

Sixth Effort Rewards Juanice Shearer First in Dress Revue

Juanice Shearer was named winner in the Floyd county 4-H dress revue held Saturday afternoon in the Floydada High school auditorium.

Juanice wore a navy rayon linen dress with a rose pink jacket of the same material. She will model her dress in the district dress revue elimination contest at Lubbock on May 3, and if among the high scoring girls, she will compete in the state 4-H dress review contest at the 4-H Round-Up at College Station June 9-10.

Juanice, age 15, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Shearer of Floydada. She has had clothing as a 4-H project for six years and has entered six dress revues. She is secretary-treasurer of the boys and girls' county-wide 4-H club of Floyd county.

At the revue thirty-three girls modeled dresses they had made as part of their projects in their 4-H work. What the revue lacked in quantity was made up in quality, and the judges had a difficult time in deciding on the scores. Judges were Mrs. Xie Collins, Lamb County Home Demonstration agent; Mrs. Earlene Whitfield, Assistant Hockley County Home Demonstration agent; Mrs. A. H. Kreis of the Friendship Home Demonstration club, and Mrs. C. L. King of the Lone Star Home Demonstration club. Miss Juanice Smith, talented member of the Dougherty 4-H club entertained the audience with musical selections at the revue. Miss Leila Petty, County Home Demonstration agent, introduced her, the judges, and the adult leaders who had solicited prizes for the Revue. Leaders were Mmes. S. J. Latta of Floydada; Rafe Ferguson of Sand Hill; G. W. Smith and Bill Smith of Dougherty; Mrs. Wayne Russell of Lakeview and Mrs. Thomas Marr of Lockney.

Miss Petty was commentator for the revue and announced the winners in each of the four groups. Prizes were $5 for first place, $3 for second, $2 for third, and $1 each to the rest of the girls competing. In addition, the Simplicity Pattern company will award medals to the four high scoring girls.

Placings were announced as follows:

Age 9-10 Groups: First, Linda Baxter, Lockney Jr., 4-H; Second Genella Marie Price, Floydada 5th Grade; Third Jewell Jackson, Sand Hill; Sandra Kay Harber, Sand Hill; Eleanore Baxter, Lockney; Carolyn Martin, Floydada 5th grade.

On May 3 is National Conservation club week. One emphasis for this year's observations is dependent upon a successful homemaker who helps to take pride in making a comfortable, attractive, and efficient home. Such as refrigerator, washer, home freezer and other appliances make Mrs. Latta's busy life easier. Mr. and Mrs. Latta have been invited to the awards dinner at Lubbock on May 26, along with other winners of this contest. They will be guests of the Ft. Worth Press and the soil conservation districts that sponsor the contest. Homer Taff of the Soil Conservation service of Lubbock, Jack Creel of Station KPVO, Lubbock, and Mr. Bell of Lubbock Avalanche Journal interviewed Mrs. Latta at her home on Monday. So they put their heads together, and promptly patented a mask to serve the same purpose, which could be sold for 45 cents. Arrangements have been made to have their oxygen masks manufactured by a Cleveland firm. IOWANS WANT A RIVER TO RUN UNDER BRIDGE

The people of Onawa, Iowa, made a last effort, through Senator Guy Gillette (D-Iowa), to do something about their bridge. It rises sturdily from one bank of the Missouri, near Decatur, soars more or less majestically, and comes down on the same side of the river, says Pathfinder news magazine. The Army Engineers, they claim, conned local authorities into building over dry land (saving $4,000,000) while the river was meandering elsewhere. The engineers planned to divert the river but never did. Now it would cost $8,000,000. Actually, Burt County, Neb., paid for the bridge, but Onawa needs it most.

Pre-School Clinic Set for Thursday

A pre-school clinic will be held at the Andrews Ward school on May 8 in the office of the school nurse, Mrs. Wesley Carr. Parents will receive notices as to time to bring their children to the clinic. Dr. George Smith, Dr. A. E. Guthrie, and Dr. Howard Bess have volunteered their services for the clinic. The time has been divided into three periods. They are 9 to 10:30 a.m., 10:30 to 12:00 noon, and from 1 to 3:00 p.m. Parents are asked to bring their children in at the designated time, but if unable to come at the specified time, please come in the group that is most convenient. The clinic is in the nature of a general check-up, and is sponsored by the Parent-Teacher Association. The only helium producing plant in the United States is near Amarillo, Texas. A West Texas tradition says that a horned frog can live a hundred years without food or water. All GI's know the Army rule, so it's not so surprising that a top man like Ike kept his eyes open, his mouth shut and didn't volunteer. —Pathfinder

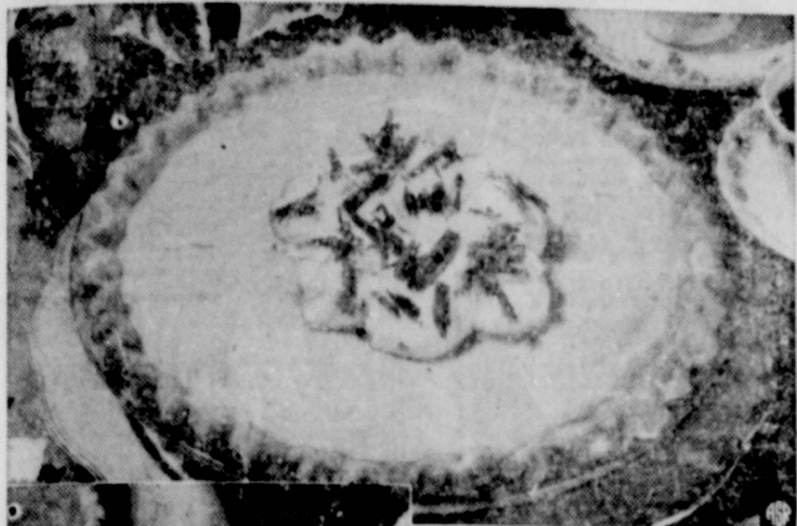

Rites For Father of Mrs. Kassahn Held at Wellington

Z. T. Lowrie of Wellington, father of Mrs. Jack Kassahn, suffered a heart attack last Wednesday evening and passed away at his home there Thursday night. Mrs. Kassahn left here for Wellington and was with her father when death came. The funeral service for Mr. Lowrie was held Sunday afternoon there from the First Baptist church with Reverend Olan Riley of the Decatur Baptist Junior College officiating. Reverend Riley is an old friend of the Lowrie family. Burial was in the Wellington cemetery.

Mr. Lowrie was born July 1, 1876 at Portrait, Texas. He had been a resident of Wellington and Callingsworth county for 55 years. He would have been 76 years of age on July 1. Survivors include his widow and two sons, Taylor of Wellington and Claude of Taos, New Mexico, and three daughters, Mrs. Kassahn of Floydada, Mrs. Clay Henry of Plainview and Miss Rita Lowrie of Carlsbad, New Mexico. Mr. Kassahn and son accompanied Mrs. Kassahn to Wellington and were present for the rites. Mrs. Kassahn is a bookkeeper at the First National bank here.

The first commercial ice plant in the United States was operated in Jefferson, Texas about 1874. Keene, Texas, a town founded by Seventh Day Adventists in 1890, is said to be the only community in the United States where the post-office is open on Sunday.

One Magic Recipe Gives New Family of Pies

- 1. Sift flour and salt together. Cut in shortening until particles are the size of small peas. 2. Sprinkle milk over mixture, tossing lightly with fork until dough is moist enough to hold together. Form into a ball. 3. Roll out on floured board or pastry cloth to a 10-inch circle. Fit loosely into 8-inch pie pan. Gently pat out air pockets. Fold edge to form standing rim; flute. Pick crust with fork. 4. Bake in hot oven (425°F.) 10 to 12 minutes. Cool. Makes 8-inch pie shell.

Apricot Filling

- 1 package orange-flavored gelatin 1 1/4 cups hot canned apricot nectar 1 pint vanilla ice cream 1. Dissolve gelatin in hot liquid in 2-quart saucepan. 2. Add ice cream by spoonfuls, stirring until melted. Then chill until thickened, but not set (15 to 20 minutes). 3. Turn into cooled baked pie shell. Chill until firm (15 to 20 minutes). Garnish with whipped cream and shaved chocolate.

It's an appealing combination of ice cream, the magic ingredient, and fruit-flavored gelatin, in a flaky, tender crust. DRUG HELPS POLIO VICTIMS

After Dr. Alvin C. Schapp's three-year-old daughter emerged from an attack of polio with back, abdomen and both legs paralyzed, her father, a surgeon at St. Louis University medical school, treated her experimentally with a drug called pyromen. Pyromen is an artificial-fever-producing solution, derived from bacterial cultures. The girl improved vastly. Now the drug has been tried on other polio patients. Many have shown distinct relief and increased mobility — and improved spirits. No one knows yet why the drug should produce this effect. —Pathfinder

Store Warmth of Sun's Rays

AUSTIN, Texas. — Economical heating for Southwestern homes and farm and ranch buildings is a goal of new University of Texas experiments. Burnett Forrest Treat, associate professor of mechanical engineering, has begun initial tests on the possibility of harnessing the sun's rays for heating. If he is successful, structures can be warmed in certain ways for generations, with the only cost being the initial outlay for equipment. The theory is to create heat from the sun during the day and use it to warm a structure at night or store it for warming during cold spells. Solar heating offers particular advantages to ranchers whose property usually is far removed from conventional heat sources. Large barns and stock sheds could be heated economically and safely.

Close Comparison

Pretty nearly anything that can happen to a human being in the way of illness can happen to a dog or cat. They are subject to pneumonia, arthritis, cancer, heart disease, nutritional deficiency disorders. They may be run over—in fact, dogs and cats are particularly liable to severe auto injuries because of their small size. Rabies is as fatal to the dog as to the individual bitten by the rabid animal. Asthma is especially common among dogs with flattened noses, like the bull terrier and bulldog. Cats and dogs are immune to poison ivy (though their fur may transmit the noxious oil to unwary owners) but are susceptible to a full complement of skin disorders caused by other plants, fungi and mites.

ANNOUNCING! We now have a regular wash and grease man in our service Department. Come in and let us wash and grease your car. MAYO MOTOR CO. 202 W. Missouri Phone 237

DON'T LET THEM SELL YOU A BILL OF GOODS

You have heard a lot of talk about an uninstructed delegation to the National Democratic Convention, demanded by Governor Shivers, and an instructed delegation, urged by Loyal Democrats.

What are the issues?

The Loyal Democrats do not ask that the delegation to the National Convention be instructed to vote for any particular candidate for President—the delegation can use its own sound judgment; they ask only that the delegation be instructed to support the Presidential nominee of the Convention, whoever he may be, and not to bolt the Convention and the Democratic Party, which is nothing more or less than ordinary political honesty and in keeping with the first principal of democracy that the majority rules.

On the other hand, without telling you who or what he stands for besides his own obvious political ambitions, Governor Shivers asks for an uninstructed delegation pledged to him personally, with the announced intention of doing some political trading. He doesn't say what he proposes to trade for—he asks for a blank check. He doesn't trust the Democratic Party, he doesn't trust the National Democratic Convention, he doesn't trust the delegation your State Convention will select, and he must not trust you, for he won't tell you what he intends to do—but he asks you to blindly trust him with your State's political future.

If Texas and the South alone could elect a president, there would be some point to political trading, but the fact of the matter is that it takes the vote of Democrats all over the country to elect a President—Truman was elected in 1948 without a lot of Southern votes which were thrown away on a Dixiecrat—and from here, Governor Shivers doesn't look any better to us than J. Strom Thurmond (P.S. He was the 1948 Dixiecrat) if that is what the Governor has in mind.

What does Governor Shivers stand for? If it is economy in government, he ought to begin at home—the cost of State government in Texas has increased ninety-two times since 1900 while the cost of National government increased only seventy-seven times in the same period, far out of proportion to the respective increases in population, and beside the fact that the National government paid for two world wars in that period. If it is purity in politics, the Governor ought likewise to begin at home, since one of his handpicked State Democratic Committeemen resigned a few days ago, charged with embezzlement.

It is fair to judge a man by the company, political or otherwise, that he keeps, and while quite a few good but misguided Democrats have mistakenly aligned themselves with the Governor, his noisiest and most active supporters are the familiar motley crew of Dixiecrats, Texas Regulars, O'Danielites, wartime isolationists, and other political fifth columnists who creep out of the woodwork and the plumbing every four years and try to sabotage the Democratic Party—they tried to steal the State electoral vote in 1944 and its conventions in 1948, and now they are using Governor Shivers for their wooden horse.

We have no quarrel with honest Republicans, and we don't want rubberstamp Democrats—a good Democrat has not only the privilege but the duty of raising Cain in party councils and conventions for what he believes in—but when the majority of the Party votes against him, he shouldn't take his bat and ball and go home, and even more emphatically, he shouldn't stay in the party, and, while retaining its benefits in the way of a public office, connive at thwarting the will of the majority as our Texas Dixiecrats do.

Why vote Democratic? Look around you—there is the farm program that has put our farm population, and with it our farm towns such as Floydada and Lockney, in the best condition in the history of the State—and there is that 3-million dollar R.E.A.—imagine Taft providing that. Taxes too high? We quote Senator Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma: "After paying federal taxes last year the American people had nearly three times as much income left as they did after federal taxes in the best year of either the Hoover or Coolidge administrations." Tideland? Senator Connally, bless his heart, will take care of that before he retires.

Go to your precinct Democratic Convention Saturday and vote for a delegation pledged to be Democrats, not political bellhops for Governor Shivers.

First Baptist Church Crowds Break Records

All church and church school attendance records for Floydada were surpassed Sunday of this week, when the First Baptist church climaxed a two weeks long revival, with crowds that overflowed all departments.

Sunday school attendance for the morning was counted as 822 members and there were big crowds all day long. At the Sunday morning worship service the audience overflowed the auditorium and younger children spent the service hour in their department rooms. For the night service the audience was so large that use was made of vestibules for temporary seating.

Dr. A. A. Brian, of Brownwood, vice-president of Daniel Baker college, preached the last sermon of the revival series Sunday night. Music direction was under Dr. Joe Trussell, the evangelist singer.

Many Added to Rolls
Additions to the church membership in the two-week period totaled 66 persons, of whom 47 were added by baptism, 19 by letter and statement.

Miss Groves to Speak
Pastor of the church, R. Earl Allen, announced the first of this week that Miss Blanche Groves, a former missionary to China, will speak Sunday morning next at 11 o'clock in his absence. Miss Groves is a sister of Mrs. E. R. Borum, of this city. Miss Groves has spoken in prior years to many Floydada audiences. The night service will be in charge of the Baptist brotherhood. Judson Burnett, of Levelland, district brotherhood president, will speak at 8 o'clock.

The pastor of the church is in Klondike, near Lamesa, this week, preaching for a revival meeting He will be there through Sunday.

Castor Beans Defense Crop

Although Floyd county farmers may not go all out for castor beans as seems to be probable in some other counties of the state, it is evident that a considerable acreage will be put in this year here, judging from pledges made at last Thursday's meeting and the interest indicated by others, says Thos. J. Hutchins, secretary of the Floyd County Production and Marketing Administration.

The beans will be strictly a cash crop. A guaranteed price of 10 cents per pound or the market price, whichever is the higher at the time of harvest, is guaranteed.

The farmer plants the kind of seed furnished by the Commodity Credit Corporation and he contracts to sell and deliver all his crop to the corporation.

Special Combines Furnished
Combines for harvesting will be furnished by the Commodity Credit Corporation and the county is guaranteed at last one combine for each 400 acres of beans seeded and one huller for each two combines. Combines will go in pairs.

These briefs together with numerous answers to questions asked were given by John Martin, a representative of PMA and CCC. Mr. Martin gave the history of castor beans in the United States, also the need for castor oil in the production of defense materials. This oil is being used in over 100 products and more discovered almost daily. Lubricants for jet planes is one of these needs. Although only 70,000 acres of castor beans were planted in the U.S. last year the need is for 500,000 acres, Mr. Martin said.

Tuesday approximately 1,000 acres had been signed for in this county, said Mr. Hutchins. Immediately the grower signs up he can get the seed at 22 cents per pound.

Acreage Not Limited

In the questions and answers at Thursday's session it was brought out that the equipment usually found on Floyd county farms can be used in all the operations except in threshing. A little thicker planting plate than is used by many farmers may be required also, to keep from crushing the beans as they emerge from the planter box. The beans will have to stand in the fields until at least 10 days after frost.

The acreage is not limited in amount either for the county or for the farmer. John Martin said that the biggest acreage to date pledged in this area is in Deaf Smith county, where it is certain that ten thousand to

America's Three Largest Birds Clinging to Last Wilderness

In wilderness sanctuaries from the Gulf coast of Texas to the Pacific, the United States is fighting to save its three largest birds from the dodo's fate.

Trumpeter swans' their haunting sky song echoing like French horns over Montana's Red Rock Lakes National Wildlife Park, are slowly winning their uphill race against extinction. Closer to oblivion are the nation's few remaining whooping cranes and the last 60-odd California condors still in existence.

These are the B-36's of the bird world. The trumpeter swan is considered the heaviest, and the California crane the tallest, and the California condor as having the widest wingspread of any North America wildfowl. They are also, with but two possible exceptions, the rarest birds on the continent.

Sixteen years ago, only 73 trumpeters were known to nest in the U.S. Fashion's demand for swan plumage, together with drainage and plowing of frontier nesting grounds, virtually wiped out the 30-pound birds in the latter 1800's.

Last summer, wildlife biologists and refuge managers counted 535 trumpeters in Montana and Wyoming. With two to three times that many believed to be in Canada and Alaska, more of the snow-white, black-billed trumpeters are living today than at any time in the last 50 years.

Each year they return to Aransas. Last winter, harried by a severe Texas drought, only 32 were counted. The year before there had been 37.

More battles have been fought in and around San Antonio, Texas than in any other city in the United States.

Good Crowd Sees Dalby Win Again Over Floydada Man

A good crowd witnessed the matched roping between Ras Ware, Floydada, and Fred Dalby, Aspermont, Sunday afternoon at the rodeo grounds.

Several out of town ropers were present, including some students from Texas Tech who were getting in some good practice for their inter-collegiate show to be held at Tech soon.

Fred Dalby was high man in the match. His time being 131.2 with average on each calf 18.4. Ras Ware's time was 211.5. His average on each calf was 26.4. He had some hard luck, getting in a storm and having to use four loops to catch one calf.

The first $5.00 jackpot winners were Fred Dalby, with 14.5 seconds, Chuck Woodruff 17.1 and third W. T. Kirk with 17.8.

The second jack pot, first Johnny Leonard with 12.5 seconds, Virgil Patrick with 15.1, and a split third John Waddace, 15.8, and Fred Dalby 15.8.

Twenty Possemen Make Vernon Trip

Twenty members of the Floyd County sheriff's posse journeyed to Vernon Monday to attend the Santa Rosa Rodeo and horse show.

The posse rode in the parade and in the grand entry at the rodeo. They report a fine time and a wonderful barbeque, served at the noon hour.

The flags for the posse did not arrive in time for the group to take to Vernon with them. They arrived here on Tuesday afternoon.

Ginger Rogers won a Charleston contest in Fort Worth, Texas and thereby entered upon the career that led to movie stardom.

Table Comforts. Among other table comforts for which the provident plains householder is giving thanks this week, are cornbread and polk greens. Those who are sure you can't raise polk on the plains didn't have any out in the corner when the spring freshets hit. Those who are sure you can did, and had some of this wonderful spring blood purger and iron builder once or twice already.

Beginning this month it is going to be more expensive to be younger than 25 than older than that age, at least on one account. This is assuming you have an automobile and that you are going to drive it. Who does not and who is not? An insurance policy on a car that is driven by persons younger than 25 is going to cost more. The experience rate tables say that is fairer than the present rates are. An insurance commission in Austin sets these rates. They have had the statistics gathered up and the answer is that the daughter and son whom the family jalopy about more than does papa and mamma. They're in more collisions, more wrecks, they injure and kill more people. They cost the insurance companies more. Ergo, they ought to pay more. So says the insurance commission. When they say it, it becomes the law in Texas.

If you feel sure you have heart trouble or, we'll say, stomach ulcers, take comfort in the medical report which says that about 50 per cent of these kind of cases do not exist in fact. Your emotions may have control of you instead. Emotions make mankind, particularly affecting the female. Except in unusual circumstances the doctor does not find it desirable or best to be too plain with a patient who insists on being sick. It is not usually a good idea to reflect on a person's ailments any more than it is good to be too plain about a person's intelligence quotient. But listen to your doctor. After you've read the inflaming stories about prevalence of heart trouble, stomach ulcers, cancer or whatnot, keep in mind there are plenty of actual patients without your adding yourself to the list. Let the doctor attend to that. When he tells you in a diplomatic way that your heart trouble or your stomach ulcers are in your head listen to what he says. To many patients talk too much about too little.

New car prices are making automobile dealers take another look. They realize that their manufacturers and their government together are pricing them out of a lot of good business. Seemingly neither manufacturer nor government realize what they are doing. One dealer the other day put it clearly: "If you tried to buy a new car recently it's no news to you that prices and taxes are too high. Since Korea it has been one round of increases after another." Automobile makers and the government are rocking the boat. Nobody wants to think they are doing it purposely.

It used to be that Fire Chief Carl Rodgers made himself into an unofficial keeper-upper of the street markers, working the job in between assignments on his regular task as fireman. Lately, however, Rodgers' health has not been as good as it was and his duties have increased as well. The ratio, too, of poles and signs that the traffic takes out has increased. Between the lack of having a good handy man for upkeep and the sign wreckers we are beginning to have about as many corners unmarked as marked in Floydada.

The big floods of the current season seem to us to emphasize a claim that country America—mid-west America, you might say—has made for a long, long time, namely that the only way floods will ever be stopped on the big rivers is to make little dams out where the flood waters begin and stop the flood before it ever gets to be one. The program is unsound and will continue to make greater disaster as it continues to favor big cities and to be used for purposes other than the primary purpose of keeping flood waters from ruining the homes and farms of the people. Most of the damage of floods is done before it ever gets to the cities but the flood program of the authorities seems to be all arranged to favor the big centers of population. Building big dams that drive people from their productive efforts and take vast tracts of the country's best soil is not the answer to the real problem. Flood control that will make productive use of the soil will be effective, we think. Why the congress will listen to the bureaucrats who tell them otherwise is one of the things one cannot understand—unless, perhaps, he were a congressman and had the pressure put to him by those who want it that way, while the others, like The Hesperian, for instance, take theirs out in complaining.

Chrysler V-8 Saratoga Sedan, gasoline economy winner in Class "F". Entered and driven in the 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run by Chrysler Dealer Mel Alsbury, Hollywood. It was one of three Chrysler FirePower V-8's to win in their respective classes.

180 HP CHRYSLER V-8 FIRST IN 3 CLASSES IN ECONOMY RUN!

Here is truly dramatic proof that Chrysler's great new FirePower 180 HP V-8 engine design sets an entirely new standard of efficiency among American passenger car engines!

In this annual economy test, rigidly supervised, and limited strictly to stock car entrants, cars competing are divided, by price and size, into 11 standard classes. The route, from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, covered 1,415 miles of every possible kind of driving. Average speed for all cars was just under 41 miles per hour.

And in 3 of the 11 classes, the Chrysler V-8 engine was best for gasoline mileage.

In Class "F", this magnificent new engine won first place for a Saratoga 6-passenger sedan (125 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4010 pounds). In Class "H", it won first honors for a Saratoga model 8-passenger sedan (139 1/2-inch wheelbase, 4510 pounds). And in the top price and size, Class "I", it was again first, in a Chrysler Crown Imperial Sedan (145 1/2-inch wheelbase, 5360 pounds).

To travel these substantial cars at this speed under these conditions gives additional proof, we believe, that here in the FirePower V-8 engine is the finest and most efficient engine ever put into an American passenger car!

WE INVITE YOU TO DRIVE THIS ENGINE, YOURSELF . . .

The same engine which has just scored these remarkable accomplishments is no farther from you than your own Chrysler Dealer. He will welcome the chance to let you take the wheel and feel for yourself what Chrysler has done . . . not only in engine performance, but in power steering, power brakes, new shock absorbers, passenger comfort . . . to deserve the title: "Finest Car America Has Yet Produced!"

you received, when we debarked from the ship. This was Sunday afternoon. After debarkation we were loaded on a train (first class coaches, and they were nice) and we pulled out of the port and soon left Bremerhaven behind.

Inside of 20 minutes I could see how the Germans overran Europe and Norway. It is amazing how industrious these people are, and how fast this country is recovering, with the aid of the United States. Mark my words—they will cause trouble for someone, some way in the next 20 years! Their farming is outstanding. The farms are very small and their rotation program is near perfect. And what continues to amaze me is the perfect stands of each crop on these plots of land. The wheat farmers at home and in the United States, as a whole, very seldom get an even stand of wheat, rye, or oats. So far, I have yet to see a plot of land where a crop is growing that doesn't have a perfect stand. Of course, they are using fertilizers, human, animal and the commercial types, but it still makes me stop and think. Their farming is very intensive, where as ours is an extensive type of agriculture.

Brief Cases Every Where
But let us continue with my story. It was late in the afternoon when we left the port, and before we had traveled far it was too dark to see the countryside. However, before we had gone far we ran into our first contact with the German citizen. (We were still in the British Zone) and they weren't very friendly either. They were sullen, taciturn, and suspicious, and I can't say we were the pictures of happiness ourselves. However, the children along the railroad gave us a welcome. Waving and shouting at us they appeared just like the kids at home except for their dress. And everyone, even the children was carrying a briefcase of some sort. It is really odd to see everyone packing a brief case and the ones we have seen so far have been very well dressed.

The next morning we awoke to a mountainous and poorer area. However, these mountains were cultivated! And the rows were running up hill in most cases. In fact, I saw no contour plowing. Yet I have not seen one bit of soil erosion! Goodness, how I wish some of the people between Hillsboro, Texas, and Dallas could see some of this country. They would come away ashamed of themselves for the way they have let their soil get away from them. The homes are something to see also. All of them are made of stone with steep roofs and the area around them is neat as possible. They save everything.

In regard to war damage, we have seen very little of it—most of it has been rebuilt. However, along the railroads in the largest towns, where the marshalling yards are, the homes close to the tracks were damaged. Most of them had been torn down or repaired, but every once in awhile you would see a row of gutted houses.

Sees Oxen At Work
Something else, I never thought I would see oxen used. I have seen oxen pulling wagons, plows and harrows. It is just like stepping back into the history books 70 years. Also, this isn't the country for a young man to come and see, in regard to the farm women. They work in the fields just like a man and there is little sex appeal about them. Kindly, of course, and they remind me of the picture in the auditorium at high school of The Reapers. It is certainly interesting and I only wish you could see it with me.

Now let me tell you of the town I am stationed in and something of our garrison life. The booklet I am enclosing will give you most of the information concerning the town and surrounding country, so I will tell you of the life inside the "Kaserne." (German word for military barracks). The Kaserne is built out of stone and on the order of one of our Indian forts. There are two battalions stationed inside of this kaserne and there is another kaserne over the hill to our south. Ours is the oldest, built in 1918, and is called the "Bismark Kaserne." It was shelled during the last war, but the Germans have rebuilt the parts that were destroyed and also remodeled all of the building during the process. Now the taxpayers of America didn't foot the remodeling bill. It was paid for by the Germans as part of the repatriation debt to America. So when we leave it becomes the Germans' and they most likely will move in and begin to soldier again. Here we go again.

Minnie Pearl Not There
I have made pictures of the countryside around and above us. You see, this kaserne is built in a valley and to our south and to the north there are fairly steep hills. When I get these pictures back I will send the good negatives to you. We have a post exchange, theater, chapel, tailor shop, cleaners, service club and barber shop within our walls, so you see we are not hurting the least bit. The theater is new and isn't showing movies yet, but might before last we had a band concert by the 28th Division's concert band and then last night we had the European Grand Old Opra. Those boys were good. Gosh, I didn't think hillbilly and western music could make me homesick, but by George is sure can. These boys were really good and they gave us a good program. The only thing missing was they didn't have Minnie Pearl.

Marshall Tells of Fish Habits

Being a fisherman, I thought I might tell you about my tropical fish. I like fish, all kinds. We have here at home several pairs of tropical fish, including Angels, Bettas, Golden Sword Tail, Brick Red Swords, Black Mollies, two kinds of barb Tetras, Neon Tetras, Feather fins, blue and grey Gouramies, Wags or Moon fish, and Guppies.

Fish are one of our creator's most interesting creations. There are many more different kinds of fish than animals. Their characteristics and habits are most interesting. I can spend hours watching a tank or tropical fish in nice clean water, set with green plants. They move through the water so gracefully. They seem happy, contented and are as playful as kittens.

A tank of fish are wonderful for sick folks, shut-ins, children or the whole family. They are a picture of nature, that is continually in motion.

Each kind of fish has its individual habits. For instance, the angel fish are, of all fish, considered the most beautiful. They are also fickle, temperamental and are very difficult to raise successfully in the home aquarium.

There is the fighting betta fish. He is about two inches long and is like a game rooster. He wants to fight all other fish. He has the ability to change the color of his long flowing veil fins and tail. He must be kept away from all other fish, even his mate, only at spawning time. He is kept in an aquarium with a glass partition between him and his mate.

He builds the family nest of a tough bubble in one corner of the tank and when the bubbles are as large as a silver dollar, then the partition is removed. The male betta is really the cave man type of lover. He grabs the female and wraps his body around hers and literally squeezes the eggs from her. The eggs fall to the bottom of the tank. Then he picks the eggs up and spews them up into the bubble nest. As soon as the eggs are all in the nest, the female must be removed or he will kill her. The male attends the eggs for about a week. If an egg falls to the bottom, he puts it back in the nest. Treats the newly hatched fish the same way until the small fry can swim around the aquarium freely. Then he proceeds to eat his children unless he is removed from the aquarium.

There is more to learn about fish

Studebaker Car Leads In Fuel Economy

Studebaker's outstanding performance in the 1952 Mobilgas Economy Run has again provided important national recognition of a motoring feature long associated with the passenger cars built by the company which this year is celebrating its 100th anniversary.

The performance of the 1952 Champion and Commander in actual miles per gallon of gasoline was the best among the 23 automobiles entered in standard classifications of the Economy Run.

"The Champion," according to Plains Equipment Co., Studebaker dealers here, averaged 27.82 miles per gallon, the best mark among all six and eight-cylinder cars entered in the event. The V-8 Commander topped all other eights — and all sixes, except the Champion — with an average of 26.89 actual miles per gallon. The Studebaker Land Cruiser followed closely with a 25.38 mpg average.

"If the buying public were not deeply interested in thrifty motoring Studebaker's economy might be getting old," Cardinal and Hrabal declared, "because this is the third straight year in which Studebaker cars have scored victories in the Economy run. Economy has been almost synonymous with Studebaker for many years."

This year's contest covered 1,415 miles from Los Angeles to Sun Valley, Idaho and required three days to complete. It was conducted under the supervision of the American Automobile Association. Like most of the competing cars, the Studebaker entries were equipped with overdrive transmission and used regular gasoline.

Just prior to the Mobilgas Economy run, an additional honor came to Studebaker when a V-8 Commander was officially selected as the pace car for this year's 500-mile race at the Indianapolis Speedway on Memorial day.

★★★ FIELD NEWS Of Home Ec Girls

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)

Nancy Morckel and Claude Weathersbee)

The In-Service training school for electrification advisers, April 21-25, was held at the University of New Mexico in Albuquerque. This school was sponsored by the New Mexico Electrical Cooperative association, Miss Lousian Mamer, home electrification specialist, R.E.A. Washington, D.C. conducted a very helpful and interesting laboratory on farm and home lighting.

George Dillon, Ass't. chief, A&L Division, REA led a wonderful discussion on how rural electricity can be used by the farmer to reduce waste, save time and work, and increase production thereby meeting the agricultural goals set-up for 1952. It seems that it is becoming increasingly necessary to shift from extensive to intensive farming if production goals are to be met in the years ahead.

We appreciate the opportunity of attending this school throughout the week and we hope it will be possible for us to do a better job helping with any farm problems that may come our way.

The following were elected at the annual meeting, on Saturday, April 19th, to serve as directors:

H. L. Morris, McAdoo, District One; Earl Edwards, Rt. 2, Floydada, District Two; Lee Rushing, Rt. 3, Floydada, District Three; John Smitherman, South Plains, District 4; Herman R. King, Lockney, District 5; Oliver Harmel, Plainview, District 6 and W. C. Snodgrass, Rt. 1, Floydada, District 7. W. C. Snodgrass is president, H. L. Morris, vice-president, and Herman R. King secretary-treasurer.

Sincere thanks and appreciation go out to all who cooperated so untingly and wholeheartedly in making and carrying out the plans for the annual meeting. The board of directors and all of us feel that co-operation such as this is unparalleled ever before in the history of this organization.

A letter just received from Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith says, "We think that Ned Bradley did a swell job as master of ceremonies — we appreciate all who had a part in making the meeting so successful." Thank you, Alta and G. W., for this nice letter — we are always glad to hear from our friends.

New irrigation wells this past week were: Bobby Tiner and Lloyd Readhimer, Lone Star community, Floyd county; Elton Wilson, Petersburg, two wells.

Shermain Smith, Rt. 4, Floydada, bought the chicks that were started under the electric brooder in the cooperative display window when they were three weeks old. Mr. Smith was in the office a short time ago and said they were ready to go into their fold freezer — and that they raised all of them but one. A pretty good record we would say.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hickerson and daughter Pat spent the week-end in Brownfield visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Collier and family. Mrs. Hickerson is cashier at the cooperative.

The cook books were ready for distribution on Saturday, April 19. If you have not gotten your book and want one please let us hear from you immediately — there are a few books left and we are wondering if there is any need to have more books printed. This decision will have to be made within the next few days. Several are buying extra books for gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Colbert, of Abilene, Texas, helped with the school held in Albuquerque. Mr. Colbert is assistant section head R.E.A., Section 10.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Love spent Sunday in Lubbock, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Brown.

Each precinct is entitled to one delegate in the county convention for every 25 votes cast for governor in the precinct in the last general election. (This figure can be obtained from the county clerk.)

It is the resolutions committee report that will contain such items as whether the precinct's delegates shall vote as a unit in the county convention, and whether the precinct shall favor having the Texas delegation instructed or uninstructed in the national convention. That is, whether the precinct would rather have Texas' national delegation pledged to support one man only as presidential candidate, or whether it would have the delegation free to take advantage of on-the-spot developments in the national convention.

BODY OF FORMER RESIDENT RETURNED FOR BURIAL HERE

LOCKNEY. — Mrs. S. M. Henry, wife of Dr. S. M. Henry, who practiced medicine here 20 years ago was buried in the Lockney cemetery Tuesday, the body being shipped here from San Antonio. Services were conducted at the graveside.

Survivors include three children, Colvin of San Antonio, who is also a doctor, Lou Emma of California and Charles Morgan, now in service.

Creed Parrish and son, Percy, returned home last week from Temple where Percy went thru the Scott & White clinic. Percy is in good health but was put on a strict diet by the doctors to reduce a good many pounds, his mother says.

Miss Violet Jones spent the weekend in Amarillo, the guest of Miss Juanell Williamson.

Chester Mitchell of Lockney was selected as the outstanding conservation farmer in the Floyd County Soil Conservation district, by the Floyd county district board of supervisors for the year 1951. This is in connection with the "Save the Soil and Save Texas" Program, sponsored by the Fort Worth Press, the Houston Post and the El Paso Herald-Post.

Mitchell is a diversified irrigation farmer. He did not go all out for cotton, as many farmers did. He has alfalfa, irrigated pasture, barley, certified milo seed, registered short-horn cattle and registered Durco Jersey hogs.

One of the first bench leveling jobs in the Floyd county district was completed on his farm in 1950. Additional leveling was done in 1951 on other land. There areas were planted to legumes and improved pasture grasses. His first bench leveling job has an underground concrete pipeline completed on it to make the irrigation easier and better.

Mitchell is a graduate of Oklahoma A. & M. college. He was a county agent in Oklahoma prior to his return to the farm in the spring of 1946. He operates the old home place and owns another farm, which he also operates.

Several legumes have been grown on his land, among them alfalfa, hubam clover, vetch, mungbeans and sweet clover. Usually he plows up a block of alfalfa after three or four years, and then plants another area to alfalfa. In addition, he ordinarily has a couple of other legumes growing at the same time.

Mitchell has been a district cooperator since he returned to the farm in 1946.

Want a lot of mileage for your money?

WE'LL admit that the price tags of automobiles—all automobiles—aren't what they used to be.

But it's just as true today as ever before that some price tags are lower than others, and some cars cost less to own than others.

So let's see how a Buick SPECIAL fits into the picture.

Take first cost. If you put the price tag of this Buick against price tags of cars that have always been tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field"—you'll find that, in actual dollars, a Buick's surprisingly close to these cars of lesser size and horsepower.

But that's just the beginning.

What you're getting here is Buick quality — this SPECIAL comes down the same assembly line as SUPERS and ROADMASTERS.

Its heft tells you it has extra sturdiness in frame and structure.

Its Fireball Engine delivers extra power. It is an eight, a valve-in-head, with high compression, and the miles you can get from a gallon of gas make it a thrifty performer.

You get Buick's Million Dollar Ride, which protects you—and the car—from jars and jolts.

Even the tires are bigger — which, any tire man will tell you, lengthens their wear.

And if you pay a bit extra for Dynaflo Drive* you're easing the strain on the engine, the rear end, the tires—and eliminating clutch repair bills.

So when we talk about "mileage for your money" we're talking about the miles you'll get from your car—including the unused miles that are what you have to sell when you trade it in.

Maybe that's why Buick's doing so well in the present market. Why not come in and see what a great car this is for you?

Equipment, accessories, trim and medals are subject to change without notice. Wheel Covers standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series. White sidewalls optional at extra cost when available. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.
