to prevent the spread of contagion.

Yesterday Al R. Fuchs, city utilities superintendent said that a fly control program is taking definite shape and that the community is due to have the aid and advice of a representative of the State Department of Health.

Not only will the department send a speaker here to talk over the fly control program, but A Haneman, Jr., district sanitary engineer of the department, will make an actual survey of Floydada and point out definite things that can be done. He will make a report to the city council, among other things, Fuchs said.

Plans for next week include an address of F. J. Van Zuben, jr., or Robert E. Peel, of the United States Health Service and the State Department of Health, to speak at a joint meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and the Lions club Tuesday at noon. Other talks in the community will be made by the speaker during his sojourn in the area.

Following the talks here, Mr. Fuchs said the representative of the health service will appear before the Caprock Water and Sewer Men's association at their meeting Tuesday night, March 25, in Crosbyton.

Planting Good Seed For High Yields Favored

COLLEGE STATION — Farmers will need to use "every trick in the bag" to meet the production goals which have been set for 1952. The planting season is approaching in most sections of the state and farmers are reminded by L. C. Coffey, associate agronomist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, that only top quality seed should be used for seeding the 1952 crops.

He points out that certified seed are usually the best seed of a particular variety available. Those seed come from fields that have been inspected during the growing season, have been promptly handled at harvest time, cleaned, tested for purity and germination, and properly stored.

The blue tags attached to each sack of certified seed carry accurate information about the quality of the planting seed. These tags are issued by the State Department of Agriculture for use on seed which have met certain high standards of purity and germination. In 1951, blue tags were issued for 91 varieties of 15 different crops grown in Texas.

Although certified seed may cost slightly more than other seed, the added expense is off set by the assurance of purity higher percentage of germination and varieties that are adapted to Texas conditions, says Coffey. Seed of questionable germination and purity may Coffey urges farmers to get the seed that will be needed for this year's crop now while supplies are adequate. Last minute seed shoppers may find the stocks depleted and thus will be forced to plant whatever is available. The use of poor quality planting seed may prove to be a year-long handicap in meeting production goals warns Coffey.

On children under fifteen years you can get a $150.00 policy payable in cash for less than 1/2 of one cent per day. A five hundred dollar policy will cost only 1 1/4 cents per day. On older people the rate is higher but still within reach of most everyone.

I pay $1 in taxes out of every $4 I earn—and look what the taxes pay for!

Billions of tax dollars are lost yearly through waste and inefficiency. These examples from the bipartisan Hoover Report show how.

- In government hospitals the Construction cost per bed was found to run from $20 thousand to $51 thousand as against an average cost of only $16 thousand per bed in private hospitals.
- The Veterans Administration uses 4 times as much manpower per insurance policy as private insurance companies do, yet takes 5 times as long to pay claims.
- The General Services Agency (a product of the Hoover Report recommendations) found that one federal agency had stocked a 93-year supply of fluorescent bulbs... and that another had enough loose-leaf binders to last 247 years.
- 400,000 hard-working Post Office employees are hampered by obsolete methods and an outmoded organizational structure—politics lowers their morale.

This year, Uncle Sam is spending $71 billion dollars running his federal "household." But the bipartisan Hoover Report showed that Uncle Sam takes the prize as one of the world's worst managers—and that the more he spends the more he wastes.

"I'm writing mad!" says worker.

"I don't grudge the government a cent, but I'm not going to stand by and see my hard-earned money wasted even by Uncle Sam. It beats me why all the Hoover Report recommendations weren't passed long ago. I've written my Congressman and told him so and I'm going to keep on writing 'til those recommendations are passed. They will be passed, too, if citizens like you and me back them up!"

So, it's good news that the Hoover Report recommendations point the way to sound, economical management of government machinery. And we know they work. Half of them have already been adopted—and will stop $2 billion's worth of waste.

It's bad news that the other half of these recommendations received only a lick and a promise from Congress in '51—even though their passage would mean saving $55 billion wasted annually. How could such a thing happen? Certain thoughtless groups aren't interested in saving money even though it belongs to citizens. And these groups have a strong voice in Washington.

But your voice is stronger! If you write to your Congressman and tell him you want all the Hoover Report recommendations put through in '52 he'll listen to you—and he'll act!

Here's what to do. Send for your free copy of the booklet, "Saving Dollars." It tells you just what has to be done and why. Then write your Congressman and let him know where you stand. Do it now!

Facts truck owners should know about hauling bigger payloads

WANT to know why you can carry more payload with Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks?

First, they've got better weight distribution. This means that bigger payload capacity is engineered into a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck. Many trucks carry too much weight on the rear axle, not enough on the front. But in a Dodge truck, the right proportion of the load is carried on each axle.

Besides this better weight distribution, a shorter wheelbase provides easier turning, easier parking. Come in and try one of these payload-packing, easier-handling trucks for yourself. Get all the facts about hauling bigger payloads.

Carry more! In Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks, the engine is placed forward and the front axle back—for better distribution of the load. You can carry bigger payloads—without overloading.

Haul faster! Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks are powered by high-compression engines to give you top performance with rock-bottom economy. Big power gives you pull and speed that save time.

Get longer life! There's a Dodge truck that's "Job-Rated" to fit your road and load condition—with load-carrying and load-moving units factory-engineered to stand up on toughest service.

"With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low!"

... says MORRIS SAPIR

"After using Dodge "Job-Rated" trucks for eight years exclusively, I want to report that your new models are keeping me sold on Dodge.

"No vehicle we have ever seen can give our drivers more freedom in city traffic than our Dodge 1-ton truck. With our new Dodge, the payload is high, the cost per mile low."

Teacher Says:
"Have you met, Major?" Well, if you really've met Major, or Major Jr., you really have something for which to look forward. Of course, you probably won't see either of them while you bend over—merely feel them. Should you arrive at school in time to have friendly conversation with some of the gang, you would probably be asked to go to your classes by our Agriculture teacher, Mr. Barber, and he might offer an introduction to "Major" if you don't rush!
You will see Mr. Barber dressed in dress pants, sport jackets and white shirts and very attractive ties.
Jolly, Mr. Barber, is one of the Senior sponsors and has held this position for the past few years. He has been very successful in this capacity as well as being a grand leader in Agricultural work.
He says — Girls get out of the halls!!! The bell rang!!!
Hi! There — I have some awfully cute pictures Ha! Ha! Ha! (Black-mail).
Lots of luck to a fine man!
Who is that nice looking, well built specimen going into Algebra I class— Could it be? Well, yes it is! The teacher, Mr. Bob Copeland.
Mr. Copeland has been in F.H.S. two years. He is usually seen wearing french cuff shirts — with nice cuff buttons and tie clasp to match. With either attractive sport jacket and trousers or a well tailored suit. He is very lively and laughs with all the students.
He may usually be heard saying a "spit out your gurl! Get out your pencil and paper, we're going to have a test! Barry, close your mouth! Boys, I've called you down enough to day Keep your eyes on your own paper! Mr. Copeland, you are a very charming teacher and we are very proud to have you in F.H.S.

TRUCKERS CLEAN HOUSE (Contributed)

The truckers of Texas are to be commended upon the splendid showing they have made in reducing the number of overloading violations.

The last Legislature increased the truck load limit from 48,000 to 58,420 pounds. The truckers adopted a policy of law observation and pledged themselves to a policy of staying within the new weight limitation. A self-policing committee, under the direction of W. W. Callan of Waco, was created.

That the industry, through this committee, has tried hard and successfully to carry out this policy is shown in figures from the Texas Department of Public Safety.

According to these figures, the rate of violations found by the Department's inspectors is 85 per cent less than it was a year ago.

The trucking industry, as represented by Texas Motor Transportation Association, has pledged its continued efforts to keep down overloading, as well as to promote courtesy and safety on the highways and generally to strive toward the goal of giving this state the best kind of truck service.

Promises are cheap -- we hear of them without having much faith in their being fulfilled -- but the motor carriers' promise is backed up by a record of achievement.

It took determination and hard work to do what they have done. They have cleaned house and it appears that they intend to keep it clean.

The truck is an essential part of our transportation system, and the trucking industry has long paid a substantial amount of money every year to the state in taxes.

It is gratifying to greet the truck operator as a good citizen.

It helped the presidential clean-up appointee with us a lot last week when he roared back at the senate sub-committee which was trying to pick him and hold him up to ridicule. The senate is permitting itself thru its investigating committees, to join in smear activities which now, along with tax raising, seems to be the principal mark of our government. Smear is a tactical operation which is being copied from the past masters, the Communist. Such is unworthy of the senate committees. Whereas such a committee, named to bare unworthiness or venality, should conduct its work on a high plane, mercilessly, if need be, but in a manner worthy of dignity of the people, they seem to be impressed with the need to use innuendo and to bullrag their witnesses, to make the victim be a criminal whether or not his motive has been above reproach. Mr. Newbold Morris just pointed right back at the committee and said "you're not going to do me that way."

People are cutting down and hauling off trees this spring that they planted years ago and have attended to carefully for all the intervening dry summers and mean springs. Two or three things have contributed to this slaughter of trees in this and presumably, in other communities. Among these is the changing ideas of local people on desirable landscaping. The first tree planters thought in terms of shade and more shade. The high plains has had plenty of sky view all the time. The early settlers found nothing else when they looked above the top of the grass. They put out trees which they are now digging up. One tree the other day that went by to the dump ground to be burned was a 30-year veteran of winter storms, spring dry spells and summer heat. Taking its place will be a tree in another portion of the owner's grounds.

Speaking of trees, it appears the late cold spell, which is generally looked for, will kill off the peach and plum crop in the early stage of its development. One person the other day took consolation in the anticipated disaster to the fruit crop. If the cold spell kills off the peaches this year it will also kill off a crop of elm tree seed at the same time, was the remark. Elm trees have been popular and still are for quick shade. But they make a problem in the millions of little seed they scatter over the premises, particularly in hedges and about where they are not wanted. They also break easily under the recurring icing storms common in the region. They do heal quickly at the broken places, however, and they make shade. The old timers would have welcomed them in place of the black locusts which were commonly planted for the first twenty years after the country began to settle up.

North Carolina's Agricultural Experiment Station points out that corn yields in the Southeastern States could be increased 42 per cent by adding 30 pounds of nitrogen per acre.

Consumption of fertilizer in the West North Central States of Minnesota, Iowa, North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas has increased 965 per cent since 1939.

Although we hear a good deal about promoting school spirit and how school activities help to maintain a good school spirit, especially how interschool athletics help, we do not often take time to analyze what makes up this wonderful thing we are promoting. Of what is good school spirit composed and how can we tell whether a school possesses it?

First of all, school spirit is not noise or mere enthusiasm or exuberance. Nor is it the spontaneous celebration with its accompanying uncontrolled parades, sometimes destructive, following a successful athletic contest. Certainly it is not a feeling of superiority over other schools; although it often seems that this is what alumni and the public emphasize in athletic contests. If school spirit can be engendered only by winning a majority of scheduled athletic contests, then half the schools cannot attain a good school spirit for it is very likely that about half of the schools would win a minority of their con-

Whirlwinds Shine in Track Events With Petersburg

The "Winds" showed surprisingly strong material as they defeated the Petersburg Buffaloes here Thursday afternoon.

The Winds, who are defending District 3-A Champions, captured first place in every event besides the 880 and broad-jump.

Outstanding times recorded during were Don McGuire's time of 53.9 in the 440 yard dash. Adrain Helms ran the mile in the fine time of 5:17.6. Hutchinson captured the 100 yard dash in 19.5, while teammate Dennis Wilks easily won the 220 dash in 23.9. Floydada's crack mile relay reeled off a fine time of 3:46.

In the field events, Connie Bear-den won the high jump with a leap of 5 feet 9 inches. Roy Teague highlighted the day by tossing the shot put 42 feet 8 inches.

The Winds will travel to Tullia Tuesday to enter an eight team meet there. Saturday the Winds will compete in the Panhandle Relay.

Early season performances show that the Winds are capable of retaining their District 3-A Championship.

WHAT ARE TODAY'S FACTS ABOUT NEW CAR ENGINES AND POWER STEERING?

LAST YEAR Chrysler introduced its new FirePower V-8 engine, and America's first passenger-car full-time power steering. Both new ideas "took hold" in a big way.

Today, others are announcing "new engines" and "power steering" . . . but with some basic differences worth keeping in mind if you're buying a new car.

First: about "new engines." The fact is, a really new engine design happens only once in a great while. It did happen in the FirePower V-8. Its 180 h.p. was only incidental to its basic new design. Its key idea is a hemispherical combustion chamber, which makes even non-premium gasoline develop more usable power than other designs can get from premium fuel.

Only Chrysler engineering has so far mastered this design. Several cars do have some power increase, in terms of previous designs. The important fact is that FirePower is not a "warmed-over" engine, but brand new in performance, construction, and efficiency.

In power steering, too, there are basic differences.

History classes. Making a return to art by way of maps they say. Even said something about Cape Horn (never heard of a coat by that name), the Panama Canal (Kinda remember reading about a barditch cut between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, but why study those far away when we have 'em right behind the cafeteria and the Strait of Magellan (he must not have been a politician 'cause who ever heard of a man in politics getting the "strait" of anything.) Just don't know, but I'm rather satisfied with English class.

A standard two-some around P.H.S. are Olin Rapp and a blonde Jackie H., what's with all the mystery. Can't you even tell me?? Patsy R. and Jimmy Dunn, how was the movie?? While wandering into the Library (I had a permit) I stumbled upon books—all around me books. Finally they told me they were only changing up and cleaning house not moving to another location. Rumors are that the walls of the Library will get a new coat of paint soon. Let's keep our Library in good order. What do you say... Six Feet Six, no Sam Houston isn't the guy seen escorting Barbara McNeil, but was our own Bobby Ashton... Gary, what have you to say about all this I hear about you—here and there?? Well, you—here and there with a warning: SENIORS BEWARE! The close of school is near so be certain 'tis The End.

One To Another

SUE: "Surely you're not going to let that redhead setal your boy friend!"
 ANN: "Never! I'll dye first."

MR. BARBER: "What animal is it that has very strong limbs, a fierce temper, wild, bushy hair on its head, and wears pads?"
 BROOKS: "A football player."

Weldon rode home from his new job: "Made foreman—feather in my cap."
 A few weeks later he wrote again: "Made manager—another feather in my cap."
 After some weeks he wrote again, saying: "Fired—send money for train fare."
 His dad unfeelingly telegraphed back: "Use feathers and fly home."

MISS BEVILL: "Fraser, was the butcher impudent again when you telephoned your order this morning?"
 MISS FRAZER: "Sure, but I fixed him this time. I see, "Just who do you think ye're talking to? This is Miss B. Talking!"

A country man, Mr. Hill, entering a drug store and seeing a pay station, placed a nickel in the slot and lifted the receiver. The Operator inquired, "Number, please?"
 Mr. Hill: "Number heck; I want my peanuts."

My Kind of Woman

Hubert Ring: I like a woman who is always very considerate; who does not act as if she is better than someone else; and one that will treat me nice.

Adrain Helms: I like a woman who—has a good personality, is sweet to me at all times; never acts stuck-up or hateful, is friendly to everyone, doesn't tell lies, (especially about other dates or why she can't go) is neat and prompt, that has no bad habits, loves me and says she does, and who "worships me in every way."

Billy Carmack: My kind of woman must—be sweet to me, (at all times) have a sweet personality, not be hateful or stuck-up, always speak to everyone, dress well, and have no bad habits. She must be true to me at all times.

Bert Grimes: I like a feminine woman who is neat, broad-minded, friendly, and very attractive.

Dane Clark: My kind of Woman—Must be attractive, rather than beautiful. She must be friendly, not given to listening to gossip or doing so herself. I like a girl to be neat in appearance, warm-hearted, good humored, to like sports and be a good sport. I like a girl with intelligence, both spiritually and mentally—not just book sense, but common sense. I don't like my girl to be like a billboard-imposing front, with a vacant 'ot behind.

The officiating minister was Claude Parrish, a school friend of the groom from Floydada, who is attending Abilene Christian college. The double ring ceremony was used. Pre-nuptial music was given by Miss Diane Estes, who gave several traditional wedding numbers and the wedding marches. She accompanied Kelly Martin, who sang "Thru the Years" and sang with a quartet who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Two candelabra with lighted tapers, on each side of an arch connected by silver wedding bells, a large basket of white flowers, on each side of the candelabra and smaller baskets of flowers completed the decorations.

The matron of honor, Mrs. George R. Blake of Winfield, Kansas, sister of the bride, wore an identical copy of the bride's dress, with the exception of short sleeves, ballerina in length and a small half hat, and carried a large arm bouquet of white carnations.

The junior bridesmaid was Joan Titlow, sister of the bride, who wore a copy of the matron's dress.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper satin gown with full gathered floor length skirt, fitted bodice, high neck with tiny self-covered buttons from the waist to the Peter Pan collar. The long sleeves came to a point over the hands. Her finger tip veil of illusion was held with a pearl tiara. The bride carried a large orchid surrounded with 12 Vanda orchids.

Mrs. Titlow chose for her daughter's wedding a mauve pink sallyan dress with navy accessories and a white carnation corsage.

Mrs. Jackson wore a brown print dress with linen jacket, brown accessories and a white carnation corsage.

At the reception which followed the wedding ceremony, a three-tier wedding cake and punch was served from the table having for a centerpiece a large satin covered wedding ring with white carnations.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Books are keys to wisdom's treasure; Books are gates to lands of pleasure; Books are paths that upward lead; Books are friends. Come let us read. Poets have said much about books "Is the best of friends" — "Is the precious life-blood" — "Of life." "Of gold" — Another book was opened, which is the book of life." — "Are Keys," "Are paths," "Are friends," "Are legends" — and so on. We enjoy books and have many in our collection. Many of them are real old, some shining new, others are books I studied in school, and books my own children used. They have been my companions through the years. When the snow flew and we were cut off by impassable roads, the books were at hand to give comfort and joy.

When the morning's work was done on the farm, the dinner hour over and the dishes washed up, books were read and pleasure. Sometimes I think I will part with many of them. It is hard to keep so many, but I cannot make up my mind to give up any, for they all have a meaning and significance of my passing through this world.

I love to read Victor Hugo and will quote a few lines from his masterpiece:

"Upon the first goblet he read this inscription: Monkey wine; upon the second; lion wine; upon the third; sheep wine; upon the fourth, swine wine. These four inscriptions expressed the four degrees of drunkenness: the first, that which enlivens; the second, that which irritates; the third, that which stupefies; finally the last, that which brutalizes."

And here is a prophecy in autograph on the wall of the room in which Victor Hugo died. Place de

Vauges, Paris: "I represent a party which does not yet exist. This party of revolution, civilization. This party will make the twentieth century. There will issue from it first the United States of Europe, then the United States of the World."

Was West Texas trying to honor the visit of Senator Tait, giving him a big "blow-out" or was it trying to blow him out of the country?

When we came in from church yesterday noon I felt like Old Mother Hubbard I had nothing in my cupboard, or at least nothing that could be fixed in time to keep us from literally starving. Don't tell me that thoughts can not go out like radio for even as I was pondering the doorbell rang and my neighbor across the street was inviting us to have dinner with the family. I told you Emily Potts is a good cook, from fried chicken with the gravy to cake which Betty Crocker would be proud to make. Thanks, neighbors, for your making room at your table for us. And especially to Grace Ann for asking me to sit by her.

We miss Mrs. Byars, our next-door neighbor, but we trust the "heavens" will do her much good. She and Mrs. Roland are at Stovall Wells.

OLD-FASHIONED LIVING

MODERN LIVING

JUST A SNAP OF THE SWITCH AND MY WASHING IS DONE!

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

There didn't used to be any choice on getting clothes clean. It was boil them or else. But that's all different under modern living — electric living. Wash day now is a matter of putting the clothes in the washer and turning the controls. One simple operation takes care of soaking, washing, rinsing, wringing. And then, if there's an automatic electric clothes dryer in your home laundry, clothes are dried just the way you want them—with more fluff than any other drying method known. Electric living is modern living. Electric living is efficient, economical living, too.
