SEE YOU ON THE FIFTH!

(Editorial contributed by National Safety Council.)

Where are you going to be July 5? At home? At work? On vacation?

Are you real sure? What makes you so certain you may not be one of the hundreds of people who will start out on a Fourth of July holiday trip—and won't come back?

Not a pleasant thought, is it? You may even be a little provoked that we've brought it up.

Well, that's all right with us. For the more provoked you get, the more you may think about this Fourth of July traffic toll that annually makes a massacre out of a holiday that ought to be for pleasure and patriotism, not for tragedy.

That's what the 360 people thought who were killed over the Memorial Day holiday just a month ago. That's what the 8,936 people thought who have died in holiday traffic in the last six years.

Yes, that's right—8,936 people killed in holiday traffic in the last six years! Almost three times as many as were killed at Pearl Harbor. Half as many as have died for America on the battlefields of Korea.

How many of these 8,936 people thought when they started out during the holiday that they would never come back? Not one!

This one was just driving around the block to get a morning paper. This one was taking his family to visit friends in Peoria. This one was merely crossing the street. Not one of them was purposely going out to get killed — NOT ONE!

So, you see, it could be you. But here's the bright spot in the picture: it doesn't have to be you!

The National Safety Council, which has the grim responsibility for estimating these tolls in advance, says you can make its estimate look silly by merely using a little extra caution, common sense and courtesy to offset holiday traffic hazards. The Council says the toll could be cut in half, or even by two thirds, if you and I would make up our minds that, by golly, we aren't going to be one of those holiday traffic statistics.

It's just that simple. Instead of saying, "It couldn't be me," just say, "It won't be me!" Then act accordingly.

That's all there is to it. Happy Fourth of July! See you on the Fifth!

What is presumed to be the official report on the final depth of the Standard Oil of Texas Minnie Adams No. 1, seven and a half miles southeast of Floydada, one-half mile west of Lakeview school, is 7,777 feet. The hole was bottomed in a dark, cherty lime, passing out of the pay lime formation at 7,648 feet, said a statement issued Friday. This should make 150 feet of oil-bearing lime. Pretty fair reward for the gamble. What the well will do when finished is to be seen. None of the oil fraternity speak of the test in any terms except the utmost confidence. The fact that there are half a dozen companies with leases in the field point to interesting developments that may be bigger than Floydada and the towns surrounding can take.

The drill, according to this report, thus would have pierced into the cherty lime some 29 feet below the producing formation. Nothing in the report indicates the presence of salt water anywhere in the producing horizon or below. The oil in the lower portions of the lime continued to be a good green, and this is generally indicated to mean a high gravity oil. The oil from the top of the lime tested 36.7. This enhances the value of the well to offset the extreme depth which makes drilling expensive.

Fourth of July tomorrow. The Hesperian force will have a day of rest without worrying about the deadline for publication. When a holiday hits in mid-week, however, it is sort of on the tough side, so tough sometimes the printer and the other folks around the office had rather it had not happened. When a day of fun comes so high you can't enjoy it for thinking of what all you have got to do tomorrow, you can't relax. Definitely when tomorrow turns to today you really wish that all your customers had resolved to do business as usual.

Old-Style Texans have had to learn how to take the fourth of July. Once upon a time the fourth came at a busy, busy time for the ordinary folks, since practically all the people were cotton farmers and were "in the weeds" when in northern states the populace was whooping it up, shooting fire crackers, listening to the orators pluck eagle's feathers and things of the kind. At Christmas time it was different and then, with time on their hands, the cotton picking youth had their fire crackers and their frolics. Probably it should not have been that way but that was the way it was, they say.

An appalling shortage of housing in Floydada most likely to be expensive in a business way is due to develop this late summer and fall. Already a fair sampling of what is to come is in evidence. It is noteworthy that, so far as our knowledge goes, nothing is being done about it. Little Topsy just grew up and Floydada can do the same way, but it would be greatly to our benefit financially to try to take every advantage of the current trend. Few towns ever have the opportunity which Floydada is due to have within the next few months. The situation calls for planning now.

We can't help taking cognizance of the fact that, whereas the principal objections to public housing program, such as the city council has on their table for consideration, comes from the big city, the big city also is where the most of it is being done. As for instance J. B. Adoue, jr., mayor of the City of Dallas last week, was the principal figure in a ceremony where they inducted one large Negro family into their new quarters—one residence of a 300-residential unit. Somehow or other out in the country we get indignant and go by it. In the cities they talk indignant and get all they can.

Thousands of Texas homemakers, through training received from their Agricultural Extension Service, are finding that work simplification can make their tasks easier to perform and less time consuming.

THE TEXAS CONSUMER

Many thousands of dollars are lost by the Texas consumer each year because of faulty scales and measuring devices. The farmer doesn't get his full 100 pounds of feed, the housewife's pound of meat is an ounce or two short and the motorist fails to receive a full gallon of gasoline.

But the consumer isn't the only one who loses out on transactions based on inaccurate units. The merchant stands an equal chance of loss from devices which have accidentally slipped out of adjustment.

The Weights and Measures Division of the Texas Department of Agriculture is now engaged in the annual blanket check of all commercial scales and measuring units of the state. Ten inspectors are making a circuit tour of Texas in an intensive effort to assure the customer and the dealer of a fair share in all transactions. The job is expected to be completed by midsummer — and the results, thus far, are encouraging.

Last year, an average of one out of every five scales was found to be in poor working order or out of adjustment. And an average of one of every 4 1/2 gasoline pumps was giving an inaccurate measure of fuel. Preliminary reports from inspection this year reveals that the ratio of improvement may be as high as 93 per cent. This is due, in part, by the constant inspection program maintained by the department, in addition to cooperation between city and state weights and measures divisions.

A relatively small percentage of cases are found to be deliberate fraud and these are vigorously prosecuted. Most violations are the result of careless scale and equipment

Released by Department of Agriculture

Essentially, the inspection program is not a police action to ferret out criminals, but a service of government for the protection of all persons. The really alarming ratio of dollars lost is in the purchase of commodities weighed and packaged in stores such as lunch meat, fresh meat, cheeses and fryers. About every other package checked by inspectors is incorrect as to weight. Approximately 35 percent of these are overweight and the remainder underweight.

But these figures do not necessarily reflect on the honesty of the merchant. The commodities can be properly marked and then placed under refrigeration where shrinkage is bound to occur. Any package that has been in cooling compartment more than 24 hours is almost certain to be wrongly marked. The only solution would be to require merchants to re-weigh the goods every day. This would be a tremendous job for some of our super markets.

The most practical solution is for the purchaser to request the packaged goods be re-checked at the cashier's stand where he can pay for the current weight. It is partly up to the consumer to see that he gets a full weight and measure of goods. Any person who suspects faulty transactions should report them to the Texas Department of Agriculture in Austin. A check will be made at once.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Haley and Donald Parker of Gainesville were here last week for a visit with Mrs. Parker's brother, Claude Ring and family.

Battles School Road Tax

As a member of the legislature from rural counties in southeast Texas and as speaker of the house in the 48th Legislature, Daniel, a native of Liberty, has consistently fought for Texas farmers and ranchers in supporting REA, soil conservation, rural road building, and similar programs.

Himself a farm owner and REA member, Daniel has pledged in his campaign for U. S. senate to work to strengthen and maintain the REA program, soil conservation work, farm price supports, aid to the aged, and other such "sound and constructive programs."

The 41-year-old Attorney General, who is the only veteran in the senate race, is reported by impartial newspaper polls to be leading in the state race by a 6-to-1 majority, according to Everett Hutchinson, his state campaign manager.

Daniel is noted for his leadership of the Texas fight to prevent federal seizure of our tidelands. He favors an "immediate house-cleaning of dishonesty and disloyalty" in Washington, opposes big spending, waste and extravagance, and wants taxes lowered at "the earliest moment possible."

Allan Shivers Starts 15-Day Drive July 4

AUSTIN, July — Allan Shivers took off his formal governor's coat this week to hit the hot July Texas campaign trails for 15 days of intensive travel before he leaves for the national Democratic convention in Chicago the week of July 20.

Shivers' jammed-packed campaign tour will take him over much of Texas — from small communities like Dime Box in Lee County to metropolitan communities of Houston and San Antonio.

His tour will start on July 4 following a busy week at the national governors' conference at Houston, where Shivers participated with 46 other governors in mapping out programs for continued improvements in state hospitals and schools, betterment of prison systems, highways, farm-to-market roads and educational systems.

Shivers, who has always spent much of his time visiting with the people and listening to their ideas for betterment of state government, will hit the general areas of Stamford, Abilene, El Paso, Texarkana, Paris, Tyler, Waco, Corsicana, Mexia, Hillsboro, Temple, Brownfield, Lubbock, Lamesa, San Angelo, Odessa, Midland, Kermit, San Antonio, Houston, Baytown, Beaumont and Port Arthur from July 4 to July 17.

During the past several weeks the governor has been speaking and working more on precinct meetings than on his own campaign, devoting a great deal of time meeting in various communities with precinct workers who took the lead in May to assure Texas of an unopposed delegation to the national Democratic convention.

Shivers pointed out in connection with his campaign tour that he has responded to the invitations of the people to visit in their communities during the campaign, as best he could, considering the brevity of the time available.

"I try to know at all times what Texans want, need and think," he emphasized.

Vows Unite Barbara Elaine Nelson, Dr. Jeffrey B. Landers

AMARILLO — In a candlelight ceremony solemnized Saturday evening in the First Presbyterian church, Barbara Elaine Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Verne Nelson, 1224 Austin, and Dr. Jeffrey B. Landers, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Landers, 2605 Parker, exchanged double-ring nuptials.

Dr. Francis W. Pritchard, pastor, read the service before a background of jade palms, candelabra and baskets of white delphinium, double white stock and gladioli. Two large fan-shaped bouquets stood on either side of the altar, and the chancel rail was draped with garlands of smilax entwined with white stock blossoms. To the sides of the nuptial space were pedestal baskets of white stock and delphinium backed by seven-branched candelabra and jade palms. Pews along the bridal aisle were marked with lighted white tapers decorated with greenery and clusters of delphinium tied with satin ribbon.

Mrs. Truman T. Vineyard served her sister as matron-of-honor and bridesmaids were Miss Norma Anne Pirtle of Pampa, Miss Frances Henry of Texarkana, Miss Norma Jo Teple of Floydada and Miss Anne Dodson. The bridesmaids' gowns were of ice blue net over taffeta, styled with accordion pleated tulip tops accented by satin insertions at the waistline. Small French bonnets and mits of matching blue net completed their costumes. They carried bouquets of pink Anemone roses showered with pink satin streamers.

Mrs. Vineyard wore a gown of shell pink net over taffeta, fashioned identically to the bridesmaids' dresses. Her French bonnet and mits were of matching pink net. She carried a bouquet of pink Anemone roses showered with blue satin ribbon. Gail Vineyard, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She was attired in a dress of shell pink net over taffeta. The tucked bodice was accented by a Peter Pan collar and tiny puffed sleeves. She carried a basket of blue maline filled with sweetheart roses and wore a matching halo.

The bride was accompanied to the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace over candle-light tulle with a full skirt which terminated in a chapel train. The fitted bodice buttoned in the back with tiny self-covered buttons. The yoke of illusion, outlined with Chantilly orange blossoms, featured a Peter Pan collar and long Victorian sleeves ending in petal points at the wrists. The finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion had a hand-rolled edge and fell from a close fitting headdress made up of a series of hand-rolled petals of illusion touched with seed pearls.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white orchids, stephanitis and fleur d'amour in tufts of white maline, showered with stephanitis, tiny boxes of maline and ribbons tied in love knots.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was Chandler Rush. Groomsman were William N. Lampe, Joe H. McElroy, Truman T. Vineyard and Charles C. Harlan of Fort Worth. Ringbearer was Jimmy Kyle Savage.

Mrs. Nelson, mother of the bride, selected a dress of dusty pink Chantilly lace over taffeta and chiffon. Her hat was of lavender flowers and headdress of blue pink cymbidium orchids. The bridegroom's mother chose a dress of mauve Chantilly lace over taffeta and chiffon. Completing her ensemble were a mauve hat of velvet beaded with pearls, matching gloves and a corsage of blue pink cymbidium orchids.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Amarillo Country Club. The bride's table was covered with a white satin damask cloth centered with an antique pink and silver footed bowl of white roses and delphinium. Garlands of flowers were entwined on the silver candelabra. The tiered cake and a silver punch bowl completed the arrangements.

The bridegroom's table, laid with a white linen cut-work cloth, was centered with a low silver urn of white stock and white roses, flanked by seven-branched silver candelabra. A silver punch bowl and the tiered cake were at either end.

Included in the house party were Mrs. J. L. Johnson of Dallas, Mrs. John Allen and Mrs. Carlos Jones, of Lubbock, Miss Frances Miller, Miss Hylasue Yeager, Miss Jaynet Catterton, Mrs. Bill Irwin, Mrs. Jack Davis, Miss Glenna Miller, Miss Gloria Adkins of Floydada and Miss Gloria Jean Haggard of Carthage. Guests were registered by Mrs. Kenneth Lynn.

For the trip to Colorado, Mrs. Landers wore a two-piece dress of pink polished cotton. The bodice featured leg-of-mutton sleeves, tear-drop rhinestone buttons and a double peplum, giving a bustle effect. She wore a white straw and flower hat and other accessories of black and white.

Mrs. Landers was graduated from Amarillo High school and Amarillo College. She attended West Texas State College, Canyon, and the University of Texas, Austin. She is a member of Delta Gamma Sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from New Mexico Military Institute and Baylor Dental College, where he was a member of Psi Omega. He also attended Amarillo College, Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and West Texas State College. He is a member of the Amarillo Jaycees, Rotary Club and the Texas State Dental Society.

After July 10, Dr. and Mrs. Landers will reside at 1025-B Virginia.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the Amarillo Country Club by the bridegroom's parents Saturday evening.

Texas Newsmen Strongly Urge Public Reports

Texas newspaper publishers expressed strong objection to the failure of state officials to publish accountings of receipts and disbursements of public tax monies at the 73rd Annual Meeting of the Texas Press Association in Houston, June 14.

Resolutions were passed calling attention to the fact that, even though required by law, such publications are seldom made by city, county and school board district officials. Resolutions pointed out that such publications are required for the "understanding, benefit and criticism of the voters and tax payers," and that the light of publicity could place a curb upon the "careless, wasteful extravagance and often corrupt handling of public funds."

In part, the resolutions read: WHEREAS, laws in other states recognize the need of such detailed publication of all expenditures of public monies when said expenditures are listed in the local or regional newspaper, item by item, dollar by dollar; and that experience in other states proves that the cost of publication is more than justified by its enormous saving in the tax payers' money; THEREFORE, be it resolved that the legislative committee of this Texas Press Association be called upon to study this particular phase of our state law and that said committee be empowered to suggest corrective measures for consideration by the State Legislative body.

J. C. Smyth, published of the Liberty Vindicator is chairman of the TPA Legislative Committee.

A second resolution passed by the convention urges the election of officials who will pledge themselves to call a halt to tax increases. A third called for revision of the state election code to "create a basis of equity between and among candidates contending for any one particular office." Another endorsed the efforts of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic fraternity, in their fight for freedom of information and the peoples' right to know.

Attempts by certain groups to place a curb on advertising for selfish purposes and the TPA's objection to false or misleading advertising also were cited by the convention. Chairman Smyth said that for their increase in circulation, and some of the publishers were urged to maintain their prices, in another resolution. The association also approved the work of the Newsmen's Representative in New York City, a new organization for advertising in the newspaper industry. SEPARATE SIAMESE-TWIN BROTHERS

Ronnie and Donnie Galyon of Dayton, Ohio, don't know they are unusual children, says Pathfinder news magazine. At seven months they are playful as any other kids; they especially enjoy the "chair-tender" that their father, a 27-year-old apprentice plumber, has built for them. "To watch the boys slug each other in the crib you would never know they are Siamese twins," says a nurse at St. Elizabeth's Hospital. Except for being joined at the abdomen, they are perfectly normal; each has complete control of his mental faculties. By the time they are two years old, doctors hope to be able to cut the tissue that joins them, and if necessary to replace part of the intestine of one.

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

Natchez, Miss., has many grand and stately homes of pre-Civil War days: "Dunkleith," a palace in a setting of wonderful trees. "Elms" which derives its name from a noble old tree with a twisted trunk. "Greenleaves," christened for the many trees, to name just a few. Then there is the Briers, where Jefferson Davis' second marriage occurred. The home is a dazzling white and the driveway, flowers and shrubbery are so well-kept that the visitor half expects to see the front door open and the president of the Confederacy emerge with his bride on his arm. The roadway, built in carriage days of course, is narrow and is so enclosed by trees that it is almost like a tunnel.

Most beautiful of the homes is Rosalie, named by the owner for his young and lovely wife. The front is white, flanked by red bricks and there are a dozen green shutters — truly brilliant coloring. The mansions appear to have 30 or 40 rooms — (I entered only one and that one I will tell you about in a moment). It must have required an army of servants to maintain those princely establishments.

The story of Longwood is the most intriguing of all — and this is the mansion which I visited. The owner was said to have had 700 slaves. You enter the ground floor and find that the furnishings are very much the same as they were when the plantation owner dwelt there. His picture and his wife's picture smile a welcome to you from the wall. There is a big, four-poster bed. Above the dining table is a punkah, imported from India — (a large, flat piece of highly polished wood, which a slave operated by pulling a cord, the device serving as a fan.)

Here is why Longwood is so intriguing: You gaze at a five-story building of red brick, surmounted by a silver dome. Then you view the ground floor with its furniture brought by steamboat from Philadelphia and the marble from Italy, then climb the steps and open the door to the next floor — and you see bare rafters, unfinished floors, scaffolding! Only the ground floor was completed when the Civil War broke out, stopping construction. So the work stands just as it was that fateful day in 1861. Not a nail has been driven, not a saw has sounded in more than 70 years. Outwardly magnificent, Longwood is but a shell — the shell of a dream that was never fulfilled.

And that is the story of the most romantic of the many romantic old homes of Natchez. Some 20 miles away, a big oil play was in progress at Desdemona, which also was known as Hogtown. Watt tells of the big crowd of "jitney drivers" with their battered flippers on hand when a train rolled in. One shouted, "Service car to Desdemona, twelve and a half." A new arrival, not knowing that the town had two names, said, "I want to go to Hogtown." without batting an eye, the service man repeated, "Hogtown! Yes, sir; that will be $15." Of course you are familiar with the expression, "He's has as much money as Carter had oats." Carter was a farmer in Georgia many years ago and he declared that his oats crop was so bountiful that he had to move the fence back to keep the oats from breaking it down.

Do you believe in ghosts? Well, here is a true ghost story. A traveler arrived at an inn one night and asked for supper and lodging. The proprietor said, "Supper, we will be happy to provide — but all our rooms are taken." "All?" the traveler asked. "Well, all but one," was the reply, "and I would not rent to anyone for it is haunted."

"I don't believe in spirits; I will take it," the other said. So he enjoyed a hearty meal, smoked his pipe before the jolly fire in the big fireplace in the public room, and then signified he was ready to retire. The host lighted a candle and conducted him upstairs, down a long hall and around a bend of the corridor where he fumbled with the lock and, opening the door, said, "Here is your room."

The dim light of the candle revealed the dust of long disuse on the sparse furniture and there was a musty smell. The proprietor set down the candle, said "Good night," and departed. The guest locked the door and propped a chair against the handle. Then, picking up the candle, he made a thorough inspection of the room, not neglecting to look under the bed and examining the clothes closet. There were two windows but they were bolted.

Satisfied that the room was empty except for himself, the traveler undressed, climbed into the bed and blew out the candle. After a few moments, he arose without the slightest noise, tiptoed to his valise and removed a pistol which he placed under his pillow, then he lay back down. Silence so profound that it seemed almost to be felt reigned. The bed being comfortable and the day's journey having been long and tiring, the man soon fell into a sound sleep. Suddenly, he found himself wide awake. He sensed the presence of someone or something in the room! He strained his ears but there was not the slightest sound.

His eyes had become accustomed by this time to the darkness and he saw something at the foot of the bed. Drawing the pistol from under the pillow, he demanded, "Who's there?" No reply came. "What are you?" he asked in a voice that in spite of himself quavered. Again, only silence. "Speak or I'll fire," he shouted. Once more, only stillness. The next moment the pistol roared and there was a scream — from the guest for he had shot off two of his toes; it had been his own foot sticking out from under the cover that he had seen.

And that, my children, is a true ghost story. Everybody has heard of that most famous of all railroad engineers, Casey Jones, whose renown is kept alive by the old song which begins, "Come all young rounders if you want to hear, the story of a brave engineer." Was there really such an engineer? There certainly was. Your columnist spent part of my boyhood years in Memphis, Tennessee, and talked to old-timers on the Illinois Central Railroad who knew him. In the yellow pages of the files of the Mem-

The Floyd County Hospian, Floydada, Texas, Thursday, July 3, 1952

This Commercial Appeal can be found, in the issue of May 1, 1900, the account of Casey Jones' death in a wreck near Vaughn, Mississippi, not long after the fast "Cannonball Express" had pulled out of the Popular Street station with Jones at the throttle.

"Dead Under His Cab," reads the headlines. The article related: The Southbound passenger train No. 1 was rushing full head of steam when it crashed into the rear of a caboose and three freight cars which were standing on the main track, the other portion of the train being on a side track. The caboose and two of the cars were smashed to pieces; the engine left the rails, plowed up an embankment, overturned and was completely wrecked. Casey Jones was killed outright; his body was found lying under the cab. The fireman jumped just in time to save his life. The express messenger was thrown against the side of the car and two of his ribs were broken.

The engineer had not realized the danger until within a short distance of the caboose, when he made a violent effort to put on the air brake but the distance was not sufficient. The Commercial Appeal account concluded: "Engineer Jones had been in the service of the Illinois Central for many years and was highly esteemed as one of the road's safest and most capable engineers. He lived at Jackson, Mississippi. He leaves a wife and three children. As he used to rush his own particular signal and the listeners 'knew' by the engine's moans that the man at the throttle was 'Casey Jones' and he did make the 'farewell trip to the Promised Land' as the old song tells.

At least three Texas publications gained national circulation. One was the "Iconoclast," edited by W. C. Brann; another was "Texas Sifting," edited by Knox and Sweet; the third, your columnist had never heard of till he read an article written by the "Frontier Times" editor, J. Marvin Hunter.

Citizens of Texas and throughout the South in the 80's remember the old "Sunny South," published at Brownwood by two brothers. They were practical printers and published the Brownwood Banner. They launched the "Sunny South" as a story paper, carrying advertising matter for firms all over the United States. It was published twice a month, contained illustrations, and its circulation grew by leaps and bounds from the very start despite fact that it was printed what was then a mere village, 60 miles from a railroad. Within a short time, its circulation ran up to 40,000 copies per issue and, two years later, its circulation was 150,000 copies. It was filled with advertisements of patent medicines, puzzles, fortune tellers, sleight-of-hand tricks, sewing machines, farm implements, and many other things. What gave the paper such tremendous circulation was a lottery originated by the publishers through extensive advertising. Regular drawings were held and the prizes were almost everything from cheap watches and gold plated rings, to 160-acre farms, and the public seemed to catch the gambling spirit and required a force of ten persons to mail responded to such an extent that it re-out the prizes and take care of the correspondence. The little postoffice at Brownwood was swamped with the tremendous mail that came in and went out.

The mail contractor, who carried the mail between Brownwood and Eastland, went broke having to provide extra facilities for carrying the bags of mail, as it required extra hacks to load the loads. On one occasion, the stage was held up and robbed, and when the robbers went through the sacks containing prizes being sent out by the "Sunny South," they found a lot of the cheap jewelry, and amused themselves by throwing the nickel-plated watches against the side of the mail hack.

A fine two-story building was erected for the "Sunny South," and business grew to such an extent that about 50 people were employed in its several departments. Brownwood got too small for such a successful enterprise, so the brothers moved the "Sunny South" to Waco. Court difficulties wrecked the business and "Sunny South" ceased to exist.

Last Clayton Gin to Plains

Many Floyd county citizens will remember the Clayton gins in Bonham and Bailey, and other Fannin county towns, for doubtless when they lived in Fannin county, they ginned their cotton at one of the Clayton gins.

The following was clipped from the Bonham Herald and has reference to Melvin Clayton, who is the M. C. mentioned:

Last Clayton Gin Leaving Fannin
The M. C. Clayton Gin, last of the gins in Fannin county owned by the pioneer ginning Clayton family, is being dismantled and moved to the irrigated section of the North Plains, 10 miles east of Kress, after 34 years of operation.

Other members of the Clayton family have already moved their gins from this county to the Kress vicinity.

G. W. Clayton, father of Mr. C. Clayton, owned and operated gins in several Fannin county communities, including the Bailey gin, which he opened in 1918 and operated until M. C. bought it in 1926.

M. C. and his family have been active in many civic organizations in Bailey with M. C. particularly interested in the work of the Boy Scouts of America.

ON THE USS IOWA

GREAT LAKES, Illinois—Among the 2200 crewmen serving aboard the battleship USS Iowa in Korean waters, is Billy R. Evatt, seaman apprentice, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Evatt of Route 1, Ralls, Texas.

Since leaving "mothballs" to relieve her sister battleship, the USS Wisconsin, the Iowa has continued to bombard the Communists in round-the-clock support of United Nations ground troops.

During her first month of combat, the 45,000-ton Iowa hurled more than 1,000 rounds of one-ton 16" projectiles, and over 3,000 rounds of 5" shells on Red installations along the East coast of North Korea.

The Iowa is the flagship of the commander, Seventh Fleet.

Mrs. Floy Stewart has returned to her home in Wichita Falls after a visit here with her mother, Mrs. W. I. Cannaday and other relatives.

"Step Up... Sit Down... and Take Over"

This New Leader of the Heavyweights

Here's a powerful Diesel that defies all comparison for comfort, convenience, and ease of handling in a big tractor.

See how easy it is to step on and off... look at its deep-cushion seat... its extra-large platform... its convenient controls... its clean-cut design. Extreme ease of starting and steering... hydraulic Power-Trol... direct engine-driven power shaft... hand clutch—these are just a few of its many operating advantages.

You bet you'll like to drive it—more than any other tractor you've ever had your hands on. But the biggest thrill of all is in owning it. Then is when all your worries—about adequate power to handle big equipment in your tough conditions, about getting through in time—will literally melt away. Then is when you'll know the true meaning of John Deere two-cylinder Diesel performance and economy. Then is when you'll say, "I wouldn't give it up at any price if I couldn't get another."

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY

While we have no desire to engage in any controversy involving a race in Floyd County, in view of a recent article published in the Lockney and the Floyd County Hesperian, we feel that the people should know...

As members of the city council of the City of Lockney, Texas, we feel for the best interest of the people of Lockney to change the city Officer. We went to Mr. Earl Cooper and requested that he tender his resignation to the City Council effective within Sixty Days. This would have given the City Council ample time to select a successor and would likewise have given Mr. Cooper more time to devote to his race for sheriff. It was not our desire to see Mr. Cooper in any way in his race for sheriff, and we felt we were being unfair. However, when Mr. Cooper was told that the City Council would like to see him resign within Sixty Days, he told the City Council that he would not resign. He attempted to dismiss him he would contest the election which was received by the City Council. In view of Mr. Cooper's Unco-operative Spirit and dictatorial attitude, the City Council had no other alternative than to dismiss him. All members of the City Council unanimously to dismiss Mr. Cooper; this is a matter of record.

We feel that the recent article referred to reflected upon the integrity of the members of the City Council and insinuated that the City Council dismissed Mr. Cooper because he enforced the Law. Nothing could be farther from the truth than what we thought was for the best interest to the city without regard to personalities. So long as we remain on the City Council of Lockney, we will continue to do what we think is best and right for our Citizens.

The City Council of Lockney, Texas

Rogers' Statement On Race

SAVE MONEY

The occasion for Mr. and Mrs. Rogers' statement regarding the office in the July 26 special time for our nation...

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers of Childress, Texas, are in Lubbock for the office in the July 26 special time for our nation...

Mr. and Mrs. Rogers of Childress, Texas, are in Lubbock for the office in the July 26 special time for our nation...

It IS "time for a change." But let us remember that new faces in Washington will make no real difference if we have not changed things here at home.

At all levels of government we must return to the great principal upon which this country was founded and built; and if it is to stand, upon which it must stand.

This great principal is Americanism. It says that man is created free, that his Creator gave him certain "inalienable" rights, that the sole purpose and reason for government is to see that these rights are protected. Government is not meant to take away these rights or to create substitutes.

We can have such a government ONLY when it is the hands of the people. Through our representative form of government we can do this. But it will not be done for us. We, the people, must do this. Too often in the twenty years we have let "George" do it for us. "George" has almost taken our government out of our hands - and our God-given freedom with it.

We must act NOW. It will take hard work and sacrifice - and courage, and faith in our great American principal.

Washington and Austin are full of "smart boys" and "big shots." I believe that it is time for Mr. Average Citizen to step into the forefront in Austin, as well as in Washington. Our primary need is for honesty and moral integrity.

I believe we need much new blood in all of our law-making bodies. I do not believe we need more men who have fed at the public trough for eighteen or twenty years - and have grown wealthy in the process.

I also believe we need some of the vigor and courage young men and women have to offer. At the very least, the young men did not get us in our present mess, yet they live and pay in the same manner as others - and will for a longer period of time to come. Also, it is they who often lay down their lives on foreign soil as their payment.

I offer the above way of thinking and the following summary of my qualifications and own actions to my fellow citizens so that they may decide if Andy Rogers is the man to work with them as their State Senator toward the great goal of Freedom.

I am a West Texan by birth, training and education. I was raised on a farm and dairy. My business is farming, and it will continue to be. I am a land owner and tax payer.

I am a family man with a wife and one daughter.

Andy Rogers has prepared himself for service with seven years of college education - law, government, economics and agriculture.

I have proven my willingness to sacrifice by voluntarily giving three years' service in the United States Army during World War II.

I have had two term's experience serving West Texas in your State House of Representatives. I have served on these following important committees:

Appropriations, Agriculture, Insurance, Highways and Roads, and Construction and Reclamation.

Andy Rogers is not a lawyer. Therefore, I can represent only the people who elect me. I cannot hope for financial gain by serving you as State Senator - an important job that pays only an approximate $700. per year.

I am not a professional politician. I have consistently fought corruption in all government, and will continue to do so.

As a State Representative, I have opposed an increased rate of spending and taxing in State Government, and will continue to do so. I have fought for the economic development of West Texas in the following ways:

1. Continually supporting our Farm Road and Primary Highway development.
2. Voting against and helping kill legislation for State control of our underground water. I will continue to do so.
3. Fighting to protect our surface water rights as they now stand.
4. Writing and getting passed legislation giving West Texas $10,000,000 for preliminary study of its surface water possibilities.
5. Writing and getting passed legislation which will soon bring into being a new Agriculture Experiment station to study the particular need of our Blow-Sand area of West Texas.

6. Writing and getting passed legislation requiring the labeling of "drip" gasoline when offered for sale, so consumers and honest service station operators are protected.

7. Supporting a sound, sensible Public School program.

Andy Rogers will continue to fight for a fair break for West Texas and for the protection of your rights.

I will run my race and serve you in the only way I know - BY CLEAN HARD WORK.

I invite everyone to investigate my record. My background and my character.

I will not be able to visit all of the people in the fifteen county State Senatorial District, but I humbly and sincerely ask for your vote and support.

Ferguson Tractor, Implement Sales Record Breaking

Carl Smith, manager of the Bryant & Smith Tractor Co. of 121 S. Wall St., Ferguson Dealer for this area, announced today that the Ferguson company recorded a new high in sales for the first three months of 1952. Total sales for the first quarter amounted to $22,145,000, an increase of 32 per cent over the corresponding period for 1951.

"These sales figures are remarkable because only four years ago, following the break with the Ford Motor Company, it was generally believed that the Ferguson company was finished," Mr. Smith said.

"When Harry Ferguson, inventor of the Ferguson system and Harry Ferguson, of Detroit brought suit against Ford, Dearborn Motors and others, to recover damages for infringed patents, most people were pretty skeptical because Ford had never lost a major patent action. Our victory in the final judgement put an end for good for all those rumors that the Ferguson company was about to fold up."

The Ferguson Company was awarded $9,250,000 from Ford and Dearborn under the terms of a consent judgement signed by Federal Judge Gregory F. Noonan on April 9 of this year.

Mr. Smith said the record sales for the first three months of 1952 show a significant increase over 1951 which was Ferguson's best year. The 1951 volume was 57 per cent higher than the figure for 1950.

"There have been many attempts to minimize the importance of this Ferguson - Ford settlement," Mr. Smith said, "but it's pretty hard to minimize $9,250,000."

Mathews acted as master of ceremonies in the afternoon, during which time political speeches were made. Lew Childre, "The boy from Alabama" sang and played the fiddle, for the crowd. In the evening several dances were in progress. One dance in the Sarginer building was crowded and more people waiting to attend, but no space was available.

It's getting to be a rare day when you see a real, genuine bargain advertised. In these days of planned economy everything seems to be included in the plans except economy.

But we have here an honest-to-Pete bargain to tell you about. It's a bargain because it's much more useful than it once was, and costs much less than it used to.

It's the television set.

In 1948 our 10-inch screen set cost $6.25 per square inch of picture. Today, our 20-inch set costs only about $1.37 per square inch, and gives you a much finer picture almost four times the size.

So, you see, with all the forces of inflation, a counterforce has been quietly at work. Research and engineering are steadily plugging along - improving products - making them do more, cost less, and last longer.

At least, that's the way it is at General Electric.

Sure, it's smart to look at the price tag. But it's also smart to look beyond... to the performance of the product and the name of the maker. The best possible products at the lowest possible prices - that's G.E.'s idea of good business.

SUGAR AT ITS BEST!

Search Continues

One of the cards was from Mrs. P. W. Webb, of Miller and Miller Motor freight office here stating there was a suitcase at their office with letters to Mr. Ardry. It had been found at Memphis, Texas, by a Miller and Miller driver, she said. That was the first clue had of Mr. Ardry's disappearance.

His daughter was notified and the sheriff's department set off the man hunt.

None of the information about Mr. Ardry's movements on the day of his departure from Floydada actually places him on a bus enroute to the home of the daughter at Levelland. J. A. Burns is among those who talked briefly with Mr. Ardry at the bus station. Mr. Ardry had a sweater, a jacket and a coat while he talked to him. Mr. Burns said. He tried to give Mr. Burns the coat, saying he didn't want to carry it around on his arm or didn't need it, while he was gone. He told Mr. Burns he thought he would go downstate to spend a few weeks or words to that effect, Mr. Burns said. Mr. Burns did not know whether Mr. Ardry boarded a bus or not.

Yesterday the sheriff's office was checking with relatives in Cooke county, hoping they would find him there. This was following up the clue that Mr. Burns gave as to the direction in which the aged man might be traveling.

Yesterday, also, the sheriff and relatives were having pictures made of Mr. Ardry to send to newspapers in the area in the hope that they would be used and be helpful in the search.

Here Since 1926
Mr. Ardry and his family moved to Floyd county from Gainesville, Cook county, in 1926. Mrs. Ardry passed away about 15 years ago.

Sheriff Hart has asked the cooperation of the newspapers and radio stations in this area to assist in every way with their facilities possible in trying to locate Mr. Ardry. If anyone has any idea or any clue whatsoever, they are asked to get in touch with sheriff Hart.

Sheriff Hart in company with Jessie Hellums, Texas Ranger stationed at Lubbock, made a trip to Memphis on Monday and checked every possible angle of the finding of Mr. Ardry's suitcase, which was found on the highway near that city.

Mrs. Garvin, who assists her husband at T. N. M. & O. bus station here, said Tuesday that she remembered the aged man coming to the office and leaning on the counter or desk. She sold several bus tickets on June 12 to Lubbock, but did not remember selling one to Mr. Ardry. However he did ask her about the tickets, she recalls.

Mr. Ardry is described as being about 5 feet, 11 inches in height and weighs about 120 pounds. He probably wore a grey felt hat and grey trousers, when he left Floydada.

Miss Marjorie Morehead has returned from a trip to points in California and the west coast, where she has been visiting friends for the past few weeks.

Rural Electric Coop Contracts For Extensions

Directors of Floyd County Rural Electric cooperative Tuesday contracted for $225,000 worth of betterments and increased load capacity for their sprawling electric service distribution lines, which Manager Melvin Henry said would serve 50 new irrigation wells when completed, the whole of the $225,000 being allocated for these purposes and for reimbursement of the coop's general fund.

This set-up, which went to a Texas contractor, is in addition to $370,000 which will be used to complete previously approved construction, to build 50 miles of new distribution line to serve 100 new consumers and for system improvements. Loan covering this last undertaking, was approved by the Rural Electrification administration Saturday, according to a dispatch from the office of Senator Tom Connally in Washington.

Weather and Crops

Hot weather is good for cotton but it can have too much dry with it.

For most of the county the dry has been as pronounced as the hot the past week and cotton hasn't responded too well, except where irrigation farmers are battling to keep the moisture in the ground. The estimate is that 120,000 acres of Floyd county crop is under irrigation, 80,000 acres on dry land. The southwest corner of the county is the only portion where moisture in appreciably helpful amount has fallen.

The temperature range has been up in the high nineties all week and above on two occasions. Late, young cotton especially needs to have some relief from the heat.

Only portion of the county to have appreciable rain during the past 10 days is the southwest corner where rains that pretty well covered the counties to the west sloshed over into Floyd.

All the area around Allmon, extending up northward toward Sand Hill and eastward to the vicinity of McCoy, had a fair to good rain Wednesday. W. B. Eakin, west of McCoy had an inch and two-tenths and at Petersburg the fall was about the same.

Practically all of the Harmony area had 6-tenths or better. G. L. Snodgrass reported that amount at his place. The storm extended northward past Lockney and left a quarter of an inch of rain most of the northwest corner of the county also. One death resulted from lightning 7 p.m. when John Kendall, an 18, year-old was struck while working in a field at the Herrell Carthel place. Kendall was a popular 1952 graduate of Lockney High school. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kendall.

SETS ROD-REEL RECORD

The black marlin which rarely runs under 600 pounds, is one of the sea's largest fish. They are most prevalent in a 30-mile area off Cabo Blanco, Peru, where the Humboldt Current provides an abundance of bait fish. There Alfred C. Glassell Jr. of Houston, Tex., last month boated a 1,025-pounder, the biggest game fish that has ever been taken on rod and reel. Previous official record: a 926-pound black marlin which was caught in 1926 in New Zealand waters.—Pathfinder.

Musicales, Seated Tea Compliment to Parents of Pupils

Mrs. Ohmer Kirk honored the parents of her 33 pupils, who have studied with her this summer, with a seated tea and musicale Sunday afternoon in her home on South Wall street. Over one hundred guests were in attendance.

A program made up of solos, duets, readings and voice numbers were rendered.

Mrs. Marjorie Hollums assisted her mother in the formalities, serving iced punch and Mexican wedding cakes from a table laid with an imported cut work cloth with crystal appointments. Around the base of the punch bowl were Shasta daisies. Large arrangements of white glads were placed at vantage points thru out the entertaining rooms.

Mrs. H. R. Stuart and children, Hunter and Melissa, returned home Sunday after spending two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Drake of Dallas. Mr. Stuart drove down for the week-end and brought them home.

Want ads save time, money.

Recently we overheard a conversation between two women: "I sure miss you since you've moved across town." To the rest of us, she added: "She kept me busy thinking up things to send home in her dishes." While we wouldn't belittle the tradition of never returning an empty dish, we can see how it could be carried to an extreme.

We heard a very human story about this custom the other day. A neighbor had promised a friend of ours some ice cream. There were only three in the family, they had only two guests coming to supper, and of course they'd need help with a gallon. After the guests had gone, she went to get the ice cream and found 12-year-old Junior and a friend about to lap up the last bowlful. She shoed them off and salvaged enough to keep her promise. The next day, our friend called out: "That really was good ice cream, Junior." Without looking up from his yard work, he grudgingly answered: "You'd sure better bring us something good in that bowl!"

Our own experience has been that if we wait until we've made some suitable delicacy for returning in a neighbor's roll pan, we've kept the pan much longer than good manners allow.

We prefer the neighborly pace wants Mary to try - a jar of jam or other night. "She's the kind of neighbor who, every four or five months brings over something she wants Mary to try a jar of jam or a new kind of cake."

Frankly, we'd rather have our own tray come home empty with hearty thanks than to feel that our gesture of friendship has put the neighbor on the spot. Then later, if she wants to share some tasty recipe, we won't feel it's a have-to.

KITCHEN AND FIELD NEWS

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)

by Nancy Morekel and Claude Weathersbee

Dona Covington, office manager, went across the street one day last week to pick up her watch she had left for repair, when she saw Mr. Bert Battey who had said he was checking to see if he could get some goggles for his cows - some with green glass, so they would eat this dry grass and wheat stubble and think they were eating green alfalfa. We haven't learned whether he found the goggles and if he is having any luck fooling the cows.

Congratulations to the Carl Ferrusons, Lockney, who are moving into a lovely new home.

Mrs. Eunice Weathersbee accompanied them for a few days visit.

A loan for 370,000 was approved by REA in Washington, D. C., for the Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc., for connecting 50 irrigation wells, 50 new homes and other system improvements. This is in addition to the contract let July 1.

Prisoners Committed to Texas from Floyd in 10 Years

FLOYD COUNTY in 1951 has committed 22 prisoners to the Texas prison system. This is the lowest number in a decade. It was revealed recently in a report issued by the Texas Department of Corrections that the number of prisoners committed to the state in 1951 was 2,097, a decrease of 1,000 from the 3,097 committed in 1941. The report also shows that the number of prisoners committed to the state in 1951 was 2,097, a decrease of 1,000 from the 3,097 committed in 1941. The report also shows that the number of prisoners committed to the state in 1951 was 2,097, a decrease of 1,000 from the 3,097 committed in 1941.

Ten-year Record

Two counties — Kennedy and Loving — have not committed anyone to the prison in the ten years. More persons were committed to the prison in 1951 than in any other year during the study. There were 3,066. The lowest year was 1943 when 1,579 were committed. The number has increased each year since, except in 1948 when the number fell below the 1947 mark. The percentage of increase in number of commitments in 1951, however, fell below that of the previous four years. There were only two per cent more in 1951, as compared with a 13.7 increase in 1950.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, June 30. — On Tuesday evening, July 1, The Baptist general camp begins, at the Plains Encampment in Blanco Canyon. The general meeting will continue until noon July 4, and lunch will be served that day. Many good speakers will be on hand throughout the assembly, and since Wednesday evening meeting will not be held here this week, it is hoped everyone will attend some of the meetings. Boys camp will be in session throughout the week following general camp.

meeting of the club was cancelled because of the illness of Mrs. Field's father.

W.M.S. of the South Plains Baptist church was held Monday afternoon, June 30, at the church. The members brought and prepared a box for shipment to an aged couple in the U. S. Zone in Germany. (Displaced persons). Mrs. Reeves also had the quilt ready to put together, which the members made for the orphan home Mrs. J. H. Allen had charge of the Bible study and Mmes. John Smitherman, Sim Reeves, and Murray Julian helped in covering the month's topic, "Worship." Those present for the meeting were Mmes. John Allen, Sim Reeves, Murray Julian, John Smitherman, Robert Reeves, Shelby Calahan, Dock Jones and Grigsby Milton.

On Wednesday Mac Smitherman and Bob Hartman left by plane from Lubbock for Corpus Christi, to be gone a few days. After a six hour ride they landed in Corpus Christi and stayed with Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Nutt and family until Saturday, and they came home by car.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the wonderful music, and the auditorium which seats 2000, was full. Some of the people went for all day, and partook of the basket lunch at noon, and some went for the afternoon. Among those who went from here were Mr. and Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry and Elmo, Mrs. Otho Sanders and Martha Lee, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Bartlett, Mrs. Rene Yearly and Mrs. Lee Pearson.

Evans assisted Mrs. West as hostess, and the guests gathered with all their clothes on backwards, corsages pinned on their backs, and they entered by the back way. They gathered in the pretty garden for games of "42" and "84". Films of interest to everyone were shown in the living room, later in the evening, and these pictures were taken down in southern Texas and some were of the Christmas party which was held at the West home this past Christmas. A delicious refreshment plate was served by Mrs. West and Mrs. Evans to Mmes. John West, John Wilson, John Smitherman, Otho Sanders, Grigsby Milton, Bill Beedy, Albert Stewart, Horace Marble Menard Fields, J. G. WTCC Convention at Wichita Falls

ABILENE, Texas. — The thirty-fifth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce will be held in Wichita Falls October 19, 20, and 21, President Frank H. Kelley of Colorado City announced today.

The WTCC convention program committee will be appointed shortly to plan for the largest and most constructive convention since pre-war days.

AN APPRECIATION

I am deeply grateful for the many things my friends have said and done for me. It gives me greater courage to continue to do the things that are clean and moral.

I have made mistakes like anyone else, but I have not done so intentionally. An officer is faced with all the problems the people have to offer, good or bad, and in due time it is easy to see what side he is on.

Thanks again for all the good things that you have done for me.

Sincerely,
Earl Cooper.

Turk Visitors View Harmony Homes, Farms

Harmony could not go to Turkey so Turkey came to Harmony, on Monday afternoon.

Seven young men from Turkey, who have been in the United States for six months visited the Harmony community, where they visited various farms and homes and inspected the farm crops growing, the machinery and methods used and the regulation fields.

W. N. Jones, district agent of the Extension department of Lubbock, and Mrs. Aubrey W. Russell, district home demonstration agent, accompanied the group to Harmony in a chartered bus, where they were met at the club house.

Accompanying the Turks on the trip of inspection were Mrs. Everett Miller, president of the Harmony community club, Mr. and Mrs. Chelona Williams, County Agent Bob Gibson, Miss Leila Petty, Home Demonstration agent, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey and family, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Snodgrass, and Mr. Gibson, vocational teacher of the Petersburg school.

The tour started at 4:30 o'clock from the club house and at 8:30 a delightful picnic supper was served by the ladies of the club.

Homes and farms inspected on the tour were the Marlon Tuckers, Roy Hales, D. S. Batts, Milton Evans, Riley Holmes, Loyce Turners, M. D. Ramseys, W. C. Snodgrass, and Chelona Williams.

Tells of Trip to States
After the bountiful supper, Mrs. Everett Miller acting as toastmistress, introduced W. N. Jones of Lubbock, who in turn introduced Abdul Bozoglou, interpreter for the group, and spokesman. Mr. Bozoglou asked each member of the visiting group to introduce themselves. Afterwards, Mr. Bozoglou told of their trip to the states, a six months visit, where they are studying the American methods of farming, the tools and machinery, used and ways and means of modern farming.

A question and answer session was held. Much information pertaining to life in Turkey was given the audience, which numbered about 75 persons.

Mr. Bozoglou described the marriage and the burial ceremonies in Turkey and told of their food, which was exactly as ours in the states. They have the same crops, vegetables and fruits as are raised in the United States.

The group had spent two months in Texas, visiting all parts, and Mr. Bozoglou attended the last semester at A. & M. College. They will leave Lubbock for the West coast where they will visit before returning to their native home.

Iran Student Here
In the office of the County Agent Bob Gibson, a Mr. Diba from Iran has been working since Saturday. He is especially interested in cotton and is attending A. & M. College, as an exchange student. He will leave this week for San Angelo, where he will be for a few days studying crops in that area.
