COTTON FLOURISHES IN COUNTY DESPITE HIGH, PUSHING WINDS; NO ACREAGE ABANDONMENT

While most farm operators in Floyd county are rejoicing over the most satisfactory wheat crop and the best harvest period in years, their high spirits are tempered with worry about a row crop.

not killed the cotton nor the feed. The accompanying high temperatures have been good for cotton in fact. But the winds do threaten if they continue. And the long, continuous push has gotten on the nerves of the residents.

hold." He said it was his understanding that most cotton farmers had help in sight for their weeding operations and if not, that transient labor could be found for them to get them out of the weeds quickly.

Approximately normal temperatures for late June have been registered here the past week. The winds — not too high but with a definite "push," have made the heat seem more pronounced.

Yesterday County Agent Gibson was asked if the weather conditions threaten to cause abandonment of any cotton acreage. He said that nothing has occurred yet to indicate abandonment. Only the very youngest cotton is showing signs of suffering.

Wheat Harvest Best Ever
Meanwhile the wheat crop of 19-52 and the harvest of it is now history to all practical intents. Probably two per cent of the crop still stands. Otherwise, it has been gathered and marketed.

their cotton and feed are still growing, they mostly have help in sight to clean out the biggest weed crop in history.

Agent Gibson said the heavy weed crop has come about largely on irrigated farms where the operator watered down the row to keep his cotton growing and make it "take

This week plows by the hundreds were still turning stubble, readying the land for another crop year.

President report in Floydada that a step-out well from the Minnie Adams No. 1, Standard of Texas at Lakeview, had been contracted for on a quarter section of the W. N. Jones home place a mile west and slightly south of the discovery well, brought from L. L. Jones the statement this week that he had been in negotiation on such a deal.

A contract and forfeit is up, according to the report, which also has it that the contract calls for a well to be started within 60 days after approval is given by the State Railroad commission. Examination of land title would also require additional time. Jones said he would not want to discuss the matter out of consideration for other parties in the negotiations. The reports say the trade pending is with an independent.

Jones has been making an active effort to get a taker for the unleased quarter section, if he could get a bonus price, a fair rental renewal basis and a drilling contract. A month ago he optioned the lease at $100 per acre with a drilling contract provided for. Money put up on this option was forfeited.

Operations Tightly Screened
Meanwhile the operations of the Standard on the Adams estate test have been kept strictly from the public. Report, carried as official in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram and unofficial in other newspapers Sunday, said a 25-foot coring had been taken from 7680-7705 feet. This report said that at the end of three hours yield was 150 feet of free oil, no water.

Two other corings have followed since, according to the rumor factory and the depth of the hole may be close to 7,750 feet at this time. Oil scouts, who viewed the operations from 700 feet distance through glasses, are said to believe this was true Tuesday night, when a corrugated iron screen was thrown around the derrick and none of the action on the derrick floor afterward could be seen from the outside. A tarpoleen also was used to help screen the operations from the view of the public. Members of the Adams family said they have been barred from the area of the well.

While in some quarters doubt is thrown on the productiveness of the discovery by the fact that it ceased to flow through the drill stem after four hours Wednesday morning of last week, other sources say the operations are being screened because the operators are not sure of the type of formation which they have found. According to the official report the well actually produced less than 40 barrels before it quit flowing. However, the same reports gave flowing pressure and bottom hole pressure at 2,375 pounds and 2,575 pounds respectively in 30 minutes after a choke was opened to three-quarters of an inch.

Poff-Brinsmere Test
At the M. Poff-Brinsmere Oil company test in the northwest corner of the H. A. Krause lands in extreme southwest Floyd county the drill was at 6,509 feet shortly after noon yesterday.

According to unofficial report the drill was 15 feet into the Permian reef, some 300 feet higher than in the test made seven years ago on the opposite side of the same section of land.

This test is due to go to 8,000 feet. W. A. Roderberg, drilling superintendent on the well, has been sick since Monday confined to his trailer home in Floydada.

Milton Dunavant, A. C. Pratt and Virgil Warren have received word from the President of the Texas Association of Future Farmers of America, Franklin Brandt, that they had been elected Lone Star State Farmers and awards would be presented at an Area I awards banquet. The banquet will be held in Amarillo the latter part of July.

SIX MEDICS TAKEN AT SALERNO BEACH TALK THINGS OVER

Memories of the poignant days immediately following the fateful Salerno Beach head debacle were recalled, under much happier circumstances last week-end, when R. C. Henry, Jr., and five of his fellow medics of the ill-fated 36th Division got together in Canyon. They and their families made a Saturday night talkfest and a Sunday afternoon picnic of it.

They were Henry, H. S. Clay, of Little Rock, Arkansas, V. Cook of Canyon, Tom Wilson and Tommy Thompson, Amarillo, and Bill Yeager, Woodward, Oklahoma. They met at Cook's home and picniced on Pola Duro.

The sextette were all that were left of their medical unit when the big blow hit at Salerno. Telling a bit about it here Monday was H. S. Clay. "Our infantry had been wiped out and we were surrounded and prisoners before we knew what happened," said he. This was on the sixteenth of September. All six survived the long cold marches and other experiences until their release in May of 1945.

Humble Taking On Dougherty Team Tonight

Humble's softballers, with a firm hold on second place in the Floyd county amateur league, takes on Dougherty tonight at Jaycee ball park, while Center will be journeying to McCoy field to take on the team there.

Tomorrow night at Jaycee park softball fans will get to see the REA boys tackle the post office team from Plainview.

Next week's fare includes a double header Monday night at Jaycee park. It will be Humble vs. Center and REA vs. Dougherty.

Tuesday night, July 1, it will be Center vs. Dougherty at Jaycee park.

Both Center and Dougherty teams, new entries in the local amateur league, are sprinkled with youngsters who alternately play sparkling ball and the other kind. Both have some comers in their line-ups.

In games of the past week Humble beat the short-handed McCoy boys 8 to 6 Thursday night. McCoy has been minus the services of some of its regular men due to the manpower demand in the cotton fields, but also Humble has been developing more punch in their offensive play.

Friday night the Center team made a mark in the won column when they took Dougherty 17 to 15. Monday night Humble won from Dougherty 12 to 3 and Tuesday night REA led Center 12 to 6.

Candidates Meet At Lone Star for Supper June 30

Floyd county and district candidates for office are being invited to attend a rally for candidates and the people of the area the night of June 30—Monday night of next week—it was announced this week.

It will be a supper jointly sponsored by the Lone Star Home Demonstration club and the Lone Star ball club. The hour is set for 8 o'clock.

The sponsors are hoping to have a full complement of candidates and expect to have present a large number of voters for them to mingle with and make speeches to.

The meeting planned for Friday night at Sterley was called off the first of the week when it was found that the people of the community are deep in their farming operations. The planners feared a good crowd might not be provided for the candidates to present their claims to, Mrs. R. H. Tinsley said this week.

The Sterley area is a heavy cotton producing section. Cultivating and weed cleaning are making an all out demand on the manpower of the community at this time and will do so for several days.

The market has taken two to five dollars per hundred off of the price of the cattleman's merchandise in the past thirty days, it is said. The big argument now is whether it is off for good or whether dry pastures are forcing the animals on the market because the owners have no home for their live stock. Such a wide scope of the southwest has been without good pasture for so long the live stock men are beginning to wonder when the luck will ever turn. Hazarding a guess for the future course of the market might be disastrous. The man who guesses right will make a considerable bit of money, or contrariwise, having guessed right, he will have kept himself solvent by not sticking his neck out. There isn't and doubt (to us) that the government in recent weeks has embarked on another big spree of inflation that will become evident in the course of a few months. This would mean higher cattle, you'd think. On the other hand a cow brute has to have grass and if there is no grass the animal has no home, and the price of the same is going to be determined by some person other than the owner.

The inclination toward taking more hazards in business now becoming apparent, is for one thing due to the need of the business man, whatever his line, to make a lot of money because he has a lot of expenses, most of which he can't escape. This inclination is pointed up by the appearance, here and there, of instances where venturesome souls have jumped off the deep end and come up with big profits subject only to long term capital gains tax, whereas their contemporaries might be paying up to 51 per cent of their income in taxes. The tendency to gamble against the future, if the pattern runs the same as in prior time (and why shouldn't it?) will grow stronger and stronger, until one morning everybody gets scared at once and all get on the selling side. How many years away is that? Some of the men who have expected it for the past years are unhappy because they've still got their money and it is getting cheaper. The paradox of commodities cheapening and money cheapening at the same time is one of the things that does not make sense. There'll have to be a change of course.

ing at the same time is one of the things that does not make sense. There'll have to be a change of course.

Somebody has said that if the good Lord will protect a man against his friends he can take care of himself with his enemies, or words to that effect. General Eisenhower is finding that out the hard way. The babel created by the big arguments among his "managers" about what they'll have him do next is almost deafening even this far away. Sooner or later these self-appointed palace guards will sour on the general's stomach. One imagines that all Mr. Taft has to do to get the nomination on the republican ticket is to let these fellows continue their tactics until convention time, the while he plows down the middle of the road. One wonders how many estrangements the friends of the general will have accomplished by this mid-week as they handled the details of his Texas trip. Most of the newspaper people, all for the Kansas man, have done their utmost to show up the Texas state convention "scandal." Some of them are already unhappy at the "scandalous" events of the past few days.

Memo to Stanotex: According to the best opinion of our drug store crowd it would be a good idea for you either to bring in the Minnie Adams No. 1 as a producer or to take test corings on down until the drill passes through the formation. We are divided about 50-50. Just thought we'd let you know. Also, we noted some of your key men came through the other day on the way to the well and didn't even stop to get directions on the best road to take. We like to be helpful that way. ## Conservation District News

The Floyd County wheat harvest is coming to a close. Most farmers are or will be plowing their wheat land soon.

According to W. F. Ferguson, chairman of the board of supervisors of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district, some few farmers may be waiting to burn their wheat stubble to get rid of it. This is a poor practice and the few farmers who do it should weigh the advantages of returning their residue to the soil against the convenience in plowing.

The organic matter on the surface of the soil serves as a barrier to soil removal by the forces of water or wind. The residue makes the soil hold more water per foot depth, and also aids in preventing crusting and topsoil deterioration. It also cuts down the rate of evaporation, serves as protective cover against extreme temperature and keeps the soil open for free movement of air and water.

These advantages gained will more than offset time and trouble it may cause in plowing and cultivating. Farm machinery has been improved and developed that permits the widespread use of residue.

Under irrigation, some few farmers may want to burn their wheat stubble in order to make double cropping easier. Soil fertility goes down rather fast under irrigation with single cropping. Usually the crop yields that follow double cropping are much smaller and the profit is less.

More profit can be made by making bigger yields from single cropping. When soils are low in organic matter, their porosity is poor and much of the water that should go into the land drains off. Soils that are low in organic matter do not have the capacity for holding available moisture, and crops will suffer in dry years. Crops residues, properly managed, will not only help hold the soil in place, but will increase the penetration of the moisture.

Without a protective cover of vegetation, either dead litter or growing crops, the wind takes its toll of productive soil. Even the wheat soils will blow if permitted to become depleted in organic matter, and are left bare of a protective cover. The most fertile part of soil is organic matter and fine particles. This is what is blowing away, and the infertile sand is left behind. The time to prepare against erosion is during the growing season, preceding the blow season and heavy rains. It takes very little effort each year to keep the soil built up, as the crop is taken off, but if it is allowed to become depleted in organic matter it takes a period of several years to restore this essential consent. Under the best management of continuous cropping, there is a slight loss of organic matter.

Wheat stubble left on or near the surface is recommended by the chairman of the board of supervisors of the Floyd County District as the best measure against all types of erosion, as well as for maintaining soil fertility.

Lonnie Doyles in South America Write of Lives As Missionaries

Mrs. W. F. Daniel has recently received a most interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Doyle, who are missionaries in Brazil from the Southern Baptist Convention.

Lonnie Doyle is the son of Rev. and Mrs. L. A. Doyle, former pastor of the First Baptist church here, but now of the First Baptist church in Portales, New Mexico.

Reverend and Mrs. Lonnie Doyle have been in Brazil for the past two years. Prior to his going to Brazil, he was the pastor of a Baptist church in Mineral Wells. The letter is dated in May at Santarem, Para, Brazil.

Many of the letters were received from you begin, "It's been so long since we've heard..." We've neglected correspondence more this year than at any time since we've been in Brazil, but at the same time we have been busier than ever before.

Our last letter was in November so we'll bring you up to date. After returning home from the state convention in Belem in November, Lonnie returned home with them to spend a week.

O. B. La France is visiting in the Fred Jones home this week. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollums were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Nelson and Alma Ruth attended an ice cream supper in the Fred Jones home Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Julian Roberts of Ralls visited his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wright Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Buel Neff and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Joe Guffee in Plainview Saturday and Sunday.

Mrs. Verlon Wright, Betty and Leon, visited Mrs. J. A. Kincheole Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Respondek and children visited Mrs. Warner Johnson and children Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nichols and Jackie Phil of Harrod, South Dakota, arrived Saturday to visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nichols and David, and Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Moore of Floydada. Billy Clyde stayed home to take care of the things.

Mr. and Mrs. Wally Anderson of Denton spent Monday night with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fawver.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Nichols and David were Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nichols and Jackie Phil of Harrod, South Dakota, and Mr. and Mrs. James Lee Nichols and Nancy.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fawver visited Mrs. W. N. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. Lovell Jones Saturday night.

nie made a trip to Obdors where we have a congregation. From there he went to Juruti where he had a week's services... vacation Bible school in the morning and preaching at night. The reason he went was to take part in the inauguration service Christmas day. They have a tiny little church for which they're so thankful. It's debt free, the work of their own hands.

The first trip Lonnie made to Santarem while we were still in Belem he was asked numerous times, "Have you seen the new church in Juruti?" Lonnie said by the way they spoke of it, it might have been First church, Dallas but when he saw it, it was the most humble little building. Miss Alma Hunt, W.M.U. Executive Secretary was so impressed by the colored slide we have that she had a copy made. Lonnie described the whole week in detail when he got home.

On the night of the 24th they had all the benches full, many people standing, inside and outside the church. Many sitting on the wall fence and Lonnie said he even saw a few in the trees on the other side of the fence.

His First in Brazil

The next morning they walked — miles to a beautiful place on the Amazon River and there Lonnie baptized for the first time in Brazil. I'm tempted to say that it will be a long time before he'll baptize this many at the same time again (17) for some of these people had waited two years for baptism.

While he was there, I was trying to give Teegee a little Christmas spirit. In North America, Christmas is a time for families to be together and I find it sorta hard when Lonnie has to be away on Christmas. But at any rate, I was determined to get Teegee a tree. No pine trees, nothing that even looked like Christmas, but finally I found a tree I thought would be suitable. Looked real cute when I got it trimmed even if it did have huge green leaves with yellow borders.

I debated about the icicles for it was really hot, but I made it complete, snow, icicles, and all. Teegee was so thrilled and David Neal laughed out loud when he saw it. (Personally, I did too.)

Either by Water or Air Lonnie arrived only a few days before we had planned to leave for our vacation to Recife. You remember we wrote so much about the Grayson Tennysons with whom we came to Brazil. They are now in Campina Grande, Paraiba. The National Baptist convention was held in Recife, Pernambuco, and the Tennysons live in the next state, only a couple hundred miles away. I'm sure you friends in the states think we travel a lot by air, but it's air or water and travel is so slow by water.

We spent two days in Belem, then on to Recife and from Recife to Campina Grande by car. And Teegee was so thrilled — for a trip by air is far more common than a trip by car. Her latest desire when we get to the states next year, is for us to buy a "pink jeep."

We spent 13 wonderful days with Betty and Grayson and their son, Gene, enjoying the "brand" new mission house, the cool climate, and the vegetables and our children were in hog heaven for Grayson has a carry-all car.

Remember us in your prayers, as our task is so great. Most sincerely, your missionaries Lonnie and Janell Doyle

T.E.L. CLASS MEETING

Members of the T.E.L. Class of the First Baptist church held their regular monthly covered dish luncheon at the church on Wednesday afternoon. A bountiful luncheon was enjoyed. During the afternoon a devotional was given by Mrs. E. P. Stovall and a business meeting was held.

Visitors were Mrs. Earl Allen and daughter Norma, Beverly Jean Spence of Sherman, and Miss Nora Speck. Members present were Mesdames Roy Patton, J. G. Martin, E. P. Stovall, Fred Battey, J. E. Horton, W. B. Jordan, C. O. Spence, W. F. Daniel and Mrs. J. O. McMillan, teacher of the class.

Mrs. Joe Edmonson and daughter, Gaye and Gaye Nell, of Denver, Colorado.

Mrs. Joe Edmonson and daughter, Gaye and Gaye Nell, of Denver, Colorado, Mrs. Howard Anderson and daughters Carolyn and Marilyn, and Mrs. Leo McLeod and daughter Joyce, of Harlingen, together with Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Huckabee and daughter Judy of South Plains, and Jerrold Vinson, of Tulla, have been among the visitors in the O. C. Vinson home the past week. They are daughters and son of the Vinsons.

American natives were called Indians because Columbus thought he had reached India.

Flower arrangement is a national art in Japan.

In Recife we stayed with the Arnold Hayes, who have spent many years in Brazil. Lonnie was baby sitter during the W.M.U. convention and I was during the general convention. As we came back we spent the night in Fortaleza Ceara, with the Bob Standleys. The Burton Davis had just returned from their furlough that week so we heard all about the states. In San Luiz, Maranhao, we visited three days with the Dan Lupers and the Joe Carl Johnsons, both of Dallas back again to Belem and another two days with the Vance Vernons. We arrived in Santarem February 5 after a month of visiting and travel. Wasn't really tired of a rest but it was a change. I gained nine pounds while at the Tennysons and Lonnie gained 10.

School Talk of the Town

Upon arrival we found the school construction a little behind schedule because they had to wait on roofing tile so Lonnie went to work to help out. I'm not sure it's done in the states, but it has happened here in Brazil several times, school opens and later they have their inauguration services. On Saturday, April 19, it was with a great deal of relief that we went to the inauguration. There were hundreds of people. One of the four American Catholic priests in town was here the other day saying the talk of the town was our school, and it really is. It's very pretty and the Brazilian Baptist of Santarem are so pleased over it.

I wished that night of the inauguration that it had been possible for you people at home who gave money through the Lottie Moon Christmas offering and the cooperative program to have heard and to have understood their speeches of appreciation and gratefulness to you, the Baptist of the other America.

Lonnie is doing a great deal of traveling now that the school building has been completed. At the same time he is drawing up plans for our new church building. The Brazilian loves a showy front if the church doesn't have one class room, so we're starting our propaganda about the need of departments and we've been more or less successful. In 1952 the church will celebrate its 50th anniversary. The Apostle of the Amazon, Eric Nelson, was the missionary who started the work.

Pumpkin is Pumpkin Still Our vegetable situation doesn't get any better and the seeds we've planted never come up. Either they are too old or the big ants eat the seed. It's like I wrote someone the other day, we do have pumpkins. I mash it like potatoes, I cook it like sweet potatoes, I fry it like okra. I make pies out of it, and in the end it all tastes like pumpkin. But we still have rice beans and plenty of meats and fruits.

David was a year old April 7. We found him in the bath room last week standing to Teegee's chair, the water on and washing his face with his daddy's shaving brush, so he feels his age at least. The children are growing and they continue to stay healthy, for which we are thankful.

We do appreciate each letter we receive. Many letters do not reach us because the mail system in Brazil isn't what it is in the states. But please continue to write for most of the letters do come through finally. Five letters came through at one time this month from a mother, some dated in March, but all sent air mail.

Remember us in your prayers, as our task is so great.

Most sincerely, your missionaries Lonnie and Janell Doyle

Girl Scout And Brownie Camp

When the big truck drove up on the south side of the Court House last Friday afternoon, a tired but happy group of girls and workers climbed out — all agreed that their first day camp had been a big success and we'd all look forward to next year's camp!

The five-day camp, under the able direction of Mrs. J. N. Weaver, of Dumas, a National Girl Scout worker, was well attended. Roll call each day found approximately 98 in camp. We were so happy to have so many visitors come to see us.

Perhaps our daily routine will give you a picture of some of our activities. The girls and workers gathered on the court house square between 8:30 and 9:00 a.m. The truck left at 9:00 and after arriving at camp, "Doc," our registered nurse, Mrs. Wayne Robison, set up the "hospital" and Mrs. Clarence Guffee, our business manager, arranged "Headquarters." During this time we held a sing song, then our flag raising service. I wish everyone could have seen this ceremony.

Then we all returned to headquarters where we divided into units — from there we went to our unit homes for the day. During the week each group "cooked out," went on hikes, made ice cream; some craft work was done during the day. In each "unit" the group was divided into groups for the day's work. We had shoppers, runners, watermaids, hostesses and housekeepers. They rotated these girls so that everyone could have a turn.

It was fun giving "nicknames" to the girls, their leaders, co-leaders, and aids.

On our hikes around our camp homes we studied nature — we were surprised to find so many different flowers, trees, etc.

At 1:30 we came back to headquarters for songs, stunts and the lowering of the flag.

There was a nursery for the children of workers — this was under the direction of Mrs. Woodrow Hill. The nursery had an approximate daily attendance of eight.

The truck left camp each afternoon at two and arrived at the court house around 2:30. The girls and workers had fun singing and discussing the day's activities on the ride home.

Our first day camp was a big success — our thanks to everyone who helped to make it so.

Great Spiritual Film Coming Here

Final arrangements have been made for the showing here of "The Prince of Peace," new $2-500,000 Hallmark Production, in Cinecolor, that has been breaking attendance records everywhere, it was announced today by Jack Deakins, manager of the Palace theatre.

This unusual, two-hour attraction is a complete unit in itself, according to Manager Deakins. The breathtaking beauty of the Wichitas are the background for the powerful, moving story.

It is because "The Prince of Peace" is so tremendous in scope, so beautiful in color, so sweeping in grandeur and so human in its theme that it is breaking box-office records from coast-to-coast.

"The Prince of Peace" is a movie for the entire family. The movie will be shown at the Palace Sunday and Monday, June 29 - 30.

The Texas Department of Agriculture

WEIGHTS AND MEASURES

Titles from scales in good working order are increasing every year.

Protection of the public from inaccurate scale devices is just one of the functions of a branch of the State Department of Agriculture which is little known by the average person — the Weights & Measures division. This division is not only concerned with grocery store scales — its inspectors also guarantee you a fair measurement from pharmaceutical scales, hopper scales, livestock and motor truck scales and wholesale devices.

Filling station gasoline pumps are under its jurisdiction, as well as milk and cream testing units. And high on the list of important duties is the administration of the Texas net container law which assures the purchaser of full value in all goods sold by weight, measure or numerical count. Hardly a field of commerce from the scrutiny of this division.

Making Spot Checks

In order to maintain a high level of equality in all commercial weight and measure transactions, the Department of Agriculture is constantly making spot checks and blanket inspections of devices throughout the state. Full time inspectors are stationed at Houston, Enclinal, Austin, Nacogdoches, Brownwood, Wylie and Stephenville. These men are assigned a territory and also participate in inspections in other areas when needed. If a report of suspicious scales reaches the department offices in Austin, an inspector is dispatched to the scene immediately.

Because the department's scope of activity is necessarily limited by the size of the state and overwhelming number of scale devices, several cit-

Ribbon and Curb-to-Curb Paving Both Offered in Current Drive

The streets and highways committee of the Chamber of Commerce stepped up their campaign this week for more paved streets for Floydada. They hope to add a number of blocks to the paving contract which the Floydada High school has with the West Texas Construction company of Lubbock. The construction company is due in Floydada in July to pave fifth street from Highway 70 toward Ollie Avenue which was contracted by the school board in April.

The construction company offers Floydada citizens a 36-foot wide street with curb and gutter for $4.00 per side. The paving will be the same quality as the High school street with a 9-inch caliche base compared to six inches with two shots of asphalt and rock added. Strip paving is offered for $1.25 per square yard.

The city of Floydada recommends the 36-foot street with curb and gutter. A street under 36 feet wide says the city street department, does not allow for adequate parking on the street.

The Chamber of Commerce committee also points out the need for paving in the center parkways of Wall, Main, Missouri and California streets, and they suggest that those streets which have strip paving be curbed by the property owners and the paving completed.

Property owners planning on paving their street should notify the Chamber of Commerce by July 10. The West Texas Construction company has asked that the number of blocks scheduled for paving be reported at that time in order that the company may have adequate paving materials.

Matter for considerable disappointment in official quarters as well as at the Chamber of Commerce office and among many property owners on Houston and Second is the report that the highway curb and gutter program and full-width paving of the highway are due to be delayed into next year.

According to understanding at the Chamber of Commerce office an inspection on the ground revealed to the highway authorities they would want to re-do the paving job after taking out the present roadway.

This will require a new set of plans and considerable detail lasting past the date in 1952 when work can be undertaken before frost date. However, the job, when it is reached, will make a gratifying roadway through the city and justify the wait, authorities believe.

Little Miss Carol Jean Denison, three month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison, jr., of Brownfield, has been visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Denison for two weeks, while her parents were vacationing in Colorado. Her parents came for her Sunday.

New Highway

ves are necessary to fit the contours of the roughest portion of the project. The maximum grade is 6.105 for 1400 feet. The minimum horizontal sight distance is 530 feet and the minimum vertical sight distance is 290 feet.

Made Him Sea-Sick
When the local office got orders to project a highway across the Schott cap gorges the problem was to figure a way to start. It was decided at Silverton that Potts would get his bearings for the undertaking in an airplane trip over the area. Potts got so seasick on the first trip that this idea was abandoned. Therefore he and his boys walked it out for months afoot. Finally they found a "landing" place part way down and got a jeep trail bulldozed along the approximate route. This came about after they had found a way they could cut and fill to get down the 700 feet the route drops in the first two miles. After they had spent a lot of time and effort they learned they had projected their lines on a long, gnarled "finger" that stretched in the direction they wanted to go. They hacked through the brush, laid out lines and drew maps over and over.

Last week when they checked contours and drove stakes they were still using the hack knife, spades, and picks, climbing practically straight up in places, straight down in others.

To eliminate the two 19-degree curves which are mentioned in this official report to the Bureau of Roads a shift of the line only 400 feet would be necessary at the greatest point in a 1,500 foot stretch of the roadway. This, however, would entail a 1,000-foot hill about 150 feet high at the high point, and the cost would be between $100,000 and $200,000, it is estimated.

No Right-of-Way Trouble
No right-of-way trouble, as such, bothered the officials. Mrs. Schott and Mr. Kiesler will trade pastures north and south of the highway where it trims some off one and gives it to the other. However, the Briscoe commissioners have promised to build a good right-of-way fence through the rough terrain and that may be a considerable job before it is done. The ranch land owners think the new highway may afford some "tanks" to catch run off water and it may prove beneficial to them in this way. Present problem in the big area is obtaining water to stabilize fills (in addition to roughness, of course). Only one water hole in the whole area of many sections is provided by a spring, practically inaccessible. On this account it is notably shy of wild life. What wolves, possums, other varmints and bird life the area sustains waters at this hole which will be some 200 yards off the right-of-way of the new road and several hundred feet below. If the artificial dams made by the new road provide a good supply of water it will increase the value of the area for grazing to the land owners.

The extensive reconnaissance and detailed survey work was done by engineer Potts and his party at a cost of some $24,000 to the taxpayers. However, their explorations evidently paid off in a big way. Some of this $24,000 would have been spent whatever the route adopted. But apparently the taxpayer will get a better route than was expected at an outlay of nearly $130,000 less than was set up in the original estimate of cost. The cost per mile, which the state now expects to get the job done is about $25,000, the biggest single item of cost will be dirt moving, the excavations alone being estimated at over 400,000 cubic yards at a cost of $150,000. The water springing bill is due to be quite an item, around $25,000.

Of the field party who started the job only two were on the job last week when the final location lines were made. They are Louis Newell, senior instrument man and Sam A. Spence, junior inspector. Watson Jones is in Korea and Tom Davis is with Southwestern Public Service company. Four new men who helped finish the survey are Jack Chitwood, an Olton boy, A. & M man, engineering assistant, Bobby Harbor, Reese Grubbs and Ray Latham, rodmen.

Nazarene Body Gen'l Assembly Is In Session

Reverend and Mrs. C. B. Dickerman left Monday morning to attend the General Assembly of the Church of the Nazarene which meets in Kansas City, Missouri, this week. It is estimated that 10,000 Nazarenes from around the world will be in attendance. 600 delegates from the United States, Canada, the British Isles and 28 mission fields will transact the official business of the church. Important business will include the election of five general superintendents and action on the adoption of a funded pension plan for Nazarene ministers. Further progress is expected to be made toward the development of a million-dollar plant for the housing in a new location of the Nazarene publishing house, editorial offices, the Nazarene Radio league, and the Church of the Nazarene headquarters. Construction has already begun on the Nazarene Theological Seminary building.

Mrs. Dickerman, who is a regular contributor to church periodicals, will attend a writers' conference following the general assembly. Enroute home next week the Dickermans will visit relatives in Kansas.

GENE HOWE, 'OLD TAC', A SUICIDE

Gene Howe, of Amarillo, spectacular newspaper personage of the southwest, took his own life Wednesday morning, according to a verdict returned by Justice of the Peace Mrs. W. J. Fiescher, of Canyon shortly after noon yesterday.

Mr. Howe's body was found in his car about 10 miles from Amarillo Wednesday morning. He had been shot and was dead. A small-calibre pistol was in the car with him. His wife and daughter survive.

District Assembly Of Rotary Clubs

Attending the district assembly of the 183rd district of Rotary clubs, in Canyon Monday, were seven members from the local club. They were President S. W. Ross, president-elect Guy W. Ginn, Secretary Clarence Guffee, District Governor Alton B. Chapman, J. M. Willson, Sr., R. Earl Allen and Bill Hardin.

Thirty-four of the 37 clubs in the district were represented at the assembly which was a school of instruction for the new presidents and new secretaries of the clubs.

The meeting was held in the cafeteria building of the West Texas State college. It opened on Sunday afternoon. The local members attended on Monday.

MOVED TO CHILICOTHE

Rev. Cloy Lyles, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Lyles of the Campbell community, is now pastor of the First Methodist church at Chillicothe having been transferred from Big Spring.

Rev. Lyles and his family are happy in their new home, said Mrs. C. M. Lyles on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Berry and daughter, Armita and their grandson, Charles Lewis Berry, leave Saturday for the east coast. They will vacation at Washington, D. C., and other points.

Water Demand Crowds Supply

This week the water shortage, common to most west Texas towns, became apparent in Floydada. Although it is not now in an acute stage and there is no probability of rotating for the immediate future the residents are demanding more water than the city can supply.

Machines and equipment are ample but one of the wells has "gone down." In use more than a quarter of a century the well casing caved in 10 days ago. With two or three carloads of rock and big gravel pressing in on the casing there is no likelihood that the well can be cleaned out and put into use again.

The city has to look for another site and as late as yesterday had not successfully negotiated for one. Sites for at least two more wells are needed. Most desirable spot is on land south or west of the well and ground tank on Ralls highway. Only one well site and the ground for the water tank was purchased by the city five years ago from the late W. M. Maasie, owner of the land. Title to additional ground on the same tract was being asked for from his heirs this week.

Immediately that a site is found for another well the city will have an emergency crew set to work to drill the hole. It will be equipped and turned into the ground storage as soon as completed.

Meanwhile the citizens are using more than a million gallons of water per day. Monday the master meter showed 1,115,000 gallons went through the mains. There was some complaint of low pressure, said Al R. Fuchs, superintendent of utilities. Pressure went down from 38 pounds to 22 pounds.

Not Jeopardizing Fire Supply

Mr. Fuchs said that in attempting to supply the demand and keep users pacified, the department was being careful not to jeopardize the reserve for fire fighting. "We don't want a holocaust in addition to a water shortage," he said, confident that the idea would get the approval of the citizenship.

Dizzy Dean Told In Canyon Drive-N-Food

The story of Dizzy Dean's mortal battle with Louie Cardinals is told in a film, "The Dizzy Dean Story," which will be shown at the Capitol Theatre Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

It is a late release and has been seen by few local moviegoers. Mr. Mount expects to see it tonight. "There was a Dizzy Dean. He was popular with the passing of time. He has gone on radio as a sporter." Mount said.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the dining room of the church. After a trip to Red River, New Mexico, the couple will be at home in Plainview, and the bridegroom will continue to farm, near Lockney, until fall when he will re-enter Baylor University.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were both members of the 1951 graduating class of the Lockney high school, and Mrs. Thomas attended Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene last year. Mr. Thomas attended Baylor university, where he is preparing to become a minister.

The vogue for come-as-you-are parties has, thank heaven, about spent itself. While many sixteen-year-olds look fetching with a bathtub hairdo, wearing rumpled pajamas or sagging housecoat, most of us do well to keep our best foot resolutely forward.

We women react to grooming more than we realize. We are instinctively more tactful, less likely to stoop to unkind gossip, or to take exception to clumsy but often well-intended personal remarks. Anyone who doubts this has only to get up tomorrow morning and don a fresh house dress, arrange her hair and apply lipstick before breakfast to prove it.

In the light of such reasoning, it's surprising the chances we take with those we love most — our own families. Even small children are sensitive to Mom's unkept appearance, and to the unkept voice that often goes with it. They notice how her manner changes when company comes, hence it's little wonder that they sometimes get the idea that Mom thinks more of Mrs. Jones than she does of Susie.

And as for spouses, in the rare event any of us should get short-tempered in this hot weather, it might help if we take the precaution to look like a human being while we're sounding off.

All of this dawned on us again the other morning when we took the men to work clad in half-soiled sun clothes and batter house slippers — no makeup, no hairdo. We met an acquaintance, didn't recognize her. "She's just not dressed up and has no makeup," the spouse observed. As we drove home, mercifully escaping and traffic brush that might have required getting out of the car, we stole a guilty glance at the rear-view mirror.

"It's astounding," we told the specter we saw there. "As much as you've said about come-as-you-are parties, here you are facing the whole town looking like this!"

Mrs. D. D. Shipley gave several piano numbers and sang. The afternoon was spent in visiting.

The guests included Mesdames Will Snell, Lula Slaughter, Robert Day, E. B. Chesnut, Mrs. E. F. Stovall and Mrs. Shipley.

F. C. Harmon has returned home from a 10 day visit with relatives in Manchester, Tennessee, and other points in that state. He also visited with a nephew, Verlon Harmon and family in Forrest City, Arkansas on his return trip to Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Collis Roland returned home Monday evening from Temple where Mrs. Roland went through the Scott-White clinic for a check up.

MRS. NELL ROGERS HOSTESS TO HONOR MRS. RUSHING

On Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Nell Rogers, honored Mrs. S. L. Rushing with a birthday party, inviting a few of her friends in for the afternoon, from 4 till 6 o'clock. A lovely table laid with cut work linen cloth, had multi-colored carnations for a center piece. A beautiful birthday cake was served the guests with ice cream.

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)

Mrs. Pete Hickerson (Wanda) cashier at the co-op, is back from a two-weeks vacation. She with her husband and her daughter Pat, and niece Ann Hickerson spent a few days in Colorado Springs. Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Hickerson, Pete's father and mother, spent a few days in Floydada visiting their children last week. Mr. and Mrs. Ken Walker and son of Dallas were also guests in their home over the week-end. Mrs. Walker is a niece of Pete and Buck Hickerson.

Troy Watson, Lubbock, field instructor, Texas engineering service, A & M. College system, who calls at the co-op office each month in the interest of job training and safety program, spent Monday at the co-op office.

Lovelie Ginn Owens, of Lubbock came by to see us on Wednesday. She and her two sons were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ginn of the Cedar Hill community in trition and Home Economics. WHOLE EGGS: Break eggs into a clean bowl. Stir with a fork just enough to break yolks and mix the whites (don't beat because this whips in the air). To each cupful, mix in 1/2 tablespoon of sugar or light-colored, mild flavored syrup, such as corn syrup. Or add 1/2 teaspoon salt. Then put through a medium mesh sieve.

Yolks: Separate eggs. Put in a clean bowl. Stir with a fork to break yolks and mix in 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, 1/2 tablespoon honey or syrup; or 1/2 teaspoon salt. Sift.

Whites: Freeze without stirring and with nothing added. Sift for uniform texture.

Packaging: For convenience and to save thawing more eggs than will be used at one time, put just enough in the container for one cake, or for scrambled eggs for one meal. Or just the quantity needed for a favorite recipe. Be sure to label accordingly, tell the date put into the freezer, etc. Package in vapor-moisture proof containers.

Freeze promptly and store at zero degrees or lower. Containers may be placed under cold running water to thaw or the container may be set in the refrigerator to thaw slowly. Thaw only the quantity to be used at one time. Don't refreeze after thawing.

How to Freeze Eggs
Here are the directions for freezing from the Bureau of Human Nu-

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sellars, Crosbyton; E. G. Crausbay, Crosbyton; and G. W. Wilson, Route 1, Floydada; were among office callers last week.

Eggs can go in freezer now for use next fall. Eggs put in the freezer during the months of plentiful supply may save money on angel food, sponge cake, and custards as well as other egg dishes next fall and winter. Home freezing specialists with the United States Department of Agriculture say freezing is the best way to prepare eggs—and that they will keep in good condition for nine months to a year.

Only clean, top-quality eggs are suitable for freezing. Remove from the shell then freeze the whole eggs or whites and yolks separately. To prevent the yolks from becoming gummy in freezing, whole eggs and yolks need to have sugar, syrup, or salt added—depending on how they will be used. For example: add sweetening for cakes and deserts.

Mrs. Winifred Newsome, formerly of Floydada, came by the co-op office to get a cook book one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Moore are enjoying a visit this week with their daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nichols, from Harrell South Dakota. Miss Jackie Piles, a neighbor girl accompanied them on their trip.

Corkey Guffee has been working at the Producers' Cooperative elevator from 5:00 o'clock until closing time during the harvest season.

Mrs. Ida Mae Pearsey, formerly of South Plains, but now living in California, came by with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Menard Fields, to get one of the REA cook books.

Three Week Trip Made by Ormans

Orman, and an aunt, Mrs. Arthur Hoover, sister of Mrs. R. L. Orman, now deceased. It was the Floyd couple's fourth trip in recent years to 'Ole Miss' and they are beginning to learn more about where all the hosts of cousins are and how to enjoy them.

In Missouri the Ormans were guests at Kansas City of Mrs. Norton's brother Ted, who is a minister there. They also made a stop at Springdale, Arkansas where they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stephens. Mrs. Stephens is a niece of Mrs. Orman.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes)
 Our hearts are heavy and sad this June morning. George Hill, my sister's son who was serving his country in Korea, died there the eleventh. His body will be flown back to his home in Amarillo, but his spirit has gone flying on to God, whom he loved and served all his young life. George was only 26, but early in life he planned his life and worked towards that plan. He would get a good education, but World War II stopped his studies.
 He was in the infantry, a tough hard spot in the battle of the Bulge. He came home and made the four year's work at A & M. in three. Then he was recalled to the colors and now only precious memories are left.
 We will not lose his broad smile, his kindly ways, his devotion to what he knew was right. He enriched all our lives and the sunshine will recall the pure gold of his heart. He will not have a broken body with age and infirmities, of dimmed senses and clouded faculties. Oh, he has gone on home before it has gotten dark of how blessed it is to reach home before it gets dark!
 "What a mistake we think when youth passes. But we must be mistaken in this, the young have entered the Homeland; they have found a place to stay, they are forever with the Lord, they see His face and walk in the unfading splendor of His glory. After all when we enter into a Homeland whose time-units are centuries and ages, instead of seconds and minutes, then the mere human distinctions of age and years shall not count."
 We have no dearer word for our heart's friend.
 For him who journeys to the world's far end,
 And scars our soul with going;
 Thus we say
 As unto him who steps but o'er the way—
 "Good-by."
